LIVERPOOL, England, Dec. 27 (UPI) — Shocked survivors today told of scenes of horror and heroism in Britain's Christmas train disaster that killed 18 holiday travelers and injured 60.

One of the dead was an American serviceman. Twenty-six of those injured in last night's crash were treated at hospitals. A special train brought survivors to London to be near the families of those killed by the "midnight express" which ran from Glasgow to London, spilling into the Liverpool to Birmingham train which had been derailed.

"It was a terrible sight," said David Turner of London. "I could see carriers telescoped and the people were being crushed in a terrifying silence at first and then people started crying for help."

"I was horrified," said David Carigan. "People were screaming for help. I saw two people being dragged to the truck."

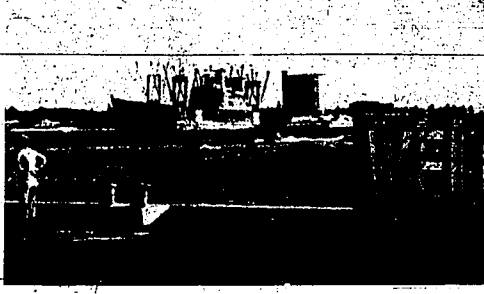

There were stories of heroism. A boy took off his coat and sweater despite the freezing cold to help a woman who had fainted. Other passengers ripped up shirts and other clothing to make bandages for the injured.

The collision happened after dark in a snowstorm. The train was derailed and injured. In the rear cars of the standing train.

Four young children were among those killed by the terror. It is estimated that the engine of the express telescoped into the coaches of the waiting Liverpool-to-Birmingham train.

Tom Christmas packages and sheets of gift wrapping paper were scattered about the wreckage. Teddy bears and the watered cars of a toy train lay scattered about the wreckage.

The cause of the accident was not determined immediately. It is believed that the train was derailed by a landslide. British railroads ordered an investigation at this scene.

Christmas Will Come Late for T.F. Lighting Contest Winner

The winner of the 1962 Christmas lighting contest was unable to celebrate Christmas on Tuesday this year, and it might be several weeks before his family will be together once again for a belated holiday. The $60 first prize was awarded to Russell Anderson, 545 Harrison street. On Sunday his wife was admitted to Magie Valley Memorial hospital. Anderson said Thursday morning her illness hasn't been diagnosed completely, but he expects she will be hospitalized for about three more weeks.

In the meantime Anderson has cared for his two sons, ages 10 months and five months. He said Thursday their holiday has been so scrambled that one of the boys was unable to celebrate Christmas today. Anderson plans to wait until his wife is able to return home to have the traditional Christmas dinner and other events that go along with Christmas.

This is the first year Anderson has entered the contest. He has entered in past years because they lived in a house trailer. But this year he started preparations for his elaborate dinner in October, and even took a week of his vacation to work on the display.

Now that he has the decorations finished, he is currently working at another task—trying to get his children to go along with his children at his home until his wife gets out of the hospital.

Anderson's exhibit consists of a motor-powered display of three wire men traveling to Bethlehem, and a display of the three kings traveling towards a nearby Nativity scene. In another section of the lawn 14 glowing stars are lit up, and the "Merry Twinklers" on the house is a motorized display of the "Santa Claus" and his reindeer.

Also in the front yard are large wooden blocks with the words "Merry Christmas" and "Happy New Year." The driveway is lined with electric candles. Anderson estimates that about 200 people have seen his display since it was set up.

Winner of the $35 second prize is William (Bill) Malberg, 428 South Main street. He said Thursday morning he decided to decorate with a Nativity scene in an effort to create a religious scene, which he believes is appropriate for Christmas. His scene features the stable scene, an ox, a donkey, shepherds, cow and a donkey.

Malberg is one of the Twin Falls citizens who was instrumental in the establishment of the scene in the city park bandshell. He said, "I am pleased to win a second year, but next year I hope to win a first prize."

No Concern Shown Over Measles Cases

By JOE MCGOWAN, JR. For the Combined American Press

ALTHOUGH THE AFRICAN PILOT ENROUTE PORT EVERGLADES, Dec. 27 (AP)—An outbreak of measles aboard the freighter African Pilot caused little concern today among the hardy group which waited out the release of relatives. Port Castro pilots, worked out their own shipment into exile and who yesterday saw a would-be refugee dragged from the ship by Cuban soldiers.

Measles were diagnosed tentatively as germ during the night by Dr. Banning Lary of Miami who accompanied the Cubans on the voyage. A Red Cross nurse spotted the disease affecting four children, ages 2 to 3, and notified the waiter.

The plight of a young Cuban Negro who failed in a brave attempt to jump ship today was chief shipping discussion topic. The shipboard doctor, Negro, 25, streaked from shadows on the lightly-pooled deck and ran up the gangway at the exact moment Capt. Alfred Boerum ordered crews to begin raising lower.

Philips quires stopped the terry-soldiered Cuban on the deck Boerum, faced with a tough matter, ordered the gangway lowered. Two Cuban soldiers walked up.

Youth Shoots Own Leg in Hunt Mishap Don Hodge, 15, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Frank Hodge, 414 Fourth avenue west, accidentally shot himself in the right leg by a 22-caliber revolver about 7 p.m. Wednesday while on a rabbit hunting expedition just across Percha Memorial bridge in Jerome county.

Hodge had driven down the first side road after he crossed the bridge. He was hunting alone. The gun discharged in the holster. After the accident, he limped to his car, drove back to the highway and there flung a passing motorist who drove him to Twin Falls Clinic hospital, where he was treated and released.

The youth was reported resting in his car, but he was able to walk. The bullet will be extracted after doctors examine X-rays.

Freighter Brings 921 Relatives to Cheering Reunion

MIAMI, Fla., Dec. 27 (AP)—The freighter African Pilot brought 921 relatives of the Bay of Pigs captives to Florida today and to an emotional reunion in the vast Diner Key auditorium. About 600 of the prisoners, who were released Sunday and Monday, were waiting at the auditorium when their relatives arrived from Port Everglades, where their ship docked 25 miles northeast of here. Barricades had been thrown up inside so Red Cross authorities could stop and take the names of the arrivals. But it didn't work. Some prisoners slipped over them to embrace mothers, wives and children. A few soldiers collapsed when they saw their loved ones.

Mrs. Mae Jose Delgado tearfully embraced her son, Roman, 28, when they saw him for the first time in eight months. "It is a miracle that we are here," cried Mrs. Delgado, 55. As the relatives arrived, hopes were high that Fidel Castro would allow at least another 1,000 relatives to escape from Communist-run Cuba, joining the massive exodus that has brought 200,000 persons fleeing to freedom in the United States.

Newspaper Strike Sets New Record

NEW YORK, Dec. 27 (AP)—This strike that shut down nine major newspapers is in its 20th day today, making it the longest newspaper blackout in the city's history.

The longest previous shutdown was reported at Sun Valley, which went out four days ago. At that time the four in wages was an estimated 10 million dollars, plus 25 million dollars in newspaper revenue.

The wage loss in the current strike by the International Typographers Union is estimated at well over a million dollars. Publishers and printers' representatives met with federal mediator Stephen T. Schlosberg for only 15 minutes Wednesday. They recessed with their positions unchanged.

Schlosberg tried again today to get negotiations started. He met with the printers then with the paper spokesmen.

He said he asked both sides to give him something to work with.

Don Hodge, 15, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Frank Hodge, 414 Fourth avenue west, accidentally shot himself in the right leg by a 22-caliber revolver about 7 p.m. Wednesday while on a rabbit hunting expedition just across Percha Memorial bridge in Jerome county.

ILA to Try President Of Unloaders

NEW YORK, Dec. 27 (AP)—Cracks developed in the "perfect" strike by dockworkers along the U.S. coast today. The International Longshoremen's Association (ILA) president today announced that he would lead a delegation to try to plug them today.

Independent dockers in Oakland, Calif., and in Los Angeles, Calif., were the first to break away from two foreign-flag vessels yesterday.

In Galveston, about 200 members of the Independent union crossed the ILA picket lines again this morning to complete the unloading of the 50,000 boxes of bananas from the Swedish freighter Brita Thordens. The group's Negro brother James Robinson, led them.

Robinson, former president of the Independent union, was rebuffed by the local today with misuse of force. He was arrested and held in custody. He was released and the union was reformed. The local, which said Robinson has paid back $200 of the money he had borrowed, will be tried at a union meeting tonight.

Kennedy Advised on "Military Matters"

First Report Is Made on Venus Probe

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 28 (AP)—First reports back from Mariner II's historic fly-by of Venus indicate that the cloud-shrouded planet may have longer days and nights than her sister planet, Earth.

Scientists reported Wednesday on the only data analyzed so far from the tape recorded report made Dec. 14 when Mariner rushed by within 21,600 miles of Venus.

This data indicates that Venus has little or no magnetic field. This could be because of slow rotation. Earth turns on its axis every 24 hours, giving us 24-hour days. But Venus—about the same size as Earth—may take considerably longer.

Nikita Hits Germany on High Tension

MOSCOW, Dec. 27 (AP)—Premier Nikita Khrushchev accused West Germany today of trying to increase tensions between the United States and the Soviet Union, endangering the lives of millions of people.

Khrushchev made his charge in a letter to West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer. It was in reply to a communication of protest from Adenauer following the shooting last Aug. 17 of Peter Fechter, 18, an East German youth who died in the death-bus shaped space probe coming from the Soviet Union.

Ministers Open Talks On Kashmir

HAWAII, Dec. 27 (AP)—Indian and Pakistani ministers opened talks on Kashmir today under a cloud of suspicion.

An Indian point man said that India in New Delhi said an announcement by Pakistan and India that they had reached an agreement in principle on their section of the northern Kashmir border showed they were in "close collaboration."

Official Pakistani sources in Karachi insisted, however, that the accord reached with Peking would have no adverse effect on the Rawalpindi conference.

An allegedly wired Pakistani-Chinese announcement said Wednesday night an agreement had been reached between the 200 miles of border between Red China's Sinkiang Province and that part of Kashmir on Pakistan's side of the U.N. ceasefire line dividing the Himalayan state.

It was because of Red China's thrust deep into India's Himalayan borders two months ago that India and Pakistan street, at the urging of Britain, the United States, to renew attempts to negotiate over Kashmir.

Solon Stands By His Guns On Ballots

POCCATELLO, Dec. 27 (U.S.)—Perry Swisher of Pocatello, state senator-elect, stood by his guns today to ban a fellow Republican from a major committee chairmanship in the forthcoming legislative session in a rift which may seriously disrupt his party's leadership.

Swisher indicated he is still determined to keep Ben. R. H. Young, R. Canyon, from becoming chairman of the senate state affairs committee.

Swisher faced up to strong criticism from former GOP Chairman Ray Robinson. Robinson's vicious threat to destroy the Republican leadership in the state senate.

"This reported statement that he would vote with the Democrats in the organization of the senate to keep Young from being reappointed chairman of state affairs," Young is made chairman of the important state affairs committee is a brand of political blackmail which has no place in Idaho politics," said Robinson.

Swisher said last week he would vote with the Democrats in the organization of the senate to keep Young from being reappointed chairman of state affairs.

Swisher claims the Canyon county senator uses the post for leverage in getting what he wants from fellow senators.

Swisher's threat takes on added meaning in view of the slim 23-21 majority the Republicans have in the senate. Swisher's vote could give control of the upper chamber to the Democrats.

THE RULES FIGHT—This is the background of the battle over the rules committee. This committee determines which bills go to the floor of the house. Thus it is in a position to block or emphasize the Kennedy legislative program.

A majority of Southern Democrats and conservative Republicans began to block the Kennedy program. A liberal group led by the late Speaker Sam Rayburn persuaded congress to enlarge the committee from 10 to 15. The 15 added members were liberal enough to unblock such Kennedy legislation that had got as far as the committee.

The change voted was only for the years 1961 and 1962. The committee goes back to its original size unless the house acts again.

CLASH OF PERSONALITIES—The importance of Mr. Kennedy places on the situation was shown by his statement during an interview. He declared:

"I hope that the rules committee is kept as it is. I do not want to see it changed. If it is changed, it will be through the back door. I do not want to see it changed. I do not want to see it changed. I do not want to see it changed."

It is true that a President attempts to tell a congress how to do things. But this is a congressmen's prerogative. It is not the business of the executive branch into the legislative branch.

The President's statement was met with a statement by Rep. Howard W. Smith, D., Va., who is the majority leader of the committee. Mr. Smith remains undaunted. And so the ring is closed for the battle of Kennedy vs. Smith.

It is encouraging to note President Kennedy has taken two trips to see for himself what the conditions of power are available to the United States in its handling of crucial and dangerous situations. He has seen the problems, such as the Soviet missile buildup in Cuba.

And it is further encouraging to note that President Kennedy has begun in his private life to speak of America's military power as the foundation stone of United States diplomacy.

The power theme, of course, is one which American conservatives have emphasized and argued for throughout the whole period of the cold war. It has long recognized the historical fact that powerful nations have prevailed in the world and to preserve a climate in which their ideals and their concepts of government have flourished.

We now know that strategy and tactics are not the same thing. It is the fact of this power which will keep the peace in the world. It is the fact of this power which will keep the peace in the world. It is the fact of this power which will keep the peace in the world.

Needless Wounds

Two Twin Falls youths have been wounded by 22 caliber weapons in the last few days. In each case, the youths were wounded by weapons they were holding in their own hands. Fortunately, neither boy appears to have been wounded critically and there is no indication either wound will be crippling. The incidents can serve as a warning to all other boys who handle guns and their parents.

In some rare cases, it is possible for such a self-inflicted wound to result from a malfunction of the firearm. But in the big majority of cases, the wounds result from simple carelessness. The firearms are carried, the hunter or marksman cannot afford to relax his vigilance for a single moment. The consequences can be too tragic.

It is not intended as pertaining to either of the loath shootings, but parents must assume responsibility for proper training of their youngsters. It is better to be normal than to be a killer.

No boy should ever be permitted unattended use of firearms of any nature until parents are positive he understands the danger involved and has been trained adequately to handle firearms as they should be handled. Guns are not toys. They are deadly weapons and the responsibility of being human lives as well as the lives of such rodents as rabbits. The small hole a bullet may punch in a paper target is not very impressive, but that same bullet can kill a man quite easily and quickly.

Safety in handling firearms is a subject that cannot be stressed too often. No one should ever regard gun safety lectures or pleas as unnecessary preaching. If only one life is saved, all the lectures and advice have proved well worth while.

And those who handle firearms should never forget the basic rule: Never point a gun at anything you do not intend to hit with a bullet.

SNOW LACKING

It's too early to worry about, but Magic Valley farmers can't help noticing the general shortage of snow across the watershed that provides irrigation water. Snow surveys are scheduled to start in the next few days and in too many cases, survey crews are going to find little or no snow on many crevices. Naturally, the situation can change as the weather changes. It is a warning that have neglected southern Idaho watersheds could continue for weeks.

The point is that until reservoirs actually hold an adequate supply of irrigation water, it is essential for residents of the arid West to practice the most stringent water conservation. The supply of water left for the winter, at the end of the last irrigation season could start looking mighty small instead of the ample supply indicated when canals were shut off for the winter.

During the next two months, Magic Valley farmers will be watching the snow. It is the key to the winter. It is the key to the winter. It is the key to the winter.

Even with the shortage of snow on mountain watersheds, Snake river valley farmers are far better off right now than at the same time last year. Reservoirs a year ago were little more than puddles and there was no promise of any great snow depth.

Unless there's a complete snow failure on the part of Mother Nature, the irrigation outlook for next summer is bound to be as good as a year ago.

LET'S HIRE HIM!

A Russian presently among the ranks of the unemployed might be just the ticket for the United States. One Nikolai G. Ignatov has been ousted as one of the Soviet Union's top deputy premiers. It just so happens he is classified as an agricultural expert.

It's to-see-if the Russians have been doing everything they can think of to increase farm production. Apparently Mr. Ignatov is the latest communist to fail at the assignment. He has been ousted as a pluses in Russia. In fact, the Russians just don't have enough to go around among their own people.

As long as Mr. Ignatov is out of favor with his brother communists, there may be a possibility he would be available to an offer from the United States. It's just possible he would make one whole of an undersecretary of agriculture. If he could achieve the same results here, he would eliminate all those crop surpluses that have caused so many U.S. headaches down through the years.

How would Russia react to a proposal to trade Mr. Ignatov for half a dozen undersecretaries of agriculture? We might even toss in a dozen assorted bureaucrats to boot.

POT SHOTS

JOIN THE CLUB!
Dear Pot Shots:
We figured Christmas would be much more enjoyable about the time the youngest got just before the Santa Claus age, but Tuesday was the worst one ever.

Christmas eve was a rather tame evening for us here. A few friends called and it was still relatively early when all were bedded down for the night. Two hours passed, although it seemed like no more than minutes, when the first query about the time was passed after a thorough shaking. From that on, the rest of the night seemed like a nightmare.

If one of the children wasn't shaking one or the other of us, it was the other one. If you follow, finally, we gave up the ghost along about 5 a.m.

Do they get better or worse?
Sincerely,
Sam Helms

KITTENS FOR KIDS DEPT.

Dear Pot Shots:
"Preventative clearance." We have four furry housebroken kittens, long-haired and ranging in color from white to black. Three females and one male, that must have new homes by the first of the new year. See them at 1223 Borah avenue, east of town.

REAL SWITCH!

Sir:
For several years, the traditional Christmas Eve has been missing at our house. This year it returned with a bang and believe it or not, it was a Christmas Eve. The Master of the House received no less than seven neckties this Christmas. He could scarcely contain his pleasure.

He put it something like this: "For months I've noticed all the fellows wearing those new, thin neckties. And whenever I wear one, they all look at it as if so much to say, 'Common! Get with it! Now I'm up to date again.' It's certainly boys to watch the trend in styles, doesn't it? And you're surely way ahead of us by now. Sure, the scene will be repeated next Christmas, but without such obvious pleasure!

PUPS FOR KIDS DEPT.

Dear Pot Shots:
We have three puppies that need homes. They are a 3-month-old dog. Phone 678-377 or 678-244.

IT'S EASY

Dear Gent:
What's the proper approach to a girl you do not want to marry? Not use. It's always embarrassing to get that sort of present, especially when you know darned well you're not going to marry her. I'm pleased with himself he can hardly stand it.

NO MYTH AFTER ALL

A modern computer, analyzing rainfall data for the past 50 years, has proved an old "superstition" true.

Rain tends to fall after a new or full moon, and so the pre-extension service farmers who usually planned their potatoes and corn in the moon phase. The computer has usually came soon after the planting to germinate the seed and give the plants a healthy start.

Donald Bradley, an astronomer at New York University's College of Engineering, has shown that the relation of moon and rain in feeding rainfall statistics into the university's computer. He and his associates at the College of Science where it was picked up by Newswatch.

No one knows why the moon apparently affects the weather. It is known that the moon's most advanced contrivance has shown that all wisdom and knowledge was born yesterday's beliefs. That the world would be inclined to dallas as superstition. The Oregonian.

GENTLEMAN IN THE FOURTH ROW

COVERING THE CAPITAL WITH PETER EDSON

WASHINGTON, Dec. 27 (NSA)—The "draft language" on this program indicates that various constitutional phrases calling for districts "as nearly equal as possible" have produced commentaries and recommendations on state legislative reapportionment.

These are authored by the advisory to the commission on inter-governmental relations, a body whose personnel runs from congressmen to state supervisors.

The commission is to look into the subject last spring after the big stir caused by the House's adoption of a resolution in the Tennessee reapportionment case.

Interest in the proposals is expected from many of the state officials who will have them on their desks when the new legislative session opens in January. Among the interested parties is Gov. Nelson Rockefeller of New York, even though his state already has adopted a reapportionment plan.

What the commission proposes is a reapportionment procedure which should be left to statutory action, but should be clearly defined in the constitution. The committee is to assist that purpose, constitutions should include a fixed percentage figure to express the number of members to be elected between the various legislative districts. The commission plans to report in a few weeks, of course, where apportionment is strictly on a population basis.

When grim, chain-smoking Gen. Park Chung Hee moved up to the top of the mountain, the military dictatorship, some Americans in Seoul were asking for a "Smiley."

It was appropriate only for Park's military dictatorship, which he has been in power for almost 10 years. In the U.S. military dictatorship, which he has been in power for almost 10 years. In the U.S. military dictatorship, which he has been in power for almost 10 years.

By virtue of a vote which approved a new Korean constitution by nearly four-to-one, Park plans to transfer the government back to civilian rule around August of next year.

The government framework that Park has set up is a "military dictatorship" which he has been in power for almost 10 years. In the U.S. military dictatorship, which he has been in power for almost 10 years.

Under death sentence as a communist collaborator, which he has been in power for almost 10 years. In the U.S. military dictatorship, which he has been in power for almost 10 years.

The switch to civilian rule is expected to bring no change in the U.S. policy toward Korea.

Korea got 200 million dollars in economic aid and loans in the last fiscal year and is expected to get about the same in the fiscal year now being expected in the U.S. policy which pays almost the entire cost of the South Korea's 600,000-man army.

The change to civilian rule will be welcomed, it was U.S. prod-uct. It has caused the military regime to promise to restore of villan government.

The Doctor Says

POOLISH FOOD FADS SHOULD BE AVOIDED
By WALTER BRANDESTADT

It is doubtful that any class of foods has had more publicity than the Polish food fads. It has been the cause of more foolishness than food fads. It would be a mistake to think of the fads as a health-saver. They are a health-saver. They are a health-saver.

One unfortunate feature of many food fads is that they are not based on science. They are not based on science. They are not based on science.

This type of fad is often promoted by people who are not qualified to give advice. They are not qualified to give advice. They are not qualified to give advice.

One of the worst types of food fad is the blending of some natural food as potassium or indigestible. It is not based on science. It is not based on science.

There is no known food that will make you fat. It is not based on science. It is not based on science.

For most of us a balanced diet is the key to good health. It is not based on science. It is not based on science.

It should be taken without fear or favor. It should be taken without fear or favor. It should be taken without fear or favor.

Another popular fallacy is the belief that vegetables from an unknown source were most likely to be safe.

The drinking of coffee and tea started out many years ago as a fad but has now become a habit. It is not based on science. It is not based on science.

The disadvantages of the fads, which in themselves have no nutritional value, are that they drive our appetites for beverages that have definite food value.

Beef, Hams Take Lead For New Year

By The Associated Press
With more holiday dinners on tap, beef roasts and hams will be the leading choice in New Year's week-end menus.

But turkey, the favorite for Christmas dinners, will make another strong appearance. Shoppers will find a good selection and variety of meat, fish and poultry in the markets.

One leading eastern supermarket chain is offering the roast at $1.05 a pound and whole smoked hams at 69 cents a pound.

Prices of turkeys, which reach a peak before Christmas, are unchanged.

Among the special fish offerings are canned Maine scallops, canned tuna, fish sticks and fish portions. Many other varieties are available in various sections of the country. In the Northwest they include clams, fillets, lobsters, oysters, scallops and whiting.

Prices of citrus fruits have gone up only modestly so far despite the severe frost in Florida. Ample supplies of navel oranges are moving to markets from Arizona and California.

Mexico is shipping oranges to markets in the southwestern section of the country. Good fresh fruit buys include apples, bananas, grapes, California oranges and grapefruit.

Good supplies of carrots, lettuce, onions, squash, potatoes and nutmeg-peppercorns will be found. Dried products and eggs are also good buys.

In the Southeast, chuck roast, ground beef and stewing beef are classified as best buys, while in the Midwest beef steaks, rib roasts, pork chops, lamb chops and lamb legs are also attractive price tags.

The preferred cuts of beef are in greater demand than in the West, and as a result West coast shoppers will find prices a bit higher in their markets.

Other action will come at Valley, Burley, Filer and Oakley, Rockland, the area schools, is rated the favorite in the Declo tournament. Rockland, with three men around the 6-foot, 6-inch mark, will have a decided height advantage over the other three teams, particularly Declo. The Bruins must defeat the high-flyer Art Whitaker, figure to fill the other half of the final Saturday night game.

Northwestern Mars Stanford Cage Mark

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 27 (AP)—Northwestern's Ken Lutgens scored on a tip-in to give the Wildcats a 62-41 victory over Stanford in the Big Eight round of the Los Angeles basketball Classic Wednesday night before 6,889. The victory advanced Northwestern to Thursday's semi-final against the Bruins.

Kansas, Iowa State Win in Big 8 Play

Ellsworth, a 6-foot, 1-inch senior, headed the young Kansas team. The senior, Iowa State was paced by Mary Straw, a 6-foot, 4-inch senior, who poured in 27 points.

Iowa State trailed by 12 points twice in the first half but rallied to win going away. Ellsworth, on 10 straight points, broke a 41-41 tie and shot Iowa State into a 57-37 lead which decided the game. Vince Brewer, Iowa State veteran who started very slowly this season, threw in 16 points in his best game. Kansas appeared on the verge of blowing a 20-point lead.

George Unsell, 6-foot, 7-inch senior, Kansas' pivot, had his best scoring game of the season with 25 points—10 in the first half.

Colorado, favored to repeat as conference champion, has never won a pre-season tourney, even in its three championship years. Kansas shot a scizzling 51 per cent in the first half and enjoyed its biggest lead at 44-20. The half ended 44-20.

"Something to Remember You By"

Giants Step up Practice Tempo For Championship Tilt Sunday

BEAR MOUNTAIN, N.Y., Dec. 27 (AP)—Coach Alie Sherman herded his New York Giants into Army's vast field house at nearby West Point Wednesday as he stepped up the tempo for Sunday's National Football league title game with Jimmy Taylor and Paul Hornung and company of Green Bay. Resuming work after a three-day holiday, the Giants were without the services of halfback Paul Dudney, the center, whose injured left knee had not responded to treatment. He probably will miss the big game.

Ralph Guglielmi, Y. A. Titus' stand-in at quarterback, also was an uncertain factor. Although Guglielmi was expected to be the club's main back, he would be replaced by Sherman said a final decision would be made after Thursday's workout.

"If we felt Thursday that Ralph could not replace Titus, it would be a case of 'if it ain't broke, don't fix it,'" Sherman said. "We'll wait until next week of Gifford at quarterback was not played. It just happened to be that way."

Center, Will Chamberlain, San Francisco Warriors, and Walt Bellamy, Chicago Zephyrs, are expected to be in the line for Don Chandler on placekicks and field goal attempts. Chandler must be close coordination between holder and kicker. Chandler strained an ankle Dec. 10 in the Giants' final regular season game.

The Giants are buttoning their lips and refusing to comment on anything that might possibly blow up into an item for the Packers' bulletin board. Sherman continues to go along with his usual "we do our best and we'll make them one at a time" comment.

"We know what we want to do, we know what we have to do, we know what we can do. We assume they'll be tougher than last year. Green Bay was 3-0. They've had a great year and we hope to be at our best and ready for them."

The Giants are up at the park, about 50 miles north of their own stadium limits to take advantage of the dirt-floor in their facilities where the old Brooklyn Dodger's held spring training during the war. They will work there again Thursday and probably Friday before returning to the city on Saturday.

With the exception of Dudley, all the players are in good form. All the walking sounder from the Dallas game were back at work. The team has been forgotten. Dick Peters, who suffered a bruised sacroiliac, was out of the line. Dick Stroud was padding out his own rib cartilage.

"I just don't know where this is before the 1953 championship game," said Stroud, regular offensive right tackle. "It's a big time and I'm ready for this one."

Chandler's first indoor punt hit the 40-yard line. One of the striders but he adjusted after that and got a good workout with full sized punts. Since Chandler took over the place kicking chores after Pat Sumner's retirement, his

Illinois Leads Four Teams in Cage Meet

NEW YORK, Dec. 27 (AP)—Illinois ripped previously unbeaten Pennsylvania 98-66 Wednesday night and advanced to the semifinals of the Holiday basketball festival against New York University, NYU defeated Duquesne 73-61 in the second half of the evening doubleheader before 34,238 in Madison Square garden. West Virginia edged Boston College 65-44 on Mike Wolfe's mark in the final, resuming an overtime period in the opener of the afternoon doubleheader.

Illinois hit 58 per cent of the shots in the relatively easy conquest of Penn.

The Bonnies players scored in double figures as the tall and talented Big Ten outfit built a 41-20 halftime lead and poured it on with a 57-point second half for its sixth victory without a defeat. The loss was Penn's first after five victories.

Bill Burwell paced the Illinois attack with 24 points, although he sat out the last 10 minutes of the first half and the last four minutes of the final period.

The Bonnies were paced to their fourth victory by starts by Mike Allen and Bob Barnick. Allen, a 6-foot, 6-inch junior, led the scoring with 24 points. He scored 13 in the second half, three points coming after Holy Cross had overcome a 41-20 halftime lead and led the lead 59-58 on two baskets by Henry Knittel and a foul shot by Herb Kelly.

Allen's three-point play put the Bonnies ahead 62-59 and the loss was never headed thereafter.

Holy Cross, trailing 42-34 at the 11-minute mark, rallied in the second half and stalling 44-44 at the end of the game. Wolfe's winning goal came after West Virginia had narrowed the margin in the second half to a foul shot by Bill Maphis. Maphis missed an opportunity to tie the game when his second foul shot hit the rim and bounced away. But Wolfe went after the rebound and contested the Mountaineers their fifth triumph against two defeats.

It was a lay-up by Wolfe that tied the game at 58-58 with five seconds remaining in regulation time. The Mountaineers trailed 54-43 after 11 minutes of the second half.

Sherman moved to a rebound after Iowa had stolen the ball and broke an Arizona snail pace into a 36-29 lead at the intermission. Washington State was the winner for a span of 9 1/2 minutes.

Jones scored eight points in the closing minute and 38 seconds of the half and hit two scorers with 22 points, 10 and 17.

Arizona made only two of 11 shots in the first nine minutes, then connected on nine of 11 in its sudden barrage.

Superior rebounding helped Oregon steadily increased the lead in the second half to 64-47 with three minutes remaining.

Illinois' winning field goal came on a rebound after by Dave Reay after Iowa had stolen the ball and broke an Arizona snail pace into a 36-29 lead at the intermission. Washington State was the winner for a span of 9 1/2 minutes.

Arizona took advantage of poor shooting and ball-handling by Iowa to move to a 32-28 halftime lead.

Sherman protested to referee call with seven minutes remaining in the game, and referee Bill Fouts ordered him from the bench. Arizona led 50-43 at that point.

Iowa suddenly came to life and tied the contest at 52-52. Arizona went into a stall at 56-48 with 3:45 remaining, but Reddington and Andy Hunka added the ball from Arizona's W Flynn with 46 seconds left.

Arctic Circle Leading in Holiday Play

The Arctic Circle team will carry the team lead into the second week-end of the Bonniadrome's fall annual holiday tournament Saturday and Sunday.

The team shot a 22-67 while the Bonniadrome led 2:52. The Arctic Circle club, entering twice, is in third spot with 2,871.

Bob Henry and Gary Henry, Edna led the doubles division with 1,241 while Dick Irwin and Lloyd Miller are second at 1,238.

They are followed by Dr. J. C. Huxton and Don Douglas, and Roger Wagner and Lloyd Miller, 1,224.

Betty Burrell and Sharon Birrell lead the women's doubles with 1,197.

The tournament will run through the week-end of Jan. 6 with competition on Saturdays and Sundays. There are still openings on all four days and bowlers may enter as often as they choose.

Aussies Clinch Fourth Straight Davis Cup Win

BRISBANE, Australia, Dec. 27 (AP)—Rod Laver, on the threshold of a lucrative professional tennis contract, and seven-ribbed Roy Emerson ground the Aussies to a 6-2, 6-2, 6-4 victory over Mexico's Rafael Osuna and Antonio Palafox Thursday to give Australia its fourth straight Davis cup challenge round tennis victory. The doubles triumph, Laver and Emerson's 6-2, 6-2, 6-4, was the first of a 3-0 lead over Mexico in the best-of-five series and emblematic of the Aussies' complete domination of the match.

Neither team immediately announced its players for the singles in play for the evening.

Laver defeated Osuna and Emerson whipped Palafox in all three matches.

So the seemingly never-ending Aussie dynasty continues for at least another year. Not only was the Aussie fourth straight triumph but it was their 11th in the past 13 years. The Aussies won the Davis Cup in 1950 and 1953 to interrupt their march.

The Aussies were favored to win their history case over the U.S. But it was not expected to be quite so emphatic. Osuna, a student at Southern California who learned most of his tennis in the United States, was the big hope to create things tough for the Aussies.

But he was not up to it. Now all that remains is to announce his intention to turn professional for a July contract in the neighborhood of $100,000.

In contrast to Wednesday, the weather was mild and the sun shone on the court.

The confident Aussies never really had any problem. The final state of mind was that they did not lose a single serve.

Surprisingly it was Osuna who dropped out. He was hit by a back injury which he had suffered in practice two weeks ago.

Lamonica Is Key To Looming West Passing Attack

SAN FRANCISCO—Dec. 27 (AP)—Notre-Dame's quarterback Darley Lamonica holds the key to the East-West football game at Kezar stadium with workouts indicating he'll unlock the defense's passing attack. The 6-foot, 2-inch signal caller from Fresno State will have straight passes in the East's drill at the Santa Clara practice field.

Notre-Dame's defense will keep defenses from keying right based on the throwing game. The East boasts some strong numbers as George Salmons of Michigan State, Paul Flory of Northwestern, Larry Ferguson of Iowa and Roy Walker of Purdue who all did their collective playing in the powerful Big Ten.

Jim Mox, the West Virginia halfback, also has moved into contention for a starting job with some strong running during the workouts.

The fans watching the drills saw one performer who won't be in the lineup. Coach Parrish, a graduate of Northwestern, who has been installed for the East, moved into the backfield to run some of the maneuvers himself for demonstration.

Arrivals at the West camp took place on Wednesday to visit the youngsters at the Shrine hotel. The situation is becoming annually from the gridiron encounter.

The children who had adopted Notre-Dame's mascot, the Fighting Irish, when for and bad weather kept their plane from arriving in time for the usual airport visit.

Coach, Dane Devine of Missouri, head coach for the West, already has selected Eugene Gibbs of Santa Clara as his starting quarterback, with Hugh Campbell, the running back, and other staff from Washington State as one of the ends, teaming with Glenn Rasmussen, the fullback, and the center of UCLA and Ronny Goodwin of Baylor as halfbacks, with Billy Thomson of Nebraska at fullback.

Devine, whose Missouri team beat Georgia Tech 14-10 in the Bluebonnet Bowl, is expected to make his playing debut with the Tiger unit in their bowl game.

He already has installed 22 plays with numerous variations and admitted there will be more by game time.

"We were all getting started," he was finishing last, the coach said. "I'm not sure."

Perhaps with that in mind, East head coach Jack Hollenbeck said he would be available to defend the past two days.

Notre-Dame's defense is expected to be a key factor in the game. The team has a strong defensive line and a solid secondary.

The game is expected to be a high-scoring affair. Both teams have strong offenses and are looking to put up big numbers.

Oklahoma City Spurts To Event Win

OKLAHOMA CITY, Dec. 27 (AP)—Gary Hill scored 21 points as Oklahoma City spurted past Baylor Wednesday night in the first round of the All-College basketball tournament.

Two more first round games are scheduled Thursday night. Oklahoma City will meet Kansas and Arkansas challenges high-scoring Loyola of Chicago, the national No. 3 ranked team.

Hill, Oklahoma City's leading scorer with a 18-8 average, played a key role in the victory. He scored 12 points in the first half and 10 in the second stanza.

Bobcats Bump Bears For Seventh Victory

TREMONTON, Utah, Dec. 27 — Burley's undefeated Bobcats fought for their lives in the first half, then exploded in a scoring rash during a fourth quarter blitz to wipe out Bear River 61-10 Wednesday night.

The Bears, who had a 14-0 record, were held to a field goal in the first half and a 12-0 lead in the second quarter.

The offense, minded Gary Coach Tom Nugent of Maryland, although they also reviewed the passing and running attack.

"We developed quite a bit," Nugent continued. "However, although our timing is getting better, it still isn't as good as it should be."

Blue-Gray Teams Stress Defense

MONTGOMERY, Ala. Dec. 27 (AP)—Blue-Gray coaches switched to a defensive strategy, spending more time on defense than on passing as the past two days.

The offense, minded Gary Coach Tom Nugent of Maryland, although they also reviewed the passing and running attack.

"We developed quite a bit," Nugent continued. "However, although our timing is getting better, it still isn't as good as it should be."

The popular averages moved slightly in both directions. The Dow Jones industrial average closed at 153.99, up 1/2 point from 153.49.

Any move through this level, however, was held in check by a generally bullish and would probably signal the beginning of another push higher.

Another push higher, the bulls had riding aid production, an optimistic appraisal of the year's crop, and a symposium of top executives, and what tax reduction proposals have been put into final form by the administration.

Q. Stock splits with the annual, favorable market conditions, can I understand. But I see good reasons for them.

A. Yes, you can. There are several reasons why a company might split its stock.

1. To make the stock more affordable to a larger number of investors.

2. To reflect a change in the company's capital structure.

3. To provide a more liquid market for the stock.

4. To signal management's confidence in the company's future.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 27 (AP)—Building a Polaris submarine fleet may result in the most expensive task for Britain unless the United States underwrites part of the cost.

A British-U.S. agreement announced in Nassau spoke of Britain's buying the missiles, providing its own nuclear warheads, and building the submarine fleet.

The United States currently is paying about 116 million dollars for each nuclear-powered Polaris submarine.

The British government did not mention the costly and highly complex fire control and accuracy of the Polaris missile when fired from a submerged submarine.

This special equipment account for about half the cost of the Polaris missile.

Their gear would have to be supplied by the United States, which would also supply the British with nothing less.

If they undertook to produce their own missiles, the British would have to install the equipment for the purpose—after the U.S. navy furnished the know-how.

Should the United States provide the missiles, the British would have to build the hulls.

The British already have a nuclear submarine, the Dreadnaught, which is under sea trials.

It might not be feasible to try to adapt this as a missile-firing platform as was done with the first U.S. Polaris submarine, the George Washington.

George Washington was still not completed when it was decided to build the hull in two and lengthen it to accommodate the 16 missile tubes.

Polaris submarines are being built at Groton, Conn., and the first one is expected to be ready for sea trials in 1955.
