NATIONAL
By RAY TUCKER
WASHINGTON, Dec. 31—Nikita Khrushchev's recent statement that Russia would copy "what we can learn from the West" in the "developing countries" comes as no surprise to those who have been closely following economic conditions in Europe.
"It is not surprising as far as selling the central committee of the communist party," he said. "We know the West is not going to be able, if necessary, to learn from the capitalists—let alone the communists. We have that in good and profitable."
"Profitable?" That's what he said.

BETTER GOODS—Earlier this year, O. K. Antonov, director of aircraft design and writer, wrote that Soviet industry was riddled with "waste and inefficiency because it lacked what engineers term 'feedback,' a factor provided by capitalism by market forces and competition. Under Stalin those remarks might have had a slanting effect.
Antonov wrote that Russian tires and ball bearings lasted for only a short time, their production lines are not modernized and produce "that nobody wants."
Because of "feedback" this does not happen under capitalism, he wrote. The manufacturer soon finds he cannot sell goods if they are inferior to those of competitors. He is forced to improve his products to make things better, surer and cheaper.
"Okay, Antonov!"

OLAV LERSON—Russia and her slave states are being invaded by Japan again, but China, to a lesser extent, looks out upon similar examples.
China is only 15 years after she was crushed and her productivity bombed out of existence, is now enjoying unprecedented prosperity. France, Germany and the U.S. are economically as now at the most prosperous point in history.
Italy, once regarded as perpetually impoverished, is now considered the most advanced nation ravaged by the Germans and stripped of their colonies, is prosperous, Finland, once attacked by the Russians, has a higher standard of living than her enemy.
England has made a great recovery, but it is not as good as France and Germany. But England has adopted its free enterprise system with nationalized railroads, some iron and steel plants, and a few medical centers. As Communist China wallows in poverty, capitalist Japan enjoys the highest standard of living in the world.

BEHIND THE CURTAIN—Western Europe's property is in direct contrast to conditions being lived for in China. Living standards in Russia are low. For a time they improved under Khrushchev, then they dropped back, according to authoritative reports to Washington.
China is the most highly industrialized countries in Europe, enjoys only slightly better economic conditions. One reason is that Russia is not as much as France and Germany. Poland's economic condition is so bad that, without haste, it accepts aid from capitalist nations. The U.S. has been helping Bulgaria and Rumania are perhaps slightly better than in Russia, especially in the matter of standards, but far under the least of the western nations.
"The iron curtain does not prevent the people of the West from seeing the happiness—in the capitalist nations."

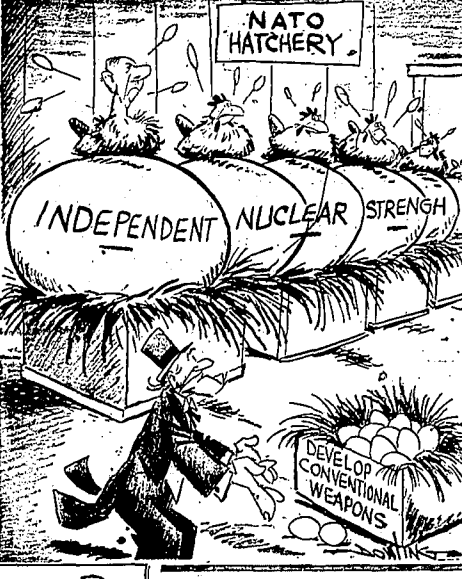

WHY BERLIN IS IMPORTANT—Conditions in East Germany are about as poor as anywhere else in the world. The Berlin area has been particularly successful for the inhabitants because, as part of Germany before the war, they enjoyed one of the best standards of living in the world.
That is why the Soviet Union fumes about Berlin and has constant plots to get its hands on it.
Berlin is an island of prosperity in a sea of poverty. It is a city of productivity, a city of wealth, and a city of hope.
It is the only city of free enterprise in a desert of communism.

IMPROVEMENT
I like the idea of celebrating the day with a girl being born to me more acquaintance. But as long as we're getting realistic about that sort of girl, let's take it all the way back to the beginning.
I would suggest just sending the dough. That way there's no sales slip, no exchange and no trouble. There's also no need to be mad. With few exceptions, the girl sender would send more money than if she were likely to spend on a girl. It will do just what you want, and it will be replaced by the $20 in each kid's pocket. You'll just see the possibilities.

PLAIN ENOUGH
Employees at a Twin Falls bank were checking through deposited checks the other day when they ran across one they apparently had marked "no account."
The check, for something like $5, was made out to "Mr. Stuck" and was signed by "I. Am Drunk."
FAMOUS LAST LINE
"... You look thinner."
GENTLEMAN IN THE FOURTH

POT SHOTS
Dear Sir:
It's time for those New Year's resolutions again, but I don't know what good they are when folks don't intend to keep their good thoughts in the first place.
I thought I would be nice to resolve not to pay any taxes in 1963. I'd be lots of dough and anyway I'm not too happy with the way things are being done with my tax money. Know what? I'll bet the internal revenue service would take a real dim view of such a resolution.
And I had thought it would be nice to suggest to the neighbors that they resolve to keep their kids and dogs out of my yard. But without all these little worries, would life be worth it?
So maybe it would be best for everyone to make some simple resolutions, something like promising themselves they'll quit smoking. Then after a few days of the usual good and no one will remember the resolution, including themselves.
So let me face up to it: that's just the way it will be again this year. Everyone will resolve to avoid the things they should avoid and then they'll get bored and want to smoke. If people will quit smoking, fat people will go right on eating, etc., etc., and so on.

TIME TO RESOLVE
Dear Sir:
It's time for those New Year's resolutions again, but I don't know what good they are when folks don't intend to keep their good thoughts in the first place.

POOR MAN'S PLATO
By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK, Dec. 31—One of life's little ordeals is dressing up for an office function.
"It's a meeting of the 35-year club," says the boss crisply, "probably for a few remarks. Black tie—no tie coat."
"Yes, sir," you agree, thinking to yourself that you've only got 15 minutes to go—but the firm is so much fun to work with now that sometimes I forget the exact details I have to do to enjoy.
"Cheer up," says the old timer commiseratingly. "It's my experience with organization that the first 40 years were the easiest. But the last two years, five or ten minutes will get you through. And 10 minutes were awfully many years ago."

THE DOCTOR SAYS
By WAYNE G. BRANDSTEDT, M.D.
A sudden nosebleed in a child may be a very frightening thing both to the child and to the mother. This is especially true if the child is very young. A nosebleed may be caused by a blow on the nose or by a foreign body in the nostril. A handkerchief or facial tissue should be held gently in front of his nose. If the bleeding continues after 20 minutes you should call your doctor. If nosebleeds recur at frequent intervals, a thorough examination should be made to determine the cause.
Once the bleeding has stopped do not blow his nose or try to dislodge the clot for about eight hours. Do not use any facial tissue. Do not use any facial tissue. Do not use any facial tissue.
Nosebleeds are more common in the winter when there are more colds and infected sinuses and when the warm dry indoor air may cause too much dryness of the nasal mucous membranes. Often a child's efforts, either by pinching or blowing the nose, may start the bleeding. Girls applying makeup may have nasal bleeding instead of a normal menstrual period. This is known as "nosebleeds from makeup."
The usual household remedies such as applying an iceberg or putting a wet cloth on the face, are effective in all that is needed. The child should sit up with his head tilted slightly forward, so that the blood will not run down his throat, and should breathe through his mouth. A handkerchief or facial tissue should be held gently in front of his nose. If the bleeding continues after 20 minutes you should call your doctor. If nosebleeds recur at frequent intervals, a thorough examination should be made to determine the cause.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 31 (REAP)
—Achievements of the 17th annual session of the National Academy of Sciences are considered "spectacular" in comparison with results of the previous year. The academy's opinion of Asian Affairs Secretary of State Dean Rusk, in charge of international relations, is "spectacular."
He qualifies this with a statement that communism and the Congo are the most loathsome blazes in the world. The U.S. on these matters ended their all good, from the American point of view.
Cleveland also admits that the most important developments while the general assembly was in session this year did not happen at the U.N., although they affected the proceedings.
Dismissing the Russian missile bases in Cuba and Red China's attack on India three weeks ago, the U.S. ambassador at the U.N. told the assembly. Repeatedly the Russian delegates were caught unprepared and had to scawk Moscow for new instructions to clarify Khrushchev's position.
Zorin's denial that there were Russian missiles in Cuba was met with a storm of protest and denounced by U.S. Ambassador Adlai Stevenson.

When the 17 members of the United Nations packed up their briefcases at the close of the 17th annual general assembly, they had a long drive home. They had to drive through some of the most stirring times in the history of the world.

NEW YORK, Dec. 31—The most famous Christmas dinner in English literature is probably the one described by Dickens as "brought to a close by Tiny Tim's 'God bless us every one, if it means no harm to any real, living creature.'"
Christmas pudding, roasted Christmas goose, and a steamed Christmas pudding, described by Dickens as "a speckled canteloup."
Suppose you wanted to reproduce your own modern kitchen of foris in your own modern kitchen.
A young housewife, magazine researcher and writer named Betty Wolff, intrigued by the problem, went to mid-19th-century cookbooks.
Her research into the Christmas fare is part of her recently published book, "The Literary Gourmets," which combines literary selections of 19th-century dinner scenes with Linda's carefully culled recipes.
She takes you from the red portage of lentils, Eadw's meat-potage, in the Old Testament, through baked meat-pies of flesh, Chaucer's "Canterbury Tales," to Southern-style biscuits to go with the punch and coffee.
Linda decided to do the book after years of fascination with the holly affair at the Christmas home's personality or portrayed a society or advanced a plot through the use of food.
Although she never considered herself much of a cook, Linda set about testing the recipes she found in the numerous old cookbooks she read. The problem was many.
"There was the necessity for translating words no longer in use. How would you cook chickens with grates of parsnips? After much research she discovered grates of parsnips were cardamom seeds."

IDAHO'S KRAMER BOOTS 3 FIELD GOALS TO PROVIDE 16-7 WIN OVER NEW YORK GIANTS VINDICATED DESPITE TITLE LOSS.

Idaho's Kramer Boots 3 Field Goals to Provide 16-7 Win Over New York

NEW YORK, Dec. 31 (AP)—Green Bay clung grimly to the National Football league title in bitter 17-degree temperature Sunday as Jerry Kramer, former Idaho star from Sandpoint, kicked three field goals and Jim Taylor scored the lone touchdown in a 16-7 victory over the fired-up New York Giants before 64,892 half-frozen fans at Yankee stadium. The Packers, who humiliated the Giants 37-0 last New Year's eve in Green Bay, fought fiercely for their points in this rematch although two costly Giant fumbles, both recovered by Green Bay linebacker Ray Nitschke, set up the Taylor touchdown and one of Kramer's field goals. Rookie center Tom Kelly on the scoreboard, when he fell on the ball in the end zone, kept Kramer from blocking Mac McCreary's punt in the third period.

But the Giants' famed passing attack led to a field goal by Y. A. Tittle, faded to click when it counted against the alert Packers defenders, who made a fine performance by Andy Robustelli's punter Grant Dufresne.

Kramer, who quarterbacked the Packers in mid-season after Paul Hornung suffered a knee injury, booted field goals of 26, 29, and 30 yards, the latter with only 1 minute and 50 seconds left.

Hornung, a doubtful starter, made a major contribution with his steady running and by completing 10 passes for 100 yards. Boyd Dowler on the halfback option that set up Taylor's 7-yard touchdown in the end zone.

Nitschke, voted the games outstanding player, pounced on the ball when King left the second period. It took Green Bay just two scores to score its touchdown.

The Packers' defense was led by Nitschke, a 6-foot, 3-inch, 255-pound Illinois native, who in the third period, was dominated by the defense.

Griffith Sets Title Match In Denmark

COPENHAGEN, Dec. 31 (AP)—Emile Griffith of New York, world welterweight champion, will meet Denmark's Christian Christensen in Copenhagen Jan. 21 or Feb. 3. It was announced Sunday.

Danish promoter Jørgen Johansen had turned down an offer from Griffith's managers Gil Cleary and Howard Albert last Saturday.

"I wanted to start the new year with the most sensational boxing event Denmark ever had after Saturday night's announcement. I could not start at night, I wanted and turned and early in the morning I made up my mind. This is it, the light must be held."

Griffith will defend his status of the world junior middleweight crown he won by outpointing Teddy Wright of Detroit in Warsaw last Oct. 17. The bout was recognized only by the Amateur Boxing Federation for the United States.

A $25,000 purse for Griffith has been mentioned, but the final figure will not be decided until the signing Monday of a formal contract.

OREGON DEFEATED CHRISTCHURCH, New Zealand, Dec. 31 (AP)—Peter Smith, world runner leader for the half-mile and mile, paced New Zealand's runners to a sweep of three races over the morning at the signing Monday of a formal contract.

Payoff

NEW YORK, Dec. 31 (AP)—"They vindicated themselves" said a grim Alvie Sherman. "There was no humiliation today." The New York Giants' coach, his face dyed a cherry red by the searing wind in Yankee stadium, surveyed his silent athletes in the losing dressing room. "They put up a great effort," he said. "I'm sorry they couldn't get it."

The old hold-out quarterback Y. A. Tittle, slowly stripped of a half-mile of tape from his bowed-off face. "We wanted it bad," he said, yanking the tape loose. "They are a real good team."

He got up, trailing yards of tape and bandage, and walked over to his passing partner, end Del Shofner. "Shofner fingered a cut on Tittle's cheekbone. "When did I get that?" asked Tittle.

"The wind was pretty bad," he said, in answer to question. "And they were hitting me with their hands (the Packers) were cold, too."

Tittle stroled to the shower and stayed under the warm water for a long, long time. "I had the look of a man who had done a good job."

"You don't win the world championship without scoring some points," he said, in answer to question. "And they were hitting me with their hands (the Packers) were cold, too."

Holiday Tournaments Prove Tough on Top Teams but Three Escape Unbeaten

The Christmas holiday basketball tournament grind was rough on several top ranked teams, but Cincinnati dizzily weekend hoop whirl, Ohio State, the nation's No. 2 team in the weekly Associated Press ratings, was handed its first loss Saturday night, falling before the driving Wichita Shockers.

71-54 in a non-tournament fracas, it was the Buckeyes, who beat Butler 62-42 earlier in the week, with a 7-1 record, Wichita now is 10-2. Southern California, No. 7, and Stanford, No. 9, also joined the beaten ranks. Both were defeated in the Los Angeles Invitational. Colorado State defeated UIC 77-54. The Trojans then downed UCLA 61-41 and Utah State handed USC its second loss 78-61. Northwestern also defeated Stanford 61-41 and the Indiana Hoosiers beat Washington 61-41 in double overtime.

Cincinnati, ranked No. 1, played only once during the week and easily overcame Ohio University Saturday 73-43. Loyola led the All College tourney at Oklahoma City by defeating Wyoming 83-62, running its season record to 19-0. Loyola downed Arkansas and Memphis State earlier.

Illinois, No. 4, ran up a string to 8-0 by rolling through the ECAC holiday festival in New York. The Tilt turned on the pressure in the late stages to beat West Virginia for the championship 92-74 after defeating Pennsylvania and New York U. in earlier rounds.

Kentucky, Arizona State, Duke and Mississippi State, others in the top 10, also won their games Saturday. Kentucky, No. 5, edged Duke 70-70. Duke, No. 10, won the Queen City tourney at Buffalo by handing Carolina its first loss, Duke 70-67. Duke also won the tourney by blasting Wake Forest 115-87. Mississippi State, No. 10, lost earlier in the week to Houston in the Sugar bowl tournament at New Orleans, but took the place by defeating Xavier of Ohio Saturday 75-58.

The Ohio State loss wasn't entirely unexpected, for Wichita was regarded as a rugged rival. Wichita also holds another big scalp, as the Shockers are the only team to have beaten Arizona State, a 92-90 overtime victory in mid-December. Wichita also won the Sugar bowl tournament at Ohio State 74-59 at halftime, and Earl Moore paced his mascot fast break in the last half at the Kansas' first hour.

It was Wichita's seventh straight. The "Beastmen" of Cincinnati won their ninth game of the season, rolling up a 32-14 halftime lead over Ohio U. It was the 21st straight for the NCAA champions, with George Wilson leading the winners with 26 points.

Wyoming handily Loyola a big scare in the All College final, leading up to within two points, 64-70 in the final seven minutes. But Loyola drew away as Leslie Hunter tallied three points and wound up with 34 for the night.

Illinois tallied West Virginia 40-39 at halftime, but went on a rampage in the Holiday festival championship game. The Tilt outscored the Mountaineers 35-19 in the last six minutes. Dick Hall got 19 of his 26 points in the last half for Illinois. Rod Thorn had 21 for West Virginia. Auburn remained unbeaten, 8-0 by defeating Houston 71-62 in overtime to capture the Sugar Bowl tourney. It is the Los Angeles Classic finale, UCLA beat Colorado State 68-64.

Oregon State won the Far West Classic at Portland, Ore., beating Town 51-51. Steve Cour-

Guy Expected to Lead Rebels in Sugar Bowl Tilt

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 31 (AP)—One Guy on the Mississippi football team that Arkansas must watch out for in Tuesday's Sugar clash in Louis. And Louis is quite a Guy. Louis Guy, a 6-foot, 185-pound wingback from McComb, Miss., has led more than twice as many points as any other Rebel player. He also got off the longest scoring sprint, an aerial steal against Tennessee which netted 103 yards.

The touchdown dash was the longest made by any Southeastern conference back during the 1962 campaign. Guy was also on the receiving end of the longest Ole Miss aerial play during the season, a 45-yard pass from quarterback Olvin Griffing in the Quarterback camp.

And it was Guy who snared the second touchdown pass from Griffing against Louisiana State which sent the Rebels ahead and on to their key victory at Baton Rouge. That practically assured Ole Miss of its first unbeaten season in the university's history.

The pro has been eyed on Louisiana Guy, but the versatile athlete may give up a career in the pros for one in medicine. An excellent student, he has been accepted for admission next semester to the Ole Miss medical school in Jackson.

He was drafted by New York in the American Football league while the Philadelphia Eagles acquired the National League rights to the soft-spoken boy from South Mississippi.

"He just may not go with the pros," says Frank (Bruker) Kinard, the Ole Miss assistant coach who made All America when he played for the Rebels and was later a top pro star.

"Louis has got everything—especially heart—that we look for in an athlete," Kinard said.

Sooners Say Passing Is Crucial to Victory

MIAMI, Dec. 31 (AP)—Sophomore quarterback Joe Namath and the Alabama passing attack hold the key for the 25th annual Orange bowl football game Tuesday. "This is the crux of the whole matter," said Wilkinson, coach of underdog Oklahoma, said Sunday after supervising intensive Sooner aerial defense drills.

"If we can check Alabama passing we'll be in the ball game. It's right to the finish," Namath, I believe, is the best quarterback and passer we've played against in the bowl game.

While directing fifth-ranked Alabama to a 9-1 season record, Namath bettered the school's one-year record for passing yards (1,192) and completions (76) and led the great Hays Clinton standard of 33 scoring losses.

Oklahoma senior field general Mervyn Haskins has not had an interception but doesn't report to the sidelines nearly as much as Namath, who has the target 38 times for 789 yards.

Even ultra-cautious Alabama coach Paul Bryant contends his team has "the more dangerous passing attack." At the same time the Sooner coach insists Oklahoma is more aggressive and more up to the task of winning a better running game and more depth.

"I agree with the part about the passing," Wilkinson said. "The key is another of these pre-game interviews." "It says we're more aggressive than they are the day when anybody is more aggressive than Alabama."

Bryant says Namath is as good now as Babe Parill was as a sophomore. And it was the latter's criticism who piloted Bryant's Kentucky team to a 13-7 Sugar bowl upset over Oklahoma's national champions in 1951, the only post-season loss in seven years for Wilkinson teams.

Bryant named Sunday 15 co-captains—all his seniors—as the Tide held a final workout in Miami stadium. The team worked on offensive patterns in much cooler weather than it had had previously. Alabama will drill on the Orange bowl turf Monday, just to keep the boys loose and let them get the feel of the field, Bryant said.

In a substitute, paced B. Joseph of Philadelphia to a 76-64 victory over Brigham Young in the Quaker City tournament championship.

Kansas went "four overtime periods before downing Kansas State for the Big Eight tourney title, 90-58. DePaul won Detroit's Motor City crown by downing Detroit 82-71. Wisconsin defeated Marquette for the Milwaukee Classic title, 70-56. Vanderbilt beat Purdue 40-33 in the Pointsettia Classic. Texas A & M turned back Virginia 60-50 for the Arkansas State Invitational title, and the Sun Carnival championship went to Texas Western, 42-40 over Texas.

In other games, Michigan defeated Yale 82-71, Drake downed Minnesota 67-50, and Butler defeated Dartmouth 80-55.

Packers Say Giants Were Real Tough

NEW YORK, Dec. 31 (AP)—The Green Bay Packers were winners Sunday—but brilliant, weary and shot-through-with cold winners who realized they'd been through the fight of their football lives.

"I've never played in a tougher game, I'm one third star," said Paul Hornung, the golden-age halfback.

And Jim Taylor, the National Football League's player-of-the-year, top rusher and leading scorer, readily concurred as he displayed a collection of battle wounds.

"I don't remember ever being so tired," Taylor said. "I don't remember ever being so hot." Similar comments were heard throughout the Packers' dressing room after their 17-7 triumph over the New York Giants for the NFL championship at midweek Yankee Stadium.

As for personnel it was virtually the same team that the Packers wrapped last year at Green Bay 31-0 but it was a far different game.

"The Giants were much, much better," said Pack coach Vince Lombardi, a former Chicago assistant. "They may be the same team a year older, but they've certainly improved with age."

"You just can't compare the two games," Hornung added. "In a game like this one, it's tough to call a turning point or pick a key play," Lombardi said.

"I think the catch Ron Kramer made before our first three points and the punt return from Moore made that helped set up that second field goal were big ones."

Willie Wood, one of Green Bay's defensive backs and the center of the game's only real controversy, explained the ruckus in a master-of-let-way.

After being called for interference against Bill Shriver late in the third period, Wood had a brush with back judge Tom Keelher and was ejected from the game.

"I thought I made a real good play," he said, "and when he called me for interference I reached out to grab his arm as he went by to pick up the ball. My arms and legs were well covered with scrapes and cuts, mostly from the punishing contact he made with the semi-frozen turf. His nastiest injury was a gash on his right elbow the first time he fell in the first period. It required stitches at halftime."

"I also cut my tongue and kept getting poked all day," the halfback said. "I had words with a lot of them, and most of 'em weren't nice words."

Wichita Will Meet Bearcats In Top Clash

By The Associated Press
Ralph Hillier's ambitious Wichita team, fresh from a victory over Ohio State 11-4 Saturday, will meet the Bearcats Saturday at Cincinnati's national championship stadium. The schedule after a highly successful non-conference campaign.

Wichita has won seven straight for a 9-2 record. The Shockers defeated Ohio State 11-4 Saturday night with Dave Stallworth scoring 21 points and knocking the Big Ten team from the unbeaten ranks. Wichita also knocked Arizona State sophomore star Tommie Agee, a five-game home stand, Louisville, Minnesota and Michigan State over the other victims.

Wichita now seems to be the best chance of upsetting Cincy's 10-1 high standing. The championship and unprecedented third straight NCAA crown. The Bearcats had more trouble winning the Valley than the NCAA last season, as they tied for the title and beat Bradley in a playoff.

Nine Hunting Deaths Noted For Idaho

BOISE, Dec. 31—Idaho's nine deaths resulting from hunting accidents from Aug. 23 until the end of most hunting seasons in the state for 1962, which equals the same figure for last year and is nearly 50 per cent less than the fatalities charged to hunting in 1960, the fish and game department reported today.

This year's nearly complete tabulations, however, attribute only 16 non-fatal gun accidents to hunting as compared to 32 last year and 27 in 1960, according to Director John B. Woodworth. Fifteen of the gun accidents resulting in death or injuries hunters this fall were self-inflicted.

Woodworth noted that 12 hunters killed or injured in such accidents were 19 years old or less, as compared to 20 last year and 19 the year before. He commented that the decline may be the result of gun safety training given by department personnel and reported in many of the junior high schools around the state. This hunter safety program has reached over 50,000 students since 1958, and is presented in cooperation with the public school administrations, organized sportsmen and the National Rifle Association.

The department uses the standardized hunter accident report form developed by NRA. Gun accidents involving hunters in injury to people are listed if they occurred during a hunting trip or while traveling to or from the field, during the regular hunting season. This year's regular hunting season closed on December 31, but Sept. 1 because of earlier-than-usual sheep and goat hunts. Other gun accidents are reported separately.

Bolt Threat Draws More Gem Comment

SHOSHONE, Dec. 31 (AP)—Bannock county's Republican Sen. Perry Swisher's threat to bolt the party should another Republican be named chairman of the state affairs committee drew more comment today.

Veteran Republican state Sen. Jack Murphy, Lincoln county majority leader in the 1961 session, and George Blick, Twin Falls candidate for president pro tem, said no single man in the senate could "sit on or withhold legislation" as Swisher contends Sen. R. H. Young, R., Canyon, would do if re-named chairman of the committee.

"As everyone in the senate knows," Murphy and Blick said in a joint statement, "no single man, whether he be a chairman or not, can stop any piece of legislation from coming to the floor."

The senators said the only "exception would be when legislation is to be passed under suspension of the rules. This would require a two-thirds vote of the senate," they said.

Swisher has said he would aid the Democrats in organizing the senate if Young were named chairman of the committee.
