WASHINGTON—The new congress, which will face the new John F. Kennedy, there will be little change in the political scene. There has been a change of only 50 members and the divisions are about the same.

But there has been a tremendous change in the President. The change has been only when comparing the 1923 President, with the early 1953 Kennedy—is more dynamic, tougher and more sure of himself.

NEVER A VIOLET—John F. Kennedy has never been a "number one" man. He has been a steady state legislator, a steady state legislator. He entered upon the presidency with exactly the right amount of humility. The man who has been elected to the White House is a steady state legislator and not equal to the tasks ahead.

Since inauguration day, he has slowly, steadily attained a stronger position. His hand has tightened on the scepter.

Since inauguration day, the fastest advance came during the Cuban crisis. Kennedy realized it was a time for decision and he made decisions. The matter of hours was completed over that of Roosevelt, Castro and probably several members of his own administration.

Welcome Snow

Thursday's storm, light as it was, couldn't have been more welcome. Mother Nature's timing was excellent as she pushed the storm away from the valley just as the first snow survey figures became available. Without exception, snow surveys are reporting less snow than measured at the first of last year. So although Thursday's snowfall was quite welcome, a great deal more snow will have to fall during the next two months before adequate irrigation water can be assured.

Besides farmers, others must have been pleased with the storm. Desert and mountain ranges have been dry and insufficient moisture falls, grazing is likely to be poor next spring and summer.

Ski areas around Magic Valley have been curtailed and in some cases haven't had enough snow to start operation. Included among the closed areas is Magic Mountain.

Although Sun Valley has been unable to operate pretty much as usual, it's difficult to keep up the brave front when early snow has been melting without new snowfall. Continuing snow would help the famed resort.

Unless there is a marked change in weather, so it becomes obvious to everyone that the necessary snow is piling up in the mountains, there will be no snow waiting period. Barring such a change, it will be necessary to wait until Feb. 1 to see if the water picture is changing in the mountains. Monthly snow surveys are taken the first of every month in the first five or six months of the year.

Between surveys, one can only guess at the condition of watersheds.

The one bright spot is the report Jackson lake watershed has more snow now than a year ago. The report, coupled with much higher reservoir storage, helps brighten the picture for farmers, even though it won't help Magic Valley skiers.

TEMPERED MAN—Out of this came the new Kennedy, the Kennedy who had discovered that decisions make leaders and that aggressiveness is a necessary part of leadership.

Like the ballplayer who swings two bats he waits up to the plate, waiting for the pitch he needs his muscles. The new Kennedy showed his muscles in these incidents:

Dec. 12. The new Kennedy gave the press an interview. He was asked the question: "Do you think you will be able to get along with the administration?" He got away with it, too. He answered that he would get along with all of them and that he was not going to be a member of the administration. He was asked if he would be a member of the administration. He answered that he would be a member of the administration.

TAKES ON CONGRESS—Dec. 18. In his taped television interview, the President challenged the members of the House of Representatives. He took a tough position against the proposal to let the house rule committee on the Kennedy bill. He would probably return it to control of conservatives who would block the administration's program.

INSIDIOUS KILLER—In recent weeks, four Hollywood celebrities have died of cancer. Dick Powell and Jack Carson died of the same disease within hours of each other, following closely the deaths of Charles Laughton and Thomas Mitchell. The prize actually struck against four of the newspapers—The New York Times, The News, The World-Telegram and Sun, and The Journal.

Cancer, the insidious killer that claimed all four, is responsible for almost one-sixth of all deaths in the United States, ranked only second to heart disease. It attacks the circulatory system. Its victims are found in all walks of life and all age groups.

It could be expected that great efforts are being made to control such a deadly disease and there has been a steady progress. In the last 25 years, the cure rate has risen from one out of seven to one out of three. Yet much remains to be accomplished in the battle against cancer.

The extent of the never-ending battle against cancer is almost staggering. The federal government is involved in research in laboratories of the national cancer institute, a division of the public health service. The institute has some 100 grants, about $100 million.

The American Cancer society, which leads the battle, is supporting more than 600 research grants totaling more than 17 million dollars.

Eventually, the great research program will pinpoint the causes of malignancies and find ways to avert them or cure them. Until then, cancer remains a killer disease likely to strike down anyone with no regard for race, creed, age or position.

DO IT HIS WAY—Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman is continuing his efforts to obtain control over all aspects of farming. Right now, he's warning farmers if they don't approve an "international wheat war" could result with internal chaos in U. S. agriculture. Farmers are used to some similar warning in advance of every bill on wheat controls.

Freeman is warning farmers to get the farm program in a new conference, told reporters he hoped agriculture will not be a bitter partisan issue in congress. He added he would do everything he could to prevent such an eventuality. He could follow suggestions to end all farm controls. Of course, that wouldn't do at all.

What Mr. Freeman apparently intended to say was that he hopes congress will go along with him and there won't be any opposition to his plans.

USE OF SALTIER—President Kennedy's food historian remarks on the eating habits of the new President. He said that the new President will eat a lot of saltier food. He said that the new President will eat a lot of saltier food. He said that the new President will eat a lot of saltier food.

Along Fences and Canals

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Daniels and family moved from their farm near Shoshone to Gooding. Mr. and Mrs. Bob Robinson and family are moving to the Daniels farm.

The head of sheep belonging to John Baple and son has been taken off the range south of King Hill to the Baple ranch for winter feeding and lambing operations.

The hundred head of cattle were transferred by truck from the Harold Blackburn ranch at Clear Lake to the farm of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Ferry for winter feeding. Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Ferry, who operate the Kinloch ranch, have installed pipes to carry water from the Clear Lake canal to the Baple ranch. The pipes will be laid out in half and cemented into wooden cases in the corral farm managers for feeding.

A large herd of cattle from the Plich Fork ranch of W. W. Knox, King Hill, was trailed to the former Silk ranch west of the Harold Blackburn ranch at Clear Lake to the farm of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Ferry for winter feeding. Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Ferry, who operate the Kinloch ranch, have installed pipes to carry water from the Clear Lake canal to the Baple ranch. The pipes will be laid out in half and cemented into wooden cases in the corral farm managers for feeding.

A 10-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Elden Guthrie, who lives at Shoshone, had a narrow escape when he fell a trailer full of alfalfa and the tractor pulling the load ran over his head. The boy was rushed to a Shoshone doctor, but had only cuts and bruises. His mother, Mrs. Guthrie, says she was sitting on the ground when she saw the boy was in a hole.

The Sussex brothers, Ed, Ray and Pat, have built a 21 by 10-foot feeding shed for their calves on their farm 10 miles north-west of Shoshone. It has a metal roof, double walls and a four-foot wide floor. There are 10-foot wings on the east and west ends for windbreaks, and on the south side a movable feeder and ramp, which can be taken out.

Donald Walker, west Richfield farmer, is impressed with the nice-catching ability of the cats at his ranch. He noticed the nine cats, many of them still in the kitten stage, sitting in a bush outside at the side of his home.

Ed Davis and Edward Hoshaw, Tuttle have bought 15 Hereford stock cows to add to their herd.

Some recent improvements at the Leavelle ranch at Tuttle are being made. A half-mile irrigation system is being installed to be used for watering stock and irrigating, and new feed bunkers. Some with creep fences for the younger calves were put in summer pasture which they are using this year.

Harvey Maxson is building a new machine shed on his farm east of Elmer.

Ralph Flernan, Filer shepherd, is well into lambing operations. His first lambs were being born at Christiansburg.

Twin Falls Cattleman to Address National Parley

Denver, Jan. 4.—Ralph E. Onstead, Twin Falls, president of the Idaho Livestock and Horse Raisers' association, will be one of several speakers at the 24th annual convention of the National Agricultural Chemicals association, which will be held at the Flamingo hotel in Las Vegas, Jan. 21-23.

The industry is planning to continue to expand and safely employ the products of the chemical industry.

Onstead will be joined by other speakers, including Dr. M. G. Clark, associate administrator of the National Agricultural Chemicals association, and Dr. Don H. Spangler, chairman of the board, American Veterinary Association, and Dr. E. G. Spangler, Jr., president of the American Veterinary Association.

Also scheduled for major addresses to the 2,000 cattlemen of 10 states are Homer T. Brundage, Chicago, Prof. Burdette Brundage, University of Illinois, Ronald Reagan, television and motion picture star, Interior Secretary Stewart Udell, and U.S. Forest Service Chief, G. V. Coffey.

Drug Battles Mastitis in Bovine Herds

NORWICH, N. Y., Jan. 4.—A new antimicrobial drug for control of mastitis, the under infection that costs U. S. dairy farmers a billion dollars a year, has been developed by the Eaton Laboratories, a division of the Pharmacia company, for use by veterinarians.

When administered by a patented syringe device directly into the infected quarter, the new drug, called Valvolin G, has been found to be effective in a high percentage of bovine mastitis cases.

The drug is a suspension of penicillin which requires that no significant residue of any antimicrobial drug be present in milk for human consumption. Eaton Laboratories developed a test sensitive to as little as one part in a billion of the agent in milk. Researchers said that none of the drug was detected in milk 48 hours after administration of the drug.

The drug is also effective for milk from cows treated with Valvolin G for 48 hours, is considered safe for human consumption. The average value of a dairy cow in the U. S. at present is $11, and she is still the most efficient known converter of feed grains and grasses into nutrition.

Valvolin or furazolidone, is one of the nitrofurans—a unique group of drugs.

Lambing Is Well Under Way for Area Sheepmen

Early lambing is under way in Twin Falls county again and many owners and secretary of the Twin Falls lamb club are reporting good lamb crop prospects for a good lamb crop.

Usually warm weather is contributing much to the success of early lambing, reports Harry Holmquist, Twin Falls rancher. Holmquist said forces are minor this year and young lambs are doing quite well.

Regulation Forbids Fee Collecting

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4 (AP)—The agriculture department has announced a new regulation which forbids the packers and stockyards from collecting a fee for lambing services.

The regulation was proposed a year ago and requires that packers or dealers may charge, collect, or collect from the seller of the livestock any compensation in the form of commission, yardage, or other service charge.

Election Set

DEQUO, Jan. 4.—O'Brien Lewis, Deputy Secretary of the Idaho County Beef Growers' association, announces that an annual meeting will be held at 1 p. m. Saturday at the junior high school gymnasium in Durley.

Name Change Is Pondered By Secretary

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4 (AP)—Agriculture Secretary Orville J. Freeman considered today whether to propose changing the name of the department of agriculture.

Freeman suggested that perhaps the department should be named the department of food, agriculture and rural affairs.

California Farmers List Smog Losses

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 4 (AP)—California farmers may lose as much as 10 million dollars a year as a result of smog.

The annual California growers warns that tomatoes, lettuce, alfalfa, cotton, grapes and other fruits are most susceptible to smog damage.

Research done at the air pollution center at the University of California indicates that damage to crops is by no means limited to the Los Angeles area.

Wheat Crop Down, Corn Crop Is Up

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4.—The agriculture department's final report of the year's crop production of wheat in 1962 is 4,091,767,000 bushels and corn for grain at 3,643,615,000 bushels.

The wheat crop is estimated at 4,091,767,000 bushels, less than the 4,295,253,000 bushels previously forecast. It compares with the 4,151,000,000 bushels for 1961 and the 10-year (1951-61) average of 4,148,627,000 bushels.

The corn estimate is 3,643,615,000 bushels, more than the 3,620,000,000 bushels forecast. It compares with last year's revised figure of 3,530,000,000 bushels and the 10-year average of 3,727,000,000 bushels.

Both wheat and corn were grown under programs aimed at cutting back on production of three crops.

The winter wheat crop was reported at 3,112,000,000 bushels compared with last year's revised figure of 3,242,000,000 bushels and the 10-year average of 3,292,000,000 bushels.

The winter wheat crop was estimated at 2,754,000,000 bushels compared with the 1961 revised figure of 2,920,000,000 bushels and the 10-year average of 2,923,000,000 bushels.

Dryland wheat was put at 71,600,000 bushels compared with the 1961 revised figure of 72,000,000 bushels and the 10-year average of 74,000,000 bushels.

The 1962 production of other crops compared with the 1961 revised estimate, last year's revised figure and the 10-year average, respectively, including:

Oats 1,513,743,000 bushels, 1962 estimate, 1,427,000,000 bushels, 1961 revised figure, 1,450,000,000 bushels, 10-year average, 1,500,000,000 bushels.

Beans for beans, 275,107,000 bushels, 1962 estimate, 275,107,000 bushels, 1961 revised figure, 275,107,000 bushels, 10-year average, 275,107,000 bushels.

Borghani grain 50,137,000 bushels, 1962 estimate, 50,137,000 bushels, 1961 revised figure, 50,137,000 bushels, 10-year average, 50,137,000 bushels.

Wheat all, 121,024,000 tons; 117,488,000; 116,819,000; and 112,211,000.

Wheat dry beans 18,207,000 hundredweight; 18,102,000; 20,287,000 and 16,929,000.

Wheat dry beans 4,947,000 hundredweight; 4,954,000; 3,243,000; and 4,322,000.

Wheat dry beans 26,230,000 hundredweight; 25,887,000; 29,334,000 and 24,242,000.

Wheat dry beans 18,109,000 hundredweight; 18,436,000; 17,704,000; and 15,613,000.

Wheat dry beans 43,251,000 bushels; 43,007,000; 39,454,000; and 47,306,000.

Reductions of Public Land Alter Gem Sheep Industry

MOSCOW, Jan. 4.—Loss or reduction of public lands for grazing has caused Idaho sheepmen considerable concern. Forged for the first time in the history of his public lands, the grazing sheepmen live themselves without proved alternatives. Little research information has been available concerning rangeland operations. Because of the Idaho sheepman's need for this information, University of Idaho researchers are now experimental project at the Caldwell branch experiment station. The project was to determine the feasibility of maintaining sheep the year around with extended feeds in drylots. Some 80 ewes were kept in drylots and 80 were kept on pastures in summer and fall. The drylot ewes were confined to drylots where they were fed only on harvested feeds for their entire lives or until the breeding season. The four "drylot" groups were confined in separate lots with rams and provided with fresh water, salt and shade. No grain was fed. Alfalfa hay, all the ewes could eat, was provided.

Jerome Area, Agent Reports

JEROME, Jan. 4.—In reviewing the agriculture economy of Jerome county, W. G. Priest, county extension agent, said 1932 was a good grain year, fair for beef cattle in most areas, and a fair to good year for sheep. In his annual report released this week, Priest said harvest conditions in the county were excellent for all crops except corn, some of which has not yet dried enough to be harvested. Discussing the agriculture economy of his report, Priest said that "the continued presence of the Mexican bean beetle in Jerome city limits poses a serious threat to our county's largest money crop." The bean beetle was found during the survey conducted in June and a majority of the city gardeners, alfalfa and the wheat areas were sprayed. The beetling surveys in July and August failed to uncover any more of the insects. Priest said "it is hoped that the work of the past three summer months will give an opportunity to go back to the promotion of staples after the holiday season." The first potato week was staged in November, 1932, when an Idaho and Maine joined forces in promoting the event.

PILLETED-FERTILIZER is easily distributed by means of a new spinner, impulse sprayer. The machine is operated by tractor power take off and can handle pelleted, granulated and semi-pelleted fertilizers such as 7-7-7, wheat, oats and bromo grass can be distributed with speed and with uniform pattern.

New Fertilizer Spreader Designed for Pellet Use

COLDWATER, O., Jan. 4.—An all new 3,000 pound capacity spinner type fertilizer spreader (1,000 pounds with optional add-on) is being marketed by the New Idea Farm Equipment Company. The new machine will patently operate and metering device was designed for spreading pelleted, granulated and semi-pelleted fertilizers plus seeds like rye, wheat, oats and bromo grass with speed and uniform spread pattern. The new machine has been tested thoroughly on farm tested to meet the growing trend toward the use of bulk fertilizer which consists of a ten foot than hinged machine. With this machine, the farmer can spread fertilizer in any direction and wait for a custom operator, or wonder if the application rate is uniform, he is concerned about soil compaction. The power take-off driven spinner has a curved wings to assure a uniform spread pattern up to 50 feet wide depending on type of fertilizer, regardless of ground grade.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4.—Farm prices at the start of the new year were one per cent above those of a year earlier, according to the department's monthly report. Prospects for improvement were not bright. Grain prices were generally lower in December under the impact of lower returns for livestock and wholesale milk. The department said "farm costs in December rose one-third of one per cent during the month, putting them at an all-time high of 308 per cent of the 1914-1916 average." At the beginning of the new year there was two per cent higher than a year ago.

Gem Hog Harvest Under 1961 Crop

BOISE, Jan. 4.—The 1961 Gem pig crop, pigs saved during the year, is estimated at 193,000 head according to the crop reporting service. Production at this level is six per cent below the 1961 crop and eight per cent below the 10-year average. Some 14,000 sows farrowed last year, according to the service, and some 13,000 sows farrowed last fall, some 2,000 head under the previous fall. Out of the spring crop there were some 102,000 pigs saved which was 4,000 less than 1961 but 14,000 below the 10-year average. The 1961 fall crop was a little better, at 120,000 head, some 6,000 fewer than 1961, but still well under the 19-year average. Idaho hog producers will farrow 14,000 sows again this spring, according to intention reports.

World Corn Crop Total Is Smaller

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4.—The foreign agricultural service has estimated the world corn production in 1952-53 will be about 100 million bushels smaller than the output in 1951-52. The prospective crop for 1952-53 probably will be 73 billion bushels. Smaller harvests in the United States, Europe, and the Soviet Union are partly offset by larger outputs in other countries. The forecast of 73 billion bushels of corn combined with earlier forecasts for barley and oats shows that the world output of feed grains this season on a forage basis may be slightly above the 1951-52 total. A large world barley crop will more than offset reductions in corn and oats. At the same time, Japan's demand for feed grains is expected to be noticeably below the 1951-52 level. The United States corn crop of about 3.6 billion bushels this year was down 57.5 million bushels, the smallest in more than 60 years. Yields, however, were at an all-time high of 62.4 bushels per acre.

RECORD HIGH

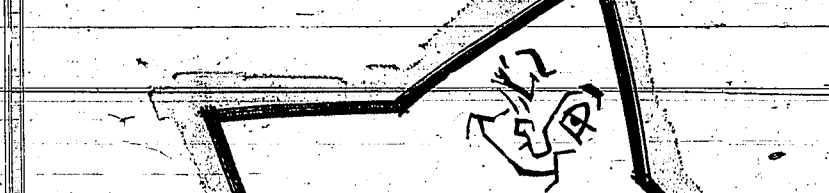

CHICAGO, Jan. 4.—Harry C. Dacher, president, International Harvester Co., announced that the diversified Chicago concern had achieved an all-time record in sales and a substantial increase in net income during 1952, totaling some 14 per cent.

Water District Office Consolidation Sparks Interest in Gooding, Shoshone

BY MRS. HARRIETT THORNE
SHOSHONE, Jan. 4.— Though many people feel consolidation of offices was not the main issue of the director's election for the American Falls Reservoir district number two, in Gooding and Lincoln counties, somehow the issue sparked what turned out to be the biggest turnout for such an election in the history of the district.

A number of farmers in Shoshone area believe the facts were deliberately distorted in order to swing the election to a director against office consolidation, when the desire of the farmers themselves was overlooked.

The sum result was that the rural farm has been noted again, close to home, but in a way that reveals the trend throughout the country. The best interest of the man who pays the bill for the water is completely disregarded because he was outnumbered by the town and business office workers.

The issue in last month's election was possibility of consolidation of the Gooding-American Falls Reservoir district and Big Wood Canal company offices.

Proponents of the consolidation move, to the word spread, were backing Roland Powers, running against Rodney Pauls.

Pauls was backed by the community of Gooding in an attempt to keep the American Falls office open in Gooding. Gooding got out the vote to elect Pauls to the board.

In checking on who pays the maintenance and operation fees for the American Falls district office at Gooding, it is found the city of Gooding pays only a fraction of the expense. The north and south Gooding tracts contribute just 33 per cent of the maintenance and operation assessment of the American Falls reservoir district.

Gooding area serviced by the water district takes in 33,200 acres of land, compared to 94,400 total.

Those who feel consolidation may be for the good of all, point out that the Shoshone office to consider. The biggest advantage would be in accounting, the second in savings to the farmers who support the offices and having to handle clearances on the land base.

This makes, on a land basis, two-thirds against one-third who would be benefited by consolidation, the proponents of the move say.

The idea of consolidation did not originate with local people this year. It was recommended by the district administration in 1952, as a means of more effective management for the area.

The recommendation is a "one-man means of achieving greater efficiency—parallel with reference to issuance of clearance for delivery of water and transfer of water rights; the district board of directors considers consolidation of the district office at Gooding with the operating office at Shoshone."

The Big Wood Canal company owns the office building in Shoshone, tax free. The quarters at Gooding are rented. The office rental and operation savings which would be affected by consolidation include rent, at $80 a month or $960 a year; heat—$200 a year; light—$100; city of Gooding water—$200; telephone calls to Shoshone—$200; postage—$200; and stamps and envelopes on duplication of maintenance and operation notices, $38 — to make a total savings of at least $3,338 a year by consolidation.

These expenses, the farmers pay, Shoshone proponents point out.

Another recommendation for consolidation of the offices came through the savings to the accountants, Mrs. Helen Dickinson, who audits the books.

Her April 25, 1958, report included the statement: "The system of exchange of expense results in an elaborate duplication of a very refined classification of accounts on the company's books and of an accurate record of 'operation' of the district's books."

"Suggestions and possible remedy: The company cannot report actual expenses in the district because these expenses are spread on two sets of books. If the expenses and purchases were considered to be that of the company, and there seems to be no reason why they are not, the company is directly responsible for them and should pay them and record them. It appears that the system in use is followed because it was set up years ago and is a good reasoning but does not include change if a change is better."

"The system as used prevents the accomplishment of good accounting, because there is no aid to management without a true and full presentation of all the items and expenditures."

Maintenance and operation collections become a major problem at the company's office at water release time. There is constant flow of releases; phone calls, mailings, direct pickups by manager and assistant managers between the district and company offices for prompt clearances, and with the majority of the papers reaching the company after 4 p. m.

Everything for the district is pooled, except the office. This involves machinery and power.

There are 38 employees for the district serving in both the Shoshone Big Wood Canal company, district and the American Falls reservoir district offices through Gooding. These employees work about 10 months out of the year, with about 10 employees kept on during the other two winter months.

The Big Wood Canal company, which had office quarters in Richfield from 1908 to 1921, was transferred to the Idaho Irrigation company. The office was moved to Shoshone, April 1921.

The company is the delivering agent for the entire system that carries irrigation to the 84,000 acres of land in Shoshone, north Shoshone, Richfield, District 2, Blaine and north and south Gooding areas.

There are about 900 stockholders in the Big Wood Canal company, a private corporation.

READY FOR SOME MORE! Wisconsin quarterback Her Vanderveen, whose heroic passing efforts earned the team an all-American all-star team, says he is ready to take the 17th annual title bowl game Sunday. (AP-Wirephoto)

South Coach Picks North To Win Bowl

HONOLULU, Jan. 4 (AP)—South coach Bill Barnes predicted that the way, which the North Thursday defeated in all-stars in the 17th annual title bowl football game Sunday.

"I have to give the North a good deal of credit," Barnes said. "Because they were very great pass receivers. And remember, they also have a strong running game."

"I don't think it will be anything else," Barnes said. "All-star things are always that way."

"The South, with great speed in the attack using a flanker back, Barnes worked with two offensive units. He had one team, Billy Barry-Dallitt of California at quarterback, All-American Jerry-Edward of Louisiana State at flanker, Eldon Fortle of Brigham Young at tight halfback and Sherman D. Collins as fullback."

"I'm glad to see that," Charlie Mitchell of Washington and Bill Murray of Minnesota at defensive end, and George Scales of Michigan State at fullback.

Barnes' team were Ohio State's Jim Mackay at quarterback, Earl Plattley of Northwestern and Larry Ferguson of Iowa at the half and Washington State's George
