

Premier Tells West of Missiles Pointed at U.S.

BERLIN, Jan. 19 (AP)—Premier Khrushchev boasted Saturday night that although he withdrew 40 Soviet missiles from Cuba, "we have put up 80 or perhaps 120 elsewhere-else." He did not say where, but implied that it was inside the Soviet Union. He also boasted that what he called the "Soviet club" prevented the important American wolf from swallowing Cuba. "I took several more swipes at the communist Chinese and predicted that one day all of Germany would live under communism," Khrushchev made his remarks before factory workers in an East German town founded town while the newspaper reported that Germany's sixth communist party congress in East Berlin.

"American imperialists know that we have withdrawn 40 rockets from Cuba, but put 80 or perhaps 120 elsewhere else," he told iron workers in a recast cultural hall in Eisenhuettenberg.

"Cuba is not the most convenient place to station rockets," he said, "but we have better places than Cuba to put rockets."

"Today's technique guarantees that any distance can be bridged with 'rockets.' What difference does it make to the imperialists if a rocket falls on their heads that is launched from Cuba, or from the Soviet Union?"

"Khrushchev spoke of 40 rockets being withdrawn from Cuba after the October crisis, but both Soviet and U.S. officials reported the missiles were never withdrawn. He said the U.S. wanted to send 3000 men against Cuba. They showed their appetite for war, but still they did not bite. We have the American imperialists' throat in our hands. We have a powerful club."

Khrushchev then turned to the "American 'atomic people'." He favored phrase for the Red Chinese, "that he backed down before the U.S. 'paper tiger.'"

Wiley Dods, advertising manager of the Times-News, and Earl Hyland, advertising account executive, were both honored with recognition for display advertising prepared for publication in the newspaper by company officials at a luncheon Saturday.

Two different advertisements were featured on a full page for the Fidelity National bank and the other for the same firm for Hudson's were selected for inclusion in the nationally distributed "Case Files" newspapermen prepared by Multi-Ad services, Peoria, Ill.

The advertisements, the magazine pointed out, "prove that a good layout can be made for all newspapermen and advertising firms in the United States."

Dods left for Chicago Friday evening where he will attend the 40th session of members of the Newspaper Advertising Executive Association Jan. 20 through 22.

Jack Maloney, publisher of the Times-News, will join Dods in Chicago Sunday to attend the same convention.

WINTER VACATION IN HAWAII is discussed by four mainis (those who are newcomers to the Islands) after an informal get-together Thursday evening in the Rogerson hotel Desert room where 45-50 persons heard information about the Times-News-sponsored Hawaiian tour Feb. 15. First persons to sign for the tour were Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Phillips, center, who are shown discussing the trip with Mr. and Mrs. Al Westergren, hosts for the one-week tour. Westergren demonstrates a popular Hawaiian tourist tradition—putting a lei on Mrs. Phillips. (Times-News photo)

Hawaiian Tour Information Discussed At Informal Gathering; Films Shown

Time is running out for taking part in a one-week "out of this world" tour arranged by the Times-News through the Hawaiian Travel Bureau, 230 Shoshone street east.

Joe Salisbury, travel bureau manager, reported airplane seats which have been reserved are nearly filled. Mr. and Mrs. Al Westergren, tour hosts, and Salisbury explained details of the tour during an informal meeting Thursday evening in the Rogerson hotel Desert room. About 45-50 persons attended.

Two color films, one produced by Pan American airlines and the other filmed for Northwest-Orient airlines and Hawaiian airlines, were shown and a question-answer period was held.

The tour starts Feb. 15 and ends Feb. 22. However, it was pointed out that persons who would prefer staying an additional week should make arrangements prior to departure so that reserved airplane seats for return travel can be assured.

Included in the low tour cost ($209 per person) is transportation from Twin Falls to Portland, Ore., via West Coast airlines, from Portland to Honolulu, via Northwest Orient airlines jet, hotel accommodations, three eight-seating events, and return transportation.

Travelers on the tour will have ocean-view rooms in the Sheraton Princess Kaiulani hotel in the heart of Waikiki and adjacent to the "international market place."

Rooms reserved for the tourists will have banana overlooking majestic Diamond Head. Westergren pointed out the tour includes ample free time which participants can utilize as they want.

Highlights of the tour include an all-day "island tour" of Oahu on Feb. 18 and an authentic Polynesian luau the evening of Feb. 20.

A full day of free time and leisure is planned for "Sunday" Feb. 19, when tourists could take in a fishing trip off Kona coast or do some "island hopping."

First of the two films showed activities available on all eight of the Hawaiian Islands, and the second film, which featured spectacular scenes of surfing around Waikiki's gentle surf, showed what was available to tourists in the Honolulu area.

Tourists will leave from Portland and return through Seattle. Westergren urged persons wanting to take the tour to book reservations soon. Mrs. Westergren discussed what clothing is recommended in the Islands.

The hotel where tour participants will stay is one of four Sheraton hotels in the Waikiki area. The Sheraton chain motto is "stay at one—play at all four," with recreation facilities in all four hotels available to those who stay in any one of the four hotels.

Salisbury pointed out there is no limit on how many persons can go, but stressed making reservations early. The travel bureau also will assist participants in planning their leisure time.

Complete information on the tour is available in a brochure which lists the entire tour itinerary, gives details on trip insurance and costs, and includes several full-color pictures of Hawaii. Persons interested may contact Westergren at the Times-News, 723-0931, or Salisbury at the "Maple-Carpet-Travel" bureau, 723-1669.

Reward Offered to Help Stop Vandalism on Road-Markers

BURL, Jan. 19—George T. Smith, commissioner and secretary of the Buhl highway district, said today there is a $200 reward for the information leading to the arrest and conviction of anyone damaging, destroying or removing any highway marker or "marking" any of the 1,200 Buhl highway department on Sunday and a maintenance man was called to make repairs at once.

Smith pointed out persons responsible for damaging or removing app signs are playing Russian roulette with the traveling public, for sooner or later lives are going to be lost by innocent persons traveling. These roads, state and county officers have been very successful in apprehending the one case in which two app signs had been broken off at a four-way stop intersection last month. The county last month decided to offer the reward in an effort to check the vandalism on the county roads as it not only endangers lives but also creates the expense of repairing and replacing the signs, which were often entirely removed and found in piles 20 or 30 miles from where they had been taken.

Talk Slated On Tactics of Communists

Harold Drummond, Kallispell, will speak Monday at Twin Falls high school on the tactics of communism.

Drummond, a private citizen, for the past several years has been traveling through Idaho and nearby states lecturing on the communist conspiracy in the United States. He has been instrumental in setting up study groups and lectures periodically in Oregons and chambers of commerce.

His thesis is that communist thinking, tactics and strategy can be fought only if communists and their methods are thoroughly understood. Mr. Klenzie said anyone who wishes to come to the 7:30 meeting to hear Drummond will be welcomed.

Other business of the meeting, conducted by Bruce Young, Burley, president, included the appointment of a nominating committee consisting of Henry Westendorf, Piner, chairman; Fred Harner, Twin Falls, and Al DeLuca, Jerome.

Water Ordinance Passed at Meet

GLENN'S FERRY, Jan. 19 — A new "water meter" ordinance was approved by the Glenn Ferry city council this week, reports Mayor H. C. Bergstrom.

The ordinance provides for a four-inch meter at the Union Pacific railroad yards here. The railroad currently pays a flat rate for water service. Mayor Bergstrom pointed out the water meters for residences will not be mandatory for homes already having city service.

Residents not wishing to install the new meters will not be under any obligation, the mayor said, but persons building new homes and all business firms must install them.

Council also approved an ordinance providing one week sick leave for city employees with one year of service and two weeks for those with ten years.

JEROME FRIENDS BURLEY'S UNBEATEN BOAST

Gano Brothers Trigger 39-34 Comeback Win

JEROME, Jan. 19—The resilient Jerome Tigers topped the underdog Bobcats from the undefeated ranks of the Burley Bobcats in an undisputed possession of the 24 tonight and jumped into undisputed possession of the Big League conference lead. The identical twins, Fred and Rod Gano, came off the bench to spark a comeback from behind effort, which nullified early leads by the Bobcats amounting to eight points at times. It was Jerome's first loss of the season after winning 11 straight. In addition to the prestige and conference title, Jerome also moved to the pole position in the fourth district tournament first round by.

Jerome stole Burley's ball of the Bobcats, with Grant Marston doing most of it, completely dominated both backboards in the first half. Ken Olson also punched for four points on offensive rebounding.

But in the second half, Jerome, with up leads, shifting the balance of height to the Tigers, took charge of the boards.

The teams traded leads until a 6-6 tie when Martinson and Pat Underwood hit to put Burley in front for a long time. Midway through the second period, Underwood, Gilman and Dave Christensen scored to give Jerome a 20-12 lead over the Bobcats in front 23-28.

Then Jerome came to life as Burley point guard, Roy Williams hit a field goal and then Stettin finished the half by hitting four of five free throws. That gave Burley a 29-28 lead over Jerome in the second half.

As the second half opened, Thompson hit one-handed for Jerome to fashion a momentary 21-21 tie with 5:28 left in the game. But that stung the Bobcats, who quickly bounced back in front by four points when Marston hit a three-point shot.

Then Rod Gano hit two, free throws and Thompson converted a three-point shot over Burley to tie the game at 28-28.

With 2:30 left in the period, Fred Williams hit a three-point shot to give Jerome a 31-28 lead since the opening minutes but Stettin hit a three-point shot to tie the game at 32-32 at the end of the period.

The opening of the fourth quarter made Jim Jerome as the Bobcats failed to hit a single point for six minutes and 27 seconds. Meanwhile, Williams hit a field goal to put Jerome in front to stay and Stettin followed with a three-point play. After Fred Gano hit another two-point, Jerome went into a ball control game and won it 39-34 with 3:34 left in the game when Fred Gano hit again.

Burley tried to come back with four points by Peterson but Stettin and Rod Gano hit from the free throw line to clinch the victory.

Maclren Faces Future With Crown Hopes

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 19—Eddie Maclren looked toward a new life today when he will journey East for the weighty title of heavyweight title and has somebody else managing him besides Ed Flaherty.

The 30-year-old challenger was discharged from the Presbyterian medical center yesterday to give a month during which he underwent psychiatric treatment and threatened to commit suicide.

Pronounced "well" by his physician, Maclren walked arm-in-arm out of the center yesterday with his petite wife, Charlotte, and a crowd of relatives and well-wishers.

"I feel great," he said, "I expect to get a new manager and then I want a warman fight with a top contender next and then Ligon again."

Maclren said he had been beaten but he wasn't hurt. He had a very bad headache. Maclren added, "I could have beaten him at Seattle in 1950 but I had a very bad headache."

Edward Flaherty, Maclren's lawyer, said his negotiations between the heavyweight contender and Flaherty:

"We are attempting to get him out of all connections with and with Flaherty," Flaherty said. "And we hope to do so through litigation."

Maclren had blamed his depression on lack of cash and good fights.

BOB DUDEN blasts out of a sand trap during the final round of the National Pro-Amateur golf championship. He bogied the first hole. (AP wirephoto)

Bob Duden Jumps Into Third Round Lead at Crosby Clambake

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif., Jan. 19 (AP)—Unheralded Bob Duden of Portland, Ore., surprised everyone by firing a five-under-par 67 at the Monterey Peninsula Country Club Saturday to slip into the third round lead of Bing Crosby's $50,000 golf tournament with a 54-hole total of 210. Duden, a 42-year-old pro who never has won a PGA-sponsored tournament and generally plays only on the West Coast, birdied five of the last six holes. Deadlocked in second place at 211 were Billy Casper with a 73 at Pebble Beach Saturday and Julius Boros with a 70 at Cypress Point. As a throng of about 10,000 swarmed over the courses, less than 100 watched Duden, a pro who ranked 107th in the world last season, "run the hole." "He let them get hungry," one observer said, "and showed them how to really mean business." "At the age of 42, he stood up to the crowd—the kind of guy they idolize."

Iowa Rallies to Whip Ohio State

JOHNS-CITY, Ia., Jan. 19 (AP)—Iowa's fired-up undergrad team rallied from a 10-point deficit Saturday to beat Ohio State 14-7 and dim the Buckeyes' chances in the Big Ten basketball race. The Buckeyes, who were ranked No. 2 in the nation, found their conference "retard" overcast at 2-2. It was the second triumph of Iowa for the Hawkeyes, who had beaten Wisconsin in a second half rally last Monday. Led by Gary Braden, who topped the scoring with 25 points, Iowa State quickly reduced a 34-27 halftime advantage to 47-31 and then the Hawkeyes got rolling with 14 straight points.

Palmer, who challenged for the title last year, "dropped seven strokes over par" on the final seven holes in his blowout. His round also was terrific over the Pebble Beach course. Duden's round also was terrific but Duden played on a course where there wasn't any chance of a comeback. Duden carded a 70 at Pebble Beach in the first round and 73 in the second round.

Vandalism of Bicycles at High School Riles Reader

Editor, Times-News:
This letter is in regard to your article in the Jan. 5 feature entitled "Mist Step Signaled Arrival of Artistic Transportation."
You state, "A spot check at the high school failed to turn up even one bicycle."
Your reporter did not see any bicycles because the students who ride them to the high school leave them at their friends' homes. They do this to protect them from the prying eyes of their parents who have no respect for their property of others.
Students who, in the past, have parked their bicycles at the high school have had them partially or completely wrecked. These incidents have caused many to discontinue riding their bicycles to and from the school.
Adults criticize young people for being lazy by riding instead of walking. Why don't you encourage bicycle riding instead of discouraging it by letting this wanton vandalism continue?

Clergyman Says His Group Not Sponsoring Sunday Law

Editor, Times-News:
Last Sunday a letter written by B. C. Clark, said earlier an editorial in your paper strongly suggests that our churches and ministers are sponsoring or advocating a law force Sunday closing of retail establishments. I am curious. What churches preachers or ministers would have asked for such a law or are even advocating or supporting it?
Mr. Clark uses the expression "if the clerk of your good city..." As a matter of fact the pastors and ministers of Twin Falls met just a week ago and the law was discussed. I feel certain it would have been our unanimous opinion that if this law were advocated on religious grounds we would all oppose it. We passed no resolution favoring it.
We have advocated "rest-day shopping." "Week day" might mean Sunday for Adventist and Orthodox Jews. It would eliminate Sunday for the vast majority of Christians. We have never advocated a law, and by "we" I mean Mr. Clark's "clerk of your good city." I know of no religious group that is sponsoring this bill for Sunday closing.
Tim Brennan, managing director of Idaho Retailers association, said, as quoted in the Times-News, "Sunday closing is not a religious issue." I think we can take his word for it. Since Mr. Clark is in error about this...

Bible Carries True Message On-Blue Laws

Editor, Times-News:
I have read Mr. Clark about the Sunday closing law. Are we in the U.S. going to be put under a yoke?
We are supposed to have freedom of worship. We won't have it if we have a law like this club over our heads.
You will find where this law is being used in the 13th chapter of Revelations in the King James version of the Bible. Don't your dust-covered Bibles and their kind our for yourselves by searching each reference. Don't have it beguiling preacher to tell you it may be too late.

Census Gain Can't Offset Loss of Privacy, Beauty

Editor, Times-News:
As Louise Shadcock and her colleagues and another successful year advancing the merits of Idaho in order to increase the population and expand the tourist traffic, it seems important to carefully consider the ultimate result of such action. I think a letter from John Perry of Santa Ana, Calif., published in the Los Angeles Times, Jan. 3, 1962, might well be repeated and considered:
"I cannot understand why anyone in California wants to celebrate being the most populous state in the union. Frankly, a day of mourning would be more in keeping with the situation. Those who are ready to proclaim holidays in the name of over-population have failed to see the damage it has caused. The sad results are everywhere to be seen... and most native sons will here that California has been turned from a near paradise into a smog-filled, litter-strewn traffic-jam."
"Certainly more people entering the state have produced a prosperous economy, but the cost is much too high. Many look back with nostalgia to the days before this tremendous influx of humanity, when beaches could be beautiful strands untroubled by footprints, or when mountain trails could be followed for hours without blundering into a real estate development."
"In earlier days even a Sunday drive could be fun. Needless to say, the Sunday drive is no longer anything but a wild ride to-gether a square foot or less of the beach."
"So while our new arrivals and those on our inclined celebrate by throwing more bears onto the landscape I will adjust my black arm band and submit to the inevitable—gridlocking."
Unfortunately for Mr. Perry, this has reached the state, where it is inevitable. But for the people of Idaho there is still hope. Consider carefully, is the cost too high? Is the "increased" wealth worth the loss of natural beauty and serenity, the pollution of our air and rivers, the loss of natural habitats for our fish and wildlife, the loss of solitude and privacy. The decision is ours to make, but it must be made immediately, for the hordes are upon us.
As for me, the cost is much too high and I fear the gradual, but certain loss of the very things which make Idaho so desirable."
ROBERT BORNEN (Sunderman)

'Blue-Law' Termed Another Nudge to Regimentation

Editor, Times-News:
I am very opposed to the passage of the blue law. I think it would be only another stepping stone in the increasing regimentation of our country. Definitely it would limit our freedom of choice in a matter which should be a multi- and public-law rather than a legislative one.
Not only that, but I believe it is a direct violation of our constitutional freedom of religion. Are the Seventh Day Adventists if an act of that faith, incidentally to be forced to close their businesses on a day they consider a work day, and then, if they wish to observe their own day of worship, to be unable to be open on Sunday?

'Blue-Law' Is Felt Definitely Religious Issue

Editor, Times-News:
I would like to comment on the statements made by Mr. T. Brennan, managing director of the Idaho Retailers association, on Jan. 16, last front page of the Times-News.
I agree with Mr. Brennan, that the people of Idaho would be overwhelmingly in favor of retailers closing on Sunday, if put to a vote. But is the majority always right? Was the majority right when our Savior was put to death?

Sunday Closing Draws Fire of Idaho Falls Man

Editor, Times-News:
Many people in the state of Idaho are unaware that religious freedom is at stake. Maybe there is some one in your office who has the passage of a Sunday closing law by the Idaho state legislature will mean that we will lose just a little more of the freedom that our forefathers fought for and cherished.
I do not agree with Mr. Brennan when he said the Sunday closing bill was not a religious issue. It is to those that keep the seventh day Sabbath, instead of Sunday.

Twin Falls Urged to Hear Expert on Red Conspiracy

Editor, Times-News:
Not every citizen wears a uniform, or carries a gun. Today thousands of aroused men and women are openly questioning the policies of the United States in foreign affairs. All too apparent, we are falling slowly into line with communism.
Knowledge is the weapon that free Americans can use to preserve their freedom. I am a member of an anti-communist study group, and have been privileged to know personally HARRY DRUMMOND, well-known authority on the communist conspiracy in the United States.
From my documented facts, he has spoken to hundreds of audiences, opening the door of awareness and knowledge to people who have only guessed at the terrible working force of communism that is now trying to take over our country—the last hope of our freedom—as a result of the policies of the United States. I urge you to hear Mr. Drummond speak at the Twin Falls Junior High School the night of Jan. 21, 1962, for yourself and decide what you wish to play in the "cold war" the world has known.

Income Tax Cut Welcome But Let's Wipe Out Waste

Editor, Times-News:
Although social security laws continue to increase, there are undoubtedly few Americans who would not welcome an income tax cut. However, along with any proposed reduction in income taxes, the present administration should cut down on deficit spending wherever possible, and attempt to more nearly balance the budget.
Also, the advisability of allocating money for some non-essential expenditures is debatable. For instance, some of the non-essential items which were approved by congress in 1961 included a study of the social role of the "aging-home," and studies in "silent thinking." How these studies could benefit the American people or mankind is indeed questionable.
I believe that a reduction in government spending, including a reduction in non-essential items, would greatly help strengthen the economy of our nation.

Car Skids

RUPERT, Jan. 19—Buck McIners, Burley, was slightly injured at 8:30 p.m. Wednesday when the 1960 Ford Falcon owned by her husband, John McIners, skidded out of control across a road six miles southwest of here and went into a deep rut row.
Deputy Sheriff Howard Phillips who investigated the accident listed joy condition of the car as a contributing factor.

APPROACHING HIGH SCHOOL graduation time is scholarship discussion for those students who are able to qualify. Three seniors at Twin Falls high school—Doug Schow, Joe McCollum and Tim Lavens, from left—are facing the task of trying to decide just which scholarship they should accept. All three are outstanding athletes and, as such, will be much in demand. Likewise, because they all have grade averages of .82 or better, scholastic scholarships are open to them. In any event, a combination of brains and muscle will assure them of a "free ride" to a higher education. (Times-News photo)

Brains, Muscle Team up as Scholarship Time Arrives

BY O. A. (OUS) KELLER
 "It's a big day for the Twin Falls club. By the time the brains and muscle are getting more important each year at Twin Falls high school. At Twin Falls high school many "brats" who are not as good as the scholar was the quiet never-do-anthony-exciting type while the athlete was just that an athlete. Grades didn't bother him much. True, there were exceptions to the rule where they held of the cases the stipulation held.

The three who are outstanding even in a class said to be one of the "smarties" to ever graduate from the local high school, are Doug Schow, son of Dr. and Mrs. Douglas Schow; Joe McCollum, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph McCollum; and Tim Lavens, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth R. Lavens. Probably, because of their athletic achievement, they will not have to apply for, or try to attain, a scholarship for scholastic achievement, although they could qualify for many.

Where they go to school or what offer they will accept is not important. It is important that because they worked hard both at sports and at study their higher education will be assured. All three have received several offers—and each has received at least one, for instance, which will give them four years in college with tuition and board and room paid, book and other fees paid and a small job thrown in for good measure should he need it.

But, officials point out, those who are top athletes and who have top grades probably will have better—no reason "if that many scholarships offered those who attain the top grades have a catch. They are, many times, based on the financial need of the student and, if the parents are somewhat well off, the scholarship in terms of cash is reduced accordingly. Sometimes it comes to the point where the financial need of the student amounts to practically no financial help, simply because the parents are too well off.

First Sidewalks Constructed in Burley Made by Retired Twin Falls Contractor

So White went to Burley and there constructed the first sidewalks in that community—wood on ones. Now, retired and residing with his wife south of Twin Falls on the airport road, the 83-year-old pioneer arrived here a few days before May 1, 1903, and moved to Burley that day. This Spanish-American war duty came after a professional baseball team "broke up" in Nashville, Tenn., and he joined the army. After initial training, he was sent to Cuba where he spent a year in occupation work. Actually he is one of the youngest Spanish-American war veterans still living because he was under 17 years of age when he signed up although 18 years was the minimum. He recalls that, when joining, he "just for" exactly how old he really was. He had a "hand" at Shepherd, Mich. and had lived an orphan in Chicago and "D-1" until before joining the touring baseball club.

On his tour of duty in Cuba he took many pictures with a box camera. Many of the pictures are still in his possession and every now and then he inspects them to relive his army days.

Probably the most unique experience of his time in Cuba was the matter of the "rented" houses. He remembers them in vogue in Havana.

When a death occurred in the family, the body of the relative was placed in a ground vault and regular rent, usually on a yearly basis, was paid for the final resting place. If the rent was not paid, then the remains were removed and taken to a "bonnyard" where they were dumped upon a pile of other bones.

"I suppose that residents did not call it a 'bonnyard,'" White said, "but the soldiers called it that. It was just a case of being put out for non-payment of rent."

Hostile Cuba Exiles Fight Among Selves

MIAMI, Fla., Jan. 19 (AP)—The schism separating the ranks of among splintered Cuban exiles grows deeper. President Kennedy's plea for peace in Cuba is being rejected by the 30 anti-Castro bodies of the profound, deep-rooted division among the exiles, which may now disturb you to the united end that Cuba is free.

Landlords, tenants and prelates of the Ethiopian Catholic church have opposed reform. Until 1957 there were no elections. The independent-minded, relatively educated province of Eritrea, giving Ethiopia its only outlet to the sea, is stirring uneasiness because of its incorporation last November into the Eritrean parliament met and unanimously voted to dissolve itself. There were reportedly 17 of 52 deputies on hand for the vote. Major trouble has loomed for the Addis Ababa. There are hearsay whispers "they are pre-

Funds for Retirement Go Begging at Twin Falls Social Security Office

Official said.

"The retirement laws are now more liberal and workers can get a maximum benefit with retirement at 65 and records show that the average retirement age over the United States is 66 and one-half years. Watson urged those approaching age 62 to drop into the office just to be sure that their records and the social security administration are in order. Then, he decided and applied for retirement. He said that he had made a search for the people. "None not located, he said, "but for the most part had moved and left no forwarding address."

Democracy Making Gains in Ethiopia

ADDIS ABABA, Ethiopia, Jan. 19 (AP)—The first, faint stirrings of modern democracy are coming in Ethiopia and are heartening the ancient country's well-wishers. Parliament voted "it down."

Next day this surprising body projected a tax on building materials also badly wanted by the government.

Those who take these as heartening signs admit they are mere beginnings. They are also in these days dramatic events which probably annoy but one day may be welcomed by the 11-year-old monarch.

ICICLES BY THE DOZEN and a partially frozen Perrine cooler, center, top, form an interesting pattern along the road leading to the sewage treatment plant in Snake river canyon. Irrigation causes the spectacle. G. H. Giant Icicles Dominate Canyon Wall As Cold Spell Freezes Seepage Water

They might be frozen water but icicles that are icicles are hanging along the south side of the Snake river canyon adjacent to the Perrine Memorial bridge.

Of course that's not the only place where such frozen streams of water are visible as a result of the cold snap, but it is an easy area where they can be observed.

The seepage water which is a by-product of irrigation oozes out of the sheer lava walls. In summer it is only a wet spot but in winter each faucet causes an icicle.

Another interesting ice formation is caused by the partial freezing of the Perrine cooler water as it dumps over the side of the canyon near the end of Washington street north.

In early times of the trail road down into the canyon, across Snake river, through the Blue Lakes ranch and up the north wall en route to Shoshone, passed right under the main-made falls. In winter it sometimes froze a cone which reached practically to the top of the canyon wall.

Today the new road leading to the sewer treatment plant—some of it is an improvement on the original road—is lined with icicles.

City officials admit the situation is dangerous if an icicle should drop on a vehicle near destination. Some ice formations are

MEET YOUR REPORTER . . . Mrs. Theo Brush, Leap Year Baby, Reported Richfield News for 20 Years

RICHFIELD, Jan. 19 — Mrs. Theo Brush, Richfield reporter for the Times-News for nearly 20 years, is probably the only woman reporter in Magic Valley who is a "leap year baby," and has served the most years.

Born Feb. 29, 1912, at Tikona, a railroad stop for ranches 11 miles from Richfield, she grew up on a sheep ranch there with few playmates except for an older sister and younger brother but remembers much companionship of a teacher, her father and ranch hands, many of whom were from her parents' home state of Virginia.

Side attractions were rattlesnakes—to avoid while picking raspberries in the back yard of the ranch on Silver creek and the continual watch for a moat coyote.

Her family moved to Gooding when she was 5 and when she was in the fourth grade moved to the mill town of Barber, six miles from Boise.

Mrs. Brush recalls Barber as the ideal environment for a growing child, with hills to climb and toboggans as well as horses to ride.

A mill pond and the Boise river were perfect for ice skating and swimming. If one remembered to dodge the logs, Big cattle roundups silvenced the fall riding horses was Mrs. Brush's best loved hobby and she had a "leap year" in 1932.

Several tips a year on horseback to the Pine country. They followed the present Arrowwood dam highway five miles, turned off to a ghost town and went straight up over a mountain to Cherry Springs.

After one night of sleeping in the open and gathering firewood to keep the coyotes at a distance, the second night would be spent at an old miner's cabin. It was there she started reporting. Mrs. Brush managed to graduate from Boise high school, complete with glasses window. Despite such wonderful diversions, Mrs. Brush managed to find each summer she missed the field. Mrs. Brush says she has spent summers in Buhl with his grandmother, the late Mrs. Mable Spyer-Close-Laker.

They were married the fall of 1930 in Shoshone. After three short years in Buhl and a short time in Welder, they moved back to Richfield where they have made their home the past 22 years.

Mrs. Brush began writing Richfield news more than 20 years ago while her mother-in-law, Mrs. Theo B. Brush, was a reporter for the Times-News and Lincoln County Journal.

Since she liked to type and talk with people, Mrs. Theo Brush became substitute reporter and gradually took over the job for her mother-in-law, she became officially the Richfield reporter with the journalistic effort.

The Brushes have two other children at home, Lorna Jean, 1, and David, 6. Their two married daughters are Mrs. Richard Calvert, Twin Falls, and Mrs. Bill M. Juker, who Mrs. T. B. Brush while her daughter-in-law is Mrs. Theo B. Brush.

In addition to writing for the county weekly and the Times-News, the reporter also writes for the Deseret News, Salt Lake City, and managed some assignments for the United Press. She gave up the other papers before the Times-News decided correspondence could work for only one paper.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Brush remain members in most community organizations although they are unable to attend regularly. Owing and operating Rex theater here for many years causes them to skip many things.

Brush has remained an active member of the Richfield Lions club and recently was presented a plaque as honorary member of the Richfield school class at the Methodist church, most of the time Mrs. Theo Brush writes when not in the hospital her husband and her daughter, Edie, now a Richfield high school senior, helped reporter with her journalistic effort.

The Brushes have two other children at home, Lorna Jean, 1, and David, 6. Their two married daughters are Mrs. Richard Calvert, Twin Falls, and Mrs. Bill M. Juker, who Mrs. T. B. Brush while her daughter-in-law is Mrs. Theo B. Brush.

Barrie news stories keep a reader's eye on the news. People don't know they have until it's revealed in the course of a conversation.

The Richfield reporter is grateful for the courtesy extended by her friends and strangers alike when she telephones for news. Most of her visiting is done at that time. She had visited by telephone for years without once meeting a particular friend and news source. Imagine their surprise when they actually met and each recognized the telephone voice of her unseen friend.

MAGIC VALLEY PORTRAIT

Mrs. Charlotte Roberson, Jerome, Has Envyable Record of 24 Years as Clerk

JEROME, Jan. 19.—Mrs. Charlotte Roberson has a political record to be envied by any elected-official. She has served as tax collector, auditor, clerk, recorder, for a total of 24 years. Some election years she was the only Democrat elected in Jerome county, which is normally Republican.

MRS. CHARLOTTE ROBESON

She was defeated by Mrs. Lee McVey by only 181 votes. She served her final day in office Jan. 12.

Mrs. Roberson, who is registered by both Republicans and Democrats, said she felt she was elected so many times because she "always tried to be courteous and to do the second mile for anyone who came into the office. She points out, "When you are elected, you are used to the service of the taxpayer." The many letters she has received from citizens can repay you if attorneys testify to her willingness to help.

She then started working for the Jerome Elevator, which was partially destroyed by fire soon afterwards. Farmer's Elevator bought out the business. For a year, while fire damage was checked, and other arrangements were made, the bookkeeping department was in rather crumby surroundings, she said. The jobs in this office are many and Mrs. Roberson says she enjoys the challenge of all the different jobs included in the various jobs included in the court minutes of the district judge.

She also is the budget officer and must see that other offices keep within their budgets. Even the simplest simple task of drawing a jury must be done by certain procedures according to the number of people who voted and their proportion to each commissioner's district.

All this makes the position a complicated job that Mrs. Roberson says she has enjoyed. She pointed out that "Jerome grew up" while she was in the office.

Besides the excellent political record, Mrs. Roberson also has been active in many organizations. She is a member of the Jerome Presbyterian church, a charter member and past president of the Business and Professional Women's club, and in 1956 was named as the club's outstanding woman of the year.

She is a past worthy matron of the Order of Eastern Star and an honorary member of the Jerome Chapter of the Order of the Eastern Star. She is currently serving as secretary.

Mrs. Roberson has been honored by her colleagues. She is a past secretary of the County Auditors Association of Idaho. She also was a director of the national board of county officials. While serving in this capacity she traveled as far as New York City to national meetings.

Mrs. Roberson says her hobby is visiting the shrines and taking them flowers from her garden.

TRAINABLE RETARDED youngsters, with mothers as teachers, learn to color with crayons in the recreation building at Harry Barry park. In its second year, the special class is necessary because state law makes no provision for these children to attend school. Taking part in the coloring exercise are, from left, Mike Martin, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Martin; Bob Clawson, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Clawson; and Kirk Reed, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Reed. Also in the class are Fred Durham, son of Mrs. Katherine Durham; Nina Welch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Allen B. Welch; and Mimi Woolley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Woolley, all Jerome. Brazil Chief Believes Red Arms Hidden SÃO PAULO, Brazil, Jan. 19.—Secret Police Inspector Alcido Clivio Buzon Filho is convinced that Soviet bloc arms are hidden in a projected Brazilian peasant league building in the state of Pernambuco. He is an investigation which resulted in the seizure of two such arms caches last Dec. 27.

He has definite information confirming the existence of hundreds of crates containing arms and ammunition buried for future subversive use in Brazilian soil, especially in the strategic Vale Valley region, Inspector Buzon told UPI.

The fertile Paraíba valley stretches 100 miles to the coast. A subversive force in possession of its soil threaten São Paulo's industrial complex, the important mines of Minas Gerais and the city of Rio de Janeiro.

The arms dug up by Buzon's men near Quilicura in the valley include a heavy Czech machinegun, 1941 issue Czechoslovakian rifle, and the submachinegun known as the "Sten," the same type which has been issued to the communist militia in Cuba.

Some of the weapons were wrapped in Havana newspapers dated Feb. 24, 1962.

Buzon said the heavily greased and plastic-wrapped weapons were accompanied by a small ammunition "to start a small war."

Buzon recalled that documents were found on the bodies of members of a Cuban agricultural superior for the Boeing 707 crash near Lima, Peru, allegedly having them to Brazilian communist agents.

Plans for private allotments were noted. Dale Kinnaman, district supervisor for the Bureau of Land Management, and Jerry Quinn of the bureau spoke on future plans for the problem involved in brush spraying.

Members planned a pull-trading zone adjacent to the park. Members are planning to attend and support a field trip to be held Jan. 26 with the Absorbent Cattlemen's unit as speaker.

The committee for this year includes John Varin, Norman Cook and Ted Wilson.

Mothers Establish Twin Falls School For Retarded Youngsters; Need Help

mentally retarded children, termed trainable but not educable by state law, have no place to learn even fundamental things like counting, coloring and reading unless opportunity is provided by the parents.

In Twin Falls six of these youngsters are being given instruction at the Harry Barry recreation park building with their mothers as teachers.

The case of Brazil's arms cache is delivered from Cuba to the Peasant League center of Pernambuco, and from there are apparently being distributed to hidden caches all over the country.

"This is in order to permit speedy and efficient equipping of guerrilla forces with the objective of provoking simultaneous uprisings in the most strategic spots of Brazil," Buzon said.

Some of the discovered arms were wrapped in burials bags stamped "Fornambuco," Brazil's home state and center of the radical Peasant League.

Similar caches of Czech arms were found during 1962 at widely separated points in the states of Goiás, Alagoas and Pernambuco. Rio Grande do Norte, Bahia, Catarina and Guanabara.

Nonetheless, the administration of the state, President Joao Goulart, has attempted to de-emphasize the arms discovery.

The chief of the federal ministry of public security, Col. R. Galvez, calls a news conference in Brasília to say the arms caches were evidence of nothing more serious than a widespread smuggling network.

Last year a class was held with Jay-C-Eric volunteering to aid. This year, however, such aid was not available and now the mothers are looking for one individual to "take charge" as teacher. Under this setup, it is pointed out by Mrs. Jack L. Reed, one of the mothers involved, this one woman would be "teacher" to the youngsters while the individual mothers involved would take turns aiding as, perhaps, room mothers.

Mrs. Reed, Mrs. M. F. Martin and Mrs. Tom Clawson started the school last September on a volunteer basis to aid their children. Now six youngsters are enrolled. Because no funds are available, any volunteer teacher would have to serve without pay.

One grade school in Twin Falls has special classes for retarded children in the educable group, but those having an IQ rating of from 55 to 80. The trainable child, having an IQ rating from 35 to 55, is not provided for under state law, Mrs. Reed points out.

Mrs. Reed points out that out of every 100,000 births in the United States there are approximately 3,000 children mentally retarded. This, she said, is four times as many as those born blind, crippled by polio or afflicted with cerebral palsy.

"Officials tell us that three per cent of the American population is mentally retarded," she said.

Statistics show that only one in every 30 is retarded sufficiently to require constant supervision. Of the remaining 29, four are able, if given a chance, to develop social patterns and to do useful work under supervision. The other 25 are retarded sufficiently to need specially designed courses.

Their small learning capacities are obvious in academic subjects but they can learn enough arithmetic to fulfill their everyday needs. Most of them can learn to manage their own affairs and to live by themselves with only occasional supervision.

They, "just about five in 30" mentally retarded persons find considerable difficulty in coping with present day living.

"What we need right now is volunteer help in working with our children," Mrs. Reed said. "An outsider would be considered a teacher to the youngsters and this alone would help them because they would not be under the constant supervision of parents."

The classes are held three days a week at the Harry Barry park building. The sessions are on Monday, Wednesday and Fridays from 9:30 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. All the mothers participate and parents of retarded children are welcome to cooperate with us in our efforts."

The meeting facilities are provided free by the parks department of Twin Falls.

The six students now enrolled range in age from 8 to 14 years. They are learning to count, to know their colors and most of them can say the pledge to the flag. They are able to put simple puzzles together and are working on printing the first letters of their names.

Black Canyon Cattle Group Elects Mink

COODING, Jan. 18.—Roy Mink was elected as the new president of the Black Canyon Cattle Association at the annual meeting held at the Cooding ranch Tuesday evening.

Mink succeeds Forest Kinnaman, who was named vice-president and Gooding County Agent Roy Cooker, elected secretary-treasurer. Board members selected are—Rip Zimm Lee and Maxine Peterson.

The financial report indicated $1,833.45 spent for range improvement. It also was reported they were brush spraying, fencing, pond construction and a horse corral.

Plans for private allotments were noted. Dale Kinnaman, district supervisor for the Bureau of Land Management, and Jerry Quinn of the bureau spoke on future plans for the problem involved in brush spraying.

Members planned a pull-trading zone adjacent to the park. Members are planning to attend and support a field trip to be held Jan. 26 with the Absorbent Cattlemen's unit as speaker.

Encouraging

SHOSHONE, Jan. 19 — Some of the statistics in Lincoln county are encouraging, points out Mrs. Lucille Klusey, county clerk-auditor.

There were 30 marriages recorded through licenses at her office during 1962, while there were only 15 divorces granted through the district court for which she is county clerk.

In 1961, there were 27 marriages performed.

Mild Weather Prevailing Throughout Idaho Hindered Harvest of Big Game

BY JIM HUMBARD
 Idaho Fish-Gam Department officials say the weather this year has been the worst in 10 years, hindering the harvest of big game. The weather still is fair with even less snow on the surrounding mountains than was present during the deer season in November. Practically all roads are open and it is possible to drive over Diamond creek summit into the Crow creek drainage, a feat unheard of for this time of year.

"Deer have not moved down on winter range in any of the management units with the exception of unit 72 where normal migration occurs in November regardless of snow conditions. The hard-hill snow slopes in this area, however, are not being used since north slopes are entirely open. Numerous deer are raising high on Diamond creek where maximum snow depth is ten inches.

"Snow on hills is still an average season. There is very little chance for winter mortality this year, unless extremely heavy snow falls during the next three months."

Still another report, this one from the U.S. weather bureau, Portland, commented on Jan. 19 that "a critical water shortage of the Snake river plain exists because the October precipitation was only 40 percent of normal throughout the region was 50 percent below normal, and November's rainfall was less than 75 percent of normal. The December precipitation likewise was about 60 percent of normal," the bureau added.

How these critical drought conditions affect big game harvests as well as water storage is apparent. Jensen continues that the lack of snow greatly decreased the success of late elk hunts at Sage Valley and Geneva in southeast Idaho. A few elk were taken in Sage Valley in spite of unfavorable conditions, but the hunt at Geneva remained completely inactive.

For many years, these elk in Sage Valley and along the Wyoming line north-east of Montpelier have been "problem" animals in many cases. This year the elk and game commission established the hunting season late because snow is needed to make the elk move. But there was no snow by Dec. 15, and very little by mid-January.

The same story all over again occurred during the whitetail deer hunting in the Paulsland. For example, 14 per cent of the season's kill in Unit 1 occurred during the two-day extension, Dec. 1-2, according to data obtained from hunter reports. This may be higher for all of the Paulsland, but probably not more than 10 per cent of all the whitetail harvest was taken by hunters during the two-day extension.

Looking back a year, deer hunters in west-central Idaho remember the good hunting following seasonal snow in the Snake Butte-Hells Canyon area when deer were accessible during the last two or three weeks of the season. In 1962, hunters still were waiting for such conditions when the season ended.

The same thing is found in the records of the Moses creek checking station at the lower end of the Dolse river drainage. From 1959-61 inclusive, an average of slightly more than 20 per cent of the deer harvest for the three years was taken in the area near Arrowrock reservoir southwest of Cottonwood creek.

In 1962 only about four per cent of the October kill in the same area and the opening season was continued down through Thanksgiving day. Thus, the November kill of about 27 per cent was made in this small area. Hunters had to wait for them longer in 1962's "bluebird weather."

It's too early to tell for sure exactly what all this means in elk and deer harvest until all of the annual-hunter questionnaires are returned. Based on check station data and hunter report cards, the total number of reported deer kills this year through Dec. 20 is about 83 per cent as large as 1961 for the same date. However, only about 10 per cent as many cards were received in 1962 as 1961. And the number of big game tags sold during 1962 will be unknown until after Jan. 31, when vendor accounts become delinquent until their returns are in.

The same is true for elk.

First Sidewalks in Burley Built by Twin Falls Contractor, Now Retired

 I understand that the procedure is no longer followed at Dubois.

On his return to the States following his tour of duty, Wood came West and became first in a cabinet shop in Denver. It was at this time that the late Paul Kartak, a friend interested him in the Twin Falls Burley area.

Arriving in Twin Falls, he found the new community booming but a shortage of jobs existed because building materials were not readily available. Because of this he went to Burley.

The trip from Twin Falls to Burley was made in a hack-hired Paul West and became first on the two-men to Burley for $3 each. The three left Twin Falls on the trip and the horses and rested at Terrill ranch near Murtaugh. They continued the trip and they arrive in Burley until well after dark.

A Major road was in charge of the present Junior High School building in Burley at the time and White contracted to build sidewalks.

Wood returned to Twin Falls where he has resided since his contracting work has taken him over a major portion of the Western states.

During his years as a contractor he built the high school at American Falls and courthouse at Prosser, Wash. Two office buildings in Leto, Grand Ore. were also constructed under his direction. Those are only a few of the out-of-state buildings.

In Twin Falls, proper the Washington school and good part of the present Junior High School (the old high school) went up under his direction.

NEW YORK, Jan. 19 (AP)—Stocks moved higher on Monday, but the market was not as strong as it was on the previous day.

These were the key factors on the business front during the week. The developments for a change were noted by President Kennedy asked Congress to cut individual and corporate income taxes by $1 billion dollars over three years.

He will continue his proposals to Congress in detail Jan. 21. While Congress approved in accord with the idea of last President's program, as submitted, looked rocky.

CHICAGO, Jan. 19 (AP)—Soybean futures scored gains ranging to nearly nine cents a bushel in the first trading session of the week.

IMPORTANT PACKING JOB for books going to the Philippine Islands as a part of the navy's "Project Haudtred" was being undertaken when this picture was taken. Twenty-two Masons helped pack more than two tons of books after prepared for shipment in 44 large cartons. Among those assisting in the project are, from left, R. E. Neyman, Jack Hyder, Carl Kobel, junior past master Kayler lodge No. 84; Jack Waegelin, worshipful master of the same lodge; Robert Black, David Lovelady, worshipful master of Twin Falls lodge No. 45; Samuel E. Stanton, ENO(m), navy recruiting station, Twin Falls. (Times-News photo)

NOTHING BUT BOOKS seems to surround Clayton Ockert, principal of the Twin Falls junior high school, as he scans one of them. The books surrounding him are part of a collection being sent to the Philippine Islands through cooperation of the school system, the navy and two Masonic lodges. The books were study texts which have been replaced. (Times-News photo)

Democracy in Ethiopia Is Showing Gain

paring for the second round.
"They could only refer to the revolt in December, 1940, of the Imperial bodyguard. This the emperor squashed simply by returning from a trip to Brazil and exhorting the enormous personal force.
The younger officers or intellectuals, who compare their country unfavorably with more advanced African states, may now be playing a waiting game.
While parliament is starting to life and the country moving slowly toward reform, many appear content to wait for the mission of Crown Prince Merid Amzash and Asfaw Wossen. The quick 45-year-old heir is a puzzle to outsiders. In the 1930 revolt he was put up by the rebels as a puppet, but later insisted he believed in any form of constitutional monarchy.

Masons Spark Shipment of Two Tons Of School Books to Philippine Pupils

Hundreds of books, most of them textbooks no longer used in the Twin Falls schools, will soon be on their way to the Philippine Islands as local Masonic lodge members participate in "operation handi-camp."
With the U.S. navy, the schools and the Masons participating and cooperating, the books will be distributed for use in public schools of the Philippines.
Officials of the Masonic lodge in the islands reported that the Japanese, during the last war, systematically destroyed all school books in the English language. Despite efforts of many Americans, this lack of English-language books has never been alleviated.

Cassia Beet Growers Set Dinner Meet

BURLEY, Jan. 19.—Awards will be given to 418 and 274 cotton winners in sugar beet projects at the Cassia county sugar beet growers' annual dinner at 7:30 p.m. Thursday at Nelson's cafe.
The Beet Growers association has sponsored these projects for the past 15 years. For the last 10 years the awards have been sponsored by the growers and the Amalgamated Sugar company.
The banquet, honoring all the youths in the contest and their parents, is co-sponsored by the Cassia National bank and the Idaho Bank and Trust company.
Sugar beet projects begin early spring when the young farmers make their plans and start preparing the ground for planting their crop. It continues through the growing season and ends when the harvest is completed and the by-products are used either as feed or fertilizer.
During the growing season the crop is judged by the beet committee. Participation in the contest is a requirement, and accurate record keeping is of major importance.
The Amalgamated Sugar company will present a special award to the boy or girl who has the neatest and most accurate record book.
O. E. Christensen, president of the county growers, will present this year's awards.
John Adams, director from Oakley, is in charge of the program at the dinner.

Jordan Blasts Wilderness Area Plan in Idaho

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—Sen. Len B. Jordan, R., Idaho, criticizes the decision by the department of agriculture to establish a wilderness area in the Blaine-Idaho-Selway region.
"Desires and opinions of Idahoans apparently had little effect on the recent decision," Jordan said.
The department established last week a 1,233,800-acre area in the Blaine-Idaho-Selway region as a wilderness area.
Jordan charged that minutes of hearings in Lewiston, Orangeville and Moscow, Mont., were not made available to the public. He said he obtained the one copy of the minutes known to him from the department.

Cassia Property Tax Report Made

BURLEY, Jan. 19.—Collections of real property taxes in Cassia county amounted to $3.7 per cent of the total charge during November and December, reports Mrs. Jeannette Y. Chamberlain, treasurer.
This is approximately 4 of one per cent more than the amount collected for the same period last year. Total charge for 1942 is $1,448,121.56.
The treasurer said 60.3 per cent has been collected on the real property rolls for 1943. Books will be opened again for receipt of 1942 taxes after Jan. 29.
At this time a penalty of two per cent more than the amount collected, as provided by Idaho law, Mrs. Chamberlain added.
