Beef Selling At Bargains In Markets

By The Associated Press
Beef is bargain-priced at many points this week-end as it comes for favor with general supplies of pork-and-poultry. One national chain offers rib roasts at 69 cents a pound in its New York outlets. With top sirloin at 98 cents. Other beef attractions over the nation include sirloin steaks, liver and stew beef. Beef ribs and chops, and cooked picnic and butler, are widely featured. Sausage is a national bargain. Fryers, broilers and baking hens continue to be offered at low prices. Fruit prices continue to reflect winter freezes. With the remaining supply of Florida oranges estimated at about half what it was at this time a year ago, shipping point prices of top quality fruit have just about doubled. Apples, grapes, cherries, winter pears and avocados help fill the void at relatively reasonable prices. Snap beans, lima beans, sweet corn, green peppers, tomatoes and eggplant are higher in most areas. Very cold waves have continued to hinder growth. Vegetables that show the least effect of the weather include beets, carrots, spinach, celery, cress, lettuce, and cauliflower.

NATIONAL WHORLIG

"Boy, Whatta Find!"

COVERING THE CAPITAL WITH PETER ELSON

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31—Competitors, having won a large technical victory over the coal industry last year, will find that coal-acting congressmen will renew the battle in the chambers of congress. The report is that the more effort will be made to impose government regulation to restrict the use of coal in certain markets.

Coal is a sick industry. For 40 years it has been losing market to other fuels. Coal's share of the American energy market has fallen from 70 per cent in 1925 to 23 per cent in 1960. Forty years ago it employed 1,000,000 men and gas supply 73 per cent of the nation's energy requirements.

BOUGHT NATIONAL FUELS POLICY—For some time the coal industry has been asking the government to establish a national fuel policy. In 1961, it persuaded the senate interior committee to report on the gas, coal and oil resources to survey the nation's fuel needs. The coal industry put forth three major claims: That mining unemployment was due to competition, that oil and natural gas were scarce fuels, and that marketing practices such as the sale of long-term contracts were the cause of the industry's troubles. The report stated that the coal industry expected that these claims would be substantiated by the study.

The experts found no need for government intervention and reported that coal's biggest complaint—unemployment in the mines—was due to modernization of mining equipment.

OIL-GAS WILL LAST—The second complaint, that the nation is running out of oil and natural gas, was also discounted by the report. It found that oil and gas resources are more than ample for years to come, estimating that America's available resources are "practically inexhaustible for 80 years."

On the third point, the experts found that the sale of "interruptible gas" to large industrial users was a major cause of the coal industry's trouble. It is called because it is delivered only during "dark hours" when demands of households are low.

COAL USE WILL DOUBLE—However, the future of coal is not as bleak as carbon. The senate study predicts that the country's energy consumption will double in the next 20 years. It also predicted that oil and coal consumption will rise about two-thirds and, surprisingly, coal consumption will rise about 50 per cent.

The report was by Samuel O. Lasky, department of interior, chairman; Herbert J. Brown, secretary of interior; Joseph J. Quinn, Rochester and Pittsburgh coal company; John M. Ryan, Humble Oil and Refining company; and Paul M. Schultz, Jr., consultant.

BATTLE NOT RESOLVED YET—This array of authoritative persons has not ended the matter. The power, oil and gas industries are still engaged in a bitter battle. Some senators to sponsor bills providing, by some means or other, government action to sell more coal. A legislative act has been passed and one such proposal more into the legislative arena, the House has passed a bill. The senate is expected to act on congress as the coal industry is ready to meet the challenge.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31 (NSA)—The most complete overhaul of the federal income tax law in 20 years, just proposed to congress by President Kennedy, is an effort to give some relief to every citizen and to create a new tax system. This would have a major impact on the nation's economy. The bill would have a major impact on the nation's economy. The bill would have a major impact on the nation's economy.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31 (NSA)—The most complete overhaul of the federal income tax law in 20 years, just proposed to congress by President Kennedy, is an effort to give some relief to every citizen and to create a new tax system. This would have a major impact on the nation's economy. The bill would have a major impact on the nation's economy. The bill would have a major impact on the nation's economy.

Just Plain Sense

Once again the state legislature has been asked to eliminate the law permitting temporary licenses for persons convicted of driving drunk drivers. Governor Smyth has proposed a change in a special message aimed at improving highway safety. The restricted license laws are a farce for any citizen convicted of driving drunk drivers of Idaho's highways.

Right now, a good percentage of all the drunken drivers convicted in Idaho's courts in the past year are driving cars. The natural result of such loopholes is that in many cases, as soon as a convicted drunken driver pays his fines, the judge before whom they appear advises them that they can apply for a restricted license. The usual procedure is for the judge to apply for a restricted license with the plea it is necessary for him to drive a car because of the nature of his employment. Apparently the licenses are issued on a routine basis.

There's no sense in having a law with such a loophole. The legislature should be asked to amend the provisions for restricted licenses; that is, it should change the law which specifies a mandatory suspension of a driver's license for one year upon conviction of drunken driving. The mandatory suspension should be under present conditions. Either a license is suspended or it isn't.

While the good lawmakers are debating the point, it would be wise to impose a fine on the legislature for a period in which the license is suspended. Perhaps a mandatory jail sentence with no suspensions—would emphasize the point.

It's high time to start putting such laws on the books that are not a temptation to ignore them. There's also no point in legislating if handy loopholes are usually provided for "special cases."

ATTACK ON TAXES
In the next few years, Americans are going to hear more and more of the proposed "Liberty" amendment to the U.S. Constitution. Briefly, the amendment would strike the income tax from the Constitution under which income taxes are levied. There are other provisions, chief of which would be exclusion of government from competing with private enterprise. In view of the situation, the "Liberty" amendment will be opposed from a great many quarters, including the supporters of public power.

Action on the proposed amendment started rolling back in 1959 when Wyoming introduced the amendment. It was asking congress to propose it for ratification. Four other states have joined the movement since then, Georgia, South Carolina, Nevada and Louisiana. Now a resolution is being introduced in congress requesting congress to propose the amendment.

That's a long way from the two-thirds of the 80 states needed before congress can propose the amendment. It's enough to serve notice the income tax is the most hated of all the taxes levied in the nation.

Nothing is going to be done overnight to eliminate income taxes and take government out of competition with private enterprise. Any constitutional amendment has a rough road to travel, particularly when the proposal originates with a state. In addition, the two-thirds requirement before congress has not, to my attention, any amendment would have to be ratified by three-fourths of the states. The process is long and rocky.

But what happens if the "Liberty" amendment does get passed? The Constitution killing the federal income tax? It would be safe to guess all state income taxes would be contested in short order and probably they would be tossed out the window. Too, obviously, the nation would face a major overhaul of taxes.

Perhaps it wasn't contemplated at the time the 10th amendment was ratified, but the state income tax is now being considered a major source of revenue for both the federal government and the several states. Any thought that government expenditures could be reduced drastically by state income tax revenue would be wishy-washy thinking. The governments concerned would turn to another source of tax revenue and the best guess is that they would turn to the state bureaucrats probably would wind up with more money than ever.

No taxpayer should be so foolish as to think the "Liberty" amendment would be passed from the top. It would be a matter of his pay from him, but it wouldn't go any farther.

PERSONAL RESPONSIBILITY
A couple of Twin Falls citizens have written a letter to the editor of the paper, asking that the city should clean up off sidewalk areas. The citizens are, respectively, an opinion, and they are entitled to it.

POT SHOTS
Dear Mr. Pot Shots: I am a member of the BARRY GOLDWATER party, but because of his long experience with the problems of government fiscal programs, his views pretty well sum up those of every legislation seriously concerned with the rampant trend of the New Frontier.

THOUGHT, ANYWAY!
Dear Mr. Pot Shots: After thinking "all sorts" of angles, guess I'm going to have to abandon my plan for that free trip to Hawaii. But I think it's such a good idea that I'll set some of the other holiday promoters to work on it. You see, after working on the boss, I find he just won't let me go. I'm just around the idea that no one going to Hawaii this time of year wants to be bothered with checking check of luggage. So it was my plan to approach those T.N. vacationers with the idea of letting me go along to take care of anything to keep the mobs away from their Idaho clothes while they're playing on the beaches of the Hawaiian Islands.

OUR BULLETIN BOARD
I wonder, Twin Falls—You're so far from your guidance and information, it would be a waste of your time to go to your guidance and information. You're so far from your guidance and information, it would be a waste of your time to go to your guidance and information.

THEY CAN SWIM
There's a use looking forward to the ground's annual prediction come Saturday. All bets are off. It won't make any difference whether the sun shines or if the sky is completely overcast all day. From what I've seen in the past few hours, I don't think any ground will be around come Saturday. They'll have drowned before then.

U. S. Must Stay as NATO Driver, McNamara Says

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31 (AP)—Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara said yesterday the United States does not want to dominate the North Atlantic Treaty organization but will have to stay in the lead because that long as it carries so much of the Western defense load.

He should be happy to share more equitably the heavy burdens we now carry in the collective defense effort, McNamara said. "But as long as we do carry so great a share, we cannot expect to be carried. We must carry a proportionately large share of the responsibility for leadership and direction."

McNamara's allies in Europe should be able to shoulder a larger share of the burden, he said. McNamara said he hopes for the Atlantic alliance in telling congress about a "five-year" defense program drafted to meet the communist threat in situations ranging from guerrilla warfare to nuclear attack.

He said an increasing military strain on the Soviet economy would lead to nuclear attack and help determine the character of the Soviet military program.

He forecast that Red China will seek to expand its own independent role in the world, and among the unaligned nations, resorting to armed aggression where this can be done without a direct confrontation of U. S. military forces.

"Our principal concern in the years ahead must be the danger of an ICBM or submarine-launched missile attack, and the main thrust of our efforts should be redirected to meet these rising threats," McNamara said in a discussion of U. S. air defense.

Icy Roads Cause Upset

RUPERT, Jan. 31 (AP)—Icy roads were blamed as a contributing factor in an accident involving a large tractor and semi-trailer outfit about 8 p.m. Tuesday on highway 23.

According to State Patrolman Roy Thomas, the trucker, Gayland Ray Gossett, Mesquite, Tex., "gave up" when he applied his brakes to avoid hitting the rear end of a 1960 yellow "dodge" driven by Bernice Galloway, Heyburn, the trailer jack-knifed and skidded into the borrow pit.

She shared a power pole and the stub of the pole became lodged between the dual drive wheels of the tractor in such a way the vehicle could not be moved. It required four and one-half hours work by a crane wrecker and crew to disengage the wheels so the truck could be moved.

Damages to the truck were estimated at $1,000. Mrs. Galloway was stopped for oral assistance, who was cited for driving with an expired driver's license.

Robbery Is Admitted by 2 Juveniles

Two Twin Falls juveniles, 16 and 17, admitted to Twin Falls police Wednesday afternoon they are the ones who took $25.17 in cash and checks from the office of Dr. Donald E. Sontus, 123 Fourth Avenue north, Tuesday night.

The cash was recovered from the pair by Detective Chief Clive Willey. The younger told him they had burned the checks and threw the doctor's attention into garbage can. The airplane was taken to the city dump with Wednesday's garbage collection and cannot be recovered, Willey said.

Willey said he knew from the start it was an "inside job" because there was no attempt to force the lock on the door. Instead, the airplane was taken from a locked desk drawer and the drawer then was released. The two, one of whom was the doctor's office boy, were released after the money was recovered. Charges may be filed later, Willey said.

Awards Given Filer's Cub Scout Pack

Loren Anderson, committee chairman, welcomed parents and introduced new members and their parents. He announced the Cub Scout theme for January was Freedom Festival.

Each den presented a skit. Den one told of important flags in the history of the United States; den two presented freedom symbols; den three gave "The Star Spangled Banner" and den four told of the battle of the Alamo.

Slides Shown For Valley's PTA Confab

EDEN-HAZELTON, Jan. 31—Mr. and Mrs. Charita Elwell showed slides taken by them in Grinnell and Holland when the Valley PTA met Monday night at the high school.

Harry Kurtz, Valley mathematics instructor, spoke on "Focus on Education in Idaho," and distributed informative pamphlets published by the Idaho Education Association. Kurtz pointed out that in 1958 the nation in child spent per child for education, spending about 50 cents per hour or $300 per year per child.

He noted one out of every four persons in Idaho is employed in public schools, and said increasing enrollment is a major cause of rising costs of public education.

Kurtz urged school patrons to make their wants known to local legislators and pointed out the 50 per cent state support for schools is endorsed by the Association of County Commissioners and Clerks, both political parties, and the Unaffiliated Education Council which consists of the IEA, the PTA and School Trustees Association.

Mrs. Harold Grant, vice president, presided in the absence of the president. Nominating committee was selected, with Mrs. Kenneth Martin and Mrs. Rod Overton representing the Association and Mrs. Walter Will representing the executive committee.

Refreshment committee consisted of Mrs. Carroll Knapp, Mrs. Walter Blitzer, Mrs. Wey Harman, Mrs. Elynn Allison and Mrs. Don Black.

Bloodmobile Will Stop at Rupert Feb. 5

RUPERT, Jan. 31—The Red Cross bloodmobile will make its first stop of the year in Rupert from 1 until 8 p.m. Tuesday, according to Mrs. Ray Burton, county chairman.

The unit again will be set up in the Civic building, she said, and persons who can give blood at this time are urged to do so, since Minidoka county residents are using much more than they are returning to the blood bank, Mrs. Burton pointed out.

Since the last drawing of 88 pints in October, county residents have used 457 public containers of gamma globulin, which is the equivalent of 241 pints of whole blood, 84 pints of whole blood were given to residents at hospitals outside of the county, 48 pints outside of the state, and over 50 pints at the Minidoka Memorial hospital.

This makes a total of 403 pints of whole blood. These figures show that generous donors from other areas are furnishing local residents with the life-giving blood so urgently needed, the chairman pointed out.

Minidoka count is the second highest user of blood and blood fractions of any area in the Boise region, Mrs. Burton said, and with the exception of one drawing last year the county has been below the assigned quota consistently.

She said most persons getting whole blood made an effort to have relatives and friends replace the blood, but that many who received gamma globulin for themselves or their children had no one to replace the blood.

She said the Red Cross is eager to continue furnishing the service of its blood program, but can do so only with the cooperation of the entire community. She pointed out it takes one pint of whole blood to process two cubic centimeters of the gamma globulin. In Minidoka county, there are 23 children and four adults who regularly receive gamma globulin, Mrs. Burton said, and are only charged for the administration of the shot, not for the substance itself.

Persons who receive whole blood transfusions pay only laboratory fee including type and cross matching of the blood samples, the chairman explained. They are not charged for the blood.

In the event friends and relatives make replacement donations, Mrs. Burton reminded them to be sure to ask for and fill out the yellow form so that credit may be given to the patient for whom it is intended.

Car Knocks Out Power in Area

HANSEN, Jan. 31—Residents of Eden, Artestian City and Hansen were without power briefly Tuesday afternoon, after a car skidded on to three miles east of Hansen about 3:30 p.m.

A 1954 Oldsmobile driven by Glen W. Buscher, 36, told Hansen, skidded across the road and hit a guy wire on a power pole. This snapped the line two or three poles back.

Duchess County Sheriff D. L. (Doc) Cain had applied his brakes for a stop sign and they locked. Cain did not lose a citation.

Idaho Power crews repaired the line while power was routed to the towns via other routes. Power was back on for Eden's 222 power users in 15 minutes. It took an hour and 13 minutes to restore power to Artestian City's 194 power users. In Hansen, 924 power users had electricity 30 minutes after the break was reported.

Memory of Hitler's Eyes Still Remain With Reporter

BY JOSEPH W. GRIGG
United Press International

The thing that struck you about Adolf Hitler was his eyes. I saw Hitler many times. I saw him ranting hoarsely to the Nazis in his Reichstag (parliament). I saw him hold crowds spellbound by oratory that made little sense when you read it afterwards in cold print. And I saw him close up.

Always it was the eyes. The man himself was nondescript in appearance: He was only of medium height, his skin was pallid and unhealthy looking, and he had bad, discolored teeth. The famous Hitler mustache, when you saw it at close quarters, was unimpressive and partly shone through with grey. The eyes you never forgot. They were narrow, rather deep-set, grey in color and hard. They seemed never to remain still. With them Adolf Hitler could transfix an audience, pierce into his heart and make it believe his wild words. I saw the retching jump as one man to its feet in a hysteria of "beten" when Hitler screamed that if ever "world Jewry" launched another war, the Jewish race would be destroyed. I was on Jan. 20, 1939, sixth anniversary of Hitler's seizure of power. It was just six months before he invaded Poland and touched off World War II. I saw Hitler whip an audience into a frenzy during a May day 1939 rally in Berlin's Lustgarten square. The speech was another of Hitler's many illogical, irrational rants. But the hoarse voice, his emotion, and above all the piercing eyes held and inspired his audience. I saw and heard Hitler assuring a packed audience in the vast Berlin sportsplatz in the summer of 1941 that the war was as good as won. The crowd, largely made up of women, listened raptly, seemingly hypnotized.

I was with Hitler on the day of one of his greatest triumphs, his victory parade through the ruins of Warsaw on Oct. 8, 1939, just after his blitz conquest of Poland.

"With a few other foreign newsmen I was presented to the Nazi war lord. His mood was triumphant, and in notes I made at the time I recorded that he said: "Mein Herr (gentlemen), you have seen the ruins of Warsaw. Let that be a warning to those statesmen in London and Paris who still think of continuing the war."

Nearly six years later in May, 1945, with troops of the victorious red army a good portion of the still smoking ruins of Hitler's chancellery in Berlin. Hitler was dead. Identified corpse. But the memory of those fanatical, transfixing eyes remained with me then, as it does now.

I saw and heard Hitler assuring a packed audience in the vast

Canada May Face Election After Nuclear-Arms Charge

OTTAWA, Jan. 31 (AP)—Spectatorship was widespread today that the U. S. government criticism of Canada's failure to arm nuclear weapons would spark a general election call and a campaign fought on nuclear defense issues.

The U. S. state department critic, Wednesday found Prime Minister John Diefenbaker's conservative government already under heavy fire from opponents in the house of commons for its hesitancy in reaching a concrete decision on nuclear weapons for the North Atlantic Treaty organization in Europe.

The Social Credit party leader, Robert Thompson, called it a bombshell to say the least—it could be the spark to topple the government.

Leader B. Pearson, chief of the liberals, the biggest opposition party, said he found it surprising that the UNITED STATES should issue such a statement. But he the commitment and then negotiate out of the nuclear role.

The view here was that U. S. policies—after several months of talks with the Canadians—had been "Diefenbaker's" administration appeared well aware that its criticism could stir up anti-American reaction. But they said the administration was prepared to take this risk to get across its policy that Canada must take a bigger part in North American defense.

T. C. Douglas, leader of the New Democratic party, said he was shocked by the U. S. statement and demanded an emergency debate in commons.

Diefenbaker's Conservative party lost its majority in commons in the general election last June, winning 115 of the 265 seats. An election this spring has appeared certain, and there was considerable feeling that the U. S. intervention might hurry it.

The U. S. statement seemed likely to make nuclear defense a major issue.

Basically in the opposition parties—the liberals, social credit, and the new democrats—are opposed to arm Canada with nuclear weapons. Pearson, however, has said that since Diefenbaker committed Canada to them some time ago he should honor

Utah Solons Will Study School Bills

BALTIC LAKE CITY, Jan. 31 (AP)—Two controversial proposals, both in direct opposition to programs of Gov. George D. Clyde—were dropped into the Utah house of representatives today. And each had 60-parliament support.

One was a 40 million dollar bonding program for "critical" construction at state institutions as recommended by the state building board.

The other was the state school support program recommended by the cooperating agencies for the public schools that would cost the state an estimated 28 million dollars over the next biennium.

Gov. Clyde strongly opposed bonding at state institutions in his budget message, recommending instead a 145 million dollar construction program over the next two years.

Utah's state executive also was sharply critical of education-re-

Report Made on Savings Bonds

RUPEST, Jan. 31—The report made by A. F. Bremer, chairman of the U. S. Savings Bonds Study, for the state of Minnesota county of Hennepin, was made today.

This county total more than set for the year.

December sales totaled 1,334 for the state, with 13,828 for the county.

Accorded by Bremer, this was the first report for the volunteer savings bond program.

He recommended that a support program that would be the basic distribution for the present $6.175 to $6.825 per $100 of bonds.

There was debate in the house Wednesday afternoon over the bill similar to one passed by Gov. Clyde two years ago. It would require a fundamental knowledge of history and United States government before a student could receive a bachelor's degree at a state-supported college at a university.

Fish, Game Commission Sets Opening Dates for 1963 Fishing Seasons

BOISE, Jan. 31 (AP)—The Idaho Fish and Game commission ended its quarterly meeting Tuesday after setting a "trial of thumb" on the opening of the general trout season. It set the statewide opening for trout from the standard June 4 date of past seasons to the nearest Saturday to June 1. In addition to setting the statewide trout season and regulations the commission approved commercial seasons on Whitefish Lake, Kootenai in Kootenai and Blaine counties, Challinor, Tom Felton of Moscow said this year's general statewide trout season will open June 1 and will run through Oct. 31, except on North Idaho lakes. For special reasons, the lake fishing season will be May 24-Nov. 20, but the statewide season June 1.

Wake Forest Cracks Athletic Color Line

WINSTON-SALEM, N. C., Jan. 31 (AP)—Wake Forest college football coach Bill Hildebrand said Wednesday that "it is now my understanding that we definitely are to actively recruit Negro athletes." Hildebrand added that this was a "reversal of policy."

Sports FROM ALL ANGLES

BY LARRY HOVEY
 Hildebrand has the right intention but the wrong idea for accomplishing an end in the Idaho duck hunt. A bill was introduced which would put the duck hunt, although annual, on an annual basis. It would mean that the bill would be introduced every year. The bill would mean that the duck hunt would be held on a regular basis. Another exception to the general regulations is the opening of the trout season for Kootenai fishing from April 12 to Nov. 20. The daily bag limit is 25 fish. In other waters where these landlocked black salmon are found, the limit is 15 fish for trout — 15 fish or seven pounds and one fish.

There also will be a special opening on Mackinac Island trout on April 12. Blackfoot brook trout in Caribou county, closed last year, opens with the general trout season June 1 except for a radius of 200 feet into the reservoir from the mouth of Atgavee creek. This water was chemically treated to rid it of trash fish and was restocked with trout last year.

Liston Gets Money; Title Bout Looms

NEW YORK, Jan. 31 (AP)—The $85,000 Sonny Liston had been demanding before he would consider negotiations complete for his rematch with Floyd Patterson in the 1963 fighting regulations at a later date.

The rematch is scheduled for Saturday to June 1 because numerous requests have been received to have the fight on a week-end to give everybody an even break and further to increase the commercial and sporting interest in the fight.

The commercial and sporting interest in the fight is expected to be high because of the heavy betting and the fact that Liston is a former champion.

The biological evidence points to a high "koinure" production rate in 1963, he said. "I believe that this year's commercial fishing season on Kootenai and Blaine rivers will run from Feb. 1 through May 31 on Pend Oreille lake and Pend Oreille and Clark Fork rivers."

The commercial season on Pend Oreille lake will be from Feb. 1 through Dec. 15. The bag limit for commercial fishermen will remain at 200 fish per day.

The future management of Lake Pend Oreille will be based on an annual evaluation of biological data obtained from the fishery, Felton said.

He said current recommendations of the staff based on preliminary test results call for the commercial fishing on Lake Pend Oreille to be discontinued in 1964.

Teachers in U. S. Average $5,735 Pay

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31 (AP) — The average American school teacher got a $220 raise this year to $5,735 but it was a smaller pay hike in eight years, the national education association said yesterday.

NEA said a survey of U. S. public school salaries showed the average teacher's pay increase was 4 per cent over the $5,515 received in the 1951-52 school year.

Teachers in Alaska had the highest dollar average of $7,260 in the 1952-53 estimates. NEA said, but it noted that the high cost of living in Alaska reduced the buying power by one-fourth to about $5,515—the same as last year's over-all average.

On the corrected basis, California teachers had the highest average of $7,000 compared to $5,735—the previous school-year. New York public school teachers seem to be getting the most raise—$4,700 a year ago.

Just about as the average for the nation were Ohio teachers at $5,750 this year, compared to $5,425 in 1951-52. Minnesota teachers at $5,700, up from $5,450 a year ago.
