Pioneer of Hailey Area Dies at 90

HAILEY, March 23—Mrs. Ida Jones, 90, died at her home in Hailey Thursday night of a heart ailment.

She was one of the oldest pioneers in the area. Ida Skyles died on June 29, 1872, at Springfield, Mo. When she was a small child her family moved to Idaho in April, 1887. They began their trek to Idaho.

She drove a chuckwagon over the Rocky mountains and they were tracked many times by Indians. In August, 1887, they arrived at Camas prairie, where they lived for one year before moving to Bellevue.

On Feb. 23, 1890, she was married to James M. Jones in Bellevue. The couple later moved to Hailey where he started the Jones barber shop which is still operated by their son, Jack M. Jones, since October, 1924.

She had resided in their original home in Hailey until the time of her death.

Survivors include one son, Jeff Jones; six daughters, Mrs. Annie Mills, Yakima, Wash.; Mrs. Helen Humphreys, Mrs. Alma Reeder, Mrs. Marie Bolliger and Mrs. Edith Merry, all Hailey, and Mrs. Vera Hooper, American Falls; 17 grandchildren, 44 great-grandchildren, a 1-g-n-t. great-grand-children and a 1-g-n-t. great-grand-children. Survivors also include Mrs. Lulu Toney, Las Vegas, Nev.

Funeral services will be held at 10 a.m. Monday in the Community Baptist church in Hailey by the Rev. R. J. Kennedy. Last rites will be conducted in the Valley cemetery. Friends may call at the Eld funeral home Sunday and until noon Monday.

Part of City Blacked Out

A wire downed by unknown causes between sixth and seventh avenues east in the 300 block of Twin Falls Tuesday evening blacked out customers without power for one hour and 17 minutes Friday night, according to the Twin Falls service dispatch for the Idaho Power company.

The wire apparently dropped on two feeders carrying power to the east side of Twin Falls at 6:28 p.m. Service was restored at 7:49 p.m.

The majority of customers affected are located on east avenue beyond third street east to Blue Lakes boulevard. Other residents were affected for a short time.

Vikingettes to Present Program

EDNA HAZELTON, March 23—A program of art, music, dancing and clowning will be presented at the east side of Twin Falls by the Valley Vikingettes.

The girls' drill team is sponsored by Mrs. J. G. Murphy, Valley English instructor.

The Vikingettes have 37 members and three alternates, with Alma Kette as captain. The annual spring performance is the climax of a busy year for the drill team, as they have marched at halftime for many of the football and basketball games, as well as participating in several parades during the summer.

There will be a silver offering at the conclusion of the program with proceeds being used for new records and other necessities of the team. The public is invited.

Death Takes Ex-Resident, Forest Aide

HALLEY, March 23—Leon and Lucille Friedman report the death of Miller B. Benedict, 67, who died here Saturday at a Bakersfield, Calif., hospital. His death was caused by pneumonia.

Mr. Benedict was born March 20, 1886, at Crete, Neb. He first came to Halley with his mother in 1914 to take the post as supervisor of the Sawtooth national forest.

He was the second supervisor of the forest when it was divided from the northern section of the state on July 1, 1908, and succeeded Clarence N. Woods.

Shortly after World War I was declared in 1917, Mr. Benedict left for a training camp and was succeeded by Herbert C. McPheters who held the position until Mr. Benedict returned home in 1919.

Mr. Benedict originated the Legion Loomies when he was commander of Blaine county post No. 24, American Legion. The dues have been presented annually since (with the exception of World War II) until this year.

On April 8, 1953, having served this district as forest supervisor for 21 years, Mr. Benedict was transferred to Montpellier as supervisor of the Carbon national forest, where he remained until he retired.

After retirement, he moved to Jackson, where he spent some years pursuing his lifelong hobby of photography. Many of his pictures were published in Arizona highways magazine. A few years ago he moved to Escudido, Calif., where he resided with a group of other retired forest service officials.

Mr. Benedict cared for his mother until she died and he never married.

His nephew, Maurice B. Andrews, Sacramento, Calif., wrote that he had fulfilled his uncle's last wish to have his body cremated.

Field-Threatened

CASTLEFORD, March 23—A field of volunteer firemen were called Thursday to Joe Peet's farm where a weed fire was threatening a field to which nitrogen fertilizer had been applied.

The change of wind caused the threat. Jack Hartley, fire chief, warned farmers to use extreme caution burning weeds while water is out of ditches.

Business Passes Milestone Of Spring After Hard Winter

NEW YORK, March 23 (AP)—Business passed an important milestone—the advent of spring—during the week in reasonably good shape after a rough winter and hopeful that warmer weather will bring an upsurge in activity.

Although the winter was one of the hardest of this century, business generally didn't suffer badly.

Encouraging sign was the report by Martin R. Caldwell, chief economist for the national industrial conference board, that consumer demand is strong and shows no signs of slowing.

He said that as the first quarter ended there were no indications of an incipient decline in business activity. However, he added that "the gain in aggregate economic activity currently and in prospect does not promise to resolve the sticky unemployment which has marred this recovery since it began two years ago."

New orders received by manufacturers of durable goods increased 1 per cent to a record 17.1 billion dollars in February. Trends in these orders provide economic with a clue to future factory production.

New housing starts rose in February to an annual rate of 1.29 million units, a gain of four per cent over January and up 11 per cent over a year earlier.

Personal income of nonfarm workers advanced in February to an annual rate of 46.9 billion dollars, compared with 43.9 billion dollars in February 1962. It was 1.3 billion dollars under the January level but that month saw a nonrecurring veterans' insurance dividend that added 3.5 billion dollars to the annual rate.

Automobile production kept trotting along at a high rate with output during the week estimated at 154,000 cars against 151,140 the previous week and 140,559 a year ago.

Sales also held at a strong level. One industry source estimated 650,000 passenger cars might be sold this month, which would be 150,000 above February 1962.

Steel output during the week rose for the seventh consecutive week and was at the highest rate in nearly a year. Mills rolled 2,225,000 tons of steel, a gain of 5.2 per cent over the prior week.

Interest of steel producers and users is centered on whether the United States worker union will reopen its contract after April 30 to seek higher wages and improved fringe benefits. A strike could follow 90 days later.

Heart Attack Is Fatal for E. C. Hudson

CATTLEFORD, March 23—Eugene "Bugs" Hudson, 47, owner and operator of Hudson's market, Cattleford, was pronounced dead on arrival at the office of a Buhl physician at 4:30 p.m. Friday.

He had a heart attack at his home and had been in poor health for several years.

Mr. Hudson was born July 2, 1906, at Marble, Ark., and moved to Cattleford with his parents in 1918, attending Cattleford schools. He had resided in this area ever since.

On Feb. 28, 1960, he married Elsie Churchfield—nee Shabone. Survivors include his widow, three daughters, Mrs. Vernon (Loretta) Wheeler and Mrs. Arlie (Lois Ann) Reynolds, both Buhl, and Shirley Hudson, Cattleford; father, Miles Hudson, Sacramento, Calif.; one sister, Mrs. Kenneth (Maxine) Bonar, Tacoma, Wash., and four grandchildren.

Funeral services will be conducted at 2 p.m. Tuesday at the Cattleford Methodist church by the Rev. L. Vincent Snodgrass. Concluding rites will be held at the Buhl cemetery. Friends may call at the Albertson funeral home.

Mrs. May Merrill Honored at Rites

BUHL, March 23—Funeral services for Mrs. May I. Merrill were held at 2 p.m. Friday at the Buhl First Baptist Church, with the Rev. Robert Burchell, pastor, officiating.

Mrs. Williams' visit sang two selections, accompanied by Mrs. Roy Smith, organist.

Flowerbearers were Charles H. Merrill, Samuel A. Merrill, Gordon R. Merrill, Jay R. Bradshaw, Lauren Shriver and Victor Hyder.

Concluding rites were held in the Buhl city cemetery.

Former Resident Taken by Death

BUHL, March 23—L. K. Kelley, 49, former Buhl resident, died of a heart attack Thursday night at Brighton, Colo.

He lived in the Buhl area for about 12 years and served as brand inspector. He also was employed in several Buhl business establishments in Buhl. Mr. Kelley and his family left for Colorado about five years ago.

Survivors include his widow, three daughters and one son.

WE APOLOGIZE

for the interruption of Cable TV Service to our subscribers these past few weeks.

Idaho Microwave Inc., the Microwave carrier which supplies our Salt Lake City Television has had an interrupted power schedule because of a major electric power line construction project by the Raff River Rural Electric Company in the Malta-Strevell area. They have concluded this project.

Friday evening the Idaho Power Company had a power failure in the section of Twin Falls which affected the facilities of Cable Vision. We most sincerely appreciate their herculean efforts to make the necessary repairs to get us back in operation with a minimum of outage time.

We do hope you will understand.

Hypnosis Aids Rookies in Hurling Stint

LAKELAND, Fla., March 23 (AP)—The Kansas City Athletics whipped the Detroit Tigers 3-2 today despite the pitching performance of eight innings by a Tiger rookie who prepared for the game by being put into a trance by a hypnotist.

Rookie Bill Paul, 22-year-old bonus pitcher from the University of Cincinnati, ran out of either gas or nerves in the ninth inning and the A's got all their runs in that frame.

Before that, Paul had held the A's to three hits for eight innings.

He attributed his strong performance to a Friday night session with a hypnotist, Dr. Joseph M. G. Brown, who had been hypnotizing him at Wayne State University in Detroit.

Paul says the doctor put him into a trance by having him stare at a spot on the wall of his motel room.

"He suggested to me to relax out on the mound," Paul explained. "He told me that I could get my breaking pitch over the plate when I was behind the batter, even by a 3-0 count, and it would be worked."

Paul also got two hits, a pair of singles to right field, perhaps again thanks to hypnosis.

"He said 'help you do something you are not capable of doing. If you're tired, it's not your fault. You're just not feeling it. You throw and new pitches either. It can only give you confidence in the pitches you throw.'"

—Meanwhile, Houston snapped the Los Angeles Angels' eight-game winning streak today with an 11-2 victory at Lak Vegas, Nev.

Other games, the Chicago White Sox took a 2-1 lead in a four-game winning streak 4-0 at St. Petersburg, Washington edged the Philadelphia Phillies 3-2 at Cincinnati, Milwaukee edged Cleveland 1-0 at Tampa, Minnesota beat Cleveland 7-3 at Clearwater, Cleveland topped San Francisco 4-2 at Tucson and the Chicago Cubs fought off Boston 2-0 at Mesa.

Contact is the name of the game.

Coach Bryant also is an independently wealthy man and needs no "betting" money. Coach Butts may have been hurt on a few fruit speculations but has other lions in the fire.

In high school football in Magic Valley we had a reputation as a fare-hoing. For instance, Borah scouted for his high school, eight times. Before we will bet Borah's defensive unit know the Bruin drill. Twin Falls tried to repay the Borah diligence with some recruiting of the Borah. Borah prevented it from completely blocking the Lions up.

—Looking back, Burley and Rubin Burdge has been there many years and still uses the same patterns in both football and basketball. He admits nothing here and there each year, but the bread and butter plays that the Borah has been teaching have been soured for many years but he still put out all the fruit in the year 1952.

Meanwhile rumors spread that at least two more games in the Southeastern conference are, or will be, being investigated. It also hints that a general shakeup in the prospect is the scandal.

Perhaps the Post's source of information is honestly reporting what went on. Perhaps his error is in the matter of not understanding what he heard.

In either case, this goes far beyond the personal integrity of the persons involved. The outcome will have a direct bearing on all the fruits of the nation in college football.

New Lie-Detector Tests Asked To Clear up Football Scandal

ATLANTA, March 23 (AP)—Atty. Gen. Eugene Cook said today he would ask coach Paul (Bear) Bryant of Alabama and former Georgia athletic director Wally Butts to submit to new lie detector tests about football-rigging charges by the Saturday Evening Post. "They will be invited by letter to take polygraph tests and be administered by the same man who will be an expert," Cook said, Butts and Bryant already have said they took the detector tests which "showed they told the truth in denying Post charges of collusion in a Sept. 22 football game which Alabama won 39-0."

Cook questioned an official of the Post at his office Saturday. "Poring the full resources of his office into the case," he stated, "the gray-haired Cook said the scope of the investigation had broadened."

"This is going to be a sweeping investigation of all aspects of this matter, including any connection with federal, state or civil laws," said Cook, 17-year veteran attorney general.

Investigations also are being conducted by a U. S. senate subcommittee which is concerned with gambling, and by the Southeastern conference.

"We're going into this fully and completely," Cook said. He indicated definite progress in the investigation here already made. He said state investigators had questioned numerous witnesses and taken hundreds of pages of testimony.

The senate group's chief counsel, Donald F. O'Donnell, said he would continue his investigation for some time. It was learned that he has a U. S. treasury department agent working with him.

"As developments erupted in the Post scandal story, a confidential letter between the presidents of the Georgia and Alabama universities was publicized. In the letter, Dr. Frank A. Stone, University of Alabama president, wrote that Bryant said he received information about some Georgia plays from Butts before the game."

However, Rose said the letter—written to Dr. C. C. Abernethy, president of the Georgia University of Georgia—was not intended to suggest that Butts gave away secrets of the Georgia team. He said he meant "techniques" instead of "plays."

Rose's letter said Butts was on a football rules committee and had discussed new rules that would severely penalize Alabama, LSU and Tennessee unless their defenses were changed.

Collegians Top 220-Yard Dash, Pole Vault Marks

3-Way Tie Develops in Doral Open

By The Associated Press

Two U.S. college track stars bettered world records Saturday with Henry Carry, Arizona State university, setting the 220-yard dash mark for the second time in two weeks and John Pennell, Northeast-Louisiana university, scaling 16 feet, 3 inches for an outdoor pole vault record. Carry's showing came in a triangular meet with USC and Arizona State at Tempe while Pennell made his record bid in a meet at Memphis.

Carr shattered the record with an amazing time of :20.3, the second time in as many meets he has bettered the official mark.

Just last Tuesday, the 6-foot, 110-pound sophomore ran the same event in :20.4. Saturday night's effort was two-tenths of a second faster than the listed world record of :20.5 set by Stone Johnson, Grambling, La., college, Paul Drayton of Villanova and Ray Norton of Santa Clara Valley, Calif., colleges.

Carr sped around the Lightning fast Goodwin stadium track with teammate Ron Freeman and USC's Dick Cortes on his heels.

At the top, however, the 19-year-old Detroit, Mich., speedster of Illinois on the tough, 7,028-foot course, with its tight hairpins and yawning sand and mud traps. They each had only two mistakes into a hurdle in the 30-yard dash and the lead at the end of Friday's second round, early stood off the late challenge of Mike on the tough, 7,028-foot course, with its tight hairpins and yawning sand and mud traps. Several have gone higher in recent indoor competition, topped by Nikita of 16-foot, 9 1/2-inch vault in Finland last week. Indoor marks are not accepted for world records.

Pennington, as most other 16-foot vaulters, used a fiber glass pole in his vault in the finals of the seventh annual Memphis relay. It was his first time to better 10 feet in competition. His best previous effort was 15-feet, 9 1/2 inches.

The best previous American outdoor mark was 15-foot, 2 1/2 inches by Dave York in the San Antonio relay at Walnut, Calif., April 29, 1959.

HELPLESS ON THE ROPES, this picture shows how Davey Moore was at the end of his fight with Sugar Ramos in Los Angeles Thursday night. An hour later Moore collapsed in his dressing room with a brain bruise and has been in a coma in a California hospital since. He is given little chance of surviving. (AP wirephoto).

Moore's Chances of Surviving Less Than 50-50, Doctors Say

LOS ANGELES, March 23 (AP)—Davey Moore's chances of survival are still "very doubtful," a very much less than 50-50, a team of doctors told newsmen today.

While Moore, 29-year-old ex-featherweight champion, clung to life in a nearby room, three specialists met with newsmen at White Memorial hospital and gave their opinions.

"None of the three physicians, Dr. Kenneth H. Abbot, Phillip J. Vogel and Cyril B. Courville, said the fight they said they were trying to arrange a screening of the fight to pinpoint the events that led to Moore's collapse.

The ex-champ's physician, Willie Ketchum, told newsmen he didn't recall that Moore's head hit the floor, ring post or rope during the bout.

However, the doctors agreed that a bruise such as Moore sustained is apt to happen when the head is in motion and hits a solid object.

The brain stem is the center of consciousness and controls motor power movement, they told newsmen.

"In the event that Moore recovers — and none of the physicians held this to be likely — they said his mental powers probably would not be affected.

Recovery in cases involving damage to the brain stem is slow, difficult process, the doctors said. Moore's injury is not similar to that suffered by Argentine heavyweight Alejandro Lavorante, they added.

Lavorante was knocked unconscious six months ago. He remained in a coma at California Lutheran hospital, where he has undergone several brain operations to relieve pressure from hemorrhaging.

Pastrano and Thornton Fight to Draw

New York, March 23 (AP)—Willy Willie Pastrano of Miami and body banger Wayne Thornton fought to a draw tonight in a rousing 10-round television fight at Madison Square Garden.

Thornton, Bakersfield, Calif., had dubbed Pastrano six weeks ago but the return was an action-packed battle all the way.

The two judges had it a draw while Referee Art Mercante had Thornton in front, 5-4-1 in rounds. The judges, Leo Birnbaum and Bill Reich, gave each fighter five rounds and five points. The AP card has Thornton in front, 6-4.

The 23-year-old Californian, who made the top 10 rankings last year, was the only fighter on Feb. 9 appeared to have the fight wrapped up by the end of the seventh round with his presiding attack and cold bombs to the body.

Delayed Pairings Set In Blue Lakes Golf Tourney

BOISE, March 23 (AP)—The board of control of the Idaho High School Interscholastic Activities association yesterday scheduled for June 7 and a meeting to consider rescheduling of basketball classifications.

S. F. Grider, secretary of the association, said about half the members of the board discussed the rescheduling problem Friday but nothing definite was settled.

He said the June meeting will determine whether or not there will be any reclassification.

Members of the board agreed, said Grider, that because Idaho is a small state the association is dependent on tournaments for its finances.

Tutankhamen Is Handicap Winner

MIAMI, Fla., March 23 (AP)—Greenlee stable's Tutankhamen, with the brilliant Willie Shoemaker aboard, sped to a convincing 2 1/2 length triumph in the $41,335 Donn handicap today at Gulfstream park.

Handy House farm's El Loco, part of a three-horse entry, finished second and Polican stable's Parks was third in the 1 1/2-mile feature on the grass.

The crowd of 17,311, which turned out in clear, 75-degree weather for the last big handicapped race of the Florida season, made Tutankhamen the P-5 favorite despite his burdensome 124 pounds.

The brown 5-year-old son of Nasrullah out of Track Mead, by Khalid ran the distance in 1:56.30, 22 seconds and returned $5.90, $3.30 and $2.90.

El Loco, carrying only 119 pounds with jockey Jimmy Gomez aboard, paid $2.80-12-42.40 while the show price on Parks, carrying 114 pounds with Howard Grant riding, was $4.70.

11 Turkeys Added To Game List

BOISE, March 23 (AP)—Idaho's wild turkey flock on the Salmon river near White Eld has been increased with addition of 11 new transplanted birds from Colorado.

The flock was started with a transplant of 17 turkeys two years ago and fish and game department director John R. Woodworth said field estimates show there are now about 100.

He said additional transplants, perhaps from other states, will be made in Idaho "as soon as arrangements can be made.

Thompson Tests

INDIANAPOLIS, March 23 (AP)—Race car builder Mickey Thompson checked out his three-seat, long-slung, rear-engine innovations today in the first of two days of test runs at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway.

The cars have 12-inch wheels, and the tires have exceptionally wide tread. They are powered by Chevrolet aluminum V-8 engines.

"These cars look real nice," commented a race car builder, J. Watson. "I'm quite impressed."

Ramblers Spoil Cincinnati Bid For Third Crown

LOUISVILLE, Ky., March 23 (AP)—Incredible Loyola of Chicago won the National Collegiate Basketball championship tonight, dethroning two-time champion Cincinnati 60-53 on a tip-in by Vic Rouse with one second to go in an overtime.

Coach Happy Beating Cincy At Own Game

LOUISVILLE, Ky., March 23 (AP)—Coach George Ireland, still in a high state of happy shock, jumped high in the air tonight and yelled "It's unbelievable, it's unbelievable."

His Loyola Ramblers had just beaten Cincinnati in a 12-hour overtime period to win the NCAA basketball championship. "What made it sweeter is that we were playing at our own game," Ireland exclaimed as he pounded him on the back while his head tilted back and the crowd roared. Once inside, the Ramblers grabbed Ireland and lifted him high in the air, yelling, "We're No. 1. We're No. 1."

Ireland, who said that his team was about out of the game at one time, said "I've given credit to these boys." "He said Cincinnati was the best defensive team the Ramblers had played and they made our shooting look bad."

Ireland, who had personally coached the Ramblers through their first three games, said he knew what they were going to do. "We knew their plays better than we knew our own."

When did Ireland think he had won? "I was that shot went in the basket." Coach Ed Jucker of Cincinnati said he thought getting in foul trouble was our downfall. We had four men with four fouls in the last four minutes of regulation play—plus the overtime.

Nats Rally Past Royals In Playoffs

SYRACUSE, N. Y., March 23 (AP)—Syracuse swept from behind with a closing burst tonight to defeat Cincinnati 11-10 and took a 2-1 lead over the Royals in their best-of-five semifinal playoff series in the Eastern division of the National Basketball Association.

The Nats trailed by seven, 10-10, with 5 1/2 minutes to go when Dick Greer took charge and personally conducted them to the victory. He scored 12 points in the closing drive while continuing his excellent play throughout the game.

Luck or Skill? Court to Settle Old Fish Question

MILWAUKEE, March 22 (AP)—In the catching of a trout matter of angling skill, or blind luck? The centuries old question which has divided not only waders and fishermen but husbands and wives, on occasion for a matter of some centuries, headed for a precedent-making court decision Wednesday.

The Milwaukee county district charging Charles Collins with violating Wisconsin's fishing law in permitting operation of a trout pond in the suburbs of Milwaukee. The Milwaukee county district charging Collins with violating Wisconsin's fishing law in permitting operation of a trout pond in the suburbs of Milwaukee.

Collins himself said he would not have any further comment. The court case is a precedent-making one in that it will settle the question of whether a trout is caught by skill or luck.

Schollander, Saari Set Marks In Finals of AAU Swim Meet

NEW HAVEN, Conn., March 23 (AP)—Roy Saari, Southern California freshman, and Ben Schollander, Santa Clara, Calif., sophomore, set new marks in the AAU indoor swimming championships today.

Saari, 18, won the 400-yard individual medley in 4 minutes, 16.8 seconds, eclipsing the listed mark of 4:18.1 by Indiana's Ted Blittles by eight long strokes.

Schollander, 16, won the 100-yard breaststroke event for his third win. He won the 220-yard individual medley Wednesday and the 200-yard breaststroke Thursday. (AP wirephoto)

90 Children Compete for Ski Honors

SUN VALLEY, March 23—Over 90 Wood River valley grade school children competed in the annual Kinder Kump ski race today.

The lower grades completed their competition while the older children will compete Wednesday. In the pre-school class, 5-year-old Heather Hostetter won the girls race in 28 seconds, followed by Katie Shaw with 10:14.

In the group D girls race, Georgia Sawyer, 13 1/2, graded, made her run in 2:12, which was the best time on the shorter course. Mary Oyster was second with 2:24. Boyd's winner was Jim Hurst with 2:12 followed by Phillip Hostetter with 2:28.

Kathy Hurst won the group C race in 2:12 while Wendy Houbek was second with 4:18. Tied for boys honors were Mike Street and Clifton Hostetter at 1:12. Another tie developed in the group B girls' running between Betty Anderson and Linda Dunn at 4:10. Bill Shaw won the group D boys' with 5:12 with Jim Toothman second with 5:18.

Surtees and Scarfiotti Pace Ferrari Sweep of Sebring Endurance Race

SEBRING, Fla., March 23 (AP)—The Italian Ferrari team routed all comers today in the 12-hour Sebring endurance auto race, won by John Surtees of England and Lodovico Scarfiotti of Italy in a new V-12 rear engine three-liter speedster. The winning car covered 1,084 miles at an average speed of 90.39 miles per hour.

Surtees and Scarfiotti barely squeaked home ahead of another entry from the Ferrari factory piloted by Willy Mairesse of Belgium and Nino Vaccarella of Italy.

Earlier in the day, Surtees, a former motorcycle riding champ, set a lap record of 97.8 miles an hour over the 2.2-mile airport course.

Less than 40 of the original 55 starters managed to finish the 12-hour race in which a notable number of Ferraris completely dominated the field.

It was the sixth time in the last eight years that the Ferraris had won this race which carries points toward the "World Endurance" series.

A crowd of more than 25,000 spectators gathered to watch the race. The Rodriguez-Hill team led the majority of the time. At the 12-hour mark, Surtees and Scarfiotti pulled to the front and remained there the rest of the day.

The fourth place Ferrari was driven by Roger Penske of Gladway, Pa., and August Pabst of Milwaukee, Wis.

Juan M. Bordone, Argentina, and Carlo M. Abate, Italy, piloted another Ferrari across the finish line in fifth position.

A crowd of more than 25,000 spectators gathered to watch the race. The Rodriguez-Hill team led the majority of the time. At the 12-hour mark, Surtees and Scarfiotti pulled to the front and remained there the rest of the day.

One-by-one the Cobras and Sting Rays fell behind the blood-red Italian cars. Those who tried to maintain the pace wound up in the pits with blown engines or broken mechanical parts.

The sweep plus the Ferrari team well ahead of all other competitors in the race for the builder's world championship.

Ferrari not only won the prototype and grand touring classes, but also stands a good chance of making a clean sweep of the index of performance formulas.

This is based on a complicated formula designed to handicap a car according to its engine displacement.

If the Surtees-Lodovico car wins the index, it will be the first time an over-all winner takes the index since the Cobra driven by Sterling Moss and Bill England won in 1954.

The first two Ferraris led the well back in the pack for the first hour, falling to appear in the top 10.

However, they started their move shortly after and by the third hour were running second and third to the Rodriguez-Hill car.

The two of Ferraris was headed only twice. On the first lap Glenn (Fireball) Roberts of Dayton, Ohio, set a blistering pace and led the parade. He judiciously slowed down after that and allowed Rodriguez to take the first spot.

PRACTICALLY HIDDEN by a stack of bills from Idaho's 57th Legislature, Gov. Robert Smylie takes a pen in hand and prepares to sign a bill. The pile is just a sample of the hundreds that will cross his desk during and after the session.

Legislature Finally Has Ended, but Much Work Remains for Governor

BY JOHN SATON Times-News Staff Editor If you think the work of the Idaho legislature terminates when the members pack their papers and go home, you are mistaken.

In an interview for the Times-News, Governor Smylie noted how work associated with a legislative session actually begins many months before the session and extends post-final adjournment for a few months.

Grain Mart Is Erratic For March

CHICAGO, March 23 (AP)—Grain futures were active and erratic this March on the Chicago board of trade as dealers scrambled to even up March delivery commitments before trading in the contract ended Wednesday.

During the legislative session, he has plenty of work to do, but he said about two-thirds of the bills passed don't arrive at his desk until after the session.

He laughed and said "And then there is always the bill that nobody has seen."

Prices generally worked lower in the first three sessions and then turned firm after the current delivery month went off the board.

KRENGEL'S ASK YOU THIS... TORO Whirlwind Why do people pay from $895 to $1495 for a Toro? (when 61 other lawn mowers sell for less)

Let's face it, $149.95 is a lot of money. So it's $89.95 for a Toro. When you pay a lot of money for a lawn mower, it had better be a "lot of lawn mower." It had better have everything any of those other 61 cheaper makes have—and a lot more. Every year thousands of people decide to step up to a Toro. Most of them have already owned one or two power mowers, and they've learned that a bargain brand isn't really much of a bargain. It takes a slight premium to buy a Toro. But that premium pays big dividends over a Toro's long life—right up to and including trade-in time. The self-powered Whirlwind 21, shown above, costs $149.95. It's a lot of lawn mower. The spiral grass chamber allows a smooth, uniform air flow to discharge clippings swiftly and evenly. Without internal corners or crevices to collect grass, it eliminates those ugly and bothersome slumps of grass popping out onto your lawn. The "Wind-Tunnel" is another Toro exclusive. With finger-rip controls and powered by a big 8 H.P., 4 cycle engine, the Whirlwind 21 is rugged but versatile. Fast and efficient on the straightaway, it's almost delicate on trimming. Edges up to within 3/8" of houses and trees. Adjusts easily, in 30 seconds, to 6 cutting heights—from 1 1/2 inch to 8 inches. A wide, 21 inch cutting path. Three handle positions, including one for storage. Durability and safety are bywords, too. A crankshaft that is 300% stronger than most other brands. A tough die-cast housing and rugged parts throughout all add up to longer life, less service, higher trade-in value. Safe start! There's one safe place to start a power mower—from behind. And with Toro's "Safety-Spin-Start," that's where you do it. With its useful bagging attachment, the Whirlwind 21 works for you three seasons of the year. Before regular mowing in the spring, you can remove the winter's litter and new weed seeds. In the fall, the leaf bagging attachment puts an end to raking. And you can catch your grass clippings all summer. See the rest of the Toro line, too. Walking power mowers start at $89.95. There's another rotary, a 19 inch model. There's a choice of real mowers and, in case your lawn is a big one, a fine riding mower. Come in. Find out what a bargain the Whirlwind 21 is at $149.95, what a bargain every Toro is at each price level. 1 Krengel's mark of Toro Manufacturing Corp.

Local Family Harpsichord Built as Group Project

BY O. A. (Gus) KILMER, Times-News Feature Editor

It might be a long time between the start and the finish of a build-it-yourself project but when the job is completed the satisfaction is much greater than if you just buy it.

This is the opinion of the Dr. Glenn Voyles family, 511 Mont Vista drive, Twin Falls, last year, at the suggestion of a son.

Further investigations were available to people who figured they might construct one of their own. The kit was ordered from Wallace Zuckerman, New York—and on 5/15 the work got under way. The instrument—(Continued on Page 2)

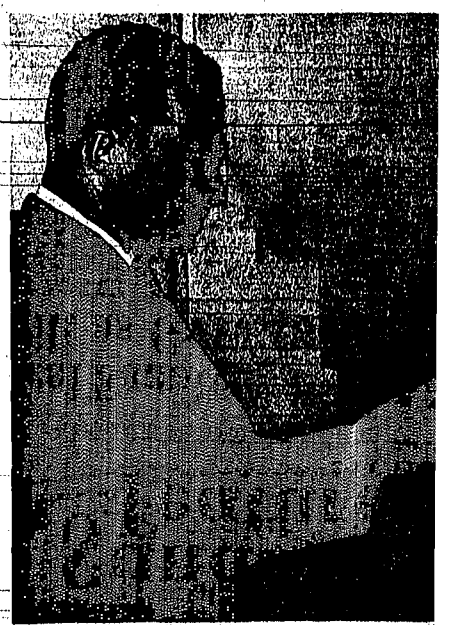

START OF PROJECT which a few days ago resulted in a completed harpsichord in October, 1962, when Bruce Voyles, son of Dr. and Mrs. Glenn Voyles, Twin Falls, led in construction of the instrument which resembles a baby-grand piano sounds like a harp. Bruce, a junior at Twin Falls high school, received family details before the project was completed. (Times-News photo)

Majority of Forest Users Go Just to View Scenery

This might come as a shock to some, but most people go to national forests just to look, it was pointed out by Ned D. Millard, Twin Falls district ranger, Sawtooth national forest.

Millard made his comments with general release of the progress report for 1962 of the entire Sawtooth forest. The "big picture" attitude of a majority of the visitors to the forest lands holds true so far as the hunt, fishery and winter sports. Winter sports visitors will divide accounts of their visits, the total of 117,800 made to the forest.

NEW CAMPFORD in Twin Falls area is singled out by Ranger Ned D. Millard as a quality data contained in annual report of Sawtooth national forest. Just prior to opening in forest areas, second greatest number of visitors, the report shows of recent visitors still just "drive-through." (Times-News photo)

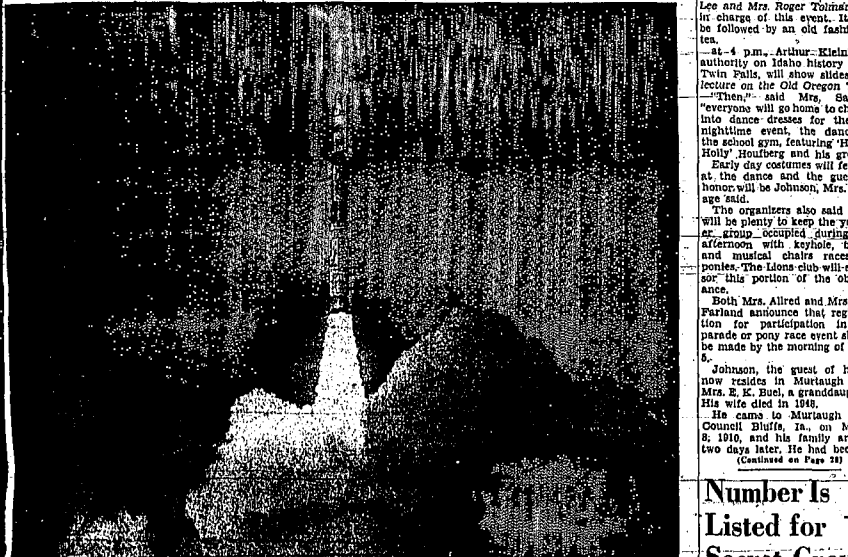

MURTAUGH'S CENTENNIAL observance takes on added interest as a result of the participation of Francis L. Johnson, center, who was born just a little over a month after Idaho territory was created by Abraham Lincoln. The Idaho Centennial and Johnson's 100th birthday anniversary both will be observed Saturday, April 6, with a community-wide celebration. Actually Johnson will be 100 on April 7 but because that falls on Sunday, the celebration will come a day early. Mrs. Harold Savage, left, celebration coordinator, and Mrs. Ray McFarland, an assistant, talk over plans with Johnson, who holds his pet dog. (Times-News photo)

Double Centennial Set for Murtaugh; Senior Citizen, 100, Will Be Feted by Community

MURTAUGH, March 23—Community-wide participation in the double centennial observance and celebration of the 100th anniversary of the establishment of Idaho territory and the 100th birthday anniversary of Francis L. Johnson, who will be 100 years old April 7.

With Mrs. Harold Savage acting as coordinator, and assisted by many, including Mrs. Ray McFarland and Mrs. Jack Alford, the double centennial observance will feature a pre-noon parade of adults. Important points of Idaho history will be detailed. At noon at the school football field, pig-roasted beef will be the feature of a free meal. The football field, by coincidence, is located outside the Oregon Trail through the area.

The organizers also said there will be plenty to keep the youngsters occupied during the afternoon with keyhole, barrel and musical chairs races on ponies. The Idaho club will sponsor this portion of the observance.

Both Mrs. Alford and Mrs. McFarland announce that registration for participation in the parade or pony race event should be made by the morning of April 6.

Johnson, the guest of honor, now resides in Murtaugh with Mrs. E. E. Biel, a granddaughter. His wife died in 1948.

He came to Murtaugh on March 8, 1910, and his family arrived two days later. He had been an (Continued on Page 2)

Idaho Newsmen Impressed on Trip To Coast to View Missile Launch

BY LOWELL DICK, Times-News Managing Editor

Impressed Idaho newsmen were during a visit to Vandenberg air force base, Calif., for the purpose of viewing a Minuteman missile firing.

Anyone would be impressed by the size of the Vandenberg facility, plus the obvious dedication and allegiance of air force personnel engaged in space age activities there. Frustration resulted from security regulations that included bans on photography and admonitions against reporting things that had been seen and some that hadn't.

The group witnessed one missile launching, then asked security officers what could be reported about it. After a conference between a major and captain, the latter announced, "You may say a missile was launched from Vandenberg air force base Friday. It impacted in the Pacific missile range. And that's all."

Answering questions, the captain told newsmen they couldn't identify the type of missile or pinpoint the time of launch; although 10 of those present had participated in a pool of 51-cents to guess the exact time of launch. (Another nine minutes would have brought the 51¢ pool back to Twin Falls.)

The launching was impressive and fitted exactly descriptions of similar launches that have been printed before. The group was far enough from the launching pad that there was some delay before the roar of the blast-off was heard. The missile was well off the ground when the nose hit the group like a shock wave, startling everyone.

As the missile rose, it became impossible, even with dark glasses, to see anything but the flame. "The 'bird' as missile (Continued on Page 2)

Number Is Listed for Secret Group

WASHINGTON, March 23 (AP)—America's super-spy organization lists its number in the telephone book and once issued a road map showing how to get to its headquarters. But its frankness stops right there and no organization in Washington wraps itself in such a thick blanket of secrecy as the central intelligence agency.

Anybody can get in touch with the super-secret central intelligence agency by dialing 213-3700. The number is in the phone book.

But unless you state quickly and clearly to whom you want to talk or what your business is, you will never get past the switchboard operators.

Congressmen frequently complain the CIA is too secret. They are frustrated because they can't find out precisely what the organization does, how much money it spends and whether the change is true that it sometimes exceeds its authority by dabbling in U. S. foreign policy even to the extent of helping overthrow governments.

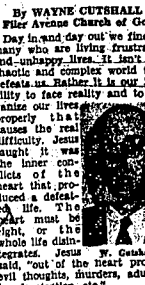

Thus there were many quiet smiles in congress when Lytton H. Gibson, a lawyer representing some construction firms, told a story at a zoning commission hearing in nearby Fairfax county, Va. Gibson's clients planned a new headquarters at Langley, Va., and Gibson's clients planned a new headquarters nearby.

They wanted to know how many persons would be employed at CIA headquarters.

"I called several congressmen and senators," Gibson said, "and was told they couldn't get the information. On the spur of the moment I phoned the Russian embassy. The second person I talked to told me the information was that CIA had about 3,000 people at Langley and eventually would have 11,000."

Reporters attempting to check such things are likely to be rebuffed. "I don't have the information," the central intelligence agency (Continued on Page 2)

AS YOUR MINISTER SEES IT

By WAYNE CUTSHALL
Filer Avenue Church of God

Way in and day out we find so many who are living frustrated and unhappy lives. It isn't the chaotic and complex world that defeats us. Rather, it is our inability to face reality and to organize our lives around it properly. That is the real difficulty. Jesus taught it was the inner conflicts of the heart that produced a defeat in life. The heart must be right, or the whole life disintegrates. Jesus W. Cutshall said, "out of the heart proceed evil thoughts, murders, adulteries, fornications, etc."

Inner heart conflict does not always show itself immediately. There is a slow disintegrating process. The character becomes weakened gradually. When faced with the need of making important decisions one may say, "I know God wants me to do different than I am, and someday I will open up and see where I am harmed." The soul gradually becomes weakened and habits are slowly formed until we become hopeless victims and slaves to the inner conflicts and indecisions we have formed through the years.

It is not the daily battles we fight that break down the heart. These battles are good for us. They are challenges that cause us to be strong in character. But it is the prolonged refusal to accept God's will for the life that springs inner decay to the soul.

How can one overcome inner conflict particularly that of long standing? The first and foremost thing is to face reality. We must face up to what we are before any changes can be made. Only the man that sees himself as he is can feel the need of a Savior.

Sit down now, and be honest with yourself. Are you what you know you ought to be? First, have you accepted Christ as your Savior? If you have, does he control every area of your life? Or are there areas that you resist for yourself? Are there things you know you have no business doing but you still do them? It is only when we integrate our personality around the person of Christ that we find the "happier" and "happier" life has promised.

We must make Christ the center of our inner self. Our lives must radiate out from Him.

Sin, wrongdoing and disobedences must be squarely faced and repented of before we can find help. David confessed his sin and God forgave him. The prodigal came home with his confession and found forgiveness. Thus it has been through the ages. God's method of restoring the soul to happiness and stability.

By all means do something about those inner conflicts. Don't let them stay! They will wreck your life. They will rob you of your spirituality, peace and joy. They will cause you to lose your soul's salvation.

Face up to reality and stop trying to be less than God wants you to be. Don't be a religious fence straddler. Come to Christ in faith and let Him become the center of your universe for good. For it is in Him that you find life that is in the world.

Projects Set

KIMBERLY, March 23—Projects planned for the year were discussed during a meeting of the Cloverettes 4-H club Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. H. G. Stevers.

Refreshments were served by Sandra Stevers and Carol Hinkley. The next meeting will be held April 4 at the Stevers' home.

Stamp Window

By DAVID BOWEN

Another eight million copies of the inverted Dag Hammarskjöld commemorative stamp have been ordered printed by the U.S. postoffice department, but will not be put into circulation until the total printing of the stamps. Postal officials believe this should be more than enough to fill the backlog of orders at the philatelic agency in Washington, D.C.

These are the stamps that touched off a nationwide row last November after a few sheets slipped by postal inspectors and turned up in postoffice. At least 400 of the inverted stamps apparently were sold at postoffices before the postmaster general decided to print the errors in quantity and place them on sale at face value four weeks ago.

This ended the hopes of several collectors who found the original errors and estimated their value at $1000 a stamp and up, but it made the errors available to all.

The four-cent Winslow Homer stamp was the most popular of the 37 U.S. commemorative and special issues of 1962, according to a poll of stamp collectors taken by a philatelic weekly (Linn's Weekly Stamp News, weekly, Robert W. Vaughan, Box 1018, K Liberal, Kans.).

Refreshments were served by Sandra Stevers and Carol Hinkley. The next meeting will be held April 4 at the Stevers' home.

New Mexico statehood stamp with 3,728 votes and the Puerto Rico stamp with 3,214. In the voting of the week the stamp issued for the 100th anniversary of the national constitution act. More than 400,000 of the 10-cent stamp were sold, followed by the 1-cent stamp, followed by the 2-cent stamp. The "apprenticeship" stamp also had the dubious honor of leading the list in balloting an unnecessary issue, receiving 81 per cent of those votes.

Singapore is issuing 4 1/2-cent stamps to complete a new series of 14 stamps which were issued last year with four stamps depicting the Malayan archipelago. The other 10 stamps depict Malayan flora.

This stamp news column is prepared as a public service to the Society of Philatelic Americans, a non-profit group which has been helping collectors for more than 60 years. Further information about this society can be obtained from SPA president Robert W. Vaughan, Box 1018, K Liberal, Kans.

The men were on a snow-measuring trip on the south slope of Trapper creek but had taken Craner's hunting dogs along. Just in case they spotted something, it was the 13th cougar Craner has killed and weighed 135 pounds measuring six feet, seven inches. Life in MAGIC VALLEY

A little bit of Hawaii was flown into Magic Valley last week in a huge box of orchids which arrived at a FILER home. Sharon Lammer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edna Lammer, received the flowers as a gift from Mrs. Selaguna Topolka, Keokah, Kans. Hawaii's Karen Topolka, granddaughter of Mrs. Topolka, is a student at Idaho State college, Pocatello, and a friend of Miss Lammer. Last fall she was a house guest at the Lammer's home over the Thanksgiving holidays, and at that time she brought three corsages of orchids which she presented to her hostesses, Mrs. Lammer, and to Mrs. Frank Eastman and Mrs. N. E. Davis, TWIN FALLS, grandmothers of Sharon.

The box of orchids was sent to Miss Lammer last week for no special reason — just a friendly gesture from Karen's grandmother. The flowers were orchids of a multitude of colors, sizes and shapes. The orchids grow on long stems with some having as many as 16 blooms on a stem.

Some of the flowers are tiny and no larger than a humble bee, while others are large like the ones seen in Florida's window. One variety, which looks like a climber orchid, is a fuchsia color and resembles a large anemone.

To insure freshness, each stem was stuck into a balloon which was filled with water and secured tightly with a rubber band. The orchids were air-mailed special delivery. They left the islands one day and arrived in Filer the next. The flowers have to be treated by the plant quarantine branch of the United States department of agriculture in Hawaii. They are then sent by way of California and on to Idaho without further inspection.

Orchids of course grow wild in the Hawaiian Islands. Miss Topolka states one can go out and pick them almost anywhere. Many of them are fashioned into leis which the natives present to tourists on their arrival at the islands.

Several lucky Filer girls wore real Hawaiian-grown orchids last week at Miss Lammer's home. Some of the flowers were taken into corsages for her brother, Danny, and several of his friends

These recreationalists spent a total of 1,080,000 visitor days in the forests. Millard said the report disclosed.

Sawtooth forests, the report disclosed, has 1,470 miles of fishing streams and 7,680 acres of lakes.

One of the new items being "pushed" by officials is visitor information services. Last year, for instance, there were more than 1,500 people taken off nature hikes by the rangers. In addition there were 4,000 people who saw special recreation movies and another 30,000 were contacted at Alpena overlook and in campgrounds and given any information they desired.

Headquarters of the sprawling Sawtooth national forest is at Twin Falls. J. L. Sey is supervisor.

Donald Holme, HAGERMAN, known to many as a ski enthusiast for several years, really proved his fondness of the sport this year.

On March 3, which was a good day for Sunday driving, no wind, and sunny, Holme dressed his black rubber wet suit, and with his father, Kenneth Holme, to pull him, spent the afternoon hiking up and down the smooth river near Thousand Springs.

GETTING CLOSE LOOK at thermometer are Mr. and Mrs. Jack Reusch, operators of the North Fork store north of Helcham. In the winter the couple are "weather observers" *

North Fork, Galena Couples Team up To Keep Readers Informed of Weather

REINHOLD, March 23—How deep is the snow? How hard is the wind blowing? Are the roads open? How cold did it get? Fire and east of the Twin Falls—Times-News—hereabouts center at the North Fork store and the Galena Lodge, both north of here on highway 93.

At Galena, Reuben and Ruby Alred, husband and wife, maintain the lodge and also supply the Twin Falls daily newspaper with weather "data" when requested. During the winter, the regulars come often.

At the North Fork store Jack and Eina Reusch, also husband and wife, team up to supply the vital information to the newspaper. Reusch built the first portion of the now well-known store about 15 years ago.

Now a Blaine county commissioner, Reusch was born in Ontario and was also raised there but in 1933 he came west to help a relative who had a mine at Boulder. From then on he was a westerner.

The North Fork store is something new to the area, with a few minor changes. It was the same name which starred the late Martin Monroe.

In addition the store has been headquarters for movie crews from time to time, including those producing such well-known pictures as Stargate, The Tall Man, and Seven Bridges for Seven Brothers.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Reusch admit that movie stars in the store is old stuff—but always interesting.

Not as interested as one might think when reading winter weather in the Times-News, KLEK-TV reaches the area after a long drive.

ALBION, March 23 — Officers of the Bluff River LDS stake and Albion ward were sustained by Mrs. Duddy Ward at the ward conference this week at the LDS chapel here.

They were given by Edwin Pickett, Charles Warr and Donald Chandler of the stake presidency, and Mrs. Lorin Barrett, Mrs. Yvonne Anderson, and Mrs. Lena Ellison, stake conference. Also attended—Mrs. Lee Jolley, president of the ward. Mrs. Yvonne Anderson summarized the year's activities and her husband reported for the Boy Scouts.

Ranger Talks
HAILLEY, March 23—Richard Stauber, Kelchum forest ranger, was guest speaker at the Rotary club meeting Thursday noon. Stauber spoke on the wilderness area and showed colored films taken there. He was introduced by Lloyd Smith, program chairman.

Up at Galena Lodge, where the snow gets a little deeper and the temperature a little lower in the winter time, Mr. and Mrs. Alred are able to pick up Channel 7 from Boise for their TV entertainment.

Parents of three children, the couple have resided within 50 miles of Galena all their lives. Both were born and raised at Channah and their former home was Bellvue.

Its seem erratic when snowbound motorists bang on the lodge door in the middle of the night requesting help or information. "But we don't mind it at all, they both agree."

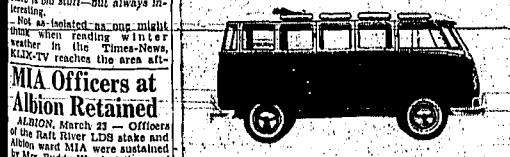

Their headquarters is right in the middle of the site of the first town in Wood river valley, named Galena. Now only one of the original structures is still standing.

One thing both the North Fork and Galena residents agree on—life is never dull. Every time it snows or gets real cold, both couples can expect the regular calls from the Times-News, with someone asking the same old question:

"What's it doing up there?"

Some are like beetles.

Some are like boxes.

Nobody really notices Volkswagens any more. They're so well known, they sort of blend in with the scenery.

It doesn't matter what the scenery is, either. You can buy a VW in any one of 633 cities in the country. OR in any one of 136 countries in the world.

And that takes in lots of scenery. Deserts, Mountains, Hot places. Volkswagens thrive. Hot and cold just aren't important. The VW engine is air-cooled. It doesn't use any water, so it can't freeze up or boil over.

And having the engine in the back makes all the difference when it comes to mud and sand and snow.

The weight is over the power wheels and so the traction is terrific. VWs also get along so well wherever they are because the VW people make sure that their service is as good in Toledo as it is in Teanacan.

The only reason you can't buy a VW at the North Pole is that Volkswagens won't sell you one. (No service around the corner!)

The Postoffice is just next door

CHANCES ARE THAT the Times-News representative was on the other end of the line when Mr. and Mrs. Reuben-Alred answered this call. The question was routine from Twin Falls.

It was "how deep is the snow now?" The couple are managers of the Galena Lodge, located at a point just before travelers start up the summit road on highway 93. (Times-News photo)

Mrs. Mark Bowden, Albion Reporter, Has Lived Nearly All Her Life There

ALBION, March 23—Mrs. Mark Bowden, new Albion reporter for the Times-News, was born here and with the exception of about four years, has lived in the community all her life. Her home is less than half a mile from her birthplace.

After being graduated from the former Albion State normal in 1936, Miss Amende taught in various grades in Gona, Ontario, where she was her husband's teacher as now is the custom.

ATTEND FUNERAL

KING HILL, March 23—Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Knox went to Mountain Home Monday to attend funeral services of Worth Lee, who was killed in an airplane crash last week. The funeral was held at St. James Episcopal church.

LOVE OF COUNTRY is one of the many phases which combine at modern kindergartens. In this case six students of the Lincoln school kindergarten pledge allegiance to the flag. Leading the pledge is Marie LeClair, third from the left. Bobbi Barnes, Frankie Hornish, Kelly Ann Hazard, Kathy Robinson and Michael Elan join in while holding tiny American flags. Registration at the six schools in Twin Falls will begin soon. (Times-News photo)

Market Plans Proves Worry To Uncle Sam

BURBULEY, March 23 (AP)—Western Europe's Common market, fostered by Uncle Sam, has grown into a self-sustaining enterprise who has the old man worried.

PUBLIC LAW 87-397

"A FEDERAL STATUTE REQUIRES ALL FINANCIAL INSTITUTIONS... INSURANCE COMPANIES... CORPORATIONS TO 'USE' YOUR SOCIAL SECURITY NUMBER IN REPORTING INTEREST, DIVIDENDS, EARNINGS!"

Please, may we have your cooperation?

Although the first transmittal to Treasury of the record of the earnings you receive will not be made until January of 1964, we must have a record of your Social Security number this year. To comply with this law a form for gathering our savers' Social Security numbers will be placed in the mail during the months ahead. Since you may have other savings accounts or investments elsewhere, you will receive a Form 3435 from these organizations, also. A form must be completed and returned to each institution from which you receive earnings or dividends. If you have no Social Security number, provision has been made to issue one for you. An application for this purpose is a part of the form being sent to you.

WHEN YOU RECEIVE FORMS IN THE MAIL—THE LAW REQUIRES YOU TO COMPLETE AND RETURN THEM! The task of recording is monumental; it will take some time to complete. While your form may not be in the first group mailed, you will ultimately receive one for each account you hold.

MAGIC VALLEY PORTRAIT Dignity of W. L. Austin, Shoshone Judge, Is From Character, Experience

W. L. AUSTIN

SHOSHONE, March 23—When W. L. Austin presides as justice of the peace in the city of Shoshone, city police judge he is not cloaked in the formal robe of higher courts of the land but with an aura of dignity radiates from him—originating, not so much from professional training, but from experience and character.

In his background is a lifetime of the man's experiences, and a familiarity for 20 years he has been associated with law enforcement in some form or another. He has been retired and a local politician.

A real point in his life, however, he credits not to his profession, with law enforcement, but to a social life, but with a religious experience.

He taught an adult Bible class from 1930 to 1932, including one Sunday, for the Methodist church in Allaca, Ark. and firmness in this experience has made more good than anything else he has ever done.

He said there were some religious people who came and to keep up with this real challenge. He often set up all hours of the night studying his Bible and looking up references, studying a newly-purchased Bible commentary and learning to teach months later. He is intended to be learned.

One incident he recalls was when a fellow class member differed with him on the interpretation of a certain scripture. He said he studied three nights on reference, and he convinced he understood it, started out in a rain storm to walk to the other man's house to discuss it. He was met by his wife and she took him to the parsonage. He carried his Bible under his raincoat. This habit of reading daily from the scripture has remained with him on his annual month's trips back to the Midwest and eastern states to visit relatives.

Last October when he made the trip by train, he said he and a colored gentleman were the only ones in the car who read this particular book.

"The philosophy preached in the scripture, Judge Austin has tried to live the golden rule as is attested by his quiet statement, 'Do you know how to get along with your neighbors?'"

"Today Austin is a member of the Shoshone Baptist church and captives himself on perfect attendance. When he is not at home he is in the field of his work. He is a member of the Shoshone Baptist church, and he is a member of the Shoshone Baptist church, and he is a member of the Shoshone Baptist church.

he began working as deputy sheriff and stock marshal and also where he had some of his best experiences.

It was during the prohibition that he was in the law office. He and his big job as a law officer for a few months in Twin Falls, Idaho. The area was in the Black river bottom, a jungle type area and never had a letter from a young man from Twin Falls, Idaho, was driving through Shoshone and had been fined by him for speeding.

"She wrote, in part, 'I am seldom overcome by a compulsion to bestow words of admiration and my fellow man. I would like you to become aware of my high esteem for you, in hopes that it might bring a little pleasure into your day.'

"You may consider my imprudent driving and departing from the law, a loss and waste, which would be a very logical assumption on your part, but I consider it a pleasure to make your acquaintance. Your character cannot be missed. You seem to radiate a glow of light and joy, and the synonyms that go with it."

Austin has traveled in most of the states and has had these trips together since his death in 1941.

Austin's children are Mrs. George (Colin) Young, Shoshone; Mrs. L. Austin, wife of police at Wendell, and retired Air Force Capt. Warren Austin, general manager of Southern Electric Engineering company, Warner Robins, Ga. He has six grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

In 1918 he was initiated into the Odd Fellows lodge at Allaca and is a past noble grand. He went into the encampment of the IOOF lodge in Little Rock, Ark. in 1918 and is past chief of the lodge in that group. In transferring his membership to Idaho, he became a member of the Shoshone IOOF lodge and the Gooding encampment.

So, in the aspect of life, Judge Austin is a man of the highest of his office, judging by the state of his conscience and based upon his experience and knowledge of the law of the land. He said he doesn't ever intend to abuse anyone; he doesn't ever intend to go out of his court angry.

He can quote scripture and tell Biblical stories. Like the widow of old and to leave the mixture, he continues to fish for amusement and enjoy the outdoors at every opportunity.

"If YOU PLANT IT OR FEED IT, GLOBE SEED WILL HAVE IT!"

Idaho Newsmen Impressed During Missile Launch Trip

ONE OF CLASSROOMS attended by most Idaho fish and game department members from all parts of the state recently is this one conducted by Dean Davis, Halley conservation officer, on the use of special equipment currently installed in department vehicles. All electrical switches and other controls are mounted on a standardized panel which can be removed without defacing the vehicle. Another table was given by Len Hoskins, first from left, second row, Owyhee district supervisor of the Nevada fish and game department. (Fish and game photo) over the greater Los Angeles area. The flying over a sea of light, big masses of lights started materializing below, then increased into an enormous sea of lights divided into streets as the plane passed over Los Angeles itself.

"At Anaheim, the party of Automobile officials included Bill Wheeler, a one-time Idaho newsman who is acquainted with many Twin Falls residents. He is director of information services and public relations for Automobiles.

"An sprawling new plant reported to cover 150 to 300 acres, have to accommodate one with two giant parking lots. A vice president of Automobiles pointed out that it is a real problem because 'Beverly California' will own a car. It is his right, and you try to drive it all by right."

As a result, parking lots have to be built for more than for every 1.5 cars. Some 15,000 cars are parked on the lots every day.

When the Idaho group toured the Anaheim plant, it was virtually deserted with only skeleton crews working on Saturday.

The return trip to Idaho was delayed somewhat by bad weather that forced an overnight stay in Las Vegas. The route to Mountain Home the next day was by way of Provo and Salt Lake City to avoid a storm area. The storm dumped 15 inches of snow on Provo the following day. The trip was organized and supervised by Capt. Leo R. Henley, director of information at Mountain Home. He is assisted by First Lieut. Glenn Force.

Love of Idaho's Wilderness Is Must When Seeking Job as Conservationist

By JIM HUMBLED

IDAHO fish-game department BOABE, March 23—Many people who take to get a job with the Idaho fish and game department. Usually a general answer is enough to satisfy persons whose best recommendation for such employment is a love of nature, of fishing, hunting, camping and the like.

However, people more deeply interested in such work are referred to the Idaho merit system and physical examination department, among others, operates personnel-wise in order to merit system. This merit system job-classification plan as well as administrative and evaluating merit examinations.

Employment requirements such as formal education, work history and physical examination, vary, depending on the job classification. March 20, for example, was the closing date for filling applications for positions as game and fish biologist and conservation officers.

Minimum qualifications for all three positions include graduation from an accredited college or university with degrees in fish and game management, or closely related subjects. Experience during the past few years shows there is an abundance of college graduates attempting to establish themselves in conservation work. Nearly all men receiving such appointments in Idaho in the past three years have come from that group.

None of these basic job requirements explain what fish and game conservation is.

Anyone wearing an Idaho fish and game uniform is expected by the public to be an authority on all phases of wildlife conservation. This is true whether his actual job is a fish or game biologist, law enforcement officer, fish hatchery worker or whatnot. He must be well-grounded in the biological fields of fish and game and have a working knowledge of forestry and land management.

All this is on the plus side, in addition to knowing all the tricks of the trade in law-enforcement, or whatever his specialty might be. He must have a conservationist's eye as well as an officer or any of a dozen or two other specialties.

"These considerations are uppermost in the minds of all department employees, at least, because they now are settling in on a fast job routine. In the eighth annual in-service training school, day-after-day sessions—Thursday morning until Friday noon, March 12-15—was the unwavering belief of the conservation commission and its director, division chiefs and supervisors that the men must be trained in all phases of departmental activities.

Indeed, they often work "out of classification" as peak work loads develop with the opening of fish, bird or big game seasons in some areas. Thus, a biologist may help out as a checker, or an enforcement officer on a big game count.

Rails Have Hard Time Adjusting

CHICAGO, March 23 (AP)—The nation's railroads, and their shippers, are having a hard time getting used to the modern age.

Since World War I, a revolution has shaken the lives of thousands of railroad families. The stored oil, diesel engines, the small depot that once was the heart of town has been abandoned in favor of a larger depot. The hard time getting used to the modern age.

PIES UNDER sounding board are in place as the fit to the inner case is made by Bruce, assisted by his father, Dr. Glenn Voyles, Twin Falls. By this time the instrument was beginning to take on the shape of the finished product to be a harpsichord. At the time of this picture, in late November, 1962, it was approximately two months since the operation first got under way. (Times-News photo)

PUTTING THE KEYS on the keyboard of the homemade and assembled instrument. Bruce Voyles finds the task is an exacting one. The keys, at this point, have all been tested and fit has been installed where required. This was toward the end of October last year. (Times-News photo)

HIGHLY POLISHED and reflecting surrounding light, the just completed harpsichord is put through its initial paces a few days ago with Bruce Voyles at the keyboard. It marked completion of a project which started Sept. 25, 1962, when the family decided such an instrument would be a fine addition to their home but also discovered that much money could be saved as a result of a do-it-yourself project. Construction of Harpsichord Becomes Family Project Before Completion given the first run-through by him, just the other day.

The cost? Well, it was not close to the top price of $6,000. In fact it was far from it. Bruce puts it this way:

"We actually have $288 in cash in the thing and hours and hours of labor which might be termed 'slave labor.'"

But, he adds, the entire project was well worth the effort when the end result is achieved. By that time, brother Stan had helped as had Dr. Voyles, the father, and "Jay," the mother, as well as son-in-law John Reynolds. It was a family project and, Bruce admits, sometimes got so involved and tedious that it hardly seemed worth the effort. The "rough part" is forgotten now that the instrument is completed and has passed all tests.

The harpsichord is a stringed instrument with a keyboard that looks somewhat like a piano. When the player strikes a key, he raises a wooden flange that has a small tab with quills of leather at the end. The tab plucks the strings of the instrument to produce a short abrupt tone.

Actually, experts say, the player has only slight control over the volume and the length of time that he can hold individual notes.

The instrument was developed in the late 1500's. It was most popular from around 1600 to the late 1700's.

Actually the instruments, even in kit form, are rather hard to come by. There is a reason for this.

The precise character of the harpsichord sound made it the ideal instrument for rendition of baroque music. This disciplined music, experts say, finds perfect expression on the harpsichord.

Lately, with mass distribution of long playing records, baroque music has become widely known and appreciated. In America the upsurge of chamber music playing occurred all over the country.

Again the experts point out that the piano was not adequate for baroque music, especially in ensemble playing where it "overpowered and distorted the other instruments."

In the case of the instrument constructed by the Voyles, it has one keyboard ranging from A to F (four and three-quarter octaves) and one set of strings.

There are two stops, one enabling the player to go from loud to soft or the opposite, and one which produces a sharp effect. With the two stops it is possible to achieve four combinations of sound.

Both Bruce and Mrs. Voyles say that the volume of this harpsichord is surprisingly good. They say it is an ideal practice instrument for the student in addition to being tops for baroque music.

Bruce said that an article in Newsweek concerning this type of instrument pointed out it was a favorite of Handel, Scarlatti and Bach and that each of these men wrote some of their greatest music specifically for it.

The Zoltermann company, where the Voyles obtained the kit, declared that the retail price of the harpsichord was $4,000. After listening to Bruce play several selections on the completed harpsichord it was easy to see why the instrument was popular. It was different—at least, this writer who cannot play any instrument—and that should make it popular if nothing else does.

Sitting there in the living room of the Voyles home the instrument successfully hid the fact that about half a year ago it was a pile of parts.

Watching the expression on the faces of other members of the family as Bruce played, it was easy to see what had turned the trick.

It was the "slave labor" Bruce had mentioned. It was family participation—which, actually, is somewhat unique these days.

JUST BEFORE CHRISTMAS of last year the construction of the harpsichord by the Voyles family had reached the initial tuning stage, which included the checking of the action of each of the 87 jacks. Bruce Voyles listens intently as the tuning proceeds. A junior at the Twin Falls high school, he is a talented musician and when he first got the idea of securing his new instrument, decided to build one from a kit. (Times-News photo) assessor in town, commanding the salary of $75 a year.

Murtaugh Celebration Set April 6

He recalls that his wife received 450 of that amount, because she kept the county books and, on a trip, picked up a booklet telling of the virtues of the Twin Falls tract. As a result the trip west was made and 40 acres of land was secured. This was followed by another 144 acres in 1910. This land purchase was split between two sons, Oliver W. and Ira M., in 1920. Two years later Ira was killed in an auto accident. Oliver, now retired, still lives at Murtaugh.

Two other children, Mrs. E. B. True and Charles L. Johnson, who farms the old home place, also reside here.

"Everyone is welcome to attend this double Centennial," Mrs. Savage said. "Every local citizen is all wrapped up in preparation and we think it will be the biggest celebration the community has ever staged."
