Motel Nears Completion In Twin Falls

Construction of the Imperial "100" motel, 300 Main avenue south, is nearing completion but is not yet ready for occupancy.

According to construction workers, the 42-unit luxury motel will be ready for business in about five weeks.

Recently, Dan and Emil Boepple, Boepple Brothers Construction company, Twin Falls, are putting up huge wallboard and preparing the interior for painting. They have been at work since March 14 installing sheet rock, taping and dry walls. They expect to finish their part of the work by Tuesday.

The huge wallboard panels they are putting up are a special kind of material furnished by the Big Horn Gypsum company, Cody, Wyo. The 18 by four-foot panels weigh 150 pounds each.

Thurston said Saturday the motel plans a competitively priced operation, with a wide variety of rooms to offer. There will be a room with a kitchen cooking facilities, suites, apartments which will be rented by the month, and apartment units to accommodate large parties of travelers.

There will be a heated swimming pool and showers attached to the motel, according to Thurston. Thurston has built a number of motels for the 245-motel company, which has headquarters in New York.

After he finishes supervising the building of the Twin Falls motel, he indicated he might be ordered to Boise, where he manages Imperial motel is projected.

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

WASHINGTON, March 30—Negotiations in Geneva toward a nuclear test ban agreement between the United States and the Soviet Union are still a mess, but there is a small bright spot, and that is that both the American and the Russian sides are now aware that the stalemate can be broken.

It may appear on the surface that the Russians, as in the case of the Cuban missile crisis, are making their Marxist monkey wrench.

They are doing this, of course, to get the United States to back down.

Andrew Tully, parliant, out of habit, with the United States. Quite simply, it is whether a continuation of nuclear tests will make it easier for Russia to continue to expand its power with atomic weapons.

DANGER OF SMALL NATIONS—The Soviet Union has to live with the fact of Uncle Sam's nuclear power and, perhaps, superiority. But for the peace of mind, it is not the peace of the world, Moscow would like to make it as possible as possible for such minor nations as Turkey and Spain to acquire a nuclear arsenal. Neither of these countries could ever become a superpower, but the Soviet Union's existence, but either could be the trigger which could set off a world-destroying conflict.

One reason, plus those of national pride, the Kremlin is not eager to see Communist China become a nuclear power is that it would be sure the United States would enforce would prove a deterrent to the world's minor nations in their scramble to acquire the big bomb.

President Kennedy's attitude toward this is not clear. He has been at his press conference of March 21. It is worth thinking about on this side.

20 MORE TO HAVE BOMBS—Kennedy and his top thinkers now are convinced that without a nuclear deterrent, the United States would be at least 20 more nations with atomic arms by 1975. This the President calls "the greatest possible danger and hazard." For two reasons: (1) The danger that these weapons might be carelessly employed, and (2) The increased contamination of the atmosphere from radioactive fallout.

A nuclear deterrent, in the form of a test ban would be the acquisition of nuclear weapons by other nations is somewhat more complicated. But it adds up to the premise that a world of nuclear powers is not a desirable one.

The point is that so far it has not been lack of technical knowledge, as was previously thought, that has prevented the United States from being able to get up the money to finance the project. But, if the Soviet Union, and its allies, are to have the same capability, it is the development of relatively inexpensive weapons, such as "clean" bombs whose fallout would be negligible.

The United States has a number of patents for a class of scientific tools that manufacture its own batch of bombs.

THREAT TO RUSSIA, TOO—It would be stupid to believe that has not occurred to Nikita Khrushchev. While giving an attentive ear to the Russian side, the United States must be aware that Russia could attain atomic nuclear superiority if testing were continued, Khrushchev has said. He has said that if Russia were to have nuclear weapons, it would be a danger to the United States. He has said that if Russia were to have nuclear weapons, it would be a danger to the United States.

At this point, despite all the nagging questions of Soviet policy, it would seem sensible to accept President Kennedy's viewpoint that it is in the national interest to limit the number of nuclear weapons that are available to Khrushchev. This would be a sufficient concern about the situation to abandon the gamble on attaining nuclear parity with the Soviet Union.

TWO MORE DEATHS

As the mechanical reliability of the automobile increases, it also increases the responsibility of the driver's touch raises the consequences of human error. This dangerous weapon has, for example, given rise to the development of the automatic transmission, a device to enable people who do not drive very well to handle big cars with powerful engines. Brushing the accelerator pedal a standstill, or a driver's touch has played a part in at least one of the fatal accidents which have occurred in Washington in the last few days.

In one case, the driver has suffered for some years from a partial paralysis, unknown to the licensing authorities. Whether her disability was a result of a stroke or a tumor, it was determined, but the case illustrates the difficulty of enforcing medical requirements upon drivers who are not given the opportunity to be examined.

In the second case, the driver of a car, who had a license, was driving on a highway. He was limited more to people who have suffered dramatic disabilities. A simple periodic test of vision and reflexes is not sufficient for drivers, upon whose competence their fellow citizens' lives are staked.—Washington Post.

CANARD EXPLAINED

We are happy to learn that General Eisenhower is not a meat hound, after all. A report from the House Select Committee on Assassinations, and 35 other birds in three hours—well, vacationing. That would have been a kill every four minutes and, considering a proportion of misdeeds would have meant the general was eating away four feet he hardly had time to relax his gun.

Senator Fulbright took note of the report in a Senate speech. His staff performance, he said, was "not much encouragement" to the people who want to preserve wildlife. As a result of the speech Mr. Fulbright received a letter from the Honorable Earl Eisenhower, the secretary, the friend explained, was that there were 20 sportmen and six girls on the expedition about a week ago. The letter was well written and the author of the canard was trying to deal the blow. The resident of four blow.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

AND FASTER, TOO

Apparently the increased postage rates, in effect since Jan. 7, haven't done much to expedite mail deliveries. Indeed, we doubt that anyone would have noticed the increase if it had been one of the objectives of the postage increase.

We continually hear—and experience—cases in which mail takes far too long to get from here to there. The reason is not the postal service, but the mail carriers in the mail delivery offices. In one instance, a mail carrier in Chicago, recounts a recent experience in which letters, consigned to the Boise postoffice, took four days to reach an address across the street.

The situation prompted someone to remark, caustically, that perhaps we should go back to horse and buggy mail delivery.

When it comes to spreading news, the female is a lot more dependable than the mail.

Among an aid meant a woman who had the aid withdrawn? It did say.

Interpreting the News

BY JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst

Several of them are carrying defense burdens far beyond their own means. They are providing more than two million armed men ready for the most part, for any emergency.

The world strength so long as conventional military forces are required. It might be better to reduce the resources for defense budget rather than to discontinue the support which they contribute possible.

But in the next paragraph the report suggests several of these political policies are more than they need and urge they be cut. This whole section is in a single paragraph.

The Junble may be due to the fact that the report never says which countries' forces need reducing. This is because right at the start the committee indicated it would not single out individual countries by name.

The chairman, Gen. Lucius D. Clay, said he gave specific names to David Bell, director of the defense program.

Yet, as the report went on, it contradicted itself by naming some names. In complaining that the resources for defense were being cut, it said France was doing the best in this and suggested Italy, Germany, and the United Kingdom, and even the Soviet Union.

It said this country should cut down help for Spain and Portugal in order to help the United States.

It has taken this country 300 years to get as prosperous as it is today. It has a free enterprise system. Some backward countries may feel that they can't wait for the report to say they are not doing as well as we are.

The report encouraged helping countries in order to help them to get on their feet. It was warned about aid to socialist countries, that is, those "rotting" government-owned industries and commercial enterprises.

But in almost the next breath it urged the United States to help India while India is trying to come abreast of the 20th century by a system of democratic socialism.

BARRY GOLDWATER

How silly can we get to our efforts to distribute foreign aid money throughout the world? Perhaps the recent case of Brazil can highlight that question.

The United States has been a leader in the distribution of aid money. They have a right to be. They have a right to be. They have a right to be.

The fact of the matter is that three of the 15-member Brazilian cabinet, are said to be members of the Communist Party. The Communist Party is said to be a member of the Communist Party.

Not only that, but the negotiations for providing Brazil with a large amount of aid money are said to be a member of the Communist Party.

The trouble arose from a report issued by the house foreign affairs subcommittee on international affairs. The report bore the name of Lincoln Gordon, American ambassador to Brazil, and said that the communists have infiltrated Brazil's government under President Castello Branco.

When news of this report reached Brasilia, President Goulart ordered his cabinet in Washington to suspend all negotiations for United States aid. He called off the discussion of the aid money to the house committee's report by the state department.

The state department, of course, obliged with a statement to the effect that communist infiltration of the Brazilian government is not sufficient to warrant a substantial influence on Brazilian government policy.

Improvement Planned for Yellowstone

YELLOWSTONE PARK March 30 (Special)—More than $500,000 will be spent this year by the National Park company to improve accommodations for tourists, George East, executive vice president and general manager of the company, reports. It will involve hotels, lodges and cabin accommodations at 11 different locations.

The Mammoth Springs hotel will be remodeled and enlarged with a new gift shop. All hotel rooms will be repainted and 23 will be furnished. About $24,000 will be spent here.

Major expenditures are being made at the historic Old Faithful Inn, where 100 rooms will be furnished. About 100 new baths will be added, the Bear and the Inn gift shops will be air conditioned.

Old Faithful lodge lounge, overlooking the geysers, will be remodeled. Fishing bridge cabins will receive new furniture worth $20,000. A new public bath facility will be constructed at the location. Other improvements make a total expenditure of $135,000 for fishing bridges.

The Mammoth Springs will be remodeled and 23 hotel rooms will be repainted and 23 will be furnished. About $24,000 will be spent here.

Lake Lodge will be greatly improved by the addition of $50,000 worth of new furniture. The camper's exhibit at Canyon will be completely repainted. Additional public rest rooms will be built.

E. Herrick Low, Hillsborough, Calif., has been elected chairman of the board of Yellowstone Park company. He is a senior vice president of the United California bank.

Mrs. McCoy Will Head Hansen PTA

HANSEN, March 30—Mrs. Lee McCoy was elected president for the coming year at the PTA meeting held Thursday evening at the schoolhouse.

Mrs. Eldon Durk was elected first vice president; Marvin Rose, second vice president; Mrs. William Ferguson, secretary; and Norman McQuire, treasurer. They will be installed at the next meeting.

The hospitality chairman, Mrs. McCoy, announced the annual awards banquet will be held at 7 p.m. April 26 at the schoolhouse. She asked that all members bring two dishes. The executive committee will furnish one meat dish each, plus one other dish.

Mrs. Ferris Freestone, Health Officer

Mrs. Ferris Freestone, health officer, announced the third oral polio vaccine will be given on May 15 at Murtagh and May 18 at Kimberly. She also stated there would be a pre-school clinic at the school, May 2.

Trona Robinson, Girls State representative, and Tommy Butte and Don Bennett, Boys State representatives, told of their experiences last year.

A panel of teen-agers and parents discussed teen-age problems. Mrs. Harold Moore was moderator.

Student panelists were Judy Proctor, Diana Gray, Linda Slinger, Terry Butler, Eddie Lulich, Teresa Brown, Roy Kincaid and Kelly Soderberg.

Parent panelists were Mrs. George Bennett, Mrs. Ferris Freestone, Mrs. Warren Richert, Clarence Werner, Clarence Hollifield and Ted Crockett.

Problems Discussed Included

Problems discussed included "What's out" about parents trying to attend school activities, telephone use, dating strictness, what parents do that "bug" the teen-agers, driving privileges and parent-teen-ager relationship.

Mrs. A. E. Dilworth, PTA president, announced the district PTA meeting will be held May 11 at Albion.

School money problems and the legislature were also discussed by Lester Naylor, Robert Pettygrove and Bernard Hopwood, superintendent. It was recommended that people become acquainted with school problems.

5 Deco-Youths Attend Conclave

DECOLO, March 30—Five members of the Future Farmers of American Deco chapter attended the state convention at Meridian.

They are Jay Darrington, president of the Deco chapter; Robert Gibson, N. Hill; Royce Fenke, Clyde Goodman and Bertrand Gardner, vocational agriculture teacher.

The boys were accompanied by Robert Darrington, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Darrington, Deco, freshmen at the Utah State university. Darrington was presented his Idaho state farmer degree on Friday morning at the convention.

Dogs Unwelcome On Playgrounds

HATLEY, March 30—Lester Roberts, principal of the Hatley grade school, has asked parents and children to keep their dogs off the playgrounds at the school.

"Spring weather and baseball seems to bring the dogs," Mr. Roberts said. "And this Friday morning when I saw there were seven dogs mixed in with the children, someone is liable to get hurt, and one of the dogs probably will be responsible. The playground is for the kids. And the dogs are not invited," he concluded.

Last Community Concert for Burley to Feature Soprano

BURLEY, March 30—Camilla Williams, America's singing ambassador of international renown, will be heard at 8:15 p.m. Wednesday at the Burley high school auditorium in the last of a series of concerts brought to Burley by the Burley Rupert Community Concert Association.

The soprano has been heard in concerts and operas and has worked with many of the nation's important orchestras all over the United States. She is equally at home in Europe, which she has visited no less than 12 times in five years.

During the first five months of 1962, the soprano undertook what is recognized as one of the most important musical and diplomatic assignments ever accorded an artist of the Columbia Artists management.

This assignment took her through 58 successful concerts in Far East (Japan, Korea, Vietnam, Formosa, Hong Kong) and the Philippines, Australia and New Zealand.

Like her previous tour of 14 North and Central American countries, her extensive Far East tour was sponsored by the U.S. State department as part of "The President's program" administered by the American National Theater and Academy.

Mrs. Williams' spectacular tour of Africa took her to many new cities and capitals where a first-class musical atmosphere never before had appeared.

At the invitation of the emperor Haile Selassie, she visited Addis Ababa, where her success was so great she was immediately invited to return to Ethiopia.

She is a native of Danville, Va., and an honor graduate of Virginia State college, where she prepared for her career.

Her study of serious music began in Philadelphia under the guidance of Miss Marion Stockley-Freschi, who remains her vocal mentor.

Mrs. Williams' debut at the New York City Opera company in the title role of Puccini's "Madame Butterfly" brought her very special art into national prominence. Her appearance there also marked the first time a singer of the Negro race was to appear regularly with a major American opera company.

So monumental was her success and audience popularity, she later appeared in other starring roles, including "Aida," "Fagiolini," "La Boheme," "Faust" and Mozart's seldom-performed "Masquerade," "Idomeneo."

MEETING HOUR CHANGED

RICHFIELD, March 30—A meeting hour change was set by the Richfield Grange at her Wednesday night meeting held at the home of Mrs. Veda Holt. Meetings will now start at 8:30 p.m. The April 10 meeting will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Odell Chastfield.

Bloodmobile

BERNARD, March 30—The Bloodmobile will be in operation from 2 to 6 p.m. Monday at the Moose hall. Mrs. Charles Parker and Miss Leo Falconburg, co-chairmen of the Jerome program, urged residents to support this drive—by donating blood.

Quota of 150 pints.

Baby-sitters will be available—ask the Scout—how. Donors are invited to leave their children with the sitters while they give blood. The "Jerome Garage" will sponsor the visit.

Annis P. Hollers Taken by Death

BURLEY, March 30—Annis Phillip Hollers, 70, died Friday in Casals Memorial hospital after a short illness.

He was born Feb. 10, 1893, at Palo Pinto, Tex. He was a member of VFW post 30, 394 and a member of Veterans of World War I, barracks No. 1633. There are no known survivors.

Funeral services are set for 2 p.m. Tuesday in the Joseph Payne memorial chapel with the Rev. Warren H. Seebler, pastor of the Burley Christian church, officiating. Final rites will be held in the Glen Memorial Garden in Burley, with military graveside rites by the VFW. Friends may call at the Payne mortuary Monday afternoon and evening and Tuesday until time of services.

Man Chosen

UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO, Moscow, March 30—William Russ, physicist major from Burley, has been selected for the summer research program sponsored by the National Science Foundation.

Students holding foundation grants this year include James Asendrup-Murtagh and Robert Parkinson.

Library in Ketchum to Be Enlarged

KETCHUM, March 30—Plans are under way for a 720-square-foot addition to the Ketchum Valley community library building.

The new space will be used to house the Gold Mine, which has been operated since it was first opened in 1935 in a tiny miner's cabin at the corner of Washington street and Fourth avenue across from city hall.

It was from the proceeds of the Gold Mine (where donated clothing and other articles are sold) that the first library funds were obtained. The library was built in 1957.

Members of the library board advise that income from the Gold Mine is essential to the existence of the library. The tiny shop is now operated by Mrs. George Jacobs with the assistance of Mrs. George Casle.

Mrs. Clara Spies, library board chairman, states that around will be broken as soon as weather permits. The building fund, established several years ago, has grown to $5,000.

"The addition will be built in the same architectural style as the library building."

Officials Meet With Cattlemen

FAIRFIELD, March 30—J. L. Boye, supervisor of the Sawtooth national forest, Twin Falls, and Conservation Officer Walter R. Browne, Idaho fish and game department, met with the Camas Cattle association Wednesday afternoon in the courthouse.

The group discussed grazing fees and the allotments and the fact that the stock will be put on the range and taken off.

They expect to leave their stock on the range for a shorter period this year than in the past.

News Around Idaho

IDAHO FALLS, March 30—Crowds lined Idaho Falls streets this morning to watch precision stepping high school girl marching units from southern Idaho and northern Utah parade in the Idaho centennial march. The parade highlighted the sixth annual celebration of the mountain girls marching teams.

POCATELLO, March 30—More than 150 artists will be judged in the Idaho State High School Press association's better scholastic newspaper awards contest, the association executive secretary said today. Gerald L. Greiter, Idaho state college instructor in journalism, called on high school newspaper editors to enter in the annual spring convention-workshop here April 27.

MERIDIAN, March 30—Seven hundred Idaho Future Farmers of America ended their 32nd state convention here today with installation of Steve Dobson, Emmett, as 1963 president. PPA chapters at Rexburg, Twin Falls and Prullish are chosen to represent Idaho in the national competition for chapter awards. Superior winners also went to chapters in Bonanza Ferry, Carey, Kimberly, Kuna and Payette. Meridian, Moscow, Bannock and Uter chapters won standard awards and Twin Falls, Carey and Minico won in a chapter scrapbook contest.

IDAHO FALLS, March 30—Potato growers in 18 eastern Idaho counties have called on the department of agriculture to scrap a proposed marketing order on grounds that it would discriminate against Idaho growers. Orval Hamner, Idaho Farm Bureau executive director, said he has written a letter to the department of agriculture on behalf of the growers contending the order would hand them added financial burden and provide no benefits.

RIOBY, March 30—A 30-year-old Negro farm worker, found guilty by a 12th district court jury of fatally injuring his white mistress, last week sentenced to not more than 21 years in the state prison. Claude Stokes was sentenced yesterday after his conviction of a second degree murder charge a week ago. Judge William Burton, in passing sentence, termed the killing "a cruel and vicious attack... which was both disgusting and revolting."

BOISE, March 30—The second annual youth governor's traffic safety conference is scheduled here April 6 with more than 110 students from Idaho high schools expected to attend. Gov. Robert E. Smylie announced the conference today. He will deliver the keynote address. Henry Kravitz, Boise State law professor, will be the featured speaker. He is president of the Idaho State Teen-age safety association.

CALDWELL, March 30—The southwestern Idaho reclamation study group has endorsed the proposed Garden Valley project on the Payette river for irrigation of the Mountain Home desert. The study group said that the Idaho Power Co. plan to build a dam to do the job more effectively than the proposed Guffey project on the Snake river. Representatives of the recently formed study group and the southwestern Idaho Resource Development committee gathered to present their findings to the state reclamation commission at a Friday night dinner meeting at the College of Idaho.

POCATELLO, March 30—Idaho Young Democrats will conduct their annual convention here April 26-28. President Ken Larsen, Pocatello, announced today. David Blackwell, Casaca, heads the convention committee. Idaho State College Young Democrats will also do the job more effectively than the proposed Guffey project on the Snake river. Representatives of the recently formed study group and the southwestern Idaho Resource Development committee gathered to present their findings to the state reclamation commission at a Friday night dinner meeting at the College of Idaho.

BOISE, March 30—The Idaho highway department applied for bids today on construction of two concrete bridges and twin overpasses on interstate highway 90 between Mission Plate and Catalina in northern Idaho.

REXBURG, March 30—Jervie Wilkox, Bonvilleville high school sophomore, was awarded grand champion honors today at the Northern Idaho regional spelling bee at Boise. Wilkox, who was also grand prize winner in the Bonvilleville district 93 fair, received an expense-paid trip to the National Spelling Bee at Albuquerque, N.M., in May. Her exhibit was titled "biological clocks."

NAMPA, March 30—The Nampa municipal airport will close Wednesday for an indefinite period, State Aeronautics Director Chet Moulton said today. The closure is for reconstruction and siting of the runway. Moulton said there is heavy traffic at the airport and pilots should take note of its closing.

MOSCOW, March 30—Consolidation of four of the departments of the University of Idaho field of agriculture into two was announced today by university President H. Ross. He described it as a streamlining move. Dean J. R. Kraus of the college of agriculture said the consolidation, effective July 1, follows a trend for colleges of agriculture.

BOISE, March 30—The Idaho chapter of the Distributive Education Council of America announced today that it is choosing 17-year-old Mary Smith, Lewiston high school senior, as its sweetheart. Miss Smith will accompany the chapter's president, Niall DeLorenzo, Foster-Lord, both Pocatello, to the national meeting in Chicago May 24. Barbara Hines, Burley, was among the contest winners.

BOISE, March 30—A program calling for a patient-centered approach to nursing was endorsed yesterday by members of four professional groups attending a special meeting here called by the state board of nursing. The program, which was presented by Mrs. Erin Cannon of the army nurse corps, who attended the two-day meeting as an observer, said better nursing care for patients in Idaho hospitals will result from the conference.

POCATELLO, March 30—The Pocatello school board says it will decide Monday whether to ask district voters to approve a five-mill increase to meet the demand for higher salaries. Edwitt Bullock, chairman, said if the board is unable to obtain the increase it will be forced to cut school services. Bullock said the increase would raise about $10,000 in additional revenues but that budget requests already made would require at least an additional $500,000.

Silver Star-Queens Mine Developments Encouraging

BELLEVUE, March 30—Recent chutes in virgin ground, which have never been worked and that few men make the potential unusually impressive, mining officials here are encouraging the Federal Resources Administration, which is operating the famous propylene-day producer. Elsewhere in the mine propylene-day producer. Two samples recently taken from the mine assayed 79.2 percent lead and 64 ounces of silver per ton for one sample; and 76.8 percent lead and 92 ounces silver for the other. So far, the ore chute has been advanced up dip on the vein about 100 feet, with thicknesses of from eight to 10 feet. This thickness of the ore vein is considered to be a good indication of the reserves and gives added impetus to the plans of Federal Resources to construct a mill at an early date. Both above and below the ore

Cassia Soil Service Eyes Farm Water

OAKLEY, March 30—Unless a weather change occurs, the West Cassia soil conservation service predicts only another 6,000 acre feet will enter the Oakley reservoir by September. The water forecast meeting was held Thursday at the Playhouse under the direction of the SCS' Ralph Goringe who is in charge. Officials reported that the first of the reading inflow was 17,000 acre feet and 4.23 average per acre, per farmer, is now available for the 1963 season. The SCS predicts an 8.3 inch for the coming season but April will be the determining month whether there will be more water. Morlan Nelson, state snow supervisor for the soil conservation service, reported that the mountains are soaking up every inch of water. He reported that water content is down in most places on southern Idaho. It has been proved, however, that the snow pack at the Rosteter ranger station correlates with the inflow to the reservoir, while Badger gulch does not correlate at all. The third testing station is located in Howard canyon on the east.

Nelson said, "We are in a slow period of snowfall based on the 'lender' chart which shows a three-year slide in snowfall in snowfall in three-year periods. In 1960 it rose, and now has fallen again. He warned people to be careful with the water in 1963, since it might be another two years before the chart shows a rise again. "Many of the smaller streams are not flowing now and some of the larger ones may be dry before the end of the irrigation year. If there wasn't a good holdover in most of the reservoirs from last year, conditions would really be bad this year," he said.

Burke Chulor, of the county SCS, pointed out that the alfalfa plant is the largest consumer of water in this area. It takes two and one-half feet of water per year for one plant, or 30 inches of water on one acre. "You would actually need 45 inches of water to get 30 inches because of the evaporation and loss of water in the ditches," he added.

Explanation Given to Cut Gripes About Red Cross

Editor, Times-News: Who is my neighbor? has been a classic question through-out the past century, particularly beginning with the Christian era. Your neighbor is someone who lives next door, in the same town, across the street, across town... who extends a helping hand and friendship when needed, even though the need is unexpected.

It is everyone's neighbor who answers the call of the Red Cross to solicit certain areas in the annual call for funds to carry on this great humanitarian project. For 100 years the American Red Cross has been ready to answer the call, "Always there" in times of need.

However, there is a small segment of the population that still gripes about events of past wars and past decades. They know someone who knew someone who paid five cents for a cup of coffee and five cents for a doughnut during World War I or World War II or even other periods.

So what? It has been the policy of the government—creation of the Korean undeclared war and possibly World War II to reduce the Red Cross to make these charges.

One reason was that the American soldier already had a doughnut and a cup of coffee during the war and it was thought it would more nearly equalize the service men and women following many unappreciated experiences growing out of this policy. The American Red Cross was authorized to discontinue its charges.

Gooding Woman Is Irked at Teachers' Bid for More Pay

Editor, Times-News: It really started me to read what Mr. Riggs in Pocatello said about the Red Cross and our legislature and about trying to get 48 million dollars. Where do you think they call for that kind of money out of these poor Idahoans?

Our children have 10 times better conditions than we did during the war and teachers are getting four or five times better pay now than our teachers were getting 10 years ago. Our parents during the war were making 10 times more money than we are now. I would love to have one of these teachers tell me how long they think Idaho farmers are supposed to get the 48 million or even the 40 million to pay them.

Our teachers are like our governor and president—they need more money and not to worry where it comes from or whom it hurts so long as they get their salaries and take care of their needs.

The common people can bleed as long as the big boys do. The teacher is a good teacher. Teachers say our salaries are low in Idaho, but so is income. When they talk in percentages of how low the income is in Idaho compared to all the states I travel quite a bit and everyone gives better than the people in Idaho, or I should say they have much to be pleased on to pleasure than the majority of Idahoans.

Also, I have a sister-in-law living in Idaho and she claims the sales tax would only hurt the young couples who are buying more cars and more houses each month, and if those who can afford to pay tax put their money away or invest their money while they pay the tax.

I would love to have someone answer all the points I have made, and I mean answer. I would like to see a lot of stuff that never ever answer the question like Governor Boyle does.

I think the teachers ought to work to get some money into Idaho before they try to pick Idahoans clean.

Many people are glad they have a job—teachers ought to be glad they can teach.

Kimberly Man Is Against Experiments on Animals

Editor, Times-News: While we spend billions to help people all over the world, mostly ones too lazy to help themselves, we are allowing awful cruelty to be used on animals in the so-called laboratories of America.

Most of these animals, mostly dogs and cats, are people's stolen from their homes by scoundrels who make money that way, and sold to these torture chambers.

There is apparently no limit to the torture they inflict. Any new idea to see how much pain they can stand before dying, and being left to rot, is being tried.

apart is the routine at these butcheries.

To protect these animals, please write your congressman to vote for bill HR 4260. For southern states write your senator. This bill gives specific law to stop these inhuman practices. If you love animals please help them. We need the help. A lot more than our communist allies do.

Write Society for Animal Protection—Legislation, 745 Fifth Avenue, New York 22, N.Y., for literature on this subject.

Eden Woman Really Has Her Hand up About Taxes

Editor, Times-News: On second thought, though, I feel I'm sharing some of my thoughts on what the good they might, or might not, do.

We were once a people as a whole, full of charity, giving to assist anyone in need. Where did this go?

I know where mine went. It was once sold and willingly did feel free to run across town, across county to distribute necessities from good out of the hearts of greater gifts to those less fortunate than I. Uncle Sam decided to ramrod my charity and I was even taken our privileges away, as far as an individual's charity is concerned.

The government has decided to whom and what, can I live without must go, to the extent I can no longer even give to the church as much as I want to.

God loves a cheerful giver (2 Cor. 9, 7). A gift without the giver is bare. How better the money our nation operates on.

On second thought, though, I feel I'm sharing some of my thoughts on what the good they might, or might not, do.

So, Uncle Sam makes permanent parasites of people abroad by stuffing them, and provides for the rest of us with the tax lot. I'm not for feeding the lazy one is God.

When this rotten taxation which God, if concerned about at all, does not sanction, we have become a money-loving people from good out of the hearts of dollars to live. We who profess Christianity find ourselves seduced to grasp at temptations we even doubt the acceptance of. We are a driven, forced people.

To feed the body is never as important as the welfare of the soul, and our government has damaged every soul which is so proud to receive with the tax lot.

Our heart is no longer in the charity we are forced to hand over. It was in the days when we could choose to donate the government has not made it a dependent countries Christian. It is like the Christian spirit out of our own.

Executives Are Shifted By Carroll's

Change in manager at Carroll's, Inc., Franklin street store, Boise, has been named manager of the Twin Falls store at 133 Broadway street north, which will result in the present manager, Nixon J. Sellers, being promoted and transferred to Boise. It was announced here Friday by W. C. (Bill) Sellers, Jr., new manager and former manager of the firm's store at 133 Broadway street north.

Nixon Sellers has been named to select and be in charge of buying all sportswear for the family-owned Idaho firm, which currently has "Boise and one-half" store in the state.

Sellers has been manager here for a little more than two years. He managed the Vogue here after Carroll's, Inc. purchased the local women's store and before the Vogue name was changed to Carroll's.

Carroll's, Inc., stores are located in Twin Falls, in the Franklin shopping center, Boise, in downtown Boise and in McCall, where the "one-half" store is open only during the summer months.

Nixon Sellers, his wife and 2-year-old daughter will move to Boise shortly. The change in managers becomes official Monday.

William Sellers, Jr., began managing the Franklin shopping center store when it was active in a training program of the Emporium department store, San Francisco, Calif., where he became assistant manager of the women's shoes department, and assistant manager of a discount store in Berkeley, Calif.

He was graduated from University of Santa Clara, Santa Clara, Calif., after serving three years with the army in Japan. He received his college degree in merchandising.

The Sellers' younger brother, Michael J. Sellers, is being transferred to Boise, where he was announced last May. Before that, he was active in a training program of the Emporium department store, San Francisco, Calif., where he became assistant manager of the women's shoes department, and assistant manager of a discount store in Berkeley, Calif.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Pinley and Kenneth Jones were given the fifth degree obligation by Frank Jones and a discussion of the wheat referendum was held.

Practice "Disaster Run" at Rupert Is Termed Successful

RUPERT, March 30.—A practice "disaster run" was held Thursday evening in Rupert, with members of the national guard local doctors, nurses and ambulance drivers participating.

Dr. Robert J. Stovall, director of the situation, stated that a few areas to be improved were the regular staff and equipment in the hospital and the hospital is ready to handle large-scale emergencies if the need arises.

With added emergency equipment, doctors felt they could handle a much larger number. Such equipment could be stored in the hospital and could be put into service within a very short period of time, officials pointed out.

The only phase of the operation that must be improved, they felt, is in the control of the general public. According to the Boise police department personnel taking part in the run, dozens of persons swarmed over the streets leading to the hospital, causing traffic congestion that would seriously hamper rescue efforts in the event of a real disaster.

Hospital personnel on their assignments were allowed to move unimpeded by the press of traffic or curiosity seekers. Police officers presented drivers failed to comply with the law requiring them to give the right of way to emergency vehicles, and some drove up into the hospital parking and loading zones in their efforts to find out what was going on, police said.

Officers hope to be able to prevent this in future practice runs or in the case of an actual emergency.

Dr. Stovall explained that this practice is very important, as it is an "outside" emergency, do the civil defense authorities.

Reserves to Fly To Summer Duty

The Twin Falls army reserve unit will be flown to Ft. Leach, Wash., for its summer training encampment June 15-20, according to Maj. Harlan Meyer, reserve unit adviser and Twin Falls subsector commander.

Maj. Meyer said about 100 local reservists, assigned to the company of the 372nd Quartermaster Battalion, will attend the summer camp.

practice, and that in the future they would set up an "outside" practice where an imaginary situation or similar situation would arise within the hospital.

He said the staff feels that this practice is very important, as it is an "outside" emergency, do the civil defense authorities.

Lawyer Files Protest Over Spud Control

IDAHO FALLS, March 30 (Special)—Orval Hansen, Idaho Falls attorney, has filed with the secretary of agriculture a brief in opposition to the proposed national potato marketing order. The brief was on behalf of a group of potato growers from 10 eastern Idaho counties, who are against the order.

Hansen described the harmful effect of controls on free competition in the brief.

"We must have freedom and flexibility to adjust our production, processing, packaging, distribution and marketing practices to meet the rapidly changing market demands and consumer tastes," he contended.

"Because the russet Burbank is the principal variety grown in Idaho," Hansen said, "our growers would be forced to throw away or to sell at low grade outlets between 10 and 15 per cent more of their crops than growers in other parts of the country who produce the round white varieties."

Hansen added, "The grower should be free to sell his crop into the outlets which will keep his handling costs at a minimum and return to him the greatest net profit."

"Adoption of the proposed cull regulation would place an additional economic burden on the backs of the nation's potato producers without yielding any commensurate benefits," he said.

Hansen pointed out in the brief the grade labeling requirements of the proposed order are unnecessary because the practice the order seeks to prohibit already are illegal.

"In the final analysis, our success will depend not on the regulations and controls sponsored by the government, but on our ability to produce efficiently a high quality and wholesome food product and to market it in an attractive form at competitive prices," Hansen explained.

Bliss Girl Wins Essay Contest

BLISS, March 30 — Claudia Hollowell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Hollowell, was the state winner in the junior high school division of the essay contest sponsored by the Idaho Wildlife Federation.

The theme was "Water and our wildlife heritage." Her essay will compete in the national contest. She received a $25 cash prize.

Pamela Brownlee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Smith, received honorable mention in the high school division of the Bliss Rod and Gun club sponsored the local contest.

National Guard Inspection Set

HALLEY, March 30 — Annual inspection of the Halley national guard unit by a representative of the inspector general's office is set for 2 p. m. Tuesday, according to Lyle Breneman, administrative supply technician.

In the afternoon, inspection will concern administration, supplies and maintenance. In the evening, there will be an inspection in ranks of all personnel.

Breneman reports that SP4 Gary W. Price has transferred to the Halley unit from Burley and Mrs. D. Martin, Bellevue, son of Mr. and Mrs. Duke Martin, has enlisted.

Robert R. Eskridge, grandson of Mrs. Cleo Dugger, Halley, left today for Fort Ord, Calif., where he will undergo active duty training.

Burglarized

JEROME, March 30 — Mel's Texaco was burglarized sometime between 10 p. m. Friday night and 7 a. m. Saturday. About $225 was taken. The money, mostly cash, was hidden in the office.

The burglar gained entrance by breaking in the front door.

Inspections Set for Area Guard Units

Seven Magic Valley national guard units will have their annual general inspection by the Sixth army this week.

Each unit will have an open house—the day of the inspection, which the public is invited to attend. All of the inspections will be held between 8 and 10 p. m.

Grange Hears Senate Page Experiences

HOLLISTER, March 30—The life of a senate page was recounted by Patricia Lanting Wednesday night at the Hollister Grange meeting.

She spoke of the work and also the fun connected with it. Patricia is the daughter of W. J. Lanting, mostly known to the members of representatives, so she had to work in the senate. Mrs. Glenn Nelson read a poem.

Mrs. Heber Loughmiller, home economics chairman, announced the sewing contest rules. Either dresses or suits may be made, but they are to be of cotton. Closing date is April 30. Sponsoring groups are the same as before.

Mrs. Loughmiller thanked all who helped clean the hall and also those who worked on the bloodmobile.

A permit was granted to Mr. and Mrs. Asa White who have moved to Bull and will join the Lucerne Grange. A summary of the 1962 legislative session was given by Lanting.

The group will canvass the community for the Red Cross. Workers are Mrs. LeRoy Fletner, Mrs. Dale Kunkel, Mrs. Glenn Nelson, A. E. Kunkel, and C. M. Lanting.

April will be the centennial observance for the Grange and each member is asked to be prepared to tell when his family came to Idaho. Family heliograms will be displayed.

Refreshments were served by Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Fletner. Mr. and Mrs. Howard Miller will serve April 10.

DAVID NELSON

son of Mr. and Mrs. Al Nelson, 1216 Filer avenue east, Twin Falls, who is the new president of Idaho State college.

David Nelson, twin brother of a pharmacist, is in the first class of Idaho State university, the new name given the school by action of the recent legislative session. The change in title will be effective July 1.

T. F. Youth Directs ISC Student Body

IDAHO STATE COLLEGE, Pocatello, March 30—The new Associated Students president of Idaho State college—soon to become Idaho State university—David Lee Nelson, Twin Falls...

A four-year student in part of the year, Nelson was elected to the top student post during the annual AS balloting March 18. He and the other new officers were sworn in March 18.

The new president served this year as men's representative on the Student Union and student manager of Owen Hall, a men's dormitory.

He has also been active in the college band and the Intercollegiate Knights, men's service organization. He was the ISC president in 1961-62 and in 1962 received the Knights' award.

Nelson is a graduate of Twin Falls high school and son of Mr. and Mrs. Nelson, 1216 Filer avenue east, Twin Falls.

To win the presidency, the student received 606 of the 800 votes cast in the election. His defeated Stanley Martin, Boise, and Jack Johnson, Preston.

YOUR BIRTHDAY and HOROSCOPE

SUNDAY, March 31—Born to day, you will be over attracted by matters, culture and intellectual. Inferred to all that is progressive and new, you have the imagination and intelligence to grasp even the most abstract of theories. Indeed, you are so imaginative and come up with ideas so out-of-the-ordinary, yet sound, that you may expect to be considered a genius by some and an "oddball" by others.

You must expect a certain amount of criticism in your life. It need not disturb you if you remember that it is not really you that people are fighting. It is merely the age-old tale of resistance to change. But change leads to a better life, better understanding—you see as a necessity, and you will cling to it in practice as in principle.

You have much of what we call "artistic temperament" and moodiness is one of the keyholes of your personality. Avoid allowing this to run your life. Learn to live with your ups and downs, and others will more easily learn to live with you. In marriage, especially, take the other person into consideration, and learn to control your depressions.

Among those born on this date are Edward Fitzgerald, Victorian poet, translator; Descartes, philosopher, mathematician; Franz Joseph Haydn, Austrian composer.

To find out what is in store for you—tomorrow, select your birthday star and read the corresponding paragraph. Let your birthday star be your daily guide.

Monday, April 1—ARIES (March 21-April 20)—A day in which others should be highly responsive to your ideas, suggestions, plans, etc. You can move far ahead.

Taurus (April 21-May 21)—Good judgment in a matter of family concern should get the month off to a good domestic start.

Gemini (May 22-June 21)—Don't overlook what may be a good chance to do profitable business at a distance. Take all suggestions seriously.

Cancer (June 22-July 23)—Time to increase your aspirations. Move ahead into new territories. Avoid overtaxing physically, however.

Leo (July 24-Aug. 23)—Avoid going off "half-cocked" over every scheme presented to you for inspection. Remember that the veto power is yours.

Virgo (Aug. 24-Sept. 23)—Practice saying "maybe" rather than "no" this day, and so avoid

Sue Vawdrey Is Bride of Lester Hanson

JEROME, March 30—Sue Vawdrey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Vawdrey, and Lester B. Hanson, II, were married March 30 at the LDS chapel, Jerome. He is the son of Lester B. Hanson, Temple City, Calif., and Mrs. Ella Hanson, Pasadena, Calif.

Rev. Opert Grant B. Humphreys officiated at the ceremony. Large beauty baskets of blue chrysanthemums and white carnations formed the background. Margaret Van Orman, organist, played the wedding music. The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white sheath with pleated overskirt of Chinese silk brocade. The gown was made by the bride's mother from Chinese silk, acquired by the bride's mother, Joan Vawdrey, while he was in China.

Her shoulder-length veil of tulle was held by a headpiece that matched her dress. She carried a "Y" shaped bouquet of white roses with a single white carnation.

Kathryn Vawdrey, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore a white dress with a floral pattern. Her hair was styled in a bun. She carried a white carnation bouquet.

Dr. Bradley Hill, Twin Falls, was the officiant. The ceremony was held at 8 p. m. Monday at the LDS temple. The bride's mother, Mrs. Vawdrey, and her father, Mr. Vawdrey, were seated at the head of the table. The bride's father, Mr. Vawdrey, was seated to the left of the bride. The bride's mother, Mrs. Vawdrey, was seated to the right of the bride. The bride's father, Mr. Vawdrey, was seated to the left of the bride. The bride's mother, Mrs. Vawdrey, was seated to the right of the bride.

Civic Club Has Fine Arts Meet In Shoshone

SHOSHONE, March 30 — A program of fine arts was presented at the Civic Club meeting held at the Memorial Center.

J. Howard Manning was program chairman.

The presentation followed the Federated Women's club organization and Federated Music club theme in stressing American music and crafts.

Members from the Shoshone Federated Music Junior club, Susan Berk, Lowell Bell, and Katie Henderson played violin solos. They were accompanied by Dan Pasogosa on the piano.

The crusade for American music was stressed by Mrs. R. G. Neher, narrator, discussing what makes up American music. Mrs. Pearson sang Indian songs with Mrs. Charles Hansen accompanying.

Presenting in solo were Mrs. Wendell Elliott, Mrs. Pearson and Mrs. Joe Pasogosa. They were accompanied by Mrs. Charles Hansen.

A cooked-food sale was announced for April 20, with Mrs. Helen Groff and Mrs. Frank A. Onida, committee members.

Appointed to select the Music program were Mrs. William Haux, Mrs. H. Hubbard and Mrs. James Wallace.

Announcement was made that the fourth district Idaho Federated Women's club convention will be held on April 4 at Twin Falls.

Mrs. Hansen reported the charter fee for sponsoring Camp Fire Girls is due and that a new committee member for Camp Fire is needed, since Mrs. Charles Chubb moved from the community.

Mrs. Clyde Hughes reported $105 had been made at the March 4 cooked-food sale.

In reporting on the club-sponsored art and poetry contest, Mrs. Manning said 47 pictures had been entered from Shoshone grades 1 through 12 and 127 poems were submitted.

Classification and use of ribbons was explained. She said judging was done by an art club in Twin Falls. Winners from the school division will be entered in the district contest.

Mrs. Howard Hill, president, appointed Mrs. Cora Bell, Mrs. Onor Shook and Mrs. Neher to the nominating committee to select a slate of officers for next year.

Guests included charter members, Mrs. W. E. Croese, Walla Walla, Wash., Mrs. Edith Bee and Mrs. Perry Houghtaling.

The April meeting will be a centennial event with a display of antiques by members. The program on citizenship will be under the direction of Mrs. Paul Jacobson.

Mrs. Charles Hansen was appointed to assist Mrs. Pearson and Mrs. Lottie Pitter on the hosts committee for April.

Honorees were Mrs. Leon Prosser, Mrs. Julia Severson, Mrs. Alex. Anagnostaki and Mrs. Mans Coffin.

MR. AND MRS. EARL DAVIDSON

Event to Mark 50th-Year for Local Couple

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Davidson will be feted at an open house at their home, 306 Fourth street, north, next Sunday to mark their 50th wedding anniversary.

Friends and relatives are invited. The couple requests no gifts.

Mr. and Mrs. Davidson were married April 4, 1913, at Oakley, Davidson came to Burley in 1908 and filed on a homestead there.

In 1910 he moved to Oakley and opened a men's furnishings store in partnership with his brother, Roy O. Davidson. He was the owner of Magic City market, until his retirement and was in the grocery business in Twin Falls for over 20 years.

The couple has four children, Mrs. Virginia L. Letendre, Temple City, Calif.; Mrs. Leonard (Dorothy) Rodman, Rigby; Ezra (Bud) Davidson, Burley, and Mrs. Raymond (Florence) Tolman, Ontario, Ore. They have 14 grandchildren and one great granddaughter.

KING HILL, March 30 — Mr. and Mrs. Joel Young were hosts at a birthday anniversary dinner for their granddaughter, 2-year-old Teri Allen, Boise.

UNESCO Talks Given at WSCS In Richfield

RICHFIELD, March 30 — Definitions, benefits and creative work of UNESCO was the Richfield WSCS program at the meeting at the home of Mrs. Rex Pavey, Mrs. Ralph Riley, Jr., and Mrs. Gussie Pavey.

Mrs. Behr defined the United Nations Education, Scientific, and Cultural organization for the group.

There are 102 member states listed with UNESCO; the United States contributes the benefits per person for UNESCO projects.

Mrs. C. M. Fridmore reported on major problems in various countries, with mental and emotional ill health the chief problem in the United States due to a status-seeking society and broken homes.

In France, alcoholism is most acute, and suicide ranks highest in Japan, Denmark, and Switzerland. Juvenile delinquency is high in every country, due to pressures on youth outweighing family influence, which is neglected throughout the world.

Mrs. J. S. McIntosh told of improvements instituted by UNESCO to combat disease and crop failures caused by insects in Asia and Africa, the greatest aid areas.

It was pointed out that, except for UNESCO efforts, no educational facilities are provided for half of the children of the world. That is why education is considered their major project.

Thursday was set as clean-up day at the Methodist church.

Study Reported By LDS Over Valley Area

LDS Relief societies over Mag Valley studied the literature assignment, "Herman Melville, His Life and His Work." In Shoshone Mrs. Max Jensen dealt with Melville's background and wrote his greatest writings. He was known as the "American Shakespeare" and his novel, "Moby Dick," will be studied in detail. Mrs. Jensen said this was one of a series of literature lessons being given at Relief society. The text is "The New Birth of Freedom" and deals with early American writers.

Clara E. Sorenson, Elmer, a Blaine state high councilor, attended the meeting in coordination with the ward conference meeting being held this week. In speaking to the group Councilman Sorenson noted the outstanding record of the local society and encouraged the women to stay true to the aims of the society.

Mrs. Burton Thorne officiated at the sustaining ceremony for officers and teachers. Funds raised at the annual bazaar last fall have been used to purchase new machines for the society for chairs and a table for the nursery and for paying the baby sitter.

In Elba members met at the Relief society hall for the monthly literary lesson and an anniversary social commemorating the organization of the Relief society in 1842.

The meeting was conducted by Mrs. Louisa Tuttle. Mrs. Tuttle gave the lesson on the American writer, Herman Melville. She was assisted by Mrs. Arlo Lloyd, Mrs. John Nye, Mrs. Malbourn Barker and Mrs. Welis Hepworth.

Relief society state board members, Mrs. Evelyn Barlow and Mrs. Coleman Steel, held a music under the direction of Mrs. Tuttle, with Mrs. Arlo Lloyd, organist.

Prayers were given by Mrs. Art Ward and Mrs. Fred Lloyd. A program and dinner was held after the meeting. Mrs. Arden Wickel, Relief society president, read the details of the first meeting and organization of the society.

In Hagerman the author of "The Merry Men" Herman Melville was subject of the literature lesson given by Mrs. Ernest Tolley at the Relief society meeting.

Mrs. Tolley related the hardships and the determination of Melville in his struggle to write. Mrs. Emerson Royer and Mrs. D. E. Gold were in charge of music.

Prayers were given by Mrs. Wood and Mrs. Nettie Moyes.

Georgia Investigator Says Butts Gave Vital Grid Data to Alabama

ATLANTA, March 30 (AP)—Atty. Gen. Eugene Cook of Georgia said today that results of an exhaustive state investigation indicate that Wallace Butts, former athletic director at Georgia, gave vital football information to coach Paul (Bear) Bryant of Alabama before their teams played last fall. Cook said his conclusion was that a September telephone call between Butts and Bryant was more than

FUTTING WORDS on the 16th hole caused Jerry Barber, Los Angeles, to bounce his ball on his putter after taking a bogey. Barber was normally better. Barber hit the annual Astor Invitational in Wilmington, N.C. (AP wirephoto)

Barber Has Stroke Lead in Azalea Open

WILMINGTON, N.C., March 30 (AP)—Jerry Barber, who looks on this port city as his home away from home, took a one-stroke lead today after three rounds of the $20,000 Azalea open golf tournament. He shot a two-under-par 70 for a 64-hole total of 207. The 46-year-old hit the putting green from 10 feet for a birdie on the 18th hole to lead by one stroke over Bruce Crampton to lead the way into Sunday's final round. Barber, who won his first major in 1961, had a 200 while Crampton had a 74 and a 211.

Carter Loses On TKO to Jose Gonzalez

NEW YORK, March 30 (AP)—Jose Gonzalez, a 4-1 underdog from Puerto Rico, chopped out a sixth round technical knockout over hard-hitting Cuban (Cuban) Carter of Madison Square Garden tonight.

Before Pete Daly, following the instructions of Dr. Sam Swinick, stopped the fight on Carter's right eye. Since the bout was halted between rounds it went into the books as a sixth round TKO, under New York rules.

Carter, who had shaken his out-gunned rival several times, was ahead when the fight was ended.

Carter, a fierce looking character with a shaven head and a drooping mustache, was out on the right eyelid in the second round and on the left eyelid in the fourth but it was the general who won the fight that worried Dr. Swinick.

He visited Carter's corner after the second round ended and following every round thereafter. At the end of the fifth, he told the referee to stop it if Gonzalez worked over the cut.

"He was out on both eyelids but the one over his right eye was bad one," said Dr. Swinick.

Carter, who had scored 11 knockouts in 17 prior fights, continued to start to lose his punches against the strong-jawed Puerto Rican but couldn't drop him. The referee, who looked at the same, aggressive youngster in the second, third and fifth rounds.

He was that he was in danger of losing the fight on a TKO. Carter stormed out of his corner at the start of the fifth round and bombed Jose with nine successive punches. Gonzalez wobbled under the storm of blows but only a few seconds later he replied with some firepower of his own.

Twice more in the fifth, Carter shook up Gonzalez. In the final seconds, however, it was Jose who was doing the punching.

Five T. F. Men Get Second in Nampa Meet

NAMPA, March 30—The Nampa Bollogos threw their own four-way track meet yesterday but could not dim the showing of a five-man Twin Falls team which came in second.

Nampa won the meet with 69 points while Twin Falls, getting maximum mileage from its easy fivevoms ranked up 42. Mountain Home was third with 38 and Caldwell, entering only a partial team, got 27.

The Bruins led only one running event that they entered and then won 3-4 in that. Ted Kimmick exploded out of the blocks for a big lead in the 100-yard dash and held off Doug Schow's date big to win in 16.14. The 200 was third and Joe McCollum placed fourth.

McCollum got his expected victory in the 400-yard dash, hitting 2:07 on the cold and windy day. Curtis Eaton became the first in the state to return both at 54 feet, 1 inch. Echow became a double winner when he grabbed the discus event with a sub-par 183 feet and Lavens finished second with 180.

Wayne Duncan, a transfer from California, made his best showing in the hammer by winning in the time of 2:07. He further surprised by entering the high jump and clearing three feet.

The other individual first came on the flying heels of Schow who made it a Bruin sweep. Schow, Lavens, Duncan and McCollum then teamed up to win the 800-yard relay.

World Pays Last Tribute to Moore

BIRMINGHAM, March 30 (AP)—Hundreds of hometown friends and relatives paid their final respects today to Davey Moore, the 1958 world champion and his to the featherweight championship of the world and to his death five days ago.

Moore's body was returned here Wednesday and since then more than 10,000 persons from Ohio's Gov. James A. Rhodes to the entire student body of Keller Junior high school, where Moore went to school, filed past the bronze casket.

Upset by Grades

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., March 30 (AP)—Failure to keep up with his studies in the past season has taken the United States' No. 1 sprinter, Bob Hayes of Florida A and M, out of the Pan-American Athletic director Jack Gaither says he will not allow Hayes to run again this season.

"I have got to shock him into reality," Gaither said. "He must be a student and he must be prepared to step out into the world."

Musial Expects To End Playing

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla., March 30 (AP)—Stan Musial, 42-year-old outfield star for the St. Louis Cardinals, confirmed today he did not expect to be back in player.

Florida next season as a player. "But I'm disappointed," Musial said, "if I don't bow out of this year hitting 300."

Musial said he did not want to be positive because he said it was impossible to tell what might happen, but he believed that was his last trip to Florida as a player.

Tiger-Fullmer Rematch Will Be Held in Nigeria

LAGOS, Nigeria, March 30 (AP)—The Nigerian government announced today world middleweight champion Dick Tiger's next defense of the title against American Gene Fullmer will be held in Nigeria at Liberty stadium, Ibadan, in June or July this year. The exact date will be announced later. The announcement was made by Nigeria's minister of labor responsible for sport, John M. Johnson, after a three-hour meeting with British promoter Jack Solomon, Tiger's American and British manager Jerry Jones and Ed Diamond, and Harry V. Jones, Fullmer's manager.

The government communique says seats for the 4,000 capacity stadium in Ibadan, 100 miles from here, will range from $2.40 to $147.

"It's a big bag," said Johnson after the meeting. "Gene has always said he would fight wherever Tiger wants to fight."

Ibadan is a great sprawling city which, with a population of 1 million, is the largest Negro city on the continent. Meanwhile, a row erupted in the Nigerian parliament over the government's pledge to guarantee $182,000 toward staging the world boxing championship in this country.

To the cheers of parliamentarians, legislator Doctor Ezeza protested it was a waste of money.

"This fight should be staged overseas and Tiger should get as much for it as he can," he said. "Then he should bring the money back to Nigeria. This is a waste of money at a time when Nigeria is embarking on a six-year plan for economic development. Nigeria is not going to gain one ounce of prestige by staging the fight."

Tiger, 33, won the title from Fullmer of West Jordan, Utah, on a decision at San Francisco club which, with a reputation at Las Vegas, Feb. 23, Tiger retained the crown when they fought to a 15-round draw.

Solomon refused to discuss how the purse will be divided between the fighters, saying only: "They're both boys."

He said Jensen now would have to talk to Fullmer to decide when he should come to Nigeria. He said Fullmer would probably be about three weeks before the fight, so he got used to the climate.

"America has had its fights. Britain has had them and we would've had them if we probably be about three weeks before the fight, so he got used to the climate.

Fullmer said he was ready to go any time. "I don't think training over there will be too bad. I don't think I'll have much trouble adjusting," he said.

The ex-champ said he had been out of the country before. "I've been to Japan and Korea in the service," but never had been on the other side of the Atlantic.

He had nothing to say about the furor in the Nigerian parliament over the government's pledge to guarantee $182,000 toward staging the fight.

He said he had left the final decision up to Jensen and would clear the details with the manager as soon as he returned.

Fullmer Isn't Too Happy on Site of Fight

SALT LAKE CITY, March 30 (AP)—Gene Fullmer, world middleweight champion, said he was not too happy to fight in Nigeria. "I'm not going to fight over there."

The response Saturday from former middleweight champ Gene Fullmer at his news conference in West Jordan, Utah, was that he was not too happy to fight in Nigeria. "I'm not going to fight over there."

Fullmer said he was ready to go any time. "I don't think training over there will be too bad. I don't think I'll have much trouble adjusting," he said.

Beacons Still For Some Air

They are not as numerous—or as important—as they used to be, but they still exist. "They are the towers which hold the always lights across the country. The beacon revolves during the operation and 'on cones' that make it simple. All they had to do was to fly the light line.

In the early days of flying, these lights were the only means of navigating at night with any degree of safety. Usually they were spaced about 10 miles apart and a flier, climbing his plane to a few thousand feet, could see six or eight of them in a line at once. That made it simple. All they had to do was to fly the light line.

Spot lights, of course, sometimes obscured the lights and the pilot then flew by the "seat of his pants."

Modern navigation instruments were unheard of in the early days of flying and visual contact was necessary. Today, all that has changed.

The high-flying jets of the services and the commercial airlines need nothing at all during night flights. Pilots scan only the instrument boards, seldom looking out of the windows. Radar warns of approaching objects and instruments spot the location of all things.

It is a far cry from early-day flying to the big ships of the present. The existing lights are still used for small craft on night contact flights, but other than that they are losing their importance.

Someday, pilots say, they will join the docid bird and just disappear. Flying is on the edge of the pushbutton stage.

Lack of Snow In Mountains Means Woe

WASHINGTON, March 30 (AP)—The snowfall that produces water for crops, livestock, people and industry west of the Continental divide just hasn't occurred in sufficient quantity this winter.

There is no price tag on the snowmelt that usually greases the western states and some 50 million acres of the first landing pool of water. But without that snowmelt—or water—life becomes complicated. "People don't call for it," says a spokesman.

JUST BLOW IN HERE and that's all there is to it, Rick Allen, holding a trumpet, seems to be telling four other Twin Falls high school students. All five have been selected to participate in the Gala Festival concert, a feature of the Music Educators National Conference in Denver, Wyo., April 1-3. The students were selected on their merits as musicians by a special committee. (Times-News photo)

Five Local Student Musicians Named to Feature Roles During National Session

The student from the Twin Falls high school music department has been selected as music director to participate in the Gala Festival concert during the Music Educators National Conference, northwest division, at Casper, Wyo., April 1-3.

Announcement that the local musicians had been selected was made by Richard Smith, orchestra instructor. "They are among the best students from high schools in the Northwest states who will participate."

Each entry played an assigned selection which was recorded on tape. This tape, together with a history of their participation in music and their musical training, was then reviewed by a committee of educators prior to selection.

Those selected, and the instrument they will play, include Rick Allen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Allen, trombone in a special brass ensemble to perform as a group and individual.

Donald Hoffman, cello, orchestra; Ronald Brackett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert G. Brackett, route 3, string bass in orchestra; Susan Stuart, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Max T. Stuart, viola in orchestra.

The Gala Festival concert will be presented twice at the National county high school, Casper, Wyo., April 20. Invited music groups featured will include the Capella choir, Pocatello high school and the Idaho high school choir.

Band conductor at the event will be William D. Revell, University of Michigan, while James Robertson, University of Wichita, will direct the orchestra and Lara Hogard, Midland Symphony and Chorus association, Midland, Tex., the chorus.

NO SKIS OR SNOWSHOES for this group; they prefer to travel around Sawtooth valley by Ski-Doo. Mr. and Mrs. Roy Veder get ready to race on their own Ski-Doo. With the warm spring sunbathing and rising temperatures they don't even bother to put on their coats. The Vaders have been able to travel over many thousands of acres on the headwaters of the Salmon river at their own leisure by using the machines. (Times-News photo)

Ski-Doo Riding Proving Just Right for Snow-Covered Sections of Sawtooth Valley

By MRS. FRED POVEY
KETCHUM, March 30—Many an old mail carrier in the Sawtooth country would turn over in his grave to see how the local travel about the countryside when it is knee deep in snow. The old-timers used skis and snowshoes.

The modern way to get to be on a Ski-Doo. An example of how to use these unusual machines can best be told by the experiences of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Veder who are spending a week at Emley Creek lodge south of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Jevins.

They own several thousand acres of land in the upper Salmon river country for many years. This is the first winter they have ever been able to travel over their holdings in the winter time. The Vaders remember back to the days when they brought their bands of sheep from their ranch in the Hagerman valley to summer range in the Sawtooths the first part of May each year.

Between Oct. 1 to 20 (depending to the weather) each fall the sheep were started back over the Galetta summit on their return trip to winter quarters in the Hagerman valley. "It used to take us six or eight days to make the trip in the wagon from the Hagerman ranch to our range near Headwaters of Salmon river. Now we can get in our Cadillac and this road there over in a couple of hours."

April Fool Tricks Are Really Nothing New

WASHINGTON, March 30 (AP)—Monday is April Fool's day. It's a day set aside to play more or less innocently mischievous tricks upon one's neighbors.

The tradition persists, and for proof you can check Monday with any looker. April Fool victims will have been ringing his phone all day, responding to word that Mr. Fox, Mr. Lyon, Mr. Wolf or Miss Zelle Plant had left a call.

Don't think this foolishness, childish as it sounds, is all while, either. Research by the New Yorker magazine indicates that if April 1 falls on a school holiday, there are fewer of these ho-ho calls than if it falls on a day when children are in school.

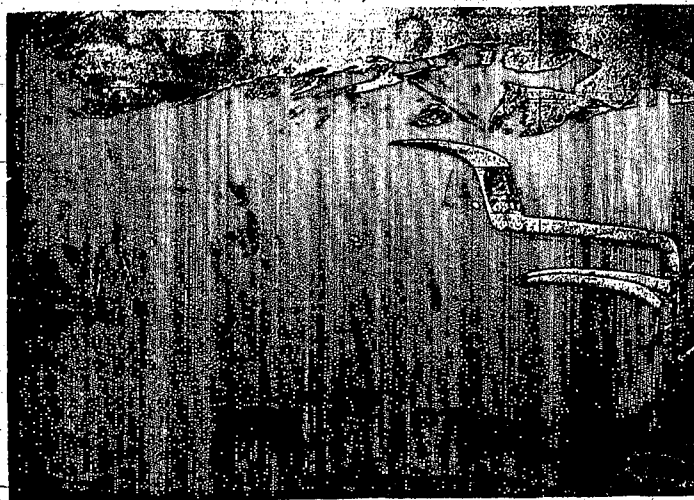

Let's look over the names of things Troy did to gain his fame, as chronicled by Smith and others and confessed to by Troy: "The Rhinoceros — When Troy a friend came across a waste bank which had been fashioned like a rhinoceros hoof. When they faked a trail of bootprints across a snowy campus to the dormitory from the university, they faked a trail of bootprints. When the tracks were identified, half the people stopped picking up water and the other half reported they could taste rhinoceros in their drinks."

Legend of Rock Grows as Years Pass

The building that became the site of the first landing pool of water of Fort Hill, is famed far and wide, but an obscure Shoshone Indian, who probably saw the first day even before the stone was built, is becoming a legend as the years go on.

SPRING HAS ARRIVED IN HALEY as well as the rest of Magic Valley and takes everywhere are being brought out from winter shelter. Here Remenister is raking gravel from the lawn along his curbing. The gravel was left there when the snow melted. When streets were plowed last winter some of the gravel, which was placed over the newly-laid streets last summer, was pushed onto the curbing where many Haley residents have planted grass. As Remenister rakes the excess gravel back onto the road, D. W. Stimmers throws it into a truck to haul away. (Times-News Photo)

Indian Now Legend After Many Years

 band of Indians who resided along Rock creek and were known as Chief Tanna's band. The group lived in eight or 10 lodges of wickiups.
 Games were still plentiful then, and the members of the unit found a ready market for buckskin gloves, moccasins and other handmade objects among pioneers along the Oregon trail and the freight and stage roads.
 He had roamed this area for years during his early life before the government started putting restrictions on Indian movements.
 Rock Creek Jim was a proud Indian, early pioneers said, and he refused to become a ward of the government. Rather, he supported himself.
 Like other members of his tribe he was a polygamist. Old timers never remember his having more than two squaws at one time, but it has been related that when one squaw went to the "happy hunting ground" Rock Creek Jim immediately set about to court another.
 Courting was far different in those early days than it is now. Every morning Rock Creek Jim would hang out a blanket of a "saudy" color. This was supposed to impress the squaw he had in mind. Each morning another blanket was added to the line, until finally overwhelmed by the display of goods, the squaw would consent to become a member of the household.
 Pioneers recall that the Indian took a great liking to white settlers as individuals, but not as a group. As a group he blamed them for the woes of his people. For some 30 years he lived at a small place in the Three Creek country near Roseburg and there accumulated a unit of horses and cattle.
 Once he discovered a white child stamper had failed to find and brought the youngster in, held in his arms. When asked what he had found he said, "I got an Indian in my moccasin. I go!"
 When he died he was given a Christian burial by members of the pioneer group known as the "Tiers".
 Over 100 years ago, nearly 40 years after he died, A. W. (Bill) Madland, cemetery owner-manager, says he gets several requests every year to point out the location of Indian Jim's grave.

Life in MAGIC VALLEY

Two HALEY boys, Alex Stewart and David Robertson, both 14 years of age, had more thrills than they bargained for when they had their first attack of "spring fever" last week and went hunting in the river bottom of Big Wood river.
 The two boys had taken their guns and were exploring, when David fell into the river. He caught his foot in some brush and was unable to free himself until Alex came to his rescue.
 After they had emerged from the icy waters they decided to make a fire and dry their clothes. When Alex threw his clothing across a stick to let the heat get to it, a 20 long rifle shell fell from his pocket into the fire.
 The cartridge exploded and imbedded in the calf of Alex's leg. He now is using crutches to get around.
 The KING HILL postoffice has a new look for the first time in 20 years. Members of the King Hill Orange have finished remodeling the interior of the building by lowering the ceiling, putting in new light fixtures, new windows in the door, windows in the side panels by the doorway, painting the woodwork and walls.
 Mrs. Denver Alfred, who has been postmistress since Jan. 1, 1949, vanished—the mailboxes and panel work in the lobby.
 The King Hill Orange purchased the building in 1949 from the late P. L. Kinkade. It was built in 1910 when the King Hill tract was first opened and was originally owned by A. B. Montgomery who used it for a rooming house and had a store on the ground floor.
 After Mr. Kinkade bought the building for taxes in 1951, the postoffice was moved to their building, where Mrs. Kinkade operated a rooming house and the postoffice until 1952. The postoffice is located in the north corner of the building and is 19 feet by 15 feet, which gives plenty room for the mail.
 Mrs. Alfred has a piano on which she practices during her spare time.
 The building has had several owners since 1910 and has had 63 years of service as a store, then serving as postoffice and now as Orange hall.
 Since the Orange has had the building, members have remodeled the hall, put in new light fixtures, bought new chairs, remodeled the kitchen tables, bought a stocker stove, added a restroom and washroom, and made many other improvements.
 They have appointments update

Wool Sold

ROBERT, March 30 — The Weaver Spinning Company—Boshell, Ill., was the successful bidder Wednesday for the wool offered by the Minidoka county wool pool, according to LaFont Smith, county agent and secretary of the pool.
 Smith said 11,600 fleeces were sold by 119 producers at $57.07 per hundredweight, the top bid of five submitted.
 One reported that old Jim said, "White man he take 'em all land, all water, all game, he no more. Now while man he take 'em all my cattle, my horse. You get 'em my moccasin. I go!"
 When he died he was given a Christian burial by members of the pioneer group known as the "Tiers".

Gem Club's Meeting Held In Wendell

WENDELL, March 30 — C. E. Crawford, Boise, district agent for predator and rodent control, discussed methods used for control of rodents during a meeting of the Magic Valley Gem club Thursday evening at the Elks club. He pointed out identification methods used in this area, and how rock hunters could watch for equipment used in controlling predators.
 Ray Moon, Twin Falls, a director of the Northwest Gem Federation, encouraged the group to use "HELP" (Help eliminate Litter, Please) stickers each time members are on a field trip. He stressed cleaning littered areas.
 It was announced a field trip to the postoffice building in the large tree stump which serves as a flat pole. Some people think the stump is a hazard for cars driving to the postoffice, but others feel it is a symbol of the King Hill postal facility, as the tree was planted in the early days when King Hill was a booming young town.
 A new sign has been painted in front of the postoffice. Members of the Orange building committee heading the remodeling project are the Rev. R. J. Barnes, Melvin Helwick and Thomas Timbers, assisted by Clifford Callison, Dick Callison, Frank Jones, Kenneth Jones, Karl Anderson—Orange master—Arthur Greer, Rick Robinson and Earl Ellis.

Stamp Window

By DAVID SWITZ
 A three-color design has been chosen for the U.S. five-cent stamp to honor the world-wide Freedom From Hunger campaign of the food and agriculture organization and the American Food for Peace program.
 The design is by Elmer Doan of Westport, Conn., artist and illustrator known most widely for his Saturday Evening Post covers. He also designed the 1940 and 48-star flag stamps of 1950 and the 50-star flag stamp.
 Doan's vertical format design has in the pictorial portion of the stamp a background, the word "Freedom From Hunger" appears in red beneath the framed portion of the stamp. Arranged in a larger semi-circle above the head of wheat is "Food for Peace."
 The stamp, in sheets of 50, will be issued June 4, opening day of the 20th anniversary World Food congress of the FAO, formed in 1943 at Hot Springs, Va. Addressed envelopes for first-day cancellations, resulting five cents for each stamp, may be sent to the postmaster, Washington, D.C. The cancellation should be marked "First Day Covers, Food Stamp" and must be postmarked as prizes at the stamp show, to be held Aug. 31 and Sept. 1-2 at the Twin Falls high school gymnasium.
 The U.S. postoffice department has done something about its theory that better stamp design will result if artists understand the capacities and limitations of the postal art.

Gem Hells Canyon Area Is Subject of U. S. Booklet

WASHINGTON, March 30 (AP)—The agriculture department has published a booklet detailing government plans to manage and develop the Hells canyon-Seven Devils country of Idaho and Oregon with emphasis on preservation of scenic values.

The booklet describes and explains the recreation development that is planned, including the effects of the low Hells canyon dam which would create a serpentine lake in the heart of the proposed scenic area.

The scenic area is located in the Nez Perce, Payette and Walla-Walla national forests and extends for about 22 miles along the Snake river north of the town of Hamstead.

A scenic area is a portion of a national forest managed on a "scenery first consideration" basis. However, timber may be harvested, livestock may be grazed, campgrounds may be installed and prospecting and mining may continue under provisions of U.S. mining laws in the area.

The booklet describes and explains the recreation development that is planned, including the effects of the low Hells canyon dam which would create a serpentine lake in the heart of the proposed scenic area.

Dinner Held by King Hill Grange

KING HILL, March 30—Approximately 30 Grange members of the Grange held their weekly dinner at the Grange hall this week. Members who have birthday anniversaries in January, February, March and April were honored. They include Mrs. C. E. Spivey, Mrs. Cecil Bolt, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Greer, Denver Alfred and Earl Anderson, Grange master.

Mrs. William Cain, Mrs. Greer and Mrs. Melvin Helwich were in charge of the dinner and Mrs. Thomas Timbers baked the birthday cake.

Mrs. Addie Smith reported on the fourth degree drill team, and Mrs. Melvin Helwich, home economics chairman, reported on the St. Patrick's card party.

Illustrating the volume of fishing and hunting regulations going to license vendors throughout Idaho each year, are fish and game department office girls Mary Ann Edens, left, and Patricia Shipley, now of Burley, with bundled game maps. ## Fish and Game Regulations Will be Distributed Free to Idaho Vendors

BY JIM HUMBRID—Idaho Fish-Game Department

BOISE, March 30—Idaho's 1963 fishing seasons and regulations, effective April 1 through Dec. 31, will be available for free distribution through authorized license vendors around the state within a few days. A slight delay in the massive job of printing, packaging and mailing over 100,000 folders was unavoidable this year because of last-minute legislative changes in the over-harvesting structure. Those matters are detailed on each copy.

A second look is necessary to insure that here is a different type of fishing regulation publication than has been used in the state previously. Of course one obvious difference is the effective period ending Dec. 31, 1963, rather than March 31 next year, as has been customary.

The reason for this fundamental change is the new schedule ordered by the Idaho fish and game commission, which will set fishing seasons and regulations the last of October to go into effect Jan. 1 instead of the present April 1. This coincides with the annual sale of licenses on a calendar year basis rather than parts of two years.

Another already-publicized change in fishing regulations this year breaks away from the standard June 4 "opening day" of the statewide general trout season. The new policy invoked by the commission orders that trout season begin "the nearest Saturday to June 1." This opening day this year falls on Saturday, June 1. Next year it will be May 30, and so on.

As usual, the main exception will be on north Idaho lakes, where, for special reasons, the season begins a month earlier, but not on streams. Here lake fishing begins May 4 and runs through Nov. 30.

According to Tom Pelton, Moscow, chairman of the commission, the new policy tying opening day of the statewide trout season to the "nearest Saturday to June 1" is in response to numerous requests from anglers asking that the date fall on a weekend. "This gives everyone an even break and further implements commission policy of having general fishing and hunting seasons start on Saturday," he adds.

The format of the 1963 Idaho fishing seasons and regulations is similar to those of previous years. It's printed on both sides of a large sheet of heavy-weight white paper. The is folded four ways for easy carrying in jacket pocket or tackle box. The "cover" picture shows fishermen in boats handling for kokanee in the landlocked blueback salmon, on Lake Pend Oreille. About a million of these delicious fish have been taken annually from these waters in most recent years.

Some changes have been made on the large Idaho map showing the six major areas of the state.

Land Change in Valley Reported

The bureau of land management is restoring 1,830 acres of land to the operation of the public-land laws, Michael T. Solan, land office manager, Boise, reports. The lands coming under BLM jurisdiction include areas in Elmore, Twin Falls and Lincoln counties.

The land in Elmore county is about 10 miles north-west of Glendale Ferry. Two land parcels are included in Twin Falls county, approximately 12 miles southwest of Hiesworth and 16 miles southwest. The lands in Lincoln county are from four to five miles southeast of Dietrich.

More information can be obtained from land office manager, BLM, Box 2237, Boise.

The bag limit on these big ocean-going trout is two fish per day or in possession. It is unlawful to catch more than four steelhead in seven consecutive days, or more than 20 steelhead during a calendar year. Steelhead under 20 inches in length are classed as trout and the bag possession limits for trout apply. Essentially the same regulations are spelled out for salmon fishermen except, as already stated, no salmon punchcard is required. The bag limit for chinook or sockeye, ocean-run blueback, is two fish over 20 inches in length of either species in the aggregate per day. Salmon under 20 inches in length are classed as trout and the bag and possession limits for trout apply. It is recommended that salmon fishermen study the general regulations banning the use of more than one-half inch from point to blank in the waters of the south fork of the Salmon and its tributaries and the Valley creek. The same provision is in effect in the Selway

First Aid Class Given for MIA

BOISE, March 30—Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Hayes have first aid courses to the Boy Scout class at Mutual Wednesday after the worship service.

Mrs. Venice Prince conducted the meeting. A special musical number was sung by the Beehive classes, accompanied by Lynn Rosenblatt.

Musio was under the direction of Louise Zellar, with Pamela Maselaine as accompanist. The Beehive girls held a record dance after classes.

Mrs. Ernest Tully conducted the Primary meeting. Colbeth Lloyd and Mrs. Joseph Hayscock led the musio and Lana Butler accompanied.

Agent Resigns

RUPERT, March 30—The resignation of Katherine Barnes, home demonstration agent for Blaine county, has been accepted by the board of regents of the University of Idaho.

Mrs. Barnes, who has served since June 1952, is retiring to be married April 12. Her resignation becomes effective April 5. No successor has been named.

MAGIC VALLEY PORTRAIT

Burley Was Just Getting Started When Clarence C. Baker First Came to Town

BURLEY, March 30—The time was May 30, 1908, and the day was relatively warm. There was not a brick building in town and the streets were simply dirt—no paving or gravel. The sidewalks, what there were of them, were of wood some 18 inches off the ground and about six feet wide. The sidewalks extended for three blocks on Overland and two on Main street.

CLARENCE C. BAKER

Getting water to the project was something in itself. Baker recalls, and briefly, it happened about this way: "I remember the night they had $200,000 available, but as Baker adds, 'Only Roosevelt had a soft spot in his heart for Montana and the money went up there. 'The project was all surveyed. We were ready to go so we went. We issued script money and before it or not in 90 days we built 30 miles of canal in the first, second and third lift. We did it on our own. If a man wouldn't work for $10 a day but wanted $20, he was paid $20. 'Those who needed money could get 60 cents on the dollar for the script money. A lot of us had to take it that way. Others could apply the full value script on water charges. 'Anyway, when a government man came out to end the project he was shooting to fire out we had water on the land and had done it ourselves. He favored us because of this. 'It took some intricate financing but in 45 years the government was paid back every cent they advanced on the project and some of those years nothing could be paid on the debt at all. 'This, in fact, is the way it became a part of the community in which he was to make his permanent home. 'He was born June 27, 1882, at Ellsworth, Kans. His father had been born in North Carolina and his mother in Kentucky. Both families having slaves—some 250 in North Carolina and about 300 in Kentucky. Eventually, both went to Kansas, met and were married in 1880 in Leavenworth, Mo. Both were interested in business and planned freighting. The older Davis made four trips as trail boss of an ox-train from Leavenworth to Denver. The train was government owned. 'That was before the railroad. After the transcontinental line was completed, he and a brother followed the Sioux Indians and sold cattle to them. The cattle were purchased in Texas and driven for around $4 a head, sold to the Indians for around $15 a head. The direct sale, of course, was made to the government which gave the animals to the Indians. 'About 1868 the couple settled in Ellsworth county, Kans., and it was there Clarence was born. In 1898 he was sent to Denver for higher schooling and in 1900 his father and mother settled in Greeley. They died in the same was to last the rest of his life. He became associated with the Northern Life Insurance company and insurance became his work and his hobby. 'After five years with that company he joined the Pacific National Life Insurance company, which now has headquarters in San Francisco. 'Today he is the oldest agent the company has. 'I was supposed to quit 17 years ago,' Baker said, 'but I couldn't see any reason for quitting when it is still easy to get around. 'And get around he does. He is still a community minded and works for Burley improvement. 'Practically everyone in the community knows Clarence Baker. 'He is a 60-year Mason, a member of the Elks club and a past patron and honorary member of the Elks club and a past patron and honorary member of the Eastern Star. He is a member of the Methodist church. 'He is the father of three boys and two girls, all living, and 'along the way' has added 15 grandchildren and four great-grandchildren 'to the roster,' as he puts it. 'One boy, the youngest son, is a major carrier in the local post office and with his wife operates the Powers motel. He is E. Patrick Baker. 'The Times-News interview with Baker lasted through lunch at the Elks club and a couple of hours at his house at 1833 Miller. But it finally had to come to an end. 'Baker had a business appointment in American Falls and was anxious to drive there to keep it. 'Hate to keep people waiting,' he said as he climbed into his auto and headed east out of Burley.

area about 30 years later. In Greeley he worked for Baker and married Josephine Cole. This was in 1904. She was with him when they came to Burley. She died in 1960 after a short illness. 'His early life in Burley was interesting, to say the least. For instance he opened up and ran the Burley Milling and Elevator company for 10 years. He supervised building of the mill about 1914 after overseeing construction of two cement elevators in 1911 and 1912. 'It was around 1919 when Baker went into the banking business, a venture that lasted three years. 'I'd rather run a peanut stand anyplace,' he said emphatically. 'His luck held and he got out just ahead of a national financial crisis. 'It was after that that he found an association in business which

Name Causes Amazement for Heyburn, Paul Reporter, Mrs. Everett Savage

HEYBURN, March 30—What's in a name? Not only does a "read by" by any other name sound "sweet," but the Savage children would still be as wild, even if their names were Smith or Jones, according to Mrs. Everett Savage, Times-News reporter for the Heyburn and Paul areas. 'She laughingly points out her family derives much amusement from the startled expressions people sometimes make when introduced to "Mr. and Mrs. Savage." 'We tell them we are lame, it's our children who are wild, a man in Carey once asked if our name was Savage on purpose or if there was another reason for it," she says. 'Mrs. Savage became the Times-News correspondent this winter after Mrs. Douglas Stewart moved from the Paul area and Mrs. Paul Brown was unable to continue as the Heyburn reporter. 'A native of Heyburn, the former Arretta Morrison was born June 1, 1917, and attended school here. She is the daughter of Mrs. Nina Morrison. 'Mrs. Savage and her husband are in the process of building a home between Heyburn and Paul. The couple has five little "Savages," Jaunce, 9, Sandy, 7, Debra, 6, Kelly Jean, 4, and Michael, 18 months. 'Her husband was afraid he would have to stand at his 10-year class reunion and tell the former members of the football squad he was the father of five girls, but their fifth "daughter" was a boy! 'The reporter lists music and sports among her interests and enjoys cooking and collecting recipes. She points out she would like to lose the hobby of eating the products of the cooking hobby. 'Two years ago the Savages went on a diet—the lost 10 pounds

LOOKING THROUGH drapes in the teacher's room of Twin Falls high school is Julius Demewitz, instructor in French. When windows are opened for ventilation the drapes have the habit of following the draft outside. The sun-rotted material will be replaced with funds supplied by the PTSA and the new drapes hung in the immediate future. The project of supplying some needed improvement at the school is an annual one for the parent-student group. (Times News photo.)

Teachers Will Benefit as Result of PTSA Project

The teachers' lounge at the Twin Falls high school will soon have new window drapes to replace those which are now sun-rotted and practically in shreds, PTSA officials report.

A special committee, headed by Mrs. H. L. Armstrong, advised replacement of the drapes as the yearly project of benefit to the school. The drapes, costing several hundred dollars, will complement the decorating scheme of the room.

The present material has been in use since the school was constructed. The window area is some 10 feet high and an estimated 35 feet long.

In addition to being used as a lounge, the room also is pressed into service for small-meeting groups and zone PTSA officer gatherings.

"The instructors at the school are happy that the present drapes will be replaced," George Blandauer, principal, said. "The room is constantly in use and the condition of the old drapes had failed to add anything to the surroundings."

Rites Honor H. A. Sandy

SHOAHONE, March 30.—Funeral services were held at 2:30 p.m. Wednesday in the Herbin funeral chapel for Horace A. Sandy by the Rev. Woodrow D. Harris, Methodist minister.

Singing a duet were Mrs. Marvin Pearson and Mrs. Wendell O. Elliott. Soloist was David Harris. Mrs. George Kenaston and Mrs. Woodrow D. Harris were accompanists.

Flowers were arranged by Mrs. Omer Shook and Mrs. S. M. Hall. The memorial book was attended by Elaine Stoddard.

Honorary pallbearers were Frederick Struchen, Sr., John W. Jones, Sr., Albert Baylis, Richard Hagg, Frank Burditt, Omer Shook, Corwin Silva, George Moore, C. B. Hebecker, Nephil Clark, Thomas W. Conner, Floyd Silva, Frank Baylis, D. G. Mitchell, Dr. C. W. Dill and W. R. Ritter.

Active pallbearers were S. M. Hall, Earl Cheney, Ward Mills Russell, Kelley, Evert Bant and Guy Payton.

Concluding rites were held at Shoahone cemetery.

GETS TREATMENT
KING HILL, March 30.—Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Maslerson left Thursday for City of Hope, Calif., where Mrs. Maslerson will receive medical treatment.

Days of Old West Slated For Hailey

HAILEY, March 30.—A jamboree—howl, jamboree, jamboree! breakfast, old-fashioned picnic dinner, a parade, a pageant, fireworks, a carnival and pioneer sports—be-horn-between-now and the Fourth of July were discussed at the second meeting of the Days of Old West central committee Wednesday evening in the courtrooms.

After Theodore Uhrig, president of the Gastwirth Rangers Riding club, reported the Eastern Idaho Jamboree association will not be able to put on a jamboree July 4-5, the group voted to hold an open invitational jamboree.

Uhrig, Delmer Nicholson and Mrs. Sylvia Tomlinson, secretary, were appointed as a committee to contact all riding clubs in southern Idaho and invite them to participate. Members of the Idaho-Oregon-Nevada Appaloosa club will also be invited.

Derby hats and centennial emblem buttons will be sold by the committee to raise funds, Mrs. Grant Hawkes was named to contact members of the Hailey Civic club to see if they will be interested in making and selling sun bonnets.

The group voted to accept, derby hats and sun bonnets as sufficient to qualify for centennial year.

Old-fashioned dresses for the women were urged, however, and any man who wishes to grow a centennial beard will add much feeling for the celebration, it was pointed out.

A dance also was discussed, as were street sports and a smoker.

Oliver Adams, who conducted the meeting in the absence of President Ira Hoffman, reported that the Hailey volunteer fire department already has ordered fireworks for the celebration.

Members of post No. 24, American Legion, and their auxiliaries will serve the pancake breakfast the morning of July 4 and the Upper Big Wood River Grange plans to serve an old-fashioned picnic dinner that afternoon on the lawn in the park adjoining the rodeo grounds.

The next meeting of the group will be April 10.

WELL, YES, DOT, I PLAN TO ATTEND OUR CLUB MEETING TOMORROW EVENING! IT'S A MATTERS AND DAUGHTERS NIGHT, YOU KNOW!

OF COURSE I KNOW THAT'S WHY I CALLED! WE'D LIKE LILLIAN TO GO A LITTLE TALK!

LILLIAN? WELL, I DON'T KNOW—I'LL BE GLAD TO ASK HER!

HERE'S A SURPRISE FOR YOU, LILLIAN! MY CLUB WANTS YOU TO GIVE A NATURE TALK TOMORROW EVENING AT OUR MOTHERS AND DAUGHTERS BANQUET!

WE GIVE A TALK!

IT SHOULD BE FUN! YOUR OLD BIOLOGY TEACHER, DOT, DESIGNED THE AGENDA. SHE SAID YOU WERE TOPS IN YOUR CLASS!

BUT THAT WAS QUITE A WHILE AGO!

YOU'RE NOT GOING TO LET YOUR MOTHER DOWN, ARE YOU A LOT?

WELL, BE THERE AND IT WOULD MAKE ME FEEL PRETTY PROUD!

WHY YOU ALWAYS HAVE BEEN INTERESTED IN PLANT AND ANIMAL LIFE! YOU COULD BRUSH UP A BIT BY RUNNING THROUGH YOUR OLD BIOLOGY BOOKS!

WELL, YES, MAYBE SO!

NO WONDER I COULDN'T FIND THAT BOOK! LET ME HAVE IT, PLEASE!

SURE—WHEN I'M THROUGH WITH IT, THIS IS GOOD ALL ABOUT LIZARDS AND SNAKES AND STUFF!

WELL, THAT SETTLES MY TALK! WILLIS IS UP ON HIS BEAT WITH MY BIOLOGY BOOK, AND HE WON'T GIVE IT TO ME UNTIL HE'S GOING TO START AN ARGUMENT!

OH, FOR REASONS SAKES! I'LL HANDLE HIM! YOU STAY HERE!

PRETTY SOFT FOR SOME PEOPLE—SPRAWLED OUT LEISURELY READING A BOOK!

AH, THIS IS THE LIFE!

WELL, OF ALL THINGS—I NEVER THOUGHT I'D FIND YOU READING ONE OF LIL'S OLD SCHOOL BOOKS!

SCHOOL BOOKS?

MY GOSH, WHY DIDN'T SHE SAY SO? IT'S BAD ENOUGH TO HAVE TO READ ON OWN SCHOOL BOOKS!

A BEAR BLINDING!

WATCH IT! HERE I COME!

WELL, MAKE IT SNAPPY! IT'S TIME FOR THE GUARDY!

OH, NO!

THE TUNNEL IS FINISHED ALL THE WAY TO THE WOODS! JAIL!

AS SOON AS IT'S DARK, WE'LL CRAWL OUT OF THIS!

HEAR A NOISE! SOME BODY HAS DISCOVERED OUR TUNNEL!
