Election Set Tuesday for Water Area

RUPERT: April 13 — Minidoka county residents are reminded by officials of the Minidoka Irrigation district of the election Tuesday.

William K. Cranson, district manager, explained the purpose of the election is to determine whether or not to increase the number of directors from three to five.

Polls will be open from 1 p.m. to 6 p.m. with voting to be at the district office in Rupert, the Union church in Acquia, and at the village offices at Heyburn and Paul.

Members of the board of directors are at this time considering an amendatory contract between the district and the United States, according to Glen Stimpson, president of the board.

According to Stimpson, since 1924 profits from the operation of units one to six of the Minidoka power plant have been utilized by the Minidoka and Burley irrigation districts to reduce costs of construction and operational and maintenance.

Since demands for power are now exceeding the limited capacity of the plant, it has become necessary to import power from other sources at costs which no longer return these profits, the president explained.

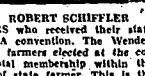

Approval of the amendatory contract by the district would relieve the water users of any obligation for replacement of equipment at the Minidoka power plant, would guarantee a power supply for 40 years, and would insure the district of receiving the sum of $5,000 over a period of 40 years, Stimpson pointed out.

State Clinic For Realtors Set in T.F.

RICHMOND, April 13 — Plans for the state clinic for realtors will be held May 2 in the American Legion hall, Twin Falls, were announced at a meeting of North Idaho realtors Wednesday night at the Ragsdale hotel.

The program will be given by the board members. It was announced that the clinic will be a two-day affair, with the first day devoted to a presentation of the building program, which was presented in a package form, and the second day devoted to a presentation of the package project to vote for or against.

Ragsdale, who was on the executive committee in the election, stated that the school of realtors will come up with a plan in years to come, and each action in years to come, will be a just and fair formula to establish the schools with a plan behind each child to be brought up to a higher level.

He stated that Mountain Home has an assessed property value of $12,000, while the school of realtors has a value of $10,000. Mountain Home has a problem, as they receive $10,000, because of the assessed value. The highest property value in the state is in the state of Nevada, with over $20,000 assessed, while the value behind each pupil, he stated, is $10,000.

Two items of constructive effort were the interim study of the school, and the study to assist the smaller school systems to bring their systems to a higher level.

Another constructive act of the legislature, he said, was to establish a legislative council, with a permanent secretary, answerable not to the governor, or to the legislature, but to the legislature, and be available to report on legislative study groups.

The next meeting will be May 1 at the Lincoln Inn in Good Hope.

Famous Saxophone Virtuoso To Play for T. F. Concert

Seventh annual "Pops" concert of the Twin Falls high school symphony band, directed by Del Slaughter, will be held May 2. Guest artist for this event will be the internationally famous saxophone virtuoso, Sigurd Rascher.

The major work of the evening will be Frank Erickson's Concerto for saxophone and band. Rascher will arrive in Twin Falls on May 1 and will rehearse with the band that evening, as well as during the morning of May 2, Slaughter said.

A clinic will be held at 5 p.m. in the O'Leary Junior high school auditorium. There will be no charge for the clinic and the public is invited. Band students and directors are especially encouraged to take this opportunity to work with one of the greatest living instrumentalists.

The concert will begin at 8 p.m. in the high school gymnasium. Admission will be charged. In addition to the concert, Rascher will also perform his special arrangement of the "Carnival of Venice" with band accompaniment.

Sigurd Rascher has been acclaimed the "greatest saxophonist of our day," not only because of his uncanny technical virtuosity, but also because of his rare musicianship — his superb breath control, intonation, phrasing, unclouded wealth of nuances and unusual sense of style," Slaughter stated.

In 1940, Adolphe Sax, a Belgian instrument maker, invented the saxophone. But it remained for Sigurd Rascher to fully explore its possibilities. Sax endowed his instrument with a two and a half octave range.

Rascher amended this with an additional octave and a half. Sax envisioned his instrument as a bridge between the brass and woodwind families. Rascher has gone one step further.

To the potency of the brasses, the fluency of the woodwinds,

Recording on Referendum Set May 14

BUTLE, April 13 — A tape recording on the wheat referendum program will be played at the May 14 meeting with all interested persons urged to attend, it was announced when Clover Farm Bureau met Tuesday night at the Clover schoolhouse.

Charles Harris, president of the Twin Falls county Farm Bureau, presented material on management of the wheat referendum program and election scheduled for May 14.

Action was taken by the Clover Farm Bureau members to encourage the state Farm Bureau to lead to take action necessary to correct the existing conditions of the USDA presenting one side of the wheat referendum. A report on the county Farm Bureau meeting was given by Waldo Martens.

"NEW SCIENCE" DEVELOPS SMALLEST HEARING AIDS

Miniaturization, the relatively new science that has been responsible for thinner television sets, pocket-sized radios, and space vehicle miracles, has also resulted in great advances in reducing the size of hearing aids. Printed circuitry, matched-head transistors and batteries smaller than aspirin have been developed to make complete hearing aids so tiny they can be worn with almost complete secrecy. Among the smallest of the new aids is one just introduced by Haico Electronics, a pioneer in hearing research. Called the "Monitor," the instrument is worn behind the ear and weighs less than one-fifth of an ounce. Despite its tiny size, it will correct many hearing losses that formerly required much larger type aids. A folder with complete information on the new Monitor is available free by returning the coupon below.

Janet Simpson, Larry Shark Wed in Buhl

Buhl, April 13—Janet Simpson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rex Simpson, Buhl, exchanged nuptial vows with Larry Shark, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Shark, Buhl, in candlelight rites solemnized by the Rev. Robert Burdell April 7 at the First Baptist church.

Spiral candelabra entwined with amaranth, held lighted shell pink tapers. Beauty baskets of variegated shell pink and candy pink gladioli formed the background setting for the double ring ceremony.

Arrangements of pink gladioli decorated the organ and piano. The bride's aisle was marked with bows of shell pink satin ribbon.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor length gown of hand-draped Chantilly lace over white satin and tulle. A scalloped Sabrina neckline embellished with seed pearls and iridescent sequins, long by point sleeves and miniature covered buttons to the back waist were features of the modest bodice. Her bouffant tiered skirt fell to a chapel train.

A tress of seed pearls and aurora borealis held her finger-length veil of fine illusion, edged in Chantilly lace. She carried a cascading bouquet of pink gladioli, glamelia, pink feathered chrysanthemums and pink gladioli florets, backed with pink shell net and tied with ivory satin petersham ribbon.

Pearl earrings, a gift from the bridegroom, were worn by the bride. She carried a lace handkerchief, a gift from Mrs. G. H. Farnsworth, and the bridegroom, in her shoe, a gift from Mr. and Mrs. Dan Rast.

Items demonstrated and made were straw hats, bags and plastic carnations. Quilling was also done. Mrs. Roy Kenitzer and Mrs. Marion Fugmire were in charge of the demonstration. Luncheon at noon was served by Mrs. Vern Lott, Mrs. James Meacham, Mrs. Gert Duncombe, and Mrs. Nels Anderson, assisted by members from their districts.

The home management lesson, Cinda Marlow, flower girl, carried a miniature wicker basket accented with shell pink net and satin ribbon, filled with rose petals. Vicky Marlow, ring-bearer, carried the rings on a white satin pillow with lace. Both girls, nieces of the bridegroom, wore rose pink crepe frocks with white accessories.

Mrs. Jack Jardine and Mrs. Albert Erickson, dressed like the other attendants and wearing violet corsages accented with roses and white carnations, were taper lighters.

Larry Teply was best man; Jack Jardine and Gary Bonar were ushers. Mrs. Fazel Chisham sang, "Always" and "The Lord's Prayer," accompanied by Mrs. Venable Hopkins, organist.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Simpson selected a shell pink lace sheath dress with pink accessories and wore a corsage of pink zilla rose, adorned with satin leaves. The bridegroom's mother wore a beige dinner dress with pink accessories. She wore a pink cymbidium orchid corsage.

After the ceremony the newly-weds greeted guests at a reception held in the Buhl Fellowship hall. The bride's table was covered with a lace cloth over pink and was trimmed with sprays of amaranth. A four-tiered wedding cake centered the table.

The cake was iced in white, decorated with pink and white lattice work, butterflies, clusters of pink wedding bells, pink doves bearing gold wedding bands, and was topped with a miniature bride and groom.

Crystal candelabra, holding lighted pink tapers, flanked the cake.

The wedding cake was cut and served by Mrs. Leonard Walcott, assisted by Mrs. Gertie Farnsworth.

Mrs. Harry Martin presided at the coffee service and Mrs. Chet Low, sister of the bridegroom, poured the punch.

Fidel Diller, Karen Lowe and Pat Dick were gift bearers. Mrs. Robert Wigginton, Mrs. J. H. Hanel, Mrs. Gary Peterson and Mrs. Wesley Dobbs had charge of the gift table. Mrs. Albert Winn registered the guests. Other reception assistants were members of Rachel circle of the Baptist Women's Missionary society.

For a wedding trip through Utah, Arizona and New Mexico, the new Mrs. Shark changed to a white knit suit with red accessories. She wore a corsage of red thistle roses.

Out-of-town guests were from Nampa, Idaho, Twin Falls, Rupert, Hagerman, Jerome, Hansen, Wendell and Coeur d'Alene.

Pre-nuptial events honoring the bride included a shower at the home of Mrs. Albert Erickson, with Mrs. Jack Jardine, Mrs. Gertie Farnsworth and Mrs. Dave Harris, who hosted a shower at the Buhl VFW hall, hosted by Mrs. J. D. Wray.

Mrs. Janice Wray, Mrs. Jerry Hawkins, Mrs. L. O. Conn and Mrs. James Marlow, a pizza party at the home of Mrs. I. A. Hawkins, hosted by her co-workers, and a spaghetti party held at Koy's Supper club, hosted by a group of classmates.

A rehearsal dinner for the wedding party was co-hosted by the bride's and bridegroom's parents.

The bride is a graduate of Buhl high school, class of 1959. She attended Twin Falls business college and is employed at the First Federal Savings and Loan association, Twin Falls.

The bridegroom is a 1958 graduate of Buhl high school, a graduate of Idaho Junior college and is engaged in the trucking business. The couple will reside in Buhl.

League Holds Judgment On Butts-Bryant Scandal Pending Investigation

ATLANTA, April 13 (AP)—The executive committee of the Southeastern conference today it was withholding judgment in the football fix charges against Butts and Bryant. But the committee said it deplored "such conduct as has been alleged" and if the charges were true, then the alleged passing information from Butts to Bryant "can only be held as being highly unethical, unsportsmanlike and detrimental to intercollegiate athletics."

After a seven-hour meeting here, the committee directed its commission, Bernie Moore of Birmingham, Ala., to continue an investigation of Saturday Evening Post charges. The Post said in its March 23 issue that Butts was sailing along on a three-hit shutout when Al Spangler led off the ninth with a double. Pete Runnels struck out—Drysdale's seventh—but coach Bryant didn't call for a change. The magazine publisher said this is the statement of the committee.

The executive committee of the Southeastern conference has examined the results of investigations of published charges of a football fix by the Saturday Evening Post involving Wallace Butts, former athletic director at Georgia, and Bryant, Alabama coach, have denied the allegations. Both have filed libel suits against the magazine publisher.

"Since further investigations are under way and litigation is in progress, the executive committee withholds its judgment for the present except for the following:

"There is evidence that a telephone conversation between Wallace Butts and Paul Bryant occurred on Sept. 12, 1955."

"If the nature of the information given in the telephone conversation was in fact as alleged, the executive committee believes that the giving of any information on only be held as being highly unethical, unsportsmanlike and detrimental to intercollegiate athletics."

"The executive committee deprecates such conduct as has been alleged and hereby directs Commission Moore to continue his investigations in full cooperation with other investigative agencies until such time as a positive conclusion can be reached."

Angels Nip Chicago 10 in 15th Inning

LOS ANGELES, April 13 (AP)—Youthful pinch-hitter Kirkpatrick singled in Bob Sadowski in the bottom of the 15th inning tonight to give the Los Angeles Angels a 1-0 victory over the Chicago White Sox. The rookie catcher, registering his first hit in 11 games at bat as a leaguer since last ended the longest losing streak in Angel history behind him.

Winning blow into left field with two out. The lead off batter, Sadowski, set out a grounder to Willie Davis. Kirkpatrick's first of nine innings it had been a tight pitching battle between starters, Jack Pizarro for the Sox and Ken McBride of the Angels.

Each pitcher surrendered but the Sox, Chicago could not get past first while the Angels got as far as third. McBride went out after 11 innings for a pinch hitter, manager Al Lopez lifted Pizarro.

Pinch William replaced Pizarro and led Los Angeles hitters in a three-inning chase. Peters surrendered but he pitched well until he was struck by a ball batted by John J. O. Martin in the 13th.

The winner was ridden by Howard Grant, a leading jockey at the meeting, and was Grant's third winner of the day.

Drysdale Tips Colts 3-1 for Second Win

HOUSTON, April 13 (AP)—Don Drysdale, the National League's premier pitcher last year, survived a ninth-inning scare tonight and pitched the Los Angeles Dodgers past the Houston Colts 3-1 on a five-hit effort.

Drysdale, winning his second start in five days, was sailing along on a three-hit shutout when Al Spangler led off the ninth with a double. Pete Runnels struck out—Drysdale's seventh—but coach Bryant didn't call for a change.

A wild pitch brought Spangler home with the Houston run. Bob Aspromonte gave a crown of 15,164 a fleeting thrill with a long drive to left, but Ron Falt moved back and sent the line to gather it in.

Los Angeles' established power with class, finesse and an edge in youth which breaks down to 3 years per man over their Boston counterparts. And the Dodgers have their super stars, Elgin Baylor and a fully recovered Jerry West. The latter missed a third of the season with a severe leg muscle pull.

Boston again pegs its hopes on the players choice as league MVP, valuable player, Bill Russell, the superb defender-rebounder, plus the shooting of Sam Jones and Tommy Heinsohn, and Cousy's playmaking magic.

"The Celtics will win, no question about it," predicts Walter Brown, club president. "They'll win because they're the best team in basketball. It's as simple as that. This is a boring injury, of course. Injuries could change everything."

From Schaus the pre-battle summation is concise: "We have the personnel to cope with the Celtics."

The series may well be settled at the foul line and in the locker room. Los Angeles counted all five season victories over Boston and

Simmons Gets Third Shutout For Cardinals

ST. LOUIS, April 13 (AP)—Curt Simmons pitched the St. Louis Cardinals to their third straight shutout, a 7-0 victory over the Philadelphia Phillies today in the Cards' home opener.

Simmons gave up only five hits and no Phillies reached third base.

Dick Groat and Julian Javier led the Cardinal attack with unexpected long-ball hitting. Groat opened the scoring in the first with a triple and came home after a throwing error on the play.

Curt Simmons and Javier hit back-to-back homers in the second and Groat added a homer in the seventh off Johnny Klippstein.

Celtics Open Bid For Fifth NBA Playoff Crown

BOSTON, April 13 (AP)—The Boston Celtics—aging but proud—open their bid Sunday night for an unprecedented fifth straight National Basketball Association title against the eager Los Angeles Lakers, who have vowed to end the dynasty. One year and 87 games after the Celtics' triumph in 1956-57, the teams are the three in the playoffs last April on free throws in the Celtics even or ahead in field goals. In the '56-'57 season, the campaign just passed, Boston outscored Los Angeles 443-377 in baskets while the Lakers had a 52-102 edge in free throws made.

After a mid-season loss to the Lakers, the Celtics had 16 more free throw attempts than the Celtics. Cousy forecast trouble in the playoffs if "we don't get any better shake in foul calls. With two evenly-balanced teams like this, there shouldn't be such wide difference in fouls anyhow."

Los Angeles is an established power with class, finesse and an edge in youth which breaks down to 3 years per man over their Boston counterparts. And the Dodgers have their super stars, Elgin Baylor and a fully recovered Jerry West. The latter missed a third of the season with a severe leg muscle pull.

Boston again pegs its hopes on the players choice as league MVP, valuable player, Bill Russell, the superb defender-rebounder, plus the shooting of Sam Jones and Tommy Heinsohn, and Cousy's playmaking magic.

"The Celtics will win, no question about it," predicts Walter Brown, club president. "They'll win because they're the best team in basketball. It's as simple as that. This is a boring injury, of course. Injuries could change everything."

From Schaus the pre-battle summation is concise: "We have the personnel to cope with the Celtics."

The series may well be settled at the foul line and in the locker room. Los Angeles counted all five season victories over Boston and Slatter leads the tournament, which winds up Sunday, with an 8-0 record. McDowen is second with 7-2, and Crane and Jimmy Moore of Albuquerque, N. M., are third with 5-2 marks.

Mystery of Resurrection Discussed in Publication

(Editor's note: Christian theologians have given a good deal of attention to Jesus' death and resurrection. Today, all of whom give an extensive interpretation, are at the Easter story. The article is from his book, "The Mystery of the Resurrection," published by Association Press and available at the National Book Store, 1017 N. 2nd St.)

By DR. THOMAS S. KEPLER
Among contemporary theologians who offer vital suggestions to modern man as he contemplates the mystery of Jesus' resurrection, three scholars are especially stimulating: Rudolf Otto, Rudolf Bultmann and Paul Tillich.

One of the classics in religious thought is "Das Heilige," in which Rudolf Otto discriminates between objects in religion which can be thought conceptually, and termed rational and those which can be merely felt but not rationalized (termed the irrational or numinous).

Otto views the resurrection of Jesus as a numinous event, which man cannot rationalize, but feels "recognizing that the experience concerned with the resurrection were mystical experiences and their source the Spirit."

The resurrection thus belongs not to empirical sense-knowledge, but to faith-knowledge which does not rely on data from the senses. "To speak of 'resurrection' is to utter a mystery, and mystery is a subject of faith, not science."

The "empty tomb" narratives are holy legends, according to Otto, which later develop around the mystical experiences of Christ "in which the supernatural relation of the eternal to the temporal is mirrored in the medium of concrete experience."

They have enduring value to us from the incomparable beauty and power with which they symbolize the essence of the mystery.

"The cosmology of the New Testament is essentially mythical."

In character," writes Rudolf Bultmann, and it is the purpose of the modern Biblical interpreter to "demythologize" these myths for modern man's understanding of the great Christian truths.

Myth is involved in the dualism of Satan and his demonic forces, which the resurrection of Jesus overcame with his pre-existence, death, resurrection and expected return, with the Church as the setting for the "having event."

The death of Christ, Bultmann continues to assert, is thus both a sacrifice and a cosmic event in which Christ is both Messiah and the second Adam. The cross, viewed mythologically, portrays the pre-existent sinless Son of God whose blood atones us, as he frees us from death in his taking sin and death upon himself.

The existential and cosmic value of the cross lies in our taking Christ's cross as our own, the meaning of which through faith is present for believers in the sacraments of baptism and the Lord's Supper (Rom. 6:3; 1 Cor. 11:23-26).

The cross and the resurrection, however, have cosmic unity; they go together as "the death was put to death for our trespasses and raised for our justification" (Rom. 4:25). Hence, "faith in the resurrection is really the same thing as faith in the saving efficacy of the cross faith in the cross as the cross of Christ."

But the resurrection in itself as an object of faith is neither a historical nor a mythical event. The historical event to which the resurrection is attached is still the actual crucifixion of Jesus Christ. The Easter story cannot be called historical if the resurrection is called an "event"; but it can be termed historical if it is the beginning of the belief in the resurrection.

"The cosmology of the New Testament is essentially mythical."

"The Cross of Christ" and the resurrection of Christ are independent episodes, they cannot be separated without losing their meaning," writes Paul Tillich.

The Cross of Christ is the cross of the one who has conquered the death of existential existence. Otherwise it would be only one more tragic event (which it also is) in the long history of the tragedy of man.

And the Resurrection of the Christ is the Resurrection of the one who, as the Christ, subjected himself to the death of existential estrangement. Otherwise it would be only one more questionable miracle story (which it also is) in the records.

Tillich sees the cross and the resurrection as "both reality and symbol," in which something is really occurring in both events, though "there is a qualitative difference": the status of the cross are undoubtedly factual about an event observed in history, while a mystery and symbol, the resurrection event experienced by but a few.

While the event on the cross took place as a fact in space and time, it became a symbol and part of the myth about the death of one who conquered the powers of the old era, when Jesus became the Christ.

Also, the resurrection was a symbol which became a fact, when the disciples believed that Jesus' death was that of the Christ. In their certainty of Jesus' resurrection, the disciples gave birth to the church, "and since the Christ is not the Church without the Church, he has become the Christ."

While Otto, Bultmann and Tillich represent individualistic views regarding the interpretation and meaning of Jesus' resurrection, they all belong to what is called the "existentialist" approach. Jesus' death and resurrection are validated because they speak to man's experience, and they lie beyond rational explanation.

Opera Concerning Murdered Governor Is Next Major Centennial Presentation Here

BY O. A. (GUS) KEPLER
Times-News Feature Editor

One of the most sensational occurrences in Idaho's history—the murder by bombing of a state governor in 1906—will be staged in Twin Falls April 30 when the opera "Ring Around Bolshoi" is presented as the second major observance of the state's Centennial celebration.

The event, slated for the O'Leary Junior high school auditorium, will get underway at 8 p.m., according to Mrs. John E. Hays, chairman of the Twin Falls county Centennial committee.

Two local singers will be among those featured in the opera. They are Mary Walker, soprano, who will sing the part of the murdered governor's wife, and Roger Vincent, who will sing the part of William E. Borah, then a young attorney.

The former governor, Frank Steunenberg, died a few minutes after a bomb exploded as he was opening the back gate of his home in Caldwell. Harry Orchard, who maintained his innocence, but who was convicted of the crime, died in the Idaho prison April 13, 1904. Labor troubles were listed as cause of the murder.

In addition to the two local featured singers, others, and the parts they will sing tell from Bolshoi, will be Burt Burda as Harry Orchard; Gordon Eichman as James McFarland; Dale Bell as Julius Steunenberg, son of the governor; David Streetman as Warden Whitney and also the sheriff, and Marvin Bloomquist as the Very Rev. Dean Hicks, a neighbor.

The opera was written by George and Barbara Bowedich, Boise. He is director of exhibits, Idaho State Historical society. Music is by G. Griffith Smith, head of the music department at Boise Junior college. Premier of the opera was given in Boise last year, but this will be the first presentation in this portion of Idaho.

The opera is in five acts and the production lasts one and one-half hours, according to Mrs. Hays.

The Orchard trial attracted nationwide attention, with the famed Clarence Darrow and the rising William Borah tangling as lawyers on opposing sides.

An original copy of the Idaho Statesman, published the day following the murder, has been studied by the two local singers to gain an insight as to the actual happenings of that day. The paper is property of the Twin Falls County Historical society.

As was the custom in journalism at that time, the story concerning the killing went into minute detail. It stated, among other things, that the governor was "terribly torn about the body, the right arm was practically blown off and the legs were mangled."

The governor was 44 years old and owner of a printing business at the time of his death.

Transportation facilities at that time are graphically illustrated in a side story which relates that a special train was formed and left Boise for Caldwell, (fearing officials), just a few hours after the murder, to carry the body to the state capital. The train made the run between the two communities in the record time of 40 minutes.

In another interesting story, details of an insurance policy owned by the murdered man, are given as follows:

"In the pocket of Governor Steunenberg when he was blown into eternity by a dynamite fiend was a life insurance policy for $25,000 in the New York Life Insurance company, upon which the ink was hardly dry."

"It had been issued to him on the very day he met his death in such a tragic manner. An old policy for a similar amount lapsed and expired a few days ago and the governor had since that time been negotiating for a renewal."

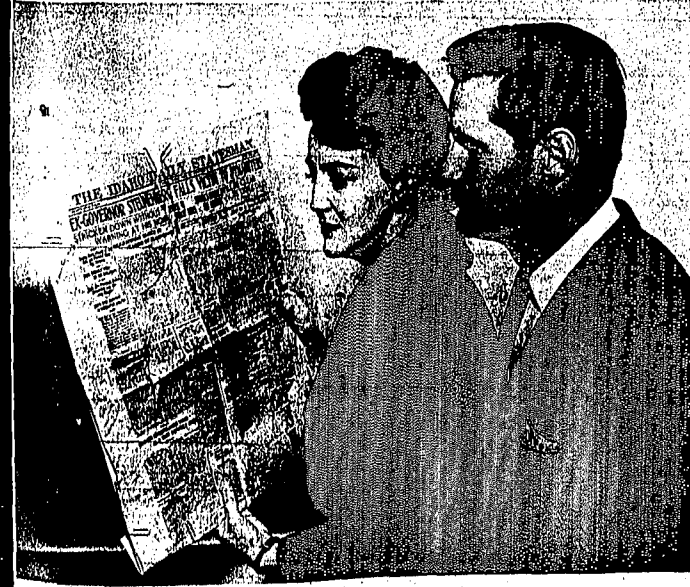

"Yesterday he was examined by Dr. Isham of this city (Caldwell) and given a certificate of health. The fact that the governor allowed only a few days to elapse between the expiration of his old policy and the securing of a new one exhibits his thoughtfulness for his family."

The bomb was exploded at the governor's back gate at 6:45 p.m. the evening of Dec. 30, 1906. He died about 25 minutes later, but was conscious until death came.

The opera is written mostly around the famed trial which attracted nationwide attention. It was especially done for the Centennial observance.

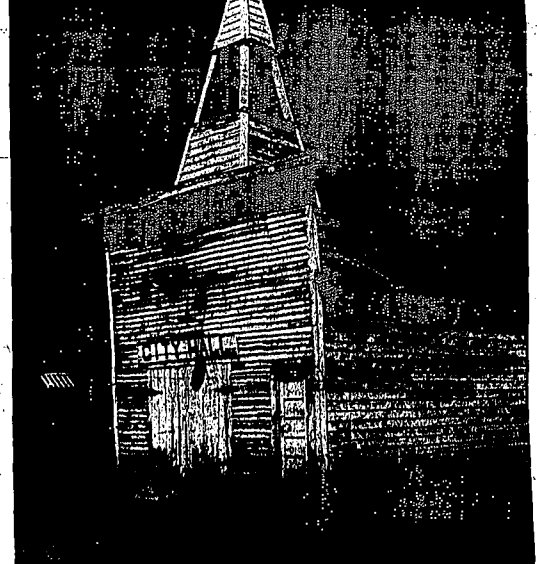

Mrs. Hays said that any money realized over expenses will be given to the museum fund of the Twin Falls County Historical society.

Mr. Roy Painter is in charge of ticket sales. They will be available in the downtown section at outlets to be announced or at the door the night of the presentation.

HYPOCRITICAL FACTS concerning the death of ex-Governor Frank Steunenberg, victim of a bomb in December, 1906, are summed by two local singers who will take leading parts in opera planned here April 30 as a part of the Centennial observance. Mary Walker, soprano, will sing the part of Mrs. Steunenberg, and Roger Vincent will sing the part of Senator

Borah, then a young lawyer. Sponsored by the Twin Falls county Centennial committee, the opera will be presented at 8 p.m. at the O'Leary Junior high school auditorium. The newspaper held by the two is a copy of the Dec. 31, 1906, issue of the Boise Statesman carrying details of the bombing, which occurred in Caldwell the previous evening. (Times-News photo)

Bellevue Only Charter Government in Operation

BELLEVUE, April 13 — It has been gathering on for a long time—this idea of a charter government in the townships of the Boise area. It was the first such endeavor back on May 7, 1883.

This initial meeting was in the town hall, it is formerly stood on Main street at a point where the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Myers is located.

Unlike the present session, the initial one lasted for a month, adjourning from day to day while various resolutions were studied and adopted.

B. M. Davis was the first mayor of Bellevue. He was also active in community improvement, was mayor for one term and on the council for 20 years, from 1920 to 1940.

He recalls many improvements. The city bought the water system from Miss Williams. Pipes were all of wood.

Bellevue, he has been a resident here for 18 years, said the first domestic water was from an open ditch which ran down from an area known as Blaguer House ditch.

Cost of replacing the wooden pipes was so prohibitive that the council decided something else would have to be done. During World War II they got permission from the legislature to "give us the right to levy 30 per cent on valuation instead of 15 per cent as stated in the charter—the money to be used for a new city water system," Werry said.

Werry remembers that when this was done the state officials gave them only two and one-half cents to go to Boise to protect the petition. L. B. Rockwell, who was also on the council, said "we can do it."

Life in MAGIC VALLEY

A taste of the satisfaction derived from bringing sunshine into the lives of older people was experienced this week by 11 sixth grade students at KIMBERLY. The students, with their instructor, Gilbert Rowe, visited patients in Harrell's nursing home at Buhl, where they presented Easter lilies they had made from wire and crepe paper, as a class project.

The project resulted from an earlier visit made to the home last Christmas, when they gave the patients poinsettias they had made in class. Many of the students were apprehensive and reluctant to visit until they realized the older people were enjoying their visit, Rowe says.

After the Christmas visit he asked students to write an essay expressing their feelings about the visit. Rowe said he was greatly impressed by the revelations made by some of the children who expressed a new-found joy in making someone happy by their kindness. This feeling sparked the desire for the second visit.

During this visit they again realized how much their kindness meant to someone who is unable to move about. While the students were in Buhl they were the guests of Mrs. Iris Rowe, who is the mother of the sixth grade teacher and a nurse's aide at the nursing home. While at the Rowe home the group enjoyed a hamburger.

Students participating in the visit were Ricky Erickson, Randy Chaborn, Patty Pierce, Margaret Hobbs, Bonnie Henshaw, Mike Scott, Glenn Shewmaker, Debbie Clous, Glenda, Golt, DelRoe Arnold and Rod Dubber. Mrs. William Chaborn assisted Rowe in transporting the children.

Mrs. and Mrs. Virgil Norwood, Hagerman, have a two-legged lamb. This isn't too unusual, perhaps, but this lamb can outrun them. The fact that the two legs are on the same side makes it even more unusual.

The lamb broke two legs on the same side when just a few days old, and Mrs. Norwood tried to raise it along with three other "bummers."

One has to be able to catch and feed a lamb to raise it and it looked like a losing battle for a while, but the lamb finally realized he could run to the milk in the bottle and get better results than running from the person holding the bottle. Now it runs to them at break neck speed.

The two broken legs are two or three inches from the ground and never touch the ground. The lamb leans a bit to the side with the two good legs for balance. It can jump to its two feet from a sound sleep and never wobble or wobble, and holds its own with the rest of the barn lambs in the pen.

SKI WORK SESSION
HAILEY, April 13.—Dr. E. A. Richards, chairman of the Rola-run ski area, has announced a work day for Sunday at the ski area. His said equipment must be dismantled and the grounds cleaned.

He said the house and six lots to Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Kershner in the early 20's and they used extra rooms for school teachers. After their death, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Kershner and children lived in it until 1944, when they sold it to the late Mr. and Mrs. Ed Gage.

The Gage family made extensive repairs, built on to it and put the lot into fruit trees and berry bushes. After Mr. Gage's death, Mrs. Gage sold it to Cantrell in 1953 and Cantrell was in the process of selling it to Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Gray.

Mr. and Mrs. Gray had moved into the house and began repainting and redecorating it when the fire hit. It is supposed that sparks from the large lava rock fireplace somehow started the fire in the second floor. As the house had been well insulated, and asbestos shingles used, the fire was contained.

Neighbors fought the fire with water from the well on the place and from the canal and kept other buildings from catching fire. Furniture in ground floor rooms were saved, but smoke was too heavy upstairs for anyone to remove furniture.

AS YOUR MINISTER SEES IT

BY EUGENE TJARKS
Pastor, Our Savior Lutheran Church

"On the first day of the week, at early dawn, they went to the tomb, taking the spices which they had prepared. And they found the stone rolled away from the tomb, but when they went in they did not find the body. While they were perplexed about this, behold two men stood by them in dazzling apparel; and as they were frightened and bowed their faces to the ground, the two said unto them, 'Why do you seek the living among the dead? Remember how he told you, while he was still in Galilee, that the Son of man must be delivered into the hands of sinful men, and be crucified, and on the third day rise.' And they remembered his words, and returning from the tomb they told all this to the eleven and to all the rest." (Luke 24:1-9 RSV)

The first Easter morning was sad. Sadness was in the air because friends of Jesus must give Him a proper burial. The usual arrangement for the loving care of the deceased must be delayed because of the intervening Sabbath day. A deep sorrow seized those who must bury the crucified Master.

"Why do you seek the living among the dead? This greeting from the tomb erased all this sadness. This question revealed the mistake of those coming to the tomb.

We should change the question to this: "What do you seek?" "Are you seeking a man who can crucify? Are you looking for a leader who can keep your stomachs full by dividing a few loaves and some fish among

"What Do You Seek?"

5,000 men? Is it that you want a leader who can call on legions of angels to fight your battles for you, in order to make you a world power?" Not "Whom do you seek?" but rather, "What do you seek?"

"What do you seek," reader of the 20th century? We have not changed much during these 2,000 years. Men today are basically the same selfish, short-sighted type of individuals as were the men of Christ's day. When we live in such a state of mind we seek that which we ought not to seek. We are sad because we expect to find a dead Lord. In tombs you find dead people. Why seek a living Lord where the dead are supposed to be? We seek the wrong things.

Easter takes on new significance when we seek that which we ought to seek. Not a spotlight in the fashion parade, no colored eggs, nor fictitious rabbits, but a real, a living, a useful Lord and Savior.

How do we know what we ought to seek? Jesus Himself revealed this in His words, "Do not lay up for yourself treasure on earth, where moth and rust consume, and where thieves break in and steal, but lay up for yourselves treasures in heaven" (Matthew 6:19-20).

A dead Lord is useless to everyone. Remember what He says to us. Seek a living Lord, the likes of the One Who said, "Lo, I am with you always." Expect a Lord who is not held by death, but who has been raised victorious over death. Remember what He has said. Seek Him according to His claims about Himself. His work, His power, His love.

What are you seeking? Jesus Christ is not a Savior of our design. He is the fulfillment of God's plan of salvation. When we seek this Jesus raised from the tomb, our sadness will be turned to joy.

Pearce feels the recreation equipment would be a great asset to the French people.

RICHFIELD, April 13.—Joint administration of the Richfield and Dietrich schools was approved by the school boards from the two towns at a special meeting held Tuesday evening at Dietrich.

Supt. Neil Thomas, present Dietrich superintendent, was offered the position as superintendent of the two schools.

The trustees concurred in the belief the move would benefit both districts, without consolidation. The present Richfield music teacher and Dietrich science teacher would teach classes in both schools under the new system.

Perry Christensen, Richfield assistant superintendent and coach, was hired as Richfield high school principal and a Dietrich teacher was named principal there.

LESTER C. GIBBEL, bandpoint conservation officer of the Idaho fish and game department, looks northward from Socoliman park in direction of some of Panhandle lakes where trails will be built this summer under new federal-state accelerated public works program. Altogether, $116,000 has been allocated for fish and game work in the five northernmost counties which have been declared by President Kennedy to be a "depressed area" because of the poor employment situation, especially in the timber and mining industries. Two projects have been approved so far. (Fish and game photo)

Federal-State Accelerated Public Works Program to Boost Gem Trails

BY TIM HUNTER
Idaho fish-game department
BOISE, April 13 — Idaho is one of dozens of states having distress areas with respect to unemployment and meeting all requirements for aid under the new federal-state accelerated public works program, which will provide additional outdoor recreation for millions of Americans.

Most of the lakes already have been stocked with trout by the department.

Also within the forests are huntable populations of elk, mule deer, white-tailed deer, black bear, mountain goats and forest grouse. These wildlife species are not available now to hunters because of inadequate trails — or none at all.

It is noteworthy that much of this project work is within the counties of Bonner and Shoshone. The three other counties, Benewah, Boundary and Shoshone, are eligible and a new federal appropriation of $22,376 has been received since March 10.

State fish and game department matching funds also are available. This makes the total Idaho budget for accelerated public works $116,186, including state matching funds.

However, other state and federal agencies gained prior approval in Washington, D. C., for trail work and other projects within Benewah, Boundary and Shoshone counties. Consequently, the Idaho fish and game department must delay plans for a national work-in these counties until some changes have been made at the federal level so that more of these funds can be used in the particular counties where fish and game department work is needed.

In any case, all fish and game department trails will be built by the U. S. forest service on a contract basis. The forest service will locate, survey, mark and construct the trails to approved specifications on an actual cost basis, exclusive of administrative supervision.

When completed in a matter of 24 months or less from the date of project approval, the trails will be appropriately posted with the work.

The 50-odd lakes are within the boundaries of the Cour d'Alene, Kamikou and St. Joe national forests where fishing pressure is light because most anglers cannot get to them. Sites vary from 2 to 30 surface acres. All have been surveyed and found biologically capable of sustaining fish populations.

Zoning Map Is Approved At Heyburn

HEYBURN, April 13 — The zoning map was approved by members of the Heyburn village board Wednesday evening during their regular board meeting.

There were no protests given during the zoning hearing. Ross Cortes, zoning chairman, explained the commercial zone will run along J street and along highway 30N to the end of the village limits.

The industrial zone will start near the J. R. Simplot processing plant and go toward the river, ending around the village sewer. Cortes said the area south of Seventh street near the cemetery and owned by the Simplot company is also under industrial zoning. But the land lies between that property and the river is government reserve and will be used for recreation purposes by the village.

The remainder of the village area will be zoned for A and B housing. Homes listed under B housing may include an office or beauty shop in their home, but A housing is a more restricted area. The A zone lies in the outlying areas.

During the business meeting, Frank Hermansen requested to have 18th street opened to W street.

W. J. Davis was granted his request to have the sewer line extended one block through lot 33, in the second state addition.

The group discussed plans for the Heyburn Arbor day and Centennial celebration to be held April 28.

Word has been received here that Yellowstone national park's four entrances and Old Faithful Inn, "the largest log cabin in the world," will open for business May 1.

George Beall, executive vice president and general manager of the Yellowstone park company, the park's biggest concessionaire, said the season had been delayed because of the snow that came through the park. Beall warned that the weather would not be as favorable as last year. He said many people passed times at exhibit at Seattle, Wash.

Professor of History Talks To Chamber

RUPERT, April 13 — Dr. Siegfried B. Rolland, associate professor of social sciences and history at the University of Idaho, spoke to members of the Rupert Chamber of Commerce, Thursday, outlining the history of Idaho in a special centennial address.

Dr. Rolland, who has been at the university for 11 years, is considered an expert on history of the Northwest, and especially of Idaho.

He outlined the history of the area from the first explorations through the colorful period of the fur trader and early day missionaries, the mining era, and the coming of the cattlemen and farmers down to the present.

He pointed out at this time the beginning of the second century. The area still presents the greatest potential for growth and development of any area in the nation.

He pointed out the importance of retaining and using the experiences of the past in building for the future. He quoted from the pages of the past to stress need of learning past history as a basis for future planning.

Auto Is Stolen At Glens Ferry

GLENS FERRY, April 13 — A car belonging to Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Dewey, Glens Ferry, was stolen from in front of their residence early Wednesday morning.

The son, Robert Dewey, borrowed the family car Tuesday evening and Mr. and Mrs. Dewey were not concerned about not seeing the car parked in front of their home that morning as they thought perhaps their son had spent the night with friends.

After further investigation they discovered their son asleep in his room. He said he had parked the car in front of their home and left the keys in the car. They noticed a car parked across the street apparently abandoned and called the police.

In the meantime a resident of Glens Ferry had reported a stolen car which proved to be the one at Glens Ferry.

The Ada county sheriff's office reported finding the car stolen from Glens Ferry abandoned near Boise.

The president will appoint a committee to see about buying one.

Mrs. F. L. Bauser and Mrs. Madge Stefania won the room count prize. The second grade mothers served.

Contracts Offered to 3 Teachers

SHOSHONE, April 13 — Supt. John Severson announces three contracts are being offered this week after a meeting of the school board.

They are to Mrs. Fred Gehrig, junior high; Edward Griggs, for regional agriculture and Mrs. Mary Favel, Richfield, for third grade.

Mrs. Gehrig taught in the local area for a number of years prior to moving from the community about three years ago. She and her husband are again making their home here.

Griggs was hired to complete a year's school term as agriculture instructor, after resignation of Donald Boyne, who moved to north Idaho. The new contract is for next year.

The superintendent said the school budget approved this week will provide a $250 raise for teachers in the system with degrees and a $15 raise for those without degrees.

He said funds also will be available to do some repair work, such as completion of the storage for the hot lunch area, repair or providing a new roof at the grade school building, some furniture and work on lights where needed.

Steel Price Drama Unfolds, Overshadows Other Business

NEW YORK, April 13 (U.S.)—A new steel price drama unfolded during the week 13 oversaw developments in all other business.

The curtain rose on the situation of suspense when relatively small Wheeling Steel corporation announced a selective price increase averaging $8 a ton.

The action of Wheeling, ranking No. 13 in production, came exactly a year after another price increase ignited a blazing battle between President Kennedy and the steel industry.

This time it seemed unlikely that the new boost held the makings of a price war. The industry, however, the White House and the steelmakers.

After delaying his vacation trip to Florida for a day to study the situation, Kennedy issued a statement that was interpreted as conciliatory.

While he said he opposed a general price increase, he did a year ago and forced a rollback—the door was left open for selective increases.

Price administration is not interested in determining the appropriate price or profit levels of any particular industry, he said.

"We are interested in protecting the American public and it is in the American public which would suffer most from a general increase in steel prices."

He added that "selected price increases are not to be prompted by changes in supply and demand, as opposed to the steel industry, which is not incompatible with a framework of general stability, and are characteristic of any healthy economy."

He urged the industry and the steelworkers union to avoid any action which would lead to a general across-the-board increase.

While the statement eased anxiety about the White House and the situation still was tense.

The steelmakers had yet to indicate whether they would stand pat on current prices, John Wheeling in selective boosts or try again for a general advance.

And there was the question whether Wheeling could stand alone.

Ever since defeat in the last effort steel executives have been pleading their cause, stressing that the industry needs more money to build new plants and equipment to compete with foreign steel and with such rivals as Japan.

Stocks Crash Through to New 1963 Highs in Trading

NEW YORK, April 13 (U.S.)—Stocks crashed through to new 1963 highs on fits of violent trading this week climaxed as President Kennedy gave apparent approval of selective price increases for the steel industry.

Trading over the abbreviated four-day pre-Easter period averaged better than five million shares daily while the popular averages ground in their sixth consecutive weekly gain.

Public interest in the market showed signs of perking up after a lull, balanced against trading profits-taking and selling to raise cash for the approaching 1963 tax payment deadline.

The slump changed abruptly at mid-week, however, when the threat of a new steel price crisis emerged from a surprise $8 a ton average price boost on some products by Wheeling Steel corporation, the nation's 11th largest producer.

Steel shares responded instantly on Wednesday with big gains but the whole market tempo collapsed in a selling spasm that afternoon when it appeared the President had delayed an earlier trip to Palm Beach to study the steel situation.

Prices firmed slowly late Wednesday and through most of Thursday only to zoom ahead in the final hour of the week when the President indicated he might accept selective selective price increases within the framework of supply and demand, although he warned the industry against a general across-the-board increase.

The option was widespread as the market closed that a quick additional five per cent gain in values, pushing Dow-Jones Industrial to an all-time record of 4,000.

Standard and Poor's 500 stock index, which had been a modest gain of 0.40 on the day, in the Dow-Jones averages, 1.10.

Valley Aides Table Action For Budget

IDEN-HAZELTON, April 13 (U.S.)—Trustees of school district 202 reviewed the proposed budget and proposed a new salary schedule and tabled action on the budget when they met this week.

Members concluded that the present teachers' salary schedule is not competitive and must be increased. However, to make the teachers' salary schedule competitive with surrounding schools and in order to acquire replacement teachers, the budget would be weakened in the area of education.

The board felt in order to maintain a sound educational and maintenance program and proposed a new salary schedule, it will be necessary to place a two-mill levy on the farm land camp.

A two-mill levy, for one year only, would bring in approximately $8,000, which will be used to strengthen teachers' salaries and to maintain and improve facilities for operation and education purposes.

Election for this levy will be announced soon.

Because of the impact of the farm land coming into this area, the district is permitted to levy for the maintenance of the land added expense. A simple majority is required to pass this levy, compared to the two-thirds majority required for other mill levies.

Much dissatisfaction was expressed by the board for the compromise formula of the effect upon 81 schools which will result in no additional tax.

Dr. Truitt, who told the board it is anticipated by the state board of education that the cost of education will be taken out of the first year of this biennium.

The continuation of the remaining $10,000,000 to be allocated to the school districts of the district will not bring any additional money to the district.

The $20,000,000 to be allocated the second year of the biennium may cause the district to receive some additional money, but there is no definite assurance of this, Dr. Truitt said.

Dr. Truitt said that the district's financial status in the second year of the biennium, it would not be necessary to continue the farm land camp.

Resignation of Bill Emerson, physical education director at Hazelton, was accepted by the board. Both men are leaving the area because of low salary conditions.

The school board indicated the Valley school lunch program will be supported for the next year, and must pay its own payroll bill.

Kenneth Roberts requested a full-time physical education supervisor of Eden and Hazelton elementary schools, rather than the half day as proposed. According to the board, the school has a better picture of the financial status of the school is determined by the budget.

Herman Heutling and Clyde Montgomery, board members from districts two and four, will be elected to the school board members on May 21, which time an election will be held at Valley high school from 10 a.m. to 7 p.m.

Dr. Truitt urged anyone interested in receiving further information about the mill levy or the budget for the school to contact him at his office, or telephone 820-5333.

Valley at the board meeting was the William Brown, Jr., Harold Grant, Don Andrews, Merle Anderson, Mrs. Marvin Johnson, and Robert Hughes and Rod Overfield.
