Colin Kelly Starting His Own Career

WEST POINT, N. Y., June 4 (AP)—Proudly bearing a name graced with honor and valor, Colin P. Kelly III modestly starts building his own career in his country's service this week.

Cadet Captain Kelly, 23, son of the first American hero of World War II, will don the gold bars of a second lieutenant, U. S. army, Wednesday. They will not be the bars his father wore away from the U. S. Military Academy here 26 years ago.

"I am trying to be my own man," Kelly said today in answer to a question dealing with the burden of all sons named for their fathers, a burden he said never has been written with glory into the pages of history.

"I'm very proud of my father's name and very proud to bear it," explained the trim, 6-foot, 165-pound cadet from Medina, Pa., "I try to bear it with distinction and honor."

But, he added, "I don't want to trade on that name."

Kelly never knew his father, whose picture hangs on the wall of Church Hall here. He was 10 months old when Capt. Colin P. Kelly, Jr., B-17 pilot, was killed in action Dec. 10, 1941, three days after the Japanese attacked Pearl Harbor. Kelly ordered his crew to bail out and went down with his riddled plane during an attack on a Japanese warship in the Philippines.

Missionary in Germany Moved

RICHFIELD, June 4—Linda Patterson, Richfield LDS missionary, has been transferred to Ravensburg, Germany, according to information received by her parents, Bishop and Mrs. Elmer Patterson. The street address is Zeughausgasse 6, 71020.

Mrs. Patterson wrote of a church-owned building in this city of 33,000 with many refugees from East Germany. The refugees seem to be discriminated against and poorly treated, she believes. Many are very poor with their jobs jeopardized by ill favor.

Linda's new home, with a family named Lotzsch, is across Lake Bodensee from Konstanz, where she formerly was placed. During the severe winter the lot skied and walked across the lake several times.

Coffee Hour Is Held for Pastor

Mrs. Don Holton served coffee and Mrs. Joe Punks served punch. Arrangements were made by Mr. and Mrs. Al Mortenson. Mr. and Mrs. Don Holton, Mrs. Hutter, Kenney, Mrs. Lowe, Sterling, Mrs. Joe Punks, Mrs. Joe Miller and Mrs. A. H. Stevenson.

YOUR BIRTHDAY and HOROSCOPE

TUESDAY, June 4—Born today, you must learn, first of all, to depend upon your own good judgment. Too often you are inclined to take another's word for things, and to fail to take seriously enough your own basic instincts. You have everything it takes to be a superior person; all you need to do is develop enough faith in your own capabilities to move a head under your own steam.

Your talents are diversified, and it will probably take some mental discipline on your part if you are to choose successfully from among them the single one upon which to concentrate. It is necessary that this choice be made—and carefully—and you might be wise to seek some expert advice on the matter when the time comes.

Although not lacking in intellect by any means, your first impulse is to act according to your emotions. This is in no way to your disadvantage, however, since in your case emotions are founded, like woman's intuition, upon hidden logic, and they are unusually good measures of the way you should go.

Among those born on this date are Robert Merrill, operatic baritone; Rosalind Russell, actress; King George III, of England.

WEDNESDAY, June 5—OEMINI (May 22-June 21)—An effort to settle all up-in-the-air issues before nightfall should pay off handsomely. Avoid trusting to luck.

CANCER (June 22-July 23)—A good day, especially for enterprises engaged in away from home. Don't overdo during evening.

LEO (July 24-Aug. 23)—Frame your questions carefully if you would receive the answer you're looking for. Take special care not to seem arrogant.

VIRGO (Aug. 24-Sept. 23)—Important plans and projects for the future should receive first consideration today. Make necessary contacts without delay.

LIBRA (Sept. 24-Oct. 23)—You may save yourself considerable trouble in the weeks ahead by preparing adequately for what you are about to undertake.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 23)—Where friends are concerned, reserve your adverse opinion for some other time. There is nothing to be gained in hurt feelings.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 22)—Get down to business immediately! Where finances are involved, best to avoid indebtedness to be a friend.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23-Jan. 20)—You find yourself faced with the same old difficulties in the midst of the same old decisions. Rely on past experience for aid.

Rural Carriers' Conclave Slated

MURTAUGH, June 4—The National Rural Letter Carriers association convention will be held at the Murtaugh Inn, Burley, June 14-15. Registration will be during the afternoon and evening of June 13.

Edwin K. Buel, Murtaugh, president of district two, Masie Valley area, and Mrs. Buel, president of the auxiliary, who are in charge of the arrangements, urge all rural letter carriers and auxiliary members to attend.

Separate and joint meetings will be held during the two-day session.

NO. 3 IN A SERIES OF IDAHO
POWER COMPANY ADVERTISEMENTS

FACTS You Should Know

- 1—Bonneville does not serve homes, farms, stores, offices, schools, shops or most industries.
- 2—Bonneville delivers electric power below cost to a few "preference customers" who profit by tax avoidance.
- 3—Bonneville is subsidized by taxpayers. It pays no taxes. It has operated at a deficit of about $60,000,000 during the past five years.
- 4—Bonneville will have to ask Congress for an expenditure of about $100,000,000 for transmission facilities to deliver power to eastern Idaho.
- 5—There is a surplus of firm power in southern Idaho. Bonneville can not justify squandering tax money to build duplicating power facilities.
- 6—Southern Idaho has a better record of industrial development—lower taxes—and for less unemployment than the Northwest areas which have been served by Bonneville for many years.
- 7—Bonneville power rates are artificial. They produce deficits in spite of taxpayer subsidy, tax avoidance and access to the federal treasury for capital funds.
- 8—Bonneville power supplants the facilities of taxing companies to the detriment of taxing districts such as schools, cities and counties, state and federal governments.
- 9—Bonneville is now taking over reclamation project power, and will sell it below cost to "preference customers." This will deprive Idaho reclamation projects of millions in legitimate revenues by subterfuge—the gift assurance that somehow Bonneville will replace these funds from its deficit-ridden operations.
- 10—There's no magic about Bonneville power. It is an example of the federal government in business—replacing taxpayer, investor-owned enterprises.

about the Plan to bring Bonneville Power to Southern Idaho

Apart from factors like geography and population density, there are no good reasons why electric power costs should vary between suppliers.

Except for subsidy, Bonneville's subsidy—received from the general taxpayer—starts with the charge-off of substantial river development costs as nonreimbursable to the federal treasury.

Then Bonneville receives its capital funds from the public till. But Bonneville doesn't pay the full cost of interest to the government. Today, with federal interest costs at about 4 per cent, Bonneville pays only 2½ per cent, with the taxpayer making up the difference.

The cost-of-money difference—plus the write-off of nonreimbursables—plus Bonneville's tax-free status, together provide Bonneville with a subsidy of about 50 per cent. Thus Bonneville's rates are not a true representation of its proper costs.

In other words, a utility company's power rate could be cut in half if it contained only the same costs Bonneville is obliged to pay. Only when compared on a realistic basis, without subsidy, power rates of the two have meaning.

Otherwise it's like comparing apples with bananas.

The fact is—what Bonneville bestows with one hand, it takes away with the other hand. The minority receives—the majority pays.

Kennedy Hits Racial Bar Of Workers

WASHINGTON, June 4 (AP)—President Kennedy took steps today to combat racial discrimination in the apprenticeship and construction programs.

Kennedy got out a special statement saying denial of the right to work is unfair, regardless of its victim.

He said it is doubly unfair to throw the burden most heavily on someone because of race or color.

Accordingly, the President said he is:

1. Directing the secretary of labor, under the federal apprenticeship laws, to require that admission to apprenticeship programs of the government be on a completely nondiscriminatory basis.
2. Asking for a review of all federal construction programs to prevent any racial discrimination in hiring practices.
3. Issuing an executive order shortly to broaden the authority of the committee on equal employment opportunity to include construction of buildings and other facilities wholly or partly undertaken as a result of federal financial grants.

Decision Pends on Lewis-Clark

LEWISTON, June 4 (AP)—The state board of education is expected to decide Thursday whether to expand the curriculum of Lewis-Clark Normal school to go with its new four-year status.

The 1963 legislature gave the school four-year status, but gave it no additional funds, providing the same appropriation that was requested for operation as a two-year school.

The board, meeting in Boise in April, deferred action on the curriculum question. But comments of members indicated that they felt it would be unwise to try to offer a four-year program without more money.

Erna M. Hawkes, Poncha, board chairman, says he doesn't think a four-year institution is possible in the near future.

"There are several problems that must be overcome," she said. "The problem is whether we are going to have a four-year college prematurely or strengthen the courses already offered."

"I don't think we are going to fulfill the charge that was given us to make it a four-year institution. We are not interested in having a limping college, and under this philosophy, it would seem we would move to four-year status by steps."

The school has had a stormy history. Created by the legislature in 1892, it was expanded from two-year to four-year status in 1947. But it was closed in 1951 when enrollment was at 500.

It was reopened in 1955 as Lewis-Clark Normal with a two-year program. A private school, Cascade college of Portland, made overtures to acquire the campus from the state.

The Stanford Research Institute recommended that the school become a locally supported junior college and the state board endorsed that view.

But the legislature made it a four-year school. The vote was close in the senate where Lieut. Gov. W. E. Drevlow, Craigmont Democrat, broke a 21-21 tie.

Final Snow Survey Made For Season

HAILEY, June 4—Bill Woody, BCS snow surveyor, reports the final snow survey for the 1962-1963 season has been completed and that the snow has been stored for the summer.

The snow line was at about the 7,000 foot level. There were 25 inches of snow at Galena summit, with 12 1/2 inches of water, compared to 25 inches of snow with 17 inches of water last year.

The snow temperature at the Galena summit (formerly known as the Horse Creek summit) was 33 degrees at the six-inch level, to 58 degrees at the 42 inch level. Galena summit snow frozen to the 18 inch level, with a soil temperature of 31 degrees, and 27 degrees at the 30 and 42 inch depths.

Galena soil profile is 75 per cent saturated and Galena summit is at approximately 80 per cent saturated.

Woody advised the BCS thanks forest service personnel, fish and game department, and other agencies and farmers who cooperated in the long hours and Kennedy-type hikes taken to produce the snow measurements throughout the winter.

He advises that, with the five inches of precipitation in May and three in June, capacity storage was gained at the Little Wood River and Mackay reservoirs and near capacity at Fish Creek reservoir.

Ruling Ends 50-Year Colorado River Feud

WASHINGTON, June 4 (U-P)—The supreme court yesterday cut down California's water claims in favor of those of Arizona and Nevada, settling a 50-year-old feud over the Colorado river.

In a 5-3 decision, the court upheld the recommendations of a special master who rejected the California contention that waters from tributaries of the Colorado as well as the main stream should be shared by the states.

The ruling, of monumental importance in the West, apparently cleared the way for congressional action on a $1.1 billion dollar reclamation project in Arizona which had been produced because of the tangled litigation.

The decision produced sharp words in the court. Justice William O. Douglas delivered a cutting attack on the decision written by Justice Hugo Black.

Referring to "Black's" opinion by name, Douglas called the decision a "tragedy" and the "saddest attempt by judges in modern times to spin their own philosophy into the fabric of the law, in derogation of the will of the legislature."

"The present decision," Douglas said, "grants the federal bureaucracy a power and command over water rights in the 17 western states that it never has had, that it always wanted, that it could never persuade congress to grant, and that this court up to now has consistently refused to recognize."

"The decision today, resulting in the confusion between the waters of the Colorado river, is a 5-3 decision, the court upheld the recommendations of a special master who rejected the California contention that waters from tributaries of the Colorado as well as the main stream should be shared by the states."

A bill to give the Pacific Northwest first call on surplus federal hydroelectric power produced in the region was endorsed by Gordon C. Culp, 33, of Portland, Ore. Northwest public and private power interests.

Culp said federal municipal and private power interests in the area cooperate in the Northwest power pool to make the most efficient use of hydroelectric energy.

A main objective of the preference bills before the committee, he said, is "to prevent disposition of the benefits from this cooperative effort."

It is requested that the Bonneville power administration "are committed outside the area at a time when they are needed of several areas, each member of the coordinated group as a whole suffer a greater loss than the amount of resources removed," Culp said.

Derby Hats Are Worn by Hailey People

HAILEY, June 4 — The first derby hats, which will be worn from now until the Days of the Old West celebration July 4, were donned at a meeting of the Hailey Chamber of Commerce Monday night.

Richard Stephens, president, sold hats to members as they entered the door of the banquet room at the Star cafe.

Although the women of the community are supposed to wear sunbonnets, several have already purchased the derbies to wear at their Centennial identification.

Norman Warren, agricultural agent, reported a spokesman has been arranged for June 14, and all who plan to attend should meet at 9 a.m. at Picabo.

Two of the largest ranches in the county will be visited during the trip, starting at the Picabo Livestock company ranch at Picabo and at 11 a.m. visiting the company's large ranch at Lava lake in the Craters of the Moon vicinity.

A lunch to be prepared by wives of stockmen, with Mrs. Ted Uring as general chairman and provided by the chamber, will be served near the lake.

In the afternoon the group will visit the holdings of the Flat Top Sheep company in the Little Wood river watershed and surrounding territory.

When specified it is hoped the trip will be a "get together" for business and stockmen. Stephens asked all chamber members who possibly could to go.

Wages advised that another year smaller ranches will be chosen — with large and small ranches visited in alternate years.

Jordan Notes Idaho Stake In Wool Act

WASHINGTON, June 4 (AP) — Sen. Len B. Jordan, R., Idaho, said the wool producers have a vital interest in the increasing importation of wool textiles under the foreign trade expansion act.

Jordan told a special senate subcommittee yesterday that Idaho wool producers and textile manufacturers and workers in seeking help for the problem of the "threats to eliminate the domestic wool industry."

"The costs of production are constantly on the increase," the Idaho senator said. "Employees of the sheep industry are becoming more costly and more difficult to obtain, public land grazing areas are being curtailed in carrying capacities; supplies and equipment are constantly increasing in cost and taxes paid to support government at all levels are also caught in the price increase spiral."

Judge Kills Suit for Indian Cash

MOSCOW, June 4 (AP) — A federal judge says he has no authority to say how the Nez Perce Indian tribe should spend $2,127,800 in 1963 awarded for land and gold deposits ceded to the United States 100 years ago.

U. S. District Judge Chase A. Clark dismissed yesterday a lawsuit brought by off-reservation shareholders of the Nez Perce tribe. They sought a court order to prevent the nine-member tribal executive committee from spending part of the money for projects the committee says are intended to benefit the tribe as a whole.

The money was awarded for the value of land and gold deposits ceded to the U.S. by treaty in 1863.

"This court does not have the authority to re-write the standards governing tribal expenditures, nor to define purposes for which the Nez Perce tribal funds may be expended," said Judge Clark. He said the tribe is best equipped to decide how its money should be spent.

The Nez Perce Indian association, made up primarily of Indians living off the reservation, asked the court to order the money distributed on a per capita basis among all tribal members.

Learn How to Score Your Golf Game

By PATRICIA MCCORMACK
NEW YORK, June 4 (AP)—If you golf game's as good as mine, ordinary instruction books leave you off.

I don't really know how good mine is. My scoring system's peculiar.

I count the number of lost balls. If on a particular day I lose fewer than during the previous time out, I naturally conclude that my game's improving.

The last time I did 18 in an afternoon, at the 18th, I consciously counted the strokes and subtracted this number from what I started with. It came out to six—which isn't good and isn't bad.

On the worst day, I lost nine balls. On the best, just four.

The worst loss—nine—was hardly sporting. On that day the gandelions on the course were fusing into white fluff and only someone equipped with super eyes could tell a golf ball from a dandelion at 20 paces.

In an honest effort to improve my game—or at least teach me the rudiments of scoring—I peruse new instruction books while the ink's still wet.

The one that seems most likely to succeed might help you if you golf game's as good as mine.

(The use of the word "good" doesn't seem the ultimate—positive thinking but it helps if you consider nothing negative while trying to improve your score.)

The book—"The Offensive Golfer" (Prentice-Hall)—is described by the publisher as "a handbook for compulsive hackers."

Author Dick Brooks has written the book especially for men, but there's no reason women can't use it, especially if hubby's a golfer.

What's especially helpful: The new products invented by Brooks. The tongue-in-cheek list includes a record that plays music to sneak out of the house by. Even at normal volume, this disc will override a sonic boom," Brooks said.

COWBOYS COMPLETE SWEEP OVER CHIEFS

Magic Valley Overcomes Early Four-Run Deficit, Gains Near-Tie for Lead

Lefty O'Dell Deloney flattened in the first inning by a grand slam homer, came off the deck Monday night to pitch the rallying Magic Valley Cowboys past Pocatello 6-5 and within a few percentage points of the Pioneer league lead. A siege of wildness struck the bespectacled Deloney in the first inning as three walks preceded the long homerun by Pete DeSilva. But he held the Chiefs to only four

Finsterwald Claims One-Stroke Victory in 500 Golf Festival

INDIANAPOLIS, June 4 (AP)—A golf course with as little rough as a well kept cemetery, a crisp putter and a dedicated caddy made Dow Finsterwald $10,000 richer today as he moved from the Speedway Festival Open golf tournament to the Buick Open in Michigan. Johnson Told To Produce "Fix" Proof

TACOMA, Wash., June 4 (AP)—The head of the World Boxing association said Monday Harold Johnson's manager should go to the proper law enforcement agencies if he has proof of anything shady in Saturday night's title fight at Las Vegas, Nev.

Johnson lost his light-heavyweight championship by a decision to Willie Pastrano, a 6-1 underdog in the 15 rounder.

Dr. Charles Larson, WBA president, called the "rematch or Refaiver" ultimatum of Pat Oliveri, Johnson's manager, ridiculous.

Johnson's fight was "robbed" and he will demand that the WBA give Johnson a rematch within 90 days "or I'm going to the Refaiver committee."

Oliveri contended the gamblers ripped a windfall in Pastrano's split decision upset victory.

"If Oliveri has any evidence that gambling in Las Vegas played any controlling part in the (Pastrano-Johnson) decision, he should immediately go to the proper law enforcement agencies and not depend on the WBA or Refaiver committee," Dr. Larson said.

"Certainly, the WBA will support any legitimate charge. At the same time, we will not stand by and let the boxing world suffer because of indiscriminate, scattergun innuendoes that are based on emotional disappointment."

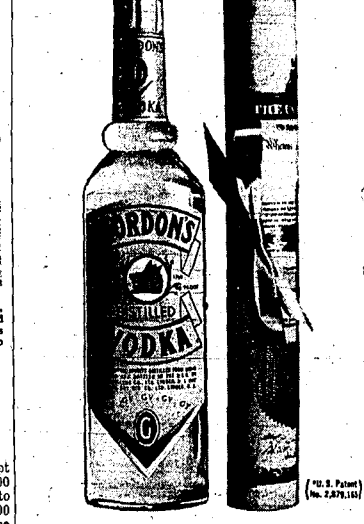

"As for Oliveri's ultimatum, 'Return match or Refaiver,' that is ridiculous. A rematch appears logical, but this must await deliberations and time."

"Pastrano's title will not be treated any differently than that of any other champion," Larson said. "This will not be a case of the tail wagging the dog."

Rule Changes for Hockey Loop Set

MONTREAL, June 4 (AP)—The National Hockey league rules committee broke the ice Monday, making rule changes to restrict stalling and provide proper replacement for goalies.

The action was the first taken at the circuit's annual summer meeting, to be closed by Wednesday's intra-league draft.

Under the new regulations, a bench-appeal will be assessed against any team whose players persist in stalling off after stoppage of play by remaining at the bench or skating around in center ice.

Another new rule hereafter makes it mandatory that the goal tender be within 10 feet of the bench when he is replaced whether by another goalie or a forward. Goalies will no longer be permitted to call time out in order to repair or adjust their face masks.

It had to be admitted, it is pretty. Kudos to Klien and Stone for running off the event. The last foursome tied-off only two minutes into the first day and the second was right on the money. This has to be a record!

Arizona to Miss AAU Track Meet

YEMAS, Ariz., June 4 (AP)—Arizona State university track and field coach Benon (Haidy) Ouellet Monday said he will keep his performance out of the AAU national championship in St. Louis June 30 unless sanction is given the meet by the U.S. Track and Field federation.

This means two of the nation's top competitors, sprinter Henry Carr and quartermiler Uila Williams, may lose their chances of competing in the U.S.-Russian meet in Moscow this summer.

Track Feud Is Rekindled, Cancellation of Russian Meet May Be Net Result

NEW YORK, June 4 (AP)—The war for control of track and field in this country exploded anew today, with the United States team that will oppose the Russians in Moscow in July caught squarely in the fall out. In the latest move in the alphabet soup battle, the nation's largest college conference, the Eastern College Athletic conference, in effect ruled that its athletes should not compete in the National Amateur Athletic Union track championships, where the U. S. team for Russia will be picked.

In California, there were indications the powerful Big Six conference would follow suit. Payton Jordan, who will coach the U. S. team against Russia, said the move might cancel the trip to Moscow.

Jordan, Stanford coach, said he had not seen the ECAC announcement, but it contained a possibility that our meet with Russia in July could be canceled if we would have to face a sub-standard team. I know the Russians won't want a hollow victory. They want to meet our best. If we can't, I doubt the Russians would want to come."

The AAU leveled a charge that the colleges, by cancelling the old amateur organization for track control, are out to wreck the AAU and its sub-standard team. I know the Russians won't want a hollow victory. They want to meet our best. If we can't, I doubt the Russians would want to come."

Asa Bushnell, ECAC commissioner, denied the charges and said his group wanted to see athletes to compete in the AAU nationals "but we want them to do so under procedures established at a peace negotiations session with Gen. Douglas MacArthur March 12.

The AAU also said that only one college athlete so far has entered the national championships. G. K. Yang of Formosa, the decision was made before he was eligible for the U. S. team.

The AAU also called for a new ruling on the dispute from Gen. MacArthur, who patched up the shaky peace that exists between the AAU and the U. S. Track and Field Federation, the rival group sponsored by the NCAA.

Col. Arthur H. Blake, the football coach who was spokesman for MacArthur during the Korean talks, said he would side with a ruling it should submit a specific bill of facts and ask for a ruling. He pointed out that no such request is currently before the general.

In his last communication on the dispute, the general said the differences "are more apparent than real" and would like to see the emotional reflexes involved.

The latest flare-up came when the Eastern College Athletic conference reversed its field and asked its members to stay out of AAU championships unless the AAU asks the Federation for sanction.

The AAU contends that this is dual sanction, and flatly refused. College athletic directors in the area immediately agreed they would comply with the ECAC request, and pull their athletes out of AAU meets, including the New York Athletic club summer meet Saturday.

Nicky Sperry, attorney for the AAU, said he would like to see the AAU and its clubs, even to the extent of excluding the U. S. team against Russia. And there are those who say they can claim the AAU couldn't field a proper team against Russia.

Manager Named
BALTIMORE, June 4 (AP)—Paul Hoffman was named Monday general manager of the Baltimore Orioles, replacing Earl Weaver.

Hoffman, 36, played in the NBA with Baltimore, New York and Philadelphia between 1947 and 1954 after he was graduated from Purdue university.

Fox Climbs Into American League Batting Picture

NEW YORK, June 4 (AP)—Nellie Fox of the Chicago White Sox, a shrewd hitter considered over the hill by some baseball experts, is showing the batting form that helped him win the American league's most valuable player award four years ago.

The 35-year-old second baseman boosted his average to .321 in last week's games by collecting 12 safeties in 31 tries, a .387 mark.

Fox slipped under .300 the three years after hitting .306 in 1959, the year he won the MVP and the White Sox captured the pennant. He has batted .300 or better in six of his 13 seasons with the Sox.

Nellie's comeback has lifted him into fifth place in the batting competition. The Angels' Wayne and Fred Mattern of Houston are deadlocked for the top spot at .343. Wagner moved up from second place with a one point increase while hitting .311 in 23 attempts. Malone's average remained the same. He also had eight for 23.

Wayne Causey, Kansas City, the leader a week ago, slumped to .271 in 23 tries. He had six safeties in 27 attempts.

Ward Robinson of the White Sox tumbled into fourth place.

Horse Is Withdrawn From Belmont Stakes

NEW YORK, June 4 (AP)—Sunny Jim Fitzsimmons withdrew one-half of his expected entry for the $125,000 Belmont stakes Saturday at Aqueduct, while trainers of five other horses sat back and waited for somebody else to make a move.

Mr. Fitz said Monday Orden Phipps would not put up $5,000 to make The Ithaca a supplementary nominee.

The New York Racing association still lists the names of 10 3-year-olds as possible starters in the 1 1/4-mile classic, but several of them are being played by ear.

First off, the prospect of tangling with the Canadian Colic Spots isn't encouraging some owners to put up the $125,000 necessary to get their colts into the starting gate for the final gallop of the Kentucky Derby-Preakness-Belmont triple crown series.

Orden Phipps was upset by John W. Galbreath's Chateauauy in the Derby May 4, but reversed the decision two weeks later in the Preakness. Last week, while Chateauauy was resting, Candy Spots romped off the NYR, and Derby everything built up in the retirement fund, he said. He did not identify the club.

Retzlaff said "I am disturbed over word that has reached me some owners in the league may be using the new forfeiture clause as a club in bargaining.

"I will look into whether or not this clause is being used to curtail the negotiating ability of the player," he said. "If it is, it must be determined whether this is a reasonable or unreasonable restraint of trade."

"If it is so, we would probably lodge a protest with the league," Retzlaff said.

He added he hadn't contacted NFL Commissioner Pete Rozelle, nor the players' legal counsel, before the general.

"The players' association is equally interested in the welfare of the league and would like to see players remain in the league," Retzlaff said. "But we don't want to see this clause used as an instrument to curtail the negotiating power of a player. There is little enough room now for bargaining power."
