

Demos Will Hold National Confab In Atlantic City

WASHINGTON, June 25 (AP)—The Democrats will hold their 1964 presidential nominating convention in Atlantic City, N. J., the week of Aug. 24. That decision announced by the party's national committee today puts the session the width of the continent away from and six weeks after, the Republican national convention which opens in San Francisco July 13. The full Democratic national committee unanimously accepted a recommendation from its site committee to return the convention to the East coast for the first time since 1948. That year Harry S. Truman was nominated at Philadelphia.

The first vote in the site committee came at a breakfast session but formal action by the full committee did not come until about three hours later. Earlier Chicago representatives had virtually conceded that their city had been eliminated from consideration because its Convention hall would not be available the week the Democrats wanted it.

Apparently both Chicago and Miami Beach, Fla., remained in the running until the final vote this morning.

Neither the Democratic nor the Republican national committee has ever held a nominating convention at Atlantic City.

For 1964, the Republicans already have chosen San Francisco, Oct. 12.

Hughes said the state and city offered the Democratic party $250,000 in cash to bring its nominating committee to Atlantic City plus free rental of the city's huge convention hall. Hughes estimated use of the hall would be worth $250,000.

The hall can seat more than 25,000 persons in its main arena. A second-floor auditorium can seat an additional 5,000 persons.

Plan to Stop Bankruptcy In U. N. Hit

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., June 25 (AP)—The 11-nation group of nations in the United Nations today voted to oppose a plan to stop bankruptcy in the United Nations.

The plan, contained in seven resolutions, was adopted by a general assembly for final action later this week.

The real test on U. N. financial reform was not expected until the next assembly session of 1964, when Russia and its communist partners, France and several other powers, would be in jeopardy of losing their votes for non-payment of dues.

Nebraskan Towns Flooded by Rains

WAHOO, Neb., June 25 (UPI)—Torrential rains up to 14 inches left several Nebraska towns either inundated or surrounded by flood waters today. Hundreds of families were homeless. Scores of others were warned to be ready to leave some areas on an hour's notice. Two persons were dead. Damage was in the millions.

Memphis and Valparaiso, Neb., were surrounded by the surging flood waters. At Ashland, Neb., early today, the water reached 14.55 feet and was still rising. A bridge at the north part of town began cracking, and a

The summer cloudburst hit the flat prairie country around the capital city of Lincoln. It sent such small drydocks as Bunk's, Turkey creek and Salt Creek bursting from their banks and rolling almost at will over the Nebraska countryside.

The torrential downpour caused mass flooding and turned small creeks into mile-wide rivers.

Red Cross said seven of its Nebraska chapters had given emergency assistance to 400 families.

Many more families found relief with relatives and friends. The Red Cross opened shelters for others in Wahoo, Ashland, Grete and Lincoln. A Red Cross feed unit from Lincoln aided flood victims and rescue workers at Lincoln.

The flooding struck hard at several central communities and spread southward during the night and early morning hours. Residents in low-lying areas of Beatrice in extreme southeast Nebraska were told to be ready to abandon their homes on an hour's notice should the predicted 16 feet above the normal 16-foot flood level.

Radio stations broadcast warnings throughout the night and police loud speakers roared the city blaring out warnings. A similar flood hit Beatrice in 1957. This one was expected to be worse.

State Adjutant Gen. Lytle Welch, stationed at an emergency headquarters at Lincoln, described the situation in Lincoln as "touch and go. It's like being in a battle," he said. "You can't see things too clearly right now."

Kennedy Clashes With de Gaulle in Frankfurt Speech

FRANKFURT, Germany, June 25 (AP)—President Kennedy clashed openly with President Charles de Gaulle of France today over the future of Europe and U. S. willingness to defend its allies. "The United States will risk its cities to defend yours because we need your freedom to protect ours," Kennedy said. He appealed to Allied leaders and peoples to unite in partnership with the United States and warned their failure to do so could break up the North Atlantic Treaty organization.

Speaking in historic St. Paul's church in this ancient German trade city, the President rejected de Gaulle's charge that Europe's future defense cannot rely on American nuclear might.

In words beamed all over Western Europe he denounced "without actually naming de Gaulle" "those who would doubt our pledge or deny that the defense of the West is indivisible."

Men who would split the allies or separate Europe from the United States, he said, would only give aid and comfort to the men who make themselves our adversaries and welcome any disaster.

The President, having spent two days in Bonn, the West German capital, came here by way of the U. S. military base at Wiesbaden, where he lunched with the troops.

As his motorcade proceeded through the countryside and along the streets to the center of the city, crowds cheered his progress, rivalling in enthusiasm the crowds he got driving through Cologne and Bonn on Sunday.

Minister-President Georg-August Zinn of Hesse estimated that a million people joined in the welcome to Kennedy.

At one point before making his speech, Kennedy walked into the crowd and shook hands with some of the people.

In St. Paul's church, a century-old symbol of German democracy and liberalism, a select audience of 900 German officials, dignitaries, dignitaries, business leaders and journalists heard the address.

Kennedy's carefully written policy speech was aimed beyond the old sandstone walls of the church to the far greater audience of Europe.

Wendell Boy Loses Leg in Farm Mishap

WENDELL, June 25—The left leg of Jay Warthen, 13, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Warthen, Wendell, was amputated Monday night after his leg was caught in the power takeoff of a hay baler. The youth was reported in "fair" condition Tuesday morning in St. Benedict's hospital, Jerome. Warthen was working alone with the hay baler Monday evening at the James Dunn farm southwest of Wendell. He said the baler became clogged and he got off to clear it.

He kicked at the machine and his pants leg caught in the power takeoff, drawing his foot into the machinery. The youth crawled back onto the tractor and drove it through the field until he met Dunn, who took him to the hospital.

Coronation For Pope To Be Outdoors

VATICAN CITY, June 25 (AP)—Vatican officials said Monday that the coronation of Pope Paul VI will be an outdoor ceremony for Pope Paul VI.

Unlike recent coronations, Pope Paul VI will be crowned outdoors, shorter and completely outdoors, Vatican officials said.

It will be in St. Peter's square June 30, starting about 8 p.m. Tens of thousands are expected to join the square. Delegations from many countries—including a U. S. group headed by Cardinal John F. Kennedy and a Brazilian mission possibly led by President Goulart—will have special places.

Former Cuba Leader Heads Island Group

MIAMI, Fla., June 25 (AP)—The Cuban Revolutionary Council elected a former prime minister of Cuba, Manuel Antonio de Viana, as its president Monday and struck back at its critics.

Viana succeeded Dr. Antonio Maceo, who resigned in protest to publicity of reported commando landings in Cuba.

The nine remaining council members resolved to "ratify and confirm the June 20 announcement of the dismemberment and infiltration into Cuba of some commando units."

The announcement, the council said, was made "at the petition of the commandos, and many days after having effected the infiltration."

The coalition of anti-Castro organizations disclaimed responsibility for "any exaggerated interpretations of said announcement," and denounced a "defamatory campaign" against it by other critics. The council gave no estimate of the number of men involved.

The U.S. has said it had no information about any large-scale infiltration into Cuba.

Doctor Says Nation Lags In Fitness

LEXINGTON, Ky., June 25 (AP)—An expert on sports medicine said Monday that while the United States has made great strides scientifically, "we haven't gotten off the launching pad in physical fitness."

Dr. Ernest Jokl, University of Kentucky physiologist, noted that former President Eisenhower started a physical fitness program and President Kennedy continued it.

But he said, "What has been done is nothing comparable to what has been achieved in science."

Jokl suggested a physical fitness class for one full hour daily in schools for students 6-18 years of age.

"That sounds revolutionary to some people," he said in an interview, "but 100 years ago people laughed when it was said everybody should learn to read and write."

Jokl said studies have shown that deducting one hour daily from the existing academic program for physical fitness "will improve the overall learning capacity of the child so much that the time lost will be more than compensated."

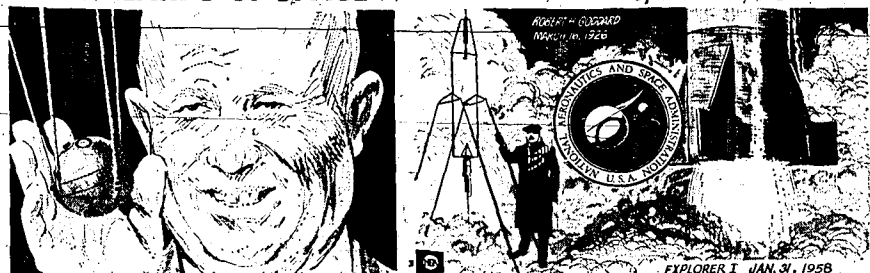

AMERICANS INVITED

BONN, June 25 (AP)—The West German government has invited President Kennedy to select 100 Americans to visit West Germany and Berlin. The invitation was extended by Werner Dollinger, minister for federal property, as a tribute to American generosity in providing postwar aid. No details on the proposal were immediately available. The American visitors would be chosen from political and economic fields.

By Don Oakley and John Lane

In 1954 National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics began studies on an advanced rocket plane, the X-15. By 1955 the Navy was working on the Vanguard rocket, which was to launch a tiny satellite sometime in 1958.

The approach to space was leisurely. Many experts considered it as something for the next century. Then, on Oct. 4, 1957, the Soviet's Sputnik I soared into the skies like a danger signal, jarring the U.S. once again out of complacency.

As with aviation in 1915, so with space research in 1957: America found itself left behind. NACA had been the answer in the field of aeronautics. Now a new organization was needed to answer the challenge in astronautics. On July 2, 1958, National Aeronautics, and Space Administration came into being.

Personnel and facilities of NACA were absorbed—Hugh L. Dryden, former NACA head, was made deputy administrator of the new agency. T. Keith Glennan became the nation's first space boss (succeeded by James E. Webb in 1961).

The Act of Congress establishing NASA stated, "It is the policy of the United States that activities in space should be devoted to peaceful purposes for the benefit of mankind."

Among the major objectives set forth:

- "The expansion of human knowledge of phenomena in the atmosphere and space."
- "The development and operation of vehicles capable of carrying instruments, equipment, supplies and living organisms through space."
- "Long-range studies of potential benefits to be gained from . . . aeronautical and space activities."

• "Preservation of the role of the United States as a leader in aeronautical and space science and technology."

• "Co-operation by the United States with other nations and groups of nations."

NASA went into operation in October 1958, nine months after America's first satellite, Explorer I, was launched. 32 years after rocket pioneer Dr. Robert H. Goddard had launched the world's first liquid-fueled rocket and 39 years after he had proposed a rocket to the moon.

One of NASA's new research centers was to be named after Goddard. A prophet was finally with honor in his own land as a whole nation embarked on what some believe to be the greatest adventure in history.

BOISE, June 25 (AP)—Secretary of State Arnold Williams wants to know where Farrel T. Uhling works.

He received a loyalty oath signed by Uhling, but the envelope had no return address.

Williams said he needs to know what state department or government unit Uhling works for before the oath can be filed.

But he said, "What has been done is nothing comparable to what has been achieved in science."

Jokl suggested a physical fitness class for one full hour daily in schools for students 6-18 years of age.

"That sounds revolutionary to some people," he said in an interview, "but 100 years ago people laughed when it was said everybody should learn to read and write."

Jokl said studies have shown that deducting one hour daily from the existing academic program for physical fitness "will improve the overall learning capacity of the child so much that the time lost will be more than compensated."

AMERICANS INVITED

BONN, June 25 (AP)—The West German government has invited President Kennedy to select 100 Americans to visit West Germany and Berlin. The invitation was extended by Werner Dollinger, minister for federal property, as a tribute to American generosity in providing postwar aid. No details on the proposal were immediately available. The American visitors would be chosen from political and economic fields.

West Germany First to Model Pattern of U. S. Peace Corps

WASHINGTON, June 25 (AP)—In launching its "German Development Service" with a helping hand from President Kennedy, West Germany has beaten at least a dozen other nations to the line in putting into operation the first organization modeled after the U. S. Peace Corps.

Kennedy joined in ceremonies at Bonn Monday, along with Gen. William C. Kingsbury, who will take over command of the 18th strategic aerospace division at Fairchild air force base west of here July 26. General Kingsbury, who now commands the third air division at Guam, will replace Brig. Gen. Harold W. Ohlke.

"The U. S. peace corps commenced in 1961," Kennedy said, "and I believe it has given us an opportunity to harness the idealism which is, I think to all free people, not merely in the cold field of economic help, but in the human relations which must exist for a happy understanding between people."

The peace corps, first proposed by the President during his 1960 campaign, provides trained manpower, teachers, skilled workers and other technicians in the developing nations.

WHIRLIGIG
BY ANDREW TULLY
WASHINGTON, June 25 — They finally did something about the crime wave in Washington. They arrested Eddie Hicks, who is 35, is not on the most-wanted list of the FBI, but he is for the present. He has been convicted of burglary, with a suspended sentence, and is now in the park at Dupont Circle. That, presumably, will show the burglar that the law means business.

GOLDWATER
President Kennedy, in his foreign policy address to American university graduates, seemed to divide the Russians into three categories—the leaders, the propagandists and the people. For example, here are some extracts from that speech, which was delivered as a "major" pronouncement. "Let us re-examine our attitude toward Barry Goldwater the Soviet Union. It is discouraging to think that their leaders may actually believe what their propaganda writers."

"No government or social system is so evil that its people must be considered as lacking in virtue. As Americans, we find ourselves profoundly interested in the Soviet Union as a nation of personal freedom. But we can still call the Russian people for their many achievements in science, space, in economic and industrial growth, in culture, in acts of courage." "The short, but the United States and its allies have a great and genuine peace and in halting the arms race. Agreements to this end are in the making. The Soviet Union, as well as ours—and even the most hostile nation can be relied upon to accept and keep their word. The United States has treaty obligations and only those treaty obligations which are in their own interest."

None Too Soon

Twin Falls county voters will decide Friday whether the county will provide some higher education for its high school graduates. There's a need for a junior college now and in two years the need will be critical. Where Twin Falls high schools graduate 1,450 students this spring, there's a potential of some 900 graduates for the spring of 1965. This county doesn't have a corner on that situation. The same picture is found all over the nation.

With colleges and universities already handling near capacity crowds of students, what will happen to the sudden increase in two years? Even at the colleges started preparing for the record influx right now, there wouldn't be sufficient facilities in two years to handle all the students who will be clamoring for admission.

In addition to those whose parents plan to send them along to college, there's another group who will never have the opportunity unless they can live at home while studying.

County students deserve the opportunity for at least two years of college. In some cases, they will transfer to four-year colleges and complete college education, but others will have to settle for only two years, for a variety of reasons.

Now is none too soon to get started on a college in Twin Falls county. The Times-News wholeheartedly endorses the proposal to create a junior college district which will include the whole county. It has been pointed out, the sensible course of action would be to include all of Magic Valley in such a junior college district. There can be no argument with that line of reasoning.

Realistically, it's quite doubtful that even one other county would approve inclusion in a junior college district right now. Looking into the future, it's possible several other counties might vote to participate in such a district when Magic Valley residents can observe a good two-year college doing an excellent job of helping high school graduates.

Now the best possible proposal is the district embracing all of Twin Falls county. It's not ideal, but such a district does provide an adequate tax base. Which serves to bring up the matter of costs.

Certainly a junior college isn't going to be free. No one has suggested the college would be financed in some mystical, magical fashion. State law provides junior funds to be made available for a junior college here, the funds presently are being used by cities and the county. City commissioners have pointed out the city and county would increase levies to make up for the addition.

In addition, the junior college district can levy up to 8.5 mills, but that maximum levy scarcely would be needed for some time, if ever. Boise Junior college, which has a faculty of 100 and student enrollment of 3,000, levied only 7.334 last year plus another mill for bond redemption. A Twin Falls county junior college obviously would not need anywhere near that amount.

If Twin Falls county voters approve the junior college district Friday, board members will have little time now to prepare for the influx of students in two years. The hour is late and the need is great. Voters are urged to keep in mind those more than 900 students presently in the county's high schools who will be eligible for more education in two years.

FEDERAL SQUEEZE
The proposed land and water conservation fund bill pending in congress isn't likely to meet with a great deal of favor in the West. The measures, senate bill 859, and house bill 3848, are designed to raise funds to preserve and improve outdoor recreation resources. But the details of how the funds would be raised put the proposal in a slightly different light.

For instance, contemplated charges include an annual $3 to $5 car admission sticker for admission to all federal recreation areas. Then there would be "modest" fees for use of improved swimming, picnicking or picnic grounds. Presumably, that includes such facilities as are available up Rock Creek. The car sticker would be required at most recreational areas administered by the bureau of reclamation and army engineers. That includes such places as Lake Walcott, American Falls reservoir, inland Park reservoir and Fallada reservoir.

No, there would be no fee for crossing federal land, but vehicles crossing federal land to reach summer home sites leased from the federal government would be required to have stickers. Stickers also would be required to reach winter sports areas leased from the federal government, such as the Magic Mountain winter sports area, for example.

The proposal comes from Secretary of the Interior Stewart Udall, obviously with the approval and backing of President Kennedy. If this one goes through, the next move is obvious—a tax on each lungful of air.

OH, STOUT IMMORALITY! — Possibly, Hicks is a menace to the community. But to those who don't like guitar music, but his arrest and conviction must give pause to the resident of Sioux Falls planning a sightseeing trip to national capital. Even if he is a lawless, this stout must wonder if it is safe to be caught roaming the city's streets or sitting on a park bench.

For Hicks was arrested for violating a statute which makes it an offense to be "immoral, profligate and dissolute... with no lawful means of employment, or support." Apparently, it is left up to the cop to define these terms, which is frightening.

For example, to mention religious sect, smoking and drinking coffee is immoral. If that definition were accepted, millions of Americans would be arrested every morning at their breakfast tables, a spot without a job has "no lawful means of employment or support." Look him up quickly, lest he spread anarchy. The traveling salesman who is on the road 10 months a year, has no "settled home." Call the paddy wagon.

WANTRELS TO JAIL—As interpreted here, Washington's vagrancy law also strikes at the very foundations of our economic system. Since it is an offense to be "immoral, profligate and dissolute," it is an offense to be a "wasteful or prodigal." Given to reckless extravagance. Apparently, they are going to have to build new jails to accommodate those Americans who bought new cars and television sets they couldn't afford.

If all this sounds ridiculous, it is all over the country, the lawbooks are cluttered with vague and outmoded statutes which if enforced would fill the jails with decent, respectable citizens. These laws are used to harass any individual about whom the police have suspicions but against whom they are unable to gather legal evidence or warrants.

COPS' CLAUSTROPHOBIA—Apparently, the cops were worried about the crowds Eddie Hicks attracted. Nervous cops are a danger. They probably were fearful that any large gathering might suddenly erupt into disorder. By nature, a cop is distrustful of crowds, because they are composed of people and some people commit crimes.

But in America, a man is supposed to be arrested only when he is suspected of a crime, not merely because he is a crowd. If we have reached the point where a citizen is arrested because he is a crowd, we have decided that citizen is planning some unlawful act, then we had better take to the barricades.

Views of Others

ROCK CANDY MOUNTAIN
Robert Theobald, author and economist, told a senate committee the other day that every American should have an absolute constitutional right to refuse him to live with dignity whether he worked or not.

The British-born writer, whose book, "Free Man and Free Society," is being published by Doubleday, and which is condensed in The Nation, calls this proposed government spend "basic economic security." To this, which would be "adequate for the needs of the individual and his family, or other principle called 'committed spending'."

Mr. Theobald says this is the way to beat automation. He believes that a small fraction of the population producing all the goods the country can use.

Mr. Theobald says that the high productivity machines that these persons would use to produce the goods would be used to produce the goods that these persons would use to produce the goods.

GONE TO HORSES
Dear Shooter:
Judging by some of the nasty things written by some of your constituents down through the years, I take it some folks feel that Twin Falls is going to the dogs.

Perhaps, but unbiased personal observation would lead one to revise such a judgment slightly. If Twin Falls is being taken over by the dogs, I feel main's best friend will have to share the reins with man's most noble rival, to wit, the horse.

Twin Falls certainly isn't a one-horse town. There has been some indication for some years that the horse set has been making much headway. But pile the Centennial year urge on top of it all and you cannot escape the conclusion Twin Falls has, indeed, gone to the horses.

Two Teachers Are Needed At Kimberly

KIMBERLY, June 25 — Two teachers still are needed to fill vacancies in the Kimberly school system, Robert Bismar, school superintendent, reports.

A sixth grade teacher is needed to fill the position left by Gilbert Koenig who will attend the Idaho State University, Pocatello, next fall. There is a need for a high school English teacher, preferably someone who would be qualified as a foreign language instructor also.

Mrs. Joie Davidson will return to the grade school faculty to fill the vacancy left by the resignation of Ellen Reid. Mrs. Helen Dietz will replace Mrs. Helen Skinner in the commercial department.

Mrs. Ella Hilderbrand will rejoin the faculty, after a year's absence, to fill the position of counselor, administration assistant and English instructor in the junior high school.

Anyone qualified and interested in the vacant positions is urged to contact Sherman at the high school or his home in Kimberly.

Sherman stated that the general building maintenance program is well under way. The construction will be completed this summer.

He said there were approximately 25 students participating in the summer driver's training program under the instruction of Lee Fortin. The students are divided into early morning and evening classes.

Lincoln Meet Plans for 4-H Fair Events

SHOSHONE, June 25 — Plans for the Lincoln county fair 4-H activities were outlined at the leaders council meeting at the courthouse Saturday night.

Lincoln County 4-H chairman, Mrs. Larry Twa, vice chairman, and Mrs. Joyce Bernard, secretary.

The group voted to have a deputized night watchman at the fairgrounds during the fair this year. Livestock club members are asked to use chains on their animals left there rather than ropes. Last year several of the animals were injured.

Richfield leaders announced a livestock judging tour July 19, to which they invited other club members of the county.

Girls' countywide achievement day was set for July 19-23.

The leaders voted to acquire tape for 4-H members to use in measuring weight of animals.

V. G. Ross, who attended the district fair business session at Jerome announced the district demonstration contest would be divided into three parts: Junior, for those up to 12 years old; Intermediate, for 12- and 13-year-olds; and seniors for 14-year-olds and up. Lincoln county will follow the same procedure, the group decided.

There will be no breeding exhibits at the district fair this year.

Decision was made to have each livestock club appoint a junior leader to report to the county agent's office and give a count of all animals at the fair where stalls were cleaned in the one-week period.

If qualified, they will be able to pick up their barn awards for cleanliness. This must be done within a 30-day period after the fair.

Each club also will be asked to appoint one junior leader to serve on the flag-raising ceremony committee. Glen Ross is adviser for the event.

STEAK FRY PLANNED
SHOSHONE, June 26 — A cook-out will be held at the Mary L. Gooding park Friday evening by the MIA. Mary's class of Shoshone-Dietrich LDS church. There will be a steak fry.

News Around Idaho

BOISE, June 25 (AP)—Idaho's electrical generating capacity has climbed 300 per cent in 13 years, and now exceeds that of the entire New England states combined, the department of commerce and development reports. Louise Shaddock, executive secretary, said a government study shows that Idaho's capacity is 1,400,000 kilowatts. The New England states with double Idaho's capacity in 1950, increased 50 per cent in the same period.

BOISE, June 25 (AP)—Figures compiled by the U. S. fish and wildlife service list 220,214 holders of fishing licenses and 171,000 owners of permits in Idaho in 1962. The state fish and game department figures differ somewhat from those listed by the state agency, which counts holders of combination hunting-fishing licenses only once. The federal agency lists them twice, once for hunting and once for fishing.

POCATELLO, June 25 (AP)—Roland W. Osborne, 27, Fort Hall, turned himself in to Bannock county authorities Monday, bring to 17 the number of former employees of the Gay mine charged in the beating of three mine workers. Osborne's arrest comes in the charging of 14 who were indicted by a federal grand jury on charges of assault and conspiracy to commit assault. Three others had been charged earlier in connection with the May 28 beating of the workers as they returned home from the struck mine on the Fort Hall reservation.

BOISE, June 25 (AP)—Construction projects now under contract by the Idaho state highway department number 44 and cover 247 miles of road. Their total cost is $25,823,832. Reporting the figures today, the department said 15 projects covering 91 miles are on the interstate highway system with the total cost adding up to $19,224,232. Other state highway jobs number 21, cover 55 miles and cost $11,975,976. Eight bureau of public roads projects covering 61 miles make up the remaining $4,523,724. The bulk of the interstate projects are in southeastern Idaho, with jobs in that area. Southwestern Idaho has two interstate projects in progress and three are under way in the north.

BOISE, June 25 (AP)—Communicable disease cases reported in Idaho during the past week totaled 190, 33 per cent less than figures for three previous weeks, the health department reported Monday. Included were 88 cases of measles, 40 of streptococcal, 11 of infectious mononucleosis, five infectious hepatitis, four rheumatic fever and three tuberculosis.

POCATELLO, June 25 (AP)—Albertson's, Inc. will begin construction here by the end of a half-million dollar supermarket at Alameda and Yellowstone. J. L. Berlin, Boise, Albertson's executive vice president, said a proposal for a shopping center at the site to include other facilities is in the planning stage. The proposed store will encompass approximately 10,000 square feet, compared with 13,650 feet in another store here.

POCATELLO, June 25 (AP)—More than 400 persons attended Tuesday morning when the governor of Idaho, the mayor of Pocatello, the chairman of the Bannock county commission and a flock of other dignitaries gathered for the Pocatello kickoff of the Idaho Centennial celebration. The 11 admission entitled the purchase of hotcakes, and Centennial ceremony featuring Gov. Robert E. Smylie, State Sen. Perry Swisher, Mayor Earl Pond and County Commission Chairman Emmett Baker. Dignitaries of pioneer residents, musicians and Centennial celebrants were expected.

BOISE, June 25 (AP)—Expansion of service by two Boise valley firms was authorized Monday by the Idaho public utilities commission. The Caldwell Bus company, Inc., Caldwell, was authorized to operate charter bus service for various civic, religious, social, educational, fraternal and youth groups. In the past it has transported only school children. City Delivery Service, Inc., Boise, was authorized to expand the territory in which it operates in southern Idaho.

POCATELLO, June 25 (AP)—U. S. Sen. Frank Church and Rep. Ralph Harding were advised today by the department of health, education and welfare that Tayson Construction company, Pocatello, has been selected to build a health center on the Fort Hall Indian reservation. The contract, for $96,700, will include construction of a garage and shop building. Government estimates on the project were $99,500. The buildings must be completed within 240 days. The 11 admission entitled the purchase of hotcakes, and Centennial ceremony featuring Gov. Robert E. Smylie, State Sen. Perry Swisher, Mayor Earl Pond and County Commission Chairman Emmett Baker. Dignitaries of pioneer residents, musicians and Centennial celebrants were expected.

BOISE, June 25 (AP)—Suspension of the retail beer and liquor license held by the Sportsman's club at Weiser was announced Monday by Warner G. Miller, state liquor law enforcement director. The suspension is for 30 days effective July 1. Miller said it is based on charges that the club sold beer and liquor to a minor.

IDAHO FALLS, June 25 (AP)—Idaho's civil defense director, Brig. Gen. Stewart S. Massey, arrived in Idaho Falls Monday night to lead flood-threatened areas in western Idaho. Massey's trip came on the heels of a report from the U. S. weather bureau that a storm front was headed into the area which would dump more than an inch of rain on the swollen Snake river. But Monday night the weather bureau said the front had weakened considerably and was not considered to be a dangerous threat. Massey's tour will focus on Rigby, north of Idaho Falls, where high waters of the Snake have confined the Jeres, causing some seepage. The director said in Boise before leaving for Idaho Falls that if the area gets a heavy rain, water could go over the existing levees.

POCATELLO, June 25 (AP)—The Pocatello city commission refused to budget Monday afternoon in negotiation with Boise Cascade, operating over rental of a large warehouse at the Pocatello Municipal Airport. At last week's meeting, a spokesman for the firm told the commission it wanted to lease the warehouse, but told the rental fee $48,000 for the first year and $60,000 thereafter, with Boise Cascade providing a $20,000 fire insurance policy was too high. The spokesman, Marion Coleman, said the firm would pay the rental but not the insurance or would be willing to pay $4,500 for the first year and $4,400 per year thereafter, and pay costs of the insurance, estimated at about $800 per year. However, Ken Douglas, chairman of the airport commission, said rental on the structure was computed on the same basis as for other warehouse tenants.

Cleveland Boy, 5, too Young For Birds, but Knows Bees

CLEVELAND, O., June 25 (AP)—Brian Dickson is only 5 and perhaps too young to know about birds and bees. But he does know plenty about bees.

Brian dived into a beehive Monday without a protective net and came up with an armful of honeycomb, bees and all. He did it to prove his grandfather's contention that Brian is Greater Cleveland's youngest beekeeper.

Brian has been helping Grandpa Otto Korman run his 500-hive bee operation in suburban Middleburg Heights since he was 4. Korman was county bee inspector until he resigned a few weeks ago.

Brian admits to having been stung a couple of times when he first started in the bee business. Now he has the immunity that comes with fearlessness, according to Korman, a beekeeper for 40 years.

Speaker Hits Lag in U.S. Growth Rate

SUN VALLEY, June 25 (AP)—An Idaho speaker today blamed a lack of the necessity for hard work for what he describes as a lagging U. S. economic growth rate.

R. V. Hansberger, president of Boise Cascade corporation, told the Pacific Northwest Conference of Savings and Loan associations Monday that the U. S. growth rate has dipped to 2.3 per cent a year, less than that of the Soviet Union, the Common Market countries and Japan.

He said the reason is that people of other countries are working harder than Americans, who no longer have to work hard to secure the necessities of life.

"Since the struggle for material rewards is no longer a motivation for hard work," Hansberger said, "we must substitute social rewards such as social acceptance, recognition and responsibilities. We must give our workers a sense of accomplishment."

Hansberger said an organization's objectives should be defined and its workers should be made to feel they are members of a team.

Lonkey says the information center will operate for at least the next three years. It has operated for three years now and is termed a success by Lonkey who was assisted by Wilford Wilson, Salem, Ore., and Guy Peterson, Sunnyside, Wash., interviewers.

3 Questions Requested in School Case

BOISE, June 25 (AP)—The Idaho Education association lists three questions it says it wants to answer in an investigation of the case of Onan Mechem as Jefferson county school superintendent.

James A. Crowley, executive secretary, said the IEA is not attempting to substitute its judgment for that of the county school board but is raising questions "which must be answered satisfactorily if the best interests of the school and community are to be served."

The association earlier asked educators not to apply for the vacant position until its investigation was complete.

The questions:
"Reasons for the superintendent's release."
"If his services were unacceptable, why wasn't he notified prior to June 13?"

"Why the long delay in making public the decision not to renew Mr. Mechem's contract when such a delay jeopardized the possibility of his securing an acceptable position within the state?"

Double Ring Wedding Rites Unite Couple

PAUL, June 25—Barbara Weber, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ruben Weber, Heyburn, was married to Warner Frost, son of Mrs. Polly Widmer, Burley, and Earl Frost, Kimberly.

The Rev. Edwin Huber performed the double ring ceremony May 24 at the Paul Congregational church, before white candles flanked by bouquets of aqua carnations and white stocks.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white floor-length sheath gown of silk organza. The bodice was fashioned with an empire neckline and three-quarter-length sleeves. A panel of large scalloped lace accented by pearls and sequins adorned the front of the gown. The back of the skirt formed a chapel train.

Clusters of satin roses and pearls accented her elbow-length bouffant veil of nylon. She carried a cascade bouquet of pink baby roses encircled by stephanotis, centered with white gardenias and tied with silk net.

Maid of honor was Marlene Weber, sister of the bride. She wore a pink organza dress styled with a boat neckline which formed a V in the back. The bouffant skirt was ballerina length. She carried a bouquet of white scattered cushioned chrysanthemums and croton leaves tied with white ribbon.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. Herbert Ashby, Edna Beeler and Mrs. Robert Elster. Each wore aqua blue dresses styled identical to the maid of honor. Each carried a bouquet of white scattered cushioned chrysanthemums and croton leaves tied with white ribbon.

Wayne Beck was best man. Ushers were Robert Ma, Don Holm and Jay Moline.

Background organ music was played by Mrs. Alan Hegerich. For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Weber selected a dress of multi-colored funis lace with blue, with white accessories. The bridegroom's mother chose a beige suit dress with pink and beige accessories. Each wore a

MS and S Club Celebrates Anniversary

The 50th anniversary of the MS and S club was celebrated at the YWCA building with present and former members attending.

A summary of the history of the club was related by Mrs. Nellie Pierce. The club was originally called "The Mothers' Surprise and Study Club." It began on a June day in 1913 when a group of women paid a surprise visit to Mrs. Mabel Woodwards in honor of the birth of her new baby daughter. It was because of a suggestion by Mrs. Woodwards' mother that the club was started.

A skit portraying that first meeting in 1913 was presented by Mrs. Clifford Davis, Mrs. Alfred House, Mrs. Stan Deisewiler, Mrs. Robert Black, Mrs. Irvin Hodelstad, Mrs. Jim Requa, Mrs. Charles Requa, Mrs. John Burkhardt and Mrs. Kenneth Poe.

Mrs. John Pastoor, granddaughter of the first president, Mrs. Reed Brown, sang "We of No Heart" and "Memories," songs popular in that era.

Tribute was paid to the charter member, Mrs. Nellie Griggs, by Mrs. Clara Anderson and Mrs. Poe. A memorial tribute was given by Mrs. Esther Perry assisted by Mrs. Pastoor and Mrs. Requa, and a tribute to past presidents by Mrs. Nora Hudson. Mrs. Perry presented a pink carnation to each president present.

A medley of piano selections was played by Mrs. Jim Requa. Students of the Donna-Mauldin School of Dancing presented two dances "Pick-a-nicking in the Park" and "Minute Mumbo."

A style show of fashions worn in the "roaring twenties," and a wedding dress of 1912 vintage, were presented.

The tea tables were decorated in pink and white. The three-tiered anniversary cake was flanked by arrangements of carnations and tapers. Refreshments were served.

Refreshments were served.

TRAILWAYS

Trailways schedules are the thrust (no bus changes to Denver, St. Louis or Dallas, Texas)! The buses the new-est (Eagle Fleet luxury liners)! The routes the viewing-est (America's most scenic routes)! The drivers the smiling-est. Superlatives, yes! But, Trailways is superlative travel across the nation. And, it costs so little.

LDS Stake Confab Held In Burley

BURLEY, July 25—The LDS Stake conference was held Saturday and Sunday at the Burley clubhouse with Stake President Isaac W. Lee officiating. Sunday school and Mutual Improvement association conventions were held Saturday afternoon. Dr. Stewart A. Wright, young men's MIA, Virginia B. Lake, young women's MIA, and Charles W. Aldous, of Sunday School general board, all Salt Lake City, were in charge of the conventions on Saturday and were featured speakers at the Sunday conference meetings. The conventions were conducted by Merlin Stock, superintendent of the Stake Sunday school, Jack Boddy, president of the YALMA, and Belva Russell, president of the YLMA.

About 2500 members and friends attended the Sunday sessions. Special music was furnished by the Second ward choir, under the direction of Nile Kinghorn, with Edna Church at the organ. The choir sang for the morning and afternoon sessions. A youth chorus from the Primary of the Eighth ward, led by Mrs. Betty Bowcutt and accompanied by Gloria Day, sang at the evening session. Prelude, psalms and accompaniment for congregational singing was Robert Hamblin, stake organist. Mrs. Jean Yarrington was sustained as second counselor in the stake Relief society and Mrs. Betty Bowcutt was sustained as Primary stake chorister. President Harvey Steel, chairman of "Education week," which will be conducted by Brigham Young University educators July 1-3 in Burley, spoke on the value to the community of this course. Elder Stewart A. Wright commended the stake on the 10 per cent increase in activity in the past year by the young men. He stated, "Our youth needs protection from vicious literature and entertainment. Idleness is not a part of our way of life. We have a heritage of work and perseverance which we must pass on to our posterity."

Virginia B. Lake of the general board of the YLMA stated that young people stand on the bridge of "temptation." She said there are more temptations in the world today than ever before.

but there are also more opportunities for those who are willing to make the proper decisions and work.

Charles W. Aldous of the general board of the Sunday school repeated the theme of the Sunday school convention, "By their fruits ye shall know them," and said that the Sunday school has the responsibility for teaching the Gospel to the membership of the church. Merlin Stock, stake superintendent of Sunday schools, spoke on the need for righteous living. High councilman Norman Casalia area education week is scheduled July 1 to 3 at the fifth-seventh ward chapel in Burley, according to Mrs. Inez Fowles, Oakley, first ward educational director. Anyone may attend the three-day school which is non-denominational. Various courses are being offered in almost any subject and a person can attend all or choose any available. Tickets must be bought in advance if a person wishes to attend all day but may be obtained at the door for just one or more classes during the day. No one will be admitted to any class without a registration card or ticket. Tickets may be purchased from Mrs. Fowles or any of the heads of the LDS organizations.

In referring to a recent ruling of the supreme court concerning prayer and reading of the Bible in our schools he said, "We are so anxious to grant complete freedom to those who would destroy us that we may lose our own freedom." President F. M. Carter admonished everyone to follow the program of the church in order to live a happy useful life.

TOTAL PERFORMANCE:

IF YOU KNEW WHAT THIS "CAR KILLER" KNOWS...YOU'D BE DRIVING A SOLID, SILENT SUPER TORQUE FORD

This steel-edged pothole is probably the world's toughest test of a car's suspension. We drive into this car killer at 30 mph, locking our brakes as we go so the wheels can't roll through the hole as they normally would. The car slams against the far edge of the hole with such impact that it literally bounces out. If you added up the cumulative effect of all the jars and jolts your car's suspension system experiences in years of normal driving, it would match the impact of one trip through the hole. Yet—a Ford must run this test three times to prove its strength. How can a Ford take it? Because Ford's front suspension has extra beef in splines, springs, suspension arms—in fact, it's about 20 pounds heavier than the front suspension of our principal competitor's car. We don't expect you to abuse your car the way we do our test cars. But, however you drive, you'll welcome the extra strength of a total performance Ford. Ford strength is tested in a thousand ways in Ford's laboratories and proving grounds—and in open competition in the world's toughest rallies and stock car events.

Look at Ford's astounding record in open competition this year in the grueling Daytona, Riverside, and Atlanta 500's, the World 600 at Charlotte, N.C., and in the demanding Pure Oil Performance Trials. Only a car with total performance—the best combination of strength, balance, precision control and road-climbing suspension—could roll up so many wins. Before you buy any new car, test-drive the solid, silent Super Torque Ford. If you haven't driven one lately, you can't really know what a new Ford is like. Make this important discovery: If it's built by Ford, it's built for performance...total performance.

WIMBLEDON, England, June 25 (AP)—Dennis Ralston, Bakersfield, Calif., led five Americans through the first round of the Wimbledon tennis tournament Monday, while favored Roy Emerson, Australia, crushed William Lenoir, Tucson, Ariz. Five other Americans also lost on a day marred by a cold wind and rain that frequently halted play and cut the opening program short.

First-Place Yanks Lose To Sox 5-2

CHICAGO, June 25 (AP)—Camilo Carreras' three-run double in the fourth inning carried the Chicago White Sox to a 5-2 victory over the first-place New York Yankees Monday night and pulled them to within one game of the American League leaders.

The triumph, before 42,748, largest Chicago crowd of the season, was the third for the Sox over the Yankees without defeat.

Roger Maris gave rookie southpaw Al Downing a 1-0 lead when his 15th homer in the second inning put rookie Pete Ward tied in the bottom of the second with his ninth homer that extended Ward's hitting streak to 13 games, longest in the majors this season.

Those were the only hits in the game until Downing was touched for a two-run single in the fourth by Jim Nicholson. Ward also singled and Harper walked to lead the bases. Tom McDrew walked, forcing in the lead run and Carreras, with a 0-2 count, cleared the bases with his double.

Caddy Gets Big Payoff in Open

BROOKLINE, Mass., June 25 (AP)—Caddies can win, too. Here's how Peter DeZella picked up $1,000 at the U.S. Open that ended Sunday.

DeZella, a 20-year-old Springfield youth and senior at Providence, R. I., College, began his streak of luck last Monday morning when the new National Open Champion, Julius Boros, walked up to a fish boat at The Country Club and picked out one of 170 caddie numbers—58.

That was DeZella's number.

"I'm not much for playing," explained DeZella afterward. "But Mr. Boros wasn't too concerned. He wanted the clubs cleaned after every shot, balls kept in the bag, and I was to keep quiet."

"We walked very little. I said several times, 'nice shot, sir,' and he'd look and smile and maybe nod to me."

Palmer Closes in On Golf Record

BROOKLINE, Mass., June 25 (AP)—Professional golfer appeared headed toward his first $100,000 payday when he won Monday in the wake of Julius Boros' triumph in the U.S. Open tournament.

By finishing third in the three-way playoff Sunday, Arnold Palmer raised his top money winnings on the circuit to $62,545.

He set a record by pocketing $81,445.33 in 1962.

Boros jumped to second place in the standings, finishing 100,000 in his Open victory. Jack Nicklaus is third with $58,000.

Since winning the Colonial on May 12, Boros has won $44,155 in six weeks.

The $100,000 earnings open will be held in Cleveland this week, with $22,000 going to the winner.

Boros jumped to second place in the standings, finishing 100,000 in his Open victory. Jack Nicklaus is third with $58,000.
