Along Fences and Canals

Mrs. Ben Goum, Shoshone, came up with a novel idea for decorations at the grassman tour banquet. Miniature farm animals were used to decorate the floral decorations in keeping with the grassman theme.

A yearling white-faced heifer belonging to Ladrus Sorenson, Dietrich, was killed recently by a bullet from an unknown source. Lincoln county Sheriff Thomas Coon is investigating. Value of the animal was also.

Elmer Young, Tullie, was injured in a farm accident recently when he fell from a bale slip and the slip went over him. His right leg was cracked above the ankle. Ligaments and muscles were sprained and bruised. The tractor driver was Arlie Jacobson. He stopped when he saw Young fall and helped the slip from him.

Mice in the fields are giving the farmers at Tullie a great deal of trouble by filling up corrugations with dirt and chewing-bale straps in two. There are about six or eight mice under each bale, but of note. Mice may become a real menace to crops.

Conservation Chief Scores Use of Chemicals in Water

BOISE, July 5 (AP)—A departing state soil conservationist has warned the state of dangers in years to come.

"The warning flag is up," said Fry, "and the U.S. forestry act will tell you that."

Fry left his statehouse office to return to his ranch near Hottelshoe Bend. He held his post here for four years.

Fry, a thin man with a deeply concentrating, weathered face, said the danger of pollution may not show any overnight damage, "but we will live to see them in our streams."

Harmful from industries that dump into streams, chemical wastes, and other pollutants, along with bacteriological wastes, are slowly choking to death all the marine life in the streams, Fry said.

The seeping of chemicals into the streams, which Fry said has increased rapidly in the past 10 years, plants a firm crust over the surface of the water. This crust blocks the passage of oxygen into the streams.

Microorganisms absorb oxygen from the water, either from man or industrial, once waste hits the water.

"The water, last of its oxygen and loaded with chemicals and bacteria," Fry said, "is used extensively for irrigation purposes."

"The waste 'leaching' by stream create a health hazard when pumped into irrigation canals."

"These things aren't so bad now with the high water," Fry said. "They'll be noticeable later this summer when the water is down."

"The human eye doesn't see this and I don't profess to say that," Fry said, "but you can see the water going to sea."

When our water starts passing through Idaho and on down to California, under a deep head, and the pollution in Idaho is consequently lessened, there will be some noticeable changes," he added.

The bacteriological problems in Idaho streams pushed the Idaho health department into some "clean up or else" orders last summer. Hearings were conducted throughout the southern part of the state to get municipalities and industries to treat wastes before dumping wastes into rivers.

But little has been done about the chemical dosages into the streams, Fry said. Farmers use more and more chemical sprays, especially DDT, each year, he said.

The U.S. forestry service, in spraying for spruce budworm last summer, noted that the chemicals caused damage to fish in streams, under the spraying areas, Fry said. The service is conducting a series of tests in Idaho this summer to determine the damage of insecticide spraying on streams.

Fry predicted that substitutes for DDT will be abundant in a few years, as an effort to alleviate chemical and feeding damages on streams.

1963 Corn Crop Is Tamed Good

BOISE, July 5.—The 1963 corn crop looks very good, with weather permitting, the seasonal crop should get under way around Aug. 15, said St. Zehnbecher, field superintendent for the Green Giant company.

More than 5,000 acres of corn were planted this year, with the peak planting of the crop completed June 24, the official stated.

First irrigations have started. The corn had to be sprayed more than usual this year as the excellent amount of rainfall brought many weeds.

Foreign Engineers Tour Southern Idaho Projects

Some 15 foreign agricultural engineers spent Tuesday and Wednesday in Magic Valley observing agricultural and irrigation practices in the area, the tour, arranged by U.S. department of agriculture, has become a yearly event.

The engineers consisted of five from Yugoslavia, two from Turkey and one each from Argentina, Ecuador, Afghanistan, Ceylon, Indonesia, Panama, Iraq and Uganda. Their host on the tour throughout Idaho was James B. Barker and Dorrell Larsen, extension irrigationist.

According to Larsen, Idaho is one of the states included yearly in the program. This is because of the varied irrigation practices found throughout the area. The visitors can see anything from simple sprinkling projects to ex-ensive pump projects from the Snake river. In addition, on the tour the visitors view the systems used to collect waste water for reuse.

According to Larsen they are always interested in structures on the canal systems and the operation of the distribution systems.

James Smith, Minidoka county agent, was the official host when the group entered the Minidoka project—Tuesday—from Pocatello. As the group progressed from one county to the other they were met by the county agents and those who would participate in talks scheduled on the tour.

Donald Youst and Olin Glenn, both Twin Falls county agents, and A. R. Robinson, director, Snake River field conservation station, and Al Peters, manager, Twin Falls Canal company, met the group east of Murtaugh.

Peters explained to the group the mousing operation being carried on by the canal company. Peters also detailed chemical mousing. In addition, Peters explained how the water is distributed.

After touring the Twin Falls tract the group departed for Boise.

Secretary Freeman to Inspect Soviet Agriculture Operations on Farm Tour

WASHINGTON, July 4 (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman has scheduled a farm tour of the Soviet Union, including agricultural facilities in the Soviet Union and several countries, beginning about July 15.

Freeman is expected to spend 18 days in the Soviet Union, inspecting all phases of Soviet agriculture.

He will be accompanied by Mrs. Freeman and the agriculturists and scientists from the department.

Besides the USSR, Freeman and his group will visit Poland, Rumania, Bulgaria and Yugoslavia.

Freeman's visit will be within the framework of the United States-USSR agreement on exchanges in the scientific, educational and cultural fields for 1962-63. In effect, the visit will repay one made here in September and October, 1962, by K. G. Fryan, the then minister of agriculture of the Soviet Union and five other ranking soviet agricultural experts. Fryan since has lost his job.

The group is expected to travel from Washington to Moscow by commercial plane and to use Soviet planes within the USSR. Under present plans, at the end of 18 days a United States plane will pick up the Freeman party at Moscow and fly the group to Warsaw, Sofia, Bucharest, Belgrade and back to Washington, take the initiative in any talks regarding trade relations between the United States and the USSR. Freeman said the USSR is likely that he would like to know that any plans for trade expansion between the two countries would be predicted largely on easing of cold war tensions.

Minidoka Support Rate Is Announced

RUPERT, July 5—1953 support prices for minidoka were announced by George Abo, chairman, agriculture, stabilization and conservation committee. The committee's support rate includes grain and dry chick beans and are available to eligible growers by direct loan or purchase agreement completed by Jan. 31, 1954. The support rate for wheat is $1.70 per bushel for No. 1 wheat stored on the farm. A storage deduction of 10 cents per bushel for stored grain, the amount of reduction depending upon the storage time. A schedule of premiums and discounts also applies according to the wheat quality. Only those producers who produce within their acreage allotments will be eligible for direct support.

The support price for barley is 85 cents per bushel and the base rate for barley trading No. 2 or better, farm stored. Rates are adjusted by discounts for grade and quality. Price support is available only to those producers who are participating in the 1953 feed grain program.

The oats rate is 65 cents per bushel, for No. 1 grade or better stored on the farm. Participation in the 1953 feed grain program is not a condition of price support eligibility, said Abo.

Spring Pigs Register Large Gain

BOISE, July 5—The 1953 spring pig crop is estimated at 122,000 head for Idaho, says the crop reporting service. The spring pigs are those saved from Dec. 1 to May 31. The crop is the largest ever, more than the 1952 crop and is 11 per cent higher than the five-year average, says the service.

Estimated number of sows that farrowed this spring is 16,000 and about 100,000 piglets were saved. There were 14,000 sows farrowing in 1952 and the five-year average is 13,000 sows. Pigs saved per litter tied the record high set in 1951. Based upon Idaho swine producers some 12,000 sows will be farrowing this spring, the service is forecasting. The five-year average of 14,000 fall sows and above this, 1953 figures of the 1953 spring pig crop is estimated at 90,016,000 head. This is an increase of 100 per cent of the 1952 figure of 49,200, but less than the 1951 figure of 70,000.

The Idaho swine farrowing during the December-May period was 7,000 sows, the five-year average of 6,000 sows. The number of pigs saved averaged 7.14 per litter. The average number of piglets per litter was the second highest on record.

National figures reported in December 1952 show that 207,000 sows will farrow this fall.

Engineers Tour Minidoka Area

RUPERT, July 5—Fifteen agricultural engineers from foreign countries spent Tuesday in Minidoka county looking over agricultural operations as part of an exchange study tour in southern Idaho.

Yancey Smith, Minidoka county agricultural agent, was made to the Carl Williams and Raymond Krawitzer farms on the Northway.

Smith related that the morning was spent touring the project and during the afternoon visitors attended a special meeting at the courthouse, where different phases of the agricultural program were explained. Clarence Gully, bureau of reclamation, explained the outside planning and management of the Snake river was discussed by Glen Stansbury, bureau of reclamation, Burley.

Valley Farmer Converts Bus to Hay-Hauling Rig

KIMBERLY, July 5—Leonard Hedrick is busy these days driving an old school bus. Only the bus isn't hauling students, it's hauling hay.

Hedrick operates a farm near the old Pleasant Valley schoolhouse, south of Kimberly.

The converted school bus looks like anything but a school bus. It resembles a long mobile platform, and according to Hedrick, it is "exactly what it should look like. Hedrick completely stripped the bus of its body and main framework. It then constructed an eight-by-21-foot wooden platform over the motor and chassis.

The platform was extended over the motor and the difference in height was leveled off by putting a framework under the rear of the chassis. A small corner on the front of the platform was left for a driver's seat, steering wheel, clutch, brake and gearshift. Everything else is reconstructed under the platform.

Down the middle of the platform Hedrick constructed a loading chain assembly to move hay bales from the front of the machine to the rear. The chain assembly can work in either direction for loading or unloading.

Hedrick then constructed a bed for pickup assembly in the center of the front end of the

Alfalfa Damaged Near Richfield

RICHHFIELD, July 5—Hail damage to some alfalfa fields near Richfield has been reported by farmers who had first believed crops weren't hurt because fields weren't flattened or stripped to the stems.

The damage became apparent when the alfalfa started to turn yellow and was found to be broken off at the tip and riddled with holes.

"Timothy hay and orchard grass, often planted with the alfalfa, stood up well and the alfalfa damage was covered up for a longer time.

Slaughter of Gem Red Meat Is Climbing

BOISE, July 5—The production of red meat by the commercial member of the American Livestock Breeders association last month was estimated at 12,976,000 pounds by the crop-reporting service.

This is 16 per cent above the output of May 1952 and slightly above April 1953. The cumulative production of red meat last January through May 1953 totaled 67,227,000 pounds, one per cent above the same time last year. The cumulative dressed slaughter during May 1953 was above a year earlier. The dressed weight of calves, sheep and hogs was below May 1952.

A comparison of May 1953 with a year earlier shows more calves and slaughter of hogs and sheep. There was a year earlier shows more calves and slaughter of hogs and sheep. There was a year earlier shows more calves and slaughter of hogs and sheep.

Gem Farm Bureau Gives Top Priority To Congressional Agricultural Act

POCATELLO, July 5.—Top priority has been assigned by Gem Farm Bureau to the goal of getting the so-called agricultural act of 1963 enacted by Congress.

Idaho Farm Bureau federation President L. B. Martin reported that the act is a large step toward progress, but according to Vassodini it is a tractor or big sprayer.

Few Afghan farmers could afford to operate one. Repairing them is difficult and finding a mechanic almost impossible. Fuel is expensive and Afghanistan is not a wealthy nation.

There is, however, a need for some mechanization and that mechanization must be excellent. Large massive spraying problems are handled by the government. Spraying large open areas is done by contract with those farmers who bid lowest.

The important thing still is the letting down of names of the persons involved in the spraying program. He may want to know later on, if it is possible to spray during the evening hours and still gain the same results because a particular situation in Afghanistan won't permit morning spraying.

What other changes, for example, could Keith Evans recommend? Evans is a plant pathologist and has experience in spraying in high mountainous country.

It is these things that makes a four such as Vassodini's assistance to simply show and not explain it so enough.

that this was decided at a recent meeting of the American Farm Bureau federation's board of directors.

The agricultural act of 1963, also called the wheat and feed grains act, now has the sponsorship of 34 congressmen, 17 representatives and 17 senators, both Democrats and Republicans. Sen. Len Jordan, R., Ind., is the only member of Idaho's congressional delegation to announce support, thus far.

Major provisions of the identical bills are:

- (1) Institute a cropland retirement program, in which farmers would voluntarily bid as to how little they would like for retiring land on a long-term basis, and then the secretary of agriculture could contract for the desired amount of acreage to be retired, with those farmers who bid lowest.
- (2) Do away with acreage allotments and marketing quotas on wheat and feed grains.
- (3) Set price support for feed grains at 90 per cent of the average price received by farmers during the three preceding years, but not less than 50 per cent of parity, thus gradually reducing the support level.
- (4) Set price support for wheat at the average world market price during the three preceding years, but not less than 50 per cent of parity, a plan to reduce this price support gradually, too.

Change from 100 to 110 per cent of support price the minimum level at which the government is allowed to sell surplus stocks.

This is the major legislation introduced following the defeat of the certificate wheat plan this spring.

There is absolutely no controversy over the need for removing cropland from production. However, the method of doing this, whether to have the government dictate retirement of land, or to let farmers bid voluntarily on land to be retired (as this proposal provides, or to let lower price-drive inefficient farmers off marginal land—is one of the most vigorously debated questions in the nation," Martin said.

EXPLAINING AERIAL spraying is Ahr Gleser, chief pilot, and plant protection director, Afghanistan. The two visitors spent several days in Magic Valley observing a grasshopper control program near Notch Butte, about four miles south of Shoshone. (Times-News photo)

Afghanistan Plant Protection Chief Tours South Idaho Spraying Project

Spraying for insects, plant disease and noxious weeds has also become common with Magic Valley farmers and ranchers. At their disposal is a host of chemicals and many sales agents furnishing information concerning the chemicals.

In addition, the Magic Valley farmer or rancher can call upon the services of several government agencies, from the county agent to plant pest control researchers.

Getting out all this information in the form of a book, this book is intended for future use and revision of all types, is the idea of Ahrudun Vassodini, director of plant protection for Afghanistan.

Vassodini spent a few days in "Idaho" with the Magic Valley's Alia Mohd-Faqiri, who studies plant control, for the visit of Vassodini, Afghanistan, as guests of the U.S. department of agriculture, plant pest control division.

grasshopper spraying program currently being carried on by plant pest control personnel near the Notch Butte area north of Jerome was under special study because it applies closely with problems now being faced in Afghanistan.

According to Vassodini, the most important thing he is accomplishing on his journey through the United States is discovering where to find information and to know the American researchers so he can call upon them for aid and assistance. The movement of information is vital, said Vassodini.

One reason Vassodini rates the flowing of information so highly, and the American methods of applying the chemicals as secondary is because of the big difference between farming methods in this country and his.

As he pointed out, the American farmer is well mechanized and moves machinery across large acreage the farmer owns or rents.

In Afghanistan there is little mechanization and most of the same chemical by hand. For this reason, Vassodini is more interested in small, portable, hand-operated sprayers than the big bulk sprayers.

The horse-drawn equipment once used by many American farmers has more appeal than the tractors working in the fields, because the chief source of farm power is oxen or mules.

Small garden cultivators that are pushed by hand could be fitted to pull behind an ox. This might seem like a small step to

Only CASE gives you draft control and record fuel economy, too!

Most any 3-plow tractor these days will give you a good draft-control system. Admitted.

But the Case 430 diesel is the only one that holds the world diesel fuel economy championship in the 30-45 hp class. It has held that record for two-and-a-half years.

Look at the whole tractor.

Compare engines. The 430 diesel has a real tractor engine — big-horn, long-stroke — that will pull through when high-speed automotive types falter and stall. Built to L-A-S-T, too, with heavily-ribbed block — counterbalanced crankshaft — five main bearings.

Compare gear speeds. The Case 430 gives you your choice of 12-speed triple-range. A speed standard, 12-speed dual-range shuttle transmission; the right speed for every job.

Compare the convenience and comfort features, too — and all the other things that make a total tractor. You'll end up convinced the Case 430 Draft-o-matic is quite an all-around package. Come in and find out for yourself.

EASY TO OPERATE — a single lever lets you raise and lower implements... set draft and depth... regulate draft when desired.

EASY TO GET AT — All Draft-o-matic components are within the tractor, permitting fast and easy servicing. No need to open up the tractor.

EASY ON THE WALLET — Free mounting parts with less "trim" than other equipment, less wear, less maintenance cost.

Fruit Crop To Average Below Normal

WASHINGTON, July 5 (AP)—The agriculture department said production of deciduous fruits in 1963 is expected to be smaller than in 1962 and below the 1957-61 average.

This outlook came after a reduced 1962-63 citrus crop and generally unfavorable prospects for the 1962-63 citrus crop. Fruit production of deciduous fruits should be the lightest in several years, the department said. This reduced supply should bring generally higher prices than the larger 1962 crop.

The department said deciduous fruit crops expected to be larger in 1963 than in 1962 are apricots and California plums. Crops expected to be smaller are peaches, pears, sweet cherries, sour cherries (western states), grapes, nectarines and strawberries.

Wool Manager Is Retiring

Assistant Manager Bruce Arnold was appointed to succeed Ward. Arnold has served the Pacific Wool Growers for 22 years as an assistant manager. Comptroller Gerald R. Kappeler has been named assistant manager.

Commercial Fertilizer Use Increases on Idaho Farms

UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO, Moscow, July 5—Idaho farmers used about five per cent more commercial fertilizer in 1962 than in 1961, according to a report by Charles Painter, University of Idaho extension service soils specialist. The report said 164,108 tons were registered for use.

The increase over the previous year was approximately 7,200 tons. About 72 per cent were dry and miscellaneous carriers. The rest were liquids.

Exports of Feed Grains Climbing

WASHINGTON, July 5 (AP)—The U.S. grain agricultural service estimates total feed grain exports for July-May, 1962-63, at six per cent higher than 1958-59, the same months of that year.

increased nearly 18 million dollars in fertilizer during the year. About 70 per cent was for nitrogen. Phosphorus accounted for most of the rest.

Use of commercial fertilizer continues to rise, said Painter, but soil tests indicate that many soils need further increases for efficiency in yield and quality of production. When a balanced soil fertility program is carried out, the farmer's return is as high as 300 per cent.

"BARN RAISINGS," "HUSKING BEES," "threshing rings," and many other kinds of "trading help" are a part of the American tradition.

Throughout the history of our country, whenever a man was faced with a job he couldn't do by himself, he asked his neighbors for help and pledged to help them in return.

It has always worked... it's working today... through co-ops.

Through co-op organizations, working together with his neighbors, a man can sell his produce at a better price and buy what he needs at a saving.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, July 5 (AP)—Outfielder Rex Johnson, Columbus, made history of sorts here in the first game of Thursday's International Tennis doubleheader with Atlanta.

He stole two bases on one play in the fifth inning. He was on first base and Orlando McFarlane to third. The two executed a double steal. Johnson was already on second when catcher Bill Leteuvre threw to shortstop Jerry Buckey. Buckey threw back to the plate, but McFarlane beat the throw and Johnson raced on to third.

Roberts Wins Rich Car Race

DAYTON A BEACH, Fla., July 5 (AP)—Billie Jean Moffitt, Daytona Beach, won the Firecracker 400 and $12,000 in prize money. But Fred Lorenzen, Charlotte, N.C., had to wait for a NASCAR official meeting, today to find out whether he finished a full lap or third in the late model stock car race Thursday.

The owner of Marvin Panch's car, Glen Wood, Van, protested that Panch should be second instead of third. Wood said Lorenzen passed Roberts illegally while the caution flag was out and thus finished a full lap. If the protest is allowed, Lorenzen would be set back to third place and a tie with Wood advanced to second.

It was an all-Ford finish as the three crossed the finish line separated by only one car length after a 400-mile race. Roberts won with an average of 150.275 miles an hour. Lorenzen and Roberts both had a full lap lead before he got the caution flag after Daywaine Thy Lund's car, a Buick Wildcat, was wrecked with 15 laps to go.

This is Roberts' third victory in the three-crown title, which he won in 1959 and 1962—both times at "NASCAR" and before the 500-mile July 4th race at Raleigh, N.C.

Toomey Is First In Pentathlon

SEATTLE, July 5 (AP)—Bill Toomey, three-time champion representing the Santa Clara, Calif., youth village, won the National AAU Pentathlon championship Thursday with two firsts and a second for a total of 3,205 points.

Paul Hodge, U.S. Air Force, was second with 2,875 points and former University of Oregon star Dave Edstrom, a member of the 1958 U.S. Olympic team in the decathlon, was third with 2,188. Edstrom is now in the air force.

Toomey won the broad jump and 200-meter run, finished second with the 150-meter and third in the javelin. His broad jump of 24-feet 3 inches set a stadium record.

YOUR BIRTHDAY and HOROSCOPE

BANG-UP

4th of JULY CELEBRATION CONTINUES THROUGH SUNDAY!

LALAPALOZA

FRIDAY, July 5—Born today you have a knack for knowing what people want. Your ability to get along with others is tremendous and will take you far. Even when others do not agree with you, even when they actively dispute your judgment, you are seldom wrong. You are a person to whom one home, one community, one staid way of life is not vital for such a way of life will never agree with you and only trouble would ensue.

Among those who were born on this date are: John Paul Jones, early American naval hero; Paul Keller, modern German writer and teacher; Andrei Gromyko, Russian diplomat.

To find what is in store for you tomorrow, select your birthday and read the corresponding paragraph. Let your birthday star be your daily guide.

Saturday, July 6
CANCER (June 22-July 23)—A routine Saturday for the most part. But watch that other part. Excitement may well come your way with surprising results.

LEO (July 24-Aug. 23)—Should you discover yourself on the losing end of a social or business deal, avoid trying to recoup immediately. Wait for a better time.

VIRGO (Aug. 24-Sept. 23)—In the midst of your natural confidence, be patient and diplomatic. Avoid having your nose how mistaken for arrogance.

LIBRA (Sept. 24-Oct. 23)—Carelessness could send more than gains into reverse. Maintain an attitude of calm; continue to work methodically.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 23)—Plans should work out on schedule—so long as you keep within the set time limit. General chaos may follow error, so take care.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 22)—Any notion that today is the day for kicking over the traces should be set aside immediately. Stick to routine.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23-Jan. 20)—Keep on your best behavior through the day. When you least expect it, another may initiate a test situation.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21-Feb. 19)—Haste makes waste! Best to spend additional time getting projects done right the first time. A good evening is store.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20)—Avoid an air of such composure that you give the impression of sterness. Your object is to instill calm, not fear.

ARIES (March 21-April 20)—Children may demand much of your time. Give it willingly and reap the rewards in the future.

Taurus (April 21-May 21)—A good day for making purchases of a personal nature. Make full use of your sense and your dollars.

GEMINI (May 22-June 21)—Take care of outside social obligations during the day. Evening should be spent at home with your family, getting reacquainted.

SATURDAY, July 6—Born today you have been gifted with both determination and tact; a combination that will probably see you getting your way through most of your life. Unafraid to do battle for what you believe is right and true, you have all the makings of a leader. You must only take care that you do not fall into the wrong circle or the wrong set of deals for you could easily be talked into believing their worth and fighting for it. Reasonable and emotional at the same time, you may have some difficulty between a perfect balance between the two. Eventually, however, you should need in making your rational and emotional gears mesh every time, and then you will be ready and able to move quickly to the leader of success in whatever career you may have chosen.

There is little that you will have many opportunities to wed. Whether you will or not is another story. For more than you realize, you will need a considerable time alone. You may feel that marriage would encroach upon your privacy and so it would—but you will miss much in life if you insist on privacy rather than what could be wedded bliss.

Among those who were born on this date are: John Paul Jones, early American naval hero; Paul Keller, modern German writer and teacher; Andrei Gromyko, Russian diplomat.

To find what is in store for you tomorrow, select your birthday and read the corresponding paragraph. Let your birthday star be your daily guide.

Sunday, July 7
CANCER (June 22-July 23)—The usual Sunday activities should yield unusual results where your personal relationships are concerned.

LEO (July 24-Aug. 23)—A conversation centered around matters of the heart should bring you added happiness today.

VIRGO (Aug. 24-Sept. 23)—Plan a fruitful recreational Sunday with friends after morning church. Budget time wisely toward end of day.

LIBRA (Sept. 24-Oct. 23)—Romance, well tended, should be progressing nicely these days. Where patience is called for, be sure to use it.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 23)—An important talk with a long-standing friend may bring results opposite to those you expected. Be grateful!

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 22)—A wonderful Sunday for getting back to nature. Take advantage of the opportunity to journey to the country.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23-Jan. 20)—Avoid making any spur-of-the-moment decisions. Tactfully put off accepting invitations until you're sure of what you want to do.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21-Feb. 19)—See that you indulge in activities to improve physical health and emotional disposition. Avoid tension.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20)—Lend your moral support to another who may be going through difficulties. Share your own past experiences.

ARIES (March 21-April 20)—Charm and wit to the fore as you join others for an interesting day of socializing. This day can benefit your future if you're wise.

TAURUS (April 21-May 21)—Avoid dreaming away an opportunity. Should you be offered an advantage, do not hesitate to accept it.

GEMINI (May 22-June 21)—Some forceful action on your part may be needed to bring a difficult situation to a head. Then the problem can be solved.

Now Playing IN THE GALA ROOM

"THE SURFERS"

Four Hawaiian-born singers and musicians met as students at Glendale Junior College in California. Out of that association came the SURFERS, a talented foursome doing starring honors and breaking all attendance records—in the island revue presented in the Chicago Edgewater Beach hotel's Polynesian Village. They have also made numerous appearances in the top spots on the "strip" in Las Vegas as well as the Oriental Village in Honolulu. Their recordings and personal appearances have brought a wonderful new sound to the music of the Islands. All in all, a most enjoyable evening awaits you in the Gala Room at the "Fun Spot!"
