Bible Law

WILMINGTON, Del., Nov. 19 (AP) — Compulsory Bible reading and prayer in Delaware public schools are being challenged in U. S. district court here.

Two Delaware couples asked the court Monday to declare such exercises unconstitutional.

A three-judge panel is hearing the suit filed by Mr. and Mrs. Garry De Young of Middletown and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Johns of Dover. Johns testified he thinks prayer is degraded when it is used as an automatic recitation. Johns said he is a Protestant.

Mrs. De Young, a teacher, contended her right of religious freedom is violated when she is required to participate in the exercises. She described her family as agnostic.

Russian Tough Talk Countered

NEW YORK Nov. 19 (AP) — Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara says "I would not trade our strategic posture for that of the Soviets at any point during the coming decade."

McNamara said the United States has a strategic nuclear deterrent far superior to that of the Soviet Union. Also, he said, this country has combat-ready mobile conventional forces armed with tactical nuclear weapons at least the equal of any the Soviet Union and its allies could mobilize in Europe.

McNamara's report made in a speech at a dinner of the Economic Club of New York Monday night, had been billed as a major policy speech and was believed to be the Kennedy administration's answer to recent Soviet actions in Berlin and tough talk by Premier Khrushchev.

McNamara discounted arguments of those who say the United States has hundreds of times more strength than it needs, and those who say the country is risking its future by unilateral dis-

Solon Urges Hard Look at Baker Case

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19 (AP) — Sen. Clifford P. Case urged the senate rules committee today to "let the chips fall where they may" in its investigation of Robert G. Baker's wheeling and dealing.

The New Jersey Republican said public confidence in the integrity of congress may hit a new low as a result of Baker's resignation under fire as secretary to senate Democratic majority and subsequent developments which Case said reflect on congress as an institution.

"The good name of the senate is at stake," Case said in a prepared senate speech in which he called on the committee to follow up all aspects of the case "no matter where they lead."

Case's urging for a complete investigation came a day after Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana disclosed that senate employees who received their jobs through the Democratic majority now are required to list their assets and sources of income.

The regulation does not apply to senators. But Mansfield said he personally would favor such a disclosure by senators.

Case reported that the rules committee had rejected his suggestion to expand the Baker probe to include legislation that would require members of congress, top federal officials and high-level staff personnel in both the executive and legislative branches to make public their sources of income.

Baker resigned his senate job last month after it was alleged in a civil suit that he used his position to help a vending machine firm get contracts with firms doing defense work for the government.

Since then there has been a raft of disclosures and whispers about Baker's tangled affairs, including dealings in real estate and stocks.

"The investigation is potentially explosive due to the possibility his alleged conflict of interest may involve senators or others in government."

Boy Killed By Malemute Sled Dog

WOODSTOCK, Ill., Nov. 19 (AP) — A 4-month-old boy was bitten and mauled to death Monday by an 80-pound Alaskan malemute dog.

The boy, James Michael Henderson, was dragged out of the family car by the dog, which had been purchased a month ago by the infant's father, James E. Henderson, 20, as a watchdog.

The boy, who was bitten more than a dozen times on the head and body by the 5-year-old sled dog, died in a hospital 90 minutes after being attacked.

Henderson, a dog trainer, told police the dog attacked the baby after Henderson left the infant on the seat of his car and went into his home.

He and his wife, Kathryn, 17, rushed to the car in a few minutes and saw the dog mauling the baby in the driveway.

Sprinklers Boost Beet Harvest

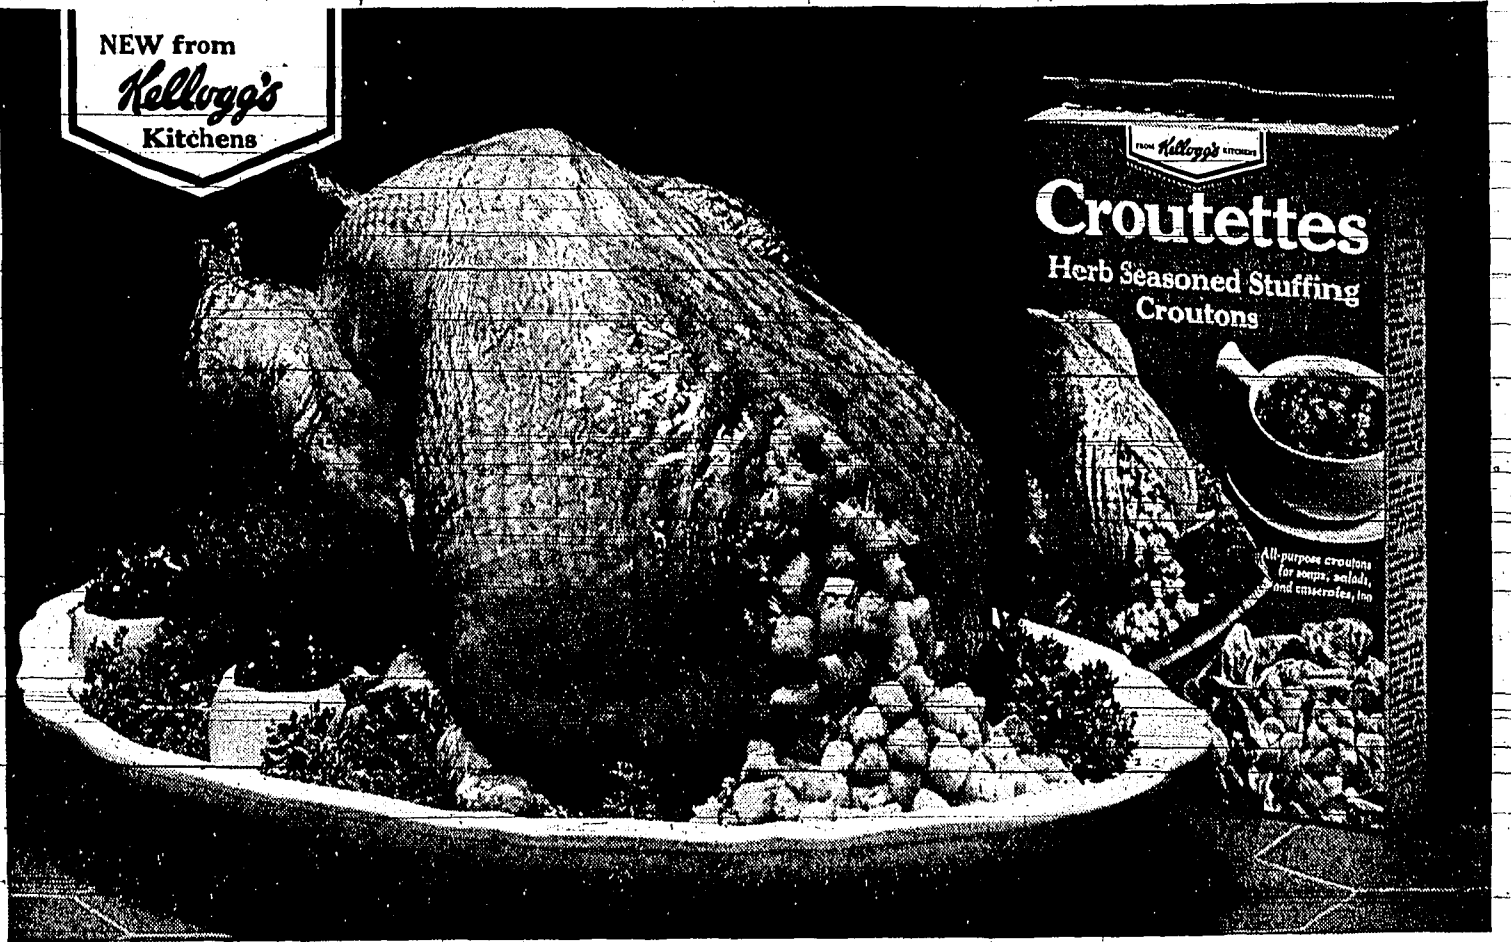

NAMPA, Nov. 19 (AP) — Successful use of sprinkler irrigation has increased the output of sugar beets on land being developed in the Dry lake area.

Not only that, said Robert N. Van Horn, Nampa area manager for Amalgamated Sugar company, but a longer-than-usual growing season also has aided production.

He said the combination of the two factors is expected to bring 160,000 tons of sugar beets into the Bowmont receiving station 11 miles south of here. He said this will make the Bowmont facility one of the largest country-type receiving stations in use by the firm.

New Kellogg's Croutettes

Make perfect old-fashioned stuffing quick and easy with these new Herb-Seasoned Stuffing Croutons

How to have the best-dressed bird in town

The secret of any good turkey stuffing is the seasoning—and now Kellogg's Kitchens bring you stuffing croutons that are seasoned in a new and better way.

Kellogg's Croutettes are made from herb-seasoned bread that's baked fresh and special for these croutons. Each little cube that is cut from this fragrant bread is then slowly oven-toasted.

The seasoning is uniform in every Croutette because Kellogg's master blend of eight herbs, condiments and spices is baked inside the crouton instead of added later as a coating.

With croutons like these, fixing perfectly seasoned old-fashioned stuffing takes only minutes. All you do is add liquids. Instructions are on the package, along with suggestions for delicious variations.

One package of Croutettes makes enough stuffing to fill a six to eight-pound bird. The convenient crouton form simplifies measuring. And if you have any left, Croutettes are easy to store in your cupboard because they're boxed.

Kellogg's suggestions on how to stuff and bake your holiday turkey

1. Prepare stuffing, allowing about 1 cup Croutettes for each pound oven-ready weight.
2. Wash bird thoroughly, inside and out, with cold water. Drain and dry. Twist wing tips onto back.
3. Rub inside of neck and body cavities lightly with salt.
4. Spoon stuffing into neck and body cavities. Stuffing expands while baking, so pack very gently.
5. Fold neck skin over and skewer to the back. Tuck ends of legs under band of skin OR insert skewers across body cavity opening and lace with cord; tie legs together.
6. Brush evenly with melted fat, then place breast side down on rack in shallow roasting pan. For even-browning, cheese cloth saturated with melted fat may be laid over bird.
7. Roast uncovered in slow oven for about two-thirds of roasting time, turn breast side up, brush with melted fat, and continue roasting until done.
8. Allow about 40 minutes per pound for roasting chickens and about 20- to 25 minutes per pound for turkeys.

How to make Different Stuffings from one basic recipe

The easy basic recipe on your package of Kellogg's Croutettes tells you how to mix up a delicious old-fashioned stuffing in no time. For something a little different, follow the basic on-package directions with one of these simple variations.

- APPLE: Mix in 2 cups finely chopped, pared apples.
- BUTTERY CELERY-ONION: Add 1/2 cup chopped celery and 1/2 cup chopped onions. Increase butter as directed on package.
- GIBLET: Cook giblets in salted water until very tender. Chop finely and add. Use giblet stock in place of water.

Additional variations are on the Croutettes package.

Trainmen Ask Probe of Rail Operations

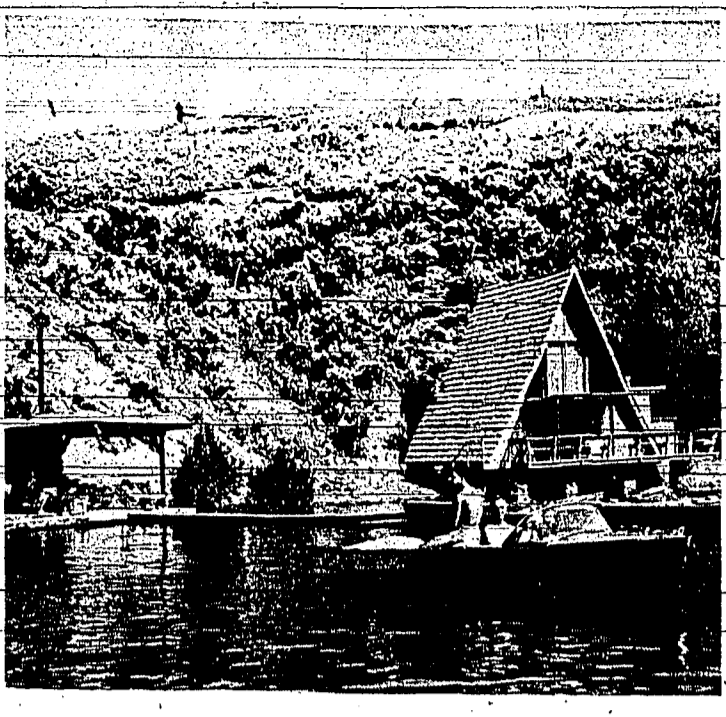

NEW YORK, Nov. 19 (AP) — The Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, in the first peace-time compulsory arbitration of a national labor dispute, asked today for a federal probe of rail operations and finances.

Charles Luna, the brotherhood's president, declared that if an immediate round-the-rails investigation of the government was incompetent, the government should take over the lines.

Luna made the statements in a telegram to President Kennedy and congressional leaders. The union said, in part:

"If they are in trouble, help should be given. If not, this should be known so their petitions can be fairly denied. If they are incompetent, they should be taken over by government."

Luna, attending the AFL-CIO national meeting here, called a news conference to announce the requested investigation. He said that his union is mounting a campaign to fight compulsory arbitration.

Development of Williams Lake Will Benefit Economy, Realtor Declares

HAGERMAN, Nov. 16 — Taxpayers in Lemhi county will benefit from the development at Williams lake, Harry LeMoine, president of the LeMoine Development, Inc., said today in answer to criticism of the summer project under way there.

It is anticipated when the development of 230 lots is completed, several million dollars will be added to the tax base of Lemhi county. LeMoine points out this is particularly important to the taxpayers there as this tax money will be available for schools and other services.

In addition, he notes, most of the owners of the homes will not have school children, so an extra burden will not be put on the Salmon schools.

The Hagerman realty firm played purchasing land around the lake from M. M. Melton in 1961 and 143 lots were platted and put on the tax rolls.

Several lots have been sold to residents of the county and of other states, and homes are being built. The rest of the usable land around the lake was purchased this summer, also from Melton, and local people were hired to survey, engineer and make improvements on the additional subdivision of 230 lots.

These lots will be platted and go on the tax rolls this fall, LeMoine said.

He also points out access to the lake by motor transportation always has been available only through Williams Lake ranch, which charged a toll for persons to cross the ranch. In 1960 the road was improved and in 1964 more money was spent improving the grade and widening so cars and small trailers could go up the grade.

The realtor adds that for many years people have ridden horses or walked to the lake to fish and the waters still are open to the public for fishing by anyone desiring to walk or ride horseback to the lake.

It is contemplated that the access road presently leading to the lake eventually will be closed to everyone but property owners and their guests.

LeMoine points out there are numerous other lakes throughout Idaho, especially on the Salmon river forest, which do not have roads leading into them. He urged development of these lakes by the fish and game department.

"Access to Williams lake by motor transportation always has been by a toll road," he concluded.

ed." In effect, the lake always has been closed to the public. Any orderly development at the lake by private capital will benefit the economy of the entire area."

Mrs. Anderson Is Speaker at DAR Luncheon

Members of Twin Falls chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution met for a luncheon meeting in the State room of the Rogerson hotel. Mrs. Mahlon Neumann introduced Mrs. Ivan Anderson, filer, as guest speaker. Her topic was "What Price Freedom."

"All countries of the world are proud of their heritage for various reasons, but the United States of America has the special honor of being proud of the great freedoms our founding fathers provided for us," stated Mrs. Anderson.

"The men who signed the Declaration of Independence risked their lives and many sacrificed their homes and fortunes that a life of freedom for generations to come would be assured to all," Mrs. Anderson added.

In closing Mrs. Anderson suggested we strengthen our moral fiber and teach respect for a higher being, not from a denominational standpoint, but on the principle that the people as individuals are endowed by their Creator with certain inalienable rights as to life, liberty and property just as our founding fathers provided for us. We must be alert and we must not relax to preserve it, she said.

Special guests were Mrs. Guy Olin, Kimberly, and Mrs. W. A. Randolph, Gooding.

Both missed four and somehow tied with 55 points in the tie-breaking system that didn't. Consequently, both will receive $750. Experts Have Conflicting Ideas on U. S. Unemployment

By DARDEN CHAMBLISS

NEW YORK, Nov. 19 (AP)—The head of Chrysler corporation says his company has gone about as far as it wants to go in replacing men with machines.

"We've already over-automated in some ways," says Chrysler President Lynn Townsend. "It reduces our flexibility."

Accordingly, he said, new plants will need as many men as existing plants. Many other industrialists, he guessed, are reaching a similar conclusion.

THIS IS FRESH TESTIMONY on one side of a debate on whether unemployment is likely to get dangerously worse.

Recent interviews with businessmen and economists uncovered a strong feeling that unemployment won't increase materially and that the present burden may not be so heavy after all.

"An economy as strong as ours can carry the present load about 4 1/2 per cent of the labor force jobless without structural damage if the politicians will merely keep quiet," says Vice President Benjamin Stacey of Boston's First National bank.

Many say statistics are misleading. Breadwinner joblessness is low, second-income wives account for many job seekers. Voluntary job-switching could be greater than presumed. Employment is probably almost as "full" as it realistically can be, they say.

There is a vigorous dissent view.

W. J. Bassett, executive officer of the Los Angeles County Federation of Labor, AFL-CIO, says "If we don't do something, pretty soon two-thirds of us will be supporting the other third."

Many see a growing unemployment among the young unskilled that threatens dangerous racial and social upheavals. It could also, they warn, destroy this decade's brightest economic hope: the push that's supposed to come when the postwar baby crop starts buying houses, cars and appliances.

"It's hard to rationalize the soaring skies when you realize we have to find jobs for all these people before they can buy anything," says Thomas Moses, president of Investors Diversified Services, Minneapolis.

The racial danger is cited by President Howard Johnson of the Atlantic-Steel company in Atlanta. He says Negroes have for decades made up 25 to 30 per cent of his work force—as they have in the general population locally.

"But as we go to new machines," Johnson says, "the colored are losing a little ground, I'm afraid."

They tend to have the kind of low-skill jobs that are being eliminated, he says.

President George Meany of the AFL-CIO has termed automation a curse, saying industry is in a "mad race" to install push-button machines without proper regard for the impact on society.

Some other businessmen say it is easy to exaggerate the job-destroying threats of automation. Chrysler's Townsend says his firm has many operations that could run almost unaided by humans. But humans are by far the cheapest way to make the changes required to provide the variety of style and model buyers demand.

Some businessmen are taking a new look at the people previously displaced and added to the rolls of longtime, hard-core unemployment. There were fears that these workers would be left behind, even in booming times, because of low education, low skills or racial disadvantages.

However, many of them have been snapped up in the current auto upsurge, says Woodrow Ginsburg, research director for the AFL-CIO United Auto Workers Union in Detroit.

For those who can't find a place in technical society, efforts to expand openings have been proposed.

S. B. Fuller, president of Fuller Products company, a Chicago cosmetics firm, proposes that the cost of hiring servants be made tax deductible.

It would make it possible for more people to afford maids, gardeners, chauffeurs and butlers, he says, and perhaps generate two million jobs.

Many say some wage and hour restrictions should be waived for teen-agers to make hiring them easier. It would help tide them over to adult years, teach them work habits and help finance additional education, they insist.

Few people seem to believe unemployment will disappear soon as a major problem. Its roots in basic economics are too deep, and there's little agreement on final solutions.

YOUR BIRTHDAY and HOROSCOPE by STELLA

TUESDAY, Nov. 19—Born today, you are highly imaginative, yet gifted with enough intellectual discipline to keep fancy from stepping on the toes of fact. In fact, you know how to channel your imagination into creative enterprises, there to make it work for rather than against you.

You combine an interest in the arts with a genuine understanding for business. Art for art's sake is not for you! You are very much aware of the fact that you live in a commercial world, and it is your intention to succeed in it. If you indulge your interest in art professionally, therefore, you will probably do so with one eye on the market. Your highest creative instincts may suffer—but your wallet will not!

You are emotionally sound.

Record Sugar Checks to Be Mailed Out

BALT LAKE CITY, Nov. 19 (AP)—The Utah-Idaho Sugar company says it will mail checks totaling $19,878,000 this week to farmers as final payment on the 1963 sugar beet crop.

The company said this is the largest single payment in its 72-year history.

It is for a record harvest of approximately 2,685,000 tons of beets, which is expected to be complete by the end of the week.

Douglas W. Love, company president who announced the payments, said the beets are harvested from 131,623 acres by 3,200 growers in Washington, Oregon, Utah, Idaho, South Dakota, Nebraska and Iowa.

Checks for the initial payment will be for beets delivered to Nov. 5. They will be mailed Nov. 20.

By state, the initial payments include:

Washington, $9,463,500 to 1,295 growers at a rate of $9.45 per ton; Idaho, $4,466,200 to 608 growers, $10 per ton; Layton Sugar company, a subsidiary, $741,200 at $10.25 per ton; Utah, $2,124,000 to 729 growers at $9.50 per ton; subsidiaries Layton Sugar company, $478,740 at $10.75 per ton, and Gunnison Sugar company, $178,210 at $10 per ton; South Dakota, Nebraska and Iowa, $2,128,000 at $8.85 per ton.
