Smylie Predicts Reclamation Aid From Johnson

BOISE, Nov. 26 (AP)—Increased emphasis on governmental economy and more support for Western reclamation were listed today as potential results of the change in this nation's leadership. Gov. Robert E. Smylie made the predictions at a news conference which followed by only a few hours his return from Washington, D. C., where he represented Idaho at the funeral rites for assassinated President John F. Kennedy. Smylie and 36 other state governors met last night with President Lyndon Johnson who asked, and received, their pledges of support.

The Idaho governor said the BOISE, Nov. 26 (AP)—Secretary of State Arnold Williams, who has been critical of some of Gov. Robert E. Smylie's past trips, today described the Idaho chief executive's trip to Washington as "a very noble gesture."

Williams said he approved of the trip both for the purpose of representing Idaho at the funeral services for the late President John F. Kennedy and to meet the new President, Lyndon B. Johnson.

"swift transition of power" from the chief executive to another proved the strength of this nation's form of government.

"It has proved the essential stability" of the nation, he said, and "ought to thrill every American." He said the new President is moving with force and vigor."

Referring to the conference with the new President, Smylie said "he asked us for our help, which was forthright and proper. The governors pledged their support of his program within the (See SMYLIE, Page 2)

Reds Squirm, Try to Blame Right Wing

HAVANA, Nov. 26 (UPI)—Communist Cuba's propaganda machine went all-out today to support Moscow's theory that the "far right" was responsible for President Kennedy's assassination.

A foreign ministry statement said "powerful forces of reaction" in the United States were trying to hide the "intellectual authors and true motives" for the crime.

It was inconceivable and inexplicable that Kennedy's alleged assassin, Lee Harvey Oswald, should be slain "in the presence of police and in the basement of a prison," the statement said.

No reference was made to Oswald's admission of Marxism, his three years residence in the Soviet Union or his role in the pro-Castro "Fair Play for Cuba" committee.

The Cuban statement said world public opinion demands a full clarification of the slayings. The Castro version was distributed abroad by the Cuban government Prensa Latina agency.

It said Cuba suspects the assassination of Kennedy was a "provocation against world peace . . . seeking beforehand to involve Cuba and the Soviet Union."

Johnson Moves Into Diplomacy, Confers With Red

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26 (AP)—President Johnson moved further into the field of personal diplomacy today in a longer-than-planned conference with Soviet Deputy Premier Anastas Mikoyan. The Russian indicated afterward that U. S.-Soviet relations remain the same as before the assassination of President Kennedy. The Mikoyan meeting, lasting nearly three-quarters of an hour, was perhaps the most significant event of a day in which the new President moved into full-time concentration on the workaday affairs of a chief executive.

Johnson signaled that development by shifting to the oval office of presidents in the White House. Up to now he has been working out of his old vice presidential quarters across the street.

Mikoyan was Premier Khrushchev's representative at the Kennedy funeral Monday, bringing Soviet condolences in the midst of cold war.

He told newsmen after today's meeting that he had "a pleasant conversation with President Johnson in which we touched on matters of mutual interest."

Asked about prospects of a summit meeting between Johnson and Khrushchev, Mikoyan replied:

"We did not specifically discuss that subject, but we are of the opinion that the policy of both the United States and the Soviet Union on matters such as this remains as it was."

The White House previously had announced that Johnson had messaged foreign leaders around the world that the change in the presidency does not mean abandonment of the Kennedy foreign policy.

Johnson was early on the job, driving into the executive mansion grounds at 8:45 a.m., just 11 hours after the close of a long day given in large part to last honors for his slain predecessor, John F. Kennedy, and to somewhat ceremonial contracts with world leaders who came to mourn.

On tap for the first day in the new office were meetings with foreign dignitaries and preparation of an address Wednesday to a joint session of congress.

Johnson, in his first speech since becoming chief executive, made evident Monday night his belief that the Kennedy assassination puts the American system to a severe test and must prompt renewed efforts to prove that the system, despite one sniper's act, is superior to any other.

Beyond that, Johnson pledged "continuity without confusion"—a continuation of Kennedy administration programs and policy aims without any immediate shakeup of top officials that might puzzle and perturb the nation and the world.

Johnson's assessment of the needs of the day was delivered off the cuff to 35 state governors who met with him long after sunset.

This was not his final meeting of the busy day. His schedule was topped off by a late evening session with Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon and the council of economic advisers. This meeting took up the tax cut proposal and the broad outlines of the federal budget that will go to congress in January.

Johnson headed for his home in the Spring Valley section of the city at 10:45 p.m., giving every sign that, even before moving into the White House, he was operating under a full head of steam.

For today, Johnson lined up conferences with some of the many foreign dignitaries who flew to Washington for the Kennedy funeral.

Johnson arranged to visit with the new British prime minister, Sir Alec Douglas-Home; with the president of the Philippines, Diosdado Macapagal, and with the new West German chancellor, Ludwig Erhard.

The President saw all three—and many more—at a reception Monday night at the state department, before he met with the governors.

In addition to greeting all foreign delegates to the Kennedy funeral, Johnson spent 18 minutes privately with President Charles de Gaulle of France, eight minutes with Prime Minister Lester Pearson of Canada

School Bus Mishap Causes No Injuries

Twelve children and both drivers escaped injury in a collision between a school bus and a pickup truck at 8:25 a.m. Tuesday at a county road intersection four miles south of Five Points east. The right front fender of a 1964 GMC school bus driven by Mrs. Fernan Radtke, 40, route 1, Twin Falls, and the right rear fender of a 1953 Ford pickup driven by Leonard J. Peterson, 38, route 2, Kimberly, were damaged. Twelve students from the Memorial Lutheran school, Twin Falls, were passengers in the bus.

Mrs. Radtke said the children remained seated during the accident and "weren't a bit afraid." She pointed out that all the students on the bus know her real well and when the accident occurred they all stayed in their seats and remained there until officers arrived at the scene, she said. None of them was injured.

Deputy Sheriff Clarence Yingst, who investigated the accident, reported the bus, going south, was making a left turn, while the pickup, going west, in its own lane, was slowing down for a stop sign. The bus cut the corner and struck the pickup on the right rear fender, he said.

Eternal Flame Burns at Grave of John Kennedy

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26 (UPI)—An "eternal flame" burned at the flower-blanketed grave of John F. Kennedy today in lasting memorial to the assassinated 35th president of the United States. A white picket fence about two feet high surrounded an area of about five yards on each side of the grave in Arlington national cemetery. Within the enclosure were piled scores of bouquets from other nations. The grave was filled in, the fence installed and the flowers placed several hours after Kennedy's burial yesterday—a simple sequel to the massive funeral tributes witnessed by national and world leaders.

Military police guarding the grave were alerted to expect a brief visit from Mrs. Kennedy shortly before midnight, officials said. There were reports that she went to the grave for the second time to add a single sprig of flowers to the floral tributes covering the site.

Last night, specially installed lights cast a blue hue over the floral blanket while the gas-fed flame ignited by Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy in her husband's memory burned brightly behind. A military guard will be posted at the site around the clock for the next week.

Mrs. Kennedy, who requested the flame as an everlasting symbol of her husband's buoyant spirit, lighted the fire at the conclusion of the impressive graveside services.

Then she passed the torch she had used to her brothers-in-law, Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy and Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, who ceremoniously repeated the process of igniting the memorial flame.

One such light burns at the tomb of France's unknown soldier at the Arc de Triomphe in Paris. Another burns at Gettysburg, Pa., in memory of civil war dead.

Kennedy's grave, on a green slope of the military cemetery which serves as a national shrine to the honored dead, dominates a broad vista of Washington. It faces directly across the Potomac river toward the marble-pillared memorial to Abraham Lincoln, assassinated nearly a century ago.

There, in the shadow of the one-time mansion of Robert E. Lee, came the 21-gun salute, the three volleys of musketry by the firing party, and the sound of "taps."

As Mrs. Kennedy stepped from her limousine, there was a sounding of "ruffles and flourishes" followed by the national anthem.

At that point, the bagpipe unit sounded its dirge and the casket was removed from the caisson and borne to the grave.

Police Hunt Sparked by Weapon Tale

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26 (AP)—Police and federal officers made a hurried search of the roof of the internal revenue service building today on a report that a man had been seen there with a weapon, but decided it was only a workman.

An IRS spokesman said a number of men were working on repairs at the top of the seven-story building which overlooks the justice department entrance used by Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, brother of the assassinated President Kennedy.

The spokesman said one of the men apparently had walked close to the wall at the edge of the roof.

Police nevertheless indicated they would maintain some precautions.

Tomatoes?

LONDON, Nov. 26 (AP)—A fortune in paintings arrived in London Monday night disguised as tomatoes.

Insurance men valued them at 10 million dollars. Spanish galleries sent them for exhibit at the Royal academy, beginning Dec. 7.

All the paintings are by Francisco Goya, one of whose portraits of the Duke of Wellington was stolen from Britain's national gallery in 1961.

The 95 cases traveled from Spain in two railroad cars. From the outside they looked exactly like 37 others in the train, all loaded with tomatoes.

Grand Jury Indicts Ruby For Murder

DALLAS, Nov. 26 (AP)—A Dallas grand jury indicted Jack Ruby today on charges of murder with malice in the slaying of Lee Harvey Oswald, the man accused of assassinating President Kennedy.

The trial is scheduled for Dec. 9 in Texas district court. However such trials often are postponed.

The indictment was for murder with malice, for which the maximum penalty is death.

Ruby, 52-year-old owner of a strip tease night club and a dance hall, shot Oswald to death Sunday as the man accused of killing Kennedy was being transferred between jails.

The shooting was viewed by newsmen, officers and a nationwide television audience.

Tom Howard, Ruby's attorney, has indicated his defense of the highly emotional, hot-tempered night club owner will be insanity.

"I believed him to be out of his mind at the time of the shooting," said Howard.

Rail Board Says Firemen Should Leave

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26 (AP)—Federal arbitrators ruled today that 90 per cent of firemen's jobs on diesel yard engines and freight trains should be eliminated.

They said this should be done by attrition or with job protection for most of the 40,000 union members affected.

The seven-member arbitration board in the long dispute over railroad work rules was set up under a law enacted by congress in August which provided that its finding would be binding on both parties.

However, a spokesman for two of the five railroad unions said the arbitration award and the law under which it was made would be attacked in federal court.

Americans Pay Tribute To Kennedy

By The Associated Press

Americans everywhere paid final tribute Monday to John Fitzgerald Kennedy.

Airports, railroads and communication services halted operations momentarily as the President's funeral was held in Washington.

Many businesses and schools closed, as did amusement places, most governmental offices and the stock markets.

Thousands showed up at the site of the President's assassination in Dallas, Tex. Floral arrangements carried a myriad of messages. One said, "God Forgive Us All."

At Honesdale, Pa., the bell at Grace Episcopal church tolled 46 times at noon, once for each year of Mr. Kennedy's life.

In Norfolk, Va., a bell atop the city's public safety building rang 50 times, once for each state.

In an old firehouse at Keokuk, Ia., and in the First Presbyterian church in Springfield, Ill., bells that tolled 98 years ago for another assassinated president, Abraham Lincoln, rang out again.

New York's bustling Times Square came to a standstill at noon. Pedestrians stood reverently, heads bowed, as two Boy Scouts blew taps from atop the Hotel Astor marquee. Traffic had been diverted from the area.

United Fund Outlook Reported Optimistic

In spite of the delay brought by the assassination and funeral of President Kennedy, an optimistic outlook for the United Fund campaign was sounded Tuesday morning by Harald Gerber, president and campaign director for the fund. He reported to the United Fund board of directors at a breakfast meeting in Wray's cafe. Although events of the past week-end slowed the campaign, he said, pledges which have come in are encouraging. He pointed out that more intensive effort is needed to make up for the delay.

Thirty-eight firms whose employes have pledged 100 per cent to the campaign were listed at United Fund campaign headquarters Tuesday morning. The firms are:

Benno's Watch repair; Berg and Taylor; Joe Salisbury agency; Milrany Buick-Oldsmobile; ...ling Jewelry; Sew and Save; ...rish Sporting Goods; Intermountain Gas; First Security bank; Albers Milling company; Twin Falls Clinic association; ... Paris company; Camp Fire Girls.

Rogerson hotel; Twin Falls Bank and Trust company; Coca-Cola Bottling company; Paul Roberts Steel and Industrial Supplies, Inc.; Utah Mortgage Loan corporation of Twin Falls; First Federal Savings and Loan association of Twin Falls; ...ho Farms company.

...ns club; YMCA-YWCA; Idaho Savings and Loan association; Boy Scouts of America; American Red Cross; New York Life Insurance; Stein-McMurray-Anderson insurance agency; Parry, Robertson and Daly; Helmbolt's Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance.

Auditorium Group Plans Meeting Here

The second information and organizational meeting of the Civic Auditorium-Convention Center project will be held at 9:30 a. m. Wednesday in the Roundup room of the Rogerson hotel, according to Henry Wills, president.

"Letters were sent to 130 persons last week inviting them to a meeting scheduled for Monday, but of course it was canceled, as were most local events," Wills said. "However, we hope all those same people will read this article and make arrangements to attend."

The Civic Auditorium association, Inc., has obtained the professional services of the Hockenbury System, Inc., Harrisburg, Pa., whose firm has completed a survey of Twin Falls which revealed a willingness on the part of most local residents to invest or work toward acquiring a Civic Auditorium-Convention center facility which could accommodate 1,200 persons.

A representative of the Hockenbury System, Larry Lidstrom, has arrived in Twin Falls and will conduct the main part of the meeting Wednesday morning.

MARRIAGE OKAYED

NEW YORK, Nov. 26 (UPI)—The social register gave its approval to the marriage of Gov. Nelson R. Rockefeller and Margaretta (Happy) Murphy today by giving them a permanent marriage listing in its 1964 New York edition.

Mrs. Oswald Faces Future With Stigma

DALLAS, Nov. 26 (UPI) — Mrs. Marina Nicholaevna Oswald faced the future today with two tiny children, no money, a stigma on her name and one certain wish. She does not want to go back to her native Russia.

The 23-year-old widow's constant companions were secret service agents. Friends said two magazine correspondents also were with her and she might be selling her life story. There had been private offers of donations. But other than that, they said, she has no funds.

Since her 24-year-old husband was arrested as the assassin of President Kennedy, Mrs. Oswald has appeared briefly at the edges of the drama. She came and went at the police headquarters, always with her two-year-old baby June Lee and Marina Rachel, the five-week-old baby born at Parkland memorial hospital—where the President and her husband died of their wounds.

Prices Soar In Aura of Confidence

NEW YORK, Nov. 26 (UPI) — Prices on the New York stock exchange soared in an atmosphere of solid confidence today in the first session since the death of President Kennedy. American Telephone and Telegraph company jumped $11 to 140 on an opening 150,000 share block.

Dow-Jones average of 30 industrial stocks at 1 p.m. EST had more than recovered its sharp losses in the turbulent session of last Friday. It stood at 734.91—up 23.42. Volume through the third hour totaled 5,470,000 shares compared with 3,620,000 on Friday.

Wall street attributed the early rise, stemming from an overwhelming accumulation of buy orders during the three days since last week's closing session, to two factors.

The first was the three-day hiatus in which investors had a chance to reflect on the implications of the President's death. The other, according to New York Stock Exchange President Keith Funston, was the announcement by the exchange of a plan to protect customers of Ira Haupt and company.

The Haupt firm was suspended from trading last week after it was caught in a commodity market margin squeeze.

Civil Defense Test Alert Is Conducted

At 11:55 a. m. Tuesday the Twin Falls county sheriff office and city police received notice of a practice civil defense test alert.

The sheriff's office notified surrounding towns of the test alert by 12:17 p. m.

The city police were notified of the alert because they have a nationwide "hot line," since they remain open 24 hours a day.

Sheriff's officials throughout the nation received a postcard from civil defense headquarters some time ago about the upcoming test alert. Exact time of the alert was not specified so civil defense officials could determine the time it takes to notify the nation in case of a civil defense action.

Local officials now will report time and date they were notified of the test, and send it to the civil defense national headquarters, Washington, D. C.

Forest Service To Move Offices

The Sawtooth national forest service headquarters here will be moved Saturday from its present site, 600 Addison avenue west, to the Medical Arts building, 1525 Addison avenue east.

The new office will open for business Monday and all requests for information should be made at the new address Monday.

The new Sawtooth national forest supervisor, Max Rees, will be available in the new office on Addison east the latter part of next week.

U.S., Mexico Launch Probe of Oswald

Johnson Asks That Kennedy Thanksgiving Note Be Read

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26 (UPI)—President Johnson called on the nation's houses of worship today to have the late President John F. Kennedy's Thanksgiving day proclamation read at services on Thursday. It was Kennedy's last proclamation before he was killed.

The document, proclaiming Nov. 28 as Thanksgiving day, urged the nation to "express our gratitude for the glorious gifts of God . . . and earnestly and humbly pray that he will continue to guide and sustain us in the great unfinished tasks of achieving peace, justice and understanding among all men."

Johnson, in a statement, suggested that the Kennedy proclamation be read during Thanksgiving day church services "as a memorial to him."

"I also ask that the newspapers and the television and radio stations make it available to all of the American people by including it in their recognition of this first and most solemn of our holidays," the President added.

"We dedicate Thanksgiving day, as we have for over 300 years, as a day to give thanks to God for his gifts and the sustenance which he has provided in undertaking the tasks of our nation," Johnson added.

The Kennedy proclamation was issued on Nov. 5 and urged all to "Give our thanks, most of all, for the ideals of honor and faith we inherit from our forefathers."

Tax Bill Okay To Be Sought

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26 (UPI) — President Johnson has pledged every effort to gain congressional passage of the biggest tax cut in history.

The 11 billion dollar tax reduction bill, passed by the house Sept. 25, is stalled in the senate finance committee—almost certainly until next year.

But Johnson said it was his firm intention to seek action on most of President's Kennedy's domestic programs, including the big tax cut bill and civil rights legislation.

MEMORIAL EYED

BROOKLINE, Mass., Nov. 26 (UPI)—A modest, white clapboard home appears destined to become a national shrine. The nine-room house at 83 Beals street is the birthplace of the late President Kennedy. It appears only a question of time before it becomes a permanent memorial.

President Orders Assassination Probe

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26 (AP) — President Johnson has ordered the FBI to prepare a detailed report on the assassination of President John F. Kennedy and that the people be told all the facts.

The report is to cover, too, the fatal shooting of Lee Harvey Oswald, the accused slayer of the late president, the White House has announced.

Johnson has "directed all federal agencies to cooperate," the White House said.

The announcement came after Rep. Hale Boggs of Louisiana, the assistant house Democratic leader, suggested a high-level congressional investigation of Kennedy's assassination.

Citing the fact that the killing of Oswald, 24, aborted the normal public disclosure and weighing of evidence in a trial, Boggs said he thinks congress should conduct a careful inquiry to determine the facts, assemble them for public consideration and try to answer any questions that may linger in Americans' minds.

Authorities in Dallas, where a sniper's rifle bullets ended Kennedy's life Friday, say the evidence is conclusive and that the case is closed—so far as the question of Oswald's guilt or innocence is concerned.

Perhaps feeling that there is still some uneasiness in the public mind, Dallas Police Chief Jesse Curry said his department intends to make all the evidence public unless federal agencies want some withheld.

A further problem is the persistent campaign by some Soviet propaganda agencies to depict the killing of Oswald, who had steadily protested his innocence, as part of a right-wing plot that took the President's life.

Boggs said he favors a "blue-ribbon inquiry, far above any suggestion of partisanship."

Rep. William H. Ayres, R., O., said he will introduce legislation making any assault on the President, vice president or other high executive or judicial officers a federal crime. Such a statute would guarantee quick FBI action in any such case, Ayres said.

The killing of the President was considered likely to revive interest in a bill now pending in the senate commerce committee to regulate the sale of firearms by mail.

The FBI has said the rifle with which the President was shot was bought by mail.

The pending bill, by Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D., Conn., would require persons buying firearms by mail to certify they were not under 18, had not been convicted of a felony and that the purchase would not violate local law.

Youths Held On Stolen Car Charge

Two California youths who were picked up for transporting a stolen vehicle across the state line were being held in Twin Falls county jail Tuesday for California authorities.

State Patrolman Willard Baker said the two youths, Eugene L. Donnelley, 16, and Ronald H. Riley, 17, both Sacramento, Calif., were arrested Monday morning at Shoshone for taking a car from Reno, Nev., into Idaho.

Baker said he was first notified by a farmer who picked one boy up after the car they were driving ran off the hiwhway about six miles south of Bellevue. The farmer left the youth at a farmhouse and went back to talk with the other youth. The farmer told Baker stories by the youths were not the same, so he notified Baker.

Baker then followed the two youths to Twin Falls—one youth said they were headed toward Twin Falls — and when they reached Shoshone, Baker was notified that the car the youths were in was stolen from Reno.

Baker took the youths to Twin Falls and notified the FBI, which contacted California. California had a warrant for their arrest after they wrecked a car they had allegedly stolen in California. The car was wrecked Friday.

Both youths were injured in Friday's accident, but did not seek medical help. Baker took them to the Magic Valley Memorial hospital where they were treated for lacerations.

SYNOPSIS AND AGRICULTURAL SUMMARY

The latest weather maps show a Pacific frontal system stretched in an east-west line across northern Washington along the Canadian border. Over the Intermountain region a bubble of higher pressure is situated over southern Idaho and northern Utah. This higher pressure center will be forced southward slowly as the front to the north sags into our area. With the southward displacement of this front increased high and middle cloudiness accompanied by a few light snow flurries are forecast for mountain elevations and the upper Snake valleys tomorrow. Little in the way of any precipitation is expected over Magic Valley, but Camas prairie can receive a few snow flurries.

Stagnant circulation imposed by this high pressure ridge over southern Idaho has led to the formation of fog and low overcast cloudiness in valley sections but these surface obscurations will lift and dissipate during the day with partly cloudy skies and mild temperatures. Most afternoon readings will climb into the upper 30s to mid 40s today and tomorrow, but where snow cover is prevalent, such as Camas prairie, temperatures will top out in the mid 30s. Yesterday in the Fairfield area afternoon maximums were held below freezing due to the persistent fog blanket, while Magic Valley basked in 40 degree weather.

Minimums tonight will be near or slightly above seasonal normals with readings ranging in the upper 20s to mid 30s over Magic Valley. Camas prairie will drop into the mid teens tonight.

The outlook for Thanksgiving day is not too bright, as partly cloudy to cloudy skies with the chances for a few skiffs of snow can be expected. Temperatures, however, will remain unchanged with daytime readings mostly in the 30s to lower 40s.

Late seasonal farm work will be slow during the remainder of this week, but limited beet harvesting and ground preparations can be undertaken with little hinderance from the weather.

TEMPERATURE AND PRECIPITATION

Highest temperature Monday, lowest temperature last 12 hours, precipitation for 24 hours ending at 6 a.m. CST.

Freak Fire Kills Five Children

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 26 (UPI) — A one-alarm fire believed started by a defective television set sent dense smoke swirling through a frame home today and resulted in death for five children, all under five years of age.

One child was reported in critical condition at Mercy hospital from smoke inhalation. Four of the victims were brothers and sister and one was a neighbor's child.

Tax Increase Said Due to Levy Boost

In at least 95 per cent of the cases, increased taxes in Twin Falls county this year are due to boosts in levies of various taxing units and not to increases in assessed valuation of property, said County Assessor Clifford E. Thompson Tuesday.

Thompson said he had received numerous inquiries as to why tax bills were higher this year than last.

As an example, he pointed out that the rate paid in Twin Falls in 1962 was $12.905 on each $100 of assessed value, compared to $13.851 this year. In Buhl the rates were $12.83 last year and $13.8451 this year.

Thompson said that except for Kimberly, there are corresponding increases in other villages and cities in the county.

Fish Story

The Nov. 30 issue of the Saturday Evening Post, now on newsstands, includes a story about Robert Erkins and his Snake River Trout ranch near Buhl.

The articles, and color pictures, tell how Erkins started in the trout-raising business and built the Snake River Trout ranch to the point where he produces one and one-half million pounds of trout annually.

2 Viet Nam Towns Hit By Attacks

SAIGON, South Viet Nam, Nov. 26 (AP) — Massive communist attacks wiped out two strategic hamlets in the north, and more than 1,000 of the mountain tribesmen defenders are missing, military sources said Monday.

Climaxing 48 hours of big Viet Cong guerrilla attacks, the twin battle was the worst Vietnamese setback since bloody fighting last January.

Whether the mountaineers were captured, fled into the mountains or went with the communist guerrillas was not clear from meager details arriving in the Vietnamese capital.

One of the main aims of the strategic hamlet program was to give these mountaineers a barricaded refuge where they could not be cajoled or forced into supporting the guerrillas.

limitations of the principles involved."

Regarding federal spending Smylie said the President expressed hope "we could cut out some of the frills" but he said Johnson did not explain exactly what he meant by frills.

"I think there will be a little more conservative attitude toward the public's money," Smylie said. "I got the impression the new President will eye budget expansion with a somewhat more jaundiced eye than there otherwise might have been."

Smylie expressed belief, however, that it would be difficult for the administration to keep the budget for the fiscal year beginning next July below 102 billion dollars. He said Johnson said budget requests add up to about 106 billion dollars.

Questioned regarding Johnson's possible attitude on reclamation and other Western projects, Smylie replied:

"His legislative history in congress indicates perhaps a greater interest in that type of program than has been the case in recent years.

"There is some optimism for a slightly more interested attitude toward reclamation."

Smylie said he believed the unity expressed by the great outpouring of governmental officials would impress other nations, both those which might have hoped for weakness and those which were concerned by that possibility.

"I think," the governor said, "this unity of support was not lost on Mr. Mikoyan."

He referred to Anastas Mikoyan, first deputy premier of the Soviet Union, who represented that nation at the ceremonies.

Smylie flew here from Salt Lake City, where he halted for a change of planes en route back from Washington.

Smylie and three other western governors had already left Washington and arrived at Andrews air force base for their return flight Monday when they got the message asking them to attend the briefing.

The governors gave Johnson an ovation after he asked them to cooperate and work for the common good.

Smylie said Johnson asked for the support of the governors, "and he got it. I think it's a wise thing. Everybody in the room pledged his support."

Cars Collide

A 1953 Ford sedan driven by James Dirk, 19, Jerome, and a 1961 Chevrolet sedan driven by James E. Kinsey, 305 Locust street north, Twin Falls, were damaged in a collision at 9:15 a.m. Sunday in the 100 block of Addison avenue west.

Dirk was cited by Twin Falls patrolman Gary Corder for improper lane change.

The right rear fender of the Ford and the left front fender of the Chevrolet were damaged. The car driven by Dirk was changing from one lane of traffic to another and struck the left front fender of the Kinsey auto, said Corder.

Twin Falls News in Brief

Oswald Grave Is Guarded By Police

FORT WORTH, Nov. 26 (UPI)—Police with vicious trained dogs stood guard today at the grave of Lee Harvey Oswald to protect it from ghouls.

The 24-year-old communist sympathizer and accused assassin of President Kennedy generated such hatred that police are afraid someone may desecrate the hastily dug grave, or try to dig up the pine coffin.

"There is always the possibility of ghouls," said Col. E. P. Seltzer, a retired army regimental commander who owns Rose Hill cemetery where Oswald was buried.

"Normally, we lock the gates at sundown and open them at sunup," Seltzer said. "But police officials talked it over and thought it would be better to have someone inside the park.

Oswald, shot by self-appointed executioner Jack Ruby, a Dallas striptease nightclub owner, was buried yesterday just three hours after President Kennedy was laid to rest in Arlington national cemetery.

Only Oswald's mother, brother and his Russian wife were there to mourn him. They had his two tiny children with them.

Just before the coffin was lowered, the lid was lifted so the family could see one last time the face of the man police said was Kennedy's slayer.

One at a time, quickly, the two women bent down and kissed the corpse. Only newsmen, secret service agents and policemen witnessed the funeral. The public was not admitted.

The Rev. Louis Saunders, executive secretary of the Fort Worth Council of Churches, said a prayer at graveside. He said he conducted what services there were because "We do not want it said a man can be buried in Fort Worth without a minister."

Sheriff Lon Evans said that a Lutheran minister from Dallas was supposed to have conducted simple services, but did not arrive.

Newsmen served as pallbearers because there was no one else to carry the casket. Police said they had specifically been ordered not to touch it.

Seltzer said he objected to Oswald being buried in his cemetery, the oldest in Fort Worth, but there was nothing he could do about it.

"It is bad publicity for us, and I have already received a call from a man who said he was going to move his family out of here," Seltzer said.

"We are sorry, but the laws of the state say if a man owns a lot in a cemetery, we have got to bury him. It is his property, just like his house."

Oswald's mother, Mrs. Marguerite Oswald, 56, a Fort Worth practical nurse, has owned four plots worth a total of $400, for several years, Seltzer said.

Oswald Case Sparks Many Suspicions

LONDON, Nov. 26 (UPI)—Newspapers in both the communist and non-communist world asked today about the "forest of question marks" left by the assassination of President Kennedy and the slaying of his accused killer, Lee H. Oswald.

The term was used by the newspaper Die Welt in Hamburg, West Germany, which said "there is a feeling of shame that the law, which should explore the facts, was prevented from doing so. Political mists which also gathered should have been cleared. Now they thicken to poisonous clouds."

Criticism of the Dallas police was general, particularly for the announcement that the investigation into the President's murder was closed with the death of Oswald. Newspapers voiced the suspicion that there remained much of importance still unknown in the case.

There was much speculation about a plot for an accomplice for Oswald. One Vienna newspaper, Arbeiter-Zeitung, reported without confirmation that Oswald had been seen in the night club owned by his killer, Jack Ruby, only three days before the President's death.

The London Daily Mail reported "whispers" that "Oswald was a tool who was used and then liquidated." London's Daily Sketch doubted he could have carried out the killing without an accomplice and suggested that either right-wing extremists or communist nations had a hand in it.

In France, the newspaper Paris Jour speculated that no sniper could have fired three bullets as Oswald is reported to have done with a non-automatic rifle.

The retail merchants meeting, originally scheduled for noon Monday, is now slated for noon Wednesday at Wray's cafe. Final Christmas arrangements will be discussed.

Women of the Moose will hold their regular meeting at 8 p.m. Tuesday at the Moose lodge.

Mrs. Willard McMaster, route 1, Hansen, reported to Twin Falls police Sunday that the left front fender of her 1958 Pontiac was damaged while it was parked on Second street, north of O'Leary junior high school. The fender was bent so badly the car door would not open and the part of the left end of the front bumper was torn off, she said.

Mrs. Kennedy Makes Night Grave Visit

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26 (AP) — The day for Jacqueline Kennedy had been a long and crushing one. But shortly before midnight she slipped out of the White House and rode through the darkness to place a sprig of flowers on her husband's new grave.

An eternal flame — placed at the head of the assassinated president's grave at her request —flickered on the silent hillside. Her brother-in-law, Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, was at her side. Only hours earlier, world dignitaries had crowded the area during graveside rites for the fallen leader.

At night, the two stood alone. After 10 minutes they went back to the executive mansion.

Some of Mrs. Kennedy's plans for the future may be made known today, according to White House press secretary Pierre Salinger. She must seek a new way of life for herself and her two children.

Among the foremost questions are how long will she remain at the White House, where will she make her new home and what will become of the White House school she set up for daughter Caroline and some 20 other children.

Mrs. Kennedy, a widow at 34, never sought nor relished the public role she came to play as the wife of John Fitzgerald Kennedy.

She married him in 1953, when he was a young senator from Massachusetts. When Kennedy became president in 1961, Mrs. Kennedy looked with some dismay at the life ahead.

Mrs. Kennedy, traveling abroad to 13 countries alone and with her husband, speaking French, Spanish and Italian as she went, soon carved for herself a niche of fame. She drew crowds by the thousands and became a goodwill ambassador for America on her own.

She constantly pleaded for privacy for herself and her children, John, jr., who had his third birthday Monday—the day of his father's funeral—and Caroline, who will be six Wednesday.

To a woman with such a keen desire for privacy, the ordeal of the funeral ceremonial for her husband seemed doubly difficult. Yet, Mrs. Kennedy not only planned many of the details to give her husband "the most distinguished funeral possible," but took a full role herself despite her heart-breaking grief.

Following the pattern of the funeral of another slain president, Abraham Lincoln, she asked that a procession march on foot to take the chief executive's body to the church funeral and she led it herself.

Personality Is Topic at T. F. Church

Mrs. Lenore D. Hanks, Portland, Ore., member of the Christian Science board of lectureship, spoke on the subject "Do you know who you really are?" Monday evening at the First Church of Christ, Scientist, Twin Falls.

Mrs. Hanks told the audience, "There is something more to us than our physical senses picture.

"Our five senses don't begin to tell us who or what we really are — human personality only hints a reality that is far better," she said.

"There is much to be learned about this spiritual selfhood of ours. We need to become aware of it. There can be nothing of greater importance to the solving of mankind's problems," she stated.

She defined spiritual identity as "our individual expression of the qualities of God."

The lecturer pointed out that "we see these qualities in ourselves and others through the spiritual awareness that God gives to man."

She listed love, truthfulness, kindness and trustworthiness as only some of the countless qualities presented in varying degrees in human consciousness.

The life of Jesus was a perfect example of what can be accomplished when spiritual identity is understood, she stated. She said the Jesus never forgot that His true nature was one with God, His source.

"Our real identity," concluded the lecturer, "is our eternal relationship with God."

Dallas Rites Honor Slain Policeman

DALLAS, Nov. 26 (UPI) — Here policeman J. D. Tippitt, slain as he tried to arrest the man accused of assassinating President Kennedy, was buried Monday minutes after the President was laid to rest in Arlington national cemetery.

The funeral was held in the red brick Beckley Hills Baptist church where Tippitt, his wife Marie, and their three children worshipped.

Pews and aisles were filled with mourners. Many more stood.

Mrs. Tippitt, her tear-stained face showing the strain of the past three days, was helped into the second row pew. She sobbed audibly when Pastor O. D. Tippe, jr., said the community mourned "the passing of a public servant, and of a father and of a husband.

"Human words are futile," he said. "The life he has lived has preached his own funeral. He was doing his duty when he was taken by a poor, confused, unjustly assassin as our President was taken."

and 12 minutes with Prime Minister Hayato Ikeda of Japan.

Johnson told the governors that at his meeting with De Gaulle, "we did not finish the conversation "so we have another meeting set up for early in the year when he comes back to this country."

In this offhand way Johnson announced for the first time that De Gaulle, who has been taking sharp issue with the United States for nearly a year, would make the American visit he had planned before Kennedy's death.

State GOP Slows Work For Month

BOISE, Nov. 26 (AP)—State Republican Chairman John McMurray, who called for suspension of political functions before it was suggested by national leaders, said Monday no major party events are planned in Idaho in the next 30 days.

McMurray called a halt to partisan functions Saturday and National Chairman William Miller and other leaders did the same Monday.

McMurray said he sees no reason, however, to rule out county and other local party meetings. He also said the Republican fund raising campaign for 1964 will continue.

Security Net Thrown Around Visiting Leaders

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26 (AP) — American security officers—still shaken by the assassination of John F. Kennedy—had the stiff job Monday of protecting some 77 heads of state and government including President Johnson.

Making the task that much more difficult was the fact that many of them walked in the slow procession behind Kennedy's casket from the White House to St. Matthew's Roman Catholic cathedral several blocks away.

To throw a screen of protection about them, officials used a maximum security plan drawn several months ago, just in case, for guarding the foreign dignitaries in and around the catehdral.

The horse was owned by Orville Mattice, Wendell. The front end, left side and top of the police car were damaged. Hagler was bruised.

Man Proposes Coins Struck For Kennedy

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 26 (AP) —A San Francisco advertising man proposed today that five million 50-cent pieces be struck off in memory of the late President Kennedy.

The pieces should be sold for $1 to raise money for scholarships, assistance to the family of the Dallas policeman killed in capturing Kennedy's accused assassin and to aid the widow of Lee Harvey Oswald, advertising man Al Toth proposed in a letter to the examiner.

Toth said he believes everyone would agree with the first two objectives.

"As for the third, the Oswald widow and children knew nothing of the horrible plot concocted by Oswald . . . It would give notice to the world that we are a humane and compassionate people," Toth said.

Rockefeller, Goldwater Halt Politics To Give Johnson Time to Gather Reins

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26 (AP)— Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, N. Y., and Sen. Barry Goldwater, Arizona, say they plan no political speeches for a month in deference to the late President John F. Kennedy.

Rockefeller, who has declared himself a candidate for the 1964 Republican presidential nomination, said Monday he will not push his candidacy during the 30-day period of mourning which he has decreed for New York state.

Goldwater, who leads polls as a potential GOP presidential nominee but has yet to declare himself in the running, told a reporter he has canceled three television appearances and will make no more political speeches this year.

Since the assassination of Kennedy "there is an absence of anything political to talk about," Goldwater said.

Rockefeller said in a statement that during the 30-day mourning period "I shall not participate personally in any public activity in connection with the Republican presidential nomination, nor in any other public activities with the exception of those falling within my official duties as governor of New York state."

Goldwater said that so far as he is concerned, the tragic sequence of events has removed the Kennedy administration as an issue.

"We want to see what President Johnson will do," he said. "We do not know what course he will take, whether he will change some of them.

"We want to give him all of the room he needs to operate and all of the help he needs. It would not be fair for the opposing party to heckle him while he is getting organized in his new job. Let's give him a couple of months to see what he can do."

Chairman William E. Miller postponed a Dec. 11-14 meeting of the National Republican committee and said "total suspension of partisan political activity is called for" during the period of mourning.

Sen. Hugh Scott, R., Pa., wrote Sen. Leverett Saltonstall, R., Mass., Monday suggesting that the conference of all GOP senators pledge silence for the remainder of the year.

Saltonstall, who heads the conference, is expected to react favorably. Scott is a former Republican national chairman.

Scott said he thought the Republicans could be of service to Johnson "by sparing the President the need to divert his attention from matters of national security as might be occasioned by political addresses around the country during the remainder of this calendar year."

Goldwater thought it too early to tell how Kennedy's death will affect the 1964 political picture.

As one credited with strong support in the South, he said that much may depend on what Johnson does about civil rights and other issues.

Inexcusable Crime

The incredible events of the past few days, in addition to leaving the nation in a state of shock, have been a sad commentary on the nation's degree of civilization. In the not too distant past, Americans have noted the assassination of leaders of governments in Southeast Asia and in Africa. The reaction, if any, has been along the lines that's the sort of thing to expect in countries lacking the civilization and polish of America.

What are these "backward" nations to think of the United States under the circumstances? The last crime, particularly, is inexcusable. The motive makes no difference, whether it was a blind drive for revenge over assassination of the President, a result of temporary insanity, an unreasoning desire for justice, or any of several other possibilities. Lee Oswald, the murdered assassin of President Kennedy, was handcuffed and in custody of police when he was killed. There can be no excuse.

Police must have known there would be some strong feelings against the President's assassin. Every possible precaution should have been taken to safeguard the prisoner, including a bulletproof vest to guard against the possibility of another sniper. There is no intent to express either sympathy or grief on behalf of the assassin. The only thought is that he was entitled to due process of law and those charged with his custody were responsible to see that he lived to experience such due process of law.

While the assassin lived, there was always the possibility he could have cleared the last faint shadow of doubt over his guilt. Also, there was always the possibility psychiatrists could have learned enough by studying Oswald's thought processes to save the life of some future president; or at least advance the knowledge needed to treat such persons.

The irony now is that murderer Ruby will be entitled to the same due process of law he denied to murderer Oswald.

In fact, it is not even correct to refer to either Oswald or Ruby as murderers. In the eyes of the law, a man is considered innocent until proved guilty, and the proof must come in a court of law. Even with photographs of Ruby in the act of shooting Oswald, it can be said only that he is accused of murder. There can be no doubt that a certain segment of the population regards Ruby as something of a hero. Yet such thoughts are contrary to civilized concepts of law and order and absolutely foreign to the democratic thesis that punishment must be left to the courts.

Another basic concept of justice in a democratic society is that a prisoner is entitled to trial by jury—an unbiased jury. Realistically, would it have been possible to have found an unbiased jury for Oswald? And will it be possible to find 12 unprejudiced persons to consider Ruby's case?

When Ruby goes on trial, perhaps more than his personal fate will hang in the balance. What will constitute justice according to the facts presented during his trial?

MAGNIFICENT

If Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy didn't impress her own countrymen during her extreme ordeal, she certainly impressed the British. People of England are inclined to look down on anything as un-British as crying in public. In the face of all manner of troubles, it is the British custom to keep a stiff upper lip and go about living and duties in a matter-of-fact way. Mrs. Kennedy met the British standards in a magnificent style.

Centered in the cold eye of the television camera for hours on end, Mrs. Kennedy somehow maintained her composure. She was the dignified picture of grief, without breaking. She accomplished what had to be done; she went about the heart-breaking task of a funeral with a quiet dignity that must remain always as a model.

Most of the time, she must have cried inwardly. And most of the time she was accompanied by one or both of her children, neither quite old enough to understand fully just what was happening.

Under the circumstances, Mrs. Kennedy should have been under sedation. Everyone would have understood fully if she had been unable to appear in public for weeks, even months. Mrs. Kennedy was seated beside her husband when he was cut down by a sniper's bullets. President Kennedy's blood stained her clothing, clothing she continued to wear on a flight across the nation, with her husband's body in another compartment of the plane. She had the heartbreaking task of trying to explain to her children, ages 6 and 3, they would never see their father again.

Then her every public movement was followed by photographers, reporters and the relentless eye of television. Thousands observed her in person and millions watched on television screens everywhere. That ordeal in itself would be enough to crack nearly any woman.

Mrs. Kennedy was impressive, or perhaps magnificent would be a better word. One can only hope that now she will be left alone with her grief so long as she wants to be left alone.

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

By ANDREW TULLY

Andrew Tully

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26—I have tried to remember something big about the martyred President of the United States, but all my mind can do is return to that bleak evening in Hyannis Port after the 1960 election—and a young man who hadn't changed a bit.

He had just been elected President and he was giving a party for the press, and when I knocked at the door of his father's home it was opened at once.

I expected to be greeted by a butler or a maid, but the man who stood smiling a welcome was John Fitzgerald Kennedy. He put out a hand, and as I took it I unthinkingly from habit, said "Hello Jack."

"Hello, Andy," he said. "Come in out of the damp and join the party."

• • •

FIRST-NAME GREETING—I had said, 'Hello, Jack" because I knew him by that name and had so addressed him for the past 12 years on Capitol hill. But as the new President turned to greet another guest, I realized my blunder. No one addresses the President, or a President-elect by his first name except by personal permission. I had been not only presumptuous but disrespectful of the nation's highest office.

For nearly an hour thereafter, I sought the opportunity to apologize, to explain that it was a slip of the tongue caused by encountering him so suddenly. But John F. Kennedy was busy, discussing the West Virginia primary campaign and the wild flights in Wisconsin, directing new arrivals to the kitchen where the bar was set up, asking reporter Pete Lisagor of the Chicago Daily News about Pete's lame back.

• • •

CALLS HIS DAD—Finally, however, the chance came when he turned as if he had suddenly remembered something that had been bothering him.

"Say," he said, "I heard that you and Murray Kepton (of the New York Post) were trying to get in touch with my father. Come into the kitchen and I'll phone and see if he's over at Morton Downey's."

We walked together into the kitchen where Ethel Kennedy was fixing some hors d'oeuvres and John Kennedy picked up the phone and dialed a number. He waited as the number rang several times, then hung up. "I'm sorry," he said. "I guess they've gone out somewhere. But I'll try to catch him for you later."

• • •

GETS APOLOGY IN—Walking back to the living room I finally managed my apology. "Mr President," I said, "I want to apologise for that 'Hello Jack' when I came in. It just slipped out."

John Kennedy grinned and put a hand on my arm. "It's nothing," he said. "I wouldn't have noticed it if you hadn't told me." His grin faded into a small smile. "I don't quite know what to do about it myself," he said. "I'm not used to it yet, either."

• • •

NOT QUITE RIGHT — He paused. Then, "I shouldn't think 'Mr. President' would be right, would you? Mr. Eisenhower is President, I'm still only a senator. That should take care of it, I think—'Jack' or 'Senator.'"

And, as the captains and the kings gather to salute another new President, and the eulogies tell us of the dead President's glory, that is the John Kennedy I prefer to remember—John Kennedy, human being.

Views of Others

By United Press International

Following are excerpts from editorials in newspapers around the country on the killing of Lee Harvey Oswald, accused assassin of President Kennedy:

New York Times—"The Dallas authorities, abetted and encouraged by the newspaper, TV and radio press, trampled on every principle of justice in their handling of Lee H. Oswald. It is their sworn duty to protect every prisoner, as well as the community, and to afford each accused person full opportunity for his defense before a properly constituted court."

New York Herald Tribune—"The murder of the man suspected of having assassinated President Kennedy has served only to compound a heinous crime . . . the attack on Oswald was an attack on the law."

Daily News—"The martyred President would have been the first to deplore this act of violence outside the law. Let us have no more of such things in connection with his assassination. And, by the way, what were the Dallas cops doing?"

Boston Record-American—"In a civilized society such as ours, founded on law and order, the slaying cannot be morally or legally condoned. But the compulsion that drove Dallas nightclub owner Jack Ruby to kill Oswald in retaliation for a monstrous crime is understandable. In candor, we have no regrets that Oswald died by the same means that he sent death crashing into President Kennedy and we hope that justice, in dealing with Ruby, will take into account the emotional forces he was obviously unable to resist."

Boston Herald—"These two deaths do not cancel each other out, but make a double indictment of our times . . . John F. Kennedy, who spoke for moderation and clarity, was the victim of extremism and hate. Sunday's evil deed stained his memory."

Boston Globe—"The killer of Lee Harvey Oswald, accused of assassinating President Kennedy, did poor service to his country and to Texas. . . . This further killing is especially unfortunate in the light of the great efforts of Dallas authorities to preserve Oswald's civil rights, despite their certainty of his guilt, and the lengths to which news media went to keep alive the possibility of innocence.

Dallas Morning News—"It is not the intention of the News, at this moment, to make any editorial speculation on the slaying of the late President Kennedy's assassin. But it is our business, perhaps, to suggest that this city, which all of us love, needs an atmosphere of calm and balance. Today most churches are open for memorial services. Go to one of your choice, for the House of the Lord is the very symbol of serenity."

Fort Worth Star-Telegram—"Never before have the American people had such an intimate eyewitness view of history—grievously tragic history—as in the past three days. The incredible has been piled upon the incredible, so that people sitting at the ringside of events begin to disbelieve their eyes and their senses."

Lubbock Avalanche-Journal—"Tragic . . . was the clumsiness of the Dallas police in their attempted transfer of Lee Harvey Oswald from city to county jail. The fact that an outsider could get within a foot of Oswald and fatally shoot him as officers stood around by the dozen is as difficult to believe as the true and awful story of last Friday noon."

Chicago Sun-Times—"The subsequent murder of the man accused of the assassination as he was being transferred from one jail to another is further evidence that this country, still young, still in turmoil, is gravely in need of a deeper understanding of the principles of democracy, of the rights and privileges that attend on a democracy."

Daily Oklahoman—"There's a temptation to say, 'He got just what he deserved.' Yes, in terms of our deepest, primitive emotions. But the way in which Lee Oswald was killed is as much of a danger to our way of life as any other taking the law into one's own hands. It's the law of the jungle, not of 20th century America. Now is the time to check, firmly and unitedly, the current spread of hate propaganda."

YOU JUST WATCH!

Dear Pots:

As darkness descended Sunday night, there was a final flurry of shotgun firing, then silence — at last. It was hard to realize that, finally, the pheasant season had ended. The few diehard hunters out Sunday afternoon hardly were noticed.

And then we knew it was going to be so quiet Monday that it would seem strange. Just think, no more broken fences, no more shot spattering against the roof, no more animals galloping in terror across the field. Well, not un*til next year, anyway.*

And if anyone thinks the pheasants have been wiped out, it won't take long to convince everyone they weren't. Just you watch and see them start appearing in fields everywhere. By next Sunday, it will seem some fields will be crawling with them. You see, they know, too, the season is over.

DO YOU GET COLD?

Dear Pots:

For Andy Capped, Buhl, I am not a smoker and because of an illness that plagues, me, I, too, cannot tolerate cigarette smoke, especially the second-hand kind.

I've found an easy way of getting the smell from the person. Just have someone drive your car about 40 miles an hour down a country road where the air is clean and sweet while you hang out the window.

Nothing like good clean oxygen to whip the stale odors from your person. If it is too cold to hang all of you out the window, try just the clothing. It really works.

FAMOUS LAST LINE

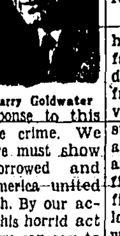
GENTLEMAN IN THE FOURTH ROW

BARRY GOLDWATER

The tragedy that struck down our President has struck also at the heart of our nation. It was a vile act. It embodied everything that America is against and against which all Americans should be united.



Barry Goldwater

Our conscience as people who believe in an orderly and humane society has been deeply afflicted. Our dedication as such a nation is now our only instrument of response to this grave and terrible crime. We must know and we must show that America, sorrowed and grieved, is still America united and true to its faith. By our actions now, though this horrid act cannot be undone, we can say to a watchful, wondering world that this brutality is not our way and will never be our way.

We cannot salve this deep wound by inflicting more or deeper ones upon ourselves. We cannot do honor to an honorable man monstrously struck down by recourse to dishonor, distrust or recrimination.

We can and must unite, grasp our nation's need and the hand of our neighbor in this time of need and proceed to prove that the ideals for which an American President lives can triumph over the bestiality which, blighting our history, has taken the lives of presidents.

Let no man watching us now take twisted comfort from our plight and our pain. Let all men watching us now know that America and America's spirit will expiate this crime, will rise from prayerful knees and will face again in new resolve and resolute knowledge the future.

Free men in war and, as we have just seen, in peace daily face the violent truth that freedom's price often is paid by a free man's life in a world where violent dark forces roam and stalk. They can stand the ordeal and surmount this testing of will and perseverance because of the fiber of their freedom. Let that fiber unravel and all would be lost. This must not happen. We will knit together the nation and its will now.

The President is dead. That terrible epitaph is before all our eyes. Before some of our eyes also is the epitaph of a man with whom we long worked and knew well. No disagreement shadows our memory of those times, for no disagreement or agreement makes us more or less brothers in loss at such a time.

And on this, sir, I know how you must stand, for you are an American, and this is a time of sorrow for all of us.

COVERING THE CAPITAL WITH PETER EDSON

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26 (NEA) —Another push for the ultimate reunification of East and West Germany is a logical development as the German Federal Republic's new Chancellor Ludwig Erhard comes to Washington for a working visit.

Peter Edson

Kennedy, in his farewell courtesy call on Chancellor Konrad Adenauer in Bonn and Berlin last June, spoke in support of a "united Berlin and a united Germany, united by self-determination and living in peace."

Erhard himself, during his first major statement after assuming office in which he outlined the policies for his administration, declared: ". . . at the end of the path there must be a peace treaty freely negotiated by a freely elected, all-German government."

Shortly before turning over his office, Adenauer made overtures to the Russians for a 10-year truce.

He proposed that in this period the population in the Soviet zone of Germany be given greater freedom than it now has. After the truce, there were to be free elections and unification.

Russian Chairman Nikita Khrushchev turned down this proposal in a USSR foreign ministry statement broadcast by Radio Moscow Oct. 11.

He declared that Russia would sign a peace treaty only with the German Democratic Republic (East Germany). He insisted that all NATO troops would have to be withdrawn from West Berlin and West Germany as a condition.

He concluded with the ominous ultimatum: "West Berlin never was and never shall be a part of the Federal Republic (West Germany)."

There is speculation in Washington that this attitude may be one reason the Russians have been taking a tougher position in holding up the movements of American, British and French troop convoys between West Berlin and West Germany.

This would be the Russians' way of letting it be known they are not yet ready to talk about a settlement of the whole German problem, including the Berlin problem, on reunification terms acceptable to the western powers.

These terms have just been given a forceful restatement in the United States by Dr. Wilhelm W. Schuetz, chairman of the powerful Council for German Reunification.

In Washington for what he calls an "unofficial visit" Schuetz has explained the "Indivisible Germany" policy to congressional and state department leaders. This is a policy endorsed by all three German political parties and gaining wide support.

As head of a delegation which included members of the German bundestag, or lower house of parliament, Schuetz presented a detailed 11-point plan for German reunification to the U. N. commission on human rights.

The plan outlines a step-by-step approach to the problem. It would begin with transitional arrangements for improved relations between the people of East and West Germany. On a prearranged schedule, it would lead to an ultimate plebiscite throughout Germany to determine its future under unification.

The vote would be held under United Nations or other international control, with complete freedom of the press and freedom of speech for campaigning before the election.

Schuetz admits that the communist party would have to be given complete freedom to operate in West Germany so as to allow the Christian Democrats, Socialists and Free Democrats to operate in East Germany.

In return for such concessions Schuetz declares that the German Federal Republic would guarantee that reunification would not lead to a shift in the balance of power to either East or West. A reunited Germany also would pledge to work for prosperity and to preserve the peace in Europe.

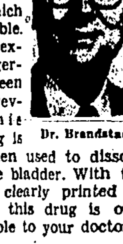
While there is little prospect that these terms will be accepted by the Russians in the near future, the pressure for them is growing in the West and will continue.

The Doctor Says

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

Here's good news for many readers who have asked for the name of the drug that dissolves bladder stones.

The drug, hemiacidrin (Renacidin), was temporarily withdrawn from the market because it was being used to dissolve stones in the kidneys, a purpose for which it is unsuitable. Such use is extremely dangerous. It has been proved, however, that this valuable drug is harmless when used to dissolve stones in the bladder. With this information clearly printed on the package this drug is once again available to your doctor.



Dr. Brandstadt

Q—My doctor says I have epicondylitis of my right elbow. He has been giving me medicine for it for five months, but I don't see any improvement. What are my chances for a cure?

A—Epicondylitis is an inflammation of the bone at the elbow joint caused usually by sudden jerky movements made while playing tennis, badminton or squash. Most victims complain of pain when making such movements as turning a doorknob.

They also have a weak grip on the affected side. No treatment will succeed unless the type of movement that caused the trouble is stopped. It is well to carry the arm in a sling until the acute stage is over.

Early in the course, icebags help. But, if the condition has become chronic, heat in the form of an electric pad or diathermy is best.

Injections of procaine will relieve the pain, but you must remember that pain has a protective function and, if the pain is killed with procaine, movements of the type that may make the condition worse may go unnoticed and further damage may be done. Healing is slow and may require several months.

Surgical repair may be required as a last resort.

Q—My doctor says I have aplastic anemia. What does that mean? What is the cause? Can I be cured?

A—In any form of anemia there is an impoverishment of the blood. The red blood cells that carry oxygen to the tissues are reduced in number and in oxygen - carrying capacity. In aplastic anemia, the bone marrow fails in the making of new red blood cells, its primary function.

The underlying cause for this may be leukemia, tumors involving the marrow, diseases of the spleen and pernicious anemia.

None of these conditions are to be taken lightly and the treatment depends on careful studies to determine the cause in your particular case.

EXPERT SEPARATES MEN FROM BOYS

When experts get together for a bridge game there are likely to be just about as many mistakes as among ordinary players, but the mistakes are very likely to be of a different type.

Thus, in the ordinary bridge game South would lose to the ace of clubs; get over to dummy; lead a spade and wind up making a slightly lucky slam contract.

Opening lead—♣ 10

When near expert South played against expert East the slam was defeated.

East won the first trick with the ace of clubs and South dropped the king so as to develop extra entries to dummy. That really didn't matter; South was just keeping in practice.

East led back a club and South was in dummy. He led the six of spades and East played the king. So far all plays had been made quickly, but now there was an appreciable cause for study.

Finally South came to the conclusion that East's king of spades had been a singleton. He led the four of spades toward dummy and put in the nine spot whereupon East made his 10.

Why did I call South a near expert? It wasn't because he fell for East's play but rather because South's lead of the six of spades was wrong. He should have led the jack from the dummy with the intention of finessing against the 10 later on if East covered with the king.

Keeler Trial Scheduled For Dec. 5

LONDON, Nov. 26 (UPI)—Christine Keeler and three co-defendants will go on trial Dec. 5 at Old Bailey court on charges of attempting to frame her discarded West Indian lover, it was announced today.

The 21-year-old red-haired callgirl, whose romance with British War Minister John Profumo resulted in his resignation and nearly toppled the British government, has been free on $8,400 bail on charges of perjury and conspiracy to obstruct justice.

Sir Anthony Hawke, the court recorder, said the case must be heard before Christmas because one of the principal witnesses for the prosecution has threatened to go abroad permanently because he is penniless and cannot get work in this country.

Miss Keeler, her roommate, Miss Paula Hamilton-Marshall; her housekeeper, Mrs. Olive Brooker, 56; and West Indian chauffeur Rudolph Truello Fenton, 39, are charged with conspiracy to obstruct the course of justice in the case of Aloysius (Lucky) Gordon.

The three women also are accused of committing perjury at the trial of Gordon, a 31-year-old West Indian jazz singer who was convicted and sent to prison for three years this summer for allegedly beating up Miss Keeler.

The sentence was rescinded by the court of appeal and Miss Keeler and the others were subsequently arrested for allegedly trying to railroad her ex-lover.

The perjury charges could bring a prison sentence of up to seven years. Penalties for conspiracy conviction vary from two years upward.

Gooding Woman Gets National Post on Health

GOODING, Nov. 26—Mrs. Harold Henderson, state president of the Idaho Mental Health association, was chosen to serve as a member of the board of directors of the National Mental Health association at a meeting held last week in Washington, D.C.

Mrs. Henderson was accompanied to the National Association for Mental Health annual conference by Mrs. Myrick Pullen, Orofino, wife of the superintendent of state hospital North, and volunteer chairman of the Idaho Mental Health association.

During the week-long meet, Mrs. Henderson said they were privileged to tour the White House, capital buildings and St. Elizabeth's Mental hospital. Dean Mosher, Twin Falls former resident, who now serves on Sen. Frank Church's staff, was Mrs. Henderson's guide for the tour.

U.S. Economy Seeks to Shake Shock

NEW YORK, Nov. 26 (AP)—The nation's economy seeks today to shake off the shock and indecision that followed the assassination of President John F. Kennedy.

Whether the economy can regain its vitality remains to be seen. Many business economists think it will.

Shops, banks and security houses that were closed all or part of Monday, out of respect of the President, resume business today.

Businessmen will eagerly watch sales, the stock markets and other indicators this week.

Economists say businessmen tend to put off decisions after a shock like this, partly to wait until their own minds clear, partly to figure out government plans and partly to see how the consumer is reacting.

Many seem confident there there will merely be a temporary lull.

"When the uncertainty and unsettlement are over, it will be seen that the basic economic situation is no different than before," said Roy L. Reierson, senior vice president for economics of the Bankers Trust company, New York.

"Unless President Johnson brings the country quickly out of its state of shock," says Robert W. Mathieson, an economist for the International Telephone and Telegraph corporation, "a serious downward economic adjustment would occur."

Most indices pointed upward before the tragedy. Personal income and employment were high, capital spending plans were favorable and inventories were generally lean.

Still, business economists say that confidence has received a bad shock, and this could override technical considerations.

The stock market tumbled when the first shock wave hit Friday and still was falling when the market closed early.

Also to be watched closely is Christmas spending, and spending for automobiles and appliances.

Some say Christmas could help carry the economy over the rough spots. They think people will go ahead with holiday spending, if only out of momentum, and this should quicken general confidence.

Long Dribble

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Nov. 26 (UPI)—Marquette university students said today they would start the "world's longest basketball dribble" Saturday by bouncing a ball from Kalamazoo, Mich., to Milwaukee.

The ball will be dribbled continuously on the ferry from Muskegon, Mich., to Milwaukee and then bounced by relay teams until the Western Michigan-Marquette basketball game Dec. 7.

Utah-Idaho Problems Continue

SALT LAKE CITY, Nov. 26 (UPI)—Another problem arose today in the settlement of the Utah-Idaho border differences.

Utah laws call for any motorists living, employed or driving in Utah for 60 days during any one year to buy a state driver's license. By the recent agreement between the two states, Idaho students attending Utah schools do not have to buy Utah licenses for their vehicles but, under this old ruling, must carry a Utah driver's license.

But Idaho law forbids carrying more than one such license.

Utah Public Safety Commissioner Jay Newman said in Salt Lake City Idaho passed a 1963 legislative compact calling for driver's license reciprocity between the two states. Utah did not.

Newman said if Utah would ratify the compact much of the problem could be resolved.

Council Fathers Discuss Laymen Roles in Church

VATICAN CITY, Nov. 26 (UPI)—Ecumenical council fathers scheduled discussions today on a suggestion to give the layman a more active role in the Catholic church as one way to help bring about Christian unity.

The suggestion and other practical steps to encourage Christian unity, the long range aim of the ecumenical council as set up by the late Pope John XXIII, were contained in chapter two of a document entitled "on ecumenism."

Yesterday the council debated general principles outlined in chapter one. They included the tradition - breaking recognition that Christ and the Holy Spirit are present in some real and effective way in Christian communities outside the Catholic church.

Berliners Honor Late President

BERLIN, Nov. 26 (AP)—A tearful crowd of 250,000 West Berliners gathered in "John F. Kennedy square" Monday night for a final farewell to the man who won their affection only five months ago with the words "I am a Berliner."

They cried unashamedly as the sound of taps rolled across the square from two bugles — one answering the other—in memory of the American President they regarded as friend and brother.

Above the platform from which he had spoken amid wild jubilation in June there was now only his portrait, flanked by two palms that waved gently in the cold night wind.

Never before has divided Berlin seen such an outpouring of grief as in the five days since the death of Kennedy. The vast crowd assembled Monday night at the call of Mayor Willy Brandt, who was in Washington for the President's funeral.

Deputy Mayor Heinrich Albertz eulogized Kennedy as a "brother of the Berliners." He concluded the tribute by renaming the square in front of city hall for the President. Police slowly undraped new street signs bearing his name.

As taps resounded from the bugles of two U. S. soldiers, lights in the square went out. The flicker of thousands of candles in windows of surrounding houses remained.

Brandt's wife covered her face and sobbed, while Maj. Gen. James H. Polk, the U. S. commandant in Berlin, looked drawn and tense. The British and French commandants also were deeply moved.

For one minute, West Berlin's Freedom Bell — a gift of the American people — tolled. Its clear ring carried across the wall into communist East Berlin.

Gov. Connally Described in Good Spirits

DALLAS, Nov. 26 (AP) — Gov. John Connally was described today as having spent a restful night and being in good spirits.

His doctors at Parkland hospital said his recovery is "proceeding as we would expect it to."

Connally underwent surgery after being wounded in the chest, hand and leg by the assassin that killed President John F. Kennedy last Friday.

Russian Propaganda Reflects Feeling Americans Will Turn on Communism

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

Moscow propaganda in the wake of President Kennedy's assassination seems to reflect a feeling of dread.

In the Kremlin's reaction there is detectable a fear that the American public will turn its wrath upon communism, as such, because a man labeled a pro-Castro marxist was accused of killing the President.

Premier Khrushchev and his supporters, beset by enormous economic problems, and a deep split in the world communist camp may be apprehensive that Soviet foreign policy could collapse before a hardened U.S. attitude.

The propaganda is full of veiled warnings. The government newspaper, Izvestia, which can be considered a voice of Khrushchev himself, said "President Kennedy's death has undoubtedly aggravated the situation in the United States."

"The struggle between sober-minded Americans and the forces of rabid reactionaries who will not miss the chance of using the situation for their own ends, will be very tense," Izvestia's editorial said Monday.

Khrushchev's policy is pegged to peaceful coexistence, as he calls it. This implies that since war is unthinkable, the two greatest powers must agree on dangerous issues. As practiced, coexistence has involved probing, testing, edging close to danger—as in Cuba and Berlin—and retreating when there is risk of a collision which could trigger war.

Kennedy confronted Khrushchev with shows of strength in Berlin and in Cuba. But the Kremlin knew Kennedy and respected him as an antagonist.

President Johnson still is an unknown quantity to the Russians, and Moscow deeply suspects what it does not know or understand.

Moscow has been cautious lately. Its caution is reflected in a mild response to the humiliation and expulsion of Soviet diplomats from the Congo.

Izvestia expressed fear that the assassination may have deadly parallels with the 1933 Reichstag fire which brought Hitler to power in Germany. There, it pointed out, communists were blamed.

All this indicates that before long the Kremlin will want to test Johnson and his intentions.

Ruby Seen in Dallas Paper Office Before, After Slaying

DALLAS, Nov. 26 (UPI) — Jack Ruby, the killer of suspected assassin Lee Harvey Oswald, was seen at the Dallas Morning News advertising department before and after President Kennedy was shot, the newspaper said today.

However, a 25-minute gap straddled the 12:31 p.m. (CST) shooting time.

The news office is four blocks from where Kennedy was hit by a sniper's bullet.

The newspaper said today its advertising men could account for Ruby from 12:10 p.m. to 12:20 p.m. (CST) and from "about 12:45" p.m. until "about 30 minutes after it happened."

The News said Ruby was in the paper's cafeteria at about 11 a.m.

Donald Campbell said he noticed when Ruby came into his department because it was 10 minutes past the noon deadline.

"He was all wound up," Campbell said. "He remarked what a lousy business' he was in . . ."

Campbell said he left Ruby alone in the office at 12:20 p.m.

No one at the newspaper, the News said, would confirm seeing Ruby between 12:20 and 12:45 p.m.

John Newnam, who ordinarily handled advertising for Ruby's night clubs, said he returned at "about 12:45" from watching the Kennedy parade and was in the office.

Newnam said that "about 30 minutes after it happened" someone shouted "the President's been shot twice. They think the guy who did it is up in that building up there."

Newnam and another advertising man said Ruby looked extremely shocked.

"He had a look of disbelief on his face," Newnam said, "just as I'm sure I did. He was very, very upset."

Kennedys Face Gloomy Week Ahead

HYANNIS PORT, Mass., Nov. 26 (AP)—Former Ambassador Joseph P. Kennedy and his wife today faced a gloomy week, steeped in grief over the pointless slaying of their son, President John F. Kennedy.

Mrs. Kennedy flew back to Cape Cod from Washington Monday night in an air force jet after attending the funeral of the late President.

The former ambassador to Great Britain, who suffered a stroke nearly two years ago, remained at his summer home.

He was secluded in his own second-floor quarters during the funeral but watched some of the rites and procession to Arlington national cemetery on television, a family source reported.

The senior Kennedy had been looking forward to a joyous family reunion for Thanksgiving.

Girl Is Killed While Copying Funeral Rites

NEW YORK, Nov. 26 (UPI)—The playful attempts of two young sisters to copy the drills of the honor guard of President Kennedy's funeral ended in death for one of them yesterday.

Johanna Malandruoca, 13, was scheduled to appear in Brooklyn family court today on juvenile delinquency charges in the fatal shooting of her sister, Mary, 16, at their Brooklyn home.

Police said Mary was killed by a blast from a 16-gauge shotgun which the girls were using along with a rifle in the manual-of-arms procedure.

Detectives said the girls, after watching the ceremonies on television, went to the bedroom of their brothers, Joseph, 22, and Donald, 17, a marine recruit, and got the weapons.

Last Honor Paid To Mrs. Beecham

WENDELL, Nov. 26—Funeral services for Mrs. Maude Pearl Beecham were conducted at 11 a.m. Monday at the Wendell Methodist church by the Rev. Austin G. Rugger, pastor, with others assisting.

Floral arrangements were made by Mrs. Thomas Rich.

The Rev. A. G. Rugger read the scripture and obituary. The Rev. Minnie Reddick, Pocatello, Church of God, gave the funeral message and the Rev. Harold B. Livingston, Jerome Church of God, gave the invocation and the benediction.

Pallbearers were Orville Bendz, Denny Bradley, Wayne Patheal, Arnold Olsen, Connie Cummins and Glen Patheal.

Last rites were held in the Wendell cemetery.

Red Chinese Say Johnson Orders Aggressive Acts

TOKYO, Nov. 26 (AP)—Communist China charged today that President Johnson has called for increased "aggression" in South Viet Nam.

The offical Peking People's Daily, quoted by Peking Radio, said:

The new U.S. President Lyndon Johnson has issued his first foreign policy directive calling for intensified efforts for aggression in South Viet Nam."

The broadcast also reported without comment the killing of Lee Harvey Oswald, who had been charged with assassinating President Kennedy.

"WHY DID HE DO IT?" is the big question in Dallas. Here is Jack Ruby, whose real name is Rubenstein, as he was taken before a justice of the peace to be arraigned on charges of murdering Lee Harvey Oswald, the man who was accused of assassinating President Kennedy. (AP wirephoto)

American Tells of Coercion To Write Propaganda Letter

SAIGON, South Viet Nam, Nov. 26 (UPI)—An American civilian kidnaped by Viet Cong guerrillas last June said yesterday he was forced to sign a letter laced with communist propaganda in order to win his freedom.

Arthur A. Krause, 29, Onarga, Ill., said the communists warned him that if he refused to write such a letter "then you're not going to be released, that's all."

Krause, a Philco corporation technical representative who had been advising the Vietnamese and American army on road and airport construction, was seized June 8 while driving near Tam Ky, 350 miles north of Saigon.

He was held more than five months. Krause told a news conference here the communists did not torture him but that he caught malaria and lost at least 30 pounds during his first 49 days in captivity because of the poor food he was given.

Krause said that near the end of his captivity in a camp near the top of a mountain he was bothered by mosquitoes, ants and cockroaches which kept him from sleeping at night.

"The cockroaches would eat their way through my socks and bite my feet until they bled," Krause said. "The open wounds and the blood would then attract ants, which crawled up my leg and under my pants and bit me. The lack of sleep contributed to my weakness."

Krause said the letter he was forced to write was ostensibly a request to the head of the Viet Cong asking for his release. The American said he was told to include statements against the regime of former South Vietnamese President Ngo Dinh Diem, who subsequently was deposed in a coup and killed.

Krause said even though he was coerced into signing the letter, when the communists broadcast it over their radio they injected additional propaganda he had not written. He said once he tried to escape but was recaptured.

Murder May Affect Vote On Goldwater

By KEN ROBISON

BOISE, Nov. 26 (AP)—Idaho political leaders in both parties agree that the bullet that killed John F. Kennedy may have taken the 1964 Republican presidential nomination from Sen. Barry Goldwater, R., Ariz.

They believe that President Lyndon B. Johnson will be the Democratic nominee, and Republican strategists are more likely to turn to an eastern moderate or liberal.

But Idaho Republican party workers are almost unanimously behind Goldwater, as a poll of their sentiment showed a few weeks ago. Those leaders, the county chairman, committeemen and committeewomen, don't have another real preference and can be expected to stay with the senator.

The best chance for Republicans against Johnson is seen in concentrating on the eastern and northern states that elected Kennedy in 1960. That is where Johnson is regarded as weak.

For that strategy men like New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller, Pennsylvania Gov. Willaim Scranton, Michigan Gov. George Romney or former Vice President Richard Nixon are regarded as possibilities.

State Republican Chairman John McMurray agrees that Goldwater's chances are diminished. But he adds it will depend in part on how much Johnson embraces the Kennedy domestic policies.

"I couldn't understand how the South could turn down Johnson as a presidential candidate," said McMurray, "unless he does something against their beliefs."

McMurray believes Idaho would have voted for Goldwater over Kennedy, but says so far as 1964 is concerned now, "this puts a different light on it."

"Idaho is essentially conservative," said McMurray. "Johnson is a 100 per cent liberal with a conservative face. Johnson has gone right along with this administration. He's a liberal, but he has that conservative image."

McMurray says he is personally neutral so far as the GOP nomination is concerned.

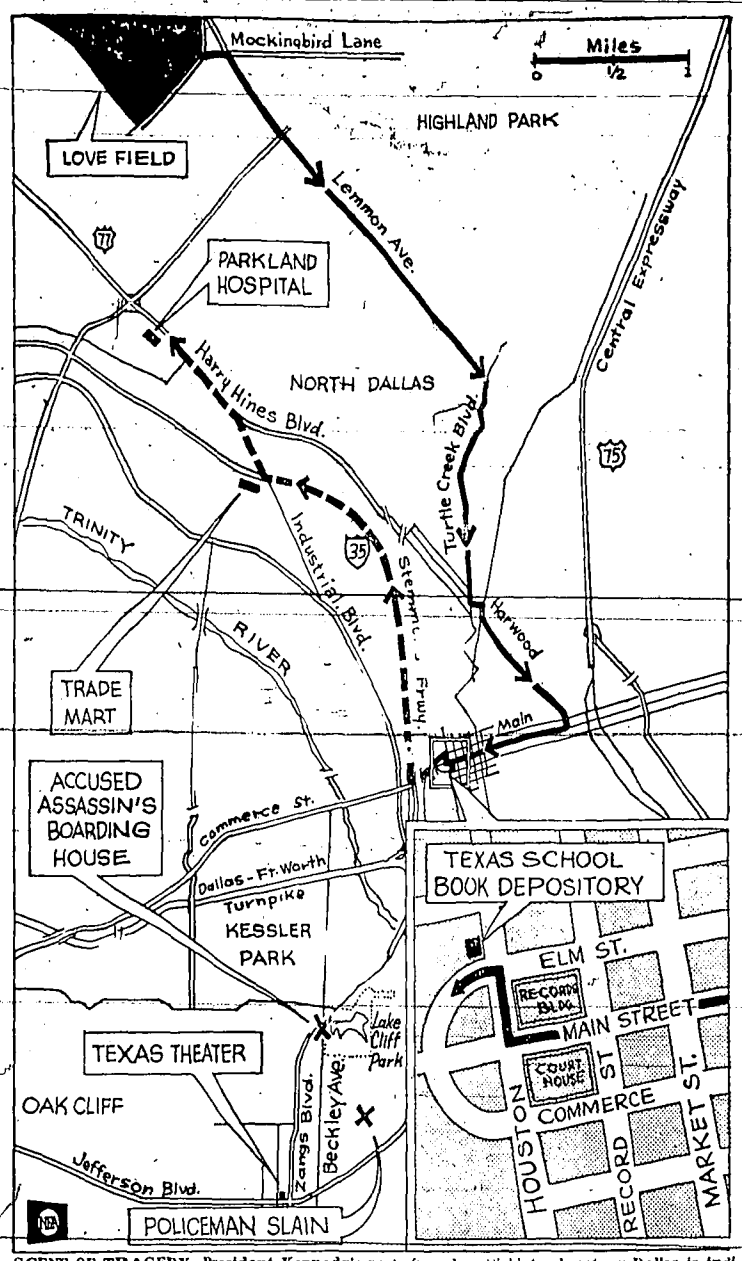
Some Democrats don't agree that Johnson would have a better chance of carrying Idaho than Kennedy. They point to the Kennedy personal magnetism. Democrats were not ready to concede Idaho to the Republican nominee in 1964, even though Nixon carried the state in 1960.

Johnson won a warm and enthusiastic reception in a speech at Twin Falls during the 1962 campaign. But few doubt that Kennedy would have drawn a greater crowd if he had come to Idaho as president.

Republicans tried to tie Democratic congressional candidates to Kennedy policies in the 1962 campaign, but three of four Democrats won.

The chief prizes in Idaho in 1964 will be the two congressional seats. McMurray said he believes the change from Kennedy to Johnson will have no effect on them.

"We have our own local problems and we will fight it out on our own," he said.



SCENE OF TRAGEDY—President Kennedy's route from Love Field to downtown Dallas is indicated by heavy line. Dashed line shows intended route to Trade Mart, where he was to speak. After the President was shot, however, he was taken to Parkland hospital, where he died. Enlarged map in inset shows exact area where the President was felled. Proceeding west along Main street, the presidential cavalcade turned right onto Houston street in order to enter one-way westbound traffic on Elm street leading to triple underpass and Stemmons freeway. Sniper in Texas School Book Depository at corner of Elm and Houston shot the President and Texas Gov. John Connally after their car turned left onto Elm. Last Rites Held for Fire Victims

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J., Nov. 26 (UPI) — Thirteen unidentified victims of last week's tragic fire which turned a four-story hotel into a pile of ashes and killed 25 guests will be laid to rest in a common grave today.

Rabbi Mosheh Shapiro of the Rodef Sholom synagogue will lead seven rabbis and three cantors in the graveside memorial service at the Rodof Sholom cemetery in nearby Cardiff on the mainland.

Only two of the fifteen bodies or parts of bodies recovered from the charred remains of the Surfside hotel, a frame structure which accommodated elderly and retired persons of the Jewish faith, have been identified and buried privately.

A squad of police and fire investigators, led by Detective Capt. Albert E. Wilson, continues to sift through the charred debris searching for 10 still missing. Wilson, at the request of New Jersey Gov. Richard J. Hughes, has prepared a 130-page report on the disaster. It will also be used by an Atlantic county investigating grand jury.

A three-man FBI team of specialists had been unable to identify the 13 victims. The FBI men have left for other assignments, but FBI facilities here remain available to local authorities.

Survey Set To Measure Public Grief

BETHESDA, Md., Nov. 26 (AP)—An informal group of social scientists is planning to measure the reaction of the public to the assassination of President Kennedy, Dr. Leonard J. Duhl revealed Monday.

About 10 social scientists met in Washington Sunday to make preliminary plans for carrying out the survey, Duhl said.

He said he is a psychiatrist with the national institute of mental health but that the planned project is in no way connected with the government.

"How do children handle grief, how does the public's reaction change over a period of time and how have the formal ceremonies connected with the President's death affected the public will be some of the questions which the group will try to answer, Duhl said.

The group will attempt to begin a national survey "as quickly as possible," he said, and a follow-up survey will be attempted if funds are available from existing research facilities.

Irish Housewife Starts Fund To Help Lee Oswald's Widow

BELFAST, Northern Ireland, Nov. 26 (AP)—An Irish housewife Monday opened a fund to help the Russian widow of Lee Harvey Oswald, accused assassin of President Kennedy. Jane Addy said there was nothing political about her plan.

"I simply want to put into practice what President Kennedy himself always preached—brotherhood and tolerance," she told reporters.

"I thought Mr. Kennedy was a great man. My husband and teen-age son admired him too. But I know exactly what the poor Russian woman is going through.

"The one thing a woman in distress, downed by two countries, needs is money and that's why I want to start this fund. Like every other woman I feel a deep sympathy for Mrs. Kennedy but my thoughts keep going back to the other widow, the woman nobody wants."

Mrs. Addy, 48, is the wife of an automobile engineer.

They were apprehended by military police on guard in the cemetery and driven in an empty truck to the main gate, where they were released.

The cemetery was closed to all visitors, as it is every day, at 4:45 p.m.

YOUR BIRTHDAY and HOROSCOPE

by STELLA

TUESDAY, NOV. 26—Born today, you are gregarious by nature and have an instinctive desire to be "front and center" in any activity in which you participate. Because you love an audience and have the true showman's instinct for gaining its favor, it is quite possible that you will be attracted to the stage. If this is the case, you must see to it that you receive the training necessary—the training that makes the difference between the professional and the permanent amateur.

You would not be happy being considered an amateur in any line of work. You are ambitious for success and have the will to work to achieve your aims. You have also been gifted with the intelligence and the adaptability it takes to lead a public existence—the sort of existence an audience requires of its subject, no matter what field he or she is in.

It is very possible that you will not marry until rather late in life. When you do marry, however, your mate—if you have chosen wisely—will be the truest touchstone you have. It is well that you know this and that you appreciate it; it will make you cling to your home and family when other things occasionally fail.

Among those born on this date are: Emlyn Williams, playwright, actor; Vladimir Sokoloff, actor; William Cowper, English poet.

To find what is in store for you tomorrow, select your birthday and read the corresponding paragraph. Let your birthday star be your daily guide.

ARIES (March 21-April 20)—Keep on the "alert today. The swing is upward but caution is needed to keep it going in that direction.

TAURUS (April 21-May 21)—Business affairs bring unexpected challenges today. Meet them with your usual courage of fortitude.

GEMINI (May 22-June 21)—A good day for beginning again those projects long shelved. Bring friends in on the deal.

CANCER (June 22-July 23)—Take time today to get yourself in readiness for the active days ahead. See to good grooming, wardrobe care, etc.

Proper Skin Care Discussed By Physician

By GAY PAULEY

NEW YORK, Nov. 26 (UPI) — Proper skin care must begin early in life, if the potential wrinkles of the future are to be avoided.

It is easier to prevent than to iron out, says Dr. Irwin L. Lubowe, a practicing dermatologist in New York, known in medical circles for his research in the care and treatment of the skin and hair.

The woman in her late 40's or 50's who arrives at the doctor's office with the announcement, "I'm begnning to wrinkle and I think it's time to do something about it" is wrong on two counts, says the physician.

One, she isn't just beginning to wrinkle. The process has been going on for 20 years or more.

Two, the best time to do something about it has already passed.

"Care of skin throughout earlier life would have been far more satisfactory than anything I can do to help her now," says the dermatologist.

But don't despair, ladies. The physician adds there are aids for the aging skin—and he discusses them at length in a book just published, called "New Hope for Your Skin" (Dutton).

He mentions gentle massage, diet, cosmetics which disguise and various types of surgery, including plastic.

Of hormone creams, the physician says, " . . . effective hormone creams are potent and should be used only under the supervision of a physician if continued for a long time. Certain hormone creams are available at cosmetic counters without prescription, but these contain hormones in such small quantities that they can't do any harm when used improperly. By the same token, the hormones aren't present in sufficient quantity in these creams to produce any unusually good results."

Lubowe mentions that many skin specialists hold that the sun, the action of its ultraviolet rays on the skin over the years, is a major factor, perhaps the only factor, in the aging process.

But he adds, "Others, myself included, feel that aging is an irreversible process basic to the entire body and that the skin merely shares in the reduced function incident to aging of hormone-secreting glands, the circulatory system, the fatty fibers in the subdermis and other body tissues known to be important to the welfare of the skin."

Sunlight, he calls, "merely one of the many damaging factors."

Lubowe is associate dermatologist, Metropolitan Hospital center, and associate dermatologist, Flower and Fifth Avenue hospital, both in New York.

Dr. Lubowe stresses that care of skin throughout life will do a great deal toward keeping it young and supple so that one day you, too, may hear, "Seventy-six? Why, you don't look a day over forty-five."

The physician listed these major elements of good skin care by age groups:

Infancy — The gentle touch. Wash with plain warm water and if soap is used at all, it should be one of the mild soaps such as Castile. Lubowe said many doctors advise no soap at all for the first several weeks after birth, preferring bland oils for cleansing.

Young children—Soap and water needed because at this age they collect plenty of grime. But soap instead of scrubbing. Use a bland white un-perfumed soap, and somewhat sparingly because soap neutralizes "the acid mantle we want to maintain."

Puberty — When children are "part adult and part child." The physician said girls really did not need vanishing and cold creams at this point, for their output of sebum (oily secretions of the sebaceous glands which lubricate the skin) is quite adequate. But unless a girl has some trouble with acne—in which case the creams should not be used—her "just like mother" use of these skincare agents will be good practice for later years.

Early adult—When in the 20's and 30's especially "we tend to neglect our bodies, including our skins." Dr. Lubowe concedes it's easier said than done when advised "don't worry" or "take it easy", but "it's one of the best suggestions I can make to people who want to avoid growing old and old-looking before their time."

For the adult woman he said gentle massage is valuable to the skin, using an emollient such as cold cream. Both the emollient action of the cream and stimulation by gentle rubbing are of "considerable benefit." He advised, in an interview, to massage upward and outward from the nose on the cheeks, downward on the lower neck. "In other words, don't rub in the direction the wrinkles go," he said.

Middle age—These, he said, are generally regarded as the 40's and 50's when "cold cream and other emollients become more important because this is the time when the body's glands begin to decrease their activity significantly." External application of emollients provides part of the oil the skin needs, he said.

Old age—During the 60's and later when the skin loses much of its "tolerance" and the skin is thinner and more inclined to wrinkle. The care should be the same as that of an infant, with soap used in lesser quantity in favor of emollient creams and lotions, and care should be taken to protect the skin from the sun.

Grains

CHICAGO, Nov. 26 (UPI)—Confidence that President Johnson will carry on President Kennedy's farm program gave most grain futures a sharp boost today on the Chicago board of trade.

At the close, wheat was up 3¾ to 5¾; corn up ⅝ to 1½; oats up ⅝ to ⅞; rye up ½ to 2¾, and soybeans up 3 to 4½.

The higher prices indicated that all signs of the frantic selling that followed news of the President's assassination Friday had disappeared. Increased export business and stepped-up cash buying were also bullish factors.

Hopes that credit will be granted to Russia and that this will improve chances of a wheat sale to the Soviet Union plus active export trade brought persistent buying to wheat futures. Prices soared more than 5 cents a bushel. Pakistan reportedly bought 8,360,000 bushels of hard winter wheat and Poland 1,867,000 bushels of soft red wheat.

Anticipation of a wheat deal with Russia, improved export business and an upturn in oil and meal brought active buying to soybeans.

One Million Line Route Of Funeral

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26 (UPI) — Police Chief Robert C. Murray estimated that one million persons lined the route of President Kennedy's funeral procession Monday.

He said the solemn throngs totaled about 800,000 along the route from the Capitol, where Kennedy's body lay in state, to St. Matthew's cathedral, where it was moved for services.

An estimated 200,000 more watched along the route from the cathedral to Arlington National cemetery where Kennedy was buried, Murray said.

Population of Washington proper is about 800,000 and of the metropolitan area something over 2,000,000.

Ruby Described As Lover of U. S. President

DETROIT, Nov. 26 (UPI)—Jack L. Ruby, the slayer of Lee Harvey Oswald, was described yesterday as a "highly emotional" man who "tremendously" admired the late President Kennedy.

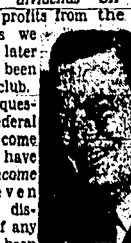
Speaking was Ruby's brother, Earl R. Ruby, 48, at his rented home in suburban Southfield, Mich.

"Jack was the most patriotic member of the family," Earl said. "He was tremendously in favor of President Kennedy—he was a great admirer of the President, he thought he was a great guy."

"He always took the side of the President in any argument over politics—whoever the President was—either Roosevelt, Truman, Eisenhower or Kennedy," Earl added.

The Daily Investor

Q. Seven of us formed an investment club early this year. We pay dues, which are invested in stocks. All dividends on the stocks and profits from the sale of stocks we bought and later sold have been left in the club.



Doyle

Now the question of federal taxes has come up. Will we have to pay income taxes, even though no distributions of any kind have been made to the club members?

A. Although you don't say so, we'll assume that your club is set up as a partnership—as the vast majority of investment clubs are. Any club that doesn't have a formal agreement, such as a partnership, can run into all kinds of grief. A lawyer can draw up such an agreement in jig time.

As a partnership, the club is required to file an information form with the internal revenue service each year—listing income such as dividends and interest on the club's securities and capital gains (profits) realized by selling stock at higher prices than paid for that stock.

Then, each member of the partnership is required to report his proportionate share of the club's income and capital gains on his individual income tax return. This must be done, even if the club has not distributed any of its income or capital gains to the members.

Because of the possibility of confusion on tax rules, it's smart for each investment club to get individual advice from an accountant.

Q. Before I decide whether to buy shares of an open-end investment company (a mutual fund) there is one thing I would like to know. Is it true that I will be able to resell my shares back to the mutual fund, at whatever price that is established by that fund on that particular day?

A. Yes. That's the feature (the redemption procedure) that makes an investment company open-end—a mutual fund.

To be technical about it, you wouldn't "resell" your shares. You would redeem them by turning them back to the mutual fund, on any normal business day.

The price you would get would be the "redemption price" established on the day your shares are redeemed. For most mutual funds, the redemption price of each share is the asset value per share—the actual dollar-and-cents value behind each share. A few mutual funds have small "redemption charges" which make the redemption price a (one or two per cent) below asset value per share.

Q. I know of several instances where employes of brokerage firms which are members of the New York stock exchange are permitted to buy and sell stocks for their own personal accounts at reduced commission costs. Is this a general practice?

A. The only "employes" of stock exchange member firms who can are registered representatives who handle customers' accounts on a commission basis. Under stock exchange regulations, those registered reps can get what amounts to reduced commissions rates on transactions in accounts in which they have a personal interest — their own, their families'. The reduction in their commission costs is governed by strict stock exchange rules. Yes, it seems to be a rather general practice by brokerage firms.

Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK, Nov. 26 (AP)—The shock of a death passes in time. The basic U. S. economy is sound. The majority of Americans are not panic prone.

Sam Dawson

All signs point to a continuation by President Johnson and the congress of the late President Kennedy's general policies affecting business, industry and finance.

This is the hopeful expectation of almost all business leaders and economists who have assessed the long-run consequences of the assassination.

They feel that confidence—at both consumer and business levels—will prove strong after the initial period of shock and bewilderment.

Gyrations in stock and commodity markets are expected for a time. They customarily react dramatically to any shock, particularly to any news that involves short-term uncertainties. And in the markets reaction breeds reaction, as they get back in step with the rest of the economy.

But confidence of the public as a whole, rather than just the passing judgments of stock and commodity traders, is the key to the business future.

Confidence is a fragile thing. There is no fixed guide to how consumers and businessmen will feel and act.

The general expectation, however, is that after the first shock the consumer will go on with his plans, and that business will go ahead with its production schedules and planning for modernization and future expansion.

Only an unexpected change in the policies of the new administration and the attitude of the congress, or in the trade and political policies of other nations could upset the basic strength of the economy, in the view of those (economists) who have spoken out so far. That strength is unquestioned today.

If other nations believe the new administration will follow the same policies as President Kennedy—and this seems highly probable—the dollar will remain strong in world money markets.

All of these business and financial conditions are, of course, affected by President Kennedy's assassination. Uncertainty and reassessment may slow the rise in the economy that got under way in late summer.

But this need be only temporary—if Americans keep their heads.

Camas County Emerges as Area's Only Undefeated Football Club for 1963

Although 25 Magic Valley high schools started the football season in September with hopes of an undefeated season, only perennially tough Camas County made it to the wire. And the Mushers had a slight blemish on their mark, being held to a 20-20 tie in their last game. The Mushers, however, did get through the regular season all victorious and then were tied in a playoff. Only nine teams ended the overall year with a better than .500 winning percentage while a 10th was right on the nose.

Jerome and Kimberly posted the best 11-man records at 8-1 while Twin Falls and Gooding were right behind at 8-2. Camas County, an eight-man team, piled up 370 points during the year to easily run off with the offensive honors and the Mushers doubled that up by limiting eight-man opponents to 85 points.

Gooding led in 11-man point production with 240 points, 12 ahead of runner-up Twin Falls. The Senators also limited foes to 80 points to lead the upper classifications in defense.

All four area conference champions ended up with perfect loop marks. Gooding took the Big Eight title with 7-0; Jerome led the Cross State loop with 4-0; Carey took the Snake River loop title with a 4-0 record, and Camas County was 4-0 en route to the Magic Valley conference crown.

For the first time in four seasons, every team won at least one game. Wendell and Hansen snapped the longest 11 and eight-man records, respectively, during the season.

Dietrich made it through the season with the smallest club, suiting up only 11 players for one eight-man game, while Twin Falls had 87 juniors and seniors playing the same day.

Winless Hailey Has Only One Way to Go

HAILEY, Nov. 26—After losing 18 straight last season, there's no way for the Hailey Wolverines and coach Emory Dietrich to go but up. Hailey lost three men off last year's starting lineup and has eight lettermen to work with this season. The club boasts some good height and coach Dietrich notes "attitude and spirit" have been good so far. The team still has two more weeks of practice before opening Dec. 6 by hosting Carey.

With this season the Wolverines also are starting a new system. The school has dropped its basketball program into the fifth and sixth grades and will have a combined seventh and eighth grade club. There will be only one frosh club and one sophomore unit. Coach Dietrich adds the sophomore club may later include some of the brighter frosh prospects. The Wolverines are looking for games for their frosh club.

Of the eight returning lettermen, seven have two years' experience. Tallest is Jim Hawkins, 6-feet, 3-inches, while Joe Harris and Bill Andrews stand in at 6-feet, 2-inches. Mark Purdy and Larry Hawkes both stand 5-feet, 11-inches and Phil Ellway, Warren Mahoney, Mike Ellway and Mike Mallory all check in at 5-feet, 10-inches.

Five juniors are striving for starting status, including the tallest man on the roster. He is 6-foot, 5-inch Raymon McGraw, who has no previous varsity experience. With him are guards Larry Burk, Hal Bingham, Bruce Paterson and Don Nisson. The junior class also has representatives in Gary Byington, Steve Rayborn, Paul LaPrise and Richard Warden.

Hardest man to replace will be Tom Young, who canned 131 points last year. Graduation also tok Wayne McKenzie and Jim White while John Exner moved to Shoshone.

The Hailey schedule includes Dec. 6, Carey at Hailey; Dec. 7, Camas County at Hailey; Dec. 13, Valley at Hailey; Dec. 14, Hailey at Camas County; Dec. 20, Hailey at Mackay; Jan. 3, Mackay at Hailey; Jan. 10, Oakley at Hailey, and Jan. 11, Glenns Ferry at Hailey.

Illini Okay, But Coach Is Sidelined

CHAMPAIGN, Ill., Nov. 26 (AP)—The Illinois football team should be in top condition for its Big Ten title battle with Michigan State Thursday but the same can't be said for Coach Pete Elliott.

Elliott was decked by reserve halfback Les Feuquay during practice Monday and suffered torn ligaments in his left knee. Feuquay was running wide out of a Michigan State formation when he hit the coach.

Elliott, who said "better me than one of my players," was expected to have the knee placed in a cast Tuesday.

The 37-year-old coach never suffered an injury in college where he won 12 letters at Michigan.

"I did hurt my knee once in high school," he said, "but not this badly."

Despite his injury, Elliott was able to smile after his Illini went through a two-hour drill.

"I thought they looked pretty good coming off of a two-day layoff," he said. "I was pleased with their attitude."

Elliott doesn't feel he'll have any trouble getting his club "up" for the game after the tremendous letdown over the tragic week-end. The game was postponed three hours before kickoff time last Saturday.

"There's too much at stake for the club not to be up," said Elliott. An Illinois victory means the Big Ten championship and a trip to the Rose bowl.

HATTON REHIRED

HOUSTON, Nov. 26 (AP)—Paul Richards, general manager of the Houston Colts, said today Grady Hatton will return as manager of the Oklahoma City 89ers farm club for the 1964 season.

Portland Is Not Ready to Join Big Sky

OGDEN, Nov. 26 (AP) — Representatives from Portland State university sat in on the Big Sky conference meeting at Weber State college Monday, but conference commissioner Jack Friel said it was "for the purpose of obtaining information only."

In other words, Portland State has not applied for admission to the conference yet.

A statement put out by Friel said Portland State representatives "made clear that Portland State has made no decision yet to drop or change its affiliation, or become independent.

"It is presenting doing an extensive review of its educational and athletic program and its representatives attended today's meeting at the invitation of the conference for the purpose of obtaining information only. There was no consideration of an invitation or application to join."

Weber, Idaho, Idaho State, Montana, Montana State and Gonzaga make up the new Big Sky conference whose athletic directors decided at Monday's meeting to apply for admission to the National Collegiate Athletic association as a member of the university division.

And commissioner Friel was instructed to explore the future possibilities of a post-season playoff game.

Big Sky's eligibility to join the NCAA depends on four-accreditation of Weber, a former junior college, and that accreditation is expected to come in December.

Friel said, "It is hoped that the conference winner can qualify for NCAA playoffs."

Flatley Called Best Rookie

MINNEAPOLIS - ST. PAUL, Nov. 26 (AP)—Mention the name of Paul Flatley, and Norm Van Brocklin enthuses. "He's the best rookie in the league."

Flatley caught six passes from Fran Tarkenton Sunday for 174 yards, boosting his season figures to 48 receptions for 818 yards. He's within two catches and 41 yards of matching team records held by Jerry Reichow.

"He's got everything except blazing speed," Van Brocklin enthused, "but he can move. I sometimes wonder if speed isn't over-rated. Some of the great receivers in this league haven't had tremendous speed.

Mira Is Greater in Defeat Than He Was in Victory, Miami Coach Claims

MIAMI, Fla., Nov. 26 (AP) — Is George Mira, Miami's All-America a year ago, still a top notch quarterback in spite of his team's 3-5 record this season?

Here's how his coach, Andy Gustafson, answers the question:

"Despite every conceivable handicap, George has been far greater than he was in 1962. There is no doubt that he is the nation's greatest passing quarterback.

"If you don't believe it, wait and see who is the No. 1 choice in the National Football league draft."

Unquestionably, any pro club would jump at the chance to grab the 6-foot, 2-inch, 182-pound bomber whose accurate aerial shots have propelled him close to the top of the list among college football's all-time great passers.

The San Francisco 49ers reportedly have a fat contract ready for Mira if they get first call in the NFL draft.

Mira's individual statistics seem to support Gustafson's stand.

Playing on a comparatively weak team, he has completed 123 passes in eight games for 1,548 yards.

That's 23 more completions and 200 more yards than he got in the first eight games last year, when Miami had compiled a 6-2 record. His percentage this season is .508, compared with .479 last season.

In total offense, he has 1,675 yards against 1,465 in 1962.

Biggest among Mira's handicaps in his fight to repeat as an All-America has been a lack of blocking in many games. He has made some of his most sensational throws while virtually running for his life from enemy rushers.

Second has been his lack of dependable receivers. Time after time, he has dropped passes directly into the arms of his ends and halfbacks only to see them fumbled. At least two defeats resulted from the muffing of perfect touchdown passes.

A third handicap has been Miami's lack of a running threat to take some of the pressure off the beleaguered Mira. With little need for worry about Hurricane ground thrusts, enemy teams have been able to concentrate entirely on the elusive quarterback.

"Every opponent tried every possible method of defending against him," Gustafson says. "They tried rushing him with eight-man lines. They tried a three-man rush with eight men back on pass defense.

"Not one succeeded in containing him. George got big yardage against every team we played, and he would get it against any other team in the country. Nobody could stop him.

"Under the conditions, a lot of quarterbacks would lose incentive. George never stopped playing his heart out, trying to pull out victories single-handedly. If he was All-America last year, how could he fail to be this year?"

Bulldogs Ready For Bowl Bid

STARKVILLE, Miss., Nov. 26 (AP) — Athletic Director Wade Walker said Monday the Mississippi State Bulldogs are ready for a bowl bid.

"We'd be most happy to talk to any bowl interested in us," Walker said.

He said if the Bulldogs beat Mississippi in the annual grudge match Saturday here, "No one in the Southeastern conference would be better bowl material than the Bulldogs."

"And don't think," said Walker, "that it would be funtastic if we should beat the Rebels."

Trojans Hope to End Three-Year Drought

WENDELL, Nov. 26—With seven returning lettermen, coach M. L. Gates and the Wendell Trojans are hoping to end a three-year losing record. Since the Trojans won the Little Six title in 1959-60, they have compiled a rather dismal record of 16 wins and 42 defeats in regular season play. Their best showing came last year with a 6-14 record and coach Gates hopes the upswing continues.

He can call on Jerry Nelson, a 6-foot, 1-inch senior, who paced his club in scoring with 231 points last year and fifth spot on the conference point list. Also back are senior lettermen Charlies Hansen, 6 feet, 2 inches; Larry Jasper, 5 feet, 10 inches, and Dick Phillips, 5 feet, 9 inches. All have two years' experience. Juniors counted on are Greg Taylor, 6 feet, 2 inches; Van Nebeker, 5 feet, 6 inches, and Barry Housden, 5 feet, 10 inches.

Coach Gates expects two sophomores to press hard for starting spots. These are Dennis Nielsen, 6 feet, 2 inches, and Danny Peterson, 5 feet, 10 inches.

"We are counting on these two to give us the outside shooting that we need," reports the coach.

Last year overall team slowness and the lack of an outside scoring punch allowed opponents to concentrate around the keyhole and shut out any of Wendell's offensive plans.

Gone from the club are Larry Conyers and Rollan Parr, both of whom will be missed for their rebounding. Conyers also was second in scoring.

Football Coach Enters Clinic

Athletic Director J. W. (Bill) Orwig designated line coach Bob Hicks, Dickens' assistant for 11 seasons, as acting head coach this week.

Dickens had not felt well since an attack of pneumonia last year but put off a checkup until the end of the season.

Aggies Will Try Hard to Upset Texas

By The Associated Press

The youthful Texas Aggies will be trying hard for an upset against Texas Thursday but if they don't make it there'll be little said. No one expects them to, anyway.

But come 1964 and it will be expected because the Aggies are loaded with promising sophomores and have a good freshman team coming up.

Texas has 14 seniors on its three-deep squad, the Aggies have only six. So, graduation should serve to equalize things up next year.

Texas, with all its veteran manpower, has a tough fullback problem. Regular Harold Phillipp is nursing an ankle injury and Tommy Stockton, who starred in the Texas Christian game, has an inflamed elbow.

The Aggies are in top shape and ready to go.

Four other conference members play games Saturday, with Southern Methodist invading Fort Worth for a clash with Texas Christian and Baylor going to Houston to play Rice.

Arkansas and Texas Tech have finished the season.

Junior Rose Bowl Team Is Selected

PASADENA, Calif., Nov. 26 (AP)—Orange Coast college at nearby Costa Mesa was named Monday as the California team in the Junior Rose bowl football game here Dec. 14.

Orange Coast won the western conference championship with a perfect 9-0 record. Its two-year record is 18-1.

Leading candidates for the eastern team are Pearl River Junior college of Poplarville, Miss. and Northeastern Oklahoma A and M of Miami, Okla.

COACH LEFT OUT

NORMAN, Okla., Nov. 26 (AP)—Coach Bud Wilkinson said Monday he was not involved in a decision by Oklahoma football players to reject any bowl bids offered to the team. Wilkinson refused to comment on whether he agreed with the players' decision.

Sports FROM ALL ANGLES

By LARRY HOVEY

With four basketball classifications going into operation this year plus the reshuffling of conferences last spring, Magic Valley fans will have a little trouble following the overall picture of this year in the state's top two enrollment classifications.

Hovey

Perhaps the hardest for fans to remember will be that Burley and Minico will be independent this season, marking time until the spring tournament but mostly waiting for the new Eastern Idaho conference to become a competitive reality next year.

A second point will have those two schools and Twin Falls in the fourth "regional" tournament playoff for one berth in the state's all-new 1-A division.

Therefore, the competition we have become used to for so many years, the above mentioned teams plus Buhl, Jerome and Gooding will be only window dressing.

The split seems to come just when the supposedly lower 2-A classification has the strength. In Jerome, Gooding and sometimes Buhl, the 2-A division should win most of the games against the larger schools.

Jerome appears the class of the area and, without putting anyone on the spot, the Tiger fans could think about championships. "It's too bad this (reclassification) had to happen this year," said Tiger coach Pat Young last spring. "We were looking forward to playing the big schools next year."

Barring another injury, such as the one that will sideline Rod Gano most or all of the season, the Tigers should be one of the state's best. Even without Gano, the Tigers can call on seven returning lettermen—many of them started at least three games last year—and have the height to make it tough for anyone.

Robb Williams, the Big Seven top gunner with 258 points last year, figured to be almarked man from the beginning on that reason alone. Now add the all-America high school mention he received this fall, and it becomes doubly tough. Coach Young expects no dissension to result from this lofty praise of Williams. It can't if Jerome is to fill its potentiality.

There is another marked man in the area. One who should be handicapped even more as he hasn't the experience or maturity of Williams. This refers to Ben Adamsen, Gooding, who broke on the AAA scene last year at tournament time and turned everyone's head.

Gooding, which hasn't entered the championship circle for a long, long time, of course, is serious. Adamsen isn't the only thing Gooding has going for it, but that 15-point plus effort he made in the tournament last season didn't exactly make the losses as stunning as they had been a year earlier.

Of all area teams and men, Coach Del Blazzard and Adamsen are on the hot spot. Being only a sophomore, Adamsen shouldn't be a completely poised, veteran varsity player. He should cost Gooding points at various times against more seasoned, if less talented, opponents. When Adamsen has a bad night, it is only hoped everyone recalls he is still only a 6-foot, 3-inch sophomore.

Buhl could be a very good team on specific nights. The Indians could be the best around. But the history of the club is against it-in-that Buhl, despite the return of size and veterans, hasn't proved to be a consistent scoring club. Last year the Indians ranged from highs of 50 plus to less than 20. The low extremes should be up this season. If consistency is found, Buhl also should rate high.

Filer is short. Specifically compared against Gooding, Buhl and Jerome, that is Filer's trouble. The Wildcats should handle everything but the backboards well. But not getting the ball can only hurt them. Possibly their best suit is the ball handling potential of the club. At times last year, it did exceedingly well in setting itself up for the percentage shot.

Valley makes its first appearance in a higher league. It picked the wrong year. Over the long haul, the Vikings will win their share in the South Central conference. Asking the Vikings to beat Jerome or possibly finish with a .500 win percentage in their first season against consistently stronger competition is quite a request. Give coach Lyle Upcola and his charges a year to get used to it. Still, the Vikings will let opponents know they're on the floor.

Switching back to the A-2 classification, the pre-season nod would have to go to Twin Falls. Not that Twin Falls is going to be great, but because the Bruins have two starters back, potential help in the junior class and a better chance at scoring consistency.

Minico could whip the Bruins. Coach Bill Matthews has comparable height, except for the Bruins' 6-foot, 5-inch Paul Stover. There are six lettermen and several juniors that go around 6 feet, 2 inches.

But Mike Manning is the only consistent scorer back. If some of the others come along, it would mean a great difference. But last year Minico showed a mortal consistency for going several minutes without scoring. It couldn't win doing that last year and shouldn't this season if that handicap continues to plague.

Burley had a 19-1 record last year and was among the class in the state. This year everything off that club is gone and coach Rulon Budge will be relying almost exclusively on untried seniors and pea-green juniors. Burley is the hardest hit by graduation team this side of Pocatello.

Largely, the Bobcats are unknown. Their sophomore club did well but was not the tallest around. The "line" on Burley also is the hardest to find.

Little Change Is Found in Weekly Football Rating

By The Associated Press

Due to cancellations and postponements in respect to the memory of the late President Kennedy, only a handful of college football games were played last week-end. As a result there were few changes in the weekly Associated Press poll. Texas, due to end its regular season Thursday in its usual test with Texas A and M, remained in the No. 1 position as the only major unbeaten and untied team in the nation. The final poll will be held next week.

With the fate of the Army-Navy game still hanging in the balance, awaiting a final decision from Washington, idle Navy clung to second place. It was considered likely that Navy would be invited to the Cotton bowl for a New Year's day game with Texas if the Middies beat the Cadets.

Mississippi, which had an open date before Saturday's final game with Mississippi State, remained in the No. 3 spot. Then came Michigan State, whose important Big Ten finale with Illinois was put off until Thursday.

Pittsburgh's game with Penn State was postponed to Dec. 7, but the Panthers held position No. 5 Pitt plays Miami, Fla., Saturday night. Alabama, idle since Nov. 16, moved up a peg to No. 8 with an important game coming up Saturday against Auburn.

The only big shuffle resulted in Nebraska, a 29-20 winner over Oklahoma for the Big Eight title, moving up to No. 7 from 10th a wek ago. Oklahoma, which had been No. 6, fell to No. 10.

Illinois, waiting for the big game with Michigan State, remained No. 8, followed by Auburn which defeated Florida State 21-15.

Nebraska is the only team among the Top Ten to have finished its regular schedule.

	W	L	T	Pts.
1. Texas 20	9	0	0	218

Honored

JEROME, Nov. 26—Jerome center, 6-foot, 5-inch Robb Williams, received mention in the Deil Publishing company's western regional high school All-America selections.

In its annual basketball edition now on news stands, Williams was one of 27 boys in the Western states so honored. Williams, who scored 258 points last year, was not selected to the top three national teams.

Playoffs Set For NAIA Grid Crown

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 26 (AP)—College of Emporia will play St. John's of Minnesota and Prairie View A and M of Texas will meet Kearney State of Nebraska in the semifinal playoffs for the National Athletics football championship.

The selection of Prairie View and College of Emporia was announced Monday by the NAIA. Kearney and St. John's were chosen last week.

The College of Emporia-St. John's game will be at Metropolitan stadium in Minneapolis Saturday, Nov. 30. The Kearney-Prairie View tilt will be at Kearney Dec. 7. Both will be afternoon games.

Winners of the playoff games will play Dec. 14 in the Camellia bowl at Sacramento, Calif., for the NAIA title.

The selection committee followed the outcome of the final balloting of the NAIA Football Coaches association. Northern Illinois was voted No. 1, but was prohibited by its conference from playing in any game later than Nov. 30.

St. John's, with an 8-0 record, placed second in the poll. Kearney 9-0, was third, and College of Emporia, 10-0, and Prairie View, 8-0, were tied for fourth.

College of Emporia, unbeaten in regular season games the last two years, also entered the playoffs last year and was beaten 20-0 by Central Oklahoma State, the eventual champion. The C. of E. Presbies have the longest winning streak among NAIA teams in regular season play—25 games.

Nicklaus Second In Golf Winnings

DUNEDIN, Fla., Nov. 26 (AP)—Jack Nicklaus collected $1,050 for his tie for fifth place in the Cajun Classic at Lafayette, La., Sunday and jumped into second place among the top 10 of golf's money winners.

Arnold Palmer, who did not compete at Lafayette, remained in the No. 1 spot with $128,230, followed by Nicklaus with $100,040.

Julius Boros was third in the top 10 list released by the Professional Golfers association Monday with $77,358.

Wins Match

Idaho State university's rifle team finished fifth place in its first shoulder-to-shoulder match of the season in the Idaho navy invitational rifle match in Moscow.

High scorer for ISU was ROTC cadet Gary Kelley, Pocatello, who accumulated 282 points.

Kelso Again Is Cited as Horse of Year

NEW YORK, Nov. 26 (AP)—Kelso, winner of 31 of his 45 lifetime starts and with a bankroll of $1,581,702, again was named horse of the year Monday by the Daily Racing Form and the Morning Telegraph.

The 6-year-old gelding from Mrs. Richard C. duPont's Bohemia stable, with a 1963 record of nine victories and two seconds in 12 races, was the unanimous selection of the 36 taking part in the poll. He also was named the best handicap horse of the year, rounding out four straight years of topping American thoroughbred racing.

Chatenaugay from the Darby Dan farm of John Galbreath was selected as the top 3-year-old of the year off his victories chiefly in the Kentucky derby and Belmont stakes. He received 28 votes to four for Candy Spots and two each for Never Bend and Lamb Chop.

Lamb Chop, owned by W. H. Perry, was named the No. 1 3-year-old filly by a big margin over Spicy Living and Smart Deb.

Rebuilding Season Looms for Panthers

CAREY, Nov. 26—"We don't expect to win many ball games unless the sophomores come around," says Carey high school coach Wendell Wolf, sizing up his 1963-64 prospects. The Panthers racked up a sparking 15-5 record last season but three of the main reasons for that mark graduated last spring. Two returning lettermen form the nucleus of coach Wolf's "rebuilding year" and height and maturity are not available.

Coming back are Ray Sparks, a 6-foot senior with two years' experience, who pumped through 192 points last season. Back with him is Ken Mecham, who rebounds a few inches taller than his 5-foot, 10-inch stature indicates. Not known as a scorer last year, Mecham still put in 124 points.

The rest of the club appears in the hands of underclassmen. Coach Wolf lists juniors in 6-foot, 1-inch Pat Briggs and 5-foot, 10-inch Rick Roberts. Sophomores who should see considerable action are Marty Farnworth, 6 feet; Jerry Rudd, 5 feet, 11 inches, and Lee Cook, 5 feet, 8 inches.

Graduation took one-half of the Panther offensive punch. The biggest gap is the loss of Lynn Cook, who tanked 320 points last season. He was aided by Dave Rush, who had 147 points, and Joe Bennett, who had 163.

The Carey schedule includes Dec. 6, Carey at Hailey; Dec. 7, Mackay at Carey; Dec. 13 and 14, tournament at Leadore; Jan. 3, Carey at Richfield; Jan. 4, Bliss at Carey; Jan. 10, Carey at Gooding State; Jan. 11, Carey at Mackay; Jan. 17, Camas County at Carey, and Jan. 18, Carey at Hagerman.

Orange Blossom Bowl Scheduled

MIAMI, Fla., Nov. 26 (AP)—Opponents in the Orange Blossom football classic in the Orange bowl Dec. 14 will be host Florida A and M and guest Morgan State college of Baltimore.

Morgan State, making its first appearance in the annual post-season game, holds the distinction of having given the Florida club the worst defeat — a 50-0 drubbing in 1943.

Coached by former University of Iowa star Earl Banks, Morgan State is tied for the CIAA conference lead and has one of the best rushing defense records in the nation. Their eight opponents this season have averaged a mere 28.5 yards per game.

Auburn Rated Likely Choice to Meet Nebraska in Orange Bowl

NEW YORK, Nov. 26 (AP)—The Orange bowl disclosed Monday that Auburn is its No. 1 choice as an opponent for Nebraska in the game at Miami on New Year's day. This development left Mississippi and Alabama as likely participants in the Sugar bowl at New Orleans, with Pittsburgh slated to go to the Gator bowl at Jacksonville, Fla. Auburn, which has won eight of its nine games and gained the No. 9 national ranking, can have the Orange bowl bid as long as it doesn't disgrace itself in the final game against Alabama Saturday, Ben Benjamin, Orange bowl president, indicated.

A victory for the Plainsmen would make the bid certain and a close game with Alabama—win or lose—would make it fairly definite, he said. Nebraska sewed up a bid by beating Oklahoma 29-20 Saturday for the Big Eight title.

If Auburn should be clobbered by its traditional state rival in the game at Tuscaloosa, then Orange bowl sponsors would turn their attention to Pitt, and exciting team with a 7-1 record.

However, fifth-ranked Pitt has a Saturday night date with Miami and the sharpshooting George Mira in Miami, and a Dec. 7 game remaining against tough Penn State, a game that was postponed because of the death of President Kennedy.

"Our boys were high for the Penn State game last week," said the Pitt athletic director, Frank Carver, "I am not sure we can reach the same peak again. Some of the spark may have gone out of us."

The tragic events of the last few days, postponing Pitt's game with Penn State, undoubtedly hurt the team's chances of landing in the Orange or Cotton bowls. Sponsors are disinclined to wait until Dec. 7.

Pitt isn't a prospect for the Sugar bowl because of New Orleans segregation policies. Pittsburgh adopted a policy in 1957 of refusing to play where there is not complete integration.

Unbeaten but once tied Mississippi, 7-0-1, has a Saturday game with Mississippi State. A victory almost certainly would put Ole Miss in the Sugar bowl against Alabama. A defeat might throw the plum to Mississippi State, or Syracuse, 7-2.

Top-ranked Texas, the only unbeaten-untied major team in the country, is already committed to the Cotton bowl in Dallas, where efforts are being made to match it with second-ranked Navy in the "game of the year."

Navy is scheduled to play Army in the annual service classic at Philadelphia Saturday, unless the Pentagon decides the game should be canceled out of deference to the late President Kennedy. Such a decision might also thwart any Navy bowl plans, in which case Pitt would be the next Cotton bowl choice.

The Rose bowl representatives will be decided by games this week. Michigan State and Illinois clash Thursday at East Lansing, Mich., for the Big Ten conference crown and one of the bowl spots. The other will depend on the outcome of the games between Washington at Washington State at Seattle and Southern California and UCLA at Los Angeles. Washington is said to have the inside track.

The Gator bowl likely may wind up with either Pitt or Syracuse on the one hand and Georgia Tech 6-3, or North Carolina, 7-2 on the other.

Penn State, 7-2, and Oklahoma, 7-2, have announced they are not interested in bowls this year.

Meeting

The Twin Falls Gun club will conduct its annual meeting at 8 p.m. Tuesday at the clubhouse, Washington street north at the canyon.

Officers will be elected and several business matters discussed.

Idaho Upland Bird Hunting Has Increase

BOISE, Nov. 26 (AP)—Pheasant and other fall game bird hunters have had their best success in Idaho in years, the fish and game department reported Monday.

It credited more liberal hunting regulations and bigger bird populations. There was an earlier, mid-September opening for grouse, quail and partridge.

Pheasant hunters in Southern Idaho averaged 1.3 birds per hunter on opening week-end, only slightly below the 1.36 of 1958, the peak year. In the Clearwater area of Northern Idaho, hunting was the best on record.

The pheasant season is closed in most areas but continues to Dec. 8 in the 10 Southwest counties.

Partridge and quail seasons will continue in 26 counties to the end of December, and the cottontail rabbit season to the end of February.

Warm weather was credited for an abundance of doves, and a mid-September opening contributed to chukar success. The department said the chukar hatch is one of the best on record.

It said Hungarian partridge hunters also gained from the earlier opening.

Forest grouse hunting in North Idaho is described as top notch for the third successive year, but the ruffed grouse crop was poor in Southern Idaho. Sage grouse hunting, during a two-day season, was above average but not as good as 1962.

The department said the duck and goose migration to Idaho may be the best in several years.

Pusateri Loses To Englishman

MANCHESTER, England, Nov. 26 (AP)—Mike Pusateri, the light heavyweight protege of former world heavyweight Champion Rocky Marciano, was beaten by Britain's Terry Downes Monday night. The referee stopped the fight at the end of five rounds of a scheduled 10-rounder.

Pusateri of Brockton, Mass., stayed on his feet throughout. But Downes carried the fight to the American the whole time. He cut Pusateri over the left eye before the first round ended and then opened up another cut on the American's left cheek bone in the second round.

Downes got in with hooks, jabs, and uppercuts throughout the fight.

No Decision Is Made on Service Game

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26 (AP)—The Pentagon said Monday no decision had been made on the playing of the 64th Army-Navy football game Saturday in Philadelphia.

There was no indication when official word might be handed down, a Pentagon spokesman said.

With funeral services for the late President John F. Kennedy conducted Monday and the day being proclaimed a national day of mourning, it appeared that a decision may be withheld until Tuesday.

Although officials of both service academies expressed themselves as in favor of the game, there was a strong feeling that the game might be canceled out of respect for the late commander-in-chief.

The next 30 days have been designated as a period of mourning for the armed services.

Army's team under Coach Paul Dietzel has continued practice and a workout was scheduled Monday afternoon.

Dietzel said, "We have had no official word on the game—we are waiting for a decision."

Coach Wayne Hardin of Navy said:

"We all feel like we have been hit in the pit of the stomach by this tragic blow. We haven't had an inkling on the playing of the game."

Black Hawks Lead Scoring

MONTREAL, Nov. 26 (AP)—The Chicago Black Hawks, running away with the National Hockey league race and scoring goals at a season-record pace, placed six men in the top 10 scoring list, statistics showed today.

Hawks rank 1-2 in points and 1-2-3 in goals. Bobby Hull with 31 and Stan Mikita with 30 top the point makers, and Hull, 14, Mikita, 13, and Kenny Wharram, 12, are the leading goal makers.

The Hawks, leading the league by nine points, have scored 73 goals in 19 games. At that rate they would have 269 goals for the season, topping the record 259 scored by the Montreal Canadiens in 1961-62.

Russ Visit Gem Reactor Test Station

IDAHO FALLS, Nov. 26 (AP)—Eleven of Russia's leading atomic scientists paused to watch the funeral of President John F. Kennedy on their tour of the national reactor testing station Monday.

Heading the group was Adronnik M. Petrosyants, chairman of the USSR committee on utilization of atomic energy. He declined to comment on the tour, saying he would talk only after it ends in Washington, D. C.

The Russians, part of a scientific exchange program, stopped and looked again.

Hinckley Is Speaker for Stake Confab

WENDELL, Nov. 26—Presiding for the Gooding LDS stake quarterly conference at Jerome stake house over the week-end was Elder Gordon B. Hinckley, a member of the council of the 12 apostles of the LDS church, Salt Lake City.

Elder Samuel A. Hendricks, Malad stake, representing the missionary committee, and Elder I. Reed Millar, Boise stake, of the priesthood house teaching committee, assisted with the conference. Group meetings were held Saturday afternoon and evening and Sunday morning with general sessions at 10 a. m. and 1:30 p. m. Sunday.

President Ross C. Lee conducted the conference. Special music at the Sunday sessions was furnished by the Wendell ward choir of 40 voices. Mrs. Raymond O. Petersen was the director and Mrs. Lynn Byington the organist.

Mrs. Samuel Parker, stake organist, Jerome, played the prelude and postlude music and accompanied congregational music which was conducted by Mrs. Everett Cox, Wendell, stake music director.

Mrs. Lewis Cunningham, who will be moving out of the state, was released as president of Gooding stake Relief society. Also released were Mrs. Allan Johnson, Wendell, as first counselor and Mrs. High Reid, second counselor; YWMIA stake presidency — Mrs. James Rupert, Mrs. George Riggs and Mrs. Edward Gifford; YMMIA stake presidency—Richard Bronson, Gooding, superintendent; Maurice Reed and Rulon Chandler, Wendell.

Elder Louis Durfee, Gooding, was released as president of the fourth quorum of elders and Everett Conrad and Larry Butler, counselors; Melvin S. Jones, from the seven presidents of the 205 quorum of seventies of the Gooding stake of Zion; George Lancaster, Wendell, president of the high priests quorum, and John Buttars, Jerome, first counselor; Eugene Webb, Gooding, second counselor, and John Stutznegger, Gooding, secretary.

The stake presidency was sustained as the presidency of the high priests quorum. They are President Ross C. Lee, Gail Hendrickson and H. Thomas Newman.

Earl Davis, Jerome, and Carroll Westfall, Hunt, were ordained as high priests in the Melchizedek priesthood. Ordained as "seventies" were Carl Havens, William Haslam, Jerome, Gerald Gehrke, Vard McHan, Wendell; George Ray Clausen, Ralph McCalley, Hazelton; Fred Stewart, Esbee Myler, Hunt; Lynn Wood, Hagerman; Arnold Albertson, Goodings, and Louis Middleton, Glenns Ferry.

Glenn Spencer, Gooding, and James Chester Southworth, Hazelton, were advanced in the priesthood to the office of elder. Farren Chandler, Wendell, was sustained as one of the seven presidents of the 205 quorum of seventies and Elder Richard Bronson, Gooding, was sustained as president of the fourth quorum of elders.

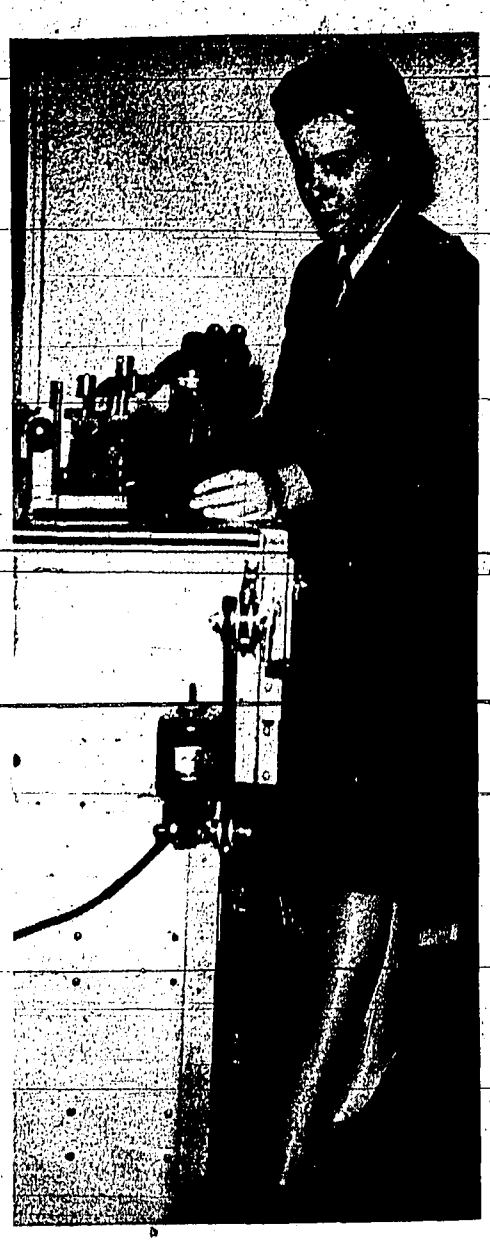
Also sustained were Rulon Chandler, Wendell, as stake superintendent of the YMMIA with Maurice Reid as superintendent of the stake board and Reed Vestal, Gooding, as Explorer leader; Mrs. George Biggs, president of YMMIA, with Mrs. Edward Gifford, counselor; Mrs. Verl Dixon, Gooding, president of the stake Relief society, and Mrs. Finley Hendrix, Gooding, counselor.

Mrs. Milton Glander, Jerome, was sustained a member of the stake Sunday school board.

The visiting authorities announced that beginning Jan. 1, a new program in the missionary work of the church will be started. The work, designed to bring every member into the work of the church, will be conducted by the quorums of seventies and a priesthood home training program. He urged members to accept the program in every detail.

Elder Hinckley spoke in the morning session concerning his love and appreciation of America and the need for repentance and a return to godliness as indicated by the great tragedy of our land Friday, when President Kennedy was assassinated. In the afternoon he spoke to the youth, stressing their need for education.

Prayers were offered Sunday morning by Walter J. Tranner, Jerome, and Elder Melvin Allred, Wendell, and in the afternoon by High Priest George Lancaster, Wendell, and Patriarch William D. Butler, Jerome.



PREPARING TO TEST the optical properties of a photographic lens at Wright-Patterson air force base, O., is Lieut. Jo Ann Holmes, Buhl. As an air force physicist, much of her work involves efforts to improve lenses used in aerial reconnaissance. (Air force photo)

Attractive Physicist for Air Force Is Buhl Native

WRIGHT-PATTERSON AIR FORCE BASE, O., Nov. 23 (Special)—An Idaho native, Jo Ann Holmes, Buhl, occupies a unique position as a member of the regular air force.

As a physicist and project engineer with the optic section of the avionics laboratory at Wright-Patterson air force base, O., the attractive second lieutenant is one of only a few women officers assigned to the research and technology division in a scientific or engineering capacity.

Lieutenant Holmes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Holmes, Buhl, attended Buhl high school prior to entering Colorado State university. She received a bachelor of science degree in chemistry in 1961 and in August, 1962, was graduated with distinction from officers' training school at Lackland air force base, Texas.

Commissioned a second lieutenant, her first air force assignment was with the aeronautical systems divisin at Wright-Patterson.

In May, 1963, Lieutenant Holmes was sworn into the regular air force.

While in high school, Lieutenant Holmes was a civil air patrol cadet. She recently renewed her association with the CAP by becoming a senior member and squadron training officer.

Wall Street Chatter

NEW YORK, Nov. 26 (UPI) — Brokerage houses warned investors not to "panic" in letters to subscribers over the week-end.

Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner and Smith, one of the nation's largest houses told its customers it does not "believe that President Kennedy's tragic and untimely death is likely to seriously undermine the economy or to find reflection in a basic change in the fundamental values."

The firm feels the retention of good quality common stock is clearly indicated in the present situation.

Carl M. Loeb, Rhodes and company feels that the shock of the President's death might "bring about a new sense of national purpose and the fulfillment of plans and aspirations perhaps too long stifled by participant debate."

Reynolds and company urged customers to maintain their composure "since there is no question that America will survive. Liquidation of securities at panic prices would appear to be a foolhardy course."

Bache and company suggested that customers take little or no action at the present time except to buy good quality issues which often become over-sold.

Walston and company said the tragedy of the President's assassination has, of course, tended to distort the normal trend of the market. However, the firm pointed out, prior to Friday's events, the market had shown signs of technical easiness and a loss of momentum.

HOFFA RAPS R. KENNEDY

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Nov. 26 (UPI)—Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy "is just another lawyer" since the President has been assassinated, Teamsters President James R. Hoffa said Sunday.

Color Movie Film Sequence Depicts Assassination

DALLAS, Nov. 26 (AP)—A strip of color movie film graphically depicting the assassination of President Kennedy was made by a Dallas clothing manufacturer with an eight millimeter camera.

Several persons in Dallas who have seen the film, which lasts about 15 seconds, say it clearly shows how the President was hit in the head with shattering force by the second of two bullets fired by the assassin.

Life magazine is reported to have purchased still picture rights to the material for about $40,000.

First the presidential limousine is coming toward the camera. As it comes abreast of the photographer, Kennedy is hit by the first bullet, apparently in the neck.

At the same time, Gov. John Connolly of Texas, riding directly in front of the President, turns around to see what has happened.

Then Kennedy is hit on the upper right side of the back of his head with violent force. His head goes forward and then snaps back, and he slumps down on the seat.

At this time, Governor Connolly is wounded in the shoulder and drops forward on his seat.

Mrs. Kennedy then jumps up and crawls across the back deck of the limousine, apparently seeking the aid of a secret service man who has been trotting behind the slowly moving vehicle. He jumps onto the car and shoves Mrs. Kennedy back into the seat. Then he orders the driver to speed to the hospital where the President died.

The elapsed time from the moment when Kennedy is first struck until the car disappears in an underpass is about five seconds.
