CARACAS, Venezuela, Nov. 27 (AP)—Armed terrorists seized Col. James K. Chenault of the U. S. army today and spirited him away. "We just want him for propaganda purposes," a Spanish-speaking officer later telephoned the embassy. "Don't worry. We are not going to harm him." Four men seized Chenault as he stepped from his home, overcame his Venezuelan chauffeur, disabled the engine of the colonel's car, then

Butchers at T. F. Stores OK Contract

Butchers at three Twin Falls grocery stores were back at work Wednesday after coming to an agreement with the store managers early Wednesday morning. The butchers had threatened to strike if a new contract was not signed. A spokesman at the Twin Falls union office said the agreement between the butchers and management was signed at 11 a. m. Wednesday. He said he did not know the amount of increase in wages the managers and butchers agreed on, or other details of the contract. Joe Pittmore, owner of the two food stores, and Joe Shelby, owner of the market, each said, "No comment," when asked about the negotiations. Some butchers at the stores did not work Tuesday.

France Hit By Giant Rail Strike

PARIS, Nov. 27—A strike by 400,000 of France's 300,000 railwaymen drastically slashed passenger and freight service throughout the nation today. Millions of travelers, including commuters, were forced either to seek other means of transportation or to cancel their trips. The government assigned military trucks and buses to help carry commuters to their jobs in such large cities as Paris, Marseilles, Lyons and Bordeaux. Mail was delayed and raw materials piled up in railroad stations, slowing factory production. Employees of the state-owned railroads walked out yesterday to press their demands for wage increases. They planned to return to their jobs tomorrow.

New Gun Law Planned By Senator

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27 (AP)—Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D., Conn., today may well strengthen a bill aimed at curbing sale of all-order guns such as a weapon used by President Kennedy. The legislation as now written would prohibit interstate shipment of firearms to localities where they are not permitted and to minors and convicted felons. Dodd told a newsman that he wanted to revise the bill to require that the buyer's character be verified by a high local law enforcement officer, such as the chief of police. He said details had not been worked out. Dodd said the President's assassination emphasized the need to tighten the bill so that it would come even harder for someone to get a gun through the mails to procure a gun. "This tragedy gives us a tragic opportunity to do what I wanted to do," Dodd said, referring to the last summer when he introduced his legislation. He introduced it originally by Dodd. The measure would require that purchasers submit sworn statement to the dealer manufacturer that he is over 21 years old and that he is eligible under the proposed law to receive the weapon. The bill is now pending before the Senate commerce committee. It is the direct result of nearly three years of investigation by Dodd's juvenile delinquency subcommittee.

In Bogota, capital of neighboring Colombia, two homemade bombs containing a total of 16 sticks of dynamite were placed outside the home of Capt. Adelbert R. Evers of the U. S. navy mission here. The bombs, placed 10 feet from the bedroom window where two of Evers' teen-age daughters were sleeping, misfired. Capt. Evers and his wife, of Los Angeles, were at Cartagena for joint Colombian-U. FBI Expected To Make Probe Public

DALLAS, Nov. 27 (AP)—The Dallas News said today that FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover is expected to make public a mass of evidence assembled by officers investigating the assassination of President Kennedy. Without naming its source, the newspaper said the White House approved a decision for the federal bureau of investigation to take charge of this evidence. It said Hoover is expected to announce, probably this week, that:

1. The evidence shows conclusively that Lee Harvey Oswald fired the shots which killed Kennedy and seriously wounded Texas Gov. John Connally here last Friday.
2. There is no proof of a communist conspiracy.
3. Investigators lack evidence which would prove that Oswald had help and they will remain alert for anything which would shed more light on the case.

Burley Crash Knocks Out Area Power

BURLEY, Nov. 27—Residents in the rural area west of Burley and the western part of the city were without electricity for about five and one-half hours Tuesday evening as the result of a two-car accident about 6:50 p. m. Tuesday at 18th street and Park avenue.

The power was restored about 11:30 p. m. Police said a 1960 Ford pickup truck owned by Volco Builders supply and driven by Marion L. Perkins, 46, route 1, Twin Falls, collided with a 1948 Chevrolet pickup truck owned and operated by John F. Wort, 25, Heyburn. Perkins was going west on 18th street and Wort was traveling north on Park avenue. There is a traffic light at the intersection. No citation was given, pending completion of investigation by the Burley police department.

Johnson Scores First Victory In Senate Action

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27 (AP)—The senate gave the new Johnson administration its first congressional victory Tuesday night by rejecting a bill which could have blocked the sale of surplus U. S. wheat to Russia and its satellites. A proposal by Sen. Karl E. Mundt, R., S. D., to ban use of the government's export-import bank or any federal agency for financing all trade with communist nations was killed. The test came on a motion by Democratic leader Mike Mansfield of Montana to table and thus kill the bill. The vote was announced as 57 for killing the bill and 36 against. Just before the vote Mansfield read a note to him by the late President John F. Kennedy, urging rejection of the Mundt proposal.

Connally Sets Meet, Reported In Good Shape

DALLAS, Nov. 26 (AP)—Texas Gov. John Connally today planned his first meeting with newsmen since he was shot down Friday with President Kennedy. Connally was reported in "excellent" condition today from the sniper's bullet which ripped through his body, arm and into his leg. The governor has handled some executive chores since Monday. Temporary offices for the governor's staff were set up at Parkland Memorial hospital where Kennedy died and Connally was treated.

Grieving America Prepares to Offer Thanks for Gifts of God

(See Related Story on Page 5)
By United Press International

A grieving and heavy-hearted America prepared today to follow the words of its dead young President and gather in home and sanctuary to give thanks "for the glorious gifts of God." George Washington, in proclaiming a day of "public Thanksgiving and prayer" 174 years ago, asked Americans to call upon God and "beseech Him to pardon our national and other transgressions." Stunned by a week-end of violence, the nation was ready to do that. President Johnson called upon churches and synagogues to have the late President John F. Kennedy's Thanksgiving day proclamation read at services tomorrow "as a memorial to him." (The proclamation is printed in full on page 5.)

"As we express our gratitude," the President had said, "we must never forget that the highest appreciation is not to utter words but to live by them." Across the nation, Americans gathered together to heed his words. A big turkey was delivered yesterday to the home at Hyannis Port, Mass., where the Kennedy family—including the President's widow and two children—were expected to gather tomorrow. In Ventura, Calif., 98 descendants of a pioneer family planned to be together on Thanksgiving day for the traditional turkey dinner.

The lone survivor of the first of the pioneer family that went to California in 1868 is Edwin S. Duval, who will be 84 tomorrow. In Des Moines, Ia., a tiny neighborhood restaurant will make sure hundreds of needy families enjoy a free turkey dinner. Mr. and Mrs. William J. Sargent, who operate the restaurant, ordinarily serve between 900 and 1,000 persons each Thanksgiving. In Chicago, the Salvation Army expects to serve some 1,200 men. Stocked up are 1,350 pounds of turkey, 600 pounds of potatoes, 300 loaves of bread, 200 pumpkin and mince pies and 300 pounds of candy and nuts.

Chicago policemen hoped to collect and distribute 10,000 pumpkin pies to needy families today and tomorrow. The weather bureau said most of the nation would have mild weather for Thanksgiving. The holiday traffic death count—a grim part of every holiday—will begin at 6 p. m. local time today and continue until midnight Sunday. Last year 484 persons died in traffic accidents during the Thanksgiving holiday, the national safety council said.

Johnson Appeals For Enactment of Kennedy Ideals

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27 (AP)—President Johnson told the nation and the world today that the ideas and ideals of John F. Kennedy "must and will be translated into effective action." The new President appealed at the same time for "an end to the teaching and preaching of hate and evil and violence." In a 1,500-word address prepared for a joint session of the senate and house, Johnson specifically called for early congressional action to set up new civil rights safeguards and enact an 11-billion-dollar tax cut.

Jordan Raps Proposal for Snake River

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27 (AP)—A plan for use of Snake river water by Los Angeles was sharply criticized Tuesday by Sen. Len B. Jordan, A., Idaho. "Such a plan is not new," Jordan said. Snake Water Plan Okayed By L.A. Board

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 27 (AP)—A city water and power proposal to utilize Snake river water at a cost of 1.4 billion dollars, rather than the so-called Udall plan was endorsed Tuesday by the board of supervisors. The supervisors also went on record opposing Interior Secretary Stewart Udall's plan at a cost of two billion dollars to assure water for a wide section of the West. This was similar to positions taken by most other California agencies.

Red Chinese Challenge New President

By JOHN RODERICK
Associated Press Staff Writer
TOKYO, Nov. 27 (AP)—Red China has thrown down the gauntlet to President Johnson. He faces the prospect of stepped-up warfare in South Viet Nam and Laos and possibly new crises in Korea and Cambodia. The Peking regime has made it clear it is determined to probe for any sign of U. S. uncertainty or weakness in Asian policy following the death of President Kennedy. The Chinese swiftly denounced Johnson as a supporter of Kennedy's "various reactionary policies." This has been followed by hostile appraisals of Johnson from North Viet Nam and the pro-Communist Pathet Lao of Laos. North Korea has not reacted officially to the American change of leadership. But it has stepped up the virulence and volume of its anti-U. S. campaign. The war in South Viet Nam is a prime proving ground for China's tough revolutionary theories. North Viet Nam, which directs and assists communist subversion in the south, quickly announced the fighting would continue as it had when Kennedy was directing U. S. assistance to South Viet Nam's anti-communist forces. To underline this threat, the Viet Cong guerrillas mounted powerful attacks on strategic hamlets in the south, dealing the young military regime some of the heaviest blows of the war. In Laos, the Pathet Lao Tuesday removed all doubts about where its allegiance lies. Once supported by the Russians, it now echoes Peking's line. The Pathet Lao radio said: "The U. S. imperialists will continue their policy of intervention in Laos and become more inflexible. Under such circumstances the Laotian people should never harbor any illusions about Johnson. No matter who becomes president, the nature of U. S. imperialism remains unchanged and its policy will continue to be aggressive and hostile." This means that the Pathet Lao will no longer respond to Soviet attempts to check its aggressive moves. Kennedy's death was the signal for harsh, new attacks from North Korea. The North Koreans, without apparent reason, have staged several shooting incidents on the 38th parallel in recent months. Now they may again test military reactions in their sector.

Johnson's Ranch Is Put Off Limits

JOHNSON CITY, Tex., Nov. 27.—Visitors to the new summer White House can get through the stone gate reading through the "LBJ Ranch" but much of President Johnson's showplace ranch is off limits.

The secret service closed the ranch less than one-half hour after Johnson took the oath of office Friday. Entrances were blocked by police cars, which have since left to allow free passage onto the ranch.

But an Associated Press photographer who visited the ranch Tuesday found no one could enter the ranch without being questioned.

Death Takes Mrs. Strong, 77, Wendell

WENDELL, Nov. 27.—Mrs. Mary West Strong, 77, died Tuesday at Magic Valley Manor of a long illness.

Mrs. Strong was born Sept. 30, 1888, at Sunderland, England. She came to the United States at the age of 3 years with her parents.

She was married to James C. Strong Nov. 6, 1907, at the LDS temple, Salt Lake City.

Mr. and Mrs. Strong homesteaded at Holbrook, Ida., in 1911. They moved to Wendell Sept. 2, 1912, and were engaged in farming. In the spring of 1952 the family moved to Ogden and returned to Wendell in the fall of 1953.

Mrs. Strong died May 17, 1955, after a long illness. She was a lifetime member of the LDS church and served as a visiting teacher in the Relief society.

Survivors include three sons, James R. Strong, San Jose, Calif.; Alvin C. Strong and Albert J. Strong, both Wendell; three daughters, Mrs. Bernice W. Miller, Hagerman; Mrs. Ethel E. Hunter, Nampa, and Mrs. Maurine B. Barker, north Ogden; 11 grandchildren and 29 great-grandchildren.

Funeral services will be conducted at 2 p.m. Friday at the Wendell LDS church on East avenue B with Bishop Murlen Lancaster officiating. Friends may call at Weaver mortuary, Wendell, from 4 p.m. Thursday until time of the service. Last rites will be held at the Wendell cemetery.

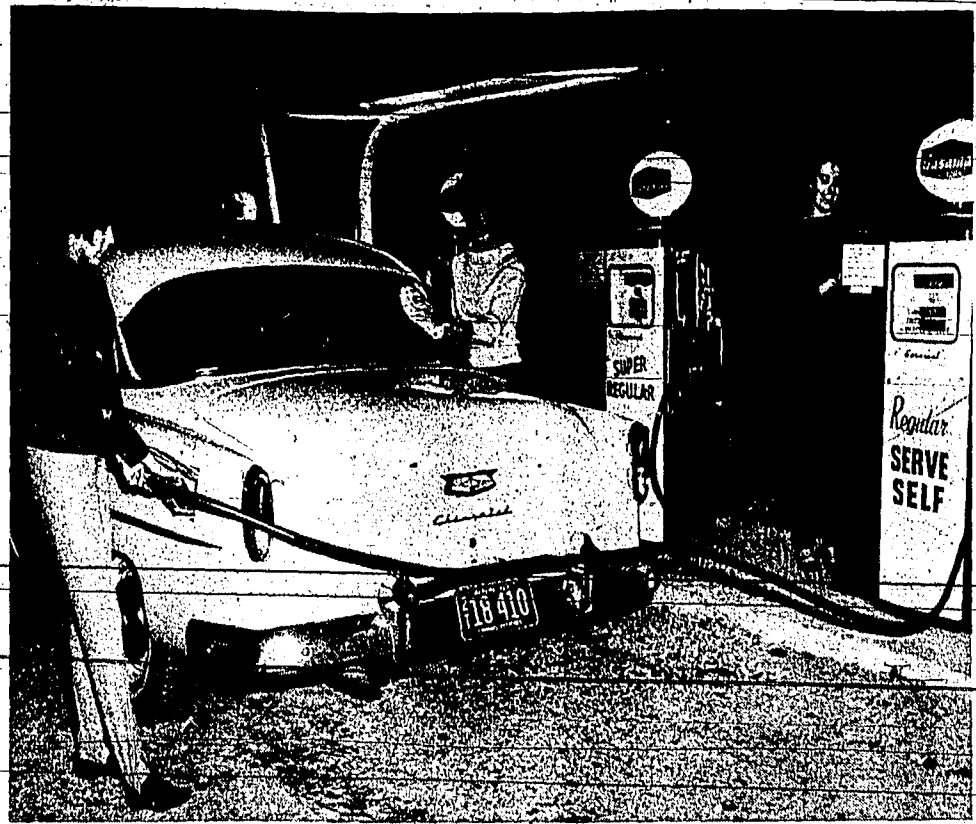

Fire Patrol Election Set

JEROME, Nov. 27.—Adell Benson, incumbent, has filed for reelection as director of the Jerome county fire patrol sub-district three. Houston is the only one who has filed for the position. However, write-in candidates can be named.

The election will be from noon to 7 p.m. Tuesday at the rural fire station in Jerome, 143 East avenue E, across from the city hall.

Only residents of the Jerome county fire patrol district number one can vote. This district includes most of the rural area in Jerome. Anyone who wishes to check to see if he is included can contact Donald Nutsch.

Sub-district three includes the area east of state highway 79 running north of Jerome and north of state highway 25. Hold-over commissioners from the other two sub-districts are Nutsch and Herman C. Hall.

It Started With Gum Balls, Now There Are Gas Pumps

By SAMUEL C. DAVIS, JR.

The whole thing (the business of utilizing coin-operated equipment to sell goods, instead of normal retail methods) probably started with the gum machine. Drop in a penny, the gum comes out. Simple. No full-time paid employees. No overhead.

The machine just sits there, taking in coins and dumping out assorted items — candy, soft drinks, fruit and sandwiches.

The coin-operated method of selling has gone through considerable improvement and development since it first began.

In New York City there's the automat — sort of coin-operated morgue (all you can eat for $1.95 in nickels, dimes and quarters).

fringe benefits and others will go to a hamburger stand, order what they want and then return to the car and eat it.

"That's what gas-a-mat is referred to in the gasoline business — a hamburger stand," he notes, and "the major-company stations are the first-class restaurants."

Living quarters are provided at each of the stations.

Caretakers living at the stations make change, explain proper handling of pumps, act as fire guards, guard against misuse of the property and guard against malicious mischief.

The caretaker for the gas-a-mat here is Hobart McKee, formerly of 596 Jefferson street, who has been a carpenter by trade.

Hours for the local station are 6 a.m. to 10 p.m.

The Twin Falls station is the third gas-a-mat outlet in the state. Others are in Boise and Pocatello.

Mel Ralston, Fort Collins, sales manager for the firm, was in Twin Falls helping set the station ready-for opening.

Although a few small independent stations have tried using coin-operated pumps, the gas-a-mat chain is the only large company in the nation at the present time.

Griffin's goal is an eventual nation-wide marketing chain utilizing the coin-operated equipment.

So far, the only opposition to the gas-a-mat method of vending gasoline is from the National Automatic Merchandising association — a large vending industry trade group. The organization has gone on record predicting continued opposition to coin vending of gasoline until "fool proof equipment" is developed, referring to Griffin's equipment, which has not been approved by the National Fire Protection association or major underwriters' groups.

However, last year in Wyoming supreme court, Griffin won a favorable ruling which climaxed a three-year court battle between the company and the state's fire marshal. The ruling required the marshal to set up a code regulating, but not prohibiting, the pumps.

Griffin notes the company can comply with any standards that are established in compliance with the court's instructions.

Control valves, seals and ties on the equipment are all explosion-proof and underwriter laboratories approved. Griffin points out there is no way for vapor to reach the coin device.

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

BY ANDREW TULLY
WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—While congress drags its feet on President Kennedy's civil rights program, the supreme court apparently has decided it must take over the show and decide whether a property owner has the right to call the cops to keep Negroes off his property.

The court has not thus interjected itself in so many words and, indeed, it might find an escape hatch by which it can avoid such a basic ruling. But it has ordered the justice department to give its opinion on the matter in cases involving sit-in convictions in three states, and the indication is that the court has concluded it must get to the heart of the matter.

Last spring, the court upset other sit-in convictions either because of the existence of segregation laws or because public policies encouraged and enforced de facto segregation. But now the NAACP has asked the court to rule that the 14th amendment's provision prohibiting discrimination by states also means the states must enforce equal treatment for all.

ORDER CASE PRESENTED—In the pending cases, the justice department's brief reflected the administration's unwillingness to force a showdown now. It noted that it "seems unnecessary and undesirable at this time" to obtain a ruling on the conflict involved between personal and property rights. After several weeks of pondering the cases, the court by a 5-4 vote asked for justice's views and gave the department 30 days to file an additional brief. The parties to the cases also will get another 30 days to respond.

It is the premise of the demonstrators that it becomes discrimination by a state when police are used to help a store owner bar Negroes from his property. The NAACP does not ask the court to bar discrimination by private citizens, but only to order the states to keep their hands off the situation. It claims that "equal protection under the law" requires the states to protect—or at least not interfere with—those who claim equality. It asks that the court prohibit the states from using their judicial machinery to convict demonstrators, thus giving "substantial support" to the custom of segregation.

DANGLING QUESTION—As of now, the matter rests on a decision by the supreme court in 1883 which held that the 14th amendment prohibits only discrimination by state action but no discrimination by private citizens. But the court has never ruled on whether a property owner has the right to call police to enforce his right to choose his customers on the basis of the color of their skin.

It is risky to try to predict how the court will act on any case, of course, and yet there may be a hint in the recent ruling of Delaware's state supreme court. Although that court upheld the right of a property owner to refuse to serve a Negro, it forbade the police of Delaware to enforce the exclusion of Negroes at the request of the private owner. Presumably, the court was saying that peaceful sit-ins were legal, while upholding the right of a property owner to obtain police help in excluding Negroes in cases of misconduct.

WON'T END PROBLEMS—This is pretty thin stuff, because if a property owner wants to bar Negroes from his premises he is going to be highly imaginative about conjuring up charges of misconduct. In any honest court, his case would lack a rightful hearing, but in the meantime he would have kept Negroes out of his store or restaurant. And, of course, no court can take a chance on refusing a property owner the protection of police in legitimate instances of violence or misconduct on the part of patrons.

However, the supreme court rules on these sit-in cases. It looks like sticky going ahead. In the end, both sides probably will have to be satisfied with the same kind of ruling handed down in the restricted covenant cases—in other words that segregation cannot be enforced in the courts. There are still plenty of residential areas where Negroes are excluded, and there still will be plenty of restaurants where Negroes will be told the management is fresh out of tables.

Views of Others

SPEAKING OF SECESSION
Almost any political notion, it appears, can be presented to a new generation as a fresh and flowing thing if it is allowed to lie in the dust of history for a half century or so.

A group of enterprising promoters of projects Wednesday filed at Boise articles of incorporation for an organization dedicated to the formation of a new state. The 10 northern counties, the sponsors explained, would secede from Idaho and form a new state of North Idaho.

There was a time when assorted versions of this idea attracted serious attention. Back in territorial days, the theft by Boise of Lewiston's territorial capital status so enraged the northern area that a genuine secession movement was initiated. Responsible political leaders for years proposed combining northern Idaho, eastern Washington and western Montana into a new state of Lincoln. Other variations of the idea received periodic support in those formative years, but they fizzled out for rather obvious reasons.

The latest proposal naturally didn't command much attention from leaders of state government who are absorbed in more realistic programs. Gov. Robert E. Smylie dismissed the "ancient chestnut," and Atty. Gen. Allan Shepard speculated that the idea must have been offered "in the spirit of fun and games." Members of the Idaho legislature mostly maintained an eloquent silence.

A man-in-the-street had another reaction. This citizen (a black Republican, no doubt) observed: "The only trouble with the proposition is that it is too timid. What we ought to do in northern Idaho is not form a separate state but secede and declare ourselves a new nation, so we can apply for foreign aid."

"Well, every man to his own undying cause," Lewiston Tribune.

POCATELLO'S FATHERS
The Pocatello city commission has been most successful in personalizing its government to the people of the Gato city.

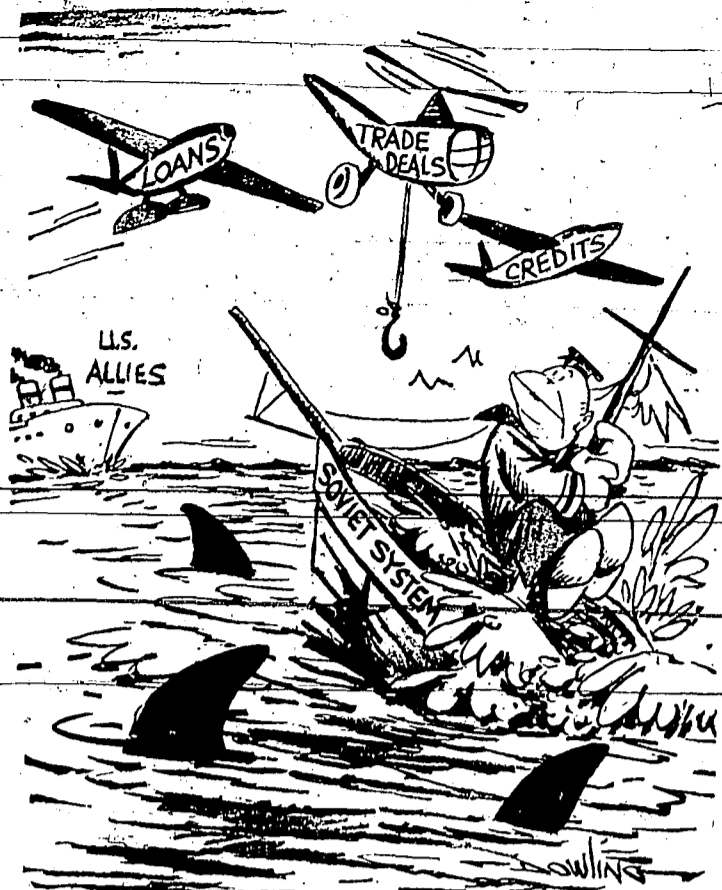

A clear illustration that the commission thinks of its responsibilities in terms of a refreshing wholeness of service was the recent presentation of a distinguished service award to a Pocatello woman.

The woman had prevented possible serious harm to a 14-year-old girl. Mrs. Denise Crystal witnessed a man beating the girl and then pulling her into his car last week. She followed the man's car until he was forced to release her—and sped on. The girl suffered extensive bruises, but fortunately was released from the hospital without serious injury—thanks to Mrs. Crystal's courage and alertness.

In making the award, the commission stated: "The city commission would like to take official notice of this act of bravery and quick thinking. Here are city officials sensitive to an overall city morale, a morale which it seeks to buttress by its consciousness of the singular acts of service of its citizens."

With such discernment, the image of a "fatherhood" of city government naturally goes a long way in inviting the cooperation of residents—the inevitable cooperation with needed but often burdensome city programs. Pocatello's city commission is truly "city fathers," not just city daddies. There's a difference.—Idaho Falls Post-Register.

GENTLEMAN IN THE FOURTH ROW

The Doctor Says
By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
Pneumonia has been robbed of much of its terror, thanks to the new wonder drugs. It used to be fatal in over 25 per cent of its victims. Although that figure has been cut to five per cent, this is not a disease to be taken lightly.

In pneumonia, the disease or viruses in the lungs cause an outpouring of serum into the air sacs. The serum clots, and the involved segments of the lung is unable to function properly. Pneumonia is usually a complication of a persistent cold, influenza or other pulmonary infection. But it may also occur after exposure to a high concentration of an irritating gas. The onset is sudden and is attended by a high fever.

If the victim is not treated promptly, even though he recovers, he may be left with a serious complication such as pleurisy, an inflammation of the outer lining of the lung; emphysema, a collection of pus in the space between the lungs and the chest wall; or the infection may get into the blood stream and damage the heart valves, the kidneys, the joints, the middle ear or the brain.

Because a variety of germs and viruses may cause pneumonia, it is important for your doctor to identify the exact culprit. He causes the sulfa drug or antibiotic as well.

BARRY
GOLDWATER

Perhaps nothing the federal government has done in this century has been surrounded by such a thick atmosphere of patriotism as the offering of U.S. savings bonds.

In World War I, millions of us who could afford it were willing to invest. In addition, the interest rates offered were equal to that of many savings banks, made the investment less painful.

The nation needed the money all of us who could afford it were willing to invest. In addition, the interest rates offered were equal to that of many savings banks, made the investment less painful.

In the past few years, however, despite population increases, higher income and a rising national product, the savings bond has suffered a plunge in popularity. Neither patriotism nor the desire for savings has been able to overcome this lapse in sales appeal. The reasons are simple:

All those who must live on an income have found that because of constant erosion of the dollar, inflation, their money is not elsewhere. Common stocks, instance, even those which pay dividends of only one per cent increase in capital value are inflation progresses while they lose capital value.

Today, in order to maintain more than the initial value of the dollars invested in common stocks, you must invest in a security which will not only stand up to inflation, but will also realize capital growth. The degree of that growth will depend upon the inflationary rate itself.

In other words, if the inflationary rate is two per cent a year, the investor must expect his stock or other investment to increase in value by that amount annually.

Our savings-bond purchases helped feed the machine with its needed fuel, and our industry was converted at tremendous cost to produce the implements of war: instead of refrigerators, automobiles and stoves. Planes, guns, tanks, arms, munitions, poured off the assembly lines for our troops and those of our allies.

After four years of unprecedented carnage and an outpouring of funds which surpassed all previous spending records, the war was won. Troops returned, families were united and the nation began the long task of returning to peace at home, even though we may have been in the process of losing it abroad.

But we did not, by ordinary standards, return to what should have been peacetime economy. Funds for the rehabilitation of war-torn economies abroad and massive new spending programs at home made additional borrowing necessary, and one of the

How do you stand, sir?

Poor Man's Plato

BY HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK, Nov. 27 (AP)—Some notes on "the world's toughest job"—the presidency of the United States:

Despite the awful pressures of the post, 27 of the 34 men who served as president before Lyndon Baines Johnson lived to 60 or more.

Of the three presidents besides William Henry Harrison who died of natural causes while in office, only one, Warren G. Harding, 57, was under 60. Zachary Taylor was 65, Franklin Roosevelt, 63.

At 48, John F. Kennedy, the youngest man ever elected president, was also the youngest to die. He was the second Democrat to die in office, the first slain while in power.

The second youngest president to die was James A. Garfield, killed by an assassin at the age of 49.

Sixteen past presidents, including the three now living, survived to be 70 or over. Eisenhower died at 78, and did Thomas Jefferson, who was 83.

The oldest president to die in office, William Henry Harrison, 68, "Old Tippecanoe" succumbed to pneumonia exactly a month after he took office on March 4, 1841. He caught cold after riding to the Capitol on a white horse in stormy weather and delivering the longest inaugural message on record—8,578 words.

His successor, John Tyler, who served out his term, lived to be 91.

should be very careful about risking game and a small slam in an effort to get that extra grand slam point.

North's jump to three hearts was somewhat of an overbid and South refused to let him off the hook until they were in seven.

South won the diamond opening and led a trump to his ace. West dropped the jack whereupon South crossed over to dummy again, led a second trump and fessed the 10 spot. West took his queen and that was it to the play but not all to the hand. North was bitter about the whole thing and told South that he had made a horrible play. The argument was referred to me and while I had to agree that South's play was most unfortunate I also must explain that it was the correct percentage play.

The reason why it was correct is that when West played the jack he was surely playing with a singleton jack or queen. Lower card of doubleton jack or queen. With a singleton to play would have been forced jack to the jack. With queen-jack the question would have played the queen. Hence the odds were that South's finesse was correct. South's finesse was correct. South's finesse was correct. South's finesse was correct.

Johnson Urges Kennedy Proclamation On Thanksgiving Be Read in Nation

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27 (AP)—President Johnson urged Tuesday that the Thanksgiving proclamation issued by the late John F. Kennedy be read in churches throughout the nation this Thursday as a memorial to him. The President's statement said: "One of the last messages of President John Fitzgerald Kennedy to his fellow countrymen was the Thanksgiving day proclamation which he issued on November 4, 1963. I urge that his proclamation be read in the churches of the United States in their services on November 28, as a memorial to him. I also ask that the newspapers, and the television and radio stations make it available to all of the American people by including it in their recognition of this first and most solemn of our holidays. Leaders of Girl Scouts Leave Boise

BOISE, Nov. 27 (AP)—Three national Girl Scout leaders returned to New York City Tuesday after conferring with state officials on plans for the 1965 Girl Scout roundup near Coeur d'Alene.

They talked with Atty. Gen. Allan G. Shepard, State Police Supt. A. E. Perkins, Brig. Gen. George Bennett, Idaho adjutant general, officials of the forestry department and with V. E. Otter, an engineer for Morrison-Knudsen company, Monday.

Hopes for a breakfast meeting with Gov. Robert E. Smylie were dashed by his delay in returning from Washington because of a presidential briefing for governors.

Louise Shaddock, executive secretary of the department of commerce and development, said numerous visits by Scout leaders can be expected before the roundup, expected to attract 8,500 girls and 2,000 advisers.

Paul Bröndar, the site planner, will establish a permanent residence at the site next spring, she said. Others here were Margaret Chapman, roundup coordinator, and Sheldon Frye, site services chairman. The roundup will be at the Paragut wildlife refuge.

BALMORON, Nov. 27 (AP)—Melvin R. Aldous, 24, today faced the possibility of life imprisonment following his conviction of second degree murder in the shooting death of a man he said stole the affections of his wife. Aldous was charged with first degree murder, but a jury decided he was guilty of the lesser charge which carries a penalty of from 10 years to life in prison. The prosecution had not asked for the death penalty. The jury received the case at 11:45 a.m. Tuesday following completion of the three and one-half day trial. The verdict was returned at 3:30 p.m. Aldous was accused of killing Gilbert Ziemer, 39-year-old feed and grain mill worker in Balmor. Ziemer testified that he knew it was not right, but couldn't control himself. "Should I let my wife go to Ziemer?" he asked. "I knew I loved her. The next moment I cannot explain." Aldous told the jury he took his wife's gun and went to Ziemer's house, shot him and then called the police. Judge Ezra P. Monson set Dec. 12 for sentencing.

Way Cleared For Range Fire Lawsuit

BOISE, Nov. 27 (AP)—The way was open today for filing of a lawsuit by two Washington county ranchers who claim a range fire which damaged their land last July 28 spread from a campfire started by state employees.

A claim for $240,000 filed by James L. Hansen and John Stringer was denied Tuesday by the state board of examiners opening the way for legal action. The board of examiners was advised there is a question of whether the men accused of building the campfire were state employees and also whether the range fire, which burned in the Rock and Wolf creek areas north of Welsch, resulted from the campfire.

Hansen asked damages of $200,000 and Stringer asked $40,000. The board brushed aside objections voiced by Secretary of State Arnold Williams to approve an allocation of $7,342 from the state general fund to the department of commerce and development.

Williams said he regarded the allocation as an increase in the department's appropriation for the biennium, but Gov. Robert E. Smylie and Atty. Gen. Allan G. Shepard disagreed.

Smylie said the allocation repays the department for expenses incurred by it in conducting a study for the Bonneville power administration in connection with the latter's survey on extension of its marketing area to include southern Idaho.

He said the BPA reimbursed the state for the study and life allocation to the department of commerce and development is covered by those funds.

Williams contended his office performs similar services, but he said revenue received goes into the general fund and his regular appropriation must absorb the cost. He contended the department of commerce and development should be treated similarly.

In other action, the board approved expenditure of $220 by the fish and game department to acquire a strip of land providing access to the east side of the Teton river in the Box creek area in eastern Idaho.

Construction of the new Idaho Power company building at 133 Third street north is well under way and if the weather is good the building will be completed by next spring, Earl Haraldsen, division manager Idaho Power company, reported Wednesday.

Haraldsen said although rains have slowed construction a little, the building is "progressing very well."

The steel, under-floor ducts for lines to bring power to any part of the building have been installed. He said if the weather holds, the work crew will start laying bricks next week.

He also pointed out that the steel-covered beams for the auditorium have been cast.

Plaintiffs Are Added in Bible Case

BOISE, Nov. 27 (AP)—Four additional plaintiffs were added Tuesday to the complaint challenging constitutionality of Idaho's Bible-reading law. They increased the total to 35, all either ministers at Moscow or parents and children enrolled in the Moscow public schools.

Plaintiffs adding their names to the complaint in U. S. district court were the Rev. and Mrs. D. H. Lee and Mr. and Mrs. Spencer Sweet Shannon, Jr.

The suit asks appointment of a three-judge panel to hear the suit. The court clerk's office said no announcement has been received yet from circuit court in San Francisco regarding appointment of the panel.

Walker Says Death No Surprise

MUNICH, Germany, Nov. 27 (AP)—Former U. S. Maj. Gen. Edwin A. Walker, who lives in Dallas, told a right-wing German weekly today the assassination of President Kennedy "did not come as a surprise as it is now made out to be."
The ex-general's statement appeared in the National Zeitung and Soldaten Zeitung.
"There was enough dynamite piled up, only it was permanently covered by false press reporting," Walker said, according to the newspaper.
"The newspaper asked Walker, removed by Kennedy as a U. S. army divisional commander here last year, about early speculation that the Presidential killer was a 'right wing extremist.'"
"Nonsense. The murderer is a Marxist, a communist, one of the huge mass of Jewish infiltrators who struck," said Walker.
Asked about the fatal shooting of assassin suspect Lee Harvey Oswald, Walker was quoted as saying, "The murderer's name is Rubenstein, a gangster who ran a striptease joint and a speakeasy bar there. His motive is fantastic. He claimed he wanted to avenge Kennedy's death. There are too many strange and uncontrollable factors in America."
"The tragic death of Mr. Kennedy proves dramatically that the danger that surrounds us must not be underestimated," Walker said.
"My sympathies for the Kennedy family are not less than that for the millions of families which made the same or greater sacrifices in the fight for freedom against communism," he said.

PICKING THE SITE FOR A TELEPHONE MICROWAVE TOWER TAKES KNOWLEDGE, PATIENCE, AND A LOT OF OLD-FASHIONED MUSCLE

The atmosphere and the earth's surface can do strange things to the microwave signals that carry Long Distance calls or TV programs. Consequently, picking hilltop locations for the towers must be as painstaking as a new scientific discovery in the laboratory.

The first step is the study of every available map of the country the towers will cross. From this, our engineers draw cross-sections of the terrain, then, with surveying instruments, set out to check the route they've chosen.

This journey can be full of surprises, because maps don't show some of the obstacles in the line of sight so vital to voice transmission—such as trees on a nearby ridge or a rock out-cropping barely visible on the horizon.

Yet, even when the line of sight looks perfect, we're still wary. So, we erect temporary towers, up to 300 feet high, to test each path with actual microwave signals. This we believe is the only way to guarantee high-quality voice transmission.

Construction is the last step in what is frequently a 24-month process. Tower by tower—each location costing up to $500,000—the crews move from one hilltop to the next. Block houses are built, and the telephone equipment installed.

When the new circuits are operative, they give you fast, trouble-free Long Distance service that grows more useful each time you make a call. We design them that way.
