

Campaign Starts Here to Obtain Civic Auditorium

The Civic Auditorium association, Inc., has begun an area-wide campaign to sell $500,000 of subscriptions to the public. The holders of these subscriptions will be entitled to a voice in the management and the board of directors of the civic center. Capital obtained from these subscriptions will be used to construct a civic auditorium seating 1,200 persons. The auditorium will be equipped with complete stage facilities, proper lighting equipment, modern sound systems and air conditioning.

Lower Rates Sought on Milner Land

MILNER, Dec. 10 — Mr. and Mrs. Edgar W. Moorman have filed suit against the Milner Land Irrigation district and its board of directors in an effort to compel them to assess 43 acres of Moorman's land at a lower rate.

Earl Sears, manager of the irrigation district, said there are two separate suits, one against the irrigation district and the other against the directors, who are Max Boley, president; Julius Neuman and Edwin Brune.

The Moormans ask the irrigation district to consider their land as old land, instead of assessing it the higher rates levied against the new lands.

Sears explained all lands receiving water after October, 1952, are considered new lands for assessment purposes. He said the Moorman land in question was not put on the assessment roll and did not receive any water until after 1952.

The Moormans point out their land already was in the district in 1952 and should be considered old land because it was not annexed after that date.

The irrigation district's right to assess the new lands at a higher rate was upheld by the Idaho supreme court after a series of court suits over the past several years.

The Moormans are represented by James Amest, Burley, and the irrigation district's attorneys are Nelson and Nielson, Burley, and the law firm of Barry, Robertson and Daly, Twin Falls.

Judge Okays Questioning Of Witness

JEROME, Dec. 10 — Fred Schwartz, attorney for Mr. and Mrs. Ardell Haberman, who are suing St. Benedict's hospital for $250,000 for negligence in the treatment of their son, Kenneth, 4, Tuesday noon received permission to question his own witness, Dr. James Sloat, as a hostile witness when district court resumes this afternoon.

Judge Theron Ward is hearing the trial which opened Monday. Schwartz said he sought permission to question Dr. Sloat because of doctor testimony given by the surgeon on cross-examination by defense attorney Frank Rettig.

A lawyer can ask leading questions and even question the credibility of a hostile witness, the judge explained. Without this permission, Schwartz would have been limited to redirect examination.

During the physician's testimony this morning, it was reported he wrote in the hospital record the morning of July 27, 1959, "The child apparently aspirated a small amount of vomitus causing cessation of breathing."

Mr. and Mrs. Haberman charge their son choked while in the hospital two days after he was born and this caused brain damage. They also are bringing suit against Mrs. Margaret Clark, a former nurse, who was on duty at the time of the choking.

Under cross examination by Rettig this morning, Dr. Sloat said it is possible the child had a convulsion and the origin of the convulsion could have been the central nervous system.

Barler Dr. Sloat testified the baby appeared normal at birth, that it cried and breathed spontaneously. Under cross examination, the doctor said it is possible to have brain damage and the symptoms will not show (See WITNESS, Page 2)

Idaho Horse Breeders Slate Burley Meet

BURLEY, Dec. 10 — A group of Idaho residents interested in promoting horse racing in the gem state will meet here Saturday to get the controversial program rolling.

The meeting has been called by the Idaho Horse Breeders association, Inc., a non-profit firm organized to promote the sport in Idaho. About 200 persons are expected for the luncheon meeting at the Ponderosa Inn.

The state supreme court ordered Gov. Robert E. Smylie to appoint the three-man Idaho horse racing committee after refusing to release its September decision declaring the 1963 horse racing act constitutional.

FBI Throws Wall of Silence Around Sinatra Kidnaping

STATELINE, Calif., Dec. 10 (AP)—The FBI threw a wall of silence today around the case of kidnaped Frank Sinatra, jr., as fears grew for the safety of the famed entertainer's 19-year-old son. "We have a big job to do here to solve this case, and I will have nothing more to give until something happens," Curtis O. Lynum, the FBI agent in charge, told a news conference. As time passed with no word of any ransom demand from the two gunmen who hustled young Sinatra into a Sierra snowstorm Sunday night, Sheriff Ernest Carlson said there is always fear for the victim's life in every kidnaping case.

Long Range Missile Is Successful

CAPE KENNEDY, Dec. 10 (UPI)—The navy successfully tested its new longer range Polaris missile last night and now is looking ahead to an even newer version with a mightier punch.

The Polaris "A-3" shot into the darkness trailing a brilliant column of smoke and flame from a land pad. Its nose cone streaked through the atmosphere about 1,500 miles away in the Atlantic.

The 2,880-mile range rocket designed to be fired from submerged nuclear submarines is expected to become combat ready next August.

Although at least a dozen more test flights of the "A-3" are planned, the navy is studying plans for an advanced model of the Polaris called the "B-3". It would have the same range as the "A-3" but would carry a bigger payload.

The "slim" Polaris missiles now can deliver nuclear tips equal to about one million tons of TNT. Payload estimates for the proposed "B-3" rockets were not available.

Sources said the proposed "B-3" versions would not require any major modifications of the 16 launching tubes on the nuclear submarines being built to handle the "A-3" missiles.

Meet Promotes Western Unity

BONN, Germany, Dec. 10 (AP)—British Foreign Secretary Richard A. Butler and West German leaders achieved a broad agreement today that will promote western unity, a joint communiqué said.

Butler met with Chancellor Ludwig Erhard and a Foreign Minister Gerhard Schroeder at the end of a two-day visit in Bonn aimed at establishing closer relations between the two North Atlantic treaty nations.

If a special track is not built, it is likely horse racing will be restricted to county fairs.

The fair boards of Oneida, Cassia and Jerome counties joined Wendell rancher and Horse Breeders association official, Joe Hansen, in filing the suit asking the supreme court to order the governor to appoint the racing committee.

Smylie refused to appoint the committee after the racing act was passed over his veto by the legislature.

The justices ruled the act does not violate the anti-lottery provision of the Idaho constitution.

West Coast Wants to Serve Elko

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10 (AP)—West Coast airlines asked the civil aeronautics board Monday for authority to serve Elko, Nev., on one DC3 flight a week under a contract with an Elko hotel.

The flight would be a round trip between Seattle, Yakima and Pasco, Wash., Portland, Ore., and Elko, on the same general pattern as a service provided by the airline at Winnemucca, Nev.

The service would start Feb. 1 at a round trip fare of $48.50. The hotel — the Commercial — would underwrite the service so that each round trip would provide West Coast with not less than $1,025.

There was a brief flurry of excitement Monday night when FBI agents announced they had seized six men and 18 guns 20 miles west of Lake Tahoe.

Two of the men were identified as Joseph James Sorce, 23, of El Cerrillo, Calif., and Thomas Patrick Keating, 21, of Riverside, Calif., wanted for two bank robberies which netted $13,000.

After Sinatra, jr., vanished, officers had put out an alert, saying these two men were known to be in the area and might possibly be connected with the Sinatra case.

But arresting FBI agents said the two and their four alleged conspirators, seized in two cars on U. S. 50, were held only for bank robberies.

Officers took Sorce to view the men but he could make no positive identification.

In Reno, the worried Sinatra, sr., said: "I've always had a fear of kidnaping, especially when the children were much younger than they are now."

"But I thought that was all past, now that they're grown up."

A spokesman in his suite said Sinatra was "sleepless, nervous, tired, worried, concerned—everything a father should be."

Fears Mount For Safety Of Hostages

LA PAZ, Bolivia, Dec. 10 (AP)—A struggle between Bolivia's government and communists-led tin miners, who hold four Americans and 17 others as hostages, entered an ominous phase today.

A 24-hour deadline set by the miners for the government to release two jailed communist union leaders or "suffer the consequences" came and passed with no immediate word of developments on either side. The government had given no indication it would free the union leaders.

Fears mounted for the safety of the hostages.

The ultimatum did not spell out what the consequences might be, but observers recalled a similar crisis in 1949, when miners seized four American engineers, held them hostage briefly, then killed them.

One hopeful aspect was a report that Vice President Juan Lechin, leftist leader of the rebellious miners, had had friendly relations with one of the Americans, Thomas Martin, 27, of New York, a U.S. information agency officer.

In a radio-telephone talk with the U.S. embassy at La Paz, the Bolivian capital, Martin said Sunday he and the other hostages were well.

U.S. Can Survive Surprise Attack, President States

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10 (UPI)—President Johnson assured congressional leaders today that the United States has the military strength to survive a surprise attack and destroy any aggressor. Johnson made the statement at a briefing of top leaders—both Democratic and Republican—of the house and senate on the relative strength of U. S. and Soviet military forces.

Leaders Divided on Special Session

By The Associated Press There is disagreement among Idaho political leaders as to whether a special legislative session should be called to consider a proposal for bond-financed development of Idaho water. Gov. Robert E. Smylie has hinted he might consider calling a special session to speed implementation of the bond plan. He regards it as a means of protecting Idaho water from outside threats, while speeding reclamation development. State Democratic Chairman Lloyd Walker of Twin Falls said he doesn't think the proposal would work but added he didn't believe Idaho Democrats would oppose a special session to consider it.

Two Republican legislative leaders differed over the necessity for a special session. Sen. Jack Murphy, R., Lincoln, senate president pro tem, said he doesn't believe a special session is warranted because of the cost. He said the proposal should be prepared for consideration by the lawmakers in 1966.

But Rep. William Lanting, R., Twin Falls, said he would be in favor of a special session, in view of the Los Angeles proposal to divert Snake river water to Southern California. Lanting was GOP floor leader in the 1963 session.

Democratic senate minority leader William Dee, R., Idaho, he believes the idea should be explored and that if the governor feels the need is serious enough to call a special session "I don't think anyone is going to complain."

It is not likely the governor will consider a special session before a thorough study is completed, the plan outlined in detail, and support assured for its passage. That would prevent any prolonged session.

There has been some concern among supporters that the plan could run into partisan conflict. But Walker said partisanship is not a question.

"Everybody is concerned about the water and what's going to happen," he said. "They want the water protected for Idaho."

"I don't think the Democrats would object to a special session if it was called after a proper agenda was put together," he said. "If the plan should be done if it can be done. Basically any suggestion should not be foreclosed regardless of its apparent lack of feasibility."

Walker said he doesn't believe Idaho has the resources to back large water projects.

"We can't even get the United States government to vote funds for Burns creek, which everyone concedes to be a good project," he said. "The resources just aren't there for Idaho to do it."

Murphy said a special session would be extremely costly, but (See LEADERS, Page 2)

A total of 3,580 passenger plates and 180 truck license plates were sold by noon Tuesday at the Twin Falls county court house. The Dais Insurance agency, Buhl, reported that by noon 426 passenger license plates and 39 truck plates were sold in that area.

Snowfall Over Area Leaves Slick Roads

Snowfall which has blanketed Magic Valley since Sunday afternoon had nearly stopped by Tuesday noon, leaving heavy snow in the higher altitudes and several inches throughout the lower regions, from Glenns Ferry to Rupert. Roads throughout the area were reported snow-covered and slick, but all schools were in operation Tuesday and roads reported open to travel. At Hailey, the sun was shining for the first time since Saturday. Three new inches of snow fell Monday night, on top of the eight and one-half inches received earlier in the storm. There are now about 18 inches of snow on the level.

Nobel Peace Prize Goes To Pauling

OSLO, Norway, Dec. 10 (AP)—Accepting the delayed 1962 Nobel peace prize, Dr. Linus Pauling declared today, "The world without war is in sight."

The controversial professor from the California Institute of Technology was greeted with thunderous applause as he stepped forward and accepted the prize of $40,465.

This was the day of the award of prizes set up by the will of Alfred Nobel, inventor of dynamite. Ceremonies were held in Oslo and Stockholm.

Representatives of the International Red Cross committee and the League of Red Cross Societies accepted the 1963 peace prize of $51,000 in ceremonies at Oslo university. The ceremonies were attended by King Olav V, Norwegian dignitaries, members of parliament and the diplomatic corps.

Schools were back in session Tuesday after closing early Monday, but a talent show slated for Tuesday night has been canceled at Shoshone.

Five Mishaps Are Reported For Jerome

JEROME, Dec. 10—The Jerome police today reported five accidents which occurred over the week-end.

Charles Stokesberry, 66, Jerome, was released from St. Benedict's hospital Monday after being treated for injuries received at 3:30 p.m. Saturday at the intersection of Lincoln street and avenue A.

Stokesberry, a pedestrian, was struck by a 1960 Rambler driven by Mark R. Stringham, 18, Jerome. Stringham was cited for failure to yield.

Slippery roads were listed as a cause of four accidents Sunday. Gary L. Shellenbarger, 19, Jerome, was the driver of a 1959 Chevrolet which he told the police was forced to the curb by a 1957 Buick driven by Harry, Marina, Salt Lake City.

The Chevrolet hit a parked 1959 Chevrolet pick-up truck owned by Russ Simpson, which was driving forward, striking a 1955 Dodge truck. The owner of the Dodge was not listed. Police said investigation is still pending on this accident, which occurred at 1:15 p.m. Sunday in the 200 block of West Main street.

Elmer S. Plumlee, 32, Jerome, was the driver of a 1955 Ford pickup truck which collided with a 1957 Buick driven by Kelly Clark, 17, Jerome, at 7:54 p.m. Sunday at the intersection of Main street and Lincoln street.

Parker Worthington, 17, Jerome, was the driver of a 1960 Chevrolet which hit a 1958 Ford in the road and slid into a transport carrier driven by Jack Cooper, Kansas City, Mo., at 6:48 p.m. Sunday.

Erma J. Eggers, 51, Brewster, Kans., was the driver of a 1961 Ford which was unable to stop and collided with a 1960 Pontiac driven by Herman E. Hall, 48, Jerome. The Pontiac rolled into a parked 1964 Chevrolet owned by Dorothy E. Rose, Jerome. The accident occurred at 7:18 p.m. Sunday at the intersection of Main and Lincoln streets.

New Leaders Elected by Buhl Church

Elders elected to serve terms of three years each were Mrs. Warren Hart, Claude Barnard, Richard Atkins and Chester Noh. Elvin Noh was elected for a one-year term to fill the unexpired term of Mrs. R. O. Harding.

Holdover members are George Atkins, Andrew Stallings, John Barz, Leonard Leth, Bill Roberts, Shelby Constant and Edward Anderson.

Named to the board of deacons for a term of three years each were Mrs. C. C. Voeller, Mrs. Willard Dowd, Mrs. E. W. Miller and Mrs. Margaret Meyers. Holdover members are Mabel Sandgren, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Rieder, Mrs. Richard Burns, Mrs. Joe Pehebenbacher, Mrs. Mae Gibbs, Mrs. Charles Busmann and Mrs. Harry Stewart.

New officers will be installed in January.

Holiday events announced were a community Christmas sing at 8 p. m. Dec. 21; Sunday school Christmas program at 8 p. m. Dec. 22 and Christmas eve services at 11 p. m. Dec. 24.

Rites Honor Dr. C. W. Dill

SHOSHONE, Dec. 10—Funeral services for Dr. C. W. Dill were held at 11 a.m. Saturday in the Bergin funeral home by the Rev. Woodrow Harris, Methodist minister, assisted by the Rev. Bert Powell, Gooding, retired Methodist minister.

Mrs. Marvin Pearson was soloist while Mrs. Howard Adkins played a violin solo. Mrs. Woodrow Harris was accompanist.

Honorary pallbearers were Sidney Edwards, Ray E. Oyer, Hubert Coleman, Dr. R. G. Nier, Leonard Rogers, Evan Knight, Clarence Tanaka, Elwood Werry, Oakley Barnard, George Kenaston, Clyde Hughes, Elmer Terry, Howard Adkins, Jim Cairns, George Young and Ross P. Borden.

Active pallbearers were Boyd Alexander, Charles Borden, Zannie Alexander, Charles Feugh, Dale Tankersley and Roy Bate. Concluding rites were held at Cloverdale cemetery, Boise, at 2:30 p.m.

German Leader Is Threatened

BONN, Germany, Dec. 10—Cutting in on a police emergency line, a caller in Bonn warned that Chancellor Ludwig Erhard would be assassinated unless he agreed to increase pensions for German war victims.

The government said the call may have been the work of a crank, but security was tightened around the chancellor Monday. He has rejected the pension increase on economy grounds.

"The war victims" are disabled German war veterans and widows, children and parents of those lost in World War II.

Concert Slated

SHOSHONE, Dec. 10—The public is invited to the first community music program to be presented here this season, at 8 p. m. Thursday at the Lincoln school auditorium.

A mixed adult chorus will present several variety numbers and the women's chorus will present several numbers and solos. Mrs. Verna Allen is director.

Iowa Congressman Is Expert On History of U. S. Capitol

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10—Fred Schwengel, tall, rugged and 56, heaved a manhole cover to the side and started to climb down a hole in the ground behind the U. S. Capitol.

"This will make some story," he said with a laugh. "A congressman going down a manhole."

As he started to descend, a little boy spotted him and called out from afar: "Hey, Mr. Schwengel, is it groundhog day?" It wasn't groundhog day.

It was a normal exploration—in pursuit of a hobby—in the life of Fred Schwengel, a Republican congressman from Iowa, a man who surely knows more about the byways and history of the Capitol than any other man who works there.

Schwengel's knowledge and enthusiasm about the Capitol have come to public notice in the last week with the publication of "We The People." It is a lavishly illustrated history of the Capitol, produced by the National Geographic society and sponsored by Schwengel's U. S. Capitol Historical society.

On the day he descended into the manhole, Schwengel, flush with the news that the book was a best seller, was taking a group of newsmen, their wives and children on a tour of those recesses of the Capitol hardly anyone but Schwengel ever sees.

The tour could be compared only with storied and movie-land tours of the sewers of Paris, of the hidden corridors in the Phantom's opera, of the subways of New York, of the secret passageways of a medieval castle.

Before the tour, Schwengel talked a bit about his early interest in history.

"When I came to Washington as a congressman in 1955," he said, "my interest quickened. I was in the capital of the world. There was so much history around me. I gave up golf to have more time for reading and exploring."

But, he continued, he soon found out that there wasn't a good one-volume book written on the Capitol.

"I had been using one written in the 19th century," he said. "That was my bible on the Capitol. In that book, the author says there are 13 columns on top of the capitol dome holding up the statue of Freedom; there, one column for each of the 13 original colonies. I always thought that was a beautiful idea."

"Then one day I climbed up and counted them. There are only 12 columns. I decided a new book was needed."

Schwengel and others organized the U. S. Capitol Historical society in October, 1962, and the history, "We The People," published last week, is the society's first production. The book sells for $1 in the Capitol rotunda.

Condition of Curtis Critical
BOISE, Dec. 10—George H. Curtis, 78, former Idaho secretary of state and Ada county legislator, remained in critical condition at a Boise hospital today. Curtis was paralyzed by a stroke over the week-end and has remained in a coma.

He served as secretary of state from 1939 to 1945 and a senator from Ada county in the 1917 legislature and in the house in 1933, 1935 and 1937.

Ship Hijacker Awaits Plane

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., Dec. 10—Henrique Galvao, the hijacker of the Portuguese liner Santa Maria, waited in a New York hotel room today for a plane back to Brazil after U. N. appearance that angered African delegates who sponsored it.

Galvao defied the threat of extradition to Portugal to appear before the U. N. trusteeship committee and discuss his country's rule in its African territories.

African members of the committee were incensed when Galvao, former governor of Angola, expressed doubts that Portuguese Africa was ready for independence and questioned whether African unity moves would meet with success under present conditions.

The 68-year-old former army captain also denounced Portugal's dictator, Premier Antonio de Oliveira Salazar, but said Salazar could not be removed unless the United States, Britain and France stop supporting his regime.

Committee Chairman Achkar Marof of Guinea warned Galvao to limit his remarks to Portugal's African territories of Angola, Mozambique and Portuguese Guinea. Marof interrupted Galvao repeatedly when he veered from the territories to African problems in general.

Galvao was expected to take a plane tonight back to Brazil, where he has been a refugee since he and a band of rebels hijacked the Santa Maria in 1961.

As he arrived by airliner in New York Monday, a representative of the Portuguese embassy in Washington called at the state department to request Galvao's extradition to Lisbon. He faces a 22-year sentence there, given him in absentia in connection with the seizure of the liner and the killing of an officer of the ship.

Keda, 64, and his new cabinet were installed Monday by Emperor Hirohito at the imperial palace. His Liberal-Democratic party easily won the parliamentary elections last month.

Yule Program Slated by Church

SHOSHONE, Dec. 10—The all-Sunday school annual Christmas program presented by the local Methodist church will be held at 8 p. m. Sunday, Dec. 22, at the church.

Children of the school are saving their colts and placing them in small stockings to give to the literacy program of the mission board. These small stockings will be hung on the church tree for the Christmas program.

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

By ANDREW TULLY
WASHINGTON, Dec. 10—It was both good manners and good politics for President Johnson to tell congress of his faith in congress' ability . . . to act, to meet any crisis, to distill from our differences strong programs of national action. But the fact is that so far this year, congress has been a big, fat flop.
On the same day Johnson addressed the joint session, Majority leader Mike Mansfield recorded a defense of his stewardship in which he yet admitted that "congress under the constitution and its established procedures is not equipped to respond, to reach a decision one way or another, on urgent matters which go to the heart of our national economic structure."

DEMANDS DISCIPLINE—Meanwhile, Rep. Richard Bolling, D. Mo., was joining Sen. Joseph Clark, D. Pa., in demanding that the Democratic party discipline its members for not going along with party policy by denying them the privileges of party seniority.
Mansfield, who persists in being the nicest guy in the senate, does not publicly go along with any such drastic solution. In his mild, soft-spoken manner, the majority leader suggests merely a start. He "would welcome an initiative from the administration and the relevant committee looking to the establishment of a special commission to explore this problem and to come up with recommendations for its solution." In the meantime, of course, the Democratic members of this establishment would continue to bring the congressional machinery to a screeching halt.

HOLLOW BOAST—Yet there is hope in a man of Mansfield's stature taking cognizance of the situation. Mansfield is a member of the Club, and his words carry weight that is denied those of the rebels Bolling and Clark when he asks the congress develop a system for faster action on appropriations bills and other major legislation. There is a kind of non-partisan ring to Mansfield's tone when he warns that if congress does not face up to its problems "it will be a standing invitation to national financial chaos."

As majority leader, of course, Mansfield had to defend the record of the senate in this 88th congress. He hauled out his figures to report that the senate had okayed 80 per cent of the Kennedy administration's program although this congress was still in the first of its two sessions. But almost all of the legislation included in that 80 per cent figure consists of minor legislation; as Mansfield spoke the nation was still awaiting action on civil rights, the tax cut bill, medicare and education legislation—the meat of the Kennedy program.

AGREE ON NEED FOR ACTION—Mansfield knew this, and because he knew it, he had to warn congress of the fruits of its inactivity: "A failure to respond with some degree of urgency to an urgent responsibility consigns to the congress . . . a great responsibility for whatever consequences flow to the nation from this failure."
Clark and Bolling have put it more bluntly. Said Clark: "We must act to restore the efficacy of congressional government before the legislative branch of our federal republic destroys itself because we were unwilling to save it." Bolling said: "I think that a lot of confidence in congress, if continued long, will destroy the democratic process."
Clark was wrong when he told the senate "it is later than we think." In congress, everybody who can tell time knows how late it is, but only a scattered few give enough of a hoot to announce the hour.

HANDY SCAPEGOAT
County assessors spend a good deal of their time explaining they don't set taxes. Actually, they don't even send out tax notices on real estate, either, but the assessors catch most of the blame. If taxpayers stopped to consider the name of the official, it would be evident. Just as the name "assessor" implies, county assessors are charged with assessing property or setting the evaluation in preparation to figuring taxes.

School boards, village boards, city commissions or councils and highway district boards also are responsible for increases or decreases in taxes. Of course, in the last analysis, those various boards will contend citizens, individually and collectively, have caused taxes to increase by their "demands" for services.
These days before the first payment of taxes is due on Dec. 20 finds Twin Falls County Assessor Clifford Thompson trying to explain he sets no levies. Mr. Thompson's only responsibility lies in setting property valuations, and his office is guided by law in that process.
Maybe some day Mr. Thompson and all the other harried county assessors will figure out a way to convince taxpayers.

NOT COMPATIBLE
There are many cases in which birds and civilization are not compatible. One of the strange examples involves birds and man's device to permit human use of the air. Birds just aren't compatible with airplanes, either in the air or on the ground. Airplanes have been known to crash after striking flocks of birds and many birds around airports have created hazardous conditions.
At Moffett field in California, the navy had its troubles with seagulls. The big, slow-moving birds thronged to the runways and pilots had fits. With gulls numbering in the thousands around the field, navy experts went to work on the problem. They started using a sound truck to broadcast the recorded call of a seagull in distress. It worked and now Moffett field has few gulls no one is fretting about them.
Perhaps someone can come up with the answer to the startling problem that plagues many parts of the nation, including feedyards in Magic Valley.
No one yet has succeeded in causing starlings to leave, and the efforts included recorded squawks of the starting in distress. If someone ever figures out how a starling says "Get Lost!", that might turn the trick.

"BOB-WIRE" IS RIGHT
There is a new diction in the White House. The late President Kennedy was subjected to banter for his New England "Cuber" for Cuba, "idea for idea, etc. President Johnson bears a vocal brand of another kind. He is a western farmer (part-time) who talks of ringing in his cattle with "bob-wire."
Barbed-wire was an invention of New England. But it was the making of revolution of settlement in the American West. And to the cattleman's West, from the Mississippi to the Cascades and the Sierras, it has always been "bob-wire."
There is something in the air of the high-country of the Northwest's Inland Empire, as in the high-country of President Johnson's home in Texas, that attunes the vocal cords just right—a little twangy, perhaps, for the cars of the muffled saloons of Europe and the Atlantic seaboard, but just right for "bob-wire" country.—The Oregonian.

AMERICANISM
What is Americanism? We know what Americanism is. We were born in it, we suckled Americanism from birth. And the foundation stone of real Americanism is the freedom to believe and to disbelieve; the right to hold a point of view, no matter how much it might be counter to someone else's. On this foundation can be erected all kinds of disagreement, ideas, or divergent philosophies. But they must be contested by reason and logic, not force and the argument of brawling brawn.—Dallas Times Herald.

Dear Gent:
That story about the woman who sprayed enamel on the windshield of her car started me thinking. Up until then I'd just assumed that ice-melting stuff for windshields had no other use, but now I'm wondering.
What would be wrong with using the stuff to defrost a refrigerator? It's supposed to melt ice in a hurry, so why wouldn't it work on a refrigerator?
And my other idea is what's wrong with spraying the stuff on a sidewalk after a snowstorm or at least on the front steps in case they get icy.
Don't you think these ideas have possibilities?

After a trip to the courthouse, the other day, O. (for Orville) A. (for Augustus) Gus (for kicks) Kelker handed a sheet of paper to a co-worker and announced, "Well, I got my license plates. The top number is on my Suburban and the bottom number is on my Dodge."
The co-worker looked at the sheet of paper and saw the numbers 2330 and 2631. He folded the paper just behind the 2's so only the last three figures showed and told O. (for Orville) A. (for Augustus) Gus (for kicks) Kelker, "The top number's on my Jeep, the bottom number's on my Dodge and (turning the paper over) my trailer license is 22."

Interpreting the News

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON, Dec. 10 (AP)—President Johnson has butted heads with a dilemma which haunted his predecessors in the White House. They couldn't solve it except in a wartime.
It's how to create more jobs for people, or at least enough jobs. Right now about 70 million people are employed and another 3.5 million are out of jobs. And the population keeps on growing every year.
Johnson, meeting last week and business leaders last week set as a goal a five-million increase in jobs. He didn't bet a date, which was probably wise since unemployment has a habit of going up as well as down.
In short, Johnson is talking of 76 million jobs. There will be that many in time, unless the economy collapses, but by then there may be so many more people in the labor market that millions may still be unemployed.
No one is reported to have blinked at Johnson's goal, which can be understood as meaning it is now taken for granted, although it has never been a secret, that the population is going up.
Yet, back in the 1940's when Henry A. Wallace, former vice president, talked of a post-war goal of 80 million jobs, there seemed to be some who thought he had a hole in his head.
Shortly after he took office April 12, 1945, with the war coming to an end, which meant reconversion to peacetime and millions of soldiers coming home for jobs, President Truman said: "A minor full employment."
And after the Japanese surrender he asked congress Sept. 6, 1945, for full employment legislation. But congress was still about putting that kind of label on a law.
It finally passed one—called the employment act of 1946—which said the government had a responsibility for the general welfare but stopped a long way short of guaranteeing everyone a job.

When Truman signed it Feb. 20, 1946, he said:
"It is not the government's duty to supplant the efforts of private enterprise to find markets, or of individuals to find jobs."
"The people do, however, expect the government to create and maintain conditions in which the individual businessman and the individual job-seeker have a chance to succeed by their own efforts."
"That is the objective of the employment act of 1946. . . the congress has placed on the President the duty of formulating programs designed to accomplish the purpose of the act."
To help him out, congress created a council of economic advisers. And that's the way it has been ever since. And there hasn't been full employment since.
When President Eisenhower took office Jan. 20, 1953, the employed were 61.5 million and the unemployed 1,398,000. The years passed, the population grew, the number of jobs increased. So did the number of people holding jobs and the number of unemployed.
In the 1960 presidential campaign, John F. Kennedy said: "One and a half million people will come into the labor movement every year in the 1960's and are going to have to find a job. And they come into the labor market at the very same time when automation is revolutionizing employment."
Then when he became President, he counted the score in his first state of the union message to congress Jan. 30, 1961. Here is what Eisenhower found when he took office in 1953 and what Kennedy found as he took over in 1961:
Eisenhower: 61.5 million employed, 1,398,000 unemployed.
Kennedy: 64,452,000 employed, 5.6 million unemployed.
At the time of Kennedy's death two years and 10 months later, this was the score: About 70 million employed, 3.5 million unemployed. And these are the people and the figures Johnson inherited.
Since 3.5 million people are unemployed now, there is need for 73.5 million jobs, plus another 1.5 million to come.

The Doctor Says

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
Q—I am 35 and suffer from nausea, dizzy spells and fainting. I have been told that this is due to orthostatic hypotension. What is this? What causes it and is any drug that might help?
A—Whenever a change of position from lying or sitting to standing causes a fall in blood pressure sufficient to produce the symptoms you mention, a diagnosis of orthostatic hypotension can be made.
What happens is that the lowered pressure prevents the brain from getting enough oxygen. This often happens to people who have taken too large a dose of a drug to control their high blood pressure and to victims of diabetes, multiple sclerosis and adrenal deficiency. In most victims, the cause is unknown.
In treating this condition elastic stockings that reach to the hip and an abdominal binder help to keep all the blood from going to the feet and abdomen. Sometimes a dose of dextran or sometimes a transfusion of plasma can be beneficial by treatment with drugs.
Q—What is hemolytic streptococcal infection? Is it serious? Is it contagious? What is the usual treatment for it?
A—The streptococcus is one of the so-called pus formers and the emolytic-variety destroys red blood cells. This is the germ that causes strep throat, erysipelas, tonsillitis, child bed fever, rheumatic fever and rheumatic heart disease. All but the last three are contagious.

Complications include sinusitis, middle ear infection, pneumonia, arthritis, meningitis, and kidney infection. All are serious and all are cured by antibiotics, especially penicillin.
Q—I'm histidine which is found in protein the same as histamine which causes allergy? What drugs reduce the histamine in the system?
A—Histidine, an amino acid essential for growth, is found in all proteins. Histamine is an amine and it too is found in all animal and vegetable cells. In high concentrations histamine acts as a dilator of small blood vessels. When this occurs in the brain it causes the so-called histamine headache. Both of these chemical names are derived from the Greek "histos" meaning tissue. There are literally dozens of antihistamine drugs. Some of the most commonly used are diphenhydramine, hydroxyzine and promethazine.
Q—I am taking dexanyl to reduce my doctor is also giving me clavil. What is it for?
A—Amytripryline (clavil) is a mild tranquilizer. Persons who take it should be checked every six months for signs of increased tension in the eyeballs (glaucoma).

BARRY GOLDWATER

President Johnson, in his address to congress, touched on two points in particular that I believe will be of lasting interest to the American people.
The first of these was the new chief executive's emphasis on the separation of powers between the legislative and executive branches of government.
This point is Barry Goldwater, especially vital now in the wake of heavy criticism which some elements in our society have been leveling at the congress of the United States and the system of checks and balances written into the Constitution by our founding fathers.
To judge from the comments of some leaders, including a few in congress itself, the legislative branch is to blame for just about everything that hasn't gone right in the past year. Many of these critics would like to revamp the entire process of legislative enactment in the interest of speed in the handling of particular programs.

I suggest it is entirely possible that under President Johnson there will be more concern and appreciation of the legislative process than we have seen recently. This would be only natural, since the new President spent more than a quarter of a century serving in the house and senate before he was elected vice president.
Listen to what he had to say in addressing a joint session of congress on Nov. 27:
"As one who has long served in both houses of congress, I firmly believe in the independence and integrity of the legislative branch. I promise you that I shall always respect this. It is deep in the marrow of my bones. With equal firmness, I believe in the capacity and the ability of congress, despite the divisions of opinion which characterize our nation, to act—no to act wisely, vigorously and speedily when the need arises."
At another point in his speech, President Johnson said "congress can expect the full cooperation and support of the executive branch."

Throughout his speech, the chief executive urged speedy action on administrative programs, including the civil rights, tax and But he studiously avoided telling congress what kind of a time Many, of course, had expected the President to ask congress to stand and adjourn or to stay in day and night to push through everything formerly asked by President Kennedy.
The second point in the President's speech which I believe of extreme importance was that dealing with economy in government expenditures. President Johnson seemed especially interested in reassuring the nation on this very important point. He appeared to be saying that public extravagance would have no standing in his administration. Here are the exact words he used:
". . . In particular I pledge that the expenditures of the government will be administered with the utmost thrift and frugality. I will insist that the government get a dollar's value from a dollar spent. The government will set an example of prudence and economy. This does not mean we will not meet our unfilled needs or that we will not honor our commitments. We will do both."
For those who thought these words might have been just some pointless rhetoric in President Johnson's first address to congress, the executive's action—days late provided a partial answer.
President Johnson made it a point in conferences with defense department officials to draw attention to the economy phase of his address. He emphasized that in the military services he fully expects to see that this nation gets—as he put it—"a dollar's value for a dollar spent."
How effective the new President's desire to follow a course of "prudence and economy" will be over the long haul, only time will tell. But at this stage, any effort in this direction should receive the wholehearted support of the American people.
How do you stand, sir?

Poor Man's Plato

BY HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK, Dec. 10 (AP)—Cats, like women, rarely reveal their age.
They wouldn't tell the truth even if you put their paw on the Bible.
So I don't know for certain how old Lady Dottie is. She was in an advanced stage of kittenhood when she adopted our family some years back, and began to rule us with her iron whisks.
I would guess she is now in the equivalent of early middle age. Certainly she acts more like a spinster every day.
She has developed a bad case of xenophobia, or fear of strangers. Unlike a spinster, she doesn't look under her bed for strange men before retiring. She merely runs and hides under the sofa when a strange man enters the apartment, and usually stays there until he leaves.
Formerly she liked to escort me into the hall when I went to work, and stand there gravely waiting until the elevator had whisked me down. Looking at her I sometimes had the eerie feeling she was a kind of furcovered, four-footed wife, silently telling me, "Now work hard all day, like a nice little husband, earn me a good living, and be sure to get home early."
Lately, however, Lady Dottie has declined to go into the hall. She merely follows me to the door, gives a farewell rub against my legs and walks away.
Apparently she has lost nearly all curiosity about the outside world. Now and then she is lured to a tall-lashing jungle excitement when an impatient sparrow perches on our windowsill. But for the most part she seems content to be an indoor cat, taking our apartment as his placid place of empire.
She used to reach out and bite or bite our daughter, Tracy, or the two children down to the hall if they teased her or tried to fondle her too much. Now she puts up with their petting with a regal air of resignation.
Most cat lovers like to brag about their pets' tricks. The only trick Lady Dottie ever learned was, when accidentally shut into the bathroom, to leap up on the washstand and turn the doorknob with both paws, sometimes opening it.
When we try to get her to do this trick for friends, however, she merely stands behind the door and plaintively meows for release. Cats, like children, never show off when you want them to.
My wife, Frances, sometimes wears of preparing Lady Dottie's meals.
"I must have cut up and warmed enough beef kidney and frozen codfish for that cat to fill a freight car," she says.
But when I remark that cats are more trouble than husbands Frances replies: "Yes, in some ways. But on the other hand, they are more intelligent conversationalists. When I talk to Lady Dottie, I at least know she hears me. That's more than I can say for some husbands."
I guess she must have been referring to one of the nearby bobs. I hear that guy never listened to his wife.

and South went on to five spades which was usually doubled.
Of course, the diamond finesse worked and South made five spades in all those cases.
Now let's see what happened when East-West got their plus score. West had nothing to do with it. It was all East!
It seems that after North bid two spades East decided that there would be further bidding and took the unusual action of passing with his big hand. Sure enough, South went right for five spades and when that got back to East—he went to five hearts.
South passed. He wanted his partner to decide what to do and needlessly to say, North doubled. He did not know that East had set a trap.
East had no trouble making five hearts. All he had to lose was one spade and one diamond.

New Flag Flies in Free Nation Now

ZANZIBAR, Dec. 10 (AP) — A gold, green and red banner replaced the Union Jack today as the sleepy spice island of Zanzibar became Africa's 34th independent nation.

Amba, volleys of rifle fire and the cheers of thousands, British Prince Philip, representing his wife, Queen Elizabeth II, handed over an act of the British parliament making Zanzibar a free and independent state again after 73 years under British protection.

Prime Minister Sheik Shambi Hamadi warned his people independence "does not mean disintegration of loots... nor does it mean less work and more pay. It means unleashing the pent-up energies of our people."

Such an effort will be needed if Zanzibar is to raise its annual per capita income of $56.

Britain will grant independence Thursday to another East African territory, Kenya. Both will become members of the United Nations Monday.

Crash Occurs At Accident Site in Town

SHOSHONE, Dec. 10 — Another accident has been recorded at the intersection of Logan and Walnut streets, near the courthouse, where a man was killed this fall and several other accidents have happened over the past several years.

The intersection is not marked for either yield or stop signs and a number of local citizens have entered complaints about the situation. The view is obstructed at this location, local law enforcement officers report.

A 1957 Chevrolet belonging to Vernon Perron, 17, Shoshone, was demolished and several hundred dollars damage resulted to a 1955 Oldsmobile belonging to Mrs. F. N. Stowell, when the two vehicles collided at 5 p.m. Saturday.

Deputy Sheriff Martin Whitehead cited Perron for failure to yield the right of way after statements by Perron that he was picking up a basketball suit from the floor of the car at the time.

JEROME, Dec. 10 — A one-act play entitled "What Will We Give Dad?" will be presented at 8 p.m. Friday at the Jefferson school by the Jefferson PTA. All children and parents are invited. There will be no admission charge.

The cast includes Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Wright, Kenneth Miller, Mrs. Foley Asher, Mrs. Donald Jacobson and Mrs. Donald-Rosen. Mrs. Hinkle Cox and Everett Main are program chairmen. Several musical variety numbers will be featured. Refreshments will be served.

The play will be held in January. The state meeting will be held in February.

Promotion, Activities at Army Reserve Reported

Richard M. Shotwell, 371 DuBois avenue, was promoted Sunday from the rank of first lieutenant to captain during a ceremony at the Twin Falls army reserve center.

Captain Shotwell, leader of supply platoon, company B, 372nd Quartermaster battalion, received his captain's bars from Lieut. Col. Warren Tegan, Flt.-provost marshal, 96th Command headquarters, Ft. Douglas, Utah.

Three enlisted men recently have transferred into the local reserve unit to fulfill the remainder of their service obligation after serving two years in the regular army. They are Russell Bartlett and Christopher Janick, both Twin Falls, and Dean Moore, Hansen.

Two reservists from the unit currently attending quartermaster training schools are Roy R. Coulson, Hazelton, taking a 16-week petroleum laboratory course, and Ronald A. Lancaster, Jerome, a 26-week office machine repair course, both being taught at Fort Lee, Va.

Local men who have recently joined the reserve unit and are undergoing basic training at Ft. Ord, Calif., are Brian A. Dahl, 1737 Third avenue east; Robert D. Moore, 685 Locust street south; Larry D. Rountree, route 2; Vernon O. Biggers, 129 Washington street south; John T. Kinsey, 305 Locust street north; Lawrence A. Miller, 259 Sidney street; Ralph R. Reinke, route 3, and Bert Dobbs, Jr., route 2, all Twin Falls; Craig W. Miller, 916 North Broadway, Buhl; Samuel B. Puentes, route 2, Hazelton; William H. Taylor, 312 North Fillmore, Jerome; Glenn W. Buskner, route 1, Hansen; Ellis G. Jensen, 1863 Washington street, Burley; Robert R. Gee and Paul M. Soodhouse, both Oakley; Elton W. Brown, Heyburn, and Keith H. Stocking, route 2, Paul.

Other new reservists, who have not yet left for basic training, are Richard R. Whiting, route 2, and George E. Young, 1510 Hansen avenue, both Burley; Thomas N. Moore, 685 Locust street south; John J. Wise, 226 Washington street north, and Robert W. Reese, 1937 Falls avenue east, all Twin Falls, and Thomas C. Durant, 412 Third avenue east, Jerome.

New enlistments in detachment 4, company A, a special forces reserve unit which meets in Burley's reserve center, are Gary L. Harper, 1016 Sixth street, Rupert, currently undergoing six months of active duty training, and Richard S. High and Clyde N. Carlson, both Twin Falls, and Donald C. Loveland, route 1, Burley.

Under a newly-initiated program, those joining the reserves in some cases will not have to complete six months of active duty training before returning to the local unit. Depending on length of courses taken after basic training is finished, recruits may return to the local unit immediately after graduating from the school instead of having on-the-job training which previously has been used to make up the remainder of the six-month period.

Several schools are now available for those joining the reserve program. The Twin Falls army reserve center is located one mile east of the city limits on Kimberly road. In Burley, the reserve training center is in the 900 block of east Main street. Both the Burley and Twin Falls reserve centers are in company B, 372nd Quartermaster battalion.

Exhibit at Elba Is Well Attended

ELBA, Dec. 10 — Many people from the surrounding area visited the art exhibit of Mrs. Lovina Tuttle during the week-end at her studio in Elba.

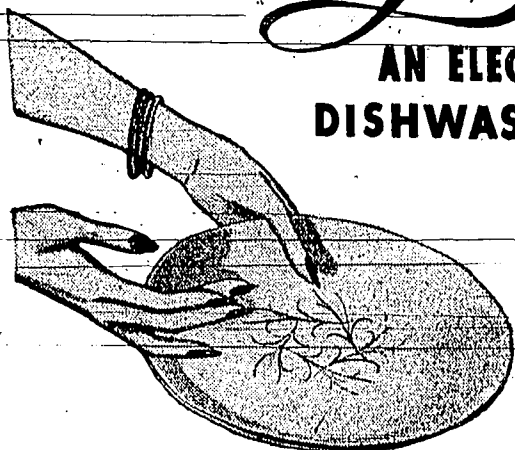

Although Mrs. Tuttle has traveled throughout the Western states to paint her pictures the favorite of most of the viewers were those of the Elba valley.

Because of many phone calls from people who were ill or unable to attend the exhibit Mrs. Tuttle will keep the pictures on display for several days more at the studio which is located one-half mile east of the Elba store.

Rankin Is Counsel for Commission

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10 (AP)—Former U.S. Solicitor General J. Lee Rankin was named today to be general counsel for the special commission investigating the assassination of President Kennedy. Rankin's selection was announced by Chief Justice Earl Warren, chairman of the commission.

The announcement described Rankin as a "distinguished lawyer." It said he has accepted the appointment and "is now in the performance of his duties."

One of the immediate tasks of the commission is a study of a formal FBI report which was said to establish that Lee Harvey Oswald, alone and unarmed, fired the shots that killed the President in Dallas on Nov. 22.

A commission spokesman said that a summary of report was delivered to the commission yesterday afternoon.

"It consists of five volumes of summary and exhibits," the announcement said. "No further announcement will be made concerning the report until the commission has had an opportunity to review it. A preliminary statement will thereafter be made public."

The announcement said it has not been determined when the commission will hold its next meeting. It has met twice.

Rankin, 56, is a native of Hartington, Neb. He practiced law in Lincoln from 1931 to 1953. He headed the office of legal counsel of the justice department from 1953 to 1956 and then served as solicitor general until 1961, when the Kennedy administration began.

Since leaving the government, Rankin has practiced law in New York.

Man in Hospital After Collapsing
Neil Garrison, 670 Lynwood boulevard, was listed in good condition Tuesday at Magic Valley Memorial hospital, where he was taken about 4 p.m. Monday after he apparently passed out at his desk at the Twin Falls Bank and Trust company, 102 Main avenue south.

The Twin Falls city fire department was called to the bank and gave him oxygen for about seven minutes, until a doctor arrived. He was taken to the hospital by ambulance.

Backing
FRUITLAND, Dec. 10 (AP)—The Fruitland school board Monday adopted a resolution backing the Cassia county district in its lawsuit asking more state funds for the 1961-63 biennium.

The Cassia district filed suit to collect money it would have received under the old state aid formula. If the money had been available, the appropriation fell short by 1.2 million dollars and the 1963 legislature refused to make a deficit appropriation.

Royal Air Force Wins Battle With Aunt Kate
BOROUGHBRIDGE, England, Dec. 10 (AP)—Britain's Royal Air force has won a battle with Aunt Kate.

Aunt Kate is Miss Kathleen Handley, 42. She bakes and sells apple pies at her little post office-general store at Dishforth Royal Air force base, near Boroughbridge.

A few yards from her pie counter is the camp where it sells apple pies made by the navy, army and air force institute.

Wing Comdr. H. T. Brown, the base commander, trotted out the queen's own regulations Monday to put Aunt Kate out of business. The regulations say no one can compete with an NAAFT canteen at a camp.

Escape
BRUNSWICK, Germany, Dec. 10 (AP)—Three East German youths and a girl skipped across the Iron Curtain near here Sunday, border officials reported Monday.

The young men, aged 17 to 20, came together through the mined border with its barbed wire barriers. The girl, 16, came across alone. Officials did not disclose how the escapes were made.

WANT NAME CHANGED
LA PORCHERIE, France, Dec. 10 (AP)—The 1,083 inhabitants of this village in the haute Vienne department of France have asked the local council to change its name. La Porcherie means pigsty. One inhabitant couldn't bear it any longer and left last year. His name is Cochon—pig in English.

REHEARSING FOR THE ANNUAL Christmas program for the combined Twin Falls Junior Music clubs, "Peter and the Wolf," will be held at 4:15 p.m. Thursday in the O'Leary Junior high school auditorium, are Kathryn Lincoln, the duck; Leanne Katz, Peter; Deborah Johnson, the cat, and Marcia Hackney, the wolf. Members of the seventh and eighth grade girls' chorus from the St. Edward's Junior Music club will sing, accompanied by Beth Britt. (Times-News photo)

Warning on "Hooking" of Rides Issued

With streets covered with snow and ice, making them extremely slick, the practice of "hooking" rides on cars has started again. Twin Falls Police Chief Frank Barnett stated Tuesday that "hooky bobs" (persons hooking rides on cars) will be dealt with severely.

Persons caught hooking rides will be taken to the police station and parents of youngsters involved will be notified of the youth's activities and informed they may be turned over to juvenile authorities for further action, Barnett said.

The severity of the punishment will be determined by the particular incident, Barnett noted. "Hooky bobs" and "hooking" rides on vehicles are two different things, Barnett said. "Hooky bobs" are persons who catch rides on automobiles without the driver's knowledge, but "hooking" rides with the driver's permission is another thing.

The driver of a vehicle that is, with his knowledge, pulling a person or sleigh will be arrested, Barnett added, since such activity is against the law.

This practice of "hooking" rides is dangerous and can cause serious accidents, Barnett noted. A car pulling a person on slick roads is unable to stop immediately if the person falls. Also, a person being pulled behind a car can fall into the path of another car.

Hunter Follows Noise to Safety

ERROL, N. H., Dec. 10 (AP)—"Big Bella" the big noise of the north country, has led another lost hunter out of the woods.

Frank Zarek 27, Mansfield, Mass., followed Bella's hoots yesterday and walked to safety. He had become separated from four companions Sunday.

Bella is a powerful air horn owned by the city of Berlin. Mounted on a truck and powered by an air compressor it is moved wherever needed. Its sustained blasts can be heard for about four miles, and a number of lost hunters have followed the sound to a nearby road.

Program Set by Combined T.F. Junior Music Clubs

The third annual Christmas program for the combined Twin Falls Junior Music clubs will be held at 4:15 p.m. Thursday in the O'Leary Junior high school auditorium.

Members of the seventh and eighth grade girls' chorus from the St. Edward's Junior Music club will sing the hymn of the month, "All My Heart This Night Rejoices," accompanied by Beth Britt.

Students from the Beverly Hackney ballet school will present "Peter and the Wolf," a symphonic tale for children by Prokofiev. The story concerns a boy, Peter, who was told not to go out into the meadow because a wolf lives there. However, the boy does go, captures the wolf, and leads him off to the zoo.

The various characters are represented by sounds of instruments in the orchestra—the bird, by the flute; the duck, by the oboe; the cat, by the clarinet in low register; grandfather, by the bassoon; the wolf, by three French horns; Peter, by the strings, and the shouts of the hunters by the kettle drums and the bass drum.

The musical accompaniment will be a recording by the Paris Symphony orchestra, conducted by Echeverry, with narration by Eddie Bracken.

Lorlee Mullens will be the bird; Kathryn Lincoln, the duck; Deborah Johnson, the cat; Debbie Rangen, grandfather; Marcia Hackney, the wolf; Leanne Katz, Peter; Debbe McNeely, Junice Neilson, and Renee Butler, the hunters.

Credit Class Is Scheduled

Edward W. Rice, Boise, president of the Professional Adjustment company and Idaho representative for the American Collectors association, will conduct a one-day credit seminar in the State room, Rogerson hotel, Friday, sponsored by the Idaho Feed and Grain association, announces Lester H. Haslam, area director and treasurer for the organization.

The all-day credit and collection school will be open to all persons in the feed or grain business, as well as members, Haslam noted.

The session starts at 10 a.m. and will conclude at 5 p.m. The meeting is the third in a series of three meetings conducted by Rice in the state. The course packs into one day a full curriculum of all phases of granting of credit, aging of accounts, methods of determining bad accounts and various methods of collection.

Lieut. James Ridley, base information officer, said the severed wires could have caused the landing gear not to retract and short circuited the electrical system.

Damage to Jets Being Probed

WILLIAMS AIR FORCE BASE, Ariz., Dec. 10 (AP)—Federal agents are investigating the deliberate damage to 61 jet trainers here.

Landing gear wires on the T-38 trainers were found cut yesterday during a pre-flight check. The wing commander, Col. William C. Lindley, Jr., ordered all 75 trainers grounded.

Lieut. James Ridley, base information officer, said the severed wires could have caused the landing gear not to retract and short circuited the electrical system.

Film Shown
BURLEY, Dec. 10—The film "Coeur d'Alene Country," narrated by Rex Allen, was viewed by Chamber of Commerce members at their noon luncheon Monday at the National hotel, reports E. L. Shelstad, president.

Charles Hendricks, gave a brief report on the highway election which was held last Monday.

Medical Mirror

DEFORMED TOENAIL
Q. My left toenail is thickened, deformed, and very painful. One doctor wanted to remove the nail. Should this be done?
A. It is usually advisable, as your doctor suggested, to surgically remove distorted, deformed, thickened nails, especially toenails. To simply trim away such nails does little good because they soon grow again in the same distorted manner. When the nail is removed surgically, regrowth can be prevented by treating the nail bed. In many cases, complete removal of the nail and bed is the only way to provide lasting comfort.

CONTACT LENSES
Q. Is there greater risk of injury to the eye in the event of an accident when contact lenses rather than ordinary glasses are worn?
A. No, contact lenses do not entail any greater risk than do spectacles in the event of an accident.

Party "Loot" Bag Project Is Described

By KAY SHERWOOD
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
If you have accepted leadership of a troop of little girls, as so many well-meaning but naive mothers do, you're up to your eyeballs in Christmas-oriented projects. Or should be.

The calls are out from our leaders to prepare tray covers for elderly-hospital patients, nut-cups of red felt Christmas stockings.

Unfortunately, my criteria for happy projects do not coincide with the leadership manuals.

I want projects that take a minimum of pre-meeting preparation by the leader and that can be finished by the willing hands of second-graders in one session. One of our youngsters spent two months of meetings trying to assemble nut cups from a dozen tiny cut-out pieces and gave up in boredom.

Well, help comes from unexpected quarters. An artist friend shared me her idea for a Christmas party "loot" bag—a bag that young-guests at a holiday birthday party might use to carry some prizes and favors. The brightly colored bags were supposed to follow a reindeer party theme (you know, games-like "the red nose on Rudolph"). Although it didn't look like any I'd ever seen, the more I looked at the bag and the more the bag looked back at me—the eyes are hard to avoid—I realized I was looking at the next troop-meeting project.

The easy, funny bags are naturally easy to make and prove inexpensive holders for goodies for sick children in a hospital ward or for party guests. The finished effort can be packed and carried flat without damage. Fill them with goodies later.

The bag body is simply a brightly colored sack. The child-friendly and out-cut a triangular head from shirt or lightweight cardboard. Glue cotton batting to the cardboard for chin whiskers. Then glue the head to the sack top. Antlers are cotton heads taped to the back of the head. Draw googly eyes with a black felt-marking pen on circles of round white paper and glue them on the head. A small bell at the tip of the nose is a nice touch. Hooves are cotton-covered cardboard oblongs. The front of the bag is tricked up with a harness made of a straight strip or two of plastic tape—one wider than the other—and a chain of beads. String the beads on thread and knot to the bag.

Instead of glass or breakable beads, the chain should be of popcorn or paper links. A few star-shaped stickers brighten the front, too. The youngsters may need help in cutting the thin cotton batting but they can do the other work.

Even those comfortable brushed-knit cotton sleepers have been dressed up with smocking and ruffles.

Tot's Size Is No Object for Holiday Finery

NEW YORK, Dec. 10 (NEA)—"Santa will visit a well-dressed crew this Christmas. Fashions for the small fry are as cute as the youngsters themselves.

The A-line dress, because it is comfortable as well as attractive, continues to be the most popular silhouette. But for parties, there are long (or as long as you can get from the shoulders to hips in size 3) velveteen bodices, with eyelet or organza flouncing out from hip to hem.

Frillside fashions for the nursery set are as smart as mom's at-home wear.

Long shifts in printed cotton or corduroy transform the saucier tomlony into a gracious miniature "hostess."

For play trowsers around the Christmas tree there are stretch or quilted pants, teamed with colorful A-line tops of no-iron cotton for easy care.

And when it's time to dream of sugar plums, that, too, can be done in sleepwear that's brighter and prettier than ever.

Even those comfortable brushed-knit cotton sleepers have been dressed up with smocking and ruffles.

December Meet Held by Area Redeemer Unit

KIMBERLY, Dec. 10 — The December meeting of Kimberly Redeemer Lutheran Women's Missionary league was held at the home of Mrs. Robert High.

Officers were installed. They are Mrs. Charles Valentine, president; Mrs. Ed Dohse, vice president; Mrs. High, secretary; Mrs. William Mather, treasurer; Mrs. Henry Stevers, chairman of Christian growth, and Mrs. Walter Lierman, Christian service chairman. They were installed in a service before an altar arranged by the Rev. Fry.

Individual Christmas candles used in the service were made by Mrs. Fry and were presented to each woman of the league.

Mrs. High gave the opening devotional service. Mrs. L. Reitz was welcomed as a guest. Outgoing officers gave their yearly reports. The group decided to bring baskets of fruit and gifts for the Magic Valley Guest home and Mountain View Convalescent center.

A committee was appointed to contact the missionary at large to the deaf on ways they could help his work, or the people he works with.

It was decided to have afternoon meetings during January, February and March. The Rev. Mr. Fry gave the topic.

Secret pal Christmas gifts were opened and names drawn for another year. Refreshments were served by the hostesses.

Housing Poses Big Problem in Russ Marriage

NEW YORK, Dec. 10 (AP)—Soviet-boy-meets-girl—Soviet-boy thinks of marriage—and then of the housing shortage. For marriage often is contingent on whether the couple will have a place to live.

The bearing that housing accommodations have on Ivan and Olga's courtship showed in a survey by the Soviet Academy of Sciences of 500 young couples in the Leningrad area.

Results were reported at headquarters here of Radio Liberty, which uncovered the poll in its regular research of Soviet publications and broadcasts. The Soviet publication which reported the poll headlined it, "love and living space. Data on Soviet marriage."

Idaho Writers' League Reports Holiday Party

Mr. and Mrs. Jewell A. Von Ins were hosts for the Twin Falls chapter of the Idaho Writers' league and their families for a Christmas party at their home.

A potluck supper was followed by contest games and a gift exchange. Von Ins acted as Santa Claus and distributed the gifts from a decorated holly tree. Each gift was accompanied by an original poem from which the recipient was to guess the contents of the gift package before opening it.

Another 20 per cent became acquainted at work, 18 per cent met in school, and one out of every 10 couples said they had known each other since childhood.

Other introductions came at house parties, during summer vacations, through their parents, on trains, in hospitals or in libraries.

In nearly one of every four marriages, the wife was older than the husband. A few had as many as 10 years seniority.

Radio Liberty doesn't usually go in for boy-meets-girl stories. Its research staff of Soviet experts, including 200 ex-Soviet citizens, concentrate on the number one job of reporting the news denied Russians citizens within their own borders.

Radio Liberty, privately supported through the American committee for liberation, broadcasts around the clock from 17 transmitters in west Germany, Spain and Formosa, in 17 languages spoken within the borders of the USSR.

The organization's honorary chairmen include former President Herbert Hoover, Dwight D. Eisenhower and Harry S. Truman.

Miss Osgood, Parker Repeat Nuptial Vows

Patricia Osgood, daughter of Maj. and Mrs. R. D. Wallace, Annadale, Va., and Melvin Parker, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Parker, Twin Falls, were united in marriage in a double ring ceremony Sept. 8 in St. Alban's Episcopal church by the Rev. John R. Frizzell, Jr., Annadale.

The bride wore a China blue silk suit with matching accessories and a small pill box hat and veil. She carried a bouquet of white carnations.

Attendants were Major Wallace and Mrs. W. G. Wall. The couple was honored at a reception at the bride's home.

The new Mrs. Parker is a graduate of Kailua, Hawaii, high school and attended a Hawaiian business college.

Parker is a 1960 graduate of Twin Falls high school and is stationed at Kailua with the marine medical department.

The bride will reside in Bridgeton, N.C., and is employed in a department store. The bridegroom is being transferred to Cherry Point, N.C.

AFL's Challenge for Grid Playoff Game Is Rejected

NEW YORK, Dec. 10 (AP)—Commissioner Joe Foss of the American Football league issued a new challenge Monday for a "championship game" between the winner of his league and the National Football league winner after the 1964 season.

NFL commissioner Pete Rozelle promptly replied that the older league has "no plans for such a game."

Both the challenge and the answer hit familiar notes.

Foss, in a letter to Rozelle, said he believed the time had arrived to inaugurate a game between the two league winners and "I re-issued" an official challenge to the NFL for the first game to be played at the conclusion of the 1964 season.

Foss said that would be the fifth year of operation for the AFL. He pointed out that the Cleveland Browns, in their fifth year, came from the bankrupt All-America conference and won the NFL title.

Foss said, however, "any argument as to which team would win the initial AFL-NFL game is of secondary importance."

He said a "world series of professional football is necessary to the continued progress of our game if we're to be true sportsmen and not merely businessmen in sports."

Rozelle, contacted for his response, sent the following "Dear Joe":

"I understand that you intend to write me for the purpose of suggesting a championship playoff game between the AFL and the NFL in 1964."

"As I have said on a number of occasions recently when queried by news media concerning similar requests made by you, we have no plans for such a game."

"The AFL has pressed for a championship game for several seasons. Much of the time the NFL responded by pointing out the new league had filed a suit charging the older league with restraint of trade."

"The AFL, riding the crest of pro football popularity, has shown no signs of wanting to end the pro football war. The two leagues are currently bidding against each other for college players drafted separately."

Dempsey Concedes He Was Drugged, but Well, Before First Bout With Tunney

MINNEAPOLIS, Dec. 10 (AP)—Jack Dempsey, former world heavyweight champion, conceded Monday night that he may have been given a Mickey Finn, but insisted he was not sick the day he lost his title to Gene Tunney in Philadelphia Sept. 23. "But a doctor told me the next day I'd probably been given a Mickey Finn and I probably was ill for three or four days after that," Dempsey said in reference to a report that he had lost the championship because he had been drugged.

Sports FROM ALL ANGLES

By LARRY HOVEY

Defeat always comes hard and the Jerome Tigers could hardly be blamed for not smiling after the result of their opener with Nampa. Nampa was, however, a surprisingly large plurality.

Nampa, standing around 6 feet, 4 inches, and 215 pounds, is stronger than he has for quite some time. If the Bulldogs are as good as they showed over the weekend, they'll be trouble right through March 15.

Actually, coach Pat Young has to agree that it might be the best thing that happened to Jerome although "we sure don't have to like it."

Losing a non-conference, non-anything game like that really hurts only the pride. Any coach and team who have tried it will heartily agree that the heaviest thing to carry is a winning streak. It always is better to lose one early because then the pressure is off.

But coach Young happily lets us be part of the remedy. "I think I'll let them read your pre-season story again Monday," he chuckled—albeit weakly—Saturday night.

Jerome needn't feel bad about dropping that first game. In addition to the Tigers, some 25 teams went into last Tuesday night hoping for a good winning streak as an opener. Of the 26, only six made it through two games undefeated while one won its only outing. Two others, Twin Falls and Buhl, sat it out.

Duke Whitehead, another member of the Twin Falls football team of 1962, has been selected to the all-ICAO football team. Whitehead, playing defensive tackle at Snow college, has grown into college proportions after playing prep ball at around 100 pounds. He now has gone up to about 8 feet, 1 1/2 inches and 215 pounds. Better yet, Duke, who had some trouble with grades in high school and was passed up by at least one major university we know of, now is carrying around a B average.

And for the record, Utah State coach Tony Knap is more than a little interested in Whitehead.

The pressure being applied in the Southern Idaho conference for increased football programs is rumored to have hit one of the Boise area schools. A long time Idaho coach is reported to have handed in his resignation which will be final unless the school board coughs up with another assistant coach and some other program aids.

Allen Dowd, a 17-year-old bulldozer called fullback for the Buhl football team, was hampered during his final two games by calcification in his left leg. Although it undoubtedly hurt a lot, there weren't enough people in Buhl to keep Dowd out of the games once he decided to play.

Still roaming: Doug Schow, ex-standout Bruin talkback, couldn't cut it as an offensive starter for the BYU frosh but became the club's defensive wildcard in the final two games—played every minute on defense in both. Losing only its opener to Utah State, Schow believes the saggy BYU grid fortunes may be on the upswing with this year's crop.

Utah State pulled a switch that still mystifies football buffs in the Burley area. The Utags took fullback Grant Martinson, three-year starter for coach Ron Burge, and moved him to quarterback. He was solid string there. Bobcat Boosters firmly believe this is one time Utah State blew the signal.

One of the standouts on the University of Idaho frosh grid club currently is being tutored in every class. The coaching staff believes this semester will see the boy on the eligibility list, but worries about the spring half. That's the one that counts toward participation next fall.

Dave Glesson, Burley halfback who played behind Joe McCollum at flanker back on the frosh grid club, has earned a spot on the Vandal frosh basketball team. Tim Lavens, another Bruin ex, met the basketball team but quit and began working on weights and isometrics last week.

Between us, if you ask the Idaho coaching staff who they best Vandal linemen is, they name a few but always mention Ray Miller, a redshirt who transferred there from Borah and later Utah State.

Goal for Idaho State football staff is two good junior college ends—right now!

RIGNS WITH BEARS CHICAGO, Dec. 10 (AP)—Billy Martin, giant Georgia Tech end, was signed Monday by the Chicago Bears.

WSU Is Still Making List Of Hopefuls

PULLMAN, Wash., Dec. 10 (AP)—Washington State officials say they haven't completed compiling a list of candidates for head football coach. But names are already being buzzed about.

The school announced last week that Jim Sutherland was being released as coach and indicated the naming of a new coach might come next month.

Since then there have been rumors that candidates have been contacted and selection was so close that only a formal announcement was lacking.

"Absolutely not," Dr. C. Clement French, WSU president, said today. Names are still being submitted, suggestions being made and applications being received, he said. Still ahead is the long, hard task of screening, narrowing the field and then personal interviews.

WSU's athletic director, Stan Bates, is in San Francisco attending a Big Six Athletic conference meeting. He said earlier that he would attend the American Football Coaches' association meeting in New York early next month and expected a number of applications by mail before then.

Bates said WSU needs a coaching staff soon for the recruitment of high school players but was going to make a thorough search for the best man for the head coaching post and "not going to fill it just to get it filled."

Mentioned early as Sutherland's possible successor are a number of former Cougar players: Jerry Williams, star-back 1946-48, former Montana coach and now an assistant with the Philadelphia Eagles of the NFL; Laurie Niemi, outstanding lineman who was Williams' teammate, served with him at Montana and now also is on the Philadelphia staff and Bob Gambold, cool quarterback who was once one of Sutherland's assistants, and now is on the Stanford staff.

The news columnist said that the "mickey finn" came in the champ's breakfast coffee.

Dempsey described Tunney, the ex-marine who took his title, as "A nice guy, fine fellow."

An Atlanta restaurateur who attended the interview, Harvey Hester, said that he knew who gave the drug to Dempsey.

Marshall said that he mentioned a name which could not be printed.

"You never saw anybody sick," Hester said. "I don't know how he even got in the ring."

Dempsey nodded in agreement. Marshall wrote, and said, "I don't believe I have ever been as sick. Before or since. It was terrible. Just terrible."

Marshall said that all through the day, Dempsey was gripped by nausea. "He was shaky, weak when it came time for the show to go on. There was no thought of postponement, and no one knew except those closest to the champ that he had been done in, in advance, that he didn't have a chance."

Dempsey and Tunney fought again. A year later, and Tunney won. This was the fight of the famous "long count."

Action Begins in City Hoop Loop

Knight's Chevron and Mountain View Nursing Homes took opening wins in the Twin Falls city-adult basketball league Monday night.

Chevron, paced by Louis Ehlers' 11 points, nipped the Sapphire lounge 37-35. Wally Peterson also scored 11 for the losers.

Mountain View, getting 20 points from lefty Slater, had an easy romp over the Times-News, winning 48-21. Joe Rowbury tanked nine for the losers.

Army Coach Exonerates Official's Call During 21-15 Loss Against Navy

NEW YORK, Dec. 10 (AP)—Army Coach Paul Dietzel exonerated referee Barney Finn of any wrongdoing and blamed himself Monday for his team's heart-breaking 21-15 football loss to Navy. "The official did exactly right," said Dietzel, a surprise visitor at the New York football writers' luncheon. "I have no fault to find with him. If anybody is to blame, it is me. I was not fully aware of the rules." Dietzel, however, couldn't help but add:

West Shrine Team to Have Passing, Speed

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 10 (AP)—A team with great speed and adept at using the forward pass was selected Monday to represent the West in the 39th Shrine East-West football game in Kezar stadium Dec. 28. Fifteen schools are represented on the West squad announced by William M. Coffman, the managing director. The game is played annually for the benefit of the Shrine Crippled Children hospital fund.

Boosters Meet

Idaho assistant coach Steve Musseau will show football movies of the Idaho-Washington State football game when the Twin Falls Bruin Boosters meet at 7 a.m. Thursday at the Rogerston hotel. The film will show Joe McCollum and Tim Lavens, two former Bruins, playing for Idaho. Free breakfast will be served to 25 Bruin Boosters who sold five or more season tickets. The wives of the Bruin Boosters are invited to attend. Coach Paul Ostyn will discuss the basketball team season prospects.

U.S. Team Has Edge on Australians

PERTH, Australia, Dec. 10 (AP)—Australians Davis cup Capt. Harry Hopman said here Monday the Americans have an edge on the Australians at this stage of preparation for the challenge round at Adelaide Dec. 26-28. Hopman said, however, he expects that the West Australian tennis championships here, plus intensive practice, will bring the cup holders up to peak form.

Davis' Hitting Crown Made Official

CINCINNATI, Dec. 10 (AP)—Tommy Davis' second straight National League batting championship was confirmed Sunday with the release of the final official averages for 1963. Davis, 24-year-old Los Angeles Dodgers' outfielder, had a .328 average last season and finished six points in front of Pittsburgh's Roberto Clemente, the 1961 titleholder. Clemente's .320 mark was followed by the 319 averages compiled by both Hank Aaron of Milwaukee, the 1956 batting king, and Dick Groat of St. Louis, who won the 1960 crown while with Pittsburgh. Aaron, the Braves' veteran outfielder, tied Willie McCovey of San Francisco for the home-run lead with 44, topped the circuit in runs batted in for the third time with 130 and runs scored, 121.

Commission Must Rule on Lorick Status

OAKLAND, Calif., Dec. 10 (AP)—The Oakland Raiders, believing they have an air-tight claim on the services of Arizona State University fullback Tony Lorick, hope professional football's two commissioners can amicably settle the dispute with the Baltimore Colts. The Colts of the National Football League announced Friday they had signed Lorick, their No. 1 draft choice. Later Friday the American Football League Raiders said they signed Lorick, their No. 1 pick, before the Colts did.

Fullmer Doesn't Plan Comeback

WEST JORDAN, Utah, Dec. 10 (AP)—Former middleweight champion Gene Fullmer isn't talking about the possibility of another comeback try. He declined comment on that question after Joey Giardello won the title from Dick Tiger in a fight in Atlantic City, N. J., Saturday night. But he did say that he thought Tiger was a better boxer, though he "had a hunch Giardello would win because the fight was staged in the United States."

Kansas State Dumps Indiana

BLOOMINGTON, Ind., Dec. 10 (AP)—Kansas State, paced by 7-foot senior center Roger Suttner, defeated Indiana 63-64 in college basketball Monday night. Suttner dumped 29 points to lead all players. Indiana's 6-foot, 5-inch junior twins, Tom and Dick Van Arsdale, got in foul trouble early in the match but combined for 40 points. Dick, who fouled out with 2:25 left in the game, led the Hoosiers with 21 points. His brother, Tom, who fouled out with 30 seconds to go, scored 19. The Wildcats' height overcame Indiana's man-to-man press, keeping Kansas State in command throughout the game.

Rice Hits Early To Nip Tulane

HOUSTON, Dec. 10 (AP)—The Rice Owls hit a hot 55.6 per cent from the floor in the first half Monday night to take an easy 62-42 victory over Tulane. Tulane, meanwhile, managed to score only about one-fourth the time—20.8 per cent. Rice's Kendall Rhine led all scorers with 20 points playing only 20 minutes.

Hoople Returns for Last Time To Announce Grid Bowl Contest

By MAJOR AMOS B. HOOPLE
Hullo again, gentle readers and fellow grid prognosticators! I return this time in special recognition of a special few—those fortunate enough to have won money, or earned honorable mentions in those predicting contests. Only those few, or about 85, I believe, will go on to the bowl games. Like those grid teams having a less than-great year, the others must now retire their guessing caps for the year. This is the granddaddy of contests—the bowl week. Included on today's Times-News sports page is the ballot. Remember, the prizes are doubled for this one, $20 for first, $10 for second and $5 for third.

Bruins Open Season With Filer Tonight

The Twin Falls Bruins open their 1963 basketball season tonight by hosting the Filer Wildcats in one of three games slated in Magic Valley. The other games will send the Bliss Bears to Hansen, while Raft River will travel to Dietrich. The unveiling of the Bruins should show coach Paul Ostyn sticking largely to a senior starting lineup but going with juniors regardless of the score.

Creighton Nips ISU in Last Minute

OMAHA, Dec. 10 (AP)—Substitute Harry Forehand hit two baskets and a pair of free-throws in the last minute and 20 seconds Monday night, giving Creighton a 63-61 basketball win over Idaho State and keeping the Bluejay record clean at 4-0 for the season. Ken Briggs had broken a tie with 1:50 left when he went the 63-61 basketball win over Idaho State a 59-57 lead and Bob Gordon had stretched it to 61-57 when Forehand entered the game and began his heroics. Forehand could have been the goat when, after he scored the tying basket at 61-61 he missed, a free throw when he was fouled on his shot with 16 seconds left. Ten seconds later he got his second chance at the free throw line and won the game. His first shot gave Creighton the lead for the first time in the game. Idaho State had opened up a 13-2 lead and lead at the half, 37-31. Another fast start as the second half opened gave the visitors a 10-point lead. TREMENDOUS shooting from outside the circle and the corners by Art Orump, Briggs and Gordon gave Idaho State the early lead. After Orump and Gordon had shot the Bengals into a 10-point lead at the start of the second half, Paul Slias hit three baskets for Creighton. He finally hit a fourth one to tie the score at 57-57 with five minutes left. Soon after that ISU was hurt when Crump fouled out and the Bengals suffered another telling foul when Crump went out on fouls with two minutes left.

Kentucky Stuns North Carolina

LEXINGTON, Ky., Dec. 10 (AP)—The Kentucky Wildcats not only walked the tight rope but stomped on it as they gambled on fouls and rolled over North Carolina 100-80 Monday night in an inter-sectional basketball game. For more than half of the second period, two Wildcat starters carried four fouls each and with seven and one-half minutes to go another committed his fourth, but all three finished the game.

Wife Tells of Last Work of Hemingway

NEW YORK, Dec. 10 (AP)—The last completed work of Ernest Hemingway "is much more Earnest as a human being than as a writer," his widow said Monday.

A collection of sketches about Paris in the 1920's, titled "A Moveable Feast," it will be published next May 6 by Scribner's, which lists it in the biographical category.

"Actually it is a biography by 'Hemingway,'" said Mrs. Mary Hemingway. "Ernest had a Spanish word describing a double rebound in Jai Alai to identify that sort of writing."

"He is not writing about himself, but when he writes about others, you get a warm picture of him in his 20's."

The manuscript was started at Ketchikan, Idaho, late in 1957. He worked at it intermittently, putting it aside to work on a book on bullfighting, but he grew disgusted with bullfighting, then, said Mrs. Hemingway. It was completed in 1960. He died of a gunshot wound at Ketchikan on July 2, 1961.

Protest on Bus Riding Is Rejected

POCATELLO, Dec. 10 (AP)—The Pocatello school board refused a demand Monday night that it discontinue the practice of letting parochial school students ride taxpayer purchased and supported buses.

The district has received complaints on the practice from Rodney Veitschegger, assistant professor of business administration at Idaho State university; David McNew, pastor of the Bible Baptist church; and Paul E. Peffer, minister of Christ's church.

McNew, who attended the Monday night meeting of the board, said they object to the practice on the ground that it is unconstitutional to use taxpayer funds for parochial students.

School board chairman Lloyd Call said the board has decided to continue the practice in the belief that it is less expensive than building additional classrooms for the parochial students who might enter the public schools when they lose their source of transportation.

Call told McNew that if he does not agree with the board decision he can "take the normal course open to every citizen" in such cases. Apparently Call meant a lawsuit.

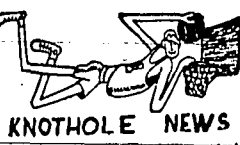

McNew indicated that it is the constitutionality of the matter that concerns him, not the cost as such. He indicated legal action will be strongly considered.

The district currently transports parochial students as long as the district buses do not have to go out of the normal routes they follow in picking up those students attending the public schools.

If parochial students walk to a regular bus stop they are permitted to board the bus. It does not take them to their parochial schools, but goes to the normal public school destination. The parochial students then walk from the public school to their own.

Granddaughters Attend Funeral

SHOSHONE, Dec. 10 — The granddaughters of the late Dr. C. W. Dill, only blood survivors of the doctor, have returned to their homes after attending his funeral services here Saturday. Dr. Dill lived in Shoshone more than 80 years.

The granddaughters are Mrs. DaVon (Gloria) Lauder, Salt Lake City, and Mrs. Jay (Charlene) Slaughter, Rexburg. Prof. and Mrs. Slaughter and their four children have returned to Rexburg where he is head of the music department at Ricks college.

Mr. and Mrs. Lauder were overnight guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Stimpson. Dr. Dill's only son, Charles W.

Car Slides

BUHL, Dec. 10—Minor damages resulted when Jim Griggs, 17, Castleford, lost control of his 1959 Chevrolet on a snowy roadway and his car slid off the road and through a fence at 10:55 p.m. Sunday, two and one-fourths miles northwest of Castleford.

State Patrolman Richard Burns, investigating officer, said there were no injuries.

Dill, Jr., and father of the girls, was killed in an automobile accident south of Shoshone a few years ago. He had served as a representative for Lincoln county in the Idaho legislature before his death.

Lake Highway Plan Faces Test

SALT LAKE CITY, Dec. 10 (AP)—The Salt Lake county commission has set a public hearing for Dec. 20 for consideration of a plan to test the use of copper tailings to build a highway across the Great Salt Lake.

The commission set the date Monday after discussing the feasibility of the plan which calls for a test dike to be built in the south end of the lake.

Meanwhile, officials in Davis county have voiced their support of the feasibility study and so has Max C. Gardner, director of the state land board.

Tooele county residents oppose the plan.

Rocked

TOURS, France, Dec. 10 (AP)—An explosion rocked a French atomic energy commission plant at Rihpault Monday, killing two workers and injuring a third.

No atomic materials were involved in the plant 125 miles southwest of Paris.

Officials said there was no danger from radioactivity. They said workers were handling some conventional explosives.

Bulgaria Cuts Use of Power

VIENNA, Austria, Dec. 10 (AP)—Communist Bulgaria has introduced rigorous electricity saving measures to meet an acute power shortage threatening the economy.

Bulgarian newspapers available Monday report that a daily three-hour ban was imposed on household use of electricity for anything other than lighting, radios and television.

A power saving program was imposed for agriculture, lighting of offices, factories and shops was cut by 25 per cent and advertising signs by 50 per cent.

Bulgaria is the third communist country to cut power consumption. Czechoslovakia and East Germany have taken similar measures.

2 Acquitted of Charges in Ghana

ACCRA, Ghana, Dec. 10 (AP)—Two former ministers and a former executive of the ruling Convention Peoples' party were acquitted Monday of charges of treason and conspiracy.

The three — ex-Information Minister Tawia Adamafio, ex-Economic Minister Ako Adjei and ex-party secretary Coffie Crabbe — were discharged.

They had been detained on allegations that they were concerned with a plot to assassinate President Kwame Nkrumah 16 months ago. Five persons were sentenced to death in this case in a previous trial.

2 Argentinians Fight Pistol Duel

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina, Dec. 10 (AP)—A retired Argentine army colonel and a lawyer fought a pistol duel Monday over what was described as "a private question of honor." No one was hurt.

The colonel, Emilio J. Porta, and his opponent, identified only as Dr. Carlos Alberto Azavedo, fought the duel at 30 paces at 7:30 a.m. in a polo field at Campo Do Mayo, the huge army garrison outside Buenos Aires.

Duelling is illegal in Argentina. None of those involved would comment about it for publication. Newspapers were not allowed to witness the duel.

Inform Legislators, Yost Urges

BOISE, Dec. 10 (AP)—Delegates to the annual meeting of the Associated Taxpayers of Idaho were told Monday that it is up to the people of Idaho to inform the legislators what they want in the way of a tax structure.

Max Yost, executive secretary, told the more than 100 delegates who attended the day-long session, that "we either cut expenditures or we pay out more taxes."

"The state ad valorem tax can go as high as 10 mills and we pay out about two mills now. We don't have the highest overall income tax in the United States and we could get from 10 to 15 million dollars more a biennium out of it, but I shudder to think about it."

Yost said there has been considerable interest in the sales tax around the state.

The alternative, he said, would be to increase the property tax, income tax and excise taxes. The 1963 legislature chose that course after rejecting a sales tax which was backed by the citizen-taxpayer organization.

Elected as directors of the organization for three-year terms were L. J. Anderson, Pocatello; R. J. Bruning of Wallace; Ralph J. Comstock Jr., Boise; George Crookham Jr., Caldwell; A. C. Garber, Caldwell; William J. Lanting of Twin Falls; Windsor Loyd of Nampa, and Paul Vernon of Boise.

Man Gets $49,000 for Moldy Money

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10 (AP)—The bundle of moldy money found last summer on the Gettysburg battlefield has a redeemable value of $49,000, the office of the U. S. treasurer said Monday.

William T. Howell, deputy treasurer, said the money, which had a face value of $34,000, would be redeemed and a check mailed to the finder as soon as the internal revenue service determines how much should be deducted for taxes.

George C. Rapport, 46, a high school teacher of Massapequa Park, N. Y., said he found the money last June 27 while touring the battlefield with his wife and two children, Eileen, 17, and Jack, 13.

Howell said it had been determined that the money was put into circulation in the late 1840's.

The money was checked through the FBI to determine if it might be loot from some long ago robbery. The checks were negative.

Some $44,000 of the money will be redeemed at face value and another $10,000 at half value. The government formula for redeeming money provides that one half value will be paid if two fifths of a bill is turned in and the owner cannot give assurances that the missing portion had been destroyed.

The income tax on $49,000 will run from $12,000 to $25,000, depending on how much other income Rapport has for the year, and other factors.

Officers Are Selected by Archery Club

Clint Jensen was elected president of the Ot Yo Kwa bowmen, Twin Falls, at the annual banquet to honor outgoing and incoming officers. Other officers elected are Jim Sheets, vice president; Oliver Ingram, secretary-treasurer; and board members, Jim Fisher, two-year term, and Dewey Gay, one-year term.

Indoor high score pins were awarded to Virginia Gay, Nina Fisher and Frank Shehorn, who won their 125-point pins; Vern Stanger his 150-point pin; Jim Fisher and Luke Anderson their 225-point pins, and Don Everton won his 250-point pin.

Luke Anderson won his first spot patch, while Don Everton received a gold star, which represents his third spot patch.

Big game awards were given to Luke Anderson for the largest buck, Jim Middleton for the largest doe and Oliver Ingram for the largest fish. A goat trophy was given to Jack Sears.

A youth night has been started for all interested young people. It will be held Fridays from 7 p. m. to 9 p. m. It will be adult-supervised and proper handling of the bow and arrow will be taught.

An archery class is in progress, with plans for another to be started in the near future. Elaine Stanger, Racine Jensen and Nina Fisher were in charge of the banquet.

Cut in Dyna-Soar Funds Looming

SEATTLE, Dec. 10 (AP)—Sen. Warren G. Magnuson, D., Wash., has confirmed reports that Defense Secretary Robert McNamara plans to suggest exclusion of Dyna-Soar space glider funds from next year's defense budget. When asked in a telephone interview if McNamara plans to chop the Dyna-Soar program from the budget, Magnuson said: "As of now, that's what he wants to do."

Magnuson said the controversy over the importance of the manned winged spacecraft project is nothing new. There are still those "who feel like I do that this Dyna-Soar is a more valuable weapon" than others in the mill, the senator said.

Networks Score Commercial Curb

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10 (AP)—The nation's major radio and television networks have objected to a government plan to limit the length and frequency of broadcast commercials.

The protests came during the opening round of hearings before the federal communications commission, which proposed the move to limit commercials. The proposal follows standards already contained in the code of the National Association of Broadcasters.

NEW YORK, Dec. 10 (AP)—A construction worker plummeted head first down 14 stories of an air duct in a building under construction Monday. Using his arms and legs to slow the fall, he emerged with only cuts and bruises.

The worker was Abraham Zella, 45, a steamfitter who accidentally fell into the duct while working at the 18th floor level. He was held overnight for observation at a hospital, but authorities said he was in satisfactory condition, with no broken bones.

Three Cars Hit In Carey Mishap

CAREY, Dec. 10—Cars driven by Herbert Clyde Maserang, Phil Jodzko and Patricia Jodzko, all Las Vegas, were involved in a three-car accident on highway 93 four miles east of here Monday.

The accident occurred when the rear tires of a passing car threw snow at the cars traveling in a caravan coming from Missoula, Mont.

The first and second cars slowed down for the third car to catch up. Visibility was poor and the third car hit the rear of the second car, pushing it into the rear of the lead car.

Pope Plans Major Appeal For Peace in Bethlehem

VATICAN CITY, Dec. 10 (AP)—An informed source said today Pope Paul VI, after visiting both Israel and Jordan on his Holy Land pilgrimage, will deliver a major address in Bethlehem Jan. 6 appealing to all mankind for peace and unity.

The source said the pope would visit both Israel and Jordan, crossing the armed border between them twice. The source said this was the pope's tentative program for the unprecedented pilgrimage.

Jan. 4—Leaves Rome's Leonardo da Vinci airport about 6 a.m. (midnight EST Jan. 3), flying nonstop to Amman and arriving about 10 or 10:30 (3-3:30 a.m. EST). Drives to Jerusalem to celebrate mass at the Church of the Holy Sepulchre, tours Christian shrines in Old Jerusalem.

Jan. 5—Drives into Israel in the morning and tours biblical sites there, including Nazareth, Tiberias and the Sea of Galilee. Returns to Jordan in the evening to spend the second night at the apostolic delegation in Jerusalem.

Jan. 6—Goes to Bethlehem in the morning, celebrates a pontifical mass in the Church of the Nativity and then makes a speech. Drives to Amman for the flight back to Rome, where he is due about 5:30 p.m. (11:15 a.m. EST).

The visit to Bethlehem will come on the Feast of Epiphany which commemorates the visit of the three Wise Men to the infant Jesus.

The source said the pope might make other speeches that be the most important. The source said it would be more than an appeal for Christian unity. He said it would be a general plea for religious and political harmony made in a way that it would be addressed to all mankind.
