HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 11 (AP)—Frank Sinatra's 19-year-old singer son, kidnaped at Lake Tahoe and held blindfolded 54 hours, was released unharmed on a street today after secret maneuvers in which his father paid a gang $240,000 ransom. The FBI conducted an intensive search for the abductors, but would say nothing about progress. Frank Sinatra, jr., whose goal is to duplicate his famous father's entertainment success,

Bargaining Group Urges Price Hike

BURLEY, Dec. 11—The 11-member bargaining committee of the Idaho Potato Growers and Marketing association passed a resolution Tuesday asking an increase in the market price of potatoes. In the resolution, the committee called on Idaho growers to unite in support of the price hike. The increase, the committee said, should be at least 10 cents per hundredweight on next year's contracts. Chairman of the committee, Ray Vurge, American Falls, said the committee had conducted a careful study of contracts in force this year and decided they would not be satisfactory. The resolution called for 70 per cent of the Idaho potato crop to be represented by the association. "With the disastrously low price of potatoes now, we need a strong organization," the resolution said. Vurge also executive manager of the association, said Oregon growers were represented by 400 members on the committee.

Jerome School Head Submits Resignation

JEROME, Dec. 11—W. Earle Schafer, superintendent of Jerome schools for the past two and one-half years, is resigning effective June 30, 1964. Schafer submitted his letter of resignation to the school board Monday night, noting he has had "differences of opinion with the trustees." The board voted 3-2 to accept the resignation. Schafer said, "The past two and one-half years have been filled with numerous experiences and trying situations for the school trustees as well as for myself. During this time I have attempted to provide opportunities and leadership for the best possible education for the youngsters of this community within the means provided. I am sure that the direct goals that I have tried to reach are very similar to those the school board has concerning the youngsters of this community."

Farm Groups Appeal for Beet Tonnage

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11 (AP)—Farm groups from New Mexico, Idaho, Illinois and Missouri asked the agriculture department today for an additional 200,000 tons in sugar-beet allotments for the 1964 growing season. Requests for 50,000 tons each came from the New Mexico-Pecos Valley Sugar Beet Association, the Western Missouri Beet Growers Association, Pemiscot-Dunklin and New Madrid counties in southeastern Missouri, and the Washburn Valley Beet Growers Association in Indiana and Illinois. Their requests at an agriculture department hearing raised to 449,000 tons the total allotments sought by the first nine of an expected 33 applicants for allotments over the next three years. The department has only 179,000 tons remaining through 1966 in the national sugar beet acreage reserve set up by the 1962 amendments to the sugar act.

The groups—from New York, Tennessee, Oklahoma, Texas and Ohio—sought Tuesday enough acreage to produce 249,000 tons of beets. Under the 1962 law, passed after the Cuba sugar supply was cut off, the department can allocate additional acreage annually to produce 65,000 tons of beets presently in new production areas. Acreage from one year can carry over into the next. Allotments totaling 145,000 tons have already been allotted in Texas, California and North Dakota. The New Mexico group said it has no commitment from a sugar manufacturer to build a refinery despite an intensive promotional effort, but it said a commitment might be obtained later.

Cold

Coldest temperatures of the season were reported throughout Magic Valley Tuesday night and Wednesday morning. It was -17 at Fairfield and -20 at Galena state. However, highway crewmen said it was only -2 at the summit. Forest service officials readings showed -7 as the low at Halley, but other residents reported their thermometers reached -20 just before the sun came up, about 8:15 a.m. Forest service readings always are taken at 8 a.m.

At Ketchum it was -14, according to Richard Stauber, ranger, and Jack Cisco, Sawtooth Valley ranger, reported a -25 there. Young Sinatra went to bed without talking to newsmen but a spokesman said he probably would do so later in the day. Sinatra, observing his 46th birthday, spoke briefly to newsmen, saying, "This is about as I'm in good shape."

Cattlemen, Feed Dealers Have School

About 25 cattle feeders and feed dealers from Twin Falls county attended the second session of the three-day annual beef nutrition school sponsored by the Idaho Cattle Feeders association in conjunction with the University of Idaho extension service. The classes are held in the State room of the Rogerson hotel, conducted by Dr. John P. Baker, University of Idaho, assisted by Donald F. Youtz, extension agricultural agent, and Ralph Oimstead, past president of the Cattle Feeders association. Wednesday, Dr. Youtz conducted classes on the principals of nutrition in cattle feed and also brought out information on feed and feed tags. The group worked simple problems on calculating balanced feed rations for cattle Wednesday morning. In the afternoon the group worked more complicated feed ration problems. During the afternoon session, the dealers and feeders analyzed forms of feed which are, or will be, used by the cattle feeders. Tuesday the feeders were asked to list their feed rations for cattle and bring it to class Wednesday for analyzing. During the final session Thursday the group will discuss problems in keeping cattle during the winter and will calculate the relative value of feeds. The three-day nutrition school is the second such school held in Twin Falls.

Burley Man Drowns in Snake River While Retrieving Goose

HEYBURN, Dec. 11—A goose hunter lost his life in the icy Snake river Tuesday night while trying to retrieve his game on the ice-covered water. The body of James O. Cottom, 59, Burley, longtime railroad employe at Rupert, was recovered from the river about 12:20 p.m. Wednesday. Sheriff Theo Johnson, who directed rescue operations assisted by State Patrolman Roy Thomas, said officers broke ice so a boat could be used. The body was retrieved with grappling hooks.

Auditorium Drive Unit Being Formed

"The formation of a 60-member campaign executive committee is the first step in the current Twin Falls Civic Auditorium association community project," Henry Willis, president of the association, announced at a progress report meeting of the association Wednesday. Willis explained that after the 60-member executive committee is completed and at least two-thirds of the goal is subscribed, the second phase of the campaign will begin. "This second and final phase of the campaign," Willis said, "will need the volunteer support of 85 men and the same number of women to become part of the general sales organization that will push the campaign over the top."

Idaho Highways Snow-Covered

By The Associated Press
Highways throughout Idaho generally were snow covered today, but state police said all main routes were open. Only in the Coeur d'Alene, Lewiston and Boise areas were highways dry and there were some slick spots in those sections. State police said U. S. 10 at Lookout pass and U. S. 95 at Whitebird hill were snow covered but well sanded. All passes in the southern part of the state were snow covered. Tag Sales Slow

Horse Breeders Hope Private Groups Will Construct "Real Nice Tracks"

WENDELL, Dec. 11—The vice president of the Idaho Horse Breeders association said Tuesday the organization's members want good tracks to run horses under Idaho's new pari-mutuel betting law or "none at all." "We are not going to run horses on these small tracks," said Joe Hansen, Wendell. "If we can't have good tracks we don't want any." Hansen said the breeders are hopeful that private groups will build one or two big tracks in the state. He estimated the cost of a satisfactory track at one million dollars. But he said if private backers won't build such a track, "we will." He said the association organized a year ago, has authority to build a track under its bylaws. "We want a real nice place," said Hansen. "Something like Bay Meadows in California."

Udall Says Idaho Will Keep Water

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11 (UPI)—Sen. Frank Church, D., Idaho, said today Interior Secretary Stewart Udall has pledged that the Johnson administration will not allow diversion of Idaho water to Southern California. Church said the pledge was made in answer to a letter he had sent to Udall, asking the secretary to define the administration's position on the proposal. The Idaho senator said Udall not only emphasized that the administration would oppose the California proposal but also would oppose any attempt to divert Idaho water to other regions or river basins.

A plan has been advanced by Los Angeles city officials to tap the Snake river for 2.5 million acre feet annually. The Idaho water would be transferred by means of an aqueduct system from the Snake near Thousand Springs to the Colorado river system. Udall noted in his reply to Church that the Snake-Coloan plan was advanced by an official of the Los Angeles department of water and power. "The water needs of southwestern United States are critical and it is the national interest that they be satisfied," Udall wrote. "However, I fully agree that it would be the height of folly to create a water shortage in Idaho in order to relieve one anywhere in the Pacific Southwest. I can assure you categorically that the administration of President Johnson has no intention to divert Idaho water to other regions or river basins."

Udall told Church he could assure the people of your state that their water resources will receive full protection—and would toward full development for Idaho uses—while this administration is in office.

Nurse Gives Testimony in Hospital Case

JEROME, Dec. 11—Mrs. Margaret Clark, a nurse and former employe of St. Benedict's hospital, was the only witness testifying Wednesday morning as the $250,000 damage suit went into its third day before District Judge Theron Ward here. Mr. and Mrs. Ardell Haberman, Jerome, are charging the negligence in the care of their infant son on July 27, 1959. They contend he choked and this caused permanent damage to the brain. The child, Kenneth Haberman, now 4, requires custodial care.

Book on Assassination Available

A complete, beginning-to-end account of one of the most dreadful chapters in American history—the assassination of President Kennedy and the events that followed—is being prepared by the Associated Press in a book titled "The Torch Is Passed." This newspaper has arranged to make it available to all its readers at the very reasonable rate of $2. It will not be sold through bookstores. Delivery of this handsome, large (10 by 13 inch) hard-cover book will start about Dec. 30. You can order right now by filling out the coupon and mailing it to the address indicated, with $2 for each copy of the book desired. Since the president's murder Nov. 22, there have been thousands of stories and pictures, with memories piling on memories. The AP's 100-page book will bring together the best of these in a permanent record of living history. It will include color as well as black and white photographs—some already classics, some published for the first time. The moving narrative will trace in detail the events to the instant of the tragedy—Lee Oswald's full history, the last happy moments of the Kennedy Texas tour, and the last sad journey to Arlington. It will cover the president's death at the hospital, the transfer of power to President Johnson, and how the word reached the other Kennedy's, the nation and the world. The story will be told by famous byline writers who witnessed and recorded the four days of tragedy. And there will be the words and deeds of many others—who found—themselves suddenly, somehow, playing roles on the stage of history. The whole story—concise, complete, lavishly illustrated—will appear in this one book.

Westerners Are Expected to Bid For Russ Project

MOSCOW, Dec. 11 (AP)—Western businessmen—but no Americans—were expected today to bid for the estimated 14 billion dollars in chemical plant business opened up by the Soviet Union's crash program to build up its chemical industry. Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev, in announcing the 46-billion-dollar seven-year plan before the Communist Party Central committee meeting Monday, said that much of the equipment might have to be bought in the West. The meeting of the party leadership continued today in the Kremlin hall of congresses, with lower-level officials adding their comments to Khrushchev's plan, which was seen as certain of approval at the end of the week.

CURTIS EATON
T. F. Student Wins Journey To Capital

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11 (AP)—Two Idaho students were announced Tuesday as winners in the United States senate youth program. They will be guests of the United States senate for a week early next year. The Idaho winners are Rita Klobert, Hope, and Curtis Eaton, Twin Falls. They were chosen from among six finalists. Their selection was announced by Idaho Senators Len. B. Jordan and Frank Church, who said in a joint statement: "We are looking forward to the visit of Rita and Curtis when they arrive in our nation's capital for this nonpartisan internship on politics."

The visit to Washington will be from Jan. 27 to Feb. 1. The students will spend time in their senators' offices—and will meet with senate leaders, other nationally known political figures, cabinet members, high ranking military men, members of the United States supreme court and representative educators. A tour of the White House is on the schedule and it is possible President Lyndon B. Johnson will speak to the students.

Lodge Won't Give Okay For Primary

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11 (AP)—Henry Cabot Lodge has refused to write a letter giving a go-ahead for use of his name on a presidential preference primary ballot in the District of Columbia. However, Lodge, now special U.S. ambassador to Viet Nam, is considered amenable to a possible draft for the Republican nomination despite the letter. It is reported that former President Dwight D. Eisenhower has exerted some pressure on him to make himself available.

Under a new amendment to the U.S. constitution, the long-voted residents of the District of Columbia will be able to vote for president next year. The district will have nine votes in the Republican convention, and there will be a preference primary here May 5.

Carl L. Shipley, chairman of the D.C. Republican committee, wrote Lodge asking whether he would consider writing a letter indicating that he had "no objection" to use of his name on the May 5 ballot.

Solons Eye Wood Import Marking Bill

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11 (AP)—A measure supported by the Idaho Lumber Industry that would require the marking of imported lumber to show the country of origin is scheduled for final congressional action today.

Sen. Len B. Jordan, R., Ida., co-sponsor with Sen. Warren Magnuson, D., Wash., said senate-house conferees will act on a bill including the lumber marking provision as an amendment.

Senate Finance Committee Chairman Harry F. Byrd, D., Va., told him senators approve the amendment, said Jordan. "And we hope the house conferees will accept it."

Jordan described it as "a boon to lumbermen in Idaho and the nation." He said it will make it easier to assure only U.S. lumber is used in contracts specifying its use.

He said the measure, first offered as a separate bill, was proposed as an amendment to speed action. The bill calls for marking of other imported products.

Icy Highways Blamed for 4 Buhl Mishaps

BIFF, Dec. 11 — Snowy-icy highways were blamed for four separate accidents which occurred here Monday, according to local law enforcement officers.

At 8:10 a.m. Mrs. Patricia J. Cox 45, Buhl, lost control of the 1959 GMC school bus she was driving as she started down the Clear lakes grade, three and one-half miles north of Buhl. The bus slid sideways striking the guard railing spinning into the bank.

John M. Meade, 54, Jerome, appeared on the scene and parked his milk truck on the side of the roadway waiting for the school bus stalled on the grade. All the wheels locked on the milk truck and it slid back into a 1961 GMC pick-up truck operated by David Phillips, 47, Wendell, who had parked behind the milk truck. Neither driver was in his vehicle when they collided, according to State Patrolman Richard Burns, investigating officer.

Minor damages were reported to the school bus, none to the milk truck and some $75 to the pickup truck.

At 3:30 p.m. Mrs. Mae J. Bybee, 54, Castleford, traveling one mile west of Castleford, slowed the 1959 GMC school bus she was driving while attempting to make a right turn off the highway. Her bus was struck in the rear by another westbound 1950 International school bus driven by Mrs. Arline Puschel, 31, Castleford.

No citation was issued because of the icy condition of the roadway, according to Patrolman Burns. Damages were estimated at $100 to the GMC bus and $200 to the International.

Also at 3:30 p.m. Robert M. Peterson, 52, Buhl, lost control of his 1960 Ford as he was traveling down the Black Bear hill, three miles west of Buhl. The car slid off the roadway denting the fender and bumper, reports Deputy Sheriff Curtis Pryor, investigating officer.

At 3:50 p.m. Alvin D. Osterhout, 31, Twin Falls, dented the left fender of his 1960 Ford when it ran off the roadway striking road markers, one mile west of the Jordan corner on the Clover road, reports Deputy Pryor.

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

BY ANDREW TULLY
WASHINGTON, Dec. 11—Possibly it is beginning to dawn on Americans that it is easier to get shot dead in the United States than in any country in the world. At any rate, congress seems to be interested in a bill sponsored by Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D., Conn., to curb and regulate the sale of mail-order guns such as the rifle that killed President Kennedy.

Herg in America any lunatic, assassin, ex-convict or stubborn child can buy a gun over the counter or by mail, as Lee Oswald did. In most of the world's other civilized countries, no one may buy or possess a firearm without a police certificate, and these slips of paper are issued only to those judged to be rational and of good repute. Elsewhere, of course, as in the iron curtain countries, a citizen knows better than to be caught with a weapon he is not authorized to possess.

INDIANS NOW PACIFIED—There has been a great deal of romantic nonsense uttered over the years about the American citizen's inalienable right to own a gun. This harks back to the pioneer days when a man needed a gun to protect himself from Indians. Gun nuts also are fond of citing the second amendment, which notes that "a well-regulated militia being necessary to the security of a free state, the right of the people to keep and bear arms shall not be infringed."

But these are not pioneer days; indeed, today it is the Indian who requires protection from the white man. And this gun will not buy the promise that Lee Oswald, or Jack Ruby or the average Chicago hoodlum qualify as members of a "well-regulated militia."

The rifle club boys can scream all they want, but basically a gun is a weapon constructed with the purpose of killing some living animal, man or beast. A man with a murderous grudge against one of his fellows does not go forth to settle the score with an arsenal of snowballs. Policemen carry pistols because they are the handiest weapons with which to kill or maim the armed criminal who may violently resist arrest.

THE BUMP-OFF SCORE—Handy is the word. There were 7,361 murders reported by the FBI last year, and more than half of these were perpetrated with guns. Four Presidents of the United States have been assassinated, all with guns. Yet the nation's timid and careless local and national governments have done virtually nothing to regulate the estimated 50 million persons in the United States who own guns. Tales of wanton murder crowd the columns of newspapers, and every year thousands of Americans are killed or wounded by guns that were used carelessly or because somebody "didn't know it was loaded."

Foreign guns, such as the weapon used in the Kennedy assassination, are duty-free and tax-free. Senator Dodd's bill actually is only a start in curbing the American public's long adventure with the means of self-destruction. It merely curbs the sale of mail-order guns and lightens an existing provision designed to prohibit interstate shipment of firearms to localities where they are not permitted, and to minors and convicted felons.

Purchasers will be required to submit affidavits to dealers and common carriers showing the purchaser's age, name, address, criminal record if any, and whether he was complying with state gun laws.

OPPOSITION POWERFUL—More important, however, the measure would require that the affidavit be authenticated "by the highest local law enforcement authority in his community." Under such a provision, Lee Oswald could have been prevented from ordering a rifle from a Chicago house under an assumed name.

When he introduced the bill last August, Dodd acknowledged it had weaknesses, but he explained there was "latent opposition" to the measure, and he had tried to frame a bill that would have a chance of passage. Apparently there are still people who believe that, as the Washington Post remarked, "guns are good for us."

Views of Others
SOMEONE ELSE'S WATER
As we have noted on this page, California doesn't want any of its water going to Arizona, but proposes an aqueduct and pumping stations to get water from Idaho's Snake river for California. Gov. Robert Smylie of Idaho doesn't think much of that idea, as could have been predicted.

Governor Smylie's suggestion is that California tap the Columbia river at Astoria and pipe the water south, the pipe presumably to be submerged offshore. And so it goes. No state wants to be the supplier for another.

It would take some pipe to get enough water from the Columbia to southern California to meet that area's expanding needs, and the water would be pretty brackish. This idea has been vented before—but there are major obstacles, including cost, engineering hazards and potential ruination of Oregon's beaches. We don't think much of this pitch, either.

Eventually, unless population growth is restrained, southern California and perhaps Arizona will have to get its water from the sea by conversion from salt to fresh. The federal government is doing a lot of research on this in an effort to get the cost down. Conversion of sea water has a worldwide economic and cultural potential. If the cost problem can be licked, as a number of scientists think it can be, this makes more sense than trying to move rivers from one part of the country to another. In the meantime, let people and industries come to the Northwest if they need water.—The Oregonian.

LET THE EYES HAVE IT
When is a potato not a potato? When it's an Idaho russet, says Sen. Leonard Jordan (from Idaho, naturally), who has introduced a bill that would require potatoes traveling in interstate commerce to be labeled as to state of origin. The reason behind the senator's proposed legislation can be found in frequently dishonest labeling of ordinary russets as Idaho potatoes. This may seem a trifling matter to many Americans, but this business of improper labeling is getting under Idahoans' skins.

Senator Jordan, in introducing his bill, asserted that unique substances in the soil of Idaho's potato fields produce a superior potato. The soil in the Snake river valley, where the largest Idaho potato fields are located, consists of volcanic ash, with a high nitrogen content. This soil imparts a flavor to Idaho russets that no other American soil can supply. Eyes can be taken from the same seed potato, planted in Idaho and in another area of the country, and the harvested potatoes from the plants always differ in quality.

The many housewives who prefer Idaho russets for baking and creaming will agree with the senator on the outstanding quality of his native state's product, even though they may prefer other kinds of potatoes for frying, scalloping and boiling. And if a housewife buys an inferior potato under the illusion that she is buying a genuine Idaho russet, she may feel cheated when the inferior potato explodes in the oven while it is being baked. She may even start a boycott of Idaho potatoes, and you know how these boycotts have a way of spreading.

So the senator has grounds for attempting to protect Idaho russets, just as the Virginia state code provides strict regulations on the labeling of Smithfield hams. The senate should let the eyes have it. Let the chips fall where they may!—Richmond (Virginia) News Leader.

POT SHOTS
ANENT CALENDARS
Dear Pot Shots:
Tell "Almost Ready" there are two drugstores in the same block on Main avenue west in Twin Falls where I got two of the nicest calendars, with fishing, first aid, weather, etc., information on them.

However, the most pleasant surprise was from my fuel oil deliveryman on a cold, foggy morning. When he handed me the delivery slip, he also gave me a nice calendar, very helpful in the kitchen, plus a ballpoint pen and a most welcome, large bottle of hand lotion!

How's that for just being a customer for so short a time? I am comfy in the house and touched by his consideration. If it wasn't against policy, I'd mention his name in this letter for all to know.

I don't suppose our office is any different from any others. Every office has its representative of certain types that are quite common.

Yet we seem to have more than our share of workers who are worked to death. If you don't believe it, just ask them. They spend so much time telling everyone how busy they are that they hardly find enough time to prepare to work and prepare to quit.

Us types who concentrate on typing instead of talking seem to wind up doing all the work. And it sure cuts into the time we have to take care of our personal correspondence!

FAMOUS LAST LINE

GENTLEMAN IN THE FOURTH ROW

World Corners

BY PHIL NEWSOM
(UPI Foreign News Analyst)
When the Russians began cutting down on trade with Red China, in 1959-60, withdrew their technicians and broke their promise to help with nuclear know-how, it was in a ruthless campaign to force the Red Chinese back into the role of subservient satellite.

Simultaneously, the "great leap forward" proclaimed by Red Chinese leader Mao Tse-tung and the massive communes set up as the last step toward the communization of more than 700 million Chinese began showing positive signs of failure.

Compounding the Chinese difficulties were natural disasters brought on by drought and flood. The western look upon the closed society of Red China is at best a keyhole view.

But the picture as seen from such vantage points along the Chinese perimeter as Hong Kong and Tokyo was a somber one, noteworthy chiefly for the determination of Red China's angry leaders to convert their backward nation into a world power regardless of cost to the Chinese people.

Red China's national people's congress is a rubber stamp body which has met infrequently as Red China's problems have multiplied. But it draws together in Peking more than 1,000 delegates from the far reaches of China, Chinese as well as such minorities as Mongols, the Kazaks and the Uighurs.

And it sets the party line. This year's meeting, just concluded, ended upon a note both triumphant and defiant. The final communique said:

"We have overcome the economic difficulties caused by three successive years of serious natural calamities and by the pernicious action of those who unilaterally tore up agreements and withdrew experts."

It could not rightly be called, as some did, a declaration of independence from Russia, for the line between Nikita Khrushchev and Mao Tse-tung had been drawn long ago.

But it was a declaration that the Soviet pressure tactics had failed.

The communique also said that Red China's debt to Russia would be paid by the end of 1965 and that last year had seen increases both in industrial and agricultural production.

As usual, specific figures were lacking. It has been estimated that Red China's grain harvest this year will be greater than last but still short of the 185 million metric tons produced in 1957.

Since Red China's population has increased more than 75 million since then, widespread hunger still may be forecast for the Chinese people despite huge purchases of grain from Canada and Australia.

Soviet Russia's aid to Red China in the latter's first nine years has been estimated at more than 25 billion dollars, a further measure of the sacrifices demanded if such massive aid truly is to be rapid by the end of 1965. For western consideration there is this:

Frictions between the Soviet Union and Red China now seem certain to increase, with the possibility of border clashes in contested regions not to be discounted.

Red China's internal strains and her quarrel with Russia are forcing her to project a softer image toward the West, excluding the United States.

COVERING THE CAPITAL WITH PETER EDSON

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11 (NEA) — There is still hope that some new farm legislation may make a little progress in the final days of this session of congress—but it's faint. Of a score or more major farm bills, only three or four are given a chance.

Wheat legislation is given no chance at all, in spite of pressure from farm organizations and wheat state congressmen, particularly the Republicans.

The dairy bill introduced by Sen. William Proxmire, D., Wis., passed the senate but no house action is scheduled. Department of agriculture would like to extend the Kennedy administration conservation reserve program beyond 1964, but prospects are doubtful.

If not extended, all the acreage in the Eisenhower administration soil bank reserve could be brought back into production next year.

With nearly 10 years of new farm technology available since the soil bank bill was passed, there is considerable fear over what will happen.

Production of most major crops might soar, leading to still larger surpluses and necessitating huge increases in government farm program costs for support prices and storage.

A major effort is being made to enlist President Lyndon Johnson's support for pending bills. Farm organizations and lobbyists vie with each other in proclaiming that the new president from Texas is indeed the farmers' best friend.

This has succeeded to a limited degree on a bill to make the Kennedy food stamp pilot plan program a permanent government operation and to get action on a new cotton bill.

Agriculture Secretary Orville L. Freeman declared in a "Thanksgiving" letter to 50 state governors that President Johnson had asked for a "redoubled" effort to insure that United States food abundance is "fully" available to all who need it. This would include food stamp, school lunch and food for peace plans. On cotton legislation, the late President Kennedy over a year ago advocated congressional consideration of ending the two-price system for domestic and export cotton sales, in effect since 1957.

A bill to make this change, introduced by house agriculture committee chairman Harold D. Cooley, D., N.C., is supported by the American Cotton Council, Textile Manufacturers Institute and other trade organizations.

The Cooley bill would estimate a "payment in kind" of surplus cotton to persons other than producers so as to eliminate the cost differential now paid by foreign and domestic mills.

It would in effect reduce the price of cotton and cause major readjustments in the cotton industry. But its spokesmen insist this is necessary because the two-price system—which they originally supported—hasn't worked.

Speaker John W. McCormack got President Johnson's approval for the house to take up the Cooley bill so that it could be brought before the senate next year.

Passage or defeat of this bill is not considered a first test of President Johnson's influence with congress.

Cotton Council and Textile Institute spokesmen concede there is little chance the senate will pass the Cooley bill this year. Senate agriculture committee Chairman Allen Ellender, D., La. opposes it on the grounds that it would cost the government more money than existing cotton programs.

There is more senate support for a bill introduced by Sen. Brian Talmadge, D., Ga. It would provide a direct subsidy payment to cotton producers, like the old Brannan plan.

In the meantime, it is generally expected that cotton producers voting in referendum will approve continuation of support price payments with acreage production controls under existing legislation.

For cotton farmers to reject this plan would be a far greater upset than when wheat farmers rejected controls in last May referendum.

Poor Man's Plato

BY HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK, Dec. 11 (AP) — Among life's little ordeals to men are those portable moving vans women carry today and call handbags.

You know what I'm talking about, don't you? I mean those huge handbags that look like two fat alligators sewn together lengthwise.

I mean those huge handbags that take up half the sidewalk as a woman strolls. Hal Boyle along and which, if they hit a man's kneecap, will snap it like a match stick.

I mean those huge handbags in which the modern woman packs more belongings than the average pioneer mother brought along in a covered wagon to settle the Old West.

It's a funny thing about women. When they dress up fancy to go out in the evening, they tote along in their paws sequin covered bags tiny enough to have been made from the hide of a stunted mouse.

Everything else they stuff into the pockets of their male escort—until he looks from behind like a pair of ambulant saddle bags. But by day they limp around town bent over by these vast handbags into which they seem to have thrust everything except what they need most—a sofa which to lie down and rest.

"I need it to carry the things I simply have to have with me: a wife usually whines. But if you try to peek inside, she'll snap it shut—at the peril of snapping off your nose.

Actually there isn't much mystery about the contents. They are a cross between a hope chest, drugstore counter, and a despair kit. They are a kind of Pandora's junk bin. They hold mints, chewing gum, unpaired bills, vitamin pills and aspirin tablets, matchbooks, 112-page romantic novel, lipstick, tweezers, bandages, compact, answered letters, photographs of loved ones, pieces of wadded facial tissue.

They hold car keys, house keys, safe deposit box keys. They also hold one thing at the very bottom of this jangle of debris. That's a small billfold or change purse containing their ready cash.

And that's where the trouble comes in. It usually takes a woman up to 10 minutes of frantic fumbling to find this purse and pay a restaurant bill.

She's holding up the march of progress. These big handbags must be costing the nation at least 10 million manhours of lost work a month.

The Doctor Says

BY WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
The most important holiday gift you can make to anyone is to help keep our streets safe for pedestrians. This is a responsibility of motorists and pedestrians alike.

The winter months are especially dangerous for those who travel on foot. Although persons of all ages are knocked down or run over by motorists, more than half of all pedestrian deaths occur with persons over 45. The majority of all pedestrians killed are nondrivers, who have no first-hand knowledge of the factors involved in controlling an automobile.

For the motorist, good visibility is of the greatest importance. A frosted windshield should be cleaned completely and so should the side and rear windows. Don't be a peephole driver.

If your wiper blades smear your windshield, wipe them clean of accumulated grease. If they still smear your windshield, get new ones. In general, any blades that have been used for more than 1 year should be replaced with time and exposure to sun, wind and grease.

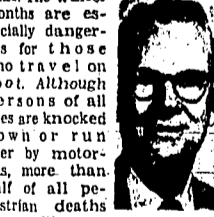

Good visibility, however, involves more than keeping the windshield clean. You should keep your headlights clean, too. When the sky is overcast or at twilight, turn on your headlights, not just your parking lights. This helps the pedestrian to see you and to see his mistake.

Don't make the mistake of wearing dark glasses at night to cut down the glare. What you are cutting down is your ability to see and that could lead to a tragedy.

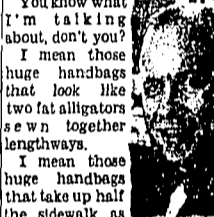

Excessive smoking, drinking as well as fatigue reduce your ability to see clearly. Still another factor is the seeping of carbon monoxide from a faulty exhaust into the interior of your car, especially when all the windows are closed.

If the drivers coming toward you at night are using their bright lights, signal to them to dim their lights. Whether they do or not, you can avoid trouble by looking at the right-hand side of the road instead of directly at the oncoming bright lights.

Although any one of the factors I have mentioned might not be serious by itself, a combination of two or more has caused many an accident that could have been prevented.

UNDERBID GOES SAFELY TO SLAM
One of the paradoxes of contract bidding is that a pair is likely to reach a higher contract by starting with an underbid instead of an overbid.

Thus in the Oxnard, Calif. sectional late in October most pairs arrived only at six spades. North would start with a forcing two club or two spade bid and then would move slowly fearing that his partner would be bidding on high cards in the red suits.

Of course, some players reached seven spades after an opening two bid, but the bidding sequence that had least trouble getting there started with a one club opening by North.

South had a natural spade response and now North was in trouble, but pleasant trouble.

Quotes from the News
By United Press International
WEST LOS ANGELES — Jim Mahoney, a spokesman for Frank Sinatra, sr., after the singer's son was released by kidnappers: "The boy is home. He just got here. He's in good shape."

WASHINGTON — Sen. Philip A. Hart, D., Mich., in a prepared eulogy to President Kennedy: "In the past few weeks, millions of the world's people have worn a look of stunned despair. Certainly, nothing I could say would be a more eloquent tribute to John F. Kennedy than the grief on those faces."

Innocent Bystander

One facet of the assassination of President Kennedy has attracted surprising attention from individual citizens everywhere while drawing scarcely any official recognition. In the wake of the Dallas tragedy and subsequent events, there were three widows and seven children without fathers.

One of the fathers, Patrolman J. D. Tippit, was killed in the line of duty. Fugitive Lee Harvey Oswald shot down the policeman. It was because of this murder, the second in hours for Oswald, that the assassin was captured speedily in a theater. Patrolman Tippit had no life insurance, so his death left Mrs. Tippit and her three children a pension income of $281 a month.

When Oswald was shot down two days later, he left a penniless widow with two small children. Moreover, Mrs. Marina Oswald found few friends because of the nature of her husband's crime.

In Fort Worth, Mrs. Shirley Williamson announced she was collecting funds to help Mrs. Oswald and the two children. In rather short order, she reported donations of $7,700 from sympathetic persons who realized Mrs. Oswald should not be blamed for what her husband had done.

Most remarkable of all, letters by the thousands started to pour into Dallas with donations for Mrs. Tippit and her three children. Except for a $25,000 donation from an amateur photographer who sold movies of President Kennedy's assassination, the donations have been small. Most are reported for $5 or less, and they have come from all over the nation. The fund is expected to reach $200,000. Except for Dallas police supervising the task of tallying the donations, there has been no official action, either on a state or national basis.

Here's an outstanding example of ordinary persons coming to the aid of other ordinary persons in time of need.

The other widow is Mrs. Kennedy, of course, and the two other fatherless children are Caroline and John Kennedy. They need no financial assistance. Mrs. Kennedy received about 200,000 messages of condolence, so many that the house of representatives rushed through a bill to provide assistance in replying. The bill provided office space and $50,000 for a staff for the next six months. It also provided free mail, secret service protection and payment of funeral expenses.

If the donations to Mrs. Tippit reach the $200,000 mark as expected, Mrs. Tippit and her three fatherless children will be able to live comfortably off the interest. The $200,000—all in the form of unsolicited gifts—apparently would be tax-free.

Mrs. Oswald, Russian by birth, is the only one of the three widows still in need of friends and funds. Perhaps when grief and anger subside a little more, she will find a fraction of the people-to-people sympathy poured out for Mrs. Tippit and Mrs. Kennedy.

Besides losing their husbands and fathers, the three widows and the seven fatherless children have something else in common—all are innocent bystanders in one of the worst tragedies in modern times.

NOT DEAD YET

Organized baseball in Twin Falls isn't dead yet, even though the class A Pioneer league was killed a few weeks ago. Even before the long faces disappeared, came the announcement that Twin Falls will participate in a four-team rookie league next summer. The other three teams will be from Caldwell, Pocatello and Idaho Falls, which sets up a new alignment for professional baseball and keeps travel to a minimum for this general region.

In some respects, fans may not be too happy with plans for the rookie league, but there's a hint crowds will find the games more entertaining than much of what has been offered at Jaycee park. As the name implies, the players will be rookies. With the baseball practice of signing players right after high school graduation, the average ages will be considerably younger than the age of players in the Pioneer league. That means there'll be a bunch of working, hustling, young players.

Sometimes, young players come up with a better game than much more experienced teams. One thing is certain, these youngsters will be out there trying every minute of the game. Temperament and loquacity could be expected to be practically nil.

Some fans might find this particular brand of ball to their liking. Others might be inclined to scoff at it, but all baseball fans should keep in mind that the major leagues will be watching the attendance figures of the rookie league. If attendance stays relatively high this summer, it's bound to have a bearing on what the major leagues decide in the way of baseball future for Magic Valley and the whole region.

Right now, chances are good for re-activation of the class A Pioneer league in 1965. Good attendance next summer won't hurt those chances a bit.

Highway Aide Meets With Buhl Trustee

BUHL, Dec. 11 — Elmer Kasaca, Shoshone, district highway engineer for the state highway department, met with the Buhl school board Monday evening to discuss traffic safety involving pedestrians and school buses along highway 30 here.

He requested the board to survey the bus stops to determine those that may be obscured to the driver because of the changing traffic because of the terrain. He recommended that either these bus stops be eliminated or that through the cooperation of the school district and state highway department some type of arrangement be made to warn approaching traffic of any obscured bus stop.

Kasaca also reported he is recommending that highway 30 be widened approximately two feet for one mile outside the city limits on both the west and east approaches to Buhl.

He noted this is a recommendation only, and official action by the widening of the said highway would have to be taken by the state highway board.

Trustees discussed the sale of the Lincoln school building and property. Rex Engelking, superintendent, was instructed to investigate the legal aspects.

Darrell Surber, principal of the junior high school, discussed the junior high curriculum and general operations of the school. He pointed out the school is operating very efficiently and student-teacher morale in the school is exceptionally good. Under the present limited budget of the school district he made no recommendations for improvements.

It was announced Buhl schools will begin their Christmas vacation at the close of school Dec. 20, with classes to resume Jan. 6. A delegation of school patrons also met with the board of trustees to discuss the overall financial condition of the school district and the many aspects of the school operations. This was one of the number of series of meetings planned by the school board for the next two-month period.

Oswald's Shirt Threads Found On Murder Rifle

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11 (AP)—Brown threads caught on an assassin's rifle helped to weave what the FBI considers a conclusive case against Lee Harvey Oswald as the lone slayer of President John F. Kennedy.

Government sources disclosed Tuesday that the threads, identified as from Oswald's shirt, were found snagged in the mechanism of the Italian-made carbine which also bore his palm print.

Meanwhile the President's bipartisan investigating commission headed by Chief Justice Earl Warren began its analysis of the still-secret, five-volume FBI report on the Nov. 22 assassination in Dallas.

Studebaker Notes Plans On Shutdown

NEW YORK, Dec. 11 (AP)—The head of Studebaker corporation, explaining plans for a permanent, pre-Christmas shutdown of its main auto plant at South Bend, said Tuesday "we are being bled to death there."

Randolph H. Guthrie, board chairman of the pioneer auto concern, said losses in "trying to stay alive in the car business," had mounted to 40 million dollars since 1959.

The decision meant an abrupt loss of livelihood for several thousands of employees, many of them in their 50's with 25 to 30 years on the job.

For them, it cast a pall over the holiday seasons. Over the country, Studebaker dealers—there are about 2,000—expressed shock over the prospective halt in U.S. automaking operations, and limiting of assemblies to a relatively small Canadian factory.

"We can't panic, we have a big investment with three outlets," said Roger Adams, a Sacramento, Calif., dealer.

Government and community leaders held huddles in Washington and South Bend, seeking answers to the wholesale layoffs. They produced no immediate results.

A few gleams of hope for some of the workers emerged from a news conference conducted by Guthrie, Byers A. Burlingame, Studebaker president, and other company officials.

Of the more than 8,000 persons on the Studebaker payroll before recent cutbacks, it appeared that possibly 2,000 could expect from a few months to more than a year's employment.

Burlingame said work will begin in April on an 80-million-dollar military truck order that will take 15 months to fill. From 700 to 800 workers will be required, he said. Another 1,000 or more will be employed, the officials said—although not continuously—in forging, stamping plant, engine manufacturing and other jobs tied to continuing Studebaker car building operations at Hamilton, Ont.

Mayor-Elect Attends Meet

HALLEY, Dec. 11—George Allen, Halley city mayor-elect, and Arthur Ivie, newly elected councilman for precinct two, attended the regular meeting of the council Monday evening. They will be sworn in office at the Jan. 13 meeting.

The budget for the coming year was discussed and will be set at the Jan. 13 meeting. On Jan. 27 the special budget hearing will be held, at which time anyone wishing may appear to discuss or protest the proposed budget.

It was reported the new 16 by 10-foot door in the front of the fire department building is completed. It is anticipated the two former doors in this enclosure will be installed at the back of the building.

The work was done by the Overland Door company, Milton Rutter and Calvin Robertson.

Federal Mediator Dan Edwards of Salt Lake City presided at the Tuesday session which was adjourned after 30 minutes.

Demands for a union shop were said to be the principal block to an agreement on a new contract.

WILLIAMS AIR FORCE BASE, Ariz., Dec. 11 (AP)—Sixty-one jet trainer planes found deliberately damaged were back in operation Tuesday.

The damage was discovered Monday during a routine pre-flight inspection of the jets.

Kennedy Grave Eternal Flame Extinguished

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11 (AP)—The eternal flame over the grave of President John F. Kennedy went out for a few minutes Tuesday, accidentally doused by the holy water of school children.

John C. Metzler, superintendent of Arlington national cemetery, reported that a group of school children, from 8 to 11 years old, were taking turns sprinkling the grave with holy water when "the cap came off the bottle, and a stream of water hit the flame directly—extinguishing it."

Metzler said one of his assistants relighted the flame in a few minutes.

News Around Idaho

KELLOGG, Dec. 11 (AP)—Representatives of union and management say no new contract talks are scheduled in the strike against the Sunbrite Mining company, which has idled nearly 400 workers for six weeks. The United Steelworkers of America called the strike Nov. 4 after announcing rejection of Sunbrite's linking a 9.5 cent an hour wage increase and other contract improvements to discontinuation of free bus service to the mine near Kellogg. Frank McKee, subdistrict director for the steelworkers, said the union is still determined to break the prevailing wage pattern and get a satisfactory settlement. This pattern was set in 1960, he said, when lead and zinc prices were both near an all time low. McKee said strikers were still presenting a solid front and there was no hardship since the union was providing strike payments based on need.

LEWISTON, Dec. 11 (AP)—Not once since 1957 when the last rate increase was granted in Northcentral Idaho has Pacific Northwest Bell reached its authorized return of 6.5 per cent, telephone company officials told the Idaho public utilities commission Tuesday. B. E. Bowling, Seattle, vice president and general manager for the Washington and Idaho area, said in 1959, the firm realized a 6.08 per cent return. Bowling said operating costs have increased faster than income in the last six years. Pacific Northwest Bell is seeking a rate increase in Idaho which is intended to bring in an additional $147,400 a year. "Of that amount," said Bowling, "the company would retain only $6,200 after taxes and expenses associated with gross revenue."

LAVA HOT SPRINGS, Dec. 11 (AP)—Seat belts saved a Boise couple at least a bumped head and probably worse when their car skidded off the snow-slick highway near here today, careened over a 15-foot embankment and came to rest three feet from the Portneuf river. Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Wilson, Boise, were traveling about 10 miles east of Lava Hot Springs when their car went out of control and dropped over the edge of a fill. The Wilsons, who would have rattled around in the car without their seat belts, were only shaken up.

IDAHO FALLS, Dec. 11 (AP)—Eastern Idaho area tax accountants met in Idaho Falls Tuesday with internal revenue and state tax officials to discuss new requirements and problems in preparing returns for next year. Among the 80 attending were Calvin E. Wright, state IRS director, and Floyd West, state tax collector, both Boise.

IDAHO FALLS, Dec. 11 (AP)—The civil defense program comes under close scrutiny Thursday when a universally convened civil defense conference here. The meeting is being sponsored by the University of Idaho and the Idaho Falls office of civil defense. The conference is designed to provide current factual information on nuclear weapons and protective measures which can be taken to minimize casualties in the event of nuclear attack, according to Raymond Kool, director of the university's division of adult education and summer school. There will be conferences in the morning and afternoon and a no-host luncheon in between.

BLACKFOOT, Dec. 11 (AP)—Louis Edward Meeks, 59-year-old Indian from Fort Washakie, Wyo., was held in the Bannock county jail without bail Wednesday on charge of murdering his son-in-law. Meeks was given time to consult an attorney after being arraigned before U. S. Commissioner R. Don Bastine, Pocatello. Meeks is accused in the shooting of his son-in-law, Roland Warren Osborne, 28, in the Osborne trailer house on the Sheepskin road at the Fort Hall Indian reservation.

IDAHO FALLS, Dec. 11 (AP)—Six residents, protesting to a city planning commission proposal to zone land between the airport and interstate highway 15 as commercial, have persuaded the Idaho Falls city council to reconsider the proposal. The protest carries with it a promise to present a petition signed by residents of the Grandview drive area south of the airport further objecting to the commission's plan to zone the area as commercial. In their protest, the six noted that commercial advertising signs would detract from their property value and create traffic nuisances.

CALDWELL, Dec. 11 (AP)—A man identified as Henry C. Weber, 58, Payette, was killed Tuesday night in a car-pedestrian accident on U. S. highway 20-28, about 2 1/2 miles east of here. Officers said a fire on Weber's car had gone flat and he was walking to town for help when the accident occurred. They said his wife was waiting in the car, which was parked east of the accident scene. Sheriff Dale Halls identified the driver of the car as Millcent E. Raver, 49, Nampa. He said an investigation into the accident is continuing. Weber's death boosts the Idaho traffic fatality toll for the year to 199. That compares with 257 on the same date a year ago.

BOISE, Dec. 11 (AP)—Gov. Robert E. Smylie has directed Public Works Commissioner Arthur Warren to draw up plans and specifications for re-roofing the state historical museum in Boise and to advertise for bids as soon as possible. Smylie said he has authorized expenditure of funds from his emergency appropriation to cover the cost of the project. He said the action was prompted by a report from Warren that further delay in the re-roofing project could lead to extensive damage to the 16-year-old structure.

Cracker Jack Fund Drive Sponsored by Lions Again

The Twin Falls Lions club will be giving away Cracker Jacks Friday and Saturday in conjunction with their annual fund raising drive for the 12 different charities sponsored by the Lions club annually.

The Cracker Jacks were purchased by the local merchants and will be handed out free of charge by the Lions. Donations are not mandatory, but would be greatly appreciated.

There will be six Cracker Jack stations throughout the city—four stations in downtown Twin Falls, one at Okay food center

The Lions will hand out 480 dozen boxes of Cracker Jacks and the success of the project depends wholly on the people of the street.

This has been one of the best fund raising projects the Lions club has sponsored in past years and they hope to continue with the same good results.

NRA Eyes Proposed Gun Legislation

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11 (AP)—The National Rifle Association said today it has no objection to legislation aimed at preventing the misuse of firearms but opposes general registration and licensing.

The association said in a news release that it "does not oppose" legislation:

1. Designed to prohibit possession of firearms by persons who have been convicted of a crime of violence, fugitives from justice, mental incompetents, drug addicts and habitual drunkards.
2. Making the sale of firearms to juveniles subject to parental consent.

The association said it is opposed to:

1. Registration of firearms.
2. Proposals to license the possession or purchase of a firearm by law-abiding citizens.

The statement of association views was given after a two-day meeting of the executive committee of the board of directors.

The committee considered anti-gun legislation in general, and specifically the amendments now proposed by Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D. Conn., to stiffen a bill

The association said it worked closely with Dodd and the senate subcommittee on juvenile delinquency in drafting the original bill, introduced Aug. 2, to amend the federal firearms act.

"It is the position of the NRA that no gun commits a crime—the user is the culprit," the association statement said.

"Therefore, there should be laws which would punish severely the convicted offender on a mandatory basis if the crime involved the use of firearms.

This principle places the burden on the offender, and does not affect the law-abiding citizen in the enjoyment of his freedom guaranteed under the second amendment of the constitution.

The amendment covers the right "to keep and bear arms."

The senate commerce committee has decided to hold public hearings, probably starting Friday on legislation to tighten controls on mail order sale of guns. The plan is to complete the hearings before Christmas so that senate action can be taken early next year.

Since the assassination of President John F. Kennedy, Dodd has amended the bill he introduced in August to require a person ordering a firearm by mail to submit to the dealer of manufacturer a notarized statement that he is over 18 years of age, has no felony record, and would not violate a local law by possessing the weapon.

The statement would have to be accompanied by a supporting certificate from the chief law enforcement officer in the locality.

Sen. Hugh Scott, R. Pa., has introduced a similar bill to require a person ordering a gun by mail to submit a certificate from stability and reputation for law enforcement observance.

DISPLAYING 1962 NOBEL Peace prize medal awarded him Tuesday in Oslo, Norway, are Dr. Linus Pauling, California Institute of Technology professor, and his wife, Ines. Tucked under Pauling's left arm is the Nobel Peace prize award which he also received. A sum of $49,465 goes with the award. (AP wirephoto via cable from Oslo)

Banquet Held For Trustees At Hagerman

HAGERMAN, Dec. 11—Trustees of school district 233 were honored with a banquet served by the home economics department, under the direction of Mrs. Leon Grive, instructor, prior to their school trustees meeting Monday evening.

Vernon Ravenscroft presided at the meeting, in the absence of Chairman Frank Henslee.

A report on the lighting and storage in the music department was made by Bop Tupper and Bob Adolf, and the trustees authorized Supt. George Carnie to see the improvements were made.

It was voted not to alter the existing bus routes at this time.

Members agreed to install a sign at the end of the hall in the basement of Prince Memorial gymnasium to keep persons out of the hall near the dressing rooms and to direct those into the home economics rooms for refreshments at ball games.

The school Christmas program will be held at 8 p.m. Dec. 19 in Prince Memorial gymnasium, with grades one through 12 participating in a Centennial 100-years-of-Christmas-in-Idaho theme. This will feature skills, dance numbers and music, under the direction of Joyce Messler, music teacher.

Three teachers, Mrs. Stanley Penfold, Mrs. Glenn Hendrickson and Jack Martin, reported on attending the mathematics conference in Boise. The trustees commended them for attending and reporting to the school board meeting.

Senior class members asked to have their snack during January or February, so they can use the snow at Sun Valley. Members permitted this change, and seniors will be asked to attend the next trustee meeting, Jan. 13, and present their plans.

The school district will buy the treats for the Christmas sacks to be distributed by Santa Claus, at the school program.

Trustees voted to set 11 p.m. as the time for closing their meetings, and 11:30 p.m. as a deadline. Any business not completed by that time will be taken up on the next Monday.

Blinds will be installed in the fourth grade room, and new locks will be placed on the gymnasium and agricultural shop doors.

The Hagerman trustees voted to send a letter and financial report to the Cassia county school district in its lawsuit concerning unemployment withholding.

Superintendent Carnie and Vernon Ravenscroft reported on attending the trustees convention held in Pocatello.

'Boop-Boop-a-Doop' Singer Of 1920's Plans Comeback

NEW YORK, Dec. 11 (AP)—Remember when Helen Kane sang boop-boop-a-doop back in 1928? Well, the onetime voice of Betty Boop in the movie cartoons is living in an apartment in the Jackson Heights section of New York City now, hoping for a comeback.

"I feel fine" now, thank you," said Miss Kane, who has had four operations for cancer in the past seven years, the last one Dec. 6.

She says she's finishing a book about her career, wants to do some television, and has had some offers for a movie about her life.

She still speaks in that piping voice that sounds as if she's suppressing a laugh.

Miss Kane, who made 14 movies for Paramount, saw one of them on television not long ago.

"I was the peppy one, I was the flapper," she said. "There I was, looking about 16, laughing, and jumping on and off horses."

Her last movie was "Heads Up," with Buddy Rogers in 1932. Miss Kane's first big success was with Paul Ash, an orchestra leader, at New York's Paramount theater in 1928.

She'd already done dramatic stock, appeared in night clubs with the four Marx brothers and in Schubert revues.

After 10 auditions for Ash, they let her sing one song in the show.

"Then they put in more songs. After the fourth day they put my name in lights. I used to sit in a coffee shop across the street and look at it."

Miss Kane has been married for 35 years to Dan Healy, who was her leading man in "Good Boy," the show in which she sang "I Want to Be Loved by You" (boop-boop-a-doop).

"He's a very talented young man," said Miss Kane, and added: "I'm not near that age. Don't put down any fancy age for me. It's not that long ago."

TRAIN CRASH KILLS 8
ANTOFAGASTA, Chile, Dec. 11 (AP)—Three rear coaches uncoupled from a passenger train derailed—a steep hill Tuesday. They sped down backward and lurched off the track near the bottom. Eight persons were killed and 99 were injured. Cause of the uncoupling was unknown.

Mrs. Oswald Admired Late President

DALLAS, Dec. 11 (AP)—The housewife who sheltered the family of President Kennedy's accused assassin says Marina Oswald was a great admirer of the nation's chief executive.

Mrs. Ruth Paine, who took Russian-born Mrs. Lee Harvey Oswald into her home at nearby Irving for two months, told about the Oswald's family life in an interview Tuesday.

On the day of the assassination, Mrs. Paine said she arose before Mrs. Oswald and her children, turned on the television set so they could watch Kennedy's arrival, and took her own young daughter to the dentist.

"I left the television on for Marina," Mrs. Paine said, "because I knew of the great admiration she had for the President."

Before the day ended Oswald was arrested and charged with killing both Kennedy and Police Officer J. D. Tippit.

About 48 hours later a nationwide television audience and scores of newsmen saw Jack Ruby, Dallas strip-tease joint owner, kill Oswald.

Mrs. Paine said Mrs. Oswald came to live with her Sept. 24 because Oswald was out of work and worried about their new baby, expected in about a month. Mrs. Oswald now is held in protective custody of the U. S. secret service at an undisclosed spot.

Mrs. Paine said when they learned a hidden rifleman had killed the President, Mrs. Oswald was almost overcome with grief and remarked how "awful it will be for Mrs. Kennedy to raise those two little children without a father."

Mrs. Paine said she and her husband met the Oswalds at a party before the Oswalds left Dallas to live briefly in New Orleans.

Minister Is Corrected After Talk

LONDON, Dec. 11 (AP)—Prime Minister Alec Douglas-Home said the possibility in parliament Tuesday that new U.S. financial proposals may be put forward to end the arms race with the Soviet Union.

In an announcement that surprised diplomats, the British leader also told parliament that foreign ministers will attend the summit of the 17-nation disarmament conference in Geneva next month.

Such a decision has in fact been taken on the level of representation by the participating countries. But the idea is under active study in the West as one of achieving even a limited accord with the Soviet Union.

A British government spokesman took the rare step of correcting the prime minister's statement.

'Sir Alec' was being asked in parliamentary questions whether he would take part in the Geneva conference, the spokesman explained.

His intention was to emphasize that Mr. R. A. Butler, the foreign secretary, would be in charge of the negotiations. Whether Mr. Butler and other ministers will go personally is a matter for decision in the light of developments.

'Sir Alec' is new to the cut-and-dried questioning in the House of Commons and it seemed clear he had unintentionally given a misleading impression.

Gold Flow

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11 (AP)—An official report Tuesday said the U. S. outflow of gold decreased in the first half of 1963.

The net outflow for the first six months was 196 million dollars compared with 393 million dollars in the corresponding period of 1962.

Sabah, Sarawak To Get More Troop Protection

Indonesian-based guerrillas have been increasing border raids in recent weeks, the sources reported.

Russia Plans to Withdraw Army From Hungary Soon

MOSCOW, Dec. 11 (AP)—The Soviet army, which crushed the Hungarian revolution seven years ago, plans to leave Hungary in the next few months, diplomatic sources said today.

Only a few token units will be left behind under the Warsaw pact agreement, the sources said.

Western diplomats interpreted the move as a sign of easing tensions in eastern Europe and of Premier Nikita Khrushchev's faith in the stability of Hungarian Premier Janos Kadar's regime.

The pullback—signed by the gradual repatriation of the families of Soviet soldiers still in Hungary—is part of a pattern prevailing over eastern Europe.

There are no Soviet troops in Czechoslovakia, Romania or Bulgaria. Some forces remain in Poland, and East Germany is heavily garrisoned. But the soldiers stationed in Poland are said to confine themselves to maintaining communications links between Moscow and Berlin and are seldom seen around the country.

When Hungary exploded in rebellion in 1956, Soviet soldiers and tanks smashed the uprising. Since then the Kremlin has kept a large garrison—officially estimated at two tank and two motorized divisions—within the nation.

Unofficial estimates put Soviet strength at 20 divisions, 10 tank and 10 motorized, in East Germany and two divisions, one tank and one motorized, in Poland.

Qualified diplomatic sources said that agreement between Moscow and Budapest to withdraw troops is based largely on Kadar's successful efforts to restore his nation's stability since 1956.

Kadar's achievements are due in part to his success in building one of the more liberal east European regimes—with the apparent approval of Khrushchev.

One of the elements of new Hungarian stability is economic progress, partly through Soviet economic aid in the form of the "friendship" oil pipeline and the Soviet-sponsored East European electric power network. Many fighters in the 1956 uprising have been amnestied and Hungary has sought to regularize its relations with western countries.

Hungary's defense will now be secured partly through the Moscow-led Warsaw pact and its own national forces. There are no indications here Moscow intends other military cutbacks for purely economic reasons.

Khrushchev told a group of visiting American businessmen last month:

"The imperialists can say the Soviet government is going to spend large funds on the development of chemistry and irrigation, hence, it will not allocate money for armaments."

"This will not come off. . . what is necessary for defense we have done and we are doing."

"The rockets have already been built and stand where they should, as one says, God forbid that they fly instead of stand," Khrushchev said.

"But if the imperialists impose war upon us, the rockets will fly when the button is pressed."

A similar theme was elaborated by the chief of general staff Marshal S. Biriuzov in Izvestia last night.

Biriuzov claimed, as many military experts have for the United States, that the Soviet Union possesses "overkill" capacity in nuclear weapons.

Mrs. Luscher Is Honored at Rites

HAGERMAN, Dec. 11—Funeral services were held for Mrs. Ada Luscher at 2 p. m. Monday in the Hagerman Methodist church by the Rev. Austin G. Rugger.

Mrs. Al Karaloff, Buhl, was accompanied by Mrs. Warren Berry, organist.

Pallbearers were Albert Gray, Verne Carson, W. A. Sandy, Virgil Norwood, George Lenker and Elvere (Tommy) Thompson.

Final rites were held at the Hagerman cemetery.

Shortage of Coins Eyed By Treasury

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11 (AP)—The treasury expressed its concern today over the coin shortage which has become steadily worse during the Christmas shopping rush.

In the past few months, the treasury has tried not to call attention to the shortage, apparently on the theory that publicity would lead to hoarding.

But the shortage was obvious long before the start of the Christmas season. There are now shortages in every denomination except silver dollars. The supply is tight in almost every area of the nation.

Some banks have been asking the public to keep their coins in circulation. Some companies which rely heavily on coins in their business have been shipping large amounts from one area to another.

The shortage is said to be due to good business in retail sales and increased use of vending machines, parking meters and other such devices.

Demand for coins usually reaches a peak about Dec. 15, but treasury officials apparently are bothered more about the prospect of continued shortages than about the current dearth of change.

A treasury spokesman expressed the concern in a statement.

The Philadelphia and Denver mints, working on virtually a 24-hour day, seven-day week basis, will produce 4.1 billion pieces of change in the year which ends next June 30 but it has been estimated that the nation's commerce could use six billion.

Slick Roads Blamed for Two Mishaps

Snow-covered and slick highways were credited for causing two pickup truck accidents investigated by the Twin Falls county sheriff's office Tuesday.

Ronald W. Pierce, 47, Plier reported he was unable to stop his 1959 GMC pickup truck before driving onto the highway from his driveway, due to slick surface, and collided with a 1963 Ford pickup truck owned by the Twin Falls Canal company and driven by Charles E. Corte, 72, Puhl. There was only minor damage to both trucks.

Mishaps Listed

JEROME, Dec. 11—Jerome police report two accidents occurred Monday in Jerome. Lynn Blingham, 44, Jerome, was the driver of a 1959 Nash which collided with a 1963 Chevrolet driven by O. C. Rohms, 33, Kaysville, Utah. The accident happened Monday morning at Main and Lincoln streets.

Robert A. Morris, 21, Jerome, was the driver of a 1958 Ford which collided with a 1962 Studebaker driven by Dee Lois Weaver, 18, Fairbanks, Alaska, at 5:30 p. m. on Avenue A.

East German Grain Sale Is Okayed

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11 (AP)—The commerce department has issued a license for the sale of 3.2 million dollars worth of U.S. wheat to communist East Germany.

In making the announcement Tuesday, the department did not give the number of bushels in the proposed shipments.

Wheat sells on the world market for about $1.35 up to about $1.80 a bushel, depending on the type.

The future of the proposed wheat sale to the Soviet Union remains cloudy, mainly due to a dispute over the cost of shipping in American vessels.

South Korean Sets Fire To Himself

SEOUL, Dec. 11 (AP)—A retired South Korean army officer burned himself to death Wednesday in a protest against the official residence of President-elect Chung Yeh Park.

Police said the victim was re-ferred to as Kim Ki-hyun, 45, and added there was no clue to whether his suicide was intended to be some sort of a protest di-rected at Park.

Witnesses said Kim sat on a bench in Changchung-dan park and poured gasoline over him- self, then lit a match to himself.

Kim, who seized power in a coup May 16, 1961, narrowly won re-election to the presidency on Oct. 10.

Many officers in the South Korean armed forces are known to re-sist Park's plan for a re-constitution of the government in favor of the 1961 military revolution. He has been pressed to continue the role of military program.

Saturn I Set To Be Fired Wednesday

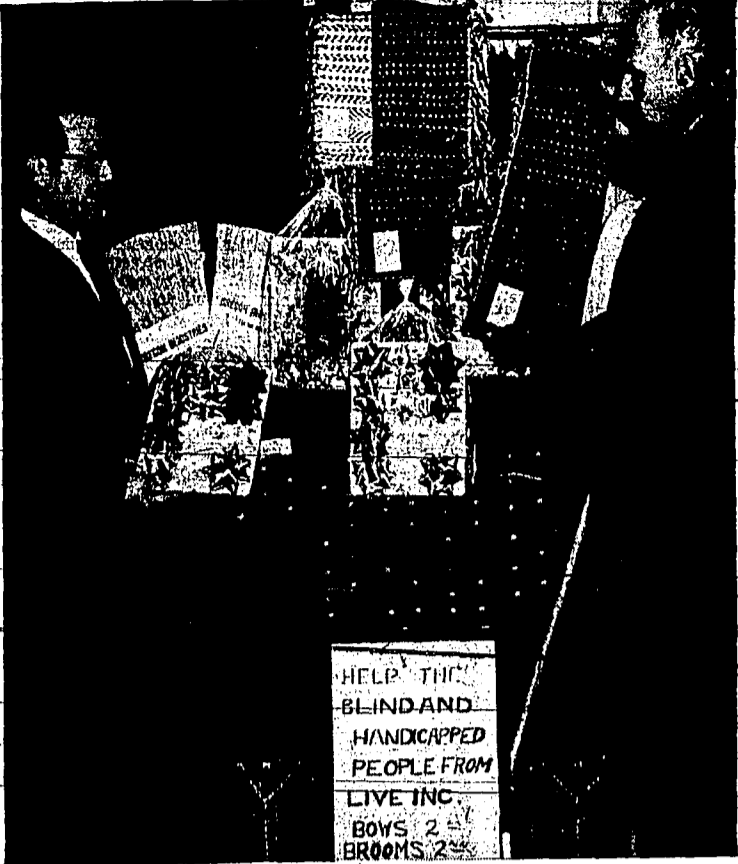

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla., Dec. 11 (AP)—Hurricane Glimy cost us two days. Then we lost another week because of the hydrogen explosion Nov. 26. Otherwise, Saturn I is on the launching sched-ule laid out in August.

Army Lieut. Col. Rocco A. Pe-rono was outlining months of painstaking preparation leading to the launching of what officials believe to be the world's most powerful rocket.

Barring further trouble, the 225-foot-tall Saturn I will rum-ble skyward next Wednesday in the first attempt to ignite its high-energy liquid hydrogen sec-ond stage. Four earlier launch-ings of the Kerolosene-driven first stage were successful.

Peterson, assistant director for plans and project management at the space agency's launch op-erations center, emphasized the upcoming flight will be strictly a research and development test. But as a bonus, he said, Saturn I will attempt to orbit the world's heaviest satellite—83 feet long and weighing 19 tons, including 1 1/2 tons of sand for ballast.

When the Saturn I—Yorcerunner of the Saturn IV man-to-moon rocket—blasts off, the first stage will generate its full 15 million pounds of thrust for the first time. The second stage will produce 80,000 pounds deliv-ered by liquid hydrogen—quite a kick when ignited in the vacuum of space.

Lions Will Sell Products Made by Handicapped Here

In cooperation with the Twin Falls Lions club, Alexander's men's and boys store, Wednesday will begin selling items made by the blind and severely handi-capped persons who work at LIVE, Inc., Boise.

LIVE, Inc., was started in 1949 and is a non-profit organization governed by the Lions club of Idaho to rehabilitate the blind and severely handicapped persons in the state.

Persons at the LIVE training center receive good training in the use of their hands, and as soon as they are trained and capable of working on their own they are placed in selected jobs.

The main product of LIVE, Inc., is survey stakes, which are sold to construction companies, city, county and state highway departments and survey and engineering companies.

For persons to be a part of LIVE, Inc., they must first con-tact Morris Moore, local rehabili-tation director, who will send a report and recommendation to LIVE to the department of public assistance, which in turn will contact LIVE and the board of directors, then decide whether the person who applied is worthy.

Two Twin Falls county girls are working at LIVE, Inc.—Patsy Fields, Twin Falls, and Pat Barry, Buhl. They made pop-on bows for Christmas gifts.

Alexander's will sell merchan-dise without profit to them, all money received from the sale going to the handicapped per-sons. You may purchase the Items at any Alexander's store in Magic Valley.

The Lions also will have their annual door to door sale for the handicapped next April 1. Mer-chandise available at Alexander's will be sold by the Lions at this time.

Smylie Talks On Chances Of Sales Tax

BOISE, Dec. 11 (AP)—Gov. Robert E. Smylie says Idaho will probably have a sales tax eventually but that he does not believe such a levy will be enacted by the 1965 legislature.

Smylie commented on the sales tax and a wide variety of sub-jects Tuesday during a question and answer session with mem-bers of the American government class at Kuna high school.

Taking part were Pamela Gross, Sandra Kassel, John Huskey, Bob Taylor, Dennis Wells and Rick Newman. All are 17 except Miss Gross, who is 16.

The students were accompanied by their teacher, Howard Roehr. Smylie told the students that the sales tax is the only kind Idaho does not have and the next one it is likely to get.

But he said he believed the experience in Oregon, where sales tax consistently has been turned down by voters, is indica-tive of the general feeling in Idaho.

Americans Held Hostage in Small, Uncomfortable Room

(Editor's note—Associated Press staff writer Jorge Canelas has visited the four Americans and 11 others held hostage by Communist-led tin miners at Catavi, Bolivia.)

By JORGE CANELAS
ORURO, Bolivia, Dec. 11 (AP)—The four Americans and 11 other hostages held by rebellious Bolivian tin miners are crammed each night into one room 18 by 12 feet and sleep on the floor without mattresses.

They all appear in good health but seem understandably concerned and annoyed at their unexpected imprisonment, now in its fifth day.

The hostages were interviewed by newsmen at nearby Catavi Tuesday for the first time since they were taken prisoner Friday in retaliation for the govern-ment's arrest of two communist labor leaders, Irineo Pimentel and Federico Escobar.

Under a close guard, the news-men were led into two small rooms at the headquarters of the mine union and met the hostages, who also include a West Ger-man, a Dutchman and nine Bol-ivian technicians.

Thomas Martin, 27, of New York, a U. S. information ser-vice officer, said he and the other Americans were arrested after a dinner Friday night at the home originally scheduled for Nov. 23, of Cornelius Bloot, a Dutch mine manager.

Idlewild Airport Is Renamed for John F. Kennedy

NEW YORK, Dec. 11 (AP)—City council has voted to rename Idlewild airport in memory of the late President Kennedy.

The airport measure was ap-proved unanimously Tuesday. Mayor Robert F. Wagner's signa-ture is assured.

Idlewild would be known henceforth as the John F. Ken-nedy international airport.

He replied union headquarters provided better security.

Lechin gave no indication when the hostages might be re-leased.

FALSE TEETH That Loosen Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little PASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Hold false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor breath". Committee Work Listed at Area League Meeting

SHOSHONE, Dec. 11 — Extent of accomplishments of the Lutheran Women's Missionary League during the past season were noted during the annual report of committees at their meeting held at the Calvary Lutheran church, Gooding, Mrs. Ervin Braun, north Shoshone, reporter for the group, announced.

Reports were made for the Chancel guild and the Hospitality gUILD. Several dinners have been served recently at the church. Visiting chairman report sending cards to church members who were ill.

Activities carried out under direction of the Charity gUILD include making Easter tray favors for patients at the tuberculosis hospital, Eastern thank offering sent to the Lutheran Boys' home, North Dakota, presentation of prayer books to members of two confirmation classes, cooked food for graduation gifts to church members graduating from high school last spring and refreshments at Bible school.

The group is assisting with promotion of the sale of Christmas seals to raise funds for the Colorado-Lutheran tuberculosis hospital.

A Christmas thank offering was held and money received will go to a mission area. The league will also provide gifts for six patients at the tuberculosis hospital for Christmas.

Mrs. Lloyd Snively was accompanied for group singing. Mrs. Richard Ragland gave the scripture reading and Mrs. Lyle Thomas conducted the business meeting.

Program numbers were introduced by Mrs. Kurt Westendorf, Christian-growth chairman.

Subscriptions were approved for the "This Day" magazine to be placed in the tuberculosis hospital and in offices of two doctors in Gooding.

Mrs. Thomas reported on the workshop held in Wendell.

Mrs. Donald Reinhart, Burley, will attend the January meeting and show pictures taken at the district convention.

The group voted to give $25 to the Lutheran Laymen's League to help purchase paint for the church. Members will do the work this winter.

The Rev. H. H. Spaude conducted the installation services for new officers. Officers are Mrs. Schutte, president; Mrs. James Bri, vice president; Mrs. Frank Lehman, secretary; Mrs. Ryland, treasurer.

A film was shown by the Rev. Mr. Spaude on the Lutheran Good Shepherd home, Terra Bella, Calif., for mentally retarded children. This home was established in 1955 and statistics show that three out of every 100 children are mentally retarded, he said. In the last 10 years, this figure has increased by 200 per cent. There are 250 children at this home, with one staff member for every three children, and 10 fulltime employees. The home is situated on a 47-acre site. Children of all faiths are accepted.

In the northwest area various churches held fund raising projects to help at the school, the Rev. Mr. Spaude reported.

This was the annual Christmas meeting for the group. Hostesses were Mrs. Snively and Mrs. Arthur Suesz, assisted by Kathy Everett, Robin Everett, Cheryl LeFurgey and Linda Suesz. Mrs. Thomas will be hostess for the January meeting.

FOR GALA HOLIDAY evenings there is a new three-way ingenious fashion. Cocktail purse and glove set by Finale, left, is in sleek black satin. It comes with a wrap-around outer case that's gold on one side, silver on the other, and just snaps into place (inset). Gloves that gleam in gold or silver, right, add an elegant touch when the purse wrap-around is used. They come in stretch fabric and fit most hands, and in several lengths.

English Family Tours America, Reactions Told

By GAY PAULEY

NEW YORK, Dec. 11 (UPI)—The head of an English family completing a one-month tour through 23 states under the "Visit-USA" program sums up the family's reaction in these words:

"Your country is bigger than we thought, busier than we thought, and friendlier than we thought."

Anthony Fredericks, 50, Chelsea, a London suburb, speaking of his trip to the United States, now is chief pharmacist of the Royal hospital, Chelsea, and the family lives in a 300-year-old house designed by Christopher Wren, the noted architect.

There are seven children (an eighth on the way) ranging in age from 22 to 2. Fredericks, two of the children, and his blue-eyed, brown-haired wife, Moray, 41, have completed a 5,000 mile see-America automobile trip to demonstrate that foreigners can visit the United States on a moderate budget.

All their expenses were paid and they got a lot of VIP treatment, but Fredericks figured a family of four easily could vacation as they did for about $200 per person per week. This, he explained, was averaging out cost of transatlantic trip (they came cabin class on a boat), plus food, lodging, fuel, and incidentals once in the country.

"That's comparable to a vacation on the (European) continent," he said.

Their trip took them as far north as New Hampshire, Vermont and Massachusetts, as far west as Illinois, Michigan and Missouri and as far south as Louisiana.

In New Orleans, Fredericks, a trumpeter in the British army band, was invited to sit in with a jazz combo. He did.

Daughter Antoinette ("Tony"), an 18-year-old brunette beauty who for two years has done fashion modeling, was asked in several cities to show the English version of the twist—"same as in America," she said.

Jeffrey, 10, said the high spot of the trip for him was to go aboard the ships "Susan Constant," "Godspeed" and "Discovery," the first ships to sail from England to settle the Jamestown, Va., colony.

"As for food, we found the hamburger eternal," Mrs. Fredericks spoke up. "But one doesn't have to eat it always, does one? I was impressed by the variety of your foods. You can do chicken tons of ways."

"If you asked me what is typically American," she added, "I'd say apple pie a la mode, cherry pie a la mode, pecan pie a la mode . . ."

The British family, which likes its tea stronger than Americans usually make it, found an easy solution to the restaurant teabag. "We just punched holes in the bags and let the contents into the cup," she explained.

The Fredericks were chosen for the trip by happenstance. The London representative of one of their sponsors had a son who'd played soccer with Jeffrey.

"One morning this voice on the phone said, 'Would you like to visit America?'" said Fredericks. "I thought she was joking at first."

The U.S. department of commerce helped with arrangements and the tab for the trip was picked up by Econo-Car Rental system (Fredericks drove one of its station wagons), Cunard lines, Holiday Inns, the motel chain, and Sheraton hotels.

They were given keys to several cities and their motels greeted them with their names in neon lights in Springfield, Ill., and Memphis, Tenn.

A cab driver in New York refused to take a fare when he found he was transporting the visitors.

"Everywhere we went strangers who'd read that we were coming would come up to us in a restaurant or stop us on the street to hope we were having a good visit," said Fredericks.

Women Send in Suggestions to Manufacturers

By GAY PAULEY

NEW YORK, Dec. 11 (UPI)—A woman in St. Louis wants to know why, now that they've made everything else instant, we don't have instant eggs for the home.

A woman in Los Angeles asks why in an age of waistline watching that calorie counts aren't stamped on most foods.

These are some of the responses from readers to a recent column from this desk listing a series of "why don't they?" to help manufacturers improve their products.

It was Mrs. O. E. Gloessner, of St. Louis, who wrote she had a "why don't they?" that had been bothering her for years. "Why don't they make powdered eggs available for home use, now that everything else is in instant or powdered form?" she asked.

"When eggs are high," she continued, "my family would gladly make do with scrambled eggs of a morning. And how wonderful to have them always on hand when you get a sudden urge to bake and have only a couple of fresh ones on the shelf."

Mrs. J. G. Collin, Los Angeles, said she wanted to register complaints concerning pointed-toe shoes, package weights such as 3-5/16 ounces, and items whose outer wrapping is much larger than its inner contents.

"Then she added, ' . . . now that we are nearly all greatly concerned with calorie count, all foods (dealers would profit) should have calorie count information.'"

To go with the letters from these women, there's a new list of suggestions from National Family Opinion, Toledo, O., a consumer research firm which lists 85,000 part-time homemaker consultants. Its women ask, "Why don't they?"

—Put two red crayons in children's crayon boxes.

—Offer lined fancy stationery for people who can't help writing uphill.

—Put something besides plastic buttons on all-cotton garments. The garments are jaundiced at high temperatures and the buttons melt out of shape.

—Make sure the label "twin" or "double" is easy to locate on sheets. Some manufacturers already make this labeling easy to find; others are negligent. But easy-to-find labels would save many a minute in a house where both sheet sizes are used.

—Make inside breast pockets in women's coats as they do in men's suits and coats.

—Stop putting so many pins in new shirts for men and boys.

—Make cup measurements on coffee percolators easier to see.

The same suggestion applies to many of the cooking utensils which have cup labels hardly visible.

—Make little girls snow leggings with a wide band of elastic around the top and eliminate the straps so that a dress could be worn over them more easily.

—Put a pouring spout on detergent boxes.

—Make colored salt for those who don't see too well to prevent over-salting from the shaker.

—Sell men's stockings with a small piece of yarn to match so that a mended spot doesn't show.

—Put an identifying mark on all substances that are dangerous and/or poisonous. Children recogize the meaning of skull and crossbones, but not the printed words.

Texas Voted National Crown, But Still Must Convince Navy

NEW YORK, Dec. 11 (AP)—The Texas Longhorns are the 1963 national college football champions, but they must prove it again on New Year's day. That's the day they play second-ranked Navy in the Cotton bowl at Dallas, and the Midshipmen, with the legendary Roger Staubach, contend they need some convincing. This is the second straight year that the country's No. 1 and No. 2 teams have clashed in a bowl game. Last year, Southern California, top-ranked, won a 49-37 thriller from second-ranked Wisconsin in the Rose bowl.

Texas, the only major team to complete the season without a defeat or tie, was the overwhelming pick of a special panel of sports writers and broadcasters in the final Associated Press poll.

The Longhorns, who swept past 10 opponents, received 34 first-place votes and 460 points compared with 10 firsts and 418 points for Navy. Pittsburgh, which finished with a 9-1 record and empty-handed as far as bowls are concerned, got the other five top votes but fell behind Illinois in the final ratings.

Illinois, the Big Ten champion headed for a meeting with Washington in the Rose bowl, received 361 points for third place to 340 for Pitt. Points are awarded on a 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 basis.

Caldwell Heads AP Poll of Idaho Prep Basketball Teams

By The Associated Press
Caldwell high, with surprisingly easy victories in its first two starts, heads the initial Associated Press weekly poll of Idaho prep basketball teams with seven first place votes and 106 points. Associated Press member sportswriters and sportscasters selected teams on a 10-9-8 etc., point system, mentioning 20 teams on the 18 ballots cast for the Gem state's first statewide schoolboy cage poll. Defending state champion Coeur d'Alene, 1-1 after a pair of week-end battles with Spokane Lewis and Clark high, came in second with three first place votes and 87 points. Kellogg, Borah and Nampa rounded out the first five.

Lewiston joined Kellogg and Borah in garnering one first place vote but wound up eighth in the list.

Voting is limited to schools with enrollments of 500 or more. So scattered were initial selections that only Caldwell and Kellogg received mention on every ballot and 40 points separated teams placing fifth through 11th.

Caldwell's Cougar, with only Steve Garman and Roger Cantlon possessing considerable experience back from the 1962-63 team which registered 18 wins in 25 games, whipped Emmett 68-52 and Ontario 60-29 in its first two games. Cantlon, a 6-foot-3-inch junior jumper, jack-canned 46 and Garman, another junior, came through with 30.

Kellogg, Borah, sixth-place Idaho Falls, seventh-place Bonneville and Lewiston all have 2-0 records and Madison, the 10th ranked club, is 3-0. Nampa, which ripped highly touted Jerome 56-39, and Sandpoint were 1-0 when the votes were cast.

Mountain Home, another double winner, just missed the top 10, garnering 25 voting points to 26 for Madison.

Borah, with six who played at least half a season of varsity ball last year and another who played the entire season, had been rated a pre-season favorite for the big school crown but apparently lost some prestige with its 45-44 squeaker over Meridian and a 51-43 victory against Emmett.

The Faux Cigar had an easy win over the Valley Sporting Goods 59-13. Doug Pembler hit 11 for the winners and John Darrington had eight for the losers.

KANSAS WINS
LAWRENCE, Kans., Nov. 11 (AP)—Kansas put on a spectacular shooting exhibition in the first six minutes for a 20-6 lead but needed some brilliant clutch shooting by George Unsel to defeat Texas Tech 73-67 in basketball Tuesday night.

Others receiving votes: Mountain Home (25), Pocatello (15), Payette (13), Boise (11), Twin Falls (9), Meridian and Jerome (5), Salmon and Preston (2) and Weiser (1).

Namath Has No Alibi for Suspension

TUSCALOOSA, Ala., Dec. 11 (AP)—A remorseful Joe Namath said Tuesday he could not find "a thing to say that would help" after being suspended for violating training rules.

The loss of Namath, star quarterback for two years, jolted Alabama's chances against Miami Saturday and against Mississippi in the Sugar bowl New Year's day.

"I have thought about it (the suspension), and I don't know of a thing to say that would help," the Beaver Falls, Pa., athlete said.

He was dismissed from the Miami and Ole Miss contests by coach Paul Bryant.

Bryant said "Joe has indicated to me that he will remain in school and concentrate on his studies. He will be allowed to remain on scholarship."

And Namath indicated he would stick with the Alabama team.

Asked if he would be back next season, he said, "I certainly will... I'm sorry as can be that it happened. I certainly will never happen again."

With Namath at the controls, Alabama has won 17 games and lost only three in the past two seasons. As a sophomore he set a passing record at Alabama.

This year Namath did not do as well, concentrating mostly on a ground game. He even was called on for some defensive chores.

His loss is a heavy one for the Tide. Second-string quarterback Jack Huribut has seen only limited duty on offense. His understudy, Steve Sloan, has played some defense but like Huribut, has not had an opportunity to play offense.

The switch in quarterbacks is causing consternation in enemy camps. Both Miami and Ole Miss coaching staffs are in a tizzy on how to prepare for Huribut.

Civilian's Team Beats Reservists

The civilians defeated the army reservists in an intra-club pistol match Tuesday with a total score of 1,079. The army reservists scored 1,077.

The civilians' scores were Larry Culver, 279; Chris Penheller, 269; Jerry Baltzer, 266, and Dick Pooler, 265.

The army reservists' team was Joe Maiberg, 275; Jim Bays, 273; Larry Plott, 271, and Nick Henderson, 256.

Humphreys and Astorquia Provide Scoring Punch as T.F. Belts Filer 66-38

Steve Humphreys and John Astorquia fired with mid-season accuracy and their teammates controlled the backboards Tuesday night as the Twin Falls Bruins belted the Filer Wildcats 66-38. The game was close only in the opening minutes, when Filer after leading by a single point, drew into a 6-5 tie. Then the Bruins hustled to a 12-6 lead behind a full court press. Coach Paul Ostyn used three units in an effort to get experience into his juniors before the conference schedule springs up Dec. 20.

CHICAGO, Dec. 11 (AP)—Nellie Fox, long-time Chicago White Sox second baseman, was traded to the Boston Colts for two farm hands Tuesday. The Sox, in turn, purchased pitcher Jim Golden and outfielder Dan Murphy from Houston's Oklahoma farm club.

Hansen Snaps 28-Game Losing Skein

HANSEN, Dec. 11—The Hansen Huskies broke Magie Valley's longest losing streak at 28 games Tuesday night when they nipped the Bliss Bears 38-36. No Hansen basketball team has entered the winning circle since the Huskies surprised Murtaugh 52-47 late in the 1961-62 season. Then the Huskies lost four that season, went winless last year and dropped their first two games this season.

Vadset Shoots WSU to Win Over Vandals

PULLMAN, Wash., Dec. 11 (AP)—A rough and tumble ballgame—there were 57 fouls called—turned into a shooting performance by Washington State guard Ryan Vadset and an 85-68 basketball victory over Idaho here Tuesday night.

The Cougars led 46-39 at the half, upping it to an 11-point edge halfway through the second period. But the Vandals, hitting poorly from the field and foul line most of the time, battled back to within seven points three times after intermission.

Idaho was only five behind

1963 Box Score: FORD'S TOTAL PERFORMANCE TOUGHNESS DOMINATES THE COMPETITION WORLD!

Ford has chosen the most rugged testing program cars have ever faced... full-scale open competition on the rally and racing circuits of the world. This is the dramatic way to show that Fords have changed... and the sure way to be certain they keep on changing. Changed? Just look at the record:

STOCK CAR RACING: 2-to-1 margin for Ford Ford is king of NASCAR competition and Ford Motor Company has the NASCAR Achievement Award to prove it. In the 63 season, special Ford entries won every single race of 500 miles or longer, scored nearly twice as many points as any other make. 500-mile races are the ultimate test of inherent durability and dependability. In two other major stock car racing associations, IMCA and NAR, Ford drivers have wrapped up the 1963 championships.	SPORTS CAR ROAD RACING: Ford V-8 power is the new king Here the Cobras with its special Falcon engine emerged as the overwhelming leader in one short year. Cobras won the coveted Manufacturer's Trophy in SCCA Class A Production competition by 50 wide a margin in other cars—U.S. or foreign—were even in sight. And in the two major tests this fall, the Laguna Seca and Riverside races, the new King Cobras dusted off the top "unlimited" category all over the world.	RALLY COMPETITION: Manufacturer's Championship Products of Ford Motor Company and its world-wide affiliates won the 1963 Manufacturer's World Rally Championship. Ford's rally year began when two specially equipped Falcon V-8's started the autumnal world in the brutal 2500-mile Monte Carlo Rally. Other special Falcon V-8's triumphed in Holland's famed Tulip Rally, and ran away with the Manufacturer's Year Prize in the 4000-mile Trans-Canada Rally.	INDIANAPOLIS: Ford ends an era Advanced Ford engineering smashed precedent in the classic Indianapolis "500." The first time out, a light alloy version of the Fairlane V-8 design in a Lotus chassis finished second. And the next time, in the Milwaukee "200," it ended the reign of the traditional "indy" racing car by leading every foot of the way from start to finish.	PERFORMANCE & ECONOMY: New laurels for Ford The Mobil Economy Run underscored Falcon's year-long reputation for built-in economy. Falcon scored first in Class B (medium-engined compact). And the Pure Oil Performance Trials brought laurels to the big Fords, which walked off with overall wins in Classes I and II for total performance (economy, acceleration and braking).

1964 Result: TOTAL PERFORMANCE INSPIRES THE TOUGHEST, SMARTEST CARS FORD EVER BUILT!

Fords have changed—and that's the real reason behind Ford's racing successes. We're now making the longest lasting, best handling cars in our history. The things we've learned from the specially equipped cars we enter in open competition have helped make them that way.

The inherent qualities that make the victorious racing car—road-holding, braking, durability, precision control, resistance to vibration—also make a car safer, stronger, and smoother for highway use.

But prove it to yourself. Take the wheel of any new Ford. Five minutes on the road will show you the kind of total performance no one else can match.

TRY TOTAL PERFORMANCE FOR A CHANGE!

California Lawyer Takes Ruby's Case

DALLAS, Dec. 11 (AP)—Melvin Bell, flamboyant San Francisco lawyer, today took charge of defending dapper Jack Ruby, self-styled avenger of President Kennedy's assassination.

"Because of justice," Bell said he took the case. He charged into Dallas wearing cowboy boots and a fur-collared overcoat and spent nearly two hours in Ruby's closely guarded cell.

"We will plead him guilty by reason of insanity," Bell said. "We will be ready by the scheduled trial date of Feb. 3."

Bell said Ruby would be tried "thoroughly, detailed and meticulously" in the court room and he would not discuss intricacies of defense with news media. He said he had no objection to live radio, television or photographic coverage of the trial, which had not been settled.

The famed lawyer said he was impressed with the "sincerity" of the man who fired a shot point blank into Lee Harvey Oswald's body Nov. 24, just two days after President Kennedy was assassinated. Oswald, 24, had been charged with Kennedy's death and a national television audience witnessed the dramatic shooting by Ruby.

"My eyes were moist," Bell said, "when he recounted what he went through."

Ruby, the lawyer said, "was not the type of man I expected to see. I was impressed with his sincerity. I've never seen a more sincere fellow than Jack."

"If there was ever a man entitled to plead not guilty, Jack is the man."

"His story hasn't been told and won't be told until we get into the court room," Bell said. "We will have some of the greatest names in psychiatry in the United States as witnesses."

Bell, who will head the team, declined to discuss who would pay his fee, which comes high, but said that Ruby's brother, Fred Ruby, Detroit, had sought his help in the defense. Jack Ruby owns two clubs in Dallas, including a burlesque show.

Bell, 65, made his reputation and nickname as "The King of Torts" by success in high priced personal injury suits in California.

Negro Leader House Hit In Alabama

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Dec. 11 (AP)—A steel ball fired by a slingshot wounding passerby crashed through the front window of the expensive home of a Negro attorney active in desegregation activities here.

Police said the ball apparently was fired by a person on foot and from across the street from the home of Arthur Shore. The home has been the target of racial bombings twice this year and both times was damaged extensively.

No one was injured in Tuesday night's incident.

Juveniles Told To Regularly Attend Church

ONEONTA, Ala., Dec. 11 (AP)—Two juveniles who admitted desecrating a church have been ordered to attend school and church regularly or go to a correctional institution.

The boys' parents were required to furnish labor repairs of the church, which suffered $5,000 damages in the Nov. 10 incident.

Juvenile Judge H. G. Kelton sentenced the pair to Alabama Boys Industrial school until they are 21, but suspended the sentence Tuesday provided the boys meet the other conditions.

Money Advice

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11 (AP)—Comptroller General Joseph Campbell said Tuesday that the defense department could save 50 million dollars a year if it depended on local commercial stores for minor hardware items instead of stocking them.

In addition, Campbell said, the department could cut its stocks by 275 million dollars a year if it made more use of local outlets selling these items.

In a report to congress, Campbell said the general accounting office, which he heads, had reached these conclusions after a study of low-value hardware items.

Goldwater Won't Quote In Uniform

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11 (AP)—Senators generally are quick with a quote. But when they go on active military duty they sometimes catch the Pentagon mood—they avoid reporters.

Take Sen. Barry Goldwater, R., Ariz.

A major general in the air force reserve, last Friday he began 15 days of active duty in the office of the deputy chief of staff for personnel.

All that could be learned about him from that office was that he has an office to himself, a blue flag with two stars like other air force generals, and "during his annual 15-day tour, he grants no interviews as a matter of policy."

Filer Reports New Volumes For Library

FILER, Dec. 11—A number of new books were placed on the shelves of the Filer library this week, announces Mrs. F. E. Albin, librarian.

New books for Christmas reading include "Amahl and the Night Visitors," Menotti; "The Shoemaker and the Elves," Grimm Brothers; Christmas Gift, summers, and "The Time of the Lord," Wibberly.

Books for teen-age and junior high reading include: "Coart Clown," Carson; "World of Their Own," Redina; "Rose Bowl All-American," Jackson; "Quest of the Otter," Webb; "Double Challenge," Klegaard; "Dust in the Gold Sack" and "Sage Brush Ranch," Miller (Idaho author). "Chestnut Cub," Beebe; "The River Pirates," Wellman; "Where the Shark Waits," Markins; "The Loud, Resounding Sea," Bonham; "A Time for Dreaming," Stortzenburg; "Girls on Witches Hill," Lawrence; "Sea Fever," Peyton; "A Time for Love," Isbert; "The Amethyst Summer," Bradbury; "Goodness and Mercy Jenkins," Bradbury; "Tide Treasure Campers," Montgomery; "The Wishing Star," Johnston; "Hills End," Southall; "The Horse Hunters," McGiffin; "Breakaway Back," Hulte; "Glass Ring," DuJardin.

CONGRESS SETS PLANS WASHINGTON, Dec. 11 (AP)—Sen. Everett M. Dirksen, R., Ill., said Tuesday the next session of congress will open Tuesday, Jan. 7. Dirksen, senate Republican leader, said the last session of the current 80th congress would come to a close Friday, Dec. 20, "or possibly Saturday, Dec. 21, if we get in a snarl."

Commercial Deluge Is Rapped by Moss

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11 (AP)—Rep. John E. Moss, D., Calif., disagreed sharply today with most of his fellow members of the house commerce committee, over the issue of radio and television commercials.

Moss said some broadcasters had gone "hog wild" on the subject and therefore it was decidedly proper for the federal communications commission (FCC) to see if it could do something about the situation.

Moss said he would file a dissenting report to the committee's endorsement of a bill that would block the FCC from regulating the amount of broadcast time devoted to advertising.

Moss said he thought others on the committee might join him in filing minority views. The committee yesterday in closed session approved the measure.

There was little chance that the legislation would reach the house floor for a vote this year. There has been no committee action on the bill in the senate.

At the same time that the house panel was voting to prohibit the FCC from determining the "length or frequency" of commercials, the commission was holding more hearings on the question of whether it should set such rules.

Television subscribers to the National Association of Broadcasters code can have no more than eight minutes of commercials during one hour of programming time. On radio, advertising is limited to 18 minutes in a single hour.

Bids Asked On 2 Idaho Road Jobs

BOISE, Dec. 11 (AP)—The state highway department has called for bids on two interstate highway construction projects, one in southeastern Idaho and the other in the north, both bids to be opened Dec. 30.

The north job involves 5,729 miles of interstate 90 between Wallace and Mullan. Work involves removal of slides, graveling, constructing a cement-treated base and a Portland cement concrete pavement, and signing. The work must be finished by Sept. 15, 1965.

The southeastern Idaho project involves 8,095 miles of interstate between Arimo and McCammon in Bannock county. The work involves constructing a four-lane roadway, drainage structures, two 14-foot and two 225-foot concrete overpasses, one 225-foot concrete underpass, two 20-foot concrete machine passes, a plant-mix bituminous surface and sealing shoulders. The job must be finished within 225 working days.

The department also asked for bids to be opened Dec. 30 on constructing the roadway, drainage

Warning on Monoxide Fumes Given

With winter at our door, the number of carbon monoxide poisonings will increase, according to Dr. Luther C. Thompson, medical director of south central district health department.

The immediate hazards of carbon monoxide poisoning usually are located at home, and from fumes of motor vehicles, Dr. Thompson noted. Any gas-powered engine allowed to run in a closed garage, a furnace with insufficient draft, a leaking gas stove or pipe are common causes of carbon monoxide poisoning. Children and anemic persons are particularly susceptible to this kind of poisoning, Dr. Thompson noted.

Wednesday, Dec. 11, 1963

should such poisoning occur, the victim should be removed from the poisonous area, a doctor should be called and the victim should be kept warm. Artificial respiration, if necessary, should be applied, Dr. Thompson said.

Donations to Dallas Family Hit $140,861

DALLAS, Dec. 11 (AP)—"We're beginning to make headway," Police Lieut. Verne Hipskind said today as he added $15,000 to the buiging fund for the family of slain patrolman J. D. Tippit.

Hipskind and his police department crew listed a total of $140,861.25 in donations to the family by the end of the day. It was estimated funds not handled by the department would put the total near $200,000. Tippit was killed Nov. 24 as he sought to stop Lee Harvey Oswald, accused of assassinating President Kennedy, for questioning.

Metal Box From Clipper Being Sought

ELKTON, Md., Dec. 11 (AP)—The tragedy of Clipper 214 moved Tuesday into a mopey search of a metal box.

In the field just north of Elkton still lay scattered pieces of wreckage and some of the remains of 31 persons who perished Sunday night in the crash of a Pan American World Airways jet plane.

In the box was the flight recorder carried by the four-engine Boeing 707 on its last ride. Officials faintly hoped it might give some clue to the cause of the disaster, one of the worst in the history of civil aviation.

But they said the recorder, about the size of a box-camera, was so badly battered that its story might be lost.

The recorder—an instrument which charts the plane's speed, direction, altitude and encountered gusts of air—was found Monday.

Lightning, as some eyewitnesses said, really struck the plane as it bucked an electrical storm near the end of its flight from Puerto Rico to Philadelphia. Or was it a bomb? Or air turbulence?

Federal investigators said it was too early to rule out any of these possibilities.

But they discarded one frequently used method—reconstruction of the shattered plane—as a step toward solution of the mystery.

"There is not enough to reconstruct," said Alan S. Boyd, chairman of the civil-aeronautics board.

YOUR BIRTHDAY and HOROSCOPE

WEDNESDAY, Dec. 11 — Born today, you are an almost perfect mixture of the active and the sedentary types. When there is something "doing," you are the first to jump into the thick of things with all the vigor and enthusiasm of one side of your nature; when times are quiet, you are the first to take advantage of the calm, and to enjoy the peace and harmony of the still side of your nature.

You have been gifted with no small creative talent, but it is one that may remain well-hidden until long after you have reached mental and emotional maturity. Should it be that recognition of your artistic musical, or literary gift does not appear until late in life to develop it properly, your satisfaction in it need not be lessened; you will always be able to indulge it occasionally, purely for pleasure.

Because companionship means more to you in the long run than the momentary glamour of the "fashionable" man or woman, you must be careful in choosing your mate that you look not at another's visible attributes, but at the inner character. Compatibility of mind and spirit is essential to one of your double nature; good looks and manners alone will never be able to stay the marital distance!

Among those born on this date are Hector Berlioz, composer; Leonard Huxley, English biographer, educator, editor; Robert Koch, pioneer bacteriologist.

To find what is in store for you tomorrow, select your birthday and read the corresponding paragraph. Let your birthday star be your daily guide.

BAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) — Make sure of your facts; then proceed toward your goal without further delay. Avoid disappointment over small initial returns.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23-Jan. 20) — You can realize at least one long-standing dream today if you stay the course! Afternoon hours are best.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21-Feb. 19) — Seek a compromise in recent dispute with co-workers. Otherwise, you may go in for some difficult hours this day.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) — Avoid taking advantage of your present position in the home. He who laughs loudest does not necessarily laugh last!

ARIES (March 21-April 20) — Don't let a sudden dip in that recent business upswing catch you by surprise. Be ready to fall back on your reserves.

TAURUS (April 21-May 21) — A good day for new beginnings; promote your ideas; advertise; approach the proper authorities on legal matters.

GEMINI (May 22-June 21) — The hard-working Gemini can turn unexpected loss into a renewal of gain. Draw on past experience to avoid error.

CANCER (June 22-July 23) — You will need razor-sharp judgment today in your dealings with people, particularly where children are involved.

LEO (July 24-Aug. 23) — Use the morning hours for studying the situation in all its aspects. Your best time for decisive action is later in the day.

VIRGO (Aug. 24-Sept. 23) — Your activities should now be surrounded by better-than-average influences. Take advantage

They are Mrs. Edna McCrory, 39, a Philadelphia divorcee, and Frederick E. Waterhouse, 60, of Collingswood.

Beagle Splashes, Others Follow

TROY, N.Y., Dec. 11 (AP)—Dixie, a beagle hound, fell through thin ice on a pond seven feet deep. Rescuers joined in the icy swim.

First, Dixie's owner, Bill Schlegel, 11, fell into the water—in suburban Scarsdale. Then a friend, also 11, followed.

Next a policeman tried. Two other policemen finally reached Dixie in a rowboat.

The dog rode to shore in the boat.

The boys and the policeman climbed onto thicker ice and walked ashore.

East German Limits Set for Yule Visits

BERLIN, Dec. 11 (AP)—The communist regime of East Germany has insisted on two political conditions for admission of West Berliners to see their relatives in East Berlin at Christmas.

These conditions, always rejected by the West in the past, were:

The West Berlin city administration must deal directly with the West.

the communist regime and not through the West German government in Bonn.

The communist offices for the issuing of permits must be on West Berlin territory.

The conditions were laid down in an article in the East German communist party newspaper Neues Deutschland. West Berlin Mayor Willy Brandt has said that prospects of making a deal with the red regime were not good.

The red regime wrote to Brandt last Thursday, offering to open the wall for West Berliners from Dec. 15 to Jan. 5. East Berliners would not be allowed to go to the West.

Ricks College Embarking On New Era

REXBURG, Dec. 11 (P)—Ricks college, about to embark on a new era, dedicated eight new buildings and named nine in a service Wednesday afternoon.

The elaborate outlay of new and remodeled buildings represents an expenditure of close to five million dollars and boosts this institution a giant step closer to its ultimate goal in higher education.

Following the dedication open house was held in all the buildings.

Buildings dedicated and named are the David O. McKay library building, the George S. Romney science building, the William F. Rigby hall, the Annie Spurr Kerr hall, the Sarah Ann Barnes hall, the Edna Ricks hall and the Virginia H. Perkins hall.

The new Rigby hall is the first of four planned men's dormitories. The Kerr, Barnes, Ricks and Perkins halls are the first four of a planned group of women's dormitories.

In addition a new heating plant and its utilities were dedicated but not named.

Two other buildings already dedicated that received new names are the Oscar A. Kirkham auditorium building and the Jacob Spurr administration building.

Elder Marion G. Romney of the council of twelve, representing the LDS church, delivered the dedicatory address.

Also on the program were Ernest L. Wilkinson, president of Brigham Young university, Provo, and President Harvey L. Taylor of the church school system.

THIS ISN'T A SCENE in a nursery school—it's the inside of Tulsa's Southern Hills National bank, the successor to a bank closed because its bookkeeping got behind. Women brought children along for the long wait either to close or straighten out their accounts. Hundreds of customers—the bank had 30,000 accounts when it was closed—have crowded the new bank since it opened Dec. 2 and there have been long delays for many depositors. These children read and sleep—except for the one little regarding a woman, apparently her mother, with a quizzical eye. The bank serves coffee to waiting customers. (AP wirephoto)

Germans Are Haunted by Nazi Crimes

FRANKFURT, Germany, Dec. 11 (P)—Memories of the darkest Nazi past will be haunting the German Christmas season this year.

The largest war-crimes trial ever held before a German court opens Dec. 20 for 23 men charged with murder or complicity in the death of millions of prisoners at Auschwitz concentration camp.

The defendants include 22 former SS elite guard officers and men who helped guard and run this largest of Nazi death factories. Set up in German-occupied Poland, it was designed to exterminate the Jewish people and others proclaimed "unworthy of life" by Adolf Hitler and his henchmen.

The 23rd defendant is a former Auschwitz inmate who won the confidence of his Nazi bosses.

The trial recalls that of Adolf Eichmann, convicted in Israel two years ago and hanged for crimes against the Jews. In Frankfurt, however, the big wheels are missing. One is dead, and the other is believed to be in Latin America.

Richard Baer, last commander of Auschwitz, died last June while awaiting trial. Baer for years lived under an alias as a lumberjack in north Germany. He was finally traced and arrested late in 1960.

The other widely known Auschwitz figure is Joseph Mengele, the camp physician, who "selected" the gas chamber victims. Mengele, part owner of a machinery plant in south Germany, fled to Latin America after the war and acquired Paraguayan citizenship. The Frankfurt prosecutor has offered a $5,000 reward for information leading to his capture.

The top Frankfurt defendant is a former SS captain, Robert Mulka, 68, who was an adjutant to Rudolf Hoess, first Auschwitz commander.

Hoess was hanged in Poland in 1947. His detailed Auschwitz diary, to be part of the evidence in Frankfurt, estimated that 4 million people were murdered in the camp.

Mulka and several others, including three doctors and the chief camp pharmacist, were among the Auschwitz bureaucrats, as distinguished from the camp guards who join them in the dock.

Fighting among these is Wilhelm Boger, 56, alleged inventor of the "Boger swing" used during interrogation. The prisoner was made to lie on his back with a wooden board across his throat. The interrogator stepped on the board and started rocking until the prisoner was ready to talk—or died.

Emergency Fund Authorized for State Museum

BOISE, Dec. 11 (P)—Gov. Robert E. Smylie has authorized expenditure of funds from his emergency appropriation to re-roof the state historical museum in Boise.

He said the action was prompted by a report from public works Commissioner Arthur Warren that the "point of no return" has been reached and that further delay in the re-roofing project could lead to extensive damage to the 10-year-old structure.

Smylie said he has directed Warren to have plans and specifications for the project drawn up so that bids can be advertised as soon as possible. He said the work should be completed this winter.

Smylie said the legislature has been asked twice to provide for the project but that funds have not been available. He said the board of examiners concurred in his decision to use funds from the emergency appropriation.

Examination for U.S. Posts Open

Examinations are open to fill two federal civil service positions, it was announced Tuesday.

Examinations for the position of civil engineer with the forest service, at salary of $5,525 to $8,650 a year now is open. Also, positions as industrial specialists, with a pay of $9,475, are open.

Additional information and applications may be obtained from the postoffice or from the Seattle region, U.S. civil service commission, federal office building, Seattle 4, Wash.

Several Twin Falls residents attended the 1964 planning conference for the American Oil company Monday and Tuesday in Spokane.

Showdown Is Underway on Beet Acreage

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10 (P)—A showdown began Tuesday among 34 farm and industrial groups seeking sugar beet acreage allotments in 23 states.

The agriculture department opened three days of informal hearings into applications for part of the national sugar beet acreage reserve set aside by 1962 amendments to the sugar act.

Members of congress from five states urged a three-man board to award allotments in their areas, while Gov. Matthew Welch of Indiana sent a representative to urge a 50,000-ton allotment for the Wabash Valley Beet Growers' association. Alfred A. Greenwood, deputy director of the department's sugar policy staff and chairman of the three-man board, spent much of the morning outlining ground rules for witnesses and 15 applications which were filed only today.

Rep. Victor Wickersham, D., Okla., in urging an allotment for the Southwest Oklahoma Beet Growers' association, said the department should "look after farmers in the U.S. before giving allotments to foreign countries."

Other members of congress who testified were Sen. Quentin N. Burdick, D., N. D., and Reps. Clifford McIntyre, R., Me., and George Mahon, D., Tex.

Enough acreage to grow about 180,000 tons of beets remains in the reserve for allotment through 1966. This is the minimum acreage required for four new sugar mills.

Ruby Getting "Grumpy" as Privilege Cut

DALLAS, Dec. 11 (P)—Jack Ruby, the night club operator who killed accused presidential assassin Lee Harvey Oswald, is described as "getting a little grumpy" in his jail cell.

"We've cut down on the number of phone calls he can make and told him he can't have some of the visitors he wanted," Sheriff Bill Decker said today.

"He's not too happy about it." The sheriff reported earlier that Ruby, 27, was a model prisoner.

Meanwhile, Decker was thinking ahead to Feb. 3. Ruby is due to appear in criminal district court that day for trial on a charge of murdering Oswald.

Decker will be responsible for the prisoner's courtroom safety, and the sheriff has received numerous suggestions.

One proposal is for Ruby to sit inside a capsule of bulletproof glass while in court.

There is a question in the minds of some lawyers, however, about how far Decker could go without risk that the Texas court of criminal appeals would set aside a conviction.

Lawyers speculate the appeals court would rule in a capsule of bulletproof glass or other elaborate arrangements could influence jurors as they weigh a verdict.

Defense counsel Tom Howard talked of seeking freedom on bond for Ruby after he shot Oswald in the city hall basement Nov. 24. It appears now, however, that Ruby will stay in the county jail until his trial.

Trees Gone

BURLEY, Dec. 11 (P)—Bureau of land management officials report that the 600 perils to cut Christmas trees south of Almo have been used and the area is closed to further cutting.

Most of the trees were cut last week-end. The bureau said almost one third of the persons seeking trees came from the Twin Falls area, one third from Cassia county and the balance from Minidoka county.

Portland, Dec. 11 (P)—Army engineers plan to call bids soon on more than 52 million dollars in military construction in Washington, Oregon, Idaho, Montana and Alaska.

For the other four states there will be 42 projects costing 11 million dollars. The Seattle district office will handle the projects.

Among the projects is work at Mountain Home air force base.

Attend Meet

IDAHO STATE COLLEGE, Pocatello, Dec. 11—Eight Magic Valley students at ISC attended a special business college symposium in Boise.

They included Tim Johnson, Rupert; Wayne King, Paoli; Charlotte Kinnaman, Shoshone;

David Nelson and Septi Nelson, both Twin Falls; Gilbert Reynolds; Larry Stubbs, Richfield; and Solly Lee, Jerome.

LEMON SALE

THURS.-FRI.-SAT.-MON.
Dec. 12-13-14-16

THE "BIG SQUEEZE" is on and we're caught right in the middle, caught with an overload of slow-moving items we must get rid of FAST before our new fiscal year begins Jan. 1. Nothing much the matter with them except we've got too many. We call 'em "lemons" but you'll call 'em "giveaways" at these fantastic low prices.

We don't want to inventory 'em . . . it would just leave a "sour" taste in our mouths.

Jack must have been looking at the girls at the last appliance market. He's overordered on just about everything and now we must take a price-cut. Take your choice, all big bargains on TVs, lemons, washers and dryers, lemons, freezers, lemons, dishwashers, lemons, refrigerators, lemons, ranges, lemons, stereos, lemons, air conditioners, lemons.

NOT A "SOOR PUSS" IN THE PLACE

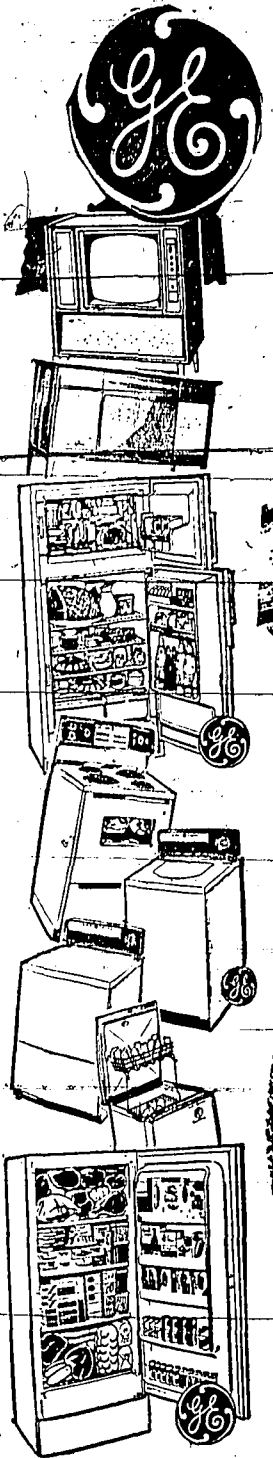

We're just happy to get rid of them—and make you, our customers, happy, too
