Sawyer Won't Debate Laws On Program

CARSON CITY, Feb. 18—(AP)—Gov. Grant Sawyer turned down Tuesday to appear on a television program "Open House" produced by David Susskind.

The governor was invited to appear with the co-authors of a book on Nevada gambling after the Green felt Jung was the author of co-authors Ed Sawyer and Ovid Demaris.

"I do not wish to lend dignity to writers who have sacrificed the principles of truth and honesty to further the sale of their product," Sawyer said further in his refusal.

"I would welcome the opportunity to appear on a program of such high caliber to debate Nevada's legal gambling with responsible persons who hold contrasting views," he said.

"My approach to this subject may vary from time to time throughout the nation," Sawyer said.

He said he would not appear on a program that would not be sensitive about the subject of gambling, but he believed it proper that all Nevada representatives of Nevada appear on public platforms only with recognized, responsible persons. To do less is beneath the dignity of the state.

Color Bar Broken by Fraternity

BOZEMAN, Ore., Feb. 18 (AP)—A University of Oregon social fraternity today announced it has pledged a Negro student, Lenora E. Brown, 18, a freshman mathematics major from Portland who holds two scholarships.

Members of the Greek letter society, acceptance of Brown was hailed by University President James Fleming as "a landmark development in the history of the fraternity system and the state."

Other university officials said it was the first time in memory that a campus social fraternity had accepted a Negro member.

Brown said tonight that she accepted an offer to join Tau Kappa Epsilon last night following a rush date at the house.

The invitation came at the house of a local white, Fern Tucker. Tucker, Brown said, had visited six other fraternities on the campus but was not offered a bid to join the house.

Brown was introduced to fraternity members by a pledgee living in the same dormitory as the mathematics major.

Sen. President Chuck Backman said that Brown was a good decision and well liked by members of the house.

"We don't regard it as special," he commented on the initial breakthrough of the color bar in the University Greek letter system.

In Portland, Brown's father, Benjie Brown, who is employed in the maintenance department at Portland state college, said he would like to see his daughter join a fraternity.

He said he and his wife gave their approval and added he was "very pleased" with the announcement.

Brown, who holds a $200 in dormitory cafeteria, said he would major in the house next fall. University rules prohibit freshmen from living in the fraternity chapter house although they may be initiated into the organization during their first year at school.

Fleming apparently learned of the action today when a reporter for the campus newspaper, the Oregon Daily Emerald, asked him to comment on the chapter pledging a Negro student.

"I assume that your information is correct," he told the reporter, "and on that basis I would like to say that I am delighted the news later was confirmed by the fraternity."

Threat of Rail Strike Is Delayed

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19 (AP)—The threat of a nationwide rail strike next Tuesday has ended with a decision by the railroad to delay for a time putting disrupted new work rules into effect.

But a spokesman said that no decision has been made to delay a new showdown in the five-year dispute until after next November's presidential election, as reported in the Washington Star.

Congress last summer ordered compulsory arbitration for the key firemen and train crew disputes. Other issues were left to be negotiated.

Negotiations on such matters as wage scales, working conditions, vacations and holidays, are reported getting underway.

The railroads could force the issue by ordering new work rules put into effect.

Pennsylvania Negro Church Is Bombed

AMBLER, Pa., Feb. 18 (AP)—An explosion ripped through the front of the Negro Bethlehem Baptist church in nearby Lower Merion last night. The blast killed one person and caused an estimated $10,000 damage.

Sgt. John Smart of Lower Merion police said the explosion probably was set off outside the front of the building.

Police said it apparently was caused by a bomb and they ordered a tarpaulin placed over the blast area to preserve evidence.

Members of the church choir had left the church just 15 minutes before the explosion.

The blast was felt in communities as far as three miles from here in the Philadelphia suburbs.

Heavy stone steps leading to the two-story stone building were reduced to rubble and wooden benches—evidence police reported—were thrown forward and plaster was knocked from the walls.

The five-class St. Holmes estimated the damage and said he believed the explosion was caused by dynamite.

Officials Slated At Malta Parley

MALTA, Feb. 19—A group of officials expected to attend the dedication of Malta's new post office at 10 a.m. Saturday are Ben. Ralph Harding and Postal Service Officer Ed Romp.

The dedication will feature band music, officials and refreshments.

This new postal facility, like most of the new postal facilities being built today, is housed in the department. This department is now concentrating on construction only where new postal units are most urgently needed.

The fact that Malta has been chosen for a new postoffice, comments Postmaster Dale Pierce reflects credit on our growing contribution to the economy and life of the nation, and our patrons will derive more enjoyment from doing business here. Their mail will be handled more efficiently and this new building will enable us to work under the best of conditions.

Budget Is up

HATLEY, Feb. 19—Bainbridge county commissioners have approved a $201,571 budget for 1964, which is $5,000 higher than the 1963 budget. The increase of $5,000 is due to the increase in the cost of election expenses.

The county levy will be lower, however, because of more than one million dollars increase in valuation of property.

SISTER ILL
WENDELL, Feb. 19—Mr. and Mrs. Robert Smith have been called to Pittsburgh because of the illness of Mrs. William Knicker, the former Kenah Smith, sister of Mrs. Smith. Mr. and Mrs. Smith plan to return Friday.

The classes are being conducted in advance of the club's dog show, to be held May 19-20 to create more interest through a clearer understanding of what takes place during a show and how winners are determined. Subject of the first class will be the mechanics of a dog show.

Shaw also will make suggestions on how to condition dogs for the show.

Mrs. Max Wilkinson, 788 Grant avenue, publicity and public relations chairman for the club, said Wednesday "Make a mental picture of yourself and the dog entering a building containing 500 other dogs and you will know the meaning and purpose of conditioning."

The club encourages all persons interested in dogs to attend the classes.

Miss Howerton Makes Official Visit to Unit
DULY, Feb. 18—Pauline Howerton, Payette, Rebekah assembly president, urged members to recognize the business of membership when she spoke on the theme "Business of Membership" at the address to the Bull Rebekah lodge No. 29 in an official visit.

She pointed out that to know the true meaning of membership is not to lose oneself to service of humanity and cannot live for self alone. In outlining her program, she noted her theme is harmony; her emblem, the triple clasp with seven symbolic meanings; her guide, the open Bible; her watchword, peace, justice and harmony; her motto, be true to self; her flower, the pink rose, and her slogan, "Let your heart make music."

Miss Howerton urged the lodge to hold a fund raising program during the year to further her efforts for returning the children for the Home on the Hill, Caldwell.

She urged lodge members to keep 100 per cent paid membership in the eye bank and visual research program by contributing to the eye bank membership received into the lodge.

Miss Howerton pointed out a contest being conducted among lodges in the state. At the end of the year awards will be given to lodge showing the highest average attendance for the year.

Lodges that receive special honors will be introduced and given a seal of honor in addition to their regular seal. Other guests introduced presented with a heart-shaped seal of honor were Mrs. W. D. Parks, outside guardian of the Bull Rebekah lodge, and Mrs. G. W. ...

Long-Range Road Safety Laws Urged

BOISE, Feb. 19 (AP)— Unless state legislators approach traffic laws on a long-range and flexible basis, the nation may suffer much up with highway transportation problems, a safety expert said today.

The challenge to state lawmakers was voiced by Louis H. Morony, Washington, director of the law division of the American safety foundation. Morony spoke at the final session of an eight-state regional meeting, one of six conducted across the country by the traffic safety committee of the President's commission on traffic safety.

"Despite all the experience of the past," Morony said, "we are still approaching traffic safety as a short-term, stop-gap measure and never quite catching up."

In a state accident prevention laws must be "soundly conceived, adequate in legal authority and enforced in such a way as to keep abreast of impending increases in motor vehicle registration, license drivers and vehicle mileage."

Morony recommended that legislators establish in their states a permanent committee to study and plan highway safety. These committees, he said, "should be given an intelligent approach to the traffic problems."

Morony stressed that traffic safety is the concern of individual states, a principle spelled out Tuesday by President Johnson, Washington, president of the insurance Institute for Highway Safety. But Brown warned that unless state officials begin meeting traffic problems, the federal government might step in.

Politicians Belabor Each Other's Views

By United Press International
New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller and Arizona Sen. Barry M. Goldwater belabored each other's views today while organized labor trained its guns on another GOP presidential possibility, Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton.

Rocketeer flew to New Hampshire to begin yet another campaign swing through the state with the nation's first presidential preference primary.

Already on the vote-seeking trail in New Hampshire were Goldwater and former Illinois Gov. Harold D. Dassen, who arrived Monday night.

In remarks prepared for delivery at Rochester, N. H., Wednesday, Rockefeller said that the so-called "voluntary" social security system suggested by Goldwater was "unworkable" and would "bankrupt the social security system."

Rocketeer said Goldwater's notion could create a "social shambles" instead of social security and "take away the protection of our senior citizens."

The attack on Scranton came in a resolution adopted by the labor federation's 29th executive council Tuesday. AFL-CIO President George Meany said he doubted Scranton ever would receive endorsement for political office in light of his recent recommendations for revamping Pennsylvania's "jobless-payment" program.

Goldwater's fire was concentrated principally on Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara during a busy round of speeches and handshakes today.

McNamara's statement that U.S. missiles are more reliable than the nation's bombers, Goldwater said the statement showed that McNamara was placing more faith in an untested weapon than one that has been tried like bombers.

But later in the day at Newport, N. H., he defended his recent statement that the United States should send a detachment of marines into Cuba to remove the Guatemalan naval base's water supply.

Rocketeer had criticized the statement as "reckless." "Was it reckless to send an entire fleet out to protect ourselves during the missile crisis?"

There will be skating, a trip on the ski lifts and a special program to follow at the Sun Valley LDS church. The state gold and green ball will be held that night at Halley.

The Lenten Story

BY WOODY ISHMAEL

CHRIST ENTERS JERUSALEM

"Hosanna in the highest!" the crowds cried and strewed His path with their garments and with branches of palm trees.
Thus, Jesus entered Jerusalem in triumph, seated on a colt so as to fulfill the ancient prophecy: "Thy king cometh upon thee, meek and sitting upon an ass, the foal of a beast of burden." (Matthew XXI:5)
In less than a week, the same crowds would cry out, "Crucify Him! Crucify Him!"

Anti-Gaming Forces to Meet Resistance

BY JOHN WHITE

BOISE, Feb. 19—A more bygone anti-gaming force to repeal Idaho's pari-mutuel law apparently will meet stiff resistance in the 1963 legislature despite support by Gov. Robert B. Smylie, who vetoed the law only to see it enacted over his objections, has said on several occasions he will veto the 1963 legislature to repeal it.

But a questionnaire sampling Idaho legislators indicates opponents of the movement face an uphill fight in their efforts to muster the majority needed to remove the law from the books.

Of 114-32 lawmakers replying to the question, 14 said they will vote for repeal and 15 indicated they like the law should stand.

Pari-mutuel proponents claim historical precedent on their side. They point out that similar bills were enacted three times prior to the 1963 session. Each of the previous measures was killed by gubernatorial veto but the fact they passed all indicated hard core support for pari-mutuel.

They also claim their hand was strengthened by state supreme court ruling upholding the constitutionality of the betting law.

On the other hand, opponents contend the lawmakers passed the bill over Smylie's veto because it would be declared unconstitutional by the courts and are now ready to toss it out.

On the basis of answers to the questionnaire, however, the measure may have picked up some support among lawmakers, who voted against it in 1962.

"I did not vote for pari-mutuel in the last session but I did vote to override the governor's veto and probably will vote for it again," said Sen. J. Cecil Sandberg, D., Blinnham.

"I personally believe it is the responsibility of the legislature to pass the laws and to interpret the legality of such laws.

"Pari-mutuel is now lawful in Idaho and I believe it should be given a chance to see if it will work to the betterment of the state. If not, it can be repealed at a later session."

Rep. H. Dean Summers, R., Ada, expressed a similar opinion. "In 1963 I voted against the bill at the start but to override the veto," he said. "I would probably vote against repeal."

Some lawmakers who voted for the bill have indicated no change of heart. "I voted for an industry," said Rep. Claire B. Hill, R., Canyon, and "I will vote for it again."

Sen. Fred Olsen, D., Adams, said he believes the "question should be put up to the voters."

"I would like to see pari-mutuel put on the ballot and let the people decide the issue," he said. "I voted to override the governor's veto but now the question is before us again and he (Smylie) says he will ask for repeal with the law.

On the 27-12 in the senate and 41-17 in the house.

If the question is presented in the 1963 legislature, the vote will undoubtedly cross party lines.

Of the 114 lawmakers who said they oppose repeal, 10 are Republicans and eight are Democrats. Five Democrats and nine Republicans favor doing away with the law.

This puts the horse breeders and people interested in pari-mutuel in a tough spot with nothing settled. I say let the voters decide the issue and have it settled one way or the other."

Among the legislators polled, only those who voted against the bill in 1963 have indicated they will support repeal.

The 1963 vote on the measure was 23-19 in the senate and 34-23 in the house. The vote to override the veto was 27-12 in the senate and 41-17 in the house.

Negro Panel Tells Pocatello Crowd What Life Is Like When You're Black

POCATELLO, Feb. 19—A Negro, who spent seven years before his father and his sons and told him that the Negroes are black can't do anything and can't get certain jobs.

Mr. Purce, a hostler attending with the Union Pacific, said he remembers the reverse all the time. The day his six-year-old son from school and asked him to be black, as his classmates had told him.

Mr. Williams, a nurse, had to explain to her puzzled daughter why there are all colors of flowers in the garden.

Janice Crowe, a student at Idaho State university, said the discrimination from classmates can't really start until junior high school. Then there is no so dance with in the social dancing section of physical education class.

Janita Morris, a housewife, said she has been told in Pocatello stores that she can't buy a dress, it's just because they think the black will rub off.

Darvin Secrest, also an Idaho state university chairman, said he has never been refused service in a Pocatello store, but he sometimes has to walk with all the white customers have been taken care of.

That, the six Negroes told the audience of more than 125 here there. If I try to move Tuesday night, is what it's like to be black.

They were appearing on a panel sponsored by the Pocatello Civil Rights committee. "What is Life Like to Be Black?" was the panel topic.

The six Negroes agreed that discrimination is not as great in Pocatello as in the South, but there is a beneath-the-surface color line in Pocatello.

Secrest said, for example, that when he goes into a store he often sees clerks peering at him from around counters because "if you're a Negro, they don't trust you."

Mrs. Crowe said that when a Negro arrives early at a school program or an athletic event, the white people who come in later "sit every place but near you, as if you had some kind of smell or you're going to kill them."

Mrs. Morris said she has "developed a hard shell" to deal with discrimination. "I was carefully trained by my parents to expect anything and not let it get under my skin."

"We have people we're not proud of, and so do you. We want nice houses—and I don't mean nice ghettos down there where we've been pushed to gether. People go through that part of town and they say niggers live there. If I try to move real estate men find all kinds of excuses," Mrs. Morris said.

Wilson said part of the housing problem is economic in that many Negroes can't get a job good enough that they can afford to move out of the Negro section.

"But just a Negro get the non-said there, no said, and then what, cause the ropes will be flying tonight."

Purce said he had made a down payment on a house outside the Negro neighborhood, but the real estate man gave him the money back when whites in the new neighborhood complained.

Mrs. Morris agreed, however, that the situation is improving in Pocatello.

"There is only one restaurant now where we can't go," she said. "I'm still looked down on a lot," she told the crowd. "I can always look back."

The women on the panel said the Negroes are black, they are all promiscuous.

"I know there are streets in Pocatello," said Miss Crowe. "That you don't walk down if you are a decent Negro girl. They (white men) figure all Negroes gether. People go through that

Buick Open Will Not Be Televised

FLINT, Mich., Feb. 19 (AP)—A disagreement over television rights will result in a TV black-out of next summer's Buick Open Golf tournament, a Buick spokesman said Tuesday night. The tournament, which will go on as scheduled June 11-14 at nearby Warwick Hills, but the spokesman said it will not be televised because of differences with the PGA over TV rights.

The spokesman said it was his understanding the PGA wanted a 20 per cent cut of the TV proceeds in the case of the Buick tournament, he said, this would amount to about $11,000 of the tournament's $55,000.

"We don't want to enter into that battle," he added. "The problem of ownership of TV rights to PGA tournaments first came up earlier this month when Philip H. Hirsch, president of the Phoenix open unless given the rights which had already been sold by the sponsor of the tournament to Sports network.

A compromise was reached and the tournament went on. But Larry Crosby, director of the Buick Open, said he was dissatisfied when he accused the PGA of making "outrageous demands" by asking for 20 per cent of all television money on tournament sponsored events.

Minico Erupts in Third Period To Sweep Past Bobcats 56-46

RUPERT, Feb. 19.—Minico's Spartans exploded for 22 points in the third quarter Tuesday night to prevent retiring coach Bill Matkows with one of the finest things any Spartans coach could ask to end a career off-arch-rival Burley. The Spartans, thus avenging an earlier one-point loss to the Bobcats, took the decision 56-46 and at wasn't that easy. Until Burley shifted into a man-to-man defense, the Spartans trailed almost as much as they led. It was the final season-games for coach Matkows, who announced his resignation last week. He will, of course, lead the Spartans into the southern district A-1 tournament next week.

Rockland Is 53-31 Winner Over Hansen

HANSEN, Feb. 19.—Rockland shrugged off a torrid opening by the Hansen Huskies and went on to take a 53-31 Southside conference victory Tuesday night.

The Spartan victory was a team affair, although Rockland's Randy Mills and Mike Manning provided most of the scoring punch. Burley after Matkows' first eight shots from the field, saw its offense sag in the second half. Only some outside shooting by Russ Malloy kept it from becoming a complete rout.

The first quarter, although both teams were hampered by nervous ball handling, was tight. The biggest difference in the times-and-was tied three, but at the buzzer Burley was on top 13-11.

As the second period began Brent Catmull, Kerbs and Manning hit two points each without a Burley reply and from then on Minico was the leader.

The Spartans' game plan proved to be a field goal and a charity tosses and Ralph Rasmussen got a field goal to cut it to 20-10. But Manning Mills and Miller got points over the next four minutes that let Minico take a 25-20 lead in conclusion.

Minico thoroughly dominated the third quarter, with Miller and Manning often hands on the boards for cripples through the Burley defense. The lead built steadily until it reached a 40-34 with 48 seconds left.

In the last period Minico slowed down the game and almost lost its momentum when Malloy hit his quick field goals and Rasmussen hit a free throw to reduce the margin to seven points with 4:37 left. But Mills hit two goals in the next two minutes and Minico stalled the clock out with out-much pressure.

Dimes March Airlift Due On Week-End

The annual March of Dimes airlift will be held from 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Saturday and Sunday. The airplanes will take off from Twin Falls and fly north until they reach the Snake river canyon and then fly over the city limits of Twin Falls. They will not fly directly over the city.

There will be eight pilots, using their own private planes, taking part in the event. Edwin Woods, airport manager, who is conducting the event, said Wednesday it costs about $18 for an airplane to stay in the air for an hour.

He said all proceeds would go to the March of Dimes, but the pilots will have to get some money for fuel. The pilots are donating their time and planes.

The flights will last about 20 minutes. The prices will be $2.50 for adults and $1.25 for children up to 12 years of age.

INSPECTING AIRPLANE to be used for social flights over the Twin Falls area are Harold (left) Filtmore, left, and Edwin Woods, airport manager, who is conducting the event. The trips are an annual event sponsored for the March of Dimes. There will be eight pilots and eight planes taking part in the event from 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Saturday and Sunday. (Times-News photo)

Supper Held At Hagerman Grange Meet

HAGERMAN, Feb. 19—A pancake supper was cooked and served by the men of the Hagerman Grange Monday evening.

An American Cancer society film, "The Million Club" was shown by Allan Ravencroft. The emphasis was placed on the hopeful side of recovery for cancer patients, and showed that over a million patients have lived and recovered from cancer.

Mrs. W. A. Carter, Gooding county unit chairman, urged support of the society's fund raising drive to be held in April.

Mrs. Carter also stated that memorials may be sent to the Cancer society in care of Mrs. Leand Felschman, Gooding. Other guests were Henry Schmitt and Thomas Crow, Wendell Granger.

Schmitt presented a recording of a speech given by Elvin O'Konki, Wisconsin congressman, at a recent NFA convention in Des Moines, Ia.

Mrs. William Scruggs announced the Pomona school will be served at the "Mill" supper at 7:30 p.m. Saturday.
