Businessmen Say Tax Cut May Be Risky

NEW YORK, Feb. 23 — Many businessmen say a federal income tax cut is an exciting but possibly risky experiment.

It could lead to the kind of inflation, says Dr. Arnold O. Anderson of Eastern Michigan University in suburban Los Angeles, that would offset any benefits.

Others have the other hand. William L. Turman, president of J. M. Hill Metals company in Atlanta, Ga., said "it's a sure thing we would put us in a brand new era of economic growth."

Business leaders interviewed recently on a cross-country tour gave varying estimates of the benefits of the tax cut.

Businesses in the oil industry, now actual $11.5-billion-dollar tax reduction.

But all seemed to agree that tax rates have been too high for many years.

"Tax rates have been oppressive," says John A. Barr, Chicago, chairman of Montgomery Ward and company.

"This reduction is a good first step," Barr said. "It should not be considered as the end of the road. Many businessmen have been skeptical of the theory that a tax cut could create a balance budget because it would stop tax revenue.

These businessmen say they don't want to base on the idea that they want expansion, as well.

"We can't deny the inflationary aspect of a tax cut without the aid of government spending," said Beckman. "It should be accompanied by real cutbacks in spending."

Survey Shows Many Doctors Quit Cigarettes

Real Eye-Opener

Progress of the campaign to raise $600,000 for a civic auditorium-convention hall is a real eye-opener. Dozens upon dozens of Twin Falls residents have been giving freely of their time and talents and almost 700 individual donations have been counted.

For more than a month residents can recall—practically—everyone here has agreed Twin Falls needs a civic center. Always the center through the years the task has seemed beyond the means and ability of the community. Even though strong grassroots support has always been evident, no board or public officials ever showed the courage to start action on a bond issue, election or tax levy to acquire an auditorium.

Now there should be no more doubt of the drive's success. With cash and pledges already exceeding $400,000, the goal is practically within sight. Certainly the last $200,000 needed will be no problem. On the other hand, anyone who might have been delaying a contribution because of doubt will have a chance now to leap on the bandwagon. Practically everyone should be proud to be identified with the campaign's outstanding success.

Beyond the immediate success of the campaign, there's the suggestion the effort has been good for Twin Falls and its people. It has been many years since local residents acted in such a manner to acquire something that could be of widespread benefit. Let's all hope the spirit never dies.

Horstrading had old practice in the Idaho legislature, but that's a couple of issues this year that could see the practice involve all Idaho voters. The issues are a sales tax and constitutional amendment. Everyone is familiar with the former proposal, the latter is a relatively new one, particularly around southern Idaho.

The sales tax proposal has more support in southern Idaho than up north, although it would be misleading to say there are more voters in the sales tax "no" vote. It's early, but there has been some outspoken opposition to any proposal for a sales tax, particularly around border cities. Some businessmen in such communities as Lewiston and Moscow have opposed a sales tax on principle. It's early, but there has been some outspoken opposition to any proposal for a sales tax, particularly around border cities.

WHIRLIGIG

BY ANDREW TULLY
WASHINGTON, Feb. 26—Four months from now, five or six Republican congressmen will meet in San Francisco to nominate a presidential candidate. The man who will be chosen is beginning to be one of men of one to whom the man seeking that nomination looks.

There are many reasons for this, not the least of which is that Nixon lost the presidency in 1960 by only a few votes. As vice president he traveled around the world, and he was privy to White House councils on foreign policy problems. RIGHT SNAKE DAM
The federal power commission's license to Pacific Northwest Power company (composed of the Snake River dam in the Snake river is the right decision on an economic standpoint. Should the license be granted, the Washington public agency (formed by Washington public agencies) facing an appeal to the courts, one suspects that the legal decision will be in favor of the dam.

There is another factor arguing against a court appeal, however. That is a Portland federal district court judge in the Snake river dam is not legally qualified to take a project within the borders of Oregon and Idaho. # The Lenten Story

By WOODY ISHMAEL

JEROME, Feb. 28 — Werner Lippman, Swiss exchange student, spoke to Jerome Rotary club members on Switzerland last evening when they met Tuesday at Woods cafe.

THE BETRAYAL

Judas Iscariot held a position of high trust among the twelve Apostles. It was he who kept the purse and had charge of collecting the money that sustained Jesus and His followers in their travels about the countryside.

Blinded by greed, he went to the chief priests and asked them: "What are you willing to give me, and I will deliver Him to you?" And they counted him out thirty pieces of silver. And from then on he was watching for an opportunity to betray Him." (Matthew XXVI:14-16)

Although Judas had seen Christ perform many miracles and had lived with Him for three years, his faith was not strong enough to sustain him in history's most harrowing moment of temptation!

Business Mirror

LENDERS NOTE—Ways of serving borrowers with loans needed in the 1960's have been discussed by a panel of business leaders at the annual meeting of the National Business Roundtable in New York City.

AP BUSINESS NEWS ANALYST
 NEW YORK, Feb. 28 (AP)—Many are saying that one way or another the 1960's will have to be made to soar. They reason that industry, labor, government, all realize that the stakes are now too high, the perils of a complete falling downturn from current heights are too great, to let the economy falter.

HOW THINGS LOOK TODAY
 How things look today depends on where you are. For a few of the 1960's are a growing disappointment—dimming chances of finding work, widening the gap between the affluent and the poor, for most, perhaps, the 60's are a let-up.

STEEL EXERCISE CAN SAY
 A steel executive can say the outlook is on the brighter side. Another can predict the cost of making steel will drop $20 to $40 a ton by 1970 from today's average of $150, which might give foreign competitors pause.

ELECTRIC UTILITIES SPOKESMAN
 An electric utilities spokesman thinks "a period of striking growth could be at hand." He sees last year's utility bill as a harbinger of expansion becoming $ billion dollars a year by 1970.

MAKERS OF CONSUMER GOODS
 Point to an increasing population for large markets and expect that many stores feared out of commission by the year 2000 will be back in business.

Man Bites Dog

KAMPALA, Uganda, Feb. 28—A man bit a dog here, police Sgt. Bill Humphreys said yesterday. The animal, a police patrol dog, bit back in self-defense.

Humphreys said the dog surprised an African breaking into a theater, chased the man who turned and grappled with it, biting it on the right ear.

Later, a man was arrested and charged with being a rogue and a vagabond, he added.

Minico Reports All-A Students'

RUPERT, Feb. 28 — The first semester honor roll for students earning all A's was released this week by officials at Minico high school.

Included on the list of seniors are Elizabeth Adams, Barbara J. Janssen, Jeffery Bell, Jane Janssen, Jean Balch, Carol Manning, and Art Mangan and John Mutch.

Juniors are Wanda Ashcraft, Fred Smok, Salomon, said he believed the governor was "doing all he can" to hold the attorney general's office regulations to govern horse racing.

He said he believes the governor was responsible for the delay in an effort to make it more difficult for racing to start this year.

But Arthur Oppenheimer, Boise committee chairman, said the governor had been very fair in dealing with the committee. He said although the governor opposes racing, "he hasn't tried to sabotage it."

He said the committee expects to get regulations from the attorney general's office soon and will immediately schedule a meeting for fair board officials to give their views.

YOUR BIRTHDAY and HOROSCOPE

FRIDAY, FEB. 28—Born today, you are a "half-dreamer half-practical doer." On the one hand you will desire having much to do with the competitive world and are quite content to build your own air, your own success, and there all the deeds that make life worthwhile. On the other hand you will desire to have a lot of waste of living in a dream world and so, when you do meet people you won't do so and long to conquer it, it only to prove to yourself that you can conquer it with you.

Something of a recluse at heart, you like to meditate upon the spiritual aspects of things. Philosophy appeals to you greatly, and your analytical mind can't get on with the serious student of thought. Your happy field might well be that of teaching, for you are sure that you might be able to join the contemplative with the active world.

You are generous, sympathetic, and kind-hearted, always desiring to do good. You are fortunate than yourself. Yet, you have a strong will and are not easily swayed. You are difficult for people to take advantage of your generosity.

As a student in the morning, your sense of logic defers the wild late afternoon time. You will take almost every time. You are a student of thought. You are a student of thought. You are a student of thought.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 24-Jan. 19)—Seek an improvement in your working conditions. A good day for approaching your superiors for a raise.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Graham were without water at their ranch last week because a rod burst out in their pump. Mr. Graham says the stock was without water for two days before the pump was repaired.

Mrs. Sylvia Heath has rented her ranch land to Charles East of the Gooding tract. Her ranch is located on Clover creek east of King Hill.

Mr. and Mrs. William (Bill) Ellis have quit farming and left for Phoenix, Ariz., to make their home. The Ellises have been farming the ranch of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Ellis, Boise, east of King Hill, for the past year. Ellis will remain at the ranch until he can sell or lease the farm.

Mr. and Mrs. William Trull, Pocatello, Idaho, moved to their present home at their ranch in Paucinda Valley last week and soon will move to the Anderson ranch near Hill City which they purchased. They were assisted in moving by his son, Carl Trull, Pocatello, and their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Kohler, Boise.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Hill have purchased a farm southeast of Buhl formerly owned by Mr. and Mrs. Henry Winger. The Wingers have purchased a business and will make their new home near Salmon, Ore.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Lawyer have sold their 80-acre farm two miles east and one mile north of Hansen to Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Stanger. Who live across the road from the ranch. The Lawyers have purchased a 1,200-acre cattle ranch two miles north and one-half mile west of Bliss. Their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Vern Schroeder, have moved to the ranch and the Lawyers are moving there, too. They have a son, Terry, in high school, who is to finish his term at Hansen. He is 89 belonging to Mrs. Gladys Cowan, and another 85 belonging to Cecilia Fay, California, which were farmed by Lawyer, also will be farmed by Stanger this year.

Charles Colner, of the Colner ranch north of Hansen, reports he is about 185 per cent in lambing operations. Lambing started about Jan. 12 and is nearly finished. They have 650 ewes.

Jack Tewes, farmer northwest of Richfield, is looking forward to making season on Rock creek, on the backwaters of Magde dam. Tewes has been traveling 25 miles each day to the ranch and his late uncle, Clarence Tewes, where he feeds range cattle for both himself and his uncle's outfit. Two and one-half to three feet of snow covers the ground up there and Tewes isn't looking forward to staying with the 130 head of cattle. Tewes was only kept away from home one night during last week's blizzard, but admits he didn't make it there on all the other nights.

Blocked roads at Richfield last week caused one man to walk six and three-fourths miles into town, en route to Shoshone to get mail. After leaving Richfield, still on foot, he was followed and taken to Elmore by car by Joe Parker, who heard of the man's plight. The man reported to road crew workers that he didn't mind making as long as the wind didn't blow.

Martin Larsen, Clayton, had 107 head of black Angus cattle trucked to his ranch northwest of Richfield Saturday. He purchased the range stock at Blackfoot and they will be cared for by Ralph Harris, manager of Hansen's 100 head ranch. Larsen's cattle and his Hereford range stock will be taken to Obidian for summer range.

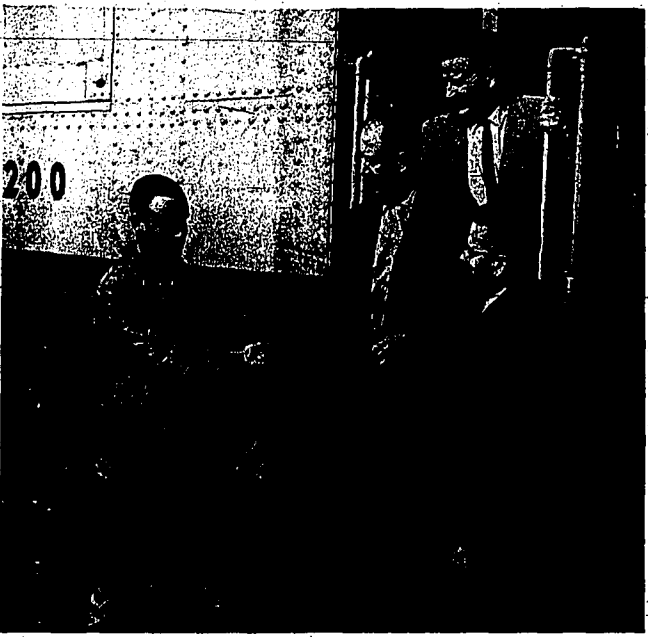

A new brick veneer home has been completed on the Charis Hobday ranch northwest of Bliss and the Hobdays are living in it. The outside work was to be done in one hour in an all-electric gold medal home, with two bedrooms on the main floor and a bedroom and recreation room in the basement. It was constructed in front of their other home.

A registered milking shorthorn, K-Lilly's Beau Prince, a bull calf, was purchased by John A. Redington, from James D. Redington, of the American Milking Shorthorn association at Spring-Field, Mo.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald D. Anderson have moved into their new home, constructed this winter in the View community. He is employed in the Turley irrigation district office in Burley.

Pear Prices To Rise Due To Shortage

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28 (AP)—Consumers will pay more for pears this year than last, according to economic research service.

Bad weather slashed pear production by one-third last year, causing housewives to pay a lot more for the fresh fruit in retail stores than they did in 1962. They paid more for canned Bartlett, too, according to ERB.

The crop reporting board said the 1963 pear crop was smallest since 1927. The small crop pushed up prices about 50 per cent higher than in 1962. Poor weather in California and Oregon was a largely responsible.

The recent cold storage reports showed there are fewer pears on hand than usual, and that canned Bartlett supplies are much lighter than heavy stocks in California and Oregon a year ago.

Cowboy Wins

Sheep Tour Set

DUBOIS, Feb. 28—A field day and sheep tour has been planned jointly between the U.S. sheep experiment station, the University of Idaho and the Clark and Jefferson county extension services for March on the U.S. sheep experiment station recently developed a winter feeding facility for winter management of the experimental sheep. This facility will be of general interest to extension personnel and to sheepmen.

The facility is located west of Terrell on state highway 88.

Many Factors Determine Programs Used on UP Car

Buhl, Feb. 28—"We have to adjust our program to fit the size of the crowd, the type of crowd and the time available," said George Cleveland, University of Idaho extension dairyman, the "UP" referred to is Boyd Baxter, Union Pacific agriculture agent. Cleveland and car number 200—Union Pacific's "farm car on wheels."

Baxter and the car cover countless miles each year bringing information on farming to farmers and ranchers along the railroad. This year the theme for southern Idaho is dairying.

According to Cleveland, vocational agriculture students completed the largest single section of the farm community to attend the educational shows held on the car. However, at a stop here, some 10 Twin Falls county dairymen and farmers listened to the talks and saw special Union Pacific films. The morning session was devoted to FFA students from the surrounding area.

"Often we have a couple of hours and sometimes we have only 30 minutes," said Cleveland. "We are flexible enough to adjust our program."

Before the start of the regular program, Baxter entertained area farmers with scenic and travel films.

Car 200, a special car used by the railroad, has an auditorium which will seat some 75 persons. A projection and sound booth is located at one end and living quarters for Baxter are in the other end of the car. The state runs down the side of the car rather than through the center.

The rear seats are elevated to provide a better view of the screen and the speaker's area. Everything necessary needed to operate the car is contained on the car, such as water, power and heat.

Farmers up and down the right or way usually are well informed as to when the car will be making an appearance in that part of his country. Programs are geared to fit the local situation by including the extension service, the county agent and other interested agriculture personnel, said Cleveland.

Globe Tablet Cures Scours With Calves

PORT WORTH, Tex. Feb. 28—A tablet to combat most types of scours in calves is being marketed by Globe Laboratories, Twin Falls, Idaho.

Globe's terramycin scours tablets. The niazinamide is a member of the B vitamin complex which aids the nervous system, helps the calf synthesize its own B vitamins, and is a supplement growth factor. Vitamin A is essential in the maintenance of normal mucous membrane lining. Vitamin D helps the calf derive calcium in its body, and therefore is also a growth element needed shortly after birth.

Simple action call for the application of one tablet per day, and infectious or severe scours calls for the dosage of two to three tablets per day.

CORN • SUGAR BEETS SMALL GRAINS • POTATOES

There are many advantages to early fertilization in most western areas—you get the job done before the late spring rush; plants get the nutrients they need for an early start; early application checks water run-off and increases water-holding capacity.

On corn, sugar beets, potatoes, small grains and other crops, many farmers report excellent results with pre-plant fertilization.

Legal Questions Raised At Jerome Bean Meeting

HAZELTON, Feb. 28—Over 100 bean growers attended a meeting here on the control of Halo blight in beans. Idaho Commission on Agricultural State Treasuries asked the Idaho Commission of Agriculture to institute enforcement regulatory measures for growing up or destroying Halo blight in the bean fields and the possibility of compensating the grower for such plowed or destroyed fields.

During the meeting the following motion was made and passed by those in attendance:

That the bean industry of Idaho immediately from the Idaho state department of agriculture, the Idaho Commission of Agriculture, the Idaho State Treasuries, be asked to institute enforcement regulatory measures for growing up or destroying Halo blight in the bean fields and the possibility of compensating the grower for such plowed or destroyed fields.

This action followed a discussion which brought out the fact that the bean industry of Idaho was a new strain of Halo blight present in the bean fields of Magic Valley.

This new type of bacterial blight poses a definite threat to the bean industry of Idaho and all possible steps to eliminate it should be taken before it becomes too widely established in the area.

An immediate answer to the blight and also on the possibilities of compensating the growers to properly plan their plantings and the possibilities of private protection against loss from destroyed crops.

Some 200 people were in attendance. Taking part in the program were Dr. Leslie Dean Bean Research Laboratory, Twin Falls; Marshall LeBaron, superintendent, Kimberly experiment station; Stanley Tremballe, commissioner of agriculture; Bobbie Barstow, member of Idaho Bean Commission, and W. O. Priest, Jerome county agent.

Mails Cards To Farmers

BOISE, Feb. 28—Three thousand farmers will take part this week in the annual survey of farmers' planting intentions, made by the U. S. department of agriculture.

State agricultural statistician, Clarence E. White, announced today that he is sending an official survey card to a random sample of farmers throughout the state, asking each farmer to report the number of acres he expects to plant in each crop this year, and the number of acres planted to the same crop last year.

Reports from Idaho farmers will become part of a nationwide report on farmers' planting intentions to be issued by the statistical reporting service on Mar. 18.

This report, issued annually for more than 30 years, is useful to farmers in adjusting their own plans, to industries serving agriculture and to many public agencies.

Idaho Calf Crop to Top Record

BOISE, Feb. 28.—The 1963 Idaho calf crop is estimated at 840,000 head, according to the crop reporting service. This is the largest crop of record, dating back to 1924, reflecting the high number of cows two years old and over.

The previous record calf crop was 833,000 in 1962. The 1963 calf crop was two per cent larger than the 1962 crop and 10 per cent above the 1957-61 average.

Cows and heifers two years old and older on Jan. 1, 1963, were estimated at 661,500 head, compared to 641,500 a year earlier and the five-year average of 601,000. By Jan. 1, 1964, the number had increased to 696,000 head.

The number of calves born in 1963, expressed as a percentage of cows and heifers two years old and older at the beginning of the year, was 90 compared to 85. This percentage is not strictly a calving rate, since the Jan. 1 inventory of cows and heifers two years old and older does not include all heifers that calved during the year and includes some "over" this class or were slaughtered before calving. This percentage is computed to show trend in productivity over a period of time.

It may fluctuate from year to year due to variation in cow slaughter and trends in breeding herd replacement.

The 1963 calf crop for the United States was 41,811,000 head, two per cent more than the 1962 crop of 41,027,000 head and the fifth consecutive year of increase.

The largest calf crop in 1963, compared with the previous year, was the result of more cows and heifers on farms. There were 48,649,000 head of cows and heifers two years old and older on Jan. 1, 1963, compared with 47,470,000 head on the same date for 1962. By Jan. 1, 1964, the number had increased to 49,652,000 head.

Twin Falls Dairy Herd Improvement Group Elects Blair Hall President

BUHL, Feb. 28.—Blair Hall, Twin Falls County dairyman, has been elected president of the Twin Falls County Dairy Herd Improvement association. He succeeds Levin Ehlers, Twin Falls.

The election was held last week at the VFW hall here.

Other officers elected are Warren Hart, Buhl, secretary-treasurer, and James Cochran, Castletown, director, three-year term.

The election was the highlight of the association's annual meeting. The meeting was held during the morning and the balance of the day was spent at the Union Pacific railroad agriculture fair.

One of the chores of the new president will be to pick a committee to work with Twin Falls County Agent Donald Routs to explore the possibility of forming a county dairymen's association.

Remarks from the floor indicated other counties in the state have formed associations with a high percentage of success. At present there is no dairymen's association in the county.

It was pointed out that dairymen in the county need a stronger voice in many agriculture matters. Reference was made to past surveying projects which could endanger the production of milk in Twin Falls county.

Another matter to come before the group was inclusion of a "milk, not fat" testing program to complement the existing butterfat tests. The testing will be made available to members of the association.

In his concluding remarks President Ehlers said, "The association is beginning to show some pretty high production figures and many members of the association won't have to take a back seat to other dairymen in the state."

According to County Agent Routs, Twin Falls county ranks third in the state in dairy production.

High herd production honors for the year went to Calvin Gray, Buhl, Castletown; high herd between 25 and 50 cows went to Warren Hart, Buhl; and for herds under 25 cows Randolph Peterson and Ray Peterson, Buhl, placed high in the association.

One who had 36 herds tested for the full year. Average production per cow was 31,900 pounds of milk and 486.7 pounds of butterfat per cow. In 1963 the average butterfat per cow was 31.8 pounds (almost five) tons of hay were fed per cow and a ton and a half of alfalfa was fed. The average cow spent 80 days on pasture and was fed

Sugar Stocks for Season are Reported

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28 (AP)—The agriculture department said today sugar stocks in 45 selected countries totaled 8.8 million short tons at the beginning of the 1964 season.

The department said that this compares with stocks of 10.1 million tons a year earlier in the 1953-54 average of 5.3 million tons. The department said the beginning stocks reported today do not include inventories as high as in the past year, but become quite large in a number of countries, including the United States.

The sugar situation is different in several countries in the United States. For example, it starts Oct. 15 in Chile it starts April 1.

The department's foreign agricultural service (FAS) said current information indicates that a reduction in carryovers in 1963-64 is unlikely and that they may be some improvement.

FAS said the 1963-64 production for the 45 countries is 82 million tons, up from 78 million tons in 1962-63. FAS said world consumption was 103-04 million tons, up from 102 million tons in 1962-63.

The countries included in the report account for a substantial part of production in the free world, and about two-thirds of the total world output. The department's study does not include countries in the so-called "Soviet" block, including the Soviet Union, Cuba, Rumania, Poland, Czechoslovakia, Yugoslavia, and the German Democratic Republic.

MONT JOHNSON, left, Richfield, presents copy of the 1963 annual soil conservation district report to Doyle Scott, Boise, executive officer of the state soil conservation commission. The report shows accomplishments of the past year and aims of the future.

Wood River Soil District Includes Water in Name

SHOSHONE, Feb. 28—Name of the local district soil conservation department has been changed to Wood River soil and water conservation district, adding the word water to the name.

According to officers, the word water was added to recognize the many opportunities and responsibilities the district has in conservation and wise use of the state's water resources.

Cecil Gope, conservationist, said the district received congratulations from state officers on its 1963 report and the well-rounded program planned for this year.

The 1964 program provides the community as well as technical programs. Community programs are aimed at maintaining a good farmer image in the minds of non-farm people and are designed to assist community leaders in providing worthwhile activities for persons who care to participate, particularly young people.

An art program, like the one carried out last year, again will be sponsored this year, with a junior division added for the young people.

Clamp Fire girls will be sponsored again and the grassman of the year program will be sponsored again.

Imports Hurt Sale of Culls

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28 (AP)—National Milk Producers' Association reports that increased meat imports have affected the sale of culls.

The association said the meat imports have tended to depress the price of cull dairy cows, and the rate of dairy cow cull and thereby added to milk loss.

The bulk of the red meat imports have been so-called variety cuts. These meats are produced, generally, from cull dairy cows.

The meat imports have been coming mainly from Australia and New Zealand. The imports from Australia rose from 18 million pounds in 1958 to 51 million pounds of beef and veal last year. Imports from New Zealand last year were about 10 million pounds. Total meat imports from New Zealand in 1963 were 244 million pounds.

Idaho Range Is Improving

BOISE, Feb. 28—The condition of range food still in use in Idaho improved two points during January and is now four points above the 1962 average for this date, according to the crop reporting service.

The current condition of 64 is the highest for this date since 1951. The only range that has remained relatively open have been low elevation areas of southeastern Idaho.

Most other ranges are under heavy snow cover. This snow cover along with unfrozen ground has resulted in excellent soil moisture condition.

SUGAR BEET GROWERS:

How nematode control with D-D® Soil Fumigant boosts tonnage and sugar yield, pays for itself many times over

ONE square foot of infested soil can hold millions of destructive nematodes. These microscopic pests attack roots and sharply reduce your crop's ability to take up water and nutrients. Sugar beets attacked by nematodes are limp, yellow and usually no more than half-grown—(symptoms often mistaken for lack of water or fertilizer). The net result of a nematode attack can be drastically lowered sugar yields and a lower dollar return.

What nematode control with D-D can do. Beet at (left) grew in land treated with D-D. Beet at (right) grew in untreated, nematode-infested land. All other production practices were the same. Note differences in size of tops and roots.

D-D Soil Fumigant guards against these losses. It can produce remarkable beet yield increases and often makes a spectacular difference in dollar return.

That's why the cost of soil fumigation with D-D pays for itself many times over.

Two nematodes damage beets

The two most important nematodes that attack beets are sugar beet nematodes and root-knot nematode. Damage they do shows up as wilted leaves, stunted and deformed beets, greatly reduced yields and lower sugar content. (See picture at right.)

How D-D works

When D-D is injected into the soil, it moves in all directions from the point of injection, killing nematodes as it spreads. One application will see your crop through to a nematode-free successful harvest.

How to apply D-D

D-D can be applied with any kind of soil injection equipment. Shanks should be spaced no more than 12 inches apart so that the D-D will spread through the entire area treated. For best results, application should be made when soil moisture and till is right for planting and good seed germination.

Consult local authorities for the proper waiting period between application and planting.

Dosages

As little as 25 to 30 gallons per acre of D-D will control sugar beet nematodes. Root-knot nematodes require 20 to 25 gallons per acre.

NOTE: Even though you treat with D-D now, you should make another application—if you plan to plant a second, nematode-susceptible crop this season. Because nematode species and degree of infestation may vary from place to place, it's a good idea to check local authorities for the best dosage rate, timing of application, and equipment to use, in your area.

Custom applicators

Custom applicators are available in many areas. Using their services may be the most economical and efficient way to get your land treated with D-D Soil Fumigant.

Where to get D-D. D-D Soil Fumigant is available from your local pesticide supplier under many well-known brand names. Be sure to check the label for the name D-D.

For more information on nematode control for sugar beets and other crops, write Shell Chemical Company, Agricultural Chemicals Division, 100 Bush St., San Francisco 6, Calif. Before using any pesticide, carefully read and follow label directions.

Farm Bureau Proposes Revisions for P.L. 480 to Curb Flow of Soft Money

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—The American Farm Bureau federation has called for extensive revisions in the country's three-year-old program of selling surplus farm products for "soft" foreign currencies.

In a statement prepared for presentation at a house agriculture committee hearing, John O. Lynn, AFBF legislative director, and Herbert E. Harris, 31, assistant legislative director, recalled that in 1961 Farm Bureau took a leading role in developing the legislation which became Public Law 480.

At that time they said, international trade in farm products was restricted by an "almost world-wide" dollar shortage.

The Farm Bureau spokesman noted that "the international dollar shortage of 1954 has been reversed in 1964.

"The persistent balance of payments deficit the United States has built up tremendous dollar and gold reserves outside of this country."

"With a deficit in our balance of payments which has averaged around three billion dollars over the past several years, a policy of programming 15 billion dollars worth of farm products for foreign currency should be subjected to the closest scrutiny."

Lynn and Harris said the "hard money" in any extension of Public Law 480:

—The U.S. should take those steps necessary to insure that foreign currency sales are limited to current agricultural surpluses. "This means that our domestic agricultural program should not encourage production in order to expand foreign currency movements under Title I."

Additional accumulation of local currency by the U.S. under Public Law 480 "is subject to a serious question."

"We have accumulated sufficient foreign currency in some countries to attain the unenviable position of being capable of exchanging the foreign country's currency for convertible foreign exchange. They called a recent export arrangement with Poland — which included 30 million dollars foreign sale, a 30 million dollar short-term credit sale, and a 30 million dollar on-commercial terms — as evidence that "it is time, and that it is possible, to move toward more commercial sales arrangements with the countries which have been acquiring a major part of their food needs through Title I type programming."

They recommended "a broad-based authorization to cover the 1.8 billion dollars that are committed in any one year."

"An additional three billion dollars authorization to cover the period should prove sufficient," they said.

"The fact is, however, already have over-accumulated dollars and Pakistan. It creates an unhealthy situation that neither nations must come to the United States to exchange why they do not want to take as much as we have tried to give them."

President Johnson's Poverty Message Includes Program to Bridge Farm Gap

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28 (AP)—President Johnson's forthcoming message on poverty is expected to include several proposals to bridge what the agriculture department calls "untilled gaps" which affect rural areas.

An agency spokesman said these untilled gaps within department jurisdiction are:

- Assistance to low income school districts to buy school lunch equipment.
- Expansion for food stamp plan to make it permanent and include more people.
- Improved migratory farm labor housing.
- Expansion of farmers home administration farm ownership loan volume.
- Renewal and extension of expiring rural housing legislation.
- Authorization to use development funds in conjunction with FFA loans for rehabilitation.
- Loans to rural cooperatives and non-profit associations.
- Loans to farmers for small non-farm enterprises.
- Loans to enable sharecroppers and tenants to obtain secure tenure on family farms in areas of large ownership blocks.

The department has said about 1,500,000 farm families are in the poverty category. The agency classes as a poverty case a family with income from all sources of less than $3,000.

The spokesman said the government's attack on poverty, especially as it affects rural areas, should call for about 6.6 million new non-farm jobs within the next 10 years. He said this would call for broad scale investment in human beings so they will be competent for available jobs and generation of sound economic and governmental employment opportunities and jobs.

Secretary Names Administrator

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28 (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman has appointed Dr. Matthew Brodoff as administrator of the international agricultural development service.

Brodoff, who has been food and agriculture officer for the agency for international development since 1962, will have responsibility for coordinating the department's participation in overseas technical assistance programs.

Top Honey Crop Harvest Made in '63

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28 (AP) — A record yield highlighted the 1963 honey season.

The crop reporting board said 193 million pounds, exceeded the previous record crop of 160 million pounds, and the 1962 crop by 10 percent.

Production-per colony in 1963 averaged 54 pounds, about nine times the amount in 1922 and the previous record set in 1951. The 54,000 colonies on hand at the beginning of 1963 season were one per cent more than the previous year.

With the all-honey producer price averaging 18 cents per pound, compared with 17.4 cents a year earlier, the 1963 crop was valued at $93,520,000. This was $14 million above 1962 and the highest of record since 1947.

North Dakota led all states with 123 million pounds per pound, followed by South Dakota, with 125 million; Montana, 108 million; Wisconsin, 100 million; Wyoming, 100 million; and Minnesota, 99 million.

The 10 leading honey producing states in 1963 in order are: California, Minnesota, Florida, Wisconsin, Idaho, New York, Iowa, Texas, South Dakota, and Ohio. These states accounted for 81 per cent of the nation's crop.

Canal Diversion Gates at Milner Are Reconstructed by Company Personnel

WORK is almost complete on reconstruction of steel radial gates which divert water for the Snake river at Milner dam, reports Alfred Peters, manager, Twin Falls Canal company.

The gates were taken out and rebuilt in the company shop by rebuilding the gates, the company estimated several thousands of dollars per gate. Originally the gates were steel frame-work with a wood facing. Time, weather and water have worn away the wooden facing and it was decided to replace the facing with steel.

The gates are radial—that is, they swing open on an arc rather than being lifted straight up in the air. The rebuilt gates will weigh in excess of 4,000 pounds each. At the Milner diversion point there are seven gates measuring 12 by 12 feet.

There are 41 similar gates on the canal system and these are being rebuilt and changed from wood to steel, as time and weather permit. It takes about five years to go completely through the gate system, said Peters.

Peters noted the company tries to space the replacement of gates.

For example, the second set of gates below Milner will not be replaced at the same time the main diversion gates are taken out. There always is the possibility of flooding along the river and the company has to protect itself and the water users from possible flood water.

Winter is the only time the company can repair and replace worn gates. It takes about two months to replace a set of gates.

The Milner diversion gates present one problem in that a coffer dam generally is constructed ahead of the gates. The dam provides a base for the crane to work from and prevents minor rises in the water level from reaching the gates.

"A new gate can be purchased for $2,000 or $3,000," said Peters. "We can rebuild them for less than $500 each. It's quite a savings for the company and it fits well into the company's overall preventive maintenance plan."

When the gates are taken out, the steel structure is repaired and examined. Concrete pillars are examined and, if necessary, are re-erected. Crapstone is applied to the working parts of the gate before it is replaced.

Three coats of rust-resistant paint are applied to each gate. The cost of the paint is one of the major items in repair.

"The gate is expected to last five or six years and the paint is one place where we can't get up for second best," said Peters. All of the work is performed by company personnel, not by contractors.

Russia Harvests Poor Crop Of Grain; Trend Continues

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28 (AP) — The agriculture department says the very poor grain crop in the Soviet Union last season was the most striking feature of the agricultural picture in eastern Europe during 1963.

A department study by the economic research service shows that the Soviet situation, coupled with mediocre crops throughout eastern Europe, resulted in a decline of total grain production for the region.

ERB said the situation was aggravated by several consecutive years of mediocre crops, the continuing growth of population, and the decline for better diets. All this means: unprecedented imports of grain will be needed by the area, especially by the USSR, according to ERB.

The agency noted in the survey that "the communist regimes in eastern Europe again failed in their ambitious plans to expand agricultural production."

Poor weather was a major contributing factor to the dismal 1963 crop situation in the Soviet Union, ERB said, to an even greater extent than in 1962.

The 1962 drought, followed by the very winter with sudden thaws and frosts, adversely affected all-cereal crops, particularly winter wheat.

To add misery atop misery, the 1963 winter was the coldest in almost a century, affecting almost every agricultural region. Especially hard hit were crops in the spring wheat belt of the new lands area, which suffered drought for the third consecutive year. Other grains such as oats, barley, and corn, also were affected by the winter.

ERB said the Soviet breadgrain crop, wheat and rye, in 1963 probably was the smallest since 1954, and there was no surplus on which to fall back, annually during 1959-62, when the USSR exported 4.5 million to six million metric tons of wheat. ERB predicted the Soviet Union would have to import 10 million to 15 million tons during 1963-64.

ERB said that while there was no indication of a grain shortage in the Soviet Union, state stores now are enforcing a regulation that only two kilograms, 4.4 pounds, of bread can be sold to a customer.

Sheep States Report Drop In Lamb Crop

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28 (AP) — The crop reporting board has estimated the 1963 lamb crop at 25,200,000 head, down five per cent from the 1962 crop of 26,284,000 head.

The 13 western sheep states (12 western states and South Dakota and Texas) produced three per cent fewer lambs in 1963 than in 1962 and two per cent less than average. The crop in the 25 native states (excluding the 13 western sheep states and Alaska) was eight per cent smaller than in 1962 and 17 per cent below average.

Texas, which annually produces about 18 per cent of the nation's lambs, came up with a lamb crop in 1963 that was six per cent below 1962 and two per cent below average. Texas lambs totaled 2,840,000 head.

The 13 western sheep states produced a crop of 13,011,000 head. The crop in the 25 native states totaled 27,700,000 head. South Dakota and Alaska crop was estimated at 3,000 head.

Barley Saves U.S. Foreign Exchange Fund

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28 (AP) — The foreign agricultural service said barley has saved the United States more than 14 million dollars in foreign exchange in the two years that this program has been used in U. S. trade with Yugoslavia.

ERB said that prior to 1961, the U. S. armed forces were spending from five to six million dollars a year in Yugoslavia for food to feed troops and to sell in commissaries and most exchanges in Europe and Africa. At the same time, Yugoslavia was paying in dollars for U. S. farm commodities under the surplus disposal program.

In 1962, the first barley contract with Yugoslavia was signed. It provided for a straight trade of such Yugoslav products as meats, sugar, leather goods, glassware, lumber and electrical appliances in return for about 2.5 million bushels of U.S. corn.

Filer FFA Student Wins Speech Event

FILER, Feb. 28—Darwin Yoder won the South Maple Valley district Future Farmer of America contest with a speech entitled "The Life Blood of Man." The contest was held here recently.

Gary Astey, Twin Falls high school, placed second in the contest. Yoder, a Filer high school senior, picked a timely and controversial subject—control of Idaho water.

The FFA student will meet the winner of other districts in southern Idaho to determine who will compete in the state contest. Winners on the state level then compete on a regional basis with the winner going to Kansas City and competing in the national contest.

The most local contest will be held during the first part of March, according to Russ Hall, FFA adviser for Filer.

Harbinger

HAGERMAN, Feb. 28—If the first frost to bloom means spring is really coming, Mr. and Mrs. John Ayres, Hagerman, have good news after the long hard winter.

They have a yellow crocus which burst into bloom this week. It is on the south side of the house in bare ground with no leaves or foliage of any kind around, only the vivid yellow of the crown.

Mrs. Ayres states there were several in bloom Feb. 10 last year, but only one has dared venture out so far this year.

Soviet Union Has Tobacco Problems; Can't Buy Smokes from Chinese Bloc

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28—The foreign agricultural service reports that the Soviet Union and other East European communist countries are in a worldwide search for what 225 million pounds of tobacco.

FAS said the tobacco is needed to fill a rising demand. Traditional sources cannot meet the need.

FAS said the problem came into sharp focus in 1962 when tobacco imports from Red China ceased almost entirely. Previous years had seen Red China the largest supplier for East Europe.

Imports from Bulgaria, the second largest source, dropped by 50 percent. The amount of tobacco available for export.

The imports from China in 1961 were far less than their usual annual figure, but the resultants gap was filled with stocks built up in the late 1950s. These stocks finally ran out and by 1962 the real pinch began to be felt and the search for more tobacco started.

In 1962, the Communist bloc tapped sources in India, North Korea, Brazil and Southern Rhodesia. These suppliers stepped up their rates to the communist bloc in 1963, but there still was a deficit of around 135 million pounds, FAS said.

Source in the agriculture department say the United States has at least 100 million pounds of tobacco available at a price lower than Eastern Europe has paid to some other suppliers.

Also, Great Britain and the United States has surplus supplies of high-quality leaf.

A few months ago the commerce department issued regulations which would permit approval of export licenses for substituted tobacco to the Soviet Union and certain other East European countries. The regulations also established certain requirements for sale of tobacco to the Soviet bloc. These are: price must be on the basis of the prevailing world price, payment must be in U.S. dollars or gold.

It is too early to determine whether the recent smoking health report by the surgeon general's committee has had any effect on smoking in the communist bloc.

FAS estimates tobacco imports from the communist bloc are: East Germany, 46 million; Czechoslovakia, 46 million; Poland, 28 million; Hungary, 16 million; Rumania, 11 million; Bulgaria, five million; for a total of 152 million pounds. From current sources the bloc can get about 27 million pounds, FAS said. That leaves 125 million pounds to come from other sources.

Tuberculosis Testing Is Started in Cassia County

BURLEY, Feb. 28—Retesting of Cassia county cattle for tuberculosis started Monday with the aid of federal veterinarians doing the work.

Cassia county was first included in the tuberculosis testing area in 1928 by having tested all of the cattle and eliminated all the reactors. Last year, the county has been retested every three years since by re-testing about 20 percent of the cattle. This has changed and new federal-state regulations require that:

All commercial dairy herds be tested and very little milk or milk products are used for human consumption.

All purebred herds must be tested if animals kept are considered as milk or milk products.

All herds from which cattle show evidence of tuberculosis at time of slaughter must be tested.

Under these new regulations retesting will be for a period of six years. Testing this time will cover all the dairy herds about 700 in the county. The tests are under the supervision of Dr. E. H. Beard, Gooding animal disease eradication division area supervisor.

This same type of retesting for the modified tuberculosis eradication area has been completed during 1963 in Jerome, Lincoln and Gooding counties.

The fact that something is being done to control tuberculosis in the county is a step toward health report by the surgeon general's committee has had any effect on smoking in the communist bloc.

Leasing of Farm Buildings Adds New Twist to Program

OKLAHOMA CITY, Feb. 28—The practice of leasing farm buildings and structures has put a new wrinkle in the agricultural lease program.

The answer to this question will probably vary with each individual farm and farmer. Lease, of course, does not confer title; the periodic payments which the lease makes, under some circumstances, may be considered a direct cost and in this way constitute a tax saving.

The arrangement may also permit the lessee to limit his working capital in proportion to that offer greater profit potential than he could expect from a building.

On the other hand, there is something to be said for ownership of a building. The fact that something is being done to control tuberculosis in the county is a step toward health report by the surgeon general's committee has had any effect on smoking in the communist bloc.

Chances Felt Dim for Passage of Spud Marketing Bill

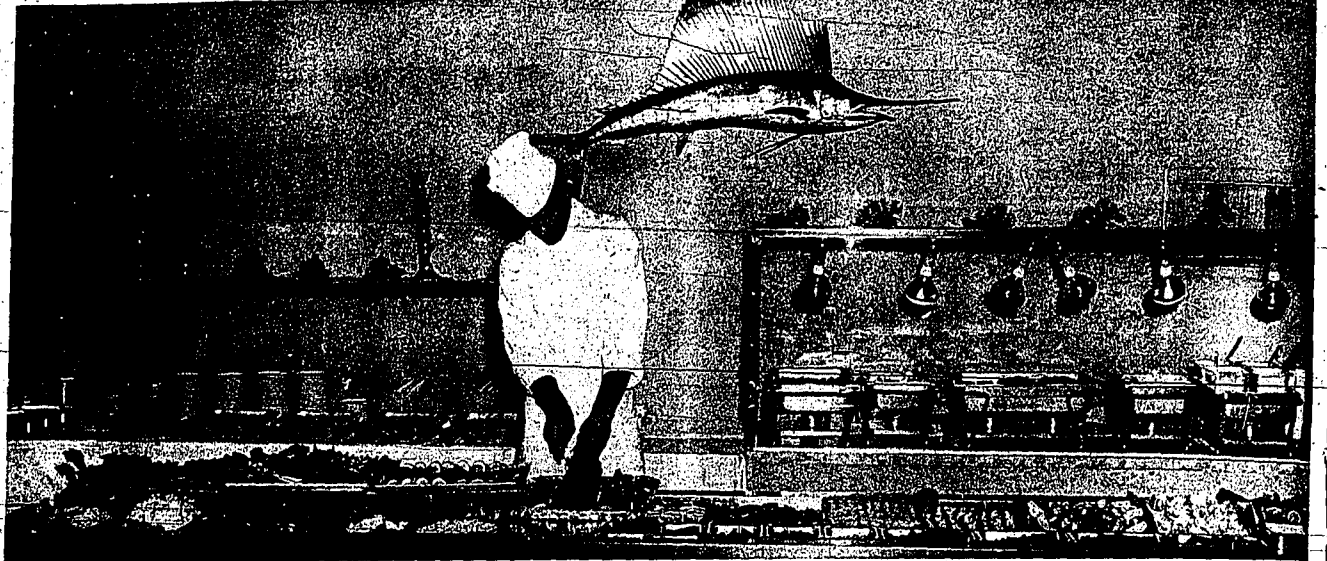

RUPERT, Feb. 28—L. A. Gillette, northside farmer and one of three Idaho members of the National Potato Advisory committee, reports little chance that a national potato marketing quota and acreage allotment bill will be passed. He returned this week from Washington, D. C., where the bill is presently under consideration by the house agriculture committee and Gillette proposed has several drawbacks. He said it would be hard to put into operation because it would be virtually impossible to determine a man's base acreage to be included in the program. He also explained the present bill does not give any consideration to the farmer who has gone into potatoes in the last three years. The proposed bill allows a certain state or area and leaves no elasticity for the producer to change to fit consumer demand. The local potato grower would be questioned whether the bill will get out of the committee, whether it would be approved by congress if it does, and if the farmers would approve it in a referendum if it gets that far. Gillette noted that all members of the Idaho congressional delegation have expressed opposition to the present bill. The official said he feels growers in Idaho are in a fairly advantageous position if they do a better job of storing their potatoes with proper ventilation. He said this would allow them to market the tubers on a 12-month basis. Growers that get into this kind of a program will be ahead of their fellow grower whether a government program is enacted

That three per cent of each state's acreage allotment the first year be available to new growers or persons whose allotment would create an economic hardship. The bill presently sets the figure at 1.5 per cent. The base period now in the bill remains unchanged with 1960, 1961 and 1962 crop acreage to be considered. The group recommended that the 1962, 1963 and 1964 crop years be included. And fourth that the allotments be assigned to the potato producer except in states where the state ABO office finds that they should be assigned to the land, for any or all of it, Bama
