KAZINBARCIKA, Hungary, April 6 (UPI)—Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev said today that for the first time in the history of mankind "the balance of forces" favors communism rather than capitalism. The touring Soviet leader also lashed out anew at communist China and praised President Johnson and other U. S. leaders for displaying "common sense" appraising Russia's strength. Khrushchev accused the Chinese communists of courting war and said the war-like statements of the Peking leaders stem "not from an excess of brains" but from "an absence of them."

Smylie Points To Danger of Water Drag

BOISE, April 6 (UPI)—Gov. Robert E. Smylie regards a new plan for diverting surplus Northwest water to the Colorado river basin as further proof the California proposals are a real threat to Idaho.

Smylie said the fact that proponents of using the Northwest for a Southwest water supply are talking about congressional action. He said that "illustrates the problems that are created by the population weight in California and the resulting political muscle."

The latest proposal, offered by the Colorado River association, suggests using surplus water supplies from such rivers as the Snake, Columbia, Yellowstone and from areas in Northern California.

Smylie said he felt Idaho should move ahead as quickly as possible with efforts to protect its water resources. The governor has appointed a special study committee to draft a plan for state-financed water resource development.

T.F., Carey Men Are Killed in Separate Week-End Accidents

Two Magic Valley men died Sunday and a Salt Lake City man is listed in good condition at Magic Valley Memorial hospital after two separate accidents over the week-end. William Richard Schoenhals, 25, 277 Jefferson street, was killed about 6:30 a.m. Sunday and Richard Fries, 22, Salt Lake City, was injured in the accident when a 1959 Ford Schoenhals was driving missed a curve south of Roger-

Barnett to Face Trial Without Jury

WASHINGTON, April 6 (UPI)—The supreme court ruled today that the criminal contempt case against former Mississippi Gov. Ross R. Barnett and present Gov. Paul B. Johnson, Jr., may be tried by a court without a jury.

The charges stemmed from the activities of the two officials in the fall of 1962 when James H. Meredith, a Negro, was attempting to enroll in the University of Mississippi.

The fifth U.S. circuit court of appeals directed the justice department to bring the contempt action.

Barnett, then governor, and Johnson, then lieutenant governor, were accused of violating a court order prohibiting all state officials from interfering with Meredith's admission. On Sept. 25 Barnett, who was then governor, stood in the doorway of an office in Jackson, Miss., and kept Meredith from registering.

The two were also charged with failing to preserve law and order of the campus at Oxford, Miss., which exploded into rioting after Meredith's admission.

The fifth circuit certified the jury issue to the supreme court after a tie vote.

Anti-Semitic Action in USSR Hit by Javits

WASHINGTON, April 6 (UPI)—Ben Jacob K. Javits, R.-N.Y., said today the Soviet Union is waging "a relentless campaign of repression" against Jews, despite official Kremlin denials of anti-Semitism.

What the Kremlin denials show, Javits said, is that the Soviet government is "sensitive" to world opinion on this subject, and may let up on persecuting Jews if confronted by "a great wave of indignation."

Javits said Moscow's repeated assertions that Russia's three million Jews enjoy religious freedom is simply absurd when "the crushes every vestige of Jewishness and Jewish cemeteries, and every vestige of Jewish culture" and authorizes publication of "blatantly anti-Semitic" books and pamphlets for domestic distribution.

CONVICTION REVERSED

WASHINGTON, April 6 (UPI)—The supreme court reversed today a branch of the peace convicts of 65 Negro students arrested in 1960 in a racial demonstration in front of the city of Rock Hill, S. C.

Shuns Security

WASHINGTON, April 6 (UPI)—President Johnson ignored routine security precautions Sunday when he accompanied his wife and two daughters to church.

Instead of riding in a car driven by a secret service agent, the first family motored to and from St. Mark's Episcopal church in a staff sedan driven by a White House chauffeur. Secret service agents followed in the presidential car.

Vietnamese Mop up on Guerrillas

SAIGON, South Viet Nam, April 6 (UPI)—Government troops carried out mopping-up operations today in Tay Ninh province where they routed communist guerrillas in a fierce week-end battle that caused high casualties.

Six Americans were wounded as they assisted army forces of the South Vietnamese government in defending an outpost northwest of Saigon.

A U. S. military spokesman estimated communist Viet Cong losses at 103 killed or wounded. Some reports from the battle scene said about half the 400-strong Red attacking force may have been lost.

Government casualties were put at 14 killed, 20 wounded and eight missing.

A few hours after the battle ended Sunday, the military regime of Maj. Gen. Nguyen Khanh announced a mobilization plan to involve more of the population in the war effort.

The program provides for an expanded and more rigid military draft and organization of a civil defense corps.

Violent Weather Plagues Many Areas

Torrential rains drenched Mississippi and Alabama today and a near-blizzard storm swept the Great Plains. Tornadoes and violent thunderstorms ripped through Texas again Sunday. Meridian, Miss., was soaked with 3.22 inches of driving rain in six hours. Birmingham, Ala., received 1.82 inches during the night and the weather bureau issued a warning of flash flooding along small streams in northern Alabama.

'Kill Him' Is Cry at Nazi's Trial

FRANKFURT, Germany, April 6 (UPI)—German spectators rioted at the Auschwitz war crimes trial today, shouting "hang the pig" at a defendant accused of driving Jewish children to death camp gas chambers.

Other spectators shouted "Kill him! Kill him!" It was the first time in the many weeks of the Auschwitz trial that the packed courtroom got out of hand.

The defendant, one of 21 on trial for complicity in the deaths of millions of Auschwitz inmates, is Oswald Kaduk.

The riot was set off when a witness accused Kaduk of killing Jewish children who had begged for their lives.

The spectators leaped from their seats screaming, then surged toward the dock where all 21 defendants sat.

Blowing and drifting snow pushed eastward from the Rockies. Stockmen's warnings were in effect for parts of Montana, North and South Dakota, Wyoming, Colorado and Nebraska.

Hazardous drivings were also in effect for sections of Utah and Nevada.

Pargo, N.D., picked up two more inches of snow during the night. Rain, snow and sleet turned most of Minnesota into a driving nightmare.

Cold rain fell from the Gulf states northward through the Mississippi valley.

Traffic was slowed to a snail's pace between Las Vegas and Los Angeles Sunday night by 50 mile an hour desert winds that kicked up giant sand storms. Many cars were bogged down in blowing sand when they pulled off the highway.

A small twister skipped through Mineola, Tex., Sunday, demolishing two garages and ripping the back off a cafe.

MacArthur Dies, America Mourns Hero's Passing

NEW YORK, April 6 (UPI)—A soldier of the Long Gray Line, Douglas MacArthur—of Samar, St. Mihiel, Bataan, Corregidor, Inchon—and a thousand campsites on a hundred battlefields—was home today, in death, in the city he once called the greatest in the world. The general died Sunday at 2:39 p.m. at Walter Reed hospital in Washington, D. C. The withered body of the old fighter and statesman lay in repose in a simple GI-issue coffin. Around the partly opened coffin stood a five-man honor guard. A two-foot high candle in a brass holder stood at each corner of the gray coffin.

Fulbright Starts Attack on Military

CHAPEL HILL, N. C., April 6 (AP)—Sen. J. W. Fulbright, who only 12 days ago touched off an explosive debate on foreign policy, now says "the American people are not now exercising effective control over the military, and neither is the congress." The charge by the chairman of the senate foreign relations committee in a speech Sunday night at the University of North Carolina seemed almost certain to stir another controversy—this time with the Pentagon. The Arkansas Democrat's March 25 foreign policy speech ricocheted through both halls of congress, the state department and the White House. It still is drawing fire in some quarters.

His comments on the military came in a keynote speech to the 1964 Carolina symposium, a five-day series of lectures at the university on the topic "Arms and the man: national security and the aims of a free society."

Fulbright said the military establishment has a vested interest in the continuation of the cold war and its high military spending.

He said the "elimination of surplus defense funds" would encourage spending on domestic programs, and that "the cold war is an excuse, as well as a cause" for high military budgets.

In his address, Fulbright pursued one of the points of his March 25 senate speech. He said the nation's interests would be served better by ending the present "morbid preoccupation with the danger of communist expansion abroad and subversion and disloyalty at home."

Burley Youth Shot on Hunt

BURLEY, April 6—Ruben Gonzales, 9-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Raul Gonzales, 726 Burton avenue, was listed in fair condition Monday morning at Cassia Memorial hospital after he was accidentally shot by his father while hunting rabbits about 10 miles west of Burley at 4:30 p.m. Sunday.

Mrs. Gonzales and their five children were hunting rabbits when Ruben, who was about 100 yards away from his father, called to his father that he had found a rabbit hole. The father started toward the boy and tripped on some brush, discharging the gun. The bullet struck the boy in the stomach.

The youth was taken to the hospital by Gonzales who then notified the sheriff's office. Deputy Sheriff Therral Woodall investigated the accident.

LDS Parley Heads Into Last Session

SALT LAKE CITY, April 6 (UPI)—Extra Taft Benson, former U.S. secretary of agriculture, said today "no other single influence has had so great an impact on this earth as the life of Jesus Christ."

Benson spoke at a closing session of the 134th annual general conference of the LDS church. He is a member of the church's council of twelve apostles and heads its European missions.

The former member of the Eisenhower presidential cabinet, who has become something of a controversial figure in the church because of his apparent support of the John Birch society, delivered a strictly non-political talk. In his prepared remarks, Benson said, "We cannot conceive our lives without his (Christ's) teachings."

"Without Him we would be lost in a mirage of beliefs and worship, born in fear and darkness where the sensual and materialistic hold sway."

He added that "we are far short of the goal the Savior set for us, but we must never lose sight of it."

"Nor must we forget that our great climb toward the light, toward perfection, would not be possible except for His teachings. His life, His death, and His resurrection."

Benson came to Salt Lake City from his headquarters at Frankfurt, Germany, for the conference. He plans to return later this week.

A new member of the church's first council of the seventy was announced at the morning session. He is Paul Harold Dunn, 39, Downey, Calif., who has been coordinator of the church's institutes of religion in southern California since 1962.

Dunn also has served as director of the institute of religion. See LDS, Page 2, Column 7

Idaho Mourns

By The Associated Press
Flags flew at half staff throughout Idaho today, as the state joined the nation in mourning the death of Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

Gov. Robert E. Smylie said flags on all public buildings would remain at half staff until after services for the general on Saturday.

In paying tribute to MacArthur, Smylie described the hero of three wars as "one of the great Americans of all of our history."

"Gen. MacArthur's career of service to the nation," said Smylie, "spans all of this century and has been an illumination in all the years of the nation's rise to international prominence. He ranks in world history with that other great English speaking statesman and patriot, Sir Winston Churchill."

day at the funeral chapel only two blocks from the starting point of MacArthur's triumphal homecoming parade here 13 years ago.

It was on city hall steps in that parade—New York's biggest, with seven and one-half million people cheering the general on that MacArthur began his speech:

"This is the greatest city in the world."

He had said that New York "is my home by choice." Sunday night he came home again. The cortege that traveled the highways through the night from Washington arrived here shortly before 11 p.m.

It was in Washington, the city of his death, that he told congress 13 years ago—while a moist-eyed nation listened—that "old soldiers never die, they just fade away." At 84, he fought his last fight against death in a struggle that lasted more than a month.

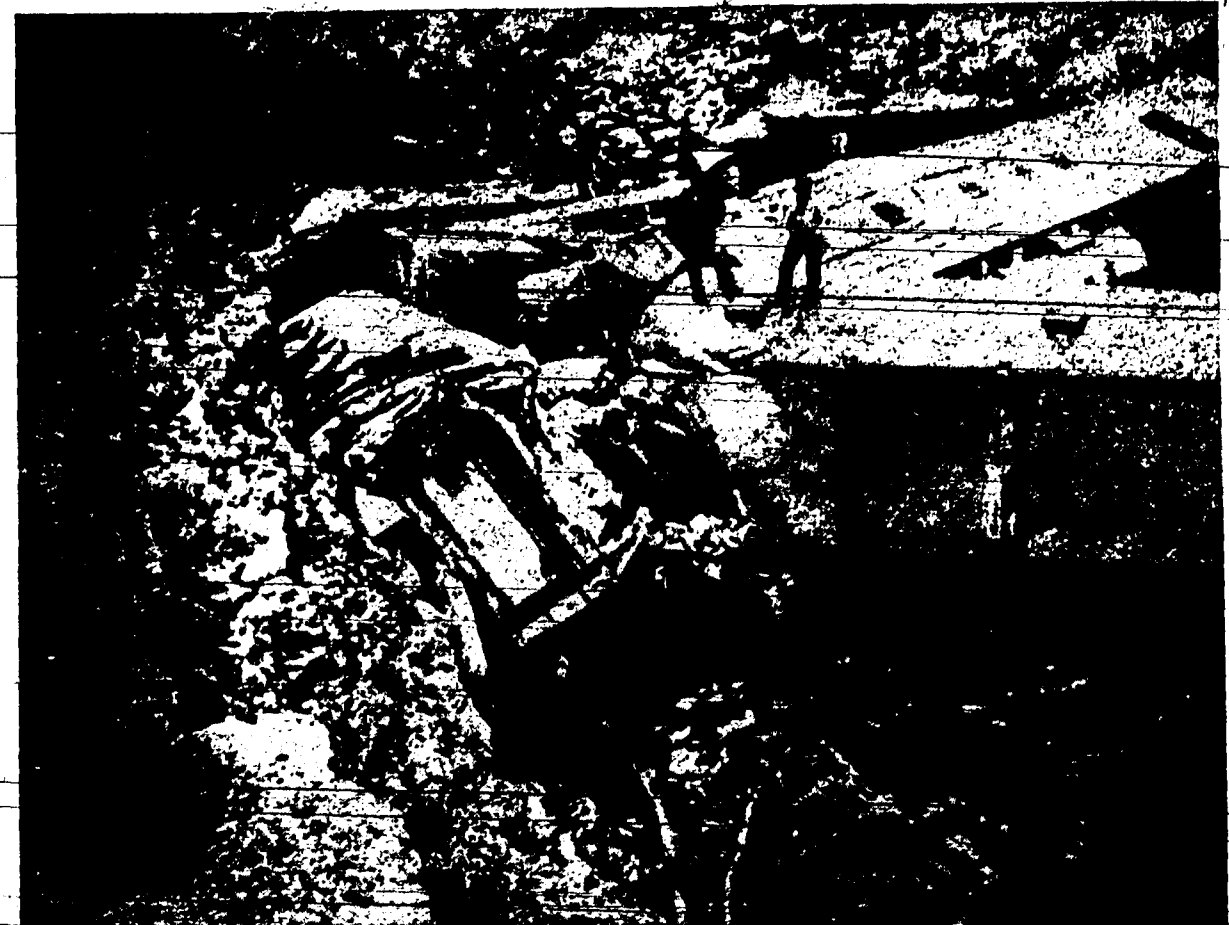

The general of the army, winner of his country's highest military award, the Medal of Honor, and a brilliant fighting-front commander in three wars died of kidney and liver failure following three major operations during his last month.

In a little windowless room at Walter Reed, eight persons stood in sad silence. The five-star general had been in an ever-deepening coma since Friday evening. There was a great sadness lying over the small recovery room at the end when MacArthur "died quietly and peacefully," according to Brig. Gen. Henry S. Murphrey, hospital commandant.

Murphrey said it was difficult to tell when MacArthur took his last breath. Among the eight who watched him die were his wife, Jean Faircloth MacArthur, and his son, Arthur, 27. Murphrey said they took it bravely.

Death came to the "old soldier" 61 years after he fired his first shots in battle for his country, as a raw second lieutenant of engineers on Samar in the Philippines. Flags fell to half staff. Quickly the massive motorcade was organized.

The free world saluted him as a fallen warrior. From the plains at West Point to the green hills of MacArthur, Page 2, Col. 6

SANTA FE TRAIN struck a rockslide in a deep railway cut 15 miles west of Williams, Ariz., Sunday. An engineer was killed and eight others were injured. Railroad crews were working Monday to remove the wreckage from the railroad's main lines through northern Arizona. Although 11 cars were derailed, the five passenger cars remained upright. A huge chunk fell out of the side of the cut, causing the accident. The train carried 100 passengers from Chicago to Los Angeles. (AP wirephoto)

Two sons preceded him in death.

Funeral services are pending at Berg's Twin Falls mortuary.

Some Income In Idaho Shows Gain

BOISE, April 6 (AP) — Personal income received in Idaho in the first quarter of 1964 was up four per cent and take-home pay, largely because of the federal tax cut, is showing a gain of 3 million dollars a month.

The estimates were in the First Security bank's newsletter and were announced by V. R. Steffen, Boise, president of the First Security bank of Idaho.

The increase in take-home pay resulting from the reduction in the federal withholding tax rate was effective in March.

The bank estimated personal income in the first three months at 340 million dollars.

"Anticipated cash receipts from farming in Idaho might total almost the same as in 1963, at 447 million dollars," the bank said.

"However, income in the first quarter was below that of last year with lower prices from the sale of beef and potatoes."

The bank noted that farmers' intention reports indicate total crop plantings will average about the same as in 1963.

Lumber production is running considerably ahead of that last year, the bank said, and mineral production "should establish the new all-time record, somewhat above the record high of 648 million dollars in 1963."

The report said phosphate production probably will exceed last year's record of 10.5 million dollars.

Use of electricity in the first quarter of 1964 was up about four per cent over the preceding year. Construction in the first two months of the year was only two-thirds that for the corresponding period of 1963, however, largely because of the long winter.

Weather, Temperatures

MAGIC VALLEY — Decreasing cloudiness today. Partly cloudy tonight and Tuesday and little warmer Tuesday. Low tonight 25-32 high Tuesday 45-55, except Camas Prairie lows 10-17. Outlook for Wednesday is increasing cloudiness with a chance of a few rain showers or snow flurries. Temperatures at 8 a. m.: 32 at Jerome, 32 with relative humidity of 96 per cent at Twin Falls weather bureau, 33 with relative humidity of 90 per cent at Twin Falls entomology laboratory, 32 at Rupert, 20 at Fairfield, 31 at Buhl, 32 at Caldwell, 32 at Wendell and 32 at King Hill; at noon 33 with relative humidity of 78 per cent at Twin Falls weather bureau.

FIVE-DAY WEATHER FORECAST — The mean pressure pattern aloft from the next five days shows high pressure from Northwestern Canada southward along the west coast of the United States. Low pressure will persist from the Southern Rockies into the Great Plains states. The high pressure along the West Coast will be relatively weaker than farther north and will allow some movement of Pacific storms into the Intermountain region.

Temperatures through Saturday will average from 4 to 9 degrees below normal over the valleys of southern Idaho. Some warming is expected on Tuesday, cooler again Wednesday and Thursday with warming into the latter part of the week. Daytime temperatures will continue to show greater departures below normal than nighttime temperatures. Normals for this period are Boise 50-53, Gooding 50-54, Twin Falls 51-53, Burley 50-51.

Precipitation will be in the form of snow showers mostly in southeastern valleys tonight and early Tuesday with periods of rain or snow more general again during the middle of the week. Precipitation totals will range from .10 to .25 of an inch over these valleys through Saturday.

Sunshine will average around 60 per cent of possible with day-time cloudiness averaging near six-tenths of the sky covered. Stronger winds will occur during the middle of the week with lighter winds expected into the last of the week. Soil temperatures at the three- to eight-inch depth will generally remain in the mid to upper 40s in southwestern and southcentral valleys although some low 50s may occur in local areas on the warmest days. In the southeastern valleys, soil temperatures will continue to lag due to wet ground and snow cover remaining in numerous areas.

WEATHER SUMMARY — Currently a cold front dropping southward out of Canada during the night has nudged into the southeastern and southcentral valleys of Idaho. This colder air associated with the front has caused snow flurries to occur in part of Magic Valley. Amounts from this new snow flurry activity amounted to mostly traces although Buhl reported .01 of an inch of precipitation. Skies vary from partly cloudy in southwestern valleys to local areas of cloudy skies in Magic Valley and southeastern valleys.

During the past 24 hours the greatest amount of precipitation was .07 of an inch recorded at Rexburg. Pressures at the surface are rising over the Western half of the nation. The cold front now in our valley will remain quite weak with snow flurries limited to the southeastern valleys and southern part of Magic Valley today.

Elsewhere in these valleys skies will be partly cloudy today. As higher pressures moves into the Northern Intermountain region a clearing trend is expected with partly cloudy skies over all valleys on Tuesday. Some warming is expected on Tuesday as sunshine becomes more abundant and modifies the colder air.

Maximum temperatures today will range from the 30s into the low 50s and on Tuesday in the mid 30s to the mid 50s. Minimum temperatures tonight will be in the upper teens and 20s in southeastern valleys to the upper 20s and low 30s in Magic and southwestern valleys. In Camas Prairie low temperatures of around 10 degrees are expected tonight.

MacArthur

Continued From Page One of the Japan he had conquered, mourning began. President Johnson, who served under MacArthur in World War II, led the nation saying:

"One of America's greatest heroes is dead. General of the Army Douglas MacArthur fought his last fight with all the valor that distinguished him in war and peace."

The President ordered American flags around the world to be flown at half staff for the week of mourning that begins today. MacArthur will be buried Saturday in the MacArthur Memorial in Norfolk, Va.

The motorcade from Washington to New York proceeded at speeds ranging from 20 to 60 miles an hour. Traffic jams occurred along the four-and-a-half mile highway heading into New York when cars drew abreast of the hearse bearing MacArthur's flag-draped coffin and then hesitated to pass.

Groups stood by roadsides in Maryland and Delaware to watch the northbound cortege. New Jersey police escorted it through that state about 300 persons lined the road near the Universal Funeral chapel when the motorcade arrived.

Near the MacArthur suite at the Waldorf is that of former President Herbert Hoover, who knew the general intimately and called him "Douglas." He appointed MacArthur army chief of staff in 1931. Hoover said: "Truly, his watchword was duty, honor, country. He was a truly great man, a great general, and a great patriot."

On Wednesday an honor guard will accompany the body, which will be placed on a horse-drawn caisson to be taken to Pennsylvania station for movement by train back to Washington.

There will be a ceremony at Union station in Washington. There will be a horse-drawn caisson procession to the Capitol and an aircraft flyover during it. Ceremonies in the Capitol on Tuesday will include eulogies by senate and house chaplains. President Johnson then will lay a wreath at the foot of the open casket.

The general will lie in state more than 20 hours in the rotunda, with the public permitted to file past. On Thursday, the body will be moved to Washington national airport where there will be more honors before the plane departs for Norfolk.

The body will lie in state until Saturday morning in Norfolk's MacArthur memorial, a 114-year-old building that once was the city hall and courthouse. There will be a brief religious service Saturday morning at St. Paul's church, the general's mother's church, the former Mary Pickens, mother, once was wife of his father, Arthur, a Civil War Medal of honor winner, are buried in Arlington national cemetery. Douglas MacArthur will be entombed at noon Saturday in the Memorial Building in Norfolk.

West Sparks Drive to Save Dollars

WASHINGTON, April 6 (AP) — Westerners have launched a drive in congress to keep silver dollars in circulation.

The treasury's supply is disappearing rapidly in the wake of the house appropriations committee's rejection several weeks ago of an administration request for funds to mint new dollars.

Collectors have formed lines at the mints to obtain old silver dollars and million of dollars have been sent to Western banks which are hard-pressed to fill requests for the coins.

Western members of congress, spurred by letters from home, are leading a fight they hope will result in reversal of the committee action.

Sen. Lee Metcalf, D. Mont., sponsor of a bill to cut the silver content of dollars and permit the government to make a mining profit — pointed out that the funds were requested both by the late President John F. Kennedy and President Johnson.

Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield, Mont., is a co-sponsor of the bill which was drafted as an alternative to the minting funds.

At hearings last week before the senate banking committee, the American Mining congress, in a statement by Robert M. Hardy, jr., Spokane, called the Metcalf bill a "necessary step . . . in the right direction."

"The continued use of silver for coinage is imperative to the national currency, not only in the United States but throughout the world," Hardy said.

Sen. Frank Church, D. Ida., endorsed the Metcalf bill.

"Although some people in the East have so many dollars that they prefer paper ones," Church said, "Westerners like the jingle of silver dollars in their pockets."

Church said, "We must act quickly to keep silver in circulation. We must protect the livelihood of those who work in the mines, in the woods, and on the farms and ranches."

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Leona Light. Debbie Mann was a visitor. The next meeting will be held at 4 p. m. April 18, at Miss Westbrook's home, 227 Piler avenue west.

Wallace Bid in Wisconsin Spotlighted

WASHINGTON, April 6 (AP)—Alabama Gov. George Wallace's Wisconsin primary election bid highlights a week of political activity that also will include sessions in three other states of delegates to the national nominating conventions.

Wallace, challenging the Johnson administration's civil rights program, goes up against Gov. John W. Reynolds, a favorite of the Wisconsin primary. Delegates representing 30 Republican and 46 Democratic votes will be chosen.

North Dakota Republicans met Wednesday to choose 14 delegates. Kansas Democrats will complete their 24-vote delegation and Kentucky Republicans choose their 27 delegates at state conventions Saturday.

President Johnson took his first public stand in the Wisconsin contest Sunday night. In a message to Reynolds, he called the Wisconsin governor "a patriot and a leader in whom we can all take pride" and said "I salute John Reynolds for his unceasing concern for the well-being of all the people in his state."

Another message came from Gov. Robert F. Kennedy, who said a successful campaign by Reynolds would "bolster and reinforce those who are making the good fight for human dignity in the United States."

At his news conference Saturday, Johnson was asked to comment on what effect he thinks the vote Wallace might receive in Wisconsin, Indiana and Maryland might have on the civil rights situation.

He replied: "I think the people of those states will give their vote at the time designated. I don't care to speculate or anticipate."

An expected slam-bang contest between the major announced Republican presidential candidates failed to develop in Wisconsin when a favorite son movement developed behind Rep. John Byrnes, a state legislator who is the only one entered in the GOP primary.

Lack of a contest may encourage some Wisconsin Republicans to vote in the Democratic contest. GOP leaders are urging Republicans to stay out of the Democratic battle.

Wallace has been campaigning against the Johnson administration civil rights bill now before the senate. Political leaders of both parties will be watching closely to see what impact the legislation may have had on the northern state's voters.

After Wallace filed, Reynolds got into the race to protect Wisconsin's 46 votes for President Johnson.

The Republican delegates to be chosen in Wisconsin, Kentucky and North Dakota will swell the total chosen for the July GOP convention to 192. It will take 655 votes to win the nomination.

Desperate Measures

When James R. Hoffa was convicted of tampering with a jury, it already was obvious King Jimmy knew he was in trouble. Otherwise, he wouldn't have gone so far as to try to fix a jury in the first place. His conviction was a triumph for court justice, although it still has a long way to go through the courts before Hoffa is in danger of seeing the inside of a jail.

Now the crime has been compounded. Charles L. O'Brien, close associate of King Jimmy, has been indicted for offering $25,000 to a member of the jury that convicted Hoffa of jury-tampering. O'Brien offered that sum to a member of the jury to give a false affidavit saying Hoffa didn't have a fair trial. It amounts to $25,000 worth of evidence that Hoffa's jury-tampering trial was quite fair. The effort also is evidence of the extreme desperation of Hoffa's position.

Every American can hope that the courts grind away in their slow process to finally bring Hoffa to the justice he deserves.

Although Hoffa has been accused of several crimes and has beaten all charges right up to his jury-tampering trial, the bribery charges are the worst of all. When U. S. District Judge Frank Wilson pronounced sentence on Hoffa in Chattanooga, he didn't pull any punches. He sentenced King Jimmy to eight years in prison and fined him $10,000. Then the judge came up with a lecture on behalf of every law-abiding American. It's worth repeating.

"Most defendants that stand before this court for sentencing have either violated the property rights of other individuals or have violated the personal rights of other individuals."

"You stand here convicted of seeking to corrupt the administration of justice itself. You stand here convicted of having tampered, really, with the very soul of this nation. You stand here convicted of having struck at the very foundation upon which everything else in this nation depends, the very basis of civilization itself, and that is the administration of justice, because without a fair, proper and lawful administration of justice, nothing else would be possible in this country."

"Now, if a conviction of such an offense were to go unpunished, it would surely destroy this country more quickly and more surely than any combination of any foreign foes that we could ever possibly have."

In the face of such a stern lecture from a judge, one of Hoffa's closest associates turns right around and tries to bribe another juror! Perhaps the Teamsters union isn't aware of the sort of public image it is acquiring through its leaders. Or perhaps the rank and file members of the union are helpless to do anything about it. If another Teamsters president follows the pattern of Dave Beck and Jimmy Hoffa, the image can only become worse.

Actually, all organized labor gets a black eye from leaders such as Beck and Hoffa. It's high time that unions so afflicted get rid of that sort of leader for once and all. Unions, and that certainly includes the Teamsters, can't be that bad off for leadership.

TOO MUCH DIFFERENCE

President Johnson has asked congress to investigate why farmers are receiving less for their products while housewives pay more for food in stores. No one, including housewives and farmers, should stand up and cheer in anticipation of any sudden change. Even though the President has asked for the investigation, there's no particular mystery why there is so much spread between prices to the farmer and prices paid by the housewife. It takes no congressional investigation to spot the reasons.

It has been said that if the farmer gave his wheat to the miller, the price of bread would change by no more than a cent a loaf, if that much. Virtually nothing raised by the farmer is sold without being processed first. About the only general exception is the egg common to many breakfast tables.

Everything else goes through some sort of processing ranging from a simple canning process for such items as corn to the rather complete processing involved in preparation of ready-made baking items.

Handling, processing, packaging, distribution and marketing all add to the cost of raw material. In some cases legal regulations also add to the cost of the finished product. Now keep in mind that Americans who do all this handling, processing, etc., are the highest paid in the world. All these accumulated labor costs are paid by the housewife who picks up groceries at her supermarket. The last and perhaps least of the labor costs includes the boy who carries the housewife's groceries to her car parked just outside the door.

It's easy to understand how a farmer's incomes can drop without bringing a corresponding decrease in consumer prices. The phase that's difficult to understand is why a drop in cattle prices isn't reflected almost immediately by a drop in the price of fresh beef.

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

By ANDREW TULLY
WASHINGTON, April 6—(UPI)—I'm going to vote for the public accommodations section," said the Northern senator. "But I don't see how they're going to enforce it."

The senator has plenty of company on Capitol Hill these days. Almost everybody agrees gloomily that enforcement of a ban on racial discrimination in hotels, motels, and restaurants would be a large pain in the neck, if not impossible. At best, the confusion will be monumental, with the courts clogged with litigation.

VOTES AGAINST SELF—Surprisingly, some of the most worried legislators are from the North, which in the past has been wont to consider civil rights a Southern problem. Anti-segregation demonstrations in big cities like New York have reflected the North's new preoccupation with the problem because the citizenry there has discovered that enforced integration threatens property values and the quality of their children's education.

"I can't do anything but vote for this bill," said one Northern legislator, "because that happens to be the way I feel. Five years ago, it would have been good politics, too, but now I think it may hurt me."

OPPOSITION IN NORTH—Although the South is still rigidly opposed to enforced integration, it is Northern opposition which has been making the headlines recently. The school demonstrations in New York against artificial integration in the schools have set back race relations 20 years. In Berkeley, Calif., and Tacoma, and Seattle, Wash., the citizens have shown how they feel by voting against ordinances which would have banned discrimination in real estate dealings.

In the North as well as in the South, a public accommodations law would pose huge problems for hotel and restaurant proprietors. There are too many loopholes, too much room for gimmickry and hair splitting.

For example, although a New York hotel may be integrated, it still reserves the right not to serve certain persons for certain reasons—drunkenness, disorderly conduct, wearing unsuitable clothing. Presumably, these rules should apply to all, but under public accommodations law a hotel manager probably would think three or four times before barring a drunken Negro lest he be hauled into court and charged with discrimination.

SEARCH FOR LOOPHOLES But the most depressing aspect of the whole business is that all over the country hotel and restaurant men will find ways to preserve the de facto discrimination now practiced. They will do so to "protect" their business, to hold their white customers who would go elsewhere if forced to sit in the same room with a Negro. The last room will have just been let, the last table reserved, when a Negro seeks admission—and the courts will be asked to rule on this exclusion.

Yet the public accommodations section is the one part of the bill on which the Negro refuses to compromise. It is a status symbol to him, and properly so because it is this exclusion which brands him as a second-class citizen socially. Once he gets it written into law, however, his biggest battle will have just begun—the battle in the courts.

Views of Others

IMMOBILIZED MIGHT
By spending 50,000 million dollars or about 10 per cent of GNP annually for a decade the U. S. has assembled the most stupendous and potential arsenal in the history of man. Yet the U. S. is in trouble in places like Cuba, Panama and Viet Nam. In minutes the U. S. could subjugate all three without using one per cent of its strength. (So could the USSR.)

This is a paradox. Traditionally, military and foreign policies have dovetailed. Nations have acquired arms to make their will prevail in international arguments.

If the mighty U. S. cannot make its will prevail in three of the smallest and most poverty-stricken lands on Earth, what is the use of the gigantic American stock of arms? Obviously it is only insurance against attack by a comparable Russian striking power.

This insurance is undoubtedly indispensable now, yet it seems incredible that the Americans, and the Russians, will continue forever to pay the intolerably high premiums. Though not always guided by reason, humanity is too close to being rational to go on making and buying arms meant to be used in big quarrels, for this would be suicidal, or in small quarrels either. Sooner or later something will have to give.—Financial Post.

LET CRITICS REFLECT

The 3-M company's decision to locate a western paper-coating plant in Oregon, near Medford, is a good stroke of business for this state. Those critics who make a career out of walling about Gov. Hatfield's out-of-state trips should take note.

The governor's participation in one of the final meetings in St. Paul which swung the big plant to Oregon was an important part of the presentation of Oregon's industrial promoters. Business and political leaders of Montana, Idaho, Nevada and California also were hot on the trail of this prize.

Oregon should be proud of a governor with the ability and energy to go after such projects in the only way they can be obtained—by personal presentations. For that matter, Oregonians should be pleased that they have a governor in demand throughout the nation for political and other speeches and activities. What Oregon definitely doesn't need is a governor who hides in a back room.—The Oregonian.

THE STREET STRAITS

Street breakup, cavernous in dimension, has reached an all-time peak in Idaho Falls. It's no one's fault, except Old Man Winter who doused the Idaho Falls vicinity with the most severe winter in many years. It has sent the weather students scurrying to the records to see if ever in any winter the sustained cold record of 1963-1964 was topped. There were only a handful of days since Nov. 22 in fact that the high temperature for the day went above freezing.

With such a winter, the combined moisture and cold has intensified the frost heaving and breakup of pavement to make the tire-chewing, spring-jolting ride a real pain.

City and state highway department crews this week began applying emergency treatment of the streets through a special hot tar application technique. But it may not be a long lasting treatment.

While the streets are truly impossible in some blocks, even blocks in a row, the anguish will have to be suffered in patience until time and weather permit the patching necessary.—Idaho Falls Post-Register.

BIDDING FOR VOTES

Changing Horses in Midstream

Religion in America

By LOUIS CASSELS
United Press International
In 1884, the Roman Catholic bishops of the United States met at Baltimore, Md., and adopted an historic declaration:

"Near each church where there is no parochial school, one shall be established."

All parents shall be bound to send their children to a parochial school."

In the 60 years since that policy was decreed, American Catholics have built the world's largest private school system. Today it includes more than 13,000 elementary and secondary schools, with a replacement cost estimated at 7 billion dollars. It is educating 5,655,000 students—one-fifth of all the nation's children. It costs Catholics about 825 million dollars a year to maintain, and by their calculations saves the taxpayers upwards of 2.7 billion a year.

In spite of this massive effort, Catholics never have come close to the goal set by the Baltimore council: "Every Catholic child in a Catholic school."

Nearly 60 per cent of the nation's Catholic children are now attending public schools, and the percentage enrolled in parochial schools is shrinking rather than growing. Last month the archdiocese of Cincinnati announced that it would drop the first grades of its 149 parochial schools next fall. Ten other U. S. archdioceses and dioceses already have taken steps to curtail lower grades.

Even with this kind of retrenchment, Catholic school systems across the nation are running into difficulties. They cannot get enough nuns for their teaching staffs, so they are compelled to compete with public schools in hiring salaried lay teachers. They have been building new classrooms as fast as the money is available, but not quite as fast as the Catholic youth population is growing.

The inevitable result is under-staffing and overcrowding. Many Catholic schools today have 60 children per classroom, compared with 25 or 30 in public schools.

There is widespread agreement among Catholics that something has to be done about parochial schools. But what? Four possibilities are currently being debated in the Catholic community. They are:

1. Abandon the whole parochial school system, send all Catholic children to public schools, and concentrate the church's resources on the task of providing really first-rate religious education. This solution is proposed in a new book, "Are Parochial Schools the Answer?" (Holt, Rinehart and Winston) by Mary Perkins Ryan. Mrs. Ryan is a distinguished Catholic lay leader, a director of the national liturgical committee and an executive of the National Council of Catholic Women. Her book bears the imprimatur of Bishop Ernest J. Primeau of Manchester, N. H., who says in a foreword that Mrs. Ryan's "provocative" suggestion warrants intelligent discussion among Catholics although "not a few will disagree" with her.

2. Eliminate the lower grades of parochial schools, and try to provide enough well-staffed Catholic high schools to accommodate all Catholic teen-agers. This plan was advanced by Archbishop Lawrence J. Shehan of Baltimore. In situations where it seems impossible to provide full Catholic education for all Catholic children," he said, it would be better to let parents oversee the religious training of younger children and focus the attention of church schools on adolescents.

3. Enroll Catholic children part-time in parochial schools, and part-time in public schools. This "shared time" plan has been warmly endorsed by major Protestant bodies, and many public school educators. Shared time experiments are now under way in about 150 American communities. Legislation is pending in congress to provide 15 million dollars in federal aid funds to encourage such trials.

4. Obtain public funds for parochial schools. This solution is unquestionably the one that the Catholic hierarchy would prefer, if it ever should become politically feasible. Whether or when that day will arrive is a subject on which opinions differ sharply.

World Corners

By PHIL NEWSOM
(UPI Foreign News Analyst)
BEIRUT, Lebanon, April 6 (UPI)—Here in this listening post of the Middle East the first impression is of the intense effort going into attempts to reach Arab unity.

The next is all the reasons, both internal and external, which make it unlikely if not impossible.

Indeed if it were not for a common hatred of Israel, it seems more probable that Phil Newsom, many of these nations quickly would be at each other's throats.

Jordan's King Hussein, in the unaccustomed role of friend to Egypt's President Nasser, flits from capital to capital for conferences with the Kuwaitis, the Saudis and the Iranians.

Arab foreign ministers meet to put the final touches on the message they shortly will carry to world capitals presenting their case against Israel and its determination to divert Jordan river waters into the Negev to provide new arable land for its burgeoning population.

Arab league delegates meet in Cairo, more or less in a spirit of amity, seeking a solution to the Yemen dispute.

These are the outward results of last January's Arab summit meeting in Cairo.

But already old quarrels are coming back to the surface and some new problems have been added.

TAYLOR'S VIEWS ON WORLD NEWS

By HENRY J. TAYLOR
This will be news to Khrushchev, Mao, Castro and a brim-bowling handful of bobtail tyrants slapping us looney-in much of the world. But if you want to roll over quietly and sleep content, inhale a state department document.

This phial of ether is the agency's official performance report to the senate foreign relations committee, uncorked March 30, wherein it achieves handsomely the bureaucratic goal of never, never being recorded as wrong.

The whiff begins with the self-serving announcement that we are winning the cold war—which is where what must be news to the reds comes in. "Cover-all," states the report, "there appear to have been larger gains than losses for the free world."

The Soviet lodgment in Cuba is a gain for the free world? Red artillery pointing down on Guantanamo is a gain for the free world? In the very period this report covers, Cuba has become a red bastion fringed with fire. Castro's violent, relentless infiltration of Venezuela, Honduras, the Dominican Republic, Colombia, Panama, etc., is a gain for the free world? And the protection (incredible) we are providing Castro's sanctuary with our great U.S. air force and navy is a gain for the free world? This is the kind of gain an egg makes when its falls off the Empire State building.

We don't have a foreign policy. We have Humpty-Dumpty. We said "communism is not negotiable in the western hemisphere" and we have been negotiating about it ever since. We said unless we stood firm in Laos we would lose neighboring South Viet Nam, Cambodia, Thailand and most of Southeast Asia. Then we negotiated our position downhill again, as in Cuba and elsewhere, and shrugged off Laos at the Geneva conference. Presidential representative Averell Harriman even stated there: "Laos isn't so important, after all."

Since we have allowed the red forces a sanctuary in Laos, from which they are molesting the skin remains. Sometimes the brown spot appears without any hives. The spots may fade very specifically, but they addles the mind. Sometimes they are made to disappear by giving pyribenzamine. Since the spots are harmless, I would advise killing them alone.

Q—Our son had above average intelligence. Then he got what our doctor calls encephalopathy with cerebral dysrhythmia. Now he stays in bed all the time and has to be tube fed. The doctor says the cause is not known and there is no cure. He was treated for several chest infections with antibiotics and other drugs. Could they have damaged his brain?

A—Encephalopathy is a general term for the brain damage seen in lead poisoning, some severe kidney infections and generalized brain infections. You don't mention convulsions, so they are usually associated with cerebral dysrhythmia which is a disturbance of the brain wave seen on the electroencephalogram.

I doubt that the tragic change in your son was caused by any of the drugs that he took. Your doctor is probably right and you could wait for a fortune telling from a doctor to another in search of help. But if you have not lost one top-flight nerve specialist see your child, it might be wise for your peace of mind to do so.

The Doctor Says

BY WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

A mother complains that her 24-year-old daughter often goes three or four days without a bowel movement—in spite of the fact that she drinks a lot of prune juice.

This child should eat some cooked or raw vegetable and fruit every day. Prune juice alone is not enough to insure a normal movement. The amount should be regulated so that the stools are firm. And Dr. Brandstadt remembers, in some children it is normal to have a bowel movement only two or three times a week. If the stools are very hard, the child may be given a glycerine suppository or a small enema (four ounces of plain warm water) to get the movement started. This should not be done routinely and laxatives should be avoided.

Q—We took our 10-month-old son to a skin specialist because of a spot on his neck. The doctor said it was vitiligo, pigmentosa. How serious is this? Should we have the spot removed?

A—In vitiligo pigmentosa, the skin develops and persists for several weeks. When they disappear a brown discoloration of appreciat is that of a doubleton ace or king. It doesn't take a great deal of nerve to lead a doubleton ace, but lots of players will never open a doubleton king because they look so silly if they do it right into declarer's ace and it comes or some equally unfortunate card combination.

Now supposing you hold the West hand. Your opponents have reached four spades on decisive bidding. You have three little trumps and you know trumps are going to break nicely for declarer. You have ace and one diamond, so there should be no trouble setting up dummy's suit. Do you want to give up or do you want to lead the king of hearts and hope to collect two quick heart tricks and a heart ruff?

This time if you lead the king of hearts you are a hero. Next time you are likely to be a bum.

Murder Trial Is Under Way In Boise

BOISE, April 6 (AP)—The federal government planned to call 21 witnesses in the first-degree murder trial of George Leroy Stednitz which opened today in U. S. district court.

Stednitz, 20, is accused of fatally shooting Raymond Eugene Carroll at a religious service in the Boise veterans administration hospital last Nov. 16. He has waived a jury trial and District Judge Fred M. Taylor will hear the case.

Stednitz, an army cook at Ft. Lewis, Wash., was home on leave when the shooting occurred.

Glenns Ferry School Vote Set Tuesday

GLENN'S FERRY, April 6 (AP)—Taxpayers of school district 192—Glenn's Ferry, Hammett, King Hill, Pasadena Valley, Indian Cove and Rye Grass—will vote from 1 to 8 p.m. Tuesday on the $800,000 school bond.

If the bond is approved by two-thirds of the voters, it will finance a 16-room elementary building, 12-room high school, gymnasium, industrial arts shop, elementary and high school library, music room, kitchen and cafeteria and facilities to accommodate this type of plant.

School officials say the program will bring a substantial savings in the district in transportation, heating, lights, janitor service and maintenance.

The junior high school, now housed at King Hill would be moved to the present high school building at Glenn's Ferry.

Supt. Clint Bugg announces the board approved an option for the purchase of the Floyd Wise property at Glenn's Ferry for a building site if voters approve the bond.

Pollin places will be St. Bridget's hall at Glenn's Ferry for the Glenn's Ferry, Pasadena Valley and Rye Grass precincts; Don Pancoast residence, Indian Cove precinct; Hammett elementary school, Hammett precinct, and the King Hill elementary school, King Hill precinct.

Bhutan Prime Minister Is Assassinated

NEW DELHI, India, April 6 (AP)—Authorities were mystified today by the assassination of Jigme Dorji, the popular prime minister of the remote Himalayan kingdom of Bhutan.

More than 18 hours after Dorji's murder Sunday night, there still was no trace of the assassin. Officials could give no specific reason for the killing.

Dorji, 45, was hit by a bullet fired through a window of a government house at Phuntsholing, an isolated Bhutan town in the foothills bordering India. He died two hours later before medical experts could reach him.

The premier, whose brother-in-law is the king of Bhutan, was a popular premier with no known rivals wanting to replace him.

Bhutan is a small mountain state of less than one million population. It is bordered by India, Sikkim and Communist-controlled Tibet. The kingdom is independent, but it is guided in foreign affairs and defense by India under a mutual treaty.

News Around Idaho

BOISE, April 6 (AP)—An Idaho national guard pilot escaped serious injury Sunday but the helicopter he was flying was heavily damaged when it crashed after striking a high voltage transmission wire 19 miles east of Boise. Guard officials said Pilot Robert E. Proffitt, 29, Orofino, suffered a mild concussion and was admitted to the veterans administration hospital in Boise for treatment.

Proffitt is a member of the 145th engineer group of the Idaho air national guard, was flying a routine training mission when the accident occurred, officials said.

BOISE, April 6 (AP)—Two Idaho state penitentiary trustees were returned to the Prison Sunday after their escape attempt was foiled by police in Ontario, Ore. Warden L. E. Clapp said Darrell Dugger, 30, and Louis Eugene Clancy, 31, apparently climbed out a window of their quarters outside the prison compound around 11:30 p.m. Saturday, stole a car in Boise and drove to Ontario where they were taken into custody. Clapp said the two at first refused to waive extradition but later agreed to return to Idaho. The men face possible escape charge and a federal charge of transporting a stolen car across a state line. Dugger is serving a 10 year sentence for burglary in Nez Perce county and Clancy is serving a three-year term for passing an insufficient fund check in Elmore county.

POCATELLO, April 6 (AP)—Pocatello, in the midst of a city clean-up drive, is considering placing a tax on car bodies in auto wrecking yards. A unit of the Pocatello Chamber of Commerce's beautification committee recommended such a tax, as an "inducement" to yard operators to dispose of many car bodies cluttered there. The clean-up drive starts next week, with main objectives removal of wrecks and unsightly car bodies on private property from wrecking yards, repairs on run down buildings and removal of junk and other debris from within city limits. The beautification committee urged that each car body be valued at $25, and be placed on tax rolls.

BOISE, April 6 (AP)—A business meeting and addresses by six leading banking and business officials were on the agenda today for the 14th annual junior officers convention of the Idaho Bankers association in Boise. Speakers listed include Charles P. Haywood, San Francisco, director of economic research for the Bank of America; Henry Deboest, Jr., Chicago, assistant cashier of the First National Bank of Chicago; and Robert W. Pope Pius Is Supported by Court Justice

WASHINGTON, April 6 (AP)—Supreme Court Justice Arthur J. Goldberg says dramatist Rolf Hochhuth "did not do justice to that great and good pontiff, Pope Pius XII" in the play, "The Deputy."

Hochhuth's play criticizes the pope for not publicly condemning the mass murder of Jews by Nazi Germany.

Goldberg, a Jew, told the American Jewish Conference on Soviet Jewry in Washington Sunday: "Jews are and ever should be grateful for what the Pope and the Catholic church did to rescue innocent Jewish victims of Nazi insanity and barbarism."

FHA Members Will Observe National Week

EDEN-HAZELTON, April 6 — Members of Valley chapter, Future Homemakers of America, are celebrating national FHA week Sunday through Saturday, according to President Sharon Metzler.

Highlight of the week's activities will be the joint FHA-FFA banquet set for Friday at Valley high school.

The week's activities began with "go to church Sunday." Monday, all Valley FHA girls wore red and white. Tuesday, the group is sponsoring a locker cleanup campaign at the school. Wednesday, the girls will present each member of the faculty an apple. Thursday, the group will provide napkins for the hot lunch room. Friday is the banquet, and Saturday girls will assist with the Cancer society fund drive.

More than one and one-half million FHA members in junior high schools and high schools are observing FHA week. The organization is in its 19th year of work toward the overall goal of helping individuals improve personal, family and community living.

A national program of work guides activities. Commenting on the current projects, Mrs. Ferrell Chambers, adviser for the Valley group, says, "Preparation for marriage and stay in school activities have great appeal for members at this time. Surveys and interviews with marriage counselors and other adult advisers and with couples who married while still in their teens have directed attention to programs discouraging early marriage."

"Stay in school activities," Mrs. Chambers said, "range from publicity campaigns proclaiming that 'drop-outs are left-outs' and diplomas open doors, to actual chapter adoption and support of needy teen-agers who would otherwise be forced to leave school."

Beckwith to Face Retrial For Murder

JACKSON, Miss., April 6 (AP)—Byron De La Beckwith, a crusading segregationist, goes to court today for a retrial on charges he killed Negro integration leader Medgar Evers.

The first trial ended Feb. 7 with a hung jury. The all-white jury had deliberated for 11 tense hours, finally splitting 6-6.

Whites and Negroes alike were surprised. Most had expected a quick acquittal.

Beckwith, 43, is accused of shooting Evers from ambush when the Negro leader returned home last summer from a civil rights meeting. Evers, 37, was state field secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

The slaying last June 11, Beckwith's arrest 11 days later and the impact of the first trial stirred deep racial passions in this southern state which has the highest percentage of Negroes in the nation.

Fisher Unsure About His Own Marriage Status

HOLLYWOOD, April 6 (AP)—Singer Eddie Fisher says he still considers himself the husband of actress Elizabeth Taylor, who considers herself the wife of actor Richard Burton.

Fisher, asked whether he will marry again, told a Hollywood reporter:

"I've been married two times (first to actress Debbie Reynolds) and besides I'm still married. I don't remember getting divorced."

Miss Taylor got a Mexican divorce from Fisher.

"With the experience I've had," said Fisher, "I'd have to think awhile and another marriage—maybe about 10 years."

Singer Demands Integrated Concert Audience

NEW YORK, April 6 (AP)—Soprano Brigit Nilsson has canceled a concert Thursday in Jackson, Miss., saying she has been informed "that there would be race riots, were I to sing."

The Swedish opera star said the information came from Charles Evers, field secretary for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People in Jackson.

Henceforth, said Miss Nilsson, "I will sing only before integrated audiences."

Dream too Much? Don't Fret, Study Says It's Good for You

WASHINGTON, April 6 (AP)—Dreaming is good for your health.

That is what the U. S. public health service told congress in testimony released today by a house appropriations subcommittee.

In a report on research conducted by Dr. Joe Kamiya of the Langley Porter Neuropsychiatric Institute at San Francisco, the agency said:

"Only in recent years has it become evident that dreaming may serve some very important psychological functions."

Dreaming, the report said, is normally universal and accounts for more than one-fifth of every night's sleep.

Studies show that when dreams are interrupted by forced awakening or by administration of certain drugs, the individual later shows a number of psychological "disturbances."

"For example," the report said, "he develops feelings of anxiety and tension, and he displays mild memory disturbances and difficulty in concentration. Some individuals deprived of dreaming also develop intense hunger."

Scientists also noted that when persons were deprived of dreaming for several nights, they experienced an increase in the amount of dreaming when allowed to sleep normally—"as if in an attempt to make up for the earlier lack of dreaming."

Kamiya has been conducting his research work under a U. S. public health service grant.

Succession to Gypsy Throne Starts Tiff

SALT LAKE CITY, April 6 (AP)—A gypsy tribal king remained in critical condition today at a Salt Lake City hospital. Meanwhile, a dispute arose between his son and brother over who was to succeed the ailing leader, Miguel Marks.

His brother, Ogden used car dealer Joe Marks, told a newsman on Sunday he was now the king.

But Miller Marks, Miguel's son, said his 60-year-old father remains king as long as he lives and his successor would be decided by tribal vote if he dies.

Members of Marks' tribe remained at St. Marks hospital, where they have congregated since their leader's condition became critical Friday. A hospital spokesman said about 35 were there early today.

The Gypsies believe they can help the king's condition by praying near the hospital. The size of Marks' tribe, which includes Gypsies from several western states, has been a matter of dispute. Miller Marks said it numbers 10,000 but Bob Ephrem, Phoenix, who said he was a member, put the figure at about 700. Ephrem said Marks is a king to the head of all U.S. Gypsies. What's in it for you?

The growth of the Telephone Business in Idaho last year could well mean more to you and your family than you realize.

For example:

Our 1,400 employees in Idaho earned $8,300,000 in wages which were spent largely in the state. If you're a merchant in one of the communities we serve, our employees probably did business with you.

The Company's state and local tax bill in Idaho last year was about $3,000,000. You're enjoying the effects of this money in better streets and highways, schools and other governmental services.

Our Company and Western Electric both buy goods and services from many local suppliers. In the eight-state area served by our Company, these expenditures average $100,000,000 a year. If you work for one of our local suppliers, we, in effect, did business with you.

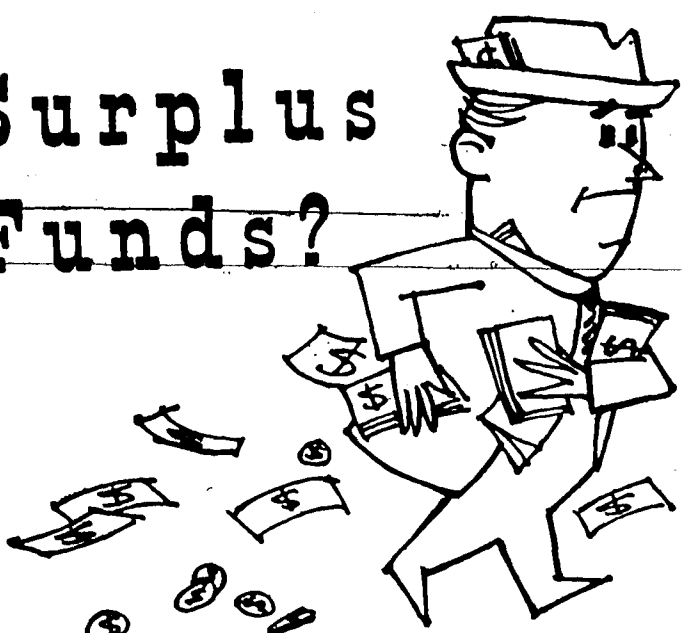

Our plans for 1964 call for a construction program totaling about $6,100,000. As we pace Idaho's population growth, we'll also be working hard to improve the telephone service you already have.

Growth and Improvement.

Early Trout Fishing Poor In Places

BOISE, April 6 (AP)—The Idaho fish and game department Sunday reported that early season trout fishing at O. Ben Ross reservoir in Adams county and Crane Falls lake has been generally poor. But the department said local drains in Ada, Canyon and Payette counties have produced excellent fishing. Cold water coupled with a partial ice cover is blamed for poor fishing at the Ben Ross reservoir. Department officials said, however, that conditions should improve with warmer weather. A total of 101 fishermen checked at Crane Falls lake reported an average catch of less than one trout.

William Platte, area fishery biologist, said, however, that the lake was heavily stocked prior to the opening and that fishing should pick up as the season progresses. An average catch of six trout per fisherman is reported in the Ada, Canyon and Payette county drain ditches. Platte said the majority of the fish taken were running from five to 12 inches and that some anglers have checked in with trout in the 14 to 18 inch class.

Car Racing Results Are Protested

HUNTINGTON, W. Va., April 6 (AP)—Tom Dill, 35-year-old mechanic from Erie, Pa., may have won the Americana 300 late model stock car race at West Virginia International Speedway Sunday. Officials said Dill won the 300-lap 112½-mile event when his 1964 Ford-1½ right front tire blew—limped across the finish line a couple of car lengths ahead of a 1964 Pontiac, driven by Virgil Barbe, Detroit, Mich. However, Elmer Musgrave, Niles, Ill., driving a 1963 Mercury, didn't think Dill won and said so. He thought he won it himself. Musgrave was placed third unofficially. "I lapped that No. 9 car (Dill's) eight times in the 300 laps," Musgrave protested. That sent president John Marcum of the Auto Racing club of America into a tangle with officials for a check of scorecards. After checking for an hour Marcum said that Musgrave's scorer left the track with his scorecard after 185 laps. Both scorer and card were missing. Marcum said prize money for the first three positions would not be paid pending a ruling by ARCA Commissioner John Phillips, Columbus. First place is worth $1,225 of the total purse of $7,000.

Group Tries to Buy Redskins

WASHINGTON, April 6 (AP)—A group of investment bankers headed by George L. Ohrstrom of The Plains, Va., is bidding for the Washington Redskins professional football team. Last Thursday Washington attorney Harry G. Sells said his syndicate had offered 7 million dollars for the club but C. Leo DeOrsey acting director of Redskins, noted that the Sells syndicate had not put its offer in writing. The Washington Post said the Ohrstrom group submitted a 7 million dollar written offer for 100 per cent of the stock. This offer went to DeOrsey more than two weeks ago and included a certified check for $500,000. The Post said that after four days DeOrsey returned the check advising Ohrstrom that the Redskins' stockholders were not in favor of selling the club's assets.

U.S. Bred Horses Top Italian Race

NAPLES, Italy, April 6 (AP)—American-bred horses took the first three places Sunday in Italy's most important trotting race—the Lottery grand prize.

Hurst Hanover won in a photo finish with Furry Hanover. Third place went to the 2-1 favorite Nike Hanover. All three now are Italian owned.

Hurst Hanover trotted the 1-680 meters—232 feet more than a mile—in 2:08.8. He is owned by St. Filippo Stable and was driven by Gian Carlo Baldi. Hurst Hanover is a 6-year-old by Kimberly Kid-Hoot Lassie.

The winner earned $40,000 and paid 42 lire on a 10 lire bet. Furry Hanover (by Hoot Mon-Pay) was driven by Giochino Ossanti and races for the San Cantalario Stable. Nike Hanover, a 7-year-old by Star Pride—Nana Hanover, is owned by the Manuela Stable. His driver was a German, Jan Froemming.

The race gets its name from the $240,000 national lottery which is settled on the results of the race.

CUT ROSTER

MIAMI, Fla., April 6 (AP)—The Baltimore Orioles optioned pitchers Darold Knowles and Herm Starrette to Rochester Sunday, reducing their roster to 29 players.

Hazzard, Bradley Top Olympic Picks

NEW YORK, April 6 (AP)—All-Americas Walt Hazzard, UCLA, and Bill Bradley, Princeton, along with three members of the Goodyear Wingfoots, head the 12-man basketball team selected Sunday to represent the United States in the Tokyo Olympics. The team members were named by G. Russell Lyons, Boulder, Colo., chairman of the Olympic selection committee following three days of trials at St. John's university.

From the Wingfoots AAU champions the committee picked Pete McCaffrey, Larry Brown and Dick Davies. All were members of the AAU Star team that won the team title in the trials. Others selected were Joe Caldwell, Arizona state; Jerry Shipp, Phillips 66ers; Jim Barnes, Texas Western; Mel Counts, Oregon state; Lucious Jackson, Pan American college; George Wilson, Jamaco Saints, and Jeff Mullins, Duke.

Alternates are Bunk Dams, U. S. Army; Gail Goodrich, UCLA; Fred Hetzel, Davidson; Willie Murrell, Kansas state; Cotton Nash, Kentucky; Bill Minton, U. S. Air Force, and Dave Stallworth, Wichita.

Hank Vaughn, coach of the Wingfoots and the AAU star team in the trials, was named assistant to Olympic Coach Henry Iba, Oklahoma state.

"I got what I wanted," Iba said when handed the list of players. "I feel we can play very well under international rules. We've got good shooters from the fringe area about 25 feet out. We have guards who can crash and who can open up the middle, particularly in the last few minutes of the game. And another important factor is that we have versatility, we can swing our players around."

He pointed out that Bradley and Mullins can play either forward or guard and that Barnes and Jackson can work at either center or forward.

"If we have a weakness," Iba said, "it would be that a couple of our guards are not as good outside shooters as I'd like. Again, however we have the versatility and we can use Brown and Davies when the need arises for delaying the game."

"I'm not completely satisfied with the work on the boards during the trials. We'll have to work on it."

Probably the biggest surprise in the selections was the omission of Villanova's Wally Jones one of the most outstanding performers in the trials.

Turlock Wins Feature Race

PHOENIX, Ariz., April 6 (AP)—Turlock led all the way to win Sunday's 6½ furlong feature race at Turf Paradise by 2½ lengths. The 4-year-old bay colt was timed in 1:15 and paid $4.20, $3.60 and $2.80. The jockey was Bradley Rollins.

War Fleet paid $6.50 and $4.60 for second and Classic Look returned $3.40 to show.

Banks Predicts Pennant, Series for Chicago Cubs

MESA, Ariz., April 6 (AP)—Ernie Banks, 33-year-old first baseman of the Chicago Cubs sounded like the driver of a sightseeing bus as he predicted another pennant for his team, which has been pennant-less since 1945. Since his first trip to spring training with the Cubs in 1954, Banks has had 10 straight forecasting failures, picking the Cubs as pennant winners. "This lack of success has failed to dent the spirit of the always optimistic Banks."

Holding court in the shade of the Cubs third base dugout in Mesa's Rendezvous park Banks said: "I checked the schedule, and we will close out the season in San Francisco Oct. 4. Since we will have the flag all wrapped up by then, we will fly home to Chicago that night."

"The next morning we'll have our first World Series workout in Wrigley field where the big classic will open the following Wednesday."

After he was interrupted by somebody who wanted to know who the Cubs were going to play in the 1964 World Series Banks claimed: "Why the White Sox of course. This is going to be a great triumph for Chicago. They will be dancing with joy in the great street—State street—Cub and White Sox fans alike."

When it appeared Banks was losing his audience, the man who has played 1,500 games for the Cubs, said "Don't forget what I'm telling you in April will come through in October. The Cubs will win the pennant and beat the White Sox in the World Series."

BLOWN OUT
NEW ORLEANS, April 6 (AP)—High winds forced postponement Sunday of the final race in the Jahncke star boat series. The race will be sailed Thursday.
