PHILADELPHIA, April 29 (AP) — Gov. William W. Scranton easily swept Pennsylvania's Republican presidential preference primary Tuesday, scoring a state record for write-in votes. He said today, in a statement from his home at Dalton, that he was "astonished" by the size of his write-in and "certainly I am grateful to the men and women of Pennsylvania who have offered this expression of their confidence."

Rights Needed

WASHINGTON, April 29 (AP) — President Johnson told religious leaders who are supporting the civil rights bill that it will be enacted into law "because justice and morality demand it."

"It is your job—as men of God—to awaken the conscience of America," Johnson said as he met with the churchmen today in the White House.

Present were the leaders of the Protestant, Roman Catholic and Jewish faiths who sponsored at Georgetown university a gathering Tuesday night of more than 6,000 people supporting a moral crusade for racial equality.

Simplot Says Monsanto Is Aided by BPA

BOISE, April 29—The J. R. Simplot company says the offer of inexpensive power by the Bonneville power administration would not represent the saving in its phosphate operations that it does to the Monsanto company.

Ferris Gilkey, Idaho Falls, southern Idaho area manager of the Bonneville power administration, said that if it wishes, Simplot can buy power at the 2.2-mill rate offered Monsanto for its fertilizer plant at Soda Springs.

But J. R. Simplot, Boise, president of the firm which bears his name, said the saving is more significant for Monsanto, which uses the electric furnace method of processing phosphate. Simplot uses chemicals.

"They propose giving my competitor his raw product, electricity, at a saving of 2.5 million dollars as compared to what he is paying now," Simplot said. "That's just like handing him a subsidy of 2.5 million dollars a year, and I can't compete with it."

"It's just that simple."

Simplot denied there were other factors behind his decision to cancel a 4 million dollar expansion program at the firm's phosphate complex near Pocatello.

Gilkey stated that proposed reductions in shipping rates for phosphate rock from Florida to California may have prompted the decision.

Three Jurors Picked for Hoffa Trial

CHICAGO, April 29 (AP) — One of the four jurors tentatively accepted to try James R. Hoffa on charges of fraud and conspiracy, was dismissed today. As the trial went into its third day in U. S. district court only three jurors now have been tentatively seated.

The juror dismissed was Helen Cooper who came to court with a letter in which she stated she is convinced she could not reach a verdict fair to either Hoffa or the federal government.

Liger Party

SALT LAKE CITY, April 29 (AP) — A roaring fun time will mark the 16th birthday anniversary Saturday of Shasta, the Hogle zoological gardens liger.

A birthday party sponsored by a Salt Lake City newspaper promises to attract 9,000 area youngsters to the zoo for the festivities.

Admission for kids 13 years old and under will be free—providing they bring an original hand-drawn birthday card for Shasta.

A giant birthday cake is promised for the big cat, which is a cross between a lion and a tiger. She is the daughter of Huey, a male lion, and Daisy, a Bengal tigress.

Methodists May Change Negro Group

PITTSBURGH, April 29 (AP) — The general conference of the Methodist church was told today that its Central Negro Jurisdiction "is incompatible with the basic principle of equality" and should be abolished between now and 1968.

A church commission advanced a plan for gradually doing away with the Negro administrative body but warned there would be a problem of implementation in the southeast where almost half of the jurisdiction's members reside.

The Central Jurisdiction has a membership of 373,000, all Negroes, and is non-geographical. The other five jurisdictions within the 10-million member denomination are determined geographically.

The commission on interjurisdictional relations, which has studied the problem of racial segregation within the church for the past four years, submitted this proposal to the 900 delegates attending the conference.

—Realignment of the annual conferences in the Central Jurisdiction so each fall exclusively within the boundaries of one of the regional jurisdictions;

—Merger of these realigned annual conferences into the regional jurisdictions in which they lie;

—And merger of all the annual conferences in the respective jurisdictions.

FT. CAMPBELL, Ky., April 29 (AP) — Six persons were killed today when an army helicopter crashed while on a training flight at Ft. Campbell.

The public information officer said the craft carried two crewmen and four passengers but declined to identify them until the next of kin had been notified.

A board of officers was convened to investigate the accident.

Prince, Princess Wed in Rome, Rites Shunned by Royal Family

ROME, April 29 (AP) — Princess Irene of the Netherlands and Prince Carlos of Bourbon-Parma were married today in a wedding boycotted by the Dutch royal family, opposed by the Dutch government and ignored by Generalissimo Francisco Franco's Spanish regime. The headstrong Dutch princess and the Carlist pretender to the Spanish throne exchanged vows in the Borghese chapel of Rome's Basilica of St. Mary Major before Paolo Cardinal Giobbe, a former papal nuncio to the Netherlands.

The chapel was filled with titled nobility, supporters of the Carlist cause and Dutch visitors to Rome. But no ruling member of a royal house was present, and Franco sent no representative.

The romance of the blonde, 25-year-old princess and the thin, balding 34-year-old prince had been buffeted for months by controversy stemming from religion and his position as claimant to the throne from the Carlist branch of Spanish monarchists.

Irene's conversion to the prince's Roman Catholic faith caused a sensation in the Netherlands, whose royal family is traditionally Protestant.

The princess also renounced her right of succession to the Dutch throne—she was next in line behind Princess Beatrix—and publicly espoused her future husband's campaign for the vacant Spanish throne.

There was widespread belief in the Netherlands that the Bourbon-Parma family was trying to use the marriage to bolster its claim in Spain. The Dutch government vetoed a big wedding in Holland.

The Bourbon-Parma, who live in France, chose Rome for the wedding as neutral territory. The Dutch government put pressure on Queen Juliana and her family not to attend to keep them out of Spanish politics. Irene became a virtual exile from her homeland.

Irene and Carlos insisted in an interview last week that mother and daughter were still devoted and that Juliana did not oppose their marriage. Informed circles in the Hague said Irene's wedding gown was a gift from her mother.

A spokesman for the Bourbon-Parma family said Irene and Carlos would fly to Madrid after the wedding and later go to the Holy Land for a honeymoon.

Members were named at a meeting Tuesday night at the Memorial elementary school called by the Minidoka County PTA council. Dell Thompson, president of the Minidoka PTA, and Ray Conde were named to head the committee.

They will invite all former school board members living in the county and present school trustees to study the school situation. Their recommendations will be presented at a meeting to be called by Mrs. Harlow Cheney, PTA council president.

Representatives attended the Tuesday night session from all PTA units in the county. Superintendent Meyer also was present.

Criticism expressed at the meeting was centered on the planned half-day sessions for the first three grades.

Meyer pointed out the school trustees feel the problems facing the county schools are so serious it is imperative to have all parents concerned, and having half-day sessions for the lower grades will affect more students than a comparable change in high school.

Other recommendations previously announced by school trustees are closing the old Heyburn elementary school, which houses fourth and fifth grades only, and the Pioneer school, a rural school northwest of Rupert.

About 15 faculty members will be eliminated and students shifted to equalize the classrooms throughout the county, according to present board plans.

Emergency Bill Tossed At Solons

WASHINGTON, April 29 (UPI) — Sen. Jennings Randolph, D., W. Va., introduced in the senate today President Johnson's 228 million dollar emergency Appalachian program designed to end "despair and hopelessness" in the 10-state region. The legislation was sent to congress Tuesday by the Chief Executive with bi-partisan support, some of it reluctant from the Republicans. It was immediately referred to the senate public works committee.

Sen. John Sherman Cooper, R., Ky., who with Randolph represents two of the most depressed states, spoke on the senate floor in behalf of the bill. Sen. Thurston Morton, R., Ky., also spoke in favor of the bill.

Cooper and Randolph, ranking party members on the committee, said "the prompt action of the President must be matched by speedy and decisive action in congress. This federal-state-local program of cooperation for development of roads, agriculture, timber, public facilities and industrial financing can provide a foundation for economic growth and relieve the heavy unemployment."

The bill included Ohio after Gov. James A. Rhodes made a last-minute request that his state be added, plus a 10 million dollar coal mining area restoration program urged by Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton.

The complete cost, over an unspecified period of years and including state, local and federal funds, was estimated at between 2 billion dollars and 4 billion dollars.

Johnson said that what he was asking now would be financed from funds already included in the 500 million dollar contingency item of his fiscal 1965 budget.

Reports from the scene, in the Tadjik Republic bordering Afghanistan, said further blasting on the diversionary canal will be later. Engineers originally estimated they had only until Friday to build the canal, figuring the backed-up water would top the landslide dam by then.

Moscow papers said that the famed cities of Samarkand, 100 miles downriver, and Bukhara, 130 miles farther along the Zeravshan's course, were in no danger of floods. But a number of villages below the landslide dam have been evacuated.

Support Is Voiced For Bean Quarantine

HAZELTON, April 29 — Proposed Idaho department of agriculture bean quarantines 1964-10 and 1964-11 met with more favorable acceptance at the second session of a series of public hearings called by Commissioner Stanley Trenhale. The second session began at 1:30 p.m. Tuesday in the Grange hall here, with about 50 persons ready to offer testimony. The outcome of the hearings could determine whether quarantines will be imposed to control halo blight in Magic Valley. At a 7:30 p.m. session here Tuesday, more than 100 attended, with some bean companies supporting the proposed quarantine. Perry Morris, Hazelton bean dealer, favored the proposed quarantine.

Many Twin Falls bean dealers attended the second session of the hearings and restated their objections. The feeling was that the testimony was running about even for and against the quarantines, with those favoring the quarantines picking up support in the north side communities.

Farmers from Jerome, Cassia and Minidoka counties attended and offered testimony both for and against the proposed quarantine.

John Remsburg, Rupert farmer and former member state board of education, continued in the role of moderator, with Commissioner Trenhale and others, including representatives of the attorney generals' office and researchers, in attendance.

The hearing will conclude in Hazelton today. Final decision will be made after the governor and commissioner study the testimony.

N. Y. Judge Sent To Penitentiary

NEW YORK, April 29 (AP) — Melvin Osterman, ousted judge of the state court of claims, was sentenced to a year in the penitentiary today in the state's liquor authority scandal.

Osterman, 61, a former Republican district leader, pleaded guilty April 6 to three counts of conspiring to bribe Martin C. Epstein, head of the authority, to fix cases before the stage agency.

Epstein subsequently was indicted on charges of taking unlawful fees and evading the state income tax law. He is awaiting trial.

The door jamb and door to the office of Dr. Robert E. Williams, 810 North Lincoln, were ruined and are being replaced today, the dentist said. He reported the intruders apparently were looking for drugs only, as they bypassed dental gold in the office safe, which they expertly opened.

Dental gold often is taken by burglars and exchanged for cash in underworld outlets, he noted. The drugs, including a vial of morphine, 10 vials of demoral and one vial of methadon, were taken from Dr. James E. Sloat. Also taken were five glass syringes, seven stainless steel needles, 50 disposable glass syringes and $1.50 in cash.

There was only petty cash in both offices, police said. Both offices were completely ransacked, but the damage is covered by insurance, it was reported.

Vietnamese Assault Red Strongholds

SAIGON, South Viet. Nam, April 29 (UPI) — Government forces today were in the third day of a two-week operation against communist guerrilla strongholds in the central highlands.

Two Americans were wounded in the initial assaults on Do Xa and Mang Xin Monday, but government casualties were light despite heavy communist fire.

Eighteen of the 20 U.S. helicopters used to transport the Vietnamese troops were struck by guerrilla groundfire. Four of them and one propeller-driven fighter-bomber plane were downed.

A U.S. air force captain was killed in neighboring Thailand Tuesday in a helicopter crash.

Allies Try to Guess Next French Move

PARIS, April 29 (UPI) — Allied officials appeared concerned today that France might follow up its withdrawal of naval officers from North Atlantic Treaty organization (NATO) commands by moves affecting French forces in Germany.

The French government announced Tuesday that it had withdrawn all 10 senior French naval officers from NATO commands, on the ground that there were no longer any sizable French units under them.

President Charles de Gaulle had pulled French naval units out of the NATO Mediterranean fleet in 1959. Three months ago, he removed the bulk of France's Atlantic fleet and English channel units from NATO control.

Only five French submarines in the North sea still operate under NATO. The rest of the French navy is under purely French command.

NATO officials appeared concerned about the future of the two and one-half French army divisions and three air force nuclear fighter wings under NATO command in West Germany.

French officials have denied reports that the army and air force units will be withdrawn from NATO control.

Cypriots Hold Fire At High Pass

NICOSIA, Cyprus, April 29 (AP) — Greek Cypriots held their fire today after the U.N. peace force commander denounced their drive to hunt the Turks from strategic Kyrenia pass.

There was no indication how long the lull would last. U.N. observers reported relative quiet throughout the island.

The commander of the Greek Cypriot forces besieging St. Hilarion castle said he had halted his drive to consolidate his position. Some of his forces were only 200 yards from the medieval fortress, a key to the Turkish-held Kyrenia pass and the highway through it, which connects Nicosia with the north coast of Cyprus.

Hartley was surprised early Wednesday inside the Lucky bar, 348 Main avenue south, by Merchant Police Officer T. R. Staples.

Officers said Hartley had taken $7.00 from the cash register, two cartons of cigarettes and a charity coin container.

Hartley apparently broke a hole in a lower panel of plywood door and reached in to unlock the door to gain entry into the building.

FIVE-DAY FORECAST

Major low pressure troughs aloft are forecast to be anchored along the west and east coasts of the nation during the next five days. This pattern will allow moist, fairly warm, westerly flow to predominate the Intermountain weather picture through Monday.

Temperatures through Monday are expected to average from near normal over southern valleys. Warming at the beginning of this period will give way to cooling by, and over, the week-end. Daytime temperatures will be affected to a greater degree than will nighttime readings. Normal temperatures through Monday are Gooding 67-73, Twin Falls 69-75 and Burley 65-71.

Precipitation totals are expected to average greater than normal, with five-day amounts ranging from .15 to .40 of an inch, occurring as scattered showers and thunderstorms at the beginning of the period. Rain will be out by cloudiness during the next three days with five-day totals averaging about 70 per cent of possible. Winds will be increasing during the next few days and will average somewhat higher than normal during the five-day period. Strong, gusty winds can be expected in the vicinity of shower activity. Soil temperatures have made excellent recoveries during the past two days, but will level off and sag into the 40s to lower 50s at the three- to four-inch depths during the week-end.

The agricultural weather outlook indicates mostly favorable conditions through Friday, but increased chances for precipitation over the week-end will cause some delays in field work. Ideal growth temperatures will not be sustained through Monday, but soil moisture supplies should be increased by the expected precipitation activity over the week-end.

Utilities Asked Need For Lines

WASHINGTON, April 29 (AP)—A senate appropriations subcommittee was told Tuesday that several utilities have questioned the need for a government transmission line into southern Idaho.

Byron Price, chairman of the Pacific Northwest Utilities conference committee, mentioned no specific names in his statement presented on the Bonneville power administration's budget requests for the fiscal year starting July 1.

An accompanying data sheet took note of items for special reconstruction package and added: "Several utilities have questioned the need for such a high capacity line."

The conference committee is composed of 24 electric utilities, both investor and publicly owned serving more than one and one-half million power consumers in the Pacific Northwest.

Price, in his statement, said the utilities have in general worked with Bonneville in developing a construction program required to meet BPA's marketing responsibility and the region's needs.

"As might be expected, there is some disagreement on the construction of energization schedule for several of the budget items," Price said. "This is a scheduling problem only."

However, he said several member utilities have said they wish to present individual views on the proposed high capacity transmission line to southern Idaho.

There is one million dollars in the budget for the year starting July 1 for Bonneville to design and build a power line from McNary dam on the Columbia river into southern Idaho.

Price said the Pacific Northwest's utility industry does not feel the federal government has the sole responsibility to build all power facilities needed there, adding:

"Our requests and recommendations to the congress are based on the principle of teamwork. It is through coordination and cooperative efforts that the power requirements of the Pacific Northwest can be met and the multiple-purpose water resource projects of the region can be developed in an orderly and planned manner."

John C. Mason, deputy general counsel of the federal power commission, urged the subcommittee to add a clause to protect the FPC's power to license water power dams.

Known potential power dam sites in primitive and wilderness areas have a total generating capacity of nearly four million kilowatts, Mason said.

The hearing, which opened on Monday, is expected to run through Friday.

Schools

Tuesday night meeting questioned the necessity of having a head custodian for Minidoka county schools. Meyer pointed out some three million dollars are invested in school buildings and the services of the head custodian save an estimated $10,000 per year aside from his wages.

The question also was raised about the necessity of having a curriculum coordinator. After discussion in which Meyer pointed out the upgrading of the teaching system resulting from the work of the coordinator, the group agreed this was an essential service.

Furnishing of cars to some of the school personnel and possible savings in bus transportation were other items which came under discussion.

Meyer pointed out Minidoka county school district operates the largest fleet of buses in Idaho, transporting more students, more miles, with more drivers than any other district in the state. He said cost of transporting students alone is $145,000 per year, not including $75,000 for drivers' salaries.

The feeling was expressed that another mill levy election could be passed if residents were properly educated. The five-mill migrant worker levy, which requires only a simple majority, also was discussed as a possible means of raising more revenue.

A public hearing will be held May 11 at Minico high school. Copies of the budget will be available to persons attending.

Engle Ready For Biggest Fight of Life

SACRAMENTO, Calif., April 29 (AP)—Democratic Sen. Clair Engle, who spent 30 years in public life without ever losing an election, Tuesday pulled out of the U. S. senate race in California to fight for the recovery of his health.

The 52-year-old senator, a familiar figure on Washington's Capitol Hill for 21 years, announced his withdrawal through his California campaign chairman, state Assemblyman Tom Carrell.

Engle had undergone brain surgery twice in the past eight months, the last operation only four days ago.

His withdrawal left the California Democratic senate race wide open, with former White House Press Secretary Pierre Salinger and state Controller Alan Cranston as the leading contenders. Nine other candidates are also seeking the nomination, to be decided in the June 2 primary election.

Carrell said he understood Engle would not back any of the Democratic candidates.

Engle, who was elected to the house of representatives in 1943 and to the senate in 1958, announced his withdrawal in a telegram released by Carrell.

"I have never lost a political battle and the latest polls show that I was not losing this one," Engle said.

"I am now deep in another kind of battle."

Engle, who underwent his first brain surgery Aug. 24, said his doctors afterwards approved his decision to seek reelection.

"Now," he said, "my doctors advise me that if I am going to win the battle to regain my health, I must conserve my strength and concentrate on getting well."

Despite skepticism in California about Engle's health and his ability to win reelection, many of his longtime supporters backed him. In his telegram, Engle said, "to all of my friends who have stayed with me during lean times as well as good, I give my heartfelt thanks. You are now released from any obligation to me."

Engle entered public life in 1934, when he was elected district attorney of Tehama county in northern California. He was re-elected in 1938 and in 1942 he became a state senator. The following year he won a special election to the house of representatives, where he served continuously until his election to the senate.

Work Slated On Perrine Bridge Soon

SHOSHONE, April 29 — The north end of the Perrine Memorial bridge will be adjusted and the abutments will be rebuilt, according to Blaine Sessions, district highway engineer here.

A concrete approach slab will adjust the expansion joints at the north end of the structure.

This will necessitate adjusting the approaches to the bridge.

The abutment now has a crack and this keeps the expansion joints from working freely.

Sessions said the work will be done by local district crews at a cost of about $4,000. The work will take two or three weeks.

During the construction work, there will be one way traffic over the bridge to allow the concrete to cure.

The two low bridges situated south of Five Points east, Twin Falls, will be raised as soon as revision designs are complete, Sessions states. This will clear the channelway and place the bridge deck above the existing road.

This work will be completed by July 1, Sessions states. The proposed connections of the road will be adjusted to comply with new grades and structures.

The contractors working on the road in that area, Nielson and Miller, will do the bridge work.

Leaders of America's Big Faiths Speak for Rights Bill

WASHINGTON, April 29 (AP)—Leaders of America's major religious faiths, speaking with one voice at an unprecedented joint convocation, Tuesday night urged congress to enact "strong and effective" civil rights legislation without further delay.

They made the demand in the name of God and human decency at a massive interfaith religious meeting attended by an overflowing crowd of more than 6,500 Protestant, Catholic, Orthodox and Jewish leaders.

In a statement read to the audience, President Johnson commended them for "working for a country in which there will be no discrimination and where people will be judged on their merits."

The unique convocation was co-sponsored by the National Council of Churches, the National Catholic Welfare conference and the Synagogue Council of America.

"We are here to speak with one voice our deep religious convictions about the dignity of man and the rights of all men," said the Most Rev. Patrick A. O'Boyle, Roman Catholic archbishop of Washington, who presided.

Archbishop O'Boyle said Tuesday's convocation marked the beginning of a joint crusade by the principal religious communities of America—"a crusade that will not be ended until every American is given equal rights, equal opportunities and full recognition of his human dignity."

Bishop B. Julian Smith of the Christian Methodist Episcopal church, a major Negro communism, said that organized religion at long last is repenting its years of "insensitivity and indifference" to Negro aspirations for equality.

The Chicago prelate said the civil rights legislation has been fully debated, and should now be enacted "without further delay."

Rabbi Uri Miller, Baltimore, president of the Synagogue Council of America, said it is absurd for opponents of the civil rights bill to argue that "you can't legislate morals."

The Rev. Dr. Eugene Carson Blake, Philadelphia, stated clerk of the United Presbyterian church and chairman of the religion and race commission of the National Council of Churches, said religious groups are united in support of the civil rights bill because it presents a clear-cut "moral and spiritual issue," he added.

"Justice, equality and freedom for all men are right. Segregation, discrimination and prejudice are wrong. It is as simple as that."

The convocation was held in the gymnasium of Georgetown university.

Insurance on Health Is Overpriced

WASHINGTON, April 29 (AP)—Sen. Pat McNamara, D., Mich., said today that despite vigorous industry efforts, health insurance is "priced out of the reach of the great majority of people over age 65."

McNamara made the comments as his senate subcommittee on the aged launched its third and final day of hearings.

Witnesses included spokesmen for Blue Cross plans, by far the largest low-cost insurer of hospitalization plan in the nation, and a physician favoring the administration's medicare program under social security.

McNamara said in an interview that industry claims about the number of older citizens covered by health policies had been "admittedly overstated."

He said the first two days of his group's hearings confirmed that in some cases, companies "give us figures on the number of policies, not the number of people covered."

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

By ANDREW TULLY

WASHINGTON, April 29—As Bill Shakespeare would put it, the senate civil rights debate is merely "sound and fury, signifying nothing." In the end, the issue will be decided by a Republican member of the house whose name is virtually unknown to most Americans.

This, of course, will be Rep. William M. McCulloch of Ohio, who steered the pending bill through the house, and who has warned he will not tolerate any attempt by the senate to water it down. It can be said with all the certainty that there will be no bill without McCulloch's okay.

TEST IN CONFERENCE—Whatever version eventually is passed by the senate, the ball game will be merely in the ninth inning. The legislation then must go back to a house-senate conference to negotiate any changes the senate makes in the house-passed bill. That is where both sides will run into McCulloch's conscience.

So far, McCulloch has insisted he wants the house bill enacted practically without alteration. He has repeatedly declared he will not be a party to any deal to emasculate it. "My head is still bloody from 1957," the Ohioan is fond of saying. That was when he fought to pass a civil rights bill which later was weakened in the senate when the Eisenhower administration dropped title three, the provision which would have given the attorney general power to initiate court suits to protect civil rights.

MIDDLE-OF-ROADER—McCulloch is not a far-out liberal by any yardstick. He calls himself a "conservative Scot" which is not quite accurate. He is instead a leader of the moderate, middle-of-the-road Republicans of which Everett Dirksen of Illinois is a senate counterpart. But he was co-author of the present bill, the most sweeping anti-discrimination measure ever considered by congress, and as he says, "my conscience went into that one."

McCulloch got some powerful help in maneuvering this bill through the house, notably from Rep. James Corman, D., Calif., and the handsome, aristocratic Rep. John Lindsay, Republican representative from New York City's genteel East side. Corman and Lindsay went to work on wavering Northerners almost daily to keep them in line, and their arguments won the grudging respect of the bruised southern members. The house republican leader, Charles Halleck of Indiana, didn't go all-out for the bill until McCulloch had spent many hours twisting his arm.

NO COMPROMISER—President Johnson has pronounced that there will be a civil rights bill and that it will be a strong one. McCulloch seems unimpressed by this pledge, possibly because he recalls that Johnson was majority leader of the senate in 1957 when McCulloch charges the house civil rights cohorts were sold down the river to avoid a filibuster.

When the house was debating the current bill McCulloch warned, "I would not ask my friends to walk the plank," and vote for a strong bill and then be a party to a deal that weakened the bill. In the senate, those toying with the always attractive idea of compromise had better keep McCulloch in mind.

Views of Others

RED ROUNDUP

The dragnet and the flail are no way to deal with Brazil's radicals. Turn the angry and frightened police and military loose on what they call communists and the result could be a disaster.

Communists there are in Brazil, in high positions and low. Their cadres need to be systematically rooted out and made harmless. A group of Chinese Communists seems to have been caught redhanded with cash and records of bribes.

But mass arrests will only multiply injustice and martyrs. An indiscriminate red hunt will only make non-communist leftists see red. It could even drive liberals and native radicals into the communist ranks, or at least into collaboration which can be just as dangerous.

The reports from Brazil of a widespread communist hunt and the arrest of "several thousands" are extremely disquieting. It is always possible that this is being intelligently done, with discrimination. But the haste and the panic atmosphere of the roundup do not inspire confidence.

The danger is that the winners of a right-wing military coup are not likely to know an authentic communist from a Brazilian who has been bemused with communism, who with time and care can be weaned away from it. Hurt enough of the latter and there will be a national political grievance. The military will then be driven further down the road of repression.

We beg of the new rulers of Brazil: Remember Batista.—Christian Science Monitor.

VISITORS NOT VICTIMS

While a modern Valhalla is arising from the Flushing mud, hopes are rising for a period of genuine and honest prosperity in New York City during the World's Fair. But something else is rising: Prices. Parking and garage charges have gone up; so have the costs of a seat in the Metropolitan Opera during its World's Fair season.

These increases may not be exorbitant in themselves and, purely on a supply and demand basis, some rises in the prices of services in the city are to be expected. But it is worth while sounding a warning now, that over-charging visitors to the fair is not only poor hospitality but bad business.

The big show in Flushing Meadow should not be regarded as offering a single shot at a lucrative market. Rather, it must be considered an introductory offer, bringing many people to New York who might not otherwise have come, but who if they like the city will have more to see. Courtesy will help insure that the fair starts a new tide of annual visitors, but fair prices will help insure repeat business; gouging will drive it away.

This is only good sense, and responsible business men will see it that way. In building their rate structures for the fair, they will lay value on with a trowel and leave the gouge and the chisel where they belong, in the tool chest.—New York Herald Tribune.

STARVING SACRED COWS

Both people and cattle are threatened with starvation in India's Rajasthan state which is suffering its worst drought in 25 years. Some three million human beings and more than two million cattle are involved.

To save the people, the United States has promised 30,000 tons of wheat. And, for the first time, this country has undertaken to feed foreign livestock on a massive scale. Up to 180,000 tons of feed grains will be sent to Rajasthan in coming months if the United States receives assurance that the feed will be used to preserve useful animals — draft animals, milk cows and breeding stock.

American taxpayers are not very enthusiastic about the foreign aid program. They approve of using surplus wheat to save human beings from starvation. They might go along with feeding useful foreign livestock. But the AID and food for peace programs would be subject to severe criticism if they feed grain to ships overseas to preserve the sacred cows of India. Because the Hindu religion rejects the killing of any living creature and holds cows in particular reverence, it is not surprising that the killing of a cow is a crime under Indian law. A meat-eating people find it difficult to understand such religious scruples.—The Oregonian.

The Doctor Says

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

Mouthwashes do no harm. The question is do they do any good? Authorities in the American Medical Association and the American Dental Association say they are vastly overrated.

Mouthwashes have grown into an industry with a take of more than 90 million dollars per year. If they did all the things their ads claimed they'd probably be worth it. But medical and dental authorities say they don't.

It is true that your mouth is teeming with millions of germs but they are generally harmless. Otherwise we would all be dead. It is equally true that the iodine, chlorine, phenol and alcohol compounds present in mouthwashes are capable of killing these germs. Those that are killed are quickly replaced.

If, on the other hand, you have a sore throat or a mouth infection that will a so-called antiseptic mouthwash do for you? Authorities agree that it will do nothing, because the disease germs are deep in your tissues. Even if you gargled until you were blue, the mouthwash wouldn't reach the infection. If Ever since the tense days of late October, 1962, American U2 spy planes have been flying over Cuba as part of standard procedure to guarantee U. S. Caribbean and hemisphere defenses.

In the last week of October, 1962, one such plane was lost, presumably the victim of a ground-to-air missile fired by a Russian crew sent to Cuba as part of Nikita Khrushchev's abortive attempt to change the world's nuclear balance of power.

The presumption that a ground-to-air missile brought down the U2 is based on the known high-flying characteristics of the U2 which place it out of the range of Russian Mig jets in Cuba.

The belief that the missile had to be fired by Russian crew is based on the further assumption that the Cubans at that time did not have the training to handle such a sophisticated weapon.

In the last year and a half the required training has been completed, and the Russians reportedly are ready to pull out, leaving only a nucleus of less than 1,000 men behind.

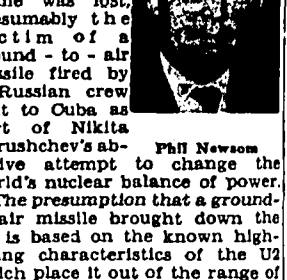

And this is turn has led to nervous speculation that a new U.S. crisis may be in the making based on a belligerent speech by Fidel Castro in which he called on rocket crews to be on the alert against further U. S. air violations.

It has led to stern U. S. reminders of Secretary of State Dean Rusk's warning in March, 1963, that "if there were any interruptions with our surveillance... that could create a highly dangerous situation."

In international law, the United States position might be hard to defend.

But it arises from Castro's own refusal to permit on-site inspection of the dismantlement of offensive missile bases and from the later local approval of both the Soviet Union and the United Nations.

In any event, it is an accomplished fact and one that the United States can continue without help from its allies or in the face of force if it should develop.

Subject to greater argument, from the standpoint of effectiveness, is the United States economic blockade of Cuba.

Recent estimates have placed the Cuban standard of living at 20 per cent below the level of pre-Castro days.

Since December the United States has been reviewing its Cuba policies. Any such review must first determine the aim of those policies.

First, are they aimed at the Cuban people or against Castro? Second, if the aim is the downfall of Castro, then how far is the United States prepared to go to aid a popular revolution against him stirred up by a continually falling standard of living.

As of now, the Soviet Union seeks closer U. S. relations. It seems unlikely the Russians would leave to Castro the decision on when or how to start a war with the United States.

Of all the words bandied about by preachers, none is more mystifying to the average layman than "grace."

But it is a word he cannot afford to ignore.

According to one prominent theologian, "Grace is unquestionably the most significant single word in the Bible."

Another says, "It lies at the very heart of the Christian gospel, and is one of its most distinctive features."

Some of the popular confusion about grace stems from the fact this word has a radically different meaning in Christian theology than it has in everyday usage.

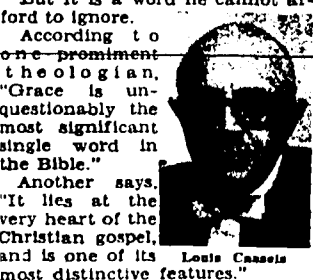

In "non-theological conversation, grace may mean charm of bearing, an attractive trait, a short prayer of thanksgiving said before meals, or a special favor such as the extension of a time limit ("grace period").

In theology, however, grace is the accepted English translation of the Greek word "charis," which is used by St. Paul and other New Testament writers in speaking of God's merciful and forgiving love for sinful man.

(The Biblical writers seem to think of "charis" both as an attitude (God's eagerness to be reconciled with His wayward children) and an action (His outreach in Jesus Christ to bring about that reconciliation).)

Both thoughts are present in St. Paul's classic statement to the Christians at Ephesus: "By grace you have been saved. It is not your own doing; it is the free gift of God."

The fact that grace is something which man does not deserve, but which God gives him

WASHINGTON — President Johnson saying there may be another tax cut in a few years: "We can move to this second round of tax reduction only if we behave ourselves this year."

TAYLOR'S VIEWS ON WORLD NEWS

By HENRY J. TAYLOR

East Germany has lived under communist control longer than the German nation lived under Hitler. (Our troops have been in Berlin nearly as long as the period between the two World Wars.)

When the wall went up, news slackened about the Red German army. Today 93 per cent of the officers are members of the communist party. And their 53-year-old German commander — Gen. Karl-Heinz Hoffman — is a Soviet citizen with an equivalent rank in the USSR forces.

In the divided nation, the young Germans thus organized under him have never known anything but communism and offer a powerful potential to the Moscow masters. Intelligence reports available to this writer indicate we have largely underestimated this success at the military level.

These Germans belong to what is officially called the national people's army, which gives the bootied boys a sort of militia-like sound. But Hitler's Black Shirts have merely been dyed red and this collection is the goose-stepping storm troopers all over again. There are now 190,000 of them. And 460,000 more are in the active reserve, called up at regular intervals for continuous training.

The training is typically Prussian — harsh, rigid discipline, unconditional obedience, brutal physical fitness. Red indoctrination never stops. The communists are the Herrenvolk in Russia. So are they also in East Germany. The other people are second-class citizens in perpetuity.

This striking force is backed up by the special Kampfgruppen, or "battle groups" of the communist party, a para-military civil-war unit of armed workers numbering 320,000 men. Then youth groups supply an additional 460,000, subject to para-military training and incorporated under Red Prussian discipline.

The Soviet has turned over to German fliers approximately 200 JAK-11 and JAK-18 fighters and

Top Honors

Henry J. Taylor in the past few weeks has received three major honors for his outstanding reporting.

He has been awarded the Gen. Douglas MacArthur medal, given annually by the New York Commandery of the Military Order of Foreign Wars of the United States. Taylor was cited for his "timely and forceful writings and his patriotic contributions to the nation." General MacArthur was the first recipient of the award, in 1962, and last year it went to Francis Cardinal Spellman, Archbishop of New York.

Mr. Taylor also was awarded the Sons of the American Revolution gold medal for citizenship, joining such past recipients as Adm. Richard S. Byrd and Maj. Gen. U. S. Grant, 3rd. Taylor merited the award, according to James R. Gardiner, New York City chapter president, "because he is a man who is not afraid to write what he thinks, and because his writings are of a patriotic nature."

Thirdly, Mr. Taylor has been given the George Washington honor medal by the Freedom Foundation of Valley Forge for his series of articles, "Why Skip American History?"

180 supersonic MIG jets, which the Germans have organized into two air divisions. In command and operations these are now coordinated with more than 2,500 tanks, 8,000 anti-tank guns, 1,000 pieces of heavy artillery, and 1,500 amphibious armored cars. Most are made in the Soviet works that Hitler expanded in Czechoslovakia.

The shade that hovers over all this is the shade of old turncoat Field Marshal Friedrich von Paulus, deputy chief of Hitler's general staff, who was captured at Stalingrad and then exposed the Soviet cause. Col. Wilhelm Adam, his aide-de-camp, commands the War Academy (Dresden) and fashions this on the Hitler general staff pattern.

German quidding Walter Ubricht (doubling as a Soviet citizen) ranks at the top as communist party chief and state council chairman but also in his capacity as chairman of the national defense council. His liaison, in turn, is with the Soviet occupation headquarters at Wuenndorf, near Berlin.

Logistics are under control of this Wuenndorf center, which also controls the Soviet rail system. This neglect of logistics in red Prussian army planning and concentration on mobile equipment marks the force as a shock-and-attack wedge designed to be destroyed first in battle, a fact obvious to the entire officer corps. Officer defections are rare but in the ranks and active reserves, where communist party membership is only about 10 per cent, an average of 5,000 a year have defected to the West. Two thousand have come out since Wall day, April 13, 1961.

Each March 1 these German forces serve up their annual climax in communist military propaganda by presenting practically a replica of Hitler's torchlight, tramp-tramp saturnalia. This is supposed to commemorate the forces' official beginning on March 1, 1956.

The date is part of the fraud. It represents only new uniforms, for as early as Oct. 31, 1945 — promptly at the end of the war and in violation of the Potsdam agreement signed only three months previously — the Soviets started arming the Germans. Even today East German communist party schools teach that Oct. 31, 1945, "is the birth hour of the armed forces of the first workers' and peasants' state in Germany."

But from under all the great events this little-known force emerges to the tune of the stirring Soviet prison songs, "We Are Free."

— how far will the United States go to enforce it?

Castro, meanwhile, no matter how much he would like to follow the violent tactics of Red China in extending revolution to the remainder of Latin America, remains dependent upon the Soviet Union for this economic existence.

How does West know that his partner did not start with four clubs? Because he would have returned his original fourth best if he had.

West ducks the club and South is in. He tries the diamond finesse, but East wins the trick and leads a club to give his partner three club tricks.

In rubber bridge, North and South would complain about bad luck. South would point out that the hand needed a club opening, a 6-3 break with just the right clubs in the West hand, a losing diamond finesse and good defense to beat him.

In the tournament there is no complaint. He gets his par anyway.

Johnson Holds Out Tax Slice Bait

WASHINGTON, April 29—Less than two months after an 11.5-billion dollar income tax reduction went on the books, President Johnson has held out the prospect of trimming taxes still further—but not for a few years.

"It is still too early to make firm promises on further tax cuts," Johnson said in remarks prepared for a dinner attended by many of the nation's business leaders Tuesday night.

"But if this one is a success—as I have every reason to believe it will be—in building production, creating jobs, raising profits, and generating revenues to balance the budget, then I see another tax cut a few years down the road," the President continued.

But he cautioned: "We can move to this second round of tax reduction only if we behave ourselves this year."

On the heels of his warm reception Monday from the U.S. Chamber of Commerce convention, Johnson invited more than 50 corporation presidents and board chairmen and their wives to the private White House dinner.

"For as long as I am president," he told them, "the leaders of industry and finance are going to be welcome in this house."

He said that "to sit down and multiply fish."

NEW YORK (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. Francis J. Herbst are acquiring their family in double time. Married two years, they are parents of four children. Mrs. Herbst recently gave birth to a second set of twins 13 months after the first duo was born.

Prayers were given by Bishop Noel Bowcut and Gerald Marchant.

exchange views with you from time to time is vital to the health of our free enterprise economy."

The President has announced plans for a similar dinner early next month with top labor union officials.

The President said it was up to business and labor to prevent costs and prices from creeping upward.

Urging the business leaders to keep a tight rein on prices, he said that when he dines with labor leaders, "I will tell them that I know they don't want to push so hard for wage increases this year that they would hurt a lot of people and start a spiral going from their side."

Johnson said he hopes business and labor can "emulate the railroad people" who last week settled their five-year-old dispute and prevented a nationwide rail strike.

Noting that the recent tax cut reduced corporation levies by one-fifth, Johnson said, "We have done this in an administration some people have called 'anti-business.'"

Actually, Johnson went on, "We are pro-business—and pro-labor—and pro-the national interest."

News Around Idaho

POCATELLO, April 29 (AP)—Bannock County Democratic Chairman Charles E. Blyeu announced Tuesday he plans to run for the state senate nomination he nearly won two years ago. In 1960, Blyeu lost the nomination to seven-term Senator Nellie Cline Steenson. Mrs. Steenson later lost to Republican Perry Swisher. Blyeu is the first to announce for the state senate this year, although Swisher is expected to announce soon.

IDAHO FALLS, April 29 (AP)—The district 93 board of trustees told patrons Monday night that if a three-mill levy is voted down in Thursday's election there will be no teacher salary raises this year. The board said that failure to pass the levy would also mean a cutback on the purchase of educational supplies and a possible loss of good teachers. Trustee Devon Anderson said that the levy, if approved, will not mean an increase in taxes. Because the assessed valuation of county property has grown, three mills, which were being used for repayment of bonded indebtedness, will not be needed next year, he said. The board is asking the voters to re-allocate the three mills for maintenance and operations.

IDAHO FALLS, April 29 (AP)—The national reactor testing station reports there is a significant drop in iodine-131 concentrations in East Idaho milk samples. The report said that 199 samples were collected and analyzed, and that the average iodine-131 measured 22 micromicrocuries per liter. That compares with an average of 60 for last year. Neither average is regarded as near danger levels, the report explained. Iodine-131 is a radioactive substance picked up by the dairy cows from the air and food they eat.

SALMON, April 29 (AP)—Snow depth hit a record high for the year at Lost Trail pass near here this week, but 3,500 feet below fruit trees were in bloom. Weathermen measured 60 inches of snow at the pass. In the Snake river canyon, however, residents reported spring-like weather as the trees broke into blossom. The canyon drops almost straight down from the pass.

CALDWELL, April 29 (AP)—Canyon county voters turned down on Tuesday by a vote of 2,534 to 2,384 a proposed 1.7 million dollar bond issue. It would have financed construction of a new court house in Caldwell and a county office building in Nampa. A two-thirds affirmative vote was necessary for passage, but the proposal failed to gain even a simple majority.

BOISE, April 29 (AP)—Oral arguments on appeals taken from 20 criminal and civil cases will be heard by the Idaho supreme court during its spring north Idaho term beginning May 4 at Lewiston. Also scheduled during the North Idaho term is a mock session during which 10 students from the University of Idaho college of law will present arguments in an appeal taken from a hypothetical case.

BOISE, April 29 (AP)—J. F. Koenig construction company, Lewiston, is apparent low bidder on a 3.8 mile road building project between Clifford and Cottonwood creek in Nez Perce county. The Koenig firm bid $308,543 to build a roadway, drainage structure and a bituminous surface treatment on the route, known as the Reubens north and south road.

BOISE, April 29 (AP)—Delegates to the 45th meeting of the Pacific Province of the Episcopal church were told Tuesday that the church must be concerned not only with seeking unity among its denominations, but it must also seek unity in the world. The Rev. A. Theodore Eastman, executive secretary of the church's overseas mission society, sounded the keynote for the annual meeting Tuesday night. Panel discussions on the theme of the meeting—the Episcopal church and the world mission—were planned for today.

POCATELLO, April 29 (AP)—Bannock County Assessor Ira Cox pledged support Monday to a request of the Pocatello Chamber of Commerce beautification committee for a tax on old automobile bodies which clutter some salvage yards of Pocatello. A merchandising inventory tax levied on the old car bodies, like the tax paid each year by merchants based on the goods he has on hand on a certain date, was urged by the beautification committee. There is still some question as to what is the proper type of tax to levy on the auto bodies, Cox said, but he assured the group he plans to have levied a tax on the merchandise in all salvage yards by the end of this year.

Unidentified Flying Objects Have New Mexico Spinning

By United Press International
A host of unidentified flying object sightings had New Mexico in a spin Tuesday.
No less than six "authentic" sightings have been reported since Friday when Socorro, N. M., policeman Lonnie Zamora sighted an egg-shaped object which roared from the ground, leaving deep impressions and burned patches.
Telephone lines across the state also have hummed with activity as drunks, obvious quacks, publicity hunters and well-meaning information seekers got into the act.

Charge Is Planned for F. Dumont

POCATELLO, April 29 (AP)—Pocatello Police Chief John Perkins said today he had asked Bannock County prosecutor Hugh C. Maguire to file a charge of being a persistent violator against a man who will be returned here on a charge of aggravated assault.
Perkins was referring to Frank Bud Dumont, 42, who was captured in Tucson on Monday. Dumont was wanted in Pocatello for beating a Pocatello girl last October, and had been placed on the federal bureau of investigation's "10 most wanted" list.
Perkins said Dumont's record has several felony convictions, and four charges of escape from prisons or reformatories.
Dumont was being held in Arizona until it could be determined if he would waive extradition to be returned to Idaho.
If Dumont is convicted on the persistent violator charge, he could be sentenced to life imprisonment. The aggravated assault charge against him here carries a lesser penalty.

An Albuquerque television station offered a $10,000 reward for photographs of the object or objects thought by some to be prowling New Mexico skies.
An Edgewood, N. M., man told state police he fired 12 shots at an "oblong thing" early Tuesday with a .22 caliber pistol. He said he hit the object six times and could hear the bullets bounce from it. Edgewood is just east of Albuquerque on U. S. 66.
State police said the man was completely "sober."
In Oklahoma City the associate director of Interplanetary Intelligence of Unidentified Flying Objects said pictures taken of an UFO from a ship in 1958 were being shipped to patrolman Zamora at Socorro.
The ITUPO officer, Hayden Hews, said the object of which pictures were taken was "almost identical" in size, coloring and other characteristics as the thing reported by Zamora.
Zamora said Tuesday he had not yet received the photographs. Earlier Tuesday a motorist in the Las Vegas area reported seeing a ball of fire which apparently landed near a radio station.
The motorist asked that his name not be used as he was afraid he might be laughed at.
Reports of strange objects have poured in since Zamora saw a metal tank on four legs zoom from the ground near Socorro Friday.
Zamora said the next time he sees anything like that he will run and "not tell a soul."

PLANS UAR VISIT
CAIRO, April 29 (AP)—Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev will arrive here May 9 for a visit to the United Arab Republic lasting 16 days, an official source said Tuesday. It was the first specific information given on the date of arrival and duration of the trip, the first by a Soviet premier to the continent of Africa.

PENNSYLVANIA REPUBLICAN Gov. William W. Scranton, who piled up a sizable write-in vote in Pennsylvania's GOP primary election Tuesday, poses with a little girl carrying a "Scranton for President" sign. Scranton received support from two of every three Pennsylvania voters who wrote in the name of a presidential favorite. (AP wirephoto)

Rights Bill Won't Alter Idaho's Law

WASHINGTON, April 29 (AP)—Sen. Len Jordan, R., Ida., says he has been told by senate colleagues that proposed federal civil rights legislation would have little effect in Idaho.

Jordan said he was assured by three lawyer members of the senate that the Idaho civil rights law, enacted in 1961, is much stronger and broader in coverage than the public accommodations and fair employment practices sections of the federal bill.

He said they also agreed that one section "seems to be a statement of congressional intent—that pre-emption of state law is not intended by the act."

Jordan said, however, that Sen. Sam J. Erwin, Jr., D., N.C., an opponent of the civil rights bill, warns "that a federal commission will determine whether the state is doing an effective job and that the bill offers no enlightenment as to the rules the commission shall follow in making this decision."

Jordan said Asst. Atty. Gen. Burke Marshall, who did research work for Sens. Thomas H. Kuchel, R., Calif., and Sen. Hubert Humphrey, D., Minn., co-managers of the bill, told him he believes the bill "preserves all the rights and duties existing under state fair employment laws."

He quoted Marshall as saying that one section of the federal bill "specifically directs the federal commission to seek written agreements with state fair employment agencies which are effectively exercising their powers to cede enforcement authority to the state agency."

"Where such an agreement has been entered into," Jordan said, "neither the commission nor a private individual may bring suit under the federal statute."

Near Miss

LONDON, April 29 (UPI)—A Lufthansa Boeing 707 jetliner with 51 passengers nearly landed at the wrong airport Tuesday night, but it swooped away moments before touchdown.

The plane landed at London airport after dropping down for a landing approach to Northolt military airbase. The big jet startled residents around Northolt since only much smaller military craft generally use the field.

Concert Set for Hansen School

HANSEN, April 29 (AP)—The Hansen junior high school music department will present a pre-concert concert at 8 p.m. Thursday at the school. Soloists, ensembles, chorus and the band will participate.

The chorus will sing, "Dearest, Believe" by Giordani; "Old Abram Brown," Benjamin Britten, and "Celtic Lullaby," Irish air. The band will play "Military Escort," a march by Harold Bennett; "The Plainsman," symphonic suite for band by George Frederick McKay and "Marche Triomphe" from the "Symphonic Funebre at Triomphe" by Hector Berlioz.

The music department is under the direction of Ronald Kofoid.

to cede enforcement authority to the state agency."

Masons Eye Cleanup of Lodge Land

WENDELL, April 29 (AP)—Recommendations for improvement and cleanup of the shrubs and grounds of the Masonic temple on North Idaho street were made at the Monday meeting of Wendell Lodge No. 54, AF and AM.

Walter Kelley, Dale Dewey, Kenneth Bradshaw and Ray Turner, grounds committee, will arrange for leveling and seeding to be done soon. The caretaker from last year will be retained to mow and irrigate the grounds.

Tentative plans were made for an open meeting and potluck dinner to commemorate the 175th anniversary of the inauguration of George Washington as first president of the United States. The committee is waiting for colored slides to be sent for the event and the date will be announced.

An informal discussion was held on civil rights bill and segregation and the effect of these issues to the United States.

Albert Lancaster, worshipful master, reported on the joint school of instruction conducted by districts four and five recently in Jerome.

Walter Kelley, John Newbrough and Owen Hutton reported on attending the Buhl Lodge Thursday for the conferring of degrees.

Refreshments were served by Carl Martin, Howard Todd and S. G. Clower.

Massachusetts Republicans Leave No Doubt About Choice—They Like Lodge

BOSTON, April 29 (AP)—Massachusetts Republicans left no doubt about it in Tuesday's presidential primary—Henry Cabot Lodge is the man they want for the Republican nomination for president.

They gave Lodge a thumping write-in vote in the preference column and the 10 delegates—large who favor his nomination.

Returns for district delegates were slow to be counted, but Lodge may win most of the 24. One Goldwater delegate is Roger A. Moore, Boston, elected without opposition in the ninth congressional district.

Moore ran uncommitted, but he has been an advocate of Arizona Sen. Barry Goldwater's nomination for the presidency.

One of the elected delegates-at-large is Lodge's son, George. Lodge—who isn't actively running, and who has declined to even talk about it—also won a surprising write-in preference vote on the Democratic ballot. His Democratic write-ins came to about 10 per cent of those Democrats gave to President Johnson.

Lodge, a descendant of old Massachusetts families, was elected three times to the U.S. senate, headed the U.S. delegation to the United Nations during the Eisenhower administration, and now is ambassador to South Vietnam. An appointment given him by the late President John F.

Kennedy. Kennedy went to the senate in 1962 by defeating Lodge. Lodge's home-state victory without an organized effort duplicated that which a small group of his supporters promoted in last month's New Hampshire primary.

The Republican preferential tabulation of 1,034 of 1,764 precincts, gave: Goldwater 3,833; Lodge 2,813; Richard M. Nixon 2,310; Gov. Nelson Rockefeller 837; Sen. Margaret Chase Smith of Maine 210.

The Democratic preferential poll gave: Johnson 21,876; Atty. Gen. Kennedy 6,320; Lodge 1,538.

Phosphorus Plant Set In Wyoming

POCATELLO, April 29 (AP)—The FMC corporation plans to construct a multi-million dollar plant at Green River, Wyo., that will use elemental phosphorus from the FMC plant in Pocatello. The new plant will produce sodium tripolyphosphate for the detergent industry.

Frederick A. Gilbert, manager of FMC's inorganic chemicals division, said the plant is scheduled to be "on steam" at Green River by the end of the year.

It will supply tripolyphosphate directly to midwestern and western manufacturers of detergents to supplement the present FMC phosphate production at Lawrence, Kans., and Newark, Calif.

"We believe the decision to build this plant at this particular location marks an innovation in tripolyphosphate production. We will be taking our elemental phosphorus from nearby Pocatello to our Green River soda plant and combining them into two basic minerals on the spot," Gilbert said.

It was understood that there would be no increase in the work force at the Pocatello plant, although production is being expanded by adding capacity to the existing furnaces.

U. S. Flag Is Too Big for Fair Pavilion

BALTIMORE, April 29 (AP)—You'd think after 500,000 stitches, things would be all sewed up. But after some hemming and hawing by New York's World's Fair officials, there's a possibility the Maryland pavilion might not include a copy of the 42-by-39-foot star-spangled banner which flew over Ft. McHenry 150 years ago and inspired Francis Scott Key to write the words which became our national anthem.

If not, 75 Baltimore women can rightfully say, "oh darn." They worked seven weeks to make the flag especially for the fair.

The Maryland pavilion opened last week without the flag.

It was too big for the building. "It should go in the United States pavilion, and the last I heard about it that is where it is going," said Garret O. Billmire, acting executive director of the Maryland pavilion.

But a spokesman for the U. S. pavilion said: "I don't know where we would put it."

UNION, N. J., April 29 (AP)—Police here caught a thief suspect with his pants down—literally.

The burglar who broke into a drugstore Tuesday lost his trousers trying to squeeze through a roof vent to make his getaway. A wallet in the pocket identified the owner of the wayward pants as Robert E. Pinkiewicz.

Police summoned by the store's owner found Pinkiewicz, of Linden, N. J., hiding under a parked car—sans trousers.

Miss Kennison, Gabriel Wed in April Ceremony

JEROME, April 29 — Virginia Alene Kennison and Lyle O. Gabriel were united in marriage in a candlelight service April 9 at the Church of the Nazarene. The Rev. Paul Wolstenholme performed the double ring evening ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Al Kennison, Jerome, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Gabriel, Gooding.

Baskets of pink and white gladioli, tied with large pink satin bows, lighted tapers in candleholders formed the background for the rites. Flowers and white tapers decorated the church windows.

Gordon Bullock was soloist, accompanied by Wayne Corey, who also played the wedding music.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white nylon over satin wedding gown, featuring an overskirt of lace, parting to reveal the tiny pleated net underskirt. A large bustle bow graced the back of the gown.

The bodice was fashioned with a scalloped neckline and lily point sleeves. A tulle of pearls held her veil of French illusion. She wore a strand of pearls borrowed from her sister, Mrs. Vernon Hall, and a good luck penny in her shoe. Her bouquet of pink and white feathered carnations tied with pink shower ribbons was carried on a white Bible.

Karen Osborne, Boise, was maid of honor. She wore a ballerina-length gown of pink nylon and lace fashioned with long tapered sleeves and a scalloped neckline. She carried a bouquet of white carnations on white net tied with pink shower ribbons.

Roseann Hall and Kathryn Hall, nieces of the bride, were candlelighters. They wore identical gowns of aqua blue nylon designed with full skirts trimmed with pink roses.

Terry Rodgers, Sun Valley, was best man. Wayne Kennison and Mike Smith, cousins of the bride, were ushers.

The bride's mother chose a green afternoon dress with matching coat and beige accessories. The bridegroom's mother wore a pink afternoon dress with black accessories. Each wore a corsage of white carnations.

Mrs. Vernon Hall, sister of the bride, was hostess at the reception. Nancy Ann Kennison, sister of the bride, was in charge of the guest book and gifts were arranged by Mrs. Delbert Beem and Mrs. Bonnie Hultinsky, Mountain Home; Elaine Kennison, cousins of the bride, and Judy Hall.

A white lace cloth, made by the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Edith Stumpf, covered the refreshment table. The four-tiered wedding cake, baked and decorated by the bride's sister, Mrs. Hall, centered the table. The cake was decorated in pink and white and topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom. White tapers in crystal holders and pink flowers completed the table arrangements.

Presiding at the refreshment table were Mrs. Arley Peterson, Mrs. Claude Smith and Mrs. Pete Smith, aunts of the bride.

They were assisted by Mrs. Leonard Kennison, Mrs. Dave Kennison and Mrs. Elmer Kennison.

PRESIDENT JOHNSON is shown lifting "Her," one of his pet beagles, by the ears on the White House grounds yesterday to make it yelp. Dog lovers set up a howl of protest because of this incident. (AP wirephoto)

Johnson Pulls Dogs' Ears, Launches Verbal 'Dogfight'

(See Related Story on Page 25)
NEW YORK, April 29 (AP)—A few defenders have joined the dogfight over President Johnson's handling of his beagles. The President still is in the doghouse with many persons for lifting the dogs by their ears.

As the President's ears were boxed by dog lovers, who set up a chorus of yelps about his handling of the beagles, Him and Her, on Monday, a dog expert overseas came to his defense.

Bernard Workman, London, chairman of the Canine Defense League, said today, "I don't believe that a beagle comes to any harm by picking it up by the ears. Their ears are particularly strong."

Workman added: "Most people know how to handle their own dogs best."
The President took note of the uproar Tuesday. He said he had picked up the dogs by the ears so an Associated Press photographer could take a picture. Then he smiled and added that an AP reporter "wrote a story about my being inhumane." The story included some adverse comment by dog lovers.

The AP photographer said he had made no request for such a picture.
Press secretary George Reedy, asked whether there was any White House reaction to the complaints by dog lovers, said: "I haven't heard from them as yet. I've heard nothing about it other than a few stories I've read in the papers."

Bear River Group Opposes Newest Plan

SALT LAKE CITY, April 29 (AP)—The U.S. bureau of reclamation has presented a preview of a revised plan for the Bear river project.

But a spokesman for the Bear River Protective committee, Dr. Evan M. Mackley, Wyan, Ida., says he's still opposed.

The proposal, which would delete 13,000 acres from the development in Utah and add 50,000 acres in Idaho, came during the annual meeting of the Bear River commission in Salt Lake City Tuesday.

It was presented by Regional Reclamation Director Frank M. Clinton, who told the commission the plan would provide concessions to Idaho. It includes an alternate method for Idaho to raise funds, a provision for industrial and municipal water for Idaho and a prediction that Bear Lake would not be adversely affected. Clinton said the main feature of the revision—adding land in Idaho and eliminating part of the project in Utah—has been endorsed by the Utah delegation to the commission.

The major concession, Clinton said, would be eliminating plans for 13,000 acres of irrigated land in Box Elder county, Utah, and extending the Portage canal northward to Malad, to add 50,000 acres of irrigated land.

Clinton said the revision would not overcome the Idaho objection that the Oneida dam reservoir, on the north side of Bear Lake which straddles the Utah-Idaho border, would flood too much valuable land. He said the reservoir is a "fact of reclamation life."

RETURN HOME
SPRINGDALE, April 29—Leon Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Johnson, has returned home from a two-year LDS mission to the East Central states. He reported on his mission Sunday evening.

The third member of the three-state commission, Wyoming, did not officially endorse the revised report, said it would examine it when it is completed at the end of this year.

Genealogy Is Stressed at LDS Confab

MALTA, April 28—Priesthood correlation, genealogy and welfare work were discussed at the Malta River LDS stake quarterly conference Sunday at the Malta clubhouse.

Elder Dean Belnap of the genealogical committee, Salt Lake City, stressed the urgency of genealogical work based on the principle of exaltation and eternal life.

"It isn't easy to get a testimony of this great work," he explained, "but a desire to know the truth of it and practice it is a great help."

To united and link together the family of Israel is the responsibility of LDS members, he stated. The house of Israel was of divine origin to give the Savior the proper lineage to come to this earth, he added.

Members are retarding the Lord's work by failing to do genealogical work, Elder Belnap added.

Elder Nydegger of the church welfare organization, Salt Lake City, said the responsibility of LDS church members is to extend their understanding of the gospel.

Urging the congregation to be of service to others, he warned that too much emphasis on the material or temporal aspect of life may cause the spirit to die. There should be a balance between the temporal and spiritual aspects of life.

Other speakers were Mrs. Donald Chandler, Mrs. Charles Warr and Mrs. Edwin Paskett. Music was presented by the Malta River high school chorus with Mrs. Orville Sears conducting.

Accompanists were Marlene Nye and Marilyn Beecher. Prayers were given by Elmer Adams and Juan Tracy.

Young people were urged by Elder Nydegger to begin a program now for more constructive use of leisure time.

"Action without intelligence is a form of insanity," he declared, "but intelligence without action is the greatest form of stupidity known. The glory of God is intelligence."

The speaker admonished his hearers to avoid bickering in their homes and listed financial problems caused by over-spending as a primary source of trouble. He urged members not to speculate, use credit wisely, avoid waste and extravagance and not be sidetracked by wild schemes, and to obtain an education.

Concluding speakers were Charles Warr, Donald Chandler, Orville Beecher, and Edwin Paskett. The Malta ward choir sang with Mrs. J. C. Steele conducting. Congregational singing was directed by Christine Elison with Mrs. Brent Udy as accompanist. Prayers were given by Jack Wright and Jay Harper.

Mrs. Johnson Likes Busy U.S. Women

WASHINGTON, April 28 (AP)—Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson likes to meet women who are doing things. That's what her "women-doer" luncheons are all about.

Tuesday 17 women were invited to the fourth of these luncheons, which now are becoming the subject of White House fan mail and growing interest.

At first, the guest lists were compiled from people Mrs. Johnson knew or had heard about. Now they have grown to include many persons suggested by letter writers.

White House Social Secretary Bess Abell has a file of 150 suggested names. Mrs. Johnson likes to keep a balance so that not all are from the same walk of life or geographical area.

The cross-section of women Tuesday included singer Marian Anderson, ballerina Maria Tallchief, Kentucky Commissioner of Commerce Katherine Peden and authoress Katharine Anne Porter.

The spotlight speaker was Kate Tuchman, principal of P.S. 184 in a crowded Harlem district of New York City, who discussed the educational problems she encounters daily.

Treat Bears Better—Shoot Them

CORVALLIS, Ore., April 29 (AP)—The city solved the problem of how to stop complaints that three bears in the city park were being treated inhumanely.

The bears were shot. The bears had lived in a concrete-lined pit 20 feet deep and 35 feet wide for six years, since they were cubs. Some local citizens complained that it was cruel to make the bears live there.

City Manager John Porter said if the bears were turned loose they could not survive in the wilds because they had no experience there. So he ordered them knocked out with a tranquilizer and then killed by a rifle shot Tuesday.

Porter said other zoos in Oregon were not interested in taking the bears.

Dean Found Dead in Big Bleachers

NEW ORLEANS, April 29 (AP)—Authorities expected an autopsy today would clear up the mystery surrounding the death of Dr. William W. Peery, dean of arts and sciences at Tulane university. His body was found Tuesday high in the bleachers of Sugar Bowl stadium.

Funeral arrangements awaited completion of an investigation. Police said Peery, 57, apparently met with no foul play.

Tommy R. O'Boyle, 21, son of Tulane football coach Tommy O'Boyle, discovered the body slumped over seats at the north end of the stadium when he went to sunbathe.

No immediate explanation was offered for Peery's presence in the stadium, said to be the largest of its type in the country. It has an 83,000 seating capacity. The coroner's office discounted an early report that the body was found in a pool of blood. Peery had been missing since Saturday, police reported.

Officers said all personal possessions were found on the body, and there was no indication of robbery.

A native of Denver, Peery received in 1958 that city's outstanding citizen award for outstanding service to education. He was graduated in 1931 from Wooster (Ohio) college and earned his master's and doctorate degrees at the University of North Carolina.

John O. Hickman, executive promotion organization, said Tuesday the regional approach was decided upon because of wide differences in sheep production and marketing in various parts of the country.

He said this difference is especially significant between the large range operations in the West and the farm flock operations in the Midwest, South and East.

The committee members are Ralph Grimshaw, sheep extension specialist for Ohio State university; W. Van V. Warren, Jr., Elgin, Ill.; J. C. Petersen, Spencer, Ia.; and Don Clyde, Heber City, Utah, secretary for the sheep industry.

The decision to conduct the regional meetings was considered a modified approach to the McKinsey recommendations.

Two Sub-District, Three Conference Track Meets Scheduled for Week-End

Class B athletes begin eliminations that will end in state championships and class A schools have their conference carnivals on tap as Magic Valley track heads into its biggest week-end of the season. Highlighting the list will be the Southern Idaho conference championships at Twin Falls Friday afternoon as that meet generally provides from one-half to three-fourths of the individual state titlists. But it is not by itself—the brand new Eastern Idaho conference will conduct its first official meeting of any kind at Rupert Saturday afternoon while the South Central Idaho conference, a one-year-old basketball alliance, gets under way Friday at Gooding.

SHOTPUT CHAMPION Curtis Eaton, Twin Falls senior, will be seeking the only title that has eluded him in four years. Eaton, who won the state title as a freshman, has set three district records in as many years and holds another handful of various marks, has never won a Southern Idaho conference shotput crown. He is heavily favored to remedy that oversight Friday when the Bruins host the annual conference track and field championships. This picture was taken in a track meet in Twin Falls earlier this year. BOSTON, April 29 (AP)—Dick Stuart's grand slam home run into the left field screen in the 11th inning gave the Boston Red Sox a 6-4 victory over the Baltimore Orioles Tuesday before 2385 shivering fans.

ST. PAUL, MINNEAPOLIS, April 29 (AP)—Jimmie Hall's 10th-inning single with the bases loaded gave the Minnesota Twins a 9-8 victory over the Cleveland Indians in a rain-delayed slugfest Tuesday.

Gary Bell, Cleveland's fourth pitcher, had loaded the bases on three walks, two of them intentional, before Hall connected.

Lenny Green, batting for Bill Dalley, walked to open the 10th. After a sacrifice moved him to second, Bell passed Tony Oliva before uncorking a wild pitch. Bob Allison was purposely walked to load them up and set the stage for Hall's single.

Johnson Is Tagged For Houston Loss

HOUSTON, April 29 (AP)—Houston's Ken Johnson, who lost a no-hitter when the Colts were shut out in his last start, got a run Tuesday night against the Los Angeles Dodgers but lost another one 3-1.

Johnson surrendered a first-inning run to the Dodgers on a single by Maury Wills and a Willie Davis' triple. Los Angeles' starter Joe Moeller protected the margin until the seventh when Jerry Grote tripled and scored on a squeeze bunt. It was the first run the Colts had scored for Johnson in 18 innings.

But the Dodgers came back in the eighth. Dick Tracewski led off with a triple and one out later, Wills' double drove him in. Wally Moon singled to score Wills and knock out Johnson.

Extension of Sheep Season Is Asked

BOISE, April 29 (AP)—The Idaho fish and game commission was asked Tuesday to authorize a longer season for bighorn sheep.

George Dovel, an outfitter from Big creek on the Salmon river drainage, said bighorn rams are being found that were winter-killed. He said they could have been harvested in a longer season.

He also recommended extension of deer and elk seasons on unit 26 in the Big creek area to Dec. 15 as they were a few years ago.

John Emory, Boise, representing the Third District Federation of Sportsmen's clubs, told the commission the organization was pleased with the management program last winter for the Boise deer herd.

He said its members appreciated information that was put out on the herd.

Kenneth Kelly, owner of a resort on the middle fork of the Payette river, recommended a deer hunt in this area with a definite closing date. He said he had a problem with vandalism to his property by hunters after he closes for the winter.

Three U.S. forest service supervisors talked with the commission in general terms about cooperation in big game management.

They were Wes Carlson, Challis national forest, Challis; Gene Powers, Salmon, the Salmon forest, and Harold Anderson, Helena, Mont., Bitterroot national forest.

Patton Sweeps By Opponent to Lead Amateur Tour

PINEHURST, N. C., April 29 (AP)—Billy Jo Patton mixed an occasional par with a batch of birdies and double bogies Tuesday to sweep past Peter Zaccagnino of Hartford, Conn., 4 and 3 and lead the way to the third round of the North and South amateur golf tournament. Patton's Walker cup teammate, Charlie Smith, Gastonia, N. C.; Charlie's brother, Dave, and Bill Campbell, Huntington, W. Va., three-time North and South champion, were eliminated in an eventful day that also produced a hole-in-one.

Broglio Hurls Cards' 8-0 Shutout Win

ST. LOUIS, April 29 (AP)—Ernie Broglio's five-hit pitching and a solid attack by Ken Boyer's three hits, including his third homer, carried the St. Louis Cardinals to an 8-0 victory over the New York Mets Tuesday night.

The Cardinals chased Al Jackson, the Mets starter, with a three-run flurry in the second inning.

Broglio, meanwhile, did not allow a runner past second base. He struck out three and walked two in boosting his record to 2-1.

Braves Rally To Defeat Pirates 9-5

MILWAUKEE, April 29 (AP)—The Milwaukee Braves spotted Pittsburgh a four-run lead and rebounded to defeat the Pirates 9-5 Tuesday night.

Milwaukee tied the count 4-4 with a run in the fifth before Willie Stargel lined his third homer of the year off winner Jack Smith in the sixth.

The Braves bounced back as Eddie Mathews, who had only three RBIs in 11 previous games, drilled a two-out single to right center to put the Braves ahead 6-4. Dennis Macken then gave the Braves two more runs on a bases-loaded single in the seventh.

Allen Leads Phils Over Cincinnati 4-2

CINCINNATI, April 29 (AP)—Rookie Richie Allen slammed a homer, triple and two singles, leading the Philadelphia Phillies to a 4-2 victory over Cincinnati Tuesday night. Allen, lifting his batting average to .442 with a 4-for-5 performance, tied the score 2-2 in the sixth with his fifth homer before the Phillies moved ahead to stay in the seventh with a two-run burst against Jim O'Toole.

O'Toole, who struck out nine in trying for his third victory, got into trouble in the seventh when opposing pitcher Art Mahaffey doubled. John Callison singled Mahaffey across with the tie-breaker, then Allen drove in another run with a triple.

Allen collected his singles in the first and ninth innings. He grounded out to first his other time up.

The Reds opened the scoring with two runs in the third on doubles by Pete Rose, Frank Robinson and Gordie Coleman. The Phillies got a run back in the fourth on a single by Roy Sievers, two walks and Gus Triandos' sacrifice fly.

The previous high for a twin double was the $54,692.20 last Wednesday at Oulfsman park in Florida.

A three-horse accident in the last race accounted for Historic Value's triumph and the record TD.

Chester Direct, leading at the head of the stretch, stumbled and momentarily went off stride. However, Pedor Herbert, driven by Bud Gilmour, went down as did Denison, driven by John Chapman. Historic Value, driven by George Sholly, was far back and went wide to keep out of trouble and win.

Dr. McLaughlin, after examining Cepeda Monday, reported the Puerto Rican has fluid on the right knee and muscles in his right thigh are atrophied from bruising and bumps.

Trojans Topple Santa Barbara

LOS ANGELES, April 29 (AP)—Southern California piled up four runs in one inning on the way to a 10-1 victory over University of California at Santa Barbara in a California Intercollegiate Baseball association game Tuesday.

The four-run rally began with two out in the third inning. The Trojans banged out five hits, four of them doubles, before Santa Barbara came up with the final out.

Santa Barbara got its only score when Ed Preston singled in the seventh. Larry Bjork doubled and relief pitcher Duane White walked two in a row to force in the run.

him the word with one-quarter mile remaining he quickly picked up the leaders and won by 2 1/4 lengths.

Roman Brother, from Louis Wolfson's Harbor View Farm, was second by 2 1/4 lengths.

He's a Gem finished third three lengths in front of Mr. Moonlight, but after a long delay the judges ruled that He's a Gem had interfered with Clem Pac and took down his number.

The change moved Mr. Moonlight into third place and dropped He's a Gem to fifth with fourth going to Clem Pac.

Hill Rise, now winner of eight straight races after finishing third in his first two starts as a 2-year-old, earned $10,432.50 to boost his career earnings to $198,919.50.

Clem Pac set a burning early pace as he reeled off the first quarter in 23, the one-half mile in 45 2-5, and he had enough as Hill Rise came rushing up to battle Roman Brother for the lead.

Agents Grab Kidnapers in Wild Scuffle

NEW ORLEANS, April 29 (UPI)—Two off-duty FBI agents pounced on accused kidnaper Joseph Francis Bryan in a shopping center, Tuesday, wrestled him to the pavement and rescued his 8-year-old victim.

Bryan, one of the FBI's 10 most wanted men, was subdued with the aid of a bystander. Little Dennis Burke, who was kidnapped at Humboldt, Tenn., last Friday, was not hurt.

The 25-year-old former mental patient who once said he liked to see "little boys tied up and screaming" was wanted for the kidnapping of 10-year-old John David Robinson of Mt. Pleasant, S. C., Feb. 27. The child's skeleton was found March 31 in a mangrove swamp at Hallandale, Fla.

South Carolina authorities said Bryan had not yet been charged with the murder because they could not immediately determine in what state the Robinson boy was killed.

When the news reached Humboldt that Dennis was safe, citizens ran into the street shouting "they found the boy." The child's aunt sobbed hysterically.

An FBI agent at the Airline park shopping center in suburban Jefferson parish county spotted the white Cadillac that Bryan was believed driving.

He waved down another agent who was passing and the two agents watched the car, parked in front of a five-and-ten cent store.

When Bryan came out, the agents jumped him. Calvin Weeks, who manages an auto parts store nearby, said he saw the agents scuffling with Bryan and "they were having a hard time holding him."

"I thought he was a shoplifter, so I helped them get hold of him."

Western Trip For Johnson Being Urged

WASHINGTON, April 29 (UPI)—President Johnson, who has a fondness for grasping voters' hands, is being urged to make a Western inspection tour in May or June that could take him as far as Hawaii.

For a man who wishes to preserve as long as possible the pleasant fiction that he isn't campaigning, tours of this kind offer a chance to get out and meet the people where they live.

Johnson has said he wants to hold down political activity until after the party nominating conventions.

These trips are always billed as nonpolitical expeditions on which the country's head man is seeking for himself how matters are progressing at the grass roots.

This usually results in futile outcries from the opposition that the chief executive is politicking at the taxpayers' expense. But such complaints are mostly for the record and even their authors expect little public reaction to them.

Johnson's desk is loaded with all kinds of invitations for him to dedicate dams, inspect new atomic complexes, cut ribbons on highways and view conservation projects.

The President has a bipartisan invitation to visit Hawaii, which is about as far as he can go from the mainland under his self-imposed rule not to leave the country so long as there is no vice president.

Sens. Daniel K. Inouye, D., Hawaii, and Hiram L. Fong, R., Hawaii, called on the President recently and asked him to dedicate some new battle monuments being erected in the National Cemetery of the Pacific.

If he goes there, Sen. Frank E. Moss, D., Utah, said he hopes the President will stop long enough to dedicate the Flaming Gorge dam in Utah, where President John F. Kennedy turned the valve that started the flow of water.

Johnson, who sometimes gives the appearance of being restive at White House confinement, is reported sympathetic to the idea of making a Western tour. He has always been politically popular in the Plains and Rocky mountain area.

Report Given to Hagerman Lions

HAGERMAN, April 29—A report of the nominating committee was made by Jack Martin at the Lions club dinner meeting Monday evening at the IOOF hall. Wives of members were guests.

Election will be held at the next meeting, with Elvire (Tommy) Thompson as installing officer.

The club voted to suspend dinner meetings after the May meeting, for June, July and August.

A board of directors meeting will be held May 11.

It was announced the state fish and game department representatives will inspect the proposed site for the Lions park to approve the location.

Case Dismissed

BOISE, April 29—complaint brought by the government in U.S. district court against Walter Kaez, Buhl farmer, was dismissed today because of an out-of-court settlement.

The government had asked judgment of $1,225 against Kaez, claiming that amount was due on overproduction of 1960.

Income Grows 3 Per Cent During 1963

WASHINGTON, April 29 (UPI)—Americans earned a record average of $2,443 for every man, woman and child in 1963, the commerce department reported Tuesday. This was an increase of $77 or three per cent, over the previous year.

Nevada led the states with per capita personal income of $3,372. Mississippi was last at $1,379, even though a bumper cotton crop boosted the state's per capita income by eight per cent—the highest rate of increase in all the states.

Following Nevada in highest incomes were Delaware, $3,250, Connecticut $3,162, New York, $3,000, California $2,980, Illinois $2,945 and New Jersey $2,900.

Per capita income in the District of Columbia was $3,398 in 1963.

Besides Mississippi, the states with the lowest incomes were South Carolina $1,584, Arkansas $1,598, Alabama $1,556, Louisiana $1,768 and Tennessee $1,778. While Southeastern states had the lowest incomes, they also showed some of the highest growth rates.

Three states showed no change. These were Montana, Idaho and Colorado.

Four states showed a decline. Falling farm receipts especially in wheat, hay and livestock, cut North Dakota's per capita income by 12 per cent and brought on smaller declines in South Dakota and Nebraska.

Arizona had a one per cent drop.

You Dreamer! RICHLAND HILLS, Tex., April 29 — Police responded promptly Tuesday night when a frantic woman called to report that a prowler was trying to break into her house.

Montana Mint Is Eyed by Lee Metcalf

WASHINGTON, April 29 (UPI)—Sen. Lee Metcalf, D., Mont., Tuesday launched legislation geared to provide for construction of a U. S. mint in Montana.

The legislation was introduced by Metcalf on behalf of himself and Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield.

Metcalf said the proposed legislation was part of the two senators' efforts to save the silver dollar. He said demand for coins is far greater than the present or future potential supply unless the new mint is built. He maintained that Montana has all the necessary metals, silver, copper and nickel, readily available.

He also argued that the state has a large number of unemployed trained industrial workers, that Montanans have great desire for silver dollars of which construction of the new mint would allow the continued minting and that building of the new mint in Montana would be an "unprecedented act of foresight."

Church Lauds Demo Record, Eyes Victory

WASHINGTON, April 29 (UPI)—Sen. Frank Church, D., Idaho, says the accomplishments of the Democratic party over the last three and one half years entitles it to victory in the 1964 election.

At the same time, he predicted that President Johnson will win of his record of competence and accomplishment at home and abroad.

Speaking on behalf of senators in a panel discussion before the annual meeting of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce, Church pointed out that when the Democrats took office in 1960 there were crises in Cuba, Viet Nam, Laos, the Congo and Berlin.

"Today, three and one half years later, no one contends that all these problems have been settled," he said.

"Castro remains in Cuba, the war continues indecisively in South Viet Nam, but Laos has thus far been denied to the communists, the situation in the Congo has been much improved, and the war clouds have been dissipated over Berlin."

During that period, he said, the United States became so strong that it forced Russia to back down during the Cuban missile crisis in 1962 "under conditions which have since permitted the first thaw in the cold war."

"A nuclear test ban treaty has been signed and there is basis to hope the further progress can be made toward a safer and saner world."

Phosphate

WASHINGTON, April 29 (UPI)—The bureau of the budget has given Sen. Frank Church, D., Ida., a go ahead on his bill to double the amount of phosphate land which can be held under lease at one time.

The measure would increase the land which could be leased to any person, association or corporation at any one time to 20,480 acres.

Church asked the senate subcommittee on minerals, materials and fuels to schedule the bill for early action since the budget bureau has no objection to it.

Leah Duncan, Kim Brumbach, Leon Scott, Rochelle Wing, Greg Willis, Debbie Blazer, Douglas Carr and Jan Wilkins. William Barton and Terry Miller gave a banjo and guitar number.

Regina Teasley, Cheryl Willis and Sherry Qualls presented a novelty number entitled, "A Bicycle Built for Two."

Correspondent Assesses Outlook of Vietnamese War Involving Yanks

By NEIL SHEEHAN
United Press International

The Vietnamese colonel looked over the rice paddies and said, "You know, I hope I'm wrong, but sometimes I think it's too late, that we have wasted too much time and men and that the Viet Cong are too strong now."

He was expressing a usually unspoken but nevertheless very real fear in South Viet Nam today. It is a fear that the enormous political, administrative and military repressions during the last few years of misrule by the now defunct Ngo family regime may have fatally sapped the human resources of this country. It is a gnawing worry that 20 years of almost constant warfare may have irreparably weakened the population's will to resist. It is a fear that the situation may now have deteriorated so critically that no nationalist government will be able to rally its population and army for the years of agonizing effort which would be required to achieve victory over the Viet Cong guerrillas.

For victory, the Vietnamese know, can only be achieved by slowly and relentlessly reducing the Viet Cong to the point where they are no longer an effective military and political force. The United States is operating on the theory that it is not too late. It has thrown its full backing behind the new Vietnamese strongman, Maj. Gen. Nguyen Khanh, 36, for another attempt at rolling back the flooding communist tide.

Washington has promised an additional 50 million dollars in military and economic aid this year to supplement the million and a half dollars a day the United States is already spending in this country.

Most informed Vietnamese believe that Washington will give Khanh the rest of this year to prove whether he can make progress against the Viet Cong. But if Khanh fails, the United States will sooner or later have to look around for an alternative to its present policy of all-out support for a nationalist Vietnamese government in an internal war against the communist guerrillas. The U.S. appears to have three choices.

There is the choice of committing American combat infantry units in strength to fight alongside government troops.

This, most informed American and Vietnamese observers feel, would be a short-term military benefit but a political disaster. Large-scale American intervention would convince the majority of the Vietnamese people that the communists were right in claiming the United States is waging a colonial war in South Viet Nam. It would drive most of those Vietnamese who are still resisting a Viet Cong takeover into communist hands.

The American troops, it is believed would soon find themselves bogged down in the same war of attrition which is daily bleeding the strength of the government forces and which brought the French army to exhaustion and defeat in the first Indochina war.

The second choice would be to step up the war into communist North Viet Nam and Laos to seize control of the Viet Cong supply and infiltration route into South Viet Nam along the so-called "Ho Chi Minh Trail."

But in order to be effective, observers feel, this escalation would have to be extensive, with heavy American involvement, and thus might result in a generalized war in Indochina with U.S. troops fighting Chinese communist forces.

Many Vietnamese would welcome this outcome. They believe the guerrilla war involves all of Indochina and can not be won in South Viet Nam alone while the communists hold the dominant position in the Indochinese peninsula and this country's borders lie open to the infiltration of arms and men. But most Vietnamese do not believe the United States will accept a "major American-fought war in this part of the world."

Thus there is the third choice which Vietnamese fear most because they consider it the most likely one—a Laos-style neutralist solution to the guerrilla war.

Ever since the United States accepted a neutralist solution in Laos in the summer of 1962 following its defeat there, the Vietnamese have feared it will someday be their turn. They believe that if the price for sustaining the war climbs too high in American blood or money or the fighting drags on interminably with the hope of victory in sight, the United States will capitulate in a similar face-saving withdrawal from this country.

The possibility of a real neutralization of South Viet Nam is not taken seriously in Saigon.

Nazi Criminal Howls in Jail

BERLIN, April 29 (AP)—Rudolf Hess, once Adolf Hitler's deputy, has become so eccentric that he sometimes howls like a wolf in his prison cell, says a man in a position to know.

Hess was 70 Sunday. He has been behind bars 23 years.

First he was in British captivity after flying to England on a "peace mission" in 1941. Then he was sentenced to life by the Nuremberg international tribunal for war crimes.

For 17 1/2 years he has been in the allied war crimes prison in the Berlin suburb of Spandau.

An officer who saw him recently says:

"Hess looks every day of his age."

"His skin is deeply wrinkled."

His dark, glaring eyes are deeply sunken.

"His mental state has not improved with the years."

"Some nights he howls like a wolf in his cell."

Hess and two other convicted war criminals are the only occupants of the prison built to hold 600 inmates. The prison is guarded in rotation by American, Russian, British and French troops. This month it is the American turn to have a company of military police at the jail.

The other inmates are Baldur von Schirach, the former leader of the Hitler youth, 57, and Albert Speer, Nazi munitions minister, 59. Both complete 20-year terms in 1966.

Hess is in for life. Nuremberg rules require sentences to be served in full, although others have been prematurely released from Spandau because of ill health.

The Western powers would probably be glad to shut down what is likely the world's most expensive prison per capita. But the Soviets have blocked all moves to grant clemency to the three men.

When Hess explodes into one of his rages, Speer and Von Schirach try to calm him down. "Pull yourself together," they hiss at him in defiance of the no-talking rule.

Hess has no visitors, although allowed one 30-minute visit a month. He says he won't see his wife and son until he is in better circumstances.

Bickel School PTA Officers Are Installed

Bickel school PTA met Monday evening at the school. William Armstrong gave the invocation and the Cub Scouts of den 114 presented a flag ceremony.

Frances Anderson, principal, accepted a gift for the school of $100. to be used for film strips. A coat rack for the hall, built by Richard Wilson, was acknowledged also.

Mrs. Tom Olmstead spoke in behalf of the scholarship committee. She said the PTA scholarship was awarded to Marjorie Wilson, who will attend Idaho

State university to study home economics.

Past president David Hilty installed officers for the coming year. They are Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Olmstead, co-presidents; Mrs. Archie Turner, vice-president; Mrs. Imogene Heath, secretary, and Roger Stafford, treasurer.

Olmstead spoke on the aims of the new officers. The past president's pin was awarded to Mrs. Wilson and entertainment was provided by the Bluebird and Camp Fire groups. James Smith, Cubmaster of pack 114 conducted an explanation of cubbing.

Awards were received by Brian Bulcock, Bobcat; Paul Overlen, Rodney Eller and William Carlock, wolf rank; Gene Eller, bear badge and LeRoy O'Day and James Nebel, lion rank.

Rusk Asserts Middle East Pact Needed

WASHINGTON, April 29 (AP)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk asserted Tuesday that the threat of communist aggression has not been removed and there is still a need for a Middle East defense pact.

Rusk's comment came in a speech prepared for the opening session of the 12th council of ministers meeting of the Central Treaty Organization attended by foreign ministers from Iran, Pakistan, Turkey and Great Britain.

"Let us not forget that the leaders of both the principal communist nations proclaim world domination as the ultimate communist goal. And we must take particular care not to let any communist anywhere think that they can gain from a policy of militancy," Rusk said.

This reference to the Chinese communist brand of militant communism was underscored by references to the sister defense pact, the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization, which met earlier this month in Manila.

"SEATO is currently confronted with the brutal fact of continuing communist aggression," Rusk said.

"Just a few days ago I visited South Viet Nam, where warfare still rages because communist aggressors persist in their attempt to impose their will on a free people."

He said the fact that such aggression has not been experienced in the Middle East is a "reassuring" factor, at least in part, attributable to the existence of this defensive shield.

Rusk told the delegates that President Johnson would extend his personal greetings to the foreign ministers at the White House Wednesday morning.

Laos Rightists' Position Overrun By Pro Reds

VIENTIANE, Laos, April 29 (AP)—Pro-communist Pathet Lao forces attacked and overran a rightist position Tuesday in the Plain of Jars, 100 miles northeast of Vientiane, military sources reported.

The attack appeared to be a Pathet Lao reaction to the coup of rightist generals who seized control of this administrative capital April 19. U.S. and other Western nations had feared the balance of feuding factions in Laos.

The military sources said the Pathet Lao troops in large numbers captured rightist positions on the northeastern fringe of the Plain of Jars.

Other Pathet Lao forces at the same time moved toward a road leading to the neutralist headquarters at Muong Phan, seven miles west.

Rightist and neutralist forces have been cooperating in the area since last year, when the Pathet Lao tried to drive the neutralists out of the strategic highlands.

YOUR BIRTHDAY and HOROSCOPE

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 29—Born today, your life is bound to be more merry than sad, more filled with success than fraught with failure, more aided by love than hampered by a lack of affection. You are one of those whose cheerful outlook on life acts as a magnet to draw happy events and happy people to your side. No matter how far you may fall on any occasion, you seem destined to land on your feet!

There are those who probably think that you do not take life seriously enough, who may even wish that you could be so affected by satisfaction. You have no intention of doing this, however, and they might as well know it. Life, you say, is all too short—and you are quite right!

In your own home, you are destined to be the center. You have the necessary qualities of vision, intelligence, generosity, sympathy, and optimism to lead your own family to happiness. Children especially should find you indispensable, for you are able to bring balance and proportion to their thinking when the problems of youth seem overwhelming.

Young GOP Women's Unit Told of Tax

William Grange, secretary of the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce, spoke on taxes in Idaho during a meeting of the Petitioner's Club Monday.

Grange gave reasons why Idaho should consider a sales tax. He said the present tax structure cannot do the job, so it is imperative for Idaho to have a tax revision. He added Idaho must relieve the overburdened real estate taxpayer, eliminate personal property taxes and reduce the income taxes.

"We must create a tax climate which will encourage certain types of industry to certain types of state," Grange said. "Employment in this area has, in the last few years, dropped and we must have jobs for our young people coming out of our tax supported schools."

President Lifts Dogs By Their Ears

WASHINGTON, April 29 (AP)—Memo to President Johnson: Some people love Democrats, some people love Republicans, but everybody—just everybody—loves dogs.

The chief executive brought down on his head the wrath of the Chicago Humane society Monday when he decided to have some fun with the family beagles.

"Him" and "Her" Johnson pulled each of the animals up by its ears to arouse yelps for a visiting delegation of bankers, newsmen and photographers.

He told his guests that "If you ever follow dogs, you like to hear them yelp," and that was why he had encouraged "Him" and "Her" to do so.

"It's good for them," he said. "It goes them good to let them bark." Johnson rewarded the dogs with vitamin-filled canine candies.

J. J. Shaffer, managing director of the Chicago Humane society, said that Johnson's ear-pulling "is far and away the wrong way" to treat animals.

"There are right ways and wrongs of picking up a dog. It has a front end and a back end and appreciates support at both ends. The question is not how painful this is to beagles, but how painful it is to any living creature to be lifted by the ears. In our experience, this is the wrong way to do it."
