

Bishop Sheen and Wallace Attack Prayer Decision

WASHINGTON, April 30 (UPI)—Bishop Fulton J. Sheen and Alabama Gov. George Wallace each attacked supreme court decisions forbidding prayers in public schools today and called for action by congress to override them. The well known Roman Catholic prelate and the controversial Southern governor appeared before the house judiciary committee. The group is considering the 147 proposals to amend the constitution to nullify the court's rulings outlawing religious worship as a required part of public school programs.

Senate OKays McNichols' Appointment

WASHINGTON, April 30 (UPI)—The senate Thursday confirmed the nomination of HARRY McNICHOLS, Crofton, for appointment to the U.S. district court for the district of Idaho.

Sen. Frank Church, D., Idaho, who recommended the attorney for the appointment, said the senate had acted with "gratifying dispatch" in approving the nomination by President Johnson. The senate judiciary committee had approved the nomination earlier this week.

McNichols will succeed Judge Chase A. Clark, 80, Church's father-in-law, who is retiring.

"The senate's confidence in him reflects the esteem he has earned from all Idahoans who know him," Church said of McNichols' appointment.

In Boise, Gov. Robert E. Smylie said that "I'm confident that Judge McNichols will be a splendid addition to the bench in Idaho and will have a long and brilliant career in the federal judiciary."

Bishop Sheen said neither the Catholic nor Protestant churches in this country desire any establishment religion in the United States. He added that "the decision of the supreme court on the subject of prayer in schools is founded on a myth—the myth of preventing the establishing of religion or the union of church and state."

Opinion Divided as Bean Hearings End

WENDELL, April 30—Last in a three-day series of public hearings on proposed Idaho department of agriculture bean quarantines ended here Wednesday night with testimony and opinions from farmers and bean companies during the concluding sessions, about even for and against the proposal. Forty-three persons attended the last session, one of two held Wednesday in the civic room of the Wendell city hall. Sixteen farmers gave their opinions and they were split down the middle on the issue. Most persons giving statements at the three-day hearing, which also included sessions in Twin Falls and Hazelton, were willing to admit that there is a bean blight problem in Magic Valley, but were divided on just how it should be handled.

Outcomes of the hearings, called by Commissioner Stanley Treharne, could determine whether quarantines will be imposed to control the disease in the valley.

Some testimony on the highly controversial issue brought rounds of applause Wednesday night from persons on both sides of the quarantine proposals.

Tom Morrison, manager of Beacon Bean company, Gooding, spoke Wednesday evening and felt that measures proposed were too drastic and was hopeful that some other means can be employed as a fully recognized quarantine of the problem. He suggested that the Commissioner Treharne form a fact-finding committee to guide him rather than impose a quarantine.

Emery Chaffee, manager of Northrup-Kling Seed company, Twin Falls, said Wednesday night his company favored the quarantine provided it is reviewed in two years, that special consideration be given for trial ground use of imported seed, and that all packet seeds sold within the state be exempt from the quarantine orders.

Farmers from Gooding, Jerome, Twin Falls and Minidoka counties attended the Wednesday evening session. It was reported that the hearing action has been set for May 10, but may be briefly deferred until the large amount of hearing testimony can be reviewed.

Statements given during the Wednesday afternoon session in Wendell also were fairly even. About 35 persons attended the hearing.

Snake Power Firm Hits Simplot Stand

RUPERT, April 30 — The president of the Snake River Power association Wednesday took issue with the assertion by industrialist J. R. Simplot that Bonneville power rates in southern Idaho aren't in line with its costs. John Brog, Rupert, said the system-wide cost of producing Bonneville power is only 1.2 mills per kilowatt, because of what he described as the hydro-electric efficiency of the Columbia river system. He said Simplot should agree that a fair mark-up is involved in a 2.2 mill price to Monsanto Chemical company at Soda Springs.

Brog said he was "elated" to see that Simplot had "endorsed the marketing of Bonneville power in southern Idaho." He quoted Simplot's statement Tuesday that he doesn't object to sale of Bonneville power in southern Idaho if rates are comparable to its costs.

Simplot said the 2.2 mill price was out of line in view of the federal power rate to phosphate plants in the Tennessee valley. The rate there is 4.29 mills.

Brog said the Columbia river produces power at lower costs than any other river system.

Simplot Saturday announced cancellation of plans for a four million dollar expansion of his firm's fertilizer plant at Pocatello, saying the 2.2 mill BPA contract with Monsanto gave unfair advantage to his competitor.

He said it was the same as a 2.5 million dollar subsidy.

Simplot's plant uses a chemical process for phosphate, while Monsanto uses an electric furnace process, consuming more electricity. Simplot said the low power rate discriminates against the chemical process.

Brog said Simplot failed to recognize that the Idaho-Montana-Utah share of the national phosphate market had dipped from 36 to 28 per cent since 1960. He said low cost power was the best way to restore Idaho's competitive position.

"For Mr. Simplot to say that Columbia river power should cost as much as Tennessee valley power is like saying his own strip mines in southern Idaho should have the same extraction costs as the underground mines of Montana," said Brog.

"I doubt if he considers himself as unfair competition for Stauf chemical at Elko because he utilizes a better natural resource at Pocatello."

"Mr. Simplot understandably may have a special interest in shutting BPA out of Idaho, both as a wet process phosphate producer and as a director of the Idaho Power company," said Brog.

"Idaho's interests, however, are far better served by low-cost electricity."

Elmore County Judge Believes Juvenile Offenders' Names Should Be Published

MOUNTAIN HOME, April 30 (UPI)—In an effort to curb delinquency, Probate Judge Jessie Proshold again is permitting publication of the names of juvenile offenders.

For nearly a year, Judge Proshold of Elmore county has withheld the names from public news media. But, she said, the number of juvenile cases has increased steadily from the time she stopped giving publicity to the actions.

When the judge originally decided to permit publication of the names of juvenile offenders a few years ago the number of crimes committed in Elmore county by persons under the age of 18 became alarming. After conferences with the sheriff and prosecutor she decided to "try giving publicity to the cases. She said the problem suddenly slowed to a crawl when she did.

When the crime rate fell off, the judge and prosecutor decided it no longer would be necessary to publish the names. So she once again barred publicity.

About three weeks ago, Judge Proshold decided it once again

Chicago Mother Pleads for Child

CHICAGO, April 30 (UPI)—The mother of Paul Joseph Fronczak made a tearful plea of "please return our baby" today to the woman who stole her day-old son from her arms in a maternity ward four days ago. Mrs. Dora Fronczak, 28, made her first public appearance since the kidnapping of her baby in the maternity ward of Michael Reese hospital by a woman posing as a nurse Monday. An intensive investigation by hundreds of policemen and federal bureau of investigation agents has failed to turn up a trace of a clue.

Mrs. Fronczak wept as she begged the unknown woman to bring her baby back.

"I ask for the baby to be well taken care of and brought back," she said. "Please return our baby. He was everything that we had—our hope for the future."

"Just so he's taken care and brought back. That's our only hope and prayer."

Hopefully, she said, "in a matter of time maybe the woman will be good enough to bring the baby back."

Mrs. Fronczak was wearing a blue-checked bathrobe when her husband, Chester, 34, wheeled her chair before reporters and television cameras in the maternity ward lobby. She fingered a crystal rosary constantly as she spoke. Her husband, an aircraft mechanic, sat next to her and kept his arm around his wife's shoulders.

Mrs. Fronczak said she had only a vague memory of what the kidnaper looked like. There was a resemblance between the woman in white and the police artist's portrait which has been transmitted to police departments around the country, she said, but she couldn't give an exact description.

Police joined Mrs. Fronczak in hoping that a "baby-hungry" woman had taken the child and would return him in good health. Police Capt. William Murphy issued a plea of his own to the kidnaper:

"You have had the baby three days. By now you must realize you should return this infant boy to his mother's arms. You must undo what you have done. Call us. Help us return the baby."

Murphy and other top investigators hoped that their new sketch of the kidnaper would aid in the search.

RUSK VISITS PEARSON
OTTAWA, April 30 (UPI)—U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk arrived today for talks with Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson and External Affairs Minister Paul Martin.

All POA's will be measured and screened before the sale and the sale is an approved POA sale, said Prescott.

Refreshments will be served on the grounds by Ladies of the Moose lodge. The sale is open to the public.

This is the 14th year Prescott has held a spring pony sale and the sale will draw consignors from South Dakota, Washington, Utah, Oregon, Nevada, California and Montana, in addition to a large number of Idaho consignors.

Sanger said parcel post delivery will be held on a five-day week basis, but a six-day service will be continued on the rural routes. There will be no residential or business delivery or parcels by truck on Wednesdays.

Cease-Fire Broken by Cypriots

NICOSIA, Cyprus, April 30 (AP)—Mortar shelling by Greek Cypriots ringing St. Hilarion castle today broke the cease-fire proclaimed by their government only 13 hours before. The United Nations announced seven mortar shells were fired in 15 minutes at the Turkish Cypriot stronghold in the Kyrenia mountains, resuming an offensive the Greek Cypriots have waged with the professed aim of clearing Turkish Cypriot gunposts from the Nicosia-Kyrenia highway and vantage points overlooking Greek villages.

U. S., Russia Trade Cuban Flight Views

MOSCOW, April 30 (UPI)—U.S. Ambassador Foy D. Kohler told First Vice Premier Anastas Mikoyan Wednesday night that the United States reserves the right to fly to Cuba "to protect its security."

Mikoyan reaffirmed the Soviet position that American reconnaissance flights over Cuba are illegal and a danger to peace.

The exchange of views between the U.S. envoy and Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev's right hand man was held informally at a national day reception at the Japanese embassy.

Mikoyan, who played a key role in the Cuban crisis of October, 1962 when he tried to explain the Soviet missile pull-out to Fidel Castro, raised the question of American overflights after exchanging pleasantries with Kohler.

Kohler explained the American view that the Kennedy-Khrushchev agreement on Cuba was predicated on inspection by international organizations of the state of Soviet rocket disengagement from the island.

Since no such inspection was arranged, Kohler explained, the United States would be compelled to continue its surveillance by air to protect American security.

"Now that President Makarios has ordered his government forces to cease fire in the area, it has been decided to convert these patrols into permanent U.N. posts in the area," it was announced. "It is hoped this cease-fire will be fully observed."

Two U.N. patrols came under fire in a continuation of the hostilities that U.N. Secretary-General U Thant is seeking to end through a new nine-point peace plan, presented Wednesday to the security council in New York. There were no casualties in either case.

Canadians of the peace force drew fire on a visit to the Turkish village of Agahida, in the Kyrenia foothills 10 miles north of Nicosia. Presumably the shots came from Greek Cypriot positions in the range overlooking the village.

The rodeo is sponsored by the National Intermountain Rodeo association, with the chamber assisting with local arrangements. Events will include bareback riding, Brahma bull riding, saddle bronc riding, calf roping, steer wrestling and a new event, ribbon roping.

Girls events scheduled include bareback racing, calf tying and clowning. Patterson said 25 gold belt buckles will be awarded winners in the different events and contestants also will receive points in the National Intermountain Rodeo association.

Judge Refuses New Ruby Trial
DALLAS, April 30 (UPI)—Judge Joe B. Brown Wednesday refused to grant a new trial to condemned killer Jack Ruby, rejecting a motion to "set aside this cruel and inhuman verdict" of death.

But Ruby will have a sanity trial.

The gaunt and haggard Ruby, a shadow of the roly-poly man who shot accused presidential assassin Lee Harvey Oswald, was led from court saying over and over from his family, "I won't see you again. I won't see you again."

Defense attorneys immediately filed notice of appeal to the Texas court of criminal appeals in Austin.

WASHINGTON, April 30 (UPI)—Early congressional action on President Johnson's $23 million dollar Appalachian aid program appeared likely today after legislative leaders moved promptly to begin consideration of the measure.

NATO Red Goods Block May Be Eased

LONDON, April 30 (UP)—The North Atlantic Treaty organization (NATO) allies may ease their embargo soon on the export of strategic goods behind the Iron curtain.

The list of goods which are barred to communist countries for security reasons is under review.

Informed sources indicated the embargo principle will be retained and that no major changes are anticipated. But some modifications which would have the effect of easing current restrictions are being considered.

There has been growing pressure in Europe for more trade with the communist bloc—especially from Britain. Recently the Soviet Union and its satellites have been stepping up their efforts to get the embargo lifted.

Embargo modifications may include numerous scientific instruments and certain types of machinery.

NATO allies are bound by the organization's Coordinating Committee for Export Controls (COCOM). But there have been differences over the scope of past restrictions.

Items Collected For Area Family

KIMBERLY, April 30 — Residents of the Kimberly area are collecting household items for Mr. and Mrs. George Pullin, whose house and furnishings were completely destroyed by fire Saturday morning.

The fire, discovered by Ray McKinster, Jr., at 3 a. m., had completely enveloped the three-bedroom home located on King street. The Pullins were working at the Simplot plant in Burley the night the fire broke out.

Anyone having items to donate to the pullins may leave them at the Edward Ginder residence on King street.

Nurse Workshop Slated at Burley

BURLEY, April 30—A conference for registered nurses will be held May 13 and 14 at the Ponderosa Inn, sponsored by districts 1 and 12 of the Idaho State Nursing association.

Registration is planned from 8 to 9 a. m. each day and program will start at 9 a. m. The same schedule will be presented both days to enable as many nurses as possible to attend. Mrs. Genice Van Sant, associate professor of nursing at the University of Idaho, and Mrs. Dorothy Lowman, director of nursing service at Salt Lake General hospital, will be resource persons.

Students of professional nursing schools will be admitted without charge. All registered nurses as well as students of professional nursing schools are encouraged to take advantage of this conference. Hospital administrators also are invited.

Kidnaper Won't Talk, Seeks Lawyer

NEW ORLEANS, April 30 (UP)—Chained and sullen, accused kidnaper Francis Joseph Bryan, Jr., told a U. S. commissioner Wednesday he wants a lawyer before he answers federal charges in the abduction death of a 10-year-old South Carolina boy.

Bryan, one of the FBI's 10 most wanted criminals, was captured in New Orleans Tuesday with another of his alleged kidnap victims in his custody, 8-year-old Dennis Burke of Humboldt, Tenn. Dennis was unharmed.

Young Burke later told his mother that Bryan lured him into his car by offering 50 cents to be shown the way to the Humboldt school.

"They drove to the school and kept going," said Mrs. Burke. She said that outside town Bryan tied Dennis' hands and kept them tied until he promised not to try and run away.

The 25-year-old Bryan made the request for an attorney when he appeared before Commissioner Fritz Windhorst for a hearing regarding his removal to South Carolina. Windhorst gave Bryan until Monday to obtain counsel. Bryan's bond was continued at $150,000.

At Florence, S. C., a federal grand jury was called into special session Wednesday to return a kidnapping indictment against

Kill Record

CHICAGO, April 30 (UP)—The nation's traffic deaths in the first three months this year totaled 9,900, a record high for the period and 16 per cent above the corresponding period in 1963.

The National Safety council said Wednesday that March, with 3,420 highway fatalities, was the 27th month in the last 29 to show an increase in traffic deaths. An increase in deaths over last March was reported in 39 states.

Bryan in connection with the kidnap-death of 10-year-old John David Robinson of Mount Pleasant, S. C. The child disappeared Feb. 27 and his skeleton was found March 31 in a mangrove swamp near Hallandale, Fla.

An indictment by the Florence jury would mean that authorities could short-circuit the removal hearing and return Bryan to South Carolina immediately on a bench warrant.

Bryan, speaking in mumbles, told Commissioner Windhorst he had been in contact with his parents in Audubon Park, N. J., and "I think I'll let them get me a lawyer."

Bryan was captured Tuesday when two off-duty FBI agents spotted him in a shopping center parking lot near Jefferson Downs race track and wrestled him into submission.

Commission Rejects Claim That Johnson Station in Tiff

WASHINGTON, April 30 (UP)—The federal communications commission (FCC) Wednesday rejected a claim that President Johnson's family television station was involved in a fight between two Austin, Tex., cable telecasters.

The FCC rejected the claim in a decision denying the petition of TV Cable, Inc., Austin, for waiver of a commission regulation. TV Cable wanted to waive a requirement that it black out programs for 30 days after they are carried on KTBC, the Austin station owned by Johnson's family.

The commission quickly dismissed the relevance of an option agreement between KTBC and Capital Cable of Austin. The Capital firm competes with TV Cable in providing programs carried over San Antonio stations to Austin homes by means of cables.

The only question about the agreement that was relevant to its decision, the FCC said, was whether it gave KTBC the power to require Capital Cable to black out programs carried by the station. The agreement contained no such power.

The only other reference made to the agreement was in a separate opinion filed by Commissioner Lee Loevinger. Loevinger and Commissioner Robert T. Bartley concurred with the majority decision but filed separate statements.

"It appears to me that this proceeding has stimulated much publicity that is quite unwarranted by its merits," Loevinger said in his statement.

"Since the members of the commission are still in disagreement as to the basic issue involved and since there has been no showing or suggestion of any facts or evidence relevant or material to the proceeding that have not been fully disclosed... there is no apparent point in reconsideration except to engender further unwarranted publicity."

Both Loevinger and Bartley dissented from an earlier commission decision requiring the blackouts to protect regular television stations.

Most of the publicity in the fight between TV Cable and Capital Cable stemmed from the involvement of KTBC. Mrs. Johnson had majority control of the station until her stock was placed in trusteeship last December.

Keep Moving

City Manager H. L. Derrick has made some proposals to the city commission that merit what he asks—complete investigation. His suggestion for building a new structure to house the police and fire departments is particularly attractive. The present police station and fire station are obsolete and definitely aren't a credit to the city. Mr. Derrick's proposal should be considered a step forward for the community.

Tentatively, he proposes such a joint building would be constructed adjacent to the present city hall. The suggestion has a good deal of merit, not only from the standpoint of better liaison, but it has the suggestion for some excellent economies. For instance, with the city hall and fire and police stations all located together, it might be possible to have a joint heating and air-conditioning plant that would be more economical to operate than the present heating in three separate buildings.

There also may be merit in Mr. Derrick's suggestion that perhaps the city should return to the garbage-collection task. At present, garbage is being collected under a contract with a sanitation firm. The contract is scheduled to expire next year and Mr. Derrick has advised the city commission to investigate all facets of the problem. It's good advice and the city commission would do well to instigate such an investigation.

Mr. Derrick talks of problems at the sanitary fill and the fact that available fill area is being exhausted at a fast rate. He also notes the city has received numerous complaints under the present system. If the service is unsatisfactory, the city should have means of assuring the necessary improvement.

On the other side of the coin, many residents have discovered the present system much more satisfactory than the old plan under which garbage was collected in city-owned trucks operated by city employees. No amount of protest to city officials under the former plan ever seemed to bring any change for the better.

It makes no difference what system is employed to collect garbage, the goal remains the same—complete and prompt removal of trash and garbage. And no resident should ever be placed in the position of being abused—either orally or by treatment—at the hands of a garbage collector.

All in all, Mr. Derrick's suggestions to the city commission are in the nature of planning for progress. The city government, which rates as fairly big business in Twin Falls, is just like any other business. It can't stand still. Either the city has to move forward or it will stagnate. Mr. Derrick's suggestions are in the nature of making certain the city will keep moving forward.

WHAT MANNER OF MAN

Just what manner of man is this Lyndon B. Johnson, who occupies the nation's highest political office? Obviously, he is an accomplished politician, a person who works long and hard at being all things to all people. He's a politician who doesn't want to incur anyone's ire for any reason.

President Johnson has persuasive powers that exceed those used by any occupant of the White House for a good many years. He may be the most persuasive President since Franklin D. Roosevelt, or he may even rank higher than FDR who had a way of getting things done.

There's also no doubt President Johnson has the common touch, the appeal to old John Q. Public. He knows the little things that appeal to the average taxpayer and voter and he's not going to miss any bet on that line.

President Johnson is building a reputation for himself of being tireless, a champion for the little man, a politician who DOES care what happens to the taxpayer even though tax expenditures indicate otherwise.

But what else is President Johnson? There have been a few little indications the President has been working hard at creating an image that doesn't necessarily exist. There was the incident in Texas when President Johnson drove a car on a public highway at around 100 miles an hour, all the while sipping beer. Then there's the recent case of the President lifting his dogs by the ears, explaining it didn't really hurt them and that anyone who loved dogs liked to hear them yelp. Some thoughtless dog owners might want to experiment with their dogs.

Such little incidents serve to raise the question of what sort of man is Lyndon B. Johnson. Is he the man in the image on which he works or is he a man who comes to light in unguarded moments?

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

By ANDREW TULLY
WASHINGTON, April 30—At the state department the other day, I encountered whippersnappers from a foreign service officer about a book on foreign aid I have just committed with an amiable genius named Milton Britten.
The book's title is "Where Did Your Money Go?" and was published by Simon and Schuster.
My state department man's comment on the book was unoriginal, which makes it significant. He complained that the book, which is highly critical of the United States, was "undermining a necessary program," and that it is not constructive to poke a finger at wastage of the taxpayer's dollars when the program "on the whole is a good one."

What makes this hackneyed comment significant is that a defender of the foreign aid program should still feel it is proper to make. After all, the trouble Presidents Kennedy and Johnson had with congress last year raising money for the program, some levels of officialdom still feel it is less majestic to suggest it might not be perfect. On no level has the suggestion been made that the program has been its own worst enemy and that the time has come to do something about maladministration and waste.

OPPOSED TO WASTE

Neither Britten nor I am opposed to foreign aid. This is made clear in a preface to "Where Did Your Money Go?" in which we state: "So long as the cold war persists, helping our friends will be just as much a part of our defense as missiles and tanks. But we are opposed to the waste and needless foreign policy frustration caused by the careless and sometimes corrupt administration of America's foreign aid program."

But, the book deals in facts. For the past 21 years, the United States has poured more than 100 billion dollars into its foreign aid program. By 1963, the list of recipient countries had grown to 108, leaving only eight countries in the whole of the free world which were not getting some form of American subsidy. Even the rich, fully recovered nations in Western Europe plus Japan were still receiving sizable grants of military equipment and supplies.

HOW BIG 100 BILLION IS

It is difficult to understand just how much 100 billion dollars is, but the sum can be brought down to Earth by noting that it is more than twice the assessed valuation, real and otherwise, in the nation's 13 largest cities—New York, Chicago, Los Angeles, Philadelphia, Detroit, Baltimore, Houston, Cleveland, Washington, St. Louis, Milwaukee, San Francisco and Boston. That comes out a lot of money, even when reduced to bureaucratic jargon.

Given such an outpouring of dollars, it would be incredible if there were not some waste. But the record shows the waste has been monumental, amounting to what Sen. Wayne Morse, D. Ore., calls "hundreds and hundreds of millions of dollars of the American taxpayers' money."

TROUBLEMAKERS NEEDED

Yet Washington is full of U. S. diplomats, speaking from the vast experience of 18 months in a Hilton hotel in Ankara, who still rebut any criticism of foreign aid as somehow unpatriotic, even treasonable. Critics are dismissed as "troublemakers," and uncouth bores.

Well, Mrs. Balderdash, Britten and Tully want to be "troublemakers" in this one. We hope our book will make lots of trouble for the jokers who throw our money around in foreign countries. Meanwhile, we are comforted by the endorsement of numerous members of congress, including Sen. Ernest Gruening, D. Alaska, who says of our effort, "This is an invaluable book which should be must reading for every American."

Views of Others

MASSIVELY WRONG

What General MacArthur told an interviewer about Korea 10 years ago cannot very well be established with confidence when his purported words are published only after his death. That he accused the British government of betraying military secrets to the Chinese Communists, applied a salty epithet to President Truman, and impugned the character of numerous military leaders, are reluctant to believe. The indignant denial of these points by Maj. Gen. Courtney Whitney, said to have been present at one of the interviews, is more credible.

There never any secret, however, that General MacArthur regarded himself as the victim of a conspiracy to deprive him of victory in Korea. He arrogantly resented President Truman's reduction of authority over him, and that he would regard anybody who disagreed with his military judgment as weak and stupid. If not weak, he was quite credible that he felt the leadership of the Chinese Communists would be a simple matter if he were only given his way, all that being given his way was the most important thing in history.

General MacArthur's great talents, however, did not endow him with immunity from human error, and he could be as massively wrong as he was brave and inspiring. Throughout World War II, he fretted and fumed because in his view the front—his front, naturally—was in the Pacific. He considered the war in the Pacific and would have subordinated everything to his own view. History has proved MacArthur and Churchill everlastingly right in calculating, on the contrary, that defeat of the Japanese would afford the shortest route to victory in the Pacific.

So, too, in Korea, General MacArthur could see only the one front—his front—of a world which embraced many more theaters of war. The military one and many more others. He would have destroyed the Chinese in 30 days, he thought; it is more likely that the war would have expanded and still be going on today. This is guesswork. But there is no guesswork in saying that President Truman was ever right, both in accepting a Korean armistice for the sake of protecting more vital interests elsewhere, and in insisting that right or wrong, the decision had to be made in Washington. The election of the President of the United States is a fact. Louis Post-Dispatch.

STEVENS ON SPECULATION

Small item in the news this week may be a somewhat political overtones. A release from Washington, D.C., noted that Blair, ambassador to Norway, would return to this country, possibly to help the campaign of President Johnson.

Blair has been a close associate of William Stevenson since the now-U.N. ambassador ran and was elected governor of Illinois. Blair managed both of Stevenson's presidential campaigns, and it was through this association Blair was named ambassador.

It would seem doubtful that Blair would manage Johnson's campaign; the two would have little in common. Blair is the personification of correctness, and would hardly fit into the breezy Texan atmosphere that surrounds the President.

If Blair is coming back to manage a campaign, it is possible that Lyndon Johnson has decided Stevenson to run with him as vice president. Stevenson still has a dedicated following, he appeals to the intellectuals, and is a northerner. It is an interesting speculation. Seattle Argus.

POT SHOTS

HOW DO YOU TAKE IT?

Dear Sir:
Our neighbors acquired a dog through your generous offices and also raised a rather perplexing question.
Because our neighbors are nice people, they consulted us first and even showed us the item in Pot Shots about the dog they intended to get. As plain as you please, the item said, "likes children."

Well, to make a long, painful story much shorter, we have started to think those two words, "likes children," refers more to the creature's appetite than anything else. Perhaps the more correct wording would have been "prefers children" in view of the dog's reactions to most humans.

How can you know what someone means when words have such involved meanings?

PUPS FOR KIDS DEPT.

Dear Pot Shots:
We have four puppies to give away. One is all white and the others are black and white. We live three miles north of Curry and one-fourth of a mile east.
Theatre Children

Dear Pot Shots:

We have a big dog that's part German shepherd and part collie to give to someone who would give him a good home, preferably a farm family. This dog is 9 months old, has a sweet disposition and is good with children. You can get him one and one-half miles north of the Hansen bridge or phone Eden 825-5686.

Four puppies, a cross of collie and something else, must be given away. You can pick them up three miles east of the Murtaugh LDS church or phone 432-2392, Murtaugh.

LEAP LEAP YEAR

Pot Shots hasn't seen it, but we've been informed by three different persons that April has 31 days this year. That must make it a leap leap year, or something like that.

Before you start consulting your own calendar for confirmation, it won't do any good. You'll have to consult one calendar in particular, the one circulated by the Episcopal church or one of its organizations.

KITTENS FOR KIDS DEPT.

Sir:
An adorable gray kitten about 3 months old, which seems to have Siamese traits, came to our home and though we have come to love her, we cannot keep her. She has golden eyes and an unusual little turned-up nose and is extremely smart and clean. If interested, call at 1142 Lake Circle or telephone 733-2244.

WOOD FOR FREE DEPT.

The residents at 438 Filer Avenue have some trees to be removed for the wood. The message left for Pot Shots didn't specify if the trees are already downed or if they're still growing. Anyway, you can find out at 438 Filer Avenue.

GENTLEMAN IN THE FOURTH ROW

Washington News

By LYLE C. WILSON

United Press International
After the wonders of the birds and the bees and the flowers, it would be good for American kids to learn something equally basic about the social and political confrontations of the world in which we live.

They should learn, for example, about the great confrontations of the world now prevailing between the open society of free men and the closed society of communism.

The idea that American kids should know about that originated with the kids themselves. Young people visit Washington, D.C., every year. Top attractions include the White House, the Capitol, cherry blossoms in season and the federal bureau of investigation. Groups of visitors move endlessly through the corridors and exhibits of the FBI. FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover recently told a congressional committee:

"Of the record high of 520,816 people who toured the bureau during the fiscal year 1963, over half were young people, most of them students at various levels. Other young people write to the bureau for information regarding communism. So that they may have a better understanding of the menace of communism we have prepared a pamphlet which we make available to them."

The pamphlet is titled: "What Young People Should Know About Communism." It presents a brief, meaningful message regarding the extent of communism and some suggestions as to positive steps which young people and every citizen can take to combat this subversive influence.

It is the avowed purpose of the world communist movement, U.S.A., has always been an integral part, to destroy our free society by violent means if need be and to supplant our constitutional government by a Soviet-style dictatorship.

"To counter communist reasoning we must have a basic understanding of communist concepts and practices, plus a thorough understanding and appreciation of our own principles, traditions and objectives."

"It is vitally important that we know what we stand for and why." Vitally important, that is, to our survival.

The Doctor Says

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

What is a nervous breakdown? Doctors find this term vague. Medical textbooks skirt around it. Yet it describes a condition that is far from being imaginary.

Breakdowns are not caused by simple overwork, as some persons believe, but by the fear that one cannot quite live up to all that is expected of him day after day.

Most persons who are on the verge of a breakdown even though they sense this fear, are unwilling or unable to admit that it is the cause of their trouble. So they seek medical advice for a host of symptoms such as palpitation of the heart, indigestion, generalized body aches and chronic fatigue.

Since a breakdown is not considered a communicable disease, there are no accurate statistics on how many nervous breakdowns occur in this country every year. But either a nervous breakdown or a threatened breakdown form a large part of the practice of most general practitioners and psychiatrists. When the external pressures of a person's work or his home life become so great that they are disabling, help is usually sought. Unfortunately, the victim rarely has the insight into what is happening to him to be able to give his doctor all the pertinent facts.

As a result, much time and money may be spent putting the victim through a battery of diagnostic tests to rule out organic disease. Organic disease should, of course, be ruled out. But this doctor knows something about your personal life and especially your worries. These are often the hardest things for a person to bring himself to talk about, even to his doctor.

Hoover testified that the youth of America is a primary target of the American communist party. Communist party spokesmen appeared in calendar year 1963 before 45 student groups, mostly at on-campus sites. The Reds consider American youth a field for recruitment because so many of them may be unable to find jobs on entering the labor market.

It is not necessary for a young American to visit the FBI in Washington to obtain a copy of "What Young People Should Know About Communism." J. Edgar Hoover will send you a copy. Address him at:

Federal Bureau of Investigation, Department of Justice, Washington 25, D.C.

American communists seek to infiltrate at all levels, official and non-official. They are busy among Negro groups. They are trying to get their operatives into the White House, the CIA, the FBI, the Pentagon. You name it. The American Reds are trying to infiltrate it.

Before falling for the line that maybe the commies aren't so bad after all, an American should ponder this from Hoover, the best informed American on communism:

"It is the avowed purpose of the world communist movement, U.S.A., has always been an integral part, to destroy our free society by violent means if need be and to supplant our constitutional government by a Soviet-style dictatorship."

"To counter communist reasoning we must have a basic understanding of communist concepts and practices, plus a thorough understanding and appreciation of our own principles, traditions and objectives."

"It is vitally important that we know what we stand for and why." Vitally important, that is, to our survival.

MOSCOW, April 29—Sergei Romanovskiy, chairman of the state committee of the USSR council of ministers, reporting on the deterioration of Sino-Soviet relations.

"The Chinese leaders are striving to fence off the people of China from the Soviet Union. They are afraid that the Chinese people will learn the truth about the Soviet Union's gigantic successes in the construction of communism."

DUSSELDORF, Germany—Kurt Leith, who served under former Nazi officer Fritz Fischer, on trial for the 1942 machine-gunning of thousands of Russian Jewish women and children, quoting a statement Fischer made during the early days of the Russian invasion:

"You must have nothing to do with Jews... the best thing is to hunt down all Jews and put a couple of bullets in them."

MARQUIS CHILDS WRITES ON WASHINGTON

WASHINGTON, April 30—The road away from the brink of the Cuban missile crisis can be measured to date not in big strides but in short, hesitant steps.
President Johnson took another step when he announced the United States is cutting back on production of nuclear weapons material. This was timed with a similar declaration by Premier Khrushchev in Moscow.

But the private letters exchanged between the premier and the President—first Kennedy and then Johnson—show a striking fact: Any progress in these first short steps means endless patience and persistence and the determined efforts of those believing that further mutual concessions can come.

Just a year ago the tone Khrushchev took on the proposed nuclear test-ban treaty was so harsh that Soviet specialists were ready to give up. They were saying that until the Russian-Chinese split could be resolved Khrushchev could do nothing. Although it was not known at the time, this was behind the pessimism of President Kennedy's press conference statement of May 9. Saying he saw little hope for a test-ban agreement, we went on.

If we don't get it now I would think generally perhaps the genie is out of the bottle and we will not ever get him back in."

In the continuing Khrushchev correspondence there was, however, one small opening. While discounting the possibility it would do any good, the Soviet premier said that if the President wanted to send a "special emissary" to Moscow he could do so.

Kennedy decided to take advantage of that small opening. He sent Under Secretary of State Averell Harriman as his "special emissary." Harriman, who had followed the exchange with keen interest, did not know whether he would be received by Khrushchev. Out of that mission came the negotiations leading to the signing of the treaty.

The lesson of this is plain in President Johnson's correspondence with Khrushchev. Johnson made two hitherto undisclosed proposals to the premier. One was for a common peacetime use of three nuclear powers, Britain, the Soviet Union and the United States.

HERE'S A SQUEEZE CRISS-CROSS STYLE

Here is a hand that probably knocked most of the players in the Intercollegiate tournament right out of the box.
South's opening bid of one heart is easy enough. West is supposed to jump to five diamonds but if he merely jumps to four diamonds, he gets his par hearts and West is instructed to lead the ace of diamonds and to continue with the queen.

This doesn't worry declarer. He ruffs in dummy, but it should worry East. East can't discard a club. That will establish dummy's nine spot. East can't discard a spade. That will allow declarer to set up dummy's fifth spade. In other words, East can't discard but the rules require that he play to the trick and the only winning play is a discard of a small trump.

Later on he will play in back of dummy and simply discard spades or clubs after dummy.

If he does this, South will have to go down on trick. That is provided that West never lets a little club go. If West lets a club go, South can make the hand.

The play is what is known as a criss-cross squeeze which I leave you readers to work out.

States—of a certain amount of fissile material. In this shared endeavor it would be demonstrated that the two nuclear giants could work toward common peaceful goals.

The second proposal was that the United States and the Soviet Union each select a peacetime reactor to be put under inspection by the international atomic energy agency. This would be taken proof that the big powers are ready to prove that their nuclear development is moving toward peaceful use. This country has already indicated it will do this.

Both proposals were ignored. They were put in generalized form and a follow-up pinning down details might bring another response, since Moscow is a stickler for exact detail. But that is precisely the lesson of this experience—persistent negotiation by those at a sufficiently high level with confidence that roadblocks sooner or later can be broken through is vital.

President Johnson's step was an important one. But it represents a leveling off of production of superfluous weapons material. Secret places to store bombs and fissile material are an increasing problem. The step does not cut back the vast arsenal of annihilation on both sides of the East-West divide.

The interlude that began with Kennedy's American university speech on peace followed by the test-ban agreement may be short or long. The pessimists believe it could be short. So much depends on the two principals, Johnson and Khrushchev.

When reports were flashed around the world that the Soviet premier was dead a sudden abyss opened up. Would there be a power vacuum and how long would it persist? Who would replace Khrushchev and would there be any continuity of policy? The uncertainties were aggravated by the split between the hard-line Chinese and the other communist nations.

The pessimists also know that in the West the interlude could be brought to an abrupt end. Many in this country oppose disarmament and any relaxation of tensions. They would be quick to seize on a new incident, over Cuba or Berlin or some other trouble spot, and the present attitude of tolerance, if not hope, could be shattered.

For this reason, larger steps—observation posts, definite arms cutbacks—must come quickly. Otherwise, the present may seem merely a brief interval between storms that portend disaster.

Nine Cuban Refugees Are Rescued

MIAMI, April 30 (UPI)—The British navy and U. S. coast guard pooled their nautical and post natal skills Wednesday to save the lives of nine Cuban refugees, one of them an 8-hour-old girl who was born in a leaky 18-foot boat.

Five Cuban men, two women, a 10-year-old girl and her infant sister were transferred at sea Wednesday evening from the British frigate HMS Tartar to two 40-foot coast guard patrol boats in choppy seas about three miles off Miami Beach.

Newsmen watched from a third patrol boat as Mrs. Andres Mejias was lashed to a litter basket and tenderly lowered by block and tackle into the bouncing patrol boat.

Then her infant daughter, delivered by her husband in the crowded boat they used to flee Cuba, was lowered in a makeshift bassinet covered with canvas to protect her from the sea spray.

The father, a mechanic from Cayari, Oriente, who said he and his wife planned the escape "for about a year," followed his 10-year-old daughter Marta over the side, lowered in a halter.

"No, I wasn't really nervous when the time came to deliver the baby," he said. "I knew I'd have to face it because my wife she's called Luisa—left the hospital maternity ward last night to make the escape with us."

The others in the party, including 18-year-old Rolando Ramos Martinez, his 17-year-old wife, Dolores, and his uncle Rene Martinez, were put aboard the second patrol boat and brought into the Miami Beach coast guard base behind the boat with Mejias.

Named Barbara Benita, the infant girl bawled lustily as she was carried ashore and put in a waiting ambulance with her mother.

Dr. George Reich, of the U.S. public health service who boarded the Tartar reported that "both mother and daughter are doing fine."

The transfer at sea was made necessary when the Tartar's skipper decided there would be too much delay involved in entering the port here, the coast guard said.

Birchers Are Called All-American

By United Press International
A candidate's endorsement of the John Birch society put the first district congressional race in the center of the Idaho political stage Thursday.

Kellogg businessman John Matmiller, who seeks the district's Republican nomination, said in Salmon Wednesday he believes the Birch society is an "all-American group."

"Certainly I would welcome the support of the John Birch society," Matmiller said in answer to a reporter's question. "I have checked them fully and they check out as an all-American group."

Matmiller is the only announced Republican candidate in the field.

Meanwhile, the plot thinned on the Democratic side of the contest. Mrs. Gracie Post, the five-term first district congresswoman who gave up her seat in 1962 in an unsuccessful bid for the senate, said in Washington she does not intend to return to politics this year.

There had been speculation Mrs. Post was tempted to take her old seat back at the expense of Democratic Rep. Compton I. White, Jr. But the former Nampa real estate dealer said the talk was just "flattery."

"I wouldn't have time to even get my ducks in a row now," Mrs. Post said. "This is just speculation on my friends' part."

Mrs. Post is now special assistant for elderly housing in the federal housing administration. In defining his position on the Birch society, Matmiller said he does not agree with all of the group's positions and tactics.

"But I certainly would not turn down their support," Matmiller said. "I want every vote I can get."

Matmiller also had praise for Gov. George Wallace, complimenting the Alabamian for his stand on civil rights.

"Wallace is a great deal more than a constitutional American than is our President—particularly where state's rights are concerned, because our President has tried to circumvent them in so many ways," Matmiller said.

Matmiller said White has only failed to support the administration when the congressman wanted to appropriate more money than the administration was willing to appropriate.

Living Costs Continuing Inch March

WASHINGTON, April 30 (UPI)—Living costs inched up one-tenth of 1 per cent in March as prices rose for virtually all consumer items except food, the government reported today.

Lower food prices were offset by higher costs of housing, medical care, transportation and other basic items, bringing the consumer price index to 107.7.

This means that it now costs $10.77 to buy goods that cost $10 in the 1957-59 base period.

A labor department spokesman said costs could be expected to go up again for April, but he added "there is not the slightest indication of any serious inflation."

The spokesman, Deputy Commissioner Robert J. Myers of the bureau of labor statistics, said relatively stable prices during a general business upturn provided "a very reassuring performance."

DEGLA, April 30—Proceeds from the public auction held by the Degla volunteer fire department total $1,500. Ray Schmidt, chairman of the event, reported today.

He expressed appreciation to the entire community for supporting auction. Proceeds will be used to purchase equipment and supplies for the fire department. The Big D Roping club donated the arena for the auction and Mr. and Mrs. Gaylord Phillips and Orville Sears assisted with the sale.

Mrs. Driskell Gets Pencil For Speech

BURLEY, April 30—Mrs. J. L. Driskell was awarded the traveling pencil Tuesday evening at the Burley Toastmistress club meeting in the community room of the Idaho Bank and Trust building.

A nominating committee was named, including Mrs. T. Wayne Woodland, Mrs. Lyle Morton and Mrs. LePage Layton. A slate of officers will be presented at the next meeting.

Cohn Second Trial Set

For June 9

NEW YORK, April 30 (AP)—The retrial of Roy M. Cohn, former communist-hunting aide of Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy, on charges of perjury and obstruction of justice, was scheduled Wednesday for June 9 by Federal Judge Dudley Bonal.

Bonal said there will be a hearing sometime next week on an application by Cohn's co-defendant, Murray S. Gottsman, for severance and a separate trial on two charges of perjury.

Gottsman, an attorney, claims his trial with Cohn was prejudicial because of the great publicity attending the first trial.

The charges against the two men stem from an alleged plot to help four stock swindlers escape indictment in 1960 in the Continental Dye and Chemical company stock fraud case.

The first trial of Cohn and Gottsman ended in mistrial April 19 during jury deliberations because of the death of a juror's father.

GRAND VIEW, April 30 (AP)—Walter H. Yarbrough, Grand View cattleman and contractor, announced Wednesday he is a candidate for the state legislature. He said he will seek the Republican nomination as state senator from Owyhee county.

BOISE, April 30 (AP)—Six of seven incumbent Republican Ada county legislators Wednesday announced they will seek reelection, and another Republican announced a first-time candidacy for a house seat. The incumbents are Sen. William Roden and Reps. W. Larry Mills, Charles F. McDevitt, H. Fred Koch, Robert Green and H. Dean Summers. The only incumbent who hasn't announced his intentions is Rep. William Hendrix, also a Republican.

BOISE, April 30 (AP)—Gov. Robert E. Smylie on Wednesday appointed Warren G. Brown, McCall, president of the Brown Tie Lumber company, and a Republican, to replace Harry Nock of Cascade as Valley county senator. The appointment will give the Republicans a 24-20 voting margin in the senate should a special legislative session be called by the governor either on a state water plan or congressional redistricting. Nock will be sworn in Friday morning at Smylie's office as a member of the public utilities commission.

BOISE, April 30 (AP)—Harley Markham, Pocatello, Republican State Committee member for Idaho, has been named a vice chairman of a committee planning a fund raising dinner for the GOP national convention. Sen. Thurston B. Morton, R., Ky., and Rep. Robert Wilson, R., Calif., co-chairmen of the dinner, named Morton to serve. The dinner will be July 12, the Sunday night before the convention opens in San Francisco. Morton and Wilson, in their letters to Markham, praised him for his cooperation with GOP house and senate campaign committees.

BOISE, April 30 (AP)—Gov. Robert E. Smylie said Wednesday that the state land board should be given more legal authority to deal with problems in use of river bottom and lake bottom land. He said the need is illustrated by the request of the Lewiston port authority for use of land along the edge of the Clearwater and Snake rivers to reclaim by use of dikes to provide more space for port facilities. Smylie said the land board has authority only to lease river bottom land for mineral purposes. He said there is a question whether the board would have jurisdiction over the land after dikes were built. If did, he said it would have a problem because of its limited authority. He said the board needs authority "for an orderly method of handling river and lake front property."

MOSCOW, April 30 (AP)—Six University of Idaho students majoring in food and nutrition will serve as hospital interns next year under a program of the American Dietetic association. BOISE, April 30 (AP)—A 12-year-old Nyssa, Ore., boy has lost the right in his left eye as the result of the explosion in his face of a chemical mixture he had prepared. Mrs. Eulon Trost said her son, Rand, told her he was making a bomb and showed her a bottle of a colored solution shortly before the mishap. The boy said the mixture included ingredients from a chemistry set. He is hospitalized in Boise.

BOISE, April 30 (AP)—Gov. Robert E. Smylie said on Wednesday Monday's meeting of his advisory council on children and youth at Lewiston "was not as productive as I had hoped. The net of what I heard was that we should be spending more money," he said. "In those areas the last legislature provided appropriations almost matching agency requests. Most of the testimony addressed itself to a need for elaboration and expansion of existing programs rather than new programs," he said. Smylie said an increase in guidance and counseling services in schools, which was asked, is already authorized and implemented. Smylie said the law establishing the council doesn't tell it what to do, except that it will conduct hearings. He said the committee tried to develop an agenda it thought might produce helpful suggestions.

Heart Disease Is Biggest Killer in Richer Countries

GENEVA, April 30 (AP)—Heart disease is the major cause of death in richer countries while infectious diseases claim most lives in poorer nations, the World Health Organization (WHO) said Wednesday.

Accidents, however, are the principal cause of death everywhere up until the age of 45 years.

This was revealed by WHO studies of statistics from 22 developed countries including West Berlin and 12 developing nations, the latter including Japan. In the richer nations, heart disease was the main cause of all deaths in all 22 countries. Cancer took second place in 19, strokes third in 19, accidents fourth in 14 and influenza and pneumonia took the overall fifth place.

These five categories, WHO said, account for 70 per cent of all deaths in the 22 countries.

Move to Kill GOP in South Area Fizzles

JACKSON, Miss., April 30 (AP)—The move to stamp out Republicanism in Mississippi with new election laws looked like another lost cause today.

The 22 bills backed by Gov. Paul Johnson, which passed the state senate, ran into surprisingly strong opposition in the house.

After two straight setbacks in house votes, Rep. Roy Strickland, floor manager of the package of bills, showed little hope for future victory.

"I think Wirt Yergler, State Rep. M. L. McAllister and Sen. Dirksen have won their battle," he said.

Yergler is state GOP chairman. McAllister is the only Republican in the Mississippi legislature. Sen. Everett M. Dirksen, R., Ill., is the party's senate minority leader.

The revolt against Johnson's election bills was signaled Tuesday when a key bill was sent back to committee for further study.

Rep. Able Miller of Greene, told the house the move against the GOP "could upset bringing in industry to Mississippi."

Strickland's second defeat came Wednesday.

Key bills in the package would force the state's budding GOP to measure up to major party standards in organization and operation.

At present, the GOP couldn't make the grade.

The party made its first serious bid for the governorship in the last election, astounding Democrats by drawing almost a third of the votes. The proposed election laws were the reaction.

The key bill referred back to committee would set these standards:

Half the precincts in a county must stage precinct conventions before a county convention is valid.

Thirty of the state's 82 counties must stage valid county conventions before a state convention is valid.

The other key bill would force all candidates to run in primary elections, even if unopposed, and primary winners would have to draw at least 10 per cent of all votes cast in both party primaries to be eligible for the general election ballot.

U. S. Urges Britain to Alter Its Trade Policy With Cuba

WASHINGTON, April 30 (AP)—Top U. S. officials are understood to have urged anew in private talks here this week that Britain revise its policy of trade with Cuba and support the U. S. effort to deny vitally needed industrial and transportation equipment to the Castro government.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk has held a series of discussions on world problems with British Foreign Secretary R. A. Butler. President Johnson had a conference with Butler Wednesday.

Officials have confirmed that Cuban issues were raised in the Rusk-Butler talks. The White House only said that the foreign secretary and the President discussed matters of mutual interest.

Butler has been in Washington for a conference of the Central Treaty organization which ended Wednesday. He is going on to Japan and the Philippines for talks seeking some way to avoid a serious crisis between Indonesia and British-backed Malaysia over territorial claims pressed by Indonesia.

Butler is understood to be pleased by the support Britain has received from the United States in its efforts to preserve the territorial integrity of Malaysia.

Top U. S. officials by contrast are known to be displeased by Britain's Cuban trade policy which they regard as a breaking of the barrier of economic isolation from non-communist trade which the United States has been working to build around Cuba.

Butler is believed to have been told, as U. S. officials have recently said publicly, that the denial of important industrial and transportation supplies to Castro is the only effective weapon presently available to the United States for countering Castro's attempts to spread communism in the Western hemisphere through propaganda and subversion.

The British counterargument to the U. S. boycott policy is that the boycott is not really effective, that the United States trades with various communist countries including the Soviet Union, and that Britain traditionally trades with all countries regardless of political considerations.

Clearwater Hunt For Bodies Is Slowing Down

OROFINO, April 30 (AP)—The Clearwater county sheriff's office said Wednesday night that the fast-rising Clearwater river and swift current have made necessary calling off the search for bodies of two persons believed to have been drowned.

Missing is Harold Judd, 3, who is believed to have toppled into Orofino creek near his home here about 250 yards above the river Monday.

A car seat was found Tuesday night in the river near the spot where the car belonging to Jim Brooke, 21, Ashahka, went into the water west of here Monday.

Individual crews may search Thursday and the official search could be resumed over the weekend, the sheriff said.

Dean showed slides of blight in various stages and also discussed the bean quarantine problem.

Leslie Jones reported to the Grange on the Grange's Scout troop courses, noting five Scouts are completing a course in life saving and first aid and five others are about ready to receive Eagle badges.

The Grange voted to serve lunch at the I. T. Creed farm sale in May.

R. B. Moeen, Dale Hellewell, Elmer Dossett and T. M. Knight read articles on "Food Is a Bargain."

The next meeting is scheduled for 8:30 p.m. May 12.

Idaho Faces Big Dropout Problem

POCATELLO, April 30 (AP)—The director of Idaho's employment security agency says the state has a high school dropout problem that is "social dynamite and a serious threat to our free society."

H. Fred Garrett, speaking at a hearing by the Governor's interdepartmental committee on children and youth, said automation isn't confined to heavily industrialized states, but has reached into Idaho.

He listed the forest service, food processing plants and farms as major employers which use fewer workers because of automation.

"Young people today, both dropouts and those remaining in school, are having more difficulty obtaining employment than ever before because of the changing labor market," he said.

Dr. Terrell O. Carver, director of the state health department, said there are too many differences of opinion on how to deal with juvenile delinquency. He said there is also a tendency to offer overly simplified solutions.

"Only when we reach some consensus of agreement on this subject and begin to coordinate and integrate all of our now fragmented efforts to do something about the problem will we begin to realize definite results," he said.

Bill Child, commissioner of public assistance, said in the first six months his agency had responsibility for abused, neglected and abandoned children under a new law it received 356 reports involving 969 children. The law went into effect last Sept. 1.

Elko Pilot Killed as Plane Snaps Cable Over Humboldt

ELKO, April 30 (AP)—An Elko pilot was killed and his passenger injured Tuesday night when their low flying plane snapped a cable which whiplashed and shortcircuited a railroad signal.

Sheriff Jess Harris Wednesday recovered the body of Ken Montgomery, a 35-year-old radio announcer, in a steep boulder studded canyon on the Humboldt river. Hospitalized with serious injuries was Paul Henningsen, 33, an employee of a local cloud seeding company.

Harris said their rented Cessna 140 struck a one-inch water measuring cable stretched about 12 feet above the river. The line whipped across some nearby railroad tracks and shorted a signal, turning it from green to red.

He said Engineer Frank Howell, Elko, halted his eastbound freight moments after the crash to investigate the red signal. He then heard Henningsen yell for help.

IRS to Tax Hoffa's Legal Cost Income

WASHINGTON, April 30 (AP)—The federal government will demand that James R. Hoffa pay income taxes on money given him by the Teamsters' union to pay legal expenses during his recent jury tampering trial, it was learned authoritatively Wednesday.

The internal revenue service was reported to regard the payments part of Hoffa's income for tax purposes.

Hoffa, president of the giant Teamsters' union, is now on trial in Chicago on fraud charges in connection with 20 million dollars worth of loans from a pension fund run by labor-management trustees.

He was convicted of jury-fixing in Chattanooga, Tenn., and sentenced to eight years in prison but is free on bond pending appeal.

A 1963 tax court decision declaring that union-paid legal expenses are taxable was considered applicable to Hoffa's case.

Hoffa already has been cut off from additional costs of his legal defense because of dispute within the Teamsters' 15-man executive board.

Two vice presidents challenged the payments on grounds they violate federal law governing the way union officials must handle funds.

Hoffa then asked that no more money from the union treasury be made available for his legal expenses. The Teamsters' constitution provides that such expenses may be paid if a majority of the executive board approves.

Russ Allege Chinese Flee Mainland

MOSCOW, April 30 (AP)—The Soviet Union accused Communist China Wednesday of causing more than a million disgruntled refugees to flee to the "hell of Hong Kong." It issued a virtual appeal to the 18 million members of the Peking communist party to curb their leader, Mao Tse-tung.

The Soviet government newspaper Izvestia said the Chinese refugees were looking for a better life because the economy is getting worse and worse and the people are getting poorer on mainland China.

It was the first such printed reference here to the mass exodus of refugees from Communist China to the British crown colony of Hong Kong.

The Izvestia attack followed a bitter 8,000-word editorial in the communist party newspaper Pravda that launched the first formal step of a Soviet "de-Mao-ization" campaign.

The Pravda editorial indicated the Kremlin leadership has begun to fashion an image of Mao as that of a self-appointed Stalin-type, the inscrutable Oriental despot who issues "infallible" edicts and exacts unquestioned obedience.

But the Soviets did not go so far as the Chinese who have demanded Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev's ouster from the Soviet leadership.

The two articles were the latest broadside on the political and ideological warfare between the two giants of world communism.

Western observers saw the new phase of the clash as another indication of the hopelessness of efforts by some European communist parties to try to mediate the Moscow-Peking feud.

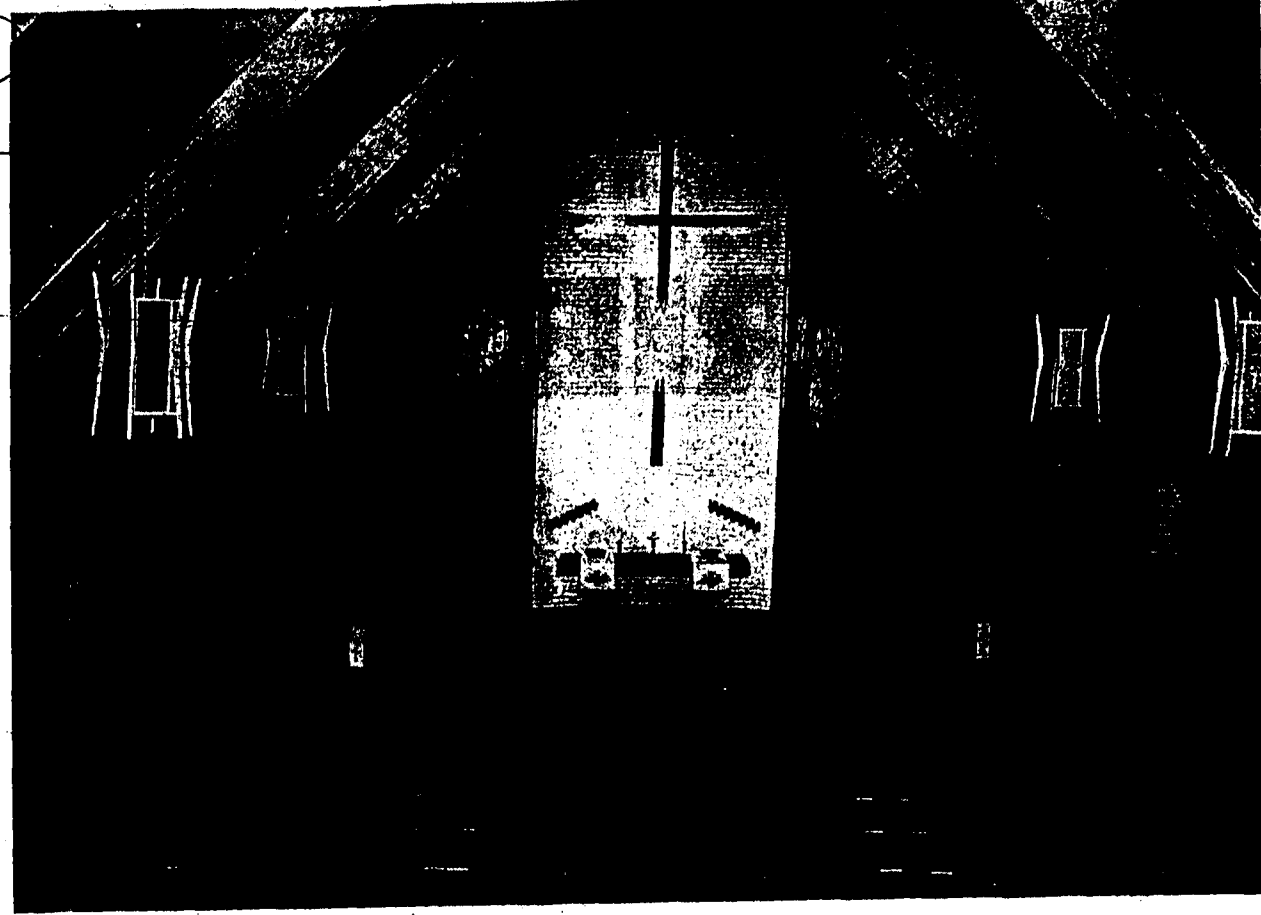

The twin attacks marked the first time the Soviets have delivered a comprehensive criticism of Chinese internal policy.

Minor Accident Reported Here

Twin Falls police investigated a minor accident at 9 a.m. Wednesday in the alley between Jackson and Quincy streets.

They reported a 1958 GMC truck owned by Idaho Gem Dairymen, Inc., and driven by John W. Glick, 27, 605 Monroe street, had stopped in the alley to unload at Gene's market. A 1961 Ford truck owned by Moore sanitation service and driven by Clinton R. Coulson, 54, 359 Diamond street, backed up to pick up some trash and struck the Glick truck.

No injuries were reported and no citations were issued. Damage was estimated at $35 to the GMC.

Redeemer Lutheran Church, Kimberly, Slates Dedication Services Sunday

KIMBERLY, April 30—The Redeemer Lutheran church will hold its dedication services Sunday in the new structure located on the corner of Irene and Washington streets in the southeast corner of Kimberly.

The morning services will begin at 10:30 a.m. with the Rev. Henry Fry officiating. Special speaker will be the Rev. Armond Mueller, Moses Lake, Wash. He ministered to the church when it was first organized in Kimberly as a traveling minister from his church in Burley.

Afternoon services will be held at 3 p.m. with Richard Schirley as liturgist and Carl Benson, Northwest district president from Portland, as the featured speaker.

Services will be held at 8 p.m. Tuesday with the Rev. Carl Loser, Clover, as the guest speaker. The public is invited to attend any of these services.

The Redeemer Lutheran church first was organized in September, 1960, with the first Sunday service held Nov. 6. Services were first held in the Kimberly Baptist church with the congregation moving to the Kimberly Grange hall in 1961. They were held there until the construction of the new church.

The church's attendance included 66 communicants and 104 souls when it was organized. Membership now has risen to 108 communicants and 163 souls. The Rev. Robert Brohm was the church's first full-time minister arriving in Kimberly in August, 1961. He was transferred to Florida, with the Rev. Mr. Fry taking his position in September, 1963.

The church parsonage was built last year followed by the ground-breaking ceremony in August.

Rocky Approves of Poverty War

BECKLEY, W. Va., April 30 (AP)—Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller endorsed the Johnson administration's war on poverty in the Appalachian area today, but complained it was long overdue.

"It seems that the interest of the Democrats in the future of West Virginia reaches its peak when a national election is close at hand," the New York governor asserted.

While supporting the basic goals of the anti-poverty plan now pending in congress, Rockefeller said it was important that the federal government so as to prevent the program from becoming a football of self-perpetuating Washington bureaucrats.

The governor commented in a speech for a luncheon rally. He shifted his campaign for the Republican presidential nomination to West Virginia after winding up a three-day tour of the West Coast Wednesday night.

Earlier in the day, he delivered another sharp attack on Sen. Barry Goldwater, his only opponent in the California primary.

In a television interview Wednesday the governor said Goldwater "certainly isn't a Republican" when his votes are compared with positions in the GOP's 1960 platform.

Rockefeller cited Goldwater votes against civil rights legislation, the limited nuclear-test-ban treaty, federal aid to higher education and medical care for the needy aged.

In today's speech Rockefeller dealt exclusively with economic problems of West Virginia and the rest of the Appalachian area.

Rockefeller said a Democratic campaign promise of 1960 was to deal with West Virginia's problems as "a first order of business."

"What happened?" the governor asked. "Virtually nothing."

Despite these campaign promises, no effective over-all program to spur economic growth in the region was initiated.

"But now," he continued, "in the election year of 1964, the Democratic administration has finally come up with a plan."

A LAKE in Texas lies dry, testimony to the acute water shortage felt in many parts of the nation.

Drastic Water Conservation Methods Needed to Save U.S.

WASHINGTON, April 30 (NEA)—Growing water shortages—definitely a nationwide problem—can be licked only by costly, drastic water conservation efforts in the next decade.

At the population mushrooms (census bureau estimates put the U.S. total at 325 million by the year 2000) and industries expand, more and more fresh water will be needed.

Symptoms of acute national dehydration and pollution are already a part of the American way of life:

Drawing a glass of water in Babylon, L.I., a housewife ends up with a two-inch head of foam. It looks like a glass of beer but it has an oily, fishy taste.

Towns along the Animas river in Colorado and New Mexico, where a uranium mill dumps its wastes, learn their drinking water contains 40 to 160 per cent more than maximum safety levels of radioactivity.

Gas bubbles rise from the bottom of the Missouri river below Sioux City, Ia., where a packing house unloads tons of animal entrails. Some 75 miles downstream, the Omaha uses the river as a source of drinking water.

For 140 miles downstream from Austin, Tex., where a chemical plant drops its wastes into the Colorado river, all fish die.

Steel mills at Youngstown, O., using the Mahoning river waters to cool its furnaces, raise the river's temperature so high in the summer that the water is rendered unfit even for cooling purposes.

Dwindling water supplies in Western states, a rapidly dropping water table in the Northern Plains and a salty taste in fresh water wells near the Texas coast partially indicate the extent of the problem.

The country's leading hydrologists agree that the country's water resources are abundant enough to handle future energy needs. But they stress that if a full-scale water crisis is to be avoided, proper research and positive management of national water resources must be substituted for present indifference on the part of the U.S. population.

Greater amounts of water will also be needed for flood control, pollution abatement, navigation channels, wildlife preservation and recreational needs.

And overriding the basic problem of supply and demand is the ticklish question of water quality which has been plaguing scientists more and more over the last decade.

The late President John F. Kennedy called the pollution situation "a national disgrace." "Pollution of our country's rivers and streams," he told congress in early 1963, "has reached alarming proportions."

Presently, there is irrefutable evidence that the United States is poisoning its waters with chemical bug killers, quick-acting detergents, radioactive wastes, slaughter house remains, untreated municipal and industrial sewage, oil well brine, pulp mill acids, and tons of silt from highway and building projects.

Says Gordon McCallum, chief of the U.S. public health service's division of water supply and pollution control:

"In city after city, drinking water becomes less palatable as more and more chemicals are added to rid it of pollutants. Miles of streams, bays and estuaries are lost each year to fish and wildlife, to fishing and swimming because of unsightly, smelly and actually dangerous sewage and industrial wastes clogging the water."

And Surgeon General Luther L. Terry notes:

"We are by no means sure that at least some viruses are not slipping through our present water purification and disinfection processes and entering our water mains. Hepatitis may be an example."

In congress, the struggle for effective pollution controls has been an uphill affair. After guiding the water pollution control act through the house in 1963, Sen. John Stennis, D., Miss., noted:

"It was a forlorn, distressing experience. Schedule a hearing and three persons would show up. Leaders in both parties would talk about that 'stinking bill' and couldn't see what was going on."

The bill gave power to force cities and industries on interstate waterways to build treatment plants to eliminate dangerous wastes. Amendments passed in 1961 extended enforcement to all navigable waterways.

Enforcement actions have thus far been brought against over 200 cities, including New York, Pittsburgh and Portland, Ore., and also against several industrial plants.

Congress also tackled the water shortage problem. The senate's select committee on national water resources, chaired by the late Robert S. Kerr, D., Okla., released the results of a monumental two-year study of the nation's future water needs in 1961.

The committee reported U.S. water demands will double by 1980, triple by the year 2000. Right now, the country is using about half the water it can trap.

Price tag on the committee's proposed sweeping program of new industrial and municipal sewage works was $4 billion dollars.

It also noted that five areas in the country could run out of water by 1980 unless adequate steps were soon taken. The areas: the Upper Missouri river, the Upper Rio Grande and Colorado rivers, the Colorado basin, Lower California and the Great Basin between the Rocky and Sierra Nevada mountains.

Early in April, the senate subcommittee on western water development began evaluating a mammoth proposal to divert water from Alaskan rivers through Canada to the southwestern and midwestern United States. This is the distance from Sweden to Egypt.

This could fit hand-in-hand with a corps of engineers project now on the drawing boards to build the largest dam in North America at Rampart rapids on the Yukon river in north-central Alaska.

The Rampart dam would create a reservoir slightly larger than Lake Erie, the 12th largest inland body of water on Earth.

The striking note about these two 100-billion-dollar proposals is not their size, but the fact they're even being considered.

"Desperation breeds daring," says one of the country's leading hydrologists. "Most of the people in the nation couldn't care less about our water shortage problem. But in 20 years it could be acute enough to take a giant-size project like Rampart to cure it."

Americans have always taken for granted that the United States was blessed with a cheap, plentiful water supply. New demands for expanding industry and population, coupled with an unwarranted abuse of water and streams by pollution, should smash this smug attitude.

Industry, homes and farms already use over 300 billion gallons daily. This figure will triple by the time that today's children are buying their own homes.

Building the dams and reservoirs to accommodate needed water is simple compared to the problem of acquiring the land to act as a giant saucer. Particularly in New England and the Middle Atlantic states—where residents can trace their family real estate back for several hundred years—it is difficult to persuade families to give up their homes to build a dam.

The late Sen. Robert S. Kerr, D., Okla., was concerned about apparent public indifference to the water pollution problem. Shortly before his death, he told a banquet audience:

"I believe that if most of you got an analysis of the water you drink, you would be shocked and uneasy. The result might even drive you to drink—but not water."

One group which is not indifferent to water problems is the National Rivers and Harbors congress, a non-profit, non-partisan national group which has been lobbying for an effective water policy for 63 years.

In the past, this group has had considerable success in creating awareness of water problems by local communities.

Several cities have developed water conservation systems on their own. In 1957 when water was selling at 50 cents for a half-gallon carton after a six-year drought, Dallas citizens backed a water plan to build lakes and dams, complete with modern pump lines and pumping stations.

Governor Wallace Boomed, Hissed at Notre Dame Talk

SOUTH BEND, Ind., April 30 — Shouting, singing, hissing and booing University of Notre Dame students almost broke up a meeting at which Alabama Gov. George Wallace spoke Wednesday night.

Wallace, who had been picketed by more than 400 students circling the big university field-house, was compelled to halt his speech for about 15 minutes, some 10 minutes after he started. At the beginning of his speech, and cheers, Wallace said "there will be a hot time in the old town tonight."

The Notre Dame students apparently set out to prove he was right. The heckling continued at various times during his speech and produced another interruption during which he knelt on the platform and shook hands with a number of students and autograph seekers.

Scranton Says Demos Face Trouble

PHILADELPHIA, April 30 (AP) — Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton, taking note of Tuesday's primary election in his state, predicts trouble for Democrats in Pennsylvania next November.

He said "It is quite clear" the Democratic party "is broke to pieces" in Pennsylvania. He added that President Johnson will have "a hard time in his own party" in Pennsylvania next November because of an "Inter-cine fight of major proportions."

The governor, at a news conference Wednesday, also repeated that he is not a candidate for the Republican presidential nomination, despite the write-in vote of more than 220,000 votes—a state record—he received. He said the vote did not change his stand "one iota."

He based his prediction of Democratic troubles in November on the close race between State Supreme Court Justice Michael A. Musmanno and Genevieve Blatt, state secretary of internal affairs, for the Democratic nomination for U.S. senate. Miss Blatt is holding a slim lead. The outcome will have to await the counting of some 10,000 absentee ballots early in May.

Monsignor K. Rowe Dies in Boise

BOISE, April 30 (AP)—The Rt. Rev. Monsignor Kenneth F. Rowe, 54, Rector of St. John's Catholic cathedral, died today of cancer. He died at St. Alphonsus hospital, where he had served as chaplain for seven years.

He became an assistant at St. John's cathedral in Boise that year and had since served in variety of capacities. He became rector of the cathedral in 1944. He was a member of the board of directors of the Bishop Kelly high school, now under construction in Boise.

Monsignor Rowe was chaplain of the Boise council of the Knights of Columbus for 18 years and he served also as state chaplain of that organization and as state chaplain of the Catholic Daughters of America.

CENTO Eyes Danger of Subversives

WASHINGTON, April 30 (UPI)—Foreign ministers of the Central Treaty Organization (CENTO) concluded Wednesday that the communist military threat against their nations appeared to have receded but danger from subversive activities remains "acute."

Their assessment emerged from a communique on their two-day meeting here and a news conference by Secretary of State Dean Rusk.

The CENTO alliance is composed of Iran, Pakistan, Turkey and Great Britain, with the United States participating as an "observer."

The five-nation communique expressed "deep concern" over the fighting on Cyprus and declared an "earnest desire" for an immediate end to the violence in accordance with United Nations resolution.

Rusk told a news conference following the meetings that the CENTO ministers felt the threat of "direct military assault" against the CENTO region from the Reds had "receded" since the organization was formed in 1955.

But Rusk said he told the CENTO meeting that though there has been "some improvement" in the atmosphere of East-West relations, "very large and explosive questions" still remain unanswered between the Soviet Bloc and the West.

Rusk said more public attention should be paid to what he called the "submerged work" of a CENTO in the field of economic development. This has included highway projects, port development, a railroad project to link the existing rail systems of Iran and Turkey and microwave and high frequency telecommunications projects linking the CENTO region.

CENTO Secretary General Dr. Abbas Ali Khalatbari, of Iran, told newsmen that a prime example of subversive efforts against the CENTO region is a propaganda effort waged by communist countries including Red China, Hungary and Russia often through clandestine radio stations.

Rusk told newsmen the group discussed a wide-range of local issues including the Cyprus question and the issue of Haasir.

Astronauts Take Peek at Desolate Face of Moon

TUCSON, April 30 (UPI)—Six U. S. astronauts with a chance to fly to the moon took their most spectacular look at the brilliant, desolate, lunar landscape today from the top of a 6,876-foot mountain.

The world's largest solar telescope, a 4 million dollar facility at Kitt Peak 53 miles southeast of here, was trained on the sun-bathed, nearly full-face of the moon to open a three-day geological expedition into Arizona for 17 of the nation's 29 space men.

"Boy, that is really something," said astronaut Roger B. Chaffee as he took his first look at the 28-inch image of the moon projected by the telescope onto a white viewing screen. Kitt Peak, under the watchful eye of

Patterson Signs Pact for Machen Match in July

NEW YORK, April 30 (AP)—Eddie Machen, a tiger on a comeback, is finally within reach of a dream he's been chasing for seven years—a fight with Floyd Patterson. The long-time contender from California and the former world heavyweight champion from New York signed Wednesday for a 12-round bout to be staged outdoors in Stockholm's Solna stadium on Sunday afternoon, July 5.

Sports

FROM ALL ANGLES

BY LARRY HOVEY

Rambling about:

A good case of the right hand not knowing what the left is doing has required the brand spanking new Eastern Idaho conference to shift its Saturday track and field championships from Burley to Minico.

It appears Monday morning Burley coach Chris Cagetti looked out and saw workmen tearing up his track. Rushing out he was informed the school was going to surprise him by installing a curb around the oval—something it definitely needs.

But the powers that be, thinking last week's frosh meet was the last scheduled there for the season, rushed the surprise by a week and the surprise was the ones surprised.

Joe Williams, a resident of Lower Stanley, reports the steelhead run has started coming in to the upper reaches of the Salmon river in fairly good numbers and some were being hooked by fishermen.

And that's about as close as the ocean-going rainbows ever get to Magic Valley.

Look for more frosh-soph track competition in the next few days in Magic Valley. The number of frosh meets, nothing for four years ago, has grown to three for Twin Falls now—including the O'Leary-Stuart dual meet—and all the class A coaches participating in them are becoming more sold on them.

"If nothing else," says one varsity coach, "they at least teach the boy what it's like to be around a track and what cut for the pole and things like that. It lets us get into the business of conditioning and specializing much sooner with the sophomores."

The class B schools will be following the lead before long.

Warren E. (Ben) Jewell, who once was known locally as the "Barnum of baseball" after picking up a couple of attendance trophies as Magic Valley Cowboy general manager, now has a new name.

With citizens of Cuba, Venezuela, the Dominican Republic and Japan already on the Cowboy roster, Jewell now is known as "Magic Valley's U.N. general manager of the United Nations Cowboys."

Speaking of Jewell, no one in Magic Valley has enjoyed the snow, wind and rainstorms that have beset the area except Ben.

"Do you realize," he says with a relieved chuckle, "that snow storm last week would have wiped out our first week's schedule under the old Pioneer league system?"

Of course, he's pinning his hopes on the fact spring, at least, will be here by the opener on June 22.

Steve Beer, Twin Falls basketball hotshot who earned co-player of the year honors and first string picks in the Southern Idaho conference and was named to the all-state first unit, has been busy writing letters to colleges the past few weeks.

Sought by several schools and recipient of feelers from another half dozen, Beer is writing considerably different letters than most Magic Valley athletes.

"I've written to all of them and told them I don't plan on playing basketball no matter where I go," says the slender jumpshot artist. He's going to concentrate on pre-medicine grades.

CHANGES JOBS

BOSTON, April 30 (AP)—Marion Campbell, defensive line coach of the Boston Patriots for the last two years, resigned Wednesday to accept a similar post with the Minnesota Vikings of the NFL.

NEW YORK, April 30 (AP)—Floyd Patterson has a plan for the future. Contrary to the opinion of some people, he thinks his future still is ahead of him.

"If I beat Eddie Machen (July 5 at Stockholm) I am going to try to get Cassius Clay," the former world heavyweight champion said. "I feel I may get the chance. After that, if I am victorious, I want to fight Sonny Liston. Then I shall retire—provided I don't get knocked out in the first round."

"I would have retired after my second fight with Liston in Las Vegas if I had made a better showing. When I got knocked out in the first round again I had to remain in boxing."

Naturally the conversation got around to Cassius. How did Patterson rate Clay?

"He is the heavyweight champion of the world," said Floyd. "I do think he is a good fighter. He has a tremendous amount of ability and is a thinking fighter. Most fighters go on instinct. He has been very successful with his thinking, his ability and his speed.

"If I ever fight Liston again I'll fight him the way Clay fought him. I'll be a thinking fighter. That is the only reason I am still fighting—to get another chance at Sonny Liston. If I beat Machen and then Clay, I'll be able to pick my opponent, won't I? I'll pick Liston."

There was no business in a field that includes Hill Rise, the 8-5 favorite: Northern Dancer, also Canadian-owned and second choice at 3-1; Quadrangle, held at 6-1; Mr. Brick; The Scoundrel, rangy West Coast representative and the stouthearted Roman Brother, lone gelding in the field.

The question for Bill Finnegan, trainer of Hill Rise, who won impressively for his eighth straight victory.

"I know now he can run on an off track," said Finnegan. "Previous to the trial, Hill Rise never had raced or worked over other than a fast track. The strip for the trial was called 'good' after two days of rain."

Horatio Luro, trainer of Northern Dancer, pony-sized competitor to Hill Rise—brushed aside questions as to whether his horse prefers the track fast or muddy with:

"We don't care, my horse can run equally well in any kind of going."

Trainer Wolfgang von Richthofen decided Wednesday that the Canadian-owned Grand Garcon heavily Wednesday and the veterinarian gave his approval to run the son of Clem Saturday. Trainer D. L. Laque said he was opposed to running the colt.

But Mrs. Keim said she would pay the $250 necessary to enter her colt and then decide if she would plunk down the additional $1250 to get him into the post parade for the $125,000-added Derby.

With 15 starters, the race will guarantee $147,500. The winner is guaranteed $100,000.

Churchill Downs had just recovered from two days of rain when more of the same fell Wednesday. But predictions were for very little additional rain before Derby time.

The condition of the track will go a long way toward deciding the size of the starting field. For example, if a Gem will go only if the track is muddy.

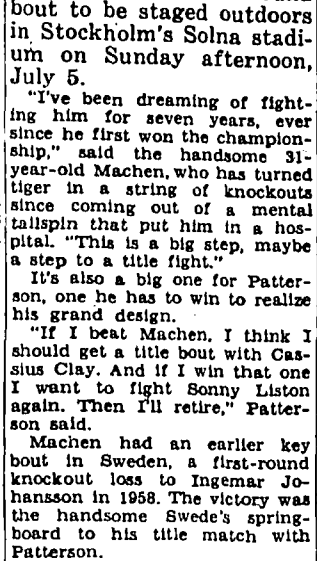

Trainer Wolfgang von Richthofen decided Wednesday that the Canadian-owned Grand Garcon was expected to be dropped into the entry box Thursday morning for the 90th running of the 1 1/4-mile blue ribbon classic at Churchill Downs.

But whether all of them are present for the start at 4:30 p.m. EST before some 100,000 fans and a national television audience depends on the weather and recovery from ailments by two of the lightly regarded candidates.

Clem Pac, owned by Mary Keim, Chicago, came out of Tuesday's Derby trial with a cut on his right hind leg. The injury was received when Clem Pac was hit by He's A Gem.

The wound was bandaged

The condition of the track will go a long way toward deciding the size of the starting field. For example, if a Gem will go only if the track is muddy.

Trainer Wolfgang von Richthofen decided Wednesday that the Canadian-owned Grand Garcon was expected to be dropped into the entry box Thursday morning for the 90th running of the 1 1/4-mile blue ribbon classic at Churchill Downs.

But whether all of them are present for the start at 4:30 p.m. EST before some 100,000 fans and a national television audience depends on the weather and recovery from ailments by two of the lightly regarded candidates.

Clem Pac, owned by Mary Keim, Chicago, came out of Tuesday's Derby trial with a cut on his right hind leg. The injury was received when Clem Pac was hit by He's A Gem.

The wound was bandaged

heavily Wednesday and the veterinarian gave his approval to run the son of Clem Saturday.

Trainer D. L. Laque said he was opposed to running the colt.

But Mrs. Keim said she would pay the $250 necessary to enter her colt and then decide if she would plunk down the additional $1250 to get him into the post parade for the $125,000-added Derby.

With 15 starters, the race will guarantee $147,500. The winner is guaranteed $100,000.

Churchill Downs had just recovered from two days of rain when more of the same fell Wednesday. But predictions were for very little additional rain before Derby time.

Brandt's Hit Lets Orioles Top Sox 4-2

BOSTON, April 30 (AP)—Jackie Brandt's bases-loaded double off Boston's ace reliever Dick Radatz, rallied Baltimore to a 4-2 victory over the Red Sox Wednesday.

Brandt, who has hit safely in all Oriole games this season, hit a drive to deep right center into a strong headwind in the seventh inning good for two runs.

Boston starter and loser Dave Morehead had been getting stronger with a 3-1 lead, retiring nine in a row until the seventh. When Brooks Robinson doubled and Sam Bowens walked, fireman Radatz got the call.

Jerry Adair beat out a bunt single filling the bases ahead of Brandt's big blow. Jackie also had singled in the third.

Giardello Okays Non-Title Match

CLEVELAND, April 30 (AP)—Middleweight champion Joey Giardello and Juan (Rocky) Rivero signed Wednesday for a 10-round non-title rematch at Cleveland arena May 22.

The fight will be televised nationally by ABC at 10 p.m. EST, as was the April 17 fight here in which Giardello won a split decision over the Argentine champ.

Matchmaker Larry Atkins said the contracts were signed in New York.

Atkins said Rivero will weigh no less than 164 pounds for the fight. He weighed 169 and Giardello 163 for the last overweight match.

his thinking, his ability and his speed.

"If I ever fight Liston again I'll fight him the way Clay fought him. I'll be a thinking fighter. That is the only reason I am still fighting—to get another chance at Sonny Liston. If I beat Machen and then Clay, I'll be able to pick my opponent, won't I? I'll pick Liston."

There was no business in a field that includes Hill Rise, the 8-5 favorite: Northern Dancer, also Canadian-owned and second choice at 3-1; Quadrangle, held at 6-1; Mr. Brick; The Scoundrel, rangy West Coast representative and the stouthearted Roman Brother, lone gelding in the field.

The question for Bill Finnegan, trainer of Hill Rise, who won impressively for his eighth straight victory.

"I know now he can run on an off track," said Finnegan. "Previous to the trial, Hill Rise never had raced or worked over other than a fast track. The strip for the trial was called 'good' after two days of rain."

Horatio Luro, trainer of Northern Dancer, pony-sized competitor to Hill Rise—brushed aside questions as to whether his horse prefers the track fast or muddy with:

"We don't care, my horse can run equally well in any kind of going."

Liston Says He Deserves Title Rematch

DENVER, April 30 (AP)—Altearly smiling and bitter, dethroned heavyweight champion Sonny Liston told a sports fan meeting Wednesday he felt he was entitled to a return fight with champion Cassius Clay.

"If not," he added, "then any other challenger should fight me before he is allowed to fight Clay."

"Would you be willing to fight Eddie Machen?" Liston was asked.

"Sure, Machen runs faster than Clay," Liston said.

One fan asked Liston: "Don't you think you made a mistake carrying the fight to Clay? Usually a champion will let the challenger come to him."

"If I had waited for him to come after me we would still be standing in a neutral corner," Liston said. "He runs pretty fast."

Liston was the main attraction at the monthly meeting of the Bronco Quarterback club, made up of supporters of Denver's American Football league team.

"You know," Liston said at the opening of his remarks, "I never used to think I was much of a speaker but since I lost my title I decided I'd have to be a good speaker, 'cause folks figure I'm not too good at fighting."

Asked if he planned to fight again this year, Liston replied: "I have to fight because I got no money from the Clay fight. The government got it all."

Then, with a puzzled look Liston added:

"How come the government can take your money and don't give you nothing back?"

The president of the Bronco's football team, Cal Kunz, offered the stadium as the site for Sonny's next fight.

"I would accept but it might start an investigation," Liston said.

Angels Take 5-1 Decision Over Solons

LOS ANGELES, April 30 (AP)—Bob Lee pitched one-hit ball for seven innings and scored his first major league victory with relief aid Wednesday night as the Los Angeles Angels defeated Washington 5-1.

Lee, a 26-year-old right-hander, left the game after giving up his second walk to Ken Hunt, the leadoff batter in the eighth. In his first start for the Angels, against Cleveland last Saturday night, Lee allowed only four hits and one run in 10 innings but didn't figure in the decision.

The Angels got 11 hits off four Washington pitchers. Joe Koppe tripled in two Los Angeles runs and Bob Rodgers, Tom Satriano and Bobby Knoop batted in one each.

Babcock to Ask Governors For Stand on Beef Quotas

HELENA, April 30 (UPI)—Montana Gov. Tim Babcock said Wednesday he will make a second attempt next week to have the Western Governors' conference adopt a resolution urging curbs on meat imports.

The conference opens Sunday in San Francisco.

Babcock introduced a similar resolution last year when the western governors met at Phoenix, Ariz. It received only token support. Babcock said he believed that was because the governor of a Mexican state was a guest of the conference.

Russ Won't Attend China May Day Fun

TOKYO, April 30 (Thursday)—The Soviet Union has declined Communist China's invitation to this year's May day celebrations, Radio Peking said today.

The Communist Chinese broadcast, heard here, said the Soviet Union at the same time withdrew its May day invitation sent to Red China on April 7.

The All-China Federation of Trade Unions subsequently on April 25 sent a cable to the Soviet Workers Council protesting the Soviet action.

In the cable, it said the Soviet Workers Council was "unwarranted in unilaterally" canceling the traditional exchange visits of their delegations to their respective May day celebrations.

The Soviet action is "most unprecedented and regrettable in disrupting the wishes of the workers and people of both countries in joining to celebrate this workers' festival," the cable said.

Last year the delegations of Red China and the Soviet Union attended their respective May day celebrations. This year with the exception of Yugoslavia, seven nations plus Mongolia had invited the Chinese delegations to their May day festivals, radio Peking said.

The guard stopped.

Van Dusen came down on the outside of the fence.

Police are looking for him to complete the 70-day jail term he got for escaping while serving time for a previous misdemeanor.

Saucer Scare Spreading To Wyoming

CHEYENNE, April 30 (UPI)—The flying saucer scare spread into southern Wyoming Wednesday when three Cheyenne women reported sighting unidentified flying objects.

Mrs. Frank Martin, Mrs. Mar De Weese and Mrs. Robert C. Rose said the first one was seen at about 10:30 p.m. Tuesday when they were returning home from a bingo game at Warren air force base.

Only Mrs. Martin and Mrs. Rose saw whatever it was.

"We both screamed at the same time," Mrs. Rose said.

Mrs. Martin said she saw "this bright light, as bright as any light you can think of. It was like a tear drop or tapered shaped. I saw it like a streak and then it disappeared."

Mrs. Rose said "it was just an enormous flash of light, then that was it. I couldn't tell about the shape, but it was brighter than any light and high up in the sky."

Mrs. De Weese did not see the object at that time, but about 10:45 p.m., after they had taken Mrs. Martin home, she and Mrs. Rose saw two more similar sights.

"It was a great big round flash of light," Mrs. De Weese said, "and then it was gone. Then another came behind it. They were both the same size and very fast."

Some children were in the car. "The kids were scared to death," Mrs. De Weese said.

Most Drivers In Crashes Are Insured

BOISE, April 30 (AP)—The department of law enforcement reported Tuesday that only 3.7 percent of drivers involved in the 20,980 Idaho auto collisions in 1963 were uninsured.

Safety Responsibility Division Director Ken McCoy said Idaho ranks high among states in the percentage of all drivers who carry insurance, about 93 percent.

He said the figures show that the state's safety responsibility law is effective, and there is no need for a compulsory insurance law.

Compulsory insurance, he said, would bring administrative headaches for county officials who would have to keep records. He added that states with compulsory insurance laws have lower percentages of insured than Idaho.

The 20,980 collisions were an increase from the 18,544 of 1962. McCoy said he prefers the word collisions to accidents, because "the public hides behind the word accident. They weren't accidents if they weren't unavoidable."

The safety responsibility law requires all drivers involved in collisions involving property damage of over $100 or injuries to show proof of financial responsibility in a report to the state within 60 days.

McCoy said proof of responsibility can include insurance, deposit of money to cover possible damages, an agreement to pay damages and a court judgment freeing the motorist from liability.

"The law doesn't require that people pay each other," he said, "and we don't attempt to say who was responsible."

McCoy said 1,903 drivers had licenses suspended in 1963 for failure to comply with the law. He said 586 were reinstated after showing responsibility.

McCoy said only 1,251 of the drivers were uninsured. Some were suspended simply because they failed to report within the 60-day period.

He said 2,511 drivers had their licenses suspended for reckless or drunken driving. After suspension, drivers must make reports to the department for three years showing that they are insured.

McCoy said the law gives protection to the driving public against losses for accidents that aren't their fault.

"We have come a long way from the day when anyone with an old jalopy and a gallon of gas could get out on the road," he said.

YOUR BIRTHDAY and HOROSCOPE

STELLA

THURSDAY, APRIL 30—Born today, you are destined by your easy-going nature to get along extremely well with people—even those who are noted for not being easy to get along with. A willingness to please is at the base of your personality; at the same time, however, a strong inborn sense of ethics and moral responsibility protects you from trying to please the wrong people.

Contrary to the expectations of many, you have for all your friendly willing nature, an unusually strong streak of determination and will power. Should you feel it necessary to break off a friendship or to cut an acquaintance of long standing, you will do so no matter how difficult it is for you. Friendship and loyalty are important to you, for it is yourself, first of all, that you must live with.

This same determination, this same will power should work to your great advantage in the matter of your career. You will not give up a vision of success, even greatness, easily; and because you will not give up that, the chances are that you will attain the heights to which you aspire.

Among those born on this date are: Robert C. Minor, artist; Eve Arden, actress; David Thompson, explorer; Fulton Lewis Jr., news commentator; writer.

To find what is in store for you tomorrow select your birthday and read the corresponding paragraph. Let your birthday star be your daily guide.

Friday, May 1
TAURUS (April 21-May 21)—Be on your guard today against misleading conditions and conflicting circumstances. Separate fact from fancy.

GEMINI (May 22-June 21)—Avoid being misled by the stature of one offering a new idea for your consideration. Think twice before taking positive action.

CANCER (June 22-July 23)—You may be called upon to act as mediator in a dispute involving others. Make your decision with the utmost care.

LEO (July 24-Aug. 23)—Proceed in low gear today, and remember that "pretty is as pretty does." The gift you accept today may have to pay for later.

VIRGO (Aug. 24-Sept. 23)—Make no definite commitments on the basis of mere promises. Best to wait until you have more to go on.

LIBRA (Sept. 24-Oct. 23)—There's many a slip 'twixt the cup and the lip. Avoid relying on others.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22)—This may well be a day with a high fiction quotient. Get down to brass tacks and you'll quickly solve an irritating problem.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 22)—Prudent action should be most today. Make contacts in person where possible.

U.S. Factory Brews Deadly Nerve Gas

NEWPORT, Ind., April 30 (AP)—In a clustered complex of buildings on a hill in western Indiana, the United States brews and bottles one of war's deadliest weapons.

It is nerve gas, a stealthy assassin that is odorless, tasteless and virtually invisible. A drop, breathed or soaked into the skin, can kill.

At the end of an assembly line laced with 40 miles of pipes, the liquefied gas is poured into rockets, land mines and artillery shells—destiny sealed.

The facility, housed in a former atomic energy installation known as the Newport chemical plant, is the nation's major supply center for nerve gas. It has been in operation 24 hours a day for three years.

Details on the gas are secret. An army publication says only that the gas can "cause death within four minutes." A congressional report says less than a minute's exposure can kill.

"This stuff here was originally developed as an insecticide," says a vice president of the FMC Corp., which operates the plant under a government contract.

The chemicals which form the nerve gas are mixed and boiled in a plumber's nightmare of pipes, furnaces, pumping towers and reaction tanks.

In a separate building, the gas is pumped into rockets and other munitions by automatic equipment in a sealed compartment.

From Newport, the rockets and artillery shells are shipped in "normal Army supply channels," says Lt. Col. William J. Tisdale, officer in charge at the plant. He will say no more.

"Everything we have here we would like for the public to know, but we don't want the Russians to know," Tisdale explains.

The nerve gas is dispersed in a spray when its carrier explodes. It kills by attacking the body's cholinesterase, substance transmitting nerve signals for muscles to expand.

There must be injected quickly, and the gas gives no warning. The plant includes a complete hospital. Ten per cent of the operating budget is spent on safety. There has never been a plant fatality.

CHANGE IS TAKEN
PHILADELPHIA, Pa. (AP)—Those who should be able to make a lot of telephone calls today will find them scarce.

They were changed by the nation's telephone company.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23-Jan. 20)—Best to take cover until the storms this day promises have passed overhead. Things should go better tomorrow.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21-Feb. 19)—Don't allow your emotions and impulses to betray you into an unwise decision regarding those close to you.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20)—Avoid misunderstanding with business associates. The strength of the opposition demands that partners stick together.

ARIES (March 21-April 20)—Be tactful in all conversations, especially those which have a bearing on the success of present preoccupations. Maintain calm.

Demo Intra-Party Squabble May Hinder Fight for House

BOISE, April 30 (AP)—Renewal of intra-party squabbling could wipe out any chance the Idaho party's capitol of the Idaho house of representatives from the Republicans.

Even some of those who signed a petition recently to oust the Emmett Bennett faction from leadership of the county central committee believe it could destroy hopes of electing Democratic representatives from the traditionally Republican county.

Ada's membership in the house next year jumps to nine from the present six under the 1963 legislative reapportionment law. The Democrats haven't elected a senator from that county since 1938.

With the increase in the number of representatives this year and the anticipated heavy fighting between the Democrats and the Republicans, the Democrats thought they might have a chance this time. That is, they felt they would have a chance of electing some of their own provided they could present a united front behind a solid slate of candidates.

Now that the Guy Bradley faction of the county central committee has renewed its bid for power—just two weeks before the filing deadline for candidates for public office—it appears doubtful the Democrats in Ada will be able to put up a united front.

Republicans admittedly are in trouble in their quest to retain control of the state senate and party leaders believe that campaign will be tough and go.

In the house, however, they had a five-vote margin last time and were expected to increase that hold this time under the reapportionment, barring some Democratic upsets in Republican strongholds.

The Democrats met in Boise last winter to map their strategy in legislative campaigns and one of their goals was to engineer some upsets. With gains in representation in such Democratic counties as Benewah they had hoped to pick up some seats in Republican counties like Ada and Canyon this time.

Many felt they might at least reduce the Republican gains under reapportionment and even get control by a vote or two.

While some who signed the Bradley petition in Ada county admitted it might hurt the party's chances of getting some representation in the legislature, they still felt they should change leadership. They remain bitter about the meeting last May in which the Bennett forces grabbed control of the central committee and want to restore the ousted leaders.

Not all those who stood behind Bradley last May signed the petition to restore him to power, however. One precinct committeewoman who backed Bradley last time refused to go along with the latest move.

"I felt it was wrong the last time," she said, "and I feel it's wrong now. We should stand together and quit all this fighting."

Whatever the outcome of the battle between the two factions many in the party feel it is going to have a direct effect not only on the legislative races but on courthouse hopes and possibly the state nominating convention in June.

As the state's most populous county, Ada will have a large contingent of delegates at the state assembly.

Expensive

REXBURG, April 30 (AP)—A Ricks college student has traded a 25-cent parking citation for a $25 fine in Rexburg city court.

The student, Perry Vance, Carey, was issued a parking violation ticket by Patrolman Willy Eldridge for parking his car on the grass alongside a city street.

Vance took the ticket from the windshield and said: "I won't pay it."

The officer said Vance tore it up and threw it in the street.

Eldridge promptly wrote out a citation for littering a public thoroughfare.

City Judge J. R. Clark fined Vance $25 on the littering charge.

Had he paid the parking violation citation within 24 hours it would have cost 25 cents.

Republicans admittedly are in trouble in their quest to retain control of the state senate and party leaders believe that campaign will be tough and go.
