LA PORTE, Ind., May 2 (UPI) — Eleven cars of a speeding Baltimore and Ohio passenger train roared along a straight stretch of track and rammied into an embankment today. At least 66 persons were injured. Witnesses said the first car behind the engine appeared to leap into the air and then dug into the embankment. The engineer said the train was traveling at 75 miles an hour when it left the rails.

T. F. Pair Involved In Railroad Crash

LA PORTE, Ind., May 2 (UPI) — My husband and I were sitting near the back of the third car. We were just sitting there visiting with my folks behind us when they suddenly went flying into the air. We heard noise and then air brakes—the kind of noise that gets behind the engine. At the same time our train was flying through the air, the dirt began flying up to the windows.

Two other fellows that were in the lounge in the back of the car were thrown up to the front. They just bounded, striking the seats along the way. One of them was bleeding badly from the head. It seemed as if everything started coming around all at one time. The dirt was up to the windows when we ploughed into the embankment. It seemed like our car almost went straight up and came straight down.

Crowd Shouts At Pinewood Derby Races

It wasn't the Indianapolis 500, and the crowd wasn't as large, but the excitement was just as high. The crowd that could top it for enthusiasm. It was the Snake River Area Council's Finals in the annual Pinewood Derby for Cub Scouts and Boy Scouts and a crowd of more than 800 parents, friends and Scouts kept the O'Leary Junior high school gymnasium roaring Saturday night from start to finish of the event.

Minidoka Man Dies In One-Car Smash

MINIDOKA, May 2—Archey Leroy Sparks, 20, Minidoka, was killed in a one-car accident early Saturday morning five miles east of here on a country road. Mr. Sparks was found by Ira Ure, an employe at Owyhee farms, east of Minidoka, about 7 a.m. Saturday. State Trooper Roy Thomas said Mr. Sparks probably was killed sometime after midnight. Thomas said Mr. Sparks was driving a 1963 Chevrolet convertible and apparently missed a sharp curve. The car rolled over, throwing Sparks about 100 feet from the car. Thomas said the accident occurred in Blaine county.

Few Winners At College Rodeo Noted

JEROME, May 2—Contestants from Montana State, Western Montana and Brigham Young universities turned in winning performances Saturday at the intercollegiate rodeo. Competition was held in saddle horse riding, bareback riding, wild riding, calf roping, ribbon roping and bull-dogging. However, officials noted that not all the riding events would be available until Sunday. The rodeo will end Sunday.

Inquest to View Rupert Man's Death

RUPERT, May 2—An inquest is pending in the death of Rose Uocola, 34, route 2, Rupert, who fell 44 feet to his death Friday from a scaffolding collapsed at the Amalgamated Sugar company five miles west of here. Reports—Robert C. Walk, Minidoka county coroner. Witnesses said Uocola, foreman of a construction crew, had just cut through a steel beam with a torch when the scaffolding fell. Uocola was employed by the sugar company.

School Post Has Lone Candidate

John J. WOLFE, incumbent school board trustee from zone one, will be the only name on ballots for the May 12 Twin Falls school board election. Deadline for filing nominating petitions was 5 p.m. Friday and Wolfe was the only one to file a petition at the school superintendent's office.

Attends Parley

BOISE, May 2 (UP)—Gov. Robert E. Smyth left today for the Western Governors conference in San Francisco where water is expected to be a topic of discussion. Smyth said he expects consideration of a proposal by Oregon Gov. Mark Hatfield for a study committee representing all the states.

ADMINISTERING FIRST AID are police and firemen to two girls who were among several dozen injured in an accident on an escalator at Baltimore Memorial stadium. One girl was killed in the bazaar mishap. Witnesses said a traffic jam developed at the top of the escalator to slumber. Shoes torn from the youngsters' feet are piled in the foreground. (AP wirephoto)

40 Children Hurt in Escalator Accident

BALTIMORE, Md., May 2 (UPI) — A school girl was killed and about 40 children were hurt in a night slip at the top of a stadium escalator in the new Memorial stadium today. The children, all special guests at the ballpark for the Orioles-Cleveland Indians baseball game, jammed aboard a fast-moving escalator before attendants could remove a temporary iron guard rail at the second deck level. The guard rail toppled those at the top back on those coming up below. The children were standing five abreast on the moving stairs and were unable to escape.

T. F. Woman Heads Idaho Speech Unit

GOODPASTER, May 2—Mrs. Marie Pierce, Twin Falls, was elected president of the Idaho Speech and Hearing association Saturday at the second day of the two-day convention of the association here. Other officers include Dr. Marvin Hansen, Idaho State university speech and hearing center vice president, and Mrs. Ruth Johnson, Goodpasture secretary-treasurer. The confab was sponsored by the Idaho Speech and Hearing association, Idaho Society for Orphaned Children and Adults, Inc., and the Idaho State School for Deaf and Blind.

Demonstration Is Held by Youths

VIENNA, Austria, May 2 (UPI)—Hundreds of police-charged Czech youths shouting "Glasnost" and "Living in Freedom" in two separate May day demonstrations against Czechoslovak communist regime, reliable reports reaching here said today. The reports, from Western sources, citing eyewitness accounts of Friday's drama in Prague, said about 8,000 youths clashed with police in the downtown Kinsky park and another 2,000 in Cavalry hospital in the city.

Students Killed

OPORTO, Portugal, May 2 (UPI)—Five students were killed and about 20 others injured today when a bus swerved off the road leading from Lamego to Regua and crashed on a river embankment.

Reds Sink U.S. Carrier In Viet Nam

SAIGON, South Viet Nam, May 3 (Sunday) (AP)—Salvage crews labored Sunday to seal a gaping, 23-foot-long hole blown in the hull of the U.S. aircraft ferry ship Card below her waterline by a massive explosion that security officers attributed to the Communist Viet Cong. American blood-stained 80 feet of pavement of a nearby boulevard from a bomb blast Saturday night, similarly blighted on red terrorism. The bomb explosion wounded eight U.S. servicemen—five officers and three enlisted men—and a crowd of Vietnamese moving in a look at the crippled ship, waterlogged at her pier on the Saigon river. One fragment injured a Vietnamese.

Seven More File Petitions In Twin Falls

Seven persons filed declarations of candidacy Friday afternoon and Saturday at Twin Falls county courthouses for county offices. The seven are Harold A. Lan-naster, Democratic candidate for district court clerk, auditor and recorder; R. J. Schwendman, Republican candidate for the county clerk position; Claude Wiley, Republican candidate for county coroner; James Benham, Republican for sheriff; Marcus Tomeray, Republican for county commissioner, district No. 3; Clifford Thompson, Republican for county assessor; and Arthur H. Miller, Republican county treasurer. They join four other persons who filed declarations of candidacy Friday morning. They are Ray Lincoln, Republican candidate for sheriff.

Police Report Four Crashes In Twin Falls

Twin Falls police investigated four accidents Thursday Friday and Saturday. Officers reported Mrs. Myrtle M. Bingham, 42, 427 Quincy street, backed her 1959 Ford sedan her driveway at 2:10 p.m. Thursday and struck the left door of a parked 1955 Mercury owned by Jack Kirby, 535 Second avenue west. Damage was estimated at $40 to the Mercury.

Officers reported Mrs. Lois J. Hodson, 73, route 1, told them she was driving her 1954 Mercury east on Washington street north at 11:44 a.m. Friday and her eyes started to hurt. She closed them and struck a power pole. Damage was estimated at $300 to the vehicle and none to the pole. Police reported Deborah A. White, 17, Twin Falls, was driving a 1961 Volkswagen east on Addison avenue at 10:36 a.m. Friday when she started to make a left turn onto Polk street. She told investigating officers she lost control of her vehicle and it ran into a mail box. Damage was estimated at $50 to the Volkswagen and none to the mail box.

Chief M. Moller, Rupert, was cited for failure to yield the right of way at a blinking red traffic light at Addison avenue, then proceeded through and struck a 1951 Oldsmobile driven by Stephen L. Boran, 16, Twin Falls, which was traveling through the intersection on Blue Lakes boulevard with the yellow blinking light. Damage was estimated at $150 to the Buick and $75 to the Oldsmobile. No injuries were reported in any of the four accidents.

WHIRLIGIG

BY ANDREW TULLY
WASHINGTON, May 2—Fidel Castro's threats against U. S. reconnaissance flights over his captive island are the inevitable results of some business left uncompleted during the missile crisis in the fall of 1962.

The big reason for this is that Khrushchev accepted President Kennedy's demands for on-the-ground inspection of the removal of Russian offensive missiles in Cuba. But the inspection never came off because Castro refused to permit it. Thereafter, the U. S. merely contacted itself with Castro by aerial inspection of what the world was told was the shipment of the missiles back to Russia.

NO FOLLOW-THROUGH—This was the weakness of the Kennedy victory in that confrontation. He had forced Khrushchev to back down and agree not to remove the missiles. But to permit proper inspection of their removal, and then he failed to insist on this inspection when Castro balked. It was the time to insist, when Khrushchev was on the run, but the opportunity was allowed to pass.

The big reason for this failure, of course, was the exhortations poured upon Kennedy by those diplomatic rabbits of the Organization of American States (OAS). These characters, who run every time Castro's name is mentioned, persuaded Kennedy to quit while he was ahead, "let Castro do his thing and let the U. S. stand by that far ahead, because only on the ground inspection could determine positively that the missiles were being moved out. Air photos showed only that objects that LOOKED like missiles were being removed.

IMPLIED THREAT—Now Castro is charging that the U. S. is creating a "dangerous situation" by continuing the aerial surveillance of Cuba. Implicit in his catering is the threat to shoot down any U. S. plane that enters the U. S. border. Now that the U. S. has the Cubans presumably are free to tinker with the anti-aircraft missiles the Russians left behind.

President Johnson is on the ball in insisting that the flight must be accompanied by a pilot essential to determine whether other missiles are being shipped to Cuba. They are the hemisphere's only protection against the same kind of secret buildup of Cuban military power that caused the crisis of October, 1962, especially since the OAS timidly refuses even to move against Cuba with economic sanctions or a ban on travel to and from the island.

CUBA ONLY A NUISANCE—Some diplomats here are interpreting the Kennedy victory as "embarrassing" the United States by charging in the United Nations that the U. S. is violating Cuban air space. There is the suggestion that Fidel will be able to play on the Latin sensitivity to the charge of an imperialist power intruding. Now the Communist Cuba is a responsible nation, as is shown by its bold and arrogant attempts at subversion in Latin America. It is a nuisance to the peace, and as such it has forfeited some of its rights of sovereignty.

The flight must be accompanied by a pilot essential to determine whether other missiles are being shipped to Cuba. They are the hemisphere's only protection against the same kind of secret buildup of Cuban military power that caused the crisis of October, 1962, especially since the OAS timidly refuses even to move against Cuba with economic sanctions or a ban on travel to and from the island.

WHAT IS ZONING FOR? In Pocatello it seems to be more than an inconvenience in the way of those who would build where they please.

Three members of the Pocatello city commission voted Thursday to go along with a decision of the planning-zoning commission and the board of adjustments to permit a commercial building in the residential zone.

Since the zoning commission took three-fourths of the city commission to override the lesser bodies, the votes by Commissioners Fred Burton, Norman Wagner and Fred Snyder permitted the construction of a funeral home on the 400 block of North Fifteenth.

It is not the intent here to argue whether the funeral home in question should be permitted in the 400 block of North Fifteenth. The question is whether granting an exception to the zoning ordinance is the right way to go.

The purpose of zoning would seem to be to guarantee a man that he can move into a given house without expecting a commercial enterprise across the street or next door in six months.

They will not let something move in next door, and disturb your home life.

By the same token, the zoning law says to those interested in commercial, industrial and agricultural enterprises, that they can build where they please for any purpose. Anyone who buys a home in such an area expecting strictly residential environment is fooling himself. But he should be able to move into an area zoned residential and expect it to remain so for at least a year.

Some say the area where the funeral home will go should be commercial anyway. If that is true, it should have been zoned commercial. Once it is zoned residential the city should feel obliged to stand behind the zoning promise to anyone who moves into that area.

There are sometimes special circumstances that would indicate variances to the zoning law are in order. Those circumstances should be very special. Otherwise, the zoning law should be no more than an inconvenience to a capable lawyer.—Idaho State Journal.

POINT MELT 'EM

Only three million silver dollars remain in the U. S. treasury after last week's run on them by speculators in the gold market. The treasury has ordered further distribution stopped. Anyone who insists on obtaining silver for silver certificates will have to accept bullion or little packs of silver dust which are available only in small quantities at a premium.

Treasury Secretary Douglas Dillon says virtually all of the cartwheels remaining in government vaults have been melted. Among the melted cartwheels are the 1933 "Pearson" dollars, which were designed by George T. Morgan in 1878. The eagle on the original Morgan dollar had eight tall feathers. The coin was redesigned later when cartwheelers complained that the eagle's tail feathers were too tall. The dollar is worth only a few cents, especially if it was made at the long-abandoned mint at Carson City, Nev. and bears the letters "C.C." under the word "dollar."

The question arises: What shall be done with the "Pearson" dollars? Shall they be melted down, or permitted to leak out through the banks a few at a time, or be sold at auction to dealers and collectors at a considerable profit to the government? The latter seems the most sensible and fair solution. Let the treasury list its silver dollars by year of coinage and other descriptions, and offer them to the highest bidder. It would be a shame to melt down coins that collectors are eager to buy at a premium.

Another offer is to melt down the coins. Let his pants pockets are sagging from a load of cartwheels might be able to buy a few of the ordinary dollars at not too high a price. Then he could live out his years using checks or paper money for necessary purchases, preserving the coveted silver coins as reassuring ballast.—The Oregonian.

Interpreting the News

BY JAMES MARLOW
(Assistant Press News Analyst)

WASHINGTON, May 2 (U. S. Press)—President Johnson has talked enough now to provide a reasonable comparison with President John F. Kennedy, and not only as a talker.

Johnson was a talker from the beginning of his presidency—in fact, from his inaugural address—about the possibilities of American life. The same is true of Johnson.

But there is an acute difference in the expression of that talk.

Kennedy had a better aesthetic sense as his use of language showed. It appeared not only to intellectuals and young people but to literate people of all ages, for the phrases were memorable, sometimes elegant.

In return he got a sort of national gratitude—judging from the increasingly warm response with which he was alive and since then the pilgrimages to his grave—for the eloquence unmatched in the presidency since Franklin D. Roosevelt.

He expressed what many felt but could not say and in words better than perhaps most could have commanded. His speeches showed a lot of homework, sometimes too much.

For sometimes they were too literary, too worked over, too self-conscious as if in trying to make his sentences bleed he had drained the red corpuscles out of them, leaving mere shine and substance.

He worked one literary habit to death: The use of contrasts. Used carefully and sparingly the effect can be brilliant, as it was in his "ask not your country to do for you but what you can do for your country."

It is not an easy technique to use since it goes monotonous when overdone and sounds like wheels spinning.

In general what he said was more between the two extremes. There was too much monotonous, not enough range, not enough inflection. And his gesturing while emphatic was unimaging.

Dear Sir: I continue to be intrigued by the thought this nation—or any nation—can collect more taxes by cutting taxes. Must follow that a higher tax cut will mean the nation collects more taxes than ever. So let's follow the plan through to the ultimate stage without delay. Eliminate all income taxes right now so the nation will collect more taxes than ever.

WASHINGTON NEWS

By LYLE C. WILSON
United Press International

The brakes seem to be slipping on President Johnson's economy handbrake. It could be, of course, that economy prospects were over-hyped or that the President over-acted his role as a dollar pincher.

It was in this space last January that President Johnson's 1964 budget and the publicity misadventure preceded.

It has been reported that Johnson intended to create it. It is the image of a slow-man-with-a-buck. Not a penny-pincher maybe, but a dollar-pincher.

That paragraph was written last May after a flood tide of "White House" budget tests all touching on economy. It was an even two months after President Johnson succeeded to the White House.

The treasury has just reported its position as of April 22, five months after Johnson took over. The treasury figures reveal that in the five-month period Nov. 22-April 22, the total amount of money the government has spent approximately 50 billion dollars and collected in taxes

MARQUIS CHILDS WRITES ON WASHINGTON

CHICAGO, May 2—Having learned the lesson of over-confidence in Wisconsin, no one from Gov. Marquis Childs on down will speculate about the state's progress against George Wallace's vote in next week's primary.

Not only were the Democrats in Wisconsin but the shrewdness of the Alabama governor's appeal has also been underlined.

In the Midwest, where Childs was never talks about Negroes, except to say he gets along well with them or about segregation or race. In the federal government, the target is the federal government and the evil of its ever-encroaching power. Wallace denounces the civil rights bill as another and more insidious extension of that power.

"They can order you to hire a red-headed Negro or a Baptist because he tells Indiana audiences."

Large sums of money are coming from somewhere—the John Birch society is apparently one source—to help him reach many people who are not Wallace supporters are reported to have committed $50,000 for television time in the last 10 days, including three state-wide hookups.

"What he is saying, in effect," Governor Childs remarked at a news conference in Chicago, "is that we in Alabama would concede if we could afford it. But with all the federal aid they get down there they can't afford to."

After a terrible Civil War over secession and 100 years of trying to heal the wounds that it was Wallace is preaching—nullification. He is exploiting all the discontents of a troubled and uncertain time and focusing them on the efforts of the Negro to attain equal rights through action by the federal government.

The discontents are abundant here—where there is a long history between Wallace, a Democrat, and the Republican legislature a two percent sales tax was adopted. It was the only way out of the schools were to be able to expand to take the rising tide of youngsters out of the postwar boom.

Under the Woodrow Wilson theory of state government, the courts will stick pins in the governor to get even for all the discomfords and dislocations of over-grown urbanism. As for the President, private polls show he would carry in the state by a percentage of victory in 1960, by two to one against any Republican if the election were held today.

In 1961 Wallace, working with the Republican legislature, got through a state civil rights act. It was the only measure beyond the measure now before congress. Last year it was strengthened with only three dissenting votes. With a strong civil-rights commission it has been accepted widely.

Currently, and this may be the saddest commentary on the whole business, the seeds of rebellion in Wallace's perverted fairy tale becomes the dragon to be resisted at any cost.

Nullification suits perfectly the ego of a man who has given others who seem to want either no government at all or a tyranny in which all would conform to their own dogmas. In 1861 Lincoln resolved not to free the slaves but to free the Union. A nullification and secession. Those it has been said, who do not learn from history are compelled to live it over again.

Poor Man's Plato

BY HAL ROYLE
NEW YORK, May 2 (U. S. Press)—It is about time we had a "Be Kind to Fat People Day" in this country.

Early this month Americans celebrate the golden anniversary of national "Be Kind to Animals Week." The animals were to be able to expand to take the rising tide of youngsters out of the postwar boom.

because he is held to be a poor health risk. Under this theory Benjamin Franklin, a man who lived well into his 80's, would have spent his life as an underpaid code clerk in the U. S. state department.

Throughout history, the fat man has served as a symbol of jollity, plenty and dignity. The symbol of wealth, which was one of its arch enemies—hunger.

Would any of us, child or adult, love Santa Claus any better if he went on a diet and wound up with a figure like that of Cary Grant?

The fat man is usually good-natured and usually makes a good meal. He has a lot of energy for the other hand he won't run away from a fight. He can't, at best, he only waddles away.

In the consumer economy upon which American civilization must thrive, the fat man is our foremost patriot. It takes more cloth to make him a suit, more leather to make his shoes, more polish to keep those shoes shined.

What is true of the fat man is equally true of the fat woman. She is a great natural resource.

What is the best way you can show how much you appreciate a fat person?

Why not take one to lunch a seven-course lunch? When you take a fat man to lunch, you are not only showing him the respect he deserves, but you are also showing him the respect he deserves.

Corporations hesitate to give the fat man executive promotion

Oswald Jacoby, Bridge

SOUTH CONSIDERS PROBLEM CAREFULLY
East's opening bid of one club is correct. Even though he holds the spades, the suit is weak and the club opening makes his later bidding very simple.

South has a sound diamond overall, and West has no problem in the way of defense.

President Dwight D. Eisenhower has been a great admirer of the late Oswald Jacoby, who was a manager. The same was true of President Harry S. Truman, who was even more intensely deluged with foreign troubles.

Jacoby certainly provided inspiration at home, at least in his early years and before the war consumed all American's energy. Presidents Herbert Hoover and Calvin Coolidge could hardly be said to have done so. President Woodrow Wilson did.

President William H. Taft didn't treat Jacoby as a subordinate. He was more of a peer. He was old, but he was not old in the way of results.

That does not mean necessarily that Jacoby cannot do the job. But it does mean that some persons will want to withhold their support for his economy unless he is more substantial evidence of it.

That need not worry Jacoby much. He is a man who will establish with the public the volume of his economy man. Louis Harris poll last February reported that 67 per cent of the people gave Jacoby a favorable rating on his ability to keep government spending under control. That is one of Johnson's most valuable campaign assets.

Welfare for Children Is Legion's Goal

BOZEMAN, May 2 (AP)—Idaho's American Legion commander today said laws dealing with children and youth enacted by the legislature are similar to those recommended by the national security and welfare committee.

Speaking in Moscow, Max Hanson said there is increasing evidence of physical abuse of children.

"The American Legion," he said, "is concerned about this and strongly recommends legislation that requires reporting of physical abuse to children."

He said Idaho laws provide the foundation "for putting a stop to the shameful crime." He urged, however, that they be broadened to provide physicians and hospital personnel reporting such cases—immunity from civil liability.

Hanson said the Legion's welfare committee has spent 178 million dollars on its program for child welfare and rehabilitation.

"We recognize that a child's physical, mental, emotional and spiritual needs are inseparable and of equal importance," he said, adding:

"The Legion does not intend to establish duplicate services, but to assist and fulfill a need where it exists."

Minidoka County Filing Period Opens

RUPERT, May 2—The filing period officially opened Friday on the 1964 Minidoka county election, states August Bethke, county clerk.

Bethke said the filing period opened Friday morning and will close at 12:00 p.m. Thursday. Bethke said numerous petitions have been taken out from his office, indicating several of the county officers which will be up for election, will be contested.

All qualified candidates filing petitions will be placed on the primary election ballot. The primary election in Idaho is held for Aug. 4.

Ten county positions will be voted on in the general election in November.

Republican incumbents include Rodney Hansen, state senator; Dale Gardner, state representative; Theo Johnson, sheriff; Jake Wall, probate judge, and Robert Walk, coroner.

Democrats up for election include Gary Burt, four-year county commissioner; Bert Van Vary, two-year county commissioner; Claude Bowman, assessor; and Larry Duff, prosecuting attorney.

In addition to the county offices, filings will also be completed by precinct committeemen posts in both the Democrat and Republican parties. The precinct committeemen will be elected in the primary election.

Steal House

LANOLEY, England, May 2 (AP)—Police today were searching for two five-room bungalows.

A neighbor told police he saw six men climb the prefabricated structures and cart them away in a truck.

"I understood that they had bought them," he said.

But Herbert Legg, local housing manager, reported them stolen after finding no record of any sales.

BPA Manager Accused by Firm Official

BOISE, May 2 (AP)—An Idaho Power company official today accused southern Idaho Bonneville Power administration manager, Feris Gilkey, of "grossly irresponsible assertions" of his boss.

Robert A. Hogg, the utility's commercial manager, took issue with a statement by Gilkey that lower cost power brought into southern Idaho by the BPA should encourage expansion of the phosphate industry.

Hogg described as untrue what he determined an implication that the Idaho phosphate industry has not progressed "with its low-cost service from the tax-paying utilities and that BPA is essential to the industry's expansion."

"Nothing," said Hogg, "could be so far removed from the truth and the real facts."

Hogg said production at the Mammoth company's plant at Soda Springs has increased by 61.5 per cent between 1955 and 1963 as the result of improvements in the electric furnace method of processing fertilizer used by the firm.

The increase in Mammoth's production, said Hogg, "is in sharp and dramatic contrast to a decrease of one per cent in production by Victor Chemical company's furnace plant at Silver Bow, Mont."

"Victor," said Hogg, "is supplied with electricity at BPA's below-cost rates and in theory at least, is supposed to be enjoying all the benefits of BPA's low-cost power."

T. F. Girl Named May Queen At Idaho State University

IDAHO STATE UNIVERSITY, Pocatello, May 2—Catherine Anderson Lipman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Anderson, route two, Twin Falls, gained her second major Idaho State university crown Saturday as she was proclaimed the 1964 May queen.

Mrs. Lipman was elected by members of the Associated Women's Students officer in the week. The coronation of the May Queen was a highlight of the A.W.S. Mothers' week-end, which drew several hundred mothers of ISU students to the campus.

Mrs. Lipman's first ISU crown was that of Homecoming Queen in 1962. She is a member of Alpha Chi Omega sorority, the A.W.S. Religious council and Roger Williams fellowship. She has been a member of both Spurs and Chimes, honor societies for sophomore and junior women, and is currently president of Silver Tassel.

Mrs. Lipman has been on the honor roll at ISU and is scheduled in "Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities."

"The petite blond queen is a 1960 graduate of Twin Falls high school, where she was active in Girls' league, Pep club and Girls' Athlete association.

Mrs. Lipman is married to Don Lipman, a senior in pharmacy at Oakland, Calif. Upon their graduation this month, the Lipmans plan to move to the Oakland bay area, where Mrs. Lipman either will teach school or work as a clinical speech pathologist. Her husband will be associated with a pharmacy in the area.

Training for Retarded Is Requested

BOISE, May 2 (AP)—Dr. Terrell O. Carver, Idaho health administrator, says the governor's interdepartmental committee on children and youth may recommend legislation to require Idaho school districts to provide training for the mentally retarded.

Mrs. Fred Koehl, Boise, told the committee yesterday that legislation is needed. She said districts may provide the training now but must do it.

She felt that the mentally retarded are entitled to their share of education funds provided by the taxpayers and that some portion should be allocated to finance their education," she said.

Ross Barney, deputy superintendent of public instruction, said most school districts don't feel they can afford special programs for the trainable mentally retarded, without further financial help from the state.

Dr. Carver said a 10-member committee appointed by the board of health to survey the state's needs in the field of retardation is to meet in Sun Valley later this month and start work on a program for the legislature.

Mrs. Koch also asked the committee to stress the need for foster home placement for retarded children, expansion of public school curriculum to combat dropouts and expansion of the state youth camp program.

CRAG McMILLIN, son of Dr. and Mrs. James C. McMillin, Buhl, has been named fourth delegate to represent Buhl at the annual American Legion sponsored Boys State to be held June 1-7 at Boise Junior college. The 17-year-old youth is junior class representative at the local high school, a member of the Debate club, manager of the football team, lettered in golf and football, is an Eagle Scout and member of the Order of the Arrow. His sponsor is the Buhl Chamber of Commerce. Other delegates previously named are William Williams, Tony Glase and Danny Kern.

YOUR BIRTHDAY and HOROSCOPE

by STELLA

SUNDAY, May 3—Born today, you seem by nature geared to an appreciation of the mysterious and mystical. Coupled with your depth of feeling and your basic awareness of the spiritual aspect of life and living is an ability for communication rarely given to people who are destined to be less than great. Your talent for expressing even the most intricate ideas in words that anyone can understand should lead to a most satisfying career.

For all that you look upon things from an inner, spiritual point of view, you are not unaware of the harsher realities of life. The fact that you know well the problems of the poor, the unhappy, the ill, the lonely only makes it more important to you to spread your knowledge of the inner life and how to attain it to the common man.

Because you are so self-sufficient, so completely satisfied with the way you have been able to create for yourself, it may be that you never marry. For your own happiness it is not necessary that you do so, for the additional understanding of others that married life would give you, however, you might be wise not to preclude it.

Among those born on this date are: Nicolo Machiavelli, Florentine statesman, author; Krishna Menon, Indian diplomat; William Inge, playwright.

To find what is in store for you tomorrow, select your birthday and read the corresponding paragraph. Let your birthday star be your daily guide.

Monday, May 4

TAURUS, April 21-May 21—Take this Monday morning to carefully check on the practicality of all new ideas. Inspect all contracts carefully!

GEMINI, May 22-June 21—Caution advised in affecting all business deals. Don't be over-ruled by optimistic talk—consider your own limitations.

CANCER, June 22-July 23—Forceful action rather than wishful thinking can bring Cancer's goal considerably closer to reality.

LEO, July 24-Aug. 23—Keep at least one eye on the undercurrent of unrest. The day may look calm and predetermined—but it isn't.

VIRGO, Aug. 24-Sept. 23—A second look at any agreements you are asked to commit to writing. Practice— and care!—makes perfect.

LIBRA, Sept. 24-Oct. 23—Uncertainties may impede your progress, but a check of sources should lead to answers and more effective modes of work.

SCORPIO, Oct. 24-Nov. 23—Avoid giving your opinion regarding the personal affairs of others. Your approval, not your advice, is what's wanted!

SAGITTARIUS, Nov. 23-Dec. 23—A day in which everything glitters, and it is up to you to determine what is gold and what is fool's.

CAPRICORN, Dec. 23-Jan. 20—The clever rearrangement of private and professional affairs is all that is needed to get new projects off the ground.

AQUARIUS, Jan. 21-Feb. 19—Definite gains in store for the Aquarius who keeps his mind strictly on the business at hand. Avoid all social distractions.

PISCES, Feb. 20-March 20—Legal matters—involving a journey perhaps—may come up for your personal attention. Postpone closing deals.

ARIES, March 21-April 20—Protect your health. Things can go exceptionally well for the Aries who is in the pink of condition. Heat; eat wisely.

Shoshone School Budget Is Approved by Board Member

SHOSHONE, May 2—A 1964-65 Shoshone school budget totaling $200,266.16 was adopted Thursday night. No one met with the board of trustees to discuss or oppose the budget.

The new budget represents an increase in expenditures of about $12,000 over last year. The increase will be handled through taxes raised on property. The school mill levy remains the same. Total receipts from all sources for district schools is expected to be $235,260.42, an increase of $13,000 over last year.

The school district levy is 30 mills for general school purposes, seven and one-half mills on bond interest and redemption and four mills on school plant facilities fund.

By June 30, the bond debt will be $160,800.

Receipts show $200,266.16 will be from the general fund, $23,761.04 from the bond interest and redemption fund and $12,239.22 from the school plant facilities fund.

Expenditures for administration will be $10,820. This includes $8,300 for superintendent, $1,320 for district clerk and $1,200 for administrative supplies and expenses.

Instructional expenditures will be $5,770 for elementary principal; $6,812.50 for secondary principal; $55,805 for elementary teachers and $90,008 for secondary teachers. Total instructional expenses will be $138,266.25.

Textbooks and consumable supplies will be $7,700 which includes $3,000 for elementary school and $4,700 for secondary school.

Library costs will be $850, the same as last year, with operation of plant fund to be $10,000 as compared to $15,000 last year. The custodian's wages raised from $8,000 to $8,350. Janitor supplies raised from $500 to $700.

Maintenance of plant is estimated to be $3,500, while the amount used last year was $3,000. Total transportation costs are set at $10,000. Last year they were $20,040.

Social security will be $500 again this year and insurance will be $1,200.

Interest on the $10,000 bond will be $6,761.04.

The budget calls for an expenditure of $4,000 for remodeling the science room, $1,000 for science equipment, $1,600 for furniture, $2,400 for room lighting and $700 to be spent on lockers.

The balance carried forward over the past year will be $2,000 from the general fund, $20,000 on bond and interest and $2,000 on plant facilities, to make a total of $24,000 carried forward.

Lions Club to Sponsor Sale at Rupert Monday

RUPERT, May 2—The Rupert Lions club plans an annual Live, Inc. day in Rupert Monday when articles manufactured by blind people will be sold.

Chairman of the annual drive will be Jim Watson. Its aid members will be canvassing the community with the door-to-door selling Monday night.

Watson said members will be selling brooms, door mats and mop, manufactured by blind members of Live, Inc. He explained a new woven nylon carpet rope is included on the list for the first time this year.

Proceeds from the drive will go to the Lions club eyeglass program and the Memorial field lighting fund.

Party to be Held

BOZEMAN, May 2—Children born in 1950 at St. Benedict's hospital will have a party at 2 p.m. May 10. There will be games, contests and refreshments. A door prize will be given.

Queen's Infant Is Christened

WINDSOR, England, May 2 (AP)—Prince Edward-Antony Richard Louis, third son of Queen Elizabeth II and third in line to the throne, was christened today with water from the River Jordan in an Anglican ceremony at Windsor castle.

The seven-week-old prince gave a little cry when sprinkled with the water at the baptismal font in the queen's private chapel.

...alive to give her away next...
...month.

The brother, Graham, is being...
...sustained with an artificial...
...kidney machine. The transplant...
...surgery will be performed Sun...
...day.

"The doctors have assured us...
...that I am in no danger," Miss...
...Prews said. "They say the only...
...thing that can save his life is...
...one of my kidneys."

"I would never be able to live...
...with myself if I didn't go through...
...with this operation. I have nothing...
...to lose. Graham has every...
...thing to gain."

Miss Prews' fiancé, Ralph...
...Nichols, 20, said, "I am tremen...
...dously proud of her. She has...
...great courage." Nichols is also...
...a twin.

Miss Prews said that Graham...
...promised to give her away after...
...their father died four years ago.

"It will truly be the happiest...
...day of my life if he is well...
...enough," she said.

THE HORROR OF PARTY BEACH

WATCHING the special entertainment at the Twin Falls high school concert choir dinner party are several of the concert choir members. The dinner party was held at Kay's Supper club and is an annual event held by the group after a year of strenuous work in the choral group. Representing the administration and faculty at the banquet were George Staudaher, high school principal; Richard Haun, vice principal and dean of students, and R. Stan Owens, director of the chorus and director of vocal music for O'Leary Junior high school and the high school, and their wives. (Times-News photo)

T.F. Choir Members Feted At Special Annual Party

BY NORMA HERZINGER

As the school calendar nears the end of another momentous year, the Twin Falls high school concert choir members, having provided social programs for others throughout the year, enter the social scene themselves.

The past year has seen the Twin Falls high school concert choir take an active part in the social structure and progress of Twin Falls and of Magic Valley. In public concerts and by small-group manipulations, this group has been active in the social activities of the community.

After a year of very strenuous work in the choral group, the 125 members of the concert choir were honored at their annual choir dinner party at Kay's Supper club. This was an evening of fun and recognition for the young people and could be considered their "night out."

This semi-formal affair is considered a very special event, with the feminine members of the choir attired in their best party dresses. The special trophy award and outstanding entertainment added to the glamour of the evening for the young singers.

The Melody-Masters — Jerome Fiscus, Twin Falls; Jimmy Wallis, Filer, and Reuben Stelmets, Eden — provided background music and dance music for the choral group. This versatile trio is well known in Magic Valley, having been together as a group for some time, and having played for many Magic Valley dances.

The Jokers — Milfred Marsh and Keith Egbert — a pantomime duo, presented enthusiastic interpretations of record hits by such greats as Stan Freeburg and Spike Jones.

A special trophy was presented by R. Stan Owens, director of the chorus and director of vocal music, for O'Leary Junior high school and senior high school, to his choice for the outstanding choir member of the year.

This choice was not made upon the basis of scholastic achievement, but for the student who, during the year, gave the most outstanding participation or leadership to the group.

The trophy was awarded to Bob Nora, Jr., for his distinguished delivery of "Creation" in the spring concert and again at the Misco high school honor concert. Special recognition was given to the outgoing officers for this year, which are: Dennis Dosselt, president; William Robertson, vice president; Eleanor Bezold, secretary; Linda Kendrick, robe chairman; Judy Brown, librarian; Julie Staples, student director; Karen McKinney, accompanist, and Des Price, choir manager.

Also recognized were the new officers: Michael Barney is president; Nora, vice president; Johnnie Campbell, secretary; Connie Frith, treasurer; Linda Groves, robe chairman; Cheryl Warner, librarian, and the only past officer who was not a senior, Bill who will repeat in the office next year, Des Price, choir manager.

Representing the administration and faculty at this special dinner party were George Staudaher, senior high school principal, and Richard Haun, vice principal and dean of students, and their wives, and Mr. and Mrs. Owens.

Among the members of the choir this year are concerts in November, December, February and April, as well as participation in the television programming along with the Girls' chorus at Christmas time.

More recently the choir participated in the fourth district

Both the bride and bridegroom's mothers wore ankle length rows of blue brocade enhanced with corsages of white carnations with silver ribbon trim.

The newlyweds greeted guests at a wedding reception held at the Buhl LDS church. A background of green fern flanked by beauty baskets of orchid and white carnations and snapdragons formed the setting for the reception line.

The bride's table featured a white-satin tablecloth with a white gathered skirt draped with blue ribbon tied with miniature bouquets of orchid sweetpeas and bordered with a four-tiered square wedding cake.

The cake was decorated with blue and silver roses, bluebirds and orchid sweetpeas and bordered with a four-tiered square wedding cake.

The bride's attendants were Johnson, Tremonton, maid of honor, Bonnie Joergensen, Con-celler, Thall Lapray and Nelson; bridesmaids, and Lapray, junior bridesmaid, y were identical ankle-gowns of blue (crystal) accented with embroidered flower trim, and carried sets of white carnations on with an orchid tied with satin ribbons.

For her wedding trip, the new Mrs. Nelson changed to a white suit with pink accessories, and the orchid from her bridal bouquet. The newlyweds will reside at 230 South 200 east, Bountiful, Utah.

Guests attended from Washington, Utah and Idaho.

The bride is a graduate of Buhl high school and attended Utah State university for two years and was affiliated with the Sigma Kappa sorority.

The bridegroom attended Stevens-Henager college and fulfilled an LDS mission in the eastern United States.

Pre-nuptial events honoring the bride include a shower at the home of Mrs. Oleen Baggett, with Mrs. Newell Johnson, Judy Baggett and Mrs. Garth Alwood as co-hostesses; and a shower in Mrs. Nelson changed to a white suit with pink accessories, and the orchid from her bridal bouquet. Annual Dinner Party Held by Concert Choir

Festival at Minico high school, where it was given a superior rating, judged outstanding and asked to return for an honor concert on the following Monday evening.
During this concert the choir and now were given a standing ovation for their presentation of the "Creation."
In addition to the activity for the group in its recent recording, which will be available in the next two weeks.
The record will be made available to the public and accepted are interested; otherwise, it will be available only to the students, their families and friends. The title of the album is "Creation," and features Nora.
Included in the record album are 10 other songs by the concert choir and girls' chorus, including "Yellow Bird," "Moon River" and "Brazilian Peas.".
The highlight of the year may well be yet to come, for the final concert of the year will be a "Festival of Chorus" to be held at the high school gymnasium at 8 p.m. May 10.
This concert will include eight choral groups from the secondary school district. Groups slated to participate include the high school concert choir; girls' chorus and Madrigal singers. From Robert Stuart Junior high school, the eighth and ninth grade choruses will participate.
From O'Leary Junior high school, the seventh and eighth grade choruses and the ninth grade junior choir will take part. The specialty of the evening will be when all eight choirs join to sing the magnificent Ralph Vaughan-Williams setting of the Tallis canon, "Agnus Dei."
Directing the groups from the choir department will be Mrs. Richard Baum. All of the other groups will be directed by Owens. This unit is the first of the evening will be a song by Darwin Freeman, singing the "Irish Lullaby." The final song by the concert choir will be directed by the student director.
Accompanists for the various groups will include Louise Hopwood and Nancy Frasier, Robert Stuart Junior high school; Cheryl Kreuger, Barbara Buster, Dale Baum and Cheryl O'Leary at O'Leary Junior high school; and Nancy Brackett, Louise Larsen and Miss McKinney, Twin Falls high school.
The concert will be aired to the Magic Valley listening audience through the facilities of KJLK radio station.
Many parents, voicing favorable opinions of the Twin Falls high school music department, have been quoted saying, "Under the capable leadership of Owens, the choir has added extra touches to their concerts, such as special lighting effects and capturing of small moments which is an added pleasure to watch."
Looking ahead to the school year 1964-65, the following events will make a difficult but interesting schedule. Plans to make throughout the year will be music from the theater, to include operetta, light opera and Broadway shows. Groups will present lesser-known Christmas and Easter music in their departmental concerts, as well as works by some of the greatest composers of the classical and romantic eras.
Enrollment for the concert choir for this next year is 151. But the group will be limited to 125. Auditions for the choir are based upon previous experience in choral organizations in this and other school districts, and spirit of cooperation which the students exhibit during the year. The group only recently has areas are more common than just in today's newer homes. A separate dining room is a genuine luxury area in larger or older homes not found in the average floor plan.

Furniture Talk

If you have a family room, or an eating area in the kitchen for quick family meals, so much the better. But usually your living room dining area will serve for company meals and perhaps family dinner.

To gain visual space, let your living and dining areas flow together in the combination room. Use the same floor-length draperies, for instance, or wall-to-wall carpeting over the entire area. Pick out living room color in the seats of your dining chairs.

Many smaller dining room sets are available where space is limited, in a wide variety of styles. Many can double as game or bridge tables. A long, narrow table set against a wall or a dropleaf table, can be a fine solution, taking up minimum space when not in use.

Plan traffic areas carefully... and be sure to leave room for easy access to dining chairs! We'll gladly help you with your plans, and you'll find many happy solutions to your dining area furnishings in our displays. Stop in and look them over!

Spud Pact Is Approved By Growers

BURLEY, May 2—District six growers of the Magic Valley potato growing and marketing association have approved a contract with Idaho potato processors, Inc.

The association president explained the contract has a base of $1.23 for all usable potatoes containing 60 per cent solids and 20 per cent moisture. It is an increase of 13 cents per bushel for each percentage point that the grade of potatoes exceeds 60 per cent solids and 20 per cent moisture. It is a decrease of 13 cents below 50 per cent of No. 1.

The official explained the contract will pay for all No. 1 and No. 2 potatoes weighing more than 25 pounds 10-ounce and larger, up to 45 per cent the sum of 1.23 per hundredweight for each percentage point above 60 per cent solids and 20 per cent moisture. It will reduce the price for all 1 and 2 grade potatoes weighing less than 20 per cent of 10-ounce potatoes.

Growers added the contract as approved by the Idaho Potato Processors, Inc. in a virtual unanimous vote. The contract was approved by the J. R. Simplot company. He said Simplot has not yet accepted the contract.

He said the contract as offered by Simplot's has not been approved by the local association. The contract offered by Simplot will not enable growers to meet the cost of production and make a reasonable profit.

The official stated that any contract similar to the one offered by Simplot will be approved by the growers.

The purpose of the association is not to hinder the grower, but to attempt to negotiate a contract that the farmer can live with, he said.

BURNED CROSS is carried by Austin Moore, 21, a student at Tougaloo college, Tougaloo, Miss., at a protest by hundreds of Methodists Saturday in Pittsburgh, Pa. Buhl Judge Has Policy For Minors Consuming Beer

BUHL, May 2—Harry Jennings, Buhl police judge and justice of the peace, said he intends to institute a "get-tough" policy on minors consuming beer and those persons responsible for furnishing minors with alcoholic beverages.

Jennings noted there has been a marked increase in the sale of beer and other alcoholic beverages to minors, in Magic Valley during the past several years.

In an effort to change this trend, Jennings pointed out, he intends to impose severe punishment upon all persons convicted of furnishing beer or other alcoholic beverages to minors, as provided by the Idaho law.

"The minimum penalty will call for the revocation of the license to sell beer for those having such license in addition to a fine of $300 and a jail sentence of six months."

Jennings said, "Any minor over whom I have jurisdiction found guilty of consuming or being unlawfully in the possession of beer or other alcoholic beverages will be dealt severely."

Filer Council Grants Zoning Reclassification

FILER, May 2—The Filer city council has granted a zoning reclassification request.

The new zoning law changes the area specified as lot 7, block 2 of the Cedarholm subdivision from R-2, a multi-family district to R-1, a semi-commercial district which will permit such construction as rest homes or doctors' offices in the area.

The Cedarholm subdivision is west of main street and contains a number of new residences which have been built in the last few years.

Sixth Grade Has Arbor Day Program

SHOSHONE, May 2—An Arbor day program was held Friday at Lincoln school by sixth grade students, under the direction of Mrs. Ralph Anderson, teacher.

There were recitations, choral readings, songs and other musical numbers. All 26 students in the class had speaking parts.

Lowell Pearson was accompanist for group singing and played several piano solos.

Busan Neher, Ann Freeman, Fredi Forbes and Michael Manning, accompanied on the guitar by Michael Manning, sang.

Busan Neher reviewed the history of Arbor day and Wanda Elliott reported on fires.

Alma Cheney reported on the state tree, the white pine.

After the program, the students planted two white poplar trees on the school playgrounds. Parents were guests.

Four File For Rupert School Board

RUPERT, May 2—Mindioka county school officials said four candidates have filed for the two board of trustee positions in the district.

Mindioka county school clerk Len Merrill said Rose Corias, incumbent in the Heyburn sub-district, filed for re-election. Opposing Corias will be Leo Moore, an Emerson district farmer, who became the first candidate to file last week.

In the Rupert city sub-district, incumbent Dr. Howard O. Toeva, a Rupert dentist, and Mrs. Elaine Burton, a housewife, have filed for the position.

The election will be held May 11 with parents of children under 21 and real property owners in the two sub-districts voting on their respective trustees.

The polls will be opened from noon to 8 p.m. at the Heyburn and Washington schools.

Meet Set to Form Unit of Appraisers

A meeting to consider the organizing of an Idaho society of professional farm and ranch managers and appraisers will be held here at 9 p.m. Monday in the American Legion hall.

This meeting is being called by a committee which was appointed a year ago and which is co-chaired by L. James Koutnik and David R. Mead, both of Twin Falls. The committee will have recommendations regarding a proposed constitution and by-laws to present for the consideration of those attending.

Present at this meeting will be Harold F. Norman, De Kalb, Ill., who is executive-treasurer of the American Society of Farm Managers and Rural Appraisers.

A good representation is expected from the society's Idaho membership. All others interested in the establishment of an Idaho organization are invited to attend.

The American society is the national organization of those in professional farm, ranch and plantation management and professional rural appraising. It was founded in 1929 and now has over 1,450 members throughout the North American continent and in foreign countries.

Tractor Driver Cited for Crash

Frank M. Montgomery, 41, of Filer, was cited by Idaho state police officers for failure to yield the right of way after a car-tractor accident at 8:30 a.m. Friday, one mile east and two miles south of Filer.

The investigating officer reported that Montgomery, driving a 1959 Case tractor, drove the tractor from a private driveway into the path of a 1960 Rambler driven by Harold L. Touhy, 26, route 7, Filer.

Damage was estimated at $200 to the car and $75 to the tractor. No injuries were reported.

David Lee Speaks to Rotary Club

HAILEY, May 2 - David Lee, Sawtooth national forest recreational officer, stationed at the Sawtooth valley ranger station, was guest speaker and showed colored scenic slides of the Stanley Basin area during a meeting of the Halley Rotary club Thursday noon.
Lee was stationed at the Redfish lake information center during its first season last summer. He explained the tremendous increase in visitors to the forest in past few years, the interest in nature hikes, the evening movies at the center, depicting scenes of our nation and of friendships made by people from all parts of the nation in forest service camps.
Lee was introduced by program chairman John Combs. Ted Brannen, secretary of the Ketchum-Bun Valley club, attended and invited Halley members to attend the annual ladies night to be held Saturday, Ernest Odermatt was a guest.

SIPCA Is Ranked Fifth Nationally

Southern Idaho Production Credit association ranked fifth among the nation's 484 PCAs in the amount of credit extended during 1963.
Earl R. Stansell, Twin Falls, manager, said today, a national report shows southern Idaho ranked 11th in loans outstanding of Dec. 31, 1963, eight in net worth ratios from accumulated earnings; 14th in total net worth owned by farmers and 18th in capital stock owned by farmer and rancher members.
Southern Idaho PCA, with headquarters at Twin Falls and branch offices at Burley and Coalinga, extended $27,302,000 of agricultural credit in 1963, about $1,000,000 more than in 1962 when it ranked fourth in the nation.
At 1963's end it had $14,803,000 in loans outstanding and members owned $1,380,325 in capital stock. Net worth reserves from accumulated earnings totaled over $1,000,000.
The farmer-owned agricultural lending institution also ranked nationally last year in net worth ratios and capital stock owned by its members.
Farmers throughout the nation borrowed a record 3.4 billion dollars from their 484 PCAs during 1963, the report noted. Funds for these loans come through sales of securities to the investing public.

NORTHERN DANCER WINS RUN FOR ROSES

Hartack Guides Winner Under Wire Just Ahead of Fast-Closing Hill Rise

LOUISVILLE, May 2 (AP)—Northern Dancer out-duled Hill Rise in a sizzling quarter-mile, and Bill Hartack rode Willie Shoemaker today as the 90th running of the Kentucky derby lived up to its advance billing with a derby record time. With a crowd estimated by Churchill Downs officials in excess of 100,000 screaming, Hartack sent the Canadian-owned Northern Dancer under the wire with only a neck separating him from the fast-closing Hill Rise, favorite in the field of 12 leading 3-year-old horses.

ALL ANGLES
AT LARRY BOVY
The little tempo in a teapot was brewed in Twin Falls last night. Two weeks ago the city had a golf pass that was embarrassing to the city and the golfers. The golfers had no money to pay for the pass and the city was embarrassed. The city has now decided to sell the pass for $1.00. The city has now decided to sell the pass for $1.00. The city has now decided to sell the pass for $1.00.

When the old city commission, which was just plain short-sighted, decided to sell the pass for $1.00, it was just plain short-sighted. The city has now decided to sell the pass for $1.00. The city has now decided to sell the pass for $1.00. The city has now decided to sell the pass for $1.00.

But there was pure logic in the city's decision. The city has now decided to sell the pass for $1.00. The city has now decided to sell the pass for $1.00. The city has now decided to sell the pass for $1.00. The city has now decided to sell the pass for $1.00.

Each savings could have continued if the commission hadn't pushed heading into its complete closure decision. Some clear-headed people in the city saw the light. Indians Edge Orioles 6-4 In 13 Innings

BALTIMORE, May 2 (AP)—The American league-leading Cleveland Indians scored three runs in the 13th inning on two hits, one of them a home run and held off the Baltimore Orioles 6-4 today.

Little Val Davallo started the evening rally off—relief pitcher Harvey Haddix with a single, his third hit of the game, and continued to second when either fielder or Russ Snyder fumbled the ball. Haddix, the fifth Oriole pitcher, then hit Leon Wagner with a pitch and walked Al Smith intentionally to load the bases.

The race was won at the top of the home stretch after Hartack and Shoemaker had kept a watchful eye on each other through the first six furlongs. Northern Dancer and Hill Rise both were off the pace but never more than a length separated the pair.

Near the pole marking the top of the stretch and with one-quarter mile remaining, Hartack's Northern Dancer moved with the Dancer, Hill Rise, who had lost ground in a wide sweep out of the backstretch, quickly moved to the challenge.

Hartack Says Derby Plan Worked Well

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 2 (AP)—Jockey Bill Hartack was riding Northern Dancer, but his attention was focused on favorite Hill Rise today in the Kentucky derby. "I had him in my sights all the time," Hartack said after scoring his fourth-derby victory aboard the gritty little Canadian colt, Northern Dancer. "As we came to the stretch, I was tugging the Dancer every step. It's a good little horse. He's all blood and guts and he tries hard."

Hartack brought the little guy riding with Hill Rise, and took the lead in the last quarter. Hartack said that when he got out of bed Saturday morning his doubts he had about winning were gone.

Hartack loved every minute of it. "I got $200 worth of tickets on your horse—you're the great man," said a shyly dressed man. "Where's my half?" Hartack said. "I did all the work," Hartack was mobbed by thousands of fans in the jockey quarters. Four police officers tried to keep them away, but their efforts were in vain. Someone handed Hartack a program and asked for his autograph, thus beginning an hour-long autograph session.

Lippuner, Barnes Win Two Events For New Champs

GOODING, May 2—Double winners Werner Lippuner, a Swiss exchange student, andushman Barnes paced the Jerome Tikers to the first South Central Idaho conference track and field championship ever held Friday. The Tikers piled up 73 points against 82 for runner-up Mountain Home. Gooding took third with 20 while Buhl had 17 and Flor 6.

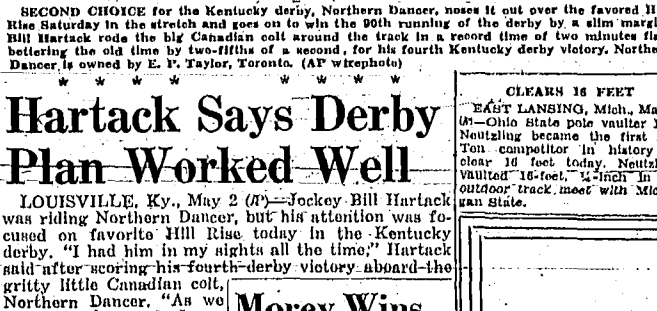

Lippuner wound up the top point hunt of the day, thanks to a relay team as Mountain Home's Tech West equaled him in the individual events. Lippuner won the high hurdles and 220-yard dash and started Jerome's 440-yard relay team to victory. He added a second in the broad jump.

West seconded Lippuner in the 220-yard dash and then won the broad jump and high jump. Barnes took the 100 and 440-yard dashes.

Gooding was the only other team to win an event, the Senator breaking Jerome's domination of the relay by winning the mile event and adding a first in the 440-yard dash. Probably the best effort was the 52-foot, 5-inch shot put mark by Jerome's Dennis Smith.

The summary:
High hurdles—Lippuner, Jerome; Barnes, Gooding, 16.1.
220-yard dash—Lippuner, Jerome; Barnes, Gooding, 1:13.8.
100-yard dash—Lippuner, Jerome; Barnes, Gooding, 1:13.8.
440-yard dash—Lippuner, Jerome; Barnes, Gooding, 1:13.8.
52-foot, 5-inch shot put—Smith, Jerome, 52-5.
Broad jump—Lippuner, Jerome; Barnes, Gooding, 16.1.
High jump—Lippuner, Jerome; Barnes, Gooding, 4-11.

Mathews and Torre Spark Braves' Win
MILWAUKEE, May 2 (AP)—Eddie Mathews and Joe Torre broke out of hitting slumps with four hits each as the Milwaukee Braves mounted their mightiest attack of the season and mauling the Philadelphia Phils 11-2 today behind the pitching of Bob Sadek.

SECOND CHOICE for the Kentucky derby, Northern Dancer, noses it out over the favored Hill Rise Saturday in the stretch and goes on to win the 90th running of the derby by a slim margin. Bill Hartack rode the big Canadian colt around the track in a record time of two minutes flat, bettering the old time by two-fifths of a second, for his fourth Kentucky derby victory. Northern Dancer is owned by E. P. Taylor, Toronto. (AP Wirephoto)

Morey Wins North, South Golf Tourney

YNEBURST, N.C., May 2 (AP)—Dale Morey built a five-hole lead in the morning round then stayed off a late rush by Billy Joe Patton to win the North and South amateur golf championship today. Morey, 43-year-old high school N.C. furniture executive, shot three-over-par 75 golf in the morning, against 82 for Patton, 39-year-old lumberman from Massachusetts.

Snows in Mountain Regions Belie Nearness of Forest Fire Season

Forest fire time is just around the corner. With snow still deep in the mountain areas of the Sawtooth national forest, some might find it hard to believe the time calling for extreme caution is near. For those skeptics who believe it will never happen here, Theron Larson, fire control officer for the Sawtooths, has a few pertinent figures in his record files.

For instance, during the past three summer seasons, 42 fires were caused. Most of these came about from careless smokers or campers, the official records show.

Total number of fires recorded in the Sawtooth area during the years 1921, '22 and '23 came to 135-71 in 1921; 39 in 1922 and 46 in 1923.

The average burn per year within the Sawtooth boundaries during the past 10 years has amounted to 2,300 acres, which includes brush and grass. During that same 10 years there have been 3,500 acres of timber gone up in flames. That would average out about 350 acres a year.

Right now, average moisture (in the form of snow) over the Sawtooth forest is between 65 and 95 per cent of normal. Although deep snow, which hangs on late into the tourist season before it finally melts, is thought of as being a hindrance to forest fires, this is not always the case.

"The fire season actually is determined by the moisture which falls on the forest areas during the summer months," Larson said.

"A heavy winter snow means lush vegetation and then when this is followed by a dry summer, the deep grass becomes a danger."

TREES which took more than 50 years to reach this size, in some cases, officials of the Sawtooth National Forest urge extra caution on the part of visitors. Many fires over the past three years were caused by careless smokers and campers. This picture was taken last summer during a fire north of Keloham in the Wood-stee-vailey section. Location of the fire was east of highway 53 in a wooded section. (Times-News photo)

TWIN FALLS, IDAHO, SUNDAY, MAY 3, 1964

Idaho IOOF Lodge Starts Second Century; T.F. Lodge 59 Years Old

Idaho Independent Order of Odd Fellows — one of the oldest fraternal groups in the state — started on the second-100th anniversary of its organization in Idaho on March 14, 1864, and was the first lodge No. 1. The first lodge of the organization was instituted in Idaho on March 14, 1864, and was the first lodge No. 1. The first lodge of the organization was instituted in Idaho on March 14, 1864, and was the first lodge No. 1.

REVEREND CUP won 43 years ago by members of Twin Falls lodge No. 21, Independent Order of Odd Fellows, is inspected by T. J. Lloyd, left, second oldest living past grand master, Garl Ridgeway, vice president of department, Patriarcha Millant of Idaho IOOF of Idaho. Lloyd is from Twin Falls, and Ridgeway is from Kimberly. The latter is slated to become president of the council next year. The Idaho IOOF first was organized at Idaho City on March 14, 1864. (Times-News photo)

Twin Falls lodge No. 23 a little over 47 years ago and who today is the second oldest living past grand master, grand lodge of Idaho.

The Twin Falls lodge was given the number 23 when it was instituted on March 25, 1905. The number itself was historic even then because it originally had designated the Rocky Bar lodge, which was started in 1888, but which ended when gold supply practically disappeared from the surrounding hills and the community "folded."

The Twin Falls charter, displayed at the local hall, shows that the state capital was then "Boise City" at that time.

Nationwide, the 160th anniversary of the start of the organization was observed April 26. The first lodge was instituted in 1819.

In Twin Falls the 60th anniversary of the local lodge will be observed by a special celebration on the anniversary date, March 25, 1965, Lloyd said. He was joined in this declaration by Garl Ridgeway, Kimberly, who will be president of department council Patriarcha Millant of Idaho at that time.

In the entire state the organization now has a membership of 15,000, including those in affiliated groups. There are now 82 subordinate lodges, records show, as well as 92 Rebekah lodges.

One of the main projects undertaken by the organization is the maintaining of a home for the aged and infirm lodge members at Caldwell.

Also at Caldwell is a museum sponsored by the various lodges. "It has been the policy of the organization, since first organized, to do things without seeking undue publicity," Lloyd said here. "As a result of this policy, the general public is not aware of the many humanitarian accomplishments of Odd-Fellowship."

"However, we feel right now that after operating for 160 years in Idaho, nearly 80 years in Twin Falls and 146 in the nation, our horn should be tooted just a little."

"The emblem of the order, the three links, represents our belief of friendship, love and truth. Ours is one of the oldest fraternal orders in the world. It was the first fraternal organization to organize auxiliaries, permitting ladies to participate in the affairs of the order."

He added that another practice of the order is to maintain thousands of dollars available on loans to interested and qualified students to continue higher education.

"In Twin Falls we are looking forward to the observance of our 60th birthday next March and the community at large will be asked to join in the observance," Lloyd concluded.

Local Senior Nearing Record of 12 Years Without Missing Classes

Mark Detweiler feels much like the track star who is out in front, but who has one more hurdle to jump. Will he make it?

Actually, young Detweiler's down-the-home-stretch feeling has nothing to do with track. He is the only one in the Twin Falls high school with such a feeling.

It just happens that Mark has never missed a day of school since he started in the first grade. He is now a senior and will graduate the end of May.

He is the only member of his class to have such a record. George Staudaher, the school principal, has been in the profession nine years, and years before—that was attending school himself. He says this is the first such record he has run into.

"I'm not saying it never has happened," Staudaher said, as young Detweiler's records were being checked at the high school, "but it is the first case I've ever run into where a student went the entire 12 years and never missed a day of school."

The school official points out that when you stop and think just how many things could happen to a student, during a 12-year span that would force him to stay home, it becomes even more remarkable.

As far as Detweiler is concerned, he says he is "just lucky."

"Did he ever get any breaks that helped him toward this unusual record? He did, he says.

For instance, there was that time he fell and broke an arm. It happened just after school one Friday afternoon. By the time Monday rolled around the arm was in a cast and he was ready to return to classes.

Then there was the time he had an operation for removal of an appendix which was "acting up." This happened during summer vacation. Result—no school missed.

"Mother tells me I had all the child diseases before I even got old enough to start school," he said. "That really helped, because that was out of the way before I enrolled."

His perfect attendance record has been set entirely in Twin Falls. He was a student at the Lincoln grade school for four years and Morningdale grade school for two years. He then went through the junior high grades at O'Leary, before getting out to the high school.

Right now he is more cautious than ever.

"I'm practically afraid to move," he laughs. "If I can just keep plugging away I'll have it made before too long."

And after the perfect record of attendance for 12 years, then what?

He will go on to college and hopes to keep up the record.

"It would be fun to get through college, without missing any days," he said. "That would make a total of 16 years."

Then he mused, "Just think, if I made that many more years there would always be the challenge of not missing any working days after I started in a profession."

Mark is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Detweiler, 1622 Ninth avenue east.

EXAMINING OFFICIAL records which prove he has never missed a day of school in 12 years, Mark Detweiler, left, scans the evidence safely kept in a vault at the Twin Falls high school. George Staudaher, school principal, right, points out that the senior, scheduled for graduation late in May, is the only member of his class with such a record. Detweiler's record was established while attending local schools from the first through the 12th grade. (Times-News photo)

Big Lake Trout in Panhandle Region Prove Lure for Scores of Fishermen

By THE HUMBOLDT
The Game Department of Idaho's far west, called the Emerald about as often as the side, and much of the found in the lure fisherman in all parts of the nation many foreign countries bring the region and spend in of the big tackle-questers they live now, according to the early Upper Priest lakes and the giant lakers and at Mackinaw trout on April 18, and Pend Oreille used for Kamloops rain-at May 2, the general open-date for early fishing on the lakes of the five counties at the top of the state.
Accidental with these early fishing starts (the general trout season does not begin May 30 this year) are fisheries sponsored by the Department of Commerce at Priest lakes and Sandpoint. Since these are just getting underway, winners are unknown.
But during the first week of the mackinaw at Priest April 15-19, 17 lakers were caught and their combined weight was 526 pounds. And Sun-April 25 a "Red" was the record for mackinaw was by Ernest Herman, Spokane, who boated a 54-pound fish.
Other big macks landed this year include a 49 pounder by Bradford of Finchburg, a pound lunker by Ray Bos-Spokane, and a 40-pound
by Bill Hatcher, Sandpoint. This information was provided by the Russell Bishop ma-at Priest Lake-Ooclin.
Here's more. Priest lake is the body of water in the called that produces macks of big enough to get annual rings in the national field and season records. The previous record taken at Priest lake was taken in 1961 by Ken Hunter, weighed 51 pounds, two ounces,
the biggest Kamloops rain-trout was netted on Lake and Oreille in 1947 hooked by Hammett. Its weight was cool 37 pounds, and the all-time Idaho record for Dolly weighed 32 pounds and was taken by Nelson Higgins on Oreille in 1949.
The big grow big in Priest and Oreille lakes because of other justly famous placers—
the kokanee, rainbow trout and blueback salmon. Many often ignore the lunkers in of this summer's stream-times catching enough to fill the food lockers during a season. The daily limit on both Priest and Pend Oreille lakes is kokanee, with no possession limit.
Mackinaw, Kamloops and Dolly are good for the delectable ko-kane, too.
The Parsons, sr., Sandpoint lakes has spent many years studying these fish species and drawing world attention to them.
He says that with this abundance of food, Kamloops rainbows can grow up to 15 pounds and weigh usually as four and five-year-olds. Dolly Vardens, although over in their growth rate, also hit on the pounds when they reach a kokanee diet.
The fishing season on these lakes opens a season or so ahead of the general state season, May 30, because the trout fish are taken in the largest number in May and June and shipping the summer and November.
Priest lake remains open to Mackinaw fishing until Dec. 15, and Pend Oreille Kamloops trout and Dolly Varden angling will continue until Nov. 30, when the lake fishing ends in the northern counties. Kokanee fishing is permitted in Pend Oreille and Priest lakes on a year-round basis.
Parsons writes in the current also Fishing and Hunting guide that "the usual technique in fishing for big Kamloops and Dollies (and mackinaw) is to roll a plug or large spoon far behind the boat, 300 to 500 feet.
It's also wise to have as much of more line in reserve on the reel.
Many veteran anglers think the most important thing is to adjust boat speed so that the individual fish is presented with the correct and effective action—at the right time and place.
This is a not-so-easy task in Lake Pend Oreille, which is 65 miles long and up to six miles wide. About half of it is 1,000 or more feet deep.
Parsons describes Priest lake

THIS 51-POUND "has been" was outweighed by a new champion boated April 25 by Russ Herman, Spokane, weighing 54 pounds, the new all-time Idaho record mackinaw lake trout was taken in Priest lake, near the USMNH. The former record-holding fish, above, is held by the man who hooked and landed it in 1961, Ken Hunter. Other macks over 40 pounds already have been caught this year. Priest lake is the only body of water in the United States that produces macks of a size to get annual ratings in the national field and stream records.

and Upper Priest lake as "26,000 acres of clear, pure water." They are 18.5 and 3.2 miles in length, respectively, and fed by more than 20 streams, and fringed by long stretches of wide sandy beaches, surrounded by pine, fir and spruce timberlands.
Beyond are the 7,000-foot peaks of the Selkirk divide, and Montana. To the north, the Canadian line is hardly more than a stone's throw. High mountain lakes are characteristic of these mountains, mostly accessible by trails.
Priest lake and Upper Priest are connected by a two-mile, slow moving river called The Thoroughfare. This is a navigable natural canal, providing the only access to Upper Priest lake and the wild beauty surrounding it.
Two developed boat camps with minimum "people facilities" are available here. Similar camps are located on the west side of the

Applications Taken for Justice Post

SHOSHONE, May 2—Written applications for the position of justice of peace for Lincoln county are being received at the county clerk's office between now and May 11 when county commissioners will meet.
The commissioners will then study the applications. Final decision will be rendered after consultation with the probate and district judges.
The Idaho law provides the justice of peace shall be appointed by and may be removed at the discretion of the board of county commissioners of the county and the probate judge, "providing all such appointments and removals shall be with the approval of the senior judge of the district court for the county."
The senior judge for Lincoln county is District Judge Charles Scoggin.

Steady Rise Is Reported for Measles in U.S.

ATLANTA, May 2 (AP)—The U.S. communicable-disease center (CDC) has reported a continuing rise in measles cases throughout the nation.
It said a total of 29,899 cases of measles was reported for the week ending April 25.
This, said CDC, makes the third straight week that reported measles cases have exceeded 25,000 — "a figure well in excess of the median figure for measles cases reported during the same weeks of 1959 to 1963."
The department recently completed a rock-breakwater jetty, which always will be above the high-water line, and a double-width concrete boat ramp. Docks will be built later. The jetty thrusts 330 feet into the lake and requires 13,540 cubic yards of rock fill.
But most visitors are mainly interested in fish. Even inexperienced anglers can catch kokanee in numbers which they never would have believed possible, while the veterans go after the trophies at Priest and Pend Oreille lakes, sometimes catching two of the big fellows in a single day.

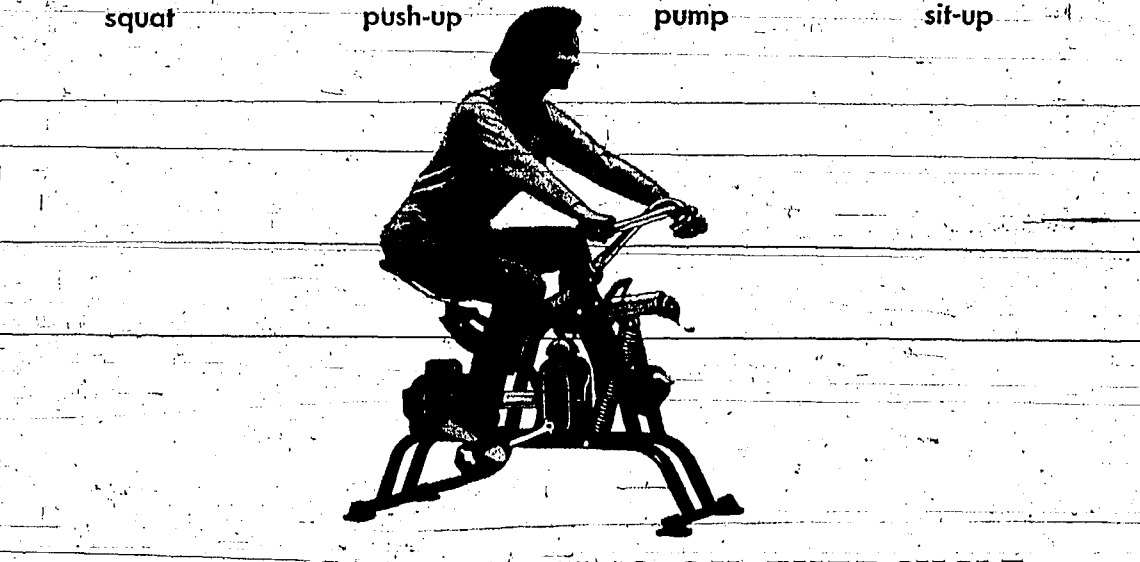

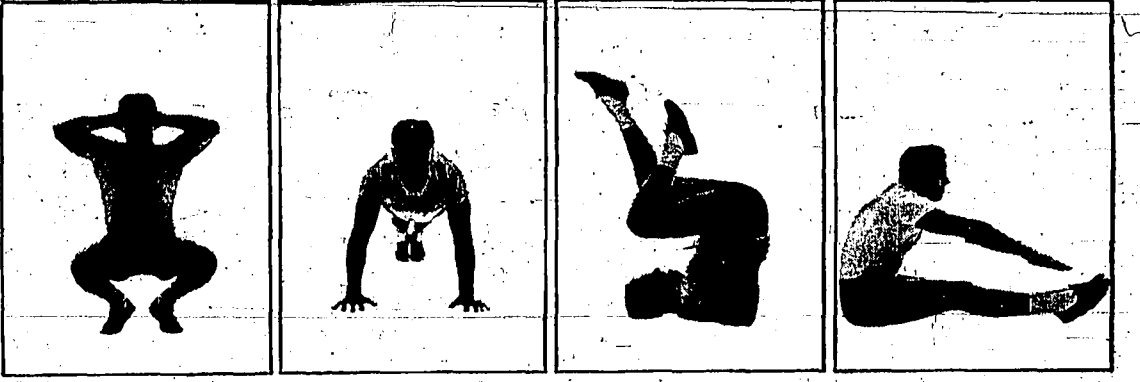

THIS 30-YEAR-OLD piano is played by Mrs. August Bremers, Eden area resident. The piano was purchased from a wagon peddler in Nebraska. Mr. and Mrs. Bremers have decided their musical days are over and the piano must go. Mrs. Bremers recalls many school teachers used the piano for instruction. (Times-News photo)

Eden Resident Decides to Abandon Piano Bought From Peddler's Wagon

EDEN - HAZELTON, May 2—Reluctantly Mrs. August Bremers has decided to part with her piano, which she has had since her early childhood. Although she can still pound out a pretty good tune, it just isn't worth the effort any more.
For more than 55 years she has treasured her piano—since the day her father purchased it from a wagon peddler in Nebraska.
At that time she was a small girl and a piano represented quite a gift. She recalls that the peddler was blind and operated out of a wagon. This was in the small town of Stapleton, Neb.
"It was the only piano around for miles and people would make special trips to our place to hear it played," she said.
As our house was located close to the school, many of the teachers boarded and roomed with the family. The presence of a piano was an added attraction, because it helped with musical instruction, she added.
"The teacher staying with us that year automatically became my piano instructor. Sometimes I had good teachers and some were really poor musicians. Little by little I learned how to play."
The entire family was mutually inclined and we often spent the entire evening doing what the modern generation would term a "hootenanny."
In 1918 she and her husband departed for Idaho, settling first at Piler and then finally moving onto the present Bremers' farm in 1920.
Over the years her children, and now her grandchildren, have thumped out tunes on the old piano. August Bremers often would join the group with his violin.
Now that all that is behind her, she has decided to sell her half-century-old one-owner piano.
Mrs. Bremers claims her playing kept her fingers nimble for many years. Often she would

Fear Mounts As Colony Swings Left

BRAZZAVILLE, Congo Republic, May 2 (AP)—The government of this former French colony is turning sharply to the left, causing Western fears that communist penetration may follow.
The United States, which long ago considered a friend, is verged with suspicion and frequently with hostility.
President Alphonse Massamba-Debat, hoisted to power last August by a revolt of the labor unions, insists he wants to lead the country toward "positive, neutralism" in "peaceful revolution."
A group of Marxist cabinet members is giving the regime an increasingly pro-Eastern tone. Massamba-Debat, still not sure of a peaceful, gradualist way being agreed with the current.
Restless youths of Marxist-leaning organizations are forming revolutionary committees throughout the country. Anti-while feeling rises and falls periodically across the Congo river, nearly four years ago.
French officials' count mainly on the fact that this land of 800,000 people needs France to keep going.
But French diplomats admit that in Africa economic reasons do not always halt political recklessness.
The government's Marxist tone is given mainly by Premier Pascal Lisouba, Commerce Minister Alime Matalika, Foreign Minister Charles David-Cangoo and the health and education minister, Bernard Galiba.
switch to fancy needlework and occupy her spare time in this manner.
"It's hard to part with an old childhood friend, she says. The only other thing comparable to the piano in sentimental value is the state winter she carried to class as a young schoolgirl.
The state isn't as hard to care for or pack around as a 600-pound piano.

MAGIC VALLEY PORTRAIT . . . T.F. Resident Believes Community Service Is Best at Many Levels

Thomas George Walker is one man who believes in serving a community all the way down the line, from volunteer projects to religious projects, to youth projects—working with several benevolent organizations.

In his American Legion activities he helps serve youth. He is active in his church and was one of the tireless workers in behalf of drive to raise funds of the child auditorium. He is an active member of his church and has found time to serve in civic clubs.

Still he has ample time to devote to his business. This is all possible because his wife doubles as his "girl Friday" in business and his civic undertakings. Originally, the Walkers had three stores—two distilleries. They were going to operate a simple business and not get too involved with projects.

His goal at that time was to own his own jewelry store. However, he prefers his present occupation because he gets to meet people.

Walker is a native of southern Idaho. He was born Dec. 11, 1917, in Hamlet.

He attended Halley schools and, for the most part, was content to simply be the home-town boy who would make good in the home town. However, things didn't turn out quite the way he planned.

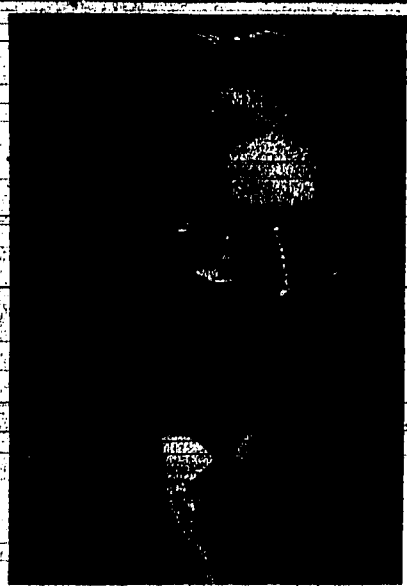

In the first place, there was World War II and Walker emerged from the war a chief petty officer in the United States Navy. Then he married the former Rose Astorquia on Jan. 4, 1948.

His plans at that time were to return to college and learn the jewelry business. Then they were going to open a jewelry store in Halley, content to stay in the old home town.

Walker's education background is quite widespread. Besides attending Bradley university, he also attended business college in Boise and attended the University of Virginia.

The one-year stay at the University of Virginia came about because of a job he took. He was an chauffeur for P. Lorillard of the Lorillard Tobacco company family.

Twin Falls was a logical location for a business and Twin Falls also offered other advantages. The Walkers wanted their children to attend Catholic schools. There was no Catholic school in Halley and Twin Falls had St. Edward's school.

THOMAS GEORGE WALKER

The Walker children include Thomas, 16, attending George Washington University—Constance, 15, attending St. Scholastica's academy, Canon City, Colo., and Barbara, 7, attending St. Edward's.

The Walkers have no regrets about abandoning their original plans to own a jewelry store in Halley.

Walker has since taken an active role in many community affairs. He is past commander for the American Legion. He was elected fifth district commander recently. He is the grand knight of the Knights of Columbus, trustee of Twin Falls Elks lodge, member of the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce, served on the city-auditorium committee and has several positions in the Idaho Beer Dealers association.

He is a member of the board of directors for the Idaho Beer Distributors association. He is a member of the National Beer Warehouse association, former member of Rotary and is precinct committeeman for the Democratic party.

He also is a former member of Toastmasters and is now on the governing board at St. Edward's parish for the construction of a new Knights of Columbus hall. He also finds time to work in behalf of Bruin Boosters.

His relaxation is as "varied" as his business and community life. He enjoys hunting, fishing, golf, ball games, family outings and water skiing. He believes in taking full advantage of what the area offers in recreation. He also believes in giving the area his fullest support.

STATELY POPLARS which have marked Hagerman valley since the 1880's are doomed. The trees will come down in the area of the Hagerman and Justice ranches when highway widening work gets under way this spring and summer. Residents argue pro and con as to merits of the tree removal. They have shaded highway 39 in the valley section since the road first was made a major route across the state. Any road widening project in the area will force removal of the trees. (Times-News photo)

Highway Widening Plan at Hagerman To Force Removal of Stately Poplars

HAGERMAN, May 2 — History is progressing. These two concepts of life are grounds for argument in the Hagerman area these days as the state approaches for new highway construction to start work which will result in uprooting many of the valley's famed poplar trees which were planted starting in 1880.

The tall trees, which line and shade much of highway 39 north of Hagerman, are doomed to destruction as a result of the plan to widen the highway in the area.

The area in which the trees are slated for removal is on the John Hagerman ranch property on the east side of the road and the Arthur Justice place on the west side.

Walter Ordley, for whom the Ordley bridge, which spans the Snake river, was named, says the Banborn ranch was taken out of operation in the 1880's by Idaho Padgett Charles Ordley, Walter's father, was next owner of the property. The original poplars were planted by the Padgetts.

Banborn relates that the trees were young when he moved onto the place. That was 50 years ago in a decreed water right dated 1881 and originally was used for placer mining.

The new highway will take a full width of the road and right-of-way at the north end of the ranch and will vary from 30 to 40 feet at different sites along the ranch boundary.

All the trees on the Banborn side are slated for removal and the trees and about 10 feet of land will come off the Justice side.

Even though the work is slated to get under way this spring and

Bargain Day at Soda Springs

Everybody loves a bargain! When the Bonneville Power Administration recently announced a contract with a phosphorus producer in eastern Idaho, the bargain added up to a subsidy of some $2,000,000 per year — and that ain't bay.

The catch is that the subsidy is expected to come at taxpayer expense. Bonneville is perfectly willing to give away your shirt.

Bonneville has made a career to date out of selling power below cost. Its $75,000,000 operating loss of taxpayers' money in the past six years demonstrates that.

In this case, it agrees to sell an amount of power for about $2,000,000 per year — and pay out more than $4,000,000 annually for interest and generating costs alone, not to mention maintenance, administration and other expenses.

Is this the claimed magic of Bonneville power? You bet it is — just that. Preposterous subsidy to a few — paid for by taxpayers.

How long will you stand hitched?

Smithsonian To Pay Honor To Army Jeep

NEW YORK, May 2 — The Jeep is going to be installed in the Smithsonian Institution despite the fact that it is far from being retired.

The rugged World War II reconnaissance vehicle — calling it a car in the army was the equivalent of calling a ship's deck a floor — has earned its place beside Lindy's "Spirit of St. Louis."

The Jeep, which the late Gen. George C. Marshall once called "America's greatest contribution to modern warfare," will be installed in the Smithsonian with proper ceremony on May 4.

Unlike the M-1 rifle and the P-51 fighter plane, the Jeep's official nomenclature is all but lost in olive drab anonymity.

But so is the derivation of the nickname, Jeep. In fact, there are some old timers who insist that the vehicle is not the Jeep at all, but the "Peep." The Jeep, they claim, was originally a larger vehicle to which the nickname did not stick. Apparently Jeep did not stick to the smaller car either and, through common use, it became known as the Jeep. As for the origin of the word itself and how it came to be applied to the scout cars, there is almost as much disagreement as there is about the Jeep-Peep.

Majority opinion is that the word Jeep is a happy confluence of the phonetically-expressed initials GP (for general purpose) and a reference to Eugene the Jeep, the little animal of indeterminate species that Archibald and Forbster the future for Popeye, Olive Oil, Sweet Pea and Wimpy.

Some also say that, in the 1930's, Jeep was slang for an acrobatic dance, a no-good, or a wash-out. Of these only the first seems appropriate for the hardy vehicle and the strenuous tasks it was called upon to perform.

Willya-Overland (now Kaiser Jeep corporation), Ford Motor company, and American Bantam Motor company made about 600,000 Jeeps during World War II.

Even so, the army had to search far and wide to find a World War II vintage model for installation in the Smithsonian. It finally found two in a Korean army depot.

These two and their 600,000 brothers were called upon to perform a wide range of tasks during the war. Generals and statesmen of many allied nations

TWO UNIQUE BLACK SWANS, imported from California, get used to their new home at Swan Lake in Sunset Memorial park, Twin Falls. The two birds appear to be floating on air as they glide over the surface of the lake. At present, they are nameless, but area youngsters will be asked to submit names that they replace two white swans, Gus and Emeralda, that were attacked and killed by dogs more than a year ago. (Times-News photo)

Spectacular Black Swans Explore New Home on Sunset Memorial Park Lake

Something new has been added to Swan Lake—the body of water at Sunset Memorial park—no the ballet by the same name. The new addition is a pair of strikingly spectacular black swans that arrived this week from California and are being acclimated to their new home on the man-made lake which dominates the entrance to the park, east of the city.

Robert Harney, park owner, said the two birds arrived by railroad express after being purchased from Jerome Butryn, a bird importer with headquarters at Palmdale, Calif., a community near San Diego.

The two birds replace two white swans—named Gus and Emeralda—that were attacked and killed by dogs. As a result, no swans were kept on the lake last summer.

The black variety of swan originally was imported from Australia, but for three years exports from that country have not been permitted. This, Harney said, was because the number of birds was showing a decided decrease.

The two birds purchased for the 1964 lake were raised in California and they are the first black swans in this part of the country.

Aside from being unique, the birds are difficult to raise. After reaching full growth, however, they prove to be hardy. They are aggressive during the mating season, but otherwise are extremely gentle, Harney points out.

During the mating season they may build up to four nests before deciding which one actually to occupy. The female lays from four to six eggs and hatching takes a total of 32 days.

Where the white swan is mute, the black swan has a personalized trumpet call. The two birds here have had their wings pinioned so they cannot fly.

The birds eat all types of food (including bread tossed them by spectators at the lake) and especially relish greens, including lettuce.

Right now they are becoming acquainted with their new home and four white ducks which share the lake with them. They pay little attention to the ducks, it is noted.

Harney said plans are being formulated to select names for the two birds, one a male and the other a female.

A committee of local residents will be named to pick two names, which youngsters 16 years or younger will be asked to submit. Adequate awards will go to the boy or girl suggesting the names selected.

"All we plan to rule out are the names Gus and Emeralda. The white swans had these names and we think those two names should not be given to any other birds we may have at the lake," Harney said.

Unemployed Like Idea Of Working

HASARD, Ky., May 2 (U)—On an abandoned strip mine bank in eastern Kentucky, Ruth Nease, 42, was doing her third regular work in nearly two years.

Nease and 29 companions were planting trees over several acres, to stabilize land ravaged by a strip miner many years ago and then abandoned in pits of barren earth and rocks uprooted as the coal was removed.

children. "This is a real fine program," said Nease. "I'd rather work myself. I'm used to working."

Nease has six children, but he had been out of work since he was laid off from a sawmill job in Michigan. His unemployment compensation payments were exhausted long ago. Like many others who left, got jobs, then lost them, he had come back to the hills of eastern Kentucky—home.

His companion, Harold Sumner, Viper, was in a similar situation. With three children, Sumner found no demand for unskilled labor.

Does he mind working for a welfar's check? "I think it's all right," he said. "It's sure a lot better than laying around and doing nothing."

That partly explains the theory behind the unemployed parents program started in parts of Kentucky recently and due to be expanded to all 120 counties next year.

receives benefits under the federal-estate program.

Ralph Wells, state economic security supervisor at Hazard, said the work program is gaining wide acceptance in this poverty-stricken area.

It is also developing as a tool to clean up and beautify eastern Kentucky, scarred by mining and lumbering projects and by floods that damaged property and scattered debris through the valleys.

Jet-smooth Luxury Chevrolet makes crooked roads feel like going straight

Your Chevrolet resists leaning on turns. Your Chevrolet resists bouncing on bumps. Your Chevrolet resists squatting on starts. In the rear, Chevrolet's Full Coil suspension is designed with 4-link leveling control. Instead of lunging forward, you get away with Jet-smooth acceleration.

Your Chevrolet resists nose diving on stops. Your Chevrolet resists shaking and vibrating. All seven Chevrolet engines are precision balanced for smoother operation. And because Chevrolet's chassis and Body by Fisher have over 700 insulators and sound deadeners, you don't have to shout to have yourself heard.

But talking about Chevrolet's quiet Jet-smooth ride is one thing; experiencing it is another. And now that it's Trade 'N' Travel Time at your Chevrolet dealer's, this is the perfect time to try it. Find the meanest, roughest stretch of road you can. Then see for yourself how straight a crooked road can feel.

General Motors Has Best 3 Months in Industry History

NEW YORK, May 2 (AP)—The first-quarter profits of General Motors corporation checked in with the best three months in the history of any American corporation. Cheering reports came also from U. S. Steel corporation, Texaco and many other major firms for which some surveys indicate will be a one-third rise from 1953's first quarter.

These profits come as the economy moved into the 38th month of economic expansion to set a peacetime record. The longest previous span was 37 months in 1945-48.

President Johnson, meanwhile, said that 1954 should hit $1 billion dollars, compared with last year's $7.1 billion dollars. This speaks, he said, of the kind of economic growth that could lead to further tax cuts "a few years down the road." But this can happen only if inflationary forces are kept in check.

He asked business leaders to hold down their prices and even to cut some if they can. He also said he would ask labor union leaders, when he meets with them in the coming week, to avoid inflationary wage demands. U. S. Steel corporation, meanwhile, announced "price cuts" in its products.

The return by the U. S. supreme court to review the compulsory arbitration law, clearing the track for railroads to install work rules changes; The new effort by Hughes Tool company to regain direct control of Trans World Airline.

Announcement by the General Motors company that it has agreed to pay electric utility companies a total of 100 million dollars to reduce 80 per cent of the assets involved in antitrust suits against the firm. This reduced GE's 1954 earnings but didn't affect the dividend rate.

Sewer Engineer To Give Report

Twin Falls city commissioners will hear a report from Jean Miller, of Hoffmann, Pike and Miller, consulting engineers on the sewer lateral construction project, during their meeting at 7:30 p.m. Monday at city hall.

The commissioners will authorize the purchase of a one-ton truck for the water department and proclaim May 9 as "Carnation Day" in Twin Falls.

Commissioners also will consider payroll and monthly bills for April and building permits and license applications.
