NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

By ANDREW TULLY
WASHINGTON, May 15.—By now, the self-styled cutthroats in shrill cry after Lyndon Johnson, fingering their button-down collars frantically as they inveigh against his folkiness and petulant derisive-isms and a corollary and a sequel to their abuse—the intensity of their sour-grapes social climber who was left off an invitation list. They look patronizingly down their noses at the President and say he lowered the dignity of the office by inviting reporters' wives and children to a garden party at the White House. They enter at his chats with tourists, and say he lacks style in his public appearances. They say, in effect, that he is letting the people get too close to him.

Not All Harmony

Selection of candidates may turn out to be one of the minor purposes of both the Republican and Democratic state conventions. The convention system has been set up to permit either party from being embarrassed by candidates like Vernon K. Smith, the Democratic nominee for governor two years ago. The system doesn't guarantee such candidates can be avoided, but it sets up enough obstacles to discourage them. Right now there doesn't appear to be a possible candidate worth the discouraging process in either party this year. But both the Republicans and Democrats have their problems. Republicans will be selecting delegates to the national convention. Some sources have been talking about two factions of the Republican party in Idaho. The state convention—or assembly as it's called technically—may bring the two factions out in the open.

TOO TEXAN

All these orators' characters are patting on the president's back. Instead of the stuffed shirt they prefer. They go about bemoaning the loss of John Kennedy, but because of a good president and a warm human being, but because of a good style and grace and knew a Hembrandt from a Picasso. They whine that Lyndon Johnson is "too Texan," as though it were suddenly a crime, or at least a presumption, for any man to be president who hasn't been polished in the East.

HUMAN ENOUGH

It is clear in this town, especially among those who like to think of themselves as part of the so-called Kennedy clique, that the Texasian is a human being and his air of a man who is at home in a barnyard. It pains them that Lyndon Johnson does not affect the tone and mannerisms of some second-rate British don, and is human enough to slip a bare white driving around.

Views of Others

"NOT EXACTLY MILD-MANNERED"
"I am not exactly a mild-mannered campaigner myself," said Harry Truman in a rare moment of undecipherable other-day suddenly we realized how indelicately Truman remains in our minds. He was supposed to be so colorful when he assumed the presidency. He proved to have a spectrum all right.

THROUGH HIS HAT

Rep. Compton I. White, Jr., had some words of wisdom for businessmen when he spoke to a meeting of the Northern Idaho Chamber of Commerce. He said they should take advantage of the recent federal tax cut to invest increased income in larger and better inventories. Although Congressman White is a member of the house banking and currency committee, he apparently isn't too well versed on the tax situation in his home state.

THE ARMY IS READY

Mao Tse-tung has been cursing both the United States and Russia. They are, Mao declares, a couple of "paper-tigers" and while we don't know what the Russians have been doing, at least one of our own achievements bears the lion in its paw. For the good news, the army has announced that it now knows how to set Chinese type electronically!

TAYLOR'S VIEWS ON WORLD NEWS

BY HENRY S. TAYLOR
What makes Harold Stassen run — the hopeless, pitiable, pointless pitches for the presidency? Searching such minds for the reasons is like trying to trick a seal.

After his defeat by President Roosevelt, Wendell Willkie believed with all his heart that there would be a call for him from the convention. He was again in 1944. Against all political odds, he was nominated by acclamation on the first ballot. Willkie over the 1944 Wisconsin primary. He was accompanied there a month, all alone, a new recruit to even have his name on the list. Twenty-two delegates were at stake. Willkie did not get a single one. His White House hopes were gone. He was a broken man. He was a broken heart. This very good man, Wendell Willkie, died of a broken heart.

Yes, such self-measurement and approach of self-measurement who grow never to realize victory or recognize defeat can become victims of the unfathomable practice by which they trample the underfoot. Because they are created for themselves, they create cooperation with other people. Their sense of team play, their decency, dignity and intelligence. And many enact this self-destruction with the best of intentions. They are performing on a banana peel. Their smiles acquire the appearance of a mechanical grin, nodding and grinning. They are not really following their hopes, an extravagant hope generated, that end up in a cloud of debris.

William Jones and Lawrence Tova, Shoshone ranchers, branded their cattle at Rock Creek and put them on the range.

Preparations for the first cutting of hay at Tuttle are not too good for the time of the season because of the cold weather that has retarded the growth so far. Very few mice are in evidence which is somewhat surprising after the many that were in the fields last year.

Most of the corn has been planted at Tuttle and the bean growers are now waiting their ground for planting later in the month. Gene Turner and Kimer Young have planted beets and the Turners also are raising sweet corn for the cannery at Buhl. The Turners planted six acres of beets and the Youngs 14 acres.

Karl Carnahan was assisted by his neighbors on Saturday, branding, shearing and vaccinating his cattle to be headed for the range south of his ranch in Pasadena Valley.

Cattle from the H. McCoy Jones farm on King Hill creek were trucked to the Stock Growers sale at Twin Falls.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Soldeva, formerly of Council, have purchased the Donald and Jess Velasquez farms about 17 miles north and east of Shoshone. They recently purchased the Nephel Clark farm east of Gooding, also. A son, Garland, and his family are operating the Gooding farm.

Mr. and Mrs. Dean Young, Burley, have purchased land from Victor Hill, located north of Heyburn, and are in the process of building a home on it.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Golden are remodeling their ranch home south of King Hill. They have finished remodeling their kitchen and are now in the process of laying new flooring in the living room and will add on new porches on the front of the house and at the back. They recently purchased the former William Tempel ranch, near Pasadena Valley.

Several Richfield families have changed residences. The Donald Wards are moving across the road to their newly remodeled ranch home at their northwest Richfield farm. The Sidney Edwards, Jr., family and the Hoese James family have moved into town residences from ranches east and west of Richfield, respectively.

A basement is being constructed for the new home of Mr. and Mrs. Grant Flavel on the west side of Richfield. The house was condemned from the state when it had to be moved for a highway right of way.

Henry O'Leary, Oakley, has moved his trailer to Elba. He is now using it for the ranchers there and has started to mend the forest fences which were badly damaged by the heavy snow last winter. He will move to the ranger station later when the road is opened and the cattle are put on the range.

Extensionist Cautions Idaho Potato Farmers

A recent report of cattle on feed, the economist said, suggests a need to market feed cattle as soon as they reach grade and at lighter weights. Unless this is done, Robinson said, there is little prospect of the seasonal increase in prices expected earlier. Idaho feeders had 129,000 head of cattle and calves on feed April 1. This is nine per cent more than a year earlier and the largest number since 1927.

Cattle feeders throughout the major feeding states indicate they will market six per cent more in the April-June period than they did in 1963. "On the favorable side of the picture, the publication said, Australia and New Zealand have notified the United States they will reduce their shipments of meat to the U.S. by more than the terms of the February agreement. It now appears that imports from these countries will be 27 per cent smaller than last year.

"Good demand, reduced planting intentions, and prospects of smaller spring prices, particularly for Idaho bakers, may be encouraging growers to plant a large crop than next year's market can take," a preliminary figure says. R. Wayne Robinson, marketing information specialist.

WHEN OPERATING, the giant sagebrush rake covers an area 28 feet wide. Pulled by a heavy duty tractor, the unit gathers in the previously cut brush in rows for burning. This equipment was used to clear brush from the recently opened Saylor creek farm land near Glenns Ferry and is now operating in the blue gulch area west of Buhl. Old timers say such equipment is a far cry from the 1905-06. Thousands of new acres of farmland are being put into production in this section of Idaho. (Times-News photo)

Extension of Farmlands in Area Keeps Buhl Man Busy at Clearing Sagebrush

By G. A. (GUS) KELKER, Times-News Farm Editor
 BUHL, May 15—According to his own admission, Edward Jarolmek, ar. Buhl, will be "long gone" before he runs out of available "work."

His reason for thinking this way is a good one. He is in the sagebrush clearing business, and, with his brothers who operate similar businesses in other parts of the state, is the biggest operator in Idaho.

A brother, Leo, operates from the Paul area and Gilbert, operates from the Filer section. Another brother, Robert, has turned to straight farming in the Burley section.

The brothers started an operation together, but in 1957 separate concerns were formed. Although it is at that time, Edward managed to start his own business in 1955 and has been at it since.

The removal of sagebrush from an area of land is not really as easy as it sounds. Special equipment—which will operate effectively—is required. Edward builds his own.

For instance, the cutter he is using in the blue gulch area west

The unit is mounted on "cray tracks" which permit quick turns in any direction.

He built his first rake 12 years ago. It was an 11 wheeler. The one in use now, smaller than the original, is the fourth he has constructed.

With new farming areas being opened in the state, his specialty is much in demand.

His equipment was used to clear the new Saylor Creek development near Glenns Ferry and now is at work in the blue gulch area. Right now there are about 7,000 producing acres in that area with grain, potatoes, clover and alfalfa being the main crops. Within the next five years, it is anticipated that another 14,000 acres will be cleared and farmed.

This will mean the blue gulch area, in a period of about 13 years, will have approximately 21,000 new acres put into production.

Right now the main operators in the district, with their home-towns listed, include: Kenneth Marshall, Twin Falls; John and Wayne Keller, Idaho Falls; Clet and Mel McLain, Tony Pottuck and William Kenyon, all Cas-lored.

 Right now the land is producing.

Wyoming Senator Urges Consideration Of Johnson's Food Study Commission

WASHINGTON, May 15—Sen. Oble McGeer, D., Wyo., says he hopes President Johnson's proposed national food study commission can begin operating this summer.

The Wyoming Democrat is the chief senate sponsor of a bill to create the proposed commission. The senate committee is scheduled to consider it in a closed session today.

Under McGeer's bill, the commission would study the entire food marketing system. It would concentrate on the growing economic power of retail food chains. McGeer says the commission should find out what is happening to the food industry and whether any changes are needed to protect farmers, businessmen and consumers.

The house agriculture committee has approved its version of the bill setting up the commission. The house committee limited the proposed commission's work to one year instead of the two years proposed by the Wyoming Democrat. The committee also struck out a section directing the study commission to make recommendations for any new legislation it thinks may be needed.

McGeer discussed the proposed study at the annual meeting of the Newspaper Farm Editors association here. The senator said he thought the first order of business for the new commission should be a study of meat prices and marketing.

He said there had been some suggestions that supporters of the proposed study thought it would help them at the polls next fall. But McGeer added that he saw little political appeal in a report which could not be issued until long after the election.

McGeer said he did not know when the food study bill can be called up in the senate, but he added he hoped to get agreement to call it up within a few days.

Eradication Plan Expanded
 WASHINGTON, May 15—Techniques used in screwworm eradication program—mass releases of sterilized male insects—have been adapted in an effort to keep the Mexican fruit fly out of the United States, according to a U. S. Department of Agriculture report in New York.

The method of attack involves the release of artificially reared and sterilized male insects into infested areas to mate with the females of the species. Eggs from these matings do not hatch.

CARLOAD OF SEED BEANS is loaded for shipment out as a result of agreement between various warehouse owners and National Farmers Organization members in this section of the state. A. J. Tillman, owner of the A. J. Tillman and son warehouse, Twin Falls, standing on ground, talks to M. Husey, Jerome, in truck, during the loading process. Husey is a member of the Jerome county NFO bean committee.

Shipment of Seed Beans Goes East

Recent conferences between a delegation of National Farmers Organization members from the mid-Western portion of the nation and local groups has resulted in shipment of large quantities of seed beans east. It was announced Friday by Ralph Hastings, Paul, area NFO organizer.

Hastings said Herman Popler, Morrill, Neb.; Edwin Cook, Rt. 1, Morgan, Colo.; and Alex Hoffner, Greeley, Colo., represented farmers desirous with seed beans available, and as a result were sent to Idaho to attempt to arrange for improved shipments. Their interests centered around a more uniform type of seed.

Large quantities of green northern beans are required in Nebraska, while pintos are used extensively in Colorado. Members of the visiting NFO delegation expressed surprise that Magic Valley does not produce enough of the varieties to fill outside needs, Hastings said.

After bargaining by the NFO victors, the local committee and also local warehouses, a price level was reached which was considered to be of advantage to all concerned.

Much poundage moved by rail and Harry Dunning, Keesburg, Colo., took several loads back by truck.

Hailey Ranch Is Purchased

HAILEY, May 15—W. V. McAtee and his sons, Wayne and Kent, have purchased the A. W. Reimers 500-acre ranch at the mouth of Bullion gulch, west of Hailey.

Twenty-four acres are planted to alfalfa, which is irrigated from Bullion creek water stored overnight in a reservoir completed two years ago under a soil conservation project.

McAtees own 30 acres of land, partly in alfalfa, at the mouth of Red Elephant gulch, farther to the west.

The home ranch for their cattle operation is on the southern outskirts of Hailey and their additional land is used for summer grazing.

bargaining is of value," Hastings said.

Warehouses in Magic Valley participating in the handling of NFO beans are Tillman and Son, Twin Falls; Rangen, Inc., and Shields, Inc., both Buhl; Barlow warehouse, Hazelton; Morgan-Lindsey, E. E. N. Kerr-Peters, Paul; Bekon Bean company, Gooding; Wendell elevator, Wendell, and Black and Reese, Oatfield.

TEST NEEDS TIME
 WASHINGTON, May 15—A good soils test requires several thousand dollars worth of equipment, a trained technician and at least a day's time to run the test, says the soil conservation service.

May Crop Report Has No Answers for Government's New Wheat Control Plan

WASHINGTON, May 15 (UPI)—The agriculture department's crop report for May furnishes no final answer to questions about the effectiveness of the government's new wheat control program.

Under the new program, farmers can qualify for price supports by keeping acreage 10 per cent below their 1953 acreage allotments.

In all winter wheat growers comply with this year's allotment, harvested acreage of winter wheat would be about 35 million acres. But the May crop report yesterday indicated that farmers will harvest 37.6 million acres.

Winter wheat producers will have until May 22 to decide whether they want to comply with the program by plowing down or otherwise disposing of their excess acreage. Originally, the deadline for complying with the program had been set for May 15.

But agriculture department officials decided to extend it.

May's crop report estimated the 1964 winter wheat crop, on the basis of May 1 prospects at about one billion bushels. This would be 12 per cent above last year's crop.

The crop report also rated hay and pasture conditions on May 1 at better than last year, and about average for the date. The report said spring and early summer vegetables and melon crops would be smaller than last year, but above average. Peach production in nine southern states, however, is expected to be only about one-quarter of last year's big crop.

Halo blight in bean fields is caused by three basic conditions:

- 1—Seed Borne Bacteria.

- 3—Introduction of Bacteria from an Infected field to a clean field.

WE CAN PREVENT CONDITION 1 as all of our seed was grown in 1961 and 1962 when there was no Halo Blight or it was field inspected last year and there was no blight in the field. The field was protected from outside infection for no beans were grown within a mile in either direction.

YOU CAN PREVENT CONDITION 2 for you alone know whether or not the field you are planting had beans in it last year which were infected with Halo Blight.

NEITHER OF US CAN STOP CONDITION 3. We can do everything possible to insure against it and hope for the best.

Technology May Expand Milk Orders

WASHINGTON, May 15 (AP)—All agriculture department marketing expert says new technology in the dairy industry is expanding the size of areas covered by federal milk orders.

The milk-marketing-order program regulates prices paid to dairy farmers by handlers and dealers. In 1963, these orders covered nearly half the nation's total milk supply.

In recent years, the size of areas regulated by individual marketing order has been growing. In most cases, this expansion comes by adding new territory to existing orders. But in a dozen cases in the last 10 years, mergers have been used.

The most recent example came this week. The agriculture department recommended that four marketing orders in New England be merged to one new Massachusetts-Rhode Island order.

Federal marketing experts say a variety of factors are responsible for the trend toward bigger marketing orders. They include the development of bigger processing plants and lower distribution routes. They all add up to one central fact — new technology in the marketing of milk.

Extended

Carl Boyd, chairman, JACS Twin Falls county committee, announces the sign-up period of the wheat program has been extended. The closing date is now May 23, instead of May 15.

Boyd added the Twin Falls county AECIS office will be open this May 16.

Official Believes World Will Accept U. S. Program

WASHINGTON, May 15 (AP)—A government farm official predicts that the world's nations eventually will agree on an American-sponsored plan for more liberal trade in farm products.

Delivery System Blamed For Bread Price Growth

WASHINGTON, May 15 (AP)—Agriculture department economists report part of the steady growth in retail bread prices in recent years can be blamed on an old-fashioned delivery system.

The report was made public by the house agriculture appropriations subcommittee. It is part of an annual series of agriculture department studies on the gap between the prices farmers get for wheat and the price consumers pay for bread.

The latest installment shows that the farmers return from a one-pound loaf of bread dropped from 35 cents in the late 1940's to 31 cents in 1963. But the retail price in that period rose from 13.5 cents to 21.6 cents a loaf.

The agriculture department report shows that more than half the average retail price in 1963 went to wholesale bakers — 11.5 cents — "lost" compared with 6 cents in the 1947-49 period. The report says this increase of nearly 100 per cent in the wholesale baker's share of the bread price is due mainly to the high cost of distributing bread.

Government economists say the present system of wholesale bread delivery was developed "many years ago" to serve the needs of small retail grocers. Today, the agriculture department says, the old-fashioned delivery system has been made obsolete by the rise of supermarkets chains.

The report adds that while the wholesale baker's share of the bread price has gone up, his profit per loaf has gone down. In 1963, the agriculture department estimates wholesale bakery profits at about one-third of a cent per loaf, down slightly from the late 1940's.

proposed for use in the current round of international trade negotiations at Geneva. Some 60 nations are involved in these talks under the general agreement on tariffs and trade.

The American negotiating plan includes two major stages.

For farm products which are protected by fixed tariffs, the plan proposes negotiations on reducing the tariffs.

For commodities protected by other devices like variable fees or import quotas, the plan calls for negotiating market-sharing agreements under which importing countries open a fixed percentage of their markets to exports.

The European Common Market has so far opposed the American plan and has countered with one of its own.

But Joanes says the American proposal is gaining support among other nations. He says it may be some time in 1965 before a general agreement on farm trade is reached, but he predicts the American negotiating proposal will be the basis for the agreement.

Utah-Idaho Sugar Company Reports Earnings Increase

SALT LAKE CITY, May 15 (AP)—Net income of Utah-Idaho Sugar Company during the fiscal year ended Feb. 29, 1964, was $3,014,972, the firm announced at its annual meeting of shareholders.

Net earnings per share amounted to $1.27. In the preceding year net income was $2,590,041, or $1.01 a share, on the 2,571,283 shares of stock outstanding.

Sugar production by Utah and Idaho during the year was equivalent to 8,874,461 bags weighing 100 pounds each, a new company record that was 9.5 per cent higher than the previous year. A record 2,772,389 tons of sugar beets were harvested from 130,782 acres by growers for the company last fall, with a yield per acre of 20.81 tons. It was the second harvest in a row in which average yield had increased more than one ton per acre. However, sugar content of the beets was the lowest since 1963, a situation common throughout the western United States in the 1963 crop.

The annual report noted a vigorous growth has occurred during recent years in eastern Idaho and the sugar company is expanding its Idaho Falls factory 33 per cent this year to keep pace with operations in the area. The U. S. department of agriculture has granted a reserve allowance of 3,140 acres to new growers of the area to support the expansion.

In 1964, growers for the company intend to contract for about 100,000 acres of sugar beets in Washington, Idaho, Utah, South Dakota, Oregon and Nebraska, an increase of 12 per cent over 1963.

"Considerable progress" was made in 1963 toward spring mechanization of the sugar beet crop by growers for the company, the report said. "This reduction in dependence on migrant labor resulted largely from increased use of chemical weed control and precision planting of seed. Further improvements in materials and methods for chemical weed control appear to be almost ready for use."

Looking to the future, the report noted that no acreage restrictions were imposed on the 1964 crop.

The annual report noted that domestic sugar production was a restraining factor in the Chicago sugar market of 1963, providing again the value of the industry to all sugar users. "The future of the market, of course, is not certain, but statistical information indicates more price stability may be anticipated at levels perhaps somewhat higher than those prevailing prior to 1963."

with legislation said the U. S. department of agriculture appealed to domestic producers to increase sugar production during the price and supply problems of 1963 and announced there would be no acreage restrictions in 1964 and 1965.

Burley Ranch Purchased Stevens

SPRINGFIELD, May 15 — Grant Stevens has purchased the Maroon ranch of Mrs. Oscar Johnson of five and one fourth miles west of Richfield. He plans to clear the 100 acres with his own hands, adjoining the land owned by Stevens and his late father-in-law, Ben Johnson, who was the first to draw for farm land in the area. Stevens and his father-in-law owned most of the 100 acres at one time. He cleared 54 acres of the land in 1937, and sold it to Stevens in 1937, and moved to the place himself.

Stevens' family, including Mrs. Pearl, Richfield, cleared the land and assisted in clearing adjoining land later cleared by a son, Ben Johnson, who was the first to draw for farm land in the area. Stevens family has continued residence at the ranch originally owned by Stevens. Walter Stevens, a local town resident.

Gooding Wins District FFA Contest

CAREY, May 15—A three-man team from Gooding high school edged out Hunt John Carey to win the North Magic Valley Future Farmer of America district livestock judging contest. The winning team was led by Kevin Varin with individual high-point honors.

The Gooding team scored 1,164.8 points to Carey's 1,107.8. Jerome took third place in the contest scoring 1,104.0 points.

Some seven schools participated in the contest which just about wraps up the contest activity for the district this year.

Members of the winning Gooding team were Varin, Eugene Wilkins and Richard Meyers. Meyers was also fourth highest individual scorer.

Participants were required to judge six classes of livestock.

USDA Attempts to Boost Sagging Beef Prices, Spends 34 Million Dollars

WASHINGTON, May 15 — The agriculture department has spent 34 million dollars since March 9 in an effort to prop up the price of beef cattle, but it has only scratched the surface of funds legally available for this purpose.

On March 2, the department began the first of a weekly series of purchases of frozen and canned beef. The object of the purchase is to strengthen prices by taking supplies off commercial markets, which have been clogged by record-high production.

Behind that goal is the administration's effort to take the steam out of a current drive for legislation to force a reduction in beef exports. The campaign for legislation arose because domestic beef cattle prices have been low for the past year.

By March 2, the agriculture department has purchased more than 62 million pounds of beef. The 34 million dollars paid for the beef came from the so-called "section 32 fund."

This fund, taken from tariff receipts, is allocated to the agriculture department for a variety of uses. But its major use has been in surplus removal programs to strengthen the prices of perishable farm products — crops and livestock products which do not get protection from the agriculture department's regular price support programs.

The law concerning the use of the tariff fund provides that no more than 25 per cent of the money available in any year can be used for any single farm product.

The total amount of money available in the fund for the current fiscal year is about 670 million dollars. One quarter of that is a little over 167 million dollars. So far, the government purchase program for beef has used 34 million dollars.

Eligibility Tested for SC Support

Wheat producers who plant their 1964-crop wheat within the farm's eligibility for price-support loan or purchase this year's crop, Carl Boyd, chairman, Twin Falls county agricultural stabilization and conservation committee, said today.

As now provided, wheat produced on any farm on which the 1964 wheat acreage is within the farm allotment will be eligible for a price support loan or purchase based on a national price of $1.30 a bushel.

Thus, a wheat producer who is eligible for a price support loan or purchase agreement for the 1964 crop before enactment

Bucket seats? On the Scout?

There are probably thousands of farmers, construction men and store owners who like the SCOUT because it's a tough, powerful utility vehicle that's easy on gas and goes anywhere.

But we hear from more and more people who bought a SCOUT for pure fun. Outdoor people... suburbanites... hunters and fishermen who don't want to stop going just because they've run out of road.

The sporty bucket seats (and the full width removable back seat) are for them.

And if you think that's getting too fancy for a utility vehicle, take a SCOUT on a pleasure cruise. You never had that much fun with a utility vehicle.

George Sticks With Chicago

CHICAGO, May 15 (AP)—Veteran linebacker Bill George, a free agent since May 1, signed a 1964 contract Thursday with the Chicago Bears of the National Football League.

The 35-year-old George, former of Wake Forest star, played out the option on his 1963 contract through the 1964 season in which the team won the NFL championship. Under the rules, George became a free agent May 1.

Phillies Demand New Ball Field

PHILADELPHIA, May 15 (AP)—The Philadelphia Phillies said Thursday they have set a July 1 deadline for a firm commitment that a new sports stadium will be built here or "we will have to seek other alternatives."

George F. St. Harrison, club treasurer, said the current schedule for the project "adds up to about three years, which would leave our team without a place to play."

CHICAGO, May 15 (AP)—The Los Angeles Dodgers swept a doubleheader from the Chicago Cubs Thursday, capturing a 10-inning opener 6-4 on Frank Howard's two-run homer and winning the nightcap 6-0 behind Don Drysdale's four-hit shutout.

The Dodgers gave Drysdale a 3-0 lead in the first two innings of the second game without a hit, cashing in on four stolen bases and five walks off starter Fred Norman.

Allen's Homer Sends Phillies Past Cards

PHILADELPHIA, May 15 (AP)—Richie Allen's seventh-inning homer and clutch relief pitching by Ed Roebuck carried the Philadelphia Phillies to a 3-2 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals Thursday night. The Phillies, defeating the Cardinals for the first time in five meetings this season, rallied to tie the game with a pair of runs in the sixth off loser Ernie Broglio, then scored the clincher on Allen's seventh-inning home run.

REMEMBER WHEN?

By BOB REESE

It was just a rookie pitcher that nobody knew. Bill McKechnie, manager of the Cincinnati Reds that year, thought the young hurler was a corner and had only one chance to shine. Although he'd only won five games in the minors the year before, McKechnie made him a regular on his staff. His name was Johnny Vander Meer.

Johnny got off to a good start that year, tossing a shutout in his first game... but there was nothing in his record to prepare the baseball public for what happened in June.

On June 11th against Boston, Johnny Meyer was suddenly called pulled into an unusual game when he pitched a no-hit game. Few hurlers ever achieve this great feat of pitching twice... and it's likely that no pitcher will ever match what Vander Meer did for on June 13th, against Brooklyn. He accomplished the incredible by pitching his second consecutive no-hitter!

Remember the year?

The year was 1938.

Well I'm glad to show you in black-and-white just how much we can save you on the longer, lower new Chrysler or Imperial. We don't make wild claims... but we can also give you a better deal. And we'd like to prove it! Come in this week! Bob Reese Motor Co., 50 Block, Second Ave. So., Twin Falls, Phone 733-3776.

Six Horses Put in Preakness; Derby Winner Beats Deadline

BALTIMORE, May 15 (AP)—Kentucky derby winner Northern Dancer just beat the deadline Thursday when six finely-honed 3-year-old horses were entered for Saturday's 88th running of the Preakness at Pimlico. The clock in the racing secretary's office showed only three minutes remained for the 9 a.m. EST entry deadline when trainer Horatio Luro casually strolled into the room. The gracious Argentine, acting as if he had all the time in the world, paused to exchange greetings and banter with numerous friends while the clock ticked on.

Racing secretary Charles MacLennan twice reminded the senior that the deadline was near and finally, with only seconds remaining, Luro stepped into the booth and wrote the names of E. F. Taylor's Canadian-owned colt on the entry blank.

With the entry of Northern Dancer official, the small but classy field was complete.

There were no surprises among the other entries. Hill Rise, derby runner-up from last year, A. Pope, Jr.'s El Peon Ranch of California; Rex Ellsworth's California-owned The Scoundrel; Roman Brother from Louis E. Wolfson's Hatcher View farm of Florida; Quadrangle of Paul Mellon's Stables; and Harriet N. Ball's Big Pete of Virginia. They'll join Northern Dancer for the 1 3/16-mile jaunt around the ancient race track on the Baltimore outskirts.

It cost each owner $1,000 to enter and they'll be asked for another $1,000 by 4 p.m. Saturday if they want to be in the gate for the start at 4:45 p.m. EST.

It all do for the mark when starter Eddie Blind gives the word go, the gross value of this second leg of the triple crown will be $175,000. The winner gets $124,000, with $30,000 for second, $15,000 for third and $7,500 for fourth.

They will line up with Big Pete on the inside and Hill Rise on the outside. In between will be Roman Brother, Quadrangle, Northern Dancer and the Scoundrel.

The track handicapper stuck to quoting Hill Rise the 7-5 advance favorite with Northern Dancer second choice at 2-1. That is the way they were rated in the derby when the much smaller Dancer found four furlongs from home, bounded to the front shortly thereafter, and held off the challenge of the long-striding Hill Rise.

The Scoundrel, who trainer

Merle Tenney says is improving with each race and burned up the track with a 1:58 1/5 work-out for a mile last Sunday, made third choice at 4-1.

Quadrangle and Roman Brother were each listed at 8-1 and Big Pete, a consistent winner at shorter distances and the outside, at 20-1.

Idaho Lands Two Football Stars

UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO, Moscow, May 15.—A pair of talented athletes will don the silver and gold of Idaho this fall. Coach Doc Andros said today.

All-state quarterback Paul Gentle, Boise, will enroll as a freshman this fall. The Kent Smith from undefeated Columbia Basin college in Pasco will join the varsity this fall as a junior.

In returning his scholarship agreement Gentle said "I was extremely impressed by the spirit and attitude surrounding your football program." He is also a top baseball prospect.

Smith, a 5-foot-11, 225-pound lineman, was a teammate of Idaho varsity prospect Andy Christoff when they were prep buddies at Ritzville, Wash., high school.

YOUR BIRTHDAY and HOROSCOPE

FRIDAY, MAY 15 — Born today, you have been gifted with that unusual combination of a logical, practical mind and an intuitive nature that is able to sense the subtleties of a situation almost instantly, not to mention effortlessly. You are also an excellent organizer, capable of conceiving an idea, planning for its practical employment, and following through on all the major and minor details to the logical conclusion of profitable operation.

Highly critical both of your own performance and that of others, you will tolerate only the best. The aliphod worker and the disorganized or malfunctioning "big thinker" are likely to get no sympathy from you. Take care, however, that you do not overplay your hand in these matters. If you want to be a true leader, one who has more to offer than hinders, you will have to learn to criticize constructively rather than destructively.

All people who are as energetic, as determined, and at the same time as tolerant as you are must guard against becoming overbearing or didactic. The final test of your success must always be your capacity for humility—and, more important, your exercise of it. And nowhere may this be more vital to your success than in your own home with your own family.

Among those born on this date are: Clifton Fadiman, author, critic; James Mason, actor; Anna Maria Alberghetti, noted soprano; Joseph Cotten, actor.

To find what is in store for you tomorrow, select your birthday and read the corresponding paragraph. Let your birthday star be your daily guide.

TAURUS (April 21-May 21) — Early morning may pose some minor difficulties but should be well by afternoon. A Saturday that ultimately brings enjoyment!

GEMINI (May 22-June 21) — An active day but avoid overdoing things. A week and in which to alternate periods of rest with periods of work and play.

CANCER (June 22-July 23) — Professional opportunities may appear fast but hurriedly during the early part of the day. Combat the confusion of too many choices.

LEO (July 24-Aug. 23) — A day of unusual activity on both business and social fronts. Don't forget necessary work in the pleasures of entertaining.

VIRGO (Aug. 24-Sept. 23) — This may be the most exciting day for the Virgo who allows new contacts to open up fresh vistas of activity and opportunity.

LIBRA (Sept. 24-Oct. 23) — Personal contacts today are important to the eventual success of present business projects.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 23) — Don't allow yourself to be deceived by false promises. An impulsive move could be detrimental.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 24-Dec. 23) — Weed out present issues carefully to find the one most vital to today's success.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23-Jan. 20) — To put everything on a safe and sound basis may make you miss highly rewarding channels of activity.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21-Feb. 19) — The complicated details of a simple operation could throw you. Have necessary information at hand.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) — False optimism could lead you far astray this morning. Look at issues as they are.

ARIES (March 21-April 20) — You may be the center of attraction today. Keep yourself mentally alert and physically able.

SATURDAY, MAY 16 — Born today, you may well have been gifted with a mind that truly deserves to be called "brilliant," but because you are somewhat unyielding in considering ideas which are in and untested, such brilliance as is yours may never really become known. You would be wise to consider that an intelligence such as yours would be just the one to lend to the business of "testing" such ideas; for this approach could change your life!

Not one to be convinced of anything against your will, you may call you stubborn. Many more, however, will probably call you a person of high integrity, with the courage of your own convictions. As long as you know which of the two opinions is the right one, and so long as you act accordingly, it will not matter much what others think.

Your home and family ties are strong—perhaps even too strong, leading you to fight blindly sometimes for what your family may want but perhaps should not have or cannot afford. You must take special care to be objective when guiding your loved ones, particularly any children, for they can be easily misled into an unrealistic way of looking at the world.

Among those born on this date are: Douglas Boothall Freeman, Pulitzer Prize-winning historian; Liberace, pianist; Henry Fonda, actor.

To find what is in store for you tomorrow, select your birthday and read the corresponding paragraph. Let your birthday star be your daily guide.

TAURUS (April 21-May 21) — Make this a day of rest. Seek peace of mind and body in the country if you can. Otherwise, enjoy nature where you find it.

GEMINI (May 22-June 21) — The Gemini seeking romance may well come upon his heart's desire this day. Make or receive visits—but don't overdo!

CANCER (June 22-July 23) — Seek spiritual renewal in Sunday devotions. A most active day, and one which may require several sleep sessions.

LEO (July 24-Aug. 23) — This could be a most beneficial day for the Leo who takes advantage of early morning opportunity. Don't be misled by the looks of things.

VIRGO (Aug. 24-Sept. 23) — Prepare early for the fullness of the afternoon. You may be called upon to settle disputes between loved ones.

LIBRA (Sept. 24-Oct. 23) — Social complications could well be this day's undoing. See that you have your calendar correctly marked!

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 23) — A day of personal happiness at home, church, or wherever you happen to be. Friendship and close contacts grow!

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 24-Dec. 23) — Guard against too much activity, as this day is apt to be one of overstimulation. Calm reflection is advised.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23-Jan. 20) — This could well be the exceptionally good day you've been waiting for to complete a most complicated project.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21-Feb. 19) — The friendly, cooperative Aquarius should see all the day's prizes in his mind by evening. You can face minor losses.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) — A day charged with emotional factors. The Pisces who keeps himself in good balance has the best chance for success.

ARIES (March 21-April 20) — Self-expression appears to be part and parcel of this day's activities. Take care, however, not to become overly emotional.
