

Reapportionment Could Be Considered at Special Session on Water Problem

BOISE, June 25 (AP)—Gov. Robert E. Smylie asked the Idaho legislative council formally today to seek an answer to the state's problem of reapportionment. At the same time he told newsmen he doubted that reapportionment should be considered by the legislature in a special session called for some other purpose. He said, however, that if enough legislators felt it wise, he saw no reason why constitutional revision should not be considered at a session called specifically to vote on a proposed state water development plan.

Smylie has indicated he will call a special session this summer to consider the proposed state water development plan. The governor's request for the legislative council to convene with a reapportioning plan was in a letter to State Sen. H. H. Young, R., Canyon, Nampa, its chairman.

Smylie referred to the United States supreme court order, telling the federal district court for Idaho to reconsider its action in the reapportionment suit brought by Rep. Herman McDevitt, D., Blaine.

The district court was instructed to follow the supreme court's ruling that membership in both the house and senate of a state legislature must be apportioned strictly on the basis of population.

"Because the question is complex and because any action will require the concurrence of at least a majority of the legislature," Smylie wrote Young, "it seems probable that we understand as soon as possible a study designed to work out an acceptable plan."

"No machinery exists for the creation of a special interim committee for this purpose, and it seems clear that the legislative council is most likely constituted to meet the challenge of the task."

Smylie told newsmen he doubted that an acceptable plan could be drafted in time for consideration at a special session this summer.

The proposed water development plan would require approval of an amendment to the constitution to submit that amendment to voters in November would require that the special session be held no later than about Sept. 1.

Smylie said, too, he believes it might be wise to consider reapportionment at a session devoted only to that subject.

In response to a question, Smylie said he saw no reason why constitutional revision generally might not be considered at a special session called primarily to act on the water proposal.

He said he long has advocated the calling of a constitutional convention but has failed to get enough legislative support in the past to authorize such a session.

To gain approval, a resolution calling for such a convention would have to get two-thirds majority approval by the legislature, but a majority support from the voters at an election.

Johnson Wants to Turn Asian War 'Around' so We're on Top

WASHINGTON, June 25 (AP)—President Johnson has passed the word to aides that along with the assignment of his new top command team to South Viet Nam, he wants the whole U. S. mission in Saigon beefed up as much as possible. In taking a new look at the Southeast Asian crisis because of the resignation of Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge, Johnson is said to have determined that the time has come for the United States to make a major effort, as some officials phrase it, "to turn the war around."

State authorities believe the firm leadership of South Vietnamese president, Maj. Gen. Nguyen Khanh, is beginning to show results, that improved U. S. techniques in training South Vietnamese forces is also showing results and that the ill effects in disorder and damaged morale of the political upheavals of last fall and winter are beginning to be overcome.

President Johnson, it is understood, had expected that Lodge, the klump of the U. S. organization and effort in South Viet Nam, would remain on the job until August. But Lodge decided to resign, and he has called purely personal reasons that he had to leave almost at once. He said he wanted to help Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton in his effort to win the GOP presidential nomination. Johnson announced Tuesday the acceptance of the resignation which Lodge submitted last Friday.

At the same time, and according to the principal principal had previously been adopted that there should be no gap between Lodge and his successor, Johnson announced an unprecedented combination of talents and experience would be sent into the U. S. embassy at Saigon.

Kimberly Boy, 9, Drowns in Gravel Pit

KIMBERLY, June 25—A 9-year-old boy drowned Wednesday afternoon while swimming with his older sister in McCarty's gravel pit, one mile east and five and one-fourth miles south of Kimberly. The body of Darrell Dean, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald D. Dean, Kimberly, was recovered by two volunteer skin divers at 5:15 p.m. According to Sheriff James H. Benham the boy and his older sister apparently had waded to a small island and the boy either fell or began wading in the turbulent water of Rock creek, which goes past the island. The body was found about 20 yards from where the boy apparently entered the water.

"Those at the scene of the drowning noted Dean had been seen in the water about 2:45 p.m. After it was reported the boy might have drowned, a dredging crew cut two channels at the west end of the pit, which then let water flow into another gravel pit and back into Rock creek.

Two skimmers, George Orlo and Duane McDonald, were brought to the scene and about 4:45 p.m. They started searching the deeper parts of the pit.

About 5 p.m. Deputy Sheriff Wayne Hankins, who had been sent to Twin Falls for dredging equipment, returned to the scene and Sheriff Benham, Hankins, Deputy Paul Corbair and the owner of a boat, which was to be used for the dredging operation, started preparing to drag the deep channel.

Just as the boat started out Orlo shouted that he had found the body. The boat then picked up the body and it was taken to Reynolds funeral chapel by ambulance.

Dean was born July 9, 1954, in Twin Falls and attended grade school in Kimberly. He was a member of the Kimberly Christian church.

Survivors, besides his parents include his maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Miller, Twin Falls; paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Dean, Twin Falls, and his great-grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward McCarty, Kimberly; one brother, Lemmy Dean, and one sister, Janice Dean, both Kimberly.

Funeral services are pending at Reynolds funeral chapel.

Integration Try Sparks Race Fight

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla., June 25 (AP)—Two persons were arrested today after a fight broke out during another attempt by Negroes to integrate the St. Augustine beach.

The Negroes were escorted to the beach by state troopers and were met again by a group of whites standing shoulder to shoulder.

One Negro attempted to go through the line and was struck by a white man. Both were taken into custody.

The Negroes asked state officers to break up the line of whites and allow them access to the water. The officers refused.

When the Negroes attempted a flanking movement and the whites started to cut them off, the state trooper in charge ordered the beach cleared and the Negroes retreated to their cars.

The demonstration was the latest in a series of integration protests. Martin Luther King, Jr., has pledged no help in a drive for racial desegregation at St. Augustine.

Change ICEPHUM, June 25—

The Okinaki dancers will present a two-hour performance Saturday night at the golf course, weather permitting, as part of the annual Basque festival this week-end, instead of at the school gymnasium as previously announced.

The Saturday evening performance will begin between 8:30 and 9 p.m. at the golf course. The Sunday dance by the Basque club has been canceled. However, the barbeque will be held from 11:30 a.m. to 2 p.m. Sunday.

Pocatelloan Still Missing

AMERICAN FALLS, June 25 (AP)—Volunteers worked from boats with grappling hooks in the turbulent Snake river here today to search for the body of Emmett Floyd Sanders, 30-year-old Pocatello mail carrier believed drowned in a fishing mishap.

Sanders and two companions were spilled into the river here by the American Falls dam yesterday when their boat capsized. Monte Blanchard and Ernest Mower, both of Pocatello, were saved, but Sanders was swept downstream.

Sanders, son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Sanders, Jerome, was born July 6, 1933, at Buhl. He was graduated from the Jerome high school. He is married and has five children.

Weak Teen-Age Marriages Are Big U. S. Social Problem

DAVIS, Calif., June 25 (AP)—Unhappy teen-age marriages are being becoming one of the nation's major social problems, says a University of California professor.

"Marriage and parenthood have been oversold to America's teenagers," Judson T. Landis, sociology professor, told a conference on marriage among the young.

As a result, he said, teen-agers are viewing marriage as a symbol of adulthood or social acceptance and are heading into an unbalanced financial struggle.

Landis said more than two million American girls between 13 and 17 are married every year and teen-age marriages last year produced about 600,000 babies.

Seranton Hits Goldwater's Vote Record

CLEVELAND, O., June 25 (AP)—Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton returned today to the city where he suffered his near demise as a Republican presidential candidate, but immediately opened a new attack on his opponent, Sen. Barry Goldwater.

Seranton said that Goldwater "has time and again" voted against outside the context of our party," Seranton said.

He made the statement shortly after arriving at Cleveland from Miami, Fla. He is on a flying tour to master delegate nomination in his bid for the GOP nomination. Goldwater presently holds a commanding lead in delegate strength.

It was at the national Governors conference here two weeks ago that Seranton was hoisted and then practically counted out as a candidate.

"An analysis reveals that on 25 issues specifically favored by the 1960 Republican platform, Goldwater was voted against by a majority of delegates from all over America—a majority of senate Republicans have voted with the platform on 25 of 25 occasions," Seranton said.

But, he contended, Goldwater opposed the Republican national platform position on all 25 issues.

Seranton has said that the nomination of Goldwater for president would spell defeat for the Republican party this fall.

Marines to Help Hunt Rights Men

WASHINGTON, June 25 (AP)—President Johnson ordered 200 marines to join the search today for three civil rights workers missing in Mississippi. The President's order was announced by George E. Reedy, White House press secretary, who said the marines were being moved into the search area near Philadelphia, Miss. from Meridian, where he said they had been based. Asked how long the troops would be in Meridian, he said he had not been told. He said he had been told that the marines had been at Meridian, and that this led to his confusion on the point.

Potato Group Has Safety Conference

BURLEY, June 25—Some 150 delegates from 16 potato processing plants are attending a safety conference today at the Ponderosa Inn. The conference is sponsored by the Potato Processors of Idaho association.

Mack Crouch, Burley mayor, outlined plans for a rescue unit in Burley. He said this is a joint venture by the Burley police and fire departments.

"Why the processing industry needs a safety program," was the topic of a speech given by Herb Westlund, chief engineer of Arroyo Insurance company, Merito Park, Calif. He spoke of insurance programs for the plants.

Another speaker Thursday morning was Henry Fisher, manager of technical service department of Pennsalt Chemical company, Tacoma, Wash. He spoke of "safe chemical handling."

He explained the handling of caustic soda used by the plants and what it could do if handled wrong.

Tex Stanley, safety director at the J. J. Simplot company plant at Heyburn, described the safety program used by the Heyburn plant. He recommended that regular safety checks and regular meetings for answering questions by employees regarding the safety program be held.

Stanley speakers after the noon luncheon were Jack Mealey, Portland, manager of safety and health services for Employers Mutual of Wausau; Duane C. Jensen, safety inspector for Nova Works of U. S. Steel corporation, Provo; Earl P. Miller, manager of technical services at Stauffer Chemical company, Los Angeles, and State Patrolman Roy Thomas.

Mealey will speak on "Supervisors' foremen's and management's responsibility to safety." Jensen on "Prevention of hand and foot injuries." Miller on "Chemical safety" and Thomas on "Traffic safety."

General Is Named New Army Head

WASHINGTON, June 25 (AP)—President Johnson, ignoring 10 senior officers, yesterday chose Lt. Gen. Harold K. Johnson, a survivor of the Bataan death march who spent 3 1/2 years in Japanese prisons, as the new army chief of staff.

He replaces Gen. Earle G. Wheeler, who yesterday was named to succeed Gen. Maxwell Taylor, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff. Taylor in return was named ambassador to South Viet Nam in place of Henry Cabot Lodge, who resigned to return to the United States for the patients care.

Gen. Johnson, until his appointment was junior to 31 other three-star officers as well as to 13 four-star generals who could have been picked for the army's number one post.

Only 27 years old, Johnson has been in his present rank for 11 months and currently had been serving as deputy chief of staff for operations. During this time, he worked intimately with Gen. Wheeler.

Slick Dome Red Has Guards Everywhere but in His Hair

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, June 25 (AP)—Premier Khrushchev is getting restless and annoyed over the refusal security forces to let Swedish police have put around him.

With thousands of patrolmen bristling with rifles and pistols, and hundreds of detectives in every nook and cranny, Khrushchev, an armed camp since the Soviet leader arrived three days ago.

A Soviet source said Khrushchev is beginning to resent the massive security curtain keeping him from contact with the Swedish people.

His impatience was demonstrated during a visit to the shipping center of Gothenburg yesterday. When Khrushchev tried to get into an open car, he was held in France and also in Egypt.

Another paper called Khrushchev a "prisoner of the Swedish security police." In the United States he traveled in an open car, as he did in France and also in Egypt.

Another paper called Khrushchev a "prisoner of the Swedish security police." Thousands of embittered refugees from behind the Iron curtain live in Sweden.

No unauthorized person is allowed anywhere near the man from the Kremlin, and even accredited officials are sometimes turned away five thousand people at two companies of army commandos are everywhere—holding up traffic, blocking sidewalks, peering from rooftops, arching, passersby, fusing through kitchen.

Expensive, Scandinavia's biggest newspaper, complained on Khrushchev's behalf: "We are astonished at all these police, and so many Khrushchevs. In the United States he traveled in an open car, as he did in France and also in Egypt."

Atheist Takes Refuge in Honolulu

HONOLULU, June 25 — Atheist Madelyn Murray's family has moved into a temporary home in Honolulu after receiving various offers of shelter — including one from a church.

The Rev. Delwyn Bayson, a congregational minister, said he hoped the embattled Maryland atheist "find peace and happiness in Hawaii."

The Unitarian church said it would offer the Murray family refuge.

Mrs. Murray, her mother, Honna Mays; her brother, John D. Mays, Jr.; sons Garth, 9, and Bill, 10; and Bill's bride, the former Susan Abramowitz, 17, arrived in Hawaii under assumed names Tuesday.

The family fled Baltimore after a fracas there with police, and went to Hawaii seeking religious asylum.

Mrs. Murray, 45, a divorcee, won a court suit last year that brought a supreme court ban on compulsory prayers in the nation's schools.

The family settled into a temporary home yesterday but kept the address secret.

Several members of the family are charged with assaulting Baltimore police. But Maryland's attorney general, Thomas H. Finney, visiting in Hawaii, commented Mrs. Murray "is not worth extraditing back to Maryland."

The family's hasty Baltimore departure sprang from trouble with the police following the marriage of Bill Murray to Susan Abramowitz, 17. Susan's parents accused Mrs. Murray of inducing Susan to abandon her Jewish faith.

When police served a court contempt citation on the bride, accusing her of violating a judicial order to stay away from the Murrays, a melee broke out.

4-H Speaker Urges Objective

UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO, Moscow, June 25 — In a fast-paced talk, Dr. D. W. Ballentine, former president of the California College of Medicine, Los Angeles, challenged Idaho 4-H members' meeting here to fight an attainable objective in life and have fun reaching it.

Dr. Hogley was a highlight speaker of the week's program for some 700 students attending the 20th annual 4-H congress.

"One of the big problems you will be facing in the world is that of population," Dr. Hogley said. "In 80 years there will be only standing room, so if you want a place to sit down then, you must prepare now."

U.S. Navy Ship Arrives in Asia With Supplies

BANGKOK, Thailand, June 25 — A third U. S. navy ship arrived today with equipment for U. S. military stockpiles in Thailand.

Another ship with U. S. military equipment is expected on Thursday and a fifth Sunday.

Most of the equipment aboard the first two ships consisted of jeeps, trailers and 3-ton trucks.

All appeared to be new, from depots on Okinawa. U. S. soldiers quickly connected batteries, filled gas tanks and drove off to Korat, 150 miles northeast of Bangkok, where the U. S. army has maintained a major equipment depot since 1962.

The freighter is carrying armored vehicles.

He told the responsive audience that "your first job is to be happy. You are going to be in school about 25 per cent of your life. You are not going to get out of it. You must remain in school or be a moron. There is no place for an untrained person today in this world."

Dr. Hogley emphasized the importance for students to have fun doing what they must, and the need to attain good school records along the way.

"What you will be 15 years from today depends upon the decisions you make today," he said.

He set out guidelines to follow:

"One, set an objective. You have to concentrate your drive on a given objective." He suggested that the student set a five-year objective and file it on a card; set a one-year objective.

He stressed the need for them to find a balance between the two. In tempering his ominous dictums of their future, Dr. Hogley said, "While you have to make a living, you have to have a life. . . . Millions of people die if they had died before they were born. You hold your life in your hands this day, and it will be 'as you will it.'"

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

By ANDREW TULLY
WASHINGTON, June 25—In case you hadn't noticed, the supreme court made another change in the Constitution the other day. And the interesting thing is that the people have only themselves to blame.

Nothing in the Constitution gives the court power to decide how state legislatures are to be elected, but that right is Chief Justice Warren and five other justices from assuming that power. They decided that the districts in both houses of those legislatures must be "fairly and equally apportioned."

Ultimately, 40 of the 50 states probably will be affected by this dictatorial and unconstitutional ruling.

In its 9-3 ruling, the court admittedly attacked a widespread abuse, the gerrymandering by which residents of rural districts in many states are given far more votes than city voters. This has reached the point where, as Justice Warren noted, "it takes two, five, or 10 city votes to equal one rural vote."

UNFAIRNESS OBVIOUS—No one can dispute the fairness of this state of affairs, nor the essential correctness of the court's equal protection clause providing that "no state shall deny to any person within its jurisdiction the equal protection of the laws"—including laws pertaining to the vote. In states like New York and Virginia, some city voters have been rejected by the state legislatures.

But the supreme court was established to enforce the Constitution, not to amend it out of hand in order to achieve reforms in the body politic. As Justice Harlan remarked in his dissent, "The Constitution is not a panacea for every blot upon the public welfare; nor is the court to be regarded as a general haven for reform movements."

HANDS OFF FOR 175 YEARS—More important, there is no support for the court's decision in any of its prior rulings. For 175 years, the makeup of state legislatures has been left in the hands of the state, whose jurisdiction was unchallenged. During those 175 years, it has been recognized that all states are not alike, and that allowances must be made, as Justice Stewart noted in another dissent, for accommodating "the interests and peculiarities of diverse groups of people"—such as farmers and shop clerks.

Admittedly, the situation has gotten out of hand, and that is where the citizen's blame lies. The Eisenhower and Goldwaters can yell all they want about states' rights, but the fact is the states generally haven't done a thing to reform their apportionment abuses. The states are the ones that have opened the door for intrusion by the supreme court in their affairs.

POLITICS ISN'T DEAD—It is all very well to say the court has no right to intrude, which it hasn't, but the citizenry should face the fact of life that a supreme court with this kind of means subscribes to the philosophy that the federal government has, or can assume, almost unlimited power.

The states should have acted long ago. Instead, they have given a reformist court another chance, greedily seized, to change the law of the land.

Views of Others

BABY'S DAY NEARS
It is becoming more clear every day that whatever gains there are in the Republican house over the presidential nomination are likely to accrue to the Democrats. The Republican critics of Goldwater concentrated their efforts, for some time on blocking his nomination. Now that it appears to be impossible to do this they are launched on a campaign to make him more moderate.

This should make the Democrats happy.

When Senator Goldwater took this speaker's stand at his party's 1964 convention in Chicago he stated that he would not attack their allegiance to Richard Nixon. He said something like this, "I am not giving up the battle, but this isn't the year for a conservative victory. Let us accept that and make plans to renew our campaign at a later date."

That date apparently has come. The hard core of faithful Goldwater supporters now has become nearly a majority of all the delegates that will attend the 1964 convention in San Francisco. It is unlikely Goldwater will let them down by joining with his liberal critics.

If the governors of Pennsylvania, New York and Michigan are right in their assumption that the voters will support the Arizona senator for the presidency, his chances for victory are not very bright. But the thought has rarely if ever been expressed that the presidency is less important in the minds of the senator and his followers than control of the Republican party. And they surely will have control if their man is nominated.

Some observers have said Goldwater's nomination will divide the Republicans hopelessly. Others have said it may mean the end of the two-party system in America.

Whatever the result, the enthusiasm of the conservative for the use and the loyalty of Goldwater are unlikely to allow them to make any compromise. This is their day and it will be surprising if they don't make the most of it.

There also is the possibility, of course, that a greater number of Americans favor the type of man who runs than the type of the road and liberal Republicans are willing to recognize. If Goldwater is nominated, as now seems probable, and he carries his campaign to the people with vigor and determination, the result might well be the crowning of all the hopes of the party. At the moment this seems not enough to win the presidency. But the Goldwater supporters are likely to say that stranger things have happened.—Mankato (Minn.) Press.

THE INSIDE TOURIST
The tourist-guide service which offers to take its client to private clubs, diplomatic parties, and into other "inner circles" may have struck pay dirt in the travel business. This sort of itinerary is reported to cost $10 a day. If the service, it appears that the service is operating chiefly in New York City, where there are as many inner circles as there are outer ones anywhere else.

This enterprise could be an American version of the country-house tours in Britain, where the agency collects something like half a dollar per hour to take you to about 25 castles. The tourists see what cozy nests doted ancestors could line with funds that now go into taxes.

So far there is no version of the British "national trust" to take over American inner circles and keep them in good repair. But if they prove educational, could a rich foundation be far behind?

We do not intend to predict what the future of "inner tourism" will be in New York. In Washington, however, it could put tourists on the inside almost as soon as the dial turns.

In London? Paris? But Moscow is the city we'd most like to see as an insider. What a tourist agency could do with slogans like "Crack the Kremlin" or "Be a spy with Khrushchev," "Peeking in Peking," or "Smiling It With Mao."

In other words, we think the New York agency has an idea. But we can think of cities that, if competition in providing the tour is stiff, might offer a convention that marks the man or woman who has really "been there."—Christian Science Monitor.

OUR BULLETIN BOARD
Mrs. S. Rupert—Yep, they returned and the better half has been deeply involved in a business project at Postville. One of these first days they'll undoubtedly transfer the base of operations to Mackay.

DISCOURAGES INTRUDERS
Dear Pot Shots:
Evidently the last person to leave O'Leary Junior high school forgot to turn out the lights.

Anyway, every time I've driven by the place for the past two or three days the porch light has been on during the daytime.

WASHINGTON, June 25 (AP)—The supreme court has opened the door to a double revolution in American life—and given it a new sense of justice—by stopping a vacuum in race and politics.

The vacuum was created by the failure of the democratic process to wipe out the racial and political forces which the ruling forces—white majorities and politicians—sought to keep in place.

The court has opened the door with its willingness to not where all held back. But the alternative was to let the democratic process decay, which would have been a confession of democratic failure and national impotence.

The first revolution began just over 10 years ago when the court declared on May 17, 1954, the principle of racial segregation unconstitutional by outlawing segregation in public schools.

The second revolution began with the three decisions—one in 1962, two this year—that elected the 86th congress and put the house of representatives and senate more democratic by trying to give all voters an equal voice.

The court has been accused of usurping power. If congress thought so, it would have tried to curb the court. It did not. Instead, it accepted an law which the court did and has sought to conform to it.

This is the rest of the world, not situated in American politics or its racial prejudices, the court stands as an expression of the national democratic conscience at the very moment this country seeks to be a democratic symbol.

While the Civil war freed the Negro, it never in practice made him equal to the white man. The supreme court blessed the inequality by making it an official part of American life with its separate-but-equal decision of 1896.

This said Negroes could be segregated so long as the treatment they got was equal to that given white people. The treaty became increasingly unequal, particularly in the South but in the North, too.

The nation had more than half a century then in which through its democratic process, to remove the injustice but it sat back, unwilling to move even though the rest of the world with the colored peoples' freedom was rushing through one of the most revolutionary moments in all history.

It was the court, not congress, which in 1954, finally said an end to unequal treatment of citizens. If the court had not acted, there was no indication congress would have acted for another half century.

For the first 60 years of this century, American politicians largely ignored that they were less American possession: full employment by all citizens of the democratic process, meaning equal representation.

Why? Because these politicians largely ignored that they were less American possession: full employment by all citizens of the democratic process, meaning equal representation.

Poor Man's Plato

By HAL HOYLE
NEW YORK, June 25 (AP)—Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail: The two-job man may become as commonplace in America as the two-garage home.

America now has four million two-jobbers—people who hold more than one job. Seven out of eight of these double duty workers are men, most of them married.

Most enlightening fact: In most common among teachers, farmers, salesmen, postal employees, firemen and policemen. One of every 10 government employees holds down a second full-time job.

In Tallit, barbershops provide gowns rather than magazines for waiting customers to entertain themselves.

Some U.S. buses now have piped-in music to keep passengers contented. Japanese buses are decorated with fresh flowers.

If we dislike someone, we sometimes say, "Life as phony as a 43 bill." But during the 1840's, the 18th Duke of Devon circulated a 43 bill.

Quotable notices: "One of the many things people never tell you about middle age is that it's such a nice change from being young"—Dorothy Canfield Fisher.

er. In Turkey at one time a wife had legal grounds for divorce if she could prove her husband neglected or refused to provide her with coffee.

It took all the wars across 175 years to kill a million Americans. The auto accomplished the same feat in 62 years. At the present rate, traffic accidents will take a toll of another million lives in the hours in congress.

If you had saved your 1963 calendar, you wouldn't need one for 1964. They are the same, day for day.

Can you name the only U.S. president who ever hung a man? As sheriff of Erie county, N.Y., Crover Cleveland personally supervised the hanging of two criminals, refusing to delegate the task.

Love makes employees happier and more efficient on the job, in the opinion of one Japanese firm. It pays a monthly bonus of $150 to couples who announce they are childless.

Just 100 years ago the inscription "In God We Trust" first appeared on a U.S. coin—the two-cent piece. But congress didn't adopt the phrase as our national motto until 1955.

Quicker: One man in 20, but only one woman in 300, has red-green color blindness. The U.S. buffalo herd now numbers more than 6,500. Boys have 15 per cent more surgical operations than girls. A woman in twice as likely as a man to live to be 100.

MARQUIS CHILDS WRITES ON WASHINGTON

WASHINGTON, June 25—While most of us are preoccupied with the "he's up, he's down" of an election year, the alarm bells at three or four per cent points around the world are not contentiously stop ringing.

No. 1 is Viet Nam and Southeast Asia. President Kennedy was firmly convinced that if Viet Nam should be lost the party in power would suffer a fatal blow. The Johnson administration also was convinced that if Viet Nam should be lost the party in power would suffer a fatal blow.

In view of this, the report that Undersecretary of State George Ball brought back from his conversation with President de Gaulle in Paris is on the cheering side. Those who have carefully noted the report of the conversation in the Elisee palace were impressed with de Gaulle's civility and reasonableness. The way had been prepared in great secrecy by a private emissary from President Johnson in the person of Robert B. Anderson, secretary of the treasury in the Eisenhower administration and currently one of the most influential of the Johnson confidantes.

This majestic prose to one side, what de Gaulle said to Ball was roughly as follows: "Of course you can remain in Viet Nam in defiance. We have never doubted this. You have the power to do it if you choose to. But what we have questioned is why you should want to remain there into the indefinite future, since you cannot materially alter the present situation."

With an air of what for the grand Charles would pass for modesty he put forward again his proposal for renewing the 14-nation Indochina conference to consider the crisis in Laos with the likelihood that Cambodia and Viet Nam would inevitably also be considered. It would be a new attempt to find a neutral solution for Southeast Asia. As far as Laos is concerned, including Red China as one of the original conferees, would go on for months.

But the prospect of a diplomatic talkathon raises for Washington a dread specter. That is, the collapse of the government of the Republic of Vietnam. Any suggestion that the United States was considering—by the diplomatic conference effort—less than all-out support for the Vietnamese war effort would have dire effects on the Khmer regime. That is the firm belief of those working hardest to bolster the South in the face of the war weariness coming down to the flesh and the bone of a people who have endured more than 20 years of strife. With Khmer, if he should be swept aside, would go the last chance of holding the line against a Viet Cong takeover.

American policy in Asia suffers from two handicaps. On the short term, the other a more serious long-term handicap. On the first score the question is whether policy in Viet Nam is being run by the diplomats of the military.

The state department asks the air force and the navy to take measures such as reconnaissance flights in Laos. The response is very well, we will do what you request, but you must be prepared to accept the consequences of this act as we judge no requirements that may flow out of it. Thus, bombing in retaliation for the shooting down of two planes is judged a necessity. In this way the war could escalate contrary to the desires and intentions of civilian policymakers.

The second handicap goes back to the McCarthy era. Under the McCarthy lash Chinese specialists in the foreign service were damned for having "lost" China. They were driven out or put under protective cover in Europe in the hope that the storm might eventually blow over.

Today evidence is mounting that even from the most unexpected quarters there is recognition that China and 700 or 800 million Chinese can no longer be ignored. But the state department is almost totally barren of experts with firsthand knowledge and understanding of what is happening in that consider-able part of the world. It is no longer by American fear and prejudice. No one, for example, brings to the problem of China anything like the expert knowledge and judgment that Llewellyn Thompson brings to Soviet-American relations.

The guidance of the expert is far from being the whole answer. But without it too policymakers are plagued by doubts and to often they resolve those doubts simply following along in the old well-worn rut.

ment became increasingly unequal, particularly in the South but in the North, too.

The nation had more than half a century then in which through its democratic process, to remove the injustice but it sat back, unwilling to move even though the rest of the world with the colored peoples' freedom was rushing through one of the most revolutionary moments in all history.

The Doctor Says

Isn't it about time to have a cookout? If you answer "No" by all means—if you take a few simple precautions.

Never use kerosene, lighter fluid or other potentially explosive fluid to start the grill. Safe commercial starters are now available. If you must use a match, be careful in the fire. Never inhale the fumes.

Be sure the grill is on a level, and long-handled tongs handle the hot meat. Pickled onions with the point down to avoid dripping hot grease on your hands. Children must be kept away from the hot grill.

Don't leave hot coals in the grill after you're through cooking because a child may fall against the grill and be badly burned. The coals should be smothered with dirt or sand.

If you choose to extinguish them with water, be careful to avoid being scalded by a cloud of steam. Use enough water to put the fire out completely. Many fires that have been done with too little water have come to life again and caused damage to persons or property.

Q—What side effects come from taking Equanil regularly? Is it habit-forming? Would withdrawal be harmful?

A—Equanil is a brand of meprobamate, which is a tranquilizer. Side effects include drowsiness, loss of appetite and skin rash. The drug is mildly habit-forming. Sudden withdrawal may cause convulsions. No tranquilizer should be taken regularly.

The main test of a good partnership is its ability to bid slams successfully.

Thus, there are any number of ways to get to six spades with today's hand.

One way is for North to take off and bid six the moment his partner responds to his opening full charge.

Or there is the very nice route in which Texans Dr. John Jacoby of Dallas and Mrs. David Haver of Fort Worth bid the slam at the Midwestern regionals in Little Rock, Ark.

The key bid was Mrs. Haver's five hearts. She was very happy after four spades, but felt that John had to have very good cards to warrant his strong bidding and that they might conceivably be in a slam in the hand.

It didn't take much courage on John's part to bid the slam once his partner showed heart strength.

Looking at the North-South cards only, there is no guarantee the North bid will make, but it certainly is a fine contract to be in, and slams trump broke 3-4. Mrs. Haver was able to ruff her two losing diamonds in dummy.

Church Seeks Money for River Study

WASHINGTON, June 25 (AP)—Additional funds for study and control of flood problems in Idaho have been requested by Sen. Frank Church.

In a statement filed with Senate Public Works Subcommittee Chairman Allen J. Ellender, D., La., Church asked that $50,000 be appropriated for additional studies on the Portneuf river and its tributaries.

Even though flood control projects are in advanced stages of planning in Pocatello, Church pointed out, additional study is needed. Church said a complete study would cost an estimated $185,000.

"Disastrous floods on the Portneuf river," he added, "in both 1902 and 1903 caused damages conservatively estimated at almost 4-million dollars."

Church also asked the committee to appropriate $400,000 for the little dam on Willow creek so that the project can be completed in the coming fiscal year.

The dam was authorized in 1952, he said, and $450,000 has been spent on planning. He reported flood damage in the area mounted to $3,165,000 in 1952.

He also requested a 2-million dollar appropriation for the Lower Granite on the Snake river. No funds have been included in the 1955 budget for this project, he declared. Yet, he said, these funds are essential to complete on schedule a navigational program which will tap resources of a vast economic empire, with tremendous benefits for the Pacific Northwest.

Mrs. Johnson Urges Women To Get Busy

DETROIT, June 25 (AP)—Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson urged women last night to "get involved" in the world outside the home and work for the goals of a "great society."

"The horizons of women all over the world are widening each night to include the needs of our private family to the family of man," she said in a speech prepared for delivery before the national convention of the Home Economics association.

She admitted that she needed pushing herself and did not become deeply involved in the needs of society until she married a politically-minded Texan.

But speaking from experience she told the 2,000 women delegates, in effect, to jump in, the water is fine.

"As American women, we hold a tremendous potential of strength for good," she said. She said she was referring to the force women have when they mark a ballot, teach children, or work for a better community.

She geared her speech mainly to her audience of home economists and stressed what they could do to help in the "unfiniteness" of America.

The public is invited to visit the site of the stations.

Utah Tot Falls From Third Story

SALT LAKE CITY, June 25 (AP)—A 20-month-old child who fell 35 feet from a third-story apartment window Tuesday remained in "critical" condition last night.

Police said Kenneth Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jay H. Smith, Salt Lake City, missed a concrete sidewalk by inches. The boy lit on the back of his head in a dirt area.

The child apparently climbed on a bed and leaned against a window screen which fell open. The boy's mother grabbed for the child as he fell through the window.

WASHINGTON, June 25 (AP)—Rep. Ralph Harding, D., Ida., said yesterday the President's war on poverty bill "deserves the careful study" of all members of congress.

Harding said the poverty or economic opportunity act, now in the house rules committee, is an attempt to halt "what studies show to be an almost hereditary trend as far as poverty is concerned in this country."

News Around Idaho

Heart Attack, Smoking Link Questioned

AN FRANCISCO, June 25 (AP)—A New York heart specialist, writing on a survey of 13,000 professional persons, said today that job stress is closely linked to coronary heart disease—but smoking may not be.

The survey covered 14 occupational groups with "obvious differences" in job tensions, said Dr. Henry J. Hays, consultant cardiologist, and pathologist, public health service hospital, New York.

Dr. Hays listed those surveys in order of decreasing stress: general medical practitioners, ophthalmologists, pathologists, radiologists, general dental practitioners, oral surgeons, orthodontists and periodontists, dental law practitioners, trial lawyers, lawyers in various specialties and patent lawyers.

In addition, he said, security analysts and security traders on the New York Stock Exchange are computerized.

Persons who said they never smoked showed significantly higher coronary heart disease rates than those who stopped smoking before their attack or before the time of the questionnaire. If there was no attack, Dr. Hays reported at the annual convention of the American Heart Association.

"These findings cast doubt upon the alleged role of smoking in the genesis of coronary heart disease," he said.

Dr. Hays' report followed a statement by the AMA's American Heart Association that the AMA recognizes "a significant relationship between cigarette smoking and the incidence of lung cancer and certain other diseases, and that cigarette smoking is a serious health hazard," but it didn't mention heart disease specifically.

Additional NATO Mixed Crews Are Considered

LONDON, June 25 (AP)—Britain plans to submit to North Atlantic Treaty organization members a proposal to mix NATO nuclear planes and surface installations as well as ships with crews of mixed nationalities.

British officials said the proposal will be presented, probably next month, to the committee of eight NATO nations which is studying all phases of the plan for a mixed manned fleet of Polaris surface ships originally sponsored by the late President John F. Kennedy.

Idaho Tax Revision May Finally Rest With Changes in Real Property Taxes

By RICHARD CHARNOCK
BOISE, June 25 (AP)—In much of the talk about tax revision in Idaho, particularly the one recently made on real property owners—there is a significant factor that quite often is overlooked.

Briefly, this is the ratio of assessment to value in the 44 counties in the cash value of the property being taxed and the way this ratio varies from county to county.

Many who have made a study of the tax revision in Idaho cannot be satisfied until all property is assessed on an equal basis.

For instance, suppose you and your friend each own real property worth $10,000 but live in different counties. Suppose in your county the assessment ratio is 16 per cent of the cash value and in your friend's county, it is 10 per cent. And suppose your 10 per cent school support levy is 30 mills. Then you are paying a higher property tax for school support than your friend—even though you live on the same property in the same. Your property is assessed for tax purposes at a higher rate—in other words, the bank on which the mill levy is applied is higher.

State tax commission figures for 1963 show that real property in Idaho that year was assessed for tax purposes on an average of 16.018 per cent of its cash value.

That was the statewide average. But the amounts varied from county to county from a low of 13.890 per cent in Kootenai county to a high of 23.141 in Boise county. Others included Ada at 16.823, Blaine at 14.609, Bingham 16.026, Bonanza 16.570, Canyon 14.291, Cassia 14.318, Shoshone 23.101, Twin Falls 16.771 and Washington 16.242.

Notice a difference? Now, consider still another factor: the rates in each county vary still more, depending on the class of property. Usually, residential property, business property and industrial property—each one generally a little to a lot higher, depending on the instance, reported he paid $4,400 in taxes on his hotel property last year. He has a brother with a ranch in the same county and worth, the hotel man said, about twice as much as the hotel. The brother paid $1,100 on his property.

There has been talk from time to time among legislators of doing something to equalize the property tax burden throughout the state. Public school money distribution formulas, for instance, have included a minimum mill levy at the local level as a pre-requisite for state aid.

Legislators who have tried to equalize the assessment levels—in recent years at least—has failed to get off the ground.

BOCATELLO, June 25 (AP)—Real property taxes increased in Blaine county from $4,262,634 in 1962 to $4,528,076 last year, according to Treasurer Aileen P. Mullen. She said about 95 per cent of the 1963 property tax in the county had been collected by Monday's deadline for payment of the second installment.

BOISE, June 25 (AP)—June 30 is the deadline for renewing licenses required before a contractor can bid or work on public projects in the state, John P. Moller, state highway board registrar, said for a contractor to bid or perform work for the construction, reconstruction or repair of public facilities, he must have the license. Public works contract awarding agencies, he said, include the state of Idaho, or any county, city, town, village, school district, irrigation district, sewer district, fire district or any other taxing subdivision of the state. Additional fees may be assessed as a penalty for delinquent filing, Moller added.

BOISE, June 25 (AP)—John O. McMurray, Idaho Republican chairman, has lashed out at Sen. Frank Church because, he said, Church made remarks condemning Barry Goldwater's stand on the United Nations. "I can assure the public," he said, "that Church's opinions carry no weight with the Republican party." McMurray suggested Church was "trying to influence the Republican national convention against the state's best interests." Church, who recently became acquainted with the view of his close colleague in the senate, the chairman said.

S. 101 north of Roberts. The board, which concluded its June sessions yesterday, also agreed to determine whether the state of Wyoming could rent Idaho snow removal equipment for a road from Briggs to a proposed ski area in Wyoming's Teton canyon. They told the board that men from Oregon instead of Idaho unions would be hired if there is no access from the Idaho side. But Board Chairman W. C. Burns, Idaho Falls, said the road would require all the funds the state has for five years to build the proposed road in the rough country.

IDAHO FALLS, June 25 (AP)—Rivers in East Idaho were dropping Thursday according to Henry C. Eagle, Snake river district 36 watermaster. Eagle said that the drop would continue for the next several days partly because of warming temperatures and lack of rain, and partly because of the closing of the gates at Falladas dam. The gates were closed Thursday to fill the reservoir, Eagle said.

State Police Investigate 2 Accidents

Idaho state police investigated two accidents in the county Wednesday.

Stanley C. Carlson, 23, 447 Wakefield street, was cited for reckless driving after the 1953 Mercury he was driving at 1 a.m. up Shoshone falls grade went off the wrong side of the highway and into a borrow pit, hitting rocks.

Damage was estimated at $76 to the vehicle.

Robert Eugene Kodat, 37, Salt Lake City, told state police officers he was driving his 1964 International two-ton truck at 4:50 p.m. Wednesday two miles north and one-half miles west of Piler on U. S. 30 when he saw several cars stopped on the highway.

"To avoid hitting the cars he swerved his truck into a ditch and a field owned by John Miller, route 1, Piler. The trailer of the truck jackknifed across the highway.

The fish has five "fingers" on the back legs and four on its front legs. Wright put the creature on display in a Sioux City barber shop in a jar of formaldehyde.

Buhl Jaycees to Sponsor Sagebrush Day as Fourth of July Celebration

BUHL, June 24—The city of Buhl is taking on a festive air as Buhl Jaycees trim and make arrangements for a gala "Sagebrush day" Fourth of July celebration which will include a parade, games, concession stands, free swimming, free barbecue, fireworks display and a dance to end the day.

Huge sagebrush bushes line the business section of Buhl in keeping with the theme. Jaycees also are getting ready to hang a banner announcing the celebration and the old colorful chuckwagon will be on display in downtown Buhl in a few days.

Local residents and civic organizations are getting in the spirit, with many announcing plans to participate in the event by either entering floats, making concession stands, according to Darrel Meltoberis, general chairman in charge of arrangements.

A day-long festivities will open with a parade at 11 a.m. which Ormond Smith, Rene James and Merlin Hudson, co-chairmen, promise to be the biggest and best ever held in the West End, with entries coming from all over Magic Valley.

Already slated to appear are Miss Buhl, Elaine Kay Johnson, along with the other 1964 pageant contestants. There also will be Timmer's Car club, featuring 15 antique car models, the Magic Valley Thimble association and Buhl Byndentale, with dragsters and custom racing cars, several high school bands and area junior riding clubs.

Ed Vogel, parade marshal, will enter an old Western authentic stage coach, an original Civil War cannon and his famous steam engines. Local implement dealers will have tractors and farming implement entries and horse ranchers in the valley have indicated there will be some very unique old Western-type rigs entered in the parade.

The Buhl Youth center, Red Cross, Boy Scouts of troop 9 and the Buhl high school class of 1964, which will be celebrating its 20-year reunion on that week-end, along with other individual groups, have announced plans to enter floats in the parade.

Grand prizes for the best parade entry will be $100. Other cash prizes of $20 will be awarded for the best riding club entry, and $5 for the best children's entry. Trophies will be awarded to the best horse-drawn rig, best custom car, best old timer, and the best outfitted horse and rider, best float entry and best-matched pair of riders and horses.

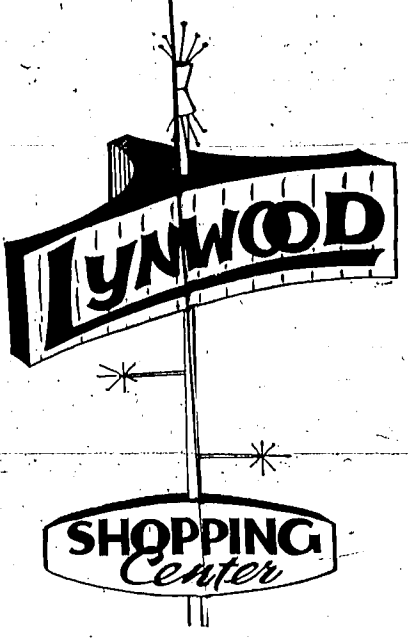

Immediately after the parade several of the participants will set up their entries in the Buhl city park or Eastman park for display.

"Midway" carnival featuring games and food and drink concession stands also will be set up at the park, Meltoberis stated. Bethod pony rides will be available for youngsters, as well as free swimming in the municipal pool.

Several games and contests for youngsters to participate in for prizes will be sponsored by the Jaycees under the direction of an official and Jack Jardine. Official horseshoe tournament will be conducted by the Buhl Lions club.

At 3 p.m. a gigantic free barbecue will be served to the public courtesy of the Buhl Chamber of Commerce. Joppy's barbecue at Thousand Springs will also serve this event. The barbecue will feature 1,000 pounds of beef, to be cooked, seasoned and cooked in an open barbecue pit. Tshombe Returns to Congo; Will Presence Help, Hinder?

MADRID, Spain, June 25 (UPI)—Former Katanga President Moïse Tshombe, who fled into exile after the collapse of his secessionist regime, left Wednesday to return to the Congo.

Tshombe said he aimed to help free the revolt-torn country from "misery and anarchy."

He has been living in Europe since shortly after his attempt to set up an independent government in Katanga was defeated by the central government in Leopoldville with the aid of U. N. military forces 18 months ago.

The U. N.-Congo force is scheduled to pull out next week although communist-backed rebels have erupted in Ituri and Ituvu provinces and spilled over into Katanga.

Before boarding a commercial airliner for Brussels on his flight to the Congo, Tshombe told a news conference he was returning in answer to "the desires of the people, the political parties and the invitation of the central government."

"Peace cannot be obtained except through a general reconciliation and this is the principal aim of my return to the Congo," Tshombe said.

He said he will "speak in Leopoldville on behalf of all opponents to the present regime and will hold talks with members of the central government" which is headed by Premier Cyrille Adoula.

John Parry, UPI African affairs reporter at the United Nations, writes from New York: "Tshombe's decision to return to Leopoldville where previously he has been held prisoner by the central government as a rebel, indicates he has reached some form of political accommodation with his former foe, Premier Cyrille Adoula."

Tshombe's announcement at the U. N. view Wednesday's announcement in Madrid as indicative of a move by Adoula to broaden the base of support for his government—weakness and by revolts in the eastern and central Congo and faced with the threat of new chaos when United Nations troops pull out for good next week.

Tshombe's secessionist movement in Katanga was defeated by U. N. military action 18 months ago, but he retains a strong following there through his tribal ties in the Elisabethville region.

An understanding between Tshombe and Adoula would be valuable to the central government as a means of checking the spread of the communist inspired revolt in Ituri and Ituvu to Katanga.

But the chances of a Tshombe-Adoula alliance enduring for very long seem slim.

Tshombe's statement in Madrid indicated he may seek for the premiership for himself, and while his difference with Adoula may be patched up for a while, his ambitions—and the general confusion of Congolese politics—are likely to lead him on an independent path before long.

Early Settler At Wendell Passes at 89

WENDELL, June 25—James Forbes McBlirney, 89, an early pioneer of this area, died in Ephrata, Wash., reports Mrs. Florence Fowler, Wendell.

Mr. and Mrs. McBlirney moved here from Chicago, when the tract opened in 1909. They farmed the land where the Joe Dillo family now resides. The area is still known as the McBlirney district. A schoolhouse that bore his name was used for many years, before it was sold and moved to Wendell where it has been remodeled for use as Christ Lutheran church.

Mr. McBlirney was a master of the Wendell Grange, member of lodge No. 54, AP and AM, and a member of the Presbyterian church.

The couple moved back to Chicago in 1918 and later moved to Seattle where he was employed. Later, they made their home with a daughter in Ephrata. Mrs. McBlirney died more than a year ago and Mr. McBlirney visited Wendell soon after her death.

Red Sticks Out Chest And Growls

JAKARTA, Indonesia, June 25 (AP)—Amnata I. Mikoyan said today that the United States refrains from large-scale war, "venturing only to make small-scale wars such as in South Viet Nam," because of the threat of Soviet retaliation.

"We have not wish to attract the United States' attention," Mikoyan said, first deputy premier told Indonesia's parliament, "but if they commit aggression against the Soviet Union and her allies, the United States will receive prompt retaliation along the lines of which have never been matched in the world before."

Apparently referring to the split between Moscow and Peking, Mikoyan expressed regret that there are still differences among members of the socialist camp. But he said the capitalist nations also have their differences, for example, supported the British-backed federation of Malaya only after Britain had promised to back the United States in South Viet Nam.

Mikoyan pledged Soviet support for Indonesia's anti-Mekong campaign and said President Sukarno's government was waging a "just struggle" in seeking "independence" for the people of Malaysian North Borneo.

$140,000 Netted by Messenger

OAKLAND, Calif., June 25 (AP)—A wide search was under way yesterday for a trusted 20-year-old bank messenger suspected of casually strolling off with $140,000 in cash in a shopping bag.

The FBI obtained an embargement warrant for the messenger, Theodore C. Nelson, several hours after the money disappeared from the Oakland Bank of Commerce. FBI agents said they found a note in Nelson's San Francisco apartment indicating he would attempt to leave the country, possibly for Mexico. Agents were ordered to airports across the country in an effort to locate the suspect.

Bank officials described Nelson as "a nice, hardworking boy who had a future with us." They were stunned when the loss was discovered.

The day started routinely enough. Nelson, as part of his job, presented a check to the cashier's office. The check was for $140,000 in $20, $10 and $5 denominations. Nelson then should have delivered the money, which was the bank's cash requirements for the day, to a cashier's cage in the basement.

But other employees recalled seeing Nelson walking away from the basement stairs toward a street exit carrying a gray shopping bag.

Nelson's disappearance was not discovered until an hour later when Charles May, 30, the man who was to receive the cash, realized that the young messenger was late with his delivery.

Small Fry Found Tying With TNT

SPOKANE, June 25 (AP)—"I didn't think too much of it," said a distraught mother here last night, "until I saw the words 'TNT' on the lid.

"If you went outside and saw the boys had pried the lid off one of the containers and were playing with the powder inside."

That's the report Mrs. Richard Cotes gave police after sons, Mike, 3, and Mark, 4, uncovered four containers of army TNT while digging in the backyard of the family home.

Mrs. Cotes said she was working in the kitchen when one of the boys brought in a lid from one of the containers and announced:

"Look what I found, mommy!"

Frank Dearing, an explosives expert for the city of Spokane, was called by police. He said the TNT in the containers was the highly-explosive type used by the army in demolition work.

The Cotes, who have lived in the house a year, had no idea where the explosive came from.

"Julie don't either but were investigating."

Near-Naked Indian Spoils Astronauts' Snake Lunch

BALBOA, C. Z., June 25 (AP)—The jungle lunch of roasted snake and other goodies was doing fine, until an Indian chief clad in loin cloth and Texas hat touched off a smelly smoke bomb near the table.

"That was the biggie climax this week to the first taste of life in the tropical wilderness for 14 American astronauts.

The spacemen, who came to Panama to learn how to get along in case their spaceship makes a crash-landing in a jungle, included Edwin Aldrin, William Anders, Charles J. Conrad II, Alan Bean, Roger Chaffin, Eugene Cernan, Michael Collins, Dr. Walter Cunningham, Doni Eisele, Theodore Freeman, Richard Gordon, Russell Schweickart, David Scott and Clifton Williams.

With fellow astronaut Charles (Pete) Conrad, who has made the trip before, the fledglings set out with survival kit in hand yesterday to spend three days living off the fat of the Panama Canal Zone's steaming swamplands.

An air force helicopter ferried them three at a time from Balboa's sixth hole fairway to a dense stretch of jungle five miles away—and their first encounter with a wiry Choco Indian chief and his family, who had not seen a human in a clear patch of land a few hundred feet from the banks of Panama's Chagres river.

His Spanish name was Antonio Zarco, and he presented a weird sight, aside from the loin cloth and black face paint, he wore bright strings of beads around his shoulders. Conrad stopped up with a gift—a Texas string tie, with silver tips, to add to the collection.

The Zarcos—and school instructors, alerted for the visitors, already had lunch laid out—a feast of box constrictor (snake), iguana (lizard), cooked green bananas, jaco (a large rodent), banana shoots and other goodies that stranded spacemen might expect to find in jungles.

Toward the end of the meal, Zarco presented Conrad with the gift of a small, handcarved turtle—and then suddenly pulled the fuse on a small smoke bomb that is normally a part of the survival kit.

While Zarco laughed merrily, the acid red smoke billowed over the cleared area, engulfing the food table and sending the startled astronauts scattering for cover.

Who made the orange more tempting than the apple?

Julie London, star of stage, screen and television.

Smirnoff did it—with the famous Smirnoff Screwdriver, America's most popular vodka drink. It not only looks like orange juice, it tastes like orange juice. That's because crystal clear Smirnoff, filtered through tons of activated charcoal, blends so perfectly with fruit juice and soft drinks. Just pour a jigger of Smirnoff over ice cubes, fill glass with orange juice and stir. Tempting? It's downright irresistible!

It leaves you breathless!

FROM ALL ANGLES

BY LARRY HOVEY
The jump from Curry to the top performer in the West Coast division plays a long role but the old-time name John Briggs, a 24-year-old sophomore from the University of Idaho, is the one to watch. He is the whole package, a combination of the old and the new.

Briggs, who is a state record holder for 100-yard sprints, has come out of his sophomore year at Idaho State University with a lot more track experience than most of his competitors. He is a hard worker, a determined runner, and a determined winner. He is a combination of the old and the new, a combination of the best of both worlds.

In addition to winning just about everything in sight this year and playing in nine for the 100-yard dash, Briggs still hasn't given up on his long-term goal of becoming a professional athlete. He is a combination of the old and the new, a combination of the best of both worlds.

John wasn't supposed to be the big man of the ISU team. The headlines appeared headed for Bill Harvey, a colorful sprinter who did great work for the Bengals a year ago. But Briggs moved past him this year and won a trophy case full of prizes as he shined in West Coast competition and spread-eagled the first annual 100-yard dash track and field championships.

But for highlights, or maybe surprise would be better fit, John remembers the first meet of the year. "That was the day I beat Harvey," he says. "I had never thought I would. But I was hurt (pulled muscle) at the time and I thought that was the reason. Then I beat him the next week and then the next after that. I guess we just beat each other in positions. He had never pitched last year and I might have psyched him a little this year," Briggs smiles.

The second surprise of the year for John was his times. "I had been hoping for 10 seconds for 100 yards (for the 100-yard dash) this year but I was surprised when I hit it so early," he recalls. "Then last week I got a 9.5 and I finally broke the 9.5 barrier."

The 9.5 time came in the finals of the NCAA college division when John tied for sixth. He dominated the Big Sky conference by winning the 100-yard and 200-yard sprints, anchoring the winning mile and 440-yard relay teams, being second in the broad jump and fourth in the hop, step and jump.

All of this has provided him a great number of medals, two engraved wrist-watches and the relay outstanding performer trophy. "It (the trophy) isn't big, but it's awful nice," he said self-consciously in answering a question as to its size.

As a high school runner Briggs could hit a winddown when he was under 10 that on several occasions. But he has surprised by continuing to improve his speed. He has two answers for that.

"I think I've got the best coach in the world," he praised coach Holt. "He knows so much about track and he's helped me with everything."

"The other is a new start that I've decided on long-range," Briggs said. "I've been known as a poor starter. It's getting me out quicker and I'm still working on it."

With better weather and water, the planting of hatchery fish can go into high gear and many favorite fishing spots will bloom again.

South fork of the Boise: Water is high but clearing because of cooler nights. Fair fishing. Big and Little Snake high but clear and fair fishing. Morrison reservoir good. They are taking some good fish trolling with pop gear. Thru creek reservoir only fair. Camas creek and tributaries good. Mude reservoir excellent from a boat and good from the bank. The mainly with pop gear or floatfish. Fishermen should check weight limits.

Big Wood river high but clear from cooler nights. Fair bait fishing. High lakes still low. Trout fishing is expected. Little Wood reservoir good from boats with the best fishing in the upper end of the reservoir. Streams are high but clear and should be fair fishing. Above the reservoir are still high and discolored but they are still taking some fish with bait. Snake river and Lake Walcott poor. Oakley reservoir fair. Lake Cleveland good. It still closed by snow. Salmon Falls reservoir is good with best fishing from boats with heavy gear. Roseworth reservoir is good and best from boats. Bank fishing is slow.

The Hagerman area streams are clear, fishing good. Outer lakes only fair. Most side roads throughout the entire Magic Valley area are still muddy and rough from recent storms. Don't expect to be open by July 4th week-end.

North fork district: North fork of the Salmon river is high but clear and fishing is improving. All side streams are high but clear and fair for most fish. Hill creek reservoir is fair.

Stanley-Challis district: In Redfish, Alurus and Stanley lakes, trout fishing is good. Trolling is the best method. The main Salmon river is high but clear and fair for most fish. Side streams are clear and high but dropping and fishing is fair. Salmon fishing is improving. Salmon have been caught in the East fork of the Salmon river in recent weeks. Most mountain roads in this area are muddy from continual rains.

Mackay district: Mackay reservoir is fair to good and producing some large sockeye fish. Trout fishing and trolling is best. Big Lost river below the reservoir is picking up and should be getting good.

The Antelope creek drainage is high but clear and fishing fairly good. Most streams in Copper basin are high but clearing and fishing is improving. The Big Lost river drainage can be counted on to be excellent fishing when and if it ever stops storming and the weather warms up. All trout fishing in this region are muddy and rough. Check locally before attempting to travel.

PROUD FISHERMAN Larry Chess, 7-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Chess, Kimberly, beams over the six-pound rainbow trout he pulled out of lower Hook creek Tuesday evening. Using a night crawler for bait, young Chess fought the fish while his father was trying to get to the area to help. Young Chess, unable to reel the fish in, finally landed the big rainbow by running backward, the fish sliding up onto a grassy spot. Just as the elder Chess got there the line snapped and the father had to leap in the creek to rescue the fish back onto shore before the prize was officially taken. (Times-News photo)

Angels Pay Big Bonus For Reichert

LOH ANGELES, June 25 (AP)—Rick Reichardt, widely sought baseball star from the University of Wisconsin, formally signed a contract with the Los Angeles Angels Wednesday for a sum that was not disclosed but estimated to be over $100,000.

The 21-year-old handsome hard hitting outfielder, who flew earlier Wednesday from his home in Eugene, Ore., was signed privately with Angel officials, including board chairman Gene Autry, President Robert O. Reynolds and General Manager Fred Haney.

"The money involved was low for the youngster out, but the former singing cowboy tossed the ball to Haney, who declined to go into figures."

"The 6-foot, 3-inch 215-pound Reichardt said he had a long conference held in one of Autry's many hotels."

"There were many factors that entered into my signing with the Angels," said Reichardt. "I had a better opportunity with the Angel organization because it is young and I think I can advance more rapidly in major league baseball with such a young organization."

"I also felt that the upper echelon of the Angels, notably Mr. Autry and Mr. Reynolds, are understanding men and typical of this young organization."

Autry, Gene Calhoun of Madison, Wis., who has represented Reichardt in the many ball clubs which sought him, said Reichardt is the type of player important "but the Angels offer me not necessarily the highest." Actually, Reichardt was signed to the Angels' Davenport, Ia., club in the Midwest league.

The signing was announced Wednesday by the Angels' public relations department. Reichardt is expected to begin his new career with the Angels in late July.

The Sox' victory extended their winning streak to four games. They have a record of 18-10.

Tiger Checks on Rematch Chance

NEW YORK, June 25 (AP)—Nigeria's Tiger, the former midweight champion, arrived unexpectedly Wednesday to check on his chances of getting a return title bout with Joey Giardello.

Giardello dethroned Tiger on a 16-round decision in Atlantic City, N.J., last Dec. 7. The new champion promised to give Tiger the first crack at the title.

Tiger's arrival from London surprised his American manager, Jersey Jones.

"Dick was scheduled to box Clint Izbakid in Italy last week but the bout was postponed," said Jones. "I rather than wait around Dick came over so we could talk to Giardello."

Tiger is currently in training for his next fight. He is expected to fight in late July.

Tiger's performance was a key factor in his success. He has now won three of his last four fights.

LOS ANGELES, June 25 (AP)—Middleweight title contender Rubin (Hurricane) Carter, Paterson, N.J., polished off obscure Clarence James, Oakland, Wednesday night in 1:54 of the first round of their scheduled 10-round fight in the Sports arena.

James, 163½, was a fourth choice substitute and took the fight on about four days notice. Carter, 167, floored the 23-year-old California in the first six seconds with a right followed by a terrific left hook.

Defending Champ Wins Opening Match in Women's Golf Tourney

POCATELLO, June 25 (AP)—Defending champion Helen Tremper won four of the first five holes Wednesday and went on to defeat Sylvia Moore, Mountain Home, 3 and 2 in the first round of the Idaho women's amateur golf tournament.

Mrs. Tremper, youthful blonde better known from Missoula, Mont., played steady golf over the Riverside municipal course and her opponent never was able to overcome the deficit after she lost the second, third, fourth and fifth holes.

The match-play event will continue through Saturday, with 122 women in six flights seeking trophies. Mrs. Tremper emphasized her role as favorite by winning the medal prize with a qualifying round of 81 Tuesday.

"I'm playing pretty well from tee to green," she said later. "The greens are a little rougher than I've seen here, but I'm generally satisfied with my game."

She expressed disappointment with a ruling passed by the women's state golf association when closing the tournament in the future to out-of-state golfers.

McKinley, the 23-year-old defending men's singles champion from San Antonio, Tex., and Miss Moffitt both won their matches but only after being pressed hard all the way.

Two more of the men's seeds were not as fortunate as McKinley. As Dennis Harkin, a fifth seed from Bakerfield, Calif., went out in the first round, three of the eight men's seeds are out going into the third round.

McKinley, winner last year without dropping a set, had to give five sets in a 1-hour-45-minute match before he eliminated Thomas Koch, a young Brazilian, in four sets, 6-3, 6-2, 6-4, 6-2.

McKinley is seeded second behind Roy Emerson of Australia, who also advanced to the third round.

Local police investigators reported five accidents in the city Tuesday and Wednesday.

Guy M. Lattimer, 50, 561 Third avenue west, was cited for following too closely after a two-car accident at 12:07 a.m. Wednesday on Main avenue north. Lattimer told patrolmen that he took his eyes off the road and his 1961 Ford struck the rear of a 1958 Chevrolet driven by Leo H. Pyne, 18, 315 Washington street north. Pyne had stopped his vehicle for a traffic signal.

Lattimer and Pyne complained to patrolmen of temporary pain, but they did not require hospitalization. Damage was estimated at $700 to the Chevrolet and $150 to the Ford.

Fred O. Cidley, 28, 647 Monroe street, had stopped his 1958 Plymouth at 6:40 p.m. Tuesday on Main avenue north to wait for a traffic signal to change when his vehicle was struck from the rear by a 1957 Chevrolet driven by Joseph P. Burns, 16, 316 Locust street.

No citations were issued and no injuries were reported. Damage was estimated at $125 to the Chevrolet and $75 to the Plymouth.

No injuries were reported. Damage was estimated at $50 to both vehicles.

Leslie S. McCoucker, 47, route 2, Piler was driving his 1950 Studebaker at 2:30 p.m. Tuesday in the 100 block of Blachona street north when an unknown vehicle pulled in front of his vehicle. He slowed down and was hit from the rear by a 1961 Chevrolet driven by Hobble G. Cliff, 35, Clinton drive.

Damage was estimated at $35 to the Chevrolet and $125 to the Studebaker.

Steve D. Jewell, 17, 555 Alhara drive, told city patrolmen he was driving his 1954 Plymouth on Piler avenue and had stopped for a traffic light at Blue Lakes boulevard. When the light changed Jewell pulled into the intersection and his vehicle was struck by a 1958 Chevrolet driven by Mary L. Flynn, 71, Pocatello.

She told investigating patrolmen the light was green when she entered the intersection. No citation was issued and no injuries were reported.

Damage was estimated at $200 to the Chevrolet and $150 to the Plymouth.

CENTRAL CITY MAYOR William Russell pauses on a bluff overlooking the picturesque Colorado mining town which these days is known best as a restored mining camp and home of the Central City Opera association. Most of the residents are behind the mayor in a campaign to bring legalized gambling to the town. The opera association, for the most part, pays no local taxes. A little action would help fill the city coffers. (AP wire-photo)

Central City and State of Colorado Are at Odds—Town Wants to Gamble

Whether gambling ever does return here depends on the outcome of a suit soon to be brought in court.

If Central City wins, it might even gain the right to have its own liquor laws. But gambling is the issue in the case, and it's supported by most of the community's 350 residents.

Gambling is opposed by the Central City Opera association—the principal industry in the community—that draws about 750,000 tourists each year to this city 8,500 feet high in the Rockies 35 miles west of Denver.

The association has about 700 members—some 350 are principal contributors, and many are wealthy, influential members of Denver society.

Some Central City residents claim the association is trying to force the town into submission. The association says it may pull out if gambling is allowed in the town.

While nearly all Central City residents agree that the opera association has brought their community back to vibrant life from a quarter-century depression, they aren't all happy about having a one-industry town.

Bill Russell, the mayor, says that very little opera association money goes to the city. Nearly all association property is owned by the University of Denver and is tax free.

The association, says its president, Frank Rickston, has spent about 2 million dollars restoring old buildings to what is believed they were like in the 1870s and 1880s when the community was a booming gold mining center and one of the biggest cities in the state.

Central City has its seasonal problems. Its two-man police department must be increased to five during the summer. About one-third of the city's $30,000 annual budget goes for police.

Parking is another problem—there aren't enough lots to handle all the tourists.

The city needs a new sewer system and water works and a bond issue would be necessary to finance them.

Central City residents are proud of a new fire truck and a new ambulance—financed by donations. A new firehouse was rebuilt by local residents.

Gambling, Russell says, "is the only way we can see we'll ever get off our knees."

Court Change Is Requested

Mrs. Velma C. Blair, 47, 2013 Addison avenue east, filed an affidavit in police court asking that her preliminary hearing on charges of lewd conduct with children under 16 be transferred to probate court.

Police Judge Dale Adamson granted the transfer. In her affidavit, Mrs. Blair stated she believed Judge Adamson was biased and prejudiced in the court action and she could not get a fair and proper hearing in police court.

The preliminary hearing originally was scheduled for July 1 in police court.

Probate Judge Zoe Ann Warberg said Wednesday Mrs. Blair's hearing will be set at a later date.

YOUR BIRTHDAY and HOROSCOPE

THURSDAY, June 25 — Born today, you have traits that may well lead you into public life. Powers of persuasion, an ability in public speaking and debate, a genuine talent for getting your ideas across and for meeting enthusiasm—all of these will probably direct your early life. However, don't stop there; the other facets to your character should not be denied.

It is quite likely that sometime before your middle years, you will make a discovery that you have been barking up a most enjoyable and even profitable tree, but the wrong tree. New interests will come to the surface. Your life may change radically at that point, and though you may not believe it right now, you will be glad.

You may not marry until relatively late in life, but you do, you will find a third way of life—the way that will please you most of all if you have chosen with any wisdom. You were meant not only for marriage, but also for success in the outside world; make sure therefore that the mate you choose will be willing to share your fifty-fifty with a career.

Among those born on this date are Tsar Nicholas I of Russia; Peter Lind Hayes, entertainer; Gustave Charpentier, composer.

To find what is in store for you tomorrow, select your birthday and read the corresponding paragraph. Let your birthday star be your daily guide.

Friday, June 26

CANCER (June 22-July 23)—Make an effort to contribute an original idea to community enterprise. Let your ability for management become known.

LEO (July 24-Aug. 23)—The Leo who is politic is the Leo who ends this day with the prize. To speak your mind too openly could be to lose the game.

VIRGO (Aug. 24-Sept. 23)—Bravery and the ability to carry on with quick, bold action should see Virgo and present problems parting company by evening.

LIBRA (Sept. 24-Oct. 23)—Others may laugh, but this is the day for the pure of heart and the steady of mind. Don't be persuaded into thinking otherwise.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 23)—Heartache is in store for the Scorpio who fails to speak up before those whose love and admiration he seeks.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 22)—Avoid dwelling on the failures of yesterday. New ideas and increased labors should pay off handsomely.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23-Jan. 20)—Don't let your interest in philanthropic work empty your wallet. Capricorn too has rainy days.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21-Feb. 19)—Take your troubles to a dependable counselor. To seek assistance from strangers could be disastrous.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20)—Taste may be more important than talent today. Bear in mind not everyone can be a topnotcher.

ARIES (March 21-April 19)—The Aries who makes a great effort to please others will find himself on the receiving end of pleasure.

Taurus (April 20-May 20)—It is better to trust too much than to trust at all. Don't be discouraged by today's events.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20)—An excess of concern could saturate of present problems, worry and to think are no same thing!

What Does Lodge-Taylor Switch Mean? War in Asia?

Editor's note—What is the Lodge-Taylor shift in Viet Nam likely to mean in the United States and in the world? These are among the questions dealt with in this special by the AP's chief correspondent in Saigon, winner of the Pulitzer prize for his reporting from that war-torn country.

By MALCOLM W. BROWNE:
SAIGON, South Viet Nam, June 25 (AP)—America appears to be facing its closest approach to general war in Asia since the close of hostilities in Korea in 1953.

President Johnson has appointed his highest ranking active-duty soldier to take charge of the hottest of the Asian hot spots—South Viet Nam. Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor knows his way around in these parts, both in uniform and in dinner clothes. Taylor will be arriving in civilian clothes this time. But there is no doubt he is coming primarily to head a war effort that could lead to a head-on collision with Peking or even Moscow.

It seems unlikely that Taylor's appointment will result in major immediate changes in the balance and organization of American support efforts here.

Since 1961, the involvement of American manpower in Viet Nam has been overwhelmingly military—especially at the working level, in the field.

With some small anticipated increases, U. S. civilian field workers will number a little over 200 men and women. Of these, roughly 150 are field representatives of the U. S. aid mission charged not only with distributing aid locally but with pursuing political, social and educational projects at the rice-roots level.

Another 50 or so American field workers come from the U. S. information agency and the central intelligence agency.

On the military side roughly 10,000 of the 14,000 U.S. servicemen are in the field. Besides advising the Vietnamese in military matters, they work closely with Vietnamese rural officials in civil matters.

Psychological warfare, military intelligence and even some forms of direct civilian aid are handled by military men.

There are no immediate prospects for increasing the number of U. S. servicemen here.

A U. S. military spokesman explained: "We have enough people now to fulfill the mission assigned to us. Of course, if that mission should change, the whole picture would change."

He was referring to a possible general escalation of the U.S. military involvement.

The significance of Taylor's job appears to be in that context. As coordinator of the entire American effort here, he could take over instantly as commander of the Vietnamese theater if a major war should develop.

Taylor follows Henry Cabot Lodge in a pattern established by the late President John F. Kennedy. Kennedy decided during the crisis here last summer that the job of ambassador should be considered a top job.

But Taylor will face a different set of problems. Lodge arrived 10 months ago to find a nation in revolt. Buddhist and political opposition to Ngo Dinh Diem had reached the point at which the war against the Viet Cong guerrillas was virtually forgotten. Lodge had to deal with a nervous, anti-American, more concerned with demonstrating its autonomy than with working out joint plans.

Lodge's immediate problem was the political crisis in Saigon. President Diem and his strongman brother, Ngo Dinh Nhu, were overthrown and slain. A new strong man, Maj. Gen. Nguyen Khanh, emerged from the chaos to seize command.

South Viet Nam now has what appears to be an increasingly stable military dictatorship. Khanh has promised to hold

Senate Group Supports Budget For SEC Position

WASHINGTON, June 25 (AP)—A senate committee recommended yesterday that former Republican Rep. Hiram Budge, now Idaho judge, be named to the securities and exchange commission (SEC).

The senate banking committee, meeting in closed session, approved President Johnson's nomination of Budge, 63, over the opposition of at least one senator, Maurice B. Neuberger, D., Ore., who had expressed doubts about Budge's ability to protect the public interest over industry interests, said he wished to be recorded in opposition.

The committee's recommendation was sent to the senate which must advise and consent to Budge's nomination to the commission.

Candidates may obtain applications and informational material now at these many offices. The advisers will staff youth-serving programs presently part of the public employment service or contemplated as part of the stop-gap activities of government and private agencies at all levels—national, state and local.

Training for the advisers will be at 20 accredited universities across the nation. Courses will run from July 13 through Sept. 15. Candidates must either be over 21 or college graduates with background or experience in counseling, psychology, sociology, education, social sciences, social work or related fields. They also must be unemployed at the time training begins.

The program will be financed through manpower development and training act funds. Candidates may be eligible for tuition, room, board and transportation to and from the university. Trainees may earn $15 per week through participation in on-the-job training programs.

Young Reds Ponder Who To Love—Tractors or Girls?

By LEON DENNEN
NEW YORK (NEWS)—"Dear Comrade editor: How many women does a real man need? What's the Marxist-Leninist line on sex?"

East Germany's rulers, like their fellow dictators in Russia, China and elsewhere in the communist world, have recently discovered that you people have serious questions about relations between the sexes.

"They are no longer happy with the old dogmas and platitudes about 'love for the party,' 'love for the machine' and 'love for work.' Having discovered, among other things, the 'decadent' American dance, the twist, the youth of communist East Germany also wants to discuss love between men and women intelligently.

"The editors of East Germany's official youth journal, 'Junge Welt,' have, by their own admission, received in recent months thousands of letters from young people inquiring about official communist policy on sex.

"It is not really our fault that these things are being discussed only now," one East Berlin girl wrote. "So far the subject of love was absolutely taboo in East Germany."

Like the young man who inquired how many women a "real" man needs, Ursula, a girl of 18, wanted to know if it were necessary for her own "development" to have a boy friend.

A 16-year-old teen-ager named Rolfe cited the opinion of his girl friend that a girl can be in love with two men at the same time. Is she right? Rolfe asked. Should a communist act like a capitalist?

The red editors of the youth journal were obviously caught by surprise. Until recently they disapproved only the "correct" political line of Moscow. They talked about Walter Ulbricht's puppet regime with their young readers. They had no time to discuss perplexing personal matters in a collectivist Marxist-Leninist society.

However, after the avalanche of letters to the editors, East Germany's rulers apparently decided that they could no longer ignore the young men and women in search of guidance. They appointed a group of communist physicians to supply the Marxist-Leninist explanation on the pages of the "Junge Welt."

"Physical love between men and women," the physicians replied, "was merely a capitalist invention. It was used by the imperialists to distract young people from work and from the class struggle."

"They cited Dr. Mikhail Besen-tseper, Russia's leading authority on sex and marriage, to the effect that work is the first and overriding necessity of life.

"The necessity of a healthy human being to work is so great that it can surpass the feeling of love," the Russian authority said in his book. "Love cannot stop the passion to work" because "it is the main source of emotion."

Taking their cue from the Soviet master, the physicians of East Germany, which is currently in the midst of an economic crisis, urged the young people to work harder and produce more for the communist state. They especially urged factory apprentices to avoid love like the plague.

This elicited an angry reply from Roglin a Praeler, another East Berliner. "Today the apprentices are 16 or 20 years old," she wrote in her letter to the "Junge Welt." "Are you, by any chance, asking them to live like monks?"

The editors have not yet replied to Ursula's letter. But there is increasing evidence that in East Germany, as in all countries behind the Iron Curtain, "capitalist" romantic love may be making progress over love for the tractor.

Satanism Is Practiced by Teen-Agers

NORMAN, Okla., June 25 (AP)—Members of a secret teen-age fraternity professing devotion to Satan were blamed today for four incidents of vandalism at churches in Norman during the past nine months.

Police said the boys were members of a secret fraternity called the "Covenant of the Evil Demon." They said members were dedicated to vandalizing local churches to prove their loyalty to the devil.

The vandalism, Police Chief Sid Wilson said, was a part of the group's ritual whereby the boys "released their souls to the prince of darkness." The ritual apparently demanded that all emblems of God be destroyed or ridiculed.

The incidents included turning crosses upside down, ripping Bibles apart, spilling baptismal waters and generally vandalizing the church premises. Officer said some property also was stolen.

Four boys, 16 and 17 years old, were arrested. A warrant was issued for a fifth who was out of the state. Authorities declined to identify the boys.

Venezuela Youth Leaves Burley

BURLEY, June 25 — Luciano Arlerio, exchange student, left Burley today for a three-week tour of the U.S. before returning to Venezuela.

Since last August Arlerio has made his home with Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Hoher and family. Arlerio arrived in Burley by air, unable to speak any English, although he was able to write English and could communicate. Now he speaks English as well as Italian and Spanish.

The exchange student left by charter bus from Salt Lake City with other exchange students for the tour which will include Washington, D.C. where President Johnson is scheduled to address the group and a one-day visit to the World's fair.
