New Rights Bill Passes First Test in Atlanta

ATLANTA, July 23—(UPI)—A three-judge federal court, possibly setting "a powerful precedent," yesterday upheld the constitutionality of the public accommodation section of the new civil rights law in its first legal test. The tribunal, headed by chief Judge Elbert Tuttle of the U. S. fifth circuit court of appeals, ordered the Heart of Atlanta motel and the Pickrick restaurant to admit Negroes within 20 days. The delay in activating a temporary injunction against discrimination was to allow the owners of the businesses to follow through on their stated intention to appeal to the U. S. supreme court.

A cornerstone of the controversial civil rights law which went into effect July 2, the public accommodations section outlaws racial discrimination in hotels, motels, restaurants, theaters and other public places which "affect" interstate commerce. The new law also prohibits discrimination in voter registration, public places, schools, employment and federal aid programs.

Ruling after two days of hearings, the court said there was "nothing which we can find" to indicate that congress cannot exercise the "full extent" of its powers under the commerce clause to deal with discrimination in much the same manner as it regulates prices, wages, hours and labor relations.

The public accommodations section applies to any restaurant or hotel that sells "food for consumption on the premises" if its operations affect commerce or if "it serves or offers to serve interstate travelers or a substantial portion of the food which it serves . . . has moved in commerce."

"Congress had the power to go this far," the court said.

The court, which also included federal district Judges Frank A. Hoover and Lewis F. Morgan, made it clear in its 15-page ruling that the Heart of Atlanta motel and Pickrick restaurant, both on federal highways, came under the definition of public accommodations as outlined in the new law.

Minting of "Cartwheels" To Start

WASHINGTON, July 23 (UPI) — The west's battle for the silver dollar was won today.

The continued jingling of the traditional cartwheels in the pockets of Westerners' jeans was virtually assured when a house-senate conference committee agreed to the minting of 45 million new silver dollars.

The victory was immediately hailed by Western members of congress who had fought hard for continuation of the silver dollars, which are hardly ever seen in the east.

"We have brought back the silver dollar," Sen. Alan Bible, D. Nev. declared. "Now I call upon all Americans to realize this honorable coin is here to stay and to encourage the free circulation of all cartwheels, new or old."

Minting of the new dollars was approved by the senate but rejected by the house. However, house members of the conference committee agreed to drop their objections.

Both the house and senate were expected quickly to give their final approval to the treasury-postoffice appropriations bill containing $600,000 to pay for the minting of the 45 million new silver dollars.

It would be the first time that silver dollars have been minted since 1935 and treasury stocks of all but a few rare dollars have been exhausted by coin collectors and speculators.

Police Wound Three Negroes During Riot

NEW YORK, July 23 (UPI)—Screaming, rock- and bottle-throwing Negroes battled police in the streets of Brooklyn again last night and looters, taking advantage of the confusion, prowled until dawn in this city's fifth consecutive night of lawlessness. Three suspected looters, all Negroes, were wounded by police. For the first time since the disorders began in Harlem Saturday night, police used horses to disperse the Brooklyn mobs. An estimated 1,000 angry, jeering Negro youths mounted two major charges against the helmeted riot police in defiance of Mayor Robert F. Wagner's televised warning last night that "mob rule" would not be tolerated.

With swinging nightsticks and charges by the mounted patrolmen, police broke up the street mobs and an early morning downpour of rain helped to clear the streets of most of them. But during the rioting and afterwards, looters went into action—breaking windows of at least 155 stores and stealing from many of them.

By dawn, at least 90 persons were arrested on charges ranging from disorderly conduct to burglary, raising the two-night total in Brooklyn to 186. They were being processed at five stationhouses.

More than 500 stores were vandalized and 200 of them looted during an orgy of street fighting and healthful burglarizing in the crime-prone tenement district the night before.

"The kids were looting every store in sight," said patrolman John Judge at the 70th precinct stationhouse where a massive pile of booty was being repossessed by police early today. It included television sets, a hi-fi record player, a radio, clothing, a new garbage can full of foodstuffs and a cash register.

In contrast to the two-night street fighting and store sacking in Bedford-Stuyvesant area of Brooklyn, relative calm prevailed in Harlem for the second straight night.

At one point during the night, however, 30 police cruisers raced to 125th street and Seventh avenue in Harlem when a crowd gathered. It was dispersed quickly, and no shots fired. Nothing was thrown at the police.

Early today, a sergeant and five detectives raided the Harlem headquarters of a Black nationalist group in the hotel Theresa and confiscated a loaded high-powered rifle and a cache of ammunition.

At police headquarters in lower Manhattan, a group of civil rights pickets was vilified and pelted with eggs last night by a crowd of bystanders, mostly whites. Police held back the crowd and later led the pickets safely to a subway after the two-hour demonstration. There were no injuries or major confrontations between the demonstrators and the onlookers.

No Water

FAIRFIELD, July 23 — The town of Fairfield has been without water since Wednesday morning when the pumps to the artesian wells which supply the village broke.

Zahnor Edwards, village marshal, said Thursday it will take several days before they can be repaired. Meantime, residents are hauling domestic water from private wells or going to friends in the country.

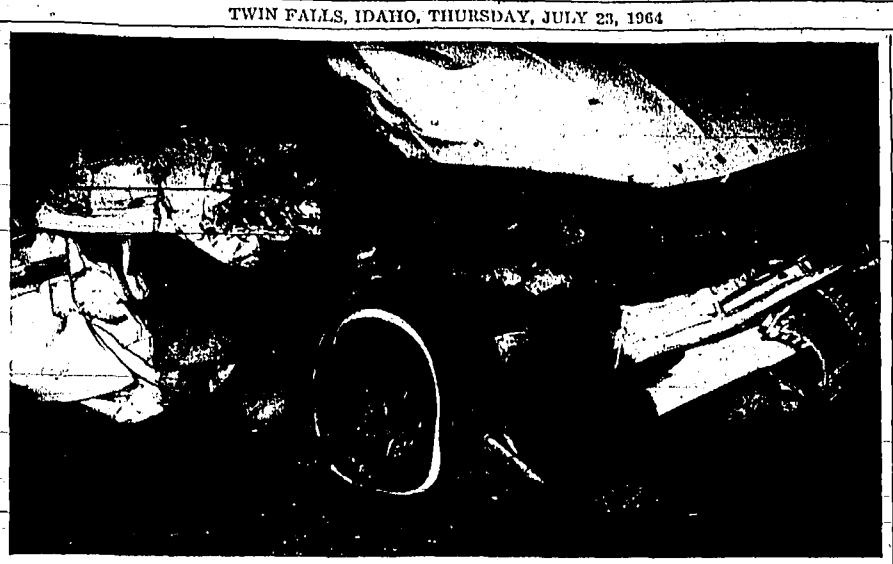
No hardship, only inconvenience, is reported.

Men Arrested in Mississippi for Violating Bill

WASHINGTON, July 23 (AP)—FBI agents arrested three Mississippi white men today and charged them with violating the civil rights act by conspiring to keep a Negro from going to a movie.

Attorney Gen. Robert F. Kennedy and FBI director J. Edgar Hoover said the arrests are the first to be made in the wake of the civil rights act which became law earlier this month.

The three men, all residents of Greenwood, Miss., are Willie Amon Belk, 47; his son, Jimmy Allen Belk, 19, and Sam Allen Shaffer, Jr., 40. All are employed in Belk's plumbing firm.



TANGLED WRECKAGE of the 1961 Chevrolet driven by Mrs. Dorothy Gooding, Eden, is shown after it struck a parked 1963 Chevrolet owned by Peter Shawver, Eden, on a rural road south of Eden Wednesday night. Force of the impact knocked the Gooding car into the windshield of a 1961 Corvair stationwagon owned by Dr. Max Wilkinson, Twin Falls dentist. The Wilkinson car flipped upside down and both cars, still entangled, landed in the center of the road. Dr. Wilkinson was killed instantly. Mrs. Gooding is reported in critical condition in St. Benedict's hospital, Jerome; Rulon Graves, Salt Lake City, a passenger in the Gooding car, is in fair condition at Magic Valley Memorial hospital. Shawver was not injured. (Times-News photo)

Riots Break Out Again In Malaysia

SINGAPORE, Malaysia, July 23 (UPI) — Singapore Malays and Chinese fought each other through the shuttered streets today in the third straight day of murderous race riots.

By mid-day the total casualty count had mounted to 18 dead, six of whom were killed today, and more than 400 injured.

Steel-helmeted police and troops in full battle dress had arrested 1,243 persons.

Among the dead were a Malay girl, A 70-year-old Chinese woman was reported dying of head wounds. There was no statistical breakdown of casualties by race.

The riots undermined Malaysia's hopes for racial harmony and embarrassed Prime Minister Tengku Abdul Rahman, who is visiting the United States.

Singapore's population of two million is about three-quarters Chinese. The city was included in the Malaysia federation last year.

The riots started Tuesday during a Malay procession in honor of the birth anniversary of the Prophet Mohammed.

17 Die, 34 Hurt During Fighting

SAIGON, South Viet Nam, July 23 (UPI)—Communist guerrillas lured two companies of government rangers into a daylight ambush, just 25 miles from Saigon, killing 17 and wounding another 34, military sources reported today.

The sources said the guerrillas first attacked the An Nhon Tay outpost on the Saigon river about 25 miles northwest of the capital in the action yesterday.

They then waited in ambush and attacked rangers who were sent from Trung Lap ranger training center to rescue the beleaguered outpost.

The guerrillas also destroyed one armored personnel carrier and damaged five others, according to an American military spokesman.

Vietnamese air force "Sky raider" fighter-bombers called in to support the government forces made repeated bombing and strafing runs over the Viet Cong positions.

The spokesman said an "estimated 60" guerrillas were killed and one captured along with recoilless cannon.

Church Burned

JACKSON, Miss., July 23 (UPI)—Another Negro church was found burned at McComb yesterday about the time integration leader Dr. Martin Luther King was speaking out against such acts in Jackson.

Dr. Max Wilkinson Killed in Three-Car Crash South of Eden

EDEN, July 23—An inquest probably will be held into the death of Dr. Max Wilkinson, Twin Falls dentist, who was killed instantly in a three-car collision about 8:30 p.m. yesterday one and one-half miles south of Eden on a county road, Dr. L. M. Neher, Jerome county coroner, reported today. He said the date has not been set because of the condition of the other persons injured in the accident. Mrs. Dorothy Gooding, 40, Eden, was reported in critical condition today at St. Benedict's hospital, Jerome, and Rulon Graves, Salt Lake City, was in fair condition Wednesday at Magic Valley Memorial hospital, Twin Falls. Peter Shawver, Eden, was not hospitalized.

The accident occurred when a 1961 Chevrolet driven by Mrs. Gooding struck the rear of Shawver's 1963 Chevrolet which was parked along the west side of the road. Shawver had stopped to talk with Dr. Wilkinson who had parked his 1961 Corvair stationwagon on the opposite side of the road.

Officers said Shawver, who lives about one-fourth of a mile north of where the accident occurred, had just left his house about half an hour before the mishap. Driving south on the rural road, Shawver met Dr. Wilkinson's northbound 1961 Corvair.

The investigating officers said Dr. Wilkinson pulled off to the east side of the road and Shaw-

Curious

SALT LAKE CITY, July 23 (UPI) — A pulley-effigy with tears streaming down his face brought a sobbing mother and her five children to the emergency rooms of St. Mark's hospital yesterday.

Soon nurses and doctors could be seen walking down the hall with wet eyes as they attempted to control their sobs.

It was very sad-looking.

The trouble was tear gas.

Six-year-old Rodney Barela found a tear gas bomb in the garage of the Lucas Barela home. Curious to find out what would happen, little Rod pulled the pin.

Grand Jury Called for Murder Case

POCATELLO, July 23—A special grand jury, the first called here in modern times, today was called for Aug. 5, to consider indictments against six persons charged with slaying Downey village Marshal Daniel Woodland.

Fifth District Judge Arthur P. Oliver issued an order this morning for county officials to pick a panel of 20 prospective grand jurors from the regular jury list compiled for 1964.

The jury will serve in place of preliminary hearings to decide whether there is enough evidence against the six suspects to hold them for district court action.

Meanwhile, investigation of the marshal slaying is continuing. Bannock County Sheriff H. E. Parker said he has received confirmation from the FBI laboratory in Washington, D.C., that a gun he took from the suspects and submitted to the laboratory is the one which fired the shot which killed Woodland.

Parker said he is continuing interrogation of the suspects and indicated some have talked freely.

Ruby Family Fires Fifth Attorney

DALLAS, July 23 (UPI) — The Jack Ruby family yesterday fired their brother's fifth chief defense lawyer, Clayton Fowler, and said an attorney from Detroit would announce later "just who is and who is not" going to try to save or be condemned slayer from the electric chair.

Also dismissed was J. H. Tomahill, Jasper, Tex., an assistant who had been on the case since flamboyant Melvin Belli was hired to replace Tom Howard, the first lawyer on the case.

Ruby's family said Fowler and Tomhill were dismissed for "inefficiency and squabbling over details."

Sol Dann, Detroit, an old friend of the Ruby family, arrived in Dallas last night. A sister, Mrs. Eva Grant, said Dann was to announce "just who is and who is not going to" represent Ruby.

Ruby, 54, faces the electric chair for the slaying of Lee Harvey Oswald, accused presidential assassin.

Boy Scout Jamboree to End Tonight

VALLEY FORGE, Pa., July 23 (UPI)—It's now or never for 52,124 Boy Scouts to make the best swap for sought-after shoulder patches and insignias from all 50 states and 42 foreign countries.

Their week-long encampment on 1,000 acres of rolling hills and valleys where George Washington's colonial troops wintered in 1777-78 ends tonight, climaxed by a visit from President Johnson, the nation's No. 1 scouter.

The grand finale will be a mammoth pageant in an open-air arena, which will feature President Johnson between a Scout hootenanny and a closing candle-lighting ceremony, in which each scout will light a candle symbolizing the flame of liberty in the world.

Johnson, who is honorary president of the Boy Scouts of America as every president before him since 1910—will fly to the jamboree from the White House lawn. A crowd of 100,000 is expected to see and hear him.

Friday, after breakfast, 40,000 scouts will move out of the area in special buses, bound for train, bus and air terminals. The rest depart on Saturday.

The 10th traffic death in Magic Valley occurred July 23 as result of an accident in Jerome county.

Wallace Will Not Play Favorite Son

MONTGOMERY, Ala., July 23 (UPI)—Gov. George Wallace, declining to play a "favorite son," asked delegates to the Democratic national convention to refrain from supporting him for president.

The 38-member delegation voted unanimously to invite convention delegations from 13 other southern and border states to meet Aug. 23, prior to the convention in Atlantic City, N. J., to map plans to fight for a platform favorable to Dixie.

Wallace's release came as no surprise at the organizational meeting of the delegation, but the governor cautioned the delegates to stick together and present a united front. "Alabama has helped awake the nation in the past few months and I think we should be united at the convention," he told them.

Filer Youth in Hospital With Pistol Wounds

FILER, July 23—Jack Ramsey, Jr., 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Ramsey, 731 Yakima avenue, was listed in good condition today at Magic Valley Memorial hospital with injuries received about 8 p.m. yesterday when his .45 caliber automatic pistol discharged as he was replacing it in his holster.

Ramsey was out shooting with a brother, Tom Ramsey, 15, about five and one-half miles south of here when the accident occurred.

Tom Ramsey said the pistol's hammer apparently caught on his brother's thumb, as he was putting the gun back into the holster. The bullet entered Ramsey's leg just below the knee and came out by his ankle.

Water Plan On Agenda For Session

BOISE, July 23 (AP)—Gov. Robert E. Smylie has called the Idaho legislature into a special session to consider a plan for state water development and four other emergency items. Legislative leaders say they hope it will be a brief three or four-day session. Smylie formally summoned the 107 legislators yesterday, ignoring a motion in federal court to block it. The motion, part of the reapportionment law suit, will be argued Friday.

His call was the culmination of a campaign to get the state into the water and power project building field in response to what Smylie described as threat of diversion to dry southwestern states.

The lawmakers will be asked to approve a constitutional amendment that calls for creation of a state water agency. A two-thirds vote in both houses would put it on the November ballot.

Sen. Jack Murphy, R., Lincoln, president pro-tem, said the proposal is not complicated but may require some briefing of legislators by attorneys. He said the lawmakers should finish in three days, or four at the most.

Rep. Pete T. Cenarrusa, R., Blaine, the speaker, said only a skeleton staff of attaches would be used and only a few house committees will function. He also said he thinks the legislature can finish its work before Sunday.

Second item on the agenda is designation of the former Farragut naval training station near Lake Pend Oreille as a state park, and appropriation of funds to complete its preparation as a site for the 1965 International Girl Scout roundup.

Added at the last minute was a proposal to amend the Idaho port district law to limit it to counties bordering on continuous waterway systems. Smylie said it was asked by directors of the Lewiston Port district.

Other items are an appropriation for a reapportionment study by the legislative council, and authorization of spending of funds to prepare the legislative chambers for the 1965 session.

Referendum Is Asked on Districting

By The Associated Press

The two top leaders of the Idaho legislature yesterday proposed that the people decide in a November referendum whether both legislative houses should be reapportioned on a population basis.

Both Rep. Pete T. Cenarrusa, R., Blaine, the house speaker, and Sen. Jack Murphy, R., Lincoln, senate president pro tem, said they hope a special session called to convene next Wednesday will vote to put the question on the ballot.

Murphy said the referendum idea was endorsed by 16 small state senators who met in Boise last Friday in a closed session to study supreme court decisions on reapportionment.

Murphy said the people should be asked this question:

"Do they want one of the chambers divided taking into account geographical considerations, or do they want both chambers strictly on the basis of population and no other consideration?"

"If the federal court does not enjoin us," he said, "I would certainly like the people of the state of Idaho to tell us. We hope we are able to put it on the ballot in this special session."

Cenarrusa said the referendum "would be a constitutional way of doing it. It would satisfy all the people."

Goldwater; Johnson Will Meet on Bill

WASHINGTON, July 23 (AP)—President Johnson will meet Friday afternoon with Sen. Barry Goldwater, Republican presidential nominee, to discuss means of keeping the civil rights issue out of the 1964 president campaign.

The White House announcement today came after Goldwater aides had said that the Arizona senator had requested such a meeting.

Press secretary George Reedy said the Goldwater staff had contacted the legislative section of the White House to request the appointment and, of course, the request was granted."

News of the meeting came out when Reedy announced the President's appointments for Friday. Goldwater is scheduled for 5:3 p.m. EDT.

COMPUTER PRICE

NEW YORK, July 23 (UPI) — Radio Corporation of America slashed the prices of its 3301 line of computers 40 per cent at one stroke. The company said the cut was partly to meet competition and partly because of reduced production costs in the line.

Area Leaders Doubt Hike to Be Approved

By The Associated Press

Two Idaho legislative leaders said today that public schools should get more state support, but they doubt that a proposed 27.4 million dollar increase will be approved by the 1965 session. That is the increase recommended by the state board of education. It said a 67.4 million dollar appropriation would let Idaho catch up to its neighboring states in school revenue and give the state the "quality education" it lacks. "I think they should get an increase," said Rep. Pete T. Cenarrusa, R., Blaine. "But this would be a 27.4 million dollar increase. I think we would have to go into some form of massive taxation which I doubt a majority of the people would be for, for an increase of that size in one session."

Sen. Jack Murphy, R., Lincoln, senate president pro tem, said he doesn't doubt that the funds could be used "to every advantage in education in Idaho."

"But as the state board itself indicated, this would be almost an impossibility because of lack of income."

Murphy praised the board for "laying out this program as to the future needs of Idaho."

He said it should be congratulated particularly for proposing creation of six junior college districts and suggesting boundaries, and for recommending that it be given an advisory committee to help with its work.

Murphy recalled that he had made the same suggestions in an education conference earlier this year in Boise. He said he favored creation of junior colleges to ease the state tax load, so long as they don't interfere with existing institutions.

Murphy drew fire at the time on grounds he had criticized the board for failing to spell out its proposals in the past. But he said it was others at the meeting, and not he, who made the criticism.

Work Proceeding on T.F. College Proposal

Organizational work is proceeding across Twin Falls county on a proposal for an election Nov. 3 to create a junior college district encompassing all of Twin Falls county.

The first step envisions creating a committee of 25 county citizens who are intensely interested in the proposal. Suggestions have been made for membership on the committee and sessions presently are being held in all districts of the county.

Those citizens who are interested in the suggestion and can work actively toward establishing the junior college district have been invited to contact one of several county residents helping in initial organization. When the suggested names reach a sufficient number, it is anticipated a meeting will be called to complete organization of the committee. The session is anticipated within two weeks.

In the meantime, suggestions for committee members are still being solicited. Volunteers who can be contacted in the various Twin Falls county communities include Jack Ramsey, Filer; James Shields and Robert Bailey, Buhl; R. D. McKinney, Kimberly, for the Kimberly - Hansen - Murtaugh area, and Jack Shaw, Twin Falls. They were among nearly 100 interested persons who attended some informal discussion sessions in which feasibility of a junior college district was studied.

Following formation and organization of the junior college committee, the next step will be to distribute petitions asking for the election. The petitions must carry the signatures of 1,000 qualified school electors in the county. After signatures have been certified, the proposal is passed along to the state board of education for its approval. When board approval is granted, the election becomes "official."

"That sounds simple enough," declares Shaw, "but the difficult part won't come until Nov. 3 when voters go to the polls. The plan has to have approval of two-thirds of voters participating in the election. Even though the need for a junior college district is obvious, it's rough to get a two-thirds majority. If we had to elect presidents of this nation with such a majority, we'd never have a president!" he declared.

Shaw cautions Twin Falls county residents against confusing the junior college district election with a bond election. Both require a two-thirds majority. At present, the proposal to be presented to voters Nov. 3 is confined to creation of the junior college district to coincide with the area of Twin Falls county.

Southern Demos May Hurt Johnson Administration

ATLANTA, July 23 (UPI)—Disaffident—southern—Democrats, unhappy with the Johnson administration and the new civil rights law, got started defecting to the GOP in what promises to become a major problem for the national Democratic party in the approaching presidential campaign.

Defections thus far have taken place in Mississippi, Alabama and George, but there are also signs of trouble for the Democrats in South Carolina and North Carolina indicating the "solid South" is a thing of the past.

The move of Democrats into the Republican camp coincides with the withdrawal from the presidential race of Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace and a poll that showed Sen. Barry Goldwater is leading President Johnson in the South.

There are marked signs of unrest among the Southern Democrats. A group of Georgia Democrats ranging from Sen. Herman E. Talmadge down to several leading elected state officers have announced they will not attend the national party convention in August, because of prior commitments. A member of

Fairfield Death Ruled Accidental

FAIRFIELD, July 23—A coroner's jury returned the verdict yesterday that the death of David Lee Waterbury, 17, Fairfield, was the result of an accident and that there was no criminal negligence involved.

Young Waterbury died Saturday evening in a fiery crash that involved the car he was driving and one driven by Jim McCann, on a county road east of Fairfield.

The jury spent most of the day investigating the circumstances and went to Gooding in the afternoon to view the death car which had been taken down there.

Dr. Marion J. Kearns is Camas county coroner and members of the jury included Dean Shaffer, John Gaenzle, Hubert Lewin, Bob Robinson, John Gaskill and Herman Miller.

Proposal Is Rejected By Senate

WASHINGTON, July 23 (AP)—In a battle that took four roll calls, the senate finally rejected 46-45 today a proposed state's rights amendment to President Johnson's 962.5 million dollar anti-poverty bill.

The amendment, offered by Sen. Winston L. Prouty, R., Vt., would have barred federal financial assistance for community action programs in any state without the prior approval of the governor or other state officials designated by him.

"Now Europe," he said, "has emerged as an entity capable of living its own life, because it is full of its own values and means."

WEATHER SYNOPSIS

The upper level trough of lower pressure is pushing eastward along the Canadian border bringing cooler drier air into the Pacific Northwest and northern Intermountain region. Pressures at the surface are rising over our area with the cooler air providing welcome relief from the past several days of high daytime temperatures but under sunny skies and higher pressures our cooling will be short lived. Gradual warming of the cooler air mass now working its way across southern Idaho will be reflected in slightly higher daytime temperatures tomorrow and Saturday although temperatures and humidities will hold to normal summer comfortable ranges.

Moisture to the south and southwest of us has been brought northward but is being shunted east of the Rockies so any threat of shower activity to agricultural valleys is quite remote during the next three days.

Temperatures this afternoon will range in the 80's to lower 90's inching upward 3 to 6 degrees tomorrow afternoon. Nighttime minimums will be slightly lower tonight ranging from the lower 40's over Camas prairie to the 50's generally over the remainder of southern Idaho. No significant change in nighttime temperatures is expected Friday night.

Winds will be stronger today with speeds of 15 to 25 miles per hour from the west to southwesterly directions over valley sections as a result of the increased pressure gradient. However winds will diminish tonight and be fairly light tomorrow and Saturday. Spraying for insect control remains necessary and early morning and evening wind conditions will be favorable during the next three days. Final row crop cultivations are under way in most valley sections with irrigation water requirements remaining high.

Group Will Not Unload U. S. Wheat

SEATTLE, July 23 (AP) — The interstate commerce commission refused to allow transcontinental railroads yesterday to tariff wheat unloaded for export at northern Pacific coast ports said Sen. Warren G. Magnuson, D., Wash.

Magnuson praised the decision, stating that the tariffs would have put Washington and Oregon ports in a poor competitive position with their Canadian, Great Lakes and Gulf of Mexico counterparts.

"The tariffs would have reduced the amount of free time for unloading of export at North Pacific coast ports, increased demurrage charges and established a charge for inspection of wheat," the senator said.

The action came at the request of port interests in Seattle, Longview, Kalama, Vancouver, Wash., and Portland, and Astoria, Ore.

Cuba Plans Big Celebration

SANTIAGO, Cuba, July 23 (AP) A gay carnival spirit has replaced the grim, determined revolutionary mood as Santiago prepares a mammoth 26th of July celebration for its hometown boy—Prime Minister Fidel Castro.

The anniversary of Castro's July 26, 1953, attack on President Fulgencio Batista's Moncada barracks in Santiago is one of the big celebrations of the Castro regime.

Although the attack failed and Castro and his brother Raul, now armed forces minister, were imprisoned, it was the first time Castro received wide attention in the drive which eventually overthrew Batista.

COMPLETES COURSE

RUPERT, July 23—Martin E. Dean, son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin M. Dean, route 1, Rupert, has completed a four-week generator mechanic course at the U. S. army school, in Murnau, Germany.

Horse Kicks Provo Girl In Head

PROVO, July 23 (AP) — An 11-year-old Provo girl was rushed to the Holy Cross hospital in Salt Lake City to be treated for possible brain damage, after she was kicked in the head by a horse early today, according to Provo fire department.

The girl, Jeanie Rasmussen, 11, daughter of Leroy Rasmussen, Provo, was kicked in the head at about 7:40 a.m.

She was transported to the Utah Valley hospital by the fire department, where she was examined, then rushed to the Holy Cross hospital in Salt Lake City.

ver parked his 1963 Chevrolet along the west side of the road, allowing a space for traffic to pass through.

Dr. Wilkinson, wearing a seat belt, and Shawver conversed from their cars for about half an hour, until Mrs. Gooding came on the scene.

Her car struck the rear of Shawver's car, flipped sideways in the air, and went through the windshield of Dr. Wilkinson's vehicle. Impact of the collision flipped Dr. Wilkinson's car upside down, and both cars, still entangled, landed in the center of the road.

Mrs. Gooding and Graves, who was a passenger in her car, were not thrown from their vehicle and it took officers about half an hour to remove them from the wreckage.

Shawver, who apparently notified police, was able to get out of his car and walk to a nearby farm house.

Sheriff James (Pat) B. Burns, said it appeared that Dr. Wilkinson may have had the door open and his head outside the car when the crash occurred. The dentist was wearing a neck harness and still used crutches from injuries received in an auto accident in the Eden area last May 6. He was wearing a seat belt last night.

The sheriff also reported there was approximately 12 feet between the two parked cars. The dentist's car was entirely on the road because of a steep incline on that side, but the Shawver car was partly in the borrow pit, he said.

The officer explained that the two parked cars were visible for about 450 feet but also noted that if neither parked car had its brakes on, a moving car would not have to be traveling very fast to cause such an impact.

Dr. Wilkinson was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Wilkinson, Pocatello. The body is at Albertson-Dickard funeral home, Buhl, where funeral arrangements are pending.

State police and Jerome and Twin Falls county sheriff's officers assisted in the investigation.

Dr. Wilkinson's death was the fourth traffic fatality this year in Jerome county and the 19th traffic fatality in Magic Valley. Magic Valley's last traffic fatality occurred Saturday in Camas county, where David Waterbury, 17, Fairfield, was burned to death in a head-on collision.

Georgia's state Democratic executive committee have gone to Goldwater and a loyalty battle is raging in Alabama.

Mississippi Democratic leaders, without a candidate since Wallace pulled out of the race, are conducting quiet meetings in an attempt to keep the party welded together.

They hope to counter moves such as that of Rep. Frank Dubois, Yazoo City, who said yesterday he saw Goldwater as "the last chance for the nation."

Shrimpers Are Fined

TEGUCIGALPA, Honduras, July 23 (UPI)—Nine Tampa-based shrimp boats were homebound today after paying fines of $5,000 each for allegedly fishing in Honduran waters without paid permits.

The ships were ordered released yesterday after a $45,000 check was handed to the government in payment of fines levied by Honduran authorities.

The captains of the boats said they thought the fishing permits, issued in 1959, were still valid. Their fishing gear was confiscated.

CHRISTMAS SALE

U. S. Plans To Sell Zinc, Lead

WASHINGTON, July 23 (AP)—The government plans to sell 75,000 tons of slab zinc and 50,000 tons of lead from its stockpile.

The sale is authorized by law. The general services administration announced yesterday terms on which it will do the selling.

All metal must be used domestically.

Proposals for buying the zinc at fixed prices by grades must be filed by Aug. 3 and for lead the latter part of August.

Under the announced procedure, 67,500 tons of zinc will be available for purchase by domestic producers of primary slab zinc. The purchasers will be required to certify they have sold the purchased material for domestic consumption within 90 days from the date of delivery on an equitable basis at no profit.

The other 7,500 tons of zinc will be offered independent alloyers of zinc who can qualify as small business concerns and who must certify the material will be used in their own production within one year from date of delivery.

For the lead sale, 26,000 tons will be available to domestic producers of primary refined lead, and 13,500 tons of qualified representatives of foreign producers of primary refined lead who have traditionally imported lead into the United States market. Another 5,500 tons will be available for domestic producers of secondary refined lead. The purchasers must agree to distribute the material within 90 days for domestic consumption on an equitable basis at no profit.

The remaining 5,000 tons will be available for domestic consumers of primary refined lead who qualify as small business concerns and who will consume the lead in their plants within the United States within a year from date of purchase.

Sale of the metal was authorized by laws signed last week by President Johnson. The legislation had been introduced in congress because both lead and zinc were in short supply in the market and the government had an excess over its stockpile needs, a GSA spokesman said.

Boy Is Found Safe After Getting Lost

EMMETT, July 23 (AP) — A 5-year-old boy missing since yesterday morning and the object of a massive search in a rugged mountain area, was found safe this morning about five miles from where he was last seen.

More than 120 airmen from Mountain Home air force base were just joining the search when John Saxton was found a short distance off the trail along Squaw creek, a swift mountain stream about 60 miles north of Emmett.

The boy had walked the five miles up the steep trail. He had been reported missing around 10 a.m. yesterday. It was just a few minutes before 8 a.m. when he was found.

Nearly 200 persons searched yesterday afternoon and into the night. The boy's trail up the creek was followed for a short way but was lost and bloodhounds were unable to pick it up.

Joining in the search were Gem county sheriff's deputies, state police, volunteers and units of the Boise mountain search and rescue team and the associated land emergency rescue teams.

Suit Filed in 1961 Accident By T.F. Man

BOISE, July 23 (AP) — A complaint was filed in fourth district court yesterday by A. L. Blandford, Twin Falls, on behalf of his 7-year-old daughter, Sharon Margaret Blandford.

The indictment charges that in 1961 the girl was riding in a car with her grandfather when a postal employe pushed a cart into the roadway.

The grandfather stopped quickly, the indictment said; and the girl was thrown against the windshield and injured.

Blandford charges negligence on the part of the postal worker and seeks $1,528 plus interests and costs from the government for subsequent medical treatment given the girl.

Goldwater Sorry Some GOP Members Can't Support Him

WASHINGTON, July 23 (AP)—Barry Goldwater said today he is sorry that some Republicans have declared they cannot nor will support him as the party's presidential nominee, and added the GOP must "stick together."

Goldwater, back at the senate for the first time since he won the Republican presidential nomination, told newsmen "that's their own choice. I'm sorry that they feel that way.

"Republicans have to stick together," he said in a running news conference between his office and the senate floor.

Sens. Jacob K. Javits and Kenneth B. Keating of New York and J. Glenn Beall of Maryland have said they cannot now offer Goldwater their backing.

Goldwater said his aides are working to set up a conference of top Republicans to seek party unity.

No date has been set for the unity session.

Goldwater's press secretary, Edward K. Nellor, said former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, Gov. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania and Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York, and former Vice President Richard M. Nixon and vice presidential nominee William E. Miller are among the people the senator will invite.

When Goldwater reached the senate floor, public and other galleries were well-filled in anticipation of announced plans by Republican senators to give him a welcome back.

Appearing well tanned and rested, Goldwater shook hands with several colleagues.

Nellor announced Goldwater's first firm date of the presidential campaign: An address to the Veterans of Foreign Wars in Cleveland Aug. 25, the day after the Democratic national convention opens.

He said the senator expects to open his campaign formally, in Prescott, Ariz., probably the preceding week. Nellor said there is no firm date for that appearance.

The "welcome back" was arranged by GOP Leader Everett M. Dirksen, Ill., to mark Goldwater's first senate visit since last week's Republican convention.

Except for this appearance, and any important votes for which he might be needed, Goldwater is spending most of his time at home.

Goldwater's schedule for next week is fluid, but aides said there was a possibility he might leave next Wednesday night to spend a couple of days on a brief vacation at Bohemia Grove, Calif.

Extremists

"I would remind you that extremism in the defense of liberty is no vice. And let me remind you also that moderation in the pursuit of justice is no virtue."

Those words uttered by Sen. Barry Goldwater in the Cow Palace at San Francisco on July 16 will be cussed, discussed, interpreted and analyzed for weeks, perhaps even months and years. Considered in connection with events of the preceding days, it would seem Goldwater intended to salve the injured feelings of members of the John Birch society. Several speakers — including the keynote speaker, Oregon's Gov. Mark Hatfield, Dwight Eisenhower and Nelson Rockefeller — had dealt rather harshly with the extreme right wingers. Indeed, Governor Hatfield named the John Birch society as extremists in the same breath with the Ku Klux Klan and communist party, a grouping obviously distasteful to some of his listeners.

Many listeners interpreted his first sentence in that light. In the absence of any detailed explanation from Senator Goldwater himself, it was about the only avenue of interpretation. But did Goldwater have that specific idea in mind when the speech was written? Words, intended to convey thoughts between individuals, are still the biggest stumbling block in conveying those thoughts. If Goldwater didn't wish to convey understanding—if not approval—of the John Birch society, he should have explained his words to avoid misunderstanding.

Likewise, some of his listeners differed on interpretation of the second sentence ". . . moderation in the pursuit of justice is no virtue." Some thought he referred specifically to the Democratic whitewash of the Bobby Baker case, but without knowing specifically what Goldwater had in mind, it's difficult to apply the words.

Already, it's certain those 30 words will get as much attention as any statement likely to be made in this election year. And they're general enough in meaning that anyone can interpret them in any way he chooses.

Certainly it's nothing new for this nation to be involved in extremism in the defense of liberty. Our Revolutionary war fits the description quite nicely. It also could be maintained that the Civil war was an extremism in defense of liberty, namely, liberation of the slaves. In this context it could be asserted Goldwater was putting in a plug for the civil rights bill which he voted against.

Those who choose also could interpret the civil rights demonstrators who were picketing the Cow Palace as extremists who were acting in defense of liberty. It's even quite possible to interpret the statement as reference to the conservatism that gave Goldwater the nomination and which many of his supporters hope will reverse a 30-year gallop into the arms of socialism.

Negro riots that have erupted in New York also could be lumped under the general heading of extremism in defense of liberty, hence earn Goldwater's blessings.

By the same token, the person who objects to being arrested and resists the arresting officer could come under the heading of being an extremist in defending his liberty.

With all the diversity of meaning that can be applied to Goldwater's statement, it becomes obvious it's just not possible to convey the same definition of a word to all concerned so that everyone is thinking on exactly the same level and in exactly the same terms.

And it's always just possible that Goldwater hit upon a generality that sounded good without ever trying to anticipate the reactions it could generate.

IN-AGAIN, OUT-AGAIN

Gov. George C. Wallace of Alabama seems bound and determined he's going to be some sort of factor in this year's elections. It's not exactly clear what he hopes to gain, but by now it's obvious his campaign is more against the civil rights law than for Governor Wallace.

He proved his point quite effectively in the primary elections he entered, namely, that there was considerable opposition in the North to the civil rights bill. No one has taken seriously Governor Wallace's contention that he could be elected president. But now that he's dropped his candidacy, observers will speculate on his purpose and how he'll push his opposition to the civil rights bill now.

Of course, it's just possible Governor Wallace is looking closely at Senator Goldwater's vote against the civil rights bill.

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

By ANDREW TULLY

Andrew Tully

WASHINGTON, July 23—Dick Nixon is a man who learned the hard way about the impact of television on political campaigns, and so it is relevant to consider a little-noted comment he made in San Francisco last week about Barry Goldwater's chances in November.

At a press conference, Nixon was ticking off Goldwater's "advantages"—his underdog status, the fact he would be on the attack, and his large corps of volunteer workers. Most significant, Nixon noted that Goldwater would look better on TV. A few days later, actor Robert Montgomery, who masterminded Eisenhower's TV productions, was quoted as saying Goldwater would make President Johnson "look silly" on the TV screen.

Allowing for the pair's prejudices, the boys have made a valid point. Compared to Goldwater, Johnson may not look silly but he has the appearance and air of a man cleaning out the barn.

• • •

GOLDWATER'S TV IMAGE GOOD—It is not that Goldwater is the handsomer of the two, although he has had females swooning for years over his rugged- clean-cut features and his generous thatch of wavy gray hair. It is, instead, that Goldwater simply appears on TV, while Johnson works at it.

Goldwater can be impatient, sharp and even rude on the screen, but he is always relaxed, always natural, always Barry Goldwater. Even in some of his more set speeches, his air is that of a man chatting with a friend. His language is vigorous and pungent; he rips off phrases in a style that seems spontaneous even when it isn't. He can be hammy, but he is never corny.

Moreover, he appeals to folks seeking simple solutions, a return to the uncomplicated good old days. And he is attractively careless, as when he talks about stamping out crime so "our women can walk the streets safely at night." It does not occur to the average viewer that here is a man dedicated to states' rights who is proposing that the President step into matters of purely local responsibility.

• • •

JOHNSON SEEMS TENSE—Johnson, on the other hand, almost always seems tense and concerned about his performance. In a sense, that is his trouble—he tries to give a performance instead of just talking to the folks. When he stumbles over a phrase, he seems embarrassed and confused, instead of sloughing it off casually, good-naturedly. Even when speaking extemporaniously, he seems to be reading notes.

Actually, Lyndon Johnson is much more old-shoe than the suave, sophisticated Barry Goldwater. He is much more at home in the backyard than he is in the parlor; at such times his manner is easy and sometimes warmly earthy. But when he tries to be folksy on TV it comes out almost pure corn, because it is obvious he is making an effort.

• • •

DEFENSE VS. ATTACK—In the TV campaign, Johnson will labor under another disadvantage. As President, he has to be careful what he says, just as Nixon, as vice president, had to be careful. Thus his speeches can't be as much fun as those of his opponent, who can—and probably will—say anything he likes to give the folks a bang. Johnson will be defending his administration; which is often dull; Goldwater will be attacking it, which is always exciting.

Jack Kennedy licked Nixon on TV in 1960 because he was both more appealing and more fun than his opponent. Goldwater, who has spent hundreds of hours poring over the Kennedy campaign book, conceivably could use that box to beat Johnson.

Views of Others

BROADCASTING THE VOTE RETURNS

James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary under President Eisenhower and at present a broadcasting company executive, favors a law that would prevent television networks from announcing presidential election returns in Eastern states while the polls in Western states were still open. Mr. Hagerty knows as well as anyone what the problems are; he was press secretary for Governor Dewey in the 1948 campaign and for General Eisenhower in 1952.

"We said Governor Dewey was ahead in one state even before we knew he was winning it," he said. "We claimed victory in states that we were sure Eisenhower would win before he knew he was winning." There is no doubt, in Mr. Hagerty's view, that such statements have a "bandwagon influence" on Western voters. This he deplores.

Mr. Hagerty has a good point, but we question whether the problem he discusses can be solved by a law. The residents of Connecticut, for example, have the right to get returns as fast as possible, and even if interstate networks were somehow to be subjected to restrictions a California station could pick up and rebroadcast Connecticut results.

If any legislation were to be proposed there would need to be a careful study of the facts. Can a bandwagon psychology really be stimulated in this way? Has it ever been? Voters are not lacking in sophistication; they can discount candidates' claims. And they may come to mistrust computers if broadcasters rush on the air too quickly with generalizations based on minute samplings.

Unless some overwhelming need were proved, it is difficult to see how broadcasting of election results can be circumscribed. Perhaps this matter involves one of the hazards of the democratic election process. At any rate, the system should not be tampered with hastily.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

NO BOMBER BONFIRES

We fail to see logic in the U. S. proposal to the Russians at Geneva that both countries have "bonfires" to destroy obsolete bombers.

One recognizes that this is a propaganda gesture, an effort to enhance the U. S. "peace image" among skeptics in other countries. It is also a rather clumsy attempt to get the Russians to commit themselves to some kind of international inspection and verification. They are not likely to bite on this.

The idea of being tied to some kind of agreement with the Russians by a rigid and mechanical formula for destruction of obsolete weapons of war strikes us as ridiculous. It also could be dangerous. In their eagerness, U. S. negotiators at the disarmament conference now are talking about "sweetening the pot"—i.e., offering to destroy weapons other than bombers. One doubts that Pentagon defense chiefs trust the diplomats that far.

Wonder if anyone remembers the Washington disarmament conference (1921) and the London naval conference (1930) which were supposed to limit the naval forces of Japan, among others, and prevent the Japanese from waging a big war. Or, for that matter, the 1919 restrictions placed on Germany. The United States was the eager-beaver in pushing for arms limitation in those days, too.—The Oregonian.

ASKS VOLUNTEER PROGRAM

Whatever the government may feel must be done to provide hospitalization and medical care to those over 65, it should not be hung on the shaky structure of social security.

We would hope, since most of our oldsters are ready, willing and able to provide for themselves, that "medicare" legislation will be designed solely for those in need of it—and not masqueraded as compulsory insurance for all.—Greencastle (Ind.) Putnam County Graphic.

POT SHOTS

PAID IN OWN COIN

Dear Pot Shots:

Have read in physiology that taste is a sensation that it not remembered.

If that were not true, I would blow my top. However, I know better because I can remember how good green apples taste 72, 71 and 70 years ago.

Here is what this is all about: We planted two early apple trees. This is the first year they produced. One was loaded to capacity but since they have started to show signs of ripening, they have been disappearing until there are perhaps a dozen left.

I haven't the nerve to get out of patience about it. I can remember, "In the evening, by the moonlight," you could see those apples hanging.

Please, friends, leave at least four so we can find out what they are like.

SMALL WORLDS

The big world is made up of innumerable small worlds which total at least as many as there are individuals. Each individual has his own little world and too many of us couldn't care less what goes on outside our own little world.

For instance, the guy who spends all his spare time hunting rocks in the deserts and mountains is perfectly happy. He's completely interested in his own little world and it never dawns on him that perhaps someone else isn't interested even a little bit.

Or the bowler might be interested in bowling to the exclusion of everything else. Likewise with the skier or the gal who crochets so beautifully. Ad infinitum. And each is puzzled upon discovery that others AREN'T interested.

So if each individual, each group, each nation, etc., will concentrate on keeping each little individual world from colliding with another little world, it should be a cinch to keep the big world intact awhile longer. Okay? End of sermon.

Would you be interested in something concerning politics if it's real funny?

I don't mean to insinuate that it isn't quite political, too, but I think it's hilarious. What's your policy?

Interpreting the News

By JAMES MARLOW
(Associated Press News Analyst)

WASHINGTON, July 23 (AP)—this year's election campaign—including the candidates and the issues—reflects the peculiar period in which Americans are living. There has been nothing like it for 35 years.

If this was a time of crisis or peril for the United States, the energies and even the hostilities of Americans would be directed not inward among themselves but outward toward the common, foreign foe.

Internal differences would be submerged.

Even if this was a time of depression there would be a common cry and search for new solutions and new programs to save the nation from disaster. The people would be wrapped in a common garment of uncertainty.

But this is not that kind of time. Compared with years gone by this is a prosperous and tranquil period. Because it is, Americans now have the luxury of time for self-examination, self-criticism and internal hostilities.

There has been no such time since before the 1929 market crash. Then came the years of depression, despair and fright, the new programs of President Franklin D. Roosevelt and the gratitude for his leadership as expressed in the 1936 election which gave him every state but two.

Before the depression was over, and before Roosevelt's third election, the United States had moved into the anxiety and the preparations of the years just before World war II. Then there were the war years.

After them—the years of reconversion to peace, the stunning realization that the nation had only moved from a hot war to a cold one, the repeated crises created by communism, the Marshall plan, Berlin blockade, communist takeover in China, formation of NATO, Korean war, nuclear race with the Soviet Union and the agony of internal suspicion in the McCarthy era.

The years that follow, the years of President Dwight D. Eisenhower, were not tranquil. There were the years of the missile race, of the probings of Nikita Khrushchev, of new nations emerging. All of them were uneasy years.

They did not become easier when President John F. Kennedy took over. Khrushchev tried him out, too, with the Berlin wall, nuclear testing, missiles in Cuba. It was only after Kennedy forced a showdown with him in Cuba that some tranquility began.

This coincided with the disintegration of unity in the communist world. The reds turned their energies and hostilities inwards, criticizing one another. It was then that a comparatively peaceful period for this country began.

Trite, there is still Castro's communism in Cuba and the war in Viet Nam is going anything but well. But neither directly menaces the safety of the United States, which at last is beginning to feel secure behind an armed strength greater than anything the communist world can muster.

Now, with crisis absent and tension eased and the country fairly prosperous, Americans have more time to examine themselves, criticize themselves, express their discontent with themselves.

President Johnson in a very real sense is the custodian of the programs, at home and abroad, built up since 1929 and he is intent on adding new ones, particularly in the social welfare field.

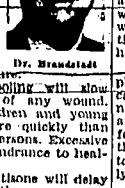
Sen Barry Goldwater, the Republican nominee, represents the forces which have long been discontented with those programs, particularly the enormously enlarged role of the federal government in life of the nation over these past 35 years.

Much of the campaign may be concentrated in that area.

But it is only because the country is now rich, and at last tranquil, if only temporarily, that those who share and oppose Goldwater's views of America and the world have a chance to express their feelings.

The Doctor Says

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.



Dr. Brandstadt

The healing of wounds is normally an automatic process, but it can be slowed in various ways. As a general rule, wounds of the face, neck and scalp heal rapidly because these areas have a richer than average blood supply. Wounds of the abdomen heal more quickly than those of the extremities because the tissues of the abdominal wall are normally maintained at a higher temperature.

Conversely, cooling will slow the healing of any wound. Wounds in children and young adults heal more quickly than those in older persons. Excessive fat is often a hindrance to healing.

ACTH and cortisone will delay healing because they prevent inflammation and the early inflammatory stage of wound healing is an essential part of the reparative process.

Many refinements in the cleaning and protecting of wounds are now available to your doctor. These are especially applicable to the carefully planned wounds that he must make when he has to operate. One such innovation is a liquid spray dressing which forms a film over the cutting area. This has been found to aid in preventing wound infection.

Another means of preventing such infections is the use of isoniazid. This drug, originally used to combat the tubercle bacillus, appears to stimulate tissue resistance to infection with other germs. And then there is a new surgical dressing (Driafix) made of rayon fibers placed between layers of polyurethane foam. This type of dressing rapidly absorbs any fluid that may ooze from a wound. By thus keeping the wound dry the chances for infection are reduced and prompt healing is assured.

One of the advantages of the planned surgical wound is that it can follow what are known as natural lines of cleavage. These are the same lines that wrinkles follow in older persons. Using these lines allows your surgeon to give you a scar that is scarcely visible.

Q—A friend of mine who visits me often tells me that people snub or ignore him. Sometimes when he is in a public place they even go so far as to make whispered derogatory remarks about him. Do you think he has delusions of persecution?

A—Yes. This is the way paranoia, severe mental disease, starts. Your friend needs psychiatric help.

MARQUIS CHILDS WRITES ON WASHINGTON

Marquis Childs

WASHINGTON, July 23—Alabama's Gov. George C. Wallace has handed Sen. Barry Goldwater a large, juicy plum. By withdrawing as a presidential candidate he gives Goldwater an excellent chance to carry five or more southern states.

What happened after the adoption in San Francisco of the Republican platform with its muted civil rights plank, to make Wallace change his stand is a fascinating puzzle. He had been telling southern audiences with an almost-messianic conviction that he was in the race to stay. His name would be entered on the ballot in at least 15 states.

The conjecture here is that Alabama Republicans used all their persuasive powers on the long-distance phone between San Francisco and Montgomery to get the governor to step out. The principal agent, it is believed here, was James D. Martin of Gadsden, a member of the Alabama delegation and perhaps the ablest spokesman for the GOP in the state.

Martin denies that he tried to influence Wallace in his decision. But he says he was in contact with him about a development at the convention. While he will not say what this development was it is believed to have concerned the civil rights plank. Once the word "enforce" had been taken out at the insistence of Sen. John Tower of Texas and others, Wallace could accept it as having—to use his word — "conservatized" the Republican party.

Martin predicts that as of the present reading Goldwater will carry all the South except Georgia and Texas. He adds that if the current trend continues those two states also will end up in the Goldwater column.

And his prediction cannot be dismissed as mere wishful thinking, since he has demonstrated his own political capacities. Two years ago came within 6,000 votes of defeating the veteran Democrat, Sen. Lister Hill, out of 415,000 votes cast. Up until the photo finish it was not sure whether Hill would pull through.

There is, incidentally, a lesson in the Alabama campaign that applies on the national level in 1964. Martin, with skillful organizing efforts, got out all the anti-vote—anti-civil rights, anti-Kennedy, anti - federal government. Too many of the regular Democrats who were either indifferent or reluctant did not vote.

This year Martin is running for a congressional seat, one of eight Republicans running at large, since Alabama has not been redistricted. He believes that four, including himself, will win, and Democrats who know the state are inclined to agree. The defeat of Carl Elliott, considered less than an all-out racist, in the primary was an ominous portent.

What Wallace got in return for pulling out is part of the puzzle. With good reason he claims to have exerted sufficient pressure on the Republicans to make their platform conform in large measure to his views on the civil rights issue. As the polls indicated he would have taken more strength from President Johnson than from Goldwater. Now as a kind of kingmaker he will try to play each of the major parties against each other while getting the utmost benefit for himself.

Although he is not a delegate he is expected to attend the Democratic national convention in Atlantic City next month. It takes no vivid imagination to foresee what he can do there. As boss of the Alabama delegation he will direct a walkout on the civil rights issue. You can hear him now masterminding for the benefit of the nationwide television audience this piece of drama in what is destined to be otherwise a pretty routine gathering.

Next, if reports out of Alabama are correct, he will succeed in having Alabama's constitution altered so that he will be able to run for the senate in 1966 against another veteran Democrat, Sen. John Sparkman. The little giant's goal is a national forum on the floor of the senate to push his unbounded ambition.

The South, plus a northern white backlash; in short, a more or less openly racist campaign—this is the look today of the Goldwater strategy. It comes with the dire coincidence of the riots in Harlem, which are made to order for this strategy. As one of the fiercest Goldwater delegates in San Francisco said: "We're going to have riots if we have to hire pickets to create them. And you know who'll get the benefit of those riots." It is a lumber prospect.

Poor Man's Plato

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK, July 23 (AP)—Paul Newman, who can earn up to a million dollars in a single movie, got a $7.50-a-week raise on Broadway the other day.

Boyle

"I brought my take-home pay to $103.50," said Paul, celebrating over a can of beer in his dressing room.

He and his wife, Joanne Woodward, are appearing in a limited engagement in a new comedy by James Costigan.

The play was produced by the Actors Studio Theater, and Newman and Miss Woodward took their roles as a gesture of loyalty to the Actors Studio and the part it played in furthering their careers.

"We were fortunate we could take six months out of our lives to do this," said Paul.

The handsome, curly-haired actor who spent three years riding navy torpedo planes as a radioman in World war II, seems to have taken the place of Clark Gable as a symbol of masculine virility to millions of feminine film goers.

And Paul has found that the price of being a Broadway matinee idol is that on matinee days the throng of fans waiting at the stage entrance keeps him in virtual prisoner in the theater until after the evening performance. He doesn't like mob scenes, or being pawed.

Opening his second can of beer, his ration between shows, Newman remarked:

"An actor feeds on the satisfaction that he has given people a creative experience."

Paul, who is built as trimly as a college quarterback, feels that the public unconsciously tends to think his screen roles reflect his own personality.

"Many get the idea I'm humorless, just because I play such intense, hard-driving physical characters. But I'm no Rock of Gibraltar.

"To me life is full of terror. Life is terrifying to anyone who has a conscience."

Camas Women Hear Talk by GOP Hopeful

FAIRFIELD, July 23—Richard Smith, Rexburg, GOP candidate for U. S. congressman, talked to Republican women of Camas county Thursday morning.

He had lunch with the Buhl Rotary club and spoke briefly.

"Idaho farmers, ranchers and cattle feeders face a vital election in 1964," the candidate said.

Farmers are steadily becoming a smaller part of the voting public in Idaho even though agricultural importance ranks high in the state, Smith said.

Perhaps the most critical problem facing Idaho agriculture at present is depressed livestock prices caused in large part by the administration program allowing massive imports of foreign beef, Smith noted.

"I feel," Smith said, "that the congressman from the second district in Idaho should work hard to help Idaho farmers and ranchers cope with competition from abroad.

"We are in serious need of a representative in congress from southern Idaho who honestly understands farming. A man who has paid property taxes, borrowed the money to pay for machinery and expenses, met a payroll and faced the uncertainties from agricultural production."

Smith campaigned around Twin Falls county today.

Machine Aids In Health Protection

PALMYRA, Wis., July 23 (UPI)—A new Wisconsin agriculture department machine in protecting state health by uncovering insecticide residue in milk, but it's threatening to put already-pinched dairy farmers out of business.

Last week two cases of DDT residue in milk were reported, and the department promptly banned the milk from market pending further tests. Yesterday the Milwaukee health department confirmed that three more cases were found.

The producers involved are Fred Kelln, Nell Willson and Richard Sauter, all Palmyra, and Charles Anderson and Gerald Nease, both Waterloo. All but Sauter ship for the Milwaukee market. Sauter produces for the Chicago market.

State law forbids any adulteration of milk, so the farmers are dumping—thousands of pounds of milk daily while they wait—and hope—for their milk to be cleared again. Meanwhile bills are mounting and hope for help from the government is dwindling.

Another Body Is Found in River

LEWISTON, July 23 (UPI)—The body of the second of three men who drowned in the Snake river on Sunday when their boat capsized was recovered today by the sheriff's office boat patrol.

The body was identified as that of Lloyd Long, Lewiston. The body was found on the Idaho side of the river, across from the public beach and boat dock at Asotin, Wash.

Still missing is George Chase, also Lewiston. The body of Carl J. Middleton, Coeur d'Alene was recovered from the river Sunday night.

Permits Given To Four Carriers

BOISE, July 23 (UPI)—The Public Utilities commission acted on four motor carrier requests yesterday, amending two of them.

The PUC amended the permits of Fidel and Jesse Rodriquez, Burley, to allow them to expand trucking operations and amended the common carrier permit of Robert T. Nevarez, of Burley, permitting him to haul agricultural commodities.

New common carrier permits were issued Pedro A. Herrera and sons, Heyburn, and Wallace C. Robinson, Newdale.

He came to Burley district in 1956 as range conservationist and served much of his time as division range manager in the Malad, and Snowville, Utah, areas. He also served as district fire control officer and was advanced to assistant district manager in 1961.

BUHL, July 23—Michael Neal, 24, Buhl, was reported in good condition today at Magic Valley Memorial hospital, Twin Falls, after the truck he was driving went off the Clear Lakes grade at 9:40 p.m. Wednesday.

Deputy Sheriff Bill Bunn said Carl Cagle, route 4, Buhl, a passenger in Neal's 1964 International one-ton truck, told him an unidentified vehicle had crowded them on the grade and while attempting to get out of the way the truck ran off the grade.

The other vehicle did not stop. Cagle, who was not injured, reported. Deputy Sheriff Dal Muir, Gooding, also assisted in the investigation.

Farmers Don't Like New Grading System

HEPPNER, Ore., July 23 (UPI)—Farmers in Morrow county are not happy with a new grading standard set by the U. S. department of agriculture.

Al Lamb, manager of the Morrow County Growers association, said yesterday he wired the agriculture department that the new standard could cause up to nine cents per bushel loss for some farmers.

The standard went into effect June 1 and since then about half the growers have had their grain downgraded.

Exported grain must be of high standard and lower grades are usually sold at a lower price for feed grain.

Russia Says U.S. Wheat Not Shipped

WASHINGTON, July 23 (UPI)—The Soviet Union says it isn't shipping American wheat to Cuba.

A minister at the Soviet Embassy here told the state department yesterday that reports of such shipments were false.

Capt. Arthur H. Fertig, skipper of the Sister Katingo, reported a few days ago that Russian stevedores in the port of Novorossisk told him that American grain was being shipped from the Soviet Union to Cuba.

Fertig's ship was boarded and searched by Russians when it left Novorossisk without clearance last week. The United States protested against what it called excessive methods employed by Soviet authorities.

Georgi M. Kornienko, the Soviet minister, denied the reports of the grain shipments. He suggested Fertig made his charge "to provoke trouble" because of the incident at the Black seaport.

Second Pay Raise Passes First Test

WASHINGTON, July 23 (UPI)—The second military pay raise in a year sailed past its first house test, yesterday and servicemen were promised that a more substantial increase might be forthcoming next year.

Rep. L. Mendel Rivers, D., S. C., set to succeed Rep. Carl Vinson, D., Ga., as chairman of the house armed services committee, spoke of yet another pay hike. He said that "unless we provide adequate increases for members of the armed services, we are going to develop a generation of mediocre officers and noncommissioned officers which may be one of the most dangerous trends ever faced by any nation."

Rivers made the comments shortly before his armed services subcommittee quickly approved a 207 million dollar military-pay increase sought by the administration. The bill, already passed by the senate, would affect more than 1.8 million servicemen.

Goldwater Group Lists Its Plans

BOISE, July 23 (UPI)—The chairman of the Idaho Goldwater for President committee last night said there are no plans to set up a separate organization to work for the Arizona senator outside the Republican party structure.

James D. McClary, Boise, who is also state GOP treasurer, said he and state chairman John McMurray had made plans together "to run this thing through the Republican party."

A delegate to the GOP convention, John T. Hawley, Boise, said last night that there had been talk about setting up a separate organization, but there were no plans for it as of last Thursday.

Political writer John Corlett wrote yesterday that if Goldwater partisans fail Aug. 14 to win control of a majority of county organizations in county elections, they might set up a separate organization.

McClary said the decision to stay within the party was "in accordance with the senator's wishes" except in areas where the party doesn't function. He said there are no such areas in Idaho.

"We are going to open up a Republican state headquarters. It will include headquarters for Goldwater plus the congressional district."

"There is no talk of any kind I know of of a separate organization. There may be some people who want to support Goldwater but not the Republican organization. They can give their contributions to the national Goldwater for President committee, or to a state Goldwater chairman."

The Shriners will gather at the fair and march to nearby Shea stadium for an evening of entertainment.

He predicted that the organization will increase its activities greatly in the interest of the welfare of children.

Brock said expenditures will total 23 million dollars next year. In the current year, Shriners will spend 9.5 million dollars to operate hospitals for crippled children.

Veterans Are Facing Hard Competition

WASHINGTON, July 23 (UPI)—World war II veterans are facing increasingly tougher job competition from youngsters of the postwar baby boom, a labor department official says.

Louis Levine, director of the U. S. employment services, says the younger men who are coming into the labor market are generally better educated and better equipped for the jobs.

"With each passing year, veterans become especially vulnerable to the rapidly changing labor conditions and hiring specifications," Levine said in an article in "Employment Service Review," published by the labor department.

But Levine said that by and large veterans have fared well in the years since the GI bill 20 years ago provided the nation with its biggest single boost in education and job training.

SAN BERNARDINO, Calif., July 23 (UPI)—More than 7,000 acres of valuable watershed, six ranch buildings and an old vacant house have been destroyed in a major brush fire in the Cajon pass area which continued to plague firemen today.

U. S. forest service spokesmen said yesterday they had hoped to contain the fire by today, but a flareup erupted late in the day in the south end of the fire area and blackened about 2,000 acres of brush in a couple of hours.

About 350 weary firefighters remained on the fire lines throughout the night.

Udall Tries To Meet Objections

WASHINGTON, July 23 (UPI)—Interior Secretary Stewart L. Udall sought yesterday to meet stormy objections raised to a proposed partnership with private power companies in the construction of a 697 million dollar electric transmission system in the Far West.

The secretary told congressional appropriations committees several changes had been made in the proposed Pacific Coast power intertie to meet objections raised by California congressman and Gov. Edmund G. Brown.

Rep. John E. Moss, D., Calif., chief critic of the plan, recently charged it had been developed in "secrecy and reckless haste" and did not provide enough power to meet the growing needs of Northern California.

Udall said the changes would assure enough electric transmission capacity to meet the needs of the so-called "preference" customers until 1980. In addition, he said, the modified plan would assure California enough Canadian treaty power to provide pumping power for the state water project until atomic power plants could take over the job.

Sheppard Wins Another Court Battle

AKRON, O., July 23 (UPI)—Dr. Sam Sheppard and his bride of five days planned to return today to their suburban Cleveland home, his freedom assured a while longer by a second court victory within a week.

His blonde German wife, Ariane, said yesterday's decisions by the U. S. sixth circuit court of appeals means she and Sheppard can "start living—well, like normal people."

The special three-judge court ruled that Sheppard could continue free on $10,000 bond while legal arguments are heard in his long and complicated case involving the murder of his first wife, Marilyn, a crime for which he was convicted and imprisoned nine years ago.

Their decision came a week to the day after Judge Carl Weinman of U. S. district court in Dayton ordered the former osteopath's release on $10,000 bond and his retrial within 60 days or outright release, contending his constitutional rights were violated during the trial.

Court May Overturn Pay Decision

BOISE, May 23 (AP) — Former Atty. Gen. Frank L. Benson says he believes federal court will overturn a state supreme court decision allowing the justices to receive pay increases voted during their terms of office.

Benson, a candidate for election to the state court, said he will file in U.S. district court a lawsuit to stop the justices from receiving such increases, and to compel them to pay the money they have collected in increases back to the treasury.

"Further," said Benson, "I am of the opinion that the governor should be made a party to the suit. Except in 1955 he has seen to it that the justices received a handsome but unconstitutional raise in salary at every regular session of the legislature since he took office."

Benson said the Idaho constitution forbids any increase for supreme court justices and other state officials voted during their term. He said he is familiar with the court's decision holding that this does not apply to the justices.

"I have every confidence in the world that decision will be reversed by the federal court," he said.

Benson opposes chief justice Emery T. Knudson. The winner in the Aug. 4 primary vote will take the court seat. With only two candidates, the justice election, which is non-partisan, does not get to the November ballot.

Justices are elected for six-year terms. In the past six years salaries have risen from $10,500 to $15,000 a year.

UPROOTED GAS TANK weighing one ton and containing 8,000 gallons of gasoline at the Blue Lakes Beeline service station, Blue Lakes boulevard north, is shown in comparison to the station manager, Gary Mitchell. The tank and gasoline, weighing about six tons, was forced from beneath three feet of dirt and gravel Tuesday night. (Times-News photo)

Water Pushes Huge Gasoline Tank Out of Ground in T. F.

Water power can do miraculout things, just ask Gary Mitchell, manager of the Blue Lakes Beeline gasoline station, Blue Lakes boulevard north, who arrived to open the station at 7 a.m. Wednesday and found one of his 8,000 gallon underground gasoline tanks floating in a big pond of water.

According to Mitchell, the water seeped from an irrigating ditch during the night into a small cavity under the tank. The tank was burried under three feet of dirt and gravel. Throughout the night the water kept increasing pressure under the tank and by morning the water pressure had forced the tank, partially full of gasoline, out of the ground. The six-ton tank was floating in the pool of water left by the cavity when Mitchell came to work.

At the tank rose out of the ground, the fittings broke and when the tank rolled over 1,700 gallons of the gasoline spilled out into the lot behind the station.

Mitchell contacted Henry Kerr, Twin Falls, southcentral Idaho representative for the gas company, who came to the station. When he saw what had happened, he got a water pump and proceeded to jump the water out of the cavity so the tank could be lowered again.

Crandall Service company, Twin Falls, who installed the tank, spent the entire day pumping out the water and the tank is expected to be re-buried by Thursday evening.

Red Rebel Tribesmen Capture Site

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo, July 23 (UPI)—Communist-backed rebel tribesmen yesterday captured Kindu, the East Congo town where 13 Italian United Nations airmen were massacred in 1961.

Radio messages from the railroad headquarters in Kindu said the rebel forces of Gaston Soumialot seized control of the city yesterday morning after several hours of street fighting.

The reports said the remaining European population of Kindu, numbering about 100 and mostly men, were calling urgently for evacuation. About 40 white women and children were evacuated from Kindu a week ago.

Kindu, an important railway-river junction about 300 miles west of the Kivu province capital of Bukavu, is the center of a rich gold and tin mining area.

The reports said there was no evidence of participation by the Congolese national army in the Kindu region. It was a mystery who put up resistance to the rebels.

Visit May Be Cut Short By Minister

WASHINGTON, July 23 (UPI)—Prime Minister Tengku Abdul Rahman of Malaysia said today he may cut short his current visit to the United States because of bloody rioting in Singapore. Rahman implied broadly that Indonesia was behind the unrest.

At least 18 persons have been killed, and over 1,200 arrested in the port city in three days of battling between Malayan and Chinese residents. Singapore is part of the new Malaysian nation which Indonesian President Sukarno has threatened repeatedly to crush.

Rahman assessed the strife back in his own country in a television interview today before seeking further American support in his dispute with Indonesia. He winds up two days of talks with President Johnson late today after a major speech at the National Press club.

Slivers Are Taken From Boy's Heart

DENVER, July 23 (UPI)—Frederick Michael Callaway, 13, Las Vegas, N. M., was reported in satisfactory condition today at Colorado General hospital following surgery to remove two slivers of metal from his heart.

Doctors removed the slivers, each less than three-eighths of an inch long, in a delicate three and one-half hour operation yesterday.

The boy, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Roger Callaway, was injured in an accident at his home Monday night.

Callaway, admissions counselor at New Mexico Highlands university, said his son and a friend were playing with a pistol when it fired, causing the barrel to explode.

Metal fragments pierced the boy's right shoulder and entered his heart.

Election Excitement Runs High

WASHINGTON, July 23 (AP) — The sharp debate over U. S. foreign policy which is developing in this year's presidential election campaign seems likely to excite more reaction in foreign countries than any American political dispute since the end of World war II.

Much of the European press has already expressed bitter criticism of the nomination of Sen. Barry Goldwater, assailing him as the leader of those who would change fundamental U. S. positions in world affairs.

Soviet Premier Khrushchev raised the operation to the summit level this week by denouncing both the Republican nominee and the platform on which he is running.

This kind of action by a foreign official is traditionally classified in diplomacy as interference in the internal affairs of the United States and the diplomat who tried it would quickly find himself in serious trouble.

In 1948 British Ambassador Lionel Sackville-West was sent home for taking sides in the contest between Grover Cleveland and Benjamin Harrison, and his fate is well remembered in the Washington diplomatic corps to this day.

But the rules that silence ambassadors do not operate for presidents and premiers, speaking from distant capitals.

Khrushchev told a Polish audience that the candidate put forward by the Republican party "made it clear that he wants to enter the White House under the slogans of unbridled anti-communism and war threats."

He also asserted that the Republican platform, which he denounced as warlike, had been adopted "in an atmosphere reminiscent of the fascist gatherings in Nuernberg."

The big question raised among U. S. foreign policy officials who are always concerned with the aim of Khrushchev's maneuvers, is what he hopes to accomplish by an attack at this time.

Khrushchev has interfered in U. S. presidential politics before.

In 1960 he spoke out against Republican nominee Richard M. Nixon. At that time Khrushchev had broken off friendly personal relations with President Dwight D. Eisenhower over the U2 plane incident, and he expressed his antagonism toward Nixon by identifying him with Eisenhower.

Diplomats here believe the present campaign debate on foreign policy probably will be more far reaching and involve more fundamental issues than any in the past 20 years.

Where the communist problem is concerned, for example, the Johnson administration has been following a policy of trying to treat different communist countries differently according to their willingness to make practical agreements with the United States. In the Kennedy-Johnson administration the outstanding example of this policy is the limited nuclear test-ban treaty signed with the Soviet Union last summer.

T. F. Youths Are Put on Probation

The three appeared before Probate Judge Zoe Ann Warberg Wednesday and two of the teen-agers were placed on one-year probation and the other was placed on a six-month probation.

Judge Warberg noted that the extent of the probation depended on the youth. She indicated that the two placed on longer probations had been before her on other juvenile charges.

THIS BOY will never forget his vacation and the 200-pound halibut he caught this week off the coast of Saco, Me. Kevin Kelly, 11, fishing with Holly Moore, left, hooked onto the fish about 11 miles off shore. It took the boy almost an hour to land the fish, at times getting help and advice from Moore. The giant fish had to be fought like a tuna when it came to surface four times before being boated. (AP wirephoto)

Lincoln Statue Popular at World's Fair

NEW YORK, July 23 (AP)—The individual star of the World's Fair is none other than Abraham Lincoln.

Some audiences he holds in spellbound silence. Others he sets to cheering wildly.

People go away from his performances in awe with praise and such exclamations as "Stupendous!" "Tremendous!" and "Most impressive and inspiring." Many return time and again.

Lincoln, seen as the feature attraction of the Illinois Pavilion, is the creation of the Walt Disney organization.

He is a new type of animated figure so lifelike many find it hard to believe he isn't really real. He fits the exact description of Lincoln as to face and figure, dress, speech and mannerisms.

After dramatic introductory music and other material, the stage curtains part before a hushed audience to reveal the figure sitting in center stage in a high-backed chair.

Slowly the figure rises, pauses to regard the audience to right and left. Quietly but forcefully he begins to speak. For 10 minutes he delivers excerpts from Lincoln's speeches dealing with liberty and freedom.

There is seldom the slightest sound from the audiences—except for cheers. These come with a roar at the end, when the figure takes its seat.

The champion viewer so far is one man who sat through seven successive performances.

There has been some confusion.

An elderly grandmother wanted to know, "What is the name of the actor that plays Lincoln?"

WORKSHOP SLATED

JEROME, July 23—Odds and Ends Square Dance club, Jerome, will hold a workshop at 8:30 p.m. Saturday at the home of Bud Gellings, five miles north and a half mile east of Jerome.

ENTERS SCHOOL

RICHFIELD, July 23 — Larry Stubbs entered officer's training school at Newport, R.I. this week. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar J. Stubbs, accompanied him to Twin Falls where he left by plane. A 1964 graduate of Idaho State university, Stubbs was accepted for training in June.

New Mystery Found in Ruby Case

DALLAS, Tex., July 23 (AP) — A minor mystery has developed over a newspaper which investigators reported finding in Jack Ruby's car, a defense lawyer said yesterday.

A newspaper, the Wall Street Journal, was addressed to J. E. Bradshaw, a Dallas business executive.

Ruby, during an FBI polygraph test, was asked if he bought the Journal Nov. 16, and he replied he did not. The Journal did not publish on that date. There was no explanation of the use of the date by the polygraph operators.

Although prosecutors say they know of nothing to link the newspaper with the slaying of Lee Harvey Oswald, FBI agents and a representative of the Warren commission have expressed an interest in it.

"Jack tells me he is mystified," defense attorney Joe Tonahill said. "He says he never read the Wall Street Journal, had not seen a copy of the Nov. 16 issue, and doesn't have any idea what it was doing in his car."

Scalped

DENVER, July 23 (UPI) — There were a pair of scalpings in Denver yesterday and officials at the city zoo say they are not happy about it.

Scalped were two Indian dummies placed on exhibition at the zoo. Officials said they would use wigs to repair the damage.

T. F. Girl Wins Contest at N. Y.

Terri Thornock, 15, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lavear Thornock, Twin Falls, has been named "Miss Teen-Age Physical Fitness," at the New York World's Fair.

Miss Thornock, a student of Mrs. Willa Dean Neilson, Twin Falls dance instructor, attended the competition sponsored by the Dance Educators of America in New York City. She was invited to the competition after taking first place in the Intermountain regional contest in Salt Lake City in the talent division with a modern dance presentation.

She competed in the performing arts competition at the national contest in New York, where she has been participating in a four-day dance training session which began Monday. The physical fitness competition was held yesterday.

T. F. Police Probe Two Accidents

Twin Falls police investigated two accidents in Twin Falls Wednesday but no injuries were reported.

Bert H. Pett, 1612 Willow lane, was cited for following too closely after a two-car accident at 3:48 p.m. in the 100 block of Shoshone street west.

Pett was cited after his 1954 Plymouth struck the rear of a 1960 Nash driven by Charles E. Miller, route 2, which had stopped in the center lane of traffic for a stop light.

Mrs. Katherine L. Porter, 63, 405 Rose street, was cited for a red signal light violation after a two-car accident at 3 p.m. at Shoshone street south and Fourth avenue south.

Mrs. Porter was driving a 1962 Chevrolet north on Shoshone street south when her vehicle collided with a 1962 International pickup truck driven by C. K. Hayhurst, 47, Jerome.

Mrs. Porter told investigating police that she did not see the red signal light until it was too late.

PERMIT GRANTED

PROVO, July 23 (UPI) — The federal communications commission has granted a construction permit for Brigham Young university's non-commercial educational television station on Mount Vision, west of Murray.

PACK TRAIN provides the only means of transporting supplies into many areas of the rugged primitive area. With the region attracting more and more vacationers, pack trains are active again. Some areas of the region can't be reached until snow melts in July. (Forest service photo)

Stock Market and Financial Report

Stocks

NEW YORK, July 23 (UPI)—The stock market closed mixed today with extremely narrow changes in most cases.

Selected issues affected by special situations were about the only ones to show moves of as much as a point.

Volume for the day was estimated at 4.7 million shares, compared with 4.57 million Wednesday.

Market averages showed only tiny moves, sometimes slightly on the upside and then on the downside. Only in special situations were stock movements as large as a point.

Chrysler and Ford, basking in the light of record earnings, responded with fractional advances. Ford had been higher by as much as a point earlier. GM, however, which hasn't reported first half results, was off ½.

Savings and loan holding companies were generally weak.

Chicago Yellow Cab jumped almost four points. Du Pont had a gain of more than two.

United Air Lines was off about one while American and Eastern Airlines were down fractions.

Bond prices were mixed to a little higher in spots.

American Stock Exchange prices continued mixed in moderate trading.

Missing Boy's Father Pleads To News Media

PORTLAND, July 23 (UPI) — William Grano, the father of a boy missing since July 10, asked news media yesterday to publish pictures of his son to aid in search efforts.

Grano said that evidence indicates 9-year-old Rick, became lost in brush or was abducted from the Long Beach, Wash., area while on a Portland YMCA outing.

A reward of $2,500 has been offered for a lead to the youth. John F. Johnson, president of the Omega Natural Gas company, Calgary, Canada, added $1,500 Wednesday to the original $1,000.

Grain

CHICAGO, July 23 (UPI) — Wheat closed strong, corn firmed, oats were steady to firm, rye was easy to weak and soybeans closed easy to weak and mixed today on the Chicago board of trade.

At the final bell, wheat was up ⅝ to 1⅝; corn up ¼ to ¾; oats up ⅛ to ⅝; rye unchanged to down ⅝; and soybeans up ⅛ to down ⅝.

Commercial house buying advanced wheat futures above early low points. Buying was believed to have been triggered against export sales of hard wheat. Local shorts covered on the way up but general buying awaited active export interest in red wheat. The United Arab Republic was due to purchase 1,800,000 bushels of hard wheat Friday and Chile was expected to buy 1.5 million bushels next week.

Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

Sam Dawson

NEW YORK, July 23 (UPI)—The fast climb in time deposits and savings accounts that has made this business upswing different from most others has slowed down. And so has the rise in interest rates paid for savings.

Bankers think that the high yields to be had now on various short-term investments here, and even higher returns abroad, may mark a leveling off or softening of interest to be paid savers.

Also tending to have the same result is the easing in the mortgage markets. Investment fund supplies are exceeding demand for new mortgages in many regions. As mortgage charges have eased a bit, so has the rate which the lending institutions can pay for savings that form the pool from which the money for mortgages comes.

This may be one of the reasons many bankers have been urging the federal reserve board to modify the easy money policies followed with little variation through most of the present business upswing. The American Bankers association has suggested the board might think twice about keeping money easy if the business upturn approaches boom stage.

The ABA, however, has opposed any moves to increase the 4 per cent limit the federal reserve places on interest on time deposits in commercial banks. Many small banks aren't paying that much, anyway, saying they can't afford to in their business. They'd hate to see savings siphoned off by much higher interest rates paid elsewhere.

Many mutual savings banks have offered more than 4 per cent. And some savings and loan associations, especially in the West, have been offering close to five per cent in dividends to get funds for the mortgage market there.

The rise in the total of time deposits in the commercial banks has been a phenomenon of this expansion period, the Federal Reserve Bank of St. Louis notes in its July Review.

Previously such forms of savings rose rapidly during recessions and then tapered off during the expansions that followed. In the 1953-54 recession, time deposits grew at an annual rate of 10 per cent, but dropped to a six per cent increase in the following upswing. In the 1957-58 slump the growth rate of bank deposits was 15 per cent at an annual rate, with a drop to five per cent when times turned good again.

In the last recession, 1960-61, the annual growth rate of time deposits was 15 per cent. But when business turned upward in 1961, time deposits continued to grow at an annual rate of 14 per cent until mid-1963.

This year there has been a slackening. Commercial banks are now reporting gains in time deposits at a seven per cent annual rate. The St. Louis bank thinks one cause is higher rates paid by mutual savings banks and other savings institutions. And of late, money market rates, especially abroad, have firmed.

King Denies Communist Infiltration

JACKSON, Miss., July 23 (UPI) —Dr. Martin Luther King, who vigorously denied last night that the civil rights struggle has been infiltrated by communist sympathizers, goes to Vicksburg today in his five-day tour through troubled Mississippi.

Sen. James O. Eastland, D., Miss., said on the senate floor yesterday that several persons involved in the Mississippi civil rights drive are pro-communist.

King answered the charge before the largest audience he had drawn so far in his tour through the state. He told about 2,500 Negroes and a few whites that he is "sick and tired of people saying this movement has been infiltrated by communist and communist sympathizers."

His voice rising, King shouted, "there are as many communists in this freedom movement as their are Eskimos in Florida."

Heads Reject Attempt by Malcolm X

CAIRO, July 23 (UPI)—African heads of state rejected an attempt by American black nationalist leader Malcolm X to have them condemn the United States on charges of violating human rights, it was learned yesterday.

Instead, the African leaders meeting here approved U. S. government action taken to protect the civil rights of Negroes, sources said.

The sources said this was the gist of a resolution proposed qy President Julius Nyerere of Tanganyika and Zanzibar and passed by the Organization of African Unity (AAU) summit conference before it ended Tuesday night. The text has not been published.

The resolution is in line with one passed at last year's summit at Addis Ababa, Ethiopia, which expressed concern at racial discrimination in the United States but commended action taken to combat it, the sources said.

Railroad Net Income Is up

SAN FRANCISCO, July 23 (AP)—The Western Pacific Railroad today reported $2,010,000 in second quarter net income, amounting to $1.01 a share.

The earnings gain of $212,000 over the 1963 second quarter net of $1,804,000 was achieved despite a drop in operating revenues from 14.85 million dollars to 14.64 million dollars. The 1963 earnings amounted to 90 cents a share.

President Frederic B. Whitman said the improvement resulted from a cost control and expense reduction program.

U. S. Agrees To Train Malaysians

WASHINGTON, July 23 (UPI)—Prime Minister Tengku Abdul Rahman of Malaysia said yesterday after meeting with President Johnson that the United States has agreed to train Malaysian military men in this country.

The prime minister of the newly independent Southeast Asian nation said Johnson also ordered Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara to study the feasibility of supplying U. S. jet planes and landing craft to Malaysia, which currently is engaged in guerrilla warfare with neighboring Indonesia.

It would be the first military agreement between the United States and Malaysia, which has been threatened by President Sukarno of Indonesia since the nation was created last September.

The United States has opposed Indonesia's aggressions against Malaysia, fearing the already critical situation in Southeast Asia would worsen.

Wall Street Chatter

NEW YORK, July 23 (UPI)—Van Alstyne, Noel and company writes that 'if one looks back at the technical action of the stock market it will be noted that when highs are made the list has a tendency to stop, look and listen before proceeding upward again."

"We believe," it adds, "recent history is repeating itself and after some further sidewise action the market will again progress to even higher ground."

Hayden, Stone, Inc. comments that "a normal correction could take place at any time, but it should not amount to much, and any such action should actually be rather welcomed as a restraining factor to the very minor speculative excesses that occasionally occur."

Bache and company says that in view of the favorable outlook for corporate profits and the fact that few clouds appear to be on the economic horizon, the outlook for the stock market continues to be bright in our opinion. On this basis," Bache says, "we continue to advocate a policy of making selective commitments."

Area Youth Cop State Golf Honors on Nampa Course; Hulbert, T.F., Wins First

NAMPA, July 23 (AP)—One Twin Falls youngster, Gary Hulbert, captured the juvenile (12-14) title Wednesday and another, Jeff Thompson, notched runner-up honors in the pee wee (11-under) division of the Idaho State Junior Amateur golf championships. Steve Kimball, Twin Falls, finished second in the junior (15-17) division and Jim Packard, Jerome, reached the juvenile semifinals before he was beaten. Thirteen-year-old Hulbert, who just started playing last year, toured the 6,224-yard Broadmore Country club course for an easy 4-3 victory over a Boisean in the victory over a Boisean in the finals. He shot a 38 over the front nine to take an early lead.

Hulbert swept into the finals by walloping Boise's Young, 5-4.

A single stroke was the margin of difference for Thompson who lost 1-up to Doug Malles, Nampa.

Both Thompson and Hulbert were medalists in their divisions.

John Dropping, Boise, copped the junior division by dumping Lewiston's Skip Pierce. Dropping bounced tourney medalist Bill Bader, Boise, in the semifinals 1-up in 19 holes, then took Pierce 3-2. Dropping will be accompanied by Bader to the United States golf association junior tourney in Eugene, Ore., July 28-Aug. 2. They earned the trip earlier this month in a tournament at Twin Falls.

Pierce, who habitually has run into Dropping's sharp shooting the past two summers, advanced to the junior finale by whipping Ontario's Alen Cottle 5-3 in the morning round.

Junior and Juvenile golfers played 18-hole rounds—two per day in match play—and the pee wees played nine.

Semifinals:

Junior — Pierce, Lewiston, defeated Cottle, Ontario, 5-3; Dropping, Boise, defeated Bader, Boise, 1-up, 19.

Juvenile—Hulbert, Twin Falls, defeated Young, Boise, 5-4; Hutchins, Boise, defeated Packard, Jerome, 2-1.

Finals:

Juniors—Dropping, Boise, defeated Pierce, Lewiston, 3-2.

Juvenile—Hulbert, Twin Falls, defeated Hutchins, Boise, 4-3.

Pee Wee—D. Malles, Nampa, defeated Thomson, Twin Falls, 1-up.

Magic Valley Fish Success Lessens

BOISE, July 23 (AP)—General fishing success in Magic Valley has slowed down the past week, the fish and game department reported in its weekly forecast for Idaho anglers. Magic reservoir is still good. The department said high mountain lakes are producing fair catches with very little fishing pressure and that most Idaho streams are continuing to show improvement.

Fly fishing was described as greatly improved in many waters. The department said it should continue good as water slows down and insect hatches come off.

The department said good fishing spots are in the upper reaches of the south fork of the Boise river and tributaries, the Big Wood river and tributaries and the high mountain lakes in these areas.

Big Wood river below Magic reservoir and Richfield canal are fair to good. Lake Cleveland near Albion should provide some good catches.

The Salmon river in the Stanley basin area has dropped and is providing fair to good fishing for trout, the best areas being between Sunbeam dam and Stanley.

Salmon fishing has improved in the basin area. Alturas, Redfish and Stanley lakes are still good but Kokanee fishing has dropped off.

The Pinyon peak road is still closed. Loon creek is good trout fishing and is producing some salmon. The high lakes in the White Cloud mountains are reported still ice covered.

Arnett Wrenches Knee in Practice

ORANGE, Calif., July 23 (AP)—Jon Arnett, longtime star of the Los Angeles Rams, recently shifted from the backfield to end, twisted his right knee in practice Wednesday.

Physicians said Arnett probably will be out of action for only a few days.

His injury came a few hours before the National Football league club scheduled its first full contact scrimmage of the training period.

49er Rookie Duo Pleases Coach

MORAGA, Calif., July 23 (AP)—A pair of rookie running backs stole the show Wednesday as the San Francisco 49ers held their first scrimmage of the National Football league training season.

Coach Jack Christensen praised the hard-hitting running of Ollie Ross, a 6-foot, 220-pound fullback from West Texas State, and halfback Dave Kopay, 6 feet and 205 pounds from Washington.

Veteran quarterback John Brodie connected for one touchdown during the 30-minute scrimmage — an 80-yard scoring toss to flanker Bernie Casey. Linebacker Bill Cooper and safety Jerry Mertens each intercepted a pass.

Golf Interest Credited to Top Twosome

HARTFORD, Conn., July 23 (AP)—It's only a matter of opinion from an authority but Jay Hebert, the PGA Tournament committee chairman, credits the tremendous interest in golf and the large galleries these days to Arnold Palmer and Jack Nicklaus.

Herbert, the 1960 PGA champion, says that "Palmer and Nicklaus have done more for golf in the past 10 years than anyone."

There probably are some other reasons, but not to Hebert.

Relaxing in the locker room at the Wethersfield Country club, latest stop on the major league play-for-pay tour, Hebert insists:

"It used to be that you could win a tournament with two good rounds. But Palmer and Nicklaus, more than anyone else, changed this. The winner of a tournament now has to shoot four good rounds.

"Palmer has really changed this game and so has Nicklaus. Arnie started shooting real good rounds four or five years ago and made other players on the tour realize they would have to shoot the same scores in order to compete.

"That's what is behind the interest and the crowds these days."

Orioles Lose As Indians Rally Late

BALTIMORE, July 23 (AP) — Pitcher Dick Donovan slapped a two-run, tie-breaking single as the Cleveland Indians struck for four runs in the eighth inning and defeated Baltimore 7-4 Wednesday night for the third straight time.

The loss, giving Baltimore an 8-9 record since the All-Star game, dropped the Orioles a full game behind the American league-leading New York Yankees, who defeated Washington 6-3.

Donovan crossed up the Oriole strategy after Woody Held was purposedly walked, loading the bases with two out in the eighth. Donovan, with only three hits in 36 previous trips, then broke the 3-3 tie.

Ex-Champ Moves Up Golf Ladder

CHICAGO, July 23 (AP)—Former champion Carol Sorenson, Janesville, Wis., and Ohio State coed Maggie Martin, St. Clairsville, O., led the parade into the quarter-final round of the 64th Women's Western Amateur golf tournament Wednesday.

Miss Sorenson, 21, winner of this tournament in 1962 when she also was intercollegiate champion, shot even par for 13 holes at Oak Park Country club for a 6 and 5 triumph over Marcella Rose, Jefferson City, Mo.

Miss Martin, 20, a 5 foot, 8 inch brunette, scored a 3 and 2 second round upset of medalist Maureen Crum, Plant City, Fla.

Broke

FRESNO, Calif., July 23 (AP) —The U.S. parachute team is so broke that team members will have to pay for part of their travel expenses if they want to go to the world championships in Germany next month.

The sponsoring Parachute club of America Wednesday reported costs of equipment and training had exceeded donations by $17,500. Officials said passage from New York City to Germany has been paid but team members will be responsible for getting to New York and their expenses during the meet.

The team — six men and five women—has been practicing in Fresno since June 1. It was scheduled to leave here for New York in six days.

Pastrano, Olson Set Non-Title Go

SAN FRANCISCO, July 23 (AP)—Ancient Bobo Olson — whose hopes for a light heavyweight title fight looked miniscule a month ago—will get the chance after all.

Olson will meet light heavyweight champion Willie Pastrano of New Orleans in a 10-round non-title fight Aug. 28 at Kezar Pavilion.

Art Benjamin of the National Boxing club, promoter of the match, said Wednesday Pastrano has agreed to give Olson a shot at the title if the ex-middleweight wins their San Francisco encounter.

Olson's chances for a title fight appeared to have faded after he lost decisively to young Johnny Persol in a televised fight on July 10. It ended a streak of seven victories for the one-time middleweight king.

Olson currently is rated fifth among light heavyweights by the World Boxing association.

The fight with Olson will be Pastrano's first in San Francisco and only his second on the West coast.

Notre Dame Pilot Faces Civil Suit

CHICAGO, July 23 (AP)—A $100,000 civil suit was filed Wednesday against Ara Parseghian, Notre Dame football coach, by the mother of a boy injured in an auto accident.

The suit was filed in U. S. district court in behalf of Mrs. Lois Hudson, Evanston, whose auto was involved in a collision with Parseghian's car in Evanston, Dec. 11.

She charged that Parseghian was guilty of negligence and that her son, Scott, 9, was permanently injured in the crash.

Clay Vowed Fight, Says Patterson

OSLO, Norway, July 23 (AP)—Former heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson said Wednesday that Cassius Clay had promised him a shot at the title.

"I hope we can meet early in 1965," Patterson added, "that is if he keeps his promise."

Patterson, who won a decision over Eddie Machen in Stockholm July 6, is completing a series of 20 exhibitions in Norway and Sweden.

The former heavyweight king said Clay promised before winning the title from Sonny Liston that he would give Patterson a bout—if he ever won the championship.

"But since he beat Liston, I haven't heard a word from him," Patterson said.

Patterson said he thought Clay was a good boxer but added, "I would like to find out how good."

The ex-champion said reports that he may live in Sweden when he retires from the ring are true. He said he might live part of the time in the United States and part of the time in Sweden "because I love my country."

McKinley Is Advancing in Lawn Tennis

HAVERFORD, Pa., July 23 (AP) —Top-seeded Chuck McKinley, the defending champion, advanced to the quarterfinal round of the 65th annual Pennsylvania lawn tennis championships Wednesday after being under considerable pressure.

Froehling defeated Bisty Harrison, Richmond, Va., 6-3, 6-3, while Scott beat David Sanderlin, El Cajon, Calif., 6-3, 9-7.

Phillies Triumph As Wine Whacks Homer Off Braves

MILWAUKEE, July 23 (AP) — Light-hitting Bobby Wine slammed his second homer in two night, a bases-empty shot off Warren Spahn in the seventh inning snapping a 1-1 tie and triggering National league-leading Philadelphia to a 4-1 victory over Milwaukee Wednesday night. The victory kept the Phillies one game ahead of second-place San Francisco.

While Wine took care of the hitting, Jack Baldschun took care of the relief pitching for the second night in a row preserving Ray Culp's eighth victory against five losses.

Spahn lost his 11th against only six victories and failed to finish for the 11th time in his last 12 starts. He was tagged for 10 hits in his eight-inning stint.

The 43-year-old left-hander supplied the Braves only run with a homer in the third inning. It was his first of the year and the 35th of his career.

After Wine cracked his homer the Phillies added two insurance runs in the eighth when Mike de la Hoz made a wild throw after fielding Danny Cater's infield single.

The Phillies scored their first run in the fourth on singles by Johnny Callison and Wes Covington and Danny Cater's grounder.

Pocatello Cools Cowboy Streak With 7-5 Victory

POCATELLO, July 23 (AP)—Pocatello broke an eight-game losing streak Wednesday night with a late rally to defeat the Magic Valley Cowboys 7-5 in a Pioneer league game. The loss was the first for the Cowboys in ... games. Joe Robinson went the distance for the Pocatello Chiefs in picking out his fifth win of the season. The game was tied 5-5 after six innings, but Pocatello scored in the bottom of the seventh on a double by catcher Greg Gossen and a single by John Allison. Left fielder Allison drove in two other runs for three for the night.

The Chiefs got another run in the eighth on a Magic Valley error and a single.

Magic Valley took an early lead with three runs in the second inning when Ramon Aldecoa was safe on a fielder's choice and stole second. An error and a balk moved Joe Tanaka to second and scored Aldecoa.

Losing pitcher Ron Welsch plated Tanaka with a single, and scored the third run of the frame on a triple by Juan Joa.

Giants Break Win Streak Of Cubs 7-3

SAN FRANCISCO, July 23 (AP)—Rookie Hal Lanier and Orlando Cepeda hammered wrong field homers in nearly the same spot to drive in five San Francisco runs as the Giants snapped a four-game Chicago winning streak in beating the Cubs 7-3 Wednesday.

Lanier smashed his second homer of the season with two on in the fifth and Cepeda drove his 17th with one on in the sixth. Both homers went over the right field fence near the foul line against right-hander Larry Jackson.

Chicago took a 3-0 lead with a five-hit outburst in the fourth against the Giants, who had won only two games in their last nine but were only one game out of first place.

A BATTLE OF MUSCLE occurs when Jim Prestel (79), the Minnesota Vikings' 275-pound defensive tackle, bulls his way through offensive linemen in the National Football league team's practice. Prestel, 6 feet, 5 inches and from the University of Idaho, has been a Viking regular since he was acquired from the Cleveland Browns in a trade just before the Vikings' first season in the NFL in 1961. The Vikings will play a pre-season game Aug. 22 against the 49ers at Salt Lake City. (AP wirephoto)

Yanks Erupt, Hang Defeat On Solons

NEW YORK, July 23 (AP)—Held hitless through four innings the New York Yankees erupted for five runs in the fifth inning knocked young right-hander Alan Koch out of the box and went on to defeat the Washington Senators 6-3 Wednesday.

The victory, second straight over the last place Senators, assured the Yankees of retaining their percentage point hold on first place.

A bases-loaded triple by Joe Pepitone was the key blow. It came off Jim Hannan, who had replaced Koch after a two-run double by Mickey Mantle and a walk to Roger Maris.

Where's Art?

SANTA ROSA, Calif., July 23 (AP)—The whereabouts and intentions of star end Art Powell continue to be the main concerns of the Oakland Raiders.

Coach Al Davis said Wednesday he fully expects Powell to report to training camp. But he admitted he has no idea where the big end is or when he plans to show up.

The Toronto Argonauts of the Canadian league denied reports Powell was working out with them, and Davis also scoffed at the report.

Also still missing is first-string fullback Alan Miller, who reportedly is torn between practicing law and playing another season of football.

Promoter Says Giardello-Carter Title Fight Negotiations Not Set

LAS VEGAS, Nev., July 23 (AP)—A proposed title fight between middleweight king Joey Giardello and challenger Rubin (Hurricane) Carter Oct. 28 is "still a long way from being set," the promoter of the bout said Wednesday. Mel (Red) Greb, who represents the Silver State Sports club, said he and Michael Del Collo, Giardello's attorney, were "about $15,000 apart" in their negotiations over the guarantee. Del Collo is asking $100,000 for Giardello. Greb said $100,000 is all that is available for both fighters.

The promoter said Carter "is ready to go at any price . . . but in fairness we have to give him at least $15,000."

This means either Del Collo must retreat to an $85,000 guarantee for Giardello "or somebody is going to have to come up with some more money," Greb said.

The promoter said the only source of more money would be Telescript, Inc.—the firm which plans to put the fight on closed circuit television.

At present, Silver State has agreed to give $55,000 to the fighters from the live gate and Telescript has guaranteed $45,000.

Telescript's end would have to be upped to $60,000 to meet Giardello's present demands, Greb said.

Giardello said early Wednesday he understood negotiations were over and he had been offered $100,000 for the Las Vegas title defense.

Del Collo, however, who plans to return to New Jersey Thursday to consult with Giardello, said:

"This thing is still far from being concluded . . . We have reached no conclusions yet."

The fight would be Giardello's first defense of his title since he won it from Dick Tiger in Atlantic City, N. J., last December.

In New York, Murray Goodman, who promoted the Atlantic City fight, said he has a "very legal document" giving his Garden State Sports corporation promotional rights to Giardello's first title defense.

"Naturally we intend to stand up for our rights," Goodman said. "I will discuss the situation with my partners and we'll decide what steps to take. Anyone who goes as far to sign any contract could be open to legal action.

"If Giardello signed anything, it proves the ingratitude of a man who virtually got down on his knees to get a title fight and only through our efforts did he get it."

YOUR BIRTHDAY and HOROSCOPE

by STELLA

THURSDAY, July 23—Born today, you have a magnetism and a basic charm that, no matter what difficulties you may meet, should act to smooth your way. One of those whom people automatically rush to help—whether you need help or not—you will have many opportunities to lean on others. Fight those temptations, however, because the more you lean, the easier it is to lean, and your own strength could be drained away in the process.

Although you have very definite ideas about what you want and how to go about satisfying those wants, you are somewhat inclined to be unduly influenced by those near and dear to you and could, if you are not careful, be talked out of pursuing that, be talked out of pursuing your aims. Avoid this! Ultimately, only you can know what will fulfill you happy, and whatever it is, that is the road to take.

Easygoing and eager to please, you can be domesticated with the greatest of ease. Your innate choice could find you a joy to live with — but only as long as you do not sacrifice your ambitions merely to avoid argument. Remember that an argument that results in growth is well worth the temporary upset.

Among those born on this date are: Jim Fitzsimmons, noted horse trainer; Michael Wilding, English actor.

To find what is in store for you tomorrow, select your birthday and read the corresponding paragraph. Let your birthday star be your daily guide.

Friday, July 24

LEO (July 24-Aug. 23) — Schedule your time wisely. Find out exactly how far you are from your immediate goal and try for one giant step today.

VIRGO (Aug. 24-Sept. 23) — Make an additional effort, if necessary, but try to clear away all business matters by the end of the day. A good week end in store if you do.

LIBRA (Sept. 24-Oct. 23)—Be very sure you are not biting off more than you can chew when you accept needless responsibilities.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) — Now is the time to realize that there is such a thing as being too helpful. Do another a favor by letting him settle his own affairs.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 22) — The best way to keep in everyone's good graces is to keep out of his hair! Avoid interfering in private business.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23-Jan. 20) —You would be wise not to take sides in disputes among your colleagues today. You would gain little, but you could lose much.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21-Feb. 19)—Fortify yourself with a hearty breakfast and set out to catch this day's tiger by the tail. You can win if you really want to.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) — What appears to be your next move may be misleading. Make your decision carefully; to miss a step now could set you back considerably.

ARIES (March 21-April 20) — Though the day may start poorly, you can remedy the situation by forethought and hindsight.

TAURUS (April 21-May 21) — Not a day for dawdling over minor decisions. Make up your mind quickly once you have all the important information.

GEMINI (May 22-June 21) — You may think you are working for a lost cause — but you could well be wrong. It may be a case of "darkest just before dawn."

CANCER (June 22-July 23) — Act upon yesterday's discoveries. Talk matters over with loved ones, especially if you've decided on changing employment.

Hopes Will Be Riding With Ranger 7 When Fired

PASADENA, Calif., July 23 (AP) —Ranger 7 will carry more than cameras when it is launched at the moon next week. On it will be riding the hopes and perhaps the future of the men who made it.

After Ranger 6 hit the moon last February but failed for the fourth straight time to return close-up pictures of the lunar surface, scientists at Jet Propulsion Laboratory birthplace came under severe criticism from the parent U.S. space agency and in congress.

JPL operations since then have been overhauled and Ranger 7 has been subjected to minutely detailed tests.

Result: JPL chief William Pickering gives it a 50-50 chance, compared with the one-in-four chance given Ranger 6.

"We are more confident about Ranger 7—we give it one chance in two—because we have one more shot behind us and some changes have been made to improve the reliability of the craft," Pickering said in an exclusive interview.

"I believe the national aeronautics and space administration is now convinced that this is a complex and difficult job, but that we will be able to get pictures of the moon from at least one of the next three shots."

Whether Ranger 7 succeeds or not, Pickering said, there will be no more launchings this year due to other commitments at the Atlantic range.

"But we fully expect to fly two more Rangers early next year," he said. "Ranger 8 is already assembled and work has begun on Ranger 9."

All day today some 300 scientists and engineers here will go through a full-dress simulation of the flight in the laboratory's new 14.6-million-dollar tracking center, which will control the spacecraft after launch.

—Working with them in the 12-hour drill, as they did in a similar rehearsal Monday, will be 500 technicians at tracking stations around the world plus another 100 at Cape Kennedy.

Bureau Hit For Stand On Diversion

GEORGETOWN, July 23 (AP)—Chairman Lloyd Dunn of the Bear River Protective committee today accused the bureau of reclamation of participating in study of possible diversion of Idaho water to other states.

Dunn said a reconnaissance report by the united western division of the bureau in 1950-51 divides up the water from Idaho from one end of the state to the other for consumption outside of it."

He said a western interstate water conference scheduled for Sept. 10 at Las Vegas is "but a continuation of the planning" for division of Idaho waters commenced with the 14-year-old bureau report.

Dunn applauded Gov. Robert E. Smylie for his complaint that Idaho was left out of the conference with no state officials invited. It is being sponsored by Utah State university and the Universities of California and Nevada.

Dunn said an effort by a member of the Idaho congressional delegation to obtain the report in Washington had failed.

"Never has a state and its citizens ever been denied such an important document," he said.

He said a copy should be in the hands of every state legislator. He said there would "be not one moment of hesitation to heed the governor's alarm and efforts to protect Idaho water resources, no matter where they arise, from being exported from the state."

The old united western study was described earlier this year by political writer John. Corlett of the Statesman. Bureau officials in Boise have freely acknowledged its existence.

Reclamation officials have said, however, that there is no current study of diversion of Idaho water. A study is proposed, however, of whether the northwest has water surplus to possible future needs.

Dunn said the report included proposals for possible diversion of water from the Pend Oreille river in the north, from the Snake river at Hagerman and at Palisades by way of a tunnel to Bear river.

Minor Mishaps Probed at Buhl

BUHL, July 23—Two minor accidents were investigated here on Monday, according to Buhl Police Chief Charles Burbank.

William Reed, 70, route 1, Filer, was backing his 1960 Chevrolet pickup truck from a parking space at Erb Brothers market when it collided with a 1964 Chevrolet stationwagon driven by Mrs. Grace Olson, 35, Buhl, which had just pulled into the parking lot, at 11:30 a.m. Damages were estimated at $50.

At 9:30 p.m. Margaret Ann Stewart, 18, Buhl, lost control of the 1956 Oldsmobile she was driving as she turned off Sawtooth boulevard onto Seventh avenue north. The car ran off the left side of the roadway into a ditch, resulting in $50 damages.

LOOKING AT ARSENAL of small arms seized on a 30-foot charter boat at Sugar Loaf key, near Key West, Fla., is an U.S. customs agent. The five men aboard the boat were held for questioning. The arsenal consisted of 12 automatic rifles, home-made bombs, hand grenades and a 20 millimeter cannon. A state department official said Wednesday the men, four of them Cuban exiles, were apparently bound for another raiding mission. (AP wirephoto)

GOP Speech Gave Idaho Demos Ammo

BOISE, July 23 (UPI)—Barry Goldwater's speech accepting the presidential nomination has given Idaho Democrats just the ammunition they wanted for the coming campaign.

When he said that "extremism in defense of liberty is no vice, moderation in the pursuit of justice is no virtue," the Arizona senator put the question of extremism squarely in the campaign.

This is just what Reps. Ralph Harding and Compton I. White, jr. wanted. Friends of both have said they are planning already on campaigning for re-election this fall on the issue of the John Birch society.

Many of the Idaho Republicans in San Francisco for the national convention said they personally agreed with Goldwater but some admitted privately they wished he had chosen his words more carefully.

"They are easily subject to misinterpretation by Goldwater's political enemies," said one Idaho delegate after the acceptance speech.

"I agree with the senator. The United States faces a real threat from communism both at home and abroad," this delegate said. "The real problem confronting the GOP party and particularly those for Goldwater is to convince people there is a problem."

So-called moderates and liberals in the party, as well as many Democrats, however, take a different view of the statement on extremism.

"What he's really saying," said one, "is that 'the end justifies the means' and I'm unalterably opposed to this."

The issue already has ignited Gov. Nelson Rockefeller of New York, and other Republican moderates and liberals and from all indications they as well as the Democrats are not going to let the Goldwater camp forget it.

Because those on either side of the question have fervent, almost emotional viewpoints, most observers expect political extremists to permeate every part of the campaign, not only in Idaho but elsewhere.

A battle cry started by the Texas delegation already has been taken up by California and may well be the rallying point for Goldwater forces throughout the campaign.

It begins with the challenge: "Viva" and brings the response "Gle." It has an emotional flavor, a sort of spine-tingle facet that is contagious.

Time after time delegates and other representatives attending a California victory party the night the convention concluded drowned out speakers with this cry. At one point they were uncontrolable and the cold room of the Fairmont hotel reverberated with their shouts.

Russ Accuses Tourists of Smuggling

MOSCOW, July 23 (AP) — A Soviet newspaper has accused foreign tourists, including two Americans, of trying to smuggle religious literature into the Soviet Union.

The communist government here publishes atheistic literature and seeks to eliminate religion, although the Russian Orthodox church claims that almost a quarter of the Soviet Union's 236 million people are believers.

The report appeared in last Sunday's issue of Soviet Byelorussia, a newspaper published in Minsk, 430 miles west of Moscow. The newspaper reached Moscow today.

The report denounced Jehovah's Witnesses, accusing them of trying to work in communist countries "against the idea of peaceful coexistance and peace in the world."

A person whose name translates from Russian letters as William John, identified as an American businessman, was reported to have hidden the Bibles in boxes that he imported. The report said they were published by The United Bible Society of New York, Geneva and London.

Another American, identified as a woman but with a name that translates as Hughes Dinah, tried to import 700 copies "of anti-Soviet and religious books" published by the Central Intelligence agency and the U.S. state department, the report said.

Jamboree Is Reported Healthiest

VALLEY FORGE, Pa., July 23 (UPI)—The chief medical officer for the sixth national Boy Scout Jamboree reported yesterday that it is the healthiest ever held in this country.

Dr. William M. Smith, who is national director of health and safety of the Boy Scouts of America, said there has not been a single case of poison ivy since the jamboree started last Friday.

He said this was in contrast to the 1950 jamboree, also held at historic Valley Forge state park, when 18,000 Scouts were treated for poison ivy.

Smith said the army evacuation hospital set up on the camp site handles 65 to 75 "patients" each day, with most of them consisting of minor cuts and bruises.

Public health authorities, Scout officials, military medical units and volunteer doctors served 31 sectional health lodges scattered over the 1,000-acre encampment of 52,000 Scouts and leaders. In addition, there are three first aid stations manned by volunteers from nearby communities.

T. F. Band to Present Concert

The program will consist of "Eagle Squadron," a march; "Orpheus Overture," "Pavanne," "Belle of the Ball," a waltz; "Hostrauser's march," "Merriment Folks," "Meditation," from Thais; "Thunderbird;" Brigadoon selections, "Manhattan Beach," a march, and the Star Spangled Banner.

Smith Talks Before Two Burley Clubs

BURLEY, July 23—Dick Smith, Republican candidate for congress in the Aug. 4 primary, told the Burley Kiwanis club Wednesday that free enterprise is the greatest weapon ever devised to wage war on poverty.

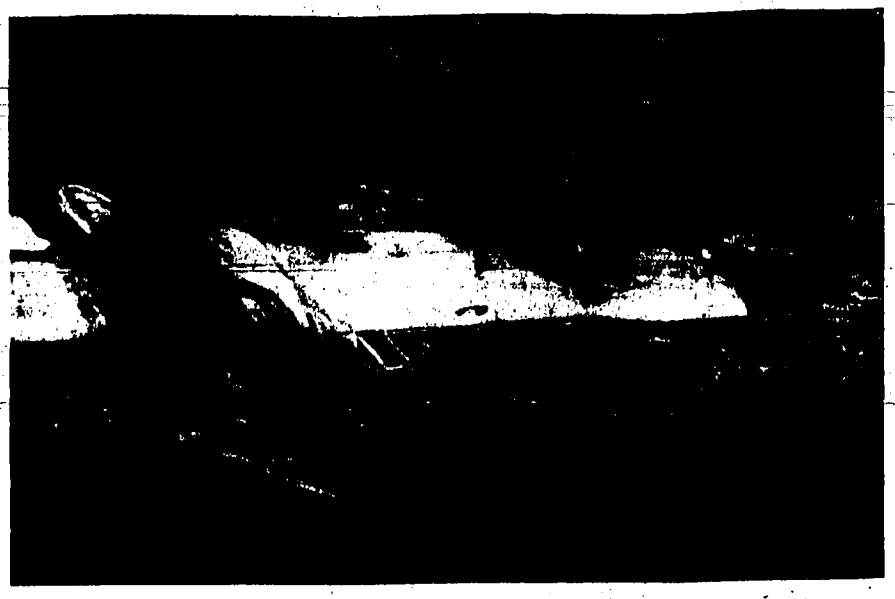
"Our system of economic freedom, offering opportunity to everyone, has successfully overcome poverty in this nation on a scale few people in the rest of the world ever dreamed possible," Smith said.

The 44-year-old Rexburg farmer and state senator pointed out free enterprise has one great point in its favor—that communism and other forms of state-controlled economy do not offer—it works.

Later Wednesday Smith addressed the Cassia county Republican Women's club, stating that America can defeat communism at home and abroad if the American people are educated on the advantages of the free enterprise system, and the political freedom which goes with it.

"We need have no fear of communism if we have faith in our own system," Smith pointed out. "For too long we have taken its advantages for granted. We have stood by and let the communists and others who favor state-controlled economies tell us what's wrong with free enterprise."

In America today, Smith said, there are many people who feel the government can solve any and every problem. These same people fail to point out that every time the government takes over some new responsibility, we lose that much more personal freedom to live our own lives as we please, the candidate noted.



RAMPAGING WATERS pour over a car that was swept into the Ohio canal near downtown Akron, O., during a torrential rainstorm Tuesday. Demonstrations Given for Club

HAZELTON, July 23—Di Ann Metta and Mary Walton gave demonstrations at a meeting of the East End Livestock club Tuesday evening at the home of Mary Walton.

Plans were made for a picnic and swim party to be held at Nat-Soo-Pah July 28. Families of members are invited and members may invite special guests. Names of special guests should be given to Vicki Harmon prior to the picnic.

Cars will leave Hazelton grade school and Greenwood Sunday school at 6:30 p.m. for Nat-Soo-Pah and the picnic is scheduled for 9:30 p.m.

Annual achievement day will be held Aug. 2 at the Eden park.

Reunion Planned By Class of 1944

The Twin Falls high school class of 1944 will have its 20-year reunion Saturday and Sunday.

A dinner-dance is scheduled for Saturday at the Elks club. A social hour will be held from 6 to 7 p. m.

Arlon Bastian will provide the dance music for the event.

Reservations can be made by contacting Mrs. Connie McBeth Stafford at the Twin Falls Bank and Trust company.

A family picnic is slated for 1 p.m. Sunday at Harmon park. Each family is asked to bring chicken, a covered dish and their own table service. Ice cream, drinks and watermelon will be furnished.

OAS May Ask Cuba Crackdown

WASHINGTON, July 23 (AP)—The Organization of American States is expected to ask all non-communist nations this week to join in a new crackdown on trade with Cuba.

Should the bid be even partially successful, Prime Minister Fidel Castro's creaky economy undoubtedly would suffer serious new damage through the denial of badly needed imports.

Cuba's railway system is reported to be in a crippling state of disrepair. Trucks and buses are urgently required to replace worn-out highway transport. People stand in long, slow-moving lines to buy food at the stores.

The price of gasoline, which Cuba reportedly gets only from Soviet sources, is up to 60 cents a gallon as against 34 cents a year ago. Production of sugar, Cuba's big export crop, is off more than 25 per cent.

In the judgment of Secretary of State Dean Rusk and some of the other Western hemisphere foreign statesmen meeting here this week, the Castro regime is vulnerable on its economic front. To them it makes sense to seek to apply new pressures among the punitive measures proposed for adoption because of Castro's support of terrorist activities in Venezuela last year.

But the trend in Cuban trade with non-communist countries is now upward, after declining for four years. Britain and France have broken with Washington's policy of economic boycott in order to sell transportation equipment. Other European allies may follow this lead.

The first question faced by the United States and other Western Hemisphere nations, therefore, is whether they can arrest this upward trend in Cuba's non-communist trade and start it declining again.

The proposed new move to tighten the economic noose around the Castro regime would not mean any change in U.S. policy. This country has had a total embargo on trade with Cuba since February 1963 except for food and medicine.

The new proposal, however, would put an inter-American sanction behind what has been primarily a United States drive so far, and Washington officials say practical result. It could cause Latin-American buyers to boycott the products of European countries training with Cuba.

And since they need to buy many of the same things that the Cubans require, those companies interested in Cuban trade might be faced with the loss of markets more important than those they could gain by opening up commerce with Cuba.

Project Aide In Minidoka Transferred

BOISE, July 23 (AP)—The bureau of reclamation's regional office Tuesday announced transfer of men from posts in Wyoming and Idaho to serve on the Columbia basin project in central Washington.

H. R. Gray, project superintendent for the Minidoka project in southern Idaho, will become irrigation and land supervisor. He succeeds E. H. Neal, who became regional supervisor of irrigation in Boise in 1962.

Bayard L. Mendenhall, project construction engineer on the Speed-Skades project at Fontenelle, Wyo., was named chief of engineering and construction division on the Washington project.

Norman H. Moore, acting regional director, said Gray will direct operation and maintenance of irrigation facilities serving about 440,000 acres. He served on the project from 1946 until 1959 when he moved to Idaho. He has been with the bureau more than 30 years.

Reached

WASHINGTON, July 23 (UPI)—The National Aeronautics and Space administration (NASA)—has reached an agreement with the European Space Research organization (ESRO) for launching of space satellites.

Under the agreement, announced yesterday, the two organizations will launch two satellites — ESRO 1 and ESRO 2—in 1967 to study the effect of charged particles of the high polar atmosphere and to measure solar and cosmic radiation.

Trailer Comes Disconnected

A tractor-trailer owned by Ambrose Distributing company, Butte, Mont., became disconnected late Tuesday morning in Twin Falls while the driver, unidentified, was attempting to turn the corner from Third street west onto Third avenue west, near the Pepsi-Cola Bottling company plant.

Fortunately, an employe of the bottling company noticed the trailer begin to slide off the hitch of the tractor and got the attention of the driver, who brought the rig to a stop before the trailer slid off onto the street.

Sligar's Wrecker service was notified and a mobile crane was used to raise the trailer while the tractor was backed into position again for re-hitching.

The trailer was loaded with bulk oats.

Equipped with one manual and full-range keyboard for pedals, the organ can be dismantled and transported in a specially constructed trailer. There are only two others like it in the United States. One of the other two is owned by the internationally famous organist E. Power Biggs. A third is rented by the Robert Shaw Chorale choir of New York City.

Vocational Aides Meet With Board

EDEN-HAZELTON, July 23 — Ralph Edwards, vocational education director for the state department of education, and Jack McDanields, head of trades and technical training, met with the trustees of school district 262 Monday night to discuss and evaluate the present vocational agriculture program as well as proposed changes.

Edwards explained the new approach to vocational agriculture, the extension into the allied fields of agriculture and the possibilities of on-the-job training to students interested in these fields.

McDaniels explained the feasibility of auto mechanics, electronics, and allied fields being introduced in Valley school in place of the present vocational agriculture program. Both specialists indicated that the cost of of students interested in technical trades would be prohibitive and recommended that the present program be continued.

They also stated it would be impossible to attempt to combine the two areas with the present facilities. It also was recommended that shop and woodworking could not be combined with the present program. Action was taken by agreement of trustees that the present program will be continued at Valley.

Other action taken by the trustees at this special meeting was approval of new student regulations and policies for the 1964-65 year. Each student will receive a printed booklet explaining in detail this policy.

Woman Is Cited After Auto Crash

JEROME, July 23 — LaVona Prince Akers James, 37, Portland, was cited for failure to keep her vehicle under control after a two-car accident at 7 p.m. Tuesday about one mile south of Jerome on state highway 79.

State police officers said Miss James was driving a 1963 Ford Falcon and lost control of the car when she came upon a road detour. The auto skidded 111 feet broadside and hit the side of a 1957 Chevrolet pickup truck driven by Lester Chess, 43, Jerome.

Miss James and Chess both were given emergency treatment at St. Benedict's hospital and released. A passenger in the Chess truck, James Shewmaker, route 1, Jerome, was not injured.

Chess told investigating officers he saw the Ford go out of control and tried to avoid the crash but was unable to do so. Damage was estimated at $400 to the truck and $600 to the Ford Falcon.

Auction of Cabin Sites Is Planned

STANLEY, July 23 — Idaho's first large-scale land auction of resort property will be held Saturday in the Stanley basin when 30 half-acre and acre cabin sites will be sold at a public auction on the property, Sherman Furey, Jr., president of Sawtooth Valley corporation, owner of the land, announces.

The auction begins at 1 p.m. Saturday preceded by a free barbecue for prospective buyers which starts at noon. Bl Williams, veteran Pacific northwest auctioneer, will conduct the sale.

Signs along highway 93 will direct people to the barbecue and auction site which is located between the highway and the Salmon river, one mile south of Obsidian and six miles south of the area where the state sold 44 lots at public auction, Furey said.

Plats of the sites will be available for bidder prior to the auction.

The public's enthusiastic response to the two state auctions in this area has generated a renewed interest in the Stanley basin, Furey said.

"To foster this interest and speed the development of one of Idaho's finest recreational areas the Sawtooth Valley corporation decided to hold an old-fashioned barbecue and land auction."

Members of the corporation are Harold E. Thomas, Boise; J. Robert Tullis, Buhl, and Furey.

Sheppard Is Free Until Case Settled

AKRON, O., July 23 (UPI)—A special three-judge federal court panel ruled Wednesday honeymooning Samuel H. Sheppard can remain free while the courts determine if he gets a new trial or continues serving his prison sentence.

The court said Sheppard would have to post another bond within three days but he could remain free while the U.S. circuit court of appeals for the sixth district considered the state's appeal from a district court order which released Sheppard last Thursday.

The judges weighed the complicated legal question for 2 hours and 20 minutes before reaching a decision.

A federal district court ruled last week that Sheppard's 1954 trial in Cleveland for the bludgeon slaying of his pregnant wife was conducted in a manner that violated his constitutional rights.

The court released Sheppard on $10,000 bond, clearing the way for him to dash to Chicago to marry his pen-pal German bride, with instructions to the state to try Sheppard within 60 days or grant him his release.

The state appealed the district court's order for a new trial and his release on bond. These were the issues argued Wednesday.

Sheppard and his bride of five days entered the courtroom with the friendly cheers and words of encouragement from about 300 persons who gathered outside the building.

The couple had flown here from their New York honeymoon, stopping in Cleveland Wednesday morning where Dr. Sam carried his bride across the threshold of their new home.

Sheppard appeared to be relishing every minute of his freedom.

While the lawyers filed papers for several days after his release, Dr. Sam went with the former Mrs. Ariane Tebbenjohanns of Dusseldorf, Germany, to Chicago to be married Saturday. The couple flew to New York Monday.

Successful Shot Fired By Air Force

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla., July 23 (UPI)—A delta-winged spacecraft successfully rocketed over a scorching 12,000-mile-an-hour ballistic course yesterday on a flight intended to test materials for maneuverable manned space vehicles.

The sleek black payload was propelled skyward by a two-stage Thor-Delta rocket which blasted away from Cape Kennedy at 10:30 a.m. EST.

The craft darted to an altitude of about 40 miles and then screamed back through the atmosphere to a landing in the Atlantic ocean after a 25-minute flight.

The air force reported an aircraft had spotted the vehicle in the water just 15 miles short of its intended target. Recovery forces moved toward the area.

The launching was the third of six planned in the air force's project asset, which stands for aerothermodynamic - elastic structural systems environmental tests.

So far the program has had only partial success. The first asset vehicle survived a ballistic flight and radioed good data, but sank in the Atlantic when flotation gear failed. The second shot failed because of trouble with the second stage of the Thor-Delta booster.

Goal of the Asset series is to verify structural soundness of the spacecraft and to determine how well various protective materials withstand atmospheric buffeting and re-entry heat up to 4,000 degrees Fahrenheit.

The asset craft are miniature versions of what future astronaut vehicles might look like. They weigh 1,100 pounds, are six feet tall and have a wingspan of five feet.

U. S. Sells 40 Million Pounds Of Meat Abroad

WASHINGTON, July 23 (UPI)—The agriculture department decision to sell beef abroad under the surplus disposal law known already has resulted in sales of about 40 million pounds of meat for about 16 million dollars.

The department began its export sales of beef after the cattle industry complained that beef imports were affecting the price of fed cattle. The industry pushed for an import quota to hold down the amount of beef that entered the United States in competition with domestic beef.

Enrollment Is Given for Idaho Drivers' Courses

BOISE, July 23 (AP)—The department of education today reported that 6,000 Idaho youngsters are enrolled in summer driver training courses.

It also announced plans to distribute $151,985 to 76 school districts for costs of offering driver training in the second semester of the last school year. The money comes from driver license fees.

A. D. Luke, director of driver education, said 3,476 students were enrolled during the semester and 3,240 passed the course. That was an increase over the 2,867 enrolled in the same semester the year before.

Students get a minimum of 30 hours of classroom and six hours of practice driving instruction plus 12 hours of observing in the automobile. Passing the course qualifies them for special gold-colored state driving license.

The regular meeting of the Twin Falls Toastmasters club No. 149 was held Tuesday evening at Kays Supper club.

Toastmaster for the evening was Don Murphy and table topics were conducted by Fred Hunter and Harry Turner. Joe Fix served as chief evaluator. Topic for the evening was "Strange New Worlds" and the speakers were Douglas Neville, John Roper, Dr. Woodson Creed and William Claiborn.

The blue pencil was won by William Claiborn.

Charge of Assault Is Dismissed

POCATELLO, July 23 (AP)—A charge of aggravated assault against Manuel V. Camacho, 28, was dismissed yesterday by Justice of the Peace R. Don Bistline.

Bistline, who presided at a preliminary hearing for Camacho, ruled there was insufficient evidence to hold Camacho on the charge.

Camacho was charged with beating a 13-month-old baby here in March. At the preliminary hearing, the baby's 19-year-old mother testified that Camacho hit the baby with a belt. The baby was later placed in a foster home.

Camacho was charged with aggravated assault after the baby was taken to a hospital for treatment of head injuries. He left the area, and was arrested last month in Arizona after a federal warrant charging unlawful flight to avoid prosecution was filed.

Bistline ordered a bond posted for Camacho exonerated.
