CHAMPAGNOLE, France, Aug. 4 (AP)—Nine miners who spent eight days huddled in a damp chamber of the collapsed Mt. Rivel limestone mine were hauled up to safety through a narrow rescue shaft today and rushed, one by one, to a hospital. It took about one hour to bring the nine men up through a hole pushed through them by a special 28-inch drill. None of the survivors appeared to be in serious condition, although all of them showed the effects of their long ordeal underground.

U. S. Soldier Is Stabbed In Germany

FRANKFURT, Germany, Aug. 4 (AP)—The U.S. army announced today that Pfc. William E. Mann, 32, Little Rock, Ark., was stabbed to death in a sidewalk attack Sunday night.

The stabbing occurred in near-by Mannheim outside a bar where Mann and a friend, Pfc. Robert L. Martin, had visited with two girls.

An army spokesman said Mann and another soldier had an argument in the bar and the other soldier rounded up a group of six or seven friends who attacked Mann and Martin as they left the building.

Mann died in an army hospital early yesterday. Martin was bruised in the face, back and stomach.

The army spokesman said a soldier has been arrested in connection with the attack. But no charges have been filed yet.

He was Pfc. Edward E. Bonnew, a Puerto Rican. The spokesman said there was no evidence that racial conflict was involved in the case except in the sense that any interracial incident has some racial overtones.

150 Africans Are Massacred by Sect

LUSAKA, Northern Rhodesia, Aug. 4 (AP)—Soldiers were airlifted today to Lundazi, where rampaging Lumbo warriors have massacred 150 persons. The troops were ordered to capture, dead or alive, the Lumbo leader, Prophetess Alice Lonshina. Reports said the death toll from yesterday's trail of terror and death through 18 villages might be higher because soldiers had not returned with information from Chinai, one of the trouble spots.

The Northern Rhodesian government issued the "dead or alive" order as it temporarily outlawed the fanatic sect, whose rampages in the 12 days have cost at least 270 lives.

In a nationwide broadcast last night after the Lumbo massacre of 150 persons at Lundazi, Prime Minister Kenneth Kaunda threatened anyone attending meetings of the cult with seven years in prison.

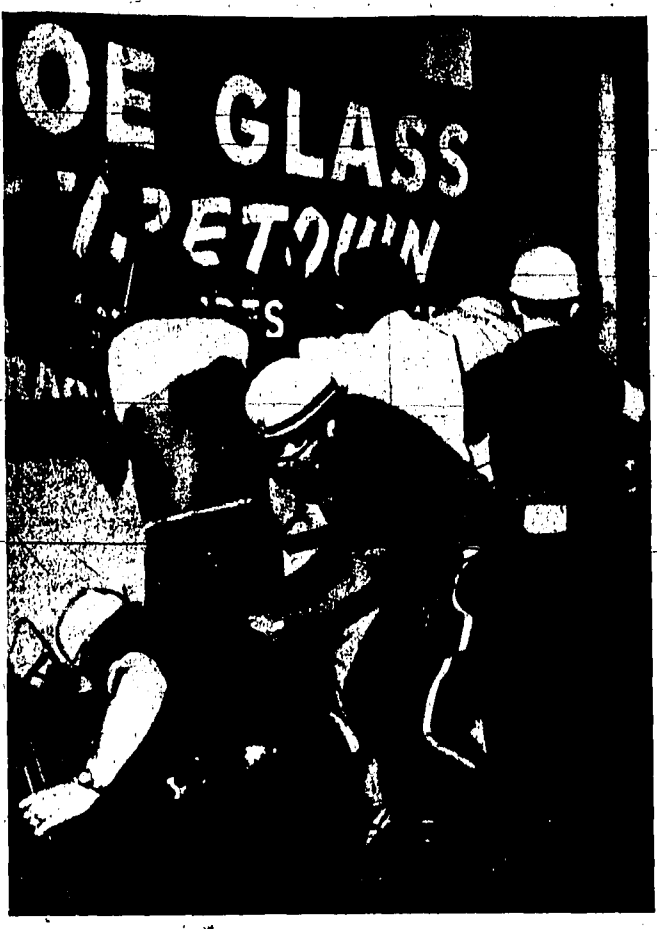

Kaunda said he does not dispute the right of the Lumbo to their religious beliefs, but a hedgepodge of African superstition, paganism and Church of Scotland theology—but he insisted that the sect's violence is a crime. He said he would lift the ban in about a month if the carnage ends.

Kaunda is trying desperately to bring peace to the central African country before it receives independence from Britain in 12 weeks.

Officials believe the terror at Lundazi, a market center 400 miles northeast of Lusaka, was in retaliation for the slaying of 75 Lumbo at the sect's headquarters at Bione Thursday. The Lumbo died in a suicidal charge with spears and muzzle loaders against government riflemen.

Local Effects of New Social Security Bill Are Forecast by Manager Here

A social security measure that will be before the senate would benefit more than 10,000 Magic Valley residents. The bill, which would increase benefits from $400 to $450 a year, reports Wesley Watson, manager of the Twin Falls Social Security office.

HOLDING THEIR HANDS against a billboard, three Negro youths are searched by Jersey City policemen in battle helmets in the Negro section of Jersey City, N. J., where rioting erupted again Monday night. Bands of youths roamed the area, hurling homemade bombs, bricks, bottles and other objects at police trying to quell the racial violence that struck the city for the second consecutive night. At least two Negro youths were shot and several policemen and rioters were injured. Jersey City is across the Hudson river from the Harlem section of New York, where rioting occurred last month. Pay Raise

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4 (AP)—The House passed by voice vote today a compromise bill giving federal workers and officials, including members of congress, increased pay. The cost is estimated at $55 million a year.

The rise is $7,500 for every member of congress and $10,000 for every member of the cabinet. Sharing in the pay boost are 17 million classified civil servants and postal workers.

Molotov Cocktails Hurlled by Negroes

JERSEY CITY, N. J., Aug. 4 (AP)—Two gasoline bombs were thrown—one of them at a police car—today in this racially troubled city. It was the first daytime violence after two nights of rioting, but police considered it an isolated incident. The fire department also reported six separate fires set in an abandoned building in the area of Negro rioting the last two nights.

The department said it also was being plagued by false alarms from the area. A total of 20 persons have been arrested and 44 injured—including two Negroes who were shot—in the rioting.

Last night, windows were smashed in 23 stores and a number of them were looted. More than 100 policemen, who during the night had been the target of the gasoline bottles, bricks and rocks hurled by hit-and-run bands of Negro youths, patrolled a wide area in the predominantly Negro section today.

Two radio patrolmen reported seeing a gasoline bomb ignited in front of a building. Sgt. Thomas Clogher and Patrolman John Egan said they saw the bomb when they drove to the scene to investigate, another lighted gasoline bomb was thrown at their car.

To fire bomb hit a pole and bounced off, the policemen said. Also during the morning, five Negroes arrested while driving through the area last night were cleared of disorderly conduct charges.

Police arrested seven Negroes on disorderly persons charges, bringing to 20 the number of arrests since the fighting broke out Sunday night.

Idaho Voters Go To Polls Today, Candidates Rest

Candidates for congress, state supreme court and legislative and county offices rested from the rigors of campaigning today as Idaho voters go to the polls to vote in a primary election expected to draw only a light turnout. The polls are to close at 8 p.m. Democrats have no state level contests while Republicans have only one, the three-way race for the congressional nomination in the second district. The only statewide race is for a seat on the state supreme court.

Motels Complain About Noisy Traffic

For the past several weeks members of the Twin Falls city commission have been conducting spot surveys along Addison Avenue West in response to complaints brought about by motel owners along the route. The situation officially came to light at the regular meeting of the commission Monday night, attended by four owners, with T. E. Maricham acting as spokesman for the group. In short, the situation is the abundance of traffic by young drivers who travel the route periodically. Members of the commission have, from time to time, been observing the situation—sometimes for hours on end and well into the night.

The situation was first brought up at the conclusion of the last regular meeting. The subject was discussed after the close of official business and discussed again in private with members of the law enforcement, city police force, commissioners and some motel owners.

City Passes Law to Ban Soothsayers

Twin Falls city commissioners, under suspension of the rules, passed three ordinances at their regular meeting Monday night at city hall.

Ordinance No. 1250 makes it illegal for fortune tellers, clairvoyants and those claiming special clairvoyant powers to operate within the city limits and charge for those services. It is legal for educational purposes, where no fee can be collected. The ordinance also includes a stiff fraud clause.

Ordinance No. 1251 deals with the setback requirements and sign requirements for professional and commercial buildings. It also sets the size of the signs, limits the signs to the non-flashing variety and provides for a minimum alley set back.

Ordinance No. 1252 grants a variance to E. E. Ostrander so he can construct an apartment house on Ninth Avenue north.

Proposed ordinance No. 1249 was tabled. The ordinance deals with licensing entertainment. It would require anyone who would like more control on the type of entertainment that goes on in the city. Often the entertainment is over the top and the license reaches the commission. In many cases, where the entertainment is for public benefit, the license fee is waived.

Another reason the action was tabled was because several members of the commission who were charged and again requested the city to waive the license fee required for the Snake River Lions club rodeo.

The fee originally was not waived because the ordinance was charged and the ordinance is specific about charging the public and where the proceeds go. The ordinance was not in effect a year ago when the last rodeo was held. City attorney is investigating the matter to see if the city can legally waive the fee.

Stuart Taylor Dies in T. F. At Age of 81

Stuart H. Taylor, 81, 227 Eighth Avenue North, died at 12:50 a.m. Tuesday morning. He was a resident of Twin Falls since 1905 and started the Stuart H. Taylor Insurance agency, which he operated until 1950.

He was born May 16, 1883, at Minneapolis, Minn., and married Hazel Fuller, July 3, 1905, in Twin Falls. During World War I he was treasurer of the Twin Falls County Red Cross association and had been a trustee for Twin Falls county chapter of the Idaho Society for Crippled Children since the beginning of the organization.

He was a member of the Twin Falls BPOE, Masonic lodge No. 45, AP and AM, and the Episcopal church. He was the last charter member of the Rotary club, of which he was past president and secretary for 20 years.

He was the first city clerk of Twin Falls from 1906 until 1915 and was secretary-manager of the Twin Falls Cemetery Association until 1953. He also was on the board of directors for the First Federal Savings and Loan association for 33 years.

He is survived by his widow; three daughters, Mrs. Frank Haynes, Twin Falls; Mrs. Louise Hahn, Boise; and Mrs. James Scully, San Lorenzo, Calif.; one sister, Alice Taylor, Twin Falls; and five grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held at 10 a.m. Wednesday at the White mortuary chapel. The family suggests memorials be given to the Idaho Society for Crippled Children, Boise, and they may be left at the mortuary.

STUART H. TAYLOR, Twin Falls pioneer, died Tuesday morning at Hazel Manor. He was Twin Falls' first city clerk, member of the board of directors of the First Federal Savings and Loan association for 33 years and a trustee for the Idaho Society for Crippled Children.

With only two candidates in the non-partisan race, either he or Chief Justice E. T. Knudson will be elected to a six-year term on the five-member Idaho supreme court.

Most of the incumbent state legislators are unopposed. A total of 246 nominations are at stake but candidates failed to file for 17 of them.

Today's election is the first of a revision of the law enacted by the 1903 legislature.

Gone is the old "call for ballot" which required primary voters to say whether they wanted to vote Republican or Democratic. The ballot will be handed a perforated ballot, tearing off the Democratic or Republican side to mark and discarding the other.

Khanh Urges Strong U.S. Retaliation

SAIGON, Aug. 4 (AP)—South Vietnamese Premier Gen. Nguyen Khanh said last night the United States must take retaliatory action for the communist torpedo attack on the U.S. destroyer Maddox if it wants to "save face" in Southeast Asia.

The soldier-premier, speaking with newsmen at a reception, warned that the United States would be branded as a toothless "paper tiger" unless it took firm counter-action.

In Washington, President Johnson announced at about the same time that he had ordered the U.S. navy to add a second destroyer to its force off communist North Viet Nam.

Khanh, who has been calling for an attack on communist North Viet Nam, said he was not surprised by the attack on the American destroyer by three North Vietnamese torpedo patrol boats.

Cattlemen to Talk With House Group on Imports

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4 (AP)—The House rules committee today agreed to hear Wednesday arguments of members from cattle growing states in behalf of a senate curb on meat imports.

Administration forces have planned to let the curbs die in the house without putting it to a vote. Today's developments do not appear to reflect any change in that plan but the rules hearing will give meat growers one more chance to build a fire under the curbs.

The senate added the import curb to a minor house bill originating in the ways and means committee. In the normal course of events, ways and means chairman Wilbur D. Mills, D., Ark., would have asked for the necessary procedural rule to let the house vote on whether to consider going along with the senate action.

Police persuaded him that hospital treatment for the bullet wound was more important at the moment than his glasses. They got him into a car to drive him to another hospital. On the way, he told them that before dropping by the police station he stopped off at the office of the tax company he works for to explain why his car was temporarily out of service.

Once at the hospital he first checked to see if his insurance would be honored, and then submitted to treatment. Doctors said he was in fair condition.

Police said this is what happened: Newfield, who retired as a policeman in 1955 and went to work as a cab driver, picked up two men about 3 a.m. One of them pulled a gun and demanded his money. Newfield refused and the man fired twice. Groggy, but still on his feet, Newfield managed to call police. They promptly rushed him to the nearest hospital.

The police left a few minutes later. Newfield found that his hospitalization insurance was not honored at the hospital and he demanded that he be allowed to pay for his own treatment.

Doctors refused to allow him to leave. But after Newfield's brother Starr arrived, the pair of them bolted out the door.

NEW YORK, Aug. 4 (AP)—A tough cab driver who used to be a cop was shot twice by a bandit yesterday. He went hospital hopping until he found one where he could use his medical insurance and seemed more worried about his lost glasses than the two bullets in his head.

Charles Newfield, 55, was still on his feet four hours after the "hit" but his "hit" was empty-handed.

Missing Man Turns up Complaining

SAN RAFAEL, Calif., Aug. 4 (AP)—A missing man, missing for a week and presumed dead, turned up yesterday complaining that someone had made off with his car.

Meyer, 41, said he left his car in San Mateo for a church convention in Portland last night, but changed his mind. He said a day's hike to Stinson Beach proved so pleasant he took a sleeping bag and 25 boxes of C rations from his truck and hiked for six weeks through the park area.

After Meyer's truck was found, deputies and volunteers aided by bloodhounds, helicopters and airplanes searched the area for days.

Idaho Girl Is Home After Transplant

WEIDEN, Aug. 4 (AP)—Thirteen-year-old Kathleen Raleigh was returned to her home in Weiden following a rare kidney transplant and a seven-month convalescence.

There was a time when no one knew for sure whether Kathy would ever return to school, but doctors now say the cheerful teenager can look forward to attending classes at Weiden Junior high school this fall.

Kathy, youngest of three daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Raleigh, was removed from school last October when it was discovered she was suffering from an ailment (chronic pyelonephritis) which hinders the kidney's ability to cleanse the blood.

Victims usually die from pneumonia which accumulates in the lungs, and Kathy's only hope appeared to be a kidney transplant.

Kathy was told by doctors at Peter Bent Brigham hospital in Boston she might die from the operation, but wasn't told that the most certain would die if she didn't have it.

Kathy told her mother and the doctors: "I want the operation."

"I am thankful that I can do it for my little girl," said Mrs. Raleigh.

The delicate operation was performed Feb. 10 and lasted six hours. That night mother and daughter saw each other and waved.

Kathy made a swift recovery and she was moved from the hospital to a Boston apartment to live with her mother.

Another crisis presented itself, however. The girl's body began to reject the new kidney. Doctors countered with an increased dosage of anti-rejection drugs and the crisis passed.

Doctors are making no prediction on Kathy's life expectancy at this point, since kidney transplants are relatively new operations.

However, Kathy looks healthy again. And she can bowl and swim.

Economy Hams

CHICAGO, Aug. 4 (AP)—A Chicago meat packer plans to market one-pound hams for people who don't like leftovers.

TEARS GLISTENING in her eyes, little 3-year-old Lisa Bellwell looks up at Dover, Del., public works employees as they work to free her leg from a drain pipe where she was imprisoned for an hour and a half. The youngster, with a section of the pipe still fast to her leg, was taken to a hospital where it was broken into five pieces and removed. Lisa stepped into the pipe while playing near her home. She received only minor bruises and a scare. (AP wirephoto)

Clergymen Start New Appeal Line

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., Aug. 4 (AP)—A group of clergymen who went to jail yesterday on a sit-in conviction after three years of appeals ran out have started a new line of appeal.

The five white and three Negro clergymen spent the night in segregated cells and were assigned work duties for today.

But their lawyer said the men probably would pay $500 fines and go home if the U.S. fifth circuit court of appeals in New Orleans refuses to take jurisdiction and grant bond during appeal.

The lawyer, Howard Dixon, said he sent the court an emergency telegram and he expected a decision by Wednesday.

U.S. District Judge G. Harold Carwell turned down the clergymen's petition yesterday. It contended there was no evidence of unlawful assembly and that an interstate commerce commission order had wiped out segregation at Tallahassee transportation terminals.

The clergymen were "freedom riders," testing compliance with the ICC order. They were arrested for unlawful assembly when they refused to leave a segregated airport restaurant.

Carwell said the clergymen must return to municipal court Judge John Rudd, who had convicted them three years ago.

The clergymen have lost appeals to the circuit court, state supreme court and the U.S. supreme court.

Rites Are Held For Sen. Engle

RED BLUFF, Calif., Aug. 4 (AP)—Clair Engle, a farm boy who became a United States senator, was buried yesterday in a country cemetery.

National and state dignitaries including his probable successor in Washington paid their last respects to the spunky legislator, who lost a year-long battle to a brain tumor.

"He had a deep concern for the people," said Methodist Bishop Donald Harvey Tippett in conducting graveside services.

"His compassion for humanity knew no boundaries."

Engle, 62, a Democrat who served 16 years in the house of representatives and almost a year in the senate, died at his Washington home last Thursday from a brain tumor. He had undergone brain surgery twice in the past 11 months.

Girl Critical After Mishap That Killed Five

MONTEPELLIER, Aug. 4 (AP)—A Wisconsin girl still was listed in critical condition today from injuries incurred Saturday in an accident that claimed five lives near Paris.

The girl, Roberta Hill, 14, Plattesville, Wis., was one of two survivors. Mrs. Josephine Landis, 65, Philadelphia, Pa., the other survivor, was reported in fair condition.

The girl's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Everett J. Hill, Mrs. Landis' husband, Benjamin, 65, and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Schaefer, both about 70, were killed.

Dear Lake county sheriff's deputies said the Schaefer and Landis were in one car when it collided with another vehicle carrying the Wisconsin family. The accident occurred on U.S. highway 89.

Superepidemic of German Measles Is Diminishing

ATLANTA, Ga., Aug. 4 (AP)—The superepidemic of German measles which spread gradually south this spring from New England and then fanned out across the Rockies, is on the wane.

And doctors at the Communicable Disease center expect few abnormal births from pregnant mothers who have had German measles.

"It's a well-accepted principle that the infection of a woman during the first three months of pregnancy results in high abnormalities," says Dr. John Donald Miller of the surveillance section of the center, a branch of the U.S. public health service.

"But the chances are most pregnant women will have had the German measles in childhood. And the attack rate in adults is lower than in children."

Miller says there is no estimate as to how many persons actually were taken ill during the epidemic.

"There have probably been three to four times as many cases of German measles which were never reported," Miller said. "We get pattern and trends but never 100 per cent reported cases as we do, in polio."

"German measles, or rubella, occur every year as an epidemic in some localities. But this year it's been a superepidemic, a nationwide, sweeping one, spreading slowly but patterned almost like an influenza epidemic."

Miller said nationwide epidemics usually occur about every five to six years. The last major one occurred about eight years ago.

A rise in reported cases was first noted in the Northeast, with a spread down the Eastern seaboard and on to the West Coast. However, the West Coast reported only the usual incidence of rubella.

"The peak was reached in April and May."

"We've not been notified of any deaths," said Miller, "but there are bound to have been some."

Miller cautioned that a pregnant woman who does contract German measles should contact her doctor immediately. Heart, hearing and contract malformations are the main defects that might occur in babies.

"There is no vaccine at present for German measles—and the center is not researching vaccines."

"Research is going on elsewhere, however," Miller said.

Warren Group to Suggest Ways of Protecting Heads

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4 (AP)—The Warren commission's forthcoming report on the assassination of President John F. Kennedy will include recommendations on protecting the lives of future presidents.

This was indicated yesterday by Allen W. Dulles, former director of the central intelligence agency and a member of the special presidential panel investigating the assassination. The report is expected to be made public sometime next month.

Dulles said in a televised interview that the President should be protected by an armored car whenever possible and that his schedule should not be announced in advance if it can be avoided.

"Research is going on elsewhere, however," Miller said.

Strong Arm

Suppose you saw the following ad in the help wanted column of this newspaper:

ADMINISTRATOR: Temporary work. No chance for advancement. 112-hour week. Subject to call at all hours. Heavy responsibilities. Unsolvable problems and constant crises. Must expect bitter and continual criticism from millions of bosses and open opposition from many business associates. Little privacy for self and family. Great personal danger. Good pay if you can find time to enjoy it.

Would you apply for the job?

Yet, the office of President of the United States has never gone unfilled or unsought. It is, on the contrary, hotly contested for and huge sums of money are spent to enable the candidates to get it.

Why?

Why would any man in his right mind want to subject himself and his family to the mental, emotional and physical wring-out occupants of the White House must endure?

Cancelling the elements of personal pride and ambition, egotism, desire for prestige and the satisfaction of being in the No. 1 spot, you must also recognize that no man could serve as president of the United States without possessing a great measure of devotion and dedication to his country and a real feeling for public service.

Why else would anyone be not only willing but eager to assume such problems on the home front as civil rights, taxes, budget, foreign aid, school prayer, labor-management relations and national economy?

Why else would he knowingly take on such international brain-teasers as Cyprus, Thailand, Laos, the Congo, Viet Nam, Cuba, Indonesia, Malaysia, Zanzibar, South America, Khrushchev, Red China, De Gaulle, etc., etc., ad infinitum?

Citizens of the United States should be deeply grateful that over the years men of the caliber of our presidents have volunteered for the hottest seat in government and have filled it so ably.

Whoever is elected to the White House next November needs and deserves the cooperation, loyalty and support of every citizen in these troubled days at home and abroad—reserving, of course, the inherent right of every American to gripe a little and to run the country superbly as a Monday morning quarterback.

RED PROBLEM, TOO

Communism's claim to have eliminated the old capitalist problem of unemployment has always been one of its greatest selling points.

Never mind how it is accomplished, there is simply no such thing as unemployment in a communist society.

This communist boast, like others, does not bear up under closer examination.

Government statistics from Poland, as analyzed and reported by Radio Free Europe, reveal that 200,000 persons were laid off from their jobs last winter alone, bringing the total of unemployment in that officially communist nation to 500,000.

Significantly, many of them are young people. It is estimated that 1.5 million Polish youths will enter the labor market by 1970 and that the number seeking work will increasingly outnumber the new jobs available.

Apparently, the communist wave of the future is running up against the same shoddy that were supposed to have defeated western capitalism long ago.

TOPS IN PRESTIGE

Despite all the criticism the U. S. supreme court brings down upon itself because of its decisions, a job on the high bench still ranks first in prestige over at least 90 other professions.

A study by the National Opinion Research Center reveals that 77 per cent of people questioned considered supreme court justice an excellent job; 18 per cent ranked it as good.

It has slipped in its rating, however, during the past 18 years. In a similar survey made in 1947, 83 per cent ranked it as the best, 15 per cent as good.

Greatest gain was made by nuclear physicists, who jumped from 18th place in 1947 to 3rd place in 1963. Physicians placed second in both years.

The profession which dropped the most in prestige was that of banker—from 10th to 24th. (The poll takers ventured no explanation for this.)

A different survey, based not on prestige but on salary, offers an interesting comparison.

Conducted by the National Education Association, it found that school teachers, while making faster salary gains than any other group over the past decade, still ranked far down on the list—15th out of a group of 18.

They barely edged out librarians, clergymen and dietitians.

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

By ANDREW TULLY
WASHINGTON, Aug. 4.—Lyndon Johnson's planned strategy for the Presidency is perfect. He has all the major targets covered. It is on the side of the greatest number of votes on the civil rights, the anti-poverty and the let's-have-peace issues.

But his weakness may be in his tactical operations. There are many lesser issues which Barry Goldwater may exploit. While none of these would win an election by themselves, in total they may seriously weaken Johnson's admitted lead.

COIN SHORTAGE—One of the vulnerable areas of the Johnson administration is the coin shortage, which is costing American businessmen—perhaps entrepreneur Goldwater himself—thousands of sales every day.

True, the responsibility is that of congress, not the White House. Nevertheless, the White House is expected to provide leadership and successful leadership there would have been no shortage today.

Congress has authorized the coinage of 45 million silver dollars, and President Johnson will accept this because it is an item in the appropriations bill. To veto it would strangle the affairs of government.

But silver dollars are not what business needs, except, perhaps, those operating one-armed bandits in Nevada. What businessmen want is more quarters, dimes and nickels. And the White House has not yet won an effective program to supply them.

PORTAL SERVICE—The postoffice has been gradually going out of the mail business. Some postoffices don't sell money orders any more, and some don't deliver parcels one day a week. Deliveries have been sharply cut. The postoffice has dropped the time figures from cancellations. This saves no money, but it does help to cover up postal delays.

A Washington columnist, not I, mailed a special delivery letter to his editor in New York on a Saturday. It arrived on the following Tuesday.

Again, Congress must shoulder the blame. But Johnson shares the responsibility and Goldwater speakers can hit him where it hurts.

THE BAKER MEN—The most vulnerable area of all may be the Bobby Baker scandal. This has been seen under the rug by an obliging congress, but if this was at the White House, President Johnson was done a disservice. Enemies of LBJ have been spreading reports that "the trail leads to Johnson" and Johnson's clearance could have come on a Saturday. It arrived on the following Tuesday.

And to make matters worse, two former Baker associates have just been given new posts. Walter Joe Stewart has been made staff assistant to the special coordinator for agriculture, and Frank Dryden was named deputy director of the office of emergency planning by Johnson's own appointment.

BEAGLES' EAR—Johnson's pulling of the ears of his two beagles is already becoming insignificant in comparison with the potential criticism for the coin shortage, the postal breakdown and the Baker mess.

Views of Others

CONSTITUTIONAL CONVENTION
It is too late to call a constitutional convention in Idaho this year, but serious consideration should be given to calling one in the near future. Idaho's antiquated constitution needs revision and a convention would be the best way to go about it.

The idea of a constitutional convention was most recently brought up by Melvin Anderson, Republican candidate for the state legislature. Anderson, who has been operating in the legislature, urging him to call a special session of the legislature to call a constitutional convention in 1965. Such a convention would have to be approved by the legislature and put to a vote of the people in a general election.

A constitutional convention in 1965, as Mr. Anderson suggested, would be impossible now because the call for a special session of the legislature has gone out and a constitutional convention is not on the agenda. However, the matter could be taken up at the regular session and put to a vote in 1966.

Revision of the Idaho constitution at a convention for that purpose has a good deal to recommend it. The document under which Idaho has been operating is far too detailed and specific for this complex age. Two examples make this apparent.

Two years ago, the citizens of Idaho voted to repeal a provision of the Idaho constitution which prevented Idahoans from being long-term out-of-state residents. This provision was a relic of the old days when the state was a frontier territory. The section discriminating against Orientals was repealed by a vote of the people in 1962, but the other one still stands. It is never invoked, of course, but it remains in the constitution as a relic of the old days.

Another example of the rigidity of the Idaho constitution is a proposed amendment to be voted upon in November. It would allow the state to issue bonds to finance the construction of port facilities and would allow municipalities to issue 30-year as well as 20-year bonds to finance community projects. Neither of these matters should have to require an amendment to the constitution. The matter should be flexible enough to allow the legislature to act when the occasion arises.

As Mr. Anderson suggested, the Idaho constitution will not properly be revised on a piecemeal basis, with one or two amendments every two years. It will take a concerted effort, in a constitutional convention, to bring it into harmony with the times—Idaho State Journal.

CHOLESTEROL HAS POINTS
Currently the No. 1 villain in medical circles is cholesterol. Cholesterol is the fatty substance which lines the arteries, eventually clogs them and hastens, if it does not cause, heart disease. Down, then, with cholesterol! Right?

Wait a minute, Dr. Norman J. Doernbos, professor of pharmaceutical chemistry at the University of Maryland, says that cholesterol has many virtues. It is essential for the body's man fight tuberculosis, leprosy, viral diseases and gonorrhea.

And as it goes, you can't win for losing. You can watch your diet, leaving out all those things that clog the arteries. But if you're not careful, tuberculosis will get you.

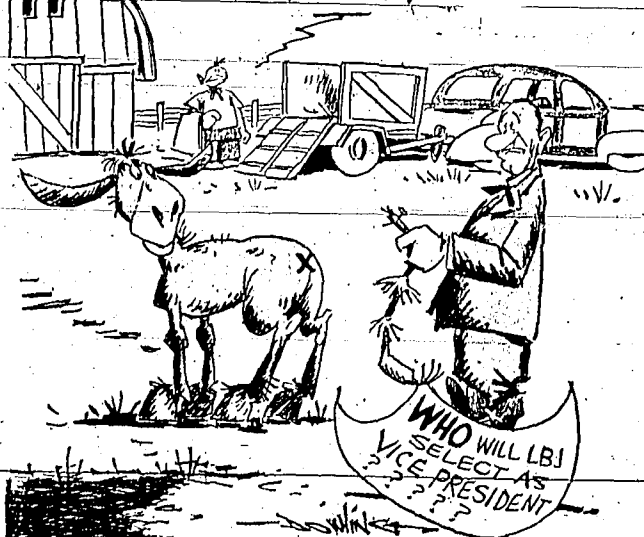

It doesn't hurt to have a man make choice but to participate moderately in those foods which agree with him, to keep moving and to report promptly anything which seems out of the ordinary.

After all these years about the only thing medical science can tell him for sure is that if one thing doesn't get him another surely will—usually from some unexpected quarter.—Charles (W. V.) Daily Mail.

THE LIGHTER SIDE

Editor's note: Pot Shots, whose column normally occupies this space, is on vacation. The Pot Shots column will be resumed when he returns.

By DICK WEST
WASHINGTON, Aug. 4.—The postoffice department was involved in a medium range flap over mail service.

Rep. George A. Gooding, R., said the house that the postal service has been "dying slowly for the past four years" and "may soon become a corpse."

History, however, is recurring on that point. Virtually every postmaster general since Ben Franklin has had a go at modernizing the mail service. But somehow the mail still gets through.

One of the landmarks of progress was planted by former Postmaster General Jesse M. McDonald (1947-53). He dumped the old three-day home delivery schedule and placed in on a modern one-day basis.

But of the postmasters general that I have seen in action, Arthur E. Summerfield (1953-57) was the most aggressive, or relentless, modernizer.

Although some of his ventures into automation and carrying mail by rocket didn't pan out, he was a good deal more successful in the mailboxes red, white, and blue.

Summerfield's successor, J. Edgar Day (1957-63), continued the tradition by giving us the zip code. And now we have Jon A. Gronowski.

It is still too early to appraise Gronowski's record as a modernizer, but from all indications he is going to be right up there with the best of them.

Gronowski started early by curtailing week-end window service in cities where week-end window service had not already disappeared during previous modernizations.

That achievement was followed by the unveiling, for test purposes, of a new type of mailbox that glows in the dark, like a life-of-the-party necktie.

The luminous mailbox does not, I regret to say, spell out. Will you kiss me in the dark, baby? It glows in the dark, like a life-of-the-party necktie.

It does, however, have a certain descent splendor. It glows in three colors.

Retaining the basic decor introduced by Summerfield, it has red, white and blue stripes that shine at night.

Furthermore, it never needs painting; it holds twice as much mail as the boxes now in use; and if your wife or mine happens to lose it, it can be replaced without uprooting the entire box.

Since its shape and glowing splendor think it would be appropriate to have it play the "Zip Code Song" each time a letter is dropped in the slot.

Interpreting the News

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON, Aug. 4 (U.S.)

From the way President Johnson and Sen. Barry Goldwater have been talking, you can get the impression the presidential campaign is going to be on a high plane, more or less.

But this may not last long since neither man can predict or control the future.

Goldwater himself, in the midst of saying he would make any personal attacks on Johnson and would campaign solely on the issues, told a news conference: "Oh, I think you'll find some brickbats flying around all over the place."

And Johnson is apparently prepared for anything that happens, while so far being blind about it all, for he told a news conference: "I don't know what rough campaigns and I'm an old campaigner. I've been at it 30 years."

This gives him more than twice the campaign experience of Goldwater because he was in congress more than twice as long.

He never batted an eye in public, that is—Goldwater's charge that he is a "faker" and a "phony" and seemed to be trying to brush aside any thought he might retaliate in kind.

He said of his 30 years of campaigning: "One of the first things I learned—at least, as far as I'm concerned—is the people don't want to hear my opinion, they want to hear my opponent's opinion of my opinion."

"The American people will make their judgments on the basis of the facts."

There was no such intensity of feeling as when he said: "I am a Democrat and I am proud of it."

The lines have already hardened on both sides and if anyone doubts it all he has to do is talk to a dozen people and listen to the intensity of their feelings.

very statements that he may make from time to time."

There are plenty of other Democrats around to fill the shoes of Johnson, and if Johnson won't, it remains to be seen if he won't, particularly if Goldwater flings them.

And if Goldwater won't, his running mate for the vice presidency, Rep. William E. Miller of New York, probably will since Miller has been described as a "fist fighter" and a "wily rooster" with "nothing nifty-pamby about him."

It can't be forgotten that Goldwater said one of the main issues in the campaign is—the "balance" hanging over the White House. If not Goldwater, is going to have to talk about it, since he called it an issue.

If a guess had to be made, this seems the likeliest one: This going to be rougher than any campaign in memory if only because the intensity of feeling among Americans themselves seems so deep.

There was hardly deep feeling among voters over the 1960 race between Sen. John F. Kennedy and Vice President Richard M. Nixon. They weren't so far apart in their views. It was a personality contest.

It marks the most clear-cut division which is what Goldwater said he wanted to provide balance—between American conservatives and liberals, between liberal views and between those who are against big government and those who consider it a necessity in the middle of the 20th century.

MARQUIS CHILDS WRITES ON WASHINGTON

By MARQUIS CHILDS
WASHINGTON, Aug. 4.—In what rates as the nearest thing to the week President Johnson ruled the executive branch of the government, out of the vice-presidential race, the Kennedy-Humphrey ticket was selected by a first-ballot strategy to overturn the odds.

Humphrey had been called on to make that speech and had declined. Asked to second Kennedy's nomination he had given the same answer—that he owed it to the people of his own state to avoid any direct involvement. He campaigned furiously for Kennedy and as majority vote he was the late President's closest associate.

This was not true of McCarthy. The cohesiveness carried over from the election. He has played a major role in the past four years and he has been Humphrey's national chairman and his high reputation with the liberal wing of his party.

But given Johnson's complete endorsement of McCarthy, it is not surprising that McCarthy should be the No. 2 slot would be a formidable opponent to No. 1. The Johnson image would dominate beyond any doubt.

Castro Is Accused of Stirring Riots

MIAMI, Aug. 4 (AP)—Former Cuban President Manuel Urrutia, who accused Fidel Castro of having a hand in racial violence in the United States, said yesterday that the Cuban dictator was stirring up an interest in stirring up American Negroes.

"Now he instigates a regular racial language broadcast from Havana designed to incite American Negroes to rebellion," Urrutia said.

Urrutia referred to "Radio Free Cuba," a broadcast by Roberto Williams, Negro from Monrovia, N.C., who fled to Cuba after being indicted on a kidnapping charge stemming from racial trouble.

Urrutia, who broke with Castro in 1960, announced plans to form a new anti-Castro party, to be called "Fighting Democratic Party."

Impact of Beef Imports Is Critical

OMAHA, Neb., Aug. 4 (AP)—R. E. Blimmon, president of the American Shorthorn association, said ASA members yesterday the impact of imports on the U.S. beef industry is critical but other factors must be considered before the industry can be stabilized.

Blimmon advocated a program designed to promote the increased use of beef and beef products in the U.S. and an increased effort by the livestock industry to develop export markets.

In pointing out the seriousness of the import impact, Blimmon said he has not presented to the American public have been in percentages and billions of pounds and not clearly understood.

He said these facts broken down show that approximately 1,800,000 foreign cattle were killed to provide the pounds of beef shipped in to the U.S. The total U.S. kill, according to department of agriculture figures, was 10,000,000 cattle slaughtered during the same time, he said.

Blimmon said imported beef would satisfy the beef needs for one year of New York, Chicago, Denver, San Francisco and a few other cities without one pound of American beef being sold in those cities. He said beef imports would provide a side of beef for every person living in the state of Indiana, more than a quarter for each person living in New York City and more than two head of cattle for everyone living in Nebraska.

Utah Youth Is Paralyzed After Breaking Neck

MT. PLEASANT, Utah, Aug. 4 (AP)—A 17-year-old boy, who broke his neck after jumping off a swimming pool diving board Friday, was paralyzed in his lower body and in serious condition today.

Officials said Thomas R. Durbach dove off the board at Mt. Pleasant public pool and hit the board.

His stepfather, Wayne Smith, was burned over 60 per cent of body and blinded in a sulfuric acid explosion in January, 1964.

Another son, Myron, was accidentally shot and killed in April, 1962.

The family lives on a cattle ranch near Mt. Pleasant in central Utah.

Magazine Article Tells Of U2 Crisis

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4 (AP)—An American U2 plane strayed over the Soviet Union during the height of the Cuban missile confrontation and caused "a crisis within the crisis," according to former state department intelligence chief Roger Hillman.

Hillman, one of the Kennedy administration insiders during the October, 1962, episode, discloses the details in an article for the Aug. 25 issue of Look magazine.

"The downing of a high-flying U2 reconnaissance plane deep inside Soviet territory had in itself caused a crisis in 1960. The United States discontinued the flights over the Soviet Union after that but has continued to use the planes in other areas," Hillman wrote that during critical hours of the Cuban affair.

"An American U2, on a routine air-sampling mission between Alaska and the North Pole, had picked the wrong star for help—American flagmen in Alaska had also scrambled and were attempting to rendezvous with the U2 to escort it home," Hillman said that when he got the news he ran upstairs in the White House to tell President Kennedy.

"The implications were obvious and horrendous," he said. "The Soviets might well regard this U2 flight as a last-minute intelligence reconnaissance in preparation for nuclear war."

Kennedy, reported Hillman, "gave a short laugh that broke the tension. There is always some so-and-so," he said, "who doesn't get the word."

Eventually, wrote Hillman, the U2 made it back to base safely.

Scientists Make Plans for Moon Shot of Soft Landing Spacecraft

PASADENA, Calif., Aug. 4 (AP)—Jet-Propulsion Laboratory scientists, equipped with 4216 close-up photographs of the moon, are thinking eagerly of the next major step in man's exploration of the lunar landscape.

It is the Surveyor, a soft-landing space craft with cameras that may function on the lunar surface for up to 30 days.

Two more Rangers are scheduled to be launched early next year. Plans call for them to have identical—identical—to pictures snapping Ranger 7.

Late next year the U. S. space agency will fire the first of seven Surveyors, which are three times heavier than the Rangers and have shock absorber legs.

The 800-pound Ranger 7 photographed craters as small as three feet in diameter before it crashed on the moon Friday.

The 2,300 pound Surveyor will be able to take pictures of objects the size of pinheads.

A shot in the arm on Surveyor's designers: A study of Ranger photographs indicates no major changes will be necessary in the planned model.

Surveyor's tripod legs should be able to survive a landing on terrain similar to Ranger's impact area—a crater-pocked plain in the Sea of Clouds.

Surveyor program manager W. E. Gibson says, "We will use many of Ranger's technical people as they come off jobs such as testing and design, with the idea of cross-fertilization between the two projects."

"But we're already well along. We've been working on Surveyor since 1960 and we're quite proud of being able to anticipate some of Ranger's findings."

Ranger's pictures indicate the moon has a hard crust covered with a thin layer of dust.

Gibson believes Surveyor's pad-footed, six-foot-long legs can settle down on such a surface with no damage to its scientific instruments.

Ranger was designed to crash into the moon—and it did. Surveyor has a retro-rocket to break its descent and let it fall free to the surface from a height of no

LDS Temple To Be Opened At Oakland

OAKLAND, Calif., Aug. 4 (AP)—The $1 million dollar Oakland temple of the LDS church will be opened to the public for three weeks beginning Oct. 5.

After that it will be closed to the public and open only to members of the church, Mormon officials said yesterday at a meeting in Oakland.

Formal dedication of the temple was set for Nov. 17-19 by the presidents or representatives of 28 stakes of the church, representing northern California, southern Oregon and western Nevada.

The Oakland temple serves an area from Fresno to Seattle.

David O. McKay, 91-year-old president of the church since 1948, presided at yesterday's meeting.

"Sometimes, I think I'm getting old," he said as he walked slowly to the pulpit.

McKay told the stake officials that the church had doubled its membership, increasing by one million, since he first visited California 55 years ago.

He was accompanied by Hugh B. Brown, first counselor of the church.

Jim Reeves' Body Found In Wreckage

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Aug. 4 (AP)—The bodies of country singer Jim Reeves and his pianist-lead manager, Dean Manuel, were found near here Sunday in the wreckage of a light plane Reeves was flying home Friday night from a business trip to Nashville, Ark.

The plane fell into trees which hid the wreckage for almost 48 hours. The crash site was in the fashionable suburban Brentwood area, less than one mile from the home of grand old Opry singer Marty Robbins who figured in the search.

Another Opry singer, Edy Arnold, a Brentwood resident, identified the body.

The tragedy plunged the country music world into mourning for the second time in a little more than a year. Opry singers Patsy Cline, Cowboy Copas and Hawkshaw Hawkins and Miss Cline's agent and pianist, Ray Hughes, died when their light plane crashed near Camden, Tenn., in March 1963.

Accidental deaths of several other country music entertainers followed in quick succession.

Johnson Is Endorsed for Second Term

CHICAGO, Aug. 4 (AP)—The ruling body of the AFL-CIO yesterday in effect endorsed a second term for President Johnson and said the Republican platform merits not more review but outright disavowal by organized labor.

AFL-CIO President George Meany, in releasing a statement by the big labor organization's Executive Council, said "the things we stand for, the things we have fought for" are being jeopardized by Sen. Barry Goldwater, the GOP nominee.

He said the AFL-CIO planned to show its displeasure "by supporting his opponent."

The executive council statement released after the council's meeting on the opening day of the council's quarterly meeting, did not mention Goldwater by name but attacked his positions on "extremism" and control of nuclear weapons.

It called the Republican platform "a platform of the Goldwater-dominated GOP convention at San Francisco last month" an insult to the intelligence of the voters.

"It offers nothing to meet the problems of 20th century America," the statement said. "Instead of progress it proposes retrogression. For the American labor movement, the Republican platform merits not more rejection, but outright disavowal."

Meany specifically singled out Goldwater.

"The primary concern of the labor movement regarding Goldwater is the survival of the trade union movement," he said. "If you can take his statements at face value, I think he thinks this country would be better off if we didn't have any trade unions."

"The things we stand for, the things we have fought for so long are all being jeopardized by the sentiments of this man," Meany told reporters.

Meany said the AFL-CIO would hold a civil rights bill in Washington Sept. 1 "to secure labor enforcement of the civil rights bill and to implement the civil rights bill in any way we can."

He said the AFL-CIO is committed to integration and to anti-discrimination but conceded that some members, particularly in the South, do not go along with the national organization's policy.

"We recognize there is a problem," he said. "We make no pretense about it."

News Around Idaho

BOISE, Aug. 4 (AP)—Gov. Robert E. Smylie yesterday asked the state board of corrections to begin a search for a site for a proposed new Idaho state penitentiary. In a letter to board members, Smylie said Ken, Rodney Hansen, R. Minidoka, and Rep. Jenkin Palmer, R.-Owens, requested that an active search for a site be undertaken followed by public hearings. Hansen is chairman of the state finance committee and Palmer heads the house appropriation committee. The 1963 legislature appropriated $75,000 for purchase of a site and preparation of plans for the proposed penitentiary but was unable to agree on a site.

BLACKFOOT, Aug. 4 (AP)—Bingham county sheriff's officers and district attorney have given up the search for a plane Tuesday. The boom fell from a KCOT aircraft which was transferring fuel to a jet bomber about 10 miles west of Idaho Falls and four and one-half miles south of highway 8 in the vicinity of the Twin Butte airport. Bingham county sheriff Arch Hise said officers from his staff and a state patrolman made two flights over the area but could find nothing. Hise said the search was then turned over to air force authorities from Mountain Home air force base.

IDAHO FALLS, Aug. 4 (AP)—Bonnevillite county state Senator Jack A. Wood, Jr. yesterday said he was pleased with the special legislative session's passage of enabling legislation placing a constitutional change on November's ballot which would result in creation of a state water resources board. At the same time, he objected to an appropriation of $20,000 for reapportionment studies and offered a substitute amendment that the proposed amendment to the state constitution as altered by the legislature "not only corrected some of the things feared by opponents of the bill, but made a better bill of it." "The rights of water users will remain unchanged, the power companies will not have competition from the state and the legislature will have control of the activities of the proposed water resources board," Wood stated.

IDAHO FALLS, Aug. 4 (AP)—No concrete progress in an investigation into the possibility of foul play in the July 18 death of Eugene Raymond Pann has been indicated by Bonnevillite county sheriff's office. Deputy Sheriff Brent Walker, who has been conducting the investigation of the 48-year-old Pann's death, said that some new information had been gathered, but much work remained. Pann was found dead by members of his family July 19 at 6 p.m. in his car in the driveway of his home. He is believed to have died from a fracture of the skull. Sheriff's officers made public their investigation into the possibility of foul play July 22. They said that silence had been maintained in the case because release of information might hamper the investigation.

NAMPA, Aug. 4 (AP)—A 34-year-old Meridian man was killed last night when the tail-wheel of his airplane crashed on a runway at Nampa. The victim was identified as Dwight Lee Harris. Police said the car was northbound on Highway 10 when it crashed through the bridge railing into the creek.

BOISE, Aug. 4 (AP)—Some 400 airmen and officers of the Idaho air national guard's 124th fighter group are encamped at Gowen field here for a seven-day training exercise. Lieut. Col. Kenneth E. Nordling, group commander, said pilots will fly over 50 missions and participate in a two-day intercept exercise during the week-long encampment. Other activities will include training in maintenance operations, administration and supply, he said.

BOISE, Aug. 4 (AP)—The U. S. senate today was to begin considering a bill that would authorize the federal government to purchase and include within the Kaibab national forest three parcels of privately owned land bordering on Upper Priest lake in northern Idaho. The measure, introduced by Sen. Frank Church, D.-Idaho, would permit the secretary of agriculture to purchase the lands at their fair market price and authorize appropriation by congress of the necessary funds. Church told the senate acquisition of the land is necessary to prevent commercial development of the lake-shore and maintain it in its natural state. "It is estimated that each year giving the lake special value as a tourist attraction."

Provo Judge Is Killed in Auto Crash

OREM, Utah, Aug. 4 (AP)—Provo city Judge Joseph R. Meservy was killed yesterday afternoon when the car he was driving jumped a curb and crashed into a tree on U. S. highway 91 in Orem.

Meservy, 53, was pronounced dead on arrival at Utah Valley hospital in Provo. Patrolman Bill Ford said Meservy apparently blacked out at the wheel. There were no skid or brake marks, he said.

Meservy had been city judge for nine years and was unopposed when he ran for election last year.

He was a member of the Pleasant View LDS ward and had served a mission in Africa. He was born in Wilford, Ida., and attended Ricks college, Brigham Young university, where he received bachelor's and master's degrees, and the University of Utah, where he took his law degree.

Surviving are his widow, his parents, two sisters and three brothers.

Bliss Girl Is '65 Queen of Fairfield Rodeo

FAIRFIELD, Aug. 4 (AP)—Rachel Purdy, Bliss, was crowned 1965 queen of the Fairfield American Legion rodeo at the closing performance Sunday afternoon. Carl Nelson, Gooding, was first attendant.

The two-day rodeo opened with parades in Fairfield on Saturday and Sunday. The color guard was led by Sheriff Allen Lawson and followed by many mounted riders. The "Purple Sage Cowbells" had a decorated purple wagon with a singing group riding on it. The Glenns Perry bank featured an oldtime fire engine.

W. Cronkite Says He Will Not Resign

NEW YORK, Aug. 4 (AP)—Walter Cronkite says his contract with the Columbia Broadcasting system has nine years to go and he has no plan to resign.

"CBS is telling me, 'You're still No. 1 around here,'" Cronkite told a news conference yesterday.

"I wouldn't expect them to say anything else," he added.

Last week, CBS announced it would replace Cronkite as anchor man for its coverage of the Democratic national convention with a new television team—Robert Trout and Roger Mudd. At the time, Cronkite said CBS "took a clobbering" in the ratings from the National Broadcasting company's coverage of the Republican national convention.

Asked yesterday why NBC got the higher rating, Cronkite said: "It is a great credit to the opposition reporters—Chet Huntley and David Brinkley. Huntley and Brinkley have entertainment value, something that we have not directly excluded and something that we must be seeking."

Judy Neiwert, Batman Recite Nuptial Vows

RUPERT, Aug. 4 — Ivy draped cases, lighted white tapers and floor baskets of red carnations and white chrysanthemums provided the background setting for the marriage of Judy Neiwert, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Neiwert, Rupert, and Steven Dee Batman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Batman, Robinson, Ill., May 29 at the Paul Congregational church.

The Rev. Edwin Huber, performed the double ring ceremony. Dianne Huber, organist, played the traditional wedding music. Duets were sung by Mr. and Mrs. August Marisch.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white floor-length gown of French Chantilly lace, fashioned in tiers from the waist to the edge of the chapel train. The skirt had pleated nylon tulle in white front panel and long lily point sleeves. Her bouffant veil of imported silk illusion was held by a crown of seed pearls and borella crystals. Humphrey Is Endorsed by Some States

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4 (AP) — Democratic leaders in a dozen or more Midwestern and mountain states have endorsed Minnesota Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey for vice president since President Johnson's elimination of most other potential running mates, it was reported last night.

Backers of the senate Democratic whip said a review of pro-Humphrey statements, public and private, now indicates that he is the first choice of a growing list of governors, state chairmen and other party leaders.

"They are pleased, too, that disapproval among supporters of Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy over his elimination from vice presidential consideration has not spilled over against Humphrey."

In short, they feel that both members of the Kennedy family and others who had favored the attorney general would prefer Humphrey to other top-named possibilities like Sen. Eugene McCarthy, also of Minnesota.

McCarthy, like Kennedy, is a Catholic.

President Johnson last week announced that he was eliminating Kennedy and other key members of his official family from vice presidential consideration. This gave Humphrey and McCarthy top billing in speculation, with Humphrey getting the apparent edge.

Publication yesterday of a poll showing Humphrey first choice of 64 per cent of rank and file Democrats — with only 6 per cent for McCarthy — delighted the Humphrey camp.

3 Children Die In Refrigerator

NORWALK, Calif., Aug. 4 (AP) — Three young children are dead after being found in an unused refrigerator in the garage of a Norwalk home.

Mrs. Caroline Calne, mother of two of the youngsters, discovered the tragedy yesterday.

Her son, Steven, 5, and daughter, Denise, 3, died minutes after being admitted to Studebaker hospital. A playmate, Roger D. Politz, 5, was pronounced dead on arrival.

Investigators said Mrs. Calne had opened the sliding doors of the refrigerator in order to air it out, then closed the garage door. She later noticed the garage door had been opened, and found the children.

Mrs. Johnson Tours West to Dedicate Dam

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4 (AP) — Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson heads west next week on a three-state tour to dedicate the billion-dollar Flaming Gorge dam along the Utah-Wyoming border and to look at nearby national parks, Indian reservations and natural wilderness.

The White House said Mrs. Johnson would stay at Jackson

Lake Lodge, Wyo., in the Grand Teton national park during her Aug. 14-17 visit. She also plans to visit Montana.

Mrs. Johnson will be accompanied by Secretary of the Interior Stewart L. Udall and other officials. All three states went Republican in the 1960 presidential election.

Criminals Are Selling "Goof Balls"

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4 (AP) — Hardened criminals have taken over bootleg distribution of billions of "pep pills" and "goof balls" to youngsters over the nation, Commissioner George P. Larrick of the food and drug administration (FDA) said yesterday.

Larrick said investigation of the illegal traffic in psychoactive drugs has become extremely hazardous because hardened criminals control the business. But he said there is a direct relation between the sale of such pills and juvenile delinquency, sexual promiscuity and "violent and bizarre crimes."

Larrick testified before a senate health subcommittee which began hearings on legislation to clamp federal controls over the easy-to-buy barbiturates and amphetamines.

"An otherwise law-abiding citizen may go berserk under the influence of psychotropic drugs and become a menace to himself and society," Larrick said. "He may participate in mass violence, and it is not uncommon for hoodlums who are planning a robbery or other criminal acts to take amphetamines to bolster their courage."

The proposed legislation has been endorsed, with some changes, by the American Pharmaceutical Association and the National Association of Retail Druggists. It was fully endorsed by the Pharmaceutical Manufacturers Association.

But Larrick said two of the nation's largest pharmaceutical firms refused to provide information of the number of such drugs manufactured in 1963. Nevertheless, he said, FDA investigators figured the number at more than nine billion doses of which about half ended up on the bootleg market.

Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D., Conn., who is sponsoring the legislation, said the sale of amphetamines and barbiturates has reached epidemic proportions. He said their use by juveniles has increased at a "fantastic rate" and they are replacing the so-called "hard" narcotics such as opium, heroin and cocaine among some users.
