

Hurricane Heads for Mainland

MIAMI, Fla., Sept. 7 (AP)—Hurricane Dora, a huge and powerful storm that grows by the hour, moved closer to the U. S. mainland today and made herself felt while still 700 miles out to sea.

Heavy seas already are increasing along the southern Atlantic Coast and will continue to grow during the next two days as the U. S. weather bureau says the U. S. weather bureau said in its latest advisory.

The storm's center was located about 700 miles east of Cape Kennedy.

Lightest winds near the center were estimated at 100 miles an hour. Hurricane and gale force winds extend out as far as 300 miles to the northeast and 150 miles to the southwest of the center.

The storm now covers an area about 500 miles across and extends to swallow up tropical storm Ethel which was centered at 5 a. m. about 700 miles to the east southeast of Dora's center.

Dora was moving west at about 10 miles an hour and will continue on that course for the next 24 hours, according to the weather bureau advisory.

The hurricane will continue large and dangerous. Sails are already rough over most of the southwest North Atlantic and will be gradually increasing along the southern coastal sections of the United States.

The weather bureau said the present and predicted movement of Dora increases the threat to the southern coastal sections of the United States.

"But since it is moving slowly, there will be little effect other than increasing seas through Tuesday."

It also is expected to lose intensity today and perhaps become absorbed by Dora, the advisory said.

3-Car Crash Injures Four Near Ketchum

KETCHUM, Sept. 7—A Showshone man was listed in critical condition Monday at Sun Valley hospital where he and four other people were taken after a three-car accident Sunday 15 miles north of Ketchum on highway 200.

Clayton Clifford, Showshone, was in critical condition with a crushed chest and head injuries after the accident which also hospitalized Reed Nuby and his son, Dora, both Showshone. Tom Kilian, mountain home air force base, and Linda Lee, address unavailable.

Nuby, Kilian and Miss Lee, were all listed in serious condition Monday and Dora, listed in fair condition, was hospitalized. Idaho state police made an emergency blood run from Boise.

According to reports Kilian was driving a sports car with Nuby as a passenger and headed north. He attempted to pass a Jeep driven by Clifford with Nuby and his son as passengers, when a car driven by Frank Matthews, Buhl, approached from the rear.

It was reported that Kilian's vehicle sideswiped the Matthews car, went out of control and slammed into the rear of the Jeep. Matthews was uninjured.

Johnson Goes To Detroit For Speech

DETROIT, Sept. 7 (AP)—President Johnson flies here today for a day of speeches in which he is expected to stress national unity and the party's platform.

Johnson is expected to give a speech in Detroit on Monday night, which is expected to be the last of a series of speeches he will give in support of the Democratic ticket in November.

While this stronghold of organized labor is the traditional campaign center for Democratic candidates, Johnson declines to characterize this speech as other than a talk to a group of working men who invited me to make an address to them on Labor Day.

But a busy, nonpolitical Johnson took no chances of Republican criticism that he was campaigning at government expense. He arranged for the Democratic National Convention to pick up the tab for the cost of flying a Jet Star to and from Detroit. He decided yesterday to use a 10-passenger Jet Star instead of the big presidential jet.

Most observers probably will regard Johnson's speech as the official kickoff of his campaign which is his first major speech since accepting the Democratic nomination in Atlantic City Aug. 12.

Johnson's Detroit trip came two days before a threatened strike against Chrysler, first target of the DRIVE-ALIVE workers' union. An agreement is reached on new contracts.

Integration Starts Again In Southland

By United Press International

Another round of school desegregation starts today in the Southland in a school year which marks the greatest amount of integration since the 1954 Supreme court decision.

Focal point today is Macon County, Ala., where Tuskegee high school is to open on an integrated basis.

Integration opened as an integrated high school last year with 18 Negroes in attendance. But a boycott by whites left them all alone in their classrooms and the state board of education finally ordered the school closed.

There was no immediate indication whether Negroes and whites would attend classes in Tuskegee this year.

Prince Edward county, Va., ends a five-year lapse in public education Tuesday under federal court orders.

The county considered the bastion of "magical resistance" to school integration closed its school in 1959 rather than operate mixed classes.

Explosion Rips Home of Negroes

MOORE, Miss., Sept. 7 (AP)—A small home in the roof of a Negro home near here early today exploded, killing one person and wounding another.

Shepard R. D. Warren said it appeared as if a single stick of dynamite had been hurled at the home of Hugh Washington, a Negro brickman who lives in the small apartment community. Warren said the alleged bomb landed on the roof of the brick house and caused only minor damage.

Washington and his family were asleep in the house but were not injured.

Warren Commission to Release Its Report on Kennedy's Shooting Soon

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7 (AP)—Just before he was shot to death by Jack Ruby, Lee Harvey Oswald tipped off a Dallas newspaper which he would be the subject of a report.

The split-second incident, and the way it resulted in the Warren Commission with one of its most important tasks.

The commission, created by President Johnson to conduct a complete investigation and present an official report on the assassination of President John F. Kennedy, is expected to issue its findings in a little more than a week.

Commission members say they believe the document will eventually answer all of the rumors and all unanswered questions in the mind of the public.

One of the most persistent rumors was that Ruby was ordered by Dallas police or some conspiratorial group to slay Oswald. Numerous others were associated with that same theme.

One was an alleged report by a writer that Oswald fled to Cuba's embassy in the period just before the assassination.

Another was that Ruby and a wealthy Texas oilman met in the nightclub, with Oswald, Weisman, the person responsible for a full-page anti-Kennedy advertisement in a Dallas newspaper, shortly before the assassination.

Bull and Dallas policeman J. D. Tippitt were part of a conspiracy. Speculation that Oswald was en route to Ruby's apartment when he fired and killed Tippitt, the theory which is used as a basis for this rumor.

One rumor was that Oswald was Warren, Fig. 2, Col. 7.

HELMETED MEMBERS of the Oxyton state police riot squad, armed with tear gas and water cannons, broke up a demonstration in front of a section of Seattle, resort town of 3,600 where more than 700 young people staged Sunday night. There were no serious injuries reported. Numerous store windows were shattered by rocks. (AP wirephoto)

Teen-Agers Stage Riots in 2 States Over Holiday Week-End

By The Associated Press

Teen-age violence erupted at opposite ends of the country — Oregon and New Hampshire — over the Labor day week-end, with hordes of youths storming through streets, hurling missiles and shattering windows. At Hampton Beach, N. H., the national guard was called out last night to aid riot-trained state and local police using tear gas and dogs to battle some 10,000 teen-agers. Police were pelted with bottles, trash and stones for more than four hours, and the town's police station was stormed. Scores of windows were broken and fires reportedly were set in several buildings.

After being driven out of town with the aid of fire hoses, several hundred youths regrouped near a bridge early today. They threw rocks at passing cars and knocked down a utility pole, blocking out part of the community's power.

Eight policemen and about a dozen youths were reported injured. More than 100 teen-agers were arrested. A 16-year-old boy was struck in the right eye by a birdshot from a police shotgun. Doctors said the boy probably would lose the eye.

A 16-year-old girl was injured and 70 arrested in a similar riot.

At Seaside, Ore., disturbances began Saturday night following street dancing, and wholesale arrests were made before police dispersed some 4,000 youths. No property damage or serious injuries were reported.

But last night brought violence as an estimated 700 youths moved from the beach to Seaside's main street, shattering at least eight store windows and tearing apart a 30-foot wooden-plank fence, using the pieces as clubs. The national guard was called out. About 80 youths were arrested.

It was the third straight year the Labor day week-end was marked by violence in the Oregon coastal community.

At Grand Bend, Ont., several hundred youths looted the streets of the Lake Huron resort Sunday night, singing and shouting in police.

It was the second disturbance in 24 hours as 300 persons were arrested, early yesterday morning, but no arrests were reported in the nighttime ruckus.

Showdown on Senate Debate to Be Forced

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7 (AP)—Sen. Strom Thurmond says he will force an early showdown over congressional efforts to halt or delay the supreme court's orders to reshuffle state legislatures. Borrowing an administration tactic used with success in behalf of its civil rights bill and the more recent racial equality health plan for the aged, Thurmond said he will offer a substitute rider for the less drastic pending proposal by senate Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen.

This could bring a clean senate test on the separate, House-approved bill by Rep. William M. Tucker, D. Va., which seeks to deny federal courts jurisdiction over legislative reapportionment.

Dirksen's milder proposal, offered as a rider to the foreign aid authorization, would merely delay the operation of the federal court reapportionment decisions. His hope is that this would give congress and the states time to amend the constitution to accomplish what Tucker's bill attempts to do directly and quietly.

A band of opposing senators, largely from the North, have blocked any voting on the Dirksen rider by lengthy debate since Aug. 19. They promise to continue this indefinitely.

Dirksen is circulating a formal closure petition to end the debate which requires a two-thirds majority of the senate to become effective. He plans to offer this Tuesday and set a vote Thursday on the talk limitation.

Any later congressional amendment proposal also would require a two-thirds majority vote in both the senate and house and then later approval by the legislatures of three-fourths of the states.

Thurmond, in a statement last night, said the "major defect" in the Dirksen proposal "is that it is not realistic." The South Carolina senator, like most southerners, has bitterly opposed closure or limitation of senate debate. He openly questioned that it can be applied in the current controversy.

That is why, Thurmond said, he will offer the Tucker bill as a rider and substitute for the Dirksen rider. Thurmond's substitute rider be entitled to the first Senate vote.

Nub of the controversy is the federal courts' efforts to apply the "one person one vote" rule in an apportionment of state legislatures, in both senate and house chambers.

Thurmond, Dirksen and most other critics of the closure contend it ignores the constitutional pattern for the congress, under which the house is based on population within the states while the senate is on a geographical basis of two senators for the largest and two smallest population states as well as the smallest.

Helpful

GATESHEAD, England, Sept. 7 (AP)—Helpful house painter Desmond Gibbons climbed a chimney yesterday when a little girl asked him to rescue her parakeet. But once he got up on the roof, he found he couldn't get down.

By the time firemen rescued him, the parakeet had flown away and the little girl had wandered home.

Red Chinese Is Hit by Khrushchev

MOSCOW, Sept. 7 (AP)—Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev today ignored anticommunist propaganda and announced he is pressing his showdown fight with the Chinese Communists.

"We will go on fighting," Khrushchev told an international radio-television audience.

He made no mention of Khrushchev's drift to a neutral position in the Sino-Soviet battle for world communist mastery. Nor did he cite the powerful Italian Communist party's "go easy" advice.

Khrushchev, whose speech was billed as a report on the 30-day Czech tour which ended Saturday, said: "The Soviet and Czech parties—like many other parties—think the splitting activities of the Chinese party harm the communist movement."

"In fact, it incites imperialism to new adventures against peace-loving forces."

"The time is right for the convocation of parties," said the premier, referring to his long-opposed call for a showdown world communist congress next year.

Earlier Khrushchev toured a construction equipment exhibition here and exchanged wisecracks with one of the American exhibitors.

Pastor Elected

SALT LAKE CITY, Sept. 7 (AP)—A Rupert Lutheran pastor has been elected pastoral adviser of Utah-Idaho-Wyoming League district.

The Rev. Leonard Metzner moved into the home with the election of John Caster, Clover, as president.

Two other Idahoans—Susan Quarnsey, secretary, Nampa, and Martha Eilers, treasurer, Clover—were re-elected.

Traffic Deaths

Idaho	Magic Valley
1964.....170	1964.....25

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7 (AP)—Mrs. Ruth Virginia Lewis Jarman, 47, wife of U. S. Rep. John Jarman, D. Okla., died today of a heart attack.

Traffic Toll May Reach All Time High Over Holiday

By The Associated Press

The possibility of a record number of traffic fatalities over the Labor day week-end loomed today as the summer's last holiday approached its end. The latest count listed 408 persons dead on the nation's highways. In addition, 11 persons had died in boating accidents and 34 by drowning. Among the traffic victims were six persons who were killed in a two-car collision today near Los Banos, Calif. Five of the victims were in one auto.

The accident happened not far from the scene of another Friday in which nine members of a family were killed in Merced county. Friday's accident, however, happened before the holiday week-end began.

With the rate of traffic deaths running close to that of last year, when a record number died, the homeward-rush still lay ahead for thousands of motorists returning from outings and holidays.

The count began at 6 p. m. (local time) Friday and will end at midnight tonight.

The death record for a Labor Day week-end was established last year when 457 persons died on the nation's roads.

The U. S. weather bureau said most of the country would have clear weather.

The safety council had estimated before the holiday that traffic accidents would claim between 400 and 500 lives.

The Associated Press made a survey on a 78-hour non-holiday week-end to establish a basis for comparison. From 6 p. m. Friday, Aug. 21, to midnight Monday, Aug. 24, 456 persons died in traffic accidents. Twenty persons perished in boating mishaps and 30 drowned for a total of 506.

Last year, a total of 632 persons died during the Labor Day week-end—557 in traffic, 21 in boating accidents and 54 by drowning.

Holiday Traffic in Idaho Takes 2 Lives

By United Press International

Traffic crashes killed two persons over the Labor day week-end, raising Idaho's death toll for the year to 169 compared with 131 at this time a year ago. The death toll for the week-end was five over the last long week-end of summer last year. The victims of the two fatal accidents were Arthur L. Schauer, 47, Coeur d'Alene, and De Var Harrison, 10, son of Dr. and Mrs. Rex Harrison, Pocatello.

Schauer was killed yesterday about five miles north of Coeur d'Alene. State police said a vehicle was stopped by the side of the road out of gas. A car driven by Dennis Newton, 21, Coeur d'Alene, pulled up and stopped behind the stalled vehicle.

Then a pickup truck driven by Robert Griffin, 30, Post Falls, hit the Newton car in the rear and the Griffin vehicle turned over, blocking the road.

Schauer's car then slammed into the Griffin vehicle.

The Harrison boy was killed and four others were hurt on U.S. 93 alternate three miles south of Challis Saturday while the Harrisons were on a family outing to Williams lake to fish.

Custer county Sheriff Glen W. Reed said a brother of the boy, Rexford L. Harrison, was driving the car when it apparently dozed at the wheel. The car ran off the road and overturned three times. Mrs. Harrison, her daughter, Ronnie, 14, and George Jordan, 12, were injured. The driver also was hurt, suffering scrapes and bruises.

Harrison, thrown from the car, was taken to a hospital at Challis where his condition was reported to be poor.

Idaho Has Big Turnover Of Teachers

BOISE, Sept. 7 (AP)—The Idaho Education association says a survey of about half the state's school districts shows a heavy turnover of teachers this year.

Research director Wayne E. York said reports from 50 of the state's 114 districts showed a loss of 697 teachers at the end of the last school year. He said it also showed that 42 teaching positions were unfilled a week before schools began opening.

State superintendent of public instruction D. P. Engeling last week said the education department had reports of 14 unfilled teaching positions.

On a percentage basis, the heaviest turnover was reported in isolated back country schools.

Report Is Given on Viet Nam Problems

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7 (AP)—Ambassador Maxwell Taylor, returning from consultation with President Johnson, said today the crisis in South Viet Nam has entered a political lull while Premier Nguyen Khanh organized a provisional government. Taylor said he left Saigon, South Vietnamese capital, "entirely quiet," but he stopped short of saying the crisis in the strife-torn country has passed its peak. In a country at war, he said, crisis conditions never seem to be entirely over.

Taylor was asked whether he came home with new policy ideas and action proposals for dealing with the communist Viet Cong guerrilla threat to South Viet Nam.

"I do not have any recipe in my pocket," he said. "The longer one studies the situation out there the more complex it appears."

Taylor, former chairman of the joint chiefs of staff, became a member of the cabinet two months ago when Henry Cabot Lodge resigned to return to the United States in advance of the Republican-national convention.

Taylor left it known before he left for his Southeast Asian post that he would be back in Washington in about two months to wind up personal affairs which his hurry-up diplomatic assignments had little time for.

The Republican presidential nominee was expected to spend the holiday relaxing at his home outside Phoenix. No business was announced.

Goldwater heads for San Diego Tuesday to launch a campaign tour up the West Coast.

He already has issued a Labor Day message declaring Republican faith in the fundamentals of free enterprise and promising if elected to seek automatic annual income tax cuts.

The senator plans to spell out details of his tax cut program Tuesday night in an address at 50,000-seat Dodger stadium in Los Angeles.

Then he moves on to Sacramento, Calif.; Elkhart Falls and Eugene, Ore.; Seattle, Wash.; Boise; Great Falls, Mont.; Minneapolis, Minn.; Chicago and Rockford, Ill. That tour ends on Eddy.

After a week-end in Washington, D. C., Goldwater is due on Sept. 16 to launch a 15-stop southern campaign swing in Winston-Salem, N. C.

Goldwater to Have Leisure Labor Day

PHOENIX, Ariz., Sept. 7 (AP)—Sen. Barry Goldwater planned a leisurely Labor day today before plunging into the first campaign tour of his race for the White House.

The Republican presidential nominee was expected to spend the holiday relaxing at his home outside Phoenix. No business was announced.

Goldwater heads for San Diego Tuesday to launch a campaign tour up the West Coast.

Fighting Breaks Out In Malaysia

SINGAPORE, Malaysia, Sept. 7 (AP)—Chinese and Malays killed each other in the streets of Singapore today. In another area Malaysia security forces hunted Indonesian guerrillas.

It was one of Malaysia's darkest hours since it was created one year ago out of Malay, Singapore and British Borneo.

Indonesian guerrillas have long sought to overthrow the young democracy and the highest standard of living in Asia after Japan. It also is fighting a growing guerrilla war with Indonesian army among its own Malays, Chinese and Indian populations.

Malays and Chinese fought in Singapore today for the eighth straight day of race rioting. Police reports said one person was killed, bringing the death toll since the rioting started to 10. Eighty-five persons have been injured and 25 hospitalized.

Malaysia Prime Minister Tengku Abdul-Rahman, who blamed the riots on agitators from Indonesia, which has vowed to crush Malaysia as an independent of British colonies.

D. McKay Looks Forward to His Anniversary

BALT LAKE CITY, Sept. 7 (AP)—President David O. McKay of the LDS church was looking forward to his 61st birthday anniversary.

The LDS leader was feeling "very well," he proudly reported. He celebrated his birthday Tuesday. It will be spent with his family at his hotel Utah suite.

McKay was released from LDS hospital Friday after treatment for a heart ailment.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7 (AP)—President Dwight D. Eisenhower was expected to spend the holiday relaxing at his home outside Phoenix. No business was announced.

Goldwater heads for San Diego Tuesday to launch a campaign tour up the West Coast.

He already has issued a Labor Day message declaring Republican faith in the fundamentals of free enterprise and promising if elected to seek automatic annual income tax cuts.

2 Servicemen Are Wounded In Viet Nam

SAIGON, Sept. 7 (AP)—Two U. S. servicemen were wounded today in separate clashes on the fringes of a communist guerrilla jungle stronghold in South Viet Nam, an American military spokesman reported.

The spokesman said one of the Americans, an "O" class, was wounded in a communist guerrilla attack. He was accompanying on a dawn patrol near the village of My Duc, about 25 miles north of Saigon.

The second casualty was an enlisted gunner aboard a U. S. army helicopter. He was shot through the leg by communist guerrillas shortly before noon some 10 miles to the east of My Duc within sight of the district capital of Ben Cat.

Both incidents took place on the southern edge of the heavily populated and fertile region known as Zone D—the main activity is by communist forces during the Indo-China war with the French.

The several hundred square mile region has been a hot spot since the start of the opening days of the Indo-China war nearly 20 years ago.

Celebration Is Held by Quintuplets

MAGGIO, Venezuela, Sept. 7 (AP)—The Prieto, quintuplets, showed; giggled and squealed through their first birthday anniversary festivities and finished in better shape than their tired parents.

"It'll be good getting back to work," said Eileen Lubin Prieto, 40, ruggedly handsome father of the five-boys after a round of week-end partying during which they were showered with gifts, toys, cakes and baby food.

The hunky, bougie, bubs were born here on Tuesday, Sept. 6, at birth and Sunday because their father had to return today to his $103,853-a-day job, operating an oil field in Venezuela.

The babies — Robinson, Otto, Juan Jose, Fernando and Mario — are growing and healthy. There is only a slight physical resemblance among them, except for their eyes. The boys are all right-handed, according to their mother.

"They're no problem," said Yvonne Prieto, 36. "They are never sick and eat well."

"They eat more than well, dear," interjected her husband, pointing to a cardboard box of 4 ounces of baby formula.

"They eat 45 of those in a minute," she said.

2 Crashes Probed Over Week-End

Only two minor accidents were reported by police officers in Twin Falls during the Labor Day week-end.

However, a Twin Falls man was injured in an accident Sunday at Ontario, Ore. Jesse Hernandez, 38, received a broken leg when his car left the highway and struck two trees near Ontario.

Russel E. McElhinney, 18, Durley, was cited for failure to yield the right of way after he drove his 1962 Ford at 3:05 p.m. Sunday through the A.L. Girard driveway, on Addison avenue, and struck the front of a 1957 Ford which was driven by Joan Ruth Zagon, 34, Glendale, Cassia county.

Damage was estimated at $250 to Miss Zagon's car and $175 to the McElhinney vehicle.

Ivan Bacon, 61, was cited for drunk driving after his car struck a properly parked car at 4:00 p.m. Saturday in Murtaugh.

Investigating officers reported the 1964 Dodge Bacon was driving struck a parked Ford pickup truck owned by Richard Murphy, Murtaugh.

Damage was estimated at $30 to the truck.

No injuries were reported in either of the accidents.

Richardson to Retire Next Year — KANSAS CITY, Sept. 7 (AP)—Bobby Richardson of the New York Yankees, one of the best second basemen in baseball, will retire at age 29 after this season to manage the YMCA in Sumner, S. C. The Associated Press learned Sunday.

"The Associated Press learned Richardson has already signed a contract with the YMCA in Sumner, his hometown, and the Yankee management has been informed of his decision, to retire."

Richardson said no such decision has been made. Yankee Manager Yogi Berra said he knew nothing about it.

Retains Lead — DALLAS, Tex., Sept. 7 (AP)—Charles Gody fought off a challenge by Billy Casper to jump onto the lead in the $40,000 Dallas open golf tournament Sunday.

Gody had a two-under-par 68 for a 202 total over 54 holes and led the charging Casper by one stroke going into the final round.

Weather, Temperatures

MAGIC VALLEY — Increasing cloudiness tonight and Tuesday with occasional showers Tuesday. Home winds and cooler Tuesday afternoon. High today 76 to 84, low tonight 42 to 50, high Tuesday 70 to 80, except on Tuesday, 70 to 78, Tuesday in 60, low 38 to 41. On Wednesday, a continued cool. Temperatures at 4 a.m. 45 at Jerome, 56 with 65 per cent humidity at Twin Falls weather bureau, 55 at Rupert, 55 at Fairfield, 50 at Buhl, 58 at Castleton and 55 at Wendell.

AGRICULTURAL SYNOPSIS — The current weather clouds snow lower pressure at the surface and aloft over British Columbia and the Pacific Northwest. A disturbance is making up from this area of lower pressure that is forecast to bring increased cloudiness and the likelihood of scattered light rain or showers to western agricultural valleys tomorrow night and Wednesday.

Rainfall amounts will be quite light, however, as the moisture supply is limited. Temperatures will range in the 70's and 80's today, lowering into the 70's in most western and southeastern sections tomorrow. Nighttime minimums will remain above any critical freeze danger and Tuesday night with readings in the 40's to lower 60's.

FIVE-DAY FORECAST — Pressures are forecast to average lower than normal over the Magic Valley states with a high level trough persisting along the coast through next Saturday.

Temperatures over agricultural valleys of southern Idaho will average from 4 to 6 degrees below seasonal normal during the next five days. Cooling is expected during midweek followed by some temperature moderation at the end of week. Lower night time temperatures are likely to produce frost in colder sections on Wednesday and Thursday nights. Temperature normals through Saturday are Gooding 51-43, Twin Falls 52-55 and Burley 50-43.

Floodplain in the form of occasional light rain or showers is likely by Wednesday and again this morning. Heavy precipitation is expected to total 0.5 to 1.5 of an inch with heavier precipitation expected to stay north of our agricultural valleys. One Pacific storm system is making up at the present time and is forecast to move across the northern Intermountain area by Wednesday evening. A second disturbance is expected to move inland over the week-end.

Wind speeds will total around 45 to 75 per cent of possible with considerable daytime cloudiness forecast for midweek and again over the week-end. Winds will average slightly greater than normal with winds of 15 to 25 miles per hour and gusty Tuesday and Wednesday and again next Saturday. Well-developed clouds will continue to taper off this week with average daily losses of 15 to 25 inches of water.

Harvesting and seeding operations will have generally favorable weather today and in most central and eastern sections tomorrow as well. During midweek the threat of showers and increased winds will make weather conditions less favorable for these activities. Work should be able to be resumed Thursday through most of the week. The influx of colder air Wednesday and Thursday may give scattered light frost to earlier sections these nights but at present no severe general freeze is anticipated from this weather pattern. Later minimum temperature advisories should be followed quite closely.

23 Arrested

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 7 (AP)—Police here arrested 23 persons on charges of circulating counterfeit American bank notes through the government's circulation bank.

The official Atlanta news agency said the bank notes were of $100 denominations.

DANCING IS HELD — RICHFIELD, Sept. 7 — A dinner, program and square dancing marked the LDS ward family social held Friday evening at the church. LaMar Jones announced the program of song numbers by his children and the Grant Haves children, solo by Robert Padon and humor by Mrs. Richard Wayburn, all of Columbus, S.C., and the pilot, Bob McAnis of Greenville, S.C.

Authorities had not determined if the twin-engine Aero Commander chartered plane out of Greenville, S.C., was out of control when a landing wheel tangled in the wire. The line whipped around the wheel, shunted off utility pole and flipped the plane onto its nose. It crashed on the Interstate 85 expressway about 15 miles north of Atlanta.

Richardson to Retire Next Year

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 7 (AP)—Bobby Richardson of the New York Yankees, one of the best second basemen in baseball, will retire at age 29 after this season to manage the YMCA in Sumner, S. C. The Associated Press learned Sunday.

"The Associated Press learned Richardson has already signed a contract with the YMCA in Sumner, his hometown, and the Yankee management has been informed of his decision, to retire."

Richardson said no such decision has been made. Yankee Manager Yogi Berra said he knew nothing about it.

Retains Lead

DALLAS, Tex., Sept. 7 (AP)—Charles Gody fought off a challenge by Billy Casper to jump onto the lead in the $40,000 Dallas open golf tournament Sunday.

Gody had a two-under-par 68 for a 202 total over 54 holes and led the charging Casper by one stroke going into the final round.

Grammar Is Weakest Point In Minidoka County Schools

RUPERT, Sept. 7 — "Grammar usage of students enrolled in Minidoka county schools is the weakest point," according to Doyle Lowder, assistant superintendent of the county schools.

Lowder was guest speaker at the Chamber of Commerce Thursday when they met for their regular luncheon meeting.

Several new academic programs being set up in the county schools, including English, literature, mathematics, and science.

However, it would be next year before some of the new programs would be initiated, according to Lowder. Students entering high school and college do not have enough required reading in literature and the English program is repeated with additional concentrated material is given. The new science program calls for biological science in the eighth grade, physical science in the ninth and general science in the tenth.

Also a new mathematics program will be undertaken next year with the methods of teaching.

Henry D. Docter, agriculture committee chairman, announced the first stock sale for 1964 scheduled for 10 a.m. Sept. 14 at the Valley Livestock Commission company. No animal would be sold at the sale unless a blue-ribbon had been won. If a blue-ribbon was won by a half-bred with another merchant if unable to handle a whole animal.

Docter also announced the annual fair of the Chamber of Commerce which will be held at 8 p.m. Nov. 5 at the St. Nicholas Catholic parish hall.

Monte Thompson, student body president at Minico, urged members of the Chamber to buy a family activity ticket which would admit them to all games played. He also handed out schedules of games to be played both at Minico and at other schools.

The student body president reported 100 body strike stamp books had been donated towards the purchase of a scoreboard for the school. 100 books are needed to obtain the board. Thompson said they may use money brought in through vending machines in the school to complete the purchase for the board.

H. Humphrey Hits Senator With Speech

AKRON, O., Sept. 7 (AP)—Minnesota Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, the Democratic vice presidential nominee today called Republican presidential candidate Barry Goldwater "a man of his word" and added, "I fear that he would fulfill his promises to lead this nation all-long into the 1970's."

"In this election of 1964 the American voters have a clear choice—between vigor or vacuity, between responsibility or rashness," Humphrey said in remarks prepared for a Labor day audience at suburban Barborton.

Humphrey cited lines held by the Democratic administration, repeating after each listing "but not Sen. Goldwater."

He said that under the Democrats, spendable income after taxes has risen more than 15 per cent in four years while wholesale prices are slightly lower.

But he said there still are too many unemployed and with the postwar baby crop still sitting idle, he said that, plus the impact of automation, requires us to find 300,000 jobs per month — as many new jobs, each month — as there are people in Akron."

Shoshone Home Has Small Fire

SHOSHONE, Sept. 7 — Considerable smoke damage resulted to the house occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Coffman Friday night. The fire was three bedroom building it owned by Mrs. Erma Driskoll.

The smoke was discovered when the Coffmans returned home shortly after midnight. A portion of the living room furniture was damaged and the only burned area in the house, where the blaze originated.

The city fire department was called to extinguish the fire.

Cabin Fire In Salt Lake Investigated

SALT LAKE CITY, Sept. 7 (AP)—A fire which destroyed a small summer cabin yesterday in Emigration canyon was under investigation today by the Salt Lake county fire department.

Fire officials said the early-morning blaze apparently started as the result of an "illiot beer party."

Firemen said the four-room cabin, owned by O. E. Thomas, Salt Lake City, burned to the ground.

Several charred beer cans found in the ashes of the cabin led fire officials to believe the cabin had been forcibly entered during the party. Several persons looking for a place to hold a party.

Fire officials said cause of the blaze had not been determined. The cabin does not have electricity.

Warren

COLUMBIANA, Miss., Sept. 7 (AP)—Warren planned to go to Mexico together as soon as Oswald reached Ruby's apartment. This apparently grew out of the fact that Oswald made a trip to Mexico in an unsuccessful attempt to get a visa to go to Cuba.

On this point alone, the commission investigated to determine such things as whether Oswald was killed by U.S. agents during the Sept. 20-Oct. 3, 1963, trip to Mexico and why the loyalty oath he signed in 1956 was questioned in view of his past record.

Another whole set of rumors revolved around the shots fired at Kennedy.

From Italy came a report that Oswald could not possibly have been a passenger on the ship during the time allotted with the Italian-made carbine he allegedly used to kill Kennedy.

This was quickly followed by a rumor that five shots at Kennedy were fired at the Kennedy automobile caravan, and by reports that some of the shots had been fired from an overpass ahead of the caravan, not from Oswald's vantage point behind it.

Other rumors failed to gain much prominence. But, as each came up, the commission had its staff and the FBI check them out and find the answers. What they found will comprise a large portion of the report.

Crime Boom Reverses Axiom To Prove Crime Does Pay

LONDON, Sept. 7 (AP)—Britain is experiencing a crime boom. The cleverest lawbreakers this country has ever known are reversing an old axiom to prove that crime does pay.

Last year's highlight was the $1-million dollar great train robbery in Birmingham, the biggest cash crime in history, carried off with breath-taking precision.

This year may be known as the big escape year. Hardly a day passes but news is reported of an escape was Charles Fredrick Wilson, one of the great robbers who had hardly settled in the maximum security cell where he was sentenced to spend 30 years in a squalid, ill-ventilated cell, when he escaped. His bloodless delivery by a sick gang was so notorious that newsreels began referring to Wilson as "the other" less-known Wilson.

The great train robbery and the Wilson escape opened Britain's eyes to the fact that this country's criminals, through the years have been outwitting the law.

It is estimated that the chances a holdup man in London will be caught and convicted are three to one in his favor. For house burglars the rate is six to one and for auto thieves as high as 10 to one.

A Cambridge university professor of criminology estimated that not more than 15 per cent of crime committed in Britain is brought into the open for punishment.

Even when a criminal is caught his chances of escaping justice are over 50 per cent according to a Cambridge institute study.

Before World War II the conviction rate in Britain was always over 60 per cent, the study noted.

It is estimated more than 70 million dollars worth of property will be stolen or obtained by fraud this year.

British criminologists and the newspapers have been noting with interest that United States police are using computers to fight crime gangs—to trap them with machine data that forecasts thrusts in advance.

This may not work in Britain because there are few permanent criminal gangs here. British crime is a steady reported. Generally, a group of individual criminals brought together for a specific job and disbanded afterward. They re-organize to do the job.

The gangs organized to do the big jobs are the London "Eid" jewel shop breakers—the best tools. They have tackled safes with thermal launchers capable of 5,500-degree heat thrust. Police experts say that gangs will lay out $10,000 for equipment to stage such jobs.

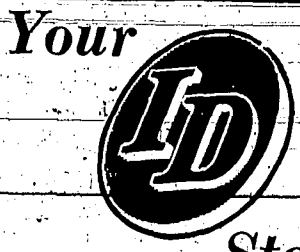

Where are the police in this race with crime? Hopelessly behind, many critics claim. Scandals in their ranks have shaken morale and public confidence. The police claim they are not supplied the necessary manpower or equipment.

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

By ANDREW TULLY
WASHINGTON, Sept. 6—A funny thing happened to the city at Atlanta when the stadium was built. It was built with taxpayers' money, it was discovered, it wouldn't have any teams to put in the costly temple.

The stadium was being built to accommodate the Atlanta Braves baseball team and the St. Louis Cardinals football club. But now the Cardinals have backed out and it is likely the Braves will do likewise.

RICH ON TAXPAYERS'
DOUGH—Atlanta's plight is glaring example of the frivolous business dealings of professional hard-nosed speculators who get rich on the taxpayers' dough. The situation is worthy of the attention even of those citizens who don't know a baseball from a muskmelon because they are helping to finance the game.

Baseball, of course, is usually regarded itself as a business. Both federal and local officials on the Atlanta job, in helping to build the stadium, are helping to finance the game.

DO STADIUM FINANCIAL DRAIN—Here in Washington, neither the baseball managers in the National Football League nor the baseball players, operated for the most part by a single man, who got rich on the taxpayers' dough. The situation is worthy of the attention even of those citizens who don't know a baseball from a muskmelon because they are helping to finance the game.

Baseball, of course, is usually regarded itself as a business. Both federal and local officials on the Atlanta job, in helping to build the stadium, are helping to finance the game.

BALL PARK A STATUS SYMBO—It seems a city is not "in" unless it is spending the poor suckers' money on these garish ball parks. New York City coughed up 20 million dollars for Shea stadium, one of the 150 or so clubs whose only visible attraction is a tedious jokester named Casey Stengel. Houston is building a 30 million dollar ball park. San Francisco spent 10 million dollars plus on Candlestick park, and Pittsburgh is planning a 14 million dollar stadium for the baseball Pirates and football Steelers.

Politicians, of course, go along with this legalized banditry because it is not regarded as a taxpayer's sport. And yet big-time baseball is no longer a sport but a hard-headed business endeavor in the hands of a few men who are held in brutal bondage by selfish financiers.

Views of Others

INVASION OF MOTORIST'S PRIVACY
Somebody or some thing in this country seems determined to take all the fun out of driving. In many of the states, a policeman can stop a car on the highway, behind any one of which may be lurking a policeman with a radar set. In some of our otherwise civilized cities, motorists are harassed by policemen shouting such obscenities as you can't drive it, park it, through loudspeakers. The highways themselves are becoming wider, straighter, faster and less interesting.

Now comes a device which in the name of progress, could send us all to the edge of insanity. It is a device which is being tested at the bottom of the automobile, scans and paints the highway and translates them into spoken words which come out of a speaker near the driver's seat.

The ostensible plan is to use it to warn motorists when they are in the wrong lane and to give them advance information about road junctions. But the inventor has made the obvious suggestion that it could also carry advertising messages, and so long as the possibility exists, we are sure it will be exploited.

Perhaps one day the cost of highways will be defrayed not by gasoline taxes but through the sale of advertising space along the asphalt. The next segment of route 21, the voice will say, "is brought to you by the makers of new Qlde, the washday product with the extra punch." During election campaigns, billboards will blare with promises and warnings of disaster. The cities will not allow their borders to remain silent, nor will the states. "Come again to Washington, the Evergreen State! Motorists will hear as they cross the Interstate bridge. "Welcome to Idaho, land of Famous Potatoes!"

It will be a great step forward in the technology of communication, and our grandchildren will wonder how the old folks ever got along without it. For their information, we have got to permit to do so for a little while longer.—Lewiston Tribune.

SHORT WAVE GAB
The federal communications commission is engaged in a proper crackdown on misuse of the citizens band short wave radio services, the fascinating means by which ordinary persons can communicate with one another over short distances with portable equipment.

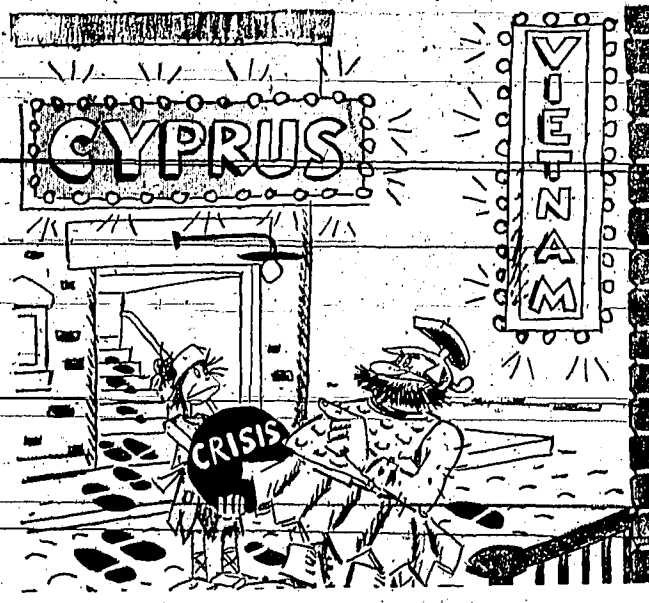

When the FCC started in 1959 to allow use of certain channels for this service it had in mind stranded motorists communicating with garages, campers keeping in touch in the wilderness, business men talking to their truck drivers, farm wives communicating with their husbands in the fields, and so on.

But now it turns out that the service is being used a great deal for idle chit chat, gossip and gab, with hobbyists talking to one another about their hobbies and their interests in the hobby. This is illegal. Those who use a radio as a hobby must do so in the authorized way; they must pass examinations in technical matters and employ the designated channels.

No technical proficiency is required for using the citizens band; the equipment costs about $100 and there are some 700,000 licensees from coast to coast. Restrictions aimed at curbing small talk have been placed on Nov. 15. They are not effective until the "yes" channel is closed. The commission has repeatedly warned that hobby transmissions are illegal on the channels in question; those who actually need the transmissions have a stake in conforming to regulations.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

NOT A TRACE OF MELLOWING
Photographs taken by American reconnaissance satellites over the Soviet Union are said to be excellent. The number of tanks and other military equipment on the roof of a Moscow department store, while others show Russian peasants going about their glum chores on the windy steppes. The one thing the cameras have not been able to snap, so far as any evidence that the communists are mellowing.—Philadelphia Bulletin.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7 (U.S.)—Sen. Barry Goldwater's speech, normally one of his presidential bids, contained no surprises but was rather a kind of foundation for what he can say later in the campaign.

The speech Thursday was a round-up of positions he has stated before. For this reason, the Republican bid contained no surprises but was rather a kind of foundation for what he can say later in the campaign.

POT SHOTS

BEHIND THE AHEMI
Dear Dinny:
It goes on and on. X-rays, poking, prodding and then always back to the bed.

They keep leaving the door open but the only way I can see through the doorway is to peer around a strategically-placed stainless steel container with a handle (commonly used by bedfast prisoners) and a paper sack cover. Approaching the problem from the standpoint of a casual visitor, he peers through the doorway, spots the strategically-placed container and then may happen to see me peering from behind it.

The worst thing of all resulted from a plot involving one of those white-uniformed guards and printers of the T.N. Along with breakfast Sunday morning came a copy of the "County Fair Times" with the inscription above the top—"Pot Shots Still Gooding Off." Unkind, unmerciful, even libelous. How could an angel of mercy like Mrs. Clough (I don't verify) be involved? It's not enough to suppress the role of those printing devils.

HASTE HELPS REPAIRMENT
Dear Pops:
July Harding, daughter of Mrs. Joyce Harding, Filer, decided to defrost her refrigerator. Getting a little impatient, she went to work with a knife to hurry the process along. This was a mistake, she soon learned, when she punctured a gasoline.

Time elapsed and the refrigerator was repaired. At least they thought so. Sooner it wouldn't work because of moisture getting in the gaslines. The repairman was called again.

Heat lamps were put to use to dry up the moisture. Wednesday evening saw a look of amazement, disgust and what have you on Mrs. Harding's face as she opened the refrigerator and saw the inside. The plastic on the door and shelves had melted to a wad of goo. To leave Mrs. Harding would settle for an old-time ketchup about now.

The Doctor Says

BY WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
A woman's 6-month-old grandchild has a weeping eruption all over his body. The doctor called it eczema.

The mother substituted goat's milk for cow's milk in his formula. He also presented a teething ailment but since the eruption is slow in clearing up, the doctor is worried and wants to know more about this condition.

The eczema of most infants is due to some form of allergy. Although many doctors believe that a wheat allergy is the cause, it has been shown by carefully controlled observations that cow's milk alone is rarely, if ever, the principal cause. It may, however, be a factor. Eggs and orange juice are some combinations of these foods may be the underlying cause.

Infantile eczema usually shows some improvement in the summer and, regardless of season, often clears up spontaneously by the time the child is 2 years old. These same children, however, are apt to develop hay fever or asthma as they grow older. One baby who was allergic to wool was cured of his eczema when a woolly toy animal was taken away from him and replaced by one of the new synthetic toys.

Whatever the cause, soap and water (especially hard water), and a hot sunbath will aggravate the condition. Overfeeding, especially with fatty foods, will also make the eczema worse.

An important part of the treatment is to prevent the child from scratching the lesions. This may require putting splints on his arms. The skin should be cleaned with lanolin or mineral oil. Antibiotics are sometimes necessary to prevent or cure infection. The treatment is difficult and authorities do not always agree on what is the most effective treatment.

Your doctor may have to try several methods before any improvement is noted. A corticosteroid cream, applied sparingly, is recommended by some. A crude coal tar cream has proved very effective in many cases but it should be made with a greasy base like a vanishing cream.

Q—My 8-year-old grandchild has become so fond of cow drinks that she has not been able to eat anything else. She drinks them at mealtimes instead of milk and her parents say they won't do her any harm. What do you think?

A—Although the cow drink contains a good deal of protein, it is not a reason for giving it to her in this matter. Being the grandmother does not leave you in a very good spot to dictate the way the child is brought up.

Religion in America

BY LOUIS CASSELL
United Press International
America's proudly styled itself a "nation under God." But it is permitted to grow up illiterate as far as religion is concerned.

This situation did not result from a constitutional amendment preventing teaching of religion in public schools.

Even if Congress were to approve such an amendment, which now appears highly unlikely, it would simply restore the national illusion that children are receiving a religious education when they are exposed to rote recitation of prayers and random readings from the Bible.

The real problem has been obscured by all the controversy over the peripheral issue of school prayers. It is to provide an adequate systematic instruction on religion to children who attend public schools.

Some public school parents would like to wash their hands of this difficult problem on the grounds that the supreme court has forbidden them to touch it. But the court did nothing of the kind. It went out of its way to say in the 1963 prayer case that it was not to be construed as an objection to a study of religion as part of a secular program of education in public schools.

This dictum was clearly intended as an invitation to public school systems to begin teaching about religion in the same spirit that they teach about other things such as politics, on which Americans have widely differing opinions.

Available evidence indicates that few public school systems have thus accepted this challenge.

Before any religious leader accuses stones at the public schools for their seeming neglect of the religious education problem, he should examine the curriculum. Among Protestants particularly, it is a record of inadequate measures, half-heartedly pursued.

Twelve years ago, in the Zorach case, the supreme court upheld the constitutionality of "released time" arrangements under which children are excused from school for religious instruction.

More than 100 shared-time experiments are now under way in various parts of the country. One involves Catholic children. The major Protestant denominations seem content at present to adopt resolutions approving of the shared-time concept. For somebody else, that leaves Sunday school an institution which Protestants tend to hold in uncritical veneration. The trouble with Sunday school is that it usually offers a halfhearted hour of instruction about religion—and this frequently is given by inadequately trained teachers under classroom conditions approaching bedlam.

No one would seriously expect to see a child study mathematics in 20 hours per year, even with the best teachers and the best classroom conditions. No one should be surprised if children learn under such circumstances.

Record Enrollment Expected in 10 Idaho Colleges

BY JOHN WHITE
Associated Press Writer
Idaho's 10 public and private universities will open this month with an expected record enrollment of 19,500 students, an increase of nearly 10.5 per cent over last year.

The five private institutions expect an enrollment of 3,500, while the approximately 14,000 students in the public-supported junior colleges. The University of Idaho estimates an enrollment of 5,400 and Idaho State University expects a record enrollment of 4,000.

While most presidents anticipate little trouble handling the record enrollment, many, particularly the heads of public supported institutions, fear the quality of their programs may suffer.

"We may not be able to teach them to the limit of their ability, but rather to the limit of the faculty to handle the large volume of students," said Dr. Laurance Zink, dean of Idaho State University, adding:

"In this case, we will be cheating the people of the state who support our institutions."

Dr. Donald R. Theophilus, president of the University of Idaho, said he has found it necessary to restrict fall enrollment of both resident and non-resi-

IEA to Interview State Candidates

BOISE, Sept. 7 (AP)—The newly-formed legislative action committee of the Idaho Education Association announced it will interview legislative candidates and urge support of lawmakers favorable to education.

The committee was meeting in Boise for the first time to discuss organization and procedure.

Mrs. Donald Dietz, a high school teacher from Kimberly, was named chairman and Stella Warren-Lawiston, was chosen an secretary.

Executive Secretary Elmer Crowley said the committee will implement the IEA's public information program. He said plans call for teams of education officials which will visit various sections of the state to explain needs of public education and to urge support of the unified education committee's legislation program.

for unconditional enrollment in the fall semester. He said those in the lower quarter will be accepted for the spring semester or in the fall if they successfully complete the college board entrance examination.

He said enrollment of out-of-state students has been restricted to those finishing in the upper one-fourth of their classes and that enrollment in the university "graduate schools" has been curtailed.

Idaho State has restricted enrollment of out-of-state students to those finishing in the upper half of their classes but is accepting all qualified Idaho applicants.

Said Dr. Theophilus: "We just don't have the money to do the job expected of us. Our classrooms and laboratory facilities are inadequate and while we have a fine staff we were able to add only one new member this year to handle an expected increase of 400 students."

Theophilus and Gale agreed that a revision of the state's tax structure is necessary.

"The legislature has treated the university fairly considering the money available," said Theophilus. "However, that isn't enough. If the residents of Idaho want quality services they are going to have to demand a complete revision of the tax structure and very probably the enactment of a sales tax."

Gale said he doesn't believe education in Idaho will realize its potential until more money is provided for the elementary and secondary schools. "These are the schools that provide the raw material for the universities and in this case the egg deflates before the chicken is hatched," he said.

"The presidents of the state's two local tax supported junior colleges—North Idaho Junior college at Coeur d'Alene, and Boise Junior college—and of Lewis-Clark Normal school at Lewiston, a state supported two-year school—report their facilities and staffs will be taxed to the limit by increased enrollments.

The situation at Boise Junior college, which expects 2,000 full time day students, compared with 1,700 two years ago, will be eased somewhat with the opening of a $250,000 combination library and classroom building and a new vocational education facility.

In addition to its record day-long enrollment, 2,000—expects 4,000 students to attend night courses.

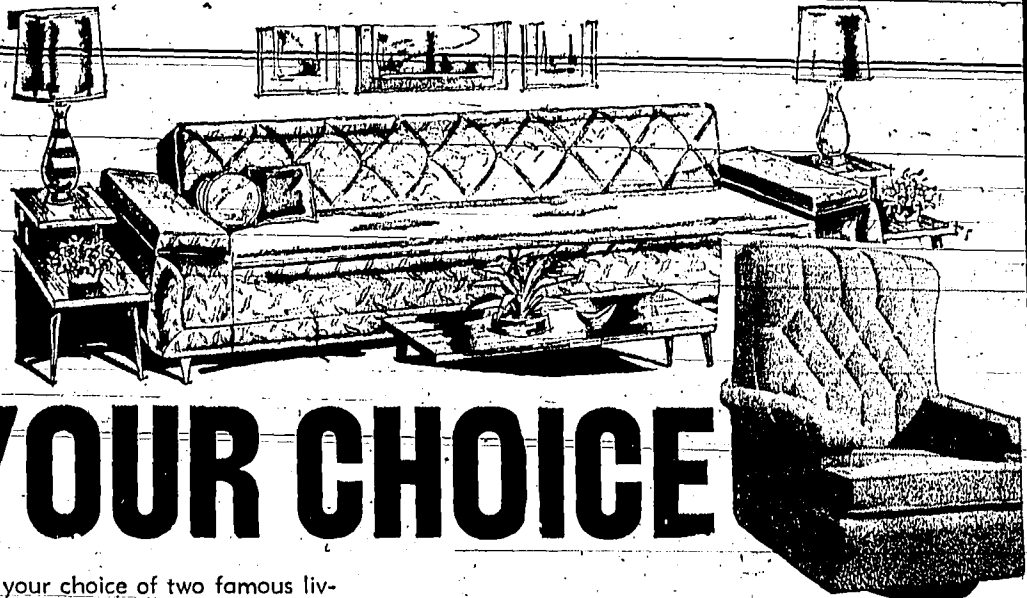

P. A. Christanson, president of N.I.J.C., said he is looking for approximately 700 full time students, about 100 more than 1953's record registration.

Luci Johnson Campaigns For Father

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 7 (AP)—Luci Johnson, 7-year-old daughter of the president, campaigned for her father with all the aplomb of a seasoned politician in Louisiana over the week-end.

Everywhere she went, she was cheered.

Luci flew back to Washington yesterday after christening a ship, seeing a pro football game and attending a festival.

She probably did her best to get Democratic Gov. John McKeithen's support for her father. McKeithen has said that Republican presidential candidate Barry Goldwater seems to have the upper edge in Louisiana at present.

The governor's two oldest children—Fox, 17, and Rebecca, 16—were Luci's companions for part of the week-end visit.

"She's so nice," said Rebecca.

BOISE, Sept. 7 (AP)—The Idaho Music Educators' association will send a delegate to Washington, D. C., in December for a music teaching demonstration sponsored by the National Education Association. The delegate was made at a week-end board meeting. Ferris Edgely, Pocatello, was confirmed as association vice president.

POCATELLO, Sept. 7 (AP)—Pocatello American Legion post No. 4 plans to merge with post No. 124, the all-Negro post in the state. The vote for merger was unanimous.

BOISE, Sept. 7 (AP)—A cartoon in the current issue of the State publication of the inmates of the Idaho state penitentiary, shows that politics penetrate behind prison walls. It shows two inmates emerging from a tunnel under the wall, one saying: "Extremism in pursuit of liberty is no vice."

LEWISTON, Sept. 7 (AP)—Rep. Compton L. White, R. D. Ida., planned to attend a Labor day breakfast in Lewiston today on a campaign tour during a full congressional activity.

BLANKFOOT, Sept. 7 (AP)—The eastern Idaho state fair opens Tuesday to an expected attendance of 110,000 for its five days of exhibits and activities. There are 87 entries in Tuesday's parade. Schools will be out and children will be admitted free that day, as well as Saturday. Persons over 60 will attend without charge on Wednesday, senior citizens' day.

BOISE, Sept. 7 (AP)—The legislative action committee of the Idaho Education association plans to ask legislative candidates how they stand and urge public support of those favorable to education. That action was decided on at the first meeting of the group over the week-end.

BOISE, Sept. 7 (AP)—Idahoans who want to develop soil, water and woodlands on their farms and ranches for better wildlife habitat can apply for federal funds to help pay the cost. They can also get technical advice from the state fish and game department, said director John H. Woodworth. He said the department enforces the program, under which the agriculture department shares costs for conservation practices.

Search for Robbers Is Continuing

POCATELLO, Sept. 7 (AP)—A search for three gunmen who robbed a Pocatello supermarket Friday night of $1,700 continues today, but it appeared to have slipped through an area-wide dragnet.

The men were last seen footing it across a weeded field after their car smashed into a parked vehicle during their getaway.

Police said two of the suspects entered the store armed with pistols while the third snatched the loot from cash drawers.

A foul-up in the police department sent a squad of officers to the wrong store Friday night. The department was called during a holiday by 18-year-old Stephen Hiroto who was working in a backroom and overheard the bandits giving orders.

Police said the car the trio abandoned was registered to a known Wyoming criminal.

Tryouts

Tryouts for Pled Piper of Hamelin will be held from 7 until 9 p.m. Tuesday and Wednesday night for adults in the basement of the Twin Falls public library for the children's theater production.

Six men and five women will take part in the presentation. Tryouts for the ten children parts in the play will be held from 6 to 8 p.m. Thursday and Friday in the basement of the library.

Children wishing to tryout should acquaint themselves with the story of Pled Piper of Hamelin, the poem written by Robert Browning and should have a short poem memorized and an original pantomime worked up.

The show will be presented Oct. 23, 24 and 25.

Carey Home Has Small Fire

CAREY, Sept. 7 (AP)—Bedding and curtains at the home of Leonard Carey, Carey, were destroyed by fire at 8:30 p.m. Thursday.

No one was hurt by the fire. However, two small children were in the bedroom at the time of the fire. One of the children started to cry when the fire broke out and the fire was put out by a neighbor. Cause of the fire has not been determined.

NO PROGRESS

PROVO, Sept. 7 (AP)—R. L. Belding, manager of the Provo fabricating plant of Pittsburgh-Des Moines Sibel company, yesterday reported no progress toward the settlement of a six day old strike which has idled about 85 production workers.

The Daily Investor

Q. I find your column very helpful and normally agree with what you write. But I must dispute a statement you made recently. You wrote that as far as a stockholder is concerned there is no difference between a stock split and a stock dividend. I disagree. A stock split will not only create additional shares but will also increase the cash dividend paid on each share and the value of each share. On the other hand, a stock dividend does not decrease the value of each share nor does it reduce the cash dividend paid on each share. When you correct your error on this subject?

A. There's no reason to, because you are the one who's wrong—dead wrong. But don't feel badly about it. Many other people are equally confused. They just can't seem to get it through their heads that both a stock split and a stock dividend simply cut each share of ownership of a corporation into smaller pieces, but all too many investors and would-be investors draw blanks on the whole subject—as you have.

So, suppose we use an example in an attempt to enlighten you. Let's say that XYZ Corporation has exactly one million shares of common stock outstanding owned by stockholders. The market value of the stock is $100, making the total market value of the company $100 million dollars.

Now let's say that the stock is split two for one or that a 100 per cent stock dividend is declared. Either would have the same effect. As a result of either move, there would be two million shares of stock outstanding. Each share would represent half as much ownership of the company as each of the smaller number of shares did before the two-for-one split or 100 per cent stock dividend. And each of the doubled number of shares of stock would have a market value of $50, give or take a bit for the ups and downs of stock market trading.

Bids

DULUTH, Sept. 7 (AP)—Buhl school building is being a "cut" for ranked bids for roofing approximately 4,436 square feet of the eighth street wing of the F. H. Buhl Junior high school building. Bids will be submitted up until 8 p.m. Monday, Sept. 14, at which time they will be opened and read. Interested persons may obtain specifications and bid forms at the office of Ray Engelking, superintendent of Buhl public schools.

Chilean Exchange Student Enrolls as Jerome Senior

JEROME, Sept. 7 (AP)—Carlos Jose Gutierrez-Kompatski, 17, Jerome's third foreign exchange student, enrolled in the senior class last week with high hopes for the coming year.

Carlos, whose home is Valdivia, Chile, stated he did not foresee any difficulties in the transition and he likes Jerome and his host parents and family very much.

He also stated he hopes to have conquered the language barrier within a month or two. He has had four years of English and six years of German. Carlos quit school in the middle of the year to travel to Jerome where he will complete his senior year. However, he will be required to return to school to make the year up before his graduation from the Chilean high school.

He stated that in Chile they go to school six days a week and have 12 subjects to study—English, physics, chemistry, biology, Spanish, government, history, geography, mathematics, philosophy, religion, French and physical education.

He said the Chilean schools have athletic competition with other schools in soccer, basket-

Boy, 16, Is Held on Arson Count

HAZLET, Ore., Sept. 7 (AP)—A 16-year-old boy was held yesterday on a charge of first degree arson in connection with the fiery deaths of three brothers and a sister, the Baker county sheriff's office said.

Roger Wyatt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Conril Wyatt, was lodged at the county jail here.

David Wyatt, 27, Mary, 10, and Ross, 8, died in the fire at the Wyatt's two-story home last Monday. Donald, 19, died in a Baker hospital Tuesday.

Two other children, Randall, 14, and Chris, 12, were severely burned and taken to hospital at Salt Lake City. Roger and his parents were not burned. The Wyatts were in the downstairs part of the home and their seven children were upstairs.

The sheriff's office would not comment on any possible motive for the arson. Roger was released from the MacLaren school for boys at Woodburn Ore., in March.

County Judge Lloyd Rea said he will decide this week, possibly Tuesday, whether to remand the youth to adult court.

Blind Operator Leaves Capitol

BOISE, Sept. 7 (AP)—A decade in closing in a nook of the Idaho statehouse.

Casey, the blind coffee shop operator, has sold his corner store to take a vacation—his first in 17 years—and to find another challenge.

Casey's corner, as it was called, furnished statehouse employees with everything from coffee to Alaska Bitters. Sometimes the customer had to sort of do a lot of things for himself—but he never looked down on Casey as the "blind man."

"Morning, Orville," a customer would say. "Cup of coffee, please."

Clogged

EDINBURGH, Scotland, Sept. 7 (AP)—The North Forth road toll bridge, opened by Queen Elizabeth II last Friday, was clogged by an eight-mile traffic jam yesterday.

A bridge official said it would appear everyone is driving over slowly, determined to get their half crown's (35 cents) worth.

Miss Maxfield, McCandless Say Nuptial Vows

BUHL, Sept. 7 - St. John's Lutheran church, Buhl, was the scene for the Aug. 8 candlelight wedding ceremony uniting in marriage Miss Andrea Maxfield, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Maxfield, Buhl, and John McCandless, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne McCandless, Filer.

The Rev. Maynard Hilkendorf solemnized the double ring nuptials before a packed and sitting of white wrought iron candleholders with lit tapers flanked by beauty baskets of white carnations and crystal blue carnations tied with ornate satin bows and streamers.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attired in a white classic design gown fashioned of bouquet taffeta and imported French lace. The fitted bodice was embellished with a delicate necklace and long tapered sleeves. Motifs of lace held in place with seed pearls detailed the neckline and patterned the front of the red silk floor-length skirt.

A detachable full skirt of self fabric cascaded into a brush train. A cluster of petite buds and leaves embellished with seed pearls released her bouquet.

Bridesmaids, a gift from the bridegroom, complimented her ensemble. The bride carried a white Bible topped with a pale pink orchid enhanced with sprays of white carnations, and flowing satin streamers.

For tokens of sentiment, the bride wore pearl earrings borrowed from her grandmother, Mrs. Allen Maxfield, and wore a ten year old two-cent piece in her shoe, belonging to the bridegroom's father.

Rita Hollingsworth, cousin of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore a blue floor-length gown with a sleeveless bodice, scooped neckline and bell-shaped skirt. She carried a cascade bouquet of white carnations adorned with satin bows and streamers.

Bridesmaids were Mary Hollingsworth, cousin of the bride, and Barbara Rowe. Kathy McCandless, sister of the bridegroom, was junior bridesmaid. They wore identical crystal blue and carried cascade bouquets of white carnations.

Best man, a gift from the bridegroom, was a gift from the bridegroom. The bridegroom was dressed in a full skirted white tuxedo over a crystal blue street-length frock. She carried a white lace basket decorated with a crystal blue pearl de sole and flowing white satin streamers from which she scattered pink rose petals.

Denton Maxfield, brother of the bridegroom, carried the rings on a heart-shaped white satin pillow edged with lace, made by Mrs. Bethel Moore.

Best man, a gift from the bridegroom, was a gift from the bridegroom. The bridegroom was dressed in a full skirted white tuxedo over a crystal blue street-length frock. She carried a white lace basket decorated with a crystal blue pearl de sole and flowing white satin streamers from which she scattered pink rose petals.

and Charles Matthews, Kathy McCandless and Bobby Maxwell served as candlelighters.

Mrs. O. A. Graesch, organist, played traditional wedding music accompanied Mrs. Rene James, soloist.

The bride's mother wore a dark beige brocade sheath dress with brown accessories and a rose orchid corsage. The bridegroom's mother selected a blue lined sheath dress with brown accessories and a rose orchid corsage. The bride's paternal grandmother, Mrs. Maxfield, wore a black lined sheath dress with a red carnation corsage.

Following the ceremony, the newlyweds greeted guests at a reception held in the church parlors. The bride table was covered with a white lace tablecloth underscored with crystal blue satin and centered with a four-tiered wedding cake.

The cake, iced in white, featured blue doves, white swans and rose seed accents on the filigree scrolls, lattices work, wedding bells and butterfiles. It was topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom under circular tiered arches of ruffled tulle centered with two tiny wedding bells, each holding a silver wedding band. Crystal holders with white tapered tulle with satin ribbon completed the table.

Reception assistants were Mrs. Roy Weir, aunt of the bridegroom; Mrs. Lyle Yarnall, aunt of the bride; Mrs. Rose Jarrold and Mrs. Elwood McCauley. They were assisted by Junia Meier, Shirley Meier, Susan Yauch and Barbara Yauch and by women of the Lutheran Women's Missionary League.

Roseann Weaver, Linda Roberts, Charlotte Malone and Dorothy Daughman presided at the gift table. Mrs. Robert Loughmiller was in charge of the guest book.

For her wedding trip, the bride and McCandless chose a blue crepe afternoon dress with black accessories and the pink orchid corsage from her bridal bouquet.

The bride is a 1964 graduate of Buhl high school. The bridegroom is a 1960 graduate of Filer high school. He attended the University of Idaho and Santa Ana college, California. He is presently stationed at Offutt air force base, Nebraska. The couple will reside at 5589 South 33rd, Omaha, Neb.

Pre-nuptial showers honoring the bride include a kitchen shower hosted by Mrs. Betty Loughmiller and Barbara Rowe and a miscellaneous shower hosted by Mrs. C. W. Hollingsworth, Mrs. Bethel Moore, Mrs. Alvin Dudley and Mrs. Edward Jarrold.

A miscellaneous shower was held at the home of Mrs. Raymond Kohntopp, Filer, with Mrs. Elwood McCauley, Mrs. Wade Sharp and Mrs. Horace Smith as co-hostesses. Be sure your WILL is written by an Idaho attorney

In almost every case where people move into a new state, they should revise their Wills. If you recently moved into Idaho, make sure your Will is reviewed by an Idaho attorney. It's important!

The laws of the state where you previously lived may differ from those of Idaho. And there may be other complications, too.

Sweet Cards 63 to Take Three-Stroke Lead in Magic Valley Golf Meet

Miko Sweet turned loose a deadly iron and putting game Sunday to fire a five-under-par 63 and take the lead in the Magic Valley Amateur golf tournament. Sweet, from Parma and headed for University of Utah's law college, entered the second day of the 54-hole meet four shots behind Twin Falls' Jim Purves and came out of it with a three-shot edge over the gravelly leader. The tournament will wind-up at the Twin Falls municipal golf course Monday. In a 10-man elimination derby Sunday, Harvey Schlegel, bridled the ninth hole to nip Sweet for the title. Miko, a 16-year-old, was third, missing an 18-inch putt on the eighth hole. Schlegel had two under for the extra nine and Sweet, was one under.

Chicago Gains Bill Split With Indians

CHICAGO, Sept. 7 (AP)—The Chicago White Sox pushed across a run in the 13th inning of the second game Sunday and beat Cleveland 3-2, gaining a split of the doubleheader and retaining control of the pennant lead by winning the opener 2-0 behind Jack Kravitz's four-hit pitching.

ILTF Head Says Amateurism In Tennis 'Nothing but Sham'

FOREST HILLS, N. Y., Sept. 7 (AP)—The head man of the International Lawn Tennis Federation sees the day—not far off when there will be no such things as amateurs and professionals in tennis—there will only be tennis players. "It's not a question of open tournaments any more," Eton Griffith of London, a visitor at the U. S. national championships said today. "The high-placed men in tennis are becoming more aware that amateurism is a sham. It appears that the best solution is to throw all players into a single category and let them play it out."

Club Sets Dog Trial To Honor Founder

Final plans are now under way for the fall trial of the Magic Valley German Shorthair Pointer club to be held in memory of the late Dr. Max Wilkinson who founded the club last year. A large memorial trophy will be awarded to the top dog of the two-day trial, set for Sept. 10 and 20 miles south of Twin Falls. This will be a traveling trophy and will be awarded twice a year. The pointer that wins the trophy three times will retire it.

The trial will begin at 8 a.m. on the first day and the second day will be set aside for the puppy and derby stakes. Plans will be furnished by the club to game department and Bob White will be used in the gun dog stake.

Clubs from Montana and Utah will be represented at the trial along with several clubs from Idaho.

Robin Reed, Twin Falls, will be the field trial secretary, the judges will be Boyd Bronson, Salt Lake City, Floyd Jones, Idaho Falls, and Darrell Sweet, Don

Osuna is Almost Upset in Tourney

FOREST HILLS, N. Y., Sept. 7 (AP)—Defending champion Rafael Osuna of Mexico had to call on every ounce of his court speed and wizardry Sunday to avert a strong upset bid by Donald Dell, Bethesda, Md., in the second round of the National tennis championships.

Thrilling a gallery of 8,000, the lightning-quick server and the feathery touch finally survived 2 1/2 hours of sparkling tennis for an 11-9, 6-4, 10-8 victory. It was the best match so far in the tournament.
