

GOP Aide Is Out of Campaign

BOISE, Oct. 6 (P)—Elimination of Idaho from the jurisdiction of Citizens for Goldwater coordinator Ronald Wilbur, Lewiston, was revealed yesterday and Gov. Robert E. Smylie said it would help the GOP campaign.

Wilbur was directed at the request of a national committee of the citizens organization to confine his work to Montana and Wyoming in a move to soothe ruffled feelings and improve party harmony in Idaho. He had dropped off the Goldwater plane when the senator spoke in Boise last month with an announcement that he had been named coordinator for the three states. It came as a surprise to Idaho GOP leaders. Smylie had only this comment:

"The action will serve to clarify the campaign effort and make it more effective." It was learned from other sources that Smylie had objected to the Wilbur appointment. Other Republican leaders, including Goldwater backers, supported the move because they felt it would contribute to party unity.

Wilbur was a leader among the more strongly conservative element at the state convention in June and was a candidate for national committee. Smylie backed incumbent Marley-Markham, who was re-elected.

Clifton White, a director of the Citizens for Goldwater-Killer organization, wrote the national chairman urging elimination of Wilbur's authority in Idaho.

Wilbur was out of the state yesterday and could not be reached for comment.

State Chairman John McMurray said he hadn't known about the move.

"He wasn't doing anything and had nothing to do with our operation," said McMurray. "He wasn't bothering us."

Republicans called a truce on their internal conflict and have tried to show a united front in the campaign.

But there was an earlier rift with Markham and then Smylie complaining about Markham's replacement on the national committee by Mrs. Gwen Barnett, Boise, state committee woman.

Smylie said it would hurt party unity and reduce chances of carrying the state.

Democrats have cited Wilbur's appointment and Markham's removal as evidence that the Goldwater partisans are taking over the party machinery in Idaho.

Burley Cases Of Hepatitis Are Reported

BOISE, Oct. 6 (AP)—An outbreak of infectious hepatitis occurred in the Burley area during August and September when 23 cases were reported, the state health department said yesterday.

Dr. John A. Mathis, director of the preventive medicine division of the department, said the 14 cases included in this week's disease report are considered to have occurred in August and September and were not previously reported.

This outbreak was limited to a small group of persons and there has been no indication of the general population of the area and none is expected. The person-to-person spread of the disease was in the households of a few families.

7 Jailed for Violence in Mississippi

McCOMB, Miss., Oct. 6 (AP)—Seven more white men, including a demolition expert and a millwright's son, were arrested yesterday in connection with racial bombings and a church burning here.

Bombs, hand grenades, blasting caps and other weapons were confiscated in the arrests which brought to 11 the number of local men charged with racial violence.

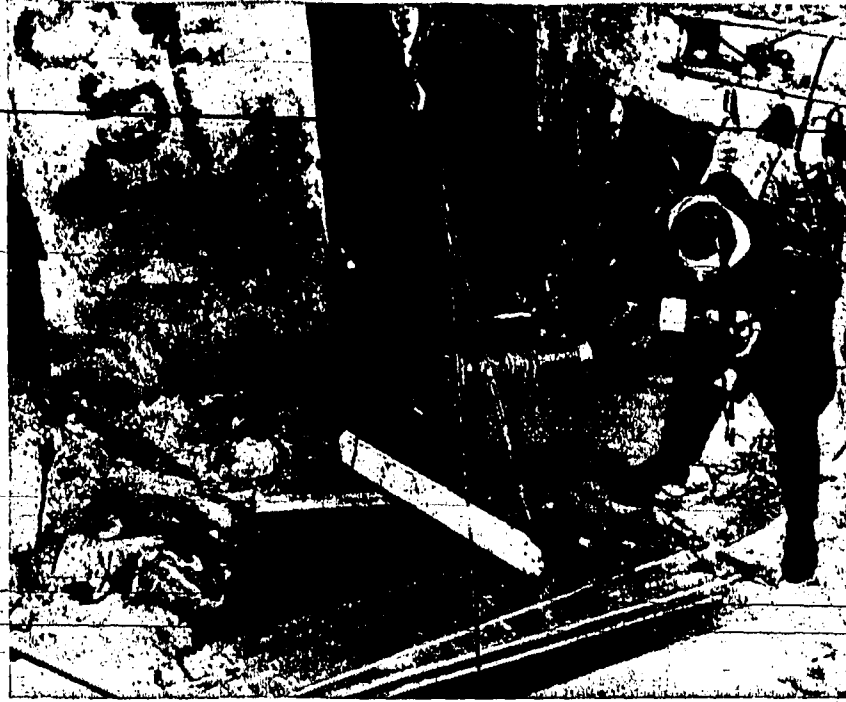

The FBI announced last yesterday the first arrest in connection with a wave of church burnings across the state.

Murphy J. Duncan, 44, an employee of an auto supply store in McComb, was accused of burning the Ebenezer Baptist mission church on July 18.

He faced the same state charge filed against the other 10. The seven men whose arrests were announced yesterday were brought to Jackson for questioning, where they joined the other four.

The cases against the men were to be considered this week by a circuit grand jury empaneled yesterday at nearby Magnolia. They are charged under a state law forbidding illegal use of explosives. Conviction carries a maximum penalty of death.

The arrests were announced in SEVEN MEN, Page 2, Col. 4.

Russia Accuses 3 U. S. Attaches Of Espionage; Charge Is Denied

MOSCOW, Oct. 6 (P)—The Soviet Union today accused three U.S. military attaches and a British attaché of espionage in Siberia but the American embassy rejected the charge. The Soviet accusation "was not responsive to our serious protests against the violations of diplomatic immunity" of the attaches, the U.S. embassy said, referring to an earlier protest that property of the attaches was seized.

The foreign ministry said it rejected the American and British protests. The Soviet protest was made public a day after Washington and London announced protests against what they called "flagrant violation" of the attaches' diplomatic immunity.

In the Soviet far eastern city of Khabarovsk Sept. 28-29 Soviet military officials "forcibly entered" the attaches' rooms and seized some of their property, the Western statements said.

The Soviet protest said more than 100 pictures, material in 20 notebooks and other materials showed that the attaches were "grossly violating the universally accepted standards of conduct of foreign diplomats."

The four are Lieut. Cmdr. Nigel N. Laylie, assistant British naval attaché in Moscow; Lieut. Col. Karl R. Liewer, assistant American military attaché; Col. George A. Sawyer, the American military attaché; and Maj. James F. Smith, an assistant American air attaché.

According to the U.S. state department report, the men, on an airmail trip through Siberia, had taken two hotel rooms in Khabarovsk.

A group of 15 Soviet officials "forcibly entered" and "forcibly searched" the two rooms. The Russians took away some of their belongings, including a wristwatch. The incident lasted approximately four hours.

The attaches went by train from Moscow to the Pacific coast of the Soviet Union, then went by ship to Tokyo, and flew today to Hong Kong. They were scheduled to return to Moscow via New Delhi, India, within the next few days.

The Soviet note said the foreign ministry "reserves the right to return to the question of the immunity of the further stay in the Soviet Union" of the four.

In past cases of Soviet accusations that Western military attaches have engaged in espionage, the men have been declared persona non grata and forced to leave the Soviet Union.

The foreign ministry said the four attaches were engaged in intelligence activities that were incompatible with their diplomatic status.

President Johnson will make first TV campaign speech.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6 (AP)—President Johnson's first nationally televised campaign speech will be Wednesday night, the White House announced today.

George E. Reedy, Johnson's press secretary, said the taped speech would be televised from 9:30 p.m. to 10 p.m. EDT, over the Columbia Broadcasting System. The broadcast time will be held for by the Johnson for President Committee.

The speech was being taped today at the White House.

Johnson has complained in the past about Democratic campaign material he charged was designed to frighten people into believing Arizona Sen. Barry Goldwater, the GOP presidential nominee, was trigger-happy and might bring on a nuclear war.

Although he hasn't mentioned it since he began formal campaigning for the White House, Goldwater proposed Oct. 24 in Hartford, Conn., that the NATO commander be given more power.

"I told the good Lord I would change my ways if he helped me," Goldwater said later from a hospital bed where he was wrapped in blankets.

"My feet are still cold from being in the water so long," he said. "I was a member of the crew of the Bonnie Fortune, a 60-foot pilot vessel given around near Vashon Island Sunday night by high winds and large waves. When leaping for the deck of the rescue vessel, Neece slipped and fell into the water."

He was quickly swept away by the current. Clad in raincoat and a life jacket, he tried to swim back but could not, buck the waves.

"I told the good Lord I would change my ways if he helped me," Neece said later from a hospital bed where he was wrapped in blankets.

Neece was picked up around dawn yesterday by a rescue helicopter. His body temperature was down to 84 degrees.

Neece, a ruggedly built man, complained only of a sore throat and cold feet.

Ike Is in Middle of Arms Control Row

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6 (P)—Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower was in the middle today—between Democrats and Republicans—each claiming he was on their side in a dispute over nuclear-weapons control. It began yesterday when the GOP unveiled a task-force report claiming President Johnson had over-extended his control of field-type nuclear weapons.

This, the GOP group contended, has damaged U.S. security. Eisenhower appeared at a New York news conference, but wouldn't endorse or reject the report.

He deplored the injection of the nuclear-weapons issue into the presidential campaign and added: "I don't think these are things that ought to be talked out in detail. . . I don't think we should reach conclusions till we have heard all the facts."

The White House promptly released a statement denying that President Johnson agreed with Eisenhower that "it is not in the best interests of the country to take our defense plans and make them public."

Dean Burch, Republican national chairman, said Johnson's comment was "a blatant attempt to get off the hook of an issue which is embarrassing him and his administration because the Democrats have used the question of nuclear weapons to stir fear and horror into their hearts."

Burch has complained in the past about Democratic campaign material he charged was designed to frighten people into believing Arizona Sen. Barry Goldwater, the GOP presidential nominee, was trigger-happy and might bring on a nuclear war.

Although he hasn't mentioned it since he began formal campaigning for the White House, Goldwater proposed Oct. 24 in Hartford, Conn., that the NATO commander be given more power.

Lost Time

OMAHA, Neb., Oct. 6 (AP)—Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey may become a clock watcher.

Humphrey placed his watch on the speaker's podium during his address last night to keep track of the time he left the podium during the applause that followed his speech.

When he returned to get his watch, it was gone.

The motion passed unanimously.

City Police Judge Dale Adams in a communication to the commission asked for a 30-day leave of absence and temporary judge was named temporary police judge.

In other city commission business Monday night Chairman Exon, Kroll, appointed a seven-member committee to study the members of the commission will serve on the board. They are Feldman and McIntyre. Others named to the board are Kenneth Johnson, Edward Johnson, Arnold Bryson, Joe Koon and Francis Tjork, all city employees.

City Manager H. L. Derrick a month ago asked that the board be appointed to investigate accidents involving city vehicles or employees.

The commission also voted to protest an application by Bonanza Airlines for permit to establish a non-stop Boise to Los Angeles flight. The city has previously protested similar action.

Sun Valley Sold, Effective Dec. 1, To California Firm

BY G. A. (GUS) KELLER
SUN VALLEY, Oct. 6 — In what is believed to be one of the major transactions in the history of Idaho real estate, the famed Sun Valley resort property will change hands effective Dec. 1. Sun Valley was established by the Union-Pacific railroad in 1936, and since that time developed into one of the major ski and outdoor resort areas in the world. The sale was announced at noon today at a meeting in the Opera house which was attended by more than 300 employees.

The announcement meeting took approximately five minutes to complete.

The new owners will be the Janus corporation, Los Angeles, a large developing company. Announcement of the sale, long in the rumor state, was made by Winston McGraw, resort manager.

He read a telegram to the employees who gathered for the meeting, and said the sale was from A. E. Stoddard, president of Union Pacific. McGraw, in reading the telegram, said arrangements for completion of the sale had been made and that Janus would take over Dec. 1.

He also announced that any employees who wanted to remain with the new setup, and who was qualified in the job he wanted, would be assured of a position.

A representative of the Janus corporation—Mr. Leggett, a vice president of the firm—was scheduled to arrive in Sun Valley today to represent the company during the changeover.

The telegram from the president of the railroad was received Monday night, according to information received.

Formal public notice of the sale is expected to be made in Los Angeles Wednesday during a press conference called by officials of the Janus group.

Establishment of Sun Valley was the dream child of W. Averell Harriman, then chairman of the board of Union Pacific. He personally aided in selection of the site.

Amount of money involved in the sale was not announced, but full details are expected at the Los Angeles meeting.

In making the announcement McGraw said, "You people were profited around the sale, the outcome of the negotiations."

They had been wondering, as had most valley residents, because the sale was rumored and denied many times during the past few months.

Officially, it is understood. See SUN VALLEY, Page 2, Col. 4.

City Favors Prison Site for Twin Falls

Twin Falls city commission Monday evening went on record approving a move to relocate the Idaho state penitentiary in the Twin Falls vicinity. Commissioner John Angerbauer brought the motion before the group saying State Sen. George Blakk, R., Twin Falls, had asked for public comment for and against the proposal.

"I can't imagine Ada county giving up an economic plum like that and we might just as well get our bid in ahead of the other counties," said Commissioner Cal McIntyre. The city commission also approved action which will eventually lead to the construction of an additional 20 units of public housing for the elderly. The Twin Falls public housing authority in a letter asked the commission for approval to seek the construction of an additional unit in a manner similar to previous undertakings.

Commissioner Frank Feldman said he is "constitutionally opposed to subsidized housing. I don't think it is the American way to provide housing. I understand, however, that the American way is to accept the measure."

The motion passed unanimously.

WILLIAM GRANGE has resigned as secretary-manager of the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce. Grange has served in this capacity for five years and nine months.

Resignation of William (Bill) Grange as secretary-manager of the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce was tendered Tuesday night at the chamber's board meeting.

Grange said in his letter of resignation to William Rees, president, "After many weeks of serious consideration I herewith submit my resignation as secretary-manager of the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce. This decision was made reluctantly."

"The past five years and nine months have been the most gratifying of my life. Please convey my most sincere appreciation to the members of the Chamber of Commerce for giving me the opportunity to serve them and the community in a position that at times is frustrating but always interesting and rewarding."

"It is with regret that we accept this resignation," said Rees. Grange came to Twin Falls from Salt Lake City, Utah, in March, 1953, to operate an appliance store for General Electric Company. He began full-time work for the Chamber of Commerce Jan. 2, 1959, and closed See CHAMBER, Page 2, Col. 7.

Walker Says Hansen Drive Not Working

"For two weeks it has been apparent that George Hansen's campaign cannot get off the ground, Lloyd J. Walker, Idaho State Democratic chairman, asserted Tuesday.

"Now there comes a public admission of the great flop with the demand made by State Republican Chairman McMurray for a debate with Congressman Harding," Walker noted.

"This shopworn tactic just won't work, because Hansen hasn't even made enough of an impact for Idaho voters to even know who he is.

"No debate nor anything else is going to help his campaign, because the public just will not accept his brand of Goldwaterism and his past connection with members of the John Birch society," Walker stated.

Walker added, "In order to provide a real challenge, Hansen will have to take a stand on social security, reclamation, farm programs, control of the atomic bomb and other issues. Just about anything, I love Goldwater, won't fool anybody, much less an Idaho voter," he concluded.

John Wayne Wins Another Fight; This Time No Guns

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 6 (U.S.)—John Wayne, 40, said he didn't know what the hell he had but the doc said whatever it was, it looked like it.

Big John Wayne was talking from his bed at Good Samaritan hospital. He delivered the line yesterday in the same matter-of-fact way that millions of movie fans have heard the 57-year-old actor speak on the screen just after putting down an Indian uprising at Ft. Apache.

Wayne, sitting up in bed, devoured a bowl of soup, a couple of pork chops and a salad, plus dessert.

"The only trouble we have with this patient is getting him to eat," said a nurse.

"I had a rough 10 days in the intensive-care unit," said Big Duke. "They kept bringing in all those cardiac cases beside me. Finally, I told them to get me a gun—I was ready to shoot my way out."

Duke was moved to another floor quick. He may get out of the hospital next week.

"I had two operations in five days. That was the rough part. What they took that thing from my lung. When I got to coughing later, coughed so damn hard that I busted a rib. So they had to open me up again."

His son, Michael, described "that thing" as an abscess of the lung.

Phil, Duke's pretty wife, said her husband suffered from edema — an abnormal amount of fluid in the lungs.

"He swelled out so much," said Mrs. Wayne, "that he looked more like Sidney Greenstreet than Duke."

The big boy says he is OK now.

"My only discomfort," he said, "is those cigarettes."

For 40 years Duke has been a five-pack a day unfiltered cigarette smoker. He gets none in the hospital.

Wayne entered the hospital for correction of an old ankle injury. The lung complication followed.

Duke spends most of his time watching television.

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

BY ANDREW TULLY
WASHINGTON, Oct. 5—J. Edgar Hoover's report on racial violence in the North and the South, which was published in the Times-News, has been a source of much discussion here.

That is to say, Hoover rejected the premise that the disturbances were "race riots" per se. But instead called them "general attacks on all constituted authority without purpose or object." Most honest citizens will agree with this conclusion. However, Americans are inclined to take much stock in reports of race violence.

To be sure, some of the more radical Negro rights leaders encouraged these disturbances. But in every city where there were riots, there were taken over by thugs, dope addicts and kids out for kicks whose purpose was (three-fold): To speak a white man in the nose, to damage property and to steal anything they could lay their hands on.

PUBLIC FRIGHTENED—Nevertheless, the FBI report could be damaging to the Johnson campaign simply because white citizens are scared. The Louis Harris poll, which is as respectable as such surveys can be, reflects this growing anxiety across the country, and the disposition to blame the riots on President Johnson on the grounds he is too "pro-Negro."

Today, more people are worried about safety on the streets than six months ago. Today, more people feel the pace of civil rights progress has been too fast. Increasingly, according to the Harris poll, citizens are using phrases like "Negroes have gotten out of hand." Mailbox deliveries to members of congress are full of letters demanding that they "do something" about Negro encroachment in white residential areas and what they call the "government giving white men's jobs to Negroes."

TRY TREADS LIGHTLY—Lyndon Johnson, a politician with sensitive antennae, is well aware of this disturbing situation. His campaign speeches so far mostly have avoided references to the new civil rights act; his appeals for equality of citizenship have been muted. However, he does not want to acknowledge that civil rights is a campaign issue. Instead, he concentrates heavily on foreign affairs, appealing to the fears of many voters that Barry Goldwater's policies could lead to war.

But the FBI report contains a section that could have been lifted from Johnson's anti-poverty program. It is a cogent comment on the causes behind both the riots and crime in the cities.

BLAME THE RATS—These are causes that Barry Goldwater mostly has ignored in his promises to wipe out crime. He must ignore them, of course, because he has voted against every piece of legislation which would get at these causes. When Hoover writes that many of the riots sprang up in areas characterized by "separable living conditions, housing, race-integrated and filthy," he is, consciously or not, echoing phrases in the Democratic platform.

But any program to eliminate these causes must be long-range. Those citizens most worried about the safety of their streets want action now. Not only do they want action, but they would go about it, Barry Goldwater is offering it to them.

THE WHISTLE STOP: TRADITION IN A CHANGING WORLD

If there is one American political campaign it is that of a candidate who has never before been the back of a railroad car. Sen. Barry Goldwater, momentarily forsaking his jet plane, last night began the first whistle-stop tour of this election season, putting a welcome stamp of continuity on a campaign which in other respects has seemed a little out of joint with history.

Even so it is not likely that either Senator Goldwater or President Johnson will spend as much time on the rails as their predecessors. The train tour was by far the most effective means of reaching the four corners of America, composed mainly of small towns along the railroad lines. Now that we have become more urbanized, the candidates can meet the voters more efficiently in big city auditoriums and on the television screen. Not only do they have the money to do so, but for whistle-stopping is taxing work. William Jennings Bryan made 24 talks on one day while whistle-stopping in 1908, and other candidates have done almost as much. The crippled candidate who dragged himself aboard 50 campaign trains in his various stops, and covered an estimated 35,000 miles. Nobody knows how many talks he gave from the back platform, but Harry Truman delivered more than 300 speeches while covering some 21,000 miles on his famous whistle-stop tour of 1948.

The railroad car has become a memorable symbol of the American political campaign, and while its usefulness is diminishing, it is doubtful whether the jet plane will ever replace it. It is far more likely to bow to the helicopter, which is now being used by candidates for a host of other vehicles of the future.—Lexington Morning Tribune.

VOTING RECORD DISCREPANCIES

The state board of canvassers, the legislative council and the U. S. census bureau do not agree on the number of eligible voters who registered on registration books and the actual vote count in several counties.

Before placing the blame upon county clerks, state boards or the census-takers, Atty. Gen. C. E. Bond should conduct an inquiry into current voting procedures and procedures for determining if a full-fledged investigation or change in voting laws is needed.

Idaho's voter registration books should be cleaned up, free of the names of people who have passed on or whose names have moved. Possibly every four years, clerks should be required to renew their registration regardless of how long ago they have voted in the same precinct.

Mr. Shepard believes the state board of canvassers has authority to conduct such an investigation. However, the state board is not an agency of the state and should not inquire. If inaccuracies are noted in voter registration and the present procedure appears to be faulty, Mr. Shepard will favor the state by digging in.

Let's not pass the buck on this.—Noble Statesman.

MEDICAL OF FREEDOM

President Johnson's list of 30 men and women to receive the Presidential Medal of Freedom is an excellent one. The recipients are honored for creative excellence in such fields as public affairs, the arts, literature, science and entertainment. They were given the highest civil honor the President bestows, and the broadening of the field from which choices are made is another testimony to the achievements of those "who contribute significantly to the quality of American life." Some weeks before his death, Mr. Kennedy drew up a list of 31 persons to be honored, one of Mr. Johnson's early acts after assuming office was to make these presentations—first adding the names of Mr. Kennedy himself and then the names of the other 30. Mr. Kennedy's list was a stimulus to achievement and a reward for work accomplished, and they should grow in prestige with the years.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

THE LIGHTER SIDE

BY DICK WEST
WASHINGTON, Oct. 5—Earlier this summer I listed some of the horrors that I encountered while driving across the country with a 2½-year-old boy in the car.

Chief among them was the work he kept flopping back and forth between the front seat and the rear seat. As a nerve disintegrator, this compares favorably with the Chinese water torture.

Ever since then I have been getting letters from people who blame my son for something that actually was my own fault. They implied that if I had exercised the proper parental control, he would have sat quietly during the entire trip leading through back issues of the literary digest.

The authors of these letters obviously have never driven across the country with a 2½-year-old boy. Had they done so, they would know that discipline is not a factor.

I, for example, am something of a martinet. It is not without justification that my children refer to me as "The Iron Duke." But when you are on a trip with a 2½-year-old, past performance charts are meaningless.

He immediately senses that he has you in his power. If you resort to extreme measures, like anchoring him to the floorboard, he will retaliate at the next rest stop.

Let us say you are driving through the Deep South. You stop for lunch at the Manly's Little Baby Loves Shoppings Bread Bar and Grill.

All morning long, your 2½-year-old, having been restrained by an anti-flopping injunction, has been plotting revenge. Now the opportunity arises.

He gets the lunch off to a glorious start by overturning a plate of collard greens. Then he snatches up a hush puppy and sticks it in his ear.

He has everyone in the place looking at your table. You are dreadfully embarrassed, but there isn't much you can do at the time.

Threats uttered sotto voce are ineffective. And you can't really over-act without making the scene even more conspicuous.

In short, he has you over a barrel. You know he is getting even with you for curtailing his flopping. And you know that he knows you know.

You also know that unless you permit unlimited flopping for the rest of the trip, you will never have a meal you can enjoy.

It's blackmail, sure. But the case would never stand up in court. The kid is too smart for that. He makes it look accidental.

There is, however, one consolation. In six months, he won't be 2½ any longer.

Interpreting the News

BY JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON, Oct. 5—(U. S. A. secret service, whose job is protecting presidents, didn't come out of the Warren commission's investigation smelling like a rose.

After it got through investigating the assassination of President John F. Kennedy in Dallas, the seven-man commission headed by Chief Justice Earl Warren claimed the secret service for a number of shortcomings.

This agency has had the task of protecting presidents since at least 1903. The picture of it which emerges from the commission's report makes it look like a very understaffed and out-of-date.

It's no wonder, after reading the commission's criticism, that the Warren group raised this question: Should the secret service be further entrusted with protecting presidents or should other agencies be given the job?

The commission called the service "inadequate"—which seems like a mild word under the circumstances. In its advance preparations for Kennedy's trip to Dallas, its plan for identifying and protecting against persons considered threats to a president; its rules for even determining who such persons are; its plans for detecting an assassin in buildings a presidential motorcade passes.

At the time of Kennedy's trip to Dallas, the commission said the secret service "as a matter of practice" did not investigate or cause to be checked any buildings along the motorcade route taken by the president.

Lee Harvey Oswald, who worked in the Texas School Book Depository which the Kennedy motorcade passed, shot the President from the building's sixth-story window.

The commission pointed out that the secret service's precautions were "too largely directed at the group threat and not enough toward individual assassins or groups which could be considered a source of danger.

Oswald is an example. Although he had defected to the Soviet Union, then returned, distributed pro-Castro pamphlets, then tried to leave for Cuba, and was investigated by the FBI, the secret service had no record of him in Dallas.

How did this happen?

Because the secret service's main interest has been in persons making direct threats against the president, the FBI did not send it information on Oswald.

The commission criticized the FBI for not doing so although the FBI had made its own investigation into Oswald's background, and the commission said the FBI might not have "figured out" his background.

J. Edgar Hoover, director of the FBI, testified before the commission and after summarizing the bureau's investigative interest in Oswald and the assassination, he concluded that "There was nothing up to the time of the assassination that gave any indication that this man was a dangerous character who might do harm to the president or vice president."

Oswald had tried to kill former Maj. Gen. Edwin A. Walker — by shooting at him through his window — months before he killed the President, but no one knew of this until after the assassination except Oswald's wife, who said she had told the Warren commission and made its own investigation into relatives, friends, neighbors and old acquaintances of Oswald that the information came about his inclination toward violence in childhood, such as chasing his brother with a knife and throwing it at him.

The commission thinks the FBI should have told the secret service about Oswald and said it thought both agencies took too narrow a view of their separate responsibilities.

It's questionable that if the secret service had learned of Oswald from the FBI—since he had made no threat against Kennedy—it would have thought him dangerous enough, because of its limited manpower, to investigate him.

The commission has called for an overhaul of the secret service and more cooperation between investigative government agencies.

MARQUIS CHILDS WRITES ON WASHINGTON

BY MARQUIS CHILDS
WASHINGTON, Oct. 6—How to separate the actions of a President responsible for the conduct of foreign policy from the acts of a candidate appealing to the voters? That is the question that has been asked by the unanswerable question as Sen. Barry Goldwater throws out at each stop more and more charges on the administration's policy overseas.

In a recent column, I wrote of the upheaval Marquis Childs—the kind of revolutionary change that each administration grappled with since the end of World War II—the President has the greatest responsibility since a constitutional responsibility since events will not conveniently wait several months for the outcome of the American election.

Initiatives that might have been taken in foreign policy have been postponed. President Kennedy's assassination cut across a forward movement that had begun with his American university speech and the signing of the nuclear test-ban treaty. With no vice president in office, President Johnson decided, and his decision was widely approved, that he would not leave the country until after the election. Now he has let it be known if he is reelected he intends to go to Europe in January, and the inauguration in January.

But if his reasons for staying at home until Nov. 3 were valid—his safety and the need to be close at hand for an emergency—they are equally valid until both a President and a vice president have been elected. Although it is little understood, that antique rattlesnake, the electoral college, leaves large areas of doubt about the succession of the presidency.

The report of the Warren commission once again calls attention to the need for action on the part of the President. A study by Vincent A. Doyle of the Library of Congress of the death of a presidential candidate or a president-elect shows how antiquated the old-fashioned date set as yet, customary meeting between early and mid-December. While presumably the election will have made clear the continuity—or lack of it—in American foreign policy, a situation of doubt and confusion is automatically the Democratic party's candidate. That decision would have to be taken by the Democratic national committee meeting in emergency session. Presumably the choice would fall on the vice-presidential candidate, Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey. But there is no assurance of this in view of the deep currents of feeling within the party organization.

Likewise, if Senator Goldwater should be elected, the Republican publican national committee, under a continuing convention, would pick the candidate. And presumably again, the choice would fall on the vice-presidential candidate, Sen. William F. Miller, whom Goldwater picked for the No. 2 spot.

What is little understood is that after Nov. 3 and between the meeting of the electoral college and the meeting of the President-elect, the President-elect would decide who was to be President of the United States. And they would be free to choose or reject Humphrey or Miller.

When the electoral college meets on the first Monday after the second Wednesday in December—they are not bound to vote for the winners. In 34 states laws provide that the electors vote for the candidate of their own choice. The number of votes, but under the constitution their votes would be counted if they cast them for John Doe or Joe Dicks instead of Johnson or a Goldwater.

The President-elect, with European leaders at the earliest moment—understandably. He has a strong belief in the powers of personal persuasion. And there has been slipping of the reins in the year in the alliance as the new President labored to establish himself in the office and put his own stamp on the policies and programs of the administration.

The White House has let it be known that the President-elect would go to Paris in connection with the meeting of the NATO parliamentarians of the NATO Council. The parliamentarians met Nov. 10—less than two weeks after the election. The council with no date set as yet, customary meeting between early and mid-December. While presumably the election will have made clear the continuity—or lack of it—in American foreign policy, a situation of doubt and confusion is automatically the Democratic party's candidate.

Poor Man's Plato

BY HAL HOYLE
NEW YORK, Oct. 6—Here are some words to tell if you are middle-aged:

The most fun you have all day is taking off your shoes when you come home.

You don't like to see movies that have a ending.

The dentist tells you that seeing him twice a year isn't enough.

You don't have to let out your belt another notch, but you feel more comfortable if you do.

You don't buy anything in a men's store you give the salesman a long lecture on how much more expensive things are now than they used to be.

You spend more time visiting sick friends in the hospital and going to funerals.

When you break a shoelace, instead of throwing it away you tie it together and go on using it.

The fellows around the office water cooler always seem to have newer jokes than you do.

You begin to notice how much older every day seems to be.

It used to take you 20 minutes to get a haircut. Now you can get one in 10.

You get a little winded when you have to be little winded to tune the television set.

You'd rather watch the baseball game on the home screen than go out to the park. You need all that fresh air anyway!

It takes longer to wake up in the morning and longer to fall asleep at night.

Your medicine chest gets more crowded. You also read the medical column in your paper daily, even if it discusses a disease you don't have.

When you meet the big boss, he calls you by your first name and then inquires how you're feeling.

You give up your weekly night out with the boys, as your old pals seem to be getting kind of dull.

You'd rather break your leg than go dancing.

The doctor tells you if you get a little more exercise, you'd have more pep. But you say, he's both more pep and a little more pep. The hard way you'd just as soon do without it.

At vacation time you'd rather sit in your own back yard than go on a trip.

Whenever you start reminiscing about your war experiences, some smart aleck always pipes up, "Which war was that, Pop?" That's middle age.

The Doctor Says

BY WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
Q—What is pellagra? Could it be caused by drinking too much wine over a period of years? What is the cure?

A—Pellagra is caused by a deficiency of niacin, which is part of the vitamin B complex. It is manifested by a rash, loss of appetite, a rash of blisters (dermatitis), emotional outbursts, and in severe cases, mental disturbance.

It is common in persons whose diet consists solely of corn—bread and—alcohol. It is likely to reduce their food intake and are thus particularly susceptible to this and other vitamin deficiency diseases.

The chief treatment of pellagra is the giving of niacin. When the victim improves sufficiently, he must learn to eat a well-balanced diet.

Q—Does too much grease in one's diet injure one's health? Why?

A—Too much of anything is bad. If you have hepatitis or some other liver disease, your doctor would most likely put you on a fat-poor diet. In such cases an insufficient amount of bile is poured into the digestive tract from the liver and the bile is needed in the digestion of fats.

We should all have some fat in our diet, but some fats are digested more easily than others. For example, are digested more easily than the fat in beef, lamb, pork, fowl and fish. These foods fried in bacon grease or lard may cause stomach upsets as well as promoting hardening of the arteries.

Q—At one time I was very heavy. I lost a lot of weight by taking Preludin. Should I keep on taking this drug?

A—Since the drug is habit-forming, it can be obtained only on a doctor's prescription. It should not be taken for more than 2 weeks. In addition to suppressing the appetite the drug may cause dryness of the mouth, hives, jitteriness, insomnia, dizziness and nausea. There are better ways of reducing.

Q—About 4 months ago a friend had a small lump on his left leg. Now there are several of them. The doctor calls them Kaposi's tumors. Is this a cancer and can anything be done for this condition?

A—Kaposi's disease is a slow-growing form of cancer. Irradiation with X-rays gives the best results.

PERFECT PLAY
"Bridge World" shows—1044 inches hands contributed by bridge writers from all over the world.

Most of them are deadly serious, but Ewart Kenpman makes some after way to play it. Certainly the most serious of the trump or diamond round, he could draw trumps the same way, ruff out his last diamond, lead a heart to the king and find the dummy's lack of hearts. This dummy he would have been sure of his contract unless that started with four hearts to the queen.

He showed the hand to Mr. Kenpman as an example of the almost perfect play. He looked at it and said, "I would have ducked the first diamond and continued the same line of play until playing the same line of hearts. Then I would have had a dummy and played the jack."

Ewart points out that this wife's play would make the contract against any combination of cards once trumps broke evenly.

Tax Reform Endorsed by City Board

The Twin Falls city commission Monday night voted to endorse a resolution by the Idaho Municipal League board of directors calling for broad base tax reform.

The resolution called for tax reform and endorsed a sales tax if this revenue source is necessary to provide the tax base. It noted that all levels of government in Idaho are financed primarily by property, income and corporate taxes.

The resolution also indicated that by the time the existing tax structure goes to the municipal level, cities are penalized by the structure and many Idaho cities are not providing the services expected of them.

The league also is seeking action, which would make Idaho municipal election laws more equal and uniform. Questionnaires have been delivered to league members concerning elections and election laws. The results will be mailed to the league for further action.

Six Large Aluminum Firms Fined

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 6 (AP)—Six large aluminum manufacturing companies charged two years ago with alleged price fixing pleaded nolo contendere in federal court yesterday and were fined $50,000 each.

The fines were imposed by U.S. district court Judge Thomas Glary on the Aluminum Company of America (ALCOA), Pittsburgh; Anaconda Wire and Cable Company, New York; General Cable Corporation, Perth Amboy, N.J.; Kaiser Aluminum and Chemical Sales, Inc., Oakland, Calif.; Alcoa Metallurgical Chemical Corporation, New York; and Reynolds Metals Company, Richmond, Va.

The six were charged by the anti-trust division of the justice department with criminal price fixing in the sale of aluminum wire used for power lines and electrical cables.

Judge Glary said the six companies agreed to a consent decree against future price fixing.

He called the agreement reached with the government "the toughest anti-trust proposal I have ever seen."

The companies also consented to a proposed partial judgment in a companion civil suit filed by the government. The judgment will become final in 30 days if no objections are filed.

Citation Given In Burley Crash

BURLEY, Oct. 6 — Larry O. Osterhout, 17, Declo, was cited for failure to signal after a two-car accident at 11:10 a.m. Sunday one mile west of Burley on highway 30.

Osterhout was driving a 1958 Ford owned by Cheryl Osterhout, route 1, Declo. Osterhout was traveling west on highway 30 followed by Louis V. Chausse, 73, Pocatello, driving a 1963 Buick. The Buick started to pass just as Osterhout started to make a left turn into a private driveway.

Chausse told officers he applied his brakes, the car skidded and collided with Osterhout's car. The Buick turned completely around in the roadway and stopped heading east.

Damages were estimated at $100 to the Osterhout car and $250 to Chausse's car.

Cheryl Osterhout was a passenger in the Ford. Mrs. Chausse, 71, was riding in the Buick.

Officers Are Installed by Area Grange

MURTAUGH, Oct. 6 — Cecil Calhoun, Buhl, installed new officers at the Murtaugh Grange meeting Friday night at the hotel. Mrs. Arthur Carrier, deputy, and Mrs. Earl Young, regalia bearer, assisted in the ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Peterson were selected delegates to attend the Idaho state grange. Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Beck were named alternates.

Henry Peterson, master, announced a special officers meeting to be held at his home, Sunday.

Mrs. William McCoy, home economics chairman, named Mr. and Mrs. Robert Breeding and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Barnes to serve as hosts for the Oct. 16 meeting.

Refreshments were served by Mr. and Mrs. Norman Peterson, and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Menner.

Skunk Attack

BELLE FOURCHE, S. D., Oct. 6 (UPI) — Police in this South Dakota community are battling an invasion of skunks. Nearly 60 skunks have been killed by police in the past three weeks.

A typical police blotter for last Saturday night read: "Four persons arrested for speeding, and three skunks, and one raccoon shot."

Episcopal Youth Officers Selected

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Alexander and Donald Pankratz have been selected as advisers of the senior high school group of the Episcopal Church of the Ascension by the Rev. Warren L. Howell.

Officers chosen by the group for this school year are Cathy Marshall, president; Marjorie Mackay, vice president; Barbara Reedy, secretary, and Thomas White, treasurer. This group, for 10th, 11th and 12th grade youths, meets from 7 to 8:30 p.m. Sunday nights at the church.

Cruise Won by Jerome Manager

JEROME, Oct. 6 — DeVeil Call, parts manager at Bill Speth's and 8 Ford Motor company, has won a five-day, four-night, luxury Caribbean cruise with stops at Grand Bahama Island and Nassau in the British West Indies in a recent Ford Motor company contest.

Call competed with 77 other contestants and achieved the winning performance in "Ball Away With Ford's parts and service competition."

Mr. and Mrs. Call will fly from Twin Falls to Miami and will sail to the Bahamas about Nov. 4.

Call has been with D and S for about two years.

Plans Given for Bellevue School

BELLEVUE, Oct. 6 — Several plans for a new grade school building have been presented to members of the PTA by school board members John McConigal and Glenn Stelmus, and have been taken under consideration.

The PTA has accepted an invitation to the County Teachers' association to attend "Meet Your Candidates" meetings in October and George McConigal and Glenn Stelmus were appointed by President Wardell Rainey to represent Bellevue and work with the citizens committee to help plan these meetings.

INVENTOR DIES

FORT OGD, Calif., Oct. 6 (UPI) — Retired navy Capt. John L. Telnarski, 70, a pioneer inventor in radio communications and a leading developer of radar, died yesterday at the Fort Ord hospital after a long illness.

News Around Idaho

KELLOGG, Oct. 6 (UPI) — Second degree murder charges have been filed against the foster mother of a four-year-old Wardner boy who police say was beaten to death yesterday. Mrs. Lela Shreve, 43, was charged when she appeared in justice court last night. She asked for a preliminary hearing and was released on $3,000 bond. No date for the hearing was set. Officers said the girl, Virginia Davidson, was dead on arrival at a Kellogg hospital. They said she had been beaten and a chain apparently had been wound around her neck. Authorities said the girl was placed in the Shreve home by the department of public assistance. She was the daughter of Gillis and Jean Davidson, address unknown, they said.

BOISE, Oct. 6 (UPI) — Appointment of Dr. Eugene Oiles, Moscow, to the state board of psychologist examiners to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Dr. James Barclay has been announced by Gov. Robert E. Smylie. The term expires June 30, 1965.

BOISE, Oct. 6 (UPI) — Gov. Robert E. Smylie says he will support the proposed New Vorse National Historical park at a senate public lands subcommittee hearing scheduled Friday at Lewiston. The governor said he will be the leadoff witness at the hearing being conducted by Sen. Alan Bible, D., Nev. Smylie also indicated support of a measure aimed at curtailing commercial development near Upper Priest lake but said he will be unable to attend a hearing on that proposal, scheduled Thursday at Kallepall bay.

IDAHO FALLS, Oct. 6 (UPI) — Leaders of government and industry are expected in Idaho Falls Oct. 15 and 16 for a special seminar on the industrial uses of atomic energy. Officials said as speakers will be the two-day program are Rep. Cliff Hollifield, D. Calif., vice chairman of the joint congressional committee on atomic energy; atomic energy commissioner James Ramey and Gov. Robert E. Smylie. Seminar sponsors include the Idaho Falls Chamber of Commerce, the Idaho department of commerce and development and the Idaho State Chamber of Commerce.

BOISE, Oct. 6 (UPI) — State Republican Chairman John McMurray said he doubts whether Democratic Rep. Ralph Harding and Compton I. White have any enthusiasm for President Johnson. He also accused Harding and White of "campaigning on their own words and back shading." McMurray said there appears to be some shame on the parts of Harding and White. He said, "It seems they don't want to pull a medicine wagon that already has sold the Texas tonic to Bobby Baker and Billie Sol Estes." McMurray said it was unusual for a candidate not to "be himself" with his party's platform. He said Republican congressional candidate John Mattingly in the first district and George Hansen in the second "have proudly endorsed Barry Goldwater as the leader of their party."

BOISE, Oct. 6 (UPI) — Miss Louise Shadwick, executive secretary of the Idaho department of commerce and development, has been appointed to the Regional Export Expansion council. Miss Shadwick's appointment to the council, which is made up of representatives from each of the 50 states, was announced yesterday by Commerce Secretary Luther Hodges.

BOISE, Oct. 6 (UPI) — The Idaho Public Utilities commission has extended for three months the authority of the Greyhound corporation to suspend service between Wallace and the Idaho-Washington line. The authority for suspension, granted Oct. 3, 1962, expired Saturday. The extension was granted pending a hearing on a petition for permanent revocation of its permit submitted by Greyhound. Also extended by the commission was the temporary authority of Empire Lines, Inc., Spokane, Wash., to transport passengers and express between the Idaho-Washington line and Coeur d'Alene, Kellogg and Wallace.

Mass Celebrated For Earl McGraw

BUIH, Oct. 6 — Requiem high mass for Earl Le Roy McGraw was celebrated at 10 a.m. Monday in the Buhl Catholic Church of the Immaculate Conception by the Rev. Jerome T. O'Connor, pastor.

Mass was by the church choir under the direction of Mrs. Roberta Sullivan. Mrs. Matilda Leahy was organist. Members of the Knights of Columbus formed an honor guard.

Palbearers were Woodrow Thurman, Henry Eggleston, Edward Turner, Kenneth Beecher, James D. Wilson and George Smith.

Burial was recited at 8:30 p.m. Sunday in the Albertson-Dickard chapel.

Concluding rites were held at the Buhl city cemetery.

Reds May Call Off Border Pact

BERLIN, Oct. 6 (UPI) — Communist East Germany today threatened to call off its border pact agreement with West Berlin because of the death of a communist border guard yesterday in the tunnel, through which, 67 refugees escaped.

The East German communist party newspaper Neues Deutschland charged that West Berlin "bandits" killed Opl. Egon Schultz as the tunnel was discovered early yesterday.

West German witnesses said neither the refugees nor the West Berliners who had helped them build the tunnel were armed. There was speculation Schultz was killed by mistake by another border guard, or had tried to flee himself.

Neues Deutschland warned that West Berlin would have to choose between "continuation of the peace agreement or a continuation of the clashes and bloody provocations on the state border."

The agreement was concluded only last week. It provides for four talking periods a year for West Berliners with relatives in East Berlin. About 800,000 were expected to use the communist passes.

Rites Honor T. Parks, sr.

BUIH, Oct. 6 — Funeral services for Thomas Parks, sr., were conducted at 2:30 p.m. Monday in the Buhl First Baptist church by the Rev. Frank Schweinsburg, pastor of the Piler Baptist church.

Mrs. Alex Melton and Mrs. Price Holloway sang a duet selection and Loren Farmer, vocal solo. Mrs. Ivan Anderson served as organist.

Honorary pallbearers were Dr. Ivan Anderson, Holland Houtburg, Warren Lowery, Earl Huchison, Maurice Klaus, John Savage, Harold Howe, Curtis Eaton, Harold Lancaster, H. L. Cedarholm, George Baxter, Parley Harmon, Walter Miller, Warren Barry, Ben Motson, Ole Glenn and H. W. Lehmann. Active pallbearers were Delous McGuire, Anton Buchan, Jerry Kruse, Roland Harding, Jack Ramsey and Max Dwyer.

Reds Score Again in Middle East Politics

By WEBB MCKINLEY
BEIRUT, Lebanon, Oct. 6 (UPI) — The Soviet Union again is scoring points in the great Middle Eastern game of power politics. Moscow's fortunes, if not necessarily Moscow's brand of communism, are on the rise while the West strives to hold on to what it has left in this ever changing part of the world.

The Soviet Union's most publicized gains have been scored this year in Cyprus. There the bearded Archbishop Makarios, variously described as the wildest and most naive of politicians, has thrown out his arms in friendship to Moscow after failing to find satisfaction elsewhere.

Somewhat doubtfully, Soviet Premier Khrushchev has promised to give aid.

If it remains independent, Cyprus almost surely will become a leftist neutral in the manner of President Nasser's Egypt—and Britain's key-bases—there will soon be gone.

While the Cypriot minister of trade and industry talked in Moscow about arms and aid, Premier Aly Sabry of Egypt arrived to do the same. His main purpose was to discuss the Soviet offer of a 300 million dollar long-term loan offered the United Arab Republic during Khrushchev's trip to Egypt last May. Sabry may also have discussed a project currently favored by Arab leaders: The equipping of the newly planned Arab Palestine army with Soviet weapons, via the Egyptian supply line.

This in Western eyes could turn out to be a propaganda victory of major proportions.

The Soviet Union also has made gains in Iraq, whose policy has shifted from violent anti-communism under the ousted Baath government, to emotional neutrality under President Abdel Salam Aref. Western diplomats foresee a growing pro-Soviet shift in Iraq as Aref and his associates strive to promote unity with Nasser's Egypt.

Concrete Wall

SAN JOSE, Calif., Oct. 6 (UPI) — Housemother Sarah Hagerty reported that someone illegally tried to keep the coeds boarded up at her San Jose State college boarding house. An eight-foot wall of cemented concrete blocks was erected in front of her when she opened the front door yesterday morning.

"It was college boys," she guessed, as she dismantled the stiff-wet wall.

Search for Killer Centers Around State

IDAHO FALLS, Oct. 6 (AP)—A search across the West for a flower-potting suspect centered today in Idaho.

The suspect, Robert Poll Steel, about 29, reportedly was seen yesterday at Tonn, Tex., where police said he evidently had been in the area.

Steel, an electrical engineer who also lived at El Paso, Tex., is wanted in connection with the slaying of a Rosewell mother and her 3-year-old son.

Officers said roadblocks had been set up throughout eastern Idaho in an effort to catch the suspect.

Steel is charged with two counts of murder in connection with the fatal shooting of Mrs. Erika McGowan, also 29, and her son by another marriage, Peter John Fortin.

The bodies were found in Mrs. McGowan's Rosewell home early Saturday, along with a wounded Walker air force base airman, John G. Daniels, 30, Orlando, Fla. Walker air force base is located in Rosewell.

Police said Steel, Mrs. McGowan and Daniels were seen leaving a Rosewell nightspot where Mrs. McGowan worked about 2 a.m. Saturday.

Police said Daniels gave them Steel's name. Steel had been seen at the nightspot until the report was received.

Daniels was hospitalized at a service hospital in El Paso, Tex., with wounds of the head and jaw. A bullet entered his face just below the right eye and split into three fragments. Hospital authorities indicated he would recover without brain damage.

Mrs. McGowan and her son each were shot once. The woman was shot behind the ear and the little boy beneath the right eye.

All three persons were shot with a small caliber pistol. No charges were filed in connection with the assault upon Daniels.

Father Saves His Drowning Daughter, 2

MUNFIEL, Utah, Oct. 6 (AP)—A two and one-half-year-old Salt Lake county girl kept her desperate grip on the dirt bank of a basement excavation just long enough yesterday.

Little Angela Casper, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bob J. Casper, Hunter, slipped beneath the water in the flooded excavation just as her father arrived.

Casper pulled the girl from the water-filled hole, located across the street from the Casper home. He had been summoned by a 6-year-old girl who had seen Angela fall into the excavation.

Marks on the muddy bank showed the child had clawed the weed-covered soil for several minutes in a desperate attempt to save herself.

Ironically, at the moment of the near-drowning, Deputy Sheriff Sid Elliott was meeting with county Commissioner C. W. Brady about the excavation.

Brady and Deputy county Attorney Pete Marthakis later visited the scene and ordered the fire department to begin pumping the water from the basement immediately.

Horse Struck by Richfield Car

RICHFIELD, Oct. 6—No one was injured when a car struck a horse on highway 53A at 8:35 p.m. Sunday at Richfield.

The 1955 Oldsmobile sedan, driven by William Dean Angar, 29, was not damaged in the accident. The horse, owned by Roy Seal, Ketchum, received a broken leg.

Tom Roseberry, Richfield, who was trying to herd several horses out of the highway at the time, stated the car had slowed to about five miles an hour when the accident happened near the Bruce Sorenson residence at the East Richfield city limits.

Sorenson had been caring for the work horse which is valued at $250. The horse's broken leg was splinted in an effort to save the animal.

Theo H. Bruhn, village marshal, investigated.

Luncheon Held By Credit Women

BURLEY, Oct. 6—A fashion show and luncheon was held Saturday in the Driftwood room of the Ponderosa Inn by the Credit Women's Breakfast club.

Models were Mrs. Wayne Hayden, Renee Smith, and Mrs. Roseanne Cutler. Suits, coats, sportswear and after-five styles were shown from the Style Shop.

Shoes and handbags were shown from "Shoe's & More."

The speaker was Barbara Silens. Guests were Mrs. Doris Dayley and Mrs. Nola Fraser, both Pocatella, and Mrs. A. H. Schlecht and Mrs. Theron Smith, Burley.

New officers will be installed at 8 p.m. Thursday at the club. Mrs. Doris Dayley was president of Pocatello Credit Women's breakfast club, as installing officer.

DEATH REPORTED
KING, N.Y., Oct. 6 (AP)—Glenn Mills reports the death of his sister, Mrs. Marion Durland, 74, of Pocatello, Idaho. Mills had just returned from Iowa where he had been visiting his sister who was seriously ill. Mills spends the winter here with his aunt, Mrs. Nellie Budduth, 52.

CERTIFICATE OF COMMENDATION was awarded to Alexander Kincaid, right, former Jerome and Twin Falls resident, by the navy for saving them more than $70,000 during the fiscal year 1964. Capt. K. M. Beyer, left, supply corps commanding officer, presented the award. W. E. Taylor, center, is a supervisor.

Former Area Man Honored For Saving Navy $70,000

GREAT LAKES, Ill., Oct. 6 (AP)—Alexander Kincaid, former Twin Falls and Jerome resident, has been honored by the U.S. navy electronics supply office, Great Lakes, for top performance in his work as an industrial specialist (electronics) in the planning division, ESO.

According to Capt. K. M. Beyer, commanding officer of ESO, Kincaid saved the navy more than $70,000 during the fiscal year of 1964 through his initiative in reducing procurement costs.

Kincaid was awarded a certificate of commendation by the commanding officer and a special pay increase in appreciation of his work.

Captain Beyer honored Kincaid for his alertness and resourcefulness in securing additional sources of supply, resulting in reduced prices for navy electronic material. He also was commended for his work in developing new methods for funding certain electronic equipment, packaging and equipment installation.

Kincaid's mother, Mrs. Dorothy Kincaid, formerly Twin Falls, now lives in Bubbitt, Nev. He has two brothers, Howard I. Kincaid, principal of Hollister grade school, and James S. Kincaid, who is in the army.

One of his sisters, Esther, is married to B. K. Bopp, assistant fire chief in Twin Falls.

Bus Drivers In Utah Go Back to Work

SALT LAKE CITY, Oct. 6 (AP)—Salt Lake City's bus drivers went back to work yesterday much to the satisfaction of the city bus line's 35,000 daily commuters, including 1,600 school children.

The drivers went out on strike seven days ago over wages. They asked a 31-cent wage increase but the city line said that would mean a bus fare increase. The fare is now 25 cents.

The new contract provides an 18-cent hourly increase over three years, which the union president, Earl H. Chapman (division 335 of the Amalgamated Transit Union), said was "fair and just" in view of "the circumstances—that is, being involved in a depressed industry."

H. M. Selander, general manager of the bus line, said it was too early to tell if a bus fare hike would be needed.

The old contract's wages started at $2.10 an hour.

Salt Lake affected spending the strike week walking, riding taxis and forming car pools.

Yank Manager Wants to See World Series Last Longer Than Four Games

NEW YORK, Oct. 6 (AP)—If it's all the same to the St. Louis Cardinals, Yankee manager Yogi Berra would like to see the world series go longer than four games. "Anything can happen in a short series," Berra said while his club ran through a light workout Monday. "One last break and it's all over. I'd hate to have it decided that way." Berra remembers all too well the last short series. That was a year ago when the Los Angeles Dodgers beat New York four straight. "Look at what the Mets did to the Cardinals in that last three-game series," the freshman manager said. "They took 'em two out of three and could have had a sweep with some pitching in that last one."

Evans Wins Section PGA Championship

Chick Evans, Salt Lake City, fired a three-under-par 65 on the second 18 Monday to win the championship of the Rocky Mountain section, PGA, closed golf tournament and earn a spot in the national PGA meet next season. Evans, who was two under on the front side thanks to a pair of long closing putts, overcame a one-stroke lead by Ernie Schneller, Jr., Ogden, posted in the morning 18-holes.

The 36-hole event, conducted in one day immediately after the Idaho open, was held on the Blue Lakes Country club course and was restricted to PGA members from within the geographical area of southern Idaho and northern Utah and Nevada.

Although he won the championship and the PGA national berth, Evans did not earn a spot in the King Crosby Clambake. The section's top two class A prize winners in that event, since Evans is a class A junior pro, the section will be represented in the Crosby event by runner-up Schneller and Dick Kramer, Salt Lake City.

Evans ended the day with a 333 following a morning round of even par 68, Schneller, who was one under in the morning, parred through the afternoon for a 135 while Kramer was third at 138.

Splicing the day was a hole-in-one on the par three sixth hole by Ernie Schneller, Jr. Schneller had a blind shot to the small green.

"It was my 18th or 19th hole in one," Schneller said. "I guess it was 19 because I know that I had 18 at one time." The ace helped Schneller tie Blue Lakes pro Dave Kilian for second in the senior division. But the senior title went to Don Brannan, Salt Lake City, who was one stroke better.

138—Chick Evans, Salt Lake City.
139—Ernie Schneller, Jr., Ogden.

Texas Maintains No. 1 Rating, USC, Navy Blown From Top 10

Hurricane Hilda didn't get north to the state of Michigan. No matter. The Michigan state Spartans and the Michigan Wolverines provided their own power on the gridiron and blew Southern California and Navy right out of the top ten in college football. The Texas Longhorns retained today their No. 1 spot in this week's voting by The Associated Press panel of sports writers and broadcasters with a come-from-behind 17-6 triumph over Army.

But Michigan state upset Southern California—17-7—and Michigan walloped Navy 21-6 to give the top ten a thorough shaking up. No. 2, and Navy, No. 6, flopped right out of the rankings.

The new top ten is No. 1, Texas; No. 2, Illinois; No. 3, Alabama; No. 4, Ohio State; No. 5, Kentucky; No. 6, Notre Dame; No. 7, Michigan; No. 8, Nebraska; No. 9, a tie between Michigan state and Arkansas.

Illinois took over the No. 2 spot with a 17-6 triumph over Northwestern. Alabama moved up to No. 3 by blanketing Vanderbilt 20-0 and Ohio state jumped a notch to No. 4 by blanketing Indiana 17-0.

Kentucky, perhaps the surprise team of the season to date, jumped from nowhere to the No. 5 spot with a 20-0 upset over Auburn, a defeat that pushed the Tigers out of the top ten. It was the third straight for Kentucky's unbeaten Wildcats. They previously downed Detroit 13-6 and Mississippi 27-21.

Notre Dame whipped Purdue 34-15 and advanced from ninth to No. 6. Michigan made No. 7 with its win over Navy while Nebraska came into the picture as No. 8. The Cornhuskers trimmed Iowa State 14-7 for their third in a row.

Arkansas gained its tie for the No. 9 spot with Michigan state by dumping Texas Christian 20-6 after previous wins over Oklahoma state and Tulsa. Their rise dropped Washington out of the select group.

In this week's games involving the top ten, it's Texas vs. Oklahoma; Illinois vs. Carolina state; Alabama vs. North Carolina state; Kentucky vs. Florida state; Notre Dame vs. Air Force; Nebraska vs. South Carolina and Arkansas vs. Baylor.

World Series Schedule Is Announced

By The Associated Press. This is the schedule for the world series between the St. Louis Cardinals, champions of the National League, and the New York Yankees, champions of the American league, announced by Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick.

Wednesday, Oct. 7, New York at St. Louis.
Thursday, Oct. 8, New York at St. Louis.
Friday, Oct. 9, open date for travel.
Saturday, Oct. 10, St. Louis at New York.
Sunday, Oct. 11, St. Louis at New York.
Monday, Oct. 12, St. Louis at New York, if necessary.
Tuesday, Oct. 13, open date for travel.
Wednesday, Oct. 14, New York at St. Louis, if necessary.
Thursday, Oct. 15, New York at St. Louis, if necessary.
All games in the best-of-seven series start at 1 p. m. local time.

IOC Meet Is Formally Opened

TOKYO, Oct. 6 (AP)—The Emperor of Japan declared open the full meeting of the International Olympic committee today with customary pomp, but behind the scenes a full-scale doneybrook brewed.

Wednesday's working sessions will be stormy. Soviet Russia will probably raise the GANEFO issue. East Germany wants full membership in the IOC instead of sharing a team with West Germany, and the election of the international president will be announced.

NOT INTERESTED. ACQUA, Ghana, Oct. 6 (AP)—Ghana's British Empire featherweight boxing champion, Floyd Robertson, said Monday he was no longer interested in fighting Jamaal Laquan, even if the promoters offered him $50,000.

Dark Makes Last Appearance in Candlestick Park

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 6 (AP)—Alvin Dark made his last appearance today in Candlestick park, now an empty stadium of silence haunted by memories of what would have been. The unemployed former manager of the San Francisco Giants picked up some personnel belongings and immediately

Franks Says Third Base Is Disaster Area

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 6 (AP)—Herman Franks, new manager of the San Francisco Giants, is a jovial cigar smoker who considers third base a disaster area. Besides three years of winter league managing in Latin America, Franks has managed only one American Association in 1947. He was general manager of the Salt Lake City Bees of the Pacific Coast league in 1933 and 1934.

St. Paul finished seventh and Franks wound up as a catcher with the Philadelphia Athletics for the last eight games of the season.

After three years away from the job, Franks returned as a coach for the club in 1939, his first year for the club in San Francisco. It was then he confirmed his suspicions about third base.

In his one game with the Giants in 1940, as a player, Franks was hit on the back of the head by a thrown ball while sliding into third.

In 1953, Franks drew criticism when he had trouble getting the Giants to stop at third base. Franks said he was then in the dugout when he saw the ball hit him.

Franks, who was born Jan. 5, 1915 in Price, Utah, apparently gets along well with the Giant players.

You must handle each one differently," Franks said. "Although, whether a ball player likes me or not doesn't bother me as long as I get the job done."

Phillies Start Return of Series Ticket Checks
PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 6 (AP)—The Philadelphia Phillies began the process Monday of returning world series ticket checks and money orders, probably totaling more than 10 million dollars.

Frank Powell, the club's director of sales, said it would be a long job. And costly for the Phillies, too.

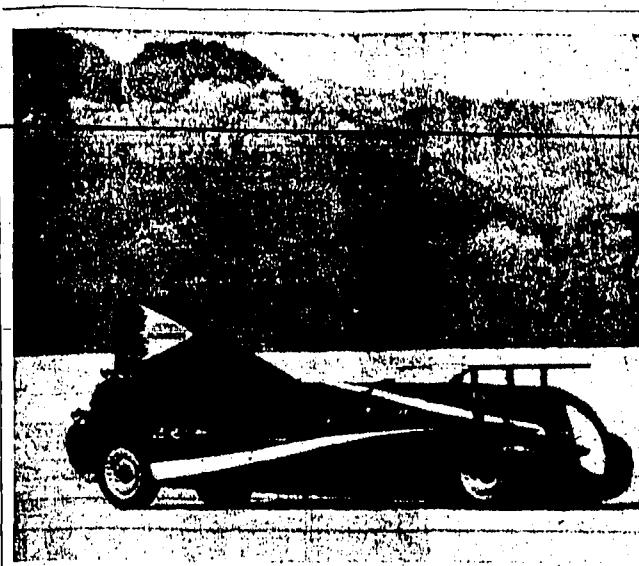

The number of ticket applications was never counted, but reportedly exceeded 250,000. Each fan was restricted to two sets of tickets—40 for box seats and 433 for reserved seats.

Each check had included $1 for handling charges, which would have helped the Phils offset the cost of mailing out the tickets. But now the checks are going back into the club and will pick up the total handling tab.

Dodgers Ask Waivers on Two
LOS ANGELES, Oct. 6 (AP)—The Los Angeles Dodgers asked today for waivers on infielder Jim Gilliam, 36, and outfielder Les Walls, 31.

A spokesman said Gilliam's waiver was a technicality enabling him to coach next year. Walls' waiver gives him an unconditional release.

THE GREEN MONSTER streaks across the Bonneville salt flats to a new world land speed record of 434.02 miles per hour Monday. Art Arfons piloted the 17,000-horsepower vehicle, shattering a mark set Friday by Tom Green in a car designed by his brother, Walt. Both Green, with 420.07 miles per hour, and Arfons, with 427.48, set last year. Arfons will try Wednesday to break the 500-mile-per-hour mark. (AP Wirephoto)

Arfons Sets New Land Speed Record, Now Plans to Top 500

BONNEVILLE SALT FLATS, Oct. 6 (AP)—Art Arfons, one of the "Flying Arfons Brothers," set a world land speed record of 434.02 miles per hour Monday and immediately made plans to break it. "I want to be the first man to touch 500 miles per hour," said the 38-year-old Akron, O., garage owner after the fantastic run in his jet-powered car. He originally said he would try to hit 600 miles per hour on Tuesday at the salt flats, but later decided to recheck the vehicle and make the run Wednesday if all systems were working.

Arfons wasn't far from his goal Monday. He hit 479 miles per hour during the second half of his two-way run on the one-mile salt track. He was clocked at 506 miles per hour on the first half.

Arfons' speed for a kilometer was 435.19 mph. The official time is the average speed on both runs. The old land record of 413.20 miles per hour was not really old at all. It was set here last Friday by Tom Green of Wheeling, Ill., in a car designed by his 47-year-old brother, Walt.

In some circles, jet car records are not regarded as true auto speed records because the wheels are not driven directly by the engine. They accept as the record the 403.19 miles per hour mark set by Donald Campbell of Great Britain in a turbine-powered car in Australia last July.

Competition between the two Arfons brothers is friendly. "We decided that's the way it would be," said Art. Arfons is powered by a 17,000-horsepower jet engine, including its afterburner. The engine is the same as used in the air force's F-104 jet fighter plane.

Arfons said he was giving the car only slightly more than half power during his record-smashing run, and he feels the engine is capable of "almost any speed you want to think about."

Arfons hadn't planned to try for the record until Tuesday as he wanted several days of test runs in the new car. But he said everything was perfect Monday and he saw no reason to wait.

Arfons thinks it is possible that someone will break the sound barrier of 760 miles per hour in a car some day. "I'm not sure I want to be the one, though," he said. "You can't tell what is going to happen."

Treachery! That's what college football is. But fortunately, I can hold my head high. For despite the upset filled week-end immediately past, I still managed a 500 record. And! It was exactly 500. a bit of venom from my evil eye. I must have cooperation, coaches! It isn't that I particularly mind losing once in a while (Ed's question: Once in a while? It is in the fact that you're not in a simply good. Once again the pronunciation way has been shown by an envious Twin Falls county predictor — thus ending the two-week reign of Everett Martin, Buhl, whose entry this week was postponed, and the headliner (Ed Note: Don't complain to us that you mailed it early Friday morning, just hit the Buhl postmaster).

One family rather dominated the field: Brock Glassinger with the weekly championship and $10 with an astonishing score of only three incorrect guesses. Dale Greener, Buhl, attacked in four second place with four incorrect guesses and will receive $5 for breaking up a Glassinger sweep. Chace Glassinger was third, worth $2.50 and Ted Glassinger, the head of the household, leads the honorable mention list.

Following that foursome are Don Albin, Filer, an honorable mention repeater; Devon Buhl, Jr., in Twin Falls; Hootch MacLachlan, Buhl, a previous money winner; Gary Oriz, Buhl; Chad Browning, Twin Falls, and Floyd Powers, Castleford.

This week's nine frigions were worse than last week's. We have Michigan-Michigan State, Georgia Tech-Navy and Ohio State-Illinois in the college field. The high school state is more difficult and for extra measure I throw in the Caldwell-Boise game.

Advance Sale
Football fans interested in seeing the Twin Falls-Borah Southern Idaho conference game at Lincoln field Friday night are reminded tickets are available at three Twin Falls businesses. Athletics director Paul Ostry reminds that only season ticket holders and persons with advance sale single game duets will be admitted before 7:30 p.m. The box office will open to general admission at that time.

Tickets are available at the Rogerson coffeehouse, Sherwood's Sport Center and Olson's.

WARRIOR CUT
SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 6 (AP)—Dave Loe, a rookie from the University of San Francisco, was cut by the San Francisco Warriors Monday.

Sadecki and Ford to Hurl First Game
ST. LOUIS, Oct. 6 (AP)—A pair of left-handers, veteran Whitey Ford of New York and St. Louis' youthful Ray Sadecki, will be the starting pitchers in the world series opener here Wednesday.

The Yankees and Cardinals will clash for the fifth time in the post-season classic. Both teams likely will be without the services of one of their regulars for the fifth time in the post-season classic.

Julius Javier, the Cardinals' classy second baseman, sustained a painful foot injury in a collision with Duke Taylor of the New York Mets Saturday and was still without complete mobility Monday.

Manager Johnny Keane listed him as a doubtful starter. "There's a chance he might play," said Keane after a conference with Dr. J. C. Middleton, team physician. "But I am not optimistic. Dr. Middleton reports Javier feels a little better but the bruise on his hip is still black and blue and very sore."

If Javier is unable to play, his place at second base will go to Dan Maxvill, who came through with two key hits in Sunday's 11-8 pennant clincher against the Mets.

Tony Kubek of the Yankees has been nursing a jammed wrist for two weeks while Phil Linz, the harmonica-playing utility man, has been filling in at his shortstop position. Linz probably will lead off for the Yankees and Maxvill will bat ninth for the Cardinals.

How come 44,000,000 people are insured by Metropolitan Life —more than by any other company in the world?

Mostly it's because our customers like the way we treat them—and their money. Big as Metropolitan is, we've never lost the personal touch.

With 31,000 field representatives across the continent—a staff of 64,000 in all—Metropolitan always has someone nearby to give personal attention to every claim or question.

These advisers are specially trained to give Metropolitan's famous Family Security Check-Up. This is a clear-eyed analysis of your family's financial security that often turns up assets you never even knew you had.

Your Metropolitan adviser can also show you a number of ways to stretch your coverage far beyond what you thought your budget would allow.

For example, take a simple Metropolitan income rider. This can make a $10,000 policy pay off as much as $50,000 to your wife and kids. Something to look into.

Also, be sure to ask how you can start collecting from Metropolitan while you're still around. One way is an ingenious plan that lets you turn an ordinary policy into a retirement fund any time you feel like it.

These are a few of the facts and figures that explain why Metropolitan advisers are asked to give thousands of Family Security Check-Ups every day. And why one out of every five people in the U.S. and Canada is insured by Metropolitan. And also why one out of every two Metropolitan life policies bought, is bought by one of our present policyholders.

Now—here are some other reasons why more people choose Metropolitan:

- We pay policyholders and beneficiaries an average of a million dollars an hour every business day. Last year, that added up to over $2 billion. And two-thirds went to living policyholders.

- Metropolitan offers an unusually wide range of life and health plans and annuities. This permits your Metropolitan adviser to tailor a program specifically to your needs. We can insure you for any amount from $500 to a cool $5 million—or even more.

- Nearly half the 100 largest U.S. industrial corporations (plus 42,000 other companies large and small) insure their employees with Metropolitan.

- Metropolitan has more life insurance in force than any other company—more than $107 billion.

- A pioneer in health education, Metropolitan has given away 1.8 billion pieces of health and safety literature.

- Metropolitan invests an average of $8 million every business day in U.S. and Canadian communities—spurring new ventures such as jet aviation and modern housing—stimulating jobs for millions—and getting a good return for our policyholders at the same time.

Remember, after the three basic necessities, food, clothing and shelter, the Fourth Necessity is enough life insurance. And the company you get it from can make a difference—a very big difference in the security you provide for your family.

Why not call your local Metropolitan adviser? There's no obligation...except to those you love.

More choose Metropolitan Life millions more than any other company
