HAGERMAN, Oct. 13—Emerson Pugmire, 65, prominent Gooding county civic leader and Hagerman mayor, was killed instantly in a one-car accident about 10 p.m. Monday on Highway 30. According to Sheriff Verne Royse, Mr. Pugmire's 1959 Cadillac struck and killed two horses owned by Mr. and Mrs. Bud Smith, Blais, Mr. Pugmire, who was well known in Magic Valley for his work as OLEN FALLS, N. Y., Oct. 13—It was a "discovery day" sale and two women who found the same bargain held on to it for more than 12 hours until persuaded to leave when the discount store closed at 10 p.m. yesterday. Store manager Melvin Smith said the two vowed to resume their grips today on opposite ends of a 10-day battle.

Smith said he offered to settle the dispute with a flip of a coin, but the women vetoed the idea.

director of the South Central Idaho district health unit and Highway 30 association as well as his long service as Gooding county commissioner, died of a broken neck, the sheriff said. He was on his way home from a meeting of the hospital board in Gooding.

No inquest is planned, the sheriff said. Officers were called by Douglas Wood, Blais, who came onto the scene soon after the accident.

Sheriff Royse, who was assisted by Deputy Bill Bunn and State Patrolman Walter Kirtley, said the car struck a guardrail after hitting the horses. One of the horses was thrown over the hood of the car, smashing the windshield. The car was extensively damaged, officers said.

Panel Discusses Crisis in Idaho Education at IEA Meet

Following a speech by Dr. Boyd Martin, department of humanities, University of Idaho, entitled "Education on the Brink of Success or Failure," five area businessmen and educators conducted a panel discussion concerning the crisis in Idaho education at the second and final session of the fourth district Idaho Education association meeting Tuesday morning at the Twin Falls high school gymnasium.

Wayne York, director of research and special services, IEA, acted as panel moderator. Panel members were O. J. Smith, city editor, Times-News; J. T. Anderson, chairman, Idaho Teachers' association; James Roper, Burley businessman and civic leader; Ezra Moore, superintendent, Cassia county schools; and William Grange, secretary—manager, Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce.

It was agreed by all panel members that there was a crisis in Idaho education and this was emphasized by Moore.

The Cassia county school superintendent pointed out that Idaho has shown the least increase in expenditures per student of the 50 states and spends $125 per student less than the national average.

Moore said in regard to the state education finances, "We talk in terms of pennies and in turn we have a penny education." He said Idaho was definitely lacking in material for its teachers.

Grange suggested a philosophy of the sales tax which would provide increased educational assistance as well as funds for other areas of benefit to the state. He said, "On Nov. 3 we will find out if Twin Falls county citizens want to pay the price to help education when they vote for or against the junior college."

"Newspapers are sympathetic to the needs of the education system," Smith told the educators, but at times they must be critical to explore the questions concerning education.

The panel's opening remarks were followed by questions from legislative aides of the area.

Frank O. McIntyre, director of public relations, California Teachers' association, was the first speaker Tuesday and adjournment of the 1964 session will follow, Magic Valley schools will resume Wednesday.

T.F. Commission Favors "Home Rule"

State control over Idaho municipalities received harsh treatment Monday evening at an informal meeting of the Twin Falls city commission. The commission met informally to discuss a questionnaire issued by the Idaho Municipal League. The commission also took time out to study a proposed water schedule table prepared by Morrison-Maierle consulting engineers, Helena, Mont. The league is trying to determine if a majority of Idaho municipalities would prefer an overhaul of the Idaho code to provide for uniform elections and uniform laws.

"The answer to a lot of this is 'home rule,'" said City Manager L. Derrick. "The two-thirds majority vote requirement under state law to approve major improvements puts the control in the hands of a few," he added.

Trash control, weed control, bidding and aesthetic zoning control plus financing is in the hands of the legislature, not in the hands of the local residents, said Derrick.

For example in the matter of weed control, the state law says the city will clean up the weeds and file a lien against the property.

"The cost of filing and collecting a lien is more expensive than the cost of removing the weeds. On some properties the owner hasn't been in the state for years. I would prefer a citation law where we could issue a citation for weeds and trash," said Derrick.

The two-thirds majority vote law has undoubtedly cost the taxpayer more money than it has ever saved. The state law will often require that a community take certain steps and yet this same state law will require a two-thirds approval. This can take years and by the time the election costs and ordinary increased construction costs have been added a great deal of tax money has been wasted. The sad part is that all along on most of the issues a 60 per cent approval has been registered.

In order to be legal under existing state law the city has to take exceptional steps during a municipal election. Idaho re-sees HOME RULE, Page 2, Col. 1

Gov. Grant Sawyer of Nevada is scheduled to arrive at Municipal airport by private plane at 5 p.m. Wednesday, according to Roscoe Wagner.

Sawyer will be a featured speaker at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday at a banquet in the American Legion hall honoring Rep. Ralph Harding, Democratic candidate for congressional representative.

Another featured speaker will be Sen. Frank Church.

Tickets may be obtained from William Wiseman, Twin Falls county Democratic chairman, from precinct committeemen or at the door.

Charges Are Asked to Be Dismissed

BOISE, Oct. 13 (UP)—The Idaho supreme court was asked today to order the dismissal of murder charges filed against four Chicago youths in connection with the slaying of a school teacher in Idaho city last night.

The petition, filed by Pocatello attorney B. A. McDewitt, contended the constitutional rights of the youths were violated during questioning prior to their indictment by a Bannock county grand jury.

The grand jury, the petition said, based its indictment primarily on the statements and tape recordings which were made during the questioning.

"The said statements and tapes," the petition said, "were self-incriminating and were cross-examinatory."

The supreme court was asked to reverse an order by Judge Gus Cook, Anderson, Pocatello, in fifth district court. Anderson denied McDewitt's motion to quash the grand jury indictment.

That motion, McDewitt said, "was based upon the fact that the said defendants were held in close and separate confinement; that they had asked for counsel and that said attorney came to see them, discussed fees which the defendants were unable to arrange, and never returned."

GOP Defector Tops List of Dignitaries

BOISE, Oct. 13 (UP)—A Republican defector last night headed the official list of dignitaries asked to sit on the speaker's chair during President Lyndon B. Johnson's visit to Idaho during his airport campaign stop.

First on the list of 25 persons ushered to the platform at the airport was Robert W. Hanesberger, president of Boise Citizens' Union, a Republican, by his own definition a Republican, announced last week he will support Johnson for president although his allegiance will remain with Idaho GOP candidates.

Hong Kong Hit By Typhoon Dot

HONG KONG, Oct. 13 (UP)—Typhoon Dot with center winds of 110 miles an hour ripped Hong Kong today, leaving at least 34 dead and scores injured.

Rescuers dug feverishly at landside areas where more than 20 people were buried by mud and rubble. They included nine members of one family.

The typhoon moved later into the South China Sea, threatening the Chinese Kwangtung province.

Queen Ends Eight-Day Canada Visit

OTTAWA, Oct. 13 (UP)—Queen Elizabeth II, boored by separatists in French-speaking Quebec but warmly welcomed by Ottawans, ended her eight-day visit to Canada today and left for Britain.

The queen was aboard an Air Canada jetliner, which took off at 8:18 a.m.

Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson and a crowd of about 1,400 people gathered to see her off at the airport in the rain to bid farewell to the monarch.

Pearson said the queen "thanked us for inviting her and said she greatly enjoyed the trip."

Prince Philip left first. The queen's husband took off to spend the day hunting snow geese on a privately owned island off the Atlantic in the St. Lawrence river. Then he will board the royal yacht Britannia for a tour of the Caribbean.

Man Captured by Red Kidnappers Is Released, Says He Was Treated Well

CARACAS, Oct. 13 (UP)—U.S. air force Lt. Col. Michael Smolen, 45, Chandler, Ariz., released by communist kidnappers after four days of captivity, described them today as "polite and considerate." He said he had been "relatively well treated."

Smolen, deputy chief of the U.S. mission here, was released Monday night in Caracas' Florida district after one of his captors told him, "We've obtained all the propaganda value from you we wanted."

He said his captors at no time spoke of any connection with the Viet Nam case, nor did they in any time indicate his life was in danger.

He said he was surprised that he had been moved during his kidnapping as a stunt aimed to attract attention to their efforts to topple the Caracas government.

Smolen described his captors as youths who were "hard core communists." He said he had tried repeatedly to draw them out on political matters.

"I told them they should go to Russia and save life for themselves, and that I would guarantee they would be back soon," he said.

He asked them also why people risked their lives to escape from Cuba and East Berlin, but I got no answer to any of these questions."

Smolen spent the night reunited with his family while police pressed their manhunt for his kidnappers. His family here has been told he was released.

Reds Bring 3-Man Space Ship Back, Everything Okay

MOSCOW, Oct. 13 (UPI)—The Soviet Union today brought its three-man space ship safely back to Earth. The pilot and his two passengers were reported "feeling fine." The space bus called Voskhod (Sunrise) orbited the Earth 16 times in 24 hours and 17 minutes, traveling 437,500 miles. Then, on orders from the Earth at 10:47 a.m. (3:47 a.m. EDT), it landed "at the pre-assigned area after successfully accomplishing the set program of scientific exploration," said Tass, the official Soviet news agency.

Demos Confident Because of Visit

BOISE, Oct. 13 (AP)—Idaho Democrats, buoyed by a Presidential visit to Boise yesterday that drew a crowd estimated at 25,000, were more confident than ever today that the state will be in their party's column this year for the first time since 1948. President Lyndon B. Johnson, in a bid for Idaho's four electoral votes, wound up a long day of campaigning with a 30-minute speech at the Boise municipal air terminal stressing what he termed his desire to unify the nation. And in an obvious dig at Republican presidential nominee Barry Goldwater, Johnson said people want performance in a president.

"The people of the United States know that in these perilous times the President of the United States has to be right the first time," he said.

"If he is not right the first time there may be a second time for him to change his mind or to change his views, or to correct them and there may be no time for the nation to change its choice."

The big air force one jet plane carrying the President touched down at the municipal air terminal in his flight from Denver at 6:52 p.m. It took off for Washington, D. C., less than an hour later, getting into the air at 9:48.

The President shook hands all the way from the airplane ramp to the parking stand, displaying a big Johnson smile. His western hat was tilted jauntily to one side of his head.

But the President looked tired, reflecting the strain of the long day of campaigning through five Western states.

Arriving with the President were Sen. Frank Church and Reps. Ralph Harding and Compton I. White, who boarded the plane at Denver.

Robert E. Smylie, a Republican, greeted Johnson as he arrived but did not stay for the speech. He said simply that "I am very happy to welcome you to Boise and Idaho and I am very happy to have the President here."

In addressing the unity theme, Johnson said "out here all the people want our country to grow together. They do not want a 'Continental Divide' on our unity, on our progress."

"Considerate," he said, "are wonderful," he said, "but Idaho produces See DEMOS, Page 2, Column 6

Space Chief Says Gap Can Be Closed

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13 (UP)—U.S. space chief James E. Webb says Russia's three-passenger space-ship is "significant," but that the American program will be speeded up to close the gap if necessary.

Webb, head of the national aeronautics and space administration, issued a statement yesterday which said the Soviet accomplishment "is clear indication the Russians are continuing a large scale program for the achievement of 'national power and prestige.'"

He conceded the U.S. effort has been "in a period of catching up," but said the American Saturn V space vehicle "is designed to overcome that lead."

Webb said that Saturn V will be able to thrust 240,000-pound spacecraft into orbit compared to the 10,000- to 15,000-pound vehicles the Soviets have been flying.

Sen. Simpson To Speak at T. F. Kiwanis

U. S. Sen. Milward L. Simpson, R. Wyo., will speak on "What's Really Going on in Washington," during the Thursday noon no-host luncheon sponsored by the Twin Falls Kiwanis club at the American Legion hall, reports Gordon Cox, Kiwanis president.

The public is invited to attend and hear Senator Simpson, who has served as governor of Wyoming. He was elected senator in 1962. He was a former member of the Wyoming house of representatives.

Simpson, a well-known attorney, has been practicing law in Wyoming since 1926. He was graduated from Harvard university law school.

He has been a member of the board of trustees of the University of Wyoming, serving as president of the board; a member of the U.S. Chamber of Commerce's national committee on education; chairman of Interstate Oil Compact commission; a member of the national executive committee of the National Association of Mental Health, and has been active in Rotary, Masons, Elks and Shrine.

His Twin Falls visit will be on behalf of Sen. Barry Goldwater, Republican presidential nominee. The public is invited to attend the meeting in conjunction with the Kiwanis club meeting. No reservations will be made.

Nuclear Test Is Ready After Postponements

BAKTERVILLE, Miss., Oct. 13 (AP)—A frequently postponed underground nuclear test blast is set for Wednesday.

The blast, when it comes, will equal about one-fourth the power of the atom bomb dropped on Hiroshima in World War II. It will be detonated 2,700 feet below the surface in the Tatum salt dome.

It is designed to test underground explosion-detecting devices.

Farmer Run Over By Beet Topper Near Heyburn

HEYBURN, Oct. 13—Richard Blincoe, 41, Heyburn, incurred chest injury Monday morning when he was run over by the wheel of a beet topper.

Witnesses said Blincoe was working on the north side of his farm, north of Heyburn, 8 a.m. Monday when the accident occurred. He reportedly slipped and fell in front of one wheel of the topper as he was attempting to place a beet in a box on the tractor and lost his foot.

His son, Larry, 31, was driving the tractor. Another son, Don, was driving a beet truck into the field at the time of the accident. Don Blincoe rushed for help and an ambulance carried the injured man to Canada Memorial hospital.

Witnesses said Blincoe's chest was being treated in fairly good condition today. He received multiple chest injuries, fractured ribs and a fractured right elbow.

brawling state where politics is put on a rough platform.
 Kennedy had come to Texas at the prompting of Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson. One objective was to get the Monthly Chronicle allegiance of Gov. John Connally in preparation for a stiff fight in 1964, in a state the Kennedy-Johnson ticket had won only 49,000 votes. On the morning of Nov. 22 a poll in the Houston Chronicle, one of the most reliable, showed support for Kennedy at 58 per cent, and support for Gov. Ralph Yarborough at 37.
 Today Connally, wrapped in the mantle of martyrdom, having been at the side of the fallen leader, and, according to the Chronicle, wounded by the same bullet that struck the President, is certain to sweep the state for reelection. Handsome in the style of the hero of a TV western, he is a conservative Republican allied with the Texas establishment of oil, gas, banking and insurance. As one Republican leader feeling expressed it: "If I was Jesus Christ I wouldn't Calling himself a "responsible conservative," Bush worked for the nomination of Goldwater, the most lenient he agrees with. He burst of his speech and he interrupted his scheduled twice to introduce Goldwater as a man so again this week in Houston. But his campaign manager, Marjorie Allen, an oil lawyer who like Bush is a Republican, said the first time, says they are running their own campaign in their own way.

 With no lack of money a major state television drive is planned for the last three months of 1964, one of Bush's opponents, the primary attacked his "spending spree," pointing to $174,374 spent which was about as much as 34 votes on the basis of 60,000 Bush votes.
 In contrast Yarborough runs a homespun campaign. Seven times up for statewide office in this state, he is known in the timeliest for the folks and the courteous squares. He for medicine, aid to education, area redevelopment, the program of the state, the encroachment of big government on the state's texture. Yarborough is a radical or an ultra-liberal who accepted the bounty of Billy G.

OPINION REQUESTED—By now, there is no doubt, even among the more wishful-thinking Coldwater minions, that Ike has dulled if not voided the issue of whether the President should be asked to NATO commander the authority to use tactical nuclear weapons. When Ike says the question should not be a campaign issue, and that he does not think the President "should tell the Russians exactly what he's going to do," either he is speaking to the Russians or he is talking to the Congress. Lyndon Johnson can't muster.

For the fact is that Eisenhower is not only still a hero to most Americans, he is also a respected and beloved former President. When Ike speaks the plain citizen listens closely because he feels Ike knows what he's talking about; that is, he doesn't always the case is beside the point; it is the fact that the plain citizen trusts Ike. Main street where a hero's stature is not easily chipped away by political whittlers.

SPLIT IN PARTY—In a way, this is too bad because the Republican task force report—which urged Johnson to give the NATO commander authority to use nuclear weapons was a responsible piece of work by experts in the field. This corner happens to disagree with its conclusions but the report nevertheless remains a document that deserves careful study by its citizenry. It will not get that careful study now because Ike has spoken.

Coldwater's problem, of course, is that he is not a member of the club, as are Elsenhower and Johnson. Main street is aware that Barry "has never been President, and it prefers to give more weight to the words of men who have known that experience. When the electorate hears that Ike and Lyndon agree on this nuclear weapons business, it is impressed—and properly so.

PUBLIC ACCEPTS SECRECY—Despite journalistic demands to the contrary, the plain citizens usually feel there should be far more secrecy than the military establishment than there is. Defense Secretary Robert McNamara's mail is beset with demands that "we stop telling the Russians everything."

These correspondents are not concerned with the nice little dangers inherent in a policy of attempting everything the military does with the label "secret." They take the attitude that what is said cannot become known to the enemy. It's the attitude, and Lyndon Johnson's, suits them just fine.

Ominous rumblings have lately sounded from the cooking front. A Washington club manager, coming from a convention of this kind, reports that the dining rooms of the future will be "a new type of service restaurant-kitchens. Soon commercial food will be cooked from a punch card as ingredients automatically fall into place to be stirred and stewed by machinery until at last it pops into the serving container. The food will be produced by a single line without the ministering hand of man or woman, aseptic vials and vials will be rolled off the line and be conveyed on an endless belt to the table. This infinite amplification of the scientific method will be the final step in the scientific touch and make eating an exact science. No manifestation of the ingenuousness of man has plunged us into a deeper depression. We have

The time is growing near when Twin Falls citizens must face up to improving the city's water supply. As City Manager H. L. Derrick pointed out the other day, most water system expansion in recent years has been of a stop-gap nature. It doesn't seem such tactics can be followed indefinitely. Many citizens feel that the domestic water supply should come from some other source besides Snake river. Barring some unforeseen development, it does not appear that Twin Falls can rely much longer on wells as a source of supply. They are the stop-gap measure to which Mr. Derrick refers.

Studies so far seem to indicate that Falls can develop an adequate supply of good water from the vicinity of Blue Lakes. Everyone should realize that studies are aimed at developing suitable supplies of good water that will be adequate for years to come. Perhaps the project involves a domestic water supply for a city of 50,000 or larger. There is no sense to obtaining a new supply of water to meet only present needs.

The water development project will be expensive. Residents should make their minds now the expense is necessary and worthwhile. As Mr. Derrick points out, improved domestic water supply is essential, not only to normal population growth but also to any possible industrial expansion. Whatever delay is encountered starting work on the project will mean increases in the total cost.

Some time in the coming months residents will be asked to approve a bond issue to finance the water project. No one should hesitate to vote in favor of the bond issue. Fortunately, the vote will come at a time when the city has virtually no bonded indebtedness.

When the time comes to vote on the water bond issue the public will have seen one more example of an obsolete, unenforceable law that requires a two-thirds law majority for a bond election. Today a minority has only one purpose—to permit a majority to control the outcome of bond elections. One-third of the voters, by one vote, controls the outcome of a bond election. The outmoded law permits a minority to stymie progress and retard growth. Let's hope a big majority of citizens recognizes the need for the water project.

Governors in Dixie Start Annual Meet

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Oct. 13 (AP) — The Southern governors began their annual meeting yesterday, with President Johnson in the South and they gave a good share of the credit.

Only Gov. George Wallace of Alabama and Gov. Paul Johnson of Mississippi felt that Republican candidate Barry Goldwater was the best choice for the Southern states.

Wallace handed the conference the toughest issue — his "hands-off-the-schools" constitutional amendment. The amendment would make the public school system exempt from federal laws and judicial review, granting "sole and exclusive jurisdiction of the school systems to the states."

J. Meredith Is Ignored In Nigeria

LAGOS, Nigeria, Oct. 13 (AP) — James H. Meredith, the man who broke the color bar at the University of Mississippi, says he has been ignored since he arrived in Nigeria two months ago to accept a postgraduate fellowship.

The fellowship, at the University of Ibadan 126 miles inland, has not materialized, Meredith told United Press International by telephone.

The only attention he has gotten has been from the local press, which has been publishing the false report that he was expelled from "Ole Miss," Meredith said.

Two persons were killed at Oxford, Miss., two years ago in rioting over Meredith's admission to the university. But he stayed there and earned a bachelor of science degree in political science.

He said the Nigerian Embassy in Washington approached him more than a year ago and offered the fellowship.

This was followed by months of correspondence before he accepted Meredith said.

"I have been in Nigeria for two months and no official of the Nigerian government, high or low, has even given me the courtesy of discussing this matter or even of writing me a letter," Meredith said.

"There's been no fellowship to date and I have met increasingly with understandable experiences in my efforts to finalize the matter," he said.

Goldwater Is Supported by Ezra Benson

SALT LAKE CITY, Oct. 13 (AP)—Former secretary of agriculture Ezra T. Benson called Sen. Barry Goldwater yesterday "a man of outstanding ability and character."

Benson said he made the statement because of "visions and unflinching attacks... by much of the news media, by so-called liberals of both political parties and by the extreme left."

He said Goldwater would "provide the kind of leadership this nation must have if it is to avoid destruction at the hands of the powerful and insidious socialist-communist conspiracy, the major threat to freedom today."

Benson made the statement before leaving for Europe to resume his duties as head of the European mission of the LDS church.

Benson, a member of the church's council of 12 apostles, was in Salt Lake City for the church general conference and remained to greet Goldwater when the Republican presidential nominee visited the city Saturday.

News Around Idaho

BOISE, Oct. 13 (AP)—A masked bandit got about $20 in the holdup of a service station operator at 31st and State streets early today, city police reported. Officers said they recovered the car the robber used, but learned it had been stolen earlier in the night from its owner.

MORRISON, Oct. 13 (AP)—Coroner Ralph Lansing has ruled that a 50-year-old hunter killed Sunday accidentally shot himself while putting his rifle in his car. Lansing said Wayne J. Maki, a 10-year-old logging worker, pushed the rifle against a pulley in the foot rest. He said it struck the hunter and caused the rifle to fire. The accident occurred about three miles east of Morrison Bend in the Harris creek area.

BOISE, Oct. 13 (AP)—Rep. T. F. Terrell, D., Bannock, the chairman, said yesterday that a steering committee of the Idaho council on mental retardation is "right on schedule" in developing a state program. His comment came at the end of a day-long meeting that saw appointment of six task force groups to work on various problems. Terrell said each will write a report of what eventually will be the final report. Preliminary reports are due from the groups in February. Terrell said the committee was working on a plan to report any legislative proposals for the 1965 session concerning retardation. "We want to consider them in terms of supplementing them," he said. "But we will not have long-range recommendations to the legislature not be ready until the council completes its report next July."

BOISE, Oct. 13 (AP)—The League of Women Voters of Idaho gave its endorsement yesterday to the proposed water agency amendment to the state constitution, emphasizing the value of such an agency in regional planning. Mrs. Eugene H. Smith, Idaho Falls, the state president, said the agency would be able to coordinate planning for all uses of Idaho water and give the state a concerted voice in any regional water planning. She said the league, in a national study, found conflicts across the country of interest, use, development and administration at the state, federal and other levels in planning for water use.

Wendell Man Is Hurt in Hunt Mishap

WENDELL, Oct. 13 (AP)—John K. Francis, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. John Francis, was severely injured in a hunting accident Oct. 4 while hunting in the Solway forest in northern Idaho.

Francis, hunting on horseback with his father, was mistaken for an elk by another hunter. When the brush moved, the hunter fired without waiting to note what he was firing at. The bullet tore the fleshy part of Francis' left leg above the knee and shot off part of the little finger, and ring finger of the right hand to the second joint.

The horse that the injured man was riding was frightened by the shot and threw him to the ground.

Francis was given first aid treatment. After nine hours of travel the injured man was sent to the Boise hospital, where he spent two and one-half days.

Francis, who is scheduled for an LDS mission in Chile, gave his testimonial at the Wendell ward chapel Sunday evening. He left Monday morning to enter the mission home at Salt Lake City for a week's training.

On Oct. 13 he will enter the language school at BYU. Provo, for 12 weeks of intensive training before going on a two-year Chilean mission.

Buhl Reports Two Mishaps

BUHL, Oct. 13 (AP)—Two accidents were investigated in the west end of Twin Falls county Sunday, according to State Patrolman Richard Burns.

Mrs. Ella V. Hartley, 63, Twin Falls, was cited for failure to yield right of way after an accident at 8:50 p.m. at the intersection of Fair avenue and highway 30 in Piler.

Mrs. Hartley, driving a 1957 Oldsmobile, stopped at a stop sign on Fair avenue and then pulled out onto highway 30 into the path of a westbound 1962 Studebaker driven by Herschel Hughes, 64, Buhl.

Hughes was unable to stop in time and his Studebaker collided with the left front side of the Oldsmobile. There were no injuries. Damages were estimated at $300 to the Studebaker and $150 to the Oldsmobile.

At noon Sunday Corinne Butler, 16, route 1, Buhl, applied the brakes on the 1958 Ford she was driving and the car slid on loose gravel and ran off the road, through a fence resulting in $100 in damages to the car. The mishap occurred three and one-half miles northwest of Castleford on a county road.

Court Hears Arguments On Rights

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13 (AP)—Attorneys for the states of Alabama and Mississippi argued before the supreme court today to uphold convictions that could send several civil rights leaders behind bars.

The Alabama attorneys were defending the convictions of 11 persons, including four top aides of the Rev. Martin Luther King, Jr., for sitting at a traditionally all-white lunch counter in a Montgomery restaurant during the "freedom rider" campaign.

Mississippi was seeking the high court to uphold the convictions and six-month sentences given to Aaron Henry, president of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP), on a morals charge.

Louis H. Pollak, attorney for the Alabama defendants, opened his presentation yesterday. He told how they were arrested after being accompanied to the terminal by national guard troops.

Justice Potter Stewart asked if, under the circumstances, they had an "implied duty to conform with the request of the military." Pollak said they were arrested without being asked to leave the lunch counter. Justice Goldberg commented that there had been such a request.

Pollak told the court his case was "sufficient" without claiming an immunity from prosecution under the 1964 civil rights law.

Redwood Trees to Be Preserved

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 13 (AP)—After a lapse of 55 years, the federal government is again showing interest in preserving a dwindling breed of tree dating back to the dinosaurs.

Back in 1908, President Theodore Roosevelt established Muir Woods national monument, thus putting the federal government solidly behind preservation of California's mammoth—coastal redwood trees.

Since that act—and despite state and private acquisition of redwood, stands for parks—the number of acres of redwoods has been reduced from two million to 750,000.

Of 300,000 acres of virgin redwoods still in existence, only 50,000 acres remain safe by state parks from the lumberman's chain saw.

Now, admitting that further delay would open the end-of-the-rod great redwood forests, the government is again considering acquisition of virgin stands.

In a recently released report, the national park service has recommended federal purchase of up to 63,000 acres of additional redwood forest for national parks.

The report, prepared at the direction of President Johnson, advances a twin thesis.

1. The redwoods represent a priceless national asset.

2. Preservation of the age-old trees—far from harming northern California's economy—would prove an economic boon.

Here's how the national park service summarizes the first point:

"For many years, public visitation from all over the nation and the world, and by the willingness of many to contribute substantial sums for the purchase and preservation of dedicated groves."

"This stems from many things—their age and stubbornly destructible qualities on the face of fire, disease and insects, the fact they grow nowhere else on earth."

"More important, however, is their very special inspirational qualities which so impress the visitor."

Since 1902, private citizens have poured 10 million dollars into efforts to preserve the redwoods.

Strongest opposition to expansion of redwood parks has come from the logging concerns and their employees, who see conversion of privately owned forests into parks as a threat to northern California's economy.

In the three counties which the report earmarks for park expansion—Humboldt, Del Norte and Siskiyou—there are 100,000 people, and the report estimates that within five years after creation of expanded parks, some one million visitors could be expected to visit the three counties annually.

Within 15 years, the number of visitors could be expected to reach 10 million.

and Mendocino—the lumber industry accounts for from 25 to 30 per cent of employment.

Within days after the report's appearance, the powerful Redwood Empire association, representing the major lumber companies and other northern California commercial interests, criticized the plan as economically disastrous.

Last night at 2 a.m. I was heating up the baby's bottle.

As I stood there sleepily in my night cap the water in the pan began to boil over.

Aroused, I punched for a lower heat. But it still boiled.

Alarmed, I yanked the pan off the burner spilling boiling water on my bare foot.

Hobbling painfully back to bed I calmly said:

When in X*(&%$%X are we getting a gas range?

Epsilon Sigma Alpha Badge Mystery Solved

The mystery has been solved. Those unusual-looking badges which some of the Twin Falls women were wearing this past week are not designating some new government project, despite their alphabetical design.

The badges, which are adorned with the phrase, "Epsilon-Sigma Alpha," represent a membership drive by Alpha Nu chapter, Epsilon Sigma Alpha, which is entitled "Search for talented members."

"This is the first time Epsilon-Sigma Alpha has been highlighted in its membership," explains Alpha Nu chapter president, Mrs. David Crigger. "But then, we don't think a woman has to be a world champion typist or a world-breaking archer to be a prospective member. After all, most of our chapter's present members are housewives. And what could be more important to us today than being a good mother and wife?" she said.

New members who do have an unusual talent will be featured in a coming issue of "The Journal," Epsilon-Sigma Alpha's monthly magazine. Epsilon-Sigma Alpha is a service organization which each year donates more than one million hours and dollars to local philanthropic projects. Yet, at the same time, it is a social and educational society which has forged a strong link of fellowship around the world through its 1,500 chapters.

Down, but Not Out, Hoople Sets New Week for Grid Forecasting

BY MAJOR AMOS HOOPLE

Confounded computers! Another miserable week and slovenly showing strikes us in this, the specific season I expected to ascend to new heights. In the past two weeks, my research and calculations have resulted in 17 incorrect guesses out of a possible 40. I can easily select a poor showing. Harumph! Now a new season appears on the horizon, literally. The Russians with their confounded explorations of space most assuredly will accomplish little more than upsetting the zodiac and splitting the cosmos. I shall have to make this week's selection without benefit of my crystal ball. Oh well, it has not been working better for a long time.

Texas Continues Domination of Poll

By The Associated Press

Texas still is tops but Ohio State and Notre Dame have their eyes on the Longhorns. That's the opinion reflected Monday in the votes of 40 sport writers and broadcasters in The Associated Press weekly football ranking poll. Texas, which resumed the No. 1 position it held last year as soon as the 1964 season started, consolidated its position so strongly with last Saturday's televised 29-7 victory over Oklahoma that 30 of the 40 experts cast first place votes for the Longhorns. The others put them either second or third.

As a result Texas polled a total of 387 points on the basis of 10 for each first place vote, nine for second, etc.

But Ohio State, which walloped Illinois 28-0, jumped from fourth in the rankings to the second spot vacated by the Longhorns. The Buckeyes drew seven first place votes and 344 points.

Alabama, 21-0 victor over previously unbeaten North Carolina State, clung to third with two first- and 307 points. But Notre Dame, which made the Air Force its third victim by a convincing 34-7 score, jumped from sixth to fourth with 281 points, followed by Michigan with 233.

Notre Dame drew the 40th first-place vote, but it was notable that nearly half the voters put Notre Dame fourth and Michigan fifth.

Following them in the top 10 were Nebraska, Syracuse, Arkansas, Louisiana State and Florida State.

Illinois, Kentucky and Michigan State, all thumped last Saturday, dropped out of the top 10 to make room for Syracuse, the comeback-bound 39-0 winner over UCLA; LSU, which downed North Carolina 26-3, and Florida State, which knocked off upset Kentucky 48-8 after the Wildcats had beaten Mississippi and Auburn in consecutive games.

1. Texas (30) 4-0 387
2. Ohio State (7) 3-0 344
3. Alabama (2) 4-0 307

Braves' Head Against Move Of Franchise

MILWAUKEE, Oct. 13 (AP)—

The board chairman of the Milwaukee Braves said Monday that while "things in Milwaukee have not been exactly as we hoped," he would be personally disappointed if the club moved out of the city.

In a New York interview with Milwaukee Journal baseball writer Bob Wolf, William C. Bartholomew was quoted as saying, "we didn't buy the club to sell it, either. If it works out that way, it will be a personal disappointment."

Bartholomew heads the syndicate of young Chicago-area businessmen who bought control of the Braves from Lou Perini in 1952. He said he has not yet decided if his mind is made up to recommend to a board meeting later this month that the franchise be moved from Milwaukee.

"I have some traveling to do in the next week or so," Bartholomew said. "I want to pin the factors together and present them to the board. I would hope that my recommendation would be adopted."

Protests Over Placings Is Turned Down; U.S. Moves Toward Medals

TOKYO, Oct. 13 (AP)—An American protest over the placings in the 100-meter freestyle final was rejected Tuesday by the International Swimming federation, the second time in as many Olympics the group has turned down an American protest in this event. The U.S. forces, meanwhile, moved into contending position for several medals, particularly in swimming and diving, in the third day of the Tokyo Olympic games.

Concern Is Voiced Over Lindgren

TOKYO, Oct. 13 (AP)—Gerry Lindgren's sprained ankle caused deep concern in the American track and field camp on the eve of the 15-year-old schoolboy's debut in the Olympic games 10,000-meter final.

Lindgren turned his ankle on the practice track Tuesday when he stepped in a small hole. The Spokane, Wash., teen-ager didn't help matters by waiting three hours before going to the training room for treatment.

"We are worried about it," said assistant coach Payton Jordan. "It is limping on it. Gerry is not a cry baby. But he is disturbed about it. He needs to be at his peak to run with the veterans."

With Lindgren injured, Jordan tags Marine Lieut. Billy Mills as America's favorite underdog.

"But Mills doesn't have the range nor ability of Lindgren," Jordan said.

Wrestler Is Kicked Off U.S. Team

TOKYO, Oct. 13 (AP)—Charley Triple, San Bernardino, Calif., welterweight wrestler of the freestyle wrestling team, was dismissed from the U.S. Olympic squad Tuesday for failure to report for a weigh-in.

Triple, who lost to Jamall Ogden of Turkey Sunday in his first match, failed to report for a weigh-in Monday morning.

The U.S. Olympic administration committee announced that this was a breach of training and said the 175-pound wrestler would be sent home, probably Wednesday.

In Olympic wrestling a competitor not eliminated by one defeat hence Triple was still in the competition when he eliminated himself.

Shipp Leads Olympic Cage Team to Win

TOKYO, Oct. 13 (AP)—Jerry Shipp led the way for the third straight day as the unbeaten U.S. basketball team posted its third consecutive victory 60-45 over Peru in the third round of the Olympic tournament Tuesday.

Shipp, Bartlesville, Okla., and the Phillips 66er poured in 10 points, 12 in the first half when the Americans piled up a commanding 37-18 lead.

The U.S. now has played 41 games without losing since the inception of Olympic basketball in 1936.

Shipp was aided in the first half by Lucious Jackson of Pan American college and Jim Barnes of Texas Western.

Shipp scored 19 points in the half and he teamed with Barnes, contributed key board work, keeping the Peruvian attack stymied most of the way.

McLendon, 7-foot, 1-inch bruiser from Oregon State, picked up the board work in the second half and helped the U.S. jump to a 20-point bulge.

The Americans then cooled off as Coach Hank Iba emptied his bench. By that time, Iba also cooled down. At one point in the first half, the excited Oklahoma State coach discovered he was wearing his Japanese slippers on the wrong feet.

A club spokesman said Brown, who scored three touchdowns in the Eagles' 25-20 loss to Washington Sunday, definitely would be out for the New York game next Sunday.

The spokesman said the muscle had hemorrhaged and minor corrective surgery was required Monday.

YOUR BIRTHDAY and HOROSCOPE

TUESDAY, Oct. 13 — Born today, you have as your chief characteristic an ability to see the relationships among and between parts of a whole. Though on paper you may not be a whiz at mathematics, you see the mathematics of life — the relationship of cause and effect — as clearly as the nose on your face. For this reason, unforeseen results seldom follow your actions; you have anticipated every possible consequence beforehand and are seldom taken by surprise.

Such an ability, however, may lead to one rather serious drawback: overconfidence. You must be on your guard against believing so strongly in your own ability to foresee results that you become careless in your thinking; for unless you think clearly, unless you take every present circumstance and face it into account, you cannot possibly predict results accurately.

Never take anything for granted. If you take everything into account, you will keep your powers fresh and at their greatest strength. In marriage this is particularly true, for once you begin to take your marriage and the fact of marital happiness — for granted, you open a door to all sorts of difficulties.

Among those born on this date were: Kathleen — Winthrop — best-selling novelist; Herbert — Block, the noted cartoonist "Herblock"; Cornell Wilde, actor, director, producer.

To find what is in store for you tomorrow, select your birthday and read the corresponding paragraph. Let your birthday star be your daily guide.

Wednesday, Oct. 14
LITHA (Sept. 24-Oct. 23) — Don't be dismayed should the day have a slow start. Remember the tale of the tortoise and the hare!

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) — You should be able to put your plans into action well before the noon hour. If too many delays occur, give it up until tomorrow.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 22) — You might be wise to accelerate your schedule by adding one or more chores. An excellent day for accomplishment!

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23-Jan. 20) — Should you fail to function at your best throughout the morning, take it as a sign that a change of pace is in order.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21-Feb. 19) — Avoid any worry over whether or not your popularity will lose or gain through any action of yours. Do as your conscience bids.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) — Where love enters the picture, make sure there are no hindrances to marriage lurking in the background. Avoid a sticky situation.

ARIES (March 21-April 20) — The proper environment for Aries today is to be found in the midst of congenial friends.

TAURUS (April 21-May 21) — The wise Taurus will consider the investments carefully. Ventures in real estate could pay a tidy profit.

GEMINI (May 22-June 21) — Don't count your dividends before they accrue! The Gemini who knows his business will stick to it.

CANCER (June 22-July 22) — Though the reward for today's achievements may be short-lived, it will be well worth the effort.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) — Where you don't feel in your proper element, consider making a change. You may need a family round-table discussion.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) — Not until you have accomplished what you set out to do should you consider any activity not on the agenda.

3 Breakins Keep Police Busy at Buhl

BUHL, Oct. 13 — Three break-ins and the theft of a car reported Monday morning kept local police officers busy. Buhl Police Chief Charles Durban said.

The break-ins were reported at the LDS church, Buhl high school and elementary school. Entrance was gained into the church by prying open a door with a thin bar. Although two office doors also were pried open nothing appeared to be missing, church officials noted.

How entrance was gained into the two public schools is still undetermined, Durban said. In the high school, four sanitary napkin dispensaries were broken into and small change stolen.

An attempt also was made to open a soft drink coin-operated machine but apparently burglars failed in this venture, the law enforcement officer reported.

In the elementary school the door leading to the kitchen was pried open but nothing appeared to be missing.

A 1958 white Chevrolet belonging to Mrs. Eva L. Walker was stolen sometime between 11:30 p.m. Sunday and 6:30 a.m. Monday while parked in front of her residence at 509 ninth avenue north.

GARY ORIN GARDNER, son of Mr. and Mrs. Orin Gardner, Hazelton, will be honored at a farewell testimonial at 7:30 p.m. Sunday at Hazelton LDS ward chapel. He will enter the mission home Nov. 2 for training before leaving for the Central Atlantic States mission. He was graduated from Valley High School in 1963 and attended Utah State University.
