

Paper Industry On West Coast Is Hit by Strike

By United Press International

A new strike hit the nation's labor picture today as 21,000 West Coast pulp and paper workers walked off their jobs. Forty-nine plants were struck by the Association of Western Pulp and Paper Workers (AWPPW) despite a plea for continued negotiations from Labor Secretary W. Willard Wirtz. Employers said the strike would cost five million dollars a week for some 40,000 families affected. It was the first major strike in the West Coast paper industry in 30 years. The AWPPW, which ousted two international unions as bargaining agent, was trying for its first contract.

The walkout affected 21,000 workers in 40 plants in Washington, Oregon and California.

However, members of two former unions that represented the workers said they would report to their jobs at the Celanese, Wash., plant of Crown-Zellerbach Corporation. Members of the AWPPW put up pickets there.

"The strike is on," William Perlitz, president of the AWPPW, said.

Affected by the strike are 24 plants in Washington, 14 in California and 11 in Oregon.

Several other strikes across the nation moved a little closer to settlement yesterday.

The Ford Motor company announced agreement had been reached with the United Auto Workers (UAW) union on local issues at the strikebound Louisville, Ky., assembly plant. A ratification vote was set for Nov. 17.

Further talks continued today between Ford and the UAW on the seven-year-old dispute over other plants in the country. If the Louisville workers agree to go back to work, there will still be 23,400 UAW-Ford workers on strike.

Ford also announced the first legal arbitration in the strikes in steel plants. They included 800 workers at Canton, O., and Hawenville, Mich.

In another UAW dispute, agreements were reached between the union and the Allis-Chalmers Manufacturing company at plants in La Crosse, Wis., and Cedar Rapids, Ia.

The La Porte, Ind., plant has had previously been resolved.

About 10,000 UAW members have been on strike at Allis-Chalmers plants in four states since early Sunday. The union said it would continue to keep production shut down at all the plants until agreement is reached on a master contract.

Detroit's 122-day-old newspaper strike was a step nearer to solution today because one of two striking craft unions voted overwhelmingly yesterday to accept a proposed contract.

Negotiations resumed today between the city's two daily newspapers and the Printing Pressmen's union local 13. The two unions have the size of units to man eight-unit presses at the Detroit News.

Tax Cut

JOHNSON CITY, Tenn., Nov. 12 (UPI) — President Johnson plans to ask Congress next year to repeat the 10 per cent federal excise taxes on toilet articles, cosmetics, jewelry, furs, luggage and handbags.

Treasury Secretary Douglas Dillon announced the decision yesterday after talks with Johnson. The taxes concerned are generally measures enacted during World War II.

Dillon said Johnson also would seek repeal or reduction of a "good number of other excise taxes" in addition to the items listed.

Dillon said repeat of the retail consumer taxes definitely would be proposed to Congress but the exact composition of other cuts had not yet been determined.

Controversy Arises Over Bonn Blast

YANAU, Germany, Nov. 12 (UPI) — A controversy developed today over whether an explosive device which blew up in a schoolyard and injured 47 children yesterday was of American or German origin.

The device was picked up and brought to school by 11-year-old Rudolf Poepke, who is described by his father as mentally retarded.

Rudolf dropped it in the schoolyard near the end of a play period at the Teupelsgarten school. In the explosion, he lost an arm and an eye. He and three other children were badly burned for their lives. Of the 47 injured, 10 still are in the hospital.

The U.S. army said its experts determined from fragments of the device that it could not have been American and probably was German.

But German Mayor Werner Droege said he was "disturbed" by the army announcement. He said a conclusion could not be made until official findings are presented. Friday night by a special German-American investigating commission.

Duchess, 68, Steps Down From Throne

LUXEMBOURG CITY, Nov. 12 (UPI) — Grand Duchess Charlotte officially abdicated in favor of her oldest son today in a simple palace ceremony. She had ruled this tiny nation for the past 45 years.

Charlotte, 68, signified her abdication by embracing 42-year-old Prince Jean and affixing her signature to the document which ended her reign.

Government officials and members of parliament looked on. Prince Jean then took the oath of fidelity in a separate ceremony—in the parliament building.

The new ruler, now Grand Duke Pierre, made the traditional appearance on the palace balcony to receive the homage and cheers of thousands of subjects assembled in the main square.

Charlotte announced her decision to abdicate several months ago. Her health has been failing.

Luxembourg is somewhat smaller than Rhode Island, with a population of 320,000, nestled between Belgium on the west, Germany on the east and France to the south.

Sixty per cent of the country is devoted to agriculture, but mining, banking in the southwest and make it one of the most important steel and iron producers of Europe.

Bellevue Man Is Hurt in Fall

BELLEVUE, Nov. 12 — Richard Williams, 21, Bellevue, is in Sun Valley hospital with head and facial lacerations and other possible injuries received about 3 p.m. Wednesday at Silver Star Queen mine, Broadfoot.

Roy Pitt, mine foreman, and Williams fell from a platform while loading an ore bucket on the 700-foot level.

He fell about eight feet on his face into a muck pile. He was knocked unconscious and it was about 10 minutes before Richard Olson and Patrick Rama came to find him and took him to the hospital.

More Snow Falls in Mountain Areas

Heavy snow, in the second storm of the week, fell across the Sawtooth mountains Wednesday night and early Thursday morning, dumping 10 inches at Galena and giving Richfield its first snow of the season. Three and one-half inches of snow were reported Thursday at Richfield where last year many rural residents were snowbound for weeks because of continuous heavy snow and drifting. At Fairfield, four and one-half inches fell, starting about 2 a.m., making six and one-half inches on the ground, according to the weather bureau. Thursday's snow all fell in the early hours and it was sunny by 9 a.m.

At Twin Falls a brief flurry of snow fell shortly after noon, melting as it fell.

The state snowplows were in use and Canyon county employees were hurrying to get the county plow ready for operation as soon as possible.

The two storms this week at Fairfield have brought a total precipitation of 80 of an inch of water content, according to the forest service, with 32 of an inch reported in Tuesday's storm and 48 of an inch in the Thursday morning storm.

About four and one-half inches of new snow also fell yesterday at Halleys, with clear skies reported throughout the Wood River valley by noon. Mrs. Mary McDonald, who lives near the foot of Timmerman hill, said about three inches fell there.

15 Hurt in Japanese Riot Over U.S. Sub

TOKYO, Nov. 12 (UPI) — Fifteen policemen were injured today in a clash with about 1,700 members of the fanatical Zengakuren organization who were protesting the visit of a nuclear-powered U.S. submarine.

The students hurled rocks and attacked police with pikes in a rally at Hibuya park, near the Imperial Palace. Two students were reported arrested.

Officers emptied the park, saying the rally was not licensed.

An attempted march on the parliament building by the students was blocked.

This evening another rally at Hibuya park was dispersed, on grounds that its sponsors, the leftist Sohio Labor Federation, had no permit.

Police had gathered about 10,000 persons. A cold driving rain helped to disperse them.

NEW FOREIGN MINISTER

TUNIS, Nov. 12 (UPI) — Habib Bourguiba, Jr., 37, son of President Habib Bourguiba of Tunisia, is the nation's new foreign minister.

Smylie said Republicans "could not hope" to gain any House seats in 1968 under the present committee leadership. He said it would be "even more" impossible to win in 1968.

Smylie said an audit of the declared surplus in the party's campaign war chest "would be desirable." The committee has amounted a surplus exceeding one million dollars.

The governor began his crusade against Burch the day after the general election. The same day he called for Burch's dismissal.

Gov. Mark Hatfield advanced Smylie's candidacy for the chairmanship. Smylie said on national television Sunday he would take the job "as an additional party duty to his obligation as governor."

It's more important to get the national committees reformed with a new image than to speculate whether or not I'm going to be chairman," he said.

Burnett, the fan mail has tricked in since Sunday when on nationwide television he called for the removal of the present committee leaders. He said the committee leaders. He said the greatest mail load came this morning. The larger portion of the mail was from out of state, he said.

His desk slab had on it Washington, D.C., and New York

newspapers and newsmagazines

all carrying pictures and stories of Smylie's challenge to Chairman Dean Burch, the hand-picked executive of the committee by Barry Goldwater.

Does Smylie have a chance of becoming chairman?

"It's far too early to do even remote speculation," he said. "We hope someone would be chosen who is completely disassociated with the personal ambition of the candidate and who is really a middle road Republican and has demonstrated that fact."

Leaders on Water Must Think Big'

PALM SPRINGS, Calif., Nov. 12 (UPI) — Kenneth Holm, assistant secretary of the interior, has warned western water leaders to "think big and plan big" in pursuing a long-range solution to the region's water problems. In an address to the 33rd annual convention of the National Reclamation Association (NRA) Holm said the West must look beyond existing needs to plan for 50 years from now. "Perhaps nowhere in the country is there a greater need for a supplemental-water-supply than in Arizona," Holm told some 1,500 NRA delegates at the Riviera hotel.

"For many years water-users in Arizona have been borrowing on the future-literally mining an irreplaceable underground supply," Holm said.

The interior department's budget of reclamation has endorsed the proposed 1.25-billion-dollar central Arizona project. Southern California water interests have opposed the plan for 17 years.

A hearing on the project was held in Phoenix last Monday by a nine-member congressional subcommittee. The congressmen flew here yesterday after making an aerial survey of the southern California region where the Colorado river supplies up to 80 percent of total water used by some 10 million persons.

The legislature has now passed a bill to study the project further. The bill was passed for the third time yesterday.

The legislation also goes to San Diego and over the Imperial and Coachella valleys to inspect various irrigation systems.

Storm Strikes Oregon, May Hit Idaho

Three local veterans, Earl McCullough, U. N. Terry and John Roper, were honored Wednesday at the first annual no-host luncheon held in observance of Veterans Day. Approximately 100 persons attended. McCullough is a veteran of the Spanish-American war. Terry served in World War I and Roper is a veteran of World War II.

All three men received plaques in recognition of their service to their community, as well as to their country.

Beulah, serving his community in wartime, McCullough has attended veterans' conventions all over the United States, many times at his own expense.

Terry, it was noted when the awards were presented, has served in many legal organizations and is presently vice president of the Twin Falls United Fund Drive.

Roper's service has included helping to organize activities for the Veterans day observance.

A committee from American Legion post No. 78 selected the three honorees, who were presented with plaques in commemoration of the event.

Judge Marion Ward was principal speaker at the luncheon. Discussing "Tomorrow's America," he inferred that Veterans Day should not only honor those who are on active duty in the service, but also the pensioners, "for these are tomorrow's veterans," he declared.

Carl Larson was master of ceremonies and acknowledged veterans of all the wars who were present at the luncheon.

He thanked Maj. Larry Laughridge and all who had worked so diligently on the facilities at Magdalene mountain ski resort this year and a double-chair lift and a new road will aid skiers at Pomerelle ski area.

Olson's are having the new rental and repair shop constructed at Magdalene mountain. James Olson, owner, said that the Magdalene mountain also will remain open this year.

Burnett said the fire was apparently started on wooden rear porches, was the worst in the history of this industrial city.

Four of the victims were members of one family. The other three dead were two small brothers and a little girl from a third family.

Five persons were hospitalized. Some 50 to 60 persons either fled the building or were rescued down ladders. None of the five injured was reported on the dinner list.

Fire Chief William W. Kennedy said the fast-spreading fire "definitely was set." A volunteer rookie worker quoted a first-floor tenant as saying he heard what he thinks was an intruder in the cellar of the building shortly before the fire was discovered.

The victims apparently were trapped on the upper floors when flames spread inside from the rear porches and raced up stairways.

A contest among Sens. John P. Pastore of Rhode Island, Russell B. Long of Louisiana and Mike Monroney of Oklahoma for Humphrey's old job seemed to shape up into a sectional battle.

Monroney, generally credited with being President Johnson's favorite for the job, appears to be getting the support of Eastern and New England members who lean toward liberalism.

Long's basic backing is among conservative Southerners. He claims to have pledged in one form or another from 30 to 40 delegations. There will be either 30 or 40 Democrats, depending on the outcome of Massachusetts.

But Long's bid has been damaged by his state's Republican minority in the presidential contest and his own opposition to civil rights legislation.

Monroney is claiming strong support from Midwestern and Western delegations who generally cast themselves as middle of the road in their views.

The contest may go down to the wire as a three-man race to be settled by a caucus vote early in January.

Activity at Burley Plant Is Suspended

BURLEY, Nov. 12 — Processing in the Burley plant No. 2, purchased this fall from Idaho Potato Processors Inc., by Ore-Ida Foods Inc., will be temporarily stopped at midnight Saturday for extensive plant modifications, F. Nephi Griggs reported today.

He said the plant will be changed to better fit in the firm's overall production. The sales plant will undergo a major retiming and equipment will be changed to gear the plant for processing specialized food products.

The changes will increase efficiency and use of byproducts, Griggs, president of the firm, said. He said no estimate has been given as to how long the remodeling will take.

Farm Bureau Committees Give Reports

Reports from committees were heard during the morning session of the Twin Falls county Farm Bureau meeting held Thursday in the Farm Bureau office, 101 Adelgon Avenue east.

The treasurer's report showed the Bureau is in good financial condition and the women's committee report showed the talk meet and talent contest had good participation. It also showed there was good cooperation at the fall fair.

Officers will be elected this afternoon, but will not be officially announced until the Saturday evening banquet, to be held in the high school cafeteria.

Reports were given by the policy committee chairman and the wheat and cotton bill chairman reported on the effort to defeat the bill. The group will elect delegates to the state convention this afternoon.

About 40 persons attended the morning session.

Girl Opens Locked Store To Make Call, Finds Burglar

HEYBURN, Nov. 12 — A Heyburn girl borrowed the key to her boyfriend's father's store Wednesday night to make a telephone call and discovered a burglar.

Joyce Wilcox and Larry McCombs had attended MIA meeting at the LDS church and after it was over Miss Wilcox borrowed young McCombs' key to Mac's market, operated by Ralph McCombs.

She was unable to unlock the door so went back to the church about 8:30 p.m. and McCombs returned with her. When they got inside they found John Brumback, 20, Heyburn, behind the counter.

McCombs held the intruder at the store while Miss Wilcox ran across the street to the village office. Marshal Lloyd Wilson radioed Sheriff Theo Johnson and Brumback, who took the man into custody.

Charges of first-degree burglary were to be filed today by Sheriff Johnson and Brumback, who is being held in Minidoka County jail.

Entrance was gained through a small window above the back door, the sheriff said.

Rains Let up In Viet Nam, Floods Ebb

DA NANG, South Viet Nam, Nov. 12 (UPI) — The rains finally let up today and flood waters began receding. But 10 days of violent weather left hundreds of Vietnamese dead or missing and upward of one million homeless and hungry.

American aid officials here estimated that 80 per cent of the homes in the central plains region were destroyed.

U.S. marine helicopter crews, dodging mines, fire from communist guerrillas, yesterday claimed more than 1,000 stricken Vietnamese from disaster areas covering three provinces.

The floods also took their toll of the communists. Many guerrillas who had been living off the land faced starvation unless they can capture food supplies stored in government-controlled towns and villages. One guerrilla band attempted a raid on a village seven miles north of Haiphong today and was driven off by artillery fire.

Other guerrillas were caught up in the floods and drowned. One Viet Cong was rescued by a helicopter piloted by W-O Bob Robinson, Tampa, Fla.

Robinson's crew had to wrestle hand grenades away from the dripping rebel. He had apparently intended to blow up the helicopter after it was shot down. The guerrilla claimed before he could do any harm, Robinson turned him over to Vietnamese officials.

U. S. to Help in Malaysia Fight

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaysia, Nov. 12 (UPI) — The United States took its first, tentative step toward aiding Malaysia in its military threat as U.S. defense team opened talks on possible arms aid to this country.

The eight-man team, which arrived yesterday, held its first meeting with Malaysian defense officials to determine where and how American assistance might fit into a largely British-oriented armed forces program.

The soldiers, expected to last two weeks, will meet and discuss arms and details will be known immediately.

Malaysia is known, however, to have a shopping list that includes planes and training for men to fly them.

Partly cloudy to cloudy skies yesterday gave way to cloudy skies during the night and early morning as the latest storm system moved into the valleys of southern Idaho. Temperatures yesterday ranged from 35 degrees at Rupert to 50 degrees at Ontario. Clouds, often minimum temperatures this morning with readings in the mid 30s in southwestern Idaho, which reflected a few degrees warming from the previous morning to the low 20s in southeastern valleys where cloud cover was later in arriving. Preston's minimum temperatures of 20 degrees was nine degrees lower than the reading 24 hours ago. Precipitation ahead of and accompanying the frontal movement during the night deposited varying amounts of rain and snow across these valleys. The latest reports early this morning show .28" of an inch at the AEC site near Arco as the greatest total, with Mountain Home reporting .18 of an inch, Gooding .13 of an inch, Fairfield .11 of an inch and Boise .10 of an inch. It still was snowing in southeastern valleys when the latest reports were sent in. Fairfield has six and one-half inches of snow on the ground and a report from Bellevue indicated six inches of snow on the ground.

The front is now into the southeastern valleys and is expected to continue moving eastward rapidly. A large area of low pressure still exists over the western states and as a result variable cloudiness with periods of snow or no snow are expected to continue today and into Friday over the valleys of southern Idaho. Strong gusty winds today will cause blowing and drifting snow, especially in southeastern valleys and in mountain areas. Motorists and stockmen are advised to continue to take precautions today and Friday against these winter conditions. Clearing is expected on Saturday with below normal temperatures.

Maximums today and Friday will range from the mid 30s to mid 40s with minimum temperatures tonight mostly in the teens and into the 20s. The rain finally let up today and flood waters began receding. But 10 days of violent weather left hundreds of Vietnamese dead or missing and upward of one million homeless and hungry.

Tennis Court To Be Fenced At Hagerman

HAGERMAN, Nov. 13.—School trustees voted to purchase enough 11-gauge chain-link fence, eight feet high, to fence the tennis and basketball court at their meeting Monday evening.

Alfred Sandy, acted as chairman in the absence of Frank Henlee, Neil Glane, Jerome wrestling coach, and Al Gaideras, Hagerman coach, proposed starting a wrestling program in the high school.

Sandy stated that wrestling is one of the best sports for physical fitness, is relatively accident-free and cost of equipment is much less than for other sports. This sport would enable more boys a chance to participate in sports because of the limited number able to play football and basketball. Size is not an important factor as weights are matched with like weights in bouts.

Trustees voted to hold a meeting at 8 p.m. Friday to determine what action they will take on putting wrestling in the school athletic program.

It was reported that light fixtures have been ordered for the band room. Members voted to add Jack Marlin, eighth grade teacher, to attend the modern mathematical institute Nov. 13 and 14 in Boise.

The Future Farmers of America Harvest ball will be held from 9 to 12 p.m. Friday and the public is invited to this semi-formal dance.

The Runabouts' orchestra, Gooding will furnish the music. Capt. George Caudle and Vernon Ravencroft will act as the fourth director trustees meeting Tuesday of Twin Falls.

An addition was made to the will board policy regarding equipment work in the agricultural shop.

It was voted to pay a yearly fee of $200 to Boise Junior college for unlimited access to their library or films. This amount would cover costs of all films needed in the district for a school year, and will enable the teachers the use of more films for the classrooms.

Practices were held Saturday afternoon to construct guards for the gymnasium windows near the ground, on the basketball and volleyball sides of the building. These will be made of one-half inch pipe and wire at a cost of about $30.

Superintendent Carlis reported the open house last week was successful, with a good turnout at the grade school.

Bardot Is Not in Hurry to Marry After 2 Divorces

PARIS, Nov. 12 (UPI)—Barbara Bardot said in a radio interview yesterday she has no intention of getting married again in the near future.

"I'm not in a hurry," she said. "I've already been married twice."

The 30-year-old movie star, who became famous as France's "sex kitten," was first married to director Roger Vadim in 1952. The marriage ended in divorce in 1957. She later married French actor Jacques Charrier, and their son Nicholas was born in 1960. This marriage also ended in divorce.

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

By ANDREW TULLY

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12—It's illuminating to learn from a resourceful family of the horse's mouth that the day after Bobby Kennedy won his first elective office he confided to intimates he definitely would run for President in 1972.

For any politician not lucky enough to be named Kennedy such a decision would be considered premature, but there's no such thing as a distant horizon for Joe Kennedy's kids. They always know where they're going and usually see no point in keeping it a secret. In go-getting America, it is part of the charm they exert on the electorate.

JUNIOR WILL BE SENIOR—In this one, however, there is an added twist. In the Senate, 35-year-old Bobby will be junior to his 32-year-old brother, Ted, twice elected to the world's most exclusive club by the voters of Massachusetts, who relect like a Pavlovian dog to the maglo surname. And it is no secret that Ted has looked at the White House and considered trying it on for size.

From casual acquaintance with this celebrated sibling and from folks who should know, there is a feeling here that Ted has been underrated. He has proved in two vigorous campaigns that he is more than a dead president's brother but an instant political star in his own right and an instant-for-the-jugular. He has done his homework in the Senate and he has kept in proper touch with the folks back home. An airline executive of my ken, who has known all the Kennedy brothers since childhood, insists Ted is "the smartest of the lot."

TEDDY VS. BOBBY?—A brother-like that who has discovered people will vote for him, could be a formidable obstacle to Bobby's perfectly proper and even admirable ambitions. Ted will be only 40 in 1972, but this is a country which has decided it is no crime to be young, and by that time he will be able to point with pride to his 10 years in the Senate. Indeed, unless he suddenly stops being a Kennedy, you can't imagine he would accumulate enormous political status in the interim.

You do prefer to know by what process the Kennedy clan selects its candidates for high office, but it is a fact that old Joe fingered the war hero, young Joe, as the No. 1 politician of the family and then shifted the mantle-to-Jack's shoulders when Joe was killed in France. Conceivably then, such matters are settled by family vote and here Ted will have an advantage.

LBJ'S ATTITUDE—That advantage is that so far he has proved far more politically attractive than Bobby. Ted has made it his business to please friends and enemies, as the manipulator or brother Jack's political career has done, and recruited some powerful allies.

big shot Democrats such as Eleanor Roosevelt, Herbert Lehman and Sam Rayburn during the 1960 primaries. And of far more importance, he tried to write off a tough, belligerent named Lyndon Johnson when Jack was looking for a vice-president.

Johnson does a kindly, avuncular manner when Bobby's name is mentioned, but his back still bleeds from that knife wound in Los Angeles. Presumably, Johnson would support Hubert Humphrey for the presidency in 1972, but forced to a choice between the two remaining Kennedys, he would risk no broken arms in a rush to embrace Bobby.

TRADE BARRIERS RISING AGAIN

The first major decision of Britain's new labor government is likely to come with the balance of payments problem—which will be felt not only at home but also in the United States, continental Europe and elsewhere. The two billion dollar gap between what Britain buys and sells abroad, the government will lay tax surcharges on imports and make tax concessions on exports. Surcharges rather than quantitative limits will be imposed because the latter would freeze trade patterns.

The decision, nevertheless, will raise new trade barriers and thus create new problems in the Kennedy round of tariff cutting. Anticipating this, there has been renewed agitation for British membership in the European Common Market as the way to increase exports and make import restrictions unnecessary.

Yet the remedy may prove unavailable since General de Gaulle is threatening to cripple the organization unless a reluctant Germany provides a broader market for French farmers. Last year Germany bought only $18,800,000 worth of grain from Common Market countries while it bought $44,000,000 worth from others, much of it from the United States.

Chancellor Erhard knows his country must buy as well as sell abroad. So he favors British admission to the Common Market—“American trade” for political as well as economic reasons. Let his reliance on grain prices handicap him in his tariff negotiations. They know the common policy would favor France, but it is difficult to bargain on other commodities until it is established.

So the London decision may be a timely reminder that unless markets are broadened, governments fall back on defensive restrictions. These may be necessary in an emergency. Yet if one nation raises barriers, another and another soon finds it necessary to establish new quotas and tariffs of its own. Since Europe has made such significant progress in the avoidance of this impasse, it is to be hoped that new difficulties will not plunge it back into the old trap.

AID BUT NO CURE

The three-way tailights for automobiles suggested by Ohio State University Professor K. A. Harkness—green for cars traveling slower than 40 miles per hour, yellow for those moving at speeds below that figure and red for those that are stopped or whose brakes are being applied—make a lot of sense.

On a dark highway it is difficult to tell how rapidly a car ahead is moving. All one can see are the red tailights. The Harkness system would warn a driver of a slowly moving vehicle and would tend to avert rear-end collisions.

Not all drivers would be swayed by such a safety system, however. If you were driving a red and the green-lighted car ahead only 40 mph, for example, a rear-end collision would be as likely and as deadly as at present. Nothing will supplant ordinary good sense as traffic safety insurance. —The Oregonian

NO LAUGHING MATTER

Time was when smog was a sure-fire subject for laughs in California-type comedians. But not any more. Several “killer smogs,” in New York City, London and Donora, Pa., have taken care of that, startling as these were in making the public aware of the dangers of smog, an even more important consideration is that long-term, low-level air pollution can aggravate chronic illnesses.

President Johnson will be satisfied with his role.

Until fate catapulted him into the presidency, Mr. Johnson hadn't been much in the public eye. Part of his drop from the public view could be attributed to the traditional inactivity of the role of vice-president. There also is little about the disappearance of vice-president Johnson was partly intentional.

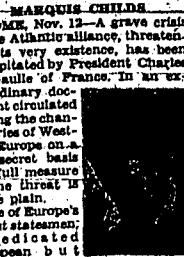

President Johnson used to get a big laugh from close associates when he quipped: “What ever happened to Lyndon?” Johnson left a few months from now, Americans might be asking. “What ever happened to Robert Kennedy?”

community—an painlessly together will come to an end. The so-called Kennedy round of tariff talks at Geneva will come to nothing and the way will open to tariff rivalries.

Promisingly, with France taking the initiative, Europe will put up barriers against the 13 billion dollars in American art and cultural exports that today come into the continent. De Gaulle has long been determined to make Europe self-sufficient in food.

But, ominous as were these thunderbolts, behind them was an intimation that de Gaulle's visit had even more disturbing. This was the possibility that France might try to strike a new and separate bargain with the Soviet Union.

As was noted in the memorandum of the conversation, de Gaulle in his postwar term as head of government in 1945 made a journey to Moscow. He hoped at that time to come to terms with Stalin. One goal: was an understanding over post-war boundaries with the French far in mind of a reunified Germany. A reunified Germany with a population at least 20 million more than France would inevitably become the dominant power in Europe.

The mission to Stalin failed, but de Gaulle seems never to have abandoned the possibility of a separate agreement that would give France a special status in relation to the communist bloc. De Gaulle's recent deal for the sale of wheat to Peking on credit terms would seem to fit into the pattern.

At the center of de Gaulle's love-joy-like disdain for the multilateral force and for the super-nationality of the European economic community is obviously, as the memorandum shows, his conviction that the Franco-German treaty ranks above everything else. That treaty is the heart of a pact accepted by groups of nations dedicated by bonds of friendship and cooperation. In the Europe dominated by de Gaulle, France, it is said without saying, would be the leader and the pre-eminent nation-state.

The treaty was the handiwork of the French president and his chief ally, Adenauer. Adenauer, Pressed into retirement at the age of 88, Adenauer is still struggling for power behind the scenes, accusing his successor, Ludwig Erhard, of betraying the Franco-German treaty. Whether NATO can survive the disruptive forces at work is a very real question here—in the Mediterranean pivot of the alliance.

POT SHOTS

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12—It's wholly new President Johnson's intent to himself that everyone else here and abroad—will have to develop now that he has been elected to the White House on his own for a full four years.

This is in handling foreign affairs, a field where his experience has been very limited until now.

It's reasonable to guess he will try to perform here what he did with Congress and polliiticians.

This means getting something done.

In short—in each instance—he will seek some measure of success, compromising where he has to instead of insisting upon having everything his own way.

After beating Ben Harry Goldwater in Tuesday's election Johnson said he accepts his victory as a “mandate for unity.”

He was talking about trying to unify the divided forces at home.

It is hardly an accident he mentioned unity. For him it means trying to bring divergent forces together. It's the way he operates.

After he became President, and until now, Johnson made no overseas trip. For one thing, there was no vice president; if anything happened to him he would be standing still. He may accomplish far more than Kennedy.

While Johnson needs constant reassurance through approval domestically he got all one man needs in the election returns—it is natural he will value his sights and seek international approval with his conduct of foreign affairs.

He is an expert negotiator but he still has to demonstrate how tough he is in a fierce international crisis. He has never been in one, although it may have given an insight with his action on civil rights.

For a nation he is apparently fit, he had a full-time job establishing himself at home and trying to get his programs through Congress. He did so well it was his success here that laid the base for his presidential campaign.

As President he had foreign problems to deal with, but from within the White House, and never as a first-hand participant in solving them on the scene, as might be done through conference.

He'll still have to worry about his program of congressional investigations. The Democrats are experiencing there as a result of the election.

Bird May Have Caused Plane Crash

HOUSTRON, Tex., Nov. 12 (UPI)—A space agency report is expected to reveal next week that a collision with a large bird caused the jet plane crash that killed Major Theodore C. Freeman.

The 34-year-old air force captain, one of 14 new space trainees who began training nine months ago for flight to the moon, died when his T-38 twin-jet trainer crashed Oct. 31 barely two miles short of a safe runway.

The national aeronautics and space administration (NASA) said yesterday the report of a special investigation into the accident "may be available early next week."

The space agency's manned spacecraft center near Houston steadfastly declined to discuss either the accident or the progress of the investigation since the day of the tragic plunge that turned a routine training flight into America's first astronaut death.

However, the official report was expected to include these major points:

—Freeman's plane, speeding toward a landing at Ellington air force base south of Houston, ran into a flock of birds, apparently when at least one bird passed through the cockpit, hitting and possibly blinding the pilot, about 300 to 500 feet above the ground.

—The airplane, out of control, plunged nose-down. Freeman, in a last-ditch attempt to save his life, hit the switch that propelled him and his seat from the craft—a normal emergency procedure. Because of the high-down attitude, the aircraft was shot away almost horizontal to the ground. He failed to reach an altitude that would have permitted his parachute to open normally and safely.

News Around Idaho

POCATELLO, Nov. 12 (UPI)—A 4-year-old Pocatello boy was reported in critical condition today at an Idaho Falls hospital with a head wound. Ken Whitmore, son of Pocatello city policeman and Mrs. Jerry Whitmore, was taken by plane to the Idaho Falls hospital yesterday after he accidentally shot himself in the head with his father's service revolver.

BOISE, Nov. 13 (UPI)—The Idaho permanent building fund advisory council began work today on trimming construction requests from communities to more than $2 million dollars to fit the estimated budget of $10 million dollars for the 1965-67 biennium. The council will forward its recommendations to the 1965 legislature which will use them in drafting its building program for the next two years.

BOISE, Nov. 12 (UPI)—The Idaho Heart Association has announced the appointment of William Roden, Boise, as chairman of its 1965 Idaho heart fund campaign. Roden, a Boise attorney and Ada County state senator, will make a six-week tour of the state recruiting volunteer workers to take part in the fund-raising drive next February, the announcement said. He will be assisted by a committee made up of Mrs. Helen Tegar, Pifer, and Earl Ross, Bruce Belcher, Bob Krueger, John Dahl, James Gilcrease and Dr. William D. Fornay, all Boise.

POCATELLO, Nov. 12 (UPI)—Charges that the John Birch Society is attempting to take over the Parent Teachers Association have been denied by Head Senator, Utah-Southern Idaho coordinator for the controversial right wing organization. The charges were leveled last week by Mrs. Afton Falter, Foothills, president of the Idaho Congress of Parents and Teachers. Mrs. Falter said the society is using unorthodox methods such as stalling meetings until many members have gone home and then taking over. Benson said in a statement, however, that Mrs. Falter's charges are reported in the press give an inaccurate picture of the society.

POCATELLO, Nov. 12 (UPI)—Twelve district winners will be for the class to represent Idaho in the 1965 Wool Growers Association convention scheduled to open here Sunday. The district winners are: Ardenia Klamp, St. Anthony; Jeri Evans, Pocatello; Ann Hildebrand, Blackfoot; Rhonda Hammond, Preston; Beverly Hansen, Gooding; Carolyn Van Zante, Twin Falls; Lindsay Juleen Morgenzen, Fayette; Elvina May Reinhold, Buhl; Kathleen McDonald, Fenn, and Mrs. Donald Wilson, Grangeville.

BOISE, Nov. 12 (UPI)—Two men were killed and three others injured in a two-car collision on a suburban road in Boise today. The dead were identified as—Samuel Alvarez, 25, Nampa, and Larry N. Peterson, Meridian. Officers said they were the drivers of the two cars which smashed head-on. Three Nampa men riding in Alvarez's car were injured, none seriously. Peterson was also uninjured. One of the vehicles of the collision flipped the Peterson car upside down off the roadway, tipping one wheel off. The two deaths increased Idaho highway toll for the year to 223, compared with 118 a year ago.

POCATELLO, Nov. 12 (UPI)—A 4-month-old baby was found dead here yesterday, an apparent victim of suffocation. Police Officer R. E. Steinleitner said the child was Amos Brown, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Amos Lavar Brown. The father said he found the baby wrapped up in a sheet and bedspread which had been used to cover him. Efforts were made to revive the infant, but he apparently had been dead for some time. Coroner Burton John said death was due to natural causes.

McCALL, Nov. 12 (UPI)—Idaho's two U.S. senators and Gov. Robert E. Shinnie will be featured speakers at a natural resources conference scheduled to open in McCall next Monday. Tom Hoff, McHorsehead Ranch lumberman, will serve as chairman of the two-day conference being co-sponsored by the Southern and Northern Idaho Forestry associations. Shinnie will open the conference Monday morning with a statement on the "need for proper understanding of roads and resources problems." Sen. Frank Church, D., Idaho, and Sen. Len Jordan, R., Idaho, will speak Monday luncheon session, and Senator R. C. Cancil Lewellen, president of Potlatch Forests, Inc., will speak Monday evening.

POCATELLO, Nov. 12 (UPI)—An investigation was continuing today into the hunting death yesterday of 20-year-old Ronald J. Brinkley Lava Not Springs. Brinkley, an air rifle's deputy and hunting Lava Not shot while hunting in the mountain south of Pocatello. They said it appeared the shot was fired by another hunter.

DUBOIS, Nov. 12 (UPI)—A suggestion that Idaho legislators drag their feet on legislative reapportionment in hopes that the supreme court's "one man, one vote" edict will be reversed has been valued by a newly elected state senator. "There should be no compromise on this subject of reapportionment as defined by the U.S. supreme court," said Lt. Gov. Harry Dubois, in a statement. "We should take this power of representation back to the states giving the states the right to determine their own method of representation from the United States congress down to all political subdivisions." Dubois said advocates of reapportionment must realize where they are heading, deciding that it could result in the country ordering the revisions of county, congressional districts and perhaps even city council and school districts zones on a population basis.

IDAHO FALLS, Nov. 12 (UPI)—The atomic energy commission reports that work authorized for the national reactor testing station in eastern Idaho totals $14 million dollars. That puts Idaho third among the 26 states which have atomic energy installations in the value of currently authorized projects. California leads with $76.6 million dollars and New Mexico is second with $1.8 million dollars. Installations already completed at the Idaho station are valued at $29.7 million dollars, the AEC said, with an addition of $6.9 million dollars worth of projects under construction. The $14 million dollars in authorized increases total expenditures at the Idaho site to $82 million dollars.

Maddox Says FBI Ruining His Business

ATLANTA, Ga., Nov. 12 (UPI)—Cafeteria owner Lester Maddox whose fried chicken and other Southern specialties are not for sale to integrationists in his Atlanta restaurant has told federal agents he is being harassed by tracking down and questioning his customers.

"Unless this harassment by the FBI is stopped, it is going to put me out of business," Maddox complained. "There won't be any need to go back into court." The 49-year-old segregationist, who has barred Negroes from his place, has been ordered into federal court-in-contempt proceedings because of an injunction against his segregation policy. A hearing has been delayed until the U.S. supreme court rules on the 1964 civil rights act.

"About 100 persons have called me or contacted me and said they were questioned by the FBI for stopping here or eating at my place," Maddox said.

When he was placed under the court's contempt order, Lester Maddox shut down his business at the Pickwick Restaurant. It opened again Sept. 26 under a new name, Lester Maddox Cafeteria, in the same building and again turned away Negroes.

His new policy of refusing to serve integrationists or inter-state travelers is posted at two locations in the cafeteria. The civil rights act says businesses serving or offering to serve inter-

The First World War

Written By PHILIP VAN DOREN STERN for Newspaper Enterprise Association

In 1914 the British battle fleet was the world's biggest and most powerful. Some German ships were technically more advanced, but the Kaiser's navy was hopelessly outnumbered by England's mighty armada. And Germany's geographical position in the center of Europe kept most of its fleet bottled up throughout the war.

England's First Lord of the Admiralty, young and vigorous Winston Churchill, went ahead on his own to prepare the British fleet for action even before the war had actually begun. Then, in August, he had Adm. David Beatty launch a sudden, successful raid on German warships at Heligoland Bight.

The Germans struck the next blow far away in the western Pacific. There the bold sea fighter, Admiral Spee, started using some of his squadron as commerce-destroyers to prey on enemy shipping, just as Semmes had done with the Confederate ship Alabama fifty years before. The raider Emder prowled around the Indian Ocean, sinking merchant vessels from August 22 to November 9, when she ended her career in a battle at sea just as the Alabama had done.

Spee moved most of his fighting ships across the Pacific to a coal station off the coast of Chile. There British Admiral Cradock found him. The two squadrons, bristling with guns, met near Coronel on November 1, when the Germans sank two British ships and seriously damaged two others.

Spee then sailed around Cape Horn to enter the South Atlantic. At the Falkland Islands he encountered another British squadron, far stronger than his own. The German admiral desperately tried to get away, but the British gave chase, and a running battle took place on December 8.

Before the day was over, four out of the five German cruisers had been sent to the bottom: the fifth one was destroyed in the Pacific three months later. These were the last of the German ships operating at large on the oceans of the world.

But the captains of Allied merchant vessels were still under the threat of the submarine and the unseen underwater craft with its deadly torpedoes was a far greater menace than any surface warship had ever been.

Multilateral Nuclear Force, Major Issue of Western Allies, Explained

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12 (UPI)—The proposed NATO nuclear surface fleet, which has caused a crisis in relations among major Western Allies, evolved from an American suggestion during the final days of President Dwight D. Eisenhower's administration.

The full-blown U.S. plan was worked out under the late President John F. Kennedy and has been carried forward by President Johnson. It calls for a fleet of 25 vessels, armed with eight Polaris missiles each and maintained by mixed crews from participating NATO nations.

"Now, almost exactly four years after the initial suggestion was tossed into the pot, the project faces its most critical test. France, long at odds with the United States and other Allies on NATO military strategy and determined to maintain an independent nuclear force, has intensified its opposition to the multilateral Nuclear Force (MLF).

President Charles de Gaulle's government contends that if the project goes into effect, it will pull NATO into two groups: Those joining the plan and those remaining aloof.

There even have been hints from Paris that de Gaulle will pull his remaining military forces out of NATO if the MLF comes into being.

Britain, always cool to the plan, now is attempting to work out a formula which would reduce the size of the fleet and incorporate it into a broader NATO nuclear strategy plan which might not be so offensive to Paris.

It was noted the first three Saturdays in December will feature the annual cash for Christmas drawings and the Santa Claus visit with treats for West End youngsters who will be fed. End your search for a good place to go.

Other NATO Allies have been unable to make up their minds. American officials still are hopeful that Italy and The Netherlands, as well as some other countries, will decide to join the project.

The fate of the NATO nuclear fleet to a large extent appears to hinge on the outcome of a series of Allied talks between now and the end of the year.

President Johnson will discuss the issue with British Prime Minister Harold Wilson during their conference here Dec. 7 and 8. Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Undersecretary of State George W. Ball will confer on the subject with German and French leaders at meetings here and in Bonn and Paris.

The United States gave no public indication of abandoning its support for the project in its present form. However, officials always say they will listen to a proposal if any ally has one.

There is an impression in diplomatic quarters, however, that if Britain comes up with a compromise proposal acceptable to West Germany, Italy, Turkey and Greece.

The issue has strenuously been criticized in Britain. They contend it is simply an American device to get nuclear weapons into the hands of the West German-Moscow axis.

Representatives of eight nations which show some interest in the project have discussed both its military and political aspects.

These eight are the United States, Britain, Germany, Italy, The Netherlands, Belgium, Turkey and Greece.

Massachusetts Youth Goes To School in Comfort, Style

MIDDLETON, Mass., Nov. 12 — Those who commute to school with Bradburn Barrows, 18, travel-in-comfort and style, foreign to today's hot-rodders. Bradburn drives a shiny, black, 12-cylinder Lincoln limousine that's 1947 feel-long and fitted out like a living room. It has leather upholsteries, teakwood paneling, foot pillows, chrome fixtures, window intercom system and a roll-down window that separates the passengers from the chauffeur.

"This is the greatest," said young Barrows today. "We didn't know such comfort when I was driving my 1932 hot-rod with no hood and no roof."

"We've had as many as 17 in the car. At drive-in theaters we invite young people from other cars to join us and sit around in a crowd."

"We've had football rallies, birthday parties and even picnics out in the car."

For the uninitiated, Barrows explains tail-a-emulator is when a bunch of guys sit around in the car smoking cigars and cigarettets with all the windows up and the blinds down.

Ron Melzard, 17, another companion, said of the smokers: "It occupies us. It's better than sitting around getting into trouble."

Barrows said he isn't trying to compete with the school-busmen, "the more kids I pack into the car the more there are to chip in for gas."

"They don't make 12-cylinder merely to make it taste better.

Deputy Master Visits Area Lodge

WENDELL, Nov. 12 — Blythe Olemans, Gooding, deputy grand master of district No. 13, made his official visitation to Wendell Lodge No. 64 on Friday evening.

The guest was introduced by Thomas Frith, senior deacon, a commission consisting of Harry Frith, W. W. Trousdale and T. E. Bowles, was appointed by the master to make arrangements.

Plans were discussed concerning the annual turkey banquet, a commission consisting of Harry Frith, W. W. Trousdale and T. E. Bowles, was appointed by the master to make arrangements.

The report of the past master's dinner served recently in Wendell was made by Phil Hirrel.

Delegates Thomas Frith, Phil Hirrel, W. W. Kelley and Leslie Wallace reported on their participation in the training school held Nov. 8 at Mountain Home.

Alton T. Kauffman, Boise, grand lecturer, conducted the school of instruction.

Lancaster reminded members that the annual meeting of the members will visit Boise Lodge No. 1 for a clam chowder dinner and the Wendell members will confer the "Corus" for a Boise candidate. Wendell Masons are to leave the Wendell temple at 4:30 p.m. for Boise.

Olemans discussed the theme chosen by grand master John P. Hallwell, "Patriotism, morality and regulation." The influence, strength and power within the lodge depend on these things, declared the speaker.

Olemans summarized the changes, suggestions and recommendations in the house, which he thinks will increase interest.

The speaker explained the traveling raves started by the grand master to increase interest in visitations. He suggested that each lodge take as many members as possible on the visits to other lodges.

A movie on teen-age driver training and safe driving was shown by Bill Jones.

Burnett, deputy master, spoke on safe driving and conducted a question period.

Refreshments were served by G. T. Gross, Darrell Anderson and Harry Frith.

THURSDAY, NOV. 12
"Kraft-Suspense Theater," (Color, 8 p.m. NBC)—Milton Berle and Carol Lawrence appear in the drama, "He Should Weep for Her," tale of a young girl's strange plot for revenge against the man who killed her brother.

"Sophia Loren in Rome," (Special, 9 p.m. ABC)—Last year it was Elizabeth Taylor to play Sophia Loren, and this season Sophia Loren, will allow viewers around her home town—Rome, with its various and sundry piazzas, fountains, classic structures and works of art. Another international star, who's appeared with her in some of her recent movies, also will appear in this travologue—Marcello Mastroianni.

"Perry Mason," (8 and 9:30 p.m. CBS)—While traveling in Europe on business, Perry becomes involved in an international conspiracy and a murder.

BEST THURSDAY NIGHT MOVIE
"Don't Go Near the Water," (1957, Glenn Ford, Gia Scala, Ann Francis and Earl Holliman) (10:30 p.m. KMTV)—A hilarious comedy about a group of public relations experts who were stationed on a tropical South Pacific island during World War II.

"Divide of '54," (Color, 1954, Gary Cooper, Susan Hayward and Richard Widmark) (10:30 p.m. KMTV)—Drama of greed, jealousy and retribution. Well-made flicker tells the story of three adventurers who agree to escort an American woman through hostile Indian country in an effort to rescue her husband, trapped in a rich gold mine. Tense western with top-notch performances by the entire cast, especially Cooper.

"The Old Man and the Sea," (1958) Spencer Tracy (10:35 p.m. KMTV)—An exceptional film. Based on the prize-winning novel by Ernest Hemingway about an aging fisherman's driving ambition to catch a giant marlin. Great performances.

Harding Is Only Rated Demo to Lose

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12 — Congressman HAL HARDING, D-Ia., was the only Democrat of 17 given a "superior" rating for their work in the house of representatives by the New York Times who went down to defeat on Nov. 4.

The Times editorial, which appeared Nov. 10, named Harding as having "achieved considerable distinction in serving the broad national interest."

The newspaper also credited the congressman with favoring national over sectional or partisan interests.

Cecil McCaw Is Appointed At Kimberly

KIMBERLY, Nov. 12 — Cecil McCaw was appointed president of the Kimberly Chamber of Commerce during a meeting Tuesday.

McCaw will succeed Forrest Uriel who is leaving Kimberly to accept a position with the Ford Motor company, tractor and implement division in Birmingham, Mich., this week.

It was revealed the Pocatello Chamber of Commerce had decorated Christmas street decorations to the local chamber and they were brought home by Don Whitehead last week.

Whitehead and Robert Walker were selected to oversee the result of the decorations and the present string of events.

Uriel decided to promote a night bulb campaign to raise money for the lighting program with Dr. Frank Voska as chairman and Robert Walker as chairman of the fund raising drive.

It was decided the chamber should establish a continuous promotion program with Edward Thompson to serve as chairman, assisted by John Stout, Hal Hill and Don Taylor.

It was announced the layouts and prices on the Kimberly area brochure should be available for inspection at the December meeting.

Mrs. Hal Hill and Mrs. Whitehead were designated to send Christmas greetings to the tourists having signed the register kept in the village parlor by Mrs. Dora Nall and Carl Ridgeway.

Uriel was presented a gift by the chamber in appreciation for his work as a chamber member this past year.

6 Buhl Teachers Attend Clinic

7 BUEHL, Nov. 12 — Six Buhl faculty members, Mrs. Lucille Heyer, Mrs. Grace French, Mrs. Ernestine Engleberg, Miss Dorothy Machacek, Mrs. Muriel Gile and Mrs. Helen Johnson, superintendent, attended the reading clinic last week at the Black River high school, Moreland.

The clinic was slated at the new development in reading and English and curriculum changes forthcoming in these departments. Speakers included Dr. Charles Brown, reading consultant at the University of Southern California; Dr. Afton Porgren, coordinator of the state department of education of Utah; Norman Goldberg, superintendent of schools at Rochester, N.Y.; and Dr. Geneva Hanna, professor of English education at Austin, Tex.

Red China's Challenge in Asia, Latin America Is Major U.S. Policy Problem

By LEON DENNEN

NEW YORK, Nov. 12 (NEA) — Red China's challenge in Southeast Asia, Africa and Latin America is the major foreign policy problem facing the Johnson administration.

The fall of Nikita Khrushchev is a grim reminder that there was more than thinking than action in the State Department's view that the conflict should reach a truce and some understanding, however bad or limited.

The alternative is a more active U.S. military and political policy. As Blanck said, "any kind of policy is better than a vacillating policy."

An active U.S. policy means that the Johnson administration will have to commit vastly more men and arms to shore up the crumbling anti-Chinese wall in Vietnam, Laos and other world trouble spots.

It also means that the United States will no longer be able to give as much support to Europe as it did in the past since even U.S. resources are limited. The Europeans will be told they have to rely more on their own resources to defend themselves against possible Russian aggression.

This was, in effect, President John F. Kennedy's view shortly before he was assassinated. He saw that the United States would have to abandon its traditional policy of nonintervention in the Pacific area. He therefore encouraged Western Europe to be more active and independent.

Kennedy visualized a new NATO alliance consisting of two equal world powers, America and Europe. He saw a prosperous and united Europe able to defend its own special interests against Russia, a Europe that would throw its united military and political weight into the balance of world power and be an independent power, but as a second world power of the West.

The emergence of Red China as a nuclear force on the world political arena is thus a dramatic summons to Europeans to unite.

President Johnson, before meeting with Russia's new rulers, is likely to make efforts in first strengthening NATO and discuss issues with the leaders of France, Britain, West Germany and Italy.

NO SURPLUS
WASHINGTON, Nov. 12 (UPI) — The Republicans figure to have enough money in the kitty to pay all their election expenses, but talk of a $1.2 million dollar surplus is only "fanciful speculation."

Record Crowd Expected At Boise Saturday When Idaho Hosts Utah State

The best Idaho football team in years is pitted against a strong Utah State club with a special highlight of big Ray McDonald returning to Southern Idaho for the first time as a collegian. The combined effect is expected to set an attendance record at BJC stadium in Boise Saturday afternoon. Game time for the Vandals' only showing in southern Idaho this year is 1:30 p.m., and the BJC stadium capacity has been lifted from about 10,500 to 14,500 by auxiliary bleachers.

Reserved seats for the game have been gone for over a week although there still will be a few thousand general admission tickets on sale at the gate Saturday.

Into all this walks Idaho coach Dee Andros and his 3-5 Vandals. With only Utah State and Arizona State left on the schedule, the Vandals have their backs to the wall for a break-even year and they know it.

"We'd sure love to get them," Andros said Wednesday night, "but we know it's not going to be easy. I've said all along that Utah State and Arizona are equal to us, and they were equally tough."

"But the kids are in great spirits and so I believe they will play real well. Whether this will be good enough remains to be seen, but I think we can win both with good play and a minimum of mistakes," Andros concluded.

"Utah State is probably an explosive ball club and our team we've met this year. We'll have to do a lot more of containing than. They don't drive the football down your throat too much but are capable of giving all the way on any play. That's why we've been working on basic and deviating methods to contain their speed outside."

Looking at his own battle plan, Andros said, "We've been trying ourselves to decide what they're planning on us doing and then try to do the opposite. We have shown some tendencies in the last three games that we'll try to cover."

Although Andros acknowledged Utah State has been hit hard by injuries he shrugged off suggestions the game might be weaker than expected.

"Our scouting reports show their injuries came early in the game last week," he smiled. "All Utah State came back in the second half to the Wyoming — which isn't a bad bit of news. I'm sure their replacements are very good football players."

Saturday also might be the day an Idaho man could come back to haunt the Vandals. Grant Martineau, ex-Burley star, was won by the Vandals but chose Utah State.

Martineau played and carried the ball well against BYU two weeks ago, so I imagine he'll see him," Andros said. "But I expect fullback Murray to be back this weekend." Martineau is one of the standouts against Wyoming. He's got to think about McDonald hurling in," he continued. "We tried hard enough to get him once and failed. I hope we don't have the same trouble corralling him Saturday."

The Vandal again will be without middle linebacker Dick Litzinger, who is out for the season with a bad knee. However, Tim Laven, former Jerome and Twin Falls standout, is expected to return Saturday.

McDonald is in top condition. Andros was happy to note, "Sunday morning, I think every body in Arizona hit him sometime during the game."

After testing the traveling team will be Doug Penber, Buhl; Al Glan- ders and Phil Morley, Jerome; Al Myers, Blackfoot; Jerry Currie, Jim Morris, Jim Williams, Mort Krahn and Bob Bryant — all Gooding, and Ed Oton, M. L. Gates and Yogi Berra, Wendell.

The Clowns comedy repertoire includes most of the antics that have become expected of such teams plus a few new ones.

Rangers Down Bruins 4-2

NEW YORK, Nov. 12 (UPI) — Two goals apiece by Canfield and Jones and Earl Ingarsfield and Tom Jonsen nullified a goal-tending by Jacques Plante, sparked the New York Rangers to a 4-2 National Hockey League victory over the Boston Bruins Wednesday night.

Henry, whose hot hand has produced five of the last eight goals scored by New York, was at his tip-top best, twice flicking short shots behind Boston goalie Ed Johnson.

Plante, recalled from Baltimore last week, turned in his second straight fine performance.

Brown Named NFL Player Of Week

NEW YORK, Nov. 13 (UPI) — Old dependable Jimmy Brown came through with another of his patented 100-plus yard games for the Cleveland Browns last Sunday and joined the club as this week's Associated Press player of the week in the National Football League.

Brown rambled 121 yards on 18 carries and scored once in the Browns' 34-24 victory over the stubborn Washington Redskins. Jim's touchdown was the 10th of his brilliant career.

Down through the years, Brown has amassed 100 or more yards rushing in a record total of 49 different games. Brown has four big days this season, gaining 188, 140, 104 and then 121 yards.

It is largely through Brown's efforts that Cleveland holds a two-game edge in the NFL's Eastern conference, with only five games to play. Jim leads all the rushers as usual with 934 yards for the season on 170 carries, a lead of 208 yards on runner-up Jim Taylor of Green Bay.

Brown also had himself an outstanding day Sunday with his third 100-plus effort of the season as he gained 145 yards on 19 carries against the tough Detroit Lions' defense in a 30-7 Packer victory.

Baltimore's amazing rookie fullback, Tony Lorig, slipped off 121 yards in 14 tries in the Colt's 40-24 romp over the defending-champion Chicago Bears.

Although Andros acknowledged Utah State has been hit hard by injuries he shrugged off suggestions the game might be weaker than expected.

"Our scouting reports show their injuries came early in the game last week," he smiled. "All Utah State came back in the second half to the Wyoming — which isn't a bad bit of news. I'm sure their replacements are very good football players."

ISU Colonel Tells of War In Viet Nam

Many Americans misunderstand the present conflict in South Viet Nam because they fail to realize the difference between a conventional war and an unconventional one, Lieut. Col. Frank J. Riley, Jr., professor of military science at Idaho State University, Pocatello, told members of the Kiwanis club at regular session here Thursday noon.

Colonel Riley came to Idaho State university in 1963 after a tour of duty as military adviser to the Vietnamese army. At the university he teaches military instruction and coordinates activities of the cadet brigade, which this year numbers more than 1,000 students. He was introduced by Armour Anderson, program chairman for the day.

The military expert, a member of the infantry, said that a conventional war was fought in World-war II and in Korea. He participated in the latter engagement.

Conflict in South Viet Nam, he said, is unconventional warfare which is not readily understood by many citizens.

"I do feel that wars are not always necessary or an answer to the final solution," the speaker said, "but since they have been a part of our way of life, I try to explain the mechanics of them from a worm's eye view."

During his talk he showed about 60 slides in color. He pointed out that he was not disclosing any high-level strategy—but added, "I do attempt to portray the feeling of any combat veterans."

Colonel Riley spoke at the invitation of Kiwanis as members rounded out a week-long Veterans Day observance which directly and indirectly involve several of the club's projects.

He has been a member of the army for 23 years. He has had much special training since that time. Serving in Korea "Batt" in South Viet Nam, his decorations include two bronze stars and an air medal awarded for valor in South Viet Nam; a third bronze star for meritorious service, and the Army Commendation medal and the combat infantryman's badge, first and second awards.

Mariner 4 Shot Delayed Indefinitely

CAPE KENNEDY, Nov. 12 (UPI)—Scientists, unable to determine what caused the failure of the Mariner 4 Mars shot last week, have indefinitely postponed launching another probe to the mysterious planet, informed sources said yesterday.

The federal space agency had tentatively scheduled the Mariner-4 launch for Nov. 17. The favorable "Launch Period" for reaching Mars ends Dec. 2, and the planet will not be in as favorable a position for a probe from Earth again until late 1966.

But the sources said a shot after Dec. 2 was not ruled out although chances of reaching Mars diminished each day after that date because of increased power requirements.

Both Mariners were in a $13 million dollar program designed to produce the first closeup pictures of the Martian surface and make valuable interplanetary scientific measurements.

Scientists believe a protective shroud over Mariner-3 did not spring free of the spacecraft during launch as planned. But they do not know the cause of the malfunction.

9 Rioters Die After Car Attack

KAMAPALA, Uganda, Nov. 12 (UPI)—Rioters in a nearby village attacked a patrol car and police fired on them, killing six persons, unofficial reports said yesterday.

Police Inspector General M. Oryema ordered an investigation of the incident at Nakasongola, which, according to a government spokesman, police car was stoned.

Police were said to have opened fire after calling reinforcements.

LIEUT. COL. F. J. RILEY, JR., professor of military science at Idaho State university, spoke to members of the Kiwanis club at regular Thursday noon meeting.

Reds and U.S.

THURSDAY, Nov. 12—Born today, you must be on constant guard against rash, imprudent actions. Your response to life in general and to people in particular is so completely spontaneous that, unless you learn to temper your immediate impulses with considerable thought, you will be faced with unpleasant consequences. You have a clear, logical mind; learn to use it!

Sympathy for your fellow human beings is one of your greatest attractions for others. The warmth of your feeling cannot be matched by those with whom you come into contact, even superficially; nor can it go unanswered; enduring friendships will result.

You are emotional and somewhat whimsical—a combination that gives you a certain endearing quality which many call childlike. So long as you do not overwork the point of becoming too sentimental, it should take you a long way toward success, for it allows you an entry into confidence from which you might otherwise be excluded.

Among those born on this date are Grace Kelly, film star; Anne Parrish, author; Thomas Wood, portrait painter. To find what is in store for you tomorrow, select your birthday and read the corresponding paragraph. Let your birthday tell you your daily guide.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 20)—Take care not to overlook another's good points merely because you reflect certain qualities you cannot admire.

1965 Idaho Legislature Is Faced With Myriad of Problems

BY RICHARD CHAMOISEAU
BOISE, Nov. 12 (UPI)—A myriad of problems confronts the 1965 legislature.

Taxes, education, reappportionment, redistricting, pari-mutuel racing, trading stamps, water resource development and another record budget are just a sampling of what's in store for the 123 men and women who come here in January to write laws.

They are going to be expected to act in 60 days a host of problems that predated their predecessors and—possibly may be around still to stymie their successors.

A couple, such as reappportionment and redistricting, may be put off until a special session which some have suggested around follow the regular session after it adjourns.

But even if the leadership of the two parties agrees with Gov. Robert E. Smylie to postpone these two decisions temporarily the lawmakers nonetheless will have a heavy agenda for consideration.

And, with as some lawmakers might, these revenue problems aren't going to go away.

To the contrary, they are increasing. Revenue to the general fund for the current biennium is expected to fall short of the public school system—a biennial appropriation of roughly $7 million dollars will step up demands for a sales tax.

Tried briefly in the 1960s and passed out by the electorate in a referendum, the sales tax proposal in recent years has gained more and more support from not only the legislators but many who help elect them.

One such proposal passed the money on which to operate irrigation either to bottle up plan-betting on the panes. There is, then, in certain areas cross-party lined-like-planks to generate more voters, more telephone calls and more headaches for the legislators than most issues twice their size.

On a more emotional plane over the forthcoming battles over trading stamps and pari-mutuel appropriations.

Another problem of immediate and pressing attention will be formulation of a state water resources development plan. The electorate Nov. 3 laid the groundwork for this by passage of a constitutional amendment. Now it will be up to the lawmakers to build upon this by either creating a new agency or designating an existing one to handle the job.

There was a flurry of last-minute opposition to this amendment and you can be assured there will be attempts during the legislative session to overturn it.

Coupled with this are increased demands by state agencies for more money, more manpower, more equipment, more facilities, more and more power to do their job.

Both the governor and the allied civil forces have vowed to repeat the pari-mutuel betting law, tried for the first time this year, and horse breeding and racing have to retain it.

Anti-stamp forces won passage of a bill to outlaw trading stamps in 1961 but the governor vetoed it. Lobbyists kept such legislation in committee in 1963 but will have to work harder in 1965. They can't outlaw stamps, many who oppose them are determined to tax them to death.

What the outcome of these two battles will be is debatable at this stage. But one thing about

Fee Waived For Use of Area School

JEROME, Nov. 12.—Tuition of Jerome school district for the 23rd Mont. term was waived for the fee of the Junior High School, and the senior high January 10 and the senior high January 10 for the annual talent show sponsored by the Business and Professional Women. The required letter was made by Mrs. William Higley and Mrs. Hinckle Cox.

The B.P.W. sponsored the talent show for the past 18 years and a scholarship is awarded to a senior girl with the proceeds from the show.

Communications were read from the state department of health regarding the Fall-O-Cly, which was which were satisfactory and from the state department of education regarding the reimbursements for driver training and the authorization for Fred Wright, assistant principal to serve as an administrator.

The budget was revised to include the emergency fund available after reading a letter from the district's attorney, Frank Hettig, stating that his opinion it was permissible to do so.

It was announced that Mrs. Betty Otto, not lunch supervisor, and Paul Pratt, local businessman and cold storage operator, had signed an agreement for the use of lockers space for the hot lunch commodities.

The superintendent's report concerning book fees indicated a very small percentage had not been paid at this time. He also reported that a total of 10 children have enrolled in the instrumental music classes which are mid-before-school.

The teachers were authorized to attend the Idaho Council of Teachers of Mathematics meeting in Boise Friday and Saturday. The board also approved the application for additional instructional audio-visual equipment.
