

Governors Split on Proposal

DENVER, Colo., Dec. 4 (UPI)—Republican governors split wide open today over a proposal by their chairman, Gov. Robert E. Smylie, Idaho, that they demand the ouster of GOP National Chairman Dean Burch.

But the state executives were not unanimous in agreement that something drastic must be done to lift their party out of the dregs of the defeat it suffered

Nov. 3.

Smylie, who said he would accept the national chairmanship if the party wanted him, declared in a speech prepared for an opening session of a gubernatorial conference that the governors ought to have the stamina to recommend that the national committee "consider making appropriate changes in its leader-

The Idaho governor said, "We are a defeated party with defections in leadership." He said the GOP presidential nominee, Sen. Barry Goldwater, as a defeated candidate, "is the symbol of a defeated alternative."

Democratic President Johnson

Noting that Goldwater had said four years ago that Richard Nixon was "just going to be a Republican lawyer," Smylie said, "Burch's ouster is in a similar category now."

"For that reason," he said,

"we are really a leadership party, because no one has earned the right to lead us to leadership by winning an election."

But the "defeated" Goldwater demands ran into instant opposition.

Gov. George Romney, Michigan, said on his arrival at the conference last night that the other governors' proposal for selection of a resolution recommending Burch's ouster was

"Gov. Blyden's idea, and I won't comment on it."

Romney, saying he is a team player and not a "political ion-

" as he has sometimes described, said, "This is not the time to read anybody out of the party."

The important thing, he added, is to bring all elements in under one roof."

In contrast, Gov. John H. Chafee, Rhode Island, who was selected by the highest plurality scored by any GOP gubernatorial candidate, said he is willing to back a resolution demanding

Burch's ouster.

Three Idaho statesmen, Gov. Robert E. Smylie, Sen. Len Jordan and Congressman-elect George Hansen, will visit the Salmon tract Tuesday.

The three expect to visit with farmers in the area in an effort to learn some of their problems and to receive guidance in effecting solutions.

FIVE DAY FORECAST

Lower pressure aloft is expected to form in the eastern Pacific with somewhat higher pressure holding over the Intermountain region during the next five days. Low pressure at the surface in the gulf of Alaska will extend at times into the Pacific northwest. Temperatures over the valleys of southern Idaho and eastern Oregon will average from three to 11 degrees above normal through Tuesday. Slightly warmer over the week-end will be caused by high cooling the first of the week and to a lesser extent changes will be made. Lowest nighttime temperatures can be expected over the week-end and again around Tuesday night. Normal minimum and maximum temperatures for this period are Boise 41-42, Twin Falls 37-38.

Expectations are for the valleys of southern Idaho and eastern Oregon are forecast for Friday night 38-40. Monday and again around mid-week. The more northern valleys are most likely to receive the greater precipitation totals through Wednesday with amounts ranging from 10 to 25 of an inch in the valleys of southern Idaho and eastern Oregon.

Sunshine will average around 45 per cent of possible with daytime cloudiness averaging from five to six-tenths of the sky covered. Winds will be lighter over the week-end and a little stronger again the first of next week. Slight temperatures at the three to eight inch mark will lower into the low to mid-20's in southeastern Idaho and Magic Valley and into the upper 20's in southwestern valleys during the week-end with small changes expected into mid week.

SYNOPTIC AND AGRICULTURAL

Pressures at the surface and aloft were rising over the Intermountain region yesterday and no real precipitation across the valleys of southern Idaho and eastern Oregon was on the light side and occurred mostly in the northwestern valley. Precipitation of all kinds for the largest 24 hour amount with other amounts ranging down to one tenth. The only report of precipitation outside the southeastern valleys was a trace at Boise. Eight inches of snow is on the ground at McCall and one inch in the ground at Donailla but elsewhere in these southern Idaho valleys the ground is mostly bare.

High pressure at the surface covers most of Idaho extending southward into northern Nevada. A front in the Pacific is moving near to the coast of Washington and Oregon will be considerably weakened by high pressure covering the northwest. Areas of night and morning valley fog are expected in some valley areas but otherwise partly cloudy skies will be the rule over the valleys of southern Idaho and eastern Oregon today and Saturday. Some light snow may fall out of the fog at times tonight in areas of southeastern valleys.

Maximum temperatures today and Saturday will range from the mid 30's into the 40's with the minimum tonight in the mid 20's except for Camas prairie where around zero degree readings can be expected.

WHIRLIGIG

By ANDREW TULLY

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4. It is good to note that practical idealist named Lyndon Johnson has taken a practical interest in the world's water shortage. There is the promise of getting a job done in his order to Interior Secretary Stewart Udall to "spare no expense" in the program to convert sea water into fresh.

For a hard-nosed budgeter like Johnson, of course, the phrase is a "ruse" or speech; this is a President who gives no blank checks. But he already has let it be known that he will ask Congress for a supplemental appropriation of 18 million dollars to add to the $12 million dollars now available for the desalting program. Johnson says Udall wants a "major breakthrough" to low-cost water during his upcoming administration . . .

PRESIDENT DANGER—This is the way to talk.

The shortage of water throughout the world is just as dangerous as the nuclear bomb, if less urgently terrifying. In the Middle East and elsewhere, countries already have fought little wars over it, and other wars will be mounted if the problem remains unsolved. It has long plagued California, the Southwest and New York City. Several experimental plants are now in operation, and since 1953 the cost of desalting sea water has been reduced from $5 to $1 per 1,000 gallons. This is still much higher than fresh water costs which now dip as low as 6 cents a thousand gallons, but it is progress. The Johnson plan is to cut the desalination cost to 25 to 30 cents per 1,000 gallons or roughly the cost of carrying water from northern to southern California under the California water plan.

NUCLEAR POWER SOLUTION—It now appears that the best way to reduce costs is to increase the volume of desalination plant to something like 50 million gallons a day. This way, this can be achieved is through the use of nuclear power.

Hopefully, the President is giving due consideration to the report by a special scientific task force headed by Arthur C. Cech on the particular possibility of nuclear-powered desalting plants. The idea is a plant which would produce 200 million gallons of water and 1.4 million kilowatts of power a day, with the water costing 30 cents per 1,000 gallons and the power less than half that of the cheapest power now available in the country.

HEAT TO SPARE—This is the stuff of which the dreams of practical men like Lyndon Johnson are made. Such a nuclear plant would produce so much energy that just the waste heat could be used to warm a stretch of ocean 20 miles long and a mile wide. Thus creating winter resorts in northern climates. This heat also could be used to dissipate the smog that now hangs over many industrial cities.

There are, of course, preliminary steps to be taken. The study is needed. It would cost the nation $100 million dollars to develop steam-power-and-water-desalting technology to the point where such a plant would be feasible. The plant would cost about 740 million dollars, which is a lot of shiny bling which is still less than one-fifth of what the nation annually spends for defense.

Johnson has suggested he is the kind of President who will spend money if it makes economic sense. Bailing the water shortage is as economically sensible as any project on his desk. No amount of money in the bank will save the human race if there is no water to drink.

Certainly, a few cases would necessitate a personal visit to the license bureau, but the vast majority could be handled by mail.

Another savings doesn't involve tax money, but it's equally important. Each car owner who is required to wait in line wastes a considerable amount of time. Perhaps some don't have anything better to do, but others could be using their time to better advantage. A few car owners might actually experience hardship through the special trip to the license bureau. Those might include rural residents who live some distance from town or salesmen to whom time is money.

The mail system also would eliminate the rather foolish practice of spending two days or more waiting for the No. 1 plate. If so much importance is attached to a low number, those who covet a low number shouldn't object to paying an extra $10 fee for special handling and a chance to draw the No. 1 plate. After all, revenue is one of the big purposes of the car license and the state's silly to pass up some extra money.

IT'S ALWAYS LATE

The United States post office department is involved in its yearly effort to induce Americans to shop and mail early for Christmas. Usually, by the time the post office gets its campaign into high gear, it's already too late for those who plan to mail gifts abroad. Even if ample time did remain, most persons procrastinate so long that the postal department is handicapped by the time everyone gets around to posting the seasonal mail.

This year, there's another element that figures strongly in movement of Christmas mail. A railroad strike has been threatened and postponed. If the strike develops before Christmas, large quantities of mail probably will not be delivered in time. It's something everyone should keep in mind.

So far as the local crush of mail is concerned, many of the problems were solved when the Twin Falls post office was moved into a new building.

The new structure doesn't end all local problems, however. Although there's ample space in the new post office, there's still a limit to the amount of sorting and other work that can be accomplished by personnel in the course of the day. If everyone delays parcel and greeting card mailing, there's no way of avoiding a jam in the local post office, regardless of space.

It's December and time to put Christmas packages and cards in the mail. There's no reason why parcels can't be mailed now, even if they do have to be kept around longer than usual by the recipient. Early-arriving packages can help spark the Christmas spirit and get folks in the holiday mood a little earlier than usual. And the ever-worried mailman will get a break if everyone mails now. Remember, it's always later than you think!

TAYLOR'S VIEWS ON WORLD NEWS

In the Congo the phrase for "white man" in one dialect is "olema diafa fetsa." It means "white" and bat that flies without knowing where it is going. There's a lot of fetsa in the Congo policy of the United States. Three months pass while U.S. Consul Michael Hoy remains under arrest in Stanleyville and in the end he is forced to kneel among the savages in the street and eat the American flag.

How and why did the United States get so involved in the Congo, anyway?

In the regions of today horrible massacres the fierce jungle tribes often turn against each other in savagery. There is something lacking in this primitive tropical Africa; some fundamental discontent that leads to savagery and hopelessness, whereas in Africa this is rarely so.

Waves of raiders and butchers regularly sweep these nations like the African plagues of locusts that turn the land into barrens overnight. This has been the story ever since the Sahara desert dried up and drove its nomad population to the rivers and jungles.

The apparently insurmountable Congo problem is de-tribalizing the individual in order to nationalize him. For usually the tribal attachment is stronger than even the family tie. Who are we, and why is far-off America called upon, to break up and split asunder these ancient little societies?

Here we see again that our exaggerated internationalism is as foohooly and dangerous as narrow colonialism. We meddle everywhere. But do we mend?

For it was we who presented the world opinion to press Belgium harder to prematurely "free" the Congo. And now we end up like Superman trapped in a ring battle with continuing red opinion. Which is beyond definition.

Washington has always refused to admit the obvious: namely, that our wrongheaded policy has given the communists their greatest opportunity. Secretary of State Dean Rusk has consistently tried to tickle the red influence in the Congo.

In the Congo we stand like Goliath bethatting in the blood of what he has killed. That has been killed is law and order and in helping to slay it we defend the prestige of the United States in the meanwhile.

Conservatives of all stripes will find an issue upon which they can agree when President Johnson in early January submits his 1966 fiscal year budget.

It will include a

for R. Reiter,

as usual, deficits

for Democratic politicians, too:

The four-year

It was made to seem that great success had been won. That was the idea that LBJ had performed an economy miracle.

Moreover his spending figure was another half billion under the previous year.

So at Kennedy's expense, the image was projected of LBJ as the man with the taxpayers' buck. The administration announced last month that the spending figure had been reduced another $60 million dollars to 17.7

billion. But the projected deficit was up nearly one billion from the originally projected figure.

Republicans challenged the economy claims of a year ago and will do so again in protest against the 1966 budget. More over, there was a Republican tendency a year ago to challenge the integrity of the Johnson budget as part of an overall assault on the responsibility of the entire

Johnson administration.

The Republicans will undertake great pressure again to make a big thing of the striking alleged questionable budget practices of the White House and other items that figured during the presidential campaign.

Inarry Goldwater's issue of mor-

On the issue of big time deficits, conservatives should be able to get together regardless of how they may react to the morality issue.

LBJ won for himself a year ago

in the Senate.

It's far less effort, too.

T.F. Youth Charged With $300 Theft

A 17-year-old Twin Falls youth on probation from the juvenile detention school, Steven Anthony, was arrested Saturday and charged with grand larceny.

The youth was visiting a friend at the Emmett Spencer residence, 1136 Main Avenue east, and took $300 which was hidden in a bedroom under a mattress of the home.

The teen-ager learned where the money was hidden from the boy, who is staying at the home. After Spencer learned the money was missing he went to the teen-ager's home where he recovered $242. City police arrested the youth and charged him with grand larceny. He paid police officers "no" below the other $6.

The teen-ager, staying at Spencer's home, and another teen-ager in the home at the time of the theft were not charged with the parole.

The youth was turned over to county juvenile authorities.

Brewster has been associated with the construction of some such apartment buildings and presently owns four.

Leo Solerwater, Tacoma, Wash., and James Seabock, Twin Falls, are associated with Brewster in the local apartment house and also in another one.

All interested persons are invited to attend the open house.

Date Set for Plea Entry

Mrs. Velma C. Blair, 47, 2031 Addison Avenue east, has been given until Monday to enter a plea of guilty or innocence to charges of law conduct with a minor child under 16 years of age.

Eighth district Judge Theron Ward set Monday as the day to enter the plea in his court.

Mrs. Blair was arrested in June by city police after the department received a complaint from a parent of a minor child about Mrs. Blair's conduct.

She was bound over to district court after the preliminary hearing Aug. 31.

A wife of MIRASIA BURKE was filed in district court by Mrs. Blair's attorney but it was quashed by Judge Ward.

Officials Prepare for Major Surgery on Military Reserves

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4 (UPI)—

For the second time in two years, defense officials appear to be preparing for major surgery on military reserve forces.

Just what form that surgery will take is not yet clear. Shultz has been asked to lay in both the air force and the army.

Pentagon planners find it hard to understand why the army and air force should maintain dual organizations—the reserve and the national guard—serving essentially the same purpose.

Little fault is found with the marine reserve whose 45,000 men would form a fourth marine division and supporting air wing.

Officials claim it would be ready to go overseas in 30 days from call-up.

The naval reserve also escapes serious criticism, although officials feel it should be held to 120,000 sea-trained men rather than a larger force—including thousands of men who do not serve regularly.

Planning would be elimination of unnecessary cumbersome duplication and strengthening of the readiness of reserve forces which cost about two billion dollars a year to support.

Rupert Man Is Cited in Crash

RECENTLY, on a sunny day in Hererra, 18, Rupert, was cited for reckless driving and leaving the scene of an accident after a one-car accident Tuesday at First street and Scott avenue.

Hererra was traveling east on First street and the 1957 Ford he was driving failed to negotiate a curve. The car traveled across the road, hit the fence and a cyclone fence at the site of the Mountain States Telephone company yard.

Police officers reported no injuries and damage to the fence at $100 and damage to the Ford approximately $100.

Wall Street Chatter

NEW YORK, Dec. 4 (UPI)—Edward F. Underwood of Mitchell, Jones and Templeton says that although the events of the past two weeks should have little effect on the long-term trend they are significant enough to create considerable uncertainty over the shorter term.

Underwood believes that price movements should become more selective than in the past and that flexibility will be paramount. Above all, he says, losses must be cut and profits protected.

Robert B. Johnson of Paine, Webber, Jackson and Curtis believes that the Dow-Jones Industrial average appears on the verge of breaking through to the 1000 level by year-end and that participation in the 1000-level should be equated early next year.

Wright Investors' service says that although a rally is expected before the year-end, it continues to advise extreme profit-taking in fully priced cyclical industrial stocks in anticipation of a weaker market.

Fluctuation Of Power Is Eyed at Meet

RUPERT, Dec. 4.—The fluctuating electric power in Rupert has the attention of members of the Rupert City council at their regular meeting Tuesday evening.

Paul Glickay and Ray Folsom, BPA officials from Idaho Falls, discussed the situation. Glickay said there are limitations on what can be done to maintain an steady flow of power to one car-train station and an attempt to step up power to one station may disrupt the flow to another station on the same line, sending power too high.

According to the officials, the voltage has been around 11 volts which is too high and steps have been taken to provide Rupert with a voltage fluctuation of six volts when the power and limitations provided in the contract.

The new rate setting for power rates has been established for December 1965—according to Glickay. It is not known at this time what the new rates will be; however, they should be less, he said. The present contract with the city will stand until that date.

Bear license for the sale of packaged beer was granted to Woodland and Safeway during the meeting.

The monthly police report was presented by Ed Culver, city police chief. He recommended that Chet Mills, presently a sergeant on the police force, be elevated to the rank of police captain at a salary of $400 per month. This recommendation was accepted and passed by the council.

A letter from the Minidoka county commissioners indicated regarding the use of the civic auditorium which has been used by the junior high school as a gymnasium. The school district has been renting the basketball areas for $100 per month or $1,200 a year.

The district is desirous of renting the building only from November through February with use of the auditorium for special activities at other times.

The council decided to investigate the matter further because of the wide use of the building by other school groups.

A meeting between school officials and council members will be called and final decision will be set for the next council meeting.

Mayor Wardell Johnson reported that the new master plan for guttering and curbing the entire city will be ready and will be presented at the next meeting. Also off-street parking will be brought up at the next meeting of the group.

T.F. Motel Is Featured In Motel Magazine

A Twin Falls motel, owned by Melvin Johnson, is featured in the December issue of the Traveler's Journal, a publication serving the nation's motel industry.

The article, on page 60, of the magazine, is entitled, "How to Get Airport Business" and is built around Lodge owner Ken Roundy's program which provides free transportation from Twin Falls' municipal airport to his motel at 110 Main Avenue west.

Roundy said in the article, written by John L. Marks, that the right to Reader's Flying Service, an airport shuttle bus service, is really a business builder.

It was noted that the service is particularly for private pilots, but also serves some commercial travelers.

YOUR BIRTHDAY and HOROSCOPE

FRIDAY, Dec. 4—Born today, at all. Therefore, consider the pros and cons of a rigid, by-the-clock schedule.

One who likes the pleasant things of life, you will possibly have to fight a tendency to "tire off" whenever you please. Remember that the person who manages a "Go Fishing" sign instead of one saying "Open for Business" is apt to catch plenty of fish—but worldly success will elude him.

A brilliant mind characterizes your thought processes. Seldom do you make a foolish decision. And, if you do, it is generally based upon very thoughtful reasons. It may be difficult for you to choose a single career to which to devote your life; here again, you must make the decision with care.

One of those persons who work best under the influence of mystery and encouragement, you are nevertheless strong in your determination to do the things you set out to do regardless of what others think. Though it is difficult for you to work under adverse circumstances, your yard comes with the applause that is due to a hard worker.

Among those born on this date are: Munro Leaf, author of Jungle Book; poet—Thomas Carlyle; noted Victorian historian—Francisco Franco; Generalissimo of Spain.

To find what is in store for you tomorrow, select your birth day and read the corresponding paragraph. Let your birthday alarm be your daily guide.

Saturday, Dec. 5

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 22)—Not too soon to begin planning for the holidays to come. Clear away pressing business matters at a first step.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23-Jan. 20)—This may be a dull Saturday for you, but you receive an invitation to go shopping. Increase your social contacts.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21-Feb. 18)—There's no time like the present for taking care of those long-in-arrears obligations. Free yourself for later action.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20)—It's not too early to lay in a stockpile of holiday goodies. Make the rounds of businesses now, and avoid the rush-around.

ARIES (March 21-April 19)—Your Saturday routine is likely to be Saturday routine as much as possible and don't be misled down avenues of new adventure.

TAURUS (April 20-May 21)—You would be wise to begin Saturday activities earlier than usual. Unexpected demands may be made on you time during the afternoon or evening.

GEMINI (May 22-June 21)—Look forward mainly to an opportunity to give up partying. Better to give up partying than eating.

CANCER (June 22-July 22)—Don't let arbitrary limits upon could mix you on the happiness of your Saturday activities. You hours if you do.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22)—Don't neglect business in favor of fun. You need to set yourself forging ahead of course, and the excellent buying-and-selling days.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22)—

It would be well worth your time and effort to straighten out domestic affairs. Otherwise the coming holiday could be spoiled.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22)—See to the lessening of tensions on the home front. The harmony there should carry over your work.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 22)—Demands on your business abilities may be unusually heavy for Saturday. But to Yorego fun and effort to duty.

SATURDAY, Dec. 5—Born today, you are capable of accomplishing tremendous feats of labor when the chips are down. It is when you have plenty of time and no pressure that you tend to fail to meet deadlines. You need a certain amount of tension to enable you to work at full capacity. Without it, you might possibly achieve nothing.

DISCUSSING a report on Idaho's state constitution compiled by the League of Women Voters are Mrs. Eland Davidson, center, league president, and three state legislators. From left:

T. F. County Legislators Discuss Issues for Session

Sen. George Black said Thursday that reappointment and the tax problem will probably be the two toughest issues the legislature will face in the coming session.

Senators Ulrich and two state representatives, Lanning and Ray Lincoln, were special guests at a League of Women Voters luncheon in the Desert room of the Rogerson hotel.

Another guest was Ray Rosstrum, new secretary-manager of the Chamber of Commerce.

Mrs. Robert Nelson, legislative chairman, reported briefly on the league's statewide program just ended involving a three-year study of Idaho's state constitution.

The league will support measures which will, by constitutional amendment, provide certain improvements in the legislative branch of government, she reported.

Senator Black said he would like the governor of Idaho to "come out and say" what he wants in the tax program.

PTA Panel

A panel discussion led by Carl Staley, president, was featured at a recent meeting of the Harrison school parent-teachers association.

Topics up for discussion included the importance of education, the need for better facilities, and the importance of the general association to effect reappointment.

In her report, Mrs. Nelson said the recommendations "designed to adapt an 1890 document to 1964 problems" of government, would establish annual legislative sessions, delete antiquated legislative procedures, provide for staggered terms in the upper house, and strike compensation for legislators as a matter of statutory rather than constitutional regulation.

The league recommends that the constitution provide for mandatory legislative reappointment, "probably after each decennial census, and a legislative postscript."

The final recommendation provides for the mandatory regularity of legislative sessions, the ability to extend special sessions of the legislature.

Mrs. James Chapman was toastmistress and introduced the guests. About 30 persons attended.

Jack Erickson and Wallace Taylor, Alpine ranchers, sold bulls at the Hereford range bull sale in Caldwell last week.

Hay prices have been ranging from $24 to $38 per ton on the north side of Magic Valley and South Valley. Hay buyers report many farmers are holding their hay hoping for a higher price.

Leslie Ruby and Lowell Ruby, Hill City, are building some new stables on their farm.

Howard St. Clair is building a large farm shop of cinder blocks at his farm on Hwy. Highway south of Fairview.

Cassia County Soil Conservationist Lee Senften has returned after attending the soil conservation convention in Lewiston. Mrs. Senften accompanied him and visited her folks who live in the vicinity.

Wilfred Costella is baling straw from piles in his fields west of Fairfield, that were made by a special dumping implement that he owns. The heavy snow has made a demand for baled straw.

Mr. and Mrs. George Croft, Emerson, were in Elba last week checking on their cattle and filling the hay feeders on their ranch here. The Crofts lived in Elba during the summer but have moved to Emerson for the winter and as yet they have not moved their cattle there.

The range herd of Mrs. Blanche Parish, Elba, was branded, de-horned and vaccinated Monday. Taking care of the cattle for Mrs. Parish were Orville Beecher, Elba Parish, Maliburn Barker and Donald Chandler.

Dan Razi, Tattie, is doing some fall plowing and the snow-making in the community is progressing rather fast in spite of the spells of wet weather.

Mr. and Mrs. Reed Johnson and family have moved to the Ranch Slager ranch, seven and one-half miles southeast of Hansen, where they will farm this coming season. They have been farming the Pringle farm, two miles south of Hansen, for the past number of years.

Cassia County Agent Raymond Alsola and Mrs. Alsola have moved into Fairfield to the home they purchased from former County Agent John H. Pauken. They had the house completely remodeled and have been residing in it since the William Sweet farm since moving here from Connell this fall.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Prosterson, Fairfield, are in Hawaii where they are visiting their daughter and family. They are making the trip by plane.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Kunkle, Corral, have gone to Arizona for the winter. They had to wait for the county to plow the road to their farm before they could leave.

Mr. and Mrs. Mannie Shaw, Corral, spent Thanksgiving with relatives in Boise. On their return that evening they got stuck in the snow at Corral and had to spend the night with Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Davis.

An area hay hauler had had back on a Rickardsburg rural road last Sunday dumping half of his load of hay four miles north of town when he tried to back up his semi-trailer which had skidded on the icy road. Part of the load fell off again at the J.C. Parker ranch where it was being delivered. Dee Wolverton and Everett Ward, Jr., helped the hauler reload the hay.

Boise Will Host Annual Idaho Cattlemen's Parley

BOISE, Dec. 4—The 51st annual convention of the Idaho Cattlemen's association will be held at the Boise hotel Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, according to William Walker, Glenn search, bulls, brands and theft, disease, forest and other public lands, public relations, insurance, wildlife, taxes and resolutions.

Walker stated that all cattlemen are invited to sit-in on the committees of their choice.

Officers and directors whose terms expire at this meeting include President, Curtis T. Eaton, Twin Falls; Vice Presidents Clifford Barker, Payette, and John Palmer, Jerome; Pastor, James Amy, Howe; James Edwards, Leader; John McDayle, Graniteville; Odion Peterson, Clearwater; and Robert Wake, Malad.

Hunters Unleash Blasts at Abandoned Farm Residence

"Continued abuse of farm property can only result in hard feelings and more wasted property," said the sheriff.

Farmers in recent years had happen. One time it will be in the winter, another time in the summer, the next time it will be in an opposite month. It appears that a home will stand empty just long enough and then it falls victim to a shooting party."

"Landowner and sportsman cooperation is important for a successful hunting season. Should these shooting episodes increase, the farmer can't be blamed for posting the land to protect himself," he added.

"For some reason the farmer's property is treated differently than other property," he noted.

One Twin Falls county farmer related a costly incident. An accident caused his truck to dump a load of potatoes. The passerby figured the load of potatoes was up for grabs and looted the truck.

Every sack of potatoes confiscated by the public was worth $4.50. The truckload was short well over a hundred sacks of potatoes when the incident was over and the farmer was out about $500.

SEVERAL HUNDRED farmers gathered last Friday at the M. W. Farley ranch, south of Merriam, for a farm sale. The sale was one of the largest held in Magic Valley this year. The estimated 200 farmers in the photo represent about half of the crowd, which varied in size throughout the day. A farm sale is almost a social event in the life of a farmer, as it affords an opportunity for the farmer to meet and talk with neighbors and other interested parties. Farley, the owner, was killed in tractor mishap, which necessitated the sale last week. (Times-News photo)

Barnes Heads Advisory Group Reports Current Farm Income Situation Is Unsatisfactory

JEROME, Dec. 4.—H. H. (Bill) Barnes was reelected chairman of the county ASC committee for 1965.

Barnes has been on the ASC committee for the past three years and has been chairman of the past year. Chairman of the state's seven communities met last week to elect a county committee.

Other members elected to the county committee are Richard Roemer, Hazelton, vice chairman; James Gran, Eden, representative member; Bob Fuller, Jerome, and Carl Estep, Hazelton, as alternates.

The county ASC committee is charged with the responsibility of administering the agricultural programs approved by congress.

Barnes said attention must be given to local farmers alike of the importance of the fact that the local office plays in the economy of the entire county.

During an average year the county ASC office make available one and one-half million dollars to Jerome county farmers. Of this amount $700,000 is made in direct payments and the rest is made through crop loans. The larger part of these total funds are spent in Jerome county towns, according to Barnes.

Some of the programs for which financial benefit is made available to local farmers are the conservation practice payments, sugar beet payments, wheat acreage diversion, feed grain acreage diversion, wool and lamb program payments.

Society Bestows Titles On Twin Falls Residents

L. JAMES KOUTNIK

West Minico FFA Team Wins Contest

RUPERT, Dec. 4—By scoring 180.4 points Ted McNeil led the West Minico Future Farmers of America chapter team to victory in the East Magic Valley school district crops contest. McNeil was high individual scorer and not a valuable assist from Lloyd Young who scored 147 points to take second place in individual scoring. Gary Whisler was the third member of the team.

Dec. 7, 1964

The West Minico chapter scored a total of 448 points to beat East Minico in the contest. Valley high school placed third.

According to Keith Merrill, West Minico adviser, some five schools in the district took part in the contest. There are eight schools in the district.

There are two FFA chapters at Minico high school.

The highly regarded title is given only to those society members with years of experience through practical work and research—examination have demonstrated expert knowledge, competency and high ethical standards in professional rural appraisal. Heald and Koutnik are now entitled to use the initials A.R.A., which identify them as qualified experts in their field. Since the inception of the accrediting program in 1927, the American Society has conferred the A.R.A. title only 243 times. Hackney has the Hackney record in Twin Falls which includes real estate sales; loans and appraisals.

Koutnik is an appraiser for the Prudential—Insurance Company, covering southern Idaho and most of the state of Nevada. In his work for the Prudential he makes farm and ranch appraisals—and commercial and residential appraisals on homes in this area. He has been active in a number of civic affairs, including the Salvation Army, Boy Scouts of America, Rotary Club and the American Legion.

Yellowing or chlorosis of roses is due to the lack of zinc and iron which are necessary for producing chlorophyll—the green substance in leaves of plants. Zinc and iron are tied up chemically and are unavailable to plant roots. This tie-up is due mainly to an over abundance of calcium and other elements which make our soils very basic, men said.

There are two remedies to the problem. One is to tree the soil and make it acidic—and the other is to add large amounts of zinc and iron. Glenn says he prefers to do both when small areas are involved.

He suggests that fertilizer containing high percentages of zinc and iron be applied to the soil once plus a heavy application of elemental sulfur.

He also suggests that the fertilizer and sulfur be covered with a inch of peat moss or manure and leave the materials on the rice until the soil thaws next spring. Glenn reasons that winter moisture freezing and thawing will dissolve the fertilizer in the sulfide toward chemicals and some leaching and breakdown of the peat moss or manure will come about by the time the soil thaws in spring all the materials will be more ideal for spreading into the soil and should be worked in about four inches deep. This combination, Glenn says, will make the soil more acidic and add zinc and iron which should be readily available to uptake by the rose plants in the spring and summer.

He warned, however, that often in spite of elaborate efforts chlorosis still persists, and results can be very disappointing.

Banquet Set

RUPERT, Dec. 4—Minidoka County Farm Bureau will hold its annual banquet 7:30 p.m. Saturday at the Catholic parish hall.

Special speaker will be Floyd Garff, professor of speech, Utah State University.

Bean Group Awards Prize In Contest

Lyle Feller, Twin Falls, won first place in the annual Bean Growers Warehouse association crop contest, and was awarded a watch as first place at the association sponsored banquet and appreciation night held last week at the Decatur Grill.

The bean contest is open to Future Farmers of America students throughout Idaho Valley. Student compete in chapter and area contests.

Run-up in the contest was Lon Stanger, Murtaugh, who was also awarded a watch. Kurt Simpson, Declo, received special recognition in the production of wheat. The wheat contest did not have a sufficient number of participants to declare a regional winner.

In awarding the watch to Feller, Joe Mowry, manager, noted that Feller had an exceptionally good record and information attached to his project.

Mowry noted that the contest was close and only a few points separated second from fifth place.

U.S. Agency Predicts Production of World Sugar to Hit All-Time Record

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4 (UPI) — The foreign agricultural service predicts 1964-65 world production of sugar will total an all-time record of 65.7 million short tons.

This is 10.7 per cent above the 1963-64 crop of 59.5 million tons, and 6.3 per cent above the 1960-61 record of 60.1 million tons.

FAS said all continents produced in 1964 will have increases this year, but with African production up only slightly.

FAS estimated the world production of sugar in 1964-65 at 65 million tons, compared with 62.8 million tons in 1963-64. Production mid-year was placed at a record 6.66 million tons. This compares with continental beef, 3,250,000 tons; continental cane, 1,300,000 tons; Hawaii, 1,150,000 tons; Puerto Rico, 950,000 tons; and Virgin Islands, 16,000 tons.

FAS said substantial increases probably will be shown this year in Brazil, Mexico, India, Spain and South Africa. Other countries showing significant increases include Denmark, Netherlands and Belgium. Several African countries have increased their acreage and production.

FAS said, but increases in these countries in 1964-65 will be offset largely by a decline in Mauritius.

FAS predicted 1964-65 sugar production in the Sino-Soviet bloc would total 20 million tons, up 3.5 million from the 1963-64 production. Most of this increase was accounted for by the U.S.S.R., which experienced favorable growing conditions resulting in good yields.

FAS said Cuba, one of the world's largest sugar producers, probably will make some recovery this year from the low yield of 1963-64 when the crop was damaged by a hurricane. It produced 4,600,000 tons in 1963-64, up 500,000 tons from the previous year.

Charges Are Denied on 11 Accounts

IDAHO FALLS, Dec. 4 (UPI)—Discharged Idaho Falls city engineer yesterday denied 11 disciplinary charges brought against him by the city during the second day of his hearing before civil service commissioners.

Lewis Wyatt, former city engineer, opened his defense with two hours of direct testimony, all supporting his contention—his dismissal was without just cause.

Wyatt was discharged by the city Sept. 15. His hearing before civil service commissioners marks the first time in Idaho a city employee other than police or firemen have appealed for a hearing under provisions of a law stating all city employees, mayor and council governed by city charter are under civil service regulations.

Wyatt denied incompetency in his charges. The city has alleged he failed to supervise inexperienced personnel in the job.

Wyatt maintained he had attempted to follow directions to the best of his ability at all times, and termed the incident significant because of the amount of work and time involved in correcting the situation.

U.S. and South Africa Tie for Canada Cup Lead

KAANAPALI, Maui, Hawaii, Dec. 4 (UPI)—Arnold Palmer fired a six-under-par 66 with one of his blazing drives for the individual lead but he and partner Jack Nicklaus had to settle for a team tie with South Africa Thursday in the opening round of the International Canada cup golf tournament. Palmer nailed an eagle on the 543-yard, 15th hole and chipped in from 80 feet on the 16th. Both rounds were spectacular, though over the last four courses. But Nicklaus, saying he was "tired and weary," took a disappointing 73.

This gave the United States a score of 158.

About two hours later South Africa's George Player and his partner, Christiaan Botha, came in at 158, matching three-under-par 66 to equal 11.

The 44-year-old Botha, who had a 35-foot putt on the 17th to put his team temporarily ahead but overshot the 18th and bogied the hole. Player, chipping out of the rough, had to sink an eight-foot putt on the final hole.

The South Africans were nine-under-par at one stage but Player used the wrong club—a four-wood instead of a two-iron—for his approach on the 440-yard 18th and dumped the ball into the lagoon that runs along the fairway. He took a double bogey.

"It was just stupidity on my part—the worst shot I made all day," Player said.

Palmer's 66 gave him a three-stroke lead over Player, Hutchinson, Hawaii's Ted Makelaen and Jose Maria Gonzales, the elder member of Brazil's brother combination.

Britannia Petes Allies and Harry Van Donck of Belgium, who had played in 10 of the 11 events, followed at 70.

The host Hawaiian team, with Makelaen, 71; Paul Stoeckler, who was at 141, followed by Brazil's Domingos Andrade and Celestino Tugot at 142 after each shot 71. Brazil had a total of 145.

Only a temporary lull and another roll of the ball kept Palmer from heading the record set he set Wednesday in the amateur preliminary.

After turning in 85, with three birdies on the front nine, the muscular slugger from Latrobe, Pa., took bogeys on the 10th and 12th holes by dumping his approach shots into traps.

Then he left an 18-foot putt one-half-inch short on the 17th. A birdie there has put him two under-par for four holes.

He ran in a 10-footer at the 13th, got an eagle three at the 14th after cutting the dogleg off the 843-yard hole and adding a six-foot putt after a 10-foot chipper to end a shot of the day on the 203-yard 18th, he chipped in from 30 feet for a birdie.

NEW YORK, Dec. 4 (UPI)—John Huerte, Bob Timberlake, Donny Anderson and Gale Sayers comprise the offensive backfield of the 1964 Associated Press All-America football team named today.

Ray McDonald, University of Idaho sophomore fullback from Caldwell, received the honorable mention in the Associated Press 100 All-American selection Friday. He was the only gridiron in the state so honored.

MILOWAKEE, Dec. 4 (UPI)—Braves manager Bobby Bragan was quoted Thursday as saying that Warren Spahn pitched so badly last season that only his name kept him in the major leagues.

The 43-year-old Spahn, baseball's greatest left-hander, will not go to the New York Mets next week at his own request. He said his 6-13 record in 1964 was due in part to Bragan's refusal to start him regularly.

A story from Houston, Milwaukee Journal baseball writer Bob Wolf quoted Bragan as saying about Spahn:

"He's a future hall of famer and an immortal and all that stuff. But let me tell you, he's not a pitcher. He's been a pitcher. He was just terrible. He would have been whipped in Denver. But this was Warren Spahn and had to be handled with great care even if he could not get anybody out."

Bragan said Spahn knew that his $65,000 salary "can't be cut more than 25 percent" under the new contract.

Spahn, 40, is the league's all-time leader in wins, 368, and has won 30 games in 1964.

By means of pass receptions and kick returns as well as points from scrimmage junior Anderson from Texas Tech is the first round futures pick in both pro drafts—accounted for 1,710 yards. He also punts.

"Donny Anderson is the complete football player," says his coach, T. King. "I actually recruited him as a center-linebacker but he's too valuable on offense to play the defense."

Nolis, a noted linebacker, is also a great blocker on offense. "What makes Tommy so good is his burning desire," says Coach Darrell Royal. "There are a lot of guys faster than him—but he wants to get there more."

Fisk finished a standout season by starring in the 20-17 upset over Notre Dame. Ace Trojan ball-carrier Mike Carroll is the blitzer—"one of the most dexterous blockers I've ever seen," says his coach, Jerry Riddle. "Tommy is a very good player," says his coach, Jerry Riddle. ## Browns Seek Title In Cardinal Game

By The Associated Press

A year ago it would have been the Big One, this game-between-the-Chicago-Bears-and-the-Green-Bay-Packers, but now it just serves as an appetizer for the Cards-Browns clash. The Cleveland Browns, long-time also-rans in the East, can clinch their divisional title with a victory over St. Louis-in-the-National-Football-League's top attraction Sunday, while the Cards must win to keep alive their paper-thin hopes.

Chicago and Green Bay, 1-2 in the West last season, are out of title contention now—Baltimore has clinched it—but each has a chance.

The Packers, who beat Green Bay 23-12 on opening day, can say up their second straight trip to the Pro Bowls by winning their last two games.

And Cleveland, which has finished second—third for five years, can clinch the Eastern title with a victory at St. Louis Sunday. The Cards can finish no worse than second.

The rest of the Sunday schedule, like Detroit at Baltimore, Los Angeles at San Francisco, Minnesota at New York, Pittsburgh at Washington, and Dallas at Philadelphia.

The American Football League Sunday's schedule has Boston at Kansas City, New York at San Diego and Buffalo at Oakland. Denver and Houston are idle.

Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK, Dec. 4 (UPI)—It's a neat trick President Johnson is asking business and bankers and the congress to help him achieve. And to work, the trick requires that they do nothing about it.

What the President is outlining in his plan to the congressional committee on small business and consumers is higher interest rates on some loans but not on others; further business growth without too much of a rise in prices and wages; a bit more government spending along with lower taxes; without any overhauling of the economy because of the deficit financing implied.

The President quickly got help from Boston. Its First National Bank reined in—so to speak—its prime interest rate announced Tuesday.

A chief danger to many economists see is that any of the President's objectives, if they fail or are misconstrued, might make businessmen and consumers wonder if the long period of prosperity could be in danger of ending.

Such double might trip the delicate balance built to a considerable extent on confidence in still better days ahead. Business expansion planning, consumer buying intentions, financial policies all are tied to this confidence which has been growing until recent days.

To maintain that confidence seems one reason President Johnson stresses that he doesn't want general increases in bank interest rates let alone discouragement of alarm business and consumer borrows, or too general wage increases and price rises due to countercyclical need.

start inflation rolling again, or congressional measures that would crimp government's contribution to economic growth. Some congressional leaders are warning that they will oppose any reduction in excise taxes or increased appropriations that aren't balanced off by cuts in other expenditures proposed in the federal budget now being readied by the White House.

The appeal to bankers to hold the interest rate line comes from the longer-term loans that are used for business expansion and consumer purchases. The nation's banks have been pondering how long they can hold the line on what they charge their customers, now that they must pay more for lendable funds they borrow from federal reserve banks.
