FBI Will Release Evidence

PHILADELPHIA, Miss., Dec. 7 (UPI)—The case of the two slain civil rights workers is heading toward next climax Thursday in the government's evidence at a preliminary hearing.

Mississippi authorities await a decision if they will press charges—a state offense—against some of the 21 men tried Friday.

"The first thing I'm going to do is to see what the FBI has," Mr. W. H. Johnson Jr., "I'll review the evidence very carefully, and then go to the dockets and decide what will happen."

Johnson said the FBI has given assurances it will turn over its records to the state.

The FBI has charged 10 men with violating the civil rights of slain workers. Two other men were charged with being accessories. These are all federal charges.

The preliminary hearing could be a delicate legal crossword. It is scheduled in nearby Meridian before U.S. Commissioner Esther Parker.

Justice department attorneys will try to put on enough testimony to convince the commissioner they have a strong enough case to warrant holding the trial for grand jury action.

On the other hand, it is expected that the government will be trying to hold back the bulk of its case so as not to tip its hand.

While the government reaches a case, a statewide defense is being organized for the trial. See PHIL, Page 2, Column 6.

T. F. Service Clubs Assist UF Campaign

To complete the business drive of the United Fund effort, service clubs throughout Twin Falls are helping by contributing the funds of their members during United Fund day, Tuesday. The president will hold contact with each club who has been contacted before or have not turned in their cards.

Members participating are Harry Harvey, Wayne Barry, Hobby Bob, Lee Vogel, Morton Cutler, Dudley Driscoll, Earl Peuker, Dr. Jack McNease, Fred Larson, Leonard Moss, Ken Morris, Lewis Meigs, Mel Oppiger, M. O. Rose, Elmer Hagerty, Ralph Smith, Lee Falkington, Mrs. Helen Johnson, John Williams.

Assisting from the Merchants Club will be Rob Sase, John Owens, Lanny Post, Dale Peterson and Welden Clark, rotary members to work are Rod Prather, Doug Naulla, Hugh Phillips, Walter Todd, Harold Howe, Fred Roth and Dick Cook. Participating Lions club members are Ernie Jellison, Herb Dermer, Karen Falter, Donald Zuck, and Hank Willis.

Agencies furnishing manpower for the drive are Boy Scouts of America, YMCA and the Salvation Army, who are participating agencies of the fund. The other agencies are working in the residential drive.

Besides contacting the business official said, it will be made in the residential drive Tuesday, according to Harold Cook. He said the women working on the drive are doing a magnificent job.

The working Tuesday will start with breakfast at 7:30 a.m. in the Rogerson hotel banquet room.

Cook reports that the United Fund drive is continuing to stay ahead of last year's giving.

Due to a lack of workers, those who have not been contacted are asked to send their contributions to the United Fund office at the Boy Scout center, Main Avenue north.

ICE-TORN LIMBS on a residential street are mute evidence of the destruction wrought by a combination of rain-sleet-snow storm in New York state over the weekend. Ice gathered on power lines and tree limbs and tugged wires to the ground, leaving a total of 75,000 homes and businesses without electricity. This picture was made in Schenectady, N.Y. ## Cold, Hardships Continue for Thousands in Ice-Crippled N. Y.

SCHENECTADY, N.Y., Dec. 7 (UPI)—Cold and hardship continued today for thousands of families in an ice-crippled eastern portion of New York. Power crews sought to restore heat and light for nearly 40,000 customers. The sun glistened this morning on a winter wonderland created by ice-laden trees and power lines. Temperatures ranged down to 10 below zero in the wake of one of the state's worst storms. The bitter cold added the threat of frozen water pipes for stricken residents, most of whom were in an area bounded generally by Albany on the south, Glens Falls on the north and Amsterdam-Gloversville on the west.

Three deaths were attributed to the weekend onslaught of snow, sleet and freezing rain. Many schools closed Friday remained closed today. Others served as emergency centers for those driven from their homes. Churches, fire houses and other public areas also were opened for emergency use, and cooking facilities were provided.

The weather bureau said tonight and Tuesday would be a bit warmer, amid scattered snow.

Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller visiting evacuation centers in the Schenectady area last night declared, "We've had ice storms before, but none has ever been as bad as this."

Concerning about a combination of freezing rain, snow and ice accumulation that began Friday and that, by late last night, froze community activities from high school basketball games to worship services to a stop.

Families began entering the emergency centers Friday night. Others followed as the storm damage left thousands of homes without electricity or heat.

At its peak, the storm had darkened the homes and businesses of more than 75,000 of the 930,000 customers of the Niagara Mohawk Power Corporation in eastern-central New York.

A power company spokesman said Saturday that the number of homes and businesses without electricity and heat was down to about 40,000.

In Schenectady county alone, defense official said, it will be a few days before thousands of broken trees—ice and snap—power lines can be cleared from city streets and yards. Until then, many families will remain in evacuation centers.

Cattlemen's Group Opens State Parley

HOTEL, Dec. 7 (UPI)—The president of the American Cattlemen's association said today that land withdrawn from production to reduce crop surpluses should not be used for livestock.

Brooks J. Keogh, Keene, N.D., speaking at the opening session of the 40th annual convention of the National Cattlemen's association, said the idea had been advanced for the national anti-poverty program.

He said it is "foolhardy and unrealistic."

Keogh said such use of the land could build up livestock surpluses. He said cattle are being produced in record numbers and feedlot capacity is at a peak.

"Cattlemen, economists, and most congressmen are dismayed at the unrealistic proposals to alleviate poverty in some areas such as Appalachia which seem destined to solve all the problems by merely subsidizing a landowner into raising some beef cattle."

"The outcome of such a vote will be to recognize the need to develop an ongoing policy for America," he said.

"This is the case, they can't wait on 'em'—yesterday, and will build for tomorrow because history belongs to those who wait on 'em'—and to write more of it in the Republican party because it will be used for America, her people and her constitution."

Amyle, who is chairman of the GOP governor's group, has been mentioned as a possible successor to Burch. But he said the question was not discussed at the Denver meeting.

"The conference," he said, "was far above personal considerations. The anti-poverty proposal has been out of thought."

He said the big benefit is the rate reduction for individuals and small corporations spread over two years. He said they will result in tax cuts of about 30 percent in the lowest brackets, 15 to 20 percent in middle brackets and slightly more than 30 percent in the highest.

GOP Officials Who Have Final Say May Not Support Move to Oust Burch

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7 (UPI)—A move by "moderate" Republican governors to oust GOP National Chairman Dean Burch may not receive the support of the party officials who will have the final say, a UPI survey indicates.

Home GOP national committee members and committee women queried yesterday were open to the idea of removing Burch when the national committee meets Jan. 23.

The committee members represent the same grassroots organization which was instrumental in gaining Sen. Barry M. Goldwater the GOP presidential nomination. Burch was goldwater's choice for the top party post.

Committee woman Mrs. William Addison of Kansas, summed up the feeling of a number of her colleagues who are apparently remaining loyal to the Goldwater showdown. Wisconsin committee woman Mrs. Byron Ising added that she would support Burch and that the governors' meeting that place too soon after the election to allow for "clear thought."

Idaho Gov. Robert E. Smiley, chairman of the Republican Governors Association and Milwaukee Gov. George Romney both told in television interviews yesterday that Burch was not the man to lead the party back to power.

"There has been no evidence in the last several months that there was any desire on the part of Burch to approach the future of the Republican party on the basis of including rather than excluding," Romney said. "He termed Burch's ouster 'essential.'

Smiley said the GOP governors built a shot at their meeting in Denver, "and I have grave doubt that Burch can wear the shoes with comfort."

GENERAL GIFT'S DECORATION

IRUAN, Japan, Dec. 7—Gen. Curtis E. LeMay, U.S. Air force chief of staff, received Japanese decoration today, despite protest by Indians who said he was responsible for the World War II atom-bombing of Hiroshima and Nagasaki.

The area was softened up prior to the attack by airborne rocket attacks. The planes dropped leaflets urging the rebels to lay down their arms.

Government troops then stormed across the river in ferry boats.

Other reports said about 1,000 rebels surrendered during the week-end in a mercenary-led attack by Congolese army troops and Katangese gendarmes on the left bank of the Congo river at Stanleyville.

Russia's Views on Western Policies Told at U.N. Meet

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y., Dec. 7 (UPI)—The Soviet Union today pledged its full support to U.N. efforts to reduce world tensions, but struck out at Western policies on Viet Nam, the Congo and a multilateral nuclear force. The Soviet views were set forth by Foreign Minister Andrey A. Gromyko in a major policy speech before the 116-nation general assembly. He proposed a world summit conference on disarmament and submitted a detailed memorandum on disarmament.

Western sources said the memorandum contained little new.

U.S. chief delegate Adlai E. Stevenson issued a statement calling Gromyko's speech "hard and cold-war talk." He said he hoped it was more propaganda than policy.

"Evidently the world objectives of the Soviet Union remain unchanged," Stevenson declared. "Even self-defense and aid to countries to protect their security and independence is wrong and illegal if it interferes with the Soviet aggressive ambition to communize the world."

The proposed multilateral nuclear force, Gromyko said, is incompatible with the renunciation of chlorine and is the main obstacle in the way of halting the further development of nuclear weapons."

Western diplomats said the Soviet proposals were largely the same as those previously made by them in U.N. arms talks.

The Soviet delegate specifically endorsed Red China's proposal for a meeting of the heads of state of all countries to consider RUSIA, Page 2, Column 4.

President, Wilson Talk On Arms Row

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7 (UPI)—President Johnson and British Prime Minister Harold Wilson today opened a two-day conference on the nuclear weapons crisis in the Atlantic alliance.

They reportedly hope to develop some new formula which would win West German and other Allied support in spite of French opposition.

Wilson went into the White House meeting shortly before midnight, the President concluded another conference in late afternoon and two more working sessions Tuesday in addition to a White House dinner tonight.

The head of Britain's new Labor government arrived yesterday, bringing as reassurance to Allied countries that the President and he did not intend to "finalise" any agreements.

Wilson, a special British nuclear problems to solve, evidently hopes to emerge in some kind of multifaceted role, developing with the President the outlines of a program to

NATIONAL

WHIRLIGIG

By ANDREW TULLY

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7—One dim evening in the course of a merrily misspent life, I found myself in the middle of a street riot in Cairo and took refuge in a bazaar stall occupied by what I first took to be a native. "Please, I bowed low, in silent apology for my intrusion. Besides, the rocks were flying."

"Make yourself at home, Mac," the figure advised me in the burr of Brooklyn accents. "These jokers don't seem to understand that all of us Americans care what is a little peace on Earth."

That comment by a fellow-countryman who introduced himself as an unfrocked cloak-and-duster from Flatbush, New York, seemed to me another sign of America's bewildered world seemingly in a constant turmoil. Today as on that Cairo evening, Main Street U.S.A.—where the folks in Africa, Asia and South America would stop being so disorderly and settle down to watch television or shoot a little pool.

FUTILE WAR—Most Americans feel they made a contribution during and after World War II to a better and safer world. Instead, of course, they find themselves living in a world they never made. All the military dictats and the American lives lost in war and police action seem to have had little influence for the near-future.

There are riots in South Viet Nam and Thailand and Indonesia, and an American doctor is kidnapped and murdered in the Congo. The Soviet Union remains a sinister enigma, and Red China almost hourly vows our destruction. Even our old ally, France, is behaving disagreeably toward us.

But for better or worse, an understandable pattern seems to be emerging from such seemingly isolated incidents as the demonstrations against the U.S. and three other foreign embassies in Moscow and that rock thrown by a Vietnamese schoolboy in Saigon. It is a pattern of disorganized but instinctive revolt by the world's blacks, browns and yellows against the white man.

THE WHITE ENEMY—In Viet Nam and in the Congo, knives and machine guns and rockets are not turned against the American, but against the man with white skin. The French and English are the targets, along with the Americans, in Viet Nam, and in the Congo the natives know their ferocity on the Belgians. In those neighborhoods of the world, the enemy is easily recognized by his pale face.

Probably there is no ready understanding of the native's ultimate goal in many of these areas. The word "independence" is much uttered, but it is a term meaning different things to different men. To the mob, it seldom means anything more than the destruction of this or that man and his institutions. A government operated by native managers is preferable to one administered benevolently by white idealists.

WHITE GO HOME—Put simply, the non-white want the white man to get out. They are white, want to be re-introduced to his money.

Clemently, the native is interested in discovering only himself as it makes him in commanding his country of the white-in-Africa and the Russian has discovered that his presence is tolerated rather than welcomed.

That part of the world that is colored is not.

United Fund goals can be reached. Potentilla has raised something like 85 per cent of $124,250 quota and Idaho Falls exceeded an $885,000 goal by some $2,000 with funds still coming in. The $60,000 goal for Twin Falls appears to be right in line and should be filled.

WHAT TAXES?

Much has been said and written in recent months about taxes in Idaho. Many persons believe taxes are high in Idaho, some insisting that the income-tax is among the highest for any state and others pointing at property or inventory taxes as the culprit. Many are looking hopefully toward enactment of a sales tax, some with the idea that sales tax will provide some relief from other taxes and others with the idea that a sales tax will provide additional revenue for a variety of purposes.

Just how do Idaho's taxes compare with those of other states? The per capita share of the state tax bill in Idaho is $208.58, says the federal bureau of the census. And the bureau ranks Idaho as 80th among the states, meaning that 20 other states have a higher tax bill per person. Usually, a big portion of any tax bill is the debt and debt service, but the census bureau ranks per capita share of debt in Idaho at $221.35, 45th among the states.

Suddenly, those property taxes being paid or at least considered now by owners don't seem quite so high. The total tax bill doesn't seem quite so oppressive. Residents of only 20 states have less of a tax bill than Idahoans. And only five states can boast of having less public debt than Idaho.

Those state taxes may seem outrageous, but in comparison to what residents of other states have to pay, perhaps they're not so bad after all, particularly when considered on a population basis. Idaho is far from being among the more populous areas, yet many state expenses are quite comparable to those experienced by far more populous states. Maybe there's not too much to holler about after all.

QUITE SIGNIFICANT

Smokers who have been bothered with a nagging thought that perhaps cigarettes are harmful to health might derive some satisfaction from the recent Miami trial in which a jury ruled cigarettes are "reasonably safe" for human consumption. However, the U.S. surgeon general, Dr. Luther Terry, didn't interpret the jury decision as doing anything to change the attitude of the advisory committee on smoking and health. "It clearly does not repudiate the report of last January," he declared.

Those smokers inclined to take comfort from the jury's decision also might look a little deeper into the case. The jury denied damages in the suit which asked 1.5 million dollars because the bulk of the revenues would come from sales taxes that are highly regressive and property taxes which discriminate against the holders of real wealth while rewarding those who permit their property to deteriorate.

Since the time required to effect the thoroughgoing fiscal reforms would have to be reckoned in light years, the state and local governments must choose between two courses in their efforts to finance better local school systems, better state universities, better hospitals, welfare services, etc. They can increase their taxation or turn to the federal government which provides more than 14 per cent of their revenue through specific grants for highways, welfare programs and sanitary facilities. — Washington (D.C.) Post.

Of much more significance was the action of the jury foreman. After listening to the testimony in the case, he decided to stop smoking. This must be considered as one of those instances in which actions speak much louder than words.

Religion in America

By LOUIS CASSIUS, United Press International

Protestants and Catholics noticed this week, in separate but similar ways, to encourage production of movies with more decent themes. Major Protestant denominations representing by the broadening and film commission of the National Council of Churches announced a new series of annual awards for American-made films that will be given to the church.

Or perhaps you good constituents have never had that particular experience of putting away knowing full well you'll want it on the spur of the moment, some day, and then being unable to find it when the time arrives. It's a rather frustrating experience.

Of course, the missing item always precipitates a search that goes on and on. During the search, you usually stumble across other articles that have been put aside in preparation for the day when a man arrives.

All of those necessary items should be placed in one particular place that's marked with a big arrow reading something like: "Special Things for Special Purposes."

NO WILL POWER

Dear Pet Shots:

With the approach of the Christmas season, those of us who have weight problems will be subject to all sorts of perils, such as the person who passes the box of Christmas candy.

Why can't people take a slight shake of the hand as a sign that a person doesn't want a piece of candy? Instead, they protest and holler. If you don't join the crowd, they practically force you to eat candy and you know you'll gain a pound for every half ounce!

Actually, some of us will gain weight from the amount of the stuff. Telling you the Christmas season can be a real hazard.

Dear Sir:

See where the T.N. and, ah, associates are sponsoring the Christmas lighting contest again this year. It's a real nice event, but you go off it all wrong.

Why not charge an entry fee of about $5? Toss all the fees into the kitty and you'd have a pretty good jackpot to divide among the winners. Besides that, the fee would take care of all those entries that shouldn't be entered in the first place.

I Suggest (Twin Falls)

adults. This is the greatest number of condemned films in the Legion's history.

Appealing to the movie industry to reverse this "despicable trend," the Legion of Decency said:

"Not every film made must be suitable for the young. However, it is not unreasonable to expect film artists and producers to devote some of their talent and resources to the production of a greater number of family films."

It also implored neighborhood movie exhibitors not to compound the problem by distributing a film suitable for children with an adult movie.

Finally, the Legion made its first awards will be presented next February for pictures selected during 1964. There are five categories in which a film may qualify for an award.

They are: "Presentation of family life in keeping with Christian principles;" "showing the application of Christian ideals to the growth of personality in children;" "treatment of religious subject matter with accuracy, pertinence, dignity and value;" "portrayals of American culture in the light of Christian ideals;" and "reflection of the preachment and hope of man."

Commission officials emphasized that movies won't be condemned for awards merely because they ostensibly have "biblical" or "religious" themes. Some of the worst junk Hollywood put out has been billed as "religious."

The new awards will be given to films of outstanding artistic merit and significance," which are Christian in spirit rather than in title.

Other members of the nation are invited to submit nominations for the awards to the Broadcasting and Film Commission, 1001 Avenue of the Stars, Los Angeles, Calif.

The Catholic Legion of Decency also seeks to "promote what is morally and artistically good in motion picture entertainment" and to "discourage indecent, immoral and unwholesome material."

According to Prof. Leonid Nibley of the University of Barcelona, a document has been discovered, dated 1494, which purports to be a list of awards given to the members of the Spanish court.

It says that the discoverer of America was really named Cristobal Colon, but changed his name to Christopher Columbus "for political and religious reasons."

Only in this way can the two-party system work, with voters willing to entrust control and direction of the government to either party at fairly regular intervals.

The Doctor Says

BY WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

If your child is afflicted with celiac disease, you may take some comfort in the fact that under proper treatment he can outgrow it. Although the underlying cause of the disease is unknown, we can say with certainty that a congenital defect in the lining of the small intestine allows foods, especially fats, to pass through the intestine without being digested.

The disease is rarely noted until after the child's first birthday. In addition to a persistent diarrhea, the consequent failure of the child to gain in height or weight there is usually a great deal of gaseous swelling of the abdomen. The child is cranky and irritable most of the time.

Although these children are not allergic to gluten (found in wheat and rye), with the true meaning of "allergic" meaning that they do not tolerate the protein in the diet.

When strict adherence to a gluten-free diet fails to check the diarrhea in a few days, you have either overlooked the possibility of the presence of gluten in some food the child is eating or the diarrhea is not due to this diet but likely to cause a recurrence.

When a child has kept the disease under control but he has reached the age of 5, foods containing wheat and rye may be cautiously added to his diet. By this time he can usually handle these foods without any recurrence of symptoms. But some children are not out of the woods until they are well into their teens. It is a trial feeding of wheat and rye to see if the child can tolerate them.

Since foods that contain wheat cause diarrhea, the child must promptly return to the gluten-free diet.

TAYLOR'S VIEWS ON WORLD NEWS

BY HENRY J. TAYLOR

If the United Nations and the world is to be saved by the likes of new U.S. President Alex Quaison-Sackey representing Ghana's blood-drenched Kwame Nkrumah, the Red stooge, that will be the day.

The whole thing is making up making this election a farce. It is ridiculous that it is heart-breaking to anyone who honestly believes as in international collaboration.

Humanity cries out for neighborhood of nations. For this the wisest and best men on Earth have taught throughout all times. And human calamity has been their soul-burden; toothache and preacher.

As a shining light, historians, moralists and statesmen of good will everywhere have reversed the principle that man is fated to destiny can and must be shaped by at least a workable concert of nations. Yet here we stand after the many years since the tragic failure of the League of Nations and the best we are allowed to construct out of all that earlier experience is a parliamentary device for international tyranny and venality.

On the basis of voting actions and general affiliations the 116 member nations of the U.N. now fall into about 12 groups: Eastern Europe, Scandinavia, Sino-Soviet bloc, African, Afro-Asian, Arab, the Casablanca group, the Brazzaville group, the British Commonwealth and Latin America.

On the current 10th general assembly's opening day the new "nationals" of Malawi, Zambia and Malta—like President Quaison-Sackey himself—were "elected by acclamation"—that being necessary because the organization decided no voice could be taken on the basis of money distributed over the entire world.

Our objective in the U.N. is that the people of the world—all people of every race—live in a smaller world at a higher standard of living without war. But here we stand back into the Sino-Soviet free world.

Lenin added to the list of national strife and—this has made the Sino-Soviet bloc in malignant good stand within the United Nations to help wreck the free world.

As one result, we do not have collective security. We have collective insecurity. And as a gullible communist imperialist turns out to be the biggest, most crooked and most inhuman confidence game in the history of the world.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7 (AP)—

Republicans, repudiated in most of the past 20 years, are still in power. But here we are back into the Sino-Soviet bloc in malignant good stand within the United Nations to help wreck the free world.

As one result, we do not have collective security. We have collective insecurity. And as a gullible communist imperialist turns out to be the biggest, most crooked and most inhuman confidence game in the history of the world.

The Republicans lost more than the presidency, in control of Congress, where they had been in power for 20 years. But here we are back into the Sino-Soviet bloc in malignant good stand within the United Nations to help wreck the free world.

Pearl Harbor Day Observed By Several

PEARL HARBOR, Hawaii, Dec. 7.—An oil slick stretches the rays of the sun across the water in a rainbow of color on the water's surface.

A garland of brilliant flowers joins the widening kaleidoscope. A gray U. S. destroyer moves quietly through the water, its guns firing salvoes, staring at the sunken battleship.

Today is Pearl Harbor; the day the dreams.

The oil slick is from a sunken battleship; the flowers from an anonymous "bomber" who makes an annual pilgrimage to Pearl Harbor at this time each year.

The harbor is a serene scene, with the mountains of Oahu a backdrop for the blue water.

But 23 years ago today, a few minutes before 8 a. m., hell broke loose at Pearl and in 110 minutes, more than 2,000 Americans were dead or dying; another 1,700 were injured; eight destroyers were sunk or disabled; four others were less damaged; and other smaller vessels were damaged, sunk or sinking.

Today is Pearl Harbor day. Members of veterans organizations visit the white memorial which straddles the sunken battleship Arizona. Wreaths are placed in the chapel, prayers said.

Arriving quietly in ones and twos for the Navy-provided shuttles are some wives whose husbands were among the 1,102 men still entombed in the Arizona.

You can still see parts of the rusted superstructure jutting from the water. Occasionally, oil still bubbles to the surface from the old ship.

The U. S. flag flies over her, signifying the USS Arizona remains a commissioned vessel of the fleet on this December 7, 23 years after the United States was plunged into World War II.

Ringo Starr May Lose His Home

LONDON, Dec. 7 (UPI)—Ringo Starr, the Beatles' drummer who lost his tonsils last week, may also lose his home.

His neighbors have petitioned his landlord to move him out of his £125-a-week apartment in Westminster. His teen-age fans are driving them crazy.

"Ringo's tonel operation has given us our first peace for months," said Lathom Gedge, a neighbor.

"Teen-age girls scream and shriek all day long," said his wife. "They get hysterical, fight and kick each other and chase every cat that arrives in case Ringo is inside."

"It's a drag," said Ringo, director of University College hospital in Liverpool.

"I wish I could do something about it—but I can't control the fans," Ringo was reported as saying.

Pallbearers were John Chisholm, Donald Chisholm, Darrel Sleis, Elmer Mackie, Mike Novak and Dee Walker.

Final rites were held in the Pleasant View cemetery.

T. F. Youth Has Wreck Near Buhi

BONH, Dec. 7—Richard Geyer, 18, Twin Falls, escaped injury when his 1953 Chevrolet ran off the roadway and sheared off an Idaho Power pole at 12:30 p.m. Saturday six miles southwest of Buhi.

Geyer was traveling south on a county road when the right front tire blew out causing him to lose control of the car. The car hit the left off the highway, sheared off the power pole and tore out an electric fence belonging to E. G. Gould, Buhi, Idaho. Power employee were summoned to make repairs. The car was doomed a total loss, according to State Patrolman Richard Burn.

Lyon, Blanche Strother, LaVela Tilley, Serena Taylor, Ella Tooton, Billie Flynn and Zola Flynn under the direction of the Burley first ward Relief society.

Moral values were held in the Pleasant View cemetery. Dedication prayer was given by Bishop Orville E. Boucher.

Oliver Takes All-Around Cowboy Title

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 7 (AP)—Weary cowboys riding hard-championship was clinched by Jim Houston, Cheyenne, Neb., even before the final got under way last Tuesday. He entered the $65,000 national finals rodeo.

Top man again this year is Dean Oliver, Boise, Id., who took his second all-around cowboy title and his seventh calf roping crown. He earned $23,500 roping calves in 1964, $1,243 of it in the finale.

The finale ended yesterday. Team roping champion for the year is Bill Hamilton, Phoenix, who was eliminated after the finals by Gary Clat, Lakewood, Calif.

The race for the championship in steer wrestling went right down to the wire in the eighth go-round, with C. R. Boucher, Durkburnett, Tex., finally winning.

Boucher, who held a narrow margin all the way to the world's champion title, beat challenger John W. Jones, Spokane, Wash., by less than one-tenth of a second.

Bob Werner, a bulldozer from Auburn, Wash., won his first championship, earning $20,757 for the season. He tied for first in the team's averages with Ronnie Hoskin, Spokane, about each taking $17,777.

Closely behind Werner was Bill Kornick, Paul Springs, Calif., best bull riding champion. Kornick won six in the finals, including money for fourth in the average standings.

Marty Wood, Rowena, Atka, Canada, is 1964 new saddle bronc champ. He took $600 in the final to hold his lead over Jim Tescher, Medora, N. D. Tescher won $1,538 in the finale trying to overtake Wood, but he failed in the eighth go-round when Wood got money for placing fourth in the average standings.

News Around Idaho

BOISE, Dec. 7 (UPI)—Idaho's 16,418 veterans will divide up $700,000 of the $24.5 million dollars available in 1965 GI insurance dividends. Harry E. Kopan, director of the veterans administration center here, said a speed-up policy begun in 1964 makes it possible to start clearing the dividends soon after "New Year's." And World War II veterans who hold military-service life insurance policies will get $735,000 of the total. The remaining $55,000 will be paid to 880 World War I veterans and Korean war veterans.

BOISE, Dec. 7 (UPI)—Boeing's leading figure on West Coast planes was up last month about 50 per cent, the airline announced today. The airline ranked fifth in monthly traffic stops with 2,220 passengers in November compared to 1,859 in November of 1963. Lewiston ranked ninth for November while Portland, Ore., led the list.

CALDWELL, Dec. 7 (UPI)—Two brothers accused of breaking a state policeman went on trial here today for the May 28 incident. David, 21, and Christopher Hobin Kury, 19, are specifically accused of assaulting an executive officer in the performance of his duty. They are charged with the flat-fighting of state police corporal Phillip Marder after he stopped them on their motorcycle to issue a traffic citation.

PLACID LAKE, Dec. 7 (UPI)—It was either beginner's luck or an induction to Mrs. Linda Nelson Spokane that she should fish more often. Mrs. Nelson, angling for her first time yesterday in this north Idaho lake, landed a 47-pound Mackinaw after a two-hour struggle with the fish. The female Mackinaw, which had already spawned, might have weighed a U. S. record 87 pounds before releasing its eggs, local fish experts said. Mrs. Nelson pulled in the fish on a 400-foot line with 100 feet of leader. She was using SPAR-X "skeleton" plug.

MURKINIAN, Dec. 7 (UPI)—Idaho's 1964 traffic fatality toll stands at 225 today with the death of a 49-year-old Norwegian man in a two-car smashup at the intersection of U. S. Highway 20 and a county road about two miles west of Latah. Police said Neal H. Murphy was fatally injured Saturday when he drove his car onto the highway into the path of another car driven by Mrs. Charlotte Ann Miller, 20, Boise. Mrs. Miller also was hurt but her 14-month-old daughter escaped injury.

IDIAO FALLS, Dec. 7 (UPI)—A double shooting incident at Blackfoot has claimed a second victim and brought a chilling toll of murder since Blaughan County Coroner Carl Staley, Herman Redmon, 80, Blackfoot, died Saturday in an Idaho Falls hospital of a self-inflicted gunshot wound in the head. His estranged wife, Josephine, 62, was found shot to death in her husband's room in Blackfoot last week. Redmon's roommate, John Lamb, told police he heard two shots and went to the room where he saw Mrs. Redmon on the floor. He said he saw Redmon shoot himself in the head.

Missionary Work, Church Family Teaching Meet Topic

The importance of missionary work and the new church family home teaching program keynoted Twin Falls stake LDS conference Saturday and Sunday.

An estimated 3,500 persons attended morning and afternoon sessions Sunday in the Twin Falls stake tabernacle.

Featured speakers at the annual conference were Stephen C. Richards, Salt Lake City, representing the church's priesthood home-teaching committee, and A. Walter Stevenson, Oden, or the missionary committee.

During the Sunday morning session Richards said he had never found being a member of the LDS church to be a disadvantage. "I have never found myself in any way I believe as Paul of old, that the gospel of Jesus Christ is a power unto the salvation of all who live the commandments of the Lord."

Richards commented on an experience he once had when traveling at night down an unknown stretch of highway. The lights of his car went out and he couldn't see where he was going.

"When I live when lights go out and you can't see that highway of life, the path the gospel gives you and tells you how you should live in life."

Stevenson, speaking on the church's missionary program, stressed the referral system and said it is responsible for 60 per cent of new converts to the church.

Richards emphasized the importance of parents setting proper examples for their children.

Contesting "out-of-member families," he noted there are also a few "part members" who don't live up to the standards of the church and set poor examples.

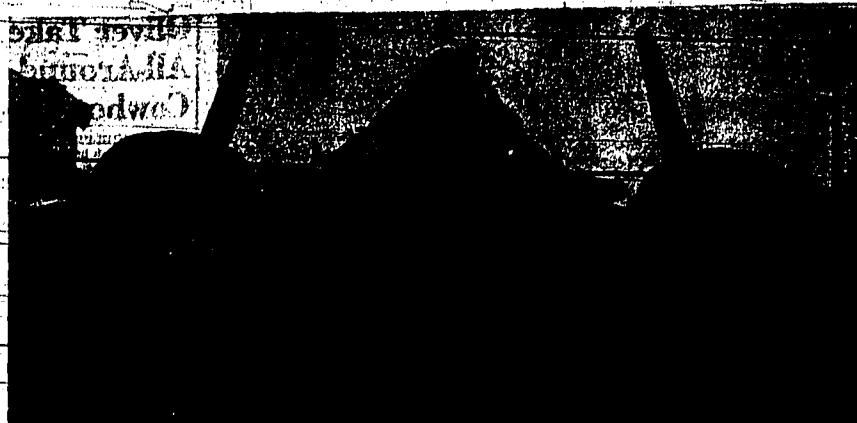

"Knute Rockney," Stevenson said, "that great coach of Notre Dame, was a great athlete. Whenever he'd see one of his football players on the street or on the campus he'd stop him and give him a challenge to see how much better he could do. And what he would reply, 'I'll stop you the next time you see me.'"

He remarked that the church's missionary program is a challenge to us now to do more. "We have to point out the responsibility of carrying out the missionary program belongs to the stake quorums of seven, but that each member of the church should aid in the program."

Richards, speaking at the afternoon session, commented briefly on his experiences in the church's German mission and said "while in the mission field I learned never to judge a man before I know all the circumstances and knew under what circumstances he worked and lived."

He said he recently read an Indian proverb, "Do not judge a man until you have worn his moccasin two weeks."

Richards remarked that happiness and joy result from keeping the commandments of the Lord. "The greatest joy is piece of mind—not material things, but peace of mind."

Also speaking during the afternoon session was Rev. P. Hall, who emphasized that teachers in the Twin Falls stake presidency, who emphasized that teachers in the church should be enthusiastic or they will not impress their students.

He added, "Plato once said that we can forgive a child for being afraid of the dark, but the great tragedy in life is the man who is afraid of the light. Let us not be afraid of the truth. Let's accept it and seek it."

Other speakers were E. J. Morgan, of the stake presidency, who used the Sermon on the Mount as his theme and emphasized the people must know their mission and purpose in life; B. Lesley Crowley, stake mission president, who gave a brief report on the mission, and two members of the stake high council, J. Merrill Snow and R. L. Arnett.

Doan remarked that people can steady their own lives through indifference and apathy. Call emphasized service to one another.

He emphasized child-parent companionship and strengthening the family as a unit.

Other speakers during the morning session were Jessie Berahn, a recent convert to the church; Mrs. Vaughn Pond, stake organizer, and Jack P. Smith and Eugene Poulett, both members of the stake high council.

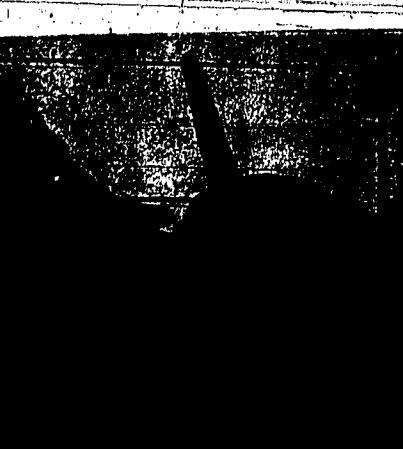

Opening prayer for the morning session was given by Eugene Stough and closing prayer was by William J. Francis, Jr.

During the Sunday afternoon session Stevenson again discussed the church's missionary program and told of the need for full time missionaries. He pointed out that the responsibility of carrying out the missionary program belongs to the stake quorums of seven, but that each member of the church should aid in the program.

Eucharistic Congress in India Ends

NEW YORK, Dec. 7 (UPI)—The 30th International Eucharistic congress, the first in a predominantly non-Christian country, ended yesterday with Pontifical high mass and the procession of the blessed sacrament.

The Pope's representative at the congress, Gregory Peter Cardinal Agagianian officiated at the mass attended by several thousand Indian Catholics.

The final day of the congress, following the departure of the Pope for the Vatican Saturday, was devoted primarily to religious services.

They began with a special mass in the Chaldean rite at the cathedral of the Holy Name in the morning. At the same time the bishops attending the congress met at Bombay university convocation hall.

After Pontifical high mass, the

Students Riot In Florida, Face Action

GAINESVILLE, Fla., Dec. 7 (UPI)—Scores of male students faced disciplinary action at the University of Florida today for their part in a riot staged by 8,000 who were caged in by pantry-waving coeds yesterday.

The students, celebrating Saturday night football and basketball victories by their school, set fire to bleachers, trees and cars and started a fire.

The demonstration got up full steam about midnight and lasted nearly two hours. At least one student and two policemen were injured and officers closed all bars and parties, except for the annual Pollocoen's ball in Gainesville.

Sixteen students were released from jail yesterday on $100 bond each. Although those were the only men arrested, university police inspector George Watson said 8,000 male students took part.

Watson said campus police were hampered in putting a halt to those breakers who stood in the windows of dormitories waving their panties, brasieres, slips and shouting at the boys to come and get it.

Police witnessed one massive sexual assault on a woman's dorm.

A dozen men gathered about 11 p.m. after the team defeated Baton Rouge, 60-57, and the Florida Gators football team beat Louisiana State at Baton Rouge, 20-0.

Venus Clouds Are Water in Form of Ice

BALTIMORE, Dec. 7 (UPI)—The clouds surrounding the planet Venus are composed of water in the form of ice particles, a team of Johns Hopkins university astronomers said today.

The scientists said the finding of water vapor on Venus raises the possibility of oxygen in its atmosphere. They based their reasoning on calculations that all of Earth's oxygen could be accounted for by the release of oxygen from water vapor in the upper atmosphere.

The oxygen is freed by the action of ultraviolet radiation.

Their findings on Venus, which is similar in size, density and general composition, were obtained from an unmaneuvered balloon flight last Oct. 27.

The possibility of a source of oxygen and a previous discovery that its atmosphere contains carbon dioxide raises the possibility that life in some form might exist on the planet.

Dr. John Strong, team leader, headed by Dr. John Strong, concluded the latest date confirmed earlier measurements by Dr. Strong allowing the surface temperature to be close to minus 40 degrees Fahrenheit, with only a few degrees difference between the light and dark sides of Venus.

"Radio-telescopes on Earth and on the Mariner 2 space probe, which passed within 400 miles of Venus in December, 1962, indicated the surface temperature was 800 degrees Fahrenheit."

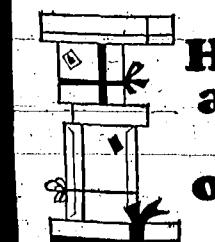

"Interpretation of radio-telescope waves as an indication of temperature has neither been proven or universally accepted," said Dr. Strong, director of the Johns Hopkins astrophysics laboratory.

The Johns Hopkins scientists suggest that "the previous findings may only indicate a large amount of lightning-like electrical activity in the turbulent atmosphere of Venus."

FOREST CONSULTANT DIES PORTLAND, Ore., Dec. 7 (UPI)—Edward P. Blaum, 78, an internationally known consultant in the forest industry, died yesterday. Blaum had been an executive for 50 years with Crown Zellerbach corporation and had served as a forestry consultant in the United States, Canada, Australia and Australia.

Gifts for Real Top Dogs This Christmas Are Listed

NEW YORK, Dec. 7 (UPI)—Don't tell Fido, but to keep up with the real top dogs this Christmas, he must have flannel pajamas, heated sleeping pad and a self-service biscuit dispenser.

That's the word from those in the know on the poohch fashion front.

For the dog of real distinction, these other items are being shown in the doggy departments of stores:

A striped Arabian tent, complete with matress, where the dog can sleep in total privacy, $14.05.

A nylon ski jacket and cap, for the outdoor dog who likes to hear the whinny of the wind; in his ears, a nifty outfit, $7.00.

Earmuffs with attached tin-horn bell, dropped here, for the little pup who likes to eat between meals. One paw push and a biscuit falls out, $6.95.

door dog who still must go outdoors occasionally, $2.95.

For the lady dog who runs with the cano society set, a velvet cocktail coat, $10.95, and other shades, trimmed with ribbons and semi-precious stones, $10.00.

The multi-crawling gentleman doesn't care if he's overlooked, he is offered a velvet collar, with white, formal bow tie, $4.95.

Some discriminating dogs may want something better than the clothes shown on the racks. A made-to-measure mink coat at $65 may satisfy their quality tastes.

The dog-biscuit dispenser, looking like a coin machine, is for the dog who likes to eat between meals. One paw push and a biscuit falls out, $6.95.

Dogs—a dog really needs a James at $2.40 to sleep in, one store official was asked.

"We sell quite a lot of pajamas," he replied. "When the heat gets cold he can't wrap up in a blanket like a human, you know."

Young Teacher Relates How Youngsters Fail

By JOHN HOLT

Copyright 1964 Pitman Publishing Corporation

(Distributed by Newspaper Enterprise Association)

Most children in school, this failure is avowed and absolute. Close to 40 per cent of them who begin high school drop out before they finish. For college, the figure is one in three.

Many others fail, in fact, if not in name. They complete their schooling only because we have agreed to push them up through the grades and out of the schools, whether they know anything or not. There are many more such children than we we think. If we "raise our standards" much higher, as some would have us do, we will find out very soon just how many there are. Our classrooms will bulge with kids who can't pass the test to get into the next class.

But there is a more important sense in which almost all children fail. Except for a handful, who may or may not be good students, they fail to develop more than a tiny part of the tremendous capacity for learning, understanding and creating with which they were born. Most of which they made full use during the first two or three years of their lives.

Why do they fail? They fail because they are afraid, bored and confused.

They are afraid, above all else, of failing, of disappointing or displeasing the many anxious adults around them, whose limitless hopes and expectations for them hang over their heads like a cloud.

They are bored because the things they are given and told to do in school are so trying, so dull and make such limited and narrow demands on the wide spectrum of their intelligence, capabilities and talents.

They are confused because most of the torrent of words that pour over them in school makes little or no sense. It often finely contradicts other things that have been told, and hardly ever has any relation to things they really know—the rough model of reality that they carry around in their minds.

Then there are failures take place. What really occurs in the classroom? What are those children who fail doing? What goes on in their heads? Why don't they make use of more of their capacity?

This book is the rough-and-ready record of a search for answers to these questions. It began as a series of memos written in the evenings to my colleague and friend Bill Hull, whose fifth grade class I observed and taught in during the day. These memos deal with four major topics:

Strategy, the ways in which children try to meet—or dodge—the demands that adults make on them in school.

Fear and failure, the interaction in children of fear and failure, and the effect of this on strategy and behavior.

Intellectual, the difference between what children appear to know or are expected to know and what they really know. How successful the ways in which schools foster bad strategies, raise children's fears, produce learning which is usually fragmented, distorted and short-lived and generally fail to meet the real needs of children.

It must be made clear that this book is not about unusually bad schools or backward children. The schools in which the experiences described here took place are private schools of the highest standards and reputation.

Friends and colleagues tell me that the schools I have not seen are not a bit better than those I have and very often are worse.

FBI Blasts Newsweek For Report

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7 (UPI)—The FBI has accused Newsweek magazine of "a new low in reporting" for an article in which the magazine said President Johnson has decided to replace J. Edgar Hoover as FBI chief—an allegation which the White House since has denied.

The criticism, along with an accusation that the magazine presented inaccurate stories on the war, in a letter sent by FBI Associate Director Clyde Tolson to Newsweek editor Ochsner Elliott.

Reached last night at his New York home, EUGENE MAGEE, managing editor of the magazine, stands by its story.

Thoughtful

AMARILLO, Tex., Dec. 7—Two turned men dropped the turned men from the same plane, forcing him to his store, where they forced him to open the safe and give them money.

They thoughtfully returned him to his home before making their getaway.

Among other things, the article in Newsweek's Dec. 7 issue, released in advance of its cover, said Rep. John J. Rooney, D., N.Y., head of a house subcommittee, was especially sympathetic to Hoover's request for funds.

The article said five special FBI agents are on loan to Rooney to help with subcommittee work. Tolson's letter denied this.

CLARK JOHNSON, 83, of Bellefontaine, Ohio, who forecasts the weather by observing the woolly worm, says we are in for a hard winter this year. His prediction: 46 snows and 13 below zero. The jazz in the foreground are worms he has preserved from past years' predictions. (AP Wirephoto)

Glasses Are Girls' Fashion Focal Point

By ALICIA HART
NEW YORK, Dec. 7 (NEA)—The woman who wears glasses has come of age. This is fortunate since there are more than 40 million women over 16 years old who have finally got their glasses. Once kept hidden while their owners walked about blindly, glasses are fashion focal points. Good frame design and the careful use of co-ordinated eye make-up, however, many women look at their glasses friends as being out-of-step with the style trend.

Girls who wear glasses, however, must choose both their frames and their eye makeup with care. Clean the correction to the style and color of your eyeglass frames. If you have more than one pair, consider this when building your eye make-up kit.

How you use the make-up is important. Beauty experts at Jacqueline Cochran points out that the eye liners must be thin and drawn on upper lids with great care. Heavy, tortoise-shell frames call for a finer, lighter liner.

"Also use eye shadow but go easy on the amount since lenses often intensify colors. Include sparkled frames. In your glasses wardrobe for fall, use With these try pale, soft shadow. In the new brown tones, blend the shadow up and at the corners of the eye. If you have short lashes, the Cochran specialists recommend a cream mascara to darken eyelashes. A dark eyeliner makes them look longer. Take care when wearing false eyelashes with your glasses. These should be clipped so they are not too long. Again the magnification by the lenses tends to play funny tricks. The lashes should always sweep clean of the lens.

Decisions decisions face the eyeglasses wearer when shopping for new frames. These are styled to suit all six basic face types—oval, round, square, diamond, triangle or inverted triangle.

Put on frames until you are satisfied with your appearance.

It is not always necessary to key the frame shape to your face shape. Beauty experts say you can achieve smashing effects by wearing the unexpected. If you have a postage stamp small face, try large dark frames. These will emphasize the chin and bottom jaw. Stars like Marilyn Monroe often highlight the severe chio of a trim black suit or dress with bling-polished emerald frames.

The sky's the limit as long as you remember to co-ordinate your eyeglass frames with your eye make-up. Lack-of make-up can give you a washed-out look.

An invitation was read for friendship night to be held by the WSWL club voted to aid a needy family in the Burley area for Christmas at a meeting at the home of Mrs. Edwin Brune.

Plans were made to have a dinner and party for club members and their husbands. Sacred sister names were repeated and names made for the club's annual Christmas party.

The group sang Christmas carols accompanied by Mrs. H. J. Barton.

Mrs. Ruth Wahler read the Christmas story from the book of Matthew. Mrs. Barton gave a reading.

During the social hour a gift exchange was held.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Dallas Durch, Mrs. Ronald Taylor, Mrs. H. G. Clover and Mrs. Irene Miller.

The club sponsored luncheon and shopping trip will be held Thursday in Twin Falls. The Christmas party will be Dec. 17 at the home of Mrs. Odell Chalfield, with a no-host luncheon at 1:30 p.m. followed by a gift exchange.

Mrs. Thelma Ollier was reelected president; Mrs. Sterling King, vice-president; Mrs. Edgar J. Gibbs, secretary and Mrs. William Brown, treasurer.

Recognition prizes were given to Mrs. Ollier, Mrs. Everett Ward and Mrs. Brown.

2 Accidents Reported by Buhl Police

BUHL, Dec. 7—Two accidents were investigated by Buhl city police Saturday with minor injuries reported to one person, according to Police Chief Charles Burbank.

Joseph J. Barlak, 20, Buhl, received minor cuts and abrasions when his 1960 Plymouth collided with a properly parked 1963 Pontiac, belonging to Mel Creaky, Buhl, at 8:30 p.m.

Burlak, according to City Patrolman James Lowder, glanced away from the roadway as he tried to retrieve a match which had dropped while he was in the process of lighting a cigarette and his car ran into the parked car.

DAMAGES were estimated at $50 in the Pontiac and $30 to the Plymouth.

Mrs. Wilson, 64, Buhl, started to pull out of Spradling's Texaco service station onto Elm street and her 1958 Chevrolet collided with an oncoming 1964 Mercury, driven by Mrs. Opal E. Bernier, 40, route four, Buhl.

Mrs. Wilson failed to see the oncoming car because a car parked in the station area obstructed her view. Chief Burbank estimated damages at $2 to the Chevrolet and $80 to the Mercury.

Grange Sets Christmas Party Date

LUCERNE, Dec. 7—Lucerne Grange met in regular session Friday night and set Dec. 18 for the date for its annual Christmas party.

The event will include a gift exchange among the adults and children. Santa Claus will be present with treats for youngsters. Mrs. Elbert Stewart, lecturer, requested each child to prepare a number for the program.

Members of the Lucesco Mar-py Lassies 4-H club were guests and presented their program. Miriam Conroy gave her prize winning demonstration on origami, Japanese art of folding paper.

Other participants who spoke on various projects were Marilyn Conover, Terrell Karel, Dorothy Jones, Mary Winkler and Gerald Karel. Both of the youths as well as the leader, Mrs. Frank Karel, received a gift presented by Mrs. Stewart on behalf of the Grange.

Prizes of the evening went to Mrs. Randall Stewart, Gerald Karel and Kathy Ulke.

Close Vote Appears Likely On Idaho's Pari-Mutuel Law

BOISE, Dec. 7—A close vote on the move to repeal Idaho's controversial pari-mutuel law appears likely if the questions rough the roll-call stage.

But a feeling among the majority of lawmakers that the legislature already has spent enough time arguing the issue indicates a showdown may be imminent.

Opposing legislators are aware all Associated Press questionnaires for 90 per cent indicated that those who would vote while 30 per cent said they would vote to strike the law from the books. Eleven per cent said they were undecided.

The undecided lawmakers and those opposed to repeal will be the targets of an energetic campaign expected to be mounted by the Idaho allied civil forces, a temperance organization.

And they can expect pressure also to be brought by Gov. Robert E. Smylie, who vetoed the law passed by the 1963 session only to see it re-enacted over his objections.

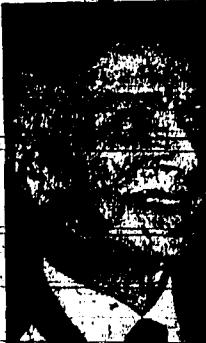

Smylie contends the law violates the anti-slavery portion of the state constitution while the ACP, and several affiliated groups fear it will open the door to wide-open gambling and exert an adverse influence on the morals of the average citizen.

Smylie's contention was overruled by the supreme court, however, which upheld the validity of the law.

Of those indicating they would oppose a repeal move, the majority said they believe the legislature already has spent enough time arguing the pros and cons of law and that further action, if any, should be left to the voters.

Rep. Woodrow Bean, D., Valley, suggested that the matter be submitted to the voters in the next election.

Rep. Harold Ages, R., Ada, said they favored delaying action for two years. Rep. Gladys Rae Swank, D., Nes Perce, said she believed the law should be tested for at least two years more before any action is taken.

Negro Raps Money for U.S. Defense

LONDON, Dec. 7 (UPI)—The Rev. MARTIN Luther King, Jr., said yesterday Western nations should spend more money in the fight against poverty and less for defense.

The American civil rights leader made the statements in an unprecedented sermon from the pulpit of London's famed St. Paul's Cathedral. It was the first free church minister ever to preach in the Anglican cathedral. King is a Baptist.

"Can we in the West stand idly by and not be concerned about conditions in the world?" King asked. "In the West we are spending far too much of our budget making military bases throughout the world while people are starving."

"We must not end up subordinating one tyranny for another," King was in London prior to traveling to Stockholm to receive the 1964 Nobel Peace prize.

He filed to Paris today.

Boys Entertain At Hansen Fete

HANSEN, Dec. 7—"The String Along" sang several numbers including a humorous original as the enterentertainer at the mother-daughter banquet held Friday night in the school luncheon.

Jerry Christian, Tom Pens and Mike Wending, three Paul High school freshman students, sang accompaniment on banjo, guitar, piano and harp.

The PTA-sponsored Project was planned by Howard Stevens, who was general chairman. Men of the community prepared and served the dinner. Tables were decorated with fall motif flowers and candles.

COMFORT SOUND HEARING INSTRUMENT DEVELOPED

A new hearing instrument just introduced by World Famous Telex Laboratories brings a totally new comfort to those who need hearing help. It is specially for those who have used a hearing aid, or those who could not tolerate conventional hearing aids because of the loud, high-pitched ordinary hearing aids.

New super-tiny electronic circuits eliminate most unwanted noise to allow you to hear clearly as nature intended. Speech and music are clear at a half when you wear the new aid. High-loud sounds that can cause such discomfort with ordinary hearing aids are automatically softened with Telex COMFORT SOUND CONTROL.

The new Telex Comfort Sound Instruments are especially valuable in correction of nerve deafness, and the problems of those who hear but don't understand. It allows you to understand words spoken softly from across the room. In noisy crowds, or on a busy street with noisy traffic, best of all, the new Comfort Sound Instruments are hardly noticeable.

How to buy an electric shaver for Christmas

1. Make up your mind to break the shave-a-day habit. No man should put up with a shave that's irritating or unpleasant day after day. Shaving should be convenient and comfortable. And today it is—with the Norelco self-sharpening rotary blades, which go round and round.

2. Take a good look at those rotary blades. That's the secret behind the comfort shave. They whirl continuously—never "grab" the hair like ordinary shavers do, never cut or nick the skin. And today it is—with the Norelco self-sharpening rotary blades, which go round and round.

4. Ask about speed and cleanliness. Today's electric shavers all shave fast and with about the same degree of closeness. The most important difference is in the comfort they give. Norelco rotary blades can easily make the difference between enjoying your morning shave or dreading it.

5. P. S. for the women. Did you know that women buy over half the electric shavers sold in this country? It's true! And, mostly, nothing else compares. Another fact: Norelco "Flip-Top" Speedshaver® 20—shave "flip-top" cleaning. Now Norelco Cordless Speedshaver 20—shaves anywhere. All have rotary blades. All give the comfort shave.

6. Select your Norelco. New Norelco "Flip-Top" Speedshaver 30—self-cleaning blades, hands-free in fit your face. New Norelco "Flip-Top" Speedshaver® 20—shave "flip-top" cleaning. Now Norelco Cordless Speedshaver 20—shaves anywhere. All have rotary blades. All give the comfort shave.

Johnson-Led Cardinals Thump Division-Leading Browns by 28-19 Score

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 7 (AP) — Charles Johnson threw for two touchdowns and ran short yardage for two more as the St. Louis Cardinals sent the Eastern conference rival into a final-decades-week-Sunday-by thrashing the Cleveland Browns 28-19 in a National Football League contest. The triumph left the Cardinals with an 8-3-2 record, one-half game behind the Browns at 9-3-1. Each club has one continuing. The Browns had to settle for four

In New York Saturday and the Cardinals against Philadelphia, in St. Louis.

The game, played in temperatures in the 30s before 31,865, was not as close as the final score indicated because the Browns had to settle for four wins.

Added goals by Lou Groza until the final minute when they noted two touchowns.

The Cardinals defense kept

Cleveland off balance or on the run much of the day and intercepted six of its passes.

Two receivers also had a bad day, dropping numerous passes, while the defense held Cleveland in check. Johnson kept the St. Louis offense in high gear most of the way with his ball-ey passing.

It took him one quarter to warm up to his task, when he led the Cardinals to three touchdowns in 11 minutes of the second period and the Browns never scored.

The second play following the kickoff, Luke Owens hit

Ryan as he tried to pass and linebacker Larry Stallings swiped

the errant ball and returned

12 yards to the Browns' 26.

Two Johnson passes ate up 10 yards before Johnson streaked over from the one for his first score of the season.

Cleveland again was unable to move and the Cardinals took their third score.

John David Crow opened the third quarter with a 35-yard sprint round end.

Johnson then hit three more passes before slipping an eight-yard touchdown pass to Bobby

Joe Courard between several Cleveland defenders.

Crow, who ran his point total to 106, only the second time he has gone over the 100-mark in a season, kicked two field goals in the half and the Cardinals led 10-7 after Johnson hit six different receivers for 11 of his completions.

Johnson kicked his 30th and 31st field goals of the season in 30 attempts, but Johnson offset that with another one-yard plunge set up by his running.

The Cardinals blocked a field goal attempt by Croza and recoved to their own 40 and Johnson went to work for the other. He hit on two passes for 21 yards and sent Children and one into the end zone for two yards before the final plunge.

Cleveland finally crooked a diving catch in the end zone of a 30-yard Ryan pass with four minutes remaining.
