Burch's Future As Chairman Is Discussed by 3

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21 (UPI) — Rep. William E. Miller, said after a conference with Sen. Barry Goldwater today that GOP Chairman Dean Burch should hang onto his job even if he has only a one-vote majority of the 122-member national committee. Miller, the GOP vice presidential nominee, told a news conference after he and Rep. Robert Wilson, of California, had conferred with Goldwater at his apartment that the presidential nominee is standing firmly behind Burch. Burch's replacement as national chairman has been demanded by party progressives on the ground he represents a symbol of disastrous Republican doings in the Nov. 3 election.

Former Vice President Richard Nixon, Gov. George Romney of Michigan, and others have said Burch should resign unless he can turn up a substantial majority in favor of his re-election at a Jan. 22-23 show-down meeting of the national committee in Chicago.

Miller said he does not agree with that viewpoint. He said if Burch can summon even a bare majority he should stay on the job because any replacement "then would represent a minority of the committee."

Miller said he had been informed by Burch that the chairman believes he has majority support "at this time." The New York congressman added he hopes the matter won't even be brought to a roll call showdown at the Chicago meeting.

Burch has been GOP leader for six years, having been taken part in a successful party revolt when the veteran Rep. Joseph W. Martin, Jr., of Massachusetts was overthrown as the minority leader.

Halleck will be expected to win on his record and called upon his friends to support him. He said the Republican election disaster in November could not possibly be held at his door.

Wilson, who heads the house congressional campaign committee, said he agreed with Miller that Burch should stay on even if he has only a bare majority of the committee.

Burch did not attend today's conference at which his future was discussed.

Halleck Will Fight Move To Oust Him

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21 (UPI) — Rep. Charles A. Halleck, R., Ind., said today he will fight a move to oust him as house Republican leader. He predicted he will win.

"I expect to continue as Republican minority leader in the house of representatives and will do all that I properly and reasonably can to that end," Halleck said in a statement.

It was the 64-year-old house leader's first reply to a challenge issued Saturday by Rep. Gerald Ford, R., Mich. Ford, 41, is the candidate for the young, junior member looking for new leadership and—most importantly for a "new face" in the Republican congressional delegation. Ford also has expressed confidence he can win.

2 Mexican Trains Collide, 31 Killed

VILLAHERMOSA, Mexico, Dec. 21 (UPI) — Federal authorities said today a railroad wreck that killed 31 persons occurred when the engine of a freight train apparently fell asleep and hit a freight-passenger train.

Crews of both trains were ordered arrested by the zone military commander. Twenty-six persons were injured in the crash, four of them Americans. Five persons, including the engineer of the freight train, were missing after the crash which took place in heavy fog and rain early yesterday. Tamaulipas state Secretary General Julian Manzur Oceana reported the five persons missing but said it was not known whether they were in the wreckage or had left the scene.

Manzur and his son personally counted 31 bodies in the wreckage.

SAIGON, South Viet Nam, Dec. 21 (UPI) — A U.S. army officer was killed 20 miles northwest of Saigon today by a Viet Cong.

He was the 238th American to die in combat in almost exactly three years of fighting here. The first American killed in the Viet Cong war died near Saigon on Dec. 23, 1961.

Today's fatality occurred while the officer was with Viet Cong names — operation in jungle heavily infested with enemy guerrillas. It was a small but vicious firefight that followed contact with the enemy; a Vietnamese soldier also was killed, Viet Cong officials said.

Other Americans, not immediately identified, were reportedly injured slightly. They left the crash scene before the arrival of state authorities.

An army investigator, Baldomero Corzo Morales, said the brakes had been applied on the freight, but apparently too late to avoid the crash. The arrest order for the train crews was issued by Gen. Salvador M. Ortega, commander of the 30th military zone.

Parts of bodies, shoes, hats, clothing, and suitcases were scattered for several hundred yards along the right-of-way.

A survivor, Jose Basco Moray, told rescue workers:

"I was saved by a miracle. It was terrible. It seemed as if we had stopped at Tocotlalpa, about 10 minutes. A tremendous thump came against the wall. I fell under car of a broken seat. I saw three or four bodies dropping around me."

All of the crash was about 100 miles from Mexico City, to the Guatemala border, by the state-operated Southeastern railway. The stopped train had one first-class and three second-class passenger coaches and 15 freight cars loaded with cargo.

One of the second-class coaches caught fire and some of the passengers burned to death.

The incendiary station waiting room served as a temporary morgue.

Federal troops were ordered to assist pending completion of the investigation.

Blind, 16-Year-Old Spaniel Brought Home for Holiday

JEROME, Idaho, Dec. 21 (UPI) — Clinger, a 16-year-old blind spaniel that looks like a dust ball, was home today after she was most of all for Christmas.

Ginger, almost deaf as well as blind, was not familiar with the surroundings of the home where the Oallen R. Edwards family moved six weeks ago.

She stayed and ate three Edwards' girls, Katherine, 8; Karen, 7; and Gayle, 11, and they wanted her back more than they wanted anything else for Christmas.

Early Saturday police got a call from a bread delivery man who

Area Grange Holds Yule Observance

BUREL, Dec. 21.—The holiday season was depicted in song, story, poetry, readings and musical selections during the Palivue Grange's annual Christmas party observance held Friday night at the hall.

Christmas carols were held with the Rev. Dale K. Bunn as organist. At the conclusion of the program Santa Claus arrived and distributed gifts to the adults and youngsters.

During the Christmas meeting Harold Atklin, master, reported on the membership drive contest slated for 1965. Richard Atkins reported on the Pomerona Grange meeting he and Mrs. Atkins attended recently. The next meeting Jan. 12 will be the annual meeting of the Year's Holiday.

Entertainment was served under the direction of the home economics committee. A Christmas tree and festive holiday decorations graced the hall.

F. weather bureau with 53 per cent humidity. (Barometer, 29.93.)

SYNOPSIS AND AGRICULTURAL OUTLOOK—Strong and almost gusty winds are continuing in many valleys of southern Idaho. The 12-hour average winds off the Weather Bureau's continuous surface map show the effect of the "weather machine." Most stations during the past 30 hours, but heavier amounts were confined to the southwestern valleys and Camas prairie. In Magic Valley 24-hour precipitation amounts ranged from traces to 10 of an inch.

Pressure at the surface are falling across Oregon and into Idaho, and clouds are with periods of rain are forecast for today, Idaho, and clouds are with periods of rain are forecast for today, and the pressure is falling. Strong and gusty winds will blow today, lessening somewhat in speeds on Tuesday. Temperatures will continue well above normal today and Tuesday as the southwesterly flow of air aloft allows for only small changes in temperatures in the valleys of southern Idaho.

Maximum temperatures today will range in the 40's and 60's, with readings on Tuesday ranging from the 40's to the low 60's. Minimum temperatures tonight will remain mostly in the 30's except in Camas prairie where temperatures during the night will lower into the 20's.

FIVE-DAY FORECAST—The mean upper air pressure chart shows slightly higher pressure with the most disturbances with a long wave of southwest winds blowing from the Pacific ocean.

Wild weather over the valleys of southern Idaho will continue due to this warmer air flow aloft with temperatures expected to average from eight to 12 degrees above normal through Saturday. Minor day-to-day changes are expected through this period with 50° day and nighttime temperatures averaging above normal. Home normal maximum and minimum temperatures for this period are Boise 38-54, Gooding 35-40, Twin Falls 35-42, Burley 38-18, Postale 35-47 and Idaho Falls 33-43.

Frequent periods of precipitation in the form of rain in the valleys and snow in the mountains are expected through mid week with some indication of decreasing precipitation into the weekend. Total precipitation through Saturday will average from .10 to .15 of an inch in Magic Valley.

Sunshine will average around 40 per cent of possible through Saturday. Wind will be variable and gusty at times through mid week with lighter winds late in the weekend.

3 Astronauts Are Left for Space Flight

HOUSTON, Tex., Dec. 21—Three includes and retirement have cut sharply into the ranks of America's seven original astronauts, leaving only three ready for space flight.

A strong possibility exists that Cmdr. Alan B. Shepard, Jr., Capt. M. Scott Carpenter and Maj. Donald K. Slayton will not make another space flight.

Col. John H. Glenn, Jr., left the program and will retire next year to become a director of a soft drink company.

Of the three remaining astronauts, two—Maj. Virgil I. Grissom and Capt. Walter M. Schirra, Jr.—are training for the first manned Gemini flight next year.

The seventh, Maj. L. Gordon Cooper, Jr., is described by his doctor as "healthy as a horse."

The unnamed "spacecraft" contains physician in charge of the spaceflight health and he didn't know if any of the three flying astronauts every would fly into space again.

"There are problems," said Dr. Charles Berry. "Especially in Al Shepard's case. He still has some loss of hearing, although there haven't been any more records of it.

Schirra is suffering from an ear disorder, which he apparently contacted from a virus infection.

Carpenter is recovering from injuries suffered in a motor scooter accident in Bermuda last July.

"He can rotate his left arm a little bit now," Berry said. "We don't look for any permanent injury."

"Duke" Slayton's case hasn't changed," Berry said. "His heart condition is no different—no better, no worse.

Glenn, however, was selected by physicians shortly after the Wisconsin native was plucked to be the second American to orbit the earth. He was grounded and Carpenter made the flight.

Walter Moon Is Honored at Rites

BURLEY, Dec. 21—Funeral services for Walter Moon were held yesterday in the Burley Christian church with the Rev. Warren Becker officiating.

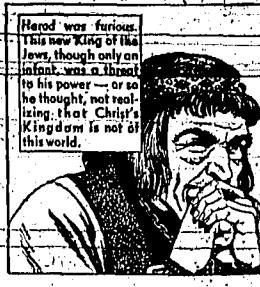

Mr. and Mrs. Fobie Wall sang hymns and were accompanied by Mrs. Shirley Easton.

Pallbearers were Winston Dally, Harrison Powers, Leo Huntly, Walter Smythe, William Burton and Jessie Smith.

Flowers were arranged under the direction of the Burley YWCA auxiliary, assisted by Elizabeth Turney, Iva Smythe, Cecil Carrill, Charlotte Posey and Hannah Day.

Final rites were held at Pleasant View cemetery.

6 New Stamps To Be Issued During 1965

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21—A stamp collector will get another bonanza next year.

Postmaster General John A. Gronouski announced today that six more new stamps will be issued.

They will include one commemorating the late former President Herbert Clark Hoover.

"The others will be commemorative issues for traffic safety,

the Salvation Army, the Magi

Carla, the great Italian poet,

Dante Alighieri, and another in the John Singleton Copley painting series.

There also will be a commemorative postal card marking the 175th anniversary of the U.S. coast guard.

The stamps will bring to 11 the number of commemorative insults planned for 1965, four already having been issued.

"We gave thoughtful consideration to the great number of requests for new stamps," Gro-nouski said, "and have selected what we think will contribute to a well-rounded program."

The Salvation Army stamp

will mark that nonsectarian re-

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

By ANDREW TULLY

WASHINGTON. Dec. 21—Big Brother continues to fulfill his self-appointed role of Peeping Tom in the bureaucratic corridors of Washington, prying unmercifully with appropriate smacking of the lips over the private lives of government workers.

Sen. Sam Ervin, D., N.C., chairman of a Senate subcommittee on constitutional rights of federal employees, has come up with a sampling of questions asked of some workers in an "un-American" personnel test. "Even the country concerned by exposure to 'Andrew' fails to see the Joe McCarthy era is likely to find them sickening."

BEST CHRIST?—The "psychologist," of course, is concerned about this girl. He wants her to tell him whether she is troubled by certain problems. One is "deciding whether I'm really in love." Another is "being too inhibited in sex matters." She is asked whether she is "confused" in her religious beliefs, and whether she subscribes to the dogma that "Christ performed miraculously." Big Brother also wants to know—if she "feels like getting revenge when something has insulted me."

SHOCKING!—Senator Ervin, a Southern gentleman, says such questions are "shocking." Citizens from the North, East and West should be equally shocked by them. And when Sam Ervin asks whether such questions impinge on an individual's right to privacy, the answer from the land should be, "You're bloody well right they do!"

State department spokesman had a pat answer for Ervin when he asked what situations would justify such an invasion of privacy. The tests, Ervin was told, were given to foreign service employees with emotional problems that require treatment. Some agencies permit counsel another third person to be present during the interview, which shows that even Peeping Tom has doubts about the legality, if not morality, of their work.

EVEN THE MACHINE—They should. Uncle Sam has a right to know whether persons filling sensitive security jobs are character risks, because the communists have made a going business of blackmailing such individuals. But the search in this area is for deviates, not for the employee with a normal sex life who occasionally cheats with it. And the employee who is "confused" about his religious beliefs, or doubts whether Christ performed miraculously is not per se, a menace.

Indeed, there remains the question of whether such nasty chats with employer have any value. Few government workers, aware of Big Brother's nervousness about their paychecks, are inclined to admit that they "like to read books and plays in which sex plays a major part." And the Pentagon admitted several months ago that the Iggy doctor has proved less than infallible in such interviews. Apparently even a machine is embarrassed by some questions.

Views of Others

"CULTURAL OVERKILL"

After years in the wilderness, the arts seem to be coming into their own in the United States. Naturally not everyone is satisfied. We do not refer to a resurgence of the Philistine resistance or indifference to the arts that Europeans often used to identify among Americans. Rather it is some of those especially concerned with the arts who see new problems where the old are fading.

One line of criticism is that as the arts has become rather than "out" in American society, he has tended to be taken over for official purposes. Or he has too easily slipped into playing the part assigned to him, whether as political emissary or minority spokesman.

At the same time that the role of cultural centers has led to questioning of their role in ensuring the continuity, most often associated with the "strategic" artist—and also of their place in the urban landscape.

Invitably comes the New York's wondrous Lincoln Center for the Performing Arts has been one of the targets.

In praise, of course, but also in lamentation. The buildings are designed less for effective presentation of the arts than for display of audiences, says one critic. And at a regional planning conference Russell Lynes, of Harper's magazine, reportedly cited the center as an example of what happens "when esthetics get overbearing." He introduced the haunting concept of "cultural or aesthetic overkill."

Somehow we feel the United States has not quite reached that point. But certainly each intended advance in culture should be tested against the standards of taste, discipline and individuality—which make the whole thing worth while.—Christian Science Monitor.

HAIL THE INTERPRETERS

The unnamed heroes of international diplomacy are the interpreters, those nameless men and women who work in those zones, patiently tending the lines of official discourse, smoothing the path for greater understanding. And let them find them in Paris, London, Geneva, New York, in every capital of international talk. Their interpretation is sometimes so fluent and polished that it is more effective than the original.

The United Nations employs about 80 staff interpreters, most of them in New York, the rest in the U.N.'s European headquarters in Geneva. There are at least 600 other professional interpreters spread over 25 countries, most of them free-lancers.

Brevery is the byword of the professional interpreter and, to some, the code of the International Association of Conference Interpreters, established 12 years ago.

The I.A.C.I. stoutly maintains that members make few mistakes. But those few can be dandies. At one conference concerned with sanitation in less developed countries, the word "privy" was repeatedly translated into French as "privy council."

The London Observer reports that because of a one-letter mistake the title of a Russian paper on encouraging development of a country's resources read: "Some Prospects for Increasing Slave Hunting on the West Coast of Africa." An official correction was issued, saying that "at the request of the Soviet Government, typographical errors should be substituted for robbery slave hunting."

One of the most welcome interpreting mistakes occurred during one of those excessively windy seminars. After a delegate had rambled on for almost an hour, the exasperated interpreter stood up and announced: "Gentlemen, Mr. S. after reviewing the situation in terms of M.I.T. which you are all thoroughly familiar, hold it to high time we went to eat."—Milwaukee Journal.

TRADE IN YOUR HOUSE?

A California builder and loan executive foresees a bright future in home loans, says Americans sometime before long will be "building their homes just as they now do their cars."

The field is changing so swiftly—there are so many new innovations the don't say how many old ones—that a house is out of date in 25 years," he said, according to the Associated Press.

"You should be able to tear it down and rebuild it."

But even an optimist may be permitted a qualification: "That day of the ephemeral home is coming," the man said. "Just as we never can find a way to reduce building material costs."

Yes, and somebody someday will ride a bicycle all the way from Portland to Honolulu just as soon as they find a way to get rid of all that water.—The Oregonian.

As If Things Aren't Bad Enough!

Poor Man's Plato

By HAL ROYLE

NEW YORK. Dec. 21 (UPI)—Twenty years ago he chilled the Western world with fear, but now he is a gray little old man who likes to weed his garden in peace. He is retired Gen. Ignacio E. von Manteuffel, seven times wounded in battle, one of Germany's most decorated soldiers and leader of the celebrated fifth panzer army in the Battle of the Bulge.

Just two decades ago, Gen. Manteuffel later worked as export manager for a German manufacturing firm until his retirement a few years ago.

The former general, who stands only 5 feet, 4 inches, weighs 123 pounds and has a pronounced hump of humor, is a living legend.

"I built everything on human trust," he remarked. "Under no man, not even Hitler, I never believed in a soldier. I never believed in making more of my soldiers than I could eat and drink exactly as they did, and they trusted me."

"I live a healthy life now. I smoke too much, I don't drink more milk. I work in my garden, and play up my grandchildren's toys," he smiled puckishly. "But not as well as Richard Burton and Elizabeth Taylor live."

There was one point, 20 years ago, the Battle of the Bulge, that Von Manteuffel wanted to make:

"I trust in the Americans today as there is every level in Germany on the farms, in the villages in the big cities. We are confident, for example, that if the Russians attack Berlin, Americans would help Germany."

"We can't believe in a third power group such as that envisioned by Gen. De Gaulle," said Manteuffel, now 87, displaying his combat record on a recent visit here to an adviser on a film of the battle, which is being made with the cooperation of the U.S. National Archives.

He is president of the skill by which his men through concentrated movements achieved complete tactical surprise.

"I wanted to speak by the outside, like cat," he recalled, "and this went off well. It was the biggest German success of the operation."

"But your men were not to blame for this. They were supposed to be in a rest area and they were terribly strong out."

Like other Germans, commanded Adolf Hitler, he said, grandsons are hopeless; it was no longer than to wrap up in the Allied armies in the west, than leaving Hitler free to deal with the Russians in the east.

"The biggest mistake that Hitler made at this time," he commented recently, "was to think that the German army could do what it had done in 1940."

"After all, we were in the sixth year of the war. We did not have enough material, and the soldiers of 1944 were not the same as those of 1939."

The rampaging Germans did streak 80 miles through U.S. lines at one point to get within four miles of the Mississippi River—but they were held up for days at the vital road junctions.

"With no money, we had to break through the U.S. defenses of a second key town, Bastogne,"

By Christmas eve, von Manteuffel said, he realized the Nazi drive had been beaten.

President Kennedy brought the White House a great gift which, John Johnson, never can match: Grace and charm.

By Christmas eve, von Manteuffel said, he realized the Nazi drive had been beaten.

He didn't do it by browbeating, if he could help it, for his policies were to avoid conflict if he could.

He was to appeal, sooth and compromise. This meant he often had to settle for less than all he wanted. But he kept the wheels turning so well and smoothly he has been called the best senate leader in this century.

His whole performance is based on tireless dedication to the job. He works at it long hours daily. It would be extraordinary if his personality and methods were to change now, though not like this.

He let it be known he will work hard for friendly conflicts, here or abroad.

He dream boat may capsize, due to circumstances he can't control, and in the end he may find himself a sorely embattled president, like many before him.

Manning, without inspiring leadership, may not be enough, and probably won't be. President Franklin D. Roosevelt and Wilson were-type leaders but in dealing with congress they were often poor managers. Wilson di-

TAYLOR'S VIEWS ON WORLD NEWS

By HENRY J. TULLY

President Johnson has received "reassurances" from Indonesian President Sukarno that he regards our "guarantees" as "our guarantee again and burned for U.S. information centers."

This red organ-grinder has been making a monkey of America for years. A cool billion dollars of our taxpayers' money has been wasted on the high-living despots who once expressed Henry J. Tully his "gracious gratitude to Ambassador Howard P. Jones: "To hell with your American aid."

Some years ago the state department asked me to entertain Sukarno at "Monticello," which he said he wanted to visit. He eulogized Jefferson's democratic ideals in a broadcast from the steps of the beautiful mansion. A few months later he was eulogizing Lenin in Moscow's Red Square. What this rouge would do with our friendship was never harder to guess than what a leopard would do to a goat.

Now Dr. Sukarno owes his first power in Indonesia to collaboration with the Tokyo war lords.

When the Japanese fanatics poured through Hong Kong's hospitals on Christmas day, 1941, bayoneting the patients and carrying off the nurses, he sent a message from Jakarta congratulating the Japanese commander on the fall of the city.

From that time on, throughout World War II, Sukarno was a Charlie McCarthy on Tokyo's hook. Then, with his red take-over of China, he promptly became the Sino-Soviet puppet and attacked The Netherlands and Great Britain.

The Indonesian archipelago consists of more than 3,000 islands spread across an area wider than the United States. An estimated 85 million people live there, giving the world about half as many Indonesians as there are Americans. A sizeable target for our people's hard-earned taxes," House subcommittee Chairman Otto E. Passman, D. La., once skeptically observed.

For years on end U.S. foreign aid officials have admitted that Indonesia in Sukarno's hands is a veritable hotbed of communism.

The morale factors are decisive. Decisive battles are won in the hearts of men. Ignorant and stupid examples of this?

Captured by British troops at the close of the war, Von Manteuffel later worked as export manager for a German manufacturing firm until his retirement a few years ago.

The former general, who stands only 5 feet, 4 inches, weighs 123 pounds and has a pronounced hump of humor, is a living legend.

I have poor posture rounded shoulders and a forward curvature of the back. Parents are concerned about this condition, and worry that the child's heart and lungs will not develop properly.

"Two recent studies reveal that most children are surprised after their first 10-mile march with simple synovitis, rest and hot compresses, the application usually gives prompt relief.

If the synovitis is chronic or radioactive gold may be injected into the joint.

My doctor sent me to start a 4-month-old baby on raw milk, but I have always thought the milk should be pasteurized. What do you think?

No one can take the risk of giving a baby raw milk. If he escaped diphtheria, typhoid fever, typhoid and tuberculosis, he could still get a streptococcal sore throat from it.

This could lead to rheumatic heart disease.

Q. For years I have put my children to bed in pajamas with no underwear. My doctor said my 4-month-old baby should have raw milk. I have always thought the milk should be pasteurized. What do you think?

A. Children seem to survive almost anything—even being dunked up at night.

It is generally better to replace the warmth of their coverings with the number, thickness and fabric of the blankets.

On extremely cold nights, however, underwear will be more comfortable daytime than adding heavy blankets.

JACOBY MAJOR IS NEW BID

When today's band was played at the Valley View studio in Richardson, Tex., about half the North-South pairs played part-score contracts in no-trump or clubs while the other half reached the no-trump game and the diamond rebid to deny a four-card major and a two-card trump bid to show eight or nine high card points. I would have gone right to the North-South pairs response had it not been at least four cards in one of the majors and it occurred to me that if her four-card major was spades and she was weak in either hearts or diamonds, the hand might play better at four spades than at three no-trump.

Of course, it is mighty dangerous to invent bids when your partner happens to your wife but we have survived bridge table disasters in our 33 years together. No bid three spaces than at three no-trump.

She looked a trifle puzzled who could blame her—but naturally went to the same three no-trump that I would have bid ordinarily. There is no way to ordinary bid whether my bid was good or bad, and she may expand with it some more if it ever comes up again.

wound up making three or four odd depending on just how the defense went.

There is nothing noteworthy about the hand except that when Mrs. Jacoby and I held the North-South cards I invented a new bid.

With a high-card points, a five-card suit and two tens, I held a maximum no-trump, so after Mrs. Jacoby's two club response (\clubsuit layman), my two

News Around Idaho

BOISE. Dec. 21 (UPI)—Use on Idaho highways of tires equipped with tungsten carbide lugs that protrude above the tread surface is prohibited by state law. That announcement was made yesterday by E. H. Hoppe, law enforcement commission, who said the attorney general's office has ruled that the statute prohibiting use of permanent metal lugs also applies to use of the tungsten lugs. Hoppe said, however, that the law does not ban use of tire chains because they are not used except in extreme conditions of snow coverage and are in contact with the actual highway for very limited periods.

BOISE. Dec. 21 (UPI)—The former home administrative has granted a $7,500 loan to the Roarin' Elk Club, Inc., Hailey, to finance development of a winter sports recreational area near there. The firm, made up of 30 Hailey area residents, said the money will be used to finance purchase and installation of a J-bar lift at the area, which will serve Hailey, Bellevue and surrounding communities.

BOISE. Dec. 21 (UPI)—A faulty thermostat is blamed for a fire yesterday morning that destroyed the interior of the Elkhorn galleries in Boise causing an estimated $30,000 in damage to merchandise and art objects. Firemen said the thermostat, located in the offices of the state liquor commission on the second floor of the building, apparently stuck causing a coal stoker in the basement to continue feeding coal into the furnace for several hours. They said a pile of coal apparently spilled onto the floor touching off the flames that raced up a steel wall into the store. Mrs. Alice Bradin, owner of the store, said that in addition to several merchandise, the flames damaged several paintings and art objects that had been left by customers for framing and restoration.

BOISE. Dec. 21 (UPI)—Promotion of Eugene Dorsey to the post of associate publisher of the Boise, Idaho Statesman newspapers has been approved by Federated Publications, Inc. Dorsey has served as managing editor of the Statesman since joining Federated in November of 1963. Prior to that, he was general manager of the Journal at East St. Louis, Ill. John Scott, who has served as sole publisher of the Statesman since it was acquired by Federated, will continue to have corporate responsibility for the paper.

BOISE. Dec. 21 (UPI)—The executive secretary of the Idaho Education Association says a report on Idaho public schools to be released next month will not be "one-sided," but will present a clear picture of education problems in the Gem state. Elmer Crowley said the report, prepared by an 18-member team appointed by the National Education Association at the request of the NEA, will "note a number of commendable things about our educational system, and also a number that need serious attention." "This will be a helpful document," said Crowley. "It does not pretend to be a study in depth, but those who read it with an open mind will find it contains many things helpful to education in Idaho."

BOISE. Dec. 21 (UPI)—Natural gas service has been restored to Intermountain Gas company's "interruptible contract" customers, including food processing plants and breweries, throughout the southern portion of the state. The order curtailing service was rescinded yesterday after gas deliveries from Canada, which had been affected by cold weather conditions, were restored to normal. The order was in effect for four days.

BOISE. Dec. 21 (UPI)—The Idaho legislative council wants the 1965 legislature to spell out more clearly just what is expected of it if the lawmakers decide to extend its operation for another two years. The interim group was instructed by the 1963 assembly to aid in preparation of a budget and to order audit of state agencies. It complained in its first report that its authority was not clearly defined. In a section dealing with budget preparation, the council said the 1963 law failed to "give any guidelines as to what manner or form" its assistance in budget preparation should take. As a result, it adopted the position that "it should not make any dollar recommendations on budget requests," the council said.

Boise Firm Denies Plan Of Moving

BOISE. Dec. 21 (UPI)—A recent issue of a national magazine (Business Week) quotes President J. B. Murphy of Morrison-Knudsen Co., as saying M-K has no intentions of moving headquarters out of Boise.

In an interview, Murphy said it would cost the construction firm $350,000 to $400,000 more a year to headquartered its worldwide operations in Chicago or New York.

"This is where we started and where we grew," Murphy said. "We like it here."

In the cover story, the magazine said M-K now has 317 projects going in 32 countries, ranging from development of a super fast parking lot to building the biggest bridge in Europe.

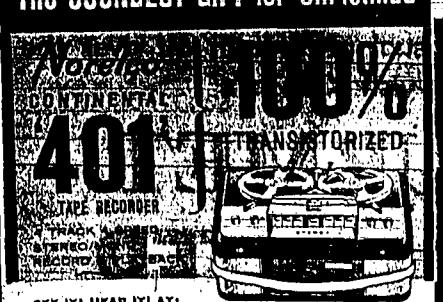

The story also points out that the surviving founder of the company, Board Chairman Harry Morrison, no longer runs M-K's day-to-day operations.

Area School to Close Wednesday

EDEN-HAZELTON. Dec. 21—Area schools will close at 11:15 a.m. Wednesday for the Christmas vacation. Schools will reopen on Monday, Jan. 4.

Prior to dismissal, an assembly will be held at Valley at 10 a.m. A program will be presented by the high school band and chorus as well as several skits prepared by students. The Codas will sing Christmas selections. The public is invited to attend.

T.F. Rotary To Hear Air Force Man

Colonel William R. Smith, Mountain Home air force base, commander of the ninth strategic aerospace wing, will be featured speaker at the Rotary club luncheon at noon Wednesday at the American Legion hall.

Colonel Smith was graduated from the University of Pittsburgh in 1939, with a degree in civil engineering, and was for some time employed as a construction engineer for the Pittsburgh Des Moines Steel company.

Completing his flight instruction at Spokane Field, Moultrie, Ga., in July 1942, he received his pilot's wings and commission as a second lieutenant in the Army Air Corps.

In September 1943, Colonel Smith accepted the fifteenth air force "Bar None" trophy for the best combat operational training effectiveness of any fifteenth air force bomber unit.

During 1943, the fifth bombing under Colonel Smith's command, completed nine years without a single flying accident and received recognition by the SAC Hall-of-Fame for ten infantry record.

Commander of the ninth strategic aerospace wing with a record of manned and unmanned weapons systems was assigned to Colonel Smith in April, 1944.

As commander of the ninth wing he is responsible for training squadrons with approximately 8,000 men assigned.

Since his early days as a B-17 bomber pilot, Colonel Smith has accumulated 6,000 hours flying time with the rating of a command pilot.

His military decorations include the Legion of Merit, distinguished flying cross, air medal with five oak leaf clusters and the air force commendation medal with one oak leaf cluster.

Golden Wedding Anniversary

Open House Set

WENDELL, Dec. 21—Mr. and Mrs. Joseph J. Stickle, will celebrate their golden wedding anniversary with open house from 2 to 5 p.m. Sunday at the Wendell Grange hall, West Main street.

All friends and relatives are invited to attend.

Mrs. and Mrs. Stickle were married Dec. 8, 1914, in Twin Falls. They lived in Oakley and Ledore before moving to Jerome in 1920. They came to Wendell in 1921 and have resided there since, with the exception of four years, 1940 to '45, which they spent in Long Beach, Calif.

Arrangements for the anniversary party are being made by the couple's family. Plans are being made for all members of the family to present.

The couple has three sons, Arthur Stickle, Michigan City, Ind.; Russell Stickle, Long Beach, Calif.; Richard Stickle, Nampa, and one daughter, Mrs. Richard (Dorothy) Stickleland, Gooding.

One son, Robert Stickle, was lost at sea in 1943, World War II. They have nine grandchildren.

HAWAII

... Is Calling You . . . for an Ideal Vacation!

The lure of far-away places in a setting just hours away

... a most fascinating part of the U.S.A. that you must see! The Times-News, Magic Carpet Holiday makes it yours for only $498 per person* in a 10-day program of adventure and relaxation to highlight your life.

*An Invitation from Your Times-News Tour Hosts
Gus and Betty Kelker*

You'll see these 3 islands:

OAHU:

the "Aloha Island" offers jet-age excitement in a jeweled setting of jade-green mountains in turquoise sea. Here is Honolulu—gay and glamorous, colorful and cosmopolitan—and here is the wonderful world of Waikiki, with its world-famed beach, smart shops and delightfully pleasant resort hotels, from which we have picked for you THE ILIKAI at the Yacht Harbor, convenient both to downtown and to Waikiki. The charm of the Orient blended with Polynesia will enchant you in this tropical paradise, for four unforgettable days!

MAUI:

the "Valley Isle" has a magic brewed of many distinctive ingredients—a sunrise at Haleakala, vast extinct crater; Iao Valley, with its towering Needle, a solid mass of stone rising 1,200 feet above the floor; romantic villages of Lahaina, once-island-capital-and-whaling-center; Kehului, Makawao and Kula and Hana. Its natives may delight you with the song "Maui No Ka Oi" (Maui is the best).

HAWAII:

the "Big Island" is a land of dramatic contrasts to surprise and delight you. The snowy caps of Mauna Loa and Mauna Kea craters, at 13,000', rise from tropical palm-fringed white and black sand beaches. You'll visit private and commercial orchid gardens in Hilo, the second largest Island City; and lunch on the rim of Kilauea, most recent active volcano. You'll stay your last 2 nights at the lovely KONA INN and one of your days will be entirely free to visit Coffee Plantations, Parker Ranch, world's largest cattle operation; or go deep sea fishing off Gona Coast, world-famed fishing grounds for marlin, sailfish, tuna and dolphin.

Not a regimented program but a selection of planned arrangements to combine again, the advantages and economy of group travel with the freedom and flexibility of going "on-your-own." Free days are inserted for your relaxation in the tropical sun, sand and surf; shopping, golfing, photography, etc. By special arrangement, you can stay longer on any of these islands or visit; also Kauai, the "Garden Isle" and return on your tour ticket.

Included are all flights from Twin Falls, transfers to and from the airport and sightseeing: On Oahu, the comprehensive Circle Island Tour and the Pearl Harbor Cruise; On Maui, a half-day of sightseeing; and on Hawaii Island, a full day of sightseeing.

DON'T WAIT to visit Hawaii. Go now so the memories can enrich your life for all the years ahead. This program is ideal for your first or second visit to the Islands.

CHILDREN are welcome and if they are under 12, a reduction in cost of $160 will apply.

Per person sharing double or triple rooms. Single rooms available at slight additional cost.

The Daily Investor

Stocks

NEW YORK. Dec. 21 (UPI)—The stock market closed irregularly higher today in active trading. Weakness in steels marred the advance.

The list rose in early trading but trimmed its gain considerably.

Volume for the day was estimated at 13 million shares—compared with 4.64 million Friday. Gains of fractions to a point or an outnumbered losers.

Dupont helped the averages with a 1-point rise. General Motors trimmed an early 1-point rise. Chrysler faded to a fractional loss after advancing early in the day. Ford was steady.

Steels abandoned an initial advance and moved lower. Down fractionally were U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Jones and Laughlin, and Scherzer.

Scherzer touched a high of 11 1/2 made about a point. Caterpillar added about a point. Anaconda more than a point.

Consolidated like the volume leader and sank about 2 points. A leading investment advisory service recommended it be sold.

Armstrong Rubber and United States Machinery gained 2. Great

Blitz nearly 2.

Ahead a point or so were Taft Broadcasting, Royal Crown Cola, May's Department Stores, Cummins Clear, Mack Trucks, Lockheed, Boeing, Litton Industries, R. H. Macy and North American Aviation.

Down a point or so were Republic Copper and Brass, Xerox and Campbell Red Lake.

Prices turned mixed on the American Stock Exchange after an early advance. Trading was active.

Corporate bonds were mixed in light trading. U. S. govern-

Blanda Sets Record in Oiler Victory

HOUSTON, Tex., Dec. 21 (UPI)—Houston quarterback George Blanda set an American Football League pass attempt record Sunday as he engineered the Oilers to a 34-15 victory over the Denver Broncos.

The 15-year veteran became the passing record holder for the first time in AFL history.

December's usual inter-district and non-conference schedule comes to a halt Tuesday night with a five-game schedule followed by two games Wednesday. Three weeks ago 26 Magic Valley schools started with unbeaten dreams and none of them have made it to the Christmas vacation. However, four teams had a reverse nightmare—all are looking for that first victory. Twin Falls, which lasted through five games and until it hit tall Borah, will go against the Minico Spartans, who, if nothing else, will enjoy being home for the first time this season. Minico has dropped four games so far while Twin Falls is 5-1.

Due to the short South Central Idaho conference, coach Del Blanda was forced to schedule nine games before Christmas.

Working overtime, the Gooding Senators play their ninth game in 22 days by traveling to Wendell. Only Boise and Borah have managed to tame the Senators as yet. Wendell is 2-3.

Glenns Ferry, which dropped a decision to Gooding in five outings, will be trying for two in a row at Buhl's expense when the Pintos host the Indians.

Glenns Ferry won the first meeting 69-68. Buhl has one win in four outings.

In and out: Oakley, which tops Glenns Ferry and falls to Davids, will travel to Dodge where the host Hornets are 2-3.

"And the surprise of the young year—the Hansen Hawks—will be knocking their sixth straight victory when they travel to Bliss.

Hansen lost its opener but has been untouchable since. Bliss has won four games.

Action continues Wednesday night with the Burley Bobcats, who blew through 74 points Saturday against Aberdeen, traveling to Pocatello. Pocatello waxed the Bobcats 58-28 earlier—but that was before coach Fulton Budget got his fire power off the probation list.

Part River, looking for its first victory, will host the Minico Jayvees.

Houston's Charlie Hennigan caught eight passes in the game, enough for a season total of 101 and a new AFL pass receiving mark. Last week, Ed Taylor set the old one in 1981.

Hennigan averaged a total of eight assists for 16 yards and 0 touchdowns.

Staubach and Hayes Team Up for South

MIAMI, Fla., Dec. 21 (UPI)—Roger Staubach, of Navy, and Olympic champion Bob Hayes of Florida A. and M. ledmed up a potentially powerful passing combination Sunday as the North and South teams worked out for their all-star football game Christmas Day.

Hayes, the world's fastest running back, split end, could be quarterback Staubach's favorite target when the South has the ball.

"I like just heaving the ball as far as I can and having someone out there to catch it," Staubach said.

Coaches for the South team are former Navy coach Wayne Hardin and Ray Graves of Florida A. and M.

Graves, coaching the defensive squad, named his probable first team. It included Jack Slane, Miami; Tucker Frederickson, Auburn; Tommy Jackson, Georgia Tech; and Ed Orr, Navy.

Navy's defensive backs; Bob Brown, Miami, and Sidney MacLean, Florida; at tackles; Jim McCarthy, Duke, and Tony Saladino, Miami, at guard; Dave Simmons, Georgia Tech, at center; and Dale Callahan, Rice, and Fred Brown, Miami, at ends.

North coach Paul Dietzel of Army concentrated on building a passing attack featuring quarterbacks John Huarte of Notre Dame and Richie Bader of Indiana.

This is how the North defensive unit shaped up: John Seymour, John Johnson and Don Parsons, all of Army; and Herman Johnson, Minnesota; State in the backfield; Joe Szczepanik, Northwestern, and Phil Deutch, Army, at tackles; Gregg Schumacher, Illinois, and John Dierberg, Penn State, at guards; Rudy Kuechenberg, Indiana, and Tony McClung, Notre Dame, at center.

The 10-year-old winner of four

Olympic gold medals started fast and steadily widened his margin

despite his complaints about cold winter and the temperature of 65 degrees.

Staubach's time was 1:37.03.

Hayes was 1:41.07. French champion Alain Cottavola was third with 1:43.03. Robert Christophe of France, last year's winner, was fourth.

The Russians scored three goals in each period, topped by Valerio Kozin with two. Top scorer for the Black Hawks, defending

U. S. Hockey League champs, was

Tim Taylor, also with two.

Gleichen, Iowa, at ends, and Tohi Kostelnik, Notre Dame, at center.

Wrestling Meet

Twin Falls' Brain wrestling team will host the Burley Bobcats at 8 p.m. Monday at the high school gymnasium. Exhibition matches will begin promptly at 8 p.m.

Harvard Cage Star Given High Honor

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Dec. 21 (UPI)—Academic award winners are somewhat routine at Harvard university, but top notch basketball players are few and far between.

An exceptional combination of the two was honored Sunday when a 21-year-old senior, Merlin McClung, was named a Rhodes scholar.

McClung was one of two Ivy league basketball players named Rhodes' recipients. The other was All-American Bill Bradley of Princeton and Crystal City, Md., McClung was a member of the victorious U.S. Olympic team at Tokyo.

McClung, a fast 5-foot-10 ward from Montevideo, Minn., is considered the best basketball player in Harvard history. He is the school single game scoring record holder with 336 points.

J.S. Presses
Tshombe on Peace Plan

BRUSSELS, Dec. 21 (UPI) — The United States is pressuring Congo Premier Moise Tshombe to make peace with the rebels and admit some to his government, well-informed Belgian sources said.

They said Washington is also urging Belgium to grant the Congo more aid.

This they said, explains why

Tshombe was rushed here last week for unexpected talks with Belgian Foreign Minister Jean-Mari Spaak and why the U.S. ambassadors to Belgium flew here from emergency consultations in Washington.

The best solution, the Ger-man's bloody rebellion would be a reconciliation with the rebels, whose "leaders" would enter

Tshombe's government, they added. This is also a pet project of Spaak.

Tshombe, who was concluding a West European trip, had no plans to come to Brussels before returning to Leopoldville.

Civil Rights
Group Help Build Church

BERLIN, O., Dec. 21 (UPI) — An advance party of "Carpenters for Christmas" has gone to Nipsey, Miss., where they will join other Northern civil rights workers in rebuilding a Negro church bombed and burned Oct. 30.

Two autos and a small bus left here with 18 persons, including 13 students from Oberlin college, and two from Yorkton college, Yankton, S.D. The students included two faculty members, one accompanied by his wife.

A spokesman at Oberlin college said the party will be joined later by volunteers from other colleges.

At least 33 students, professors and townpeople will help rebuild the "Antioch-Baptist" church, destroyed after a civil rights rally.

The rebuilding project, called "Carpenters for Christians," was spearheaded by the Oberlin Association for Civil Rights and is sponsored by the Council of Federated Organizations, which consists of civil rights groups working in Mississippi.

A $10,000 fund-raising goal has been set for the project and so far funds total $4,500.

Plan Okayed

NEW YORK, Dec. 21 (UPI) — The Chilean government and American company have announced an agreement that provides, among other things, for the formation of a joint company to exploit a huge copper ore body in Chile presently owned by Anacona.

The agreement also accords Chile "a voice in the direction of commercial policies under which copper is marketed."

MRS. FRANCES CAMPBOWARD is helped onto a stretcher for a trip to the hospital Sunday following her rescue from Prospect Park lake in Brooklyn. She was strolling in the park and apparently thought the snow-covered lake was a field. Five firemen and patrolmen attempting to help ended in the lake and had to be rescued, too. A pontooned helicopter was finally used to take Mrs. Campbward from the lake. (AP wire photo)

Driver Is Cited
After Accident

Howard H. King, 38, 231 Walnut street, was cited for failure to be reasonable and prudent in driving when he lost control of his 1963 Chevrolet sedan 10 miles south of Hanover on the Rock creek road and left the road. None of the occupants of his car were seriously injured, however.

King was traveling around a curve on the crest of a hill when he met a jeep and veered off the right side of the road, tearing out some fence, drove over several rocks before getting his car stopped.

Damage to his car was estimated at $1,000.

Passengers in the car were Randy King, 12, and Mike King, 14, 233 Walnut street; James Hooperie, 13, 1440 Fourth avenue east, and James Kump, 14, 1030 Ontario avenue.

New Mexico Boosts Image of Itself as Skiers' Paradise

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Dec. 21 (UPI) — The state linked in the minds of most Americans with glaring deserts and picnickersque Indians is fighting to convince the rest of the nation it is a skier's paradise.

New Mexico's own ski buffs think it may be a losing battle.

Despite the fact the land of enchantment is famed for its sunshiny and arid, the pleasant "Manana" land of Mexico, snowcapped peaks soar to 13,000 feet in the north and the mountains extend down the center of the state almost to the Mexican border.

The diversification of New Mexico's skiing, which can be accomplished under sunny skies as a rule, ranges from what is described as the toughest run in the nation — at Taos — to the United States' southernmost major ski area, Cloudcroft.

From the New Mexico-Colorado border to the Sacramento mountains less than 100 miles north of Mexico, ski areas have been running wide open since early after Thanksgiving. If the 1964-65 season runs normally skiing should last up until Easter.

Operators of the state's nine ski areas insist they have not only the snow and the facilities to rival neighboring Colorado, but also have a priceless edge in the faithful New Mexican skier.

It is not unusual to see a flock of tired skiers relaxing in outdoor tables as they watch their counterparts, some without gloves or caps, come racing through the fresh powder.

A ski tour of New Mexico could begin at Raton, ski basin on the Colorado-New Mexico border, one of the state's minor ski areas.

Southwest of Raton is the Alpine-like village of Red River, site of a 5,000-foot chair lift that carries skiers two miles above sea level.

Just a few miles, as the crow flies, from Red River, on the other side of 13,100-foot Mt. Wheeler, is Taos Ski Valley. In the talking stage are plans to link the two areas by cable and mountain road, but travelers now must drive some 50 miles around mountains to commute between Taos and Red River.

Science Shrinks Piles

New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

NEW YORK, N. Y. (UPI) — For the first time science has found a new healing technique which is said to be as safe as a placebo — a medicine which relieves pain without surgery.

In case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place.

Most amazing of all — results were so thorough that sufferers made astonishing statements like "I feel as though I've been reborn."

It's substance is now available in suppository or ointment form under the name Preparation H.

U.S. Facing Question of Nuclear Plan

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21 (UPI) — U.S. policy makers soon must face up to the question of whether the United States should offer some non-nuclear countries—notably India and Japan—specific protective guarantees against Red China's developing nuclear power.

The problem, officials say, is primarily one for President Johnson's special committee concerned with proliferation of nuclear weapons. It is headed by Roswell Gilstrap, former deputy secretary of defense.

A major objective of any guarantees system would be to make it unnecessary for India, Japan, or any other country which came under the U.S. nuclear umbrella to build its own nuclear force.

The Johnson administration already has given assurances both public and private to the governments in New Delhi and Tokyo. The question now is whether some more permanent kind of nuclear shield should be provided.

After the Red Chinese tested

Washington Bus Crash Kills One

VANCOUVER, Dec. 21 (UPI) — One man was killed and 14 injured yesterday in the collision of a bus and car on Interstate 5 north of Vancouver.

Dead was Doyle Edward West, 35, Kelso, Wash., a passenger in the car. Five others in the car suffered injuries. Thomas Catherman, 24, Toledo, Wash., and Dennis Rose, 21, Longview, were listed in critical condition.

Nine of the bus passengers and the driver, Ray Olson, 48, Chehalis, Wash., were taken to a Vancouver hospital with less serious injuries.

Police said the Greyhound bus went across the freeway after

IBM-1620 Joins in Spirit Of Season, Sings Carols

MILWAUKEE, WIS., Dec. 21 (UPI) — Looking at IBM-1620 you wouldn't think he was the type to be full of the Christmas spirit.

But there he was, in room 107 of the Marquette university engineering building, singing Christmas carols along with 70 or 80 students who showed up for a little holiday party.

"ingle bells," "Good King We

Merry Gentleman," and "We

Three Kings of Orient Are sang through the hallway.

And IBM-1620 joined right along.

Not that he has a good voice.

What could you expect from a machine that spends most of its working hours solving mathematical problems?

Admittedly, IBM-1620 had a little human help when he turned his talents to singing.

Robert Robinson, director of the university computing center, said it was discovered that certain instructions given to the computer caused its circuitry to generate impulses in the radio frequency range. By putting a translator radio next to IBM-1620, the sounds could be made loud enough to hear all around the room.

What the computer does, Robinson said, is receive a coded message on punch cards with a certain code for each song.

"He can play anything from Hungarian Rhapsody to 'I'm a Little Teapot,'" said Robinson.

Jobless List Drops to Low Ebb in Idaho

BOISE, Dec. 21 (UPI) — Unemployment dropped to its lowest November level in Idaho since 1957 last month, the employment security agency said today.

Unemployment in the state during November was estimated at four per cent compared with 5.2 per cent in October. Seasonal decreases cut agricultural employment 31 percent below the October level, however, which is normally the peak month for farm employment.

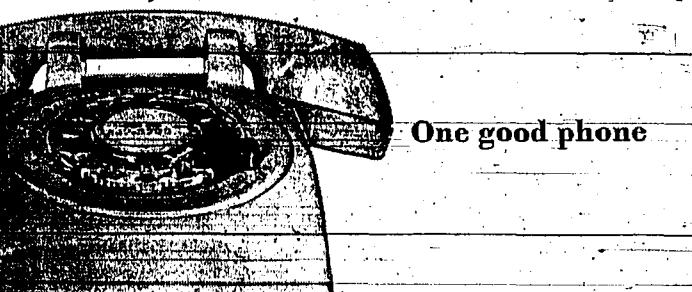

Although bad weather caused layoffs in logging operations, employment in sawmills and logging was running considerably above the level of a year ago.

Employment in the non-manufacturing category was down from October but was well above the level of last year. The only decrease from a year ago was in the field of transportation.

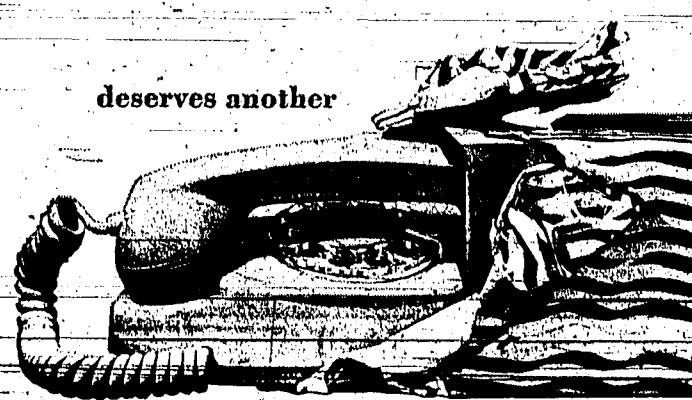

Mineral employment was up from October and last November, but as a new firm entered the state and some firms expanded exploratory crews.

Heavy construction contractors had to lay off extra shifts which had been hired earlier in the season.

Trial Slated Jan. 25 for Boise Lawyer

BOISE, Dec. 21 (UPI) — Trial of a lawsuit in which a Boise man accuses his former attorney of malpractice is scheduled for 10 a.m. Jan. 25 in Third District court.

The suit originally was brought by Attorney Jerry D. Hawley, Boise, to collect $225 in attorney's fees from Keith W. Putnam. He alleges Putnam owes him the money for work performed before Hawley withdrew as Putnam's lawyer in a 1960 divorce case.

Putnam, however, has filed a cross complaint charging Hawley with malpractice—and seeking damages of $2,500. The case, according to court records, is to be heard by Judge Charles Donaldson.

Agency Eyes Activities of Organization

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21 (UPI) — The internal revenue service (IRS) is conducting an "in-depth examination of all tax-exempt organizations engaged in public education activities."

The result could be loss of exemption for those foundations which the IRS feels are more interested in making political contributions than in furthering education.

This may affect some which are reported to have become recently active in politics.

Political activity automatically abolishes such an organization's tax-free status.

An IRS spokesman told United Press International the study would take at least two years.

Special attention is being devoted to foundations using mass papers and other printed matter to get their ideas across.

The spokesman said the survey includes foundations associated with all ranges of political opinion.

Aside from refraining from political activity, a tax-exempt organization is dropped from the list if the IRS finds "a substantial portion" of its activities is devoted to propaganda purposes.

Loss of a privileged tax status could put some of these organizations out of business. It would probably choke off much of their funds because donors no longer could deduct contributions from their income taxes.

Some Texans in Every State, Russ Thinks

MOSCOW, Dec. 21 (UPI) — The Soviet government, newspaper Izvestia said today there is a little of Texas in every one of the 50 American states.

Izvestia's New York correspondent, S. Kostylev, gave a report on his trip to Texas. It will tell "Texas Without Cowboys."

Texas, he found, abounds in crime, poverty and evil-minded businessmen.

"There are business-minded people free from romanticism and sentiments who know how to grasp their neighbors by the neck. In this Texas climate grow not only cotton and oxen, metropolises and skyscrapers, but also ultra-reactionaries, who are rampant," he said.

In the final analysis Texas without cowboys is not even without the 40 states," he added.

But he shied out. Houston Chronicle owner John Jones for his "liberal" thoughts.

He quoted a report which said that "more murders are committed annually in Dallas than in the whole of Britain."

Referring to the assassination of President John F. Kennedy last year, the author said, "Suddenly they (Dallas city fathers) got notorious throughout the world."

Kondrashov said he hadn't seen many cowboys and was anxious to see one before leaving Texas. Spanish obliged by putting on a cowboy uniform and also giving the Russian a cowboy uniform to wear.

Spanish was quoted as saying that President Johnson was a "yellow-farmer."

Girl Has Surgery To Cut Height

COWESWORTHY, England, Dec. 19 (UPI) — A teen-age girl who couldn't seem to stop growing is having a series of operations to reduce her height.

The girl, Anne Rowson, 10, six feet, seven and one-half inches tall when she entered a hospital three months ago. The series of four operations to remove bone from her legs was planned to make her six inches shorter.

Her first three operations have been completed by surgeons in the orthopedic hospital here. They report Anne is making satisfactory progress.

Man Turns Misfortunes Into Blessings

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., Dec. 21 (UPI) — Roger W. Irving says he has turned his misfortunes into blessings. There have been many misfortunes.

He lost his right arm at 17, when his family suffered financial reverses. The two sons died at birth. Cancer cast him his vocal cords at 45. He lost the sight of his right eye at 68.

But Irving named "Handicapped American of the Year" yesterday by the President's committee on employment of the handicapped, said: "I never had any idea of giving up. Every misfortune I've had, I've made it better there."

Now he teaches people who have lost their vocal cords how to speak, working with the U.S. Veterans administration center, the University of Miami medical school and the Florida division of vocational rehabilitation.

"They make their first sound on the average of one month after surgery," Irving said. "Then you ought to see them."

"You understand, because of the magic we invest in words, speech makes us feel powerful," Irving said. "Suddenly deprived of this speech, the patient usually experiences apathy, isolation, becomes dependent, feels worthless. But then they think, 'Well, my goodness, if you can do it, I can do it.'

All vocal cords have been removed, an artificial "voice box" can be inserted surgically in the larynx. Speech can be achieved by controlled breathing, which forces air through the device.

The technique is difficult to master. Irving has taught more than 100 persons, including a big balding man of 73 who says "I'm strong as an ox," grew up in Birmingham, Ala. Although his right arm was crushed when a seven-ton printing press fell on it while he was working as an electrician, Irving won a city tennis tournament the next year.

After two years of studying for the ministry at Birmingham Southern college, he had to take a job as a salesman because of family financial troubles.

Irving, a big balding man of 73 who says "I'm strong as an ox," grew up in Birmingham, Ala. Although his right arm was crushed when a seven-ton printing press fell on it while he was working as an electrician, Irving won a city tennis tournament the next year.

After two years of studying for the ministry at Birmingham Southern college, he had to take a job as a salesman because of family financial troubles.

Small Girl Is Celebrating
Last Holiday

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Dec. 21.—Little Suzie Lietz smiled today in front of the family's Christmas tree. It may be the last smile tree. It may be the last smile ever seen.

Suzie was stricken with a rare and fatal disease, a bone marrow test identified the disease as hemangioblastoma, which is hereditary and transmitted through recessive genes from both parents.

Doctors agreed last Christmas that the day could be Suzie's last.

"Some doctors say the average life is three years," Mrs. Lietz said. Suzie celebrated her third birthday Nov. 29 and the third, birthday, her mother said, Suzie's blue-eyed little girl maintains her cheerful composure.

The girl's mother explained the helplessness of Suzie's affliction in a quiet voice.

"Suzie already is beginning to fall in walking," she said. "She's starting to stumble more." "We're smiling for Suzie's sake," Mrs. Lietz added, "but we really have those tears."

Guard May
Hike Ceiling
On Manpower

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21 (UPI)—The defense department will seek the unlimited authority to permit the national guard to exceed its manpower ceiling during the first year of its scheduled merger with the army reserves, it was learned today.

Guard leaders said the authority, if undertaken by Congress, would permit them to defer equivalent rank and position to almost all of the army reserves whose 300,000-man units are to be dissolved or transferred to the guard beginning next July 1.

Behind the move is a belief that the guard, now 24,000 men short of its 400,000-man authorized strength, will soon need all the reserves and new recruits it can get to maintain the 500,000-man expanded strength to be assigned to it.

The turnover in the national guard has been running at 100,000 men a year. It presumably will rise to 135,000 annually under the new strength authorization. Transfer of the reserves will solve the problem of replacements only for the first year or two.

There will still be a limited number of high-ranking commissioned and non-commissioned officers who will be unable to find equivalent posts in the reorganized guard, as well as some who will be left out because there are no guard units in their territories.

The involuntary separations from civilian drill pay status, guard leaders said, will result from a reduction of $6,000 to $6,000 in the total number of civilian guard units rather than from lack of manpower spaces in general.

Decision Is Pending on Rail Order

CHICAGO, Dec. 21 (UPI)—A federal judge may decide Tuesday whether he will grant the nation's major railroads an injunction blocking a strike of 53,000 members of three off-track unions.

U.S. District Court Judge Joseph H. Perry had been ordered to rule earlier on the petition, but he indicated he will not announce a decision before Tuesday at the earliest.

Last Monday Perry granted a 10-day restraining order while he considers the petition of all but two of the nation's major railroads to enjoin the strike by the machinists, sheet metal workers and electrical workers.

The three unions, all members of the AFL-CIO railway employers' department, then announced there would be no strike until after the New Year's holiday.

Perry held hearings throughout the week, including some unusual night court sessions, on the permanent injunction request.

The railroads say a strike by the three unions would be illegal unless the unions are not authorized bargaining agents for their members. The railroads say the unions have a right to strike since all remedies of the railway labor act have been exhausted.

A strike by the three unions would tie up all major rail lines in the nation except the Florida East Coast and southern railways.

Three other shopcraft unions in the AFL-CIO railway employers' department agreed Nov. 10 to now contract following the strike lines established by a Disputational Emergency Board.

However, the machinists, sheet metal workers and electricians decided to accept the board's recommendations, pay freeze demands totalling 75 cents an hour over three years.

The machinists, sheet metal workers and electricians called a strike for Nov. 23 but postponed it at the request of labor secretary W. Willard Wirtz. The strike was rescheduled for last Tuesday but was blocked by Perry's temporary order of Monday.

The unions are demanding pay boosts totaling 32 cents an hour over three years but the carriers feel they will stand fast on the emergency board recommendations.
