TEN CENTS

Two Are Killed In 3-Car Crash Near Hollister

HOLLISTER, Dec. 23—A Twin Falls man and a California woman were killed late Wednesday afternoon in a three-car crash about four miles north of here, near W. R. McKnight, route 1, Twin Falls, and Mrs. David (Mary Lou) Kenyon, about 36, Sherman Oaks, Calif. The crash occurred when a 1964 Lincoln, driven north by her husband, went out of control on rain-slickened highway 93 while coming down a hill, and skidded into the path of a southbound 1958 Mercury driven by Mr. McKnight. The McKnight vehicle was knocked around in the southbound lane of traffic and collided with a 1959 Chevrolet driven by Alex L. Brewer, 28, Bonanza, Utah, which had been traveling behind it. It was reported the Lincoln struck the Mercury almost head-on.
 State police said Thursday they did not think there would be an inquest.

Union Pacific Elects New President

NEW YORK, Dec. 23—The Union Pacific board of directors has elected Arthur B. Hodder as the post-effective president of the large corporation.
 Hodder will succeed Arthur B. Hodder in the post-effective position.
 Harold Harriman, chairman of the Union Pacific board of directors, announced the change of officers yesterday. He said Hodder will continue as a director.
 Hodder also was elected a director.
 Hodder, 60, a native of Elmo, Mont., started with Union Pacific in 1921 as a freight car inspector and a helper in the car department. He worked his way through the ranks, becoming assistant district manager in 1931 and district manager in 1937.
 Since Jan. 1, he has been chief executive officer of UP's transportation division.
 Hodder will be stepping down after 18 years as president.

Sun Valley Runs Open After Storm

Sun Valley officials said today morning that all trail conditions should be in use by Christmas day.
 After being closed for a brief time, skiing started again on the mountain Thursday, with the ski lodge, Upper Holiday and Cutoff runs being used.
 Ski patrol members and instructors were packing the lower runs and these were expected to be in use by late Thursday or on Friday day.
 Donald Anderson, sports official at the resort, said weather officials report a cooling trend in the air is expected, with still precipitation.
 The rain which hit the area Wednesday and part of Wednesday actually was a blessing in disguise because it served to melt the deep snow in a natural manner, Anderson said.
 Official measurements on top of Oldman mountain showed 72 inches, 15 inches of new snow falling late Wednesday night and early Thursday.
 Skiers were warned to continue throughout the storm and Thursday morning the new snow, officials said, left everything "new and clean." Valley snow depths ranged from 10 to 20 inches.
 Reservation officials said Thursday there will be a "rush" with all accommodations booked for Christmas night.
 State Standard Oil company station on the south side of the mountain will be closed until weather changes. O. C. Rogers, area operator, reports.

T. F. Man, 20, Injured When Car Hits Train

A 20-year-old Twin Falls man was killed in a fall condition Thursday at Magic Valley Memorial hospital with injuries received in a car-train collision about 3 p.m. Wednesday a mile west and one-half mile south of Twin Falls.
 State patrolmen reported Jack Wallis, 20, was driving north on county road when his 1957 Ford struck the side of a westbound train in a rural railroad crossing. The car spun around, the locomotive struck the rear of the car, and it spun around a second time.
 O. D. Backus, who is employed at a Standard Oil company storage plant, near the scene of the accident, notified the Hollister port-of-call, which summoned an ambulance.

THE TED KETTERLING farm home-three and one-fourth miles north of Rupert is one of countless Magic Valley farms experiencing flood waters this week. When this picture was taken Wednesday afternoon the water had receded about one foot. Water started filling the Ketterling basement about 12:20 a.m. Wednesday and by morning it had reached the ground floor. Neighbors helped the Ketterlings move their belongings from the house. The water is flowing east from the Cap Hawley lake one mile west and three miles north of Rupert. (Times-News photo)

2 Killed, 57 Injured as Bomb Explodes in Officers' Billet

SAIGON, Viet Nam, Dec. 24 (P)—The most powerful terrorist bomb ever directed against Americans in Saigon ripped through the main U. S. officers' billet here this Christmas eve and there were scores of casualties. Advances sent to the Pentagon said two Americans—an army officer and a civilian—were killed and 57 injured. Also reported injured were an Australian officer and 15 Vietnamese.
 The blast was probably the work of the communist Viet Cong, who had threatened outbreaks of terrorism against Americans during the holiday.
 Up to five blocks away, windows were shattered and buildings were damaged through the downtown part of the capital were spattered with blood.
 The bomb exploded on the ground floor of a seven-story building called the Brink hotel, where several hundred U.S. officers live.
 The timing—8 p.m.—was such that most of the American living in the building were probably at home.
 A witness said "scores of Americans were killed or injured." Mrs. Martens' death raised the death toll in the county to 26, compared with 45 at this time last year.
 Mrs. Martens was born Aug. 14, 1942, in Cheyenne, Neb., and attended Twin Falls schools. She was a member of Redeemer Lutheran church, Kimberly, and was married to Kenneth Martens Dec. 29, 1960, in Twin Falls.

Fourth Victim Is Claimed by Crash

Mrs. Kenneth (Della) Martens, 22, who had remained in critical condition at Magic Valley Memorial hospital since a shattering Saturday night two-car accident which took the lives of three Twin Falls high school girls, died early Thursday. T.F. Airport To Take Part In FAA Test

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 24—Three airports in the west will be provided flight assistance facilities for "do-it-yourself" flight planning under a six-month test program, the federal aviation agency announced yesterday.
 The airports are Twin Falls Municipal (Janin field) at Twin Falls, Ind. (Pasadena industrial at Tacoma, Wash., and Bardsy field at Aspen, Colo. Unmanned airport information desks (AID) will be provided at each location with direct lines to the nearest FAA flight service station to provide current weather information.
 In the program, to be inaugurated Jan. 1, Tacoma will be linked to a Twin Falls-Turley and Aspen to Denver. FAA Western Regional Director Joseph H. Tippetts said the purpose of the test is to determine the validity of a proposed program for modernizing and expanding the agency's services to the general aviation public.
 Mrs. Martens' death raised the death toll in the county to 26, compared with 45 at this time last year.

Victim of Crash Reported "Fair"

An 80-year-old Twin Falls woman remained in fair condition Thursday at Magic Valley Memorial hospital where she was taken after a two-car accident Thursday at Ketterling road and Highland drive.
 Mrs. John G. Walker, 80, 311 Ketterling street, remained in the hospital after the car she was in was struck and driven by her husband, collided with a car driven by Kenneth G. McDermmond, 23, Kimberly.
 McDermmond was treated for lacerations and released.

Soggy Christmas Is Prospect for 3 Dozen Families

Flood waters from the excessive rain this week which have swollen creeks and rivers and melted much of the snow across Magic Valley were receding Thursday. After another night of rain and snow Wednesday, no precipitation was reported Thursday, except in Fairfield. The wind was blowing and the sun shone occasionally across most of the rest of the area. About three dozen scattered rural residents in Gooding, Minidoka and Cassia counties, faced a soggy, upset Christmas, with their homes flooded. About a dozen families in Blaine—either left their homes or sent their children to relatives or friends on Wednesday night. Thursday they were frantically pumping and cleaning out mud, most of them hoping to be able to celebrate Christmas at home.
 Lattimer, manager, Salmon River Canal company, reports about 300 second feet of water is flowing into Salmon reservoir.

7,000 Are Homeless In Western Floods

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 24 (UPI)—Some 7,000 persons, left homeless by floods in northern California, Oregon and Idaho, faced the prospect today of a Christmas cut off from help and loved ones. Civil defense radio was the only outside contact today for a string of small northern California communities, where officials report some 4,000 people, already driven from their homes by one of the worst floods in the area's history, are without food and medical attention. The three-day rampage already has taken at least 43 lives.
 The picture was bleak in Oregon to the north where Gov. Mark Hatfield has designated the state a disaster area.
 "It is the greatest disaster ever to hit Oregon," Hatfield said. Most major highways were blocked and damage in the area is estimated at upwards of $1 billion dollars. In Oregon, at least 25 bridges, including major railroad lines, were down, and most major road arteries were closed.
 While only occasional rain is expected today, the accompanying warm air may prove even more disastrous than the rain, since it could speed up the melting of snow in the mountains.
 A one-day breather between storms in northern California enabled the debris-filled Eel river to subside a little after a 20-foot rise at Ferridge, better than two feet above the great crest of the 1953 deluge in which 63 lives were lost.
 In California, George Deatherage of the California department of water resources said at this time it appears that the worst is over in California, but the picture could change at any time. If we get another heavy storm, we could be in more trouble. The long-range forecast called for only intermittent rains. But the lower river levels proved little solace for 4,000 homeless persons facing a joyless Christmas, fourteen lumber and resort California towns were either under water or isolated; major highways were blocked; and damage was estimated at upwards of $1 billion dollars.
 Photographer Neil Trubert reported flying over the flood region. He said he saw some persons floating down the Eel river on a house. He also saw a freight train partly broken up, grossly jammed on its side toward the ocean.
 At Weol, the Humboldt county sheriff's office reported that the people of a tall church was the only building visible above the water level.
 Although only two California deaths were confirmed, a handful of those who rescued at least 10 flood victims was feared lost after wreckage of their aircraft was sighted about 40 miles north of Eureka. Rescuers hoped to reach the wreckage today and look for survivors.

Flooding in Water-Logged Idaho Eases

BOISE, Dec. 24—Flooding caused by water-logged Idaho today but national guardmen and volunteers prepared to assist Christmas Eve trying to keep the swollen Portneuf river away from Pocatello.
 At most points in the state streams were falling as rains diminished and cooler temperatures slow snow melt at higher elevations.
 National guard troops were taken off flood duty at every place but Pocatello.
 At the eastern Idaho city the Portneuf river, an annual troublemaker in recent years, was expected to crest at nine feet early Christmas morning. This is three feet above the technical flood stage of six feet.
 One of the few rivers and streams reported on the rise today was the Snake fork of the Salmon. In a radio report, Mrs. Frances Wisner, Amells, said the river had risen from 12 to 16 feet within a few hours. She said the river was clogged with ice and timber.
 It remained to be seen, however, if the rising Salmon would pose a threat to the Idaho county town of Riggs about 100 miles downstream. The river runs through wilderness.
 In northern Idaho, from 60 to 65 families still were isolated on the west fork of Pine creek west of Kollago. An air force helicopter was sent to offer assistance. Heating units and power had failed in the community, but food was reported plentiful.
 Emergency centers were set up for Pinedale community residents driven out of their homes. About 100 evacuated families were staying with friends.

Wet Month

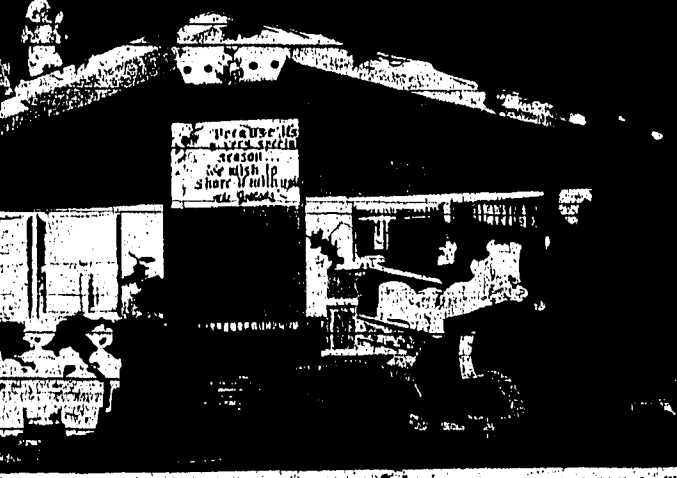

Total moisture received in Twin Falls so far this month—3.50 inches, exceeds all previous records—first December wet is only .11 inches from leading the all-time record set in March, 1917, when 4.80 inches was recorded.
 Most recent month with three inches or more precipitation occurred in September. In 1963, 3.22 inches was recorded. In November, 1960, the total was 3.05 inches.

Volunteers Working Hard Thursday

Volunteers were working hard Thursday, continuing to sandbag levees and business places in the west side of Pocatello where water was running through the door in many buildings.
 National guard crews were released at 9:30 a.m. Thursday in Blaine by Mrs. Myrtle Burdette, mayor, after Little Wood river receded about two feet Thursday morning. Some 400 guardsmen, in addition to college students, high school youths and residents, worked throughout Wednesday night and Thursday morning sandbagging levees, working and diverting the water.
 The river broke through a dike and went into the old river channel in the northeast section of town about 8 p.m. Wednesday. While this relieved flood danger to homes along the river's edge further downstream, it promptly flooded into basements of homes along the former channel.
 Residents who termed the flood problem in Blaine the worst in 10 years, were using bureau of land management pumps.

Duke Gets Turkey

TOURON, Dec. 24—The Duke of Windsor may have turkey for Christmas after all, Methodist hospital, spokesman said today. Doctor reported the duke is recovering so well from surgery on his leg that he is back on a regular diet.

Greetings Are Sent to Yanks In Viet Nam

JOHNSON CITY, Tex., Dec. 24 (AP)—President Johnson had warm praise yesterday for American soldiers and civilians who have been keeping "in constant touch" with their families by letter, phone and through other "normal channels."

"The President, whose message arrived in Viet Nam on Christmas Eve because of time differences, said all American joined him in sending thanks to U.S. personnel there—and not at Christmas only, but around the clock and around the year."

"Those of us who are at home, full of joy and thoughts of peace, are ever mindful and grateful to those thousands of you who toil today where there is no peace," Johnson said.

It Takes Push

Other Idaho areas can take a lesson from the Yellowstone-Sun Valley Highway association which continues to pressure the state highway board to develop that route in competition to existing highways. A large delegation of residents from Camas, Blaine, Butte, Clark and Fremont counties visited the board's last session. The immediate goal is to have 44 miles of mostly unimproved road from Dubois to Mack's Inn declared part of the state highway system. The eventual goal is obvious because once the state accepts a stretch of unimproved road as part of the state system, then there will be demands for the state to improve the road.

The Yellowstone-Sun Valley Highway association has been one of the most insistent groups appearing before the highway board in recent years. Some road improvements have been authorized because of their persistent efforts. Undoubtedly, they will have some future successes.

Talking points for the Yellowstone-Sun Valley route are its scenic nature, directness and the fact it connects by the shortest possible route such attractions as Yellowstone park, Craters of the Moon and Sun Valley. Boosters of the route couldn't care less that established highways already serve those attractions. If they achieve their goal, their route eventually will replace the present highways looping across southern Idaho by way of Twin Falls, Pocatello, Idaho Falls and the upper Snake river valley. Residents of the Pocatello-Idaho Falls region particularly should pay attention and do a little pushing of their own.

If the Yellowstone-Sun Valley effort is ignored, the people of the Idaho Falls-Pocatello area might find some summer that most of the tourist traffic is following the more direct route between the famed resort and the park. Anyone who says it couldn't happen just doesn't pay much attention to pressure groups and tactics.

SUITABLE REWARD

A prisoner at Utah's state prison came to the aid of a prison official who had been attacked by another inmate. As a reward, the state board of pardons terminated the sentence of John Zidek, Salt Lake City, who was serving from one to 20 years for forgery. It was a fitting reward for Zidek, but it's time for Utah and all other states to start taking a more realistic look at this crime of forgery.

Forgery is one of the most common crimes. It ranks right along with another common violation, auto-theft, in that a temptation is present that may be too much for a weak-willed person. There's no thought of condoning car theft or forgery because it's just not possible to approve crime. But if society were to recognize the temptation and take steps to remove it, both auto theft and forgery would decline abruptly in incidence.

What about the car owner who habitually leaves his car keys dangling in the ignition of his car? Should he be permitted to treat such a temptation for anyone—either youngster or criminal—who happens by? Or how about the store clerk who blithely accepts a check from anyone with no identification or attempt to verify whether the check is good? Aren't the careless auto owner and the careless clerk guilty of negligence, at least?

Perhaps the day will arrive when society will recognize that some crimes are created simply because temptation has been created through the negligence of others. If the careless car owner were held to answer for leaving his keys in the ignition, there would be fewer cases of car theft. And if the person who accepts a check were held equally responsible as the person who offers it, check forgery would decline abruptly.

There's no report of the circumstances leading to the forgery conviction of John Zidek, but perhaps the fault was not all his. Regardless of the circumstances, John Zidek proved he wasn't in the same category as the criminal who attacked the prison official. He could have walked away and left the prison official to defend himself by any means available. If Zidek had been of criminal mind and intent, he could have joined the assault, as many another convict would have done. He received a suitable reward, but it's high time that society took a few steps to remove some of the causes of such crimes as forgery instead of merely imprisoning those who are convicted. It may be that John Zidek didn't deserve to be in the Utah state prison in the first place.

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

By ANDREW TULLY
WASHINGTON, Dec. 24—Spencer, in his "Faerie Queens," speaks of "The myrrh sweet, bleeding in the bitter wound."
It is ironic that this simile, like the simile of the "myrrh" which both birth and death of Christ.
Myrrh, of course, was one of the gifts lavished on the Christ Child by the Magi. And 33 years later, as he hung on the Cross, it was still the "myrrh" which with myrrh that was contemptuously offered to Him by the Roman soldier.

Myrrh is obtained from a bushed tree in Africa and Asia, a grey-barked tree. After peeling, the product has a yellowish-brown hue and it burns with a bright white flame, giving off a heavy, round odor. The ancient Egyptians used it as a preservative for mummies. Also, it has been used for making incenses and perfumes and for embalming. One of the ornaments used in embalming Jesus' body after Calvary was made with myrrh.

NO MEDICINAL VALUE—Frankincense, of olibanum, also is a gum resin. After processing, the product has a yellowish-brown hue and it burns with a bright white flame, giving off a heavy, round odor. The ancient Egyptians used it as a preservative for mummies. Also, it has been used for making incenses and perfumes and for embalming. One of the ornaments used in embalming Jesus' body after Calvary was made with myrrh.

MAGI FROM PERSIA—The Magi who brought these gifts probably were from Persia, since the word Magi in the Babylonian language of Accadian signifies "augur" or "revered." They also were the pioneers of the Persian religion, now to be found chiefly in India, since they were followers of the fire god Ormuzd or Aramaz, which is still the Persian deity. From Christ, the word came the name, Mazda lamp. Today it is generally accepted that there were three of these Magi and yet there could have been more—some legends say as many as 12. Their identities are nowhere mentioned in the Bible, but some legends say that they were offering these names: Caspar or Jaspas, king of Turan, a black Ethiopie; Melchior, king of Nubia, and Balthazar, king of Chaldaea.

PRESTIGE VANISHED—Again, however, there is no historical proof that they were kings. Many legends hold that they were astrologers, others said they were a kind of elder statesman. All legends agree, however, that they were "servants of God," in the ancient sense, persons of high influence whose advice was sought about all important matters in their homelands. The Magi's influence waned and they fell from the highest caste to the lowly status of wandering jugglers and fortune tellers. Today's conjurers and sleight-of-hand artists are lumped together under a name borrowed from these "three kings of Orient" or "Wise Men"—magicians. But the original Magi, who were revered and honored because they had brought their homage to the unwanted Babe of Bethlehem.

Views of Others

THE JOB CORPS
It was a strikingly hopeful day when the first projects were announced under President Johnson's anti-poverty legislation. The grim element was provided by a conspicuous failure in Appalachia. A wholly modern furniture plant, financed by a bank project in redeeming that blighted area, went bankrupt.

There were many interlocking reasons. We would not presume to judge them. But the failure showed once again that community development is the most sensitive, intricate task of modern times. It is not a simple matter of building a house, under the most adverse circumstances. So it was some consolation that Sargent Shriver started modestly and carefully. His title is director of the office of economic opportunity. He seems to be using his experience with the overseas peace corps to advantage. The projects authorized are locally based, carefully financed and the emphasis is on careful planning.

HUNT FOR SOMETHING NEW
One day you pick up the paper and discover that the space experts who are plotting a new information-gathering expedition to Mars are worried that their spacecraft will miss the planet, but that it might hit it. For if the camera-Juden contained Mariner craft plunges into Mars, it would contaminate the surface and foul up plans to probe the planet's secrets.

For you and your contemporaries can remember when wings-like-plateaus floating in mid-ocean, vehicles to land men on the moon, submarines enticed below polar ice—these were the creatures of artists' imaginations and science fiction. And you wonder what today's youngsters are making of it all.

POPULATION RATIO REVIEWED
An easy way to calculate the population of Canada, or the United States, is to know the most recent population estimate for either one. During the past decade, the two figures have borne a remarkably consistent relationship to each other. The population of the U.S. has remained steadily higher than Canada's by ten to one.

The first attempt to explain the meaning of Christmas was made by an angel of the Lord to a group of shepherds who were abiding in the field, keeping watch over their flock by night.

There is only my present to the world, said Cluny. "I made it at night in my room—all by myself." Santa took the little figure from her hands. It was a beautiful little figure.

MAROUS CHILDS WRITES ON WASHINGTON

CAIRO, Dec. 24—How closely does the Nasser revolution parallel the revolutions that swept away the old order in Russia and China? Moscow frequently notes with an approving eye that Egypt is moving in the proper direction toward a scientific socialism.

Nasser says there will be no "transition" to a socialist state as prescribed by Marxism in Egypt's revolution. All elements—cooperatives, farmers, workers, petty bourgeoisie—are included in the new society. He includes the peasantry in the early stages of the revolution, as he describes the way cooperatives apply a price yardstick to private groceries that will never be nationalized.

The less-than-Nasser and more-revolutionary Egyptian leader, Gamal Abdel Nasser, is talking with this reporter in a room in his private villa at Helwanopolis, offers another version. He uses the expression "scientific socialism" in his speeches, but he does not equate it with Marxism.

space travel can sound like a picnic in the park. In reality, it is fraught with many hazards. Our astrophysicists and psychologists are aware of many of the problems involved. They are busy finding solutions for each of them, but it isn't easy.

ARGUMENT AGAINST MINIMUM BIDDERS
There is a certain small group of second-hand bridge players who just have to show that they have a really good hand. The idea is to keep their partner in the dark as long as possible so that they will be able to make the major declarer's bid.

Republican Party Winds up Year in Black

WASHINGTON, Dec. 24 (AP)—Money is one of the very few things the Republicans have to count on as they wind up the year.

The GOP national committee expects to have a surplus in the city after it pays all the bills for a campaign in which it lost the presidency, a year of "no-strings-attached" money from public agencies in the states.

This will be the first time Republicans have ended a presidential election year in the black since 1948, when the "wise" money was backing Thomas E. Dewey of New York against Harry S. Truman. Again the cash amounts, pretty much to a cent, are about $1 million.

Ben Barry M. Goldwater's backers may not have had enough votes, but they did put cash on the line. William Middendorf II, the GOP national treasurer, told United Press International that the campaign's spending topped 12 million dollars, with contributions more than offsetting expenditures.

"That is just about what was planned to be spent by the national committee at the start of the campaign. After Goldwater was nominated, National Chairman Dean Burch set a tentative target of about 13 million dollars for campaign spending.

Early in the campaign, when the money didn't show as fast as it was expected, the target was lowered to about 11 million dollars. With bills still coming in, the final outlay is expected to be in excess of 12 million dollars.

The financial soundness of the campaign cannot be credited to the so-called "far out" rich contributors who give huge sums to presidential campaigns. All indications are that just about the Goldwater contributors will set a record for the numbers who put cash on the line to support him for president.

Middendorf said this more than one million persons sent contributions to the national committee. Many of the donations were five or 10 dollars. He said that in numbers there were 22 per cent more contributors than the party had in 1960.

Many sent their contributions directly to Goldwater at his Phoenix home.

Goldwater, in a recent letter to Goldwater, estimated that one and a half million persons contributed money to his campaign. He said there were about 20,000 pieces of mail in Phoenix still to be opened and that a trickle of money still was coming in. The final figure in the Phoenix home plus has not yet been established. At one time, there was a surplus of about a million dollars, but Middendorf said that after all the bills are paid, it will be less than that.

A committee source said that the national committee will start the new year with a "modest" surplus—between $200,000 and $500,000. Whatever the amount, it is rare for a national committee to finish with money in the bank.

Gifts Sent To Children In Kentucky

WHEELERSBURG, Ky., Dec. 24 (AP)—Santa Claus came to this depressed section of Appalachia in a twin-engine plane and by telegraphed money order for $2,000, as one donor wrote, "the children of the Old Man won't visit their dear Santa."

People across the nation, acting in the wake of a television program on the plight of the area's residents, started a flood of cash, food and clothing.

Nearly $5,000 worth of quality clothing came from an army of house-donor-floors in by chartered plane. With the clothing came 150 hams.

An agent of the donor identified him only as a "nighttime" donator from Parkersburg, West Virginia. He had seen the Columbia Broadcasting System program, "Christmas in Appalachia," last Monday night.

A $200 contribution came from Denver, addressed to the same agent, who also appeared on the program.

The accompanying message said: "Mr. Mitchell, see that boy gets his wagon and tell him to hitch it to a star. The rest of the tickets for others as you see fit."

OBS gave an initial $7,500, and other gifts came in New York. Maj. Andrew Miller, the Salvation Army officer in charge of distributing Appalachia gifts, said the first phase of the operation would concentrate on buying food and toys in time for Christmas. Aid will continue after Christmas, to the extent of gifts, he said.

News Around Idaho

PROFNO, Dec. 24 (AP)—A Layton salesman was missing and presumed drowned today after his car plunged into the Clearwater river late last night. State police said a vehicle driven by Walter Fanning, 45, Layton, left U.S. Highway 12 about five miles east of Greer and dashed over a bank into the river. A motorist driving behind Fanning saw the crash and reported it. Officers spent several hours recovering the vehicle, but found no trace of Fanning.

IDAHO FALLS, Dec. 24 (AP)—Representatives of construction contractors and unions met in Idaho Falls yesterday in an effort to solve the dispute which has tied up all construction work at the national reactor testing station the past four days. No report on the outcome of the session was available today. Site contractors expressed an interest in doing everything possible to settle the dispute. Previously, contractors' representatives were reported as considering an appeal to the national labor relations board. It was determined that pickets being placed alongside all major roads into the site are illegal. The union began last Friday morning when members of the Ironworkers local 272 placed pickets alongside all of the major roads to the station. A protest against non-union personnel of Utah state power removing steel from an old reactor. All of the some-850 construction workers of all crafts have refused to pass the pickets.

Business Mirror

BY BAH DAWSON
AP BUSINESS News Analyst
NEW YORK, Dec. 24 (AP)—Santa's sleigh will be more jam-packed tonight with goodies than ever before. There will be one for more than 300 million Americans.

Most Americans will be workers, merchants, consumers, taxpayers—to mark a year that has been more than usually kind to most.

Wall Streeters are happy with the biggest volume of stock trading ever. Many brokerage houses workers there are visions of big year-end bonuses.

Many farmers are rejoicing in record retail sales — with no letdown yet in sight — and with customers upgrading their purchases this year.

Consumers are counting increased income from large take-home pay or fees or investments. And they can be relieved to know that the cost of living, while still rising slowly, isn't trying to jump higher than their salaries, as some had feared earlier in the year.

Stockholders are rejoicing that dividends are running 10 percent above 1953, that year-end extras have been generous, and that the year has produced a split of stock prices as well as generally higher stock prices than a year ago.

Savers are all set to get higher interest on their savings accounts.

Borrowers are content after their fashion, since a supply of money to finance their projects and purchases and that charges haven't gone up as they threatened to for a time.

Auto workers will be celebrating the most generous financial package their union and employers have ever put together.

Steel workers will be dreaming of an equally beautiful pact before spring. And their employers are enjoying record production and sales, rising profits, higher prices on some of their products, and smiles instead of frowns from the White House.

Many railroads are celebrating their return to higher ground of volume of business and profits, after years of being stalled in the lowlands.

Airlines, with most of their jets now paid for, are receiving the fruits of traffic growth and revenues in the form of profits instead of losses.

Manufacturers, as a whole, are doing more business and hiring more workers and paying less, and faster expansion than they were last Christmas time. And many are taking advantage of relaxed depreciation rules that can sweeten earnings now, instead of some time in the future.

Millions of taxpayers are happy right now that the federal income tax rates have been lowered. And Santa will be reminding them tonight that the rates will be lowered a bit more in the New Year. There are also promises of cuts in other federal taxes, such as the excise ones.

Christmas Will Be Lonely for Americans in Asia

By United Press International
 Christmas, with its message of peace, will be a lonely day for soldiers on the outposts of Asia where peace is only a word—but war is a way of life.

In Viet Nam Christmas, 1964, will be a day of continued vigil for the terrorist grenade and the Viet Cong ambush.

In Korea, along the frozen, no-man's-land, American G.I.'s will be standing watch as they have for a decade to see that the quiet volcano of war does not erupt again.

Eleven G.I.'s will mark the holy day on the bleak, rocky islands of Quemoy and Matsu perched on the doorstep of Communist China.

—dozen or more—Americans will rifle Christmas just another day behind barbed wire in Communist prison camps in Viet Nam.

But even along the frontier of the free world, Christmas is Christmas and a few rays of light will penetrate.

G.I.'s in Korea will be opening their holiday mail and packages, and tasting merry fruit cake on time, thanks to "operation Santa."

When it appeared that some 122,000 pounds of Christmas mail and packages wouldn't get to Korea before Christmas day by ship, military authorities transferred it to planes in Japan, and sent it winging on its way in plenty of time.

In the steaming jungles of Borneo, outpost of the flickering struggle between Malaysia and Indonesia, British tomias will have a day free to enjoy any activity or their choosing.

Two chose to go bird-watching. Several will take a river trip to coastal beaches.

And one chose to go crocodile hunting in the swamps of Borneo on a yuletide safari. But he'll have to take his chances with a relatively new guide.

Kuching's local crocodile hunter met an untimely end last year after chalking up 100 crocodile kills.

The American G.I.'s in Korea who were lucky enough to draw a day off Christmas, will, according to tradition, play Santa Claus for needy Korean children.

It will be the 15th Christmas American troops have spent in Korea—and the agenda calls for attending church and entertaining the Korean orphans.

One of the G.I.'s who will be standing guard at Panmunjom in the middle of the demilitarized zone is Pvt. Thomas A. Hill, Waukegan, Ill.

"It's not the best way to spend Christmas—but it could be worse," he said. "At least we have no shooting going on here."

Private Hill is 21 years old. But of all the lonely men in the world this Christmas, surely the loneliest must be the American servicemen and civilians held prisoners by the communist Viet Cong guerrillas.

None of them has ever gotten a letter, a Christmas card or a package from home.

"The life of a Viet Cong prisoner is hard enough for the rest of the year but Christmas must be the worst of all with hostile guards and commands to resign (leave) instead of the ringing of carols."

No turkey, Christmas tree and Santa Claus suits for them.

They'll have the same old rice for food, bamboo for decoration, nameless peasant to wear.

But Christmas will be peaceful with the tradition of centuries in at least one Asian outpost.

The focal point of Christmas in Manila, the Philippines, since the 16th century has been the Church of St. Augustine in Intramuros, the walled city in the heart of Manila.

Men, women and children will stream there as the bells sound the call for midnight mass Christmas eve to pray for peace on earth for men of good will.

Idaho Road Construction Plan Outlined

BOISE, Dec. 24 (AP)—A 1965 construction program costing an estimated 25 to 30 million dollars was outlined today by the Idaho state highway department.

It said 15 to 20 million dollars is planned for expenditure on the interstate highway system, for which the federal government provides 90 per cent of the cost.

The remainder would be for construction on primary, secondary and urban road systems.

In addition, the department said, it has on its program eight forest highway projects costing 3.5 million dollars, for which the federal government provides all the cost; county federal aid projects costing 4.5 million dollars and maintenance work costing about 1.5 million dollars.

Projects which were listed on the 1964 program but which have not yet been placed under contract are being carried over to the 1965 program, the department said. Delays resulted from right-of-way problems or by failure to receive agreement for removal of utility lines or railroad tracks.

More projects are included on the program each year than anticipated funds would cover, the department said. This is done so that all money available can be utilized even though unforeseen delays result in some projects.

Interstate projects will cover about 25 miles of Interstate 15 in the Idaho Falls area, about 15 miles of Interstate 15 in the Pocatello area, seven miles in Interstate 80V in the Rupert area, and more than 20 miles of Interstate 80V in the Caldwell to Boise stretch and 16 miles of Interstate 80 between Coeur d'Alene and Kellogg in north Idaho.

Interstate 80N, Minidoka county line—state 27, 7.5 miles.

Other projects—State 80, two miles north of Hansen to Junction with Interstate 80N, 1.1 miles—state 80, Hansen—bridge, 0.2 mile; state 80, Junction U. Eggs Can Be Washed Harder Than Previously Believed CHICAGO, Dec. 24—Eggs can be washed harder than heretofore thought practical, and improved cleaning reduces spoilage by five per cent, according to a report by five farm scientists of the findings in tests with a new experimental egg washer described by Roger E. Walters, U.S. department of agriculture engineer at the University of California, Davis, Calif., in a paper, "New Design Features for Commercial Egg Washers," presented at the 1964 Winter Meeting of the American Society of Agricultural Engineers.

An important finding also was that the cleaning medium, water and detergent, should be kept at a temperature 20 degrees higher than the temperature of the egg.

Walters, explaining commercial egg washers were evaluated, and an experimental egg washer was developed and laboratory tested by Walters and three other USDA experts, A. Wade Brand, food technologist, and Robert O. Robbins, industrial engineer, both at the University of California, Davis, and John A. Hamann, an investigations leader at the federal center building in Hyattsville, Md.

Tests of present commercial egg washers for cleaning effectiveness, breakage rate and effect on spoilage and interior quality of eggs showed a need for considerable improvement in egg washing equipment, techniques, and procedures, an experimental egg washer was developed based on these observations and on design criteria and was tested in laboratory tests.

When the experimental washer was placed in a commercial egg grading and packing plant and subjected to the same evaluations as the commercial washers, it was found that less than one per cent spoilage occurred in farm-run eggs eight weeks after washing in the experimental cleaner, compared to 10 per cent spoilage in commercial washers.

Cleaning effectiveness of the experimental washer was very high, and the breakage rate was considerably lower than the average for the commercial washers. Neither the experimental washer nor the commercial washers had an important effect on interior quality of the eggs.

"Results of the tests indicate that eggs can be washed effectively with a relatively low volume of water and that considerably harder scrubbing action than is now common can be used," Walters told the agricultural engineers in technical session.

"The experimental washer has a number of design features not found in existing washers," he said. "Egg wetting prior to washing; fogger-type nozzles; low volume, high pressure cutting sprays; rotating brushes with the drive shaft perpendicular to the direction of egg travel; abrasive-impregnated brushes; air-egg spinning device to produce increased contact between the egg and the brush; and a separate dryer conveyor."

Other features not widely used are shaped brushes and a detergent-metering device, and the wash water is not recirculated.

Investments Vary Widely In Farming

WASHINGTON, Dec. 24 (AP)—The economic research service reported that investments in farming vary widely among different types of farms and geographic areas.

A study just released by the agriculture department agency covers investments on farms which produced returns of $5,500 a year.

There were 29 farms in this group, each of them yielding a return of $6,000 for the labor and management skill of the operator.

The lowest capital investment in the group was $28,370. That was for a tobacco farm in North Carolina.

More than half the farms producing a $5,500 return, however, had capital investments of over $75,000. The figures ranged up to more than $137,000 invested in a beef ranch in Oklahoma.

The $5,500 return used in this study was income on top of a return on the capital invested in the farm.

The study, which pointed out that labor needs varied widely among the farms in the study, found some farms with smaller capital investments had much higher labor needs.

Cheese-Why Is Hailed as Treat

WASHINGTON, Dec. 24—The ugly duckling of the dairy industry used to be cottage cheese why—because it posed a disposal problem and was virtually impossible to dry. That's now in a foam-drying process developed by agricultural research service, it is being hailed by the department of agriculture as "a taste treat."

The equipment is said to be relatively inexpensive to install and operate. It has a potential of about 400 million pounds of dried cottage cheese a year, with a value approximately 40 million dollars.

As for the product itself, broad markets are anticipated—as an ingredient in sherbets, breads, cakes, cookies, salad dressings, soups, confitons, and other products. Rich in lactose and lactic acid, it contains about half of the original milk solids.

OWNERSHIP IS HIGH

WASHINGTON, Dec. 24—The federal government owns 11.8 million acres of commercial forest land in Idaho. This is 74.7 per cent of the state total.

NEW SNOW vehicle is examined by Myron Dosselt, soil conservation service snow surveyor. The new vehicle is manufactured by Tikol Chemical company, Logan division and is about half of the weight of other snow vehicles used in snow course measurements. Increased fuel capacity, better mileage and faster speeds are promised in the brochure accompanying the vehicle. The machine will be put into use this month when snow surveying begins. (Times-News photo)

New Snow Vehicle Will Be Used by Surveyors to Determine Conditions

At the end of December, soil conservation service snow surveyors and volunteers from the dry and conservation districts will begin tramping around the mountains south of Snake River to measure snow and record moisture conditions.

A new snow vehicle will be used this winter in taking snow surveys and snow findings are optimistic about the new craft, said Myron Dosselt, soil conservation service snow surveyor. The new vehicle is manufactured by Tikol Chemical company, Logan division, and is smaller and lighter than snow vehicles used in previous surveys.

"It's the first time we've had a vehicle with a standard operational manual," said Dosselt. Previous vehicles were manufactured by various companies and seldom were any two alike. The operation of the vehicles was learned on a trial and error basis.

The technical name for the new vehicle is "Tikol" model 1101, off highway vehicle and according to the manual, is adaptable for use in snow, marsh and mucky terrain.

It is powered by Ford Industrial Falcon 170 horsepower, six cylinder engine. One feature which appeals to Dosselt is the fact that the engine is enclosed in the cab of the vehicle and can be repaired without having to go outside and get under the hood.

The new vehicle is about half the weight of previous vehicles and the tracks are set closer together. The steering mechanism is a full lever type instead of a steering wheel.

The machine can travel along fairly level ground about 25 to 30 miles per hour and gasoline consumption will be about half by the old style. Some six to 10 miles per gallon of gas are possible.

The vehicles can accommodate two persons and a third can sit astraddle of the engine. The vehicle has a flat bed extending out over the rear of the machine to carry gear and supplies.

The machine will be used by officials of the soil conservation service.

Snow surveys throughout the winter will be supplemented by helicopter and fixed winged observations and aerial measurements.

This first year is strictly an experimental year and performance will be closely watched.

Department Reports on Forest Unit

WASHINGTON, Dec. 24 (AP)—In a review of forest service activities, the agriculture department said the steady increase of people seeking recreation in the national forests brought business to nearby resorts and towns.

The department said about 135 million recreation visits were made to the national forest during 1964—an increase of about 13 million over the previous year.

Using local labor, the forest service conducted almost 6,000 new family units for camping, 2,000 family units for picnicking and 20 new swimming places.

Timber cut from the national forests last year hit a record high of 11 billion board feet.

Sweden Develops Punch Card Mart

WASHINGTON, Dec. 24 (AP)—Two Swedish stores converted to a punch card system last year. The shopper walks through the store; looks at samples of products; picks a pre-punched card from the trays beside the products wanted; takes the card to a checkout point and feeds them into a machine. The machine lists the merchandise and prices, and an employee brings the order from the stockroom.

Advantages claimed for the system are: less inventory cost; less storage space at less cost than display space; labor saving in stocking shelf space and marketing prices on individual items; no costly shopping carts; reduced pilfering.

Drawback is no opportunity for the shopper to see, feel and pinch what she buys. One of the two punch card stores changed back to normal self-service.

Uniform European Grain Price Affects U.S. Sales

WASHINGTON, Dec. 24 (AP)—The European Common Market's current move toward agreement on a uniform price for wheat in western Europe poses a major problem for U.S. trade negotiators.

U.S. trade experts fear the European move will result in a drastic cutback in sales of American wheat to Europe that now average about 350 million dollars a year or more.

To offset the potential loss, U.S. officials want to negotiate a market-sharing agreement with the common market. Such an agreement would guarantee American producers a fixed minimum percentage share of the European grain market.

Inside the common market today, each of the six member countries has its own wheat price. In the case of wheat, these prices range from about $2.40 a bushel in France to a high of about $3.24 a bushel in Germany.

Common market leaders are trying to reach agreement on a single uniform price for wheat and for feed grains as well. This common market commission has proposed a uniform price of $2.90 bushel. This figure is almost midway between the French and German prices.

France and Germany had appeared docketed on the issue. They had many arguments to lower its price. German officials proposed a uniform price of $2.90.

United Press International reports from Europe said this offer was expected to pave the way toward a final compromise. Any European agreement on a price in the general area now under discussion, however, would be a threat to U.S. trade.

Exporters and heads of the agriculture departments—foreign agricultural services, recently said the proposed common market price would stimulate grain production in Europe, and imports from the United States would drop.

Joanes added that future negotiations on U.S. grain exports to Europe will affect a wider issue of liberalizing trade in all commodities under the general agreement on tariffs and trade.

Dairy Group Believes U. S. Should Buy Domestic Items

WASHINGTON, Dec. 24 (AP)—The agriculture department's dairy advisory committee believes the department should be authorized to buy farm products on the open market for domestic welfare programs at home and abroad.

The committee said Tuesday the new buying authority should be authorized to buy surplus stocks of surplus dairy products for overseas donation.

He said government purchases in this field might help strengthen the dairy farm income. The committee said there is a high priority need for action to improve dairy income. It said many farmers were badly hurt by this summer's drought.

At the same time, the committee recommended a new system of food donations to welfare programs. It said the cost of food donations should be charged to welfare and foreign aid programs.

The committee refused to recommend approval of a proposed new dairy program which has been endorsed by Agriculture Secretary Orville L. Freeman. This plan would call for direct government payments to farmers who voluntarily reduce milk production.

A committee spokesman said there was some sentiment in favor of adopting the program on a trial basis, but most members felt the plan was not needed now because surpluses are being reduced.

Beef production during October was 1,628 million pounds, up eight per cent from October, 1963 and six per cent more than September. The number of cattle slaughtered during October was 3,870,000 head, 10 per cent greater than a year earlier and six per cent above the previous month.

The average live weight of cattle slaughtered during October was 997 pounds per head, 15 pounds less than October, 1963 but eight pounds more than September. Marbled meat production included 1964.

Government Moves to Boost Pressure On Farmers for Cooperation in Plan

WASHINGTON, Dec. 24 (AP) — The government is moving to put greater economic pressure on farmers to cooperate with its crop control programs.

Provisions of its feed grain stabilization program for 1965 are detailed in the report. Producers who do not take part by reducing plantings at a time when surpluses exist.

Similar provisions are expected to be incorporated in the government 1965 cotton stabilization program to be announced soon.

Farm law gives the secretary two major weapons for holding down income of noncooperating producers. One is to reduce the price at which the affected crops are supported and the other is to increase supplementary payments to cooperators. The latter must reduce plantings below their feed grain base allotments.

The noncooperator must depend wholly on market prices. He is ineligible for price support surpluses and payments. In periods of surplus, the support price offered by the department tends to set a ceiling on market prices.

For example, in the case of corn produced in 1965, the noncooperator faces the prospect of getting five to 10 cents a bushel less for his grain than he is getting for 1964 crop corn. That's because the price support for corn next year will be $1.05 a bushel, or five cents less than this year.

However, current corn prices have been averaging about the $1.10 rate, reflecting this year's reduced production.

Of course, this reduction in the support rate affects the cooperator as well as the noncooperator. But the department will make up this support reduction to the cooperator by increasing the amount of the payment to him.

The 1965 feed grain program will permit the department to sell government-owned corn at least five cents a bushel less than its sales price this year. Such selling achieves a two-fold purpose of supplementing market supplies in periods when market supplies are tight and of putting economic pressure on the noncooperators.

The new feed program raises a number of questions. One is, will the prospective lower market prices of feed grains encourage unneeded increases in the production of meat animals? The cheaper feeds sold for the more hogs farmers tend to raise.

Potato Specialist Is Main Speaker at Spud Meet Here

Virgil Cross, Burley, extension potato specialist, was the featured speaker at a meeting of the Twin Falls county potato advisory committee held at the county agent's office here last week.

He told the group of experiments undertaken in rotation and irrigation to boost yield. He pointed out experiments where a grain rotation program boosted yield and curtailed disease better than an alfalfa rotation.

Until last year, Cross was limited to Cassia and Minidoka potatoes and other restrictions were extended to Twin Falls county.

The specialist showed slides and talked briefly on early blight. He told the group of experiments undertaken in rotation and irrigation to boost yield. He pointed out experiments where a grain rotation program boosted yield and curtailed disease better than an alfalfa rotation.

Carbide Irrigation Method Is Explained to Engineers

CHICAGO, Dec. 24 — When to irrigate and how much water to apply has long been a problem for farmers and other irrigators. It is important to irrigate when water is wasted. If they don't irrigate enough or at the right time, crop production suffers in both quality and quantity.

Call W. Eley, irrigation engineer, U.S. soil conservation, told the 1964 winter meeting of the American Society of Agricultural Engineers that farmers can now quickly and easily determine when and how much to irrigate by using the carbide method of moisture determination.

"A laboratory solution to the problem has been available for a long time," Eley pointed out. "But laboratory tests take so long that the crucial period for irrigating may be over before results are known. It is believed that the carbide moisture tester and 'Volumeter' will provide the irrigation engineer and irrigation farmer with a quick, accurate method of determining the moisture content of the soil directly in the field and will answer the two questions — when to irrigate and how much."

The carbide moisture tester, which utilizes the calcium carbide gas pressure method of determining moisture content, is based on the principle that a given quantity of moisture when combined with calcium carbide will react to produce a specific volume of acetylene gas.

The device, which was developed in England, confines in a pressure chamber the gas produced from this reaction, and the gas pressure is read on a gauge located on one end of the pressure chamber.

The gauge reading for a 26-gram wet weight sample of soil can be converted readily to a dry weight moisture percentage by use of a calibration curve supplied with the instrument.

The carbide moisture tester has been used by the U.S. soil conservation service in the north-eastern states for over a year. Eley said, to check periodically the daily moisture balance records maintained by cooperating landowners using the moisture accounting method of scheduling irrigation.

"The 'Volumeter' was developed by Eley as a companion tool of the carbide moisture tester. It provides agricultural engineers with a quick and accurate method of determining the volume, in cubic centimeters, of a 20-gram undisturbed soil sample.

"Now that we know the necessary physical properties, the dry weight percentage and the volume of the sample," Eley said, "the inches of total water that the soil will hold at field capacity can be determined for any root zone depth."

The irrigation engineer said experience has shown that these instruments are easy to use and that an inexperienced operator can become proficient in a short time.

Winds

ROBERTSON, Dec. 24 — Hard winds ripped up fences, blew in areas and barns, and raised havoc here Tuesday night.

Ralph Schnell said tumbleweeds were blown against barns and fences and became entangled. The weeds would form a solid wall and whole sections of fences were blown out because the soft ground would not hold fence posts.

Tom Griffin reports heavy winds at the Point ranch and most of the small crooks and streams were running.

State ASC Unit Confers With Locals

The Idaho State ASC committee has conferred with ASC county committees, county office managers and ACP clerks from the Magic Valley area. Staff members from Valley, Burley, Rupert, Jerome, Gooding, Shoshone and Twin Falls also were present to hear the discussion of the 1965 agricultural conservation program.

The Idaho State ASC committee is comprised of three farm members — Aubrey Drall, chairman; C. K. Lewis, Lewis Harlan, Ashton, and Phillip Bare, Rupert.

Following the general program discussion, Lloyd Campbell, program specialist from Boise, explained a new accounting and reporting process to eliminate unnecessary forms and reduce operating costs of the U. S. department of agriculture.

United States Food Bill Increases Five Per Cent

WASHINGTON, Dec. 18 (AP)—The agriculture department estimated the 1964 food bill in the United States at 80 billion dollars. This is five per cent, or four billion dollars above the 76 billion dollars spent in 1963. The 1965 food bill will be even bigger, though the increase may more nearly approach the average annual three per cent rise between 1961 and 1963, the department said. The 80 billion dollar outlay for food does not include expenditures for alcoholic beverages. These totaled 11 billion dollars in 1963.

Disease-Free Area Needed For Seed Peas to Thrive

UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO, Moscow, Dec. 24 (Northern Idaho) seed pea industry thrives because there are fewer disease dangers here than anywhere else in the nation. But this does not mean the area is disease-free, said Dr. Harry B. Fenwick, University of Idaho extension plant pathologist. Fenwick listed four soil-borne diseases which can be seen in the area every year. Losses vary, ranging up to severe loss in a few fields each year. The four diseases are Ascochyta, two types of water mold fungi and Rhizoctonia. Two of the three species of Ascochyta can be carried through seed, Fenwick noted. Cool, wet, growing season conditions in 1964 seemed to help the disease. Damage from each was higher in some fields than in other recent years. Although these diseases are present in the soil, they do not pose a serious threat to the region's seed peas, Fenwick said. All four can be controlled by good farming practices that minimize disease damage. "Crop rotation on a two-year or four-year basis provides the best control," he said. "Never follow peas or vetch with peas." The specialist also discussed bacterial blight of peas, a disease which causes heavy losses in other areas. "We haven't seen blight here in four years," he said. "The fact that we are free from this disease again emphasizes why northern Idaho and Washington are the prime sources of seed peas for the world."

Economist Lauds Farm Contribution

WASHINGTON, Dec. 24—The American standard of living would have been impossible without agriculture's contribution to the gross national product, it was emphasized by Dr. Lowell B. Hardin, Purdue University's agricultural economist, at a recent meeting of the National Association of County Agents. "Agriculture has not continued or used all that it can," he stated. "It has saved, it has invested, it has paid taxes. At one stage in America's growth, agriculture generated more of the necessary surplus of income over spending—the savings essential to public and private investment."

State ASC Group Approves Formula for Sugar Control

By G. H. CHAMBERS
The 1965 sugar beet program authorized in Twin Falls last week ago is essentially the same program the Idaho agriculture, stabilization and conservation state committee will recommend to the national ASC committee and the department of agriculture. The state ASC committee held a series of five meetings throughout Idaho last week and helped arrive at formula which would be acceptable to the grower and the industry. Harlan Binckhurn, area ASC fieldman, informed the Times-News, Tuesday from Boise, that a 70-30 formula for proportionate shares to reduce acreage had been agreed upon, all the way from the state level through the area level and down to the individual grower. The lone exception will be in the Nampa-Nyssa area where personal history will be included with grower history to arrive at proportioned shares. The one per cent increase in average retail food prices so far this year is the result of increased prices for foods from crops—primarily fruits and vegetables, sugar and sweets, and coffee. Animal product prices are lower, with red meat prices averaging two per cent and chicken prices three per cent lower during January-September than in the same period last year. The commerce department estimates that about 18 1/2 per cent of disposable income is being spent for food this year, and anticipates a further decline in 1965. If the food expenditures and incomes rise as anticipated, about 18 per cent of income will be spent for food in 1965. The 18 1/2 per cent of income spent for food means that the food industry's recent campaign of "only 10" already is outdated.

EXPORTS GAIN
WASHINGTON, Dec. 24 (AP)—U. S. soybean exports in 1963-64 totaled a record 101.1 million bushels, a gain of six per cent.

Winter Wheat Report Indicates 1965 Crop Will Not Reduce U.S. Surpluses

WASHINGTON, Dec. 24 (AP)—The agriculture department's first report on probable winter wheat production in 1965 indicates there will be little surplus reduction in the wheat surplus next year. The surplus easily could go up. The department took a look at the 1965 winter wheat situation yesterday and estimated a crop of 2.0 billion bushels. Assuming a spring wheat crop of some 200 million bushels—the first indication of spring wheat output next year will come next March in the annual plantings intentions report—there will be an all-wheat crop of about 1.24 billion bushels. Such a crop would fall about 60 million bushels of meeting domestic requirements of 618 million bushels and export demands of about 675 million bushels. This would mean a carryover on July 1, 1965, of about 850 million bushels, compared with the estimated carryover of 900 million bushels for July 1, 1965. But farmers' 60-10 increase their spring wheat acreage and come up with a crop well in excess of 200 million bushels. Or winter wheat farmers, who have until next spring to decide, could plow under the wheat that doesn't look very good and participate in the 1965 wheat and feed grain program. This could cause some of the surplus to melt away eventually. The department said the 1965 winter wheat seedlings totaled 45.1 million acres. This was the largest fall seedlings since 1953 and four per cent more than the 43.2 million acres seeded in 1963. The agency said moderate to slightly higher averages than a year earlier in nearly all smaller acreages in states bordering the Mississippi river and the East. The department said probably 12.7 per cent of the seeded acreage would not be harvested for grain. The agency added finally that the acreage actually to be harvested for grain will depend on the decision of growers about the acres likely to be diverted under the 1965 voluntary wheat program as well as the factors of weather, insects, and disease. The department estimated winter wheat yield of the 1965 crop would be 23.1 bushels an acre. In 1964 it was 23.7 bushels, and the 1959-63 average is 23.9 bushels. The department said seedlings of winter wheat totaled about 44 million acres, six per cent below plantings in the fall of 1963.

Investment For CCC Dips

WASHINGTON, Dec. 24 (AP)—The government's investment in the price-supported commodities as of Oct. 31 totaled $6,008,032,623. This was 423 million dollars less than a year earlier, but 74 million dollars more than the previous month. The agriculture department said the current investment was made up of $4,518,700,466 in commodities owned outright by the commodity credit corporation and $2,079,323,059 in outstanding loans on commodities still held by producers. The investment in feed grains included corn and soy, grain sorghum, oats and rye. The wheat investment of 838 million bushels was valued at $1.8 billion. The cotton investment of slightly more than 10 million bales was valued at 1.6 billion dollars. The tobacco investment of more than one billion pounds was valued at some 773 million dollars.

YOUR BIRTHDAY and HOROSCOPE

THURSDAY, Dec. 24—Born today, you have a great sense of adventure which embraces both your mental and physical activity. Always on the lookout for new forms of knowledge, you find the intellectual life quite stimulating. On the other hand, a life of physical adventure is also important to you, and you may find that a love of culture and a love of the mountains or seashore are two things you even have to choose between.

You have a great loyalty to mankind and a great sympathy for people in general. Service to humanity rather than to any single individual is a great part of attraction for you. Consequently, you may never attach yourself to one individual, but you will be devoted to a very long—in which case, marriage is out of the question. Emotionally stable, you are far more likely to find yourself in the peak of being past that of the clinging vine. And this holds true whether you are man or woman. You would be wise, therefore, if and when you do marry, to follow a man who is independent than yourself; otherwise, conflicts may arise.

Among those born on this date are: Matthew Arnold, noted Victorian critic, poet, education expert; Christopher (Kit) Carson, famed American Scout, soldier, frontiersman; Benjamin Franklin, Early American Patriot.

To find what is in store for you tomorrow, select your birthday and read the corresponding paragraph. Let your birthday star be your daily guide.

Friday, Dec. 25
CAPRICORN (Dec. 23-Jan. 20)—Take care that today's excitement doesn't boomerang to cause exhaustion or illness.
AQUARIUS (Jan. 21-Feb. 19)—A day in which to spread good cheer and brotherly love. Take particular note of the needs of the younger generation.
PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20)—Don't let minor disappointments spoil a day which ought to bring major joy. Keep things in proper perspective.
ARIES (March 21-April 20)—You can make an outstanding contribution to your own family life today if you take advantage of an unusual situation.
TAURUS (April 21-May 21)—If you can succeed in teaching younger members of the family some of the "rules of the game" you may have won half the battle.
GEMINI (May 22-June 21)—A day in which Gemini can grasp principles of great portent if he is so inclined. Keep alert, with all senses sharpened.
CANCER (June 22-July 23)—A good day insofar as material gains are concerned—but spiritual gains should outweigh all else in importance.
LEO (July 24-Aug. 23)—Consider the gift rather than the gift when thanks are in order. Importance often lies in how you look at things.
VIRGO (Aug. 24-Sept. 23)—The grasping Virgo may be in for a good many disappointments; the giving Virgo should have his fill of joy.
LIBRA (Sept. 24-Oct. 23)—Don't allow your innate generosity to go overboard. There's much to be said for frugality—even during holidays.
SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 23)—Though you may be unable to analyze the situation at home, you can surely appreciate it. Accept what comes, and with pleasure.
SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 22)—Not the day for looking a gift horse in the mouth. The gift you least appreciate may be the end of the most servicable.

FRIDAY, Dec. 25—Born today, you are a humanitarian at heart. No matter what career you may choose for your life's work, your greatest interest will always be in the betterment of the conditions in which men live. These conditions exist on neighborhood, national and international scales, and on which level you will engage yourself is a matter entirely up to you. Whenever you are called upon, however, there is no question but that you can achieve much good.

You are extremely courageous, despite the fact that there are certain risks you are unwilling to take even for the sake of your "cause." Bravery and forthrightness often exist side by side, and you are wise enough to be able to discern the difference between them—a talent which will surely preserve you for service far longer than some of your colleagues who may rest in headlong.

One whose motives are deep and whose strength are formidable, you are not one to leave a project half finished so long as you can see in it any merit whatever. The way may be long and the struggle may be wearying, but you will persevere until you have begun until success—even if it must be plucked out of failure—is achieved.

Among those born on this date are: Paul Marshall, noted American sculptor; Clara Barton, famed American humanitarian nurse, founder of the Red Cross; Theodore Low DeVinne, American painter.

To find what is in store for you tomorrow, select your birthday and read the corresponding paragraph. Let your birthday star be your daily guide.

Saturday, Dec. 26
CAPRICORN (Dec. 23-Jan. 20)—Yesterday's gains may not carry over into today. Should you be forced to backtrack, do so with good grace.
AQUARIUS (Jan. 21-Feb. 19)—A day in which you will find that you would uncover the reasons for present disappointments.
PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20)—Don't be deterred by criticism. So long as you are satisfied with your own performance and progress, all should be well.
ARIES (March 21-April 20)—Though you may not have thought so yesterday, today can be one of your best days of the year. Take advantage of a good offer.
TAURUS (April 21-May 21)—What you cannot communicate, you do not really know. Practice your ability to reason by postponing action to your own satisfaction.
GEMINI (May 22-June 21)—Recognition for yesterday's good deeds may come late, but it will surely come. Your own self-satisfaction should suffice for now.
CANCER (June 22-July 23)—Inquire your deep interest in the welfare of others. Willing you have a surplus of good fortune, either material or spiritual, share it.
LEO (July 24-Aug. 23)—The generosity of Leo should be rewarded today. Accept thanks in all modesty; give thanks in all sincerity.
VIRGO (Aug. 24-Sept. 23)—The Virgo who fulfills his destiny today should be in for good things. A day for following your finer instincts.
LIBRA (Sept. 24-Oct. 23)—Consider any new ideas on an old subject with a grain of salt. The best way out of a dilemma may not yet have presented itself.
SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 23)—Follow the well-beaten path. If you must—but for the spice of adventure you might consider striking out into new territory.
SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 22)—Those who have been opposed to your plan for the future may be talked out of their notions today. Give it a try.

Saturday, Dec. 26—Born today, you are basically moody, inclined to fall quickly from the heights of good humor to the depths of depression—or vice versa. Your friends—once they really get to know you—learn to expect such mercurial behavior even though they may wish heartily that you were other-

...wired, indeed, you might make an effort to place them in this-if you could, you would find yourself a happier person.

Of a philosophical turn of mind, you have a need for being alone that you periodically deny to long, you may become downright impossible to live with. It is best that you know this—even better that those with whom you live know it. Those who love you, realizing your need, will surely see that you are provided with periods of solitude.

Because you are a person of emotional ups and downs, you would be wise to choose a mate who is emotionally very stable. This is not to say that you must—such a mate would soon bore you, most likely—but rather that you need the stability of a marriage partner who is not going to counter your moodiness with fluctuations of his own.

...minor emergency with dispatch. Avoid overconfidence, however.

TAURUS (April 21-May 21)—The course you pursue today may well set the trend for your month's activities. Choose with care the way you would go.

GEMINI (May 22-June 21)—A successful day for the Gemini who appreciates the finer things of life. Spiritual gains are usually beneficial at this time.

(Editor's note—This is a Christmas letter from one of the 2500 American servicemen on duty in Viet Nam. It was written by Capt. Don Lambert, 246th Signal Battalion, 1st Cavalry Division, who is in An Ninh, Viet Nam, and is available to The Associated Press.)

CAN THO, South Viet Nam, Dec. 24 (AP)—

My Dear Sir:

It's the 21st of December and you can tell Christmas is drawing near. But some of the traditional atmosphere is missing. It's hot and muggy in Viet Nam's Mekong delta.

Tonight grown men stood around a willing Christmas tree in shirt sleeves and short trousers singing carols. The tree stood on a mound of sandbags. Its base was covered by a white bed sheet.

There were a handful of American children—miscreants, dependants and children of the American civilian doctors who spend two or more years working with the Vietnamese in their hospitals. The American children stood side by side with the little brown Vietnamese children whose parents work inside the compound.

I couldn't swear that behind those little brown eyes lay a brain schooled in Christianity, or whether the gleam in their eyes was the figurine of the Christ child or the gaily decorated packages.

But if my God is the God I know, he won't mind.

When the presents were handed out, the American children carefully open their gifts. It seemed the smaller the child the bigger the present.

Some American children received the small, less-expensive presents. I asked one little 10-year-old girl how she liked her present.

"That is rat depp," she said. I frowned.

"That means it is beautiful," an American child said.

"Oh," I said.

The little American girl leaned over and whispered, "I asked mommy to save the big ones for home. Theirs—she pointed to the Vietnamese—should be the big ones."

She left me to go over and admire their presents.

When the party was over, I went back to my room. I wanted to be alone with the pictures of you and the children. I sat down at my desk and gazed at you for a long while, just dreaming.

I almost opened my Christmas present; but then I saw a grown man. I guess I can wait. At least I'll try.

The music on the armed forces radio station told of chestnuts roasting over an open fire and yet in the dark street shined the everlasting light.

I picked up the Christmas cards I had received.

There was a card from Mr. Yen, a Vietnamese combat photographer. "Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year" written in Vietnamese, English and French. Well, you can't go wrong there. And engraved was a picture showing Yen with his camera over his shoulder waiting paint deep across a stream alongside a Vietnamese rifle squad.

And a card from each one of our four little ones. And then there was the one card from you—the gal who made it all possible. The same hair, the same eyes, the same mouth.

I got to feeling pretty low. So I decided to turn in for the night.

I started getting dressed for bed when I noticed an unmarked envelope on my pillow. The houseboy must have put it there while I was at the party.

Scrawled in a halting hand-writing were the words: "You have left your country and your family to come here and to stand with us in the light for freedom. We are very grateful to you. On the occasion of Christmas and the New Year we wish you a good year, good health to your family and that our combat obtains victory!"

It was signed Yung, a student of Gia Long secondary school.

I felt better. I turned out the lights and opened the curtain. I looked up into the moonlit sky. In the distance the artillery boomed in the damp still air.

Yes, I can wait until Christmas to open my present.

Love, Don.

Americans Play Santa In Germany

BERLIN, Dec. 24 (AP)—American troops in Berlin played Santa and Santa Claus yesterday while West Berliners went on a shopping spree for Christmas gifts to their relatives behind the communist wall.

A battalion of U. S. troops can the day by testing plans to defend this isolated Western outpost. The unit was called out at 7:30 a.m. in an "operational readiness test" and sped to take positions in the Grundwald woods.

Other American servicemen entertained orphans and elderly persons and the needy at Christmas parties. They invited children from orphan homes to their "trucks" where C. I. Santas gave them candy, fruit and toys.

An American Santa even flew by helicopter to take presents to children in the remote mountain of Steinhilcken, which is cut off from East Germany.

West Berliners spent the last shopping day before Christmas filling their bags with gifts for relatives in East Berlin.

Jet Explodes, Hits Homes In Florida

DEBARY, Fla., Dec. 24 (AP)—A twin-jet bomber, screaming out of control after an explosion, crashed between two houses yesterday, spreading a ball of fire and a moment of terror along a quiet DeBary street.

One person was killed—the pilot who waited until the last minute to bail out in hopes of sparing the homes. Two persons on the ground were injured. One, Nils Ljungberg, 40, was trapped inside his car by the flames.

"I thought the bomb had dropped," said Mrs. E. E. Duffin who lived four blocks from where the plane dug a 35-foot crater and disintegrated.

The pilot, Cmdr. Cornelius V. Nalla, father of six, landed in Mrs. Duffin's yard. "When we touched the ground he was dead," she said.

The bomber's navigator, Lieut. Paul Stokes, 35, suffered a back injury.

The crew rode with it to the last minute to clear the houses, said the senior fleet officer at Sanford naval air station where the plane took off only a few minutes before the in-flight explosion.

Two homes were destroyed and others as far as 300 feet away were damaged.

NAVY RECONNAISSANCE BOMBER crashed Wednesday on the outskirts of DeBary, Fla., a small retirement community about 30 miles southwest of Daytona Beach. The pilot, Cmdr. Cornelius V. Nalla, died after parachuting from the jet, which was based at Sanford naval air station. The crash heavily damaged several surrounding homes and injured several civilians. (AP wirephoto)

Criminal Is Chased by Eight Boys

PAINESVILLE, O., Dec. 24 (AP)—One of the FBI's most-wanted criminals—described as armed and desperate—was in custody today, chased down by a group of grade-school boys.

More than 100 officers had hunted the man identified as Alfred Oponowicz, 33, for 16 hours after he overpowered a hospital guard and escaped armed with the officer's pistol.

But it was eight boys, ages 8 to 12, who ran him down.

"That's the counterfeiter, let's get him," one lad shouted when he spotted the fugitive on a railroad overpass less than a mile from the hospital, where Oponowicz was being treated for wounds from a gun battle Tuesday when he was arrested for counterfeiting.

"Why don't you give up?" one boy asked Oponowicz.

"I'll never give up," he replied, flashing his pistol and dashing away.

The boys ran after him, but Oponowicz slipped away. Neighbors who heard the chase called police and four officers dragged him from a railroad ditch where he covered face down.

He made no effort to use the pistol beside him. Oponowicz was weak from loss of blood. Secret service agents shot him twice when they arrested him and a woman, identified as Iva Marie Cook, 25, Cleveland, at their Painesville house on counterfeiting charges.

The gun fight began when Mrs.

LARRY E. HUBBS, son of Mrs. Edgar Hubbs, Elkhart, has received his commission as ensign after completing the 16-week indoctrination class for officers at the U. S. naval school command, Newport, R. I. He is a 1964 graduate of Idaho State university and will report to the U. S. Navy Supply Corps school, Athens, Ga., for his first duty assignment.

Rotary Club Hears About Youth Camp

Max Rees, supervisor, Sawtooth national forest, spoke at the youth corps camps to the Twin Falls Rotary club at its luncheon meeting Monday. Rees told the group about the camps and explained how the camp site of Buckhorn, near Oakley, was chosen. He pointed out that area boys who qualify for the camp will be given priority over youths from outside the area.

Rees said that the 100 boys who will stay at the Buckhorn site will provide enough maintenance work on the forest in the area to last for at least 10 years.

He explained that when individuals were selected there will be no delinquents and the selection will be based on need and potential of the individual. The boys will sign up for six months, with two years the maximum time that can be spent in the camp.

Dr. William Smith, Mountain Home air force base, who was scheduled to speak at the meeting, was unable to attend due to the flooded roads. It was reported that he will be invited back at a later date.

The club held a Christmas party at noon Wednesday for children of Rotary members.

Business Mirror

By WILLIAM A. BOYLE
Q. My wife changed the registration of 400 shares of stock she has (four certificates for 100 shares each) from her maiden name to her married name. She had made our different purchases, at different times, at each time she received a purchase receipt, complete with purchase price, certificate number, etc. Some of these purchases were made at prices below the current market value of the stock. One purchase was at higher than the present market value. When she received the new certificates, there was no way to associate them with her current purchase prices. Is she liable for the capital loss which certificates she sold?

A. Any one of the four 100-share certificates. It really isn't make any difference. But, she should know the broker who handles the shares she bought on such a day, at such a price.

This is known as the "identical share method." If your wife sells 100 shares to take capital loss for tax purposes, she naturally would sell the 100 shares she bought at higher than current market price.

You're a bit off on some of your information. The "purchase receipts" you mention are only confirmation statements. The term implies they contain that a broker has bought or sold stock for you.

Typical confirmation statements will read about as follows: "I have this day (date) sold for your account 100 shares of XYZ common stock at (so much) a share."

The confirmation slip lists commissions and any other charges. But it doesn't show the ultimate number of the shares you buy.

A broker usually sends out a confirmation slip on the day he buys or sells stock for a customer. On that day the broker "owns" the shares. The confirmation slip, the stock is received by the buyer's name later—after it is transferred out of the seller's name.

When a wife sells 100 shares, she has a confirmation slip on file. This difference between purchase price and the low proceeds she receives from the sale will be a capital loss. She will be as such on her income return.

The internal revenue service questions her tax return. She has her confirmation slip confirmation slip for the shares. She shows her cost price, the confirmation slip on file shows her proceeds. She shows that she changed the registration of the shares from her maiden name to her married name. She doesn't change this. I am having trouble with a large firm I bought 40 shares of insurance company stock. I look them three times and I don't see any words. I received my book certificate. Then, I bought 45 more

Farm Service, Inc., Kimberly, filed a complaint in Cassia county court against United States Steel corporation, New Jersey, for using a similar name in the sale of merchandise. Detroit Coach Quits, Completes Sweep of Staff

DETROIT, Dec. 24 (AP)—Head coach George Wilson quit the Detroit Lions professional team Wednesday, less than 48 hours after the firing of his entire five-man assistant staff. Wilson, who friends said was distressed over the firing of his aides, walked out of the National Football League club offices without comment, a fact resigning to owner William Clay Ford.

The five aides, including defensive line coach Les Bingaman, popular with Detroit fans, were treated to a week-end and a formal announcement was made Monday.

Ford, member of the Ford family, said then he wanted a "fresh start" for the Lions who finished in fourth place in the NFL this season.

Ford said he and Wilson and general manager Edwin A. Anderson agreed on the discharge immediately after the firings there was conjecture Wilson had been deprived of authority, to the point that he might not be able to remain as head coach.

Ford said Wednesday he and Wilson had come to a satisfactory agreement on the remainder of Wilson's contract. Wilson coached the Lions since Buddy Parker walked out in 1957. He had one year to go under a three-year contract that reportedly paid him $47,000 a year.

When the five aides were fired, Ford said, Wilson would remain as head coach for an indefinite contract term.

Ford expressed regret at Wilson's resignation, saying the Lions would start a search for a new head coach after the first of the year.

The split-up was in some ways similar to the break between Parker, now Pittsburgh Steelers coach, and the Lions top brass seven years ago. The Lions then were operated by a board of directors.

Parker quit suddenly, tossing a bombshell at the Lions' public banquet with his announcement he was through. He said he could no longer handle the team.

Wilson's quitting followed in the wake of reports of squabbling, including complaints of some players to owner Ford in which Wilson was bypassed.

Wilson took exception to playing complaints to Ford.

A former end on the Chicago Bears team, Wilson said that among the Bears complaints went direct to the head coach and differences were threshed out in squad meetings.

Though former coach Parker said he was unable to handle the 1964 Lions, Wilson took over the team and led the Lions to the league title that year. He had been an aide to Parker.

The Lions never were able to duplicate this under Wilson though finishing second in the NFL's Western Division in 1963-64. This year, crippled by injuries to star players, including forward-passer Earl Morrall, the Lions had a 7-5-3 record.

Collier Gets New Contract From Browns

CLEVELAND, Dec. 24 (AP)—Planton Collier, who coached the Cleveland Browns to an Eastern conference title in the National Football League, got his Christmas present—a new three-year contract.

Browns president Art Modell didn't even wait to see what the Browns do against the Western division champion Baltimore Colts Sunday in the NFL title game.

He announced the new contract Wednesday, declaring: "I am delighted with the masterful job Planton has done for us since taking over as head coach two years ago. His record of 27-12-1 losses and 1 tie in the toughest football league in the world is better than that of any of his contemporaries in the past two seasons."

Terms of the new contract, which will run through 1967, were not disclosed, but Collier reportedly received a pay increase.

Indians Cop Tight Win Over Burley

POCAHELLO, Dec. 24—The Pocatello Indians went into a control game and picked up enough crimples in the last three minutes Wednesday night to overcome the Burley Hobcats 66-54.

Although Pocatello led most of the night, Burley's senior guard Terry Jones put on a great outside shooting display, hitting 13 long jump shots. Jones ended up hitting 87 per cent of his attempts from the field—most of them from 30 to 40 feet out.

Burley, down 49-45 after the first quarter, finally caught up and went ahead by one point early in the final period. Pocatello jumped back in front by three before Burley connected again.

Then the Indians went into their control game, forcing Burley's Pocatello defense to come out. Pocatello then managed to drive inside often enough for crimples to prevail in the victory.

Pocatello won the preliminary.

Dane Cited As Racing Sportsman

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla., Dec. 24 (AP)—Lloyd Dane, Buena Park, Calif., who loaned his car to a driver who had wrecked his own, has been selected as the recipient of the 1964 annual Naughton award for sportsmanship in NASCAR racing.

President Bill France announced Wednesday.

France also announced a special award for heroism will go to five NASCAR members: Ned Jarrett, Camden, S. C.; Fred Lorenzon, Elkhart, Ill.; Larry Frank, Greenville, S. C.; Grocer C. Spencer, Inman, S. C., and James D. Ellmore, Falls Church, Va.

Dane, 39, won the sportsmanship award for withdrawing from a race at Sacramento, Calif., Oct. 5, and lending his car to Ron Hornaday of San Fernando, Calif.

Hornaday was in a neck-and-neck battle with Bill Amick of Portland, Ore., for the Pacific Coast late model championship. Hornaday had wrecked his car in a time trial just before the race.

Dane got out of his car and turned it over to Hornaday, who finished the race ahead of Amick and went on to win the Pacific coast championship for the second straight year.

A friend of both, Dane said, "under the circumstances, I would have loaned my car to Amick if he was without a ride and Ron was ready to race."

Injured Olympic Champ Has Bleak Holiday Season

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 24 (AP)—Frazier, winner of the Olympic heavyweight boxing championship in Tokyo last October, faced a bleak Christmas. He is hurting—both physically and financially.

The 31-year-old Philadelphia slugger, who said he has not received a pay check since the first week in September when he left for the Olympic training camp at Hamilton at three base near Salt Lake City.

Frazier won four bouts in the Olympics to become the first American heavyweight champion since Pete Rademacher in 1936.

Frazier won two bouts in the Russia's Vladimir Vlasov, he broke his left thumb. He fought with the broken thumb and defeated Hans Huber of Germany in the final.

His hand was in a cast for two months. He returned Monday to Hahnemann hospital, where three pins that held the bone in place were removed. A new cast was put on.

The injury prevented Frazier from returning to his job. His savings account is almost depleted. Frazier did, however, receive a gift of $100 from the firm he works for two weeks ago. He used some of the money to buy gifts for his wife, Florence, and his three children, Marvis, 4, Jacqueline, 3, and Weston, 1.

"I got them some gifts," he said, "but not very much but I wanted to let the kids know that daddy is still around. I may be helpless now, but I couldn't forget them."

Frazier had some help from his family but he has used up almost all of his savings trying to support his wife and children during his period of unemployment.

Frazier said he could not get work because of his injury. He said he could not qualify for unemployment compensation because he was not available for work due to the broken thumb.

He had hoped to be back on the job in January, he said. "But the money I have in the bank will be gone by the end of February."

Raft River led all the way but never by more than a point. In the first half, in the third quarter Tracy, who hit 20 points, and the Trojans pumped through 18 points while Minico managed only three. The Trojans' first half lead was due to the shooting of Edwards.

Minico's coach won the first game 53-30.

SHIRLEY LYNN

in the Beautiful Bonanza Lounge

ONE OF THE MOST EXCITING new personalities on the current show business scene... that's the lovely and multi-talented Miss Shirley Lynn. Combining a fresh singing style with the poise of a veteran performer, this bright-eyed young lady is already well on her way to vocal stardom.

Shirley has had considerable experience as a band vocalist, having toured and appeared with Tommy Alexander, Red Ingle, Ray Nevel, and a host of other fine orchestras. She prefers, however, the more intimate atmosphere of a night club, where her vivacious personality and wonderful way with a song never fails to captivate an audience. Her triumphs in top hotel supper clubs, including those in the Chase Hotel in St. Louis, the Hilton in Chicago, and the Beverly Hilton in Beverly Hills, California, just to name a few, offer more than ample proof of that fact.

Adams, Gooding Lead Magic Valley Basketball Teams at Holiday Break

Leading Junior Ron Adams, with nearly half his season completed against one-third for everyone else, is well ahead in the Magic Valley individual scoring race at the Christmas break. The 6-foot, 4-inch Adams has 207 points in his first nine outings and a cool 23-point-per-game clip. He is only 61 points off the mark he used last year to place second in the Southcentral Idaho conference. Adams joins with Glenn Perry's Lee McGhee and Kirk Williams, Twin Falls, in forming one of the hottest tries this area has seen in years. Forward Adams is accounting for one of every two and one-half points Gooding has scored so far while McGhee and Williams are running about one-third of their clubs' totals. Adams, who sat out last year with a hip injury, has a 10-point average for his first six games, while Williams, who is drawing crowds to the Twin Falls gymnasium, is averaging 18.4.

Colts Pin Hopes for Crown on Defense

BALTIMORE, Dec. 24 (AP)—Charlie Winner wouldn't let his Baltimore defense for Cleveland's in their National Football league championship game Sunday. "If you had a choice of trading for their offense or defense, which would you take?" the Colts' defensive coordinator was asked. "I would keep our defense," he replied with only a slight hesitation. And he isn't slighting the Colts' offense either. "I don't have a good offense," he said. "I'm just like to have a piece of Cleveland's Jim Brown."

Collegians Sign With Athletics

CHICAGO, Dec. 24 (AP)—Owner Charles O. Finley of the Kansas City A's, amid a Santa Claus stalling, signed four collegiate athletes of an Olympic games exhibition baseball squad for a reported $50,000 Wednesday.

Three pitchers and a catcher who is betrothed to a niece of White Sox manager Al Lopez, were grabbed from the United States Amateur Federation's squad which helped open the Tokyo Olympics last October.

Baseball is not played in the Olympics, but the federation team demonstrated American amateur baseball in a "Parade of Nations" at the Japanese official.

The three pitchers are Rich Joyce, 6-foot, 6 inch, 220 pound junior at Holy Cross; Chuck Dobson, 6 foot, 4 inch, 200 pounds of sophomore from the University of Kansas; and George Hasker, sophomore at Hope College of Holland, Mich.

The catcher is Ken Raymond Suarez, junior at Florida State University, engaged to marry teammate Larry Lutz, a senior at a 416 college hitter, is from Tampa, Fla., home of Sox Manager "Doc" Lopez, and played with A's son in high school.

The signing took place at a luncheon at the downtown insurance office with A's general manager, Pat Friday, garbed as Santa Claus for the ceremony.

$81.13 Is Difference in PGA Race

DUNEDIN, Fla., Dec. 24 (AP)—A mere $81.13 made the difference in the 1964 season in which Arnold Palmer for the Professional Golfers' Association's money title of 1964.

The PGA final official computation of earnings showed Wednesday that Nicklaus and Palmer were the only ones to break the $100,000 mark this season.

Nicklaus headed the list with $113,294.50. Palmer was runner-up with $113,203.37. Both played in 27 PGA sponsored events.

However, winners from non-PGA sponsored events put Palmer ahead in unofficial total earnings by $11,417 to Nicklaus' $116,079.

Palmer came out of the season as the winner of the Vardon Trophy, playing 67.21 strokes for 96 rounds for an average of 70.350 for 117 rounds.

Billy Casper was second with an average of 70.938 for 117 rounds.

Palmer also headed the Ryder cup point standings with 746.56 points. Casper again was runner-up with 694.89.

Michigan Belts Butler by 99-81

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Dec. 24 (AP)—A string of 15 straight points in the early half helped Michigan defeat the No. 1 Michigan Wolverines to a 99-81 victory over Butler Wednesday night.

It was the Wolverines' sixth victory in seven games.

Caspe Russell led Michigan with 23 points. Bill Buntin added 10.

Looking a little rusty after a 10-day final exam layoff, the Wolverines worked slowly until Buntin, Russell and Oliver Darden led them on the 15-point winning run in the second half.

Rote to Start For San Diego

SAN DIEGO, Calif., Dec. 24 (AP)—Quarterback John Rote, who says he is retiring at the end of this season, will start for the San Diego Chargers in the American Football league championship game Saturday with Buffalo.

Rote, a veteran of 15 years of professional football, got the starting assignment Wednesday from Coach Sid Gillman.

Ramsey Says Celtics Are Still Best

BOSTON, Dec. 24 (AP)—A man who should know has said the Boston Celtics "better than ever."

Frank Ramsey, who retired a year ago after earning a reputation as the best sixth man in the National Basketball association as well as the best "money player," watched the Celtics top the St. Louis Hawks.

"I never thought they'd be off to such a fine start," Ramsey said. "I think they are better than the club we had last year. The old red head is doing a tremendous job."

The old red head is Arnold Ted Auerbach, who has coached the Celtics to six straight championships, and Ramsey gives him much of the credit for the team's showing.

"Look at what he did with Bleckstein," Ramsey said. "He said he was the biggest trouble maker the Hawks last year but he saw something in him. Now Larry is coming into his own."

He said Auerbach's talents include "seeing what he wants in a player and getting the most out of them."

Ramsey also credited Auerbach with getting a lot from Willie Naulls "when all the other teams gave up on him."

He said Naulls' biggest trouble was overweight. Now, he said, Naulls is one of the best conditioned players in the league.

AFL Record Book Boasts New Entries

NEW YORK, Dec. 24 (AP)—Gino Cappelletti, Boston's premier point maker, and the super-charger Houston battery of George Blanda and C. E. Roper, led an assault on the American Football league record book in 1964.

Cappelletti, the Associated Press AFL player of the year, broke his own all-time scoring mark with Blanda's holding and Roper's catching to establish three single-season aerial records, final league figures revealed.

The Patriots' place kicker passed receiver scored seven touchdowns, ranked 35 field goals and accounted for 25 points after touchdowns for a total of 153 points, eight more than his previous league high, set in 1961.

Honigan's 301 pass receptions topped by one the all-pro mark set by Denver's Lionel Taylor three years ago. Blanda, the Oilers' 30-year-old signal caller, smashed season records for pass attempts, 505, after completing 262 Denver passer Frank Tripucka had set marks of 478 and 240 in 1960.

Kansas City's Len Dawson threw less than Bonanza but made his losses pay off in the league's efficiency ratings. Dawson received the top grade of 60 points, based on completion percentage, yards gained, touchdowns, etc., and won the passing crown for the second time in three seasons.

He paced the league with a 55.7 completion mark and flipped 30 scoring passes, one less than league leader Babe Parilli of Boston.

Cookie Gilchrist of the East-coast champion Buffalo Bills, replaced the rushing title of Oakland's Cliff Daniels last season. Cookie rambled for 901 yards, finishing 38 yards in front of New York rookie Matt Snell. Daniels came out after a slow start and wound up third with 488 yards.

Coaches Are Named for Senior Bowl

MOBILE, Ala., Dec. 24 (AP)—Howard Hoke and Dick Nolan will assist Tom Landry of the Dallas Cowboys coach the South squad in the 10th annual Senior Bowl football game Jan. 9. It was announced today.

Coach of the San Francisco 49ers for five years, Hoke is a graduate of the University of Arkansas and played with Cleveland and Los Angeles in the National Football league.

Nolan, defensive backfield coach of the Cowboys since 1962, played in the 1964 Senior Bowl game following his senior season at Maryland. He was later a teammate of Landry on the New York Giants in 1954 and '55 and played under Landry for three more years when Landry was backfield coach for the Giants.

George Wilson, who resigned Wednesday from the Detroit Lions, will coach the North squad in the Mobile contest. Two of Wilson's recently fired assistants, Les Bingham and Bob Nussbaum, will serve as his senior bowl aides.

Dayton Beats Army Stall 41-33

DAYTON, O., Dec. 24 (AP)—Dayton maneuvered around a stalling, half possession defense by Army Wednesday night to defeat the Cadets 41-33.

The Cadets, taking only 13 first-half shots, led the Flyers 10-0 at halftime amid almost continuous boomer from Dayton fans.

Dayton's Henry Finkel, the nation's leading field goal marksman, hit five of six attempts, the first half but was blanked in the second period, except for three free throws.

Army's big star, Mike Billings, led Cadet scoring with 11.

Cargo Plane Crashes in California

SAN BRUNO, Calif., Dec. 24 (AP)—A Flying Tiger Lines cargo plane "blew up" like a fireball early today when it crashed into the San Bruno mountains, killing all three crewmen aboard.

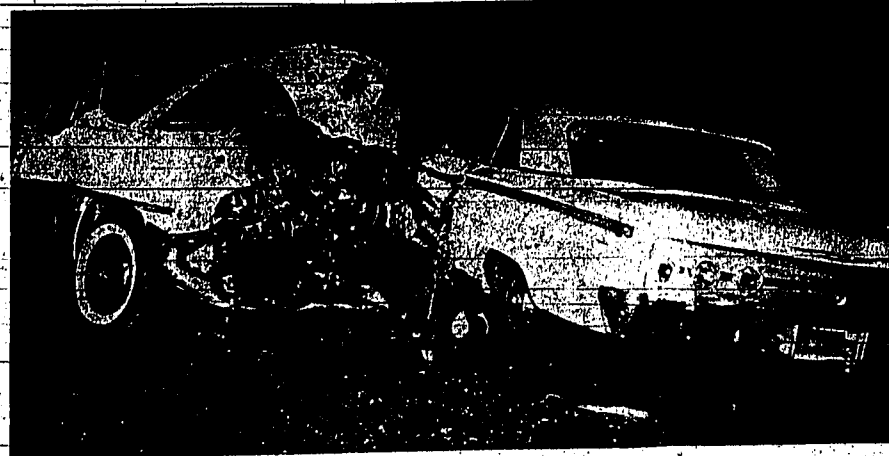

A federal aviation agency spokesman said the four-engine plane was bound from San Francisco to New York when it crashed at 12:30 a.m. PST (3:30 a.m. EST) in heavy fog.

First sheriff's deputies to reach the scene confirmed that there were no survivors.

The craft crashed near the county jail and a coast guard radio station, setting off a fire in one of the coast guard buildings.

The fire was quickly extinguished and the coast guard and coast guardmen were injured.

A guard at the jail said the plane "passed less than 10 feet over the jail and blew up like a fireball on the hill behind me."

It's beautiful! A work of art!

I can hardly wait till tomorrow!

I'll put it here by the walk! A friendly light by night-topped by snow. In winter, a place to barn my leaves in the fall!

Sweetie Pie

"How come the only time I get breakfast in bed is when I'm sick?"

Big Kirby

I GATHER THIS PART OF THE COMPETITION IS OVER YOUR WISHERS.

A LUCKY PUNCH, KIRBY. IT COULD HAPPEN TO ANYONE...

I SHALL YET SEND YOU BACK TO TELL MY FATHER YOU HAVE NOTHING TO TEACH ME!

AREN'T YOU GOING TO LET PRINCE RAUF WIN ANYTHING?

NOT IF I CAN HELP IT! CAN HELP IT! CAN HELP IT!

Out On Way

WHAT'S THE MATTER WITH HIM? HE JUST TROOPS LIKE THAT. HE SAID HE WOULDN'T MUTTERING SOMETHING ABOUT A FRAUD AND A FAKE!

YEAH! BUT THE GUZ WANTS TO BE WINNIN' THIS COUNTRY! HE'S GOT TO BE WINNIN'!

Ben Casey

DR. CASEY, I HOPE YOU DON'T RESENT THIS, BUT AS LONG AS YOU'RE ON THE MEDICAL SCHOOL LECTURE STAFF...

I MUST ASK YOU TO ADHERE TO CERTAIN, AH, RULES OF CONDUCT.

I WOULD PREFER THAT FACULTY PEOPLE - EVEN OUR OCCASIONAL LECTURERS - NOT BECOME OVERLY-FRIENDLY WITH THE STUDENTS!

OF COURSE, DR. LANIER, BUT IN EXACTLY WHAT RESPECT?

Steve Roger

THIS IS A PHOTO OF BOBBIE'S LATE FATHER, MR. NOMAD - IN FRONT OF HIS ESTABLISHMENT! YOU MAY HAVE HEARD OF "BURNEM HEATING SERVICE, INC.?"

MATTER OF FACT, I HAVE, MR. AUGUSTO - A HIGHLY REPUTABLE FIRM IT WAS, TOO!

THE POOR GIRL IS TRYING SO HARD TO HOLD HER LITTLE FAMILY TOGETHER - I TRUST YOU'LL UNHAPPILY NOT REVEAL TO HER THAT WE MUST - UH - PRESS A BIT OF A COMBINATION? SHE DOESN'T SEEM TO BE OF COURSE!

I'LL THINK ABOUT IT - SO LONG, JOE!

YEAH! IF I CAN LOCATE BOBBIE'S HOME ADDRESS, SHE'S GONNA KNOW YET YOU'GAT THAT AS FAR AS A BUSINESS IS BEING RUN BY A GANG-OF LOUSY CROOKS!

Bob's Supply

BUGS! MAKE HIM STOP LEANING OVER MY SHOULDER, OR I'LL LEAVE AND BEAT ELSEWHERE!

I CAN'T TAKE MY EYE OFF THAT DELICIOUS HALIBUT! GET BACK TO YOUR SEAT, OR YOU'VE FIRED!
