By ABREN COOPER
WASHINGTON, Dec. 30 (AP)—The nation's economy is expected to turn in another sparkling performance in 1965 and propel total output toward a dizzying peak of $60 billion dollars.

This is the cheerful forecast of government economists. These same men admit, however, that serious disruptions could come as early as next spring, labor troubles in the steel industry and a dampening effect from tight money.

If the gross national product (GNP)—the sum of all government and private goods and services—reaches $59 billion dollars, it would represent a gain of about 6 per cent over the $53 billion dollar GNP output in 1964. Inflation again should be about 1.5 per cent as the rate of growth in forecast at a healthy 4.5 per cent.

Perhaps the main reason for the cheerfulness of the government men is their belief that if the problem arises, medicine of the proper kind and dosage will be applied in time to cause only a dip in the chart. Thus, they firmly say that 1964 would have been, at best, a year of stagnation if it had not been for the massive income tax cut last February.

Similarly, if demand starts drying up about midyear, the consensus is that it will be easy to persuade congress to apply an excise tax out of the proper proportion. Despite the vagaries of politics, the administrative class the congress will consider the main factor in deciding how much to strain "excess" taken.

One of the major questions lies in the length of the present recovery period. After 47 months almost continuous upward movement with almost every month's production a new record, businessmen wonder—how long it can last.

There is a double danger in steel. Talk of a strike by the Steelworkers could lead to an unhealthy buildup of inventories before the union's contract expires May 1 and a serious slump later in the year. A large wage settlement could lead to an increase in steel prices and the triggering of a round of inflation.

Inventories are fairly low now, but there is a danger that steel users could start storing far more than they need. This is one reason for the first six months of 1965 and a slower rate of growth in the last half.

The international balance of payments problem—the loss of U.S. dollars to other nations—is much more complex but it is linked to the domestic economy. The federal reserve's boosting of the discount rate from 3.5 to 4 per cent for international reasons seems certain to cause inflationary signs start popping up. What sectors are going to produce the demand for continued growth in 1965?

The films showed native villagers, African wildlife and scenes. Pedersen said that of the giant bull elephant will be displayed at State hardware, 305 Main avenue east, where trophies from previous hunting trips to Alaska and India also are on display.

Government economists believe business spending for new plants and equipment will rise to about $7.7 billion dollars, or a gain of 8 per cent. This is not as great as the 13 per cent surge in 1964, but it will provide powerful impetus.

Over-all construction is expected to rise 3 per cent to $93 billion dollars on top of a 6 per cent advance in 1964. Industrial construction is scheduled for another 10 per cent jump to 3.6 billion dollars. Private residential building probably will show little change from 1964, although some experts believe it will show some rise over the last year's performance of 1964.

The brightest sector is consumer demand for automobiles and other durable goods. Some administration officials believe consumers have not yet fully savored the income tax cut, even though it was tailored so that most of the economic impact would fall in 1964.

Consumer surveys, government and private, indicate willingness to buy more autos, television sets and other large items.

The defense department's thinning policy could have an economic shrinking effect in some areas, but the over-all level of federal government spending will be up another two billion dollars by so, as antiquity and other programs, new or expanded, start speeding up.

Local and state governments inevitably will increase outlays for schools and other services for a growing population.

A couple of programs not yet on the books could have a bearing on the economic outlook. It's conceivable that a new spin of medical care for the aged could be put into operation soon, or congress may increase Social Security benefits. Either way, it probably adds up to more dollars in the hands of consumers.

Housing programs in the anti-poverty campaign could cause an upward revision in construction figures.

Experts stopped up last night in 1964 and further gains are expected on this front. Some experts believe the "Kennedy round" of tariff negotiations may set off a flurry of economic activity by prodding some U.S. companies into modernization programs to meet the challenge of free trade.

China in easing unemployment again may be slight. Some progress has been made in finding jobs for the long-term unemployed and married males but total unemployment remains about 6 per cent, despite four years of healthy economic growth. The high rate of teenage unemployment is a major factor in keeping the over-all percentage high.

The consumer price index is about 8 per cent higher than in the 1957-60 period—a good record of stability in comparison to past recovery periods. Wholesale prices have been even steadier although some metal prices are beginning to pop. There is still capacity to spare in the manufacturing industries.

The administration's wage-price guidelines—a formula designed to limit wage increases to productivity gains—were bent if not broken by the wage increases in the automobile industry. The coming events in the steel industry will be another severe test.

Republican National Chairman

WASHINGTON, Dec. 29 (AP)—If you were asked what President Johnson's record is, you would have received the largest number of individual campaign contributions that would you answer? Franklin D. Roosevelt? Dwight D. Eisenhower? John F. Kennedy? As a matter of fact, none of these men, despite their great political successes, were so honored by the American electorate.

The right answer would be Sen. Harry Goldwater. In 1964, he received more individual contributions for his campaign, ranging in amount from a few pennies upward. The great majority of these donations totaled only a few dollars. They were expressions of support from truck drivers, farmers, school people, school teachers and college students who saw something different and special in Barry Goldwater, a candidate who sought to represent what he called the "forgotten American," the man, woman and child who are not members of any "special interest" group but simply Americans.

"PARTY OF THE PEOPLE"—Strange as it may seem, when you consider the decisive defeat we suffered on Nov. 3, we feel that the Republican party is on its way to becoming the "party of the people," to a greater extent than it was before. In the past, the GOP has often (although not always) been thought of as the party of the "big business." That can no longer be argued.

Big Business, along with Big Labor, played on the Democratic team in this past election. And of course Big Government and the Democrats have been associated in everyone's mind for decades. So the record is clear: The Democratic party is the party of the Big People, the ones who want big budgets, big debts, big contracts, big controls, while the Republican party is the party of the little people who seek to retain control of their affairs and their destinies.

Now, some of you may be saying that we received a lot of contributions during the campaign, but what about now? Hasn't Nov. 3 at long last revealed the "truth" to the public? Well, never underestimate the people or the determination of the people.

100,000 LETTERS SINCE NOV. 3.—In the seven weeks since election day, the letters and money have continued to flow in. We have received more than 100,000 letters encouraging us to carry on the Republican battle as well as a substantial number of contributions. That's the kind of meaningful support which we need. The heart of any national chairman. And it shows no sign of thinning out, because the people who worked so hard in this past election and sent in their quarters and dollars are dedicated Americans who do not become easily discouraged.

With such support, of course, the Republican Party, as the Republican national committee can make a lot of plans which would be possible. Our primary goal at the national committee is to create a truly "continuing organization" one which will survive the Republican party year in and year out. In the past, the national committee has collapsed like a deflated balloon at the end of each election year. We want to be able to make music, not every fourth year, but every year.

YEAR-ROUND TASK.—We have put together programs which will assist congressional, senatorial and gubernatorial candidates both financially and organizationally. We also have some thoughts about "bringing elements" of the party together so that an ideological consensus can be obtained. And because the communications media of this nation are so important, we have some concrete ideas about how to get the Republican message to the public more effectively.

TAYLOR'S VIEWS ON WORLD NEWS

By HENRY J. TAYLOR
To millions, either they had a heart and soul as empty as a drum.

There is no hope in the new year for Congo do not do for the world. In South Viet Nam, for them, 1964 is forever. Nor can you or I force an alliance in the Afro-Asian bono beat that fouts the eggs of freedom.

Meanwhile, all humanity shudders over the "black and small" thing in the world—the storm in a world war there is no other land.

But must most of mankind—perhaps two billion brothers and sisters in this world—always see life like a pair of scales weighing an empty pan against an empty future? Or is it a better world as 1965 arrives?

Instead of dwelling so heavily on mankind's despair, perhaps we might dwell at this moment on mankind's vision. For behind all its other appearances human life still holds a hidden meaning.

The worst problems of 1965 will be—poor—blegried—saxozed. The great crisis of this century is the expansion of communist tyranny. Communists do not govern countries; they pillage them.

On Sunday he held a backgrounder and the Monday morning papers were full of what he said he had on his mind although the stories didn't say so.

At home the small boy sits intently staring at his broken clock. The older sister, on holiday from school, comes in and says, "What'll I do, Mama, there's no one to play with?" And Mama herself wonders why her son's going to summon the strength to do all these things that cry for her to do.

At the determination in the jolly "Ho, Ho, Ho!" spirit is everywhere—outside the home. The postman totes his load of belated Christmas cards with the self-pitying air of an Atlas carrying his heavy burdens.

What we all seem to need is a "light" powered, double action after-Christmas pop pill that will relieve us from the dumps and make us feel as good as we did just a week ago as we did just a week ago.

Facts vs. Fantasy

Lots of names and descriptions, some unprintable, have been applied to the sales tax, yet most of the opposition appears to be largely emotional in nature. Opponents of a sales tax in Idaho use such words as "crippling" and "regressive" in describing the object of their hatred, when in truth the sales tax actually is neither crippling nor regressive.

The Idaho Farm Bureau used "crippling" in describing the sales tax in a resolution passed at its annual convention in Boise a few weeks ago and now comes an organization which calls itself "Regressive Sales Tax Truth Committee of Idaho." John Gunn, Welsor, is listed as chairman.

The Regressive committee recommends that Idaho "Raise the additional money needed for the 1965-66 biennium as proposed by the Idaho Farm Bureau by increasing the income tax on net taxable income before personal exemptions."

Aside from the chairman's name, the Regressive committee doesn't provide any information about its origin or membership. The Farm Bureau plan to raise more money from the income tax is understandable. Income tax laws provide special considerations for farmers which are denied other taxpayers.

In the wake of its Boise convention, some Farm Bureau members have contended the convention did not act on a sales tax resolution. However, the Farm Bureau did approve a resolution asking "a vigorous advertising program" for our state, one free from the crippling sales tax. The wording makes the Farm Bureau position clear, even though the resolution lacks the "anti-sales tax resolution" title.

In its opposition to a sales tax, the Regressive committee now advances some old fantasies and brandies designed to organize more opposition. They run the gamut of being "unfair to citizens with low incomes" to the claim a sales tax is "vicious."

Well, how about this assertion that a sales tax is unfair to those in the low income bracket? A three per cent sales and use tax would cost $90 a year for the person making $3,000 annually—just that person would spend every last cent of his income for things covered by the tax. The cost would be $86 annually for the person receiving $100 monthly. This doesn't exactly shape up as a hardship, but if the state were to regard it as such, then certainly those persons could be given relief—in conjunction with their income tax returns. If any sales tax relief is indicated, it should be granted on the income tax return on the basis of gross rather than to palm off a discriminatory tax on all Idahoans.

The Regressive committee also says a sales tax is unfair to border communities, meaning those who have built up a considerable retail business because the neighboring state—meaning Washington—has a sales tax. It's sad, but true, that the state's welfare has to be placed above such individual communities.

The committee also says the sales tax is a vicious tax. Well, what tax couldn't be considered vicious? Costs of all government, like all costs of living, have been climbing steadily. Nationally voters must like the trend because they keep voting for administrations they know will spend more and more tax money. When governments—whether local or federal—are based on increased spending, taxes must be increased to pay the costs. Taxpayers are the only source of governmental revenue and some taxpayers will be convinced—any or all—taxes are vicious. The sales tax is no more vicious than other taxes.

Last, but not least, the committee asserts a sales tax would hurt Idaho's tourist trade. This is just plain funny. What tourist ever planned a vacation itinerary to avoid states with sales taxes? If a sales tax hurt the tourist trade, as the Regressive committee would have you believe, the tourist trade is dying in 88 states—the ones that have sales taxes. What puts the frosting on the cake is that tourists and those who pay no other state taxes all contribute through a sales and use tax.

Newsman Select Idaho's Top Stories of Past Year

WINTER'S NOTE: What were the top stories of 1967? The Associated Press asked newsmen to select their views and 20 stories were mentioned. Here is a story on the balloting.

By EARLE L. JESTER

BOISE, Dec. 30 (AP)—The year-end election in which a youthful Republican countered the national Democratic trend and won a seat in congress is rated as Idaho's top news story of the year.

But one of the year's heat stories—the Christmas week floods which caused widespread damage—never got a mention because it came too late to get on the ballot.

That story undoubtedly would have been ranked among the best of 1967 in balloting by the newsman who compiled the stories for newspapers and radio stations.

Nineteen newsman took part in the Associated Press poll and 10 of them picked the Nov. 3 general election as the top story of the year. George Hansen of Pocatello, the Republican nominee, defeated Democratic Rep. Ralph Hyrding, who was seeking re-election to a third term.

That story rolled up 169 points, on the basis of 10 points for first place votes, nine for second, and so on.

Other first-place votes were widely scattered, with no more than two going for any one story.

Here's the 1965 outlook for your job, pay, and taxes, and for the cost of food, clothing, shelter, cars, appliances and services.

JOBS—Will increase in number but school dropouts will keep jobless ranks large.

are going up, and as excess industrial capacity shrinks, the better the chance of making prices increase. With much of the costs now built into the economy, the trick is to keep personal incomes rising steadily.

FOOD—Abundant supplies should hold prices to seasonal pattern of changes.

HOUSES—Another building boom could start before 1965 ends.

APPLIANCES—Improvements may tempt more replacement buying.

AUTOS—How long the price line will hold is the big question.

Another boon was the weather, which held good in most of the country except for the Northwest, where floods raged.

Officials also figured they could save three million dollars or four million dollars by not having to pay extra for holiday work or giving compensatory time off for workers.

RED ENDS VISIT CAIRO, U. A. R., Dec. 30 (AP)—Soviet Deputy Premier A. N. Shepilov flew back to Moscow yesterday, ending a 10-day official visit in which he made several anti-American speeches.

Postal Officials Proud of Smooth Christmas Delivery

WASHINGTON, Dec. 30 (AP)—Postal officials are proud some are pleased to have smoothly everything went during the Christmas mail rush.

For the first time anybody in the department could remember, carriers were given a three-day holiday.

The three-day accumulation was unprecedented.

The total amount of mail delivered on Monday was the same as the total amounts on Dec. 22 and 23.

It is estimated that 60 million pieces that would have been delivered Monday.

Only the carriers got the holiday vacation.

"We knew early in the game people were mailing earlier—well before the post office's early mailing campaign in recent history," the spokesman said.

ALABAMA'S BIG QUESTIONMARK—in facing Texas in the Orange bowl Friday night is quarterback Joe Namath's knee. Hurt in practice Monday, the knee is said responding to treatment and team trainer Jim Gosseser, left, said Namath should be ready to go. The knee, however, meant nothing to the New York Jets of the American Football league who are reported ready to pay $389,000 to get Namath to sign a contract. (AP wirephoto)

Jets Offer $389,000 to Quarterback

MIAMI, Fla., Dec. 30 (P)—Alabama quarterback Joe Namath had a scorching drive Tuesday for his ailing right knee, a $389,000 pro offer from the New York Jets of the American Football league.

He will sign this week-end after the Orange bowl game Friday night between Texas and Alabama. Announcement will be made at a formal press conference with all the trappings.

This was confirmed by sources close to both the ace Crimson side quarterback and the Jets. It will make up my mind definitely this week," said Namath, undergoing an electronic massage on the damaged joint in the Alabama dressing room at Miami stadium. He was the No. 1 draft choice of the Jets and the St. Louis Cardinals of the National Football league.

"We expect to see him," said Jets coach Weeb Ewbank. "We'll pay more to get him than has ever been paid for a rookie."

The figure is an open secret. Namath, son of Deaver Mills, Pasadena station attendant, will receive $100,000 a year for three years.

The Cardinals, who meet the Green Bay Packers here Sunday in the Pro bowl runner-up game, admitted privately they couldn't match the pace of the Jets' bidding.

They offered to trade the draft rights to the New York Giants, thinking perhaps the Giants, in need of quarterback help, might be willing to meet the competition.

It's too late, Namath has made up his mind. He will play for the Jets.

"We're not worried about his knee," the Jets said. "Our surgeons have told us they can fix him up like new."

Track Feud Hits N. J. Athletes

TRENTON, N. J., Dec. 30 (P)—New Jersey high school athletes will not be permitted to participate in a series of state AAU development track meets because of a dispute of dual sanctioning among the AAU, N. J. Track and Field federation and the N. J. State Interscholastic Athletic association.

The dispute is part of the running battle between the National AAU and the N. J. Track and Field federation over dual sanctioning.

Chosen from Baltimore were Walt Bellamy and Gus Johnson, Len Wilkens and Bob Pettit were St. Louis players selected and complete roster of Los Angeles and Terry Dischinger of Detroit completed the West list.

The all star game will be played Jan. 15 at St. Louis arena.

Nagel Seeks Job With Hoosiers

BALTIMORE, Dec. 30 (P)—Nagel, former coach of the Indiana Hoosiers, is seeking a coaching job with Indiana university athletic director Bill Orwig on the vacant Hoosier coaching job.

Orwig was reported en route to Salt Lake City to talk to Nagel, who has been reported in line for UCLA, where the coaching job also is vacant.

But Nagel said Monday of the Indiana job.

Oregon State Cops Last-Second Win

PORTLAND, Dec. 30 (P)—Jim Jarvis sank a long shot in the closing seconds to thwart a sensational comeback by Northwestern and move Oregon State into the finals of the Far West classic with a 67-65 victory Tuesday night. That preserved Oregon State's record of 23 games without defeat in the nine years of this tournament.

The title game will send Oregon State against unbeaten Tennessee at 9 p.m. Wednesday.

Tennessee defeated Oregon 70-63 in the first game of Tuesday night's doubleheader. Oregon and Northwestern will play for third place at 7 p.m. Wednesday night.

Tall Jim Pitts led Northwestern's spectacular rally. His team trailed as much as 18 points in the first half, which he sat out with an ailing knee. At the end of the game, Oregon State was in front by 14 points at 43-29.

Pitts, who blocks shots like Bill Russell, changed the complexion of the game when he started the second half. Gradually, Northwestern cut the advantage until with 1:25 minutes to go, Wall Tibert sank two free throws to tie it at 43-43.

Oregon State elected to play for one shot. Jarvis took it from about 25 feet out with five seconds remaining. Northwestern never got a chance to shoot again.

In the first game of the night, polished Tennessee held Oregon to only nine field goals in the second half and took a 70-63 victory.

It was the seventh victory of the season for undefeated Tennessee. Tennessee trailed at the half, 37-35, but used a scrambling 1-3-3 zone defense to dominate the game in the second half.

At that, it took Tennessee 7 1/2 minutes of the second period before taking the lead for good. A 15-foot jump shot by A. W. Davis put Tennessee ahead, 49-46, and from there the Volunteers increased their lead as high as 11 points before Oregon closed the gap in the closing minutes.

Late shooting by Oregon's Bill Jennings and Nick Jones out the margin to 66-63 with 20 seconds to go. But Tennessee easily added to its advantage in the remaining time.

Tennessee's superior rebounding was a major factor in the victory. Tennessee grabbed 63 rebounds to 26 for Oregon.

Army led most of the way, with 6-foot, 7-inch John Pitts in check-out fouling out of the inside the Washington State zone defense. Washington State came on strong in the second half after trailing 37-22 at intermission.

There were six ties and the lead changed hands six times before Pitts finally put Army in front to stay 40-48 with 6 1/2 minutes to go.

Riloh wound up with 24 points and Army's Joe Koeducko had 14.

Portland cracked Purdue's zone defense with some long range chomping in the first game of the afternoon.

Purdue was far off form in another against Portland's man-for-man defense. Dave Schellhase, Purdue's leading scorer for example, could sink only six of 24 shots, many of them close in. Nevertheless he managed 25 points to lead his team, Ron Hughes, the only other Purdue player who could score well, had 23.

Portland took a 43-40 halftime advantage by sinking nearly half of its shots in the first period. When Portland's shooting cooled off in the early minutes of the second half, Purdue managed to tie the score at 47-47. But Portland regained its eye and never again was headed.

St. Joseph's Tips Second-Rated Wichita in Quaker City Finals

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 30 (P)—St. Joseph's team of homebreds, with tall Marty Ford scoring 27 points and little Billy Onkes adding 21, dumped second-ranked Wichita 76-69 Tuesday night to continue local mastery of the four-year-old Quaker City basketball tournament championship. With exception of a tie at 36, coach Jack Rumany's unbeaten Hawks, the nation's 10th ranked team, led all the way in sweeping to its 10th straight victory. This was St. Joseph's second triumph in this tournament. Villanova and LaSalle won the other two years.

Onkes, a 5-foot, 11-inch playmaker who has been in such-a-shooting slump his coach held him out of pre-game practice as a possible cure, broke the 30 tie in the final two minutes of the first half with two drives and a one-hand jumper that enabled the Hawks to lead at intermission 44-38.

It was Ford, however, a 6-foot, 6-inch beampler who kept St. Joseph's alive in the first 20 minutes, scoring 14 of the Hawks' first 23 points. He had 17 in the first half and also did a commendable job of guarding Wichita's All-American Dave Stallworth.

Wichita, with Stallworth who scored 24 points leading the way, cut St. Joseph's margin to 40-47 with 16:46 remaining in the second half. But Onkes hit a free throw, Ford a field goal and another pair of charity conversions boosted the Hawks into a seven point lead at 64-47.

The closest Wichita could get after this as the shockers lost their second against eight victories was four points at 62-60.

Sixth-ranked Illinois, with 6-foot, 8-inch Ekip Thoren scoring 10 points and playing a strong game of the backboard, turned back a late Villanova rally to defeat the Wildcats 74-63 and earn third place in the second game of the tripleheader at the palestra. In the opening game, New York University bested Penn 70-65 for fifth place as the hoars, dispatched an 11-point lead, scoring only four field goals in the final 12 minutes.

The victory was Illinois' eighth against two defeats. Penn led almost all the way in its first meeting with NYU in 10 years, but the Quakers lost when, leading by five points with 4 1/2 minutes to play, they elected to freeze.

NYU made up a five-point deficit in the last minute, seconds with a one-hander from the corner by Stan McKelroy, and regulation play at 59 with 15 seconds remaining. Penn led briefly in the overtime on a field goal by Ekip Ungles.

Wilson's Early Signing With Patriots Is Left For Georgia to Settle

ATHENS, Ga., Dec. 30 (AP)—Tackle Jim Wilson's secret signing of a pro football contract while still on the Georgia team apparently will be left to the university to settle. The big All-American, drafted by both major football leagues, signed a contract with the Boston Patriots of the American Football league last summer. Then, after ending his final college year in the Sun bowl, he signed with San Francisco of the National Football league. "It's not the first time an ineligible player has played," said Elmore Hudgins, public relations director of the SEC commission's office in Birmingham. Hudgins said no university in the SEC's history had been forced to forfeit games because of such an infraction.

Anderson said he was complaining to referee Creighton Richards, Alton's son-in-law, after the game ended. Alton stormed onto the court and decked Anderson.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Dec. 29 (AP)—The Oklahoma football coach, Bill Hooper, said he was "grim" about a scrimmage Tuesday, and Coach Jones was unhappy at results. Mike Ringer, first substitute for Larry Smith, was hit with a pulled groin muscle. He hurt his right knee in the first half. Both ran at half speed, but the coach said he expects them to round into shape by game time."
