

Idaho Legislature Opens, Most '63 Leaders Renamed

Jan. 4 (AP)—Gavel banged in both houses of the legislature today, signalling the start of the session, faced with complex problems of taxes, rearmament and spending. The 44 senators and 79 representatives—the largest legislative membership in Idaho's history—were assembled at noon in their separate chambers in the capitol. They answered questions when met jointly in the crowded house chamber.

Viet Cong Reopen Battle In Viet Nam

BINH GIA, South Viet Nam, Jan. 4 (AP)—The Viet Cong reopened the battle of Binh Gia today, attacking Vietnamese units around the outskirts. The communist guerrillas killed another U.S. adviser, the first American to die in the Viet Nam war in 1965 and the sixth to perish in the fight for this Roman Catholic village 40 miles east of Saigon. Two other Americans are missing from last week's fighting and presumed captured.

The toll of U.S. combat casualties since increased operations began three years ago rose to 247. The American was killed during an ambush of last night about five miles outside the village. Eleven Vietnamese Rangers were killed, 27 wounded and 40 others are missing. Then another Vietnamese unit fell under ambush on the Binh Gia-Baria highway this afternoon.

Idaho House Raises Flood Relief Bill

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 4 (AP)—A bill to raise flood relief money was introduced today in the Pacific state legislature. The measure would increase the federal share of flood relief from 75 to 80 percent.

Factories in Egypt Forced To Shut Down

CAIRO, Jan. 4 (AP)—Several major factories in Egypt were forced to close down today because of a shortage of raw materials. The government said it had no money to buy raw materials. It was reported today that the government had ordered a 10 percent increase in the price of raw materials.

British Force In Far East Strengthened

SINGAPORE, Jan. 4 (AP)—Britain began landing troops in the Far East today, building up the strongest force it has maintained in Asia since the Korean war to bolster Malaysia against the threat of Indonesian attack.

Johnson to Spell Out Ideas for His "Great Society"

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4 (UPI)—President Johnson today put the finishing touches on a State of the Union message spelling out in general terms how he hopes to achieve "the Great Society." Johnson arranged to deliver the address before a joint session of the house and senate at 9 p.m. EST in the house chamber before live television cameras.

Furnace Explodes At Heyburn School

HEYBURN, Jan. 4—A gas furnace in a newly-constructed primary school here exploded early this morning just a few hours before youngsters would have started arriving to begin classes after the Christmas holidays. No one was reported injured in the gas explosion which raised the roof of the school and blew the top part of a wall out.

Cassia Area Flood Damage Is $132,850

BURLEY, Jan. 4—Cassia county civil defense director Lyman Martindale reported today that the unofficial estimates of flood damage in Cassia county were over $132,850, with new estimates being added as figures are available. The figures include damages for 18 families in the Declo area; two homes in Albion; three homes in the Pella area and one home in Burley. Unofficial damage estimates to homes in the county are $4,500, Pella $2,500 and Burley $330.

Bonfires

Howard Johnson, superintendent of parks and recreation, said his department would begin gathering the Christmas trees Wednesday for the winter bonfires. Johnson said they would pick up the trees only if they were on the curb in front of the home. He stressed that people take off their tree stands if they wanted to keep them.

Avalanche Kills 3 Salzburg, Austria

A giant avalanche in the Austrian Alps trapped 21 Dutch students last night, killing three of them. The others freed themselves.

Kennedys Become First Brother Team To Serve Together in Senate Since 1803

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4 (AP)—Edward Kennedy and Robert Kennedy—the first team of brothers to serve together in the senate since 1803—walked together today to the opening of the 89th congress.

Inquest Slated

The inquest into the two-car accident of Dec. 19 which took the lives of Marcia Hackley, Holly Smith, Niki Ronk and Mrs. Kenneth (Della) Martens will be held at 10 a.m. Wednesday in the jury room of the Twin Falls county courthouse.

Congress Convenes In Fireworks Over Leadership, Rules

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4 (AP)—The new congress convened today in fireworks over leadership posts and legislative rules, and with battles looming over measures President Johnson is expected to propose for his "great society." In a mood for change and in hopes to create a new party image, house Republicans threw out Rep. Charles A. Halleck of Indiana as their floor leader and replaced him with Rep. Gerald R. Ford of Michigan. The vote was 73-67. Sen. Russell B. Long of Louisiana won the job of senate Democratic whip, formerly held by Vice President-elect Hubert H. Humphrey. Contenders against him were Sen. John C. Pastore of Rhode Island and A. S. Mike Monroney of Oklahoma.

New Year's Traffic Toll Breaks Record

The nation ended its three-day observance of the New Year at midnight Sunday, breaking all previous traffic death records for the holiday and surpassing the worst fears of traffic experts. Highway accidents during the 78-hour period claimed 471 lives, passing the New Year's high mark set during a four-day holiday in 1955-56 when 409 persons died. The previous three-day record was 374 in 1959-60. Before the holiday started, the National Safety Council estimated that between 300 and 360 persons might be killed in traffic. California, with 60 fatalities, recorded the highest number of deaths and broke its three-day New Year record toll of 46, set in 1960.

Church Roof Collapses, 55 Are Killed

PUEBLA, Mexico, Jan. 4 (AP)—Fifty-five Mexicans were killed and 63 injured when the roof of a new Roman Catholic church collapsed yesterday at Pujico, 80 miles southwest of Puebla. The concrete roof crashed during a Mass to dedicate the building. About 300 persons were inside. Officials said a preliminary investigation indicated defective construction had caused the tragedy. The building was of brick and concrete. Among those killed was the priest officiating at the Mass, Father Esquivel Alvarez Ortega, whose brother designed and built the church. Police said the brother would be questioned. "It happened so fast nobody had a chance to run," said Alfonso Escamilla, 15, one of the injured survivors. "I heard a roaring noise and looked up and saw the center part of the roof coming down. I was pretty near a door, but I didn't have time to get out."

Flood Relief Bill for West Is Introduced

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4 (AP)—A flood relief bill designed to help rehabilitate stricken areas of California, Oregon, Washington and Idaho was introduced today by Rep. Harold T. Johnson, D., Calif. "Although the total losses in the Christmas-week storm will not be known until days or even weeks from now," Johnson said on introduction of the measure, "it now looks as if damage will approach or hit the billion-dollar mark in the four states." He said the legislation is designed to help property owners, and local and state governments in the massive job of clearing up and repairing the damage. "There is no way of knowing just how serious the road damage is," he continued, "but we know that scores of bridges are missing and slides have disrupted the road system throughout the region." Elaborating on the effect the flood damage will have on the general economy of the states involved, he said: "If we cannot get the timber to harvest and take it to the mill, the hard-stricken communities are never going to recover." A key provision in his legislation would give the federal government additional authority to rebuild federal-aid roads, county roads and forest roads and highways. It would waive matching requirements normally placed on county and state governments. A total of 200 million dollars would be authorized for this purpose alone.

Idaho Solon Introduces Three Bills

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4 (AP)—Rep. Compton I. White, Jr., D., Idaho, introduced at the opening of the 89th congress today three bills he said would affect the economy of Idaho. One authorizes establishment of the Nez Perce national historical park in north central Idaho. Another provides for an assistant secretary of agriculture for forestry resources. The third requires that fresh potatoes be labeled showing the state in which they are grown. "I introduced similar bills during the 88th congress and all three were passed," White said. "I hope to have further positive action on them early this session."

House Seats Group From Mississippi

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4 (AP)—The house voted today to seat the five regularly elected representatives from Mississippi despite a challenge which sought to deny them seats. The challenge had been initiated by the Mississippi Freedom Democratic party, a predominantly Negro group. Adopted under a resolution passed on a voice vote by the house was a veteran Rep. William Colmer, Thomas G. Abernathy, Jamie Whitten and John Bell Williams, Democrats, and newly-elected Prentiss Walter, a Republican. Seating of the five Mississippi regulars came after capitol police had turned back three Negro women from Mississippi who sought to enter the house chamber on a contention they were contestants and thus entitled to enter.

Solon May Quit Party

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4 (AP)—One of two southern Democrats stripped of seniority in the house by his colleagues says he will quit the party rather than remain "a second class Democrat." The statement was made by Rep. Albert W. Watson, D., S.C., in reply to action taken Saturday by house Democrats against him and Rep. John Bell Williams, D. Miss., because they supported GOP presidential candidate Barry M. Goldwater. Williams said he would consider resigning from the party but gave no indication of what his decision would be. An 18-year veteran of house service, he lost far more seniority than Watson, a two-year man. Watson told the UPI that "the decision facing me now is whether to become a Republican or an independent." He said he would make up his mind, probably within a week, after conferring with constituents.

Dworschak Dam Bid Awarded

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4 (AP)—Awarding of a contract for a major phase of construction of Dworschak dam in northern Idaho was reported today by Sen. Frank Church and Rep. Compton I. White, Idaho Democrats. They said the $3,660,000 contract went to Peter Klewit and sons company, Omaha. The work involves construction of a diversion tunnel which will carry water of the Clearwater river around the damsite while construction is in progress. The dam is being built on the North Fork of the Clearwater upstream from Orofino.

Sailor Is Shipwrecked For 30 Days

KEY WEST, Fla., Jan. 4 (AP)—William P. Haas, Jr., who lived with his wife on a tiny island off the southeastern coast of Cuba, returns to civilization today after being shipwrecked for 30 days.

Haas, Philadelphia, was plucked from Mira Por Vos island by the British frigate H.M.S. Rothe and transferred to the coast guard cutter Adriadne Saturday. The cutter was due here today.

Haas is scheduled to fly from Philadelphia to Twin Falls city to meet his husband.

A coast guard spokesman said the 33-year-old Haas "appears to be in good condition, considering he's been shipwrecked for 30 days."

Haas was en route from Miraflores island, British West Indies, to St. Thomas in the Virgin Is. when unfavorable winds blew him off his 24-foot auxiliary sloop Mel-O-Dee toward the small island about 70 miles from Cuba's southeastern coast.

The boat hit a reef off the island and sank Dec. 3, and Haas apparently lost the four-month food supply he had put aboard at Miraflores.

The search for Haas began Dec. 28 when his wife called the coast guard in Philadelphia and reported she had not heard from him since Nov. 30.

At that time Haas wrote he was leaving for the Virgin Islands Dec. 1 and would telephone when he reached St. Thomas in about 15 days.

When a coast guard communications check of all the ports and areas in the Caribbean area failed to locate Haas, an all-Britain bulletin was issued to the "lookout" for the Mel-O-Dee.

A navy plane patrolling the Crooked Island passage last Friday reported sighting what he believed to be a lone Cuban sloop on Mira Por Vos island.

The Miami coast guard sent an amphibious plane to check the island, spotted the man and dropped him a package of food and water.

The frigate Rothe, which was in the area, was notified and the Philadelphia off the island, then transferred him to the cutter Adriadne.

Utah Swears In Rampton As Governor

SALT LAKE CITY, Jan. 4 (AP)—Clyde L. Rampton, was inaugurated today as Utah's 11th governor and pledged to seek a balanced economy in which labor, capital and management share in a partnership for the common good.

Chief Justice F. Henri Hendon of the Utah supreme court administered the oath in Rampton's inauguration ceremony in the crowded rotunda of the state capitol. The ceremony came on the 69th anniversary of Utah's statehood.

The national anthem played by the Utah national guard's 23rd army band, and a 19-gun salute by the 140th target acquisition battalion followed the swearing-in of Rampton.

A few minutes later the oath of office was administered to Secretary of State Clyde L. Miller, Atty. Gen. Phil M. Hansen, State Auditor Sharp M. Larsen, State Treasurer Lynn C. Baker and supreme court Justice E. R. Callister, Jr.

Retiring Gov. George D. Clyde, who today ended an eight-year tenure as the state's chief executive, and members of Rampton's family were among the large inaugural audience.

Rampton, the state's first Democratic governor in 16 years, said Utah's young people must be afforded the highest type of education system. He said this system must be one which will give our people training in the skills demanded by industry and enlightenment of the type that enriches the life of our community.

Medical Course Slated for Burley Area

BURLEY, Jan. 4—A "medical health course" will begin at 7:30 p.m. Thursday and will be held for 11 weeks in the Idaho Bank and Trust community center.

Mrs. Clifford Darrington, a teacher at the Burley high school, has volunteered her time as an instructor.

Material will be furnished by the civil defense office, Boise. The project is a joint endeavor of local groups and the civil defense organization of Cassia county. The course is offered without cost. Cassia county residents and textbooks are furnished.

Regular first aid courses have been designed to give emergency aid to victims awaiting the arrival of the doctor. This advanced instruction is destined to go a step further in giving information, such as the thought in certain when regular medical aid can be had, with more than emergency procedure necessary to save life," stated Lyman Mardale, Cassia county civil defense director.

Registration can be made for the course by phoning Martin at 678-8670 or 678-7300, or Mrs. William Darrington, Declo, 64-4631.

Damage Not Set in Fire At Heyburn

HEYBURN, Jan. 4—Damage was undetermined New Year's day on the fire at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Tippetts at the corner of 17th and K streets.

Volunteer firemen were called about 4:45 p.m. after Mrs. Tippetts discovered flames shooting around their coal furnace, located in the basement. Mrs. Tippetts said the family had put their 5-day-old granddaughter to bed in the bedroom located above the furnace room, shortly before they smelled smoke and noticed it coming from the infants' room.

A neighbor, Virgel Johnson, took the unharmed baby, her mother, Mrs. M. A. Davis, and Mrs. Davis' younger sister to his home while firemen worked the fire. Fire Chief Art McGill said the fire was caused from an overheated furnace. Other than smoke, damage was confined to the furnace room.

Mrs. Tippetts noted the family had just returned home the night before from Salt Lake City where Tippetts was in a hospital.

Mrs. Davis had been released from the Minidoka Memorial hospital two days before. Davis is confined to an Oregon hospital with injuries from a recent automobile accident.

NFO to Host Seminar at Buhl Hall

BUHL, Jan. 4—An educational seminar on "How to achieve success in bargaining in agriculture" will be conducted at 10 a.m. Thursday at the Buhl VFW hall under the sponsorship of the Twin Falls county National Farmers Organization, announced E. B. (Bill) Hicks, county president.

The public seminar, which will be under the direction of Harvey Siles, Corning, Ia., national NFO member, is for all farmers and interested persons. Subjects to be covered include past history in marketing; present conditions in agriculture; strong and weak points in the present market structure; new economic factors in marketing; reasons for failure of past, proposed solutions, and requirements for a successful, modern day marketing structure.

Information to be presented is compiled from agricultural colleges and universities, U.S. department of agriculture and NFO research committees.

A question and answer period will follow the seminar. All farmers are urged to attend this meeting.

This seminar provides a broad study on methods to be used in order for farmers to receive fair prices at marketing places. It will serve as a broad educational base for better understanding among farmers as to how to achieve success in bargaining in agriculture, Hicks said.

Group Declares 1965 Dividend

The board of directors of Investors Mutual, incorporated, has declared the first regular quarterly dividend of its 1965 fiscal year amounting to 9 1/2 cents per share. The dividend will be payable Jan. 4 to shareholders of record at the close of business Dec. 31, and will be distributed exclusively from dividend and interest income. It compares with 9 1/2 cents per share paid from this source a year ago. This is the 97th consecutive dividend distributed by the fund.

Investors Mutual, incorporated, currently has approximately 217,500,000 shares outstanding compared with 194,515,000 a year ago. The dividend will be paid to some 405,000 shareholders. Investors Mutual is an associate of Investors Diversified Service, Inc., and is the largest mutual fund in the nation, according to L. T. Dolphin, local representative.

4 Persons Die In Plane Crash

HENDERSON, Ky., Jan. 4 (AP)—A St. Paul, Minn., advertising executive, his wife, and two young sons were killed yesterday in a plane crash about six miles south of this northwestern Kentucky town.

The victims were identified by state police as Lee A. Potter, Jr., about 42, Excelsior, Minn.; Mrs. Jean Potter, about 30; and their sons: Lansing Lee, 8, and Christopher, 4.

The twin-engine Beechcraft went down in a farm pond after one of its engines had conked out. The craft was owned by the Louis P. Dow company, St. Paul, Potter's employer.

An eyewitness, farmer James Reed, told authorities that the left wing tip of the plane struck a tree before the crash.

State police learned that the Potters had left Florida about 11 a. m. (EST) yesterday. They had been visiting Mrs. Potter's parents in Ocala, Fla.

New and Old Investigations May Arise in 89th Congress

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4 (AP)—The two investigations that figured prominently in the last congress, and became issues in the 1964 election campaign will be re-evaluated in the new congress opening today.

A renewed examination is set by the senate into the contract award of the F-111, formerly the TFX fighter plane which made its maiden flight last month. Senators want to take a close look at the controversial jet's cost and performance now that it is off the drawing boards and into the air.

Also promised is another round of inquiry into the sideline business activities of Robert C. (Bobby) Baker while he was secretary to senate Democrats. For more than a year now the senate rules committee has been holding on a daily off-again-is-on-again basis hearings on Baker and charges of influence peddling that have swirled around him.

New this session is a likely investigation into what senate staff investigators believe is a vicious nationwide manhunt racket that peddles names of alleged teen-age "party" girls. The girls are often children of prominent families and had no knowledge their names were being so used, the report said.

And Rep. Edwin Willis, D., La., chairman of the house committee on un-American activities, said he would propose to the house an investigation into the "Whittemen" organization, Rep. Charles S. Jelson, D., N.J., requested the inquiry, saying he understood the group encouraged members "to own firearms and to become proficient in the use of them and to force governmental policies by violent acts."

While the pre-session docket of investigations is still spotty, it appears that senate sleuths will have a busier session than their house counterparts.

In addition to the TFX inquiry, the senate permanent investigations subcommittee has started work on the national urban renewal program. The aim is to determine whether there have been improper practices, frauds, and waste in certain of its 350 individual programs.

The subcommittee also is working on preliminary background for an inquiry into contracting and procurement irregularities and possible conflicts of interest in a branch of one of the senate's permanent investigations.

Investigators of the senate juvenile delinquency subcommittee reported, meanwhile, they had discovered that a Midwest mail merchant advertises in the mail that he has an inventory of 10,000 names of teen-age girls around the nation, complete with addresses, and telephone numbers, who are available for "party" activity.

The investigators said the names are sold at a rate of $2 for 50 names. The names were said to be grouped by cities and states.

Two subcommittees, one in the senate and one in the house, also are probing the question of "government snooping" and invasion of privacy by telephone taps and other devices.

The house judiciary committee has plans to look into the administration of justice, including the impact of pre-trial news coverage.

But it is likely that the Bobby Baker investigation will attract the most attention.

The senate rules committee recessed early in December with the brief announcement that it would hold further Baker hearings this year, but gave few details on what subjects.

Chairman B. Everett Jordan, D., N.C., announced that former

4 Persons Die In Plane Crash

HENDERSON, Ky., Jan. 4 (AP)—A St. Paul, Minn., advertising executive, his wife, and two young sons were killed yesterday in a plane crash about six miles south of this northwestern Kentucky town.

The victims were identified by state police as Lee A. Potter, Jr., about 42, Excelsior, Minn.; Mrs. Jean Potter, about 30; and their sons: Lansing Lee, 8, and Christopher, 4.

The twin-engine Beechcraft went down in a farm pond after one of its engines had conked out. The craft was owned by the Louis P. Dow company, St. Paul, Potter's employer.

An eyewitness, farmer James Reed, told authorities that the left wing tip of the plane struck a tree before the crash.

State police learned that the Potters had left Florida about 11 a. m. (EST) yesterday. They had been visiting Mrs. Potter's parents in Ocala, Fla.

Editor's note: Andrew Tulley is on a brief holiday. During his absence, the column will be written by high government officials, members of congress and leading political figures.

By WILLIAM E. SIMKIN
Director, Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4—The nation will have its quota of labor problems during 1963, but there is every hope that management and labor will continue their high degree of state-of-the-art and, on the whole, adjust these problems peacefully.

We often forget, in our impatience about a particular labor controversy or a strike that may cause us some personal inconvenience, that the nation's labor relations record is good. The rate of lost time due to work stoppages has been declining to record low levels for some time, although it tended upward a bit in the latter months of this year.

Andrew Tulley

WORKING TOGETHER—This statistical improvement reflects a welcome trend in labor relations. Employers and labor organizations are recognizing their mutual dependence and are working together to accomplish those adjustments necessary to changing economic conditions. Successful accomplishments of these adjustments, in turn, is the basis for our national prosperity and strength.

During 1963 there will be important contract negotiations in the steel, aluminum, aerospace, rubber, construction, maritime and fabricated metals industries, to name a few of the most significant.

I am not prepared to do any crystal-ball gazing, publicly at least, into the prospects for any one of these disputes. In the steel situation, however, we do have the background of two straight successful contract negotiations following the disastrous 1959 strike.

STILL PROBLEMS—So at least the recent past should spur us to be hopeful in the steel bargaining. Most of the other industries named for 1963 big league negotiations also have improving union-management relationships. There is a healthy and steady improvement in maturity, and in willingness to give long, hard study to mutual problems.

But there are problems. The workers want to keep their jobs and income and obtain safeguards against layoffs. The employers want to operate with as much cost economy as possible. The clash of these counter positions creates difficulties, but generally speaking they are being resolved daily at hundreds of collective bargaining tables.

The federal mediation and conciliation service has a staff of 250 carefully selected and trained mediators stationed throughout the country. They are playing a significant role in assisting employers and unions to reach agreements on manpower problems and other issues related to wage rates, pensions and seniority.

COMPETITION SEVERE—While the nation is enjoying general prosperity, there are many businesses running on a marginal basis due to severe competitive conditions. Labor organizations and such groups have difficulty convincing their members they should settle for less than terms reached at more prosperous firms. These pressures are increased as unions achieve greater gains at the more profitable operations.

The most promising development in the labor relations field is that both sides are displaying an increasing tendency to experiment with new techniques to do a better bargaining job. This often takes the form of joint committees or similar study groups to calmly consider mutual problems well ahead of the deadline, crisis atmosphere.

My agency has been stepping up what we call our preventive mediation activity—a program designed specifically to help management and labor representatives precautionarily bargaining methods in an effort to remove collective bargaining from the danger area.

Naturally, there is often initial resistance to changing traditional practices. But we have had enough success in such cases to know that this experimentation is worth while.

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON, Jan. 4 (AP)—In all its history five decisions of the supreme court stand out as the great landmarks in its handling of civil rights. The last one came Dec. 21.

These decisions have been spread out over more than a century. In the course of it the court completely reversed itself, which is a reflection of the change in attitude in this country towards Negroes.

1. The Dred Scott decision of 1857. It said slaves and their descendants were not U.S. citizens.

2. The 1883 decision which said it was constitutional to protect Negroes and another in 1900 which prohibited discrimination in interstate commerce.

3. The 1954 decision banning public school segregation. This completely reversed the 1896 decision and opened the doors of American life to Negroes by declaring segregation by its very nature was unconstitutional.

4. The decision Dec. 21. This said hotels or motels or other places of public accommodation and another in interstate commerce cannot refuse to serve Negroes because they're Negroes. This threw out the decision of 1883.

5. This is a brief history of the five cases:

Slavery was already a core subject by 1820 when congress admitted Missouri as a state. Next in 1857 Monday the court upheld the constitutionality of this section—thus throwing the 1883 decision out the window. It based its opinion not on the 14th amendment as the court in 1883 did but on the commerce clause of the constitution which gives the government the power to regulate interstate commerce.

This in effect, revived that old act of 1875 which upheld the constitutionality of the 1883 decision out the window. It based its opinion not on the 14th amendment as the court in 1883 did but on the commerce clause of the constitution which gives the government the power to regulate interstate commerce.

Both were pretty limited, hardly more than beginnings. Then this past summer congress passed the civil rights act of 1964. This was far-reaching, and particularly a section which prohibited discrimination in places of public accommodation, that were involved in interstate commerce.

This in effect, revived that old act of 1875 which upheld the constitutionality of the 1883 decision out the window. It based its opinion not on the 14th amendment as the court in 1883 did but on the commerce clause of the constitution which gives the government the power to regulate interstate commerce.

Poor Man's Plato

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK, Jan. 4 (AP)—Things we'd never miss:

Smarly desk signs that say "Don't just sit there—go away." Political campaign buttons. Women political candidates who knock on our door and want to argue the merits of their candidate, when they are so full of marlinis they can't pronounce his name.

Skyscrapers who write messages in the blue that blow away before they can be read. Fat ladies who hold up snippy little dogs that snap at you.

The grumpy homeowner who won't give kids a baseball bat if they knock it into his front yard. Picnics or outdoor barbecues held after Sept. 15. Cats that turn a snooty nose to a new kind of food after you go to a lot of trouble fixing it for them.

Women over 40 who blow smoke rings through their nose. Women of any age who dangle a cigarette from their lips helplessly and therewith that old movie line, "Light me, big boy."

Wives who discuss their husbands' faults out loud while traveling on a bus.

Cocktail parties held to launch a new business product. Trick cigars. Any child over 13 who asks riddles. Letters that offer to help a fellow invest his spare cash when he already is two weeks late on meeting a bank loan payment.

So-called humorous postcards so raw you have to hide them from the kids. Dirty books that pretend to have an important message for our time. Magazines so artfully blended typography you can't tell whether you're reading an article, a piece of fiction, or an advertisement.

Testimonial dinners at $25 a plate for people you never heard of. Pictures of politicians whispering into each other's ears. Photos of men smoking cigars while holding the side of their head up with one hand in an attempt to look intellectual. Photos on book jackets or mid-die-aged or elderly lady nudes taken during their sophomore year at an Ivy league college.

People whose homes are furnished with things they got in exchange for trading stamps. Tree surgeons who charge more to cement an elm than it would cost you to have an ulcer cured.

Teachdicks who, to-o-ck, their horns to see how far a pedestrian can jump.

Stores that sell switchblade knives. People who lure you into their homes on the premise of a good time, and then show you color movies they took at the World's Fair. Ball parks that charge you 90 cents for a dime hot dog. Anybody who insists on having you look into his gaping mouth to see what his dentist did to him last week.

From all these pests, and other, dear heaven, deliver us, Amen!

Wrong Approach

The boobytrap of public office is that too many officials lose sight of the reason they're in office. It's a boobytrap that can snag the most intelligent and most faithful once they're in office, regardless if the office is elective or appointive. The basic fact is that those holding public office are SERVANTS of the public, not some sort of boss with special privileges and stature not accorded ordinary persons. Unfortunately, few officials continue to realize they are public servants or employees.

Perhaps nowhere is it more important to impress this basic fact on office holders than in the case of lawmaking bodies. Representatives and senators should be reminded constantly that they were elected to represent the majority of their constituents, whether it involves the state legislature or congress. Those who believe they "know best what's good for the people" should not continue to hold office. They're elected to represent the people, not boss them or lead them.

An example of the wrong approach to being a congressman is illustrated by a letter mailed out by Ralph Harding as he was preparing to end his tenure in the house of representatives. He wrote, "I have voted my convictions, spoken my convictions and worked tirelessly and honestly to build a more prosperous Idaho, a stronger America and a better world." Lofty thoughts, certainly, but the key word is "my." Instead of voting "my convictions" Mr. Harding would have done much better to vote the convictions and desires of southern Idaho taxpayers who elected him to represent them in congress.

Admittedly, it's sometimes difficult for a member of congress to ascertain just what is wanted by the folks back home. Public opinion can be difficult to pinpoint without expensive surveys, and far too few citizens and taxpayers ever bother to keep their representatives and senators informed of their thoughts. In the absence of knowing what's wanted by his constituents, a congressman has no other course except to vote his own convictions.

ECONOMIC CLUB

Many Americans would like to see their country swing a more effective economic club among nations making a game out of belittling, baiting or battling the U. S. Many share the general feeling that the U. S. is entitled to a little more respect in return for the billions being spent throughout the world every year. Unfortunately, it's sometimes impossible to swing the economic club. Even more unfortunately, it's contrary to human nature to entertain any great respect for a benefactor, especially if there are any strings attached to funds or other contributions.

One place the U. S. has been able to impress a nation with its economic importance is Panama. However, the impressing has come more in the form of an unspoken threat than in any positive action. Following the Panama riots of a year ago, some 600 U. S. families fled Panama and not all have returned. It's enough to precipitate a depression for Panama.

Now the U. S. has announced it is studying plans for a new canal across the isthmus. The new waterway, scheduled to be a sea level installation devoid of the traditional locks, would make the present Panama canal obsolete. The U. S. is investigating several possible routes for the new canal, suddenly bringing the realization to Panama that the presence of Americans in the Canal Zone all these years has been a big boost to the economy. Panamanians are likely to be on their good behavior—at least so long as the route of the new canal hasn't been selected.

The same factors that resulted in the choice of the site for the present Panama canal probably will dictate the site for a new canal. It's just a matter of the shortest route. Panama isn't likely to put all its faith in the topography, however. If anti-American riots were to become a way of life in Panama, the U. S. might reason it would be cheaper in the long run to select a different route.

The Panama case is a special situation. Seldom does the U. S. have the benefit or normal developments working for this country. In far too many cases, the U. S. state department watches communism with one eye while the other eye is being blackened by local rioters—probably with the blessing and guidance of local communists. The nation has taken many a beating while still trying to keep one eye on containment of communism. It's a political goal that does not permit the taking of retaliatory action or the satisfaction that could come from swinging the economic club is available.

Views of Others

THE PRODUCTION EXPLOSION
For some time a production explosion has been propelling most of the western nations towards unprecedented prosperity. But it is becoming apparent that this expansion is not unaccompanied by difficulties. For Americans, it is manifesting itself most clearly in the weary work of the Kennedy round of tariff cutting.

For Europeans, the production explosion is most manifest in agriculture. As happened earlier in the United States, the increased use of machinery, fertilizers and hybrids is reducing per-acre yields in rural areas and also building up crop surpluses.

The expansion of industrial production has been even more sensational. So far it has been rather effectively absorbed by creating a continent-wide market similar to that of the United States. This has so stimulated demand that Common Market imports are considerably higher than exports. But the result is a growing threat of inflation.

The situation is not as serious as in Britain where the new labor government has had to impose a 15 per cent surcharge on imports. So far, the Europeans have managed to control their situation by fiscal management rather than by limitations on trade.

But they are not free traders in the classical sense. They do not count on "the invisible hand" to adjust their economy, nor are they willing to let the device of free trade recognize governmental responsibility for the general welfare. Yet in this relatively altruistic outlook there is a temptation to fall back on a narrow view of self-interest.

European businessmen are not less eager than Americans to maintain an advantage. But the Common Market experts have had the ingenuity to overcome the immediate, short-range losses involved in tariff cutting. Yet the substantial disparities between European and American tariffs have caused the Europeans to take exception to our proposal of a 50 per cent increase in tariff cut in our not out of the question, especially if artificial price factors are eliminated in the manner that the Europeans are adjusting their agricultural prices by harmonizing agricultural subsidies. Such adjustments are not the result of a sweeping proposal, but of economic statecraft.

So it seems unlikely that the production explosion will drive the Europeans back to protectionism. However beneficial that might be in some instances, it would check the rise in European living standards and they are not yet nearly as high as in the United States. The true solution to the problem of enhanced production still is an enlarged market.

Of course, it is unreasonable to expect surplus producers to buy from each other. For example, the United States hardly will find a market for wheat in France or vice versa. Both must find a broader market in which their surplus grain is needed. And such a market—for wheat and every other commodity—exists, especially in the less developed countries. The world's grain market is a vast, unexploited one. Demand in the home markets also must be stimulated by an unimpaired increase in purchasing power. The production explosion will be a cause for worry only so long as outlets are not enlarged. That is the fundamental task of the tariff negotiators. St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

VIETNAM MILITARY

By HENRY J. TAYLOR
On New Year's day Fidel Castro began his seventh year of Cuban tyranny.

His millions celebrated the season by driving 24 underground heroes into his electrified barbed-wire wife on the Isle of Pines and hanging their bodies on butcher's meat hooks as cruel as any in Hitler's Plötzensee prison.

But, blessings be upon the oppressed, their fight in spite of every conceivable discouragement—much of it from the government of the United States.

Information continues, too, from impeccable underground sources inside Cuba. As this column has reported (and utilized) many times, Cuban freedom fighters have heavily penetrated Castro's top echelon and operate within the cabal at the risk of their lives. Honor the brave.

The Cuban underground code for Castro remains "bola de churro" (dirty ball of grease). Certainly our public hardly realizes the scope of this stealthy ball's bounce as 1962 began. He told us about Cheddi B. Jagan in nearby British Guiana. The terrorists' 1964 record there has been: sugar cane arson, 139 cars; 1,445 homes and stores burned; 220 bombs thrown into street cars, movies and crowds; 660 shootings and 326 clashes that killed helpless men and women as coldly as panthers in the night.

In South Viet Nam—a Viet Cong battalion named for Fidel Castro fights against us. Another Red battalion is named after the Bay of Pigs. This announcement was made in Havana to the Cuban people by Melba Hernandez, chairman of the Cuban committee for Viet Nam solidarity.

We've hardly heard of "Peking Polly" and "Hanoi Hannah." But these Asian radio propagandists hiss at our American personnel in South Viet Nam like an adder. That his is relayed now for all Cuban ears through Castro's giant radio station on Cuba's Cape Breton peninsula.

After parroting the Soviet line at the current United Nations session, No. 2 Castroite Ernesto (Che) Guevara promptly visited co-conspirator Ben Bella in Algeria, confirming again this famous Castro connection—the same Ben Bella who flew to Havana to taunt America on the very day President Kennedy greeted the North African sultan at the White House said, "Mr. Erlme Minister, we are proud to have you here."

Farther south in Africa, Ghanaian Kwame Nkrumah announced on every provocation his "deba of leadership" to his hero of Africa, Fidel Castro.

To the African southeast, Castro milliamen train nature guerrillas in newly-founded Bantuville, a Sino-Soviet outpost bordering the Congo. The Sino-Soviet massacres were mounted in Burundi and these instructions were present.

Then there is Castro's connection with Zanzibar terrorist Abdul Karim Nuroli, who was expelled from Moscow's Patrice Lumumba university, put a gun in the back of American ambassador Frederick P. Picard and drove him off to Tanganyika on the mainland.

We know the name Mafia, but Mafia is also the name of a band in the Zanzibar group today, it's a headquarters for two terrorist leaders in East Africa with the Red connection. A new wireless station connects Mafia with Cape Breton. The traffic averages three hours a night as Castro's Guevara Red brother Raul (underground name: Pussycat) is the big command. His hair—now unproofed—is in downtown Geneva.

Meanwhile, the pressure on Castro to serve his Sino-Soviet masters mounts steadily. I have an estimate by the Bank for International Settlements in Basel, Switzerland, confirming how heavily the bearded tyrant is hooked to the U.S.S.R. Its satellites and Red China are more than a few approaches to a million dollars.

The gist of this is the low price he gets for sugar and beef payment for petroleum, gas, machinery and vehicles over beyond military gifts.

But the Kremlin allows Castro no spare parts. Russia—rather these to him—at an added high cost—exactly as it rationed spare parts to Mao Tse-tung.

Che Guevara, heaven forbid, did not mention this Soviet aid to Cuba in his Danone interview here. But it accounts for his cryptic reference to Cuba wanting "repair parts" from the United States.

However, the shocking fact is that Castro is already getting Mexico, where his relations in Main Good, although every other important Latin-American country has broken with him and repudiated what Castro represents.

The Doctor Says

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
The real tragedy of mental retardation is that many persons apparently have taken an attitude of hopelessness and written off retarded children as a total loss. It is estimated that there are over 5 million such children in the United States, and that over 100,000 new cases are added annually.

Thanks to the National Association for Retarded Children and a few doctors who might be called "retardologists," there is a brighter future for many of these unfortunate.

The first roadblock that had to be cleared was to discover and classify the causes of mental retardation and separate them from those that could be improved and those that are truly hopeless.

This was a job that required both dedication and patience. In the past 10 years the effort has begun to pay off.

Every normal parent wants for his child the highest achievement of which the child is capable. If the parents of even a severely retarded child can be assured that the child with proper treatment can be toilet-trained and learn to dress and feed himself, they will have much to be thankful for.

Brain damage can occur during pregnancy, during delivery or at any time after birth. The physical causes of mental retardation are many. Some are inherited, some are due to birth injuries, especially those associated with prolonged labor or forceps delivery may cause retardation.

A woman exposed to German measles in the first three months of pregnancy should be given immune gamma globulin, regardless of whether she has had German measles or not.

Any woman who is pregnant should avoid all drugs unless they are prescribed by her doctor who knows that she is pregnant.

She should avoid all exposure to X-rays except in a true emergency, and even then her abdomen should be shielded.

If an incompatibility exists between her and her husband's blood, preparations should be made to give the baby blood transfusion at birth if required. Steps should be taken to insure delivery should be taken.

These include cutting out cigarettes during pregnancy or at least cutting down to less than half pack a day.

Other measures, when too early a delivery threatens, include rest, a diet high in calcium, vitamins and vitamins, and in some cases treatment with hormones.

HAND WOULD BAFFLE EXPERTS
A lady from North Burnaby, British Columbia, writes, "It looked as if we had enough points for a small slam but we couldn't even make five clubs. We would have made three trumps so where did we go wrong?"

The answer is that they went wrong when they dealt North all those nice cards and didn't give South any way to get to use them. It is my considered opinion that if any expert pair in the world picked up those North-South cards—they would trump their way well beyond three trumps and probably all the way to six clubs or six diamonds.

Incidentally, since you can see all the cards, you should note that there is no defense against five clubs and that unless a heart is opened by West there is no defense against six clubs.

Assume a spade opening. As South need to is to draw trumps lay down the ace of diamonds and the queen of hearts and East takes his cue. It will lead to a spade or heart and South will discard four diamonds on the good major-suit cards and dummy.

Assume a heart opening. As a spade return: South plays rounds of trumps and the ace of diamonds and then leads a deuce of trumps in order to force East into the lead. East will give two tricks, but will have to give South the rest.

CRISIS Disastrous world economic chaos, sparked by Britain's financial crisis, was averted by quick short-term loans of $2 billion from the U.S. and $1 billion from the International Monetary Fund. U.S. interests are inescapably entwined with Britain's, to Johnson must keep an eye on our historic No. 1 ally.

FRANCE De Gaulle's continued transience over multi-nation nuclear force and antagonism to U.S. leadership threatens unity of NATO nations.

RED CHINA Problems for U.S. are China's entry into world's "nuclear club," its militant, aggressive policy in promoting Mao as communist world's leader, its heavy infiltration and subversive activity in Africa and Cuba, its thrust for U.N. membership, and possible policies of any successor to aging, infirm Mao Tse-tung.

RUSSIA Present and possible future Kremlin leadership and whether it adheres to or departs from "peaceful co-existence" policy is of major concern to the Johnson administration and Congress.

VIETNAM Johnson's No. 1 foreign policy headache. He must decide whether to continue on present downhill road, increase our participation in war against Viet Cong Reds or pull U.S. out completely, with consequent loss of U.S. prestige.

CUBA Despite his domestic troubles, Castro works zealously to infect Latin America with his communism, thus jeopardizing the entire hemisphere. U.S. counters with the Alliance for Progress, but Johnson must find means to bolster that faltering organization.

CONGO America directly involved in civil war by U.S. Belgian-aided rebels, which prompted sharp anti-U.S. attacks by other African and communist-bloc nations.

CYPRUS Only presence of U.N. peace-keeping forces restrains hostile Turkish and Greek Cypriots. Situation potentially explosive. U.S. interests are involved because Turkey and Greece are our NATO allies.

INDONESIA Attacks on British-protected Malaya, Sukarno's outspoken anti-Americanism plus government's alleged sale of U.S. installations add up to a trouble spot for Johnson and advisors.

LATIN AMERICA President Kennedy declared that no region on earth is more important to the U.S. than Latin America. Its significance goes far beyond the threat of communism. U.S. economic interests there are enormous. One-third of all exports of all Latin countries, one-third of U.S. imports come from there and one-third of U.S. exports go there. Latin America has had increasing influence on U.S. life. Its present social and economic ferment must be calmed by developments inspired by the U.S.

WESTERN EUROPE The economic crisis in Europe is a major concern to the Johnson administration. U.S. interests are inescapably entwined with Europe's, to Johnson must keep an eye on our historic No. 1 ally.

AS THE NEW YEAR gets under way, trouble spots erupt on the face of the world like a case of international smallpox. As leader of the world's leading nation, President Johnson and his advisers must summon all their initiative, energies and wisdom to cope with them. The widely scattered type boxes on newspaper above underline the inescapable fact of life in 1965—that new things can happen anywhere in the world without affecting the national interests of the U.S.; in his first "on his own" year, the President faces the task of protecting those interests.

Glenn Retires From Marines

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4 (AP)—Astronaut John H. Glenn retired from the Marine Corps today as a colonel, apparently recovered from an inner ear injury he received last summer.

Glenn, first American to orbit the earth, was to receive formal retirement papers at 9 a. m. EST from Gen. Wallace M. Greene, Jr., commandant of the Marine Corps. Marine Corps spokesman said a physical examination taken by Glenn at Ft. Ross, Calif., last month indicated he is in good shape. He was permitted to resume flying after the examination.

In retirement, Glenn will receive a pension of approximately $500 a month, plus a salary reported to be between $30,000 and $40,000 a year as an executive for the Royal Crown Cola Company.

Military Personnel Rap Suggestion Of Closing Honolulu Recreation Resort

HONOLULU, Jan. 4 (AP)—The government accounting office has suggested that if the army can't spare a mountain recreation resort for servicemen in Hawaii at a less cost, it should close it. This would leave, in effect, only one major recreation area in the state for the 120,000 military people and their families who are stationed here. It evoked severe though off the record criticism from officers and enlisted men. "If they take much more away from us, we'll have nothing left to be taken," was a comment typical of many. Most Hawaiians took only an academic interest in the recent GAO assertion that the Kilauea resort and recreation area on Hawaii island, 200 miles southwest of Honolulu, went in the red by $850,000 in 1963. But the controversy brought to mind another military facility that has aroused state officials and private individuals over the past few years. It's Ft. de Russy in Waikiki. Rumors were revived about the state or private industry taking over this area, and grumbles from officers and enlisted men began from Schofield barracks to Pearl Harbor.

Popular opinion is that sunny Hawaii is a desired station for members of the armed services. This may be true for upper echelon officers, whose pay is reasonable, whose housing is generally good and whose on-base recreation facilities are excellent. But for the young soldier, some insist, only Korea is worse—and it is designated as a hardship post. Many young officers say they'd take Seoul or Saigon to Schofield. When the military got a pay boost last year, servicemen here lost their overseas allowance. That just about took care of the pay raise for Hawaii-based GIs. Civilian landlords boosted rents for many servicemen living off base because of the publicized pay increase. That made the average enlisted man worse off than before. One of the main complaints, however, is not being able to budget their pay to Hawaii's high prices. The single men see Ft. de Russy, particularly, as an off-base area with maximum facilities and entertainment they can't get at Schofield. Kilauea, an excellent vacation spot, operating at low weekly rates, to which they can take their families. Ft. de Russy, bounded by multimillion-dollar hotels, boasts one of Waikiki's best swimming areas. The 72-acre beachfront area is worth 78 million dollars. There, servicemen can buy a hamburger for a quarter, get a bed for 30 cents a night, and sunbathe a stone's throw from one of the most popular tourist spots in the world.

Gas Tanks Overturned In Derailment

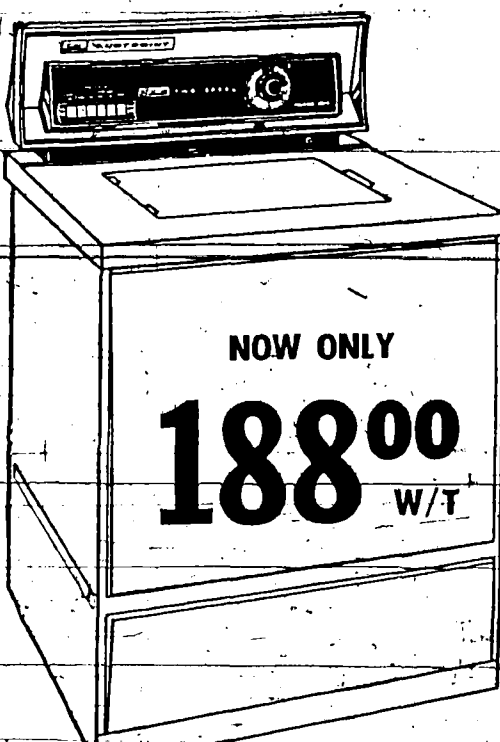

By The Associated Press
Loaded propane gas tanks were overturned in populated areas Sunday in two derailments of the Boston and Maine railroad at Dover, N.H., and Hoosick Falls, N.Y. There was no fire or explosion, but both communities experienced tense hours as the tanks were surrounded by fire-fighting equipment and inspected. Two tank cars, containing about 40,000 gallons of the gas, overturned in a business-residential district of Dover, 300 feet from a church where services were being held. A 30,000-gallon tank car was one of eight cars derailed at Hoosick Falls near a number of homes and only a few feet away from large fuel-oil and gasoline storage tanks. The homes were evacuated until inspection showed no leak in the tank. Now Many Wear FALSE TEETH With More Comfort FASTEETH, a pleasant alkaline (iron-acid) powder, holds false teeth more firmly. To eat and talk in more comfort, just sprinkle a little FASTEETH on your plates. No itching, no sticky taste or feeling. Check "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FASTEETH at any drug counter. Space Agency Gives Grants On Research

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4 (AP)—The national aeronautics and space administration (NASA) announced today it has awarded research grants and contracts totaling 1.02 million dollars to a group of universities, colleges and private institutions.

Some of the grants are to continue work already begun and some are to start new projects, NASA said.

A breakdown:

University of Illinois, Urbana—$100,000 for a study of electron density and collision frequency; $110,000 for investigation of regions of the ionosphere of ground and rocket methods.

University of Michigan, Ann Arbor—$44,200 for a study of the utilization of scientific findings from organizational behavior research.

Purdue University, West Lafayette, Ind.—$32,804 to begin a study on effect of water properties in thixotropic clay systems; on biological activity.

Lit research institute, Chicago—$100,338 to continue to evaluate and help prepare for dissemination of NASA technological developments which have non-space applications.

Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Cambridge—$126,370 for theoretical and experimental optimum guidance, navigation, and control system for long term earth-orbiting and interplanetary spacecraft.

Boston University, Boston—$1,824 to set up a workshop on ways in which schools can help meet the manpower needs for government space programs.

Northeastern University, Boston—$12,380 for theoretical study of antenna problems in radio astronomy.

University of Pennsylvania, Philadelphia—$40,000 to begin investigation of aerospace-related microwave technology.

University of Pennsylvania, Philadelphia—$23,865 for spectral studies of the solar chromosphere at the May, 1965 total solar eclipse.

Federation of American Societies for Experimental Biology, Washington, D. C.—$40,000 to prepare a handbook on environmental biology.

University of Rochester, Rochester, N. Y.—$138,441 for experimental techniques for remote sampling of extraterrestrial life.

McGill University, Montreal, Canada—$27,810 to determine the feasibility of identifying geographical features from Thros satellite and recovered rocket capsule photographs.

University of California, Berkeley—$140,618 for primate hemodynamics and metabolism under conditions of weightlessness, for the purpose of defining and verifying an experiment suitable for use in a biosatellite.

Doorkeeper's Nightmare Posed by New Congressmen

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4 (AP)—The 89th session of congress features 61 new faces in the house of representatives—a doorkeeper's nightmare.

The new lawmakers range from a just-old-enough-to-qualify representative to a Japanese housewife.

But for the harried doorkeeper there will be at least some shortcuts in the game of matching faces and names. One new lawmaker has a famous name. Another favors flamboyant vests.

There is a sample of what the house employees have to digest on a priority basis:

One new member, Rep. Jed Johnson Jr., D., Okla., is so young he might be mistaken for a page. Johnson, son of a former member who died last year, actually was a house page, and not too long ago. He comes to congress just a month after he turned 18.

Rep. William R. Anderson, D., Tenn., takes the sixth district seat of Ross Bass who now is a senator. It is assumed he will establish among other congressional statements a reputation for a calm, unruffled disposition, no matter how rough the legislative weather becomes. With any other temperament he never would have made it as a submariner in World War II and later as skipper of the Nautilus, the first atomic submarine.

Rep. Patsy Takemoto Mink, D., Hawaii, established several "firsts" in her election. She is the first woman of Oriental ancestry (Japanese) to serve in congress, the first woman to represent Hawaii here, and the first and so far only new female to be elected to the 89th congress.

Body Heat From Dog Saves Couple

CAMPBELL RIVER, B. C., Jan. 4 (AP)—The body heat from a pet dog was credited today with saving the lives of a couple whose automobile was marooned three and a half days in deep snow on a Vancouver Island logging road.

"We would have frozen to death if it hadn't been for the warmth from our dog Sam's body," said logger Tom Hall, 43, after he and his wife Muriel were rescued. "My wife and I cuddled under a blanket with our bodies up against Sam."

The couple left their New Year's eve for an 80-mile drive to a logging camp at Vernon Lake. After traveling about 13 miles, their car broke down. There were only six inches of snow on the ground at the time, but by morning the car was marooned in six feet of drifted snow.

The Halls were rescued yesterday by a snowmobile and a Royal Canadian air force helicopter which were searching the snow-clogged road. They were examined at a hospital and pronounced in "excellent" condition.

The Halls said they had only a garlic ring, a jar of pigs feet and a piece of cheese to eat.

Sam, a cross between a German shepherd and a boxer, got a quart of milk (he won't drink water) and some dry food, Hall said.

Railroad Worker Injured in Fall

KING HILL, Jan. 4—Rosal Walker, employe of the Union Pacific railroad bridge builders gang was badly injured Friday when he fell from a catwalk while working on the railroad bridge at Clover creek one mile east of King Hill.

He was taken to the Gooding Memorial hospital and later transferred to the Valley Memorial hospital, Twin Falls.

The bridge is being repaired after being washed out by recent floods.

Man Gives $100 to First Namesake, Three Qualify

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Jan. 4 (AP)—Each year Kenneth Albert Miller gives about $100 in coins to the first New Year's day baby named Kenneth born in the Louisville area. This year he gets three for his money.

It all started because Miller, 61, a supper club host, got a handful of Indian head pennies in change in 1943. He said the pennies started him saving change and at the end of that year he had a gallon jar of coins. He decided to give the coins to the first baby named Kenneth born each year in this area.

Miller will present three gallon jars of coins to Kenneth Patrick McDaniell, Kenneth Chad Lindley and Kennetha Gale Howlett. Each jar contains about $100, he said today.

The McDaniell youngster was born at one second after midnight at a Louisville hospital to Mr. and Mrs. Thomas McDaniell; the Lindley child came one second later at a New Albany, Ind., hospital, to Mr. and Mrs. Lette Lindley. And the Howlett girl was born at 4:50 a.m. at a Louisville hospital to Mr. and Mrs. William Howlett.

FARMING

By Dr. Ernest D. Paul, D. C.

Farming is one occupation which is truly dangerous when one considers the many odd jobs a farmer performs daily. He is constantly dealing with tractors, motors, diggers, hobs, knives, pickers and other machinery. A farmer is often injured while handling animals.

Modern farming exerts a terrific strain upon the bodies and spines of farmers. Most of the machinery is pulled by the tractor so the farmer must constantly keep his head and neck cramped to make necessary adjustments while plowing, digging, swathing, etc.

Chiropractic adjustments help farmers to adapt to these conditions.

One of a series of articles published in the public interest to explain the practice of scientific Chiropractic written by Dr. Ernest D. Paul or Dr. Ethel O. Paul whose offices are located at 717 Main Ave. W. By appointment only. Tel. 733-6522. Adv.

No Effects Produced by Aide's Letters

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4 (AP)—Dean Burch's plea in letters to all 150 members of the Republican national committee that he can remain on as chair—has not been allowed to have produced any change of heart.

He wrote for him before he heard from him they still are against him, an Associated Press survey indicated. Burch's argument was rejected by the committee members written by Goldwater, the 1964 GOP presidential candidate who picked Burch for the job.

Goldwater had said firing Burch would be "a repudiation of me" and "those Republicans who have supported me and the principles for which I stood."

Similarly, Burch said his resignation has been urged on the grounds that he is a symbol of the "conservative faction" of the Republican party of all those voters who identified themselves with responsible conservative Republicanism.

Several of those commenting in the AP survey noted that no other candidate for the job was on the horizon and that "personalities" were involved.

Said California committee-woman Ann Bowler: "I'd already told Dean Burch, I don't see why any one man should be made the scapegoat."

T. Babcock Is Sworn in As Governor

HELENA, Mont., Jan. 4 (UPI)—A Republican administration and legislative assembly controlled by Democrats took office today, as party divisions on fiscal matters began to crystallize.

Gov. Tim Babcock was sworn in for his first full term as Montana's 15th governor. He is the sixth Republican to hold the office.

At noon, the 150 members of the 59th Montana legislative assembly began a scheduled 60-day session. The house is controlled 56-38 by Democrats, and they control the senate 32-24.

Money and where to get it is the chief issue before the 1965 assembly. Babcock has proposed extension of three-cent tax on cigarettes as one source of revenue to finance new construction at state institutions, particularly the University of Montana.

A United Press International poll among the legislators showed they are sharply divided according to parties on the issue of new revenues.

The day of ceremonies in the capitol began with the inauguration at 10 a. m. Taking office with Babcock was Lieut. Gov. Ted James, also a Republican.

9 a.m. mass. Among the dead was the officiating priest, Rijo, a village of 5,000, is about 80 miles southeast of Puebla, Mexico. (AP wirephoto)

Babcock planned no formal inauguration address. In the evening, members of the administration and their wives were to hold a public reception in the capitol.

U.S. Economy Outlook Listed

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4 (AP)—A lift from the tax cut," was how one highly placed analyst put it. Although the tax cuts' final installment goes into effect in 1965, the withholding rate on wage earners fell the full distance last spring.

This kind of an outlook, they hasten to add, makes it doubtful that unemployment rolls will be reduced much during the coming year.

Their assessment is popular among government analysts outside the White House too, although some do not rule out the possibility of either a boom or a recession.

Overall, there is less certainty about the business picture than there was a year ago when the chief question was how far the economy would advance after the tax cut.

Johnson's council of economic advisers is making its plans on the assumption that U.S. production will grow about four per cent in 1965 compared to about five per cent in 1964.

Clinton Anderson, a U.S. deputy secretary in charge of the "excellent" but not one that has us jumping for joy," he said a four per cent growth is not enough to reduce unemployment, eat into unused plant capacity or expand business profits.

Consumers may have taken on about as much installment debt as they can stand, he said. If the saturation point has been reached, many consumers may decide not to buy that new-car washing machine.

A commerce department source expressed a similar worry when he said the "big problem in 1965 will be maintaining enough demand" to prevent a rise in unemployment. Since it will be smaller, the excise tax cut cannot be expected to prevent the summer drive of stimulus as last spring.

A more bullish picture was painted by one observer on edge for him. According to James W. Knowles, executive director of the joint economic committee, the income tax cut still has plenty of steam left.

Whatever happens to the economy in the year ahead, the possibility of a recession, "There's no recession in sight," said one official.

Religious Writers List Mass In English as Top '64 Story

BUFFALO, N.Y., Jan. 4—Religious news to the United States and Canadian press associations and newspapers, Vatican Council developments also dominated the next three stories selected.

The religious liberty issue at the Vatican council, marked by Pope Paul's rejection of the plea for liberal bishops for a vote at the 1964 session, drew 167 points.

Tied for third at 157 points were the declaration of Jews, absolving them of the death of Jesus; the deicide charge and collegiality, the concept of bishops sharing in the government of the church.

The Vatican council birth control debate was fourth with 133 points.

The longest papal journey—the Pope's flying visit to India—won fifth place with 130 points.

Other leading dispatches were:

6—Participation of churches in the U.S. civil rights movement, 106 points.

7—The Vatican council's decision on Christian unity, permitting Roman Catholics to pray and worship with other Christians in certain specified circumstances, 74 points.

8—Virtual tie between allowing mature married men to serve the Roman Catholic church as deacons, 56 points, and award of the Nobel Peace Prize to Negro civil rights leader Dr. Martin Luther King, 54 points.

9—Massacre of Dr. Paul Carlson and other Christian missionaries by Congo rebels in Africa, 48 points.

10—Triple tie: Setback to the Protestant union, 37 points; Pope's visit to the Holy land, 36; churches' involvement in the U.S. presidential campaign, especially mainline Protestants' opposition to Sen. Barry Goldwater and his extremist supporters, 35.

Fires in U. S. During 1964 Below Record

BOSTON, Jan. 4—Some 11,000 persons were killed in fires across the nation in 1964, an increase of about 100 over the previous year, but below the record of 12,100 fire deaths in 1954, the National Fire Association reported today.

Property destroyed by fire in 1964 totaled 1.875 billion dollars, a drop of about 113.1 million dollars from the previous year's record high, the association said.

Almost 30 per cent of all fire victims, some 3,000, were children, and of this total figure, about 5,500 fire deaths occurred in homes—an increase of 80 per cent over the 1963 figure.

The worst single U.S. fire tragedy in 1964, the report said, was the inflight fire causing the crash of an airliner near Newport, Tenn., last July 9 in which 39 persons died.

The report noted that 20 elderly persons living in a Fountain-town, Md., nursing home perished in a fire Dec. 18. In that fire the nursing home was not protected by automatic sprinklers and the home was remote from any fire department, the association said.

On May 23, 17 persons attending a social event in a San Francisco church were killed when a fire started on stage and spread rapidly through a packed hall.

The largest single property loss fire of 1964 occurred at Walker air force base, N.M., on Feb. 13 and again on March 9 when fire and explosions destroyed missile launch facilities causing loss estimated at 11.5 million dollars in each case, the report said.

The association noted, however, that the Dec. 15 Newman Marcus fire in Dallas may exceed the New Mexico fire damage. Tentative estimates in the Dallas fire place loss between eight million and 12 million dollars, the association said.

Of the total property loss figure, 1.347 billion dollars represents damage to buildings and contents—a decrease of about 61.5 million dollars from the previous year. Nonbuilding fires such as those involving aircraft, ships or motor vehicles and forest fires totaled 328 million dollars—a decline of 51.6 million dollars over 1963.

Prince Works In London Bank

LONDON, Jan. 4—Prince William of Gloucester, a 23-year-old cousin of Queen Elizabeth, went to work today as a 40-a-week bank trainee. It was the first time in the long history of the British throne that a royal prince had ever taken a commercial job.

Prince William is ninth in line for the crown.

The tradition that princes of the blood royal do not engage in trade is older than the Norman conquest.

They are supposed to devote themselves to "public duties"—opening fairs, laying cornerstones, launching ships and serving as figureheads for innumerable civil and charitable organizations.

"State of the Union, 1965," (Special, 7 p.m., NBC, CBS, ABC)—President Lyndon B. Johnson breaks tradition by delivering his State of the Union address before an unusual night session of congress. The speech, which will climax the first day of the 86th congress, will outline the President's legislative program, the new budget, the war on poverty and plans to carry out the civil rights act. If time permits, the networks are expected to have some commentary on the speech.

"The Andy Williams Show," (Color, 8 p.m., NBC)—Lawrence Welk and comic Milton Berle are guests tonight.

"The Alfred Hitchcock Hour," (9 p.m., NBC)—Barbara Barrie is cast as a young doctor who lives a nightmare in a world without men after an experimental injection of a drug.

BEST MONDAY NIGHT MOVIES

"As Young as You Feel," (1951) Thelma Ritter, David Wayne, Jean Peters and Monte Woolley (10:30 p.m., KSL)—Fair comedy about an elderly worker who disguises himself as a company president to get out of retiring at 65.

"The First Time," (1952) Robert Cummings and Barbara Hale (10:30 p.m., KCPX)—Fast and funny comedy dealing with the financial woes of a newly married couple. Cummings is excellent as the male in the middle.

NFL Plans No Discipline for Early Signings

The National Football League will not take any disciplinary action against the Minnesota Vikings for signing three Oklahoma football players before the Gator Bowl game. The Associated Press learned Sunday. At the same time, however, the double signing of Oklahoma tackle Ralph Neely threatened to bring the National and American football leagues into the courts for the first legal skirmish over a college player since the AFL entered the bidding war in 1960.

Neely, who signed with the Houston Oilers of the AFL before the Gator Bowl game and with Dallas of the NFL after it, became the center of a swirling controversy last weekend that also involved three other Sooners—fullback Jim Grisham, receiver Lance Rentzel and end Wes Skidgel.

Grisham, Rentzel and Skidgel all signed with the Vikings before the Gator Bowl clash against Florida State and were banned, along with Neely, from numerous college officials. The AP has learned that the NFL will not take any action against the Vikings but will send representatives to the NCAA meeting starting in Chicago next Sunday—presumably to try and spell out a workable solution with the college.

Meanwhile, neither NFL Commissioner Pete Rozelle nor AFL chief Joe Foy made statements on the premature signings.

But it was becoming apparent that not since the celebrated cases involving Billy Cannon, Jimmy Robinson and Charlie Flowers before the AFL's first season of play have the two leagues seemed closer to having their multi-million dollar battle for player services spill over into the courts.

St. (Bud) Adams, owner of the Oilers, indicated Saturday night he may take legal steps to prevent Neely from playing with the Cowboys of the NFL.

"He already accepted a full-time job for four years and I've got a letter agreeing to it," said Adams. "I can't get out of that any more than he can get out of our contract."

"We consider our contract the only legal contract with Neely," said Cowboys' General Manager Tom Sohramm. "Any other papers that might have been signed are not considered legal."

Neely's case follows the double signing of Georgia's All-America tackle, Jim Wilson, who signed with Boston of the AFL and the NFL's San Francisco 49ers.

The two leagues have avoided court confrontations since before the 1960 season when Cannon and Robinson of LSU and Flowers of Mississippi signed duplicate contracts.

The AFL won all three cases. Cannon was awarded to Houston instead of Los Angeles, Robinson went to Dallas (now Texas City) instead of Detroit and Flowers played for Los Angeles (now San Diego) instead of the New York Giants.

There have been double signings since, but all were settled on the basis of earliest signature. The only one last year involved Arizona State halfback Tony Lorick, signed by Baltimore of the NFL and Oakland. Lorick went on to play for the Colts.

Neely, Grisham Dropped From Hula Bowl Roster

HONOLULU, Jan. 4 (AP)—Oklahoma football players Ralph Neely and Jim Grisham—banned from the Gator Bowl Saturday because they signed pro contracts—also have been dropped from the Hula Bowl roster.

Walter (Buster) McGuire, managing director of the Hula Bowl, announced Saturday night that Neely and Grisham were informed they cannot play in Friday's game in Honolulu. At first it was believed they would play.

A telegram was sent to both players, who reportedly were in San Francisco, notifying them of the decision.

Aussie Net Duo Revenges Loss

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Jan. 4 (AP)—The Australian team of John Cooper and Kay Ruffels reversed an Orange Bowl tournament doubles loss to the United States and captured the Sunshine cup Sunday, 3-1.

Their 6-3, 5-7, 6-1 doubles triumph came after the teams had split singles matches. It gave the Aussies the Sunshine title for the first time. The U.S. was represented by Bill Harris of West Palm Beach and Stan Smith, national junior champion from Pasadena, Calif., was seeking its fourth crown.

In singles matches Cooper topped Smith 3-6, 6-3, 6-4 and Harris defeated Ruffels 3-6, 6-2, 6-2.

Russell, Bradley Head All-Tourney Team; Dove Rates Strack's Praise

NEW YORK, Jan. 4 (AP)—Princeton's Bill Bradley and Michigan's Cazzie Russell were unanimous choices to the all-tourney team named Sunday for the Madison Square garden holiday festival basketball tournament.

But the man Michigan Coach Dave Strack wanted to talk about was Sonny Dove. St. John's sophomore center who was the central figure in the biggest upset of the tourney, the Red-men's 75-54 triumph over Michigan in the tourney finals.

Bradley, who led all scorers with 110 points, was named the most valuable player. He had 33 points in Princeton's 71-69 loss to Cincinnati in the game for third place.

Dove, a 6-foot, 7-inch jumping jack, finished with 23 points and 18 rebounds, plus leading the final charge that brought St. John's back from a 16-point deficit midway through the last half.

He was named on all but one ballot in the voting by the eight coaches participating in the tourney. In addition to Bradley and Russell, Michigan's Bill Buntin and Syracuse's Dave Bing were selected.

On the second team were Jerry Houston and Bob McIntyre of St. John's, Roland West of Cincinnati, Curt Forman of LaSalle and Larry Tregoning of Michigan.

Michigan went into the final game with an 8-1 record and the No. 1 spot in the national rankings. For the first 30 minutes the Wolverines appeared to be living up to those credentials, steadily moving out to a 68-52 advantage with less than 10 minutes to go.

"We were playing our best game of the tourney," Strack said. "We were taking the place to them and we thought we had full command."

Then St. John's went into a press and I thought we'd gobble them up. But their press was effective, they had some good rebounding and the momentum was turned around. The Wolverines were 18-3 over that stretch, trying to get a Ken McIntyre jumper with 3:30 to go.

St. John's went ahead 60-54 when Jerry Houston scored off a drive for a 74-72 margin, then McIntyre later hit a free throw. George Pomey tipped one in the Michigan, but it was the Wolverines' last look in.

It was only St. John's second victory in 11 tourney appearances and was particularly pleasing to coach Joe Lapchick, who is retiring at the end of the season.

LaSalle edged Syracuse 73-70 in overtime in the opener of the Saturday tripleheader for fifth place. The windup attracted a sellout 18,499 crowd, pushing total attendance to a record 73,260.

MacGregor sandwiched his 11th and 12th goals of the season, a NHL high, around Martin's first goal in 11 games as the Wings grabbed a 3-0, first period lead.

It easily could have been twice that as the Wings pumped 22 shots at Johnston while Boston could get only three at Detroit goalie Roger Crozier.

Tom Williams scored his fifth of the season from a sharp angle at the side of the net at 5:27 of the second period.

But the Wings took off again, this time with Ullman scoring his 17th and 18th—running his consecutive game scoring streak to five.

Alabama was rated No. 1 in the nation after completing its regular 10-game schedule unbeaten and untied. Texas upset the Crimson Tide 21-17 in Miami's Orange Bowl on New Year's day.

RETAINS TITLE
CALCUTTA, Jan. 4 (AP)—Indian champion Ramanathan Krishnan retained the singles title of the Asian Lawn Tennis championship Sunday with a 6-2, 6-1, 6-4 victory over Australian Bob Hewitt.

Utah's Prydz, Frithjof and Mark Jensen placed 1-2 in jumping, which stymied Denver's effort to overtake CU with a high finish in jumping off the 60-meter hill.

Colorado scored 190 points to 107 by Denver. Other high teams were Western State 156, Utah 149 and Wyoming 92.

Marolt swung down the 24-gate wide-open slalom course in 1 minute 2.4 seconds to lead Heuga by 1.5 seconds. Terje Overland of Denver was a tenth of a second back in third place.

Jim Barrrows of Colorado who placed 10th in Sunday's giant slalom and in jumping, won the skiclimber award for the best showing in all four events. He was eighth in slalom and 14th in cross-country Saturday.

Frithjof had the longest jump of 214 feet in three tries off the 60 meter B hill. His other leaps were 192 and 190 feet. Judges scored him 222.5 on distance and form. Jensen's longest jump was 292 feet. He received 216.1 points.

The ballot proved as treacherous for most of you as it did for me. Indeed, one poor soul came up with 15 incorrect selections. More than half of the entries were 500 or worse.

And so until Sept. 20, 1965, I close. Let me just wish all of you a very happy new year!

Johnson-Led Cards Hold Packers for 24-17 Win In NFL Playoff Bowl

MIAMI, Jan. 4 (AP)—Quarterback Charley Johnson hit little Billy Gambrell with two touchdown passes for St. Louis, one a bomb covering 80 yards, but the Cardinals had to hold on for dear life in the final period to give a 24-17 victory over Green Bay in the fifth National Football League playoff bowl game. Held in check for three periods by the Cardinals' fierce blitzing defense, the Packers came smashing back for two touchdowns in the final period and almost tied the game in the fading minutes.

Coach Credits Game To Stolen Pass

MIAMI, Jan. 4 (AP)—Jimmy Burson's interception "saved the ball game for us," Coach Wally Lemm of the St. Louis Cardinals said Sunday after his team defeated Green Bay 24-17 in the pro playoff bowl. "We changed our defense for them," Lemm added, "using four two alignments, and we tried to give them a different picture on every down. We used a lot of 'red' and that forces you into strict man-to-man coverage."

NFL Playoff Title Series Is Proposed

HOLLYWOOD, Fla., Jan. 4 (AP)—A three-game National Football League East-West playoff series replacing the current single championship game was proposed by the NFL Players association Sunday to boost its pension fund.

The association closed its annual meeting with the announcement that a best-of-three series plan would be presented club owners within a month.

The proposal calls for one game in the Eastern division titleholder's city, the second in the home city of the Western winner and the third, if needed, in a neutral city.

The primary source of pension funds is the one NFL playoff game, the Playoff Bowl and money from television and advertising.

The association also adopted a resolution demanding player representation on the pension committee, as in the case in professional baseball.

President Ordele Brusse, a Baltimore Colt defensive end, said player representation will be sought because of "Commissioner Pete Rozelle's abuse of the rights and privileges of players."

Under current policy, the league handles all pension affairs. The association formed a permanent committee with the responsibility for keeping all retired players informed of their eligibility to receive pensions at age 65.

Brusse said some retired players were unaware that they had met requirements. The fund has yet to pay its first retirement benefit.

Fair Shake

BALTIMORE, Jan. 4 (AP)—Owner Arnold Heft of the Baltimore Bullets came to the defense of his former National Basketball association referee colleagues Sunday and reprimanded his own general manager for criticizing the officials.

General Manager Paul Hoffman said Saturday that the Bullets were "not getting a fair shake" from the referees because of their close personal relationship with Heft.

Hoffman contended the officials were "leaning over backwards not to call fouls in our favor," for fear of being criticized for helping Heft's team.

Canadiens Boost Lead Over Chicago

CHICAGO, Jan. 4 (AP)—Claude Provost's third-period goal with the Canadiens shorthanded gave Montreal a 2-1 victory over the Chicago Hawks Sunday night.

The victory boosted the Canadiens first-place lead over Chicago to three points. It also ended a Chicago unbeaten streak at 13 games.

Teammate Claude Larose was in the penalty box when Provost trapped the puck near the Chicago blue line and skated in un-molested to put the disc behind Chicago netminder Denis DeJordy.

It was his 12th tally of the season. Bobby Hull had opened the scoring for Chicago with his 32nd goal of the season in the second period. It came on a neat pass out from the boards behind the Montreal cage by Chico Maki, who had carried the puck deep into Canadiens ice despite the fact that Provost was hanging on his almost every step of the way.

Yvan Cournoyer evened the score late in the second frame with a short chop from five feet in front of DeJordy while Maki was serving a penalty.

It was a rough game, with referee John Ashley calling 16 penalties, including three majors for fighting, and three misconducts.

Question Remains on Gator Bowl

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Jan. 4 (AP)—There will always be a question whether Oklahoma might have done better against Florida State in the Gator Bowl football game if some of its best players hadn't been declared ineligible because they signed pro contracts too soon.

But George L. Cross, president of the University of Oklahoma, tried to put such thoughts at rest although FSU won 38-19 Saturday.

"It would be unrealistic to say the result would have been different if we had been at full strength," he said. "We would have done better; controlled the ball better, I think. But I am proud of the way Coach Gomer Jones handled the eligibility problem."

Jones also felt Oklahoma could have controlled the ball more if Jim Orshman and Lance Rentzel had been running and Ralph Neely blocking. He ruled them out of the game Friday as soon as he learned they had signed pro contracts.

With the nucleus of a good 1965 team in his second year as head coach of the Sooners, Jones looked ahead: "We'll be back again, I hope, in the future," he told the Gator Bowl committee.

Howell, Ohl Lead Bullets To Victory

BALTIMORE, Jan. 4 (AP)—Balley Howell sank all 14 of his shots from the floor and combined with Don Ohl for 72 points as the Baltimore Bullets whipped the San Francisco Warriors 142-132 in a National Basketball association game Sunday.

Howell also connected on his last two shots against the Warriors Saturday night, and his 16 baskets without a miss is only two short of the record by San Francisco's Wilt Chamberlain, who grabbed 28 rebounds Sunday, but that didn't keep the Warriors from dropping their ninth consecutive decision. The Western division champions of last season are now last with an 11-31 record.

Howell, who missed 3 of his 12 free throws, finished with 37 points. Ohl, shooting mostly from outside, sank 18 of 30 shots and scored 35 points.

Baltimore ran up a 71-54 lead late in the second quarter, but San Francisco whopped the deficit to two points soon after the third period started. The Bullets then erupted into an 81-74 lead and led the rest of the way.

Gallatin Takes Over As Knicks' Coach

NEW YORK, Jan. 4 (AP)—Square-jawed Harry Gallatin came back to his old stomping grounds today to take charge of the New York Knickerbockers with whom he rose to National Basketball association stardom more than a decade ago. Gallatin, 37, was named coach of the Knicks Sunday, just a week after he guided St. Louis to a 99-89 triumph over New York and then was promptly fired as coach of the Hawks.

No salary was announced, but it is believed to be in the $20,000-$25,000 bracket. As Knicks' coach, Gallatin succeeds Eddie Donovan, who was handed the post of general manager. Donovan was in his fourth season as coach of the Knicks. He is the last in the NBA's Eastern division during each of Donovan's three complete seasons as coach.

Gallatin takes over the coaching reins with the Knicks buried in last place in the East. The club has won 12 and lost 26 and trails the leading Boston Celtics by 20 games.

Knicks President Ned Irish said Gallatin's sudden availability "hastened our schedule in planning for the Knicks."

"When we engaged Donovan three years ago, it was with the understanding that once the Knicks were re-built, we would release him from coaching to devote his full energy to build up the scouting, procurement of players and other details of running the Knicks."

Player personnel has changed tremendously since Donovan became coach. Only Dave Budd and Johnny Green remain from the team coached in 1960-61 by Carl Braun.

The Knicks' youngest team in the league as far as players are concerned, have four rookies: Willis Reed of Grambling, Jim Barnes of Texas Western, Emmette Bryant of Bowling Green. Gallatin, whose Hawks met New York three times this year, said he was impressed with the Knicks' young personnel and added: "The Knicks are on the way, and I am confident that we will soon be winning."

He said he would try to inject in the Knicks "the winning spirit we used to have in the old days when we beat the Celtics every day and twice on Sunday."

He gets his first look as boss Tuesday night when New York is host to the Cincinnati Royals in the second game of a Madison Square Garden double-header. In the opener, Gallatin's old club, the Hawks, meet the Detroit Pistons.

Gallatin made his NBA coaching debut with St. Louis in 1963 after four successful seasons as coach at Southern Illinois university. His first season he lifted the Hawks from fourth to second in the Western division and was selected as coach of the year.

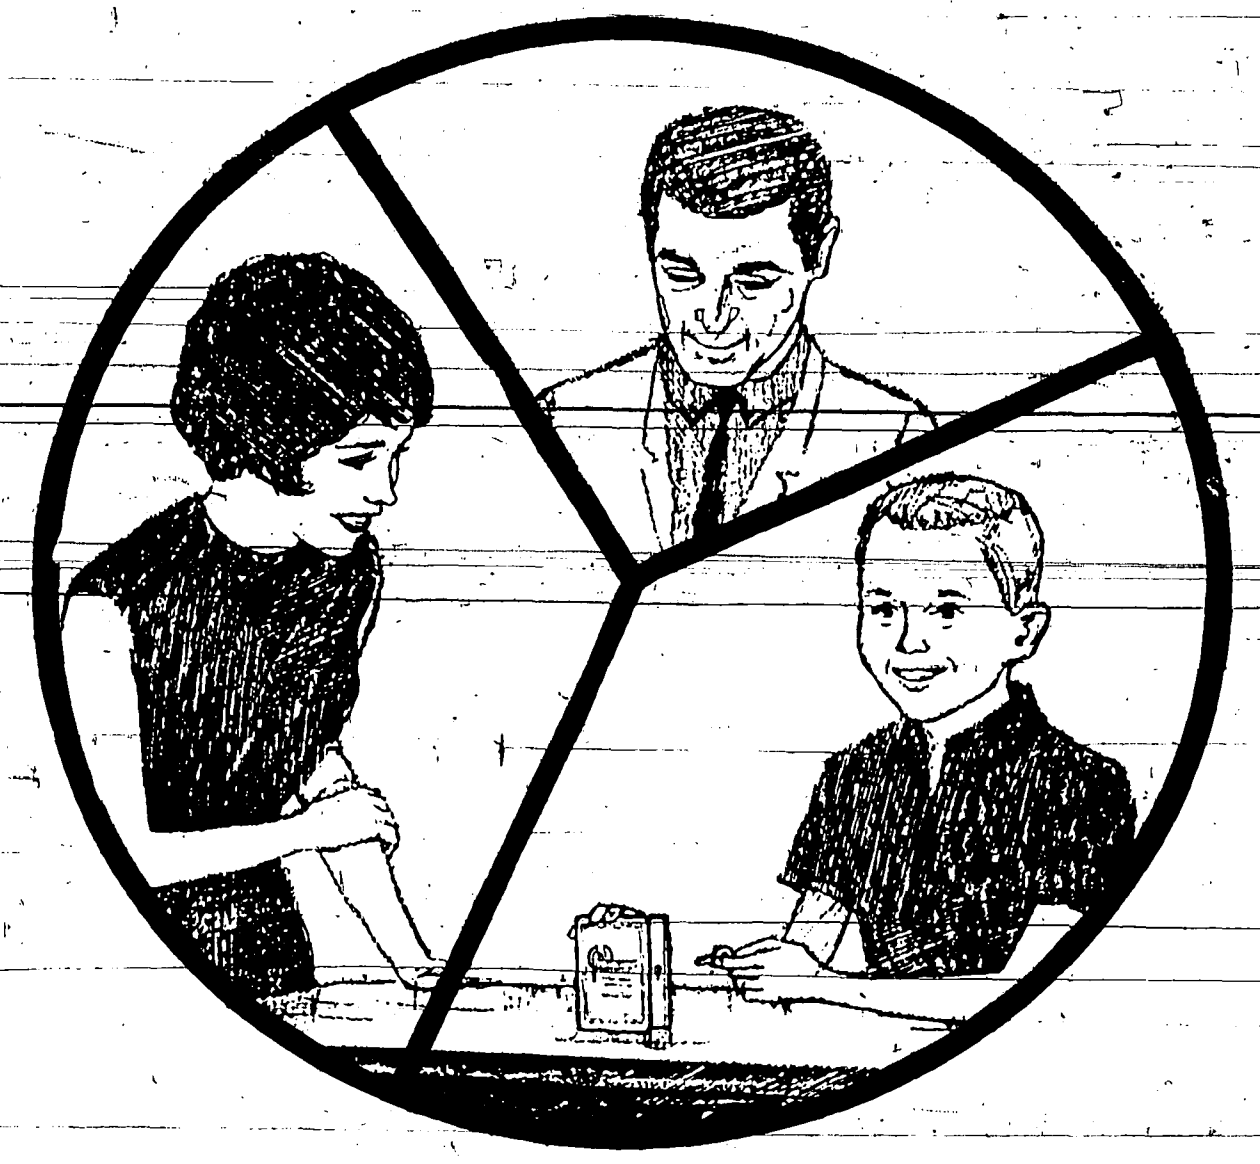

Last year, the Hawks again finished second, only two games behind the San Francisco Warriors.

After that, the market price might go up or down—depending upon buying and selling demand. The market price of a stock dividend can mean higher cash dividends in the future.

Your stock now pays dividends at the rate of 6 1/2 cents a share every three months—quarterly. That's a total of 25 cents a share a year. Last year, the owner of 100 shares, you received $3.12 in dividends.

Now you own 103 shares, assuming that the dividend rate remains at 25 cents a share, you will receive $25.75 in dividends this year.

In your column, you mentioned a booklet called "Quick Reference Guide to United States Savings Bonds" and said that copies had been distributed to all banks. I went to my bank and asked for a copy. I was told that the booklet was not intended for public distribution. If this is true, how can I get detailed information on Series E, U. S. savings bonds?

A. Of course, it's true. Don't you believe your banker? That booklet is intended for use by banks and other issuing agents for U. S. savings bonds. It gives bankers information in various points concerning savings bonds and tells them which U. S. treasury department circulars to read for information on specific points.

It's not intended for the general public. It wouldn't do you any good, anyway. What you need is Treasury department circular No. 653. This column has noted that circular, with revisions and amendments, gives all the details on E bonds.

And, because so many questions about E bonds keep coming in, I again want to say that readers can obtain copies by writing to office of public information, U. S. savings bond division, treasury department, Washington, D.C. 20226.

Mr. Doyle will answer only representative letters of general interest in his column. He cannot answer phone queries.

Business Mirror

BY SAM DAWSON AP Business Analyst NEW YORK, Jan. 4 (AP) — One of the happiest times in the opening days and weeks of the New Year will be entitled "Record Profits."

Many corporations have reported notable gains over their previous year's figures. This week the leading banks of the nation are expected to report increased earnings for the year just ended. The glad tidings from industrial firms should reach carping volume by the end of the month and early February.

Largest reporting to date is American Telephone and Telegraph's Bell system, which had 12-month record earnings of 1.7 billion dollars up from 1.5 billion dollars in the 1953 period.

When you add reported gains for the nation's corporations in 1954 should total around 58 billion dollars or more. With income taxes taking about 26 billion dollars of this, the after-tax net would be around 32 billion dollars, a record, and compared with 26.7 billion in 1953.

Corporations with fiscal years ending before the calendar year, including the majority in some industries, already have reported gains. The profit tide is rising. Only a handful have reported decreased earnings, and usually these individual companies were going against the trend of their own industries.

Firestone Tire and Rubber netted 79 million dollars in fiscal 1954, against 63 million dollars the previous year. International Harvester made almost 90 million dollars, against 68 million dollars, Carrier profits were up 2.7 million dollars to 10.85 million dollars.

Most bankers are almost unanimous in reporting sizeable gains over the previous year. Arthur 22.8 million dollars, against 16.3 million dollars; Wilson 12.4 million dollars from 7.3 million dollars; Hormel 5.7 million dollars, up from 2.9 million dollars; and Cudahy 1.75 million dollars profit compared with 1.1 million dollars the previous year.

The Aquarius who hopes to be judged on promise rather than performance in the wrong-foot productivity count! RISCES (Feb. 20-March 20)

NEW YORK, Jan. 4 (AP) — Bache and company continue to believe that securities will be the keynote in the months ahead. The firm says the market is likely to move in a wide trading range and within the framework, significant individual gains could be scored. However, the firm warns the stress should be on quality.

YOUR BIRTHDAY and HOROSCOPE

MONDAY, Jan. 4 — Born today, you have an active, intuitive mind that enables you to gather first impressions quickly and accurately. You are naturally optimistic about life and collect about you those who are of similar temperament. It is little wonder that your circle is gay and sought after. Your possibilities for success are unlimited, for you have many talents and much determination. You do, however, favor a sure thing, and it is likely that a number of your abilities will remain unutilized, with no desire to "take a chance" on anything new. Still, were you suddenly to find a need for an as yet undeveloped talent, you would not hesitate to make the effort.

You seem to have been born with a sense of humor and a love for language and the engaging uses to which it can be put. You may well take to writing either as a hobby or career, and in all likelihood you will gain a reputation for being a conversationalist of wit and brilliance. Bear this in mind when you choose a mate; a good conversationalist would be the wisest choice.

Among those born on this date are Louis Braille, French teacher, inventor of the Braille system; Jakob Grimm, German philologist; co-author of "Primer's Fairy Tales"; Isaac Newton, noted British mathematician, natural philosopher.

Find what is in store for you tomorrow, select your birthday and read the corresponding paragraph. Let your birthday star be your daily guide.
