The county commissioners also appointed three justices of the peace for the county. They are: Al Robinson, Twin Falls; Harry B. Jennings, Buhl, and Elwood Henstock, Hollister.

Selected county officers sworn in Monday are: James H. Benham, sheriff; Clifford Thompson, assessor; Ruth Jones, treasurer; James J. May, prosecuting attorney; Morris Carlson, commissioner; John P. Cox, coronator; Claude Wiley, coroner, and Zoe Ann Shaub, probate judge.

The three navy men who were killed in the crash were identified by a spokesman at Point Mugu naval air station, Calif., as Lieut. Robert J. Justice, whose wife and two children reside in Camarillo, Calif., Lieut. Richard A. LeBlanc, whose wife and two children live at Port Huenece, Calif., and Lieut. Abel R. Gantu, Jr., Point Mugu, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. Gantu, Sr., Oak Park, Ill. The navy said the three were on a routine training mission when the plane departed Friday for Idaho.

The bodies have not yet been removed from the plane and guards were posted around the craft. The plane reportedly crashed to the ground while taking off from Joslin field.

Law officers asked the crowd near the scene to move back so that emergency equipment could get through, but Omer Albert McIntire, 51, 137 Fourth avenue north, refused and was arrested by city officers for obstructing See NAVY PROBE, Pg. 2, Col. 1

President Outlines Education Program

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12 (AP) — President Johnson sent congress a record 1.66-billion dollar tots-through-the-education program today, with an open invitation to private and parochial schools to take part. The proposed program, with heavy emphasis on the children of low-income families, is the heaviest presidential outlay yet in what Johnson calls his war against poverty. The provisions for non-public schools to share in the benefits seem certain to trigger a bitter fight on Capitol hill. Even before the details were laid before congress, it was learned the group known as "Protestants and Other Americans United for Separation of Church and State," made known its opposition.

However, it also was learned that the Roman Catholic hierarchy generally approves, and so do some officials of the National Education association, which traditionally opposes the use of public funds for non-public schools.

An administration source was confident: "This is a good bill, and we believe we can get through the congress."

The comprehensive program would provide assistance to pre-school youngsters in the slums, elementary and secondary school pupils in the nation's pockets of poverty, and college scholarships and other help for worthy and needy high school graduates.

Johnson said the one-year cost in excess of 1.5 billion dollars "is a small price to pay for developing our nation's most priceless resource."

"Poverty has many roots," the president said, "but the tap root is ignorance."

The presidential program would provide for fiscal 1966: Public schools: One billion dollars for elementary and secondary schools serving children from families with less than $3,000 annual income. There are an estimated five million such children and 65-70 per cent of the nation's school districts will qualify for assistance. Public and private schools would be urged to cooperate in shared-time programs and other joint use of new facilities.

Higher education: $200 million to provide 140,000 scholarships, partial payment of interest on guaranteed private loans to college students—perhaps 100 per cent of the usual cost.

Dean Burch Resigns as GOP National Chairman

PHOENIX, Jan. 12 (AP)—Republican National Chairman Dean Burch today announced he will resign, effective April 1, and that Ray Bliss, Ohio GOP chairman, has consented to become national chairman. The announcement was made at a joint news conference in Phoenix attended by former Sen. Barry Goldwater, the party's 1964 presidential nominee, Burch, Bliss, and William E. Miller, GOP vice presidential nominee.

Burch said he will submit his resignation at a meeting of the Republican national committee in Chicago Jan. 22-23 and added that unity cannot be achieved by forcing a vote over his chairmanship in Chicago.

"Even if I won under those circumstances, neither I nor those who opposed my chairmanship would be comfortable and my effectiveness would be impaired," Burch said.

Some Republicans have been clamoring for Burch's resignation since the beating the party took in the general election.

Goldwater said he always has sought unity and that this cannot be achieved without a solid backing of the national chairman.

Goldwater said that if a resolution would be offered at the Chicago meeting as to whether Burch should be retained, he believes Burch would receive a majority, but the size of it is the question.

"A mere majority would not suffice, it would have to be one of a substantial nature," Goldwater said.

Goldwater, strongly urging the selection of Bliss as Burch's successor, said that he had discussed his position with former President Dwight Eisenhower and with Richard Nixon, the party's 1960 presidential candidate, and "each of them has concluded it has been in the best interests of our party and our country. They join us in commending this to the national committee."

Potato Case Is Dismissed At Burley

BURLEY, Jan. 12—A jury trial involving two consolidated suits brought by Golden Griggs, Vanessa Anderson and Ore-Ida Foods, Inc. against Ore-Ida Foods for payment of potato seed, fertilizer and equipment was dismissed Tuesday by Judge Lloyd J. Webb.

The judge told the jurors, who were sworn in Monday at the opening day of the trial, that lawyers for the plaintiffs, Griggs and Anderson, and Ore-Ida, and Powers had reached an agreement out of court and the case would be dismissed.

In a counter complaint, Powers was asking payment of $1.25 per hundredweight for 2,400 100-pound sacks of potatoes he claimed Ore-Ida Foods, Inc., had contracted for in 1960 but did not purchase until 1961, when they were spoiled.

A portion of the seed, fertilizer and equipment allegedly was sold by Griggs and Anderson and the rest by Ore-Ida, of which Griggs and Anderson are stockholders. The firms sought payment of $750 for the fertilizer and equipment and $2,450 for the seed potatoes.

Jurors were Louise Larsen, Lee Munson, Mildred Nairbrother, Marcen Baxter, Asel Fairchild, Terri L. Manning, Ray Freymiller, Charlotte Stevenson, Neal Thomas, Jay E. Haskell, Aseel E. Ward and Alvin Temple.

Thomas Church, attorney for the plaintiffs, gave his opening statement when court reconvened Monday afternoon after a noon recess. Powers' attorney, Louis P. Racine, Jr., Pocatello, delayed his opening statement until later in the afternoon session. Called as first witness was See POTATOES, Pg. 2, Col. 1

Jury Hears Evidence in Murder Trial

JACKSON, Miss., Jan. 12 (AP)—A retired policeman, accused by the FBI of violating the civil rights of three slain civil rights workers, went before a federal grand jury investigating the triple murder.

Otha Neal Burkes, 71, was accompanied by his attorney as he entered the federal building here today at the start of the second day of the grand jury probe.

Burkes is a retired policeman from Philadelphia, Miss., the town where the three civil rights workers were last seen alive last June 21. Their bodies were found beneath a farm pond near Philadelphia 44 days later.

John Doar, recently named head of the justice department's civil rights division, declined to discuss the case. The government is trying for a second time to get indictments in the slayings.

Burkes was one of 21 men charged by the FBI last month in connection with the slayings. He was accused under an 1878 statute with conspiring to violate the trio's civil rights.

Burkes was one of several local law enforcement officers arrested.

The two top law officers of Neshoba county, Sheriff Lawrence Rainey and Chief Deputy Cecil Price, were among 21 men arrested in the case.

SITTING AT WHEEL of his car in Jackson, Miss., Monday, after appearing before a federal grand jury, is Horace Davis Barnett, right, who the FBI claims signed a confession in connection with the slaying of three civil rights workers. ## Formula for Schools Is Explained

BOISE, Jan. 12 (AP)—Idaho legislators learned behind closed doors today details of a proposed formula they hope will result in equitable distribution of state funds to local school districts. Dr. Ray M. Berry, University of Idaho professor who drew up the formula for the Idaho State Trustees association, explained the proposal at a meeting of the joint senate-house education committee.

Sen. Vincent Nally, R-Cent., chairman, emphasized that only members of the two committees and Dr. Berry were present at the meeting but he said public hearings will be held later.

He said committee members would meet again Wednesday to familiarize themselves with all sections of the formula and that Dr. Berry will be available to explain the proposal to all legislators.

Portions of the formula explained by Dr. Berry, Nally said, were the sparsity factor, which aids school districts with scattered populations; differences in cost of elementary and secondary education; transportation costs, the classroom cost factor, and special education costs.

Rep. Frank Hirsch, R-Bear Lake, chairman of the house education committee, said the lawmakers expressed interest in the formula's reduction of the equalization levy from the present 22 mills to 15 mills.

He said, however, that this is still a foggy area and that members plan to go into it further at their Wednesday meeting.

Hirsch said transportation which costs the state nearly eight million dollars every two years, or one-fifth of the 1963 school appropriation, will be left in the formula but will come under close study during the next two years.

"The transportation factor just isn't working-out as it should and will come under thorough study by the legislators and Dr. Berry," Hirsch said.

Both Nally and Hirsch said the reaction of the joint committee appeared "favorable" but See FORMULA, Pg. 2, Col. 4

Commission Mulls City's 1965 Budget

Twin Falls city commissioners are burning midnight oil in an effort to come up with the 1965 budget. The commissioners met in special session one night last week and met again Monday week to try and solve the city's financial problems.

In 1963 the city levied some $2.5 million on an estimated $3,893,201 of total assessed valuation to provide some $722,436 worth of revenue. Total budget for the city of Twin Falls during 1964 was an estimated $1,617,155.

Taxes raise only about 30 per cent of the city's revenue. The balance of the revenue comes from charges the city levies for certain services such as water and sewer.

One of the first problems the commissioners are encountering is how to make up the slack caused by the creation of a junior college district in Twin Falls county. Liquor sales receipts, which formerly went to the city of Twin Falls will now go to the junior college fund. This loss amounts to some $25,000.

One bright item in the financial picture is that the total assessed valuation in the city limits climbed to $14,110,924, an increase of almost a quarter of a million dollars.

At the present time the commission is trying to hold the line and stay with a 52 mill levy. The budget meetings now being carried on are planning meetings whereby the city manager and the commissioners sit down over a proposed budget and iron out in night-long sessions just what the city needs and doesn't need.

Budget matters are being discussed department by department with the department heads sitting on the discussion and giving their views on what is necessary and unnecessary.

City Manager H. L. Derrick said the budget in the planning stage is well over the amount used last year and these sessions will bring it into reality.

The city levies some 30 mills for general funds purposes and the other 22 mills are levied for special funds such as library and airport.

The last session of the state legislature changed the budget procedure from a fiscal year to a calendar year.

Stockholders Okay Merger Of Railroad

CHICAGO, Jan. 12 (AP)—Approval by the interstate commission is the next step in the merger plan of the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific railroad.

Rock Island stockholders voted approval of the merger over the objections of the Chicago and North-Western Railway, by a 7-1 margin in balloting completed yesterday.

Holders of 2,200,789 shares—or 92.3 per cent of the 2,395,911 shares outstanding—voted to approve the merger. Holders of 297,122 shares—10.2 per cent—opposed it.

Two-thirds of the Rock Island common shares outstanding was needed for approval.

After the vote was announced, Jervis Langdon, Jr., board chairman of the Rock Island, and Frank E. Barnett, vice president and general counsel of the UP, said they would put the merger before the ICC for approval.

The proposal would give Rock Island shareholders one share of new UP preferred stock with a dividend of $1.80 a year for the first three years and convertible within a specified period into 35 shares of UP common stock. The new UP preferred stock would have voting rights.

A merger of the two carriers would give the UP a direct entry into Chicago. The UP now uses the lines of the Chicago, St. Paul and Pacific Railroad between Omaha and Chicago.

The Rock Island operates about 1,800 miles of road in the mid-continent. Its lines extend south to Chicago and west to Galveston, Tex., Denver, and Tacoma, N.M.

The North-Western also sought to acquire the Rock Island and has opposed the Rock Island-UP merger from the outset.

A special congressional committee began a tour of the flood-affected far West yesterday to determine what government action will be needed to help rebuild the area.

The group was scheduled to visit northern California today and meet tomorrow with Gov. Jerry Brown, Wednesday will fly to Oregon for a conference with Gov. Mark Hatfield and a survey of damage in that state.

The five-man special house subcommittee on flood disasters, headed by Rep. Robert E. Jones, D. Ala., was well briefed on what it could expect to see.

Disaster officials explained to the congressmen in great detail why the floods came, why rescue operations and the huge job of cleaning up and rebuilding that still remains.

The Christmas week floods, followed by two more weeks of continuous snow and rain storms, resulted in at least 42 deaths and damage estimated at more than a half billion dollars.

The special committee was formed by house public works committee Chairman George H. Fallon, D. Md. In addition to Jones, includes Reps. Harold T. Johnson, D. Calif.; Don H. Clausen, D. Calif.; Jim Wright, D. Tex.; and William H. Harsha, R., O.

Fire Burns Japanese Buildings

TOKYO, Jan. 12 (AP)—The biggest fire in the history of Oshima, an island 60 miles south of Tokyo, yesterday destroyed more than 500 buildings.

Three-fourths of Matomachi was destroyed but there were no known casualties, according to a radio report from the town's police station.

Flames, fanned by 65-mile-an-hour winds, finally died down after raging for more than seven hours. The police station and several schools were among the few buildings which survived the inferno.

Most of the town's 4,239 inhabitants were evacuated in an emergency-relay of buses as firefighters mobilizing the town's entire six fire engines, battled desperately to check the wind-swept flames.

The governor of Tokyo proclaimed Matomachi a disaster area. Matomachi, located on the west coast of the earthquake-ridden island, is under the jurisdiction of metropolitan Tokyo.

COLLEGE STATION, Tex., Jan. 12 (AP)—U. S. department of agriculture scientists are experimenting with a method of insect control that uses flashes of light to kill pests.

They have discovered that light flashes lasting less than one thousandth of a second cause cabbage worms to skip part of their life cycle.

The worms' accelerated development puts them out of step with nature, and results in early death. Unlike insecticides, the light flashes are not harmful to plants, the scientists report.

It Looks Good

Under the pressure of the supreme court's "one-man, one-vote" ruling for state legislatures, Nebraska's unicameral legislature continues to look good. So long as the nation's top court has ruled that all state legislatures have to be apportioned on the basis of population alone, there's really not much use of sticking to the bicameral legislature. Nevertheless, the various states, including Idaho, probably will be slow to embrace the unicameral idea.

All the states, including Idaho, could benefit from the Nebraska example and experience. Even the Nebraska unicameral ran afoul of the supreme court ruling because of some reapportionment accomplished in Nebraska two years ago. The state solons based the reapportionment partly on area considerations and face the necessity of retreating to the purely population basis.

Nebraska has other difficulties, too, sharing the common need among states of increasing revenues. In fact, Nebraska has so many problems that its unicameral faces a lengthy session this year. Right now, Nebraskans are predicting their unicameral will be in session a long time, probably up until August. Here's the suggestion—another practice, that of biennial sessions, should be eliminated.

Regardless of what's done in the way of reapportionment, the Idaho legislature should move to authorize annual sessions of Idaho lawmakers. It's asking too much for a state to function on a two-year budget in these fast-moving modern days. It might have been just dandy back in the horse and buggy days, but now a state has to have more elasticity and be able to keep pace with whatever developments might occur.

For purposes of realistic budgeting, it would be smart to have annual legislative sessions that started June 1, one month before the end of the fiscal year. Then the legislature wouldn't be guessing ahead from six months to two and one-half years about the state's financial condition.

If Idaho were to adopt the unicameral legislature, it also would solve some tough space problems in the Idaho Statehouse. The state has reached the point where the present legislature just doesn't have enough room. It would be far better to reduce the size of the legislature than plan additional construction for the Capitol.

Just as a suggestion, Idaho could have a unicameral legislature of about 35 members, each member representing 20,000 citizens. The present senate chambers would suffice quite well for such a body for a number of years. Rather than going on expanding into an unwieldy body again, an Idaho unicameral could limit itself to, say, 45 members. When it reached that size, each member would merely represent more people as the population continued to grow. Some of the present senators represent a good deal more people than 20,000.

It shouldn't be any great chore to divide the state into 35 districts of roughly equal population, particularly if a population map—without county boundaries—were used in the task.

The greatest objections are obvious. Some of the new districts would cover enormous areas which are sparsely settled. Others would be rather small. The biggest objection of all would come from legislators who presently represent the more sparsely populated areas of the state. In any reapportionment, they face an excellent chance of losing their jobs. The superior lawmakers with records that would be an asset in an effort to be elected from a larger and more populous effort might not have too much trouble. However, they'd still have to get out and work harder for election than ever before.

The supreme court decision clearly offers Idaho a chance to break with tradition in a manner that could benefit Idaho generally and pave the way for greater things to come. Right along with reapportionment, the legislature should tackle the matter of a constitutional convention to modernize the document that's behind all Idaho legislation. In fact, it's doubtful that the legislature can accomplish even reapportionment without violating some of the provisions of the present state constitution.

A unicameral legislature meeting annually on June 1 for 30 or 45 days offers some realistic possibilities that would be bound to benefit taxpayers as well as the whole state generally, including its government. Such arrangements certainly would eliminate the guesswork on which budgets are based now by necessity.

WHIRLIGIG

BY ANDREW TULLY
WASHINGTON, Jan. 12—The election of a Democratic whip only seems to be a routine job because with that self-conscious gaggle of exhibitionists known as the United States senate the important thing is to be a member of the club.

As usual, the liberals made gurgling noises about putting one of their own in the job but they could not construct a united front because their handicapped practical matters is the head. They refused to agree on either Rhode Island's John Chafee or Oklahoma's Mike Monroney and so the establishment was able to foist on a senate supposedly committed to the "Great Society" a 19th-century politician who voted against the nuclear test ban treaty, Medicare and civil rights, and who has announced he will defend the filibuster.

VOTERS BE DAMNED—This offers the nation a curious situation even allowing for the senate's obsession with presenting itself in the worst possible light. After the liberal landslide of November and with the Democrats boasting a huge majority, the party could do no better than elect as its second-highest conservative Southerner whose state was one of the few that went for Barry Goldwater. It was the establishment thumbing its nose at the voters and reaffirming its privilege of running things its own way.

Long's record is undistinguished, but he has always been a member of the establishment, owned and operated by the Southerner committee chairman. He has obeyed the fatuous rules of this club and has shown a certain shallow competency in the matter of arm-twisting and the allotment of cheap rewards and punishments. He has never been unreasonable, which is to say he has never questioned the divine right of the club's leaders.

BELLS HIMSELF—Yet, Huey Long's son worked hard at getting the job. An expert in the Lyndon Johnson arm-around-shoulder approach, he urged his fellow-senators to give him the nod with the argument that as a Southerner he was best equipped to negotiate with Southern committee chairmen on the Johnson program. And he presented himself as a man who could interpret with proper sectional overtones, the political psyche of the Southerner in the White House.

They say the President stayed out of this one, but Long's selection has the Lyndon Johnson hallmark. Johnson remains obsessed with the idea of doing business with Dixie as a means of restoring his prestige in the neighborhood which spawned him, and it is not frivolously suspicious to suggest that LBJ let it be known on Capitol Hill that Long would be acceptable. After all, Johnson's best friends are establishment men.

TRAGEDY FOR LIBERALS—Long's choice may turn out to be a safe one, too. The Johnson repeals safety. The civil rights bill on the ascending this session, and the rest ban has been long passed. Long may choke over Medicare, but the consensus is against him and his constituents will understand there are forms of obstructionism no politician can successfully mount.

But the choice of Russell Long as Democratic whip in the senate resembles a tragedy for those who chose Lyndon Johnson over Barry Goldwater. It is an admission by the Democratic majority—68 strong, or weak—that it is still not master of its own household.

Views of Others

COLOSSAL BORE
Decades ago the ashan school of art came along. The term meant the use of common-place even ugly subjects for pictures as a contrast to the too pretty or stilted scenery chosen by earlier painters. Nowadays literature seems involved even more literally in the school of the garbage can.

Unless a book is written in terms that used to invoke mouth-washing with soap, it seems unlikely to attract attention of publishers, much less readers. Our thoughts are stimulated by a review of three books in the lines in the New York Herald Tribune. We shan't bother to list their authors or titles. They represent a deluge of 400 in print. The reviewer approaches these garbage can books by "three gifted men" with the following comments:

"I have been through the mill in a singularly uninhibited school, through the Oxford of the 1920s, the army, at least five varieties of European Bohemia, marriage, frustrated and satisfied desire. In fact, like most of the human races, I have been sufficiently often on the wrong side of St. Paul to feel myself not irredeemably square. Do I flinch, like some stricken deer in reading about drink, cocaine, pot, faces, four-letter words, bad girls, rude men, dark streets, thugery and rap? No, I do not flinch. Do I want to nourish myself on a literary diet of which these are the sole components? The answer again is no."

The preoccupation of authors and publishers with the sewerage system of the human race no doubt is a reflection of this age.

THE ALLEGED DECLINE OF MORALITY
When people tell us, or tell the world, that morality is declining, we reserve judgment. As our reporters and editors discovered during a series of articles on the subject in 1963, contemporary fallings in morality can be balanced by contemporary advances.

"With all the complexities and weaknesses of life today, human-kind has in fact made great progress," said the concluding article.

In the meantime, there has been an increased volume of complaints—mostly from those who, it asked to judge by their own behavior, would not place the state of morality very low. We rarely hear an admittedly immoral person say that times are better for his kind.

Now a strong syndicated voice has been raised in behalf of American morality today.

FEMALE OPINION EXPRESSED
Women have decided that blondes have more fun, so most women are blondes at least once. It will be interesting to see what happens when they discover that monkeys have more fun than people.—Chicago Tribune.

POT SHOTS
Dear Pot Shots:
I don't think anyone should object to the state spending more money. In fact, I'm all for it and I have an idea of where we should get the money.

REAL FINANCIAL IDEA
Dear Pot Shots:
I don't think anyone should object to the state spending more money. In fact, I'm all for it and I have an idea of where we should get the money.

WHY CAN'T IDAHO JUST BORROW THE MONEY FROM THE FEDERAL GOVERNMENT?
Of course, we wouldn't pay it back, but it is one needs to mention that.

IF IDAHO NEEDS 700 MILLION BUCKS FOR THE NEXT TWO YEARS, THE STATE SHOULD BORROW IT.
That's just a drop in the bucket compared to what the U.S. is loaning to foreigners every year. And I say what's good enough for the foreigners is plenty good enough for the folks back home!

Anyone got any better ideas?

JUST YOU WAIT!
Pot Shots:
Guess the skiers are being doubly blessed with snow this winter, but how about those of us who are addicted to sun bathing?

THERE ARE HAZARDS
Dear Pot Shots:
Someone wants to know why it isn't possible to plant gardens in the fall. The answer, of course, is that it's quite possible to plant in the fall.

However, there's a built-in risk the fall planter must be prepared to take. Nearly every year there's a "false spring" of a few real warm days in advance of the growing season. The false alarm is likely to raise the soil temperature in the top couple of inches of soil enough to cause germination of any seeds that might be there. Seedlings will get up just far enough to be killed by frost a few nights later.

The more certain way, because we use seeds that aren't as strong as nature's natural seedling process, is to wait until the weather is going to stay good. Or else start seeds indoors.

HAS IT BEEN TRIED?
Dear Sir:
A writer suggests it might be possible to plant vegetable gardens in the fall. I'd like to know if anyone ever tried it and if so, what results they achieved.

The suggestion sounds reasonable, but I wouldn't want to be the first one to take the chance.

PENALTY FOR YAKKING?
Dear Sir:
I've heard plenty of stuff about the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals. You'd think a few individuals would show at least as much concern for children.

I was shopping in a Twin Falls store the other day when a woman hauled off and slapped her small child across the face so hard you could hear the pop clear on the other side of the store. From what I could tell, the child's crime was nagging for some chewing gum!

BY JOY STILLEY
NEW YORK, Jan. 12 (AP)—I am about ready to plunge into the stock market.

Well, maybe not exactly plunge—but I am considering at least dabbling my toes in Wall street. The trouble is, those toes are attached to the coldest feet this side of Alaska.

For years I've been reading educational articles dealing with the ins and outs of investing. But I'm afraid that when I'm in I'll wish I were out.

Still, I do think I'll crack open my nestegg just enough to purchase one share of stock. Then, on all those questionnaires, instead of admitting my occupation is "housewife," I can grandly write "financier."

If I ever get rich I'll owe my wealth to the wealth of knowledge I accumulated by reading the business pages of newspapers every day.

My favorite literature is the advice service, which I find even more fascinating than the advice to the lovelorn columns.

THE DOCTOR SAYS
By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

Q—Is psoriasis arthritis related to cancer? What is the best treatment? I am taking prednisolone. If taken for a long time, will this drug cause bad side effects?

A—Psoriasis is nothing to do with cancer. It is a recurring arthritis. There are many causes of arthritis and the aim of treatment is to remove the cause if possible, control the pain, and maintain as great a range of motion as possible in the affected joints. Best results are obtained at the hands of a team consisting of a physical therapist, an orthopedic surgeon, a specialist in arthritis, and perhaps others depending on individual circumstances.

Q—How beneficial for one's health is removal of coating from the tongue? Could this routine favor a virus infection?

A—When you don't eat enough solid foods, such as dry toast or raw fruit and vegetables, the dead outer layer of the tongue piles up to form a coating just as dead layers of skin pile up on any part of the body that is not scrubbed for several days. This is not a disease nor would it cause disease. But it is often associated with an unpleasant breath and a bad taste in the mouth, especially noticeable on arising.

Q—The doctor says my son has Riley-Day syndrome. He falls a lot. What causes this?

A—This condition is characterized by dryness of the eyes, blotchy red patches on the skin, excessive sweating, drooling, emotional instability, indifference to pain and poor muscle control. All victims do not show muscle control and account for your son's falling. The cause is not known, but it is believed to be a hereditary disease. There is, I regret to say, no satisfactory treatment.

Capital Report

BY ALVIN SPIVAK
WASHINGTON, Jan. 12 (AP)—Backstairs at the White House:

Most of the applause for President Johnson's state of the union message came from the Democratic side of the aisle. But he was forced—due to conditions beyond his control—to look toward the Republicans most of the time.

That was because the teleprompter at his right broke down, and Johnson had to read the script from the mechanical prompting device at his left. That was the Republican side of the aisle.

The President also reverted to reading from the typewritten manuscript on the lectern, which gave him a chance to look back toward the Democrats—but only after peering down at his text.

It is to avoid those downward glances that Johnson for many months has been using prompting machines that run his speeches in large type at eye level in front of him. There are two of the devices—one on each side so that he can look in either direction and thus address himself to his entire audience, not just half of it.

Johnson also uses a type of prompter that reflects into a one-way mirror so that the audience sees him through a pane of glass which on the other side is reflecting the moving script for Johnson.

That was the set-up in the house chamber when the President appeared at the joint session of congress. But performances before the speech copy that was in the right-hand machine, and it became jammed.

This was the first time the prompting devices had been used in the halls of congress. It also

West was an expert and made the normal lead of the jack of spades against South's seven no-trump. As soon as the dummy hit the table, West added his three high-card points to dummy's 21. This gave a total of 25 and left only 15 for declarer and East between them. Since

World Corners

BY PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst
Figures alone cannot give the whole picture of United States involvement in the war in South Viet Nam, but they are impressive.

In the last year, the U.S. financial contribution has been running at around 800 million dollars—either better than 15 million dollars per day.

In South Viet Nam, there are about 22,000 American advisers. The U.S. work with Vietnamese forces totalling 618,000 military, para-military and police. This breaks down to one American for every 300 Vietnamese involved in an way with the nation's defense.

Those were the figures as of last month, prior to the announcement that the United States now would give "additional military and economic assistance" to help cut off the flow of men and material from the communists—regions in the north and to bolster the South Vietnamese civil military and economic programs.

There was, therefore, no suggestion that the United States contemplated pulling out if its commitment to South Viet Nam, in fact to expand it.

The role of the Americans would continue to be what it has been in the past, to "advise." As to the war itself, there were other indicators besides figures alone.

In Saigon, reliable Western sources reported that in one engagement 200 Vietnamese troops threw down their weapons and fled into the jungle. In the same engagement two U.S. army captains were killed and an American enlisted man was reported missing. Five others were wounded.

An American labor leader, George Ballant, president of the United Textile Workers, reported a three week visit to South Viet Nam and reported that the South Viet Nam's 50,000 organized workers were sitting on the sidelines waiting to decide who would win the war.

In central Viet Nam, 20,000 refugees, 15,000 of them Catholic, were reported fleeing into the port-city of Qui-Nhon in flight from stepped up communist terrorism.

In less than a week, a dozen Americans died, one was missing and 21 others wounded.

"The high casualty rate among the American advisers" last October, earlier reports that the communist Viet Cong were concentrating on the Americans, with special bounties for each American death.

Officially, the American position has been that it sought a "political" solution to South Viet Nam as opposed to a "military" solution.

But this presupposes a stable Saigon government as well as an end to North Vietnamese and Red China aid to the Viet Cong rebels.

Neither so far has occurred and there are increasing indications that great numbers of Vietnamese do not regard this as their war.

On the other hand, the U.S. position is one of many complications. One is the obligation to the Vietnamese soldiers and village officials who do regard it as their war and daily face the threat of death or kidnaping to prove it. Another involves the fate of the whole of South Viet Nam in event of U.S. withdrawal.

U.S. economic and military aid to South Viet Nam has increased steadily since 1954 but it has not provided the answer.

was not the first time Johnson went through a breakdown of the prompter.

But it was easy to handle in good style because even if both machines had broken down, he always has a typewritten copy of his texts in front of him.

clubs. If declarer held no hearts, he had 13 tricks. He held four spades. It was up to West to hang on to all but one of his spades. This meant that West might have to discard a club somewhere along the way.

Khrushchev, Bitter Over Abrupt Fall, Lives on Pension in Country Home

BY HENRY SHAPIRO MOSCOW, Jan. 12 (AP)—Three months after his ouster, Nikita S. Khrushchev is living comfortably on a $350-monthly pension in the country house where he once entertained Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

He is bitter over his abrupt fall from one of the world's most powerful positions, and he resents the ingratitude of his former friends and comrades who now rule the nation.

This can be reported on the basis of investigations made by this correspondent over the past several weeks and the statements of authoritative sources.

U.N. officials said the Soviet Union, which owes about 62 million dollars, paid $135,790 of its regular budget assessment.

Racially Troubled AFL Game Shifted From New Orleans to Houston

HOUSTON, Jan. 12 (AP) — The racially troubled American Football league all-star game scheduled Saturday was shifted Monday from New Orleans to Houston. League Commissioner Joe Foss ordered the transfer of the game after Negro players refused to participate, complaining of racial discrimination in New Orleans. They said they were denied taxi service and refused admission to French Quarter night clubs. Within hours after Foss' announcement, New Orleans Mayor Victor Schiro said Foss "acted hastily" in moving the game.

Game Change Saves AFL Pension Plan

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 12 (AP) — Tommy Addison, Boston Patriots' linebacker and president of the American Football league Player association, said Monday the transfer of the AFL all-star game to Houston has saved the players' pension plan. "If the game had been canceled, all of the players in the league would suffer," Addison said. "Our entire pension plan depends greatly on the income from the all-star game."

The game was moved to Houston from New Orleans after 21 Negro players refused to play there because of racial discrimination. "Most of the Negro players had already left town before we first heard that they had voted not to play in the game because of racial discrimination," Addison said. "I called a meeting because I felt it was our duty to let the commissioner and the owners know how the representatives of all eight teams felt about the thing."

"We all agreed that the game should be played if at all possible. We sympathize with the problem of the Negro players and want them to be in the game. From what we could gather there were eight separate and distinct cases of discrimination. These include transportation, refusal of admittance to clubs, name-calling and things like that. "I do know that nearly half of the Negro players wanted to play the game here in New Orleans despite what happened."

Addison is a former University of South Carolina star. "Bob Jones of the Boston Patriots said 'It's a general feeling of regret that all the white players feel. I personally have never encountered anything like this, and it's a rotten shame that it has caused so much trouble. "But we're all in this together and certainly the boys are within their rights."

Larry Garrison, Negro ace ball carrier of the Boston club, said the false sense of full integration "is what disturbed the Negro football players in New Orleans. They were told the barriers were gone and they were free to come and go as they chose."

"If they had told us beforehand that things really hadn't changed much toward the Negro in New Orleans, this probably would have never happened," Garrison added.

Unranked Illinois Holds Key To Maneuvers in Top Ten Poll

By The Associated Press

Unranked Illinois continued to hold the key to major maneuvers in The Associated Press college basketball poll Monday as Michigan rushed up to grab second place behind the streaking UCLA Bruins. The Wolverines downed Illinois 89-83 Saturday after the Illini had defeated Indiana 86-81 Monday. The results enabled Illinois to climb to 31 points in the poll. Duke, sixth last week, slipped four places. The Blue Devils were upset by North Carolina 65-62 for their second loss against eight victories.

The Bruins collected 33 first place votes and 394 points in the latest balloting by a special panel of 42 writers and broadcasters. Michigan, 90-2, polled 338 points.

Wichita climbed two places to third after beating Bradley in Cincinnati. The Shockers' record is 10-2. St. Joseph's Pa., held fourth. The Hawks downed Lehigh and Boston college to lift their record to 12-1.

St. Joe's collected only nine fewer votes than Wichita, 242 to 251. Indiana picked up 208 points for fifth followed by Providence with 198 and St. John's N. Y., 167. Points were awarded on a basis of 10 for a first place vote, 9 for second etc.

The Friars, at 11-0 the only unbeaten major college, garnered six votes for first place in last week's action, they beat Fairfield, Boston college and Gonzales.

St. John's which also was seventh a week ago, was 9-2 after whipping George Washington and New Orleans Loyola last week.

Prothro to Be New UCLA Head Coach

CORVALLIS, Ore., Jan. 12 (AP) — Coach Tommy Prothro announced Monday night he is leaving Oregon State university to become head football coach at UCLA. He will succeed Bill Barnes, whose contract was not renewed after seven years as head coach at UCLA.

Prothro's team was walloped 34-7 in the Rose bowl by Michigan New Year's day, but his 10-year record of 63-37-3 at Oregon State is the best among Far West schools.

His 1956 team went to the Rose bowl, the 1957 was Pacific Coast conference co-champion, but could not go to the Rose bowl because of the no-repeat rule, and his 1962 team went to the Liberty bowl.

He had only one losing season that came in 1959 when his team won 3, lost 7. Prothro, who is in Chicago at a coaches' meeting, telephoned the news to the Oregon State campus.

"Having traveled with my father, who was in baseball and from college into the military service, I have lived in Corvallis longer than any place in my life. Mrs. Prothro and I have spent our entire married life in Corvallis, and they have certainly been my happiest 10 years."

"Actually my choice of UCLA was for what appears to me to be a better professional opportunity at this time over what has been a happy situation," he said.

Only one football coach has been at Oregon State longer — Lon Stiner who was here from 1939 to 1948.

Campus sources did not know Prothro's age, but records indicate he is about 47.

A. T. Stansell, Oregon State athletic director, said in a telephone call from Chicago that the search would start at once for Prothro's successor.

UCLA's athletic director, J. D. Morgan, said in Chicago: "In my opinion, UCLA is fortunate in obtaining one of the very best coaches in the United States. He is a proven head coach who will lead the Bruins in a mature, sound football program commensurate with UCLA's academic excellence."

"Tom will be on campus this Friday, thus giving him sufficient time to work on our recruiting program and prepare for spring practice," Morgan said.

Originally from Memphis, Tenn., Prothro competed in baseball and lacrosse at Duke university, and also won the Jacobus Award as the best blocker during his 1939-41 career as blocking back for the Blue Devils.

Prothro, regarded as a brilliant football strategist, has coached the single wing under Sanders, various brands of the T formation and the I formation.

NCAA Hits AAU, Remains Mum On Pro Relations at Meeting

CHICAGO, Jan. 12 (AP)—The National Collegiate Athletic association led off its convention with a healthy swing at the Amateur Athletic union Monday, expressed surprise at a report of a proposed bowl game sponsored by CBS and remained mum on its relations with the professional leagues. At the same time the conference commissioners representing 11 major conferences announced they would recommend to the NCAA football rules committee that colleges players be required to play both offense and defense, directly opposed to the free and unlimited substitution proposal the football coaches have approved.

MIT Defies NCAA Policy, Slates Meet

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Jan. 12 (AP)—Massachusetts Institute of Technology announced Monday it will stage the New England AAU indoor track and field championships Feb. 3, thus defying national collegiate athletic association policy.

The announcement came from Ross H. Smith, director of athletics. It follows decisions by a few other schools, among them Harvard and Yale, which have decided they will retain sole right to determine the fate of their athletes and who will use their facilities.

"This is not to be construed as a stand against the National Collegiate Athletic association, of which MIT is a member," Smith said. "Rather it is a demonstration of the spirit of competition by a member of the collegiate organization accused by certain spokesmen for the AAU of attempting a power grab for the control of amateur athletics."

"I feel the difference can be resolved if all the parties concerned meet in an atmosphere of compromise."

"In the meantime MIT doesn't want the athletes to be punished while the arbitration is still unsettled. That's why we'll allow the use of our facilities."

then take preliminary action in an April meeting. There was no immediate report from the pro relations committee which is looking into premature signing of college football players by the professional leagues.

New Standard Deduction May Mean Dollars Saved

Here's a term you will hear more and more during this year's income tax filing time: NEW MINIMUM STANDARD DEDUCTION.

If your total income for the year is less than $10,000 and you do not ordinarily itemize your deductions, this can be the first of your many tax-saving opportunities on your 1964 tax return.

By now nearly everyone is familiar with the old optional standard deduction. This was the device used by those who don't have high interest payments on a home mortgage or loans, real estate taxes, heavy medical expenses or sizable contributions.

This means that a husband and wife with five dependent children could take $900 for their minimum standard deduction—$200 plus $100 for each of the seven exemptions. If their yearly income was $7,000 they could claim only $700 under the optional standard deduction method in effect in former years.

Not only big families but students with after-school and summer jobs and young people just starting a first job will use this new method to great advantage.

The new minimum standard deduction is still restricted to a maximum of $1,000 but in certain incomes up to $10,000 it can be a real money saver.

At taxpayers other than married persons filing separate returns can claim $200 plus an additional $100 for each exemption.

Pharmacists Hear Talks During Meet

BURLEY, Jan. 13—Several talks were presented Sunday during the twenty winter meeting and seminar for the Idaho State Pharmaceutical Association.

Noel Streper, president, welcomed members at 9:30 a.m. Sunday to start the meeting. William Ryan, executive secretary of the Idaho State university alumni, outlined past and future activities of the association.

Don Ness, pharmacist at St. Luke hospital, Boise, and chairman of the pharmaceutical legislation committee, gave a short report of pending legislation affecting the profession in Idaho.

Herbert Fitz, New Meadows, vice president of the board of pharmacists, read and discussed two proposed bills amending the pharmacists act and Timothy Brennan, director of Idaho retailers association, gave a report on their proposed taxation legislation.

He stated, "The association has not taken a stand for or against a sales tax bill but it is waiting until the bill is introduced in order to see what provisions are included in the bill."

Thomas Nelson, assistant attorney general, explained the provisions of a proposed new narcotics act. He stated, "Increased activity in the traffic of illicit narcotic drugs has made the need of this legislation necessary."

A smorgasbord was held for the noon luncheon and Dr. John Bergen, dean of the pharmacists college at ISU, was in charge of the afternoon session.

Bus Crashes In Mexico, 18 Are Killed

LEON, Mexico, Jan. 12 (AP)—Eighteen persons were killed last night when a bus loaded with 203 passengers and their families plunged into a 450-foot ravine, authorities reported.

Twenty-two other passengers were injured seriously. The accident occurred on a winding mountain road. Survivors said the driver apparently lost control of the vehicle on a curve.

The passengers were from San Miguel Allende. They were traveling to Dolores Hidalgo for a game.

A search for bodies continued through the night. Ambulances took the dead and wounded to hospitals in Silao, Dolores Hidalgo and Leon.

Food Barges Have Reached Stanleyville

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo, Jan. 12 (AP)—Eight barges with 900 tons of food have reached Stanleyville and civilians in Stanleyville despite fierce attacks from rebels entrenched along the Congo River.

Reliable sources said the much needed supplies arrived during the week-end. For months the 3,000-mile-long river had been closed to government traffic by rebel shore emplacements of machine guns and automatic 20 millimeter cannon.

Stanleyville is the former rebel capital. Since its recapture by the government two months ago, all foodstuffs for its more than 100,000 civilians have been flown in.

Rebels attacked the convoy from shore positions at Elisabeth, about 125 miles northwest of Stanleyville. The barges continued unscathed when government planes strafed rebel positions.

Administrative advisers were rushed to Stanleyville to supervise marketing of the foodstuffs. Few private shops have been reopened in the city; its many Greek, Indian and Portuguese traders left during the long siege last year.

Rebels still control a large portion of the northeast Congo. A government setback was reported yesterday at Mahagi, along the section bordering Uganda.

Soviet Union To Test-Fire Big Rockets

MOSCOW, Jan. 12 (AP)—The Soviet Union announced today test-fire its largest space rockets at a Pacific ocean target in the vicinity of America's Baker Islands.

The official Tass news agency said the series, lasting until March 1, would be aimed at testing new types of rockets and gathering unspecified experimental data.

The official announcement pinpointed the target area about 1,500 miles southwest of Hawaii—the Baker Islands—and warned shipping and planes to keep out.

The target area was given as: A circle with a radius of 65 sea miles.

Western experts said the rocket tests were not likely to herald any startling new space spectacular in the near future.

But they said the information learned from them would no doubt be put to use in future manned space flights.

The series appeared to be another of those which the Soviet Union has been conducting in changing Pacific target areas since 1960.

The experts estimated the Soviet rockets would have to travel as much as 7,500 miles.

The Soviet Union announced the last Pacific rocket test last July 31. The dates were listed as Aug. 4 to Nov. 1 for one series and Oct. 1 to Dec. 30 for another.

Tass said the object of the test firings was the "further exploration of outer space and the accumulation of experimental data."

Wiring Shorts Out, Only Minor Damage Results

BUHL, Jan. 12—Minor damages were reported when the wiring on a deep fat fryer shorted out, scorched some cupboard doors and ceiling and smoked up the kitchen at the B. J. Weststein residence east of Buhl shortly after 8 p.m. Saturday.

Quick thinking on the part of Mrs. Weststein helped prevent more serious damages. When the wiring shorted out on the fryer, which was sitting on the kitchen cupboard, the grease ignited and sent flames shooting up the cupboard door to the ceiling. Mrs. Weststein quickly threw some baking soda on the fire, and managed to subdue the flames enough to carry the kettle out of the house prior to the arrival of the fire department.

16-YEAR-OLD Livermore, Calif., boy, Tom Tawzer, is rushed into San Francisco's Letterman General hospital Monday after he fell 236 feet from the Golden Gate bridge and lived. ### Youth, 16, Jumps From Golden Gate Bridge, Lives

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 12 (AP)—A 16-year-old boy plunged 230 feet from the middle of the Golden Gate bridge yesterday and survived.

The youth, Tom Tawzer, Livermore, Calif., was plucked from the water five minutes after impact by crewmen aboard a 40-foot coast guard boat. He was rushed to the Fort Point life-guard station and then taken by ambulance to nearby Letterman General hospital at the army presidio.

The boy landed in the path of a cargo ship sailing out toward the Pacific ocean. Witnesses said the youth apparently saw the vessel and began swimming away from it. The ship changed its course and the coast guard boat picked up Tawzer.

Jerry Laidemann, a crewman aboard the coast guard boat, said Tawzer "was treading and swimming when we pulled alongside. I leaned over and asked him if he was hurt. If he had any broken bones, and he said 'no'.

Bridge Captain Edward R. Moore said he saw the youth jump. Other witnesses said Tawzer climbed up on the railing and leaped feet first with his hands above his head.

It was the second time within three weeks that a person survived a plunge from a bridge on San Francisco bay. In both instances, a coast guard boat
