towns. The snow here appears to be about 7 feet deep but in some places is deeper. Snow also covered cars and stacks of wood residents use for heating in Halley. (Times-News photo)

Floor Fight Predicted On Bill Creating Six Junior College Districts

BOISE, Feb. 15 (AP)—The chairman of an Idaho legislative committee said today a bill calling for creation of six statewide junior college districts will be sent to the house without recommendation and predicted a "real floor fight" on it. Rep. Frank Hirschi, chairman of the house education committee, also reported his group has voted to introduce a bill that would force small school districts within the same county to merge by 1967 or lose much of the state aid they are now receiving. The bill is being offered, said Hirschi, as a companion measure to a new school fund distribution formula handed to the house last Friday.

Primary Vote Law Bill Hits Senate Floor

BOISE, Feb. 15 (UP)—Revision of Idaho's primary election law was sought in a bill introduced into the senate today. Offered by the state affairs committee, the measure attempts to strengthen the state assembly system of nominating candidates for state and national offices. It would eliminate the "majority clause" which allows a candidate who fails to get the necessary support for outright nomination at the assembly to get on the ballot by petition. It also increases to 34 per cent from 20 per cent the amount of assembly support a candidate must get for nomination.

Smylie Will Seek Elective Post in '66

BOISE, Feb. 15 (UPI)—Idaho Gov. Robert E. Smylie will seek an elective office next year to stay "politically effective" in the 1968 presidential election. This much he told reporters today, but as to where or how he will remain in politics is still in the realm of speculation. Smylie, whose third term as governor expires next year, has said repeatedly he has made no "final decision" on his plans after 1966. He has been reported as a candidate against fellow Republican Sen. Len B. Jordan, whose first term in office ends next year.

Explorer May Be Dead in Cave Crevise

DOLGEVILLE, N. Y., Feb. 15 (AP)—Cave explorer James Mitchell, 23, hung suspended by a nylon harness in an 18-inch crevice today with hope abandoned for his life but rescuers still tolling to extricate his body. Since Saturday, when Mitchell became trapped while prowling the seldom-explored "Schroeder's Pits" cave with two companions, police, firemen and spelunking experts have striven vainly to free him. But he remains about eight feet down a hole deep in the cavern, wedged in an awkward angle and frozen to the rock by water which seeps continuously on him at the rate of nine gallons a minute. State police Capt. Frank Miller, who is directing the search for the Winthrop, Mass., chemist, said last night, "You may say that Mitchell is officially presumed dead."

It is just as elementary that Smylie would want to keep pace with the 1968 presidential election campaign since he was one of the more vocal critics of Barry Goldwater's defeat in the 1964 campaign, and the consequent ouster of Dean Burch as chairman of the National Republican committee. His criticism came from his base as chairman of the Republican Governors' association. Smylie's legislative package to the 38th Idaho session was filled with a "New Day" program that drowned the critics who claimed he had never given the lawmakers a program that would inspire legislation. His state of the state message was soundly accepted by both Democrats and Republicans in the legislature and put a new glint to the armor he has been wearing in the statehouse for the past 10 years as governor.

Southwest Area Hit by Snowstorm

By United Press International
A blizzard swept through the southwest today after dumping 27 inches of snow on the Colorado mountains. Blizzard warnings were posted for western Kansas, the Oklahoma and Texas panhandles, eastern New Mexico and eastern Colorado.

In the east a storm left up to seven inches of snow on Virginia and closed numerous schools before sweeping out to sea. Leadville, Colo., was socked with 27 inches of snow overnight and six inches fell on Denver, Colo.

Pueblo, Colo., got three inches of snow in six hours and Goodland, Kans., two inches. Many schools remained closed in east-central Nebraska today where more than 20 inches of snow fell last week. Strong winds drifted rural roads shut. Up to three inches of snow fell in the New York City area, where driving conditions were hazardous Sunday. Frigid air sent the mercury to 16 below at Williston, N. D., and 23 below at Bismarck, N. D. It was 13 below at Minot, N. D., Dickinson, N. D., and Houlton, Me.

Mariner 4 Targets Are Pinpointed

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15 (AP)—The space agency has pinpointed locations on a 4,000-mile long area of Mars that are to be photographed by Mariner 4 next July 14. The spacecraft's television camera will take pictures—almost simultaneously—of the Martian seasons of fall and spring as it flies past the Red Planet. This is because the target area is divided between the northern hemisphere—where it will be autumn, and the southern hemisphere, where it will be spring. See MARINER, Page 2, Column 4

Clashes in Viet Nam Continue; New Civilian Rule Is Expected

SAIGON, South Viet Nam, Feb. 15 (AP)—Fighting has resumed on scattered fronts in Viet Nam after a comparative lull. Military sources reported 27 enemy actions during the past 24 hours, most of them in the northern part of the country. Three U. S. helicopter crewmen were reported injured in a crash. Two Americans were reported wounded in clashes yesterday. One was hit in the back by metal fragments while searching for 50 Vietnamese who disappeared Saturday after a Viet Cong attack in Binh Dinh province.

In Quang Ngai province, 330 miles northeast of Saigon, the Viet Cong killed 16 government troops, wounded 30 and captured five. The communists poured mortar shells into a government outpost in Quang Tin province, killing seven defenders and wounding 12. Near Da Nang, 80 miles south of the northern border, two anti-government demonstrations broke out today, possibly inspired by the communist Viet Cong. Troops fired into one of the demonstrations.

Reports said that about 2,000 demonstrators demanded an end to air and artillery attacks on populated areas and attempted to storm the office of the district chief at Thanh Binh, about 20 miles south of Da Nang. In Saigon, Vietnamese leaders appeared ready to announce the formation of a new civilian government with Dr. Phan Huy See VIET NAM, Page 2, Col. 5

U. S. Honors C. B. Nelson Posthumously

Mrs. Creighton B. Nelson, wife of the late Creighton B. Nelson, advisory agricultural meteorologist, will receive one of the highest awards given by the department of commerce, a silver medal for meritorious service, posthumously. The award of the medal to Mrs. Nelson was announced Monday in Washington, D.C., by John T. Connor, secretary of commerce. Nelson, who was in charge of the weather bureau agricultural service office at Twin Falls from its inception in November, 1961, until his death in September, 1964, won the commerce award for his outstanding agricultural meteorological work in establishing and maintaining the agricultural weather service program in southern Idaho.

A native of Ames, Ia., Nelson had a bachelor's degree from UCLA. After serving as navigator in the United States air force during World War II, he was employed by the U.S. weather bureau as an advisory agricultural meteorologist at Twin Falls, he served as forecaster at Minneapolis, Minn., for about 10 years.

At the time of his death, Nelson was president of the Twin Falls Frostmaster club, member of the American Meteorological society, and also a member of the Research Society of America.

Steel Union Vote May End up in Court

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 15 (AP)—The United Steelworkers have voted for a union president and because of the closeness of the balloting and the uncertainty of the outcome, two words stand out—court fight. Each candidate, although expressing confidence in victory, indicated over the week-end the fight for the leadership of the 980,000-member union could move from the ballot box to the courtroom. In Hammond, Ind., Saturday, U. S. District Judge George N. Beamer had U. S. marshals impound about 8,000 votes cast by the USW's 14,000-member Gary local 1014.

Beamer acted on a motion by Max Cohen, an attorney for the incumbent President David J. McDonald, who charged there was evidence of vote fraud in the local, one of the largest in the nation. In Pittsburgh, McDonald's opponent, I. W. Abel, said in a statement: "We are in the process of collecting information of voting irregularities in a number of places and we believe that as a result of the protests which will be filed, the incumbent president will lose many thousands of additional votes."

The latest Associated Press unofficial tabulation of incomplete returns has Abel, the USW's secretary-treasurer, leading by about 7,000 votes in his bid to end McDonald's 12-year leadership of the union. The official counting will be done by the international union's tellers after they receive the votes from the recording secretaries of approximately 3,300 locals. The vote-return sheets must be in the hands of the tellers by next Friday midnight.

The union's constitution says all votes from a local must be tossed out if a single voting violation is discovered in the locals. The USW's executive board judges voting complaints. If a member is not satisfied with the board's decision he can appeal to the U. S. secretary of labor under the Landrum-Griffin act. The secretary of labor then should file suit on behalf of the complaining member. He also has power to order a new election. While the election outcome remains at issue, negotiations with the basic steel industry are at a standstill. The talks were suspended Jan. 8. The contract formally was reopened Jan. 1 and the union can strike May 1. The union rejected a request to extend the deadline.

Negro March in Selma Continues

SELMA, Ala., Feb. 15 (AP)—Nearly 1,000 Negroes converged on the Dallas county courthouse today in a protest of slow voter registration, and the two leaders on opposite sides took their stands. Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., leading the demonstrators stood on the outside of the courthouse looking in. Sheriff James G. Clark watched from a window in his office. Both left sick beds as the Negroes called for a final, massive push to demonstrate their discontent with the pace of voter registration.

T. F. Police Department and Sheriff Plan Open House Thursday Afternoon

An open house Thursday afternoon at the Twin Falls police station and the sheriff's office will highlight activities of national Crime Prevention week, sponsored by the National Exchange club. Frank Long, chairman of the Twin Falls Exchange club's committee for Crime Prevention week, said today that the theme for the 18th annual observance, endorsed by FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover, is "Lend a Hand to Arrest Crime"—an appeal to all citizens to lend support and cooperation to police officers and law enforcement agencies. Lloyd LeClair, president of the local club, has sent letters to all elementary, junior and high schools in the area inviting students to tour the police station and sheriff's office Thursday afternoon, but parents of the students and other adults are also invited to participate in the open house. The tours are scheduled to be conducted between 1 p.m. and 5 p.m. Thursday. LeClair notes that in the past most students toured the facilities after school was dismissed, but teachers who feel their classrooms will benefit from the tour are invited to bring the pupils as a group any time during the afternoon. Hoover, in a special message for National Crime Prevention week, says "A lack of citizen support hampers the most dedicated law enforcement agency. It is essential to remember that those who strive to serve you can do so effectively only if they, in turn, receive your support. Lend a hand to law enforcement if you would arrest and reverse the tide of crime." Hoover notes that during the past year there have been many instances where citizens have adopted an ostrich-like attitude of "non-involvement." "With that grim pulled low, head turned away, and eyes averted," Hoover commented, "the deliberately scurries past the law print marks off the walls. (Times-News photo)

"WONDER IF THEY'RE GONNA lock me up, too," John Blake, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Blake, Falls avenue west, seems to be thinking as he is fingerprinted by Twin Falls Police Chief Frank Barnett. Young Blake, a fourth grade student at Lincoln school, is typical of other students from Twin Falls schools who will have a chance to tour facilities of the Twin Falls police and county sheriff's departments Thursday afternoon. Parents of the pupils and other interested residents are invited to participate in the open house and tour, sponsored by the Twin Falls Exchange club in observance of National Crime Prevention week. Note to mothers: It isn't planned that the youngsters actually will be fingerprinted, so you don't have to worry about scrubbing baby print marks off the walls. (Times-News photo)

Red China Attacks U. N. As U. S. 'Tool'

TOKYO, Feb. 15 (AP)—Communist China today turned its propaganda guns on the United Nations. Peking said the organization has become a "tool" of American "neo-colonialism." The Chinese attack on the United Nations was coupled with continuing charges of aggression against the United States for its Viet Nam policy. Peking statements during the week-end said Washington statements that the United States seeks no wider war in Southeast Asia were "pure humbug." Today's U. N. blast was published in the newspaper Peking People's Daily, the official newspaper of the Chinese communist party. "The fact of the matter is that the United Nations just cannot go on as it is now," the editorial said. "Either it correct mistakes and be thoroughly reorganized in accordance with the desire of the peoples, or it continues to submit to the dictates of the United States and thereby commits suicide." Communist China is not a member of the U. N. and the United States opposes any move to give Peking a seat.

Reptile Hunt In Texas Nets 1,940 Snakes

SWEETWATER, Tex., Feb. 15 (AP)—Take 1,940 rattlesnakes, stir with about 18,000 people, mix well and the result is about two quarts of snake venom for medical research. A three-man army team was heading back to Ft. Knox, Ky., today with the venom—more valuable than any gold in saving lives. The venom was extracted yesterday from the snakes as part of the seventh annual Rattlesnake roundup. The de-venomized snakes were then devoured as the main course at a barbecue. "Tastes like a cross between chicken and fish," Edwin Aiken said. The snakes weighed a grand total of 2,375 pounds. Tony Hale and James Kamer, both Sweetwater, split $75 for catching the biggest rattler. It was 64 inches of meanness. C. W. Carlyle, Blackwell, Okla., caught the smallest, an eight-inch tad. It was worth $10. But the real value was not the monetary prize. It will be the few precious ounces of pure venom that will be distilled from the jars being taken to army medical research laboratory. Using forked sticks or modern "pincher bars" equipped with a trigger that manipulates two finger-like grabbing devices, about 400 hunters picked up the wriggling snakes, stuffed them in bags and took them back to town. There has yet to be a fatality during the seven-year-old roundup. Most of the other 17,600 visitors watched the hunters—at a distance.

U. S. to Close Air Base in Great Britain

LONDON, Feb. 15 (AP)—The U. S. strategic air command will close out operations in Britain April 1 after 14 years, an air force spokesman said today.

SAC will then move its few remaining B-47 strategic bombers back to the United States. Of SAC's last two bases here, Brize Norton will be handed over to the Royal Air Force for use by its transport command and Upper Heyford will continue to be used by the U. S. air force as a transit base, the spokesman said.

MAGIC VALLEY—Increasing cloudiness today and tonight, a few periods of snow or rain late tonight or Tuesday, with less than 18 miles an hour today increasing again Tuesday. Not so cold tonight. Further outlook: occasional snow Tuesday night. Highs today and Tuesday 35 to 41, lows tonight 13 to 20. Outlook for Wednesday, partly cloudy and cool. Temperatures at 8 a.m.: 14 at Jerome, 15 at Twin Falls, weather bureau with 25 per cent humidity, 4 at Rupert, 1 at Fairfield, 21 at Buhl, 18 at Castelford; at noon, 34 at T. F. weather bureau with 68 per cent humidity. Barometer: 30.21.

SYNOPSIS AND AGRICULTURAL SUMMARY
A high-pressure center is located in southeastern Idaho today but a moist flow of air in the upper levels from the northwest is already causing some cloudiness in the eastern valleys of Idaho. Some areas of fog are present as well with fog reported at Rupert and Aberdeen. Minimum temperatures were quite cool last night in southeastern valleys and parts of Magic Valley.

A storm system at the surface from the Gulf of Alaska will be moving across southern British Columbia today and Tuesday. A moist flow of air aloft from the northwest will thicken and increase cloudiness over the valleys of southern Idaho today with mostly cloudy skies forecast in our valley. Some periods of light snow or rain are expected to reach into the valley areas of southern Idaho tonight and Tuesday but total amounts will be on the light side. Variable cloudiness will continue into Wednesday as the moist westerly flow of air from the Pacific remains.

Temperatures today are forecast in the mid 20's to upper 30's and rising into the 30's to mid 40's on Tuesday. Increased cloudiness tonight will cause rising nighttime temperatures with the range expected in the teens in coldest southeastern valleys to the low 30's in warmest southwestern valleys.

FIVE-DAY FORECAST
A more westerly flow of air aloft is expected from the Pacific ocean into the Intermountain region during the next five-day period. Low pressure at the surface will remain most pronounced in the Gulf of Alaska but will extend at times into the Pacific Northwest and the northern Intermountain region.

Temperatures over the valleys of southern Idaho will average from three to six degrees above normal. A rising daytime temperature trend is expected into mid-week with a little cooler daytime temperatures Thursday and Friday. Coolest nighttime temperatures will occur around Thursday and Friday nights. Some normal maximum and minimum temperatures through Saturday are Gooding 35-20, Twin Falls 43-23, Burley 41-22.

Gulf of Alaska storms will be moving across the United States and Canadian border with precipitation totaling near normal over the valleys of southern Idaho. The period Tuesday through mid-week and again over the week-end appear to be times when precipitation will be most likely. Snow will turn to rain at times in lower valleys with total precipitation averaging from .05 to .30 of an inch through Saturday.

Sunshine will average from 45 to 50 per cent of possible with daytime cloudiness averaging around seven-tenths of the sky covered. Stronger winds are possible during the first half of the week with lighter winds expected into the end of the week.

TEMPERATURE AND PRECIPITATION
Weather at 6 a.m. CST: Highest temperature Sunday, lowest temperature last 12 hours, precipitation for 24 hours ending at 6 a.m. CST.

Legislature

allowed to levy in excess of the 30 mills now allowed for maintenance and operation "so they can finance their own operations."

The primary objection to the junior college bill, said Hirsch, is the "cost use factor."

"Some of the committee members," he said, "do not believe we can justify the cost to district patrons in relation to the use of the school by students within the district."

"They believe," he said, "the county in which the junior college district is located would benefit more than the other counties in the district."

"This is particularly true in the case of adult classes," he said.

The junior college bill, which would create six districts embracing all 44 counties, is a major item on Gov. Robert E. Smylie's legislative program. Tax bill was expected in the House later in the week.

The Senate killed, 17-27, a bill which would have permitted district-wide voting on public school trustees. At present trustees are elected from zones within a district.

Reported to the senate floor, without recommendation, was a measure relating the office of mine inspector as an elective one, but adding to the holder's qualifications.

On the senate calendar was a bill changing the method of selecting the inspector from election to appointment. Opposition was expected.

sphere—where it will be spring. The national aeronautics and space administration (NASA) announced yesterday that the exact points at which the spacecraft will be aimed were determined by an analysis of Mariner's flight path by NASA engineers.

NASA asked both amateur and professional astronomers to observe the areas for purposes of comparison of Mariner photographs with those taken by ground-based telescopes.

The areas will be telecopiedly visible number of times over the next several months before and after Mars makes its closest approach to Earth in early March.

If Mariner is still operating normally on July 14, it will take up to 21 television photographs, and make instrumental measurements of the Martian atmosphere which may indicate whether the planet can harbor life.

It will take about eight hours and 20 minutes to transmit each television picture to Earth. Photographs will be stored on tape and played back to Earth when Mariner has passed Mars. Each playback will be repeated at least twice.

Famed Negro Musician Dies at 54

SANTA MONICA, Calif., Feb. 15 (AP)—Nat King Cole, whose smoky voice made him one of popular music's brightest stars, died today. He was 54.

Death came to the famed Negro musician at St. John's hospital. Cole had a cancerous lung tumor removed Jan. 25.

He had been admitted last Dec. 9 to St. John's for what was then termed a respiratory ailment. Later his physicians, Dr. Robert Koitchev and Dr. Elmer Rigby, disclosed that the singer had a lung tumor.

Cole is survived by his widow, Maria; daughters Carol, 10, Natalie, 14, and twins Casey and Timolin, 3, and his adopted son, Nat Kelly, 5.

Cole, who played his first professional dates with a 14-piece orchestra that earned a total of $150 a night, never really meant to be a singer at all. He had a thief and a dipso to thank for his voice husky, hoarse and furry.

Critics and fans thanked him, too, and responded wildly to Cole's warm, smoky voice and natural, inimitable style in personal appearances. Critics called his voice "husky, hoarse and furry."

Whatever it was, his fans loved it, and Cole's recordings of "Mona Lisa," "Ballerin," "Nature Boy," "Unforgettable," "Nat Young" and "Christmas Song" ultimately raised his average annual income to half a million.

Six-Nation Crew Mans U. S. Vessel

NORFOLK, Va., Feb. 15 (AP)—The guided missile destroyer Claude V. Ricketts, manned by sailors from six nations, sailed today on her first regular deployment with the U.S. navy.

The Ricketts, America's prototype for the planned multilateral force, slipped away from a pier at the Norfolk naval base at 8:30 a.m. Manning the rails as the trim ship moved out were many of the 265 American and foreign crewmen aboard.

Once at sea, the Ricketts will rendezvous with 12 other second fleet ships sailing this week to relieve a like number of sixth fleet ships in the Mediterranean. Just behind the Ricketts, two ships sailed from here for the Mediterranean—the guided missile frigate Dewey and the guided missile destroyer, Barney.

There was no ceremony as the Ricketts or the other ships sailed. Only a few dependents were on the pier to say goodbye.

For the past eight months, Ricketts and the mixed crew have been training for the "show-me" assignment.

Neuritis Causes

By Dr. Ernest D. Paul

Neuritis is one of the most painful and nerve wracking experiences known to mankind. The pain is boring and stabbing. The victim is unable to get any rest or sleep. Every movement means suffering. There is a loss of power and feeling.

A local inflammation of a nerve is called neuritis. It is localized in one spot and is usually caused by pressure on a nerve at a point of exit from the spine. Pressure on a nerve near the surface of the body, such as the shoulder or elbow, will result in numbness and tingling.

Repeated constriction and pressure may result in inflammation of the affected nerve. The nerve sheath or neurilemma may squeeze the sensitive nerve fibers and form adhesions. This will separate the neuritis and develop into a chronic stage. Blows, cuts, contusions and long exposure to cold will result in a neuritis. The spine should be checked in all cases.

Old Machines Still Used by County Office

The county treasurer's office is presently using machinery which dates back to 1929, Mrs. Ruth K. Jones, treasurer and tax collector, said Friday.

All the county bookkeeping is done on a 1929 Moon Hopkins budgeting machine. When the 1965 budget for the county was set up, some $12,000 was set aside to be used for purchase of new office equipment if needed, she reported.

Two sensematic computers which date back to 1955-56 also are used in the treasurer's office, as is a 1950 model adding machine and a 1954 model calculator.

Panel Talks On Juvenile Lawbreakers

"Guilty, Whose Responsibility?" was the topic for a panel discussion presented for the American Association of University Women Saturday at the YM-YWCA. The panel, consisting of Mrs. Anna Hayes, moderator, Probate Judge Zoe Ann Shaub, probation officer, Mrs. Helen Henderson and psychiatric case worker, Mrs. Ruth Bonduant, discussed behavior problems inflicted on the world today.

Through a detailed case history the participants presented their roles relating to the problems of juveniles who become involved in breaking the law. The alternative presented for the rehabilitation of the youths included probation; placement in foster homes; orders for psychiatric or medical care; commitment to the board of health with or without a recommendation to send the youth to the training center; commitment to jail, where youths are confined separately from adult offenders and the discretion of the court.

Music for the program was provided by the "Saints," a trio from O'Leary Junior high school, comprised of Steve Olmstead, Dan Olmstead and Larry Larson.

Hostesses for the luncheon meeting were Mrs. K. V. Shew, Vivian Klink, Mrs. Tom Olmstead, Mrs. Rose Nprth, Ruth Barkdull, Bernice Babcock, Kennetha Shew and Maria Oliveira.

OPERATING A 1929 Moon Hopkins bookkeeping machine in the county treasurer and tax collector's office is Mrs. Shirley Webb, a clerk in the office. The bookkeeping machine is one of several old devices used by the treasurer's office. Some $12,000 has been set aside in the county budget for the office to purchase new equipment, if needed. The city levy stands at 53 mills after a three-mill increase this year, and Pond proposed the addition could remain in effect to pay off a 20-year bond issue. The city's streets are in generally poor condition. Pond proposed that between $500,000 and $750,000 could be raised in a bond election for street rebuilding, along with $125,000 for a new fire station, $100,000 for remodeling the police station, and $75,000 for two new fire trucks. Pond estimated that with $750,000, the city could rebuild about 200 blocks of streets—some 12 miles. "This would leave us in pretty good shape," he said. "We would also have local improvement districts, repair projects by city street crews and improvements of many city streets under the state highway improvement program."

ROSS POINT, Feb. 15 (AP)—A holdup man wielding a short-barreled revolver robbed an all-night cafe of $36 about 5 a.m. yesterday, according to sheriff's officers in nearby Coeur d'Alene. A waitress at the Rainbow cafe said the robber, who she described as about 20 years old, demanded the money when she opened a cash register. She said he had a partner who waited in a parked car outside.

POCATELLO, Feb. 15 (AP)—Mayor Earl Pond today suggested a one million dollar bond issue here for improvements to city streets and remodeling and replacement of fire and police facilities. Pond, who said he was speaking for himself and not for the seven-man city commission, said the bond issue could be financed without new taxes. The city levy stands at 53 mills after a three-mill increase this year, and Pond proposed the addition could remain in effect to pay off a 20-year bond issue. The city's streets are in generally poor condition. Pond proposed that between $500,000 and $750,000 could be raised in a bond election for street rebuilding, along with $125,000 for a new fire station, $100,000 for remodeling the police station, and $75,000 for two new fire trucks. ## Germany Is Key to Europe's Peace, Future

LONDON, Feb. 15 (AP)—Just 20 years ago the great allied tri-umvirate of World war II—Roosevelt, Churchill and Stalin—drew a temporary dividing line across Nazi Germany.

In the conclusion of Yalta in February, 1945, they were mapping plans for a defeated foe.

The line they agreed upon was to be temporary, boldly sketching the boundaries of the areas in Germany that the Western allies and their Soviet partners in arms were to occupy at war's end.

But the "temporary" occupation line hardened swiftly into victory did come and what Winston Churchill was to define as an "iron curtain" fell across not only much of Eastern Europe, but across postwar Germany as well.

On opposite sides of that line sketched at Yalta grew two opposing camps—Democratic Germany looking Westward, and communist Germany, looking East to Moscow.

Thus even before the guns of World war II were fully silenced the foundations were laid to the cold war, the formation of east-west power blocs, and to one of the key quarrels between them: Germany.

Ever since then, divided Germany has plagued the big powers and on perilous occasions in the last 20 years brought Soviet Russia and the Western alliance close to war.

More than any other single factor in Europe today, Germany holds the key to the continent's peace and to its future.

The United States, Britain and France, remain publicly committed to a reunified Germany united to a supervised popular vote. Soviet Russia wants a communized or "neutral" Germany, and does not trust the idea of a popular referendum to produce either.

Ironically, both sides have reasons to fear a united Germany at this stage. The most important fact of Germany's relations with its neighbors today is that it is more powerful than any of them. Even divided, each portion overbalances the nations along-side.

Prospects for settling the problem of divided Germany—and the concurrent one of an isolated, divided Berlin—place any settlement in the far future.

Pessimists among the diplomats have quietly written off German reunification in our time altogether. The optimists say it might be achieved in 10 or 20 years, all going well.

A united Germany now on Russia's side would mean the end of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) to which West Germany alone is contributing some 12 divisions for the over-all defense of Western Europe. The industrial potential of a united Germany on Russia's side would amount to an enormous strengthening of Soviet war capability.

On the other hand, the same applies in the reverse to a united Germany on the side of the West. The Soviets regard any such eventually as a deadly threat to their safety as a nation.

The third possibility, a Germany united but neutralized, appears to the West to be a wholly unrealistic concept. A neutral Germany—even if neutralizing of such a major power was possible—would be exposed to increasingly forceful and dangerous pressures from neighboring Russia, to the West's ultimate disadvantage.

Thus the deadlock. The Russians, having failed to achieve their original objective in Germany, appear to have resigned themselves for the time being to the status quo of two Germanys, one of them under the communist thumb. The West, as well.

would rather have the present division than a united Germany that could be brought under Moscow's influence.

Even apart from the political implications, the West, and the Soviets both recognize that a unified Germany would be militarily, the strongest power on the continent in 1939 when Nazi Germany's power vastly outmatched that of Britain and France.

The Western powers nevertheless insist that unification of Germany must be the ultimate aim. For the past 40 years the right of self-determination of peoples has been the great principle accepted for the development and pacification of the world. It was among the principles that drew the United States and much of the United Nations into Korea, and that finds the United States in Viet Nam.

It is shortsighted and unrealistic, the West maintains, to imagine that there can be a lasting settlement in Europe while Germany remains divided. The history of Poland is cited as a case in point. Three times divided, Poland never accepted partition and finally won unification.

There are no signs that either the Russians or the Western Allies intend to back down much from their stands on Germany. So far as Russia is concerned, there are indications that since the ouster of Nikita S. Khrushchev from power last October the new Kremlin leadership is stiffening on the German issue.

With no one seeing a likely compromise between East and West on the major issue of German unification, there are still further complications both inside and outside the Soviet and Western camps. One is the relationship of France and West Germany, and this relationship in juxtaposition to Germany's States and, to a lesser extent, Britain.

Just two years ago Europe's two "Grand Old Men"—President Charles de Gaulle of France and Konrad Adenauer, then chancellor of West Germany—sealed with a public kiss the historic reconciliation of their two nations, two countries that had been enemies for centuries. The kiss followed the signing of a treaty of alliance designed to mark a new era of Franco-German friendship and cooperation.

Both de Gaulle and Adenauer spoke in glowing terms of the pact, the tall general saying it "opens wide the gates of a new future for France, Germany, Europe and, in consequence, the whole world."

Alas for such grandiose hopes, both countries since then have had to admit they haven't begun to be fulfilled. It is true that no present responsible leader of France or Germany can regard it as even conceivable that they should go to war against each other again. But the alliance has not brought about the close cooperation to which they aspired. There has been no true identities of policy.

There are additional dilemmas within the dilemmas, one of them being the disputes in the field of nuclear defense. When virtually forced by de Gaulle to choose between protection by the vast American nuclear deterrent and de Gaulle's fledgling nuclear force, Chancellor Erhard voted for the United States. For one thing he chose to push ahead with participation in the American-sponsored Multi-Lateral Nuclear Force (MLF) despite de Gaulle's efforts to dissuade him.

The Franco-German alliance remains in force and remains an influence for peace in Europe, but some of the heart and spirit went out of it almost at the beginning. The "special relationship" de Gaulle and Adenauer foresaw has not materialized. And without the "special relationship" de Gaulle's German policies are coldly realistic. De Gaulle has no intention of giving nuclear aid to Germany, because he does not want to strengthen her unduly; nor, for that matter, give her control of nuclear weapons.

Along with other Western leaders de Gaulle pays lip service to the ideal of German unification, but he obviously regards it as inappropriate to the times and not something to try to bring about in haste.

Five Syrians To Die for Conspiracy

DAMASCUS, Syria, Feb. 15 (UP) — A five-man military court sentenced five Syrians to death last night on charges of conspiring with the American embassy in Lebanon to overthrow Syria's Baathist government last Jan. 24.

The court also sentenced three Damascus merchants to life imprisonment at hard labor after finding them guilty of opposing the regime's socialist policies and provoking the people to mutiny.

All eight were sentenced in absentia. One arrested army officer was acquitted in the trial.

Eight other Syrians were sentenced to death last month on charges of plotting against the government, planning a armed riots and provoking a merchants' strike which failed.

The sentences need approval of Premier and President Gen. Amin Hafez.

De Gaulle Tours French Installations

BREST, France, Feb. 15 (UP) — President Charles de Gaulle arrived here today for an inspection tour of military installations along the coast of France. Some workers threatened anti-De Gaulle demonstrations.

Strict security was enforced. De Gaulle flew from Paris in a special jetliner to the Land-risiau air-naval base, then took a helicopter to the new French naval academy at Lanveoc Poulmic on the Crozon peninsula south of Brest.

Leaders of unions representing farmers, factory workers, teachers and students called a mass protest meeting this afternoon in the center of Brest.

The protest was timed to coincide with de Gaulle's arrival at the residence of Adm. Maurice Anquet, naval governor of Brest and commander of the second French naval zone.

A spokesman for the demonstration said the workers want to emphasize their discontent.

The fitted bodice was accented with an empire waistline, sweetheart neckline and wrist-length sleeves. The softly gored floor-length skirt cascaded into a chapel-length train.

All of the flower arrangements for the occasion were made by the bride's grandmother, Mrs. W. J. Francis, sr.

The bride's table featured a hand-crocheted lace tablecloth centered with a four-tiered wedding cake. Greenery and roses surrounded the base of the heart-shaped cake. It was iced in white and decorated with pink heart-shaped lattice work and roses and topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom. Pink ribbon streamers flowed from the top of the cake to heart-shaped cakes flanking the large cake. Crystals, candelabra and pink tablecloths completed the table decor. Beauty baskets of fall-colored flowers adorned the hall.

Utana Hoskin and Lucille Dryden presided at the refreshment table. Donna Hoskin, Shirley Thompson and Carolee Francis were in charge of the gift table. Brenda Hoskin, sister of the bridegroom, registered guests.

For her wedding trip, the new Mrs. Hoskin changed to a pink knit suit with winter white accessories. The couple resides in Filer.

Lorenzen Takes Win in Rain-Shortened Daytona 500, Dieringer Second

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla., Feb. 15 (AP)—Fred Lorenzen, Elmhurst, Ill., won the rain-shortened Daytona 500 stock car race Sunday. The race was called after 133 laps—332.5 miles—had been completed. The victory was worth $27,800 plus lap prizes to the winner. Following Lorenzen were Dale Dieringer, Charlotte, N. C.; Robby Johns, Miami, Fla., and Earl Balmer, Floyd Knobs, Ind. Johns and Lorenzen drove 1965 Fords, Dieringer and Balmer piloted 1965 Mercurys. Lorenzen grabbed the lead for the second time on the 119th lap when Marvin Panch went into the pits for fuel.

BREAKING HIS OWN RECORD that he set only the night before, Randy Matson, Texas A and M giant, gets a loss of 66 feet, 2 1/2 inches Saturday night at the Dallas indoor track meet. It better his own world indoor record of 63 feet, 8 1/2 inches that he set Friday night at Fort Worth's Will Rogers games. Matson now is aiming for the 67-foot, 10-inch outdoor record held by Dallas Long. (AP wirephoto)

Matson Is Shooting for Long's Mark

DALLAS, Feb. 15 (AP)—A black-haired giant who made a shambles of the world's indoor shot put record looked forward Sunday to working over Dallas Long's outdoor mark.

Randy Matson, Texas A and M sophomore who was second in the Olympic Games, bettered Gary Grubner's world standard of 64 feet, 11 1/2 inches on consecutive nights—and decisively each time.

He had a 65-foot, 8 1/2 inch heave at the Will Rogers games in Fort Worth Friday night, and followed the 66-foot, 2 1/2 inch toss Saturday night in the Dallas invitational.

That wound up Texas' indoor season and the 255-pound Aggie will take time to build himself up more for the outdoor season that starts for him Feb. 27 when A and M meets Baylor at College Station. Matson wants to reach about 280 pounds.

Randy doesn't think he's big enough or strong enough to do much better as things stand since he figures he already has the best technique.

The throw here Saturday night will be submitted to the National AAU for recognition, although there is some doubt that it will be accepted since Matson used the outdoor shot, which is smaller.

But Matson wasn't worrying about the indoor record anyway. He wants that 67-foot, 10-inch record held by Long. He threw for 66 feet, 3 1/2 inches in placing second to Long in the Olympic Games and that is the best he ever got.

However, Matson — he's only 19 — appears to be far short of his potential and it wouldn't surprise anyone who knows him, and particularly his coach, Charley Thomas, if he hit 68 feet this year.

Snell won the race in 2:07.2, 1.5 off his own world indoor mark. The race was a replay of the Olympic 800 meters, in which they ran 1-2. (AP wirephoto)

Foss Enters Denver Owner Fuss

DENVER, Feb. 15 (AP)—Joe Foss, commissioner of the American Football league, came to Denver Sunday while two groups of stockholders of the town's AFL franchise tried to resolve an ownership dispute.

Gerald H. Phipps and his brother, Allan R. Phipps, who hold 42 per cent of the team's stock, have offered to buy out another group holding 52 per cent. Another six per cent of the stock is held by persons who apparently are not participating in the current dispute.

The Phipps brothers have said they want to keep the franchise in Denver. The other group, including Club President Cal Kunz, are reported to be trying to sell their holdings to other interests that are said to be seeking an AFL franchise.

Foss said he did not know if the non-Phipps stockholders had "any outside offers. But groups seeking a franchise in the American Football league number into the 30s."

Foss said he planned to stay in Denver until the issue is resolved.

Mantle Quiet About Contract

DALLAS, Feb. 15 (AP)—Mickey Mantle said Sunday night he would confer with the New York Yankees Monday but would not say if it involved signing his 1965 contract.

Royals Hang On for 99-92 Cage Victory

Celtic Rally Tips Bullets By 126-111

BOSTON, Feb. 15 (AP)—Rocky Mel Counts, filling in for Bill Russell, gave the Boston Celtics a third period lift which carried them to a 126-111 National Basketball association victory over Baltimore Sunday.

While Russell watched street clothes, 7-foot, 170-lb. Mel Counts hauled down nine rebounds and scored eight points in the first nine minutes of the third quarter.

Boston broke the game open in the stretch, going from a 98-88 deadlock to a 98-86 bullet at the end of the quarter. The lead was 94-78 at one stage.

In the first 10 minutes of the third period Boston out-rebounded the Bullets 24-1 with Counts leading the way. Fellow rookie John Thompson helped Counts hold Walt Bellamy to seven points in the first half but Baltimore ace wound up with 24. Bailey Howell had 21.

Sam Jones scored 35 points and Tommy Heinsohn 26 for the winners.

Russell was sidelined for a second straight game by a torn knee. The Celtics in trouble earlier than usual tried to make adjustments to compensate. One move was to use one of the rookies into the game occasionally and use Heinsohn at a high post.

The Boston backboard domination was so complete in the decisive third quarter that Baltimore hit on 8 of only 16 chances while the Celtics were 18-33.

Schollander Honored as Top Athlete

MILWAUKEE, Feb. 15 (AP)—Schollander, 18-year-old University freshman who won four swimming goal medals at the Olympics last fall, was honored Sunday night as the 1964 athlete of the year.

Schollander, the youngest, was voted the honor in the 24-year history of The Associated Press poll of the nation's sports writers and sportscasters, was selected by about 500 at the awards dinner of the fraternal Order of Eagles.

"I thought someone in professional sports would get the honor," he said. "I'm an admirer of pro athletes especially football. I've been a big admirer of the United States of the Baltimore Colts and when I saw who was in the voting I just couldn't believe it."

Schollander was a runner-up in the AP poll, losing to 138 first place votes and 6 points. Units, who directed the Colts to the National Football league's Western division championship, had 14 first place votes and 6 points.

Pilot-Tiger Game Is Tuesday Highlight

The Glens Ferry Pilots, coming off a pair of closer than usual games including one overtime decision, will host the steadily-improving Mountain Home Tigers in the highlight of a six-game basketball schedule Tuesday night. The Pilots ripped the Tigers 48-34 in December but don't figure to have it that easy again. Since then Mountain Home has come up with wins over Besse and Gooding, the Senators holding two decisions over the Pilots. But it is only a prestige game, not counting in conference standings.

Phelps Upsets Bill Kidd in Ski Meet

ORESTED BUTTE, Colo., Feb. 15 (AP) — Western State's Ken Phelps scored one of the season's big racing upsets Sunday by edging Bill Kidd, University of Colorado, by a tenth of a second for first place in the men's downhill at the American International ski championships.

Kidd, winner of Friday's giant slalom and Saturday's slalom, raced away with the men's combined crown. Miss Hannah was the women's combined champion.

Wall Takes Panama Open Over Ellis

PANAMA, Feb. 15 (AP) — Art Wall, Jr., Pocomo Manor, Pa., shot a one-under-par 71 in Sunday's final round and won the Panama open golf tournament, first stop on the Caribbean winter circuit, by four strokes over Wes Ellis, Jr.

Wall became the first golfer to win a title in each of the circuit's five tournaments by completing the 72-hole event 11-under-par at 277.

Ellis, of West Caldwell, N.Y., took the runner-up spot with a final-round 70, his 281 total nipping Argentinean Florentino Molina by one stroke.

Wall, the one-time champion of last year's Caribbean swing with triumphs at Bogota, Maracaibo and Puerto Rico, picked up $1,500 for his victory here. The 41-year-old veteran won the Caracas open in 1963.

Wall fired rounds of 63, 68 and 75 before Sunday's finale. I haven't been playing as well as I did through the first two rounds, he said. I relaxed a bit at the 10th hole when I got a birdie. I felt the pressure ease off then.

Ellis jumped from fifth place to second with his second straight sub-par round. Molina matched par Sunday to finish one stroke in front of Raymond Ford of St. Andrews, Ill., who carded a 31.

Santana Takes Tennis Crown

BARBADOS, B. W. I., Feb. 15 (AP) — Top-seeded Manuel Santana of Spain beat Mexican Rafael Osuna 6-3, 6-4 Sunday and took the men's singles title in the Barbados international invitational tennis tournament.

Santana teamed with Italian Nicola Pietrangeli to beat the Mexican Davis cup pair of Osuna and Antonio Palafox 2-6, 4-6, 6-3, 7-5, 6-4 for the doubles title.

GOING BACK FOR THE BALL, Decio's Thompson (45) looks as if he was just cloned by Decio's Alan Okeberry in the Hornets' 57-53 overtime victory Friday night over the Red Devils, but Okeberry was just swinging at the ball. Thompson came up with the ball although Decio's were rushing in on him in the first half. The Decio win was exactly the opposite of last meeting with Mariagua when the Devils won 57-53 in overtime. LITTLE KNOWN Rod Funseth, 31, Spokane, Wash., readies lay-up putt on the par-five 18th hole at Arizona Country club Sunday. The putt wound up inches from the hole and Funseth tapped it in to wind up with a five-under-par 67 and first prize of $10,500 in the $67,500 Phoenix open golf tournament. It was Funseth's first major for pro tourney win and he came from one stroke behind Bert Yancey, Philadelphia, to do it. Yancey either led or was tied for the lead in the first three rounds. ## Funseth Overtakes Yancey for Phoenix Open Golf Victory

PHOENIX, Feb. 15 (AP) — Lean Rod Funseth, who had never before won a pro tournament, overtook another of golfdom's lesser known lights with a brilliant 67 Sunday and won the Phoenix open golf tourney with a spectacular 14-under-par total of 274. Funseth, relatively unknown to all but the closest followers of the PGA tour, finished three strokes ahead of Philadelphia's Bert Yancey, who had led or shared the lead from the start of this $67,500 tourney over the 6,584-yard Arizona Country club course.

Funseth's first-place winnings of $10,500 was just under his 1964 total earnings of $10,620. His best previous finish was second in the St. Paul open last year.

The dark-haired Funseth, who received some help from a spectator on the 15th hole, started out the day one stroke back. He caught Yancey with a birdie on the first hole of the final round, took the lead on the ninth and then stretched it out.

Funseth, from Spokane, grabbed the lead when Yancey, who was playing in the same threesome, hit his tee shot from the ninth into a trap and took a bogey while Funseth parred the hole.

His big break came on the 15th when his poor approach shot went wide, but caromed off a spectator to within about two feet of the cup.

"Quite a surprise," the 31-year-old Funseth said after he took a cautious par 5 on the long 18th hole. He called the ninth the turning point.

"He got that bogey and I managed a five-foot putt, and then we just kept plugging along."

The five-under-par 67 was his best round of the tourney. He'd started with a 71, then had 68s back to back.

It was a heart breaker for

NFL Eyes Rule Changes, Trades At Annual Meet

PALM DESERT, Calif., Feb. 15 (UPI) — The National Football league's owners and general managers convene on Tuesday to discuss possible rule changes, constitutional amendments and maybe even a few trades. Commissioner Pete Rozell will preside over the annual

Murakami to Be Returned To Giants

TOKYO, Feb. 15 (AP) — The newspaper Sports Nippon Monday quoted a high official of the Nankai Hawks as saying that the club will return left-handed pitcher Masanori Murakami to the San Francisco Giants for the 1965 season.

The newspaper said the official, described as "Owner Tsubota," of the Nankai Private Railways professional baseball team, intimated Sunday he would abide by the recommendations of Japanese baseball Commissioner Yuzo Uchimura.

Uchimura last week summoned Shigeru Niyama, the Hawks' general manager, in connection with the Murakami controversy.

U.S. baseball Commissioner Ford Frick had written to Uchimura saying that documents in his possession held up the Giants' claim and that for the best interests of U.S.-Japanese baseball relations, the agreement between the two teams should be honored.

Uchimura said his study of the controversy showed that the Giants had purchased Murakami, the first Japanese to pitch in the U.S. major leagues, for $10,000. He suggested that Murakami join the Giants for the 1965 season and he would negotiate for his return to the Hawks next year.

Other measures on the agenda include the granting of consent the clubs must give their signed collegiate stars to play in the All-American bowl game at Buffalo in the summer; and further discussions of scouting pools, with an eye toward the organization of one huge pool that would serve all 14 teams in the league.

Some teams use video tape playback to study the action during the game. There is a recommendation which would require every home team with such equipment to provide equal facilities to visiting teams.

Pettit Injures Knee in Game

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 15 (AP) — The St. Louis Hawks lost ace forward Bob Pettit for an indefinite period when he injured his knee against Cincinnati Sunday afternoon.

Pettit fell hard on the knee in the third period and something snapped several plays later, forcing him out of the game.

Team physician Dr. Stan London said he could not tell the extent of the injury and ordered X-rays.

TAKE RACE PROENIX, Ariz., Feb. 15 (AP) — Nasharco took command early to win Sunday's 8 1/2-furlong feature race at Turf Paradise by 2 1/4 lengths.
