Five Magic Valley residents were honored Saturday evening at the sixth annual Livestock Hall of Fame banquet. An overcapacity crowd, estimated at nearly 400, attended the event, which was held at the American Legion hall in Twin Falls. The five men named to the Hall of Fame and honored were J. F. Clark, Castleford; Dennis Burks, Rupert; John Breckenridge, Twin Falls; Ross Pickett, Oakley, and Ed Uhlig, Murtaugh.

Soviet Union Has Radio Commercials

MOSCOW, March 13 (UPI)—Radio commercials have come to Russia, the official Tass news agency reported today. They are to advertise farm products grown on private plots. The agency said in a dispatch from Alma Ata that the government is financing construction of trade centers in big industrial cities of Kazakhstan for the sale of agricultural produce from individual farmers' plots. Heating is under construction in Alma Ata and Karaganda for selling meat, vegetables and fruit, Tass said. There are also four-story hotels and restaurants for the farmers and storage rooms. "The farmers will be able to use the local radio for advertising their goods."

Favorite Recipes

Favorite recipes of Magic Valley housewives, collected over the last year by the Times-News, will be published March 31 in a special tabloid edition. Approximately 150 choice Magic Valley favorite recipes will be included, along with pictures of Magic Valley women representing the housewives of their communities. They will cover almost all types of cooking, such as casseroles, meats, cakes, pies, cookies, salads, salad dressings, breads, desserts, puddings, candy, ice cream and many miscellaneous items. The special section, which will be delivered to subscribers with their regular edition, also will be available on news stands, will be suitable for keeping as a basic start for a recipe file.

because of what economists call "the protein gap." Proteins are essential to the growth and maintenance of the body. The easiest source is meat. Proteins are costly, and in the poor world, vast numbers are undernourished for lack of them. What happens when a human being is undernourished? The result is listlessness, disease, deformed children, blind people. Those who have enough energy See HUNGER, Page 10, Col. 6

THE BEST OF THE show award during the 14th annual Magic Valley Gem show went for a lapidary display furnished by Howard Duncan, Burley. Shown looking at the display, which also took first place in its category, is Claude Stevens, Burley, show chairman. The show at the national guard armory will continue until 9 p.m. Sunday. Negroes, Whites Try to Break Through Police Lines in Selma SELMA, Ala., March 13 (UPI)—More than a thousand Negroes, nuns and Northern clergymen pushed against police lines today, taunting and chanting while others tried to break through and end a three-day vigil in the street. But only a handful of demonstrators got through the two-block-long police cordon to their goal, the Dallas county courthouse. Nearly 200 angry whites gathered there and Selma Public Safety Director Wilson Baker rushed in to lead the frightened demonstrators to safety when sheriff's deputies refused to protect them.

Buhl Board Vows to Aid Junior College

BUHL, March 13—The use of available facilities and full cooperation were offered to the Twin Falls county junior college board of trustees by Buhl public school officials at a Friday afternoon meeting held at the R and R cafe here. Uncertainty over potential enrollment when the junior college begins operation this fall has long been one of the main problems facing the board. This uncertainty has placed the group in the position of having to seek additional facilities in case of an overflow of enrollment. The offer extended to the board by the Buhl school officials present at the meeting has eased some of the burden the junior college trustees have been carrying.

Light Snow, Rain Strike Parts of U.S.

By United Press International
A vast umbrella of clouds spread light snow from Wisconsin to Arizona and spattered rain through Dixie Saturday. Ice jams and melting snow sent the Floyd river into flood stage in northwest Iowa. Authorities said the Floyd would rise two and one-half feet out of its banks at Hinton and Joes, Ia. Sunday. The Rock river was expected to reach bankful at Rock Falls, Ia., Sunday but no serious flooding was forecast. The Boyer river continued flooding at Missouri Valley, Ia., but about 1,100 persons remained homeless because a rapid thaw melted snow in the northern Arizona collected another two inches of snow Saturday morning, increasing the snow pack at Flagstaff to nearly a foot. The U.S. weather bureau warned of locally heavy snow in the Arizona mountains Sunday. Storms grumbled across central Florida, pelting Orlando with nearly one and one-half inches of rain in an hour. Marble snow-hunt stones chattered on the roofs of Daytona Beach, Charleston, S. C., had three-fourths of an inch of rain. A mother and six of her children died in a fire at Reading, Pa., where temperatures fell into the teens. Parts of Dixie had another chilly morning Saturday. The temperature dipped to 23 degrees at Raleigh, N. C., seven degrees colder at Chicago. However, the nation's cold spots were Phillipsburg, Pa., where the temperature dipped to zero, and Marquette, Mich., which had a low of 3 degrees. Marquette also remained the nation's snowiest city with two feet on the ground.

New Protests Are Stirred by Race Violence

By United Press International
The wave of Alabama violence which brought death to a white minister stirred new eddies of protest Saturday from Boston to Los Angeles. At Los Angeles 6,000 whites and Negroes marched to the federal building, where four congressmen carried their protest to the U.S. Atty. Manuel Real. While the lawmakers and Real were conferring an anonymous caller telephoned a report that a bomb had been placed in the building, which was ordered evacuated. No bomb was found. Fifty Congressmen of racial equality (CORE) demonstrators invaded the Alabama exhibit at a boat show in Chicago. McGormick Place Convention hall. They shouted and jeered until police carried them away, jailing a total of 41, 17 of them juveniles. At Jeannette, Pa., a guttural playing Roman Catholic monk led 500 persons, two-thirds of them seminarians and students from St. Vincent college, Latrobe, Pa., on a two-hour singing protest last March around city hall. Twenty nuns from Seton Hall college joined the marchers. Twenty Unitarian ministers left San Francisco Saturday to take part in Selma, Ala., racial demonstrations. At Modesto, Calif., civil rights sympathizers announced plans for a 1 1/2 mile march through the downtown section on Sunday. About 1,500 persons picketed outside the White House in Washington while President Johnson met with Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace.

About 300 Here For Moose Lodge Sports Carnival

Some 300 persons representing Moose lodges from almost every major city in Southern Idaho are gathered at the Twin Falls Bowladrome for a state Moose sports carnival. There are 41 teams from the cities represented during the bowling tournament which will run until Sunday morning. A banquet has been set for 7 p.m. Sunday in the Twin Falls Moose hall, at which time awards will be presented for the bowling teams and also rifle shooting winners. Both men's and women's teams are entered in both sports. George Long, Twin Falls, is chairman of the event.

Princess in Monaco Baptized

MONTE CARLO, MARCH 13.—Princess Stephanie, daughter of Prince Rainier and Princess Grace of Monaco, was baptized here today by Eugene Cardinal Tisserant, dean of the Sacred College of Cardinals. The child was born Feb. 1. Her godfather is John B. Kelly, former Olympic curling champion and brother of Princess Grace.

House Okays Substitute College Bill

BOISE, March 13 (AP)—The Idaho house gave the nod today to another of Gov. Robert F. Smylie's major legislative proposals but acted contrary to his wishes in tightening up the state's primary convention law. Approved and sent to the senate after brief debate was a substitute measure providing for creation of six junior college districts embracing the state's 44 counties. In the meantime, a house-senate conference committee recommended that the house concur in amendments to the school fund distribution formula approved by the senate.

Janitor Foils Bomb Plot In Viet Nam

Saigon, March 13 (AP)—A plot to blow up an apartment building housing U. S. embassy employees here was foiled today by an alert Vietnamese janitor who spotted the terrorist as he was planting the plastic bomb. An embassy spokesman said the terrorist fled and the janitor reported the matter to security personnel who rushed bomb disposal squads to the 12-apartment building. The tenants were evacuated and the charge was disarmed just 10 minutes before it was to have gone off. An embassy spokesman said the bomb contained about 20 pounds of explosives and was about one-fifth as large as the bomb that partially destroyed the Brink bachelor officers' quarters on Christmas eve, killing or injuring scores of Americans. The sound of heavy artillery, meanwhile, was heard in Saigon tonight as government forces trained big guns on a suspected communist troop concentration on the Plain of Reeds, which stretches from the Cambodian border to the outskirts of the capital. There were no immediate reports on the artillery bombardment.

Burley Man's Gem Display Best of Show

A lapidary display furnished by Howard Duncan, Burley, took the best of the show award and first place award in its division during the 14th annual Gem show of Magic Valley Gem clubs being held at the national guard armory. The show, which started Saturday and will run until 6 p.m. Sunday, features gems from the northwest and special displays that have won national awards. First place winner in the art-facts division was Johnny Williams. Hugh Benton, Burley, took first place in general lapidary and petrified woods. In the junior division John Brink, Clatskanie, received the first place ribbon and trophy. C. D. Howell, Mountain Home, received first place honors for faceted display. The minerals award went to Clara Walton, Kimberly. This is the first time in two years that the show has been held in Twin Falls.

China Steps Up Charges On 'Brutality'

TOKYO, March 13 (AP)—Communist China today stepped up its "brutality" charges against Soviet police who forcibly ended Asian students riots in front of the U.S. embassy in Moscow two weeks ago. The Peking regime charged that one Asian student who was hospitalized after the demonstration was severely beaten by police in a Moscow hospital. "After the ruthless beating he had convulsions in the four limbs," the official New China news agency claimed. The Chinese Reds named the student as Huang Chiao-keng. Red China said that 30 minutes after the alleged beating the student was forcibly taken to the hospital's mental ward, bound-hand and foot, for eight hours and locked in a "small and cold room." In Moscow, informed sources said today several Chinese Communist "ambassadors" of the March 4 embassy demonstration may be expelled from Russia. The Russians yesterday delivered a note to the Chinese embassy accusing Peking of conducting a "slander campaign" and rejecting the Communist Chinese charges of police brutality in putting down the demonstration.

Vance Plane Makes Final Trip to T.F.

Vance International Airways' final flight from Los Angeles to Twin Falls was made this week and officials said the flights were welcomed. Joseph Leggett, Sun Valley operational manager and vice president of the Vance corporation, told the Times-News that although the operation into Twin Falls this past season was welcomed, it probably was a little off in the timing because coast residents had made previous reservations at Sun Valley and also had made reservations to get here. "We hope to try again next year," Leggett stated. It was through arrangements by Sun Valley that Vance came to Twin Falls. Vance Roberts, owner of the airlines, said Saturday the flights will start again next year but earlier. He said they may start just prior to Christmas or right after.

Taylor Arrives

Dr. James L. Taylor, newly appointed administrator for the Twin Falls junior college, was met at Joslin field at 4 p.m. Saturday by Robert Blastock, chairman of the board. When asked when he would begin his work, Dr. Taylor replied, "Tonight." Dr. Taylor was notified of his appointment Feb. 24, when he was serving as director of student personnel and dean of men at Ellendale Teacher's college in North Dakota. He has since resigned his position to come to Twin Falls. He said his wife and family will join him in June, when the children are out of school.

Lake Walcott Studied for Possible Job Corps Site

RUPERT, March 13—The bureau of reclamation has been requested to analyze its activities and operations in Idaho to suggest possible locations for job corps conservation centers, including Lake Walcott area. David L. Crandall, Minidoka project superintendent, said today. He emphasized the establishment of a job corps conservation center is merely in the study stage and has not been approved by the office of economic opportunity. Before a center is set up the governor of the state can disapprove its establishment if the idea is not acceptable to the local community, he said. It is estimated that simply having a 100-man center near a community could bring $100,000 a year in business to local merchants. In addition, Crandall pointed out the building of outdoor recreation sites and improvement of natural resources can make nearby local communities more attractive for both residents and tourists. The youth corps trainees would perform conservation activities on reclamation facilities on the Minidoka project. This work could be of a type not normally performed under the regulation operation and maintenance program. This includes seeding canals banks with grass, improving operation and maintenance roads on canal banks and improving canal banks where seepage is evident. Another most important assignment could be to construct or improve waterways to minimize damages from the flooding in Minidoka county which has been experienced in recent years. Other work which could be performed by boys from the proposed center includes construction of recreational facilities on the shores of Lake Walcott and Snake river, development of hunting and fishing access areas, wildlife habitat improvement, boundary fencing and other activities which would improve the area for recreation and wildlife.

Horse Show Set For June 25-27 At Fairgrounds

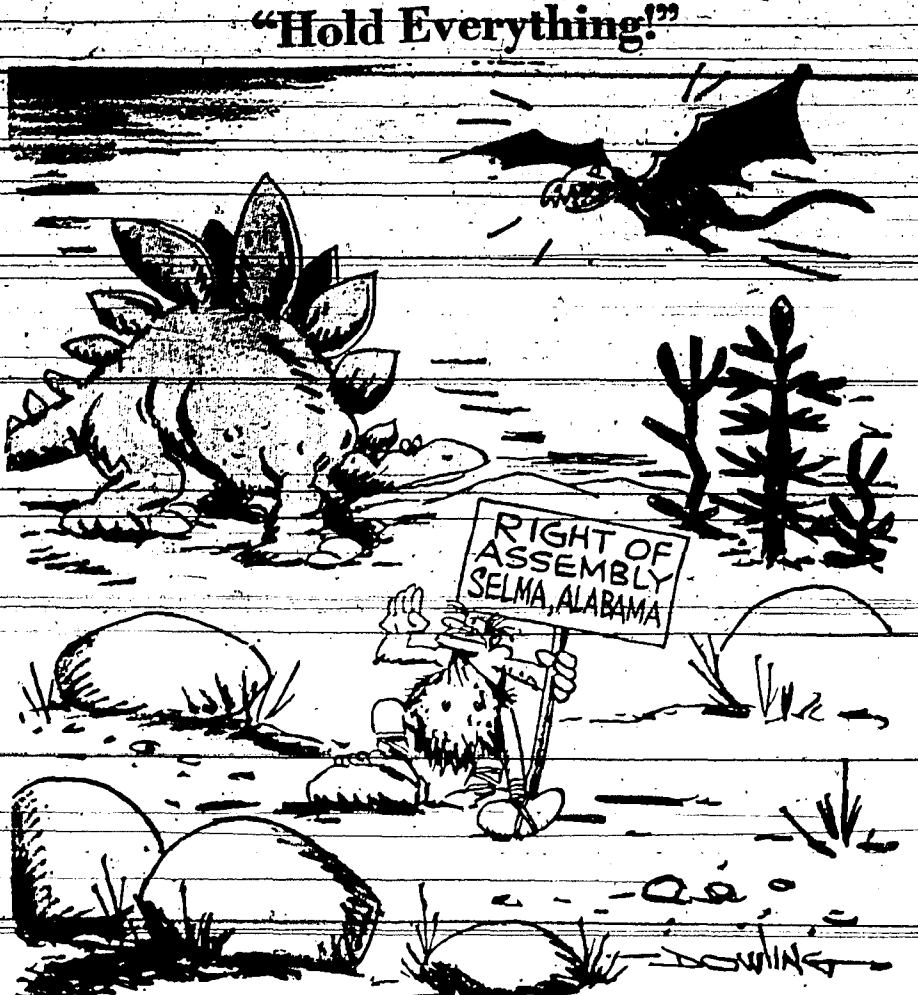

The Magic Valley Horse show will be held June 25-27 at the Twin Falls county fairgrounds, Filer, it was announced Saturday. A new feature of this year's show will be the Paint Horse halter classes. Committees appointed for the horse show included Lee Sharp, arena director; Eddie Howard, arena assistant; Bill Flannery, tickets; Edyth Ruykendall, trophies; Dean Vickers, judge; Oretta Sharp, Edith Fenwick and Mrs. John Peterson, programs. Don Fenwick, halter classes; Mrs. G. W. Westbrook, queen contest; W. L. (Bill) Smith, Leona Light and Nancy Light, finance and promotion; G. H. Wylie, ringmaster; Greta Sharp and Smith, publicity, and Ralph Goodwin, cattle.

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG By ANDREW TULLY SINGAPORE, March 13 — Two months in Southeast Asia do not quite an expert make, but the exposure of a healthy-looking dweller in Washington's business-casual jungle. Among other things, it affords a better understanding of the cause of anti-Americanism in the little nations of the world.

Five of those successful Republicans were from Alabama.

Minority Blood Residents of Twin Falls are still content to let a small minority meet the community's obligation to the Red Cross blood-bank. Twin Falls brags of something in excess of 21,000 population, but only 149 persons showed up during the last visit of the bloodmobile.

THE CASTRO IMAGE — In Viet Nam, Thailand and in Malaysia, Castro is little more than a myth. The average citizen enjoys a blissful ignorance of his politics and his global importance. But he is a powerful myth, a kind of demagogue hero who has defied the Colossus of the North and still wears his head on Main Street, Southeast.

Washington News By LYLE WILSON (United Press International) President Johnson's Great Society has run into some bad trouble at the grass roots and in the courts of truck gardens and citrus growers in all areas of the United States.

Except for the constant support of a small core of faithful donors, Twin Falls would have an even worse record for giving blood. Actually, a city the size of Twin Falls has enough potential blood donors to support a bloodmobile visit of several days duration.

POOR OLD UNCLE SAM — Southeast Asia's feeling that the U.S. is a sitting duck for insults has been exploited to the hilt by the communists. The issue in Manila is jurisdiction for crimes committed on U.S. bases, but the demonstrators got in their licks for world communism by extending the issue to demands for the withdrawal of all foreigners from Asia, Africa and Latin America.

Air Force Aide Explains Sonic Booms

CHICAGO, March 13 (AP) — The chimney smoke today and the sonic booms caused by the jet were not related, said the woman over the telephone.

"But, madam," said Col. Ralph Springer, head of the air force Springfield office of information, "there were no sonic booms today."

"Are you sure?" she asked indignantly.

"Yes, madam," Springer said. "All flights were cancelled due to weather conditions. Some complaints aren't so easily handled."

Since Jan. 4 when the air force began flying supersonic B58 bombers over Chicago twice daily, the air force has received 684 complaints of damage, the colonel said in an interview.

"Most of the complaints are for broken windows."

The Hustler is capable of speeds in excess of 1,500 miles per hour in a 60,000 foot climb.

The flights, scheduled to end the first week of April, are used to train the bomber's three-man crews at army Nike sites around Chicago.

Springer described the sonic boom as a huge cone emanating from the nose of the aircraft.

"The actual noise is continuous from the time the plane breaks the sound barrier," he said, "but persons on the ground only hear it as the cone travels past them."

Comparatively, the sonic boom between the noise in a boiler factory, which is worse, and the sound of thunder, which is less.

Said Springer:

"No sonic boom pressure is strong enough to injure a person. Also, we know from tests that the average pressure of a square sonic boom is five pounds a square foot below that needed to damage ground buildings, 70 or more pounds per square foot."

But they keep getting calls, said the colonel with a sigh, even when they're not flying.

THIS IS HOW a sonic boom would look if it were visible. Sound is continuous cone emanating from the nose of a plane traveling faster than sound. Since Jan. 4 (Chicagoans have grown accustomed to the sound as air force B-58 Hustlers fly twice-daily missions the length of Lake Michigan. The air force has been harassed by complaints. Petitions on City Zoning To Be Heard

A public hearing on zoning matters will be held at 7:30 p.m. Monday as part of the Twin Falls city commissioners meeting.

The hearing will be held on a request from Roscoe Wagner to construct a shop building at 410 Lequest street and a request by Del Butterfield and Clara Butterfield to rezone a section of Addison avenue from residential-medium density to commercial-local.

The commissioners also plan to set a public hearing on a request by Robert W. Ballester to rezone a section of the city to commercial-general.

The commissioners also will hear a request by Job's Daughters to paint house numbers on curbing.

In addition to regular business the group will open and award bids on lease of 401.85 shares of Salmon River Canal company water stock for 1965 season.

It also will report on a bid opening to furnish 36,700 tons of crushed rock or gravel and hear an ordinance prohibiting parking on Blue Lakes boulevard north from Five Points to city limits.

Additional items for the city manager, city clerk or city attorney will be discussed.

Farm Leader Comments on Tax Passage

Charles E. Harris, president of the Twin Falls county Farm Bureau, criticized the Times-News Friday for its criticism of "our respected legislators."

In reply to a request by the Times-News to comment on the final passage of the three percent sales tax proposal, Harris said: "Since the Times-News has asked me for a statement concerning the sales tax, I feel that people should know that so far as I am concerned the biased stand of the Times-News had no effect on our legislators."

He continued, "Times-News criticism of some of our respected legislators was completely uncalled for. Such public berating is one of the reasons we find it hard to persuade the better qualified citizens to accept public positions."

"Perhaps their own subscription lists will eventually tell them how many enemies they have made," Harris declared.

"So far as the passage of the sales tax is concerned, I have no right to question the wisdom of the legislature. My personal opinion has not changed. I feel that the sales tax proposal is a much more fair tax to everyone."

The surtax proposal which Harris mentioned was proposed by the Farm Bureau and would have levied a two and one-half percent surtax on all income before allowance for dependents. The proposal was defeated.

"Had it been proposed (the surtax) a year or two earlier and before some of our legislators were committed to a sales tax," Harris continued, "perhaps the outcome would have been different."

"However," he said, "there is no use crying over spilt milk; there is already too much water in it."

Harris noted, however, "If there is a referendum concerning the sales tax, it will be at my polling place voting my convictions."

"If no referendum is held, the Farm Bureau man continues, 'I am sure the people of this great state will express their approval or disapproval at the next general election. Ralph Harding found it so.'"

In concluding his statement, which reflected his personal views rather than the views of the Farm Bureau, Harris said: "We live under a constitutional republic where the rule of the majority is the law of the land. After facts have been presented and the decisions made, all good citizens will accept the democratic process as final."

South American Trip Described To Knoll Grange

Herman Carrel, Rupert, gave a report on his recent trip to South America to about 60 people at the Knoll Grange hall Friday evening.

His talk was illustrated with colored slides showing the agricultural projects in Ecuador, where he spent three weeks. A question session was held during the meeting.

A potluck dinner, with the home economics committee as hosts, preceded the program.

BOISE, March 13 (AP)—A challenge to the constitutionality of subdividing and developing land has been raised constitutional by the Idaho supreme court. The ordinance was challenged by Lloyd L. Clark, Boise, fined $75 for subdividing land for development without submitting plans for each subdivision to the Ada county zoning commission. He challenged the authority of the county to set zoning requirements. The court ruled the ordinance is authorized by the state constitution.

POCATELLO, March 13 (AP)—Good weather has given the contractor an early start on the million-dollar reservoir northeast of the city. Mitchell Construction company has completed excavation and plans to pour the concrete foundation starting Monday. When the foundation is completed, General American Field Erection corporation, a Provo firm, will begin construction of the steel reservoir. The $136,000 project should be completed by mid-July.

IDAHO FALLS, March 13 (AP)—The president of the Idaho League of Women Voters expressed satisfaction yesterday at the approval by both the house and senate of the creation of an Idaho constitutional commission. The bill, which now goes to the governor, sets up a 15-member commission which will determine what changes are needed in Idaho's constitution to permit effective operation of state and local government, said Mrs. Eugene Smith, Idaho Falls, league president. "We congratulate the Idaho senate for joining the house of representatives in taking the first step toward this goal."

Legislature Activity

BOISE, March 13 (AP)—Two bills providing pay raises for state elected officials were approved yesterday in the Idaho legislature, one in the house and the other in the senate. The house bill boosted the governor's salary to $17,500 and the senate measure put it at $22,500. The governor now gets $15,000. The senate bill increases salaries of other elected officials from the present $10,000 to $15,000. The house measure makes pay of the auditor and attorney general $14,500 and that of the other officers $12,000. Both houses approved bills increase pay of the lieutenant governor from $12,000 to $3,000. Also passed by the senate was a house-approved measure increasing salaries of supreme court justices from $15,000 to $17,500 and those of district judges from $12,000 to $14,500. The increased salaries would be effective July 1 this year. For the justices and judges but other state elected officials would not get pay boosts until the beginning of the terms of those chosen in the general election in November, 1966.

BOISE, March 13 (AP)—The Idaho house defeated 64-10 today a bill opponents said would weaken the powers of the state board of pharmacy and endanger public health. It would have given the administrator of public health power to control sale of potentially dangerous drugs. Opponents contended, however, that the measure was "cleverly drawn" and would change the present law in such a way that it would be impossible to control some potentially dangerous drugs.

BOISE, March 13 (AP)—A bill designed to eliminate the problem of appraising funds to pay the expenses of both regular and special sessions of the Idaho legislature was introduced today in the house. It provides for a $200,000 quarterly appropriation from the general fund to be deposited to the credit of legislative fund. That would total $800,000 a biennium. Rep. Jenkins Palmer, R-Oneda, chairman of the house appropriations committee, said that amount would take care of any special sessions, as well as the regular biennial session. Under the bill, any monies remaining in the legislative fund at the end of the biennium would be transferred back to the general fund.

BOISE, March 13 (AP)—The senate approved yesterday a measure revising membership of the Idaho legislative council. The bill now goes to the house. As created by the 1963 session, the council was made up of the presiding officers and the party leaders of the house and senate plus members appointed by the president pro tem and speaker. The revised plan would make the speaker and president pro tem members of the council and in addition there would be six members elected by the senate and six by the house, three from each political party. The bill authorizes the council to retain legal counsel.

BOISE, March 13 (AP)—A bill requiring a permanent inventory of all state property was approved by the senate yesterday and was sent to the house. Sen. Cy Chase, D-Hewletts, was floor sponsor of the measure, which requires the state auditor to keep the records, listing all real and personal property owned by the state. Chase said that at present there is no record of personal property owned by state departments and agencies.

BOISE, March 13 (AP)—The Idaho house passed a 7.9 million dollar agriculture budget 54-12 yesterday, completing legislative action on it. The budget had been passed 27-12 in the senate and now is ready for the governor's approval. Only 1.1 million dollars of the budget comes from the state's general fund over which the legislature has control. The rest comes from special agriculture fees and taxes.

BOISE, March 13 (AP)—The senate approved by voice vote today a resolution calling upon the Idaho legislative council to study the matter of controlling use of land below the high water mark of lakes and streams. The resolution now goes to the house. It resulted from efforts during the 1965 session to obtain introduction of a bill which would have authorized the state to lease such lands for private or public use. Sen. Don Samuelsen, R-Boomer, whose public resources and public recreation committee refused to introduce the bill, said all information obtained at two public hearings on the proposal would be turned over to the legislative council for its consideration. He said he hoped the council would "come up with a solution" of the problem for consideration by the 1967 legislature.

BOISE, March 13 (AP)—The Idaho house rejected 47-21 today a proposed constitutional amendment that would have cleared the way for imposing a personal property tax on automobiles. A two-thirds majority vote was needed for passage. Under the amendment counties would have been authorized to retain money collected through a personal property tax on automobiles under present law, any revenue derived from such a levy must go to the highway fund.

BOISE, March 13 (AP)—The house passed and sent to the senate today a measure authorizing county commissioners to acquire land for park development and creation of recreational facilities. The measure also provides for a levy of five cents per $100 of assessed valuation to finance such activities. Rep. Dale Garner, R-Mindok, pointed out that the legislation was "permissive, not mandatory" and would allow counties to go ahead with needed development in recreational fields.

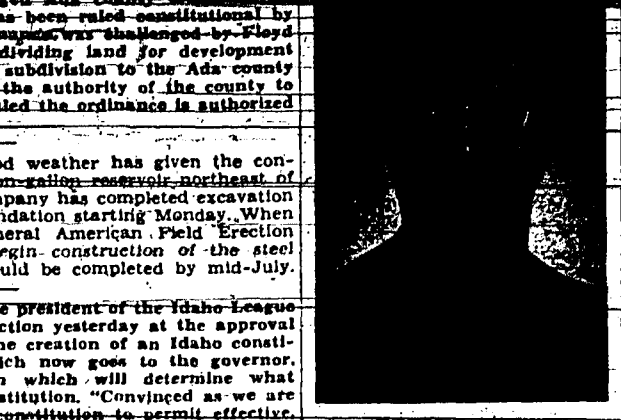

BOISE, March 13 (AP)—The so-called "good Samaritan" bill, previously passed by the house, was approved yesterday by the Idaho senate. It would relieve from legal liability for damages, persons who stop at the scene of an accident to aid an injured person. The immunity would not apply, however, if the person providing aid was guilty of gross negligence in his treatment. The senate made a technical amendment in the bill, which must go back to the house for concurrence.

Brother Dies

GHOSHONE, March 13 (Word)—Word was received by Glen Caldwell of the death of his brother, Otis Caldwell, at Galax, Va.

Mrs. Caldwell was a resident of Lincoln county during the 1920's before moving to Wyoming and then to Virginia, his home state, about 10 years ago.

Table decorations, using a St. Patrick's day theme, were arranged by Mrs. Glenn Bennett and Mrs. Dale Hellewell.

DORIS L. BETTS, former Twin Falls resident, was chosen Idaho princess for the national cherry blossom festival, which is held in the nation's capital each year. Mrs. Betts, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Betts, 842 Walnut street, is a secretary for Sen. Frank Church. She resides in Arlington, Va.

Sparkling Performances Abound in "South Pacific"

BY MRS. KURT MOSS

An enthusiastic, capacity audience greeted the opening night of "South Pacific" Friday.

This seventh production of the Dilettante Group of Magic Valley brought the return of two favorites, Mary Walker and Roger Vincent. Both were disappointed their expectant audience.

Stage and auditorium often seem too small to contain all the radiant Mary Walker has to offer. Her charm and warmth held the focus of attention from the "Cockyrd Optimist" through the bounciest "Honey Bun" to the last "Dites Mol."

Roger Vincent's velvet-voiced Emile DeBeque was the perfect complement to Mary Walker's Nellie Forbush in the "Twin Soliloquies" and "This Is How It Feels," and shone in splendor for "Some Enchanted Evening" and the sad and haunting "This Near-ly Was Mine."

Excellent Nellie and Emile are a must for South Pacific, but it would still fall flat without the Bloody Mary and the Dilettante Group. It is indeed fortunate to have Heleg Gee.

She is that wily old Tokiness from the top of her flying pony-fall-to-the-top-of-her-saddle. The dead she will gouge those sailors and seizes out of all their money, but her tenderness is reserved for List for whom only the best is good enough.

List and Lieut. Cable played by Ernest Willis and Barbara Willis give a tender performance as the ill-starred young lovers.

The rascally counterpart to Bloody Mary, the money-making Luther Bills, is played by Ivan Squires. He knows how to establish a rounded character but one must be forgiven when every thing pastes in memories of that macabrely undulating ship-tattoo.

Newcomers Dick Cook and Howard Hagemester as topbrass are a welcome and excellent addition to the group.

Margaret Mead and Kim Brumback as Nganes and Jerome are in the very opening of the show and solve the twin difficulties of speaking only French and understanding no English perfectly.

The colorful chorus of sailors, marines, nurses and natives provides the necessary action with Jim Bennett, Roy Slotten, Rex Reed and Jim LaGrone leading the way.

The direction on stage showed the sure hands of H. Paul Kliss and choreographer Philip Keeler. Though South Pacific is not primarily a dancer's show, Keeler's influence in the musical numbers was unmistakable. Sen-neth Ward's scenery and Lou Lowes costumes completed the picture.

All this still would not make a musical without Del Slaughter's

Workshop

WENDELL, March 13

The second in a series of workshops for the Future Artists of Magic Valley, has been set for Monday from 9:30 a.m. to 3 p.m. at the Civic club rooms. Mrs. William Duggan will be in charge.

The workshop will feature figure painting with a live model. Guest artists are asked to bring easel, paint in either watercolor or charcoal and their lunch. Coffee will be provided. A small fee will be charged for the day and the funds collected will go for future art exhibit expenses.

Teacher Is Rehired for Filer School

FILER, March 13—Mrs. Ruth Hall has been rehired to teach the second grade at Victory school for the 1965-66 term, according to Thomas Turner, superintendent of Filer school district.

Mrs. Hall, who has taught formerly, has been on leave of absence to complete degree requirements.

Mrs. New McClain has been granted a year's leave of absence for the continuance of her education, and the resignation of Mrs. Marlin Knigge, special teacher in junior high, has been accepted with regret, the superintendent said.

Leonard Carlee, school custodian, will be placed on special duty during the summer months. No other special help will be employed for the season's maintenance program.

School trustees have agreed on an option with Jack Ramsey to acquire land adjacent to Victory school, Turner said. Virgil Trickett and Edwin Lierman, board members, and Karl Elliott, coach, have been appointed to investigate the grounds and make recommendations on possibilities of establishing a temporary track at Victory school.

C. J. Boss, Eugene Griff and C. J. Lerman, trustees, and Duane Ramsey, Alfred Theener and Clarence Bever, members of the Citizen's committee, recently inspected a number of schools in Idaho and Ontario, Ore., in connection with a number of architectural plans.

The group is considering hiring an architect to assist the group in planning for a proposed new school building.

Full-Time Director Hired For Herrett's Planetarium

Herrett's planetarium, 1220 Kimberly road, will reopen Monday for its spring season and appointments for visits by school classes are being taken.

Norman Herrett, who built and operates the planetarium and museum, said he has hired a full-time director for the planetarium, Nicholas Carter, Las Vegas, Nev.

Carter will arrive this week to take over his duties, Herrett said, and "will give full time to student teachers and the public so as to more fully use the equipment, which rivals similar facilities in Kansas City, Denver and Portland."

This will be the eighth spring run for the planetarium here. During the fall season, Herrett reported, 6,800 students from southern Idaho visited the local facility on tours lasting two and one-half hours each.

Reservations for tours may be made by telephoning 793-0668, at any hour.

NICHOLAS CARTER

Carter, the new planetarium director, founded the United States International Astronomical League in 1950 and has served as its president for nine and one-half years.

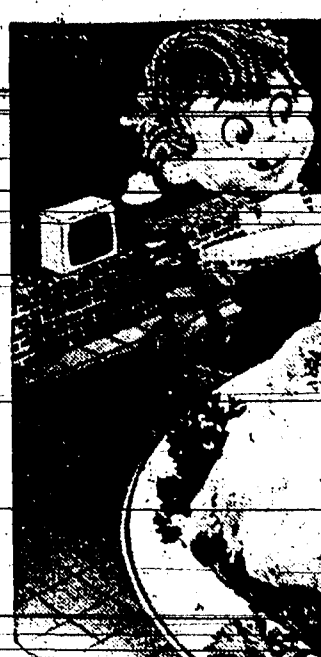

In 1957 he was elected president of the Astronomical Society of Southern Nevada, and served for four years.

From 1955 to 1962 he was editor of "The Little Galaxy," an astronomical publication serving the amateur and professional astronomer throughout most of the United States.

From 1961 to the present he has been editor and publisher of the only tape recorded astronomical publication in the world, "SPECTRA."

Carter is a graduate of two art schools and has specialized in animated cartooning in relation to visual education.

LENTEN GUIDEPASTS

Put a Halo on the Day

By FRED BAUER
Just a short time after I had finished college and had taken a job with a weekly newspaper in Ohio, an editor of a nearby metropolitan paper sent me what must rank as one of the most pleasing letters I ever have received. The newspaperman wrote praising a column of mine.

The letter was a handwritten memo, no more than three or four lines long. Yet the phrase, "solid piece of writing," flashed in front of my eyes like a neon sign.

Solemn pride that must be yours to have laid so costly a sacrifice upon the altar of freedom.

I am sure that at some sunrise in the future his message became a treasured memento to the family.

History is full of friendships that sprouted and blossomed as the result of unnecessary letters. Poet Robert Browning took time one day to write a note praising the poetry of a lonely invalid named Elizabeth Barrett. The couple's correspondence resulted in some of the most beautiful love sonnets of our time and eventually marriage.

Robert Louis Stevenson, Benjamin Franklin, Charles Lamb, John Keats, George Bernard Shaw—all were writers of the unnecessary letter.

Strange that I cannot remember what the column was about, but I do recall showing the note to my wife, Shirley. Trying to contain my pride that evening, I casually mentioned the letter as if I received "fan" mail every day. She saw through my facade—as usual.

Later, when I learned to know this newspaperman better I found that he made a practice of sending—everyday—dozens of letters such as the one I received to people everywhere. He called them his "unnecessary letters."

When I presented him for a definition, he explained that these were letters that no one expected to receive; correspondence that he was in no way obligated to write.

Over the years I have found great enjoyment out of imitating my friend's letter-writing habits. Just last week, I received a reply to one of my unnecessary letters.

What happened was this: In the newspaper, a short article told of a friend's election to a state office in an organization she has served faithfully for years. I cut the news item out of the paper and pasted it to a sheet of stationery. Then I jotted a few words of congratulations alongside the clipping. That was my letter.

Her grateful response was reassuring to me. "Your letter put a halo on my day," she wrote back.

Wouldn't it be wonderful if we all passed along a halo or two every day?

History has known a good many halo donors. For instance, Helen Keller has written some beautiful, unnecessary letters. I am particularly fond of one she mailed to the Rev. Phillips Brooks, composer of "O Little Town of Bethlehem." Helen was 17 years old when she penned:

"Dear Mr. Brooks: My teacher has just told me that you have been made a bishop, and that your friends everywhere are rejoicing because one whom they love has been greatly honored. I do not understand very well what a bishop's work is but I am sure it must be good and helpful. . . It is very beautiful to think that you can tell so many people of the Heavenly Father's tender love for all His children, even when they are not gentle and noble as He wished them to be. I hope the glad news which you will tell them will make their hearts beat fast with joy and love. I hope too, that Bishop Brooks' whole life will be as rich in happiness as the month of May is full of blossoms and singing birds."

Imagine Mr. Brooks' pleasure from such a letter. Young Miss Keller's charm is reflected in every sentence. Her sincerity and honesty make this a classic example of good letter writing.

One of the most famous unnecessary letters was written by Abraham Lincoln. After learning that a mother had lost five sons in battle, he wrote her:

"I cannot refrain from tendering to you the consolation that may be found in the thanks of the republic they died so to save. I pray that our Heavenly Father may assuage the anguish of your bereavement, and leave you only the cherished memory of the loved and lost, and the

each of us has beloved acquaintances who willingly share themselves in such unobtrusive ways as making an unnecessary phone call to someone who needs friendship; paying a visit to a shut-in who is lonely and depressed; writing an unnecessary letter to someone who needs encouragement.

Each day they pass along "haloes" which inspire defeated people to pick up the pieces of a shattered life and try again. St. Matthew tells us that this concern for a fellow traveler shall not go unrewarded, "for the giving shall answer inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these my brethren, ye have done it unto me."

YOUR BIRTHDAY and HOROSCOPE

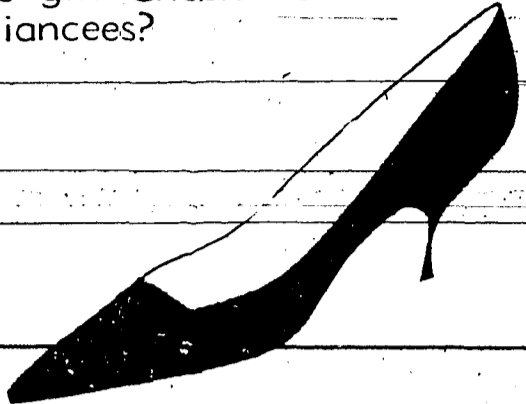

GEMINI (May 22-June 21) — This may be a difficult time of transition for Gemini. Do your best to remain level headed. CANCER (June 22-July 23) — Avoid any drastic changes in daily routine. Experimentation comes later in the week, if at all. LEO (July 24-Aug. 23) — Simplify and stabilize your daily life. The Leo who is involved in too many projects cannot do justice to any of them. VIRGO (Aug. 24-Sept. 23) — Don't insist upon having things your own way in employment matters. Wait to see how the wind blows. LIBRA (Sept. 24-Oct. 23) — A day for practicality. Whatever cannot be turned to gain should be postponed for the present. SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) — The Scorpio who goes overboard for the good things of life today may find those things have eluded him by tomorrow. SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 22) — This day may make exacting demands upon you. Take things as they come. CAPRICORN (Dec. 23-Jan. 20) — Accuracy and competency lead the way to success. Don't allow detours from your assigned path. AQUARIUS (Jan. 21-Feb. 19) — It might be wiser to think simple today. The sophisticated Aquarius is quite likely to go nowhere.

SUNDAY, March 14 — Born today, you are a person of great brilliance who may or may not meet with the proper mental conditions and educational facilities to bring that brilliance to the fore. Your life follows a series of events conducive to the fullest development of your talents without question. You are much behind you. Scientifically inclined, you have at the same time a great love of the arts or creativity of an isolating sort. Something of an Isolating personality you are, but a great admirer of people who get out in the world and do things physically. This is a good thing, for otherwise you would probably be most interested in other people's lives. It is your diversity of interest that makes you well-rounded. You will probably always carry with you something of the child's curiosity about the world. People of your particular disposition never seem to lose their faith in other people, their own faith in the accomplishments of others or their trust that all will ultimately be well. Among those born on this date are: Maxim Gorky, Russian author; Albert Einstein, German-born American mathematician, physicist. To find what is in store for you tomorrow, select your birthday and read the corresponding paragraph. Let your birthday star be your daily guide. Monday, March 15 PISCES (11:35-20-March 20) — The Pisces who acts unwisely today may find himself subjected to painful criticism tomorrow. ARIES (March 21-April 20) — Rearrange your schedule to fit in whatever social engagements may come your way. TAURUS (April 21-May 21) — Make an effort to dig up some unique facts in the presentation of your case.

MRS. GORDON TOBIN, Twin Falls, is very enthusiastic about her wig as she poses for the Times-News camera. Mrs. Tobin's wig is styled with bangs and flows gracefully over the shoulders and extends onto the cheeks in a very modern style. (Times-News photo)

HIGH STYLE ARTIST, Jeannie Wellington, Salt Lake City, is shown combing a wig for Mrs. Leslie (Phyllis) McInturf, Kimberly. Mrs. McInturf's wig is dark brown with a high fashion top, fringed bangs framing the face, and soft curls. Miss Wellington has been a beautician for the past 10 years and teaches wig styling. She gave assistance to many local women recently in styling their wigs. There are two kinds of wigs, machine made and hand tied. The foundations are made from silk, cotton and nylon. Hair Today, Tomorrow Wigs Is Stylish Motto

By NORMA HERZINGER

Remember when a woman used to spend a week or more getting her hair ready for a big social event? She would get a shampoo, a cut, a permanent, and, before the big day, another shampoo and set, have her hair dried, combed and styled. All this just to spend a few short hours socializing with her friends and neighbors. Women will always follow this procedure to a certain extent, because that special appointment at a beauty shop just can't be beaten for relaxation and spiritual uplift. A growing number of women, however, are becoming more prepared for that expected night out and up-and-coming fashion by following an ancient tradition. They wear wigs! The use of wigs for adornment and added glamour to one's personality is an art and tradition older than we realize. Wigs have been with us for centuries. Wigs were popular with the ancient Egyptians as well as the royalty of Europe, and even the first president of the U.S. wore a very stylish wig. History rumors that many of the queens possessed more than 200 wigs, styled especially for each term. During the period of 1700 to 1800, the demand for hair for wigs was so terrific, groups of individuals known as "hair thieves" would wait in alleyways to seize youngsters, cut off their hair, and rush the hair to a hair buyer to make a quick profit. Today the tactics are a little different, but with our way of life changing so rapidly, a wig proves to be most practical for the modern day misses, young and old alike. The time-saving element of having a wig is tremendous. A housewife or a career woman can scurry about all day with her hair ending tasks and still look fresh and lovely when she puts on her wig and goes out for the evening, she takes on a new look. Just think of the weary traveler who arrives at her destination an hour prior to an important appointment or extra special social. All she has to do is freshen up a bit, take her wig out of the box and she's all set. The nagging husband problem can be curbed a little, too. I have heard many husbands say, "I had to wait 30 minutes for her just to comb her hair." A wig could save the day, and the irritated husband, in such cases as unexpected dinner dates, a cocktail party following an afternoon of swimming, etc. The wig always stands ready to come to the rescue. I overheard one man say the other day that when his wife puts on her wig and goes out for the evening, she takes on a new look.

right, is shown highlighting this elaborate hair-do that features side bangs and hair that is slightly curled toward the face all the way down the sides. This style is worn more for evening, where the flip is good for day or evening. (Times-News photo)

Hair Today, Wig Tomorrow Is Fashionable

airs of safety and sophistication and it adds touches of glamour to her personality.

So, husbands, resolve yourselves to this: the wig is here to stay—only with more emphasis than ever.

There are many, many types of wigs. Those from contracted hair, collected hair, hair mixtures and synthetics, and they come in a great variety of styles including complete wigs, hair pieces, pony tails, braids, short bents and long lengths.

The history behind the making of wigs is most interesting. European peasant girls sign contracts with wig manufacturers for the sale of their hair. These girls cannot have a bandanna over their hair at all times when it is exposed to the sun.

It takes approximately two and one-half years to grow enough hair to cut for making wigs. Complete families in some areas are under contract for their hair, and have been for hundreds of years.

European human hair is considered to be the finest hair available for making wigs. Certain sections of Europe are said to produce the finest grade of hair in the world.

Oriental hair is not considered to be of good quality for making wigs because it is flattened rather than round. It is easy to see the quality of hair in a wig would be the principal determining factor in its worth.

The foundations of the wigs are made from silk, cotton and nylon. The most popular material at the back for mildness of comfort. There are two kinds of wigs, the machine made and the hand tied. This also would be one of the determining factors of the price one would pay for a wig.

In the early American period, only the more financially independent had a variety of wigs. Today this is not so. Look around at the next social affair or while you are walking along the street in downtown Twin Falls. Most of the local women are wearing wigs that you realize.

Today a woman need not feel out of place wearing a wig or having someone point at her and wonder if she is wearing one, because well, look around you. Does she or doesn't she?

Complexion Steaming

To clean and freshen the complexion, ease away cross feet and unwanted expression lines and put more life into your skin, try complexion steaming. With a towel over your head, steam over a basin of hot water in which a teaspoon of lemon juice can be added if available. Beforehand anoint the skin with oil of olay so when the hot steam clears the pores the oil penetrates. After steaming, tone with a lemon jelly freshener and smooth the skin to youthful beauty with a film of olay.

Life Membership Awards Given to Five 50-Year Elks

Life memberships were presented to five members of Twin Falls Elks lodge No. 1183 during a banquet which honored oldtimers in the organization.

Grand Exalted Ruler Henry L. Willis presented the life memberships to Sterling Alexander, J. Ted Davis, P. H. Detweiler, Leon C. Martyn and F. C. Sheneberger, who have attained 50-year status.

Also receiving awards were Jack Thorpe, who has been a member 63 years, a 60-year pin, and A. B. Calwell, 92, the oldest Elk in Idaho, who has been a member since 1901. Calwell received a tie clasp.

J. N. Jensen was unable to attend to receive his 50-year pin, due to illness. It was accepted for him by his son-in-law, William J. Langley.

About 250 members attended the dinner, at which O. A. (Gus) Keiker was featured speaker and gave a talk on early days in Twin Falls, illustrated with old photographs from the Twin Falls Historical society's collection.

After the dinner, a special meeting was held in the lodge room with about 450 in attendance.

Twenty-one "new" members joined the elite group of oldtimers at the meeting. Donner Bertsch, secretary, noted that an old timer is any member who joined the lodge in 1941 or before.

T. F. BOWS TO BORAH IN A-1 CAGE FINAL

Lions Use Free Throws to Stop Twin Falls Bid

POCATELLO, March 13—The Borah Lions paraded to the free throw line for 11 charity points in the closing five minutes tonight to explode a meager two-point lead over a tired but determined bunch of Twin Falls Bruins and win the Idaho class A-1 state championship 65-51. It was the first championship for Borah, which twice before had entered the tournament as the favorite.

Sports FROM ALL ANGLES

By LARRY HOVEY
Which coach Paul Ostyn resigned as a high school coach to become athletic director at the University of Idaho he knew his days on the bench were numbered. "One thing I have always wanted," he said in December, "was to coach a state championship team."

Well Saturday night the Twin Falls Bruins fought their hearts out trying for the coach and themselves. They bowed to the fall Borah Lions. But within seconds after the game, Coach Ostyn had forgotten his dream. "I've never been more pleased with a team. This bunch went out the last three nights and just fought their guts out. And that's the only word I can think of to describe it. They won two ball games in overtime in the state tournament and still had the fortitude to go right back and out-hustle the eventual champions. Nothing will ever be in my memory of their effort in the past three nights," he said.

"The kids played a heckuva ball game. They (Borah) just had too much height. You were afraid to see them (Borah) shoot a long shot because you were scared if they did miss they would cram the rebound right down our throats," Ostyn said. "The kids out-hustled them all night long."

"Borah has a good ball club. I've never seen any state champion a good game," he continued. "There was a second there that I thought we might have them, though. That was when we came to within two points. Then we blew the crumple and they got behind our press for a bucket. That straightened them out pretty well. But during that time we had a foul called. And it was obvious Ostyn was recalling last year's state final victory over Borah when the Bruins came from seven points behind in the final three minutes to win."

The Bruins will leave Pocatello at 10 a.m. Sunday and arrive in Twin Falls shortly before noon by way of Addison avenue east. Last year a 150-car caravan met them coming back from a second place finish at Boise. Coach Ostyn, by his tone, figures this effort may just have surpassed it.

In the wake of Jim Neuh's resignation as basketball coach at Idaho State college, the grapevine is starting to spread names around again.

Many believe the man with the inside track is Doran (Bus) Connor, who might better be remembered as an integral part of the state champion Heyburn high school basketball team in 1950-51. Connor, who later starred in both football and basketball at Idaho State, has been serving as frosh football and basketball coach at the school.

Another name mentioned is Spec Rodgers, the jump-shot specialist of the late 50's for the Bengals, who now is the head coach at Columbia Basin junior college, Pasco, Wash. Rodgers' winning record at that school is fantastic, something like 10 to 1.

The city bowling tournament opened Saturday at 7 p.m. and within the hour it had special highlights. Guy Barr faced with a 3-10 split, put the ball squarely between the two and hit nothing. Only Barr of the entire field didn't think that was a little bit funny.

As the A-2 basketball teams dropped out of the state tournament this week only Moscow's Don Haynes wasn't particularly perturbed.

"This is going to be a good ball team next year," Haynes, who is quite outspoken, said. A check of the roster bear him out. Only one starter will be lost to graduation, plus the sixth man, six-foot, seven-inch Glenn Owens. "And Owens isn't a legitimate senior. He's only 17," Haynes said.

Lakers Outlast Hawks by 106-101

LOS ANGELES, March 13 (AP)—The Los Angeles Lakers, newly crowned Western division champions, defeated the St. Louis Hawks 106-101 tonight.

Warming up for what could be the playoff finals in the Western loop, the Hawks' and Lakers' rough out on terms through out most of the game.

The Lakers broke away in the first quarter when Dick Barnett passed up a shot with his left-handed jump shot and the Lakers led 29-25 at the quarter's end.

Twin Falls led only briefly, 1-0, 3-2 and 6-5 in the early going and then went several minutes without scoring. Borah, just about as cold in its outside shooting, turned to its great height to can three straight tips and the Lions ran up a 10-point lead. Then Twin Falls, having just played two consecutive overtime games and dropping Idaho Falls in a double overtime set, turned to a full-out press and cut the count to 26-20. But Borah hit just before halftime to hold sway 28-20.

The Lions moved on top by 11 early in the third quarter before 6-foot, 4-inch George Smith started bringing Twin Falls back. Smith, who was largely responsible for Friday night's win over Idaho Falls, hit five straight points to pull the Bruins to within 64-59 and in the next few minutes the margin widened from four to six points.

Suddenly Twin Falls hit twice in a row and cut the count to 44-42 as Bill Johnson started picking off some passes. Borah hit a field goal and then started the parade to the foul line, showing great poise under the increasing pressure. Three free throws tied the lead to seven points and two more a minute later made it 12. Paul Stover and Smith came up with two points each to cut the lead to eight again with 1:05 left in the game.

Prece, Jim Hill and Steve Brewer ring up five free throws against one Twin Falls bucket by Kirk Williams. Just at the final buzzer Hill sneaked in for a cake-icing crumple.

The weary Bruins had a handful of heroes in beating Idaho Falls in two overtimes Friday night. Lanky George Smith carried the club with his rebounding and scoring in the second half and with five seconds left he still had three left, but Paul Stover tied it with a 20-foot shot with two seconds left.

Each team missed shots in the first overtime. Then in the second Alan Brown got the Bruins ahead and Kirk Williams stole the ball for an easy crumple. Twin Falls then ended up scoring nine points and won going away.

SHOWCASE FULL OF TROPHIES went up for grabs Saturday when the annual Twin Falls Men's Bowling association began its city tournament at the Magic Bowl. Miller Tops Six Events in City Bowling

Paul Miller missed placing on the first place team Saturday night in the first day of the Twin Falls Men's Bowling association city tournament, but led or shared the lead in the six other events, including both scratch and handicap all-events and had the high scratch series and game.

Miller teamed up with Cornelius Lanting to take the lead in the handicap and scratch doubles with 1,307 and 1,172, respectively. His 721 put him on top of the handicap singles event and he was the top scratch bowler with 667. Miller led the all-events with 1,875 scratch and 2,037 handicap. His game of 258 is high, so far, for the meet and he holds the top series of 695.

Following Miller and Lanting in the handicap doubles event are Ed Mason and Lyle Dietrick with 1,242 and Dutch Wright and Chuck Johnson with 1,217.

Miller and Lanting look as if they have the doubles title sewed up, although bowlers Sunday and the following week-end will be shooting for the top money.

Leroy Pleenor holds down second place in the singles handicap, but trails Miller 68 points with his 653. Lanting is in third with 643 and Fodde moved into fourth with 634.

Methodist No. 1, comprised of Stan Crom, Bob McCracken, the Rev. Earl Riddle, John Rogers, sr., and Vern Smith, holds onto the top spot in the handicap team event with a whopping 3,007 total and Trust trails in second with 2,988.

Howard Harder, Pete Peterson, John Rogers, Jr., Lou Morton and Roger Wagner, who go by the name of the Bowldrome Travelers, have the scratch team lead with a 2,806.

The singles bowling was not quite completed late Saturday night, but none of the bowlers on the lanes seemed within reach of Miller's 721 or his 667.

Hilliard and Hansen Top Ski Races

BURLEY, March 13 — Bob Hilliard and Bonnie Hansen topped first division skiers today in the second annual Pomerette Invitational meet while Merlin Stock and Bernice Booth came out in front in the second division races.

Behind Hilliard, who had a two-run combined time of 78.4 seconds through 35 gates, were Gary Jones and Kenneth Hansen. Mrs. Hansen went through the 35 gates in 114 seconds and was followed by Darlene Banner and Maureen Gillette.

In the Ski Patrol races, also 35 gates, Hel Stock came out on top with a time of 81.7 with Roger Jones second and Gary Mortenson third. The second division races were run through 25 gates.

Stock took the Men's second division races in 76.5 and Mrs. Booth went down her course in 88.3. Trailing Stock were Gaylord Howard and Erroy Sheldstad. Corky Hilliard was second in the Women's division and Carolyn Holland was third.

Lucky Aces Take Second NCAA College Title

EVANSVILLE, Ind., March 13 (AP)—The fabulous Evansville Aces capped a perfect season last night by downing Southern Illinois 85-83 in overtime to win their second straight NCAA college division basketball championship.

The Aces, who also won in 1959 and 1960, closed out their season with a 29-0 slate. They were ranked No. 1 in The Associated Press college poll all season.

Their victims included such university teams as Iowa, Northwestern, Notre Dame and Louisville's "Blue Devils" — Louisville's throughout came from the tenacious Southern Salukis, ranked No. 3.

Wall Rallies to Tie in Golf Meet

DORADO, Puerto Rico, March 13 (AP)—Defending champion Art Wall Jr. wiped out a seven-stroke deficit and caught Al Bessolink, creating a 169-RV deadlock for the top spot in the third round of the Puerto Rico open golf tournament today.

Relay Record Is Broken in NCAA Indoor Track

DETROIT, March 13 (UPI)—Morgan State's speedy mile relay team flashed to a new world's record for an 11-lap board track today in the first NCAA indoor championships. The team of Dennis Edghill, Henry Hawthorne, Tim Johnson and Nick Lee was timed in 3:15.6, breaking the previous 11-lap mark of 3:16 held by Villanova, the team that finished second at 3:16.4.

Two Berths Available in Outlaw Meet

FILER, March 13—Berths for two more teams are still available in the opening round of the Magic Valley Outlaw basketball tournament opening this Wednesday at Filer, reports tournament chairman Lee Bartlett. Bartlett said the two places would go on a first-come, first-served basis.

He also announced the starting pairings for the meet. These include 5 p.m. Wednesday, Rogerson Hotel Preps vs. Rangel, Inc.; 6 p.m., 6 p.m. (apparently) Loungie vs. Knight; Chevron; 7 p.m., O and W Cafe vs. Hal Beens; 8 p.m., City Finance vs. Westcott Oil; 9 p.m., Vero American Oil vs. Faux City Store, Buhl; 10 p.m., Don's Quality Meats, Rupert, vs. Valley Nursing Home, Twin Falls, and 11 p.m., Paul Equipment vs. City of Filer.

If the final two places in the brackets are filled, the eighth game will open the Thursday session at 7 p.m.

The meet is restricted to teams deriving manpower from Magic Valley. It usually gives high school seniors their first taste of Outlaw ball.

CARDS NIP NETS

PETERSBURG, Fla., March 13 (AP)—Barney Schultz, veteran pitcher of the St. Louis Cardinals, choked a New York Met rally in the last half of the ninth inning today and the world series champions won 2-1.

Princeton Rips Friars, Michigan Edges Vandy For NCAA Final Berths

COLLEGE PARK, Md., March 13 (AP)—All-American Princeton, paced by Bill Bradley's 41-point effort, demolished Providence 109-69 in the stretch bringing top-ranked Michigan from behind for an 87-85 basketball victory over fifth-ranked Vanderbilt in the NCAA Eastern regional tournament.

Bradley was superb as he carried the Ivy League champions into the four-team NCAA national finals at the Oregon State Coliseum, next Friday. The Princeton team, which had a 27-1 record, was the only team to win all its games. Princeton was never behind after Bradley connected with his shot. Providence tied the game at 13 and 15-all, but Bradley made a three-point play underdogs were on their way.

Walker, who scored 27, had 10 rebounds and 10 points in the first half. The victory was the 13th in a row for the Tigers, who now have a 22-5 record. Providence, which opened the season with 19 wins in a row, finished with 11-3 record. The only previous Princeton victory was to Villanova, which also edged Princeton 61-60 in overtime.

Baltzer Takes Southern Title In State Sub-Junior Rifle Meet

Don Baltzer, a 13-year-old sharpshooter from Twin Falls, topped the southern division sub-junior title in the opening phase of the Idaho state junior gallery championships Saturday.

Baltzer, piling up a big lead in the prone match, nipped Chris Fearheller, 14, Twin Falls, 373-372. The twosome also remained in the running for state honors as their scores will be compared with those fired in Moscow, with the top runner winning the Idaho championship.

The sub-junior competition preceded the 16-years and under junior division, which will be shot Sunday at the Twin Falls Rifle and Pistol club facility.

Baltzer won the prone position with a 189 total with Cramer second at 183. Class winners were sharpshooters, Schiermeier, 181; Fearheller, 181, and Miss Bladdeau, 169; marksman, Miss MacKay, 154, and Larry Andrews 132.

The class aggregate winners in the southern shootoff Saturday were sharpshooter, Tom Schiermeier, Twin Falls, 360; Candy Bladdeau, Boise, 341, and Robert Blakeslee, Filer, 270. Marksman champ was Steve Cramer, Buhl, at 350, followed by Patricia MacKay, Filer, 331, and Royce Eason, 323. In the pro-marksman, Randy Bauscher, Fairfield, won at 292 with Larry Andrews, Filer, second at 262, and Ricky Schiermeier, Twin Falls, third at 256.

Devlin Fashions 2-Stroke Edge In Doral Tourney

MIAMI, March 13 (AP)—Australia's Bruce Devlin shot a two-under-par 70 Saturday and pulled two strokes ahead of his nearest pursuer, Doug Sanders, in the battle for the $11,000 first prize in the Doral invitational golf tournament. The 27-year-old Devlin, seeking his first victory since he took the St. Petersburg open a year ago, went into Sunday's final round 11 strokes under par for Doral's difficult course.

"This is the finest round I have played in my life," Devlin said. Sanders shot a 71 for 207. Jack McGowan, 34-year-old Air Force veteran from Largo, Fla., had a 68 to move into a third-place tie at 209 with Terry Dill, who made a bogey at 210.

Devlin was one under par on each nine. He birdied the 7th with a 12-foot putt and the 10th with two putts from 35 feet. A bogey at the 13th, where he had his only three-putt green, set him back but he birdied the 15th by running down a 25-foot bunker.

"It would have taken a Houdini to get out of the trouble I was in," Sanders said. The worst was on the last two holes, where Sanders scrambled marvelously out of difficulty to salvage par fours. At the 17th, he had to pitch from behind a bunker on the far side of the green and then sink a 10-foot putt. At the 18th, he was blocked by a tree on his second shot, but again avoided a bogey by ranning a 35-foot putt.

McGowan went two under par on each nine with 34 and was in position to pick up the biggest pay check of his career. He ranked 24th on the 1964 money winning list with $99,000. This was twice as much as he had won the other four years. Randy Glover, Dave Marr and Bob Shave were tied for fifth with 210s going into the final round.

Jack Nicklaus, who had been having a difficult time on the 7,028-yard Doral course, fired his best round, a 69, and was eighth, seven strokes behind Devlin. PGA champion Bobby Nichols also had a 69 but he was in a 14th place tie at 213 along with Gary Player.

Griffith reduces sparring time. KIAMESHA LAKE, N. Y., March 13 (AP)—Welterweight champion Emile Griffith cut his training from five rounds of boxing to four today in preparation for his March 30 title defense against Jose Stabile in Madison Square Garden.

The fight is part of a championship doubleheader in which Willie Pastrano of Miami will defend his light heavyweight title against Jose Torres.

Johnson cops pro bowling crown. MADISON, Wis., March 13 (AP)—Earl Johnson, Minneapolis, defeated Nelson Burton Jr., St. Louis, 235 to 213 today to win his $5,000 first prize in the Professional Bowlers' association $38,500 Madison open.

This was Johnson's fifth PBA tournament victory. His last triumph was in San Diego in 1963. Before that he had won titles at Schenectady, N. Y., Louisville and San Francisco.

The No. 3 finisher here was Bob Strampe, Detroit, who defeated Les Schissler of Denver, 231 to 232 in the finals.

Gun Bow Is Easy Winner Of Donn Cap. MIAMI, March 13 (AP)—Gun Bow shot into the lead soon after leaving the gate and was never headed in winning the $36,500 Donn handicap at Gulfstream park today.

Gun Bow finished three lengths in front of Temper, Lt. Stevens was third, with Hot Dust fourth, Candy Spots fifth and St. Raphael last in the six-horse field.

Gun Bow, packing top weight of 127 pounds with Walter Blum aboard, raced the 1 1/2 mile in 1:50 on a fast track. The Gedeon farm's star returned $340 and $3. Temper, light weight at 108 pounds under jockey Kenneth Knapp, returned $10.60 to place. There was no show betting.

Temper was never worse than third and clung to Gun Bow's heels after the first half-mile. He beat Lt. Stevens by one-half length.

Candy Spots, returning to the track where he won the 1962 Florida derby, was second choice and made a race of it to the stretch turn. He was third as they straightened for home but practically stopped running there and was 17 lengths behind at the end.

Gun Bow, who won eight and finished in the money 14 times in 16 races last year, earned the winners share of $35,650. "I knew we had the early speed but I rated him along even though he was crying to run," Blum said. "I hit him a couple of times entering the stretch just to keep him moving steadily."

UCLA TAKES NCAA FAR WEST CAGE TITLE

Bruins Nip Dons 101-93, BYU Is Upset in Opener

PROVO, March 13 (AP)—UCLA got the scare of its season tonight but recovered in time to beat San Francisco 101-93 for the NCAA Far West regional basketball championship. The victory will send the Bruins against Wichita next Monday night at Portland, Ore., in the national semifinals.

Stuart Ends "Feud" With Sox' Bennett

CLEARWATER, Fla., March 13 (AP)—Dick Stuart officially ended his "feud" with Dennis Bennett today.

Stuart, who came to the Phillies from the Red Sox in exchange for Bennett last November, had been quoted as saying Boston was stuck in the deal. He also was supposed to have said he paid more in taxes than Bennett earned all year.

"I only meant it as a joke," said the big first baseman. There never was a real feud. Not on my part, anyway. I'd like to end the whole thing right here.

Bennett's younger brother, Dave, a right-handed pitcher, still is a member of the Phillies, but that fact came as a distinct piece of news to Stuart when he first joined the club.

"No kidding," he said. "Is his brother here in camp?" Stuart was assured the younger Bennett was in the Phillies' camp and the former Bostoner quickly reached for a team roster.

"Wow!" said Stuart, looking at Bennett's name on the roster. "He's six-five and 210 pounds."

"You better believe it," said catcher Oty D'Amico, sitting nearby. "No wonder you quit feuding with his brother."

Players Reject Owners' Proposal

BALTIMORE, March 13 (AP)—The president of the National Football association said today his group had rejected a bid to meet with club owners next month because of the conference terms.

Ordell Brasse, Baltimore Colts defensive end and association head, said he had discussed the proposed meeting with player representatives and "the consensus is that such a meeting is desirable but not under the present terms."

Brasse said the conference would "be unrealistic and serve no useful purpose" because "officials and legal counsel of the players association were not invited."

Detroit defeated LaSalle 85-80 in the first game of the evening doubleheader behind the shooting and passing of Lou Hyatt and will meet NYU in a quarter-final game next Tuesday night.

Austria Takes International Ski Race Lead

VAIL, Colo., March 13 (AP)—Austrian men swept the first four places and Austrian women took first and third in the downhill events today in the opening competitions of the American International ski races.

The Austrians led the men's downhill with 35 points to 18 for France and 13 for the United States. The Austrian women were ahead with 19 points followed by France with 16 and the United States with seven.

Heini Messner, 23, sailed down the two-minute course, stopping 2,600 feet, in the slow time of 2 minutes, 21.53 seconds.

Other three Austrians immediately behind Messner were Franz Digruber in 2:21.93, Karl Schranz in 2:22.10 and Gerhart Nennung in 2:22.25.

VERO BEACH, Fla., March 13 (AP)—Johnny Podres and Joe Moeller each pitched three shut-out innings and Tommy Davis hit a homerun to help the Los Angeles Dodgers beat Milwaukee 4-2 today in the exhibition opener for both teams.

New Directors Elected at Idaho State Trail Machine Convention

Five new directors were elected to the board of the Idaho Trail Machine association, Inc., Saturday afternoon during the group's first annual convention at the Rogerson Hotel. Clubs represented at the two-day meeting were Boise, Twin Falls, Burley, Rupert, Pocatello and Idaho Falls.

The five new directors, completing a board of 10, are Claude Saylor, Burley; Rupert, Fred Mackey; Boise, Larry Dyer; Twin Falls, Bob Salverson, Pocatello, and Bill Skinner, Twin Falls. They will serve for two years.

The meeting will continue through Sunday with the election of officers by the board of directors, a general assembly and a report from study groups.

After the meeting, a family ride to Devils Corral is planned. All members and interested trail machine riders are welcome. The group will meet at the Perrine bridge at noon and will continue from there to the destination.

Special guest for the afternoon study groups was Max Rees, Twin Falls, supervisor of the Sawtooth National Forest. Rees noted during one of the discussions that the trail machines cause no significant trail damage, and if properly powered, cause less damage than a horse. The only problem area is in the Raft river area of Utah and does not directly concern the group.

William H. Shaw, Ogden, branch chairman division of recreation and land for the intermountain region of the U. S. Forest service, was the guest speaker at the association's banquet Saturday night.

Lowell Havener, Magio Valley Trail Machine association, wished to stress the purpose of the state association as outlined in the group's constitution, as many people have acquired a wrong impression of the group.

The seven main purposes are: 1. To facilitate interest in trail machines. 2. Acquaint members with laws governing hunting, fishing, property rights and trail machines. 3. Promote fellowship among members. 4. Combat legislation negative to the interest of trail machine riders. 5. Establish a uniform code of ethics to gain the respect and cooperation of persons with whom we might come in contact. 6. To work in cooperation with all local, state and federal agencies in the conservation of wildlife and natural resources. 7. To assist local state and federal agencies, when requested, in search and rescue operations.

Havener also pointed out that there are many scheduled events throughout the year, including one statewide journey, and that all interested persons are welcome.

MIDDLETON TOPS PILOTS IN A-3 FINALS

Unbeaten Kings Break Away in Closing Quarter

CALDWELL, March 13 (AP)—Middleton chalked up a 60-53 victory over the Glens Ferry Pilots tonight to claim the state A-3 basketball championship. It was the 27th consecutive win for the Vikings. Earlier, the Clearwater Valley dumped Fruitland 69-62 to take the A-3 consolation title. Middleton relied on a steady ball control game to offset the sharpshooting of the Glens Ferry five which battled the Vikings through most of the first half.

Early 15-Point Lead Proves Too Much for Losers

Bill Bade and Ken Johns picked up the reeling Huskies with clutch points in the closing minutes tonight and lifted Emmett to the Idaho A-2 basketball championship with a hard-earned 52-46 victory over the hustling Snake River Panthers. Bade hit the three closing points that led the victory and he and Johns twice pulled Emmett away from the never-say-die Panthers in consolation play.

Emmett started out the calm, cool favorite it was and Snake River had a half dozen turnovers in the first quarter. With Steve DeMasters doing much of the work, Emmett strode in front briskly and held eight to 11-point leads throughout the first half.

But that feeling of security vanished one minute deep into the third quarter after Mike Bingham and DeMasters had gunned the Huskies into a 35-20 edge.

Then Snake River, at its best when scrambling, started to scramble. The Panthers went into a tight press and started forcing bad shots and making steals. Dennis Wood made his first appearance of the night and hit four buckets in two minutes.

Then Semmons, great the first two games but off in the early going tonight, picked up four points. Suddenly, comfortable Emmett was ahead only by two points, 41-39, with 6:50 to go.

After another minute Mike Sasser hit a jumper to bring Snake River to within one and the momentum appeared capable of carrying the upset. But Steve Behrmann got two free throws and Bade hit a jump shot. John Smith hit a pair from the field to cut the margin to two again but again Bry Behrmann came up with a field goal to steady Emmett.

Then came the crusher. Cleland Behrmann picked off a missed Snake River shot and all five Panthers jumped him. Behrmann cleared himself and found Bade miring wide open down court.

His pass was perfect and so was Bade's layup. That led the victory, giving Emmett a 51-46 edge with 35 seconds to play. Some 20 seconds later Bade added a free throw.

Madison never was in trouble as they jumped in front by 21 at halftime and their biggest edge came at 50-21 with 3:30 left in the third quarter. Then Terrell Harris and Craig Daniels sparked a Maldad hot spell as the Dragons closed to within 15 at 53-38.

Gooding's Silva Makes All-Star Club

Gooding senior Ron Silva, a 5-foot, 9-inch guard and 6-foot, 3-inch Cleland Behrmann, an Emmett junior, topped voting for the Idaho A-2 basketball tournament all-star team Saturday night.

In the voting of sportswriters and sportscasters covering the meet, four seniors and Behrmann made the five-man squad.

Joining Silva and Behrmann were Steve Doyle, 5-foot, 10-inch Moscow senior who completed his fourth year as a starter; Dan Beamons, 5-foot, 11-inch hustling forward from Snake River whose play in the first two games made the runner-up trophy possible for the Panthers; and Larry Kincaid, 6-foot senior from Emmett, who came off the bench repeatedly to steady the sometimes sagging Huskie offense.

Gooding State Rolls to Easy 69-54 Victory

GOODING, March 13 —The Gooding State Redskins jumped off to a quick lead in the first quarter tonight and rode the shooting of Lance Arave and Bert Reins to a 69-54 victory in their annual contest with the Utah State school for the deaf.

The Redskins added insurance to their lead in the final three minutes when Utah's top scorers, Duran and Burdett, fouled out. After that the Redskins took it easy and rolled to the win.

Giants Take 5-2 Exhibition Win

TUCSON, Ariz., March 13 (AP)—Jack Sanford, the San Francisco right-hander who underwent arm surgery to correct an electrical disorder last June, made his first start a successful one Saturday as the Giants beat the Cleveland Indians 5-2 in a Cactus league opener.

Sanford said after his three-inning stint that his arm felt fine and he experienced no pain while holding the Tribe to two singles, both by Dick Howser. One was an infield scratch.

Russia Cinches Hockey Crown

TAMPERE, Finland, March 13 (AP)—Russia clinched its second successive world amateur hockey championship today by defeating Czechoslovakia 3-1.

The Russians, who won their first title in the 1964 Olympic games, were assured of another when Sweden beat Canada 6-4 in Saturday's second game. Even if the Russians should lose their final game against Canada Sunday, they still would finish on top under the complicated system of determining ties.

Russia has won all its six games. Czechoslovakia's defeat Saturday was its first of the tournament. The Czechs still could tie on points by beating Sweden Sunday if the Russians should lose. In that case the outcome of their Saturday game would be the deciding factor.

Emmett Man Named Head of Minidoka Water District

RUPERT, March 13—An Emmett man has been named superintendent of the Minidoka Irrigation district, according to the irrigation board.

Everett Walker, 50, who has been supervisor of the Emmett Irrigation district for the past 10 years, will begin his duties in Rupert on March 20. The new manager fills a position which was left vacant the first part of January after the resignation of William Creason.

Walker will supervise the operations of the 80,000 acres encompassed in the irrigation district, 72,000 acres of which is under irrigation.

The new manager had the responsibility for the general operation and maintenance of the 150-mile canal system which irrigates approximately 23,000 acres of bench land at Emmett. His successor there has not been named.

The 500-foot earthen fill dam at Granite lake near McCall was rebuilt in 1962-63 under Walker's supervision.

Walker was born at New Plymouth and educated there and was named foreman of WPA crews at Payette county. Prior to his service in Emmett, Walker was foreman for 10 years of the Central Oregon Irrigation district at Redmond.

The Walker family will reside in Rupert. Mr. and Mrs. Walker have two daughters, one living at home, a married daughter residing in Boise and a son in the U.S. Air Force.

The Minidoka Irrigation project is one of the first reclamation projects started and completed by the bureau of reclamation, with work beginning in 1934 and the diversion works at the dam with contracts let for the building of the canals and laterals shortly afterwards.

In 1907 water was turned into the ditches. During 1917 supervision of the project was turned over to a county irrigation district, but maintains some government jurisdiction.

Acres of irrigable area of the district is based on land lying north and west of the Snake river, and land lying south and east of the Snake river.

The county irrigation board consists of a five-man group with Clyde Greenwell, Paul, chairman. Members include Glen Stimpson, Paul, Nels Moller, Henry Dickert and Gene Allen, all Rupert. Eldon Stephenson, Acapulco, serves as secretary for the district.

Water was turned into canals last year on April 20 and officials assume this will be the approximate date this year. The irrigation district employs 30 permanent men and during summer months additional workers are employed and the total number is between 100 and 120.

Additional workers are required during summer months to operate and maintain canals and laterals, replacing breaks and keeping canals and laterals free of weeds and moss.

Retired Teacher Honored by Club

RUPERT, March 13—Mrs. Bertha Renfro, retired teacher, was honored during a meeting of the Business and Professional Women's club.

She was presented with a bouquet of roses and carnations and the history of her life was read by Mrs. Fletcher Haynes. She taught for many years in the county school system and retired in 1958. She taught a total of 46 years in Kansas and Idaho, before retiring at the age of 70.

Other organizations in which she is active include the Retired Teachers Association, Neighbors of the Woodcraft and Delta Kappa Gamma.

Mrs. Alfred Zeeb, first vice president of the club, will complete the term of Pauline Wilkes, president for the past two years, who is leaving the area.

Ann Marie Baum, Mrs. Maude Benward and Mrs. Fletcher Hanes were appointed as a nominating committee.

parents to be cooperative in helping children realize through the new system.

Johnson Van Every, chairman for the Lincoln Memorial carnival scheduled for March 16, reported on arrangements, stressing the need for booth chairmen as well as donations of pies, cakes and candles for the carnival. He said a light supper would be served including turkey barbecue, hotdogs, pie and coffee.

A nominating committee was appointed and includes Ray Condie, Gene Snapp and Forrest Son.

Mrs. Max Jones' third grade students presented square dances and songs during the meeting. Ernest Asson's fifth grade at Lincoln school and Mrs. Jones' third grade at Memorial elementary school.

Ray Condie gave the invocation and Mrs. Richard Balle was in charge of refreshments.

HOSPITALIZED

KING HILL, March 13—Mrs. Ernest Sundvall has been admitted to a hospital in Pocatello, where she and her husband are visiting their daughter, Mrs. La Valle Coulter, and family. Mr. and Mrs. Sundvall went to Pocatello to be with their daughter while her husband underwent major surgery last week.

The old offices on P street in Rupert were last week sold and a new Safeway store was built on the property after President Kennedy signed a bill releasing the land.

Curriculum Report Given At PTA Meet

RUPERT, March 13—A report on new curriculum development for Minidoka County schools was discussed by Doyle Lowder, assistant school superintendent, during the Lincoln-Memorial PTA meeting Thursday evening.

Lowder noted a change in the science program with a general science being taught up through the first six grades. Biological science will be taught in the seventh grades, physical science in the eighth grades and ninth grade students will study Earth science. He asserted all science classes will be specialized after the sixth grade.

The coordinator also discussed the origin of modern mathematics and how it came to be introduced. He noted modern mathematics will be introduced in the county school system next year and the subject will start with transitional mathematics.

He discussed some of the types of problems parents can expect children to bring home and urged

Bonanza Hits Paradise
Of Lush Hawaiian Isles

BY O. A. (GUS) KELKER
Times-News Feature Editor
Paradise never had it so good!
The bonanza has hit and is going to get bigger and better financially, that is.

Where's paradise? It is Hawaii, the 50th state of the Union and the first island group ever to gain that distinction.
What is the bonanza? Just one thing people.

Thousands of them flock to the enchanted isles and leave their money there before returning to their homes on the mainland, and in many other parts of the world.
Of these thousands, there were 37 from Idaho who were members of the third annual Times-News Magic Holiday air tour.

They had their eyes opened. They discovered that the visitor is a "big noise" in the islands and that there are many more smiles on the faces of the island residents. They met many others who are from Hawaii.
These Idaho visitors also discovered that the easy going tropic life was far different from what they had known.

DIAMOND HEAD, famed landmark of Honolulu, is practically obscured by the great hotels which now line Waikiki beach and surrounding area. This view of Diamond Head was taken from the room occupied by Mr. and Mrs. O. A. (Gus) Kelker, Times-News Magic Holiday tour hosts. It was 25 floors up in the hotel.

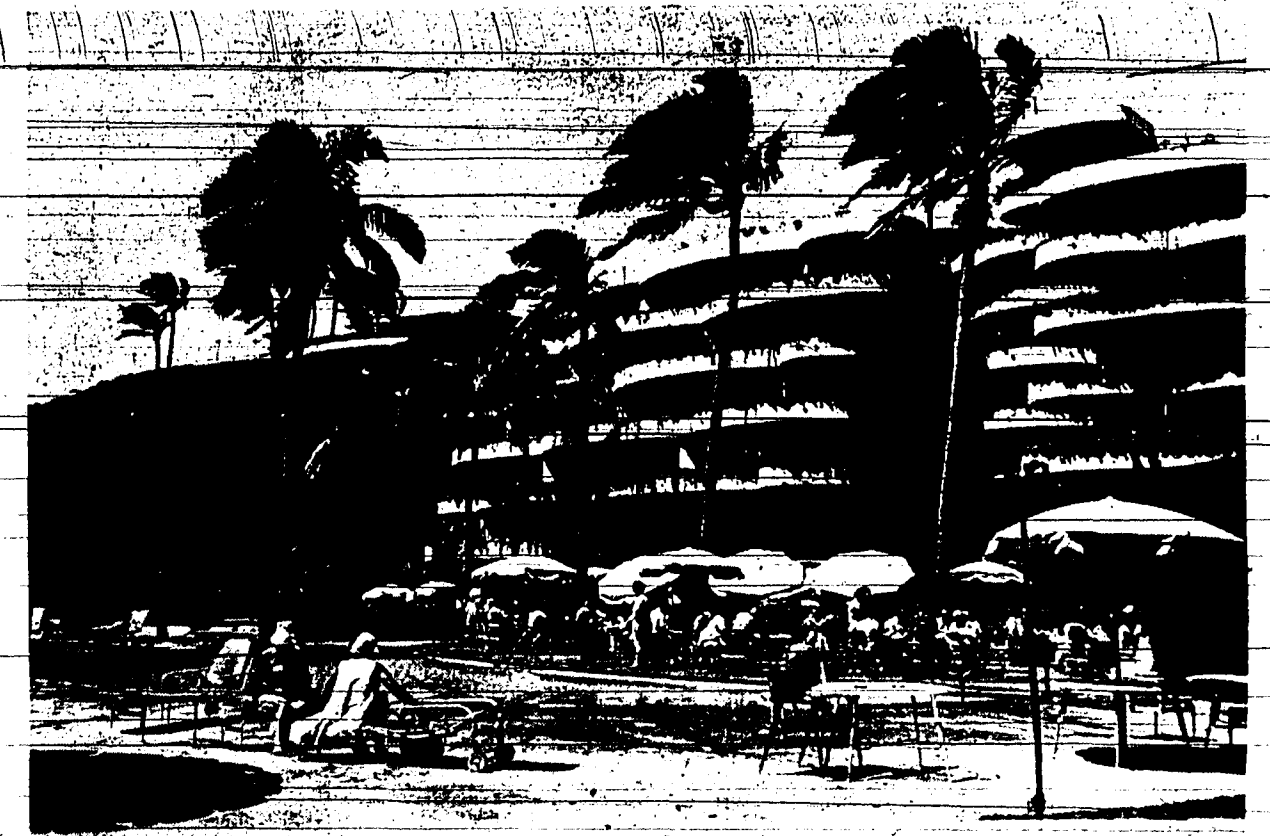

SOME SWIM and others get a tan as thousands loll over the beach at Waikiki. In this area and in downtown Honolulu cars with surf boards on top are as common as cars with snow skis on top in Idaho. This and result, though, is somewhat different. (Times-News photo)

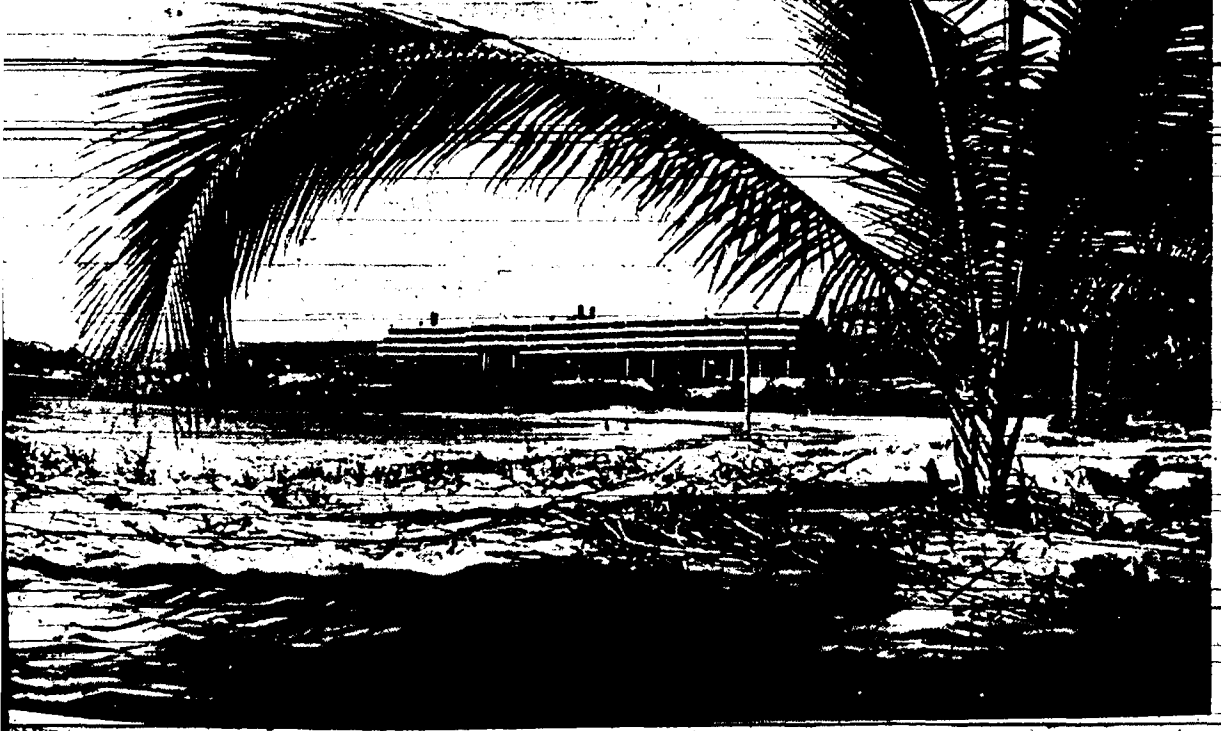

THIS UNIQUE sculpture of skin divers and coral dominates entrance to the new Sea Life park near Honolulu. Gaining fame rapidly, the park will, in the near future, rival the Marineland of the Pacific setup on the mainland. This imposing design is the creation of Kenneth Shutt, son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Butler, Twin Falls. Shutt is connected with the park and maintains offices on the grounds. Frances Omo, a secretary and tour guide, poses beside the statue. (Times-News photo)

HOTEL HIKAI, biggest and newest in Honolulu and "home" of Times-News Magic Holiday air tour members, is an impressive sight. The many-winged hotel offers breathtaking views of the ocean and surrounding mountains on the island. Times-News members were given ocean view rooms, all above the 20th floor. Each room had a private balcony. The structure noted on top of the building is a large circular restaurant and bar reached by the world's only elevator which gives visitors an outside view as they speed up the side of the 30-story structure. (Times-News photo)

TYPICAL of costly hotel construction is the Sheraton-Maui on the island of Maui. Located quite a distance from other hotels and on a private beach, one end of the building was built right into the solid volcanic rock. It is unique in that visitors enter on the ground floor and yet ride down to their rooms—all with ocean views. A large fresh water pool is included in the setup. Surrounding grounds are lavishly landscaped and an 18-hole golf course is maintained for guests. (Times-News photo)

NEWEST RESORT HOTEL, slated for completion by August, is the Mauna Kea, located about 50 miles from Kona on the island of Hawaii. A multi-million-dollar complex, it will feature everything to delight and entertain guests and a new 18-hole golf course at the hotel is now in use. The Rockefeller interests are behind the venture which will cater to the wealthy. Lowest rates without meals will be $33 a day. Hawaiian Airlines plans two flights daily. (Times-News photo)

ISLAND CHARM is not all swinging to the big and the new. One locality clinging to the old is Lahaina, an old whaling port on the island of Maui. Here in a community which was once the kingdom of the island, residents are preserving the old atmosphere in order to give visitors a look into the past. This Main street scene is typical. Times-News tour members were able to see whaler rising offshore during a stop they made there for rest and shopping. (Times-News photo)

MRS. GEORGE (SELMA) Stoddard prepares to remove bee from arm of Julie Ann Gott, 8-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Irman Gott, Salmon. Julie has been undergoing a series of bee stings to build up her immunity to bee venom. (Times-News photo)

Life in MAGIC VALLEY

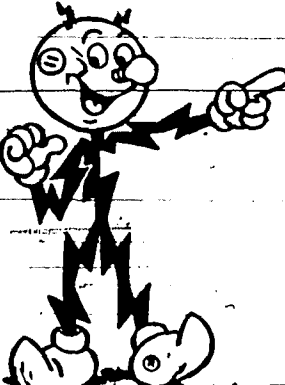

Eight-year-old Julie Ann Gott, SALMON, isn't taking chances with her life. She's letting a bee sting her every week, sometimes more often. Julie walked out into her yard here last summer barefoot and was stung by a bee. The reaction when she was nearly cost her life and ever since that day in June she's been taking injections of bee venom, first by hypodermic needle, now direct from the bee. The youngster, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Irman Gott, has become used to the bee stinging her arm but she's still leary when they get to buzzing about her head. For some reason she seems to attract them. Julie goes to the George Stoddard residence in Salmon each week or more often, accompanied by her mother, to be stung. Elsher Stoddard, who is in the honey business, or his wife, Selma, who has the same allergy condition as Julie, snatches a bee from around a hive, placing it on Julie's arm. Once the bee has done its work, it is flicked off and the stinger removed. When Julie accidentally received the bee sting last summer on her left foot, her face and body started to swell, she turned a bright red and broke out into huge hives. She choked and couldn't see or breathe as her mother took her in a semiconscious condition to the hospital. There, antihistamines were administered and she was placed under oxygen. After three days the swelling went down. Her family doctor then started a series of injections of diluted bee venom to build up her resistance. The bee venom was injected be adequate, even though after each sting, the bee dies. A BURLEY woman, Mrs. Emily Rich, was honored on her 80th birthday anniversary at the home of a daughter, Mrs. Blaine (Myrtle) Egan, who lives southwest of Burley. Born in OAKLEY, Feb. 21, 1885, she moved with her parents as a small child to the Silver creek area near BELLEVUE. She lived there until she was married in 1903 to Robert (Rich) at HAYLEY. After their marriage they lived at Gannett where he was a mechanic until 1929 when they moved to PAUL. Mr. Rich operated a service station and they lived there until World War II when they went to California where they both worked in defense plants. After her husband's death in 1942, Mrs. Rich returned to Magic Valley and resides with her children. She does lots of fancy work and presently is busily engaged in piecing quilts. An active member of the LDS church, she was a Primary teacher and worked in the Relief society. Her sister, Mrs. Winnie Brooks, Halley, operates a beauty shop. She is 76. Mrs. Rich has three sons, Robert S. Rich, Boise; Heber C. Rich, New Meadows; and Larry Rich, Excelsior, Minn., and two daughters, Mrs. Mary Walters, Lemont, Ill., and Mrs. Egan; 21 grandchildren and 27 great-grandchildren. HB225 (Revenue and Taxation)—Eliminating the county levy for paying the employers share of the social security tax for teachers. 30-4. HB224 (Revenue and Taxation)—Eliminating the provision that the state shall receive 42 1/2 per cent of the profit from state liquor sales and sets up a new formula by which 50 per cent goes to counties based on population (with 50 per cent of this going to junior colleges in counties that have them); 7 1/2 per cent plus two million dollars to incorporated cities on a population basis; 600,000 to the building fund and any remaining amount to be distributed equally among the counties. 33-8. Among the advantages of all-electric living

INSURANCE COSTS are now LESS for

TOTAL ELECTRIC HOMES

An insurance company has recently announced home owners' insurance at lower rates for total electric homes in Idaho than for homes using other forms of energy. The reduction amounts to 10% of the company's fire insurance rate. This recognizes the superior safety of flameless electric house heating, water heating, cooking and laundry drying. Until now, insurance costs for total electric homes, and for homes with a combination of electric and flame-type equipment, were exactly the same. Fireplaces are permitted under the new, lower-cost policies applying to total electric homes. For information on this and all the other benefits of all-electric living, call your Idaho Power office.

MAGIC VALLEY PORTRAIT

Ted Kelsey, Burley Simplot Manager, Thinks Farm Is Best Place to Grow up

BURLEY, March 13 — The best place to grow up is on a farm, believes Ted Kelsey, manager of the Burley-Simplot plant and one of Burley's most active civic leaders.

Active in the Red Cross chapter and Chamber of Commerce, Kelsey is currently president of the Cassia county fair board and the Burley Kiwanis club. He recently was appointed to the board of trustees for the Cassia and Minidoka Memorial hospitals.

Kelsey recalls as a child he had to get up early, along with his brothers and sisters, to do chores and care for the livestock before going to school. In the evening there was chores again before supper.

"It was during those years at home that I learned to work," he recalls, "for my parents taught all of us responsibility." He was born July 13, 1919, on a farm near Declo where his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Kelsey, still reside.

He attended the Declo school, graduating in 1937 from high school.

"During high school days I played football and thought I was pretty good," stated Kelsey, "until I tried out for the football team in college, and found out I wasn't good at all. With lots of hard work, however, I made third or fourth team."

For two years he attended Idaho State college, Pocatello, then was graduated from the University of Idaho, Moscow, in 1942 with a BS degree in general business.

Kelsey notes it was much less expensive to get an education when he attended college than it is today. The most he ever spent was $500 during his senior year.

"Today that wouldn't be enough to get your foot in the door," he adds.

About 75 per cent of his expenses he earned himself by climbing poles for a power company, working on the railroad, hatching at the college dormitory, serving as manager during senior year and helping on his father's farm.

In May, 1942, he joined the navy as an apprentice seaman and was sent to Notre Dame university for indoctrination. Then he took mid-shipman training at Northwestern University.

After receiving commission the next 18 months were spent in the South Pacific as a deck division officer. He participated in the invasion of Okinawa and two Jima, and was in Japan when surrender terms were signed. In March, 1946, he was discharged from the navy.

After returning home he farmed for one year, then worked for Gates Rubber company as a salesman, in California for one year.

In 1948 wedding bells rang for Kelsey and Virginia Schudde. They moved to Kansas where he sold rock wool insulation and ended up in the music business.

In 1952 a move was made to Oklahoma, where he was bookkeeper and salesman for a trucking firm.

They moved back to Idaho in 1954 where once again he started farming but soon found that two families couldn't live on 80 acres. He worked with a construction firm and helped work on the new Declo school building.

In 1956 he was employed by Simplot Soilbuilders. At that time the firm's only unit on the south side of Snake river was at Unity. As there were only two offices, he became assistant manager and janitor.

Simplot Soilbuilders purchased their present location in 1956 and the next year Kelsey was position building at the Cassia county fairgrounds.

Since 1961, Kelsey has been a member of the Cassia county fair board, and was elected president in 1965.

"I believe pari-mutuel racing will give all county fairs an added attraction," said Kelsey. The Cassia fair had racing last year and it was an outstanding success, he notes.

For the last three years Kelsey has been a member of the Burley Kiwanis club, and became president this year. He said he joined because he was impressed with the Kiwanis club's civic and community activities, particularly because of its accent on youth.

The Kiwanis club started a Junior League football program in 1962, for boys between the ages of 9 and 13. Last year the football program was in Kelsey's hands. At the close of the 1964 season there were 12 teams of 370 boys participating.

At midseason four teams and 70 boys from Rupert were added to the program. This coming fall he looks for the program to grow even bigger.

Other activities which take up part of Kelsey's time are the Burley Elks club of which he has been a member for 32 years, and the Burley Toastmaster's club in which he holds the office of vice president.

Outside interests are salmon fishing in the middle fork of the Salmon river, hunting and horseback riding when time permits.

Kelsey resides at 2231 Burlington avenue in Burley with his wife, Virginia. Mrs. Kelsey is presently teaching school at the South-west school here. They have one daughter Pat, a sophomore attending Burley high school.

Radio System Authorized For Lincoln

SHOSHONE, March 13 — A two-way radio system for the weed department was authorized for purchase by county commissioners after their March meeting, Mrs. Luella L. Kinsey, county clerk, announced Wednesday.

One of the systems will be mobile and the other will be used in the office.

L. O. Chatfield was appointed to the hospital board, replacing Donald Riley's purchase of a camera for use in the sheriff's department was approved.

The report of Justice of Peace C. W. Gwin for the month showed $95 collected in fines and fees.

A bid for a new truck for the county assessor's office was rejected because it was too high.

Petitions to allow cleaning of debris from the channel of Little Wood river through Shoshone were presented. The work will be handled through cooperation with the department of army engineers. All property owners along the river were contacted to sign the agreement.

900 Students Will Attend Buhl Confab

BUHL, March 13 — Some 900 students from throughout Magic Valley are expected to participate in the junior high school fourth district music clinic to be held in Buhl March 20, according to Roger Fordyce, local music director.

Bands, orchestras, girls' chorus and mixed chorus groups will participate in the day-long event which will be held from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. There will be no ratings given, but the event will serve as an inspirational music experience for the youths, Fordyce said.

Directors will include William Shank, Caldwell, band leader; James Anderson, mixed chorus; and Burt Burda, Boise, girls' chorus.

As a climax to the event the groups will continue to present a free public concert at 6:30 p.m. March 20 in the high school gymnasium.

Mothers of local band members will serve lunch and dinner in the Buhl elementary school.

WINNER BOB SCHRENK, Wendell high school, wrote the best conservation essay in the senior division of the annual statewide contest sponsored by the Idaho Wildlife Federation in connection with National Wildlife week, March 14-20. Schrenk is shown here during a visit to the Jerome game farm operated by the Idaho fish and game department. In his prize winning essay, Schrenk lists various activities of man now in conflict with fish and wildlife including pollution, overgrazing, erosion, dams, insecticides, logging and mining. Conservation Essay by Wendell Youth Gains First Place in State Contest

By JIM HUMBERT
Idaho fish-game department
BOISE, March 13 — Sportsmen expect wildlife to be able to produce more on a smaller area than was available 10 years ago. This problem is growing more serious every day.

This speaks Bob Schrenk, first place winner in the senior high school division of the state conservation essay contest, sponsored annually by the Idaho wildlife federation in cooperation with public and parochial schools.

Man's strident demand that very wildlife crop be greater than the last one even though the amount of land available for such use steadily dwindles is stated one way or another in each of the three top essays in the senior and junior high school divisions of the contest. The anomaly is compounded by the "pollution in its countless forms."

Pure chance gave related names to this year's National Wildlife week, to be commemorated in all states March 14-20, and the Idaho conservation essay contest. Conservationists across the nation are rallying beneath the banner, "Fight Dirty Water."

Some 1,100 Idaho youngsters in junior and senior high schools responded on the assignment theme, "Wildlife Needs a Place to Live." Clean water naturally is vital to all such places, whether for birds, mammals or fish.

Schrenk lists various activities of man now in conflict with fish and wildlife in the prize winning essay he wrote as an English IV paper at Wendell high school. Some of these are pollution, overgrazing, erosion, dams, insecticides, logging and mining.

Kay Jensen, Eden (Valley high school) wrote the essay which takes second in the senior high school division of the conservation essay contest. She discusses the shrinking of wildlife habitat, and goes into the pollution menace as follows:

"Pollution is destroying or reducing fish and wildlife in quantities approaching those sustained by the 125 million dollars invested every year by the fishing industry. Pollution may affect fish and wildlife directly in a direct way or it may take environmental, intangible, harmful effects on food chains, plant cover or other physical features present."

Another angle on the pollution problem is covered by Janice Smith, third place essayist in the junior division. A student at the Regulate Heart of Mary academy at Coeur d'Alene, she writes:

"Not only does pollution kill fish and other wild creatures directly, but it poses a grave health problem to the residents nearby, and to persons hunting, fishing or camping in the areas in our own state, health department officials, in cooperation with wildlife groups, have taken steps to prevent the destruction of this valuable resource."

Honorable mentions in the senior division of the Idaho Wildlife Federation's conservation essay contest were received by Kristen and Greg Milton, McCall-Donnelly, and Charles Timmons, Idaho Falls. The same recognition in the junior division went to Sylvia Carlson, Lewiston; Karla Erickson, Pocatello; and Buddy Evans, Coeur d'Alene.

What to do about the conflict of interests between the activities of mankind and fish and game is faced by Carol Isaac, Jennifer junior high school at Lewiston.

Her essay won first place in the junior division. She writes:

"No simple solution will ever be found to remove the obstacles confronting wildlife conservation, but there are several needs for which there are remedies. The greatest need is for an alert, intelligent conservation group in every community.

"The next greatest need is to have more of the population understand conservation, and to get it so fixed in their minds that it will become part of their philosophy of life. There is only one certain way to accomplish this, and that is by the education in every conceivable way of all people.

"Next on the list," says Miss Isaac, "is the need for more and more research. This fact must be faced by having a sufficient force of technically trained men constantly applying themselves to the solution of conservation problems.

"To provide for constantly better use of soil and water resources, the present trend toward restoration of environmental conditions must be carried much further if homes for wildlife are provided. Putting nature's forces to work for men and limiting the harvest to the crops produced have proved successful in increasing stocks of game and fishes."

Unless solutions to the problems confronting wildlife conservation are found, the future seems certain. In the words of Carl Gibbs, Wendell Junior high school and second place winner:

"When nature's habitat dwindles, wildlife dwindles. Then a chain reaction begins. When wildlife becomes scarce, fewer hunters come to Idaho to hunt. When fewer hunters come, that means less money will come in from the tourist trade. This brings it right back to us, the citizens. It is important that we concern ourselves with this problem."

Nancy Petersen, Irving junior high school at Pocatello, aims it all up this way in her third place essay:

"Animal life has suffered since man first made progress. The clearing of forests, the beginning of mining, agriculture, industry, and others have helped man but wildlife gradually began to disappear because their natural homes were being destroyed."

Minister Moves Into Parsonage

WENDELL, March 13 — The Rev. and Mrs. Joe Grizzle and year-old son, Ricky Joe, from Norman, Okla., have moved to the former Assembly of God parsonage.

The Rev. Mr. Grizzle, a graduate of Oklahoma Bible college, is a pastor of the Free Will Baptist church and will begin regular services at the Assembly of God church here beginning March 21.

Sunday school will be conducted at 10 a.m., worship service at 11 a.m., and evening service at 7:30 p.m.

Revival services will be conducted at the church preceding the week of regular services, beginning at 7:30 p.m. Monday and continuing through the week.

Music for the revival services will be under the direction of the Rev. Orville Carpenter, Jerome. An invitation is extended to the public.

MEMBERS OF TIMES-NEWS air tour to the Hawaiian Islands take time out to pose for a group picture after arriving at the Hilo airport on the "big island" of Hawaii. The 37 people on the tour made up the largest group to participate in such a jaunt. In the Hawaiian language the word Aloha means both hello and goodbye. In this case the banner was one of welcome to the Idaho travelers who had just arrived from Honolulu in the four-engine Viscount plane of the Aloha airlines, parked beside them. (Times-News photo)

Bonanza Hits Paradise as Visitors Bask in Hawaiian Sunshine

that they had left behind in Idaho. And to top it all off, they were all convinced that people who shun the effort to attract tourists for money are those who somehow do not realize where the gold really is.

When the 37 residents of this section of Idaho boarded two West Coast airlines planes the morning of Feb. 24 for the first step toward the islands, they were babes in the woods, so to speak. They were going to see what Hawaii had to offer.

They were members of a well organized touring group which flew from Boise to Portland, then a Northwest Orient airlines big 747-100 from there to Honolulu and Aloha airlines planes for the various island jumps.

Sponsored by the Times-News in close cooperation with Magic Carpet Travels, Twin Falls, everything was checked and double checked.

Tour hosts were this Times-News writer-photographer and his wife, Mrs. Betty Kelker, travel consultant for the Magic Carpet organization.

In the islands, all arrangements were through the efficient Inter-Island Trade Wind Tours, with headquarters in Honolulu and branches in many top hotels and on all the main islands.

The Idaho tour members were not long in realizing that, as visitors, they were "tops." They were petted, humored, smiled at, helped in and helped out of vehicles and places and despite all this attention, believe it or not, were not gouged financially.

Their introduction to Honolulu, the capital city where they were to spend the next four days, was a thrilling one as the big Northwest Orient jet, after a flawless flight of more than 3,000 miles over water, settled in to land at one of the world's most modern airports — Honolulu International.

And that it is being at the crossroads of the Pacific with airlines of many lands using the modern facilities.

But if the airport was impressive, the biggest thrill was yet to come. It was when they trooped up the heavily carpeted stairs of the front entrance of the Ilikai hotel, probably the largest in Hawaii.

In this great hotel, which reaches skyward for 30 stories or more and which spreads with wings in all directions, group members were to find the efforts put forth by those who make their living from travelers.

With spacious rooms housing hundreds of guests, it was hard to believe that every room was filled every night and that during the 28 days of February it was this way all the time.

Times-News tour rooms were all high up—some on the 25th floor—and all looked over the ocean. Each had a private balcony.

Just what can a big hotel like this do to attract tourists, even with scores of other practically as big hotels all up and down the beach?

Why not look at the vital statistics? This hotel—really just one of many—operating on a full basis over a month's period just about as much return cash as that time as the state of Idaho spends from taxes in an entire year to woo the traveler here.

No money in tourism? This writer was told on good authority that tourists are now the second largest "industry" of the islands, having squeezed ahead of the money produced by production of pineapples, and now hard on the heels of sugar cane production, the biggest money crop of all in Hawaii.

Nature, love, peace and isolation does, of course, do much to attract the tourists, but this is not left to chance.

The Hawaii visitor bureau, for instance, spends thousands each year in advertising and promotion and the money comes from those who benefit from the tourists—the merchants, hotel owners, eating place owners, transportation companies, airlines and the like.

The bureau is operated on a voluntary basis—no government money is used and the government, in turn, has little to say about operating procedure.

Idaho residents, exposed to this situation, were quick to admit that Idaho, too—but on a smaller scale, of course—could well spend more money to attract more visitors.

Money from the pockets of visitors spreads everywhere and before it is over everyone gets the benefit of some of the "moisture."

People were everywhere, yet everyone was being adequately cared for. It was crowded, but it didn't seem that way because the Idaho group was having a good time and "living it up."

Each of the islands in the Hawaiian chain is different. As a matter of fact, a few historic background tidbits are interesting.

The islands were discovered by Capt. James Cook of the British navy in 1778. He called them the Sandwich islands but the name didn't stick. Of volcanic origin, there are more than 20 islands, atolls and reefs in the chain.

Transferred to the mainland, the chain would stretch from Seattle, Wash., to St. Louis, Mo. Of the 20 islands, only the eight main ones are part of the 50th state. The United States interior department administrators the other islands in the group.

To some visitors, it is confusing to come to Honolulu, Hawaii, only to find that Honolulu is actually another island—the biggest of the 20.

The Times-News tour included visits to Oahu, Hawaii and Maui, among the islands, with some members taking a side trip to the island of Kauai.

All land tours on the islands visited by the Times-News tour groups were in modern buses with guide-drivers who must have been born for the job.

The drivers were humorous and their smiles were practically continuous. They were all possessed of good voices and were singing every chance they got.

One thing was very noticeable. For benefit of the tourist, and to maintain the correct atmosphere of far away tropical islands, few if any light-skinned, blue-eyed blondes were in evidence as far as positions of contact with visitors were concerned.

So far as the Idaho travelers were concerned, all tour bus drivers, all guides, all maids, all island airplane pilots were of Hawaiian descent or a mixture of races which featured brown skin, dark eyes and dark hair.

Actually, because of intermarriage since the islands were first discovered, today's statistics show that about 37 of every 100 people living on the islands are of Japanese ancestry, 23 are Caucasian, 15 are part Hawaiian, 12 are Filipino, seven are Chinese, three are pure Hawaiian, two are Puerto Rican and one is Korean.

Some of the handsomest men and most beautiful women residing there are a mixture of several races. Their bronze colored skin, dark hair and wide eyes set them apart from all others.

Today more than one-third of all the marriages are between people of mixed ancestry, causing a further mixing of the bloods.

Experts told the Idaho tour members that it will not be many more years until there are no more pure Hawaiians left.

On the island of Oahu, where Honolulu is located, construction of hotels is being carried on at a rapid clip. There are new ones going up all over the place and additions being added to those now in use.

But competition is in the cards for Honolulu. The other islands, sensing the influx of the tourist dollar and, in prior years, being content with just a little of it are now going after the lion's share.

Idaho visitors, for instance, discovered there were plush resorts on the other islands they visited.

Staying at the famed Kona Inn at Kona coast on the "big island" of Hawaii they found that construction under way in that instance would give the inn one-third more room space.

To get it ready for next summer, workmen reported at 6 p.m. and toiled until around 6 p.m. daily.

About 50 miles away from Kona the new Mauna Kea beach hotel is being rushed to completion, planned next August.

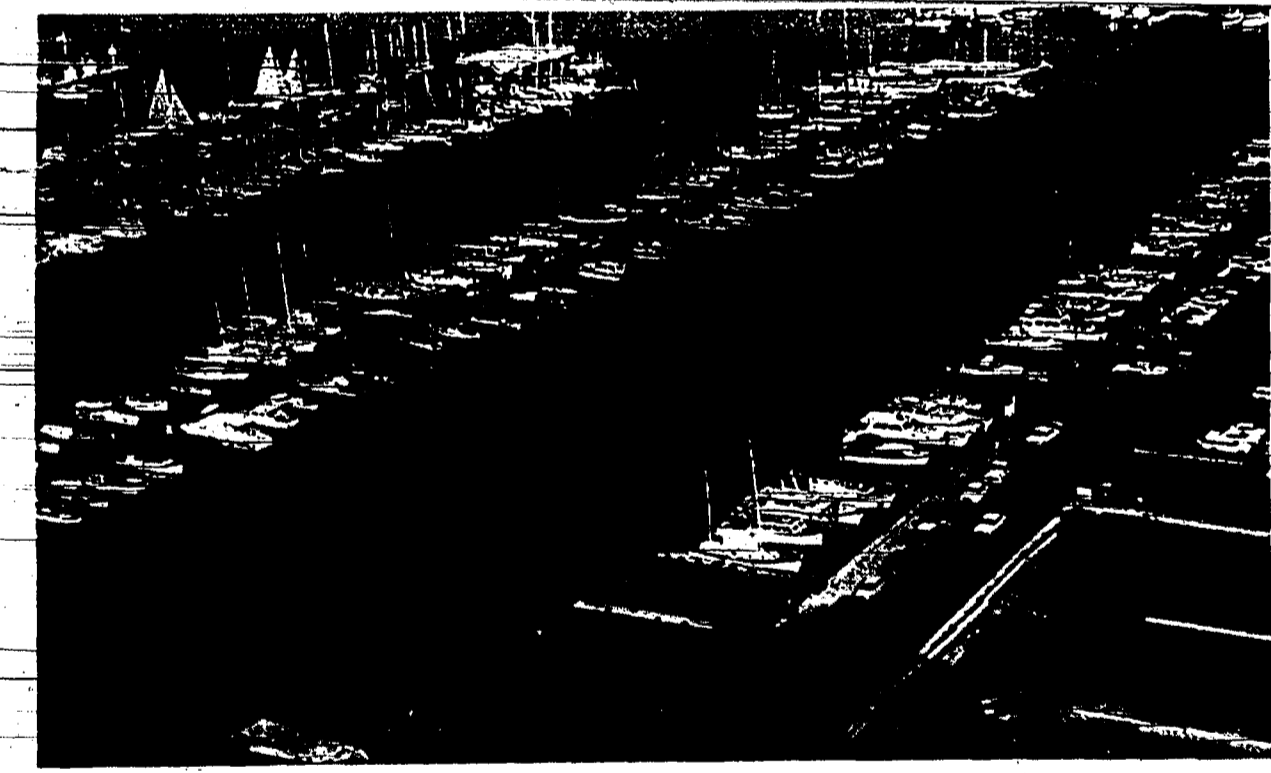

This complex—complete with an 18-hole golf course now in use—will be the ultimate for those who want the best and are willing, or can afford, to pay for it.

Modified American plan (breakfast, dinner and double room) will be rates at $48 a day, while European plan (room only) will be $39 double. Two flights daily will serve the resort from Honolulu via Hawaiian airlines.

It will cost another $2.25 per person to get from the airport to the hotel. Landscaping is extensive with great palm trees being hauled in and put in advantageous locations.

The island of Maui is just awakening to tourist money as is the land of Kauai but the giant is stretching. The Sheraton Maui, a plush hotel, is attracting hundreds with above normal accommodations and services.

The more "regular" hotels on this island are also crowded and one thing is certain—there is

WAIKIKI YACHT HARBOR is a busy place, as evidenced from this picture taken from the Ilikai hotel in Honolulu. This is one of two such setups in the area and at least 1,500 people live on these boats throughout the year. Some own them and others rent them as living areas. Week-ends they head to sea for fishing or just cruising. (Times-News photo)

ANCIENT BUS is one no tourist will ever forget. Used at Kona to transport visitors from the Kona Inn to the Capt. Cook cruise boats, it is the only one like it on the islands. Benches, instead of seats, are inside, and the roof is covered with tarpaer and palm leaves. Windows are covered with fish nets. Wayne Kapuhill McNicoll, manager of the Kona Coast Cruise, Ltd., shown above, is first to admit that the bus was not easy to come by but that it is a shocker. (Times-News photo) way has been introduced in the state house of representatives.

At the same time the big new multi-million-dollar harbor complex for Honolulu is to be finished by the end of this month.

All in all it is going to develop into a rat's race for the tourist dollar. It will be interesting to watch, especially for Idaho residents who want on this year's highly successful Times-News Magic Carpet Travels holiday air tour.

And speaking of air—practically all travel, island to island, is by air. Ships seldom carry passengers, just freight.

Bulk of the Idaho tour group came back March 5, landing via West Coast at Twin Falls. Several couples, however, remained longer in the islands and the final ones to get back home will land in Twin Falls this afternoon.

Tour members were Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Jellison, Mrs. Gloria Gamble, Mrs. Mabel Wurster, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Willis, Mr. and Mrs. Damon Rutherford, Mrs. Margaret Harper, and Mr. and Mrs. Ketter, all Twin Falls; Mrs. Ruth S. Wehner and Myrtle Eaton, both from Boise; and Mrs. Heddy Boyd, Guy E. Stevens, Jerome Brandt, Kimberly, Mrs. Davis, route four, Buhl.

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Hunt, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Brewer, Heyburn; Mr. and Mrs. W. Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. Patterson, Mrs. Helene M. Wainson and Mrs. Hazel Patterson, all Rupert.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugo Dal Fogli, Burley; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Fullmer, Mr. and Mrs. Goodwin and Mr. and Mrs. E. Katsanes, all Blackfoot.

ATTEND SESSION — KING HILL, March 13-14. Rev. and Mrs. R. I. Barnes and Frank Jones attended a United Presbyterian presbyter meeting Tuesday at the Star of Bethlehem church at Roswell.

Non-Skier Can Find Entertainment on Slopes of Idaho's Famed Winter Area

SUN VALLEY, March 13—Can a non-skier enjoy Sun Valley? You bet. Granted, Sun Valley is among the finest ski resorts in the nation and attracts thousands of ski enthusiasts each season. But those who don't take to the slopes usually can find activities to while away the time. If the rest of the family or friends are schussing down the runs, probably the most interesting endeavor for the ski resort visitor without skis is a ride on the Bald mountain ski lift. It's perfectly legal—they'll let you on without skis, and at a fee a little less than the normal fare for skiers, who use the lift several times during the day. Of course, instead of the one-way ride, non-skiers get a round-trip jaunt. The "on-foot" passengers don't go all the way to the top of Bald mountain—just to the Roundhouse at the end of the second lift. The first chair lift section goes about midway up the mountain, then changes direction slightly, necessitating a change of chairs. It really isn't too difficult. You just jump off one chair, then stand in-line for a few minutes waiting to board the second lift, which carries you on up to the Roundhouse. Roundhouse, which is a jumping off place for some of the novice skiers, as well as a cafeteria-style restaurant, is about two-thirds of the way up. Another chair lift transports skiers to the top. For shutterbugs, and the amateur movie cameraman in particular, the Bald mountain chair lift offers a wide variety of opportunities for pictures, both en route and from the Roundhouse. At Roundhouse, there are spectacular views of the valley floor, with Ketchikan mapped out below and Sun Valley nestled a little further on. A Roundhouse visitor also can look south over the Sawtooth mountain foothills past Halley and Bellevue into a small section of Wood River valley. Once you're at Roundhouse, getting back down to the valley floor is no problem. You just take a different route than the skiers—the same way you came up. In the words of one non-skier who recently made the chairlift trip, "It's fun, exciting, scenic and quite adventurous. Besides that, it's quite a bit easier to ride the chairlift than use a rope tow. But the Bald mountain chairlift isn't the only activity available for the non-skier. Other recreation can be had on the big ice skating rink, two swimming pools, bowling, and there are dogsleds available for an Eskimo-type tour of the vicinity around the lodge.

WENDELL, March 13—James Worsley, Boise, executive director of the Idaho division of the American Cancer society, will conduct a workshop and outline the fund drive which begins April 1, at a meeting at the civic club rooms at 2 p.m. Monday, announces Mrs. Hugh Caldwell, Wendell area chairman. All cancer workers in the area are asked to present as material for the coming campaign will be distributed. Accompanying the executive director will be Mrs. W. A. Carter, Gooding, county chairman; Ruth Meyer, Gooding, crusade chairman, and Mrs. Ted Edholm, Gooding, district chairman. Mrs. Leland Fleischman, Gooding, is county memorial chairman, and all memorials to the Cancer Society should be sent to her. The cancer officials will conduct a workshop at 10 a.m. Monday at Hagerman Grange hall for workers of the Hagerman and Tuttle areas. Mrs. Ted Bell, Hagerman, is the chairman for that area and Mrs. Leland Brooks, chairman for the Tuttle area. The workshop for Gooding will be held at 8 p.m. Monday at the home of Ruth Meyer, crusade chairman.

North and south winners were Mr. and Mrs. Lee Walton, Krupar, first; Mr. and Mrs. Howell Onau, second; Harry Warnke, Heyburn, and Arthur Warnke, Chico, Calif., third; Mrs. H. M. Proctor and Mrs. C. J. Strom, both Twin Falls, fourth. East and west winners included John Miller, Burley, and Dean Miller, Caldwell, first; Mr. and Mrs. William Beck, second; Richard Crisman, Burley, and Charles Moffett, Heyburn, third; Jean Archer and Mrs. M. H. Manning, fourth.

WHEN A WOMAN DRIVER PUTS HER HAND OUT, YOU CAN BE SURE OF ONE THING!

YEAH— YOU CAN BE SURE THE WINDOW'S OPEN!

DIDN'T YOU MISS YOUR GIRL GOOD NIGHT?

NO, I TOOK HER TO DINNER AND TO A SHOW! I FIGURED TO DO ENOUGH FOR HER!

OUR BOARDING HOUSE
WITH MAJOR HOOPLE

HERE'S YOUR CHANCE TO GET SOME FRESH AIR, NATURE BOY! WANT YOU TO GO DOWN TO SCHULTZ'S MARKET TO PICK UP MY GROCERY ORDER?

EGAD, MARTHA, WHY DOESN'T THE MARKET DELIVER?

TIM O'HOUILHAN, THE DELIVERY BOY, HAS THE AFTERNOON OFF TO MARCH IN THE PARADE! TAKE ALVIN'S WAGON, IT'S A LARGE ORDER!

HUMPH! THE BOY SHOULD BE DISCHARGED FOR SHIRKING HIS DUTIES!

IMAGINE MY PULLING A WAGON LIKE A DRAVY HORSE BECAUSE SCHULTZ'S DELIVERY BOY IS IN THE ST. PATRICK'S DAY PARADE. WHAT AN INJUSTICE SHOULD BE LEADING THE MARCHERS!

YOU'LL WIN THE PRIZE FOR THE BEST FLOUT IN THE PARADE IF YOU ENTER WITH THAT WAGON IN TON, MASOR!

NO PARADE FOR ME! I'M GOING TO THE MADAM'S HAND AT HOME!

BETTER STOP BY THE CLUB FOR A FREE LIBATION, MAJOR! THE OLDEN TYNES BREWERY DONATED A KEG OF BOCK BEER FOR ST. PADDY'S DAY! THEY'RE TAPPING IT AT TWO!

MARTHA SAID TO HAVE THE GROCERIES HOME BY FOUR! THEY'D BE SAFE BEHIND THAT BILLBOARD!

FREE! DID YOU SAY 2 ALL RIGHT, BOYS, BUT JUST ONE! IT WOULDN'T BE PROPER FOR THE GREAT GRAND SON OF PADRAIC SEAN O'HOOPLER NOT TO SHILITE PATRICK ON HIS DAY!

3:30 P.M. DA ME NAME'S MENHARA AND I'M THE LEADER OF THE BAND

MEANWHILE: IT SURE LOOKS LIKE MY WAGON, LEANDER, AND THE GROCERY SLIP HAS AUNT MARTHA ON IT!

LET'S TAKE IT HOME! I'LL BET UNCLE BULLO SNICK OFF TO SEE THE PARADE AND FORGOT WHERE HE LEFT IT!

TIME MARCHES ON - WHEN I-IRISH EYES ARE SMI-LING 5:30 ALREADY!

GREAT CAESAR! WHAT'LL I TELL MARTHA?

WELL! PATIENCE MY DEAR PATIENCE! I TURNED MY BACK FOR A MINUTE TO WATCH THE PARADE AND SOME LAWAG RABBED THE WAGONLOAD OF GROCERIES - HAK-KAFF!

I CHASED THE THIEF DOWN IT'S AVENUE UP THE HILL - PUFF-PUFF - ON K STREET AND INTO THE PARK! YOU'RE LETTING IN A DRAFT PET WITH THAT DOOR OPE - ULP!

Captain EASY

by LESLIE KREUER

WHEN THE 5:00 A.M. FREIGHT HITS THAT RAIL - WHAM!

YEAH! OUR WAY OF SAYING THANKS FER FIRIN' US!

TWO THIEVING EX-EMPLOYES OF THE T.C. & G RR HAVE REMOVED THE SPIKES FROM A RAIL...

YAD' THINK SWIPIN' A COUPLE COLOR TV SETS FROM A BOX CAR WAS GONNA PUT SOMEBODY OUTTA BUSINESS!

SLOW DOWN, KELS! WE MUST BE DOING FIFTY!

OLE '76'S INNARDS IS JES' WARMN' UP! SHE'LL DO SEVENTY! SHOVEL ON THE COAL, YOUNG FELLER!

YIP-EE

G RR

YOU'VE GOT ENOUGH STEAM TO REACH CROOKSVILLE AND THAT'S AS FAR AS YOU'RE GOING!

THEN, FAR DOWN THE TRACK, KELSIE JONES SEES SOMETHING THAT HAUNTS THE MINDS OF RAILROAD MEN...

ANOTHER TRAIN... COMIN' ON THIS TRACK!

DON'T JUMP, YET. I'M SLAMMIN' ON THE BRAKES!

MOMENTS LATER, '76' HITS THE RAIL THAT HAS BEEN SPIKED BY TWO VENGEFUL RAILROAD EX-EMPLOYES...

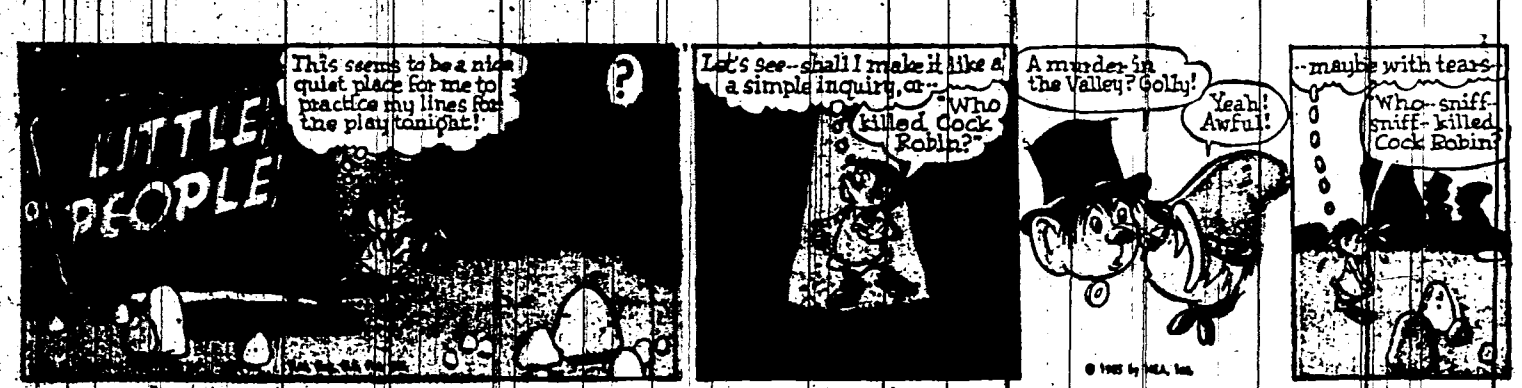

NOW... JUMP!

THUD! THUD! THUD! THUD!

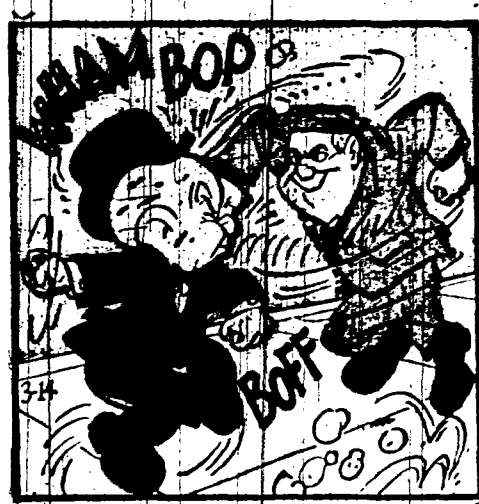

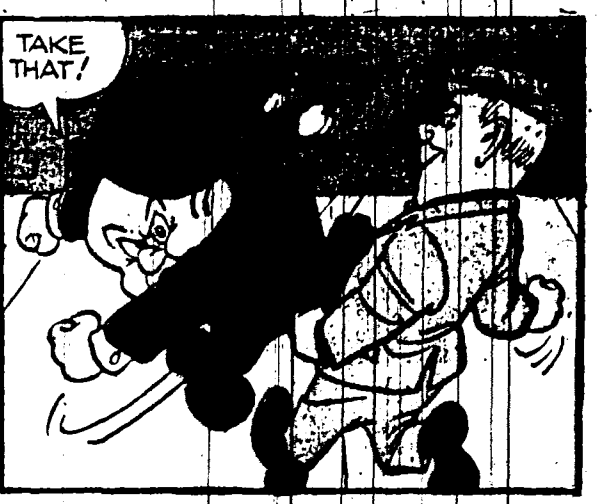

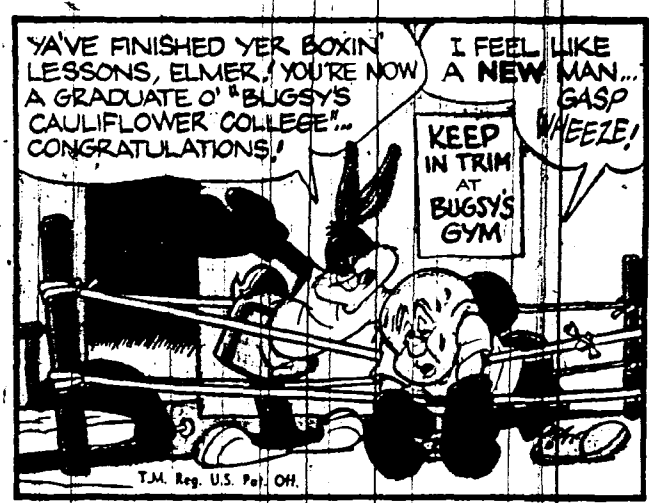

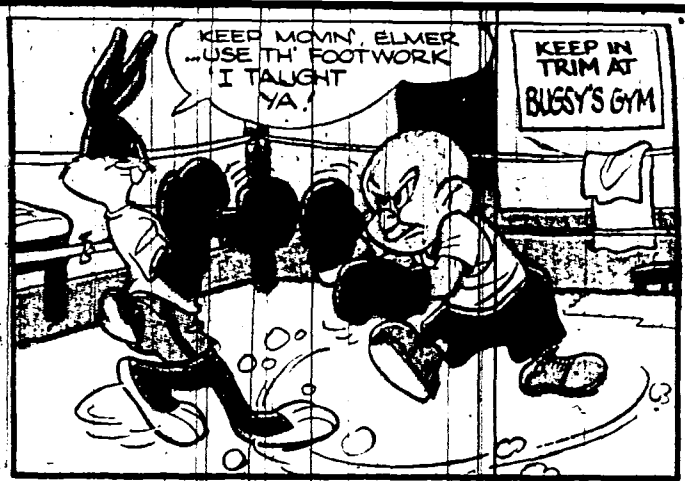

THE OLD ENGINE PLOWS DOWN THE EMBANKMENT AND FALLS ON ITS SIDE...

MEANWHILE, THE APPROACHING TRAIN COMES TO A SCREECHING, GRINDING HALT.

AND IN THE MAIL CAR... AN ATTEMPTED MAIL ROBBERY ALSO COMES TO A JARRING STOP...

The FLINT

I WENT ALONG WITH EVE'S DELUSION THAT I WAS HER DEAD HUSBAND.

WHY DON'T YOU TRY TO GET A LITTLE SLEEP NOW, EVE?

I HAVE A TELEGRAM FOR MR. MARTIN BRAND. HE CANNOT BE REACHED AT HIS HOME OR OFFICE-- WILL YOU TAKE THE MESSAGE?

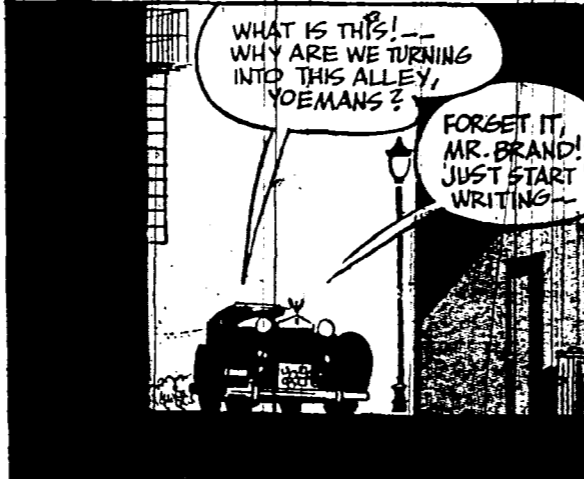

YES, I'M MR. BRAND'S CHAUFFEUR.

"FOUND EVE AND BABY IN SEATTLE, RETURNING WITH THEM ON WESTERN AMERICAN FLIGHT #99-- FLINT."

GOTTA ACT FAST--GET OUT OF TOWN!

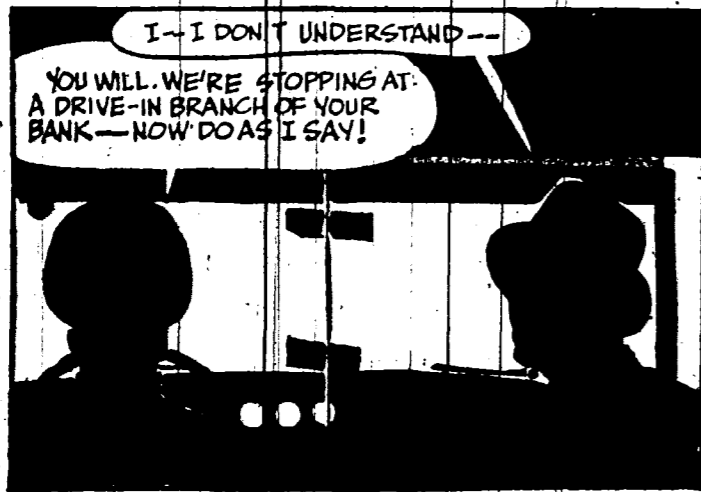

WHAT IS THIS! WHY ARE WE TURNING INTO THIS ALLEY, YOEMANS?

FORGET IT, MR. BRAND! JUST START WRITING--

--A CHECK, THAT IS-- FOR 10 BRAND! THEN CLIMB INTO THE FRONT SEAT WHERE I CAN WATCH YOU!

I--I DON'T UNDERSTAND--

YOU WILL. WE'RE STOPPING AT A DRIVE-IN BRANCH OF YOUR BANK--NOW DO AS I SAY!

I WANT THE MONEY IN 10'S, 50'S AND 100'S, PLEASE--

YES, MR. BRAND!

OOP! MY GOSH DID YOU HEAR THAT??

YEH HE CALLED YOU 'FATSO'-- BUT THAT'S IMPOSSIBLE.

...THERE'S NO SUCH THING AS A TALKIN' DINOSAUR!

YEAH?

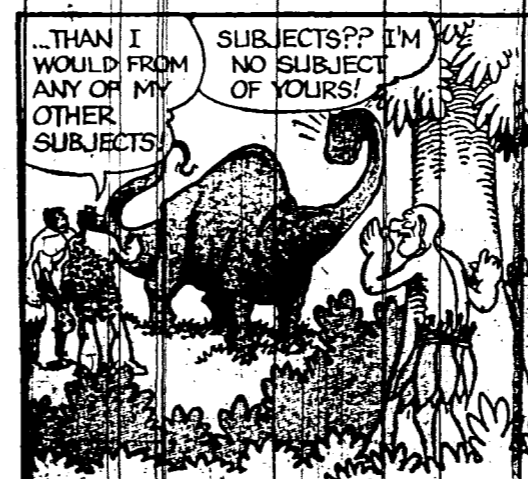

MAYBE THERE WAS NO SUCH A THING AS A TALKING DINOSAUR... BUT THAT WAS BEFORE THIS CRITTER CAME ALONG!

I JUST CANT BELIEVE IT, GLUZ! WE GOTTA BE DREAMING!

WELL, NO MATTER... ASLEEP OR AWAKE I'M NOT TAKIN' ANY MORE BACK TALK FROM A DINOSAUR.

...THAN I WOULD FROM ANY OF MY OTHER SUBJECTS!

SUBJECTS?? I'M NO SUBJECT OF YOURS!

TH' HECK YOU'RE NOT! I'M TH' LAW OF THIS LAND AN' WHAT I SAY GOES! I'M KING!

YOU'RE A KING??

AW, WHOEVER HEARD OF A KING GOIN' AROUND WITH A PATCH ON HIS BRITCHES?

WHY, YOU YOU... LOOK OUT, GHAAAA... BLOFFF!

GUZ! MY GOSH, YOU BETTER TAKE IT EASY!

OH OH!

THUD

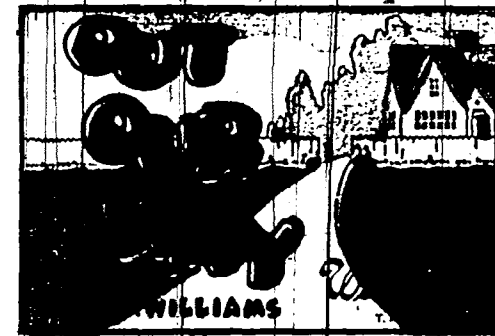

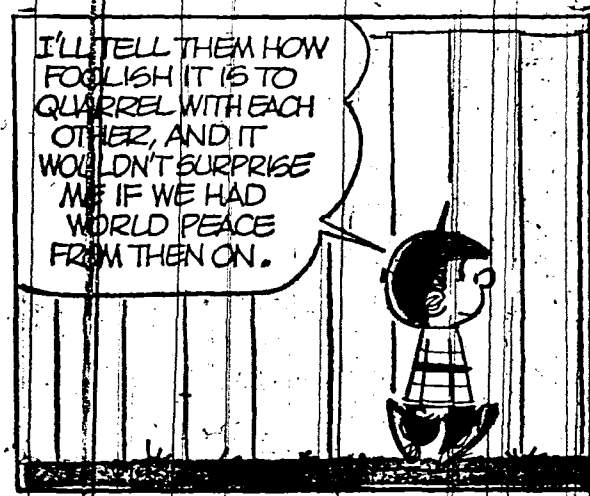

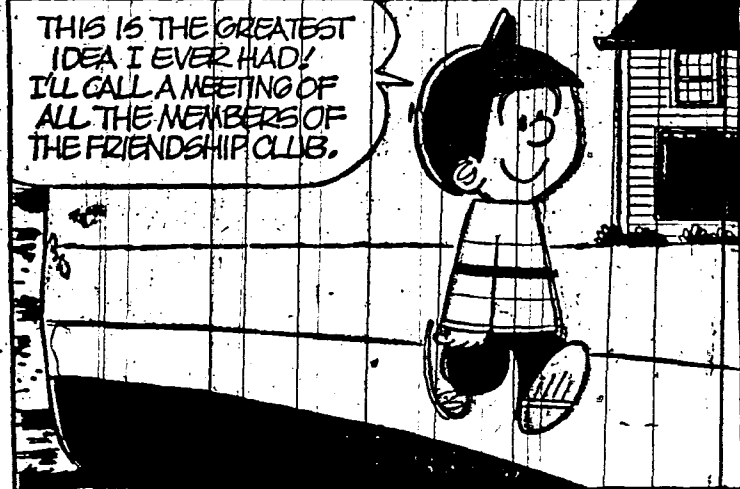

I KNEW IT! HE'S PASSED OUT COLD!
