Public reaction to acreage restrictions in a proposed zoning law has caused the county to cut in half acreage requirements in a buffer zone. More opposition was voiced Thursday night at a second public hearing in the Twin Falls county courthouse. The ordinance provides for a buffer zone one-half mile deep just outside the city limits and previously required that residential building lots inside

Sold Out

All tickets for the extra performance of "South Pacific" at 8:15 p.m. Monday in the Filer high school auditorium, have been sold. It was reported Friday by Mrs. Thomas Triscoll, publicity chairman. She said deadline for picking up reserved tickets for the Diletante Group of Magic Valley's production is noon Saturday at the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce office. Any tickets not picked up by that time, she said, will be sold to those whose names are on a waiting list. The additional performance was scheduled after other performances for this week-end had been sold out.

Smylie Urges Solution of Two Problems

BOISE, March 19 (AP)—A special session of the Idaho legislature is held today that if it fails to approve an acceptable plan of reapportionment it may cease to exist as a legal legislative body. "As free men," Gov. Robert E. Smylie said in a written message to the lawmakers, "we owe to ourselves, to our constituents and to history to develop a plan that is in keeping with the constitutional principles established by the supreme court of the United States." The special session convened today following adjournment of the regular session, which quit at night. It went 74 days, setting a modern day record. The longer session was one of the longest following granting of a veto in 1890. Smylie planned to call the special session to consider only two items, in addition to the issue of providing for its expenses. But he added one more as a result of an oversight in the closing hours of the regular session. The governor amended the general fund appropriation bill for state health department and institutions by increasing the allocation to State Hospital North to $75,000. But in the adjournment rush the house overlooked using the amended bill. The governor revised his proclamation, asking the special session to take care of the appropriation, totalling about two million dollars. Failure to achieve a solution to two problems in this extraordinary session, Smylie said, "will very likely have the effect of making it impossible to again consider the problem of legislative session free from the compulsion of a judicial veto."

Skiing Good; Sun Valley Slates Races

The annual Harriman cup races at Sun Valley highlight activities on the skiing scene in the next few days in Magic Valley. The Harriman cup event will be held Monday through Wednesday. Conditions at Magic Valley's five ski areas were reported good Thursday evening, with the trend expected to continue through the week-end. Reports from each area are: Soldier mountain—Conditions about the same as last week-end with a skiff of new snow on a "corn" snow base. Magic mountain—Two inches of new snow on a ski-packed base, conditions good. Road into the area is bare and dry. Pomerelle—Some new snow has fallen at the area and the weather is good. The area will be open only on Saturdays and Sundays through the remainder of the season. Sun Valley—Conditions reported good, with a warming trend expected before the week-end. Rothrun—Skiing about the same as last week-end with hard packed and dry conditions existing. Weather was cold and clear Thursday night.

Police Probe Burglaries of 3 Firms

Twin Falls police Friday were investigating break-ins which occurred at three business establishments within the past two days. Friday morning police detected a burglary at the Troy National Laundry, 201 Second avenue, and Rogers Brothers, 500 Washington street. The laundry was burglarized of a cigarette machine, a candy machine and a cash register. Rogers Brothers a soft drink machine and a cash register were burglarized at the laundry, said police. The amount taken from the laundry was not known. The city detective were called to Abbott's Auto, 121 Third avenue. There burglars took $30 in cash from the cash register in the supply company. The auto supply company burglars entered by prying a window. At Rogers Brothers entry was made through a window. Entry into the store was made through an open door.

City Patrolmen Here Enjoy Duties of Protecting Public

BY MIKE McGREER
"I've been cussed at, spit on, angered and scared, but I have always admired a policeman and I'm proud to be one." That's how one city patrolman described his job with the Twin Falls police department. A city detective once said that, in his opinion, any police department is built round the uniformed officer. He is usually the one law officer who comes in contact with the public and is first to reach the scene of a crime or accident. The job of a policeman is simply to protect the life, limb and property of the public. "As one city patrolman puts it, 'If we can curtail trouble by just

Last Drill Starts For Two-Man Flight

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla., March 19 (AP)—Final practice run of the first manned Gemini two-man space flight starts today with tracking stations all over the world taking part. Astronauts Virgil I. Grissom and John W. Young completed their last full-scale training mission yesterday. Space officials were studying weather charts today after a long-range forecast for Tuesday of the exercise. The final day began in a deadlock over education spending and ended shortly after a flare of tempers in the senate over an attempt to cut back funds for the Lewis-Clark Normal school in Lewiston. Total spending approved by the legislature was $135,052,738 with spending bills being passed in the closing minutes. And a bill standardizing tax assessment throughout Idaho passed both houses. One appropriation was overlooked in the rush of 11th-hour legislation. House leaders discovered after adjournment that the two million dollar spending bill for the state's three hospitals had not been passed. Gov. Robert E. Smylie said he would include the spending item in the special session on Monday. The university called the student action illegal.

being seen, then we have done a good job. That's one reason we drive marked cars," he added. Each of the 20 uniformed policemen works an eight-hour shift, and most put in many hours overtime. All the city policemen are deputized in case they have to enter county territory for an emergency. The city police department is divided into three sections—uniformed officers, detectives and juvenile division. The men in uniform work one of three shifts—day, swing or graveyard. A 10-year report by the city police shows that in 1964 only 6,236 arrests were made, compared to 12,131 for 1963. An even greater number of arrests were made in 1965. See PATROLMEN, Page 2, Col. 4

Special Session Called After Adjournment of Gem State Legislature

BOISE, March 19 (AP)—The Idaho legislature adjourned its 1965 regular session—which likely will be noted for its enactment of a sales tax—at 11:20 p.m. yesterday but it was called back a few hours later for a special session on reapportionment. The three per cent sales and use tax with accompanying reductions in property and income tax levies was called for by Gov. Robert E. Smylie, who said it was needed to finance a "new day" for Idaho.

Spectacular Space Flight Ends, Trouble Indicated

MOSCOW, March 19 (AP)—Space ship Voskhod 2, launched safely today west of the Ural mountains after a spectacular 24-hour orbit during which one of the two cosmonauts aboard frolicked outside the craft. There were indications that something went wrong in the landing process. An announcement by Tass, the Soviet news agency, that the pilot had steered the spaceship to a landing ended hours of mystery and official silence on the Voskhod's fate. Tass said both cosmonauts were well. The time the Voskhod was aloft indicated it had completed 17 orbits and was on its 18th when it landed. The exploit of Col. Pavel Belyayev and Lt. Col. Alexei Leonov meant another big step toward travel to the moon. It was Leonov who ventured outside the craft and floated 10 minutes in the void, proving men could work there to assemble space platforms for shots to the moon. The spaceship landed at 12:02 p.m.—4:02 a.m. EST—near Perm, west of the Ural mountains and 725 miles northwest of Moscow. This is far north of the usual landing spot for Soviet space ships. This fact and the character of radio signals toward the end of the flight suggested to the Bochum space observatory in West Germany that the landing process was irregular, a Bochum spokesman said. The Perm area is on the western slopes of the Ural mountains. Half the area is forested and unfit for a landing, but there is a plain. Whatever the success of the landing, Tass said Belyayev and Leonov had carried out their experiment successfully. It was steered down by manual controls by Belyayev, the announcement said. Belyayev and Leonov "feel well," Tass added. "The scientific program has been fully accomplished." The delay in announcing the landing was not immediately explained. The ship came down 500 miles northwest of the usual cosmonaut landing area of Soviet central Asia and southern Siberia, north of the launch center at Baikonur. The landing of the two cosmonauts inside their spaceship followed the pattern of the Voskhod 1, the first multimanned Soviet capsule named with the Russian word for sunrise. It spent 24 hours in orbit last Oct. 12-13. Voskhod 2 was up 26 hours. It had time to complete 17 orbits and be in its 18th when it landed. Earlier Soviet space flights in the Vostok series of capsules required the cosmonauts to parachute from the craft. But the Voskhod series is equipped for soft landings on retroactive jets, a report on Voskhod 1 said. The Tass announcement of the landing said: "Their program of scientific experiments was carried out in full." "A complex experiment was made successfully during the flight, opening a new stage in man's conquest of space: a cosmonaut dressed in a special space suit with an autonomous life support system floated freely in outer space." The data received during the flight of Voskhod 2 are being tabulated and analyzed. The last previous official announcement by the Soviets was 5:30 a.m.—9:30 p.m. Eastern Standard Time—which said the men had completed 13 orbits. See FLIGHT, Page 2, Column 8

Famed Dixie Guard to Provide Protection for Demonstrators

MONTGOMERY, Ala., March 19 (UPI)—National guard units of the famed 31st Dixie division apparently will provide the bulk of protection for civil rights demonstrators on a five-day march through Alabama farm country. President Johnson advised Gov. George Wallace last night that he would federalize the Alabama guard, which makes up the Dixie division along with the Mississippi guard, if Wallace is "unable or unwilling to call out the guardsmen."

U.S. Planes Bomb Red Military Posts

SAIGON, South Viet Nam, March 19 (AP)—More than 110 U. S. navy and air force planes hammered military targets at two points in communist North Viet Nam today and reported up to 100 per cent of the targets destroyed. All of the planes were believed to have returned safely from the bombing and strafing attack on military supply installations about 160 miles north of the 17th parallel, dividing North and South Viet Nam. A U. S. spokesman said the targets were known supply and infiltration areas for Viet Cong forces in South Viet Nam. He said the raid was very successful. "The targets were Phu Van and Vinh Son, where there are a number of military supply installations," said a U. S. statement on the raid. A spokesman said navy planes also pounded the Thu An supply depot, adjoining the Vinh Son area. The spokesman said a number of secondary explosions after the planes hit their targets indicated their bombs and rockets had set off ammunition stores. The air force planes hit 15 to 20 buildings. Ground fire was reported light and inaccurate, and the spokesman said the North Vietnamese apparently were caught by surprise and off balance by the attack. He said the planes carried "normal" ammunition, including 750-pound bombs and rockets. They were over the target area at about 1 p.m. Saigon time (1 a.m. Eastern Standard time). "It was the second strike against North Viet Nam in the past five days."

Policemen Stand Guard as School Opens in Ohio

CLEVELAND, O., March 19 (AP)—Classes opened without incident under heavy police guard today at racially-torn Collinwood high school. About 200 policemen, wearing white riot helmets and armed with nightsticks, ringed the sprawling school building where fist fights yesterday forced the school on the city's East side to close. Police arrested at least eight boys and girls and sent a number away who obviously were not students. Those arrested included both whites and Negroes, most of them on charges of carrying guns, knives, and other weapons, including a baseball bat, and a piece of pipe.

President Flies To LBJ Ranch

JOHNSON CITY, Tex., March 19 (AP)—President Johnson flew to his ranch early today from a long night's work at the White House and awaited a reply from Wallace on whether Gov. George Wallace will call on the national guard to protect civil rights marchers. The President, accompanied by staff members, flew directly to his LBJ ranch landing strip about 10 miles west of the town. He landed at 1:36 a.m. CST (2:36 a.m. EST).

REMEMBER WHEN?

By BOB REESE

Their names were Freeman F. Gooden and Charles J. Correll. A lot of people never knew them by those real names... but millions knew their voices and the characters they portrayed.

And no one who listened to the radio in those days failed to hear, to know and to delight in "A Moe in Andy" when they were first heard on the air.

That was a year when Americans needed a laugh for the bubbling prosperity of the past decade had burst, and the country was heading into a trying time. For the decade that followed, and long afterwards, these TITANIC radio characters continued to give foreigners many moments of forefignness and laughter.

But "A Moe in Andy" became the oldest continuous series on the air. The year in which their voices were first heard was a real landmark in the history of radio, one which a lot of people can still recall.

Remember the year?

That was a year when people who had gambled before weren't in the mood to gamble any more. They wanted a sure thing. A car, a house, a good deal that meant legitimate savings.

It makes good sense for today's car buyer to want to get all the real savings he can on a new car deal... and that's just what we're offering on the value-packed new Dodges and Barts. Just give us a try... and we'll prove what we mean by saying with a higher price tag, the most convenient terms, plus the finest service when you need it.

WHIRLIGIG
By Andrew Tully
WASHINGTON, March 19—Now that the senate rules committee has given the Bobby Baker amendment...
This suggestion is not made frivolously nor out of lack of respect for either the presidency or Lyndon Johnson. The dignity of the office is unassailable, and only a casual fool would cast aspersions on the considerable presence and acumen of its current occupant.

SALES PRESSURE CHARGED—But before Lyndon Johnson became president he was a businessman in Austin, a role he found in fashion with most of his colleagues—not incompatible with his duties as a senator. And the operations of his television station were injected into the Bobby Baker case in a manner that does not make wholesome reading.

THAT'S NOT PRESSURE?—Jenkins still denied using "pressure." He said he merely informed Reynolds that the station planned to buy insurance from another agent who "not only had been an advertiser for many years, but also had related to the station in the past."

Lynda Bird Celebrates 21st Birthday

WASHINGTON, March 19 (AP)—Lynda Bird Johnson, 21 years old today, compares the much-publicized life of the president's child with that of everyone's ex-wife to be so perfectly.

President Johnson's older daughter, Lynda, stressed that she was not complaining or rebelling at being in the shadow of White House life.

She said she feels that it is the President's daughters who are an example to other young women "of the good things that can be done."

Lynda Bird met with reporters at a luncheon as part of the public celebration of her birthday. She will attend her normal classes at George Washington University during the day, and her evening will go to a party in honor of her sister, Luci, who will be queen of the prom at the Norfolk Hotel next month.

Lynda said she will attend a "surprise" party, escorted by David S. Patten, a former White House press secretary, who works for a New York radio station and who has been frequent date for the president's daughter.

Lynda told the newsmen she is just dating a lot of people. "I'm just dating a lot of people," she said, adding with a bit of humor for which she is known at the White House that she has been "abstaining" from frequent dates for the past few months.

Well then, the newsmen asked, if she is dating a lot of people, is there a front runner?

"I just hope there'll be a lot of contestants," she quipped.

March 26 Is Deadline for Wheat Signup

SHOSHONE, March 19—March 26 is the last day growers may file to take part in the 1965 wheat diversion and feed grain program, according to Eugene Alexander, agricultural stabilization and conservation county committee chairman.

Farmer interest in the county is high. Indications are that the 1965 participants will equal that under the 1964 program.

All farmers who are interested in taking part in this year's program are urged to call at their ASCS county office as soon as possible, since there are only a few working days left before the March 26 signup deadline, and signing up is the first step in program participation.

The ASCS office is open from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday.

College Aide Speaks to Burley Club

BURLEY, March 18—Erwin H. Schaefer, assistant to the president of the College of Idaho, spoke to the Burley Club Wednesday, to discuss development at the college and invited members to the 75th anniversary observance of the coming year.

Schaefer pointed out that it is estimated by 1985 only 20 per cent of the 12.6 million college students will attend private colleges. The reason for this trend, he said, is the relative lack of securing funds for need-based expansion through compulsory support, compared with the support of private colleges.

1965 Budget Is Approved For Rupert

RUPERT, March 19—Members of the Rupert city council gave final approval to the 1965 budget after a budget hearing at which no protest was made.

Possibilities of financing a storm drain program in the city also was discussed during the regular city council meeting held Tuesday night at the city office.

The 1965 budget was estimated at $618,200—the same as last year's budget. Council voted that irrigation charges be left the same as last year.

Under law, general obligation bonds can be used, but in Idaho the legal limit is 15 per cent of assessed valuation with Rupert's assessed valuation a little more than $2,000,000.

At present the city has bonds at $177,000 on the sewer plant, so only about $15,000 could be raised in that manner.

Newman suggested the program be done in stages as has already been started by city crews. The council decided to take the matter under study.

A road through from 16th street to A street was discussed by the council. The group decided to take a traffic count and study the matter further.

The council also discussed complaints being presented by residents concerning the sewer odors.

EDWARD KELLEY and FRED TRENKLE... Shoshone youths, will be sponsored by the Rotary club as delegates to Boys' State. They are the sons of Mrs. Eleanor Kelley and Mrs. Harold Perron, both Shoshone. MR. AND MRS. GARY D. THOMAS

Anita Scarrow, Thomas Repeat Wedding Vows

JEROME, March 19—The Jerome Assembly of God church was the setting for the re-wedding ceremony, uniting in marriage Anita Sue Scarrow, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Scarrow, Jerome, and Gary Dwight Thomas, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Thomas, Elstacada, Ore.

The Rev. Elmer Ridgway solemnized the double ring nuptials before a heart-shaped archway of fern accented with white carnations and baskets of pink and white carnation.

Mrs. Russell King played the traditional wedding music and accompanied Shirlene Wall, soloist.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of silk organza and lace. The fitted lace bodice featured a round neck, long and longilly point sleeves, and long, full, ruffled skirt.

The bride’s hair was styled in a French illusion, was held by a gold crown.

She wore a single strand of pearls borrowed from a friend, the traditional blue garter and a lucky penny in her shoe as tokens of sentiment.

Mrs. Gerald Scarrow, sister-in-law of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore a light green brocade gown fashioned with elbow-length sleeves and rounded neckline. She carried a single long stemmed carnation accented with greenery.

Mrs. Donald Scarrow, sister-in-law of the bride, and Sharon Fultz were bridesmaids. They wore gowns identical to that of the matron of honor.

Tracie Scarrow and Janie Scarrow, nieces of the bride, gowned in white and green, scattered white carnation petals in the path of the bride. They wore corsages of pink feathered carnations and small gold angel necklaces.

Neil Allen, Twin Falls, was best man.

Donna Bartlett was in charge of the guest book and gifts were arranged by Mrs. James Scarrow, sister-in-law of the bride, Patty Coffman and Kathy Johnson.

The bride’s table was covered with white lace over green. The lace cloth was made by Mrs. Gerald Scarrow.

Pink roses and pink sugar bells decorated the three-tiered wedding cake that was flanked by two small-sweetheart cakes. Pink and white tapers in crystal holders completed the table appointments.

Mrs. Truman Bartlett and Mrs. Fred Coffman, aunts of the bride, poured, and Mrs. Warren Gooding, and Mrs. Janice Crisp, Jerome, served the cake.

The new Mrs. Thomas chose a three-piece blue knit suit with gold and silver accessories and the corsage from her bridal bouquet for her wedding trip.

The bride was graduated from Jerome high school with the class of 1963 and is employed by M. H. King company.

Thomas is a 1961 graduate of Twin Falls high school and is attending Twin Falls Business college, where he is student body president.

The couple reside at Park-Rose apartments.

The bride was feted at a personal shower given by Mrs. Gerald Scarrow.

Mrs. G. Hansen Attends Social At White House

WASHINGTON, D.C. March 19 — Have you ever wondered what it is like to spend an evening as the guest of the President of the United States at the White House?

Mrs. George Hansen has wondered, but now she knows.

Mrs. Hansen, a new arrival on the Washington social scene, and her husband, Rep. George V. Hansen, attended an informal evening at 1600 Pennsylvania avenue. The Hansens were guests along with approximately 60 other couples from congress and the President’s cabinet as part of a series of briefings given by President Johnson for members of congress.

To begin what Mrs. Hansen called “a perfect evening,” they drove through the southwest gate and entered the Presidential Oval room. A group of civil rights demonstrators who had entered the White House by infiltrating a public tour earlier that day had been expelled only ten minutes before the social was to begin.

Guests were conducted to the second floor to a cocktail gathering which gave the Hansens an opportunity to visit with many celebrities, including Vice President and Mrs. Hubert H. Humphrey, Secretary of Defense and Mrs. Robert McNamara, Secretary of State Dean Rusk, and Attorney General Nicholas Katzenbach, as well as colleagues in congress representing both political parties.

Mrs. Johnson circled around the room, greeting everyone with a friendly, “Hello, Mrs. Hansen. Bid Johnson and we’re happy to have you here.”

Before the party, Mrs. Hansen had “a slight nervousness” as to whether or not she would be properly dressed for her first White House affair. However, the First Lady complimented her choice, saying, “That’s a mighty pretty dress you have.”

Upon meeting Vice President Humphrey, Mrs. Hansen told him that she had attended a speech he made in Pocatello in behalf of her husband’s opponent during the election campaign.

“Your husband must be a mighty good man to have defeated the incumbent Congressman,” remarked the Vice President.

While the guests mingled and chatted, each couple was escorted to an adjoining room where they had their picture taken with President and Mrs. Johnson.

The women then gathered for a tour and a movie explaining the paintings in the White House, while the men attended a briefing on current affairs by the President and members of his cabinet.

Mrs. Hansen described her reaction as “like a little girl going to town for the first time.”

“It was quite a thrill to be in the house of Presidents where the course of much of our nation’s history has been shaped and where gracious First Ladies have greeted people from every state and nation through scores of years,” she said.

Mrs. Johnson is a straightforward woman and the perfect hostess. She has the ability to put her guests completely at ease.

The President impressed Mrs.

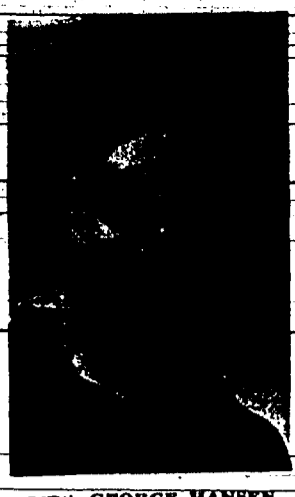

Hansen as “a man of few words with a big smile.”

Mrs. Hansen was particularly interested in the President’s sitting room, where she saw the picture of Caroline Kennedy presented to the Johnsons by President and Mrs. Kennedy for Christmas in 1962. The sitting room also contained several Johnson family albums.

After the briefing, the men joined their wives for a buffet dinner, the highlight of which was a Texas-flavored hot dip made of cheese spiced with chili sauce and served with fritos.

As they left the White House, the Hansens met one more celebrity — the President’s beagle, Him, who was out for an airing. And what was the male impression of the occasion? “Very interesting and enjoyable,” commented Congressman Hansen.

BRIDGE PLAYED
RICHFIELD, March 19 — Mrs. William E. Swan was hostess for members of the Merryweather Bridge club. Prizes were won by Mrs. Percy Christensen and Mrs. Manuette King, club members, and Mrs. Arthur Peterson, a guest.

Long Fences and Canals

Bob Graham has completed remodeling of the house on the property which he purchased from Stewart Morris on the east edge of town, adjoining his lots. He will rent this place.

People and son are hauling their wool to Wendell this week for sale to the West coast. They sold their wool to the Portland Wool Mills with Farris Silman and son, Gooding, wool buyers, making the arrangements. On Sunday Mr. and Mrs. John Bappte and Mr. and Mrs. Bob Bappte hosted a dinner at their home for son and other sheepmen.

Most farmers at Tuffe are getting their fields ready for seeding wheat and some have their wheat planted. The winter wheat is coming up now but the cold weather is keeping it and the alfalfa are growing very fast.

Most of the farmers in the View community near Burley are busy preparing their land to plant grain and beets.

Things are extra busy this week at the Bob Bronson ranch in the View community as five electric shears are being used to shear sheep before moving them to the spring range next month.

Repairs at the pumping stations northeast of Declo have been completed and everything ready for the coming pumping season. The foreman of this operation, assisted by Ray Schmidt, operators are Harold Anderberg, Heber Robinson, Ralph Johnson, Harvey Cole, Chester Behr, Carl Rasmussen, Glen Powers, Ambrose Smith, Jay Kidd and Arvil Voyce.

Robert (Bob) Graham escaped injury last week while harrowing ground at his ranch west of Bliss and south of Snake river. The three sections of harrows hit an object in the ground throwing the harrow into the air and when he looked back, the harrows were just above his head, ready to fall, when a rod broke, releasing the harrows to the ground. Graham states if the rod had not broken the harrows would have hit him and he could have been seriously injured. The harrows were hooked to a Diesel tractor.

Mr. and Mrs. Garth Cook and family, Carey, have moved into the home on the ranch they recently purchased from Ross Sanders, Castlefield, Utah. Many people know the ranch as the John Baird place.

The Ore-Ida company, Burley, hauled seed potatoes from the Port Lewiston potato cellars in King Hill to Burley for processing and using planting. This week the Ore-Ida firm is trucking seed potatoes to Burley for the Lemgrubers potato cellar at Glenns Ferry. Potatoes are now being planted on the Black Mesa project, northeast of King Hill. The potatoes have been stored in these cellars for the winter.

Cattlefeeders Might Have Answer to Problem of Starlings in Gem State

By G. H. CHAMBERS
The starling problem in Idaho might well be on the decline even before it reaches major proportions thanks to a cooperative effort between the Idaho Cattle Feeders association, the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service and the Idaho Department of Agriculture. The three-way effort by the various groups has included the chemical tests on TR-1339. Preliminary tests indicate that the chemical is effective in the control of starlings. Idaho Cattlefeeders' Executive Secretary Frank Shields, Boise, told the Times-News this week that "Idaho might well be the leader in the control of starlings. Many other states have tremendous starling problems. The Idaho starling problem is rather recent, but due to the combined efforts of the association, the fish and wildlife service and the state, the problem may be solved."

In Idaho, the starling inflicts most of his damage in the feedlots. The small gray colored bird eats double or better its weight in feed. Shields pointed out that when the cattle feeders took up the problem not much was known about the starling. Since the combined effort was launched a few years ago the group has discovered much about the habits of the starling. It is believed that starling scouts search out likely feeding grounds. In Idaho, especially during the winter, this is likely to be a cattle feeding lot. Then the starlings move in. They pick a nesting place and a feeding spot. In Western Idaho, Lake

New Bulletin on Moisture, Beans Is Available in T. F.

A new University of Idaho bulletin, "The Influence of Soil Moisture on Snap Bean Seed Production," recently published, is now available at the county extension office, according to Twin Falls County Agent Donald Fort.

The bulletin summarizes the results of a research project at the Twin Falls branch experimental station, Kimberly. Authors are M. LeBaron, station superintendent; F. M. McClester, G. L. Corey, University of Idaho; V. K. Toole, agriculture research service, and L. R. Hawthorne, former USDA horticulturist.

The researchers found that the rate of maturity for snap beans grown for seed can be hastened by proper irrigation practices. High soil-moisture levels early in the growing season caused an early maturing plant while usually increasing yield of seed. Low soil-moisture levels late in the season tended to force the plants to maturity at the expense of a decrease in seed yield.

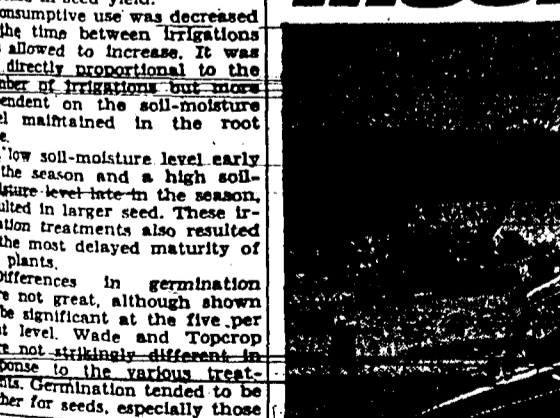

Consumptive use was decreased as the time between irrigations was allowed to increase. It was not directly proportional to the number of irrigations but more dependent on the soil-moisture level maintained in the root zone.

A low soil-moisture level early in the season and a high soil-moisture level late in the season, resulted in larger seed. These irrigation treatments also resulted to the most delayed maturity of the plants.

Differences in germination were not great, although shown to be significant at the five percent level. Wade and Topcrop were not strikingly different in response to the various treatments. Germination tended to be higher for seeds, especially those

Meeting

HOLLISTER, March 19—Roseworth and Salmon tract farmers are reminded that the annual water forecast meeting will be held here March 31 at the Grange hall, reports Glenn Nelson, chairman, Twin Falls soil conservation district.

Nelson said the meeting is open to "all interested persons."

Lowell is the favorite spot, and along Snake river in the southern part of the state. A flock of starlings can number several thousand. A starling weighs a little over one ounce. Some 5,000 starlings can consume about a half a ton of feed a day. "It is to tolerate starlings is expensive."

After study and some limited testing the forerunner of TR-1339 was tested extensively last year. This was TR-13 and was used in 23 Idaho feedlots. The chemical is a liquid and is non-toxic to mammals.

The researchers decided that the starling would be a victim of his own gluttony. A large dose of TR-13 proved lethal and the damage is accumulative on the starlings. For example, a pigeon or a bird would consume a small amount of TR-13 with few minor effects. Because the starling is such a glutton he consumes a tremendous amount of TR-13 in proportion to body size that in a matter of a few hours the starling drops dead.

The delayed reaction of TR-13 works to the advantage of the cattlefeeder. There are no dead starlings to scare the rest of the flock.

The chemical isn't mixed into the cattle ration. As a rule a

Technical Assistance Is Term Used in Farmer Aid

The term, "technical assistance," as it applies to soil conservation work is broad. It can mean anything from a simple suggestion on a variety of range grass seed to a complete revamping of a major farm in the county.

Problems confronting many farmers can be solved to a large extent with technical assistance. While there is no charge, or little charge, for aid, the individual farmer often pays the entire cost of a project.

For example, in the Twin Falls soil conservation district there were more than 200 jobs which did not involve matching federal funds.

By comparison there were about 200 jobs which did involve federal funds under the agricultural stabilization and conservation ACP program. The soil conservation service is charged with the responsibility of administering the ACP program.

The ACP program provides limited federal money for farm improvements on an individual matching basis. For many years the ASCS county committee administered this program on a first-come-first-serve basis.

Because of the tremendous response by area farmers, it now is on a rotating basis—that is, a farmer qualifying for matching funds is not eligible for funds next year or until the program has made the round of requests.

A technical-aid program generally starts with a request by the individual farmer. He enters the

Agency Is Ready to Take Applications on Insurance

Applications are now being accepted by the federal crop insurance corporation from Magic Valley farmers for coverage on 1965 wheat, barley and bean crops, and also sugar beets in Twin Falls county and potatoes in Cassia, Teton and Twin Falls counties, according to Douglas H. Bertoch, Twin Falls, District FCIC director.

Bertoch said that about 2,000 Magic Valley farmers are now insuring 3,560 crops on 129,000 acres. Total liability on this many acres is nearly $7,000,000, a vital and sizeable protection to the area's economy. This means that if the Magic Valley suffered from a total crop failure, seven million dollars in the form of crop-loss payments would be returned to FCIC insured farmers.

"This is no small sum," said Bertoch, "considering the fact that we insure investment costs in raising a crop—not the anticipated profit. We feel that farmers could be saved from financial disaster in event of crop failure through this type of protection."

"Farming cost are so high now that it may take up to ten years in some cases to recover from a total crop loss. Some could never recover. There are many and more farmers are including crop insurance in their year's farming budget, just as they include insurance on their home, farm

Blaine Group to Attend Beef Day

HAILEY, March 19—James Eakin, Blaine county agriculture agent, and a group of Blaine county cattlemen will attend Beef Day May 1 and Dairy Day May 7 at the Caldwell branch experiment station of the University of Idaho college of agriculture.

Eakin said the two field days will feature training of the permanent station personnel in new methods and old problems of both the beef and dairy cattlemen.

The Idaho Cattle Feeders will sponsor a banquet after the May meeting.

When a soil fumigant can raise sugar beet yields by as much as 16 tons an acre, you don't have to say much more.

Ours does. And we won't. Except to mention that Telone® soil fumigant has proved itself in tests. Cleared sugar beet cyst and root-knot nematodes from highly-infested sugar beet fields where yields can dip to less than 10 tons an acre. Boosted crops to 26 tons an acre. Telone soil fumigant really controls nematodes for you. And, one preplant application of this clean, clear-flowing formulation should do it.

Farm Bureau Leaders Urge President To Ease Problem With Migrant Labor

CHICAGO, March 18.—The American Farm Bureau federation board of directors in its regular quarterly meeting here stressed today the need for immediate action by the President since it takes time to set up the program for the admission of foreign labor.

The urgency of the situation faces the harvest seasons across the country, California, Florida, Texas, Arizona, New Mexico and other states are the first to be affected, but the problem will move into the Northwest, Midwest and Northeast as the summer approaches.

Unless steps are taken to alleviate the labor shortage, crops requiring large amounts of hand labor will move from the U.S. to Mexico and other countries, the federation pointed out. Considerable acreage and some processing plants have already moved to Mexico.

The federation cited reports, admitted in the past.

Soviet Union Reports Good Recovery In Agriculture After Slump of 1963

WASHINGTON, March 18.—The agriculture department said a "good recovery" by the Soviet Union from disastrously low farm production in 1963 was the outstanding feature of the agricultural situation in eastern Europe last year.

In a summary of the 1964 eastern European agricultural situation, the department's Economic Research Service said the Soviet Union officially reported record crops of sugar beets, sunflower seed, potatoes and vegetables. Cotton production in the USSR was about the same as the record output in 1963.

In other East European countries, agricultural output was up slightly, except in Czechoslovakia, where it was down. ERS added that collectivization of agriculture continues to impose serious production restraints in most of eastern Europe.

ERS said excellent growing conditions in many major regions caused Soviet farm production to go an about-face. Grain output, which was hit by severe drought in 1963, increased substantially last year. Soviet officials claimed that grain procurements were above the record goal of 67.3 million metric tons in 1964. This will obviate the necessity of importing huge quantities of wheat as was the case in 1963-64.

Grain production was up slightly but wheat imports will be necessary this year with the possible exception of Rumania, according to ERS. Corn, the principal Danubian crop, fared better than wheat. Grain production was down in Poland and Czechoslovakia and not far different from 1963 in East Germany.

ERS said an improved livestock feed situation in the Soviet Union should permit rebuilding of livestock herds, especially hogs. The swine population declined sharply in 1963—hogs were slaughtered because there wasn't enough feed, and because they were needed for human food.

ERS said Soviet meat production will be much lower in 1964-65 than in 1963-64 because of the setup in distress slaughter. Soviet milk production is expected to increase somewhat, in view of the improved feed supply and higher prices paid by the state for milk.

ERS said the livestock situation in the Danubian area is expected to improve in 1965 and increased pork exports appear likely. Livestock numbers increased in Poland and the meat supply, especially pork, is expected to improve. East German livestock numbers have made a comeback, reflecting partly the somewhat improved feed supply and partly the effect of an increase in livestock prices.

ERS said no significant change in agricultural policy has taken place in Eastern Europe. But in the Soviet Union, the downfall of Nikita Khrushchev ushered in a somewhat more liberal policy toward the private sector, particularly animal husbandry.

ERS said changes were made in the agricultural administrative apparatus, reversing some of Khrushchev's original innovations but the new Soviet leadership has generally proceeded cautiously on the Agrarian front, ERS said. It has continued a number of Khrushchev's programs, notably his mineral fertilizer program.

A couple of months after Khrushchev was deposed, Pravda said in an editorial:

"In the management of agriculture these were made serious mistakes. The basic principle of socialism—the economic interest of collective farmers, the remuneration of people according to their work—was violated. The passion for administration by ordering about, for continuous reorganizations without anything useful being accomplished, for boasting, and for empty talk had a detrimental effect on agriculture."

Twin Falls Ranks 5th in Idaho Wheat

Twin Falls county ranked fifth among counties in Idaho in wheat production in 1964, according to County Agent Donald Youst. The production figures are based on a report from the statistical reporting service, which ranked Latah county in first place with 3,418,000 bushels production. Second, third and fourth place counties were Nez Perce, Bonneville, and Idaho.

The 1964 wheat production of Twin Falls county was 2,704,000 bushels, compared to 1,818,500 bushels in 1963 when Twin Falls county ranked seventh, and 2,702,000 bushels in 1962 when the county ranked first in Idaho.

The northern Idaho counties were seriously hurt by stripe rust in 1962, and wheat yields of Twin Falls county and other southern Idaho counties were seriously reduced in 1963 by the disease. Twin Falls county's average estimated wheat yields per acre were 65.2 in 1964, as compared to 43.9 in 1963, and 75.7 in 1962.

Other high wheat producing counties in 1964, with over two million bushels production were Bingham, Power, Lewis and Cassia.

"In the management of agriculture these were made serious mistakes. The basic principle of socialism—the economic interest of collective farmers, the remuneration of people according to their work—was violated. The passion for administration by ordering about, for continuous reorganizations without anything useful being accomplished, for boasting, and for empty talk had a detrimental effect on agriculture."

BOISE, March 19 — The increase in number of beef cattle is slowing down, a University of Idaho extension economist said today in the March issue of Economic Facts for Idaho Agriculture. Figures are still high throughout the country and in Idaho, but the cycle seems to have reached its peak, according to Wayne Robinson, marketing information specialist.

The total number of cattle on U.S. ranches and farms early in 1965 reached a new high of slightly more than 107 million head, only a shade more than the 106.7 million a year earlier. The increase in beef was two per cent compared with five per cent the year before.

The figures suggest the increase is leveling off, Robinson said. "Numbers may even decline in the near future although this does not appear likely in 1965 unless drought continues in important cattle areas. More likely, numbers will round off gradually as they have in the past except for years of severe drought like 1934 and 1936."

"The current price situation suggests that any increase in 1965 will be small. Prices are likely to stay near present levels for the next year or two."

Idaho producers had 1,589,000 head of cattle and calves on hand Jan. 1, a decline of two per cent from the previous year. Most of the decline was because of a four per cent decrease in dairy cows. Beef cattle declined one and one-half per cent.

The figures show that the increase in Idaho beef cattle numbers has definitely slowed down, Robinson said, and suggests a situation similar to that of the nation—that we have passed or are near the peak in numbers.

Well Planned Program Is Needed, Say Researchers at U and I Sugar Clinic

IDAHO FALLS, March 19 — Sugar beet growers can best obtain a profitable crop with a well-planned program of modern techniques and tools, a sugar company executive said here today.

There is no one single answer to all the problems, said Eloyd V. Olsen, Idaho manager, Utah-Idaho Sugar Company. Varying conditions determine what combinations of modern techniques will do the job best.

He addressed approximately 70 persons at the ninth annual Idaho Sugar Beet school, held at the Hawaiian cafe here.

Olsen discussed proven ways of means of mechanizing spring work in the sugar beet crop.

He listed among these precision planting of modern monogerm seed at reduced seeding rates, use of springtime harrows, proper and timely use of herbicides, and mechanical beet removal using down-the-row or cross cultivation tools.

The sugar beet school was sponsored by the University of Idaho extension service, the Upper Snake River Valley Beet Growers' association, and the sugar company. Albert Mykiole, Pocatello, county agent, was chairman of the morning session. Milton Weston, Blackfoot, county agent, was chairman in the afternoon.

Karl Ellis, agricultural superintendent for the sugar company in Idaho, discussed beet storage and related problems. He emphasized the necessity of a clean harvest.

A stored sugar beet is a living plant, Ellis said, and if the growth bud of the beet, located in the crown, has not been destroyed by topping the beet will attempt to grow, using up a portion of its sugar in the process. If the normal heat of respiration of piled beets is obstructed by foreign material such as weeds or mud an undue amount of sugar is lost from the beets, he noted.

By the use of good harvesting equipment and procedures growers can deliver beets to the company in top shape, Ellis added, and by the use of good receiving and piling equipment the company can store them in piles that can be maintained over long periods and provide maximum profit both to the grower and company.

Byron Haderlie, U and I fieldman, discussed field labor. Noting that the expiration of public law 78 has increased competition for domestic field labor, he said no labor shortage is indicated for growers who use 1965 techniques in their fields.

ly one year out of four or one year out of five.

The simple physical facts of nematode infestation leave two alternatives, he noted, a proper rotation or ultimately facing one year out of five on a particular piece of land or soil fumigation at a cost of about $35 an acre.

Awards to the top 15 growers in total tons and tons per acre were made at a noon luncheon of the school. Presentations were by James Wood, sugar company fieldman.

The program also included a discussion of mechanical thinners by Douglas Scalley, U and I fieldman; flex tooth harrows, by Leland Clinger, a fieldman, and herbicides, by Arch Richards, U and I research agronomist, Idaho Falls. Wayne Butler discussed seed-bed preparation, and Sam Clark spoke on incorporators. Both are U and I fieldmen.

Nevadans Protest Budget Cut to Eliminate Coyotes

RENO, Nev., March 19 (AP) — Coyote-killing is big business in Nevada, where the varmints prey on sheep.

Thirty-three fulltime government employees killed 6,373 coyotes in Nevada during 1964. And there's no figure available on how many more were eliminated by "wildcat" sheepherders.

Sen. Alan Bible and Howard W. Cannon, Nevada Democrats, have protested Interior department plans to cut the budget of the predatory animal control program by $23,000 in Nevada.

Director John Cotschmitt, bureau of sports fisheries and wildlife, said the cut was part of a $350,000 economy move in the program throughout the country.

Cannon said predators killed 2,815 ewes and lambs in the state last year, causing a loss of nearly $400,000. The toll for the past five years, he added, is 2.9 million dollars.

Joe Miner, the bureau's district agent, says his 99 men roam the state in four-wheel drive vehicles, laying traps for coyotes and bobcats.

Their kill last year, in addition to the coyotes, includes 2,700 bobcats and 67 mountain lions.

The federal appropriation for Nevada predator and rodent control is $152,000 for the present fiscal year. The Nevada legislature put in $117,000 from the state's general fund and $40,000 in fish and game funds.

The Nevada Woolgrowers association helps, too. Members pay an assessment of 20 cents for each head of sheep, amounting to $63,656 this fiscal year.

Thus, predator control is a $372,656 business in Nevada this fiscal year.

For the nation, the interior department plans to cut its predator control expenses from 2.7 million dollars to 2.35 million dollars for fiscal 1966.

FACILITIES of the Lamb-Weston, Inc. potato plant west of American Falls will be expanded during the year to almost double capacity. The expansion has prompted the company into hiring a Magic Valley representative to buy area potatoes.

Lamb-Weston Expansion To Include Valley Agent

AMERICAN FALLS, March 19 — Leon Scott, personal manager, Lamb-Weston, Inc., announces the appointment of E. J. Davidson, Eden, as field representative for the company in the Magic Valley area.

The naming of Davidson as area representative comes on the heels of an announcement by the company of a major expansion project. The company has launched a $1,200,000 expansion program which will double capacity of the Lamb-Weston plant located a few miles west of here. Now in its fourth year of operation the expansion will mean an increase of employees from 435 to about 600 per day, working three shifts daily.

In naming Davidson to represent the company in the Magic Valley area, Scott pointed out the company has acquired the services of an experienced, trusted and respected produce buyer and seller.

Davidson will continue to reside in Eden and will represent the company from that location. For the past few days Davidson has been undergoing training at the company plant here.

The expansion program makes it necessary that the company assure itself of an adequate supply of potatoes and this is one of the reasons why the company has expanded into the Magic Valley area, said Scott. Davidson will be empowered to contract and buy potatoes for the fall season.

It is anticipated that the company will increase its usage this fall and potatoes will be needed in quantities of 1,500,000 pounds daily. Production capacity will be increased from 750,000 pounds daily to 1,500,000 pounds. About 38 percent of this year's crop is going into the manufacture of shoe strings which are sliced under a unique technique—the "Lamb knife."

The "Lamb knife" is a device developed by the company president, Gilbert Lamb, which slices the potatoes into uniform size by forcing them through knives by water pressure.

Lamb-Weston products are sold under the trade names of "Hi-Prize," "Ellen Jim," "Gold Label" and other private firm labels. The company operates another potato plant at Grand Forks, N.D., and is one of the largest packers of peas in the world.

Water Meet Set March 25 For Blaine

HAILBY, March 19—Annual water forecast meeting for the Big and Little Wood river valleys will be held at 8 p.m. March 25 at the LDS church in Carey.

Dr. Nelson, Boise, state snow survey leader of the soil conservation service, will make the analysis.

Floyd Dorjous of the Blaine county SOS said Tuesday the flood hazard in the two valleys has been lessened by a dry February and the first half of March, but there is still a potential hazard if snow or rain comes this month or in April.

For the entertainment of those who attend Nelson will show movies he has taken of his trips, which have been shown in several Walt Disney shows.

Tractor Mishaps Claim 11 Lives

BOISE, March 19 — Tractors were involved in 11 fatal farm accidents in 1947. W. W. Benson, registrar of vital statistics for the state department of health, reports.

There were 27 accidental farm deaths throughout the state. Ratio of tractor accidents, the report said, remained about the same as in 1946. Farm machinery other than tractors was involved in seven fatalities. Others were summarized as: electrical, two; animal, two; fire, two; and miscellaneous, three.

Five accidental farm deaths happened in Twin Falls county. Ada, Washington, and Bonnevillie had two each.

How to control potato wireworms without a crop residue.

You won't have to be concerned about insecticide residue contaminating your potatoes if you use Diazinon® insecticide to control wireworms.

That's because Diazinon does not persist in the soil. So traces of it won't exceed tolerances established by health officials. And you won't have to be concerned about the possibility of your crop being rejected because of insecticide residue. Not if you use Diazinon.

You'll get outstanding control of wireworms, including resistant strains, if you make a soil application prior to planting your seed pieces. Disc or harrow the Diazinon into the top six inches or more of soil.

And Diazinon is less toxic to handle than other insecticides recommended for potato wireworms. Tests conducted in U.S. Public Health Service laboratories prove it. These tests show that Diazinon is 30-40 times less toxic for you to handle than some of the other potato wireworm insecticides.

Diazinon is available in a number of formulations: liquid, wettable powder, and granular. This means it will work in all standard equipment and fit any program you decide on. You can broadcast Diazinon either as granular or as a spray, or put it on in combination with fertilizer prior to planting. Or you can put it on as a band application as you plant.

Plan to use Diazinon for effective wireworm control this season and you'll solve the residue problem at the same time.

Your supplier can give you all the details on Diazinon when you order the formulation you need. Or, when you place your order for Diazinon in fertilizer.

Control Order on Beans Went Into Effect Monday

BOISE, March 19 (AP)—Strict regulations governing the growing of beans in Idaho became effective Monday, upon order of State Commissioner of Agriculture Stanley Trenthall.

The regulations were adopted after a public hearing in Hazelton last Feb. 24.

Department of agriculture officials said they were adopted because of widespread blight in beans fields last season. They are intended to wipe out the infection.

The regulations cover halo blight, common bean blight, Yucca blight, bacterial wilt, and any variations or new strains of these diseases.

"Any field which is infected with bacterial diseases of beans," the regulations say, "must be reported within three days after discovery of such infection, to the local county agent or the Idaho state department of agriculture."

Since the effectiveness of the bacterial disease detection program can be greatly enhanced by the cooperation of all concerned, the commissioner of agriculture invites the aid of all within the boundaries of the state of Idaho to report suspected infected plants in Idaho.

"Any bean fields within the boundaries of the state of Idaho which show contamination of bacterial diseases shall be destroyed in part or in total as may be required to eliminate the presence of disease in the field."

Any bean seed found or known to be contaminated with bacterial diseases shall not be planted.

Administration Officials Complete Drafting of Farm Bill for Congress

WASHINGTON, March 19 (AP)—Agriculture Department officials have completed drafting a farm bill which would raise major price supports and change designated federal costs and—in one case—give small farmers support prices that are higher than larger ones.

The bill would include provisions to support prices with respect to wheat and other major crops. It also would shift the cost of supporting crops from the federal government to consumers.

Other features proposed include: allowing farmers to lease or sell their planting allotments and a proposal to classify some farm surpluses as national emergency reserves, may also appear in the bill.

The measure is expected to recommend four-year terms, beginning in 1966, for each of the commodity support and control plans contained in the package.

Research Center to Open Doors for Public Visits

WASHINGTON, March 19 (AP)—An important role the possibility of gaining only a day or so might mean the difference between crop failure and success when combined with other practices.

Tests are also being conducted on automated irrigation structures. The success or failure of tests being conducted at the center could put many farming operations a step closer to automatic or push-button irrigation.

For example, there are pressure and timing devices under test which will raise and lower headgates and ditch-dams.

SC Chairman Cites Reason for Feed Grain Signup

WASHINGTON, March 19 (AP)—Farmers who participate in the feed grain program will receive definite advantages over those who elect not to participate, according to Carl Boyd, chairman of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation committee.

Boyd explained that the diversified payment earned for reduced acreage in 1965 would be the farm's 1965 acreage of wheat, barley, or grain sorghum. The participating grower would receive a substantial income from the reduced acreage, regardless of the price of the feed grain.

Improvement In Weather Aids Farmer

BOISE, March 19—Contrary to the unpleasant working conditions during January, favorable weather during February quickened the tempo of farm activities—reports the crop reporting service.

Seed bed preparation for planting spring crops began on a limited basis in southwestern and southeastern areas during the month. Soils remained too wet for field work in northern and eastern Idaho but farmers had thoughts of spring as they prepared their machinery and began making decisions concerning their crop acreages for the coming season.

Application of fertilizer and repair of flood-damaged roads and ditches were in full swing throughout the state.

Fall-seeded crops appear to be in good condition although some higher elevation cropland remains snow-covered. Erosion and winter kill have been limited primarily to north Idaho and the extreme southeastern areas of the state.

Serious losses have not been reported as yet. However, with soil moisture supplies above normal in nearly all localities—particularly in north Idaho—frost heaving and erosion remain a threat to fall-seeded crops.

Despite the wet sloppy conditions that existed earlier in the year, livestock are reported coming through the winter in good condition. Corrals and feed lots remain muddy, however, the warm sunny weather is alleviating this problem.

Hay supplies are generally adequate throughout the state, although there have been some losses due to spoilage.

Spring calving is under way in several localities while most lambing operations are in the final stages.

Temperatures during February were well above average every week, except the week ending February 12. During this week a cold front moved across the state dropping temperatures to lows of 14 degrees below zero.

By the end of the month, however, temperatures were averaging three to seven degrees above normal.

Hereford Unit Sets Plans; Names Officers for 1965

GOODING, March 19—Election of officers, plans for a junior field day and a tour for adults; a new directory of Idaho Hereford breeders and plans for further Hereford promotion through the use of highway and ranch signs were the main topics discussed during the annual meeting of the Idaho Hereford association.

Wayne Naugle, Nampa, was reelected to serve his third term as president of the organization. Naugle is a prominent Idaho Hereford breeder who also serves on the board of directors of the American Hereford association.

Reelected to the post of vice president was W. L. Shoppe, Pomeroy, and Mrs. Marian H. Golden, Boise, was reelected secretary-treasurer.

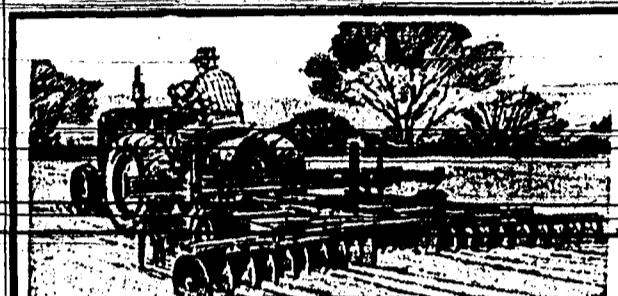

This association made plans to sponsor the state junior Hereford association field day to be held during June at the Emmett Reese Ranch, Salmon, and to sponsor a tour for adults at the same time as the field day.

Darrell Brown, American Hereford association fieldman, discussed with those present the new total performance records program and the billboard advertising program of the American Hereford association.

It was decided to hold the annual meeting again in Gooding, during February, 1965.

The two outgoing members of the board of directors of the Idaho Hereford association were reelected for three-year terms. They were Lewis Rothwell, Arco, and Orson Zollinger, Malta.

Other board members are Jay Pearson, Moore; Tom E. Shaw, Caldwell, and Dennis Curtis, Declo.

Idaho Farm Bureau Notes Stand on Reapportionment

NVAL Rydahl, Idaho Farm Bureau Federation president, today stated that organization's policy toward reapportionment of the Idaho state legislature. He said, "Idaho Farm Bureau favors apportioning one house on the basis of population, and as a check and balance system of government, we favor one body apportioned to represent the individual counties as they are now constituted."

Rydahl said this type of representation on the national level has proved most satisfactory in sustaining government of the people and by the people.

"We urge the U.S. congress to pass legislation and call a Constitutional convention, if necessary, to allow the people of each state to establish its own plan of legislative representation," the Farm Bureau president stated.

The legislature of the state of Idaho has by joint resolution requested the calling of a Constitutional convention to allow states to determine representation under their own state constitutions.

It would seem inconsistent for the state legislature to proceed with action at this time on reapportionment until the Constitutional convention issue has been decided," he concluded.

There are 70 formulas for reapportionment proposed in Idaho. Many are of the opinion that it would be more equitable to have the legislative council or some committee study the proposals instead of having the entire legislature in special session for the length of time it would take to give proper study to each proposal.

Shows Beef Drop

March 19 (AP)—The price of beef has dropped to its lowest average level since 1954. The prices reflect a combination of factors, including a drop in prices received by producers, a drop in the number of head of beef cattle slaughtered, and a drop in the number of head of beef cattle marketed.

The average price for beef was 78.3 cents a pound, with finishing supplies of lean cattle at 80 cents. The prices reflect a drop of 10 cents from the 1963 level.

The highest annual receipts for beef was 1.2 billion pounds in 1963. The average price for beef was 78.3 cents a pound. But, the average price for beef in 1964 was 78.3 cents a pound. The average price for beef in 1965 was 78.3 cents a pound.

Soil Erosion Is Dominant Problem on Private Land

WASHINGTON, March 19 (AP)—The agriculture department says soil erosion is the dominant problem on non-federal private land in the United States.

In a new-published inventory of soil erosion, the department said that one-third of the land in the United States is in need of conservation treatment of some kind.

The inventory found that "erosion susceptibility and past erosion damage" were the major factors that limit use and capacity of 51 per cent, or 732 million acres, of the non-federal land.

The agriculture department says the principal limitation on 24 per cent, except water on 17 per cent, and adverse climate on 15 per cent.

In a detailed analysis of conservation treatment needs on land devoted to major agricultural use, the inventory report showed that 890 million acres, or 62 per cent, needs conservation treatment.

The experts recognized progress made by land owners and operators in soil conservation districts. But even so, the report showed that conservation problems were inadequately treated on 82 per cent of the cropland, 73 per cent of non-federal pasture and range, and 65 per cent of non-federal forest and woodland.

Extension Horticulturist Explains Growth of Grapes

BOISE, March 19—Grape juice is one of the most popular fruit products in Idaho, and the Concord variety is the most popular.

Extension horticulturist, Campbell Berry and Moore said that Concord grapes require a long season to mature their fruit. Such a season exists in the southwestern Idaho, and the Concord variety is the most popular.

Delaware is a good red grape of small berries and tight bunches. Agawam and Brighton are other good red grapes. Niagara is a leading white variety.

Portland is an early-ripening green grape. Such European types as Thompson Seedless, Flame Tokay are not reliably hardy. Some are growing on favorable sites in the warmer areas of the state.

Grapes may be used to cover arbors, trellises, in the landscape planting. They can also be used for screens.

Grapes require little space and generally a spot can be found for a grape vine even in a small yard, Horn concluded.

USDA Analysis Shows Farm Products Help Pave Way to Open Cash Markets

WASHINGTON, March 19 (AP)—An agriculture department analysis shows that farm products are a growing part of U.S. exports and that their use has helped create dollar markets for American farmers.

The department's economic research service said that public aid for food for peace, assistance rose from 37 per cent of net economic assistance in 1956 to 47 per cent in 1963. ERS said that use of the farm commodities program has increased from 1956 to 1963.

The foreign aid program provided economic development and helped create new commercial markets for U.S. farm products, ERS said.

Food aid programs enable a foreign country to buy food with its own currency. This makes it possible for a country to increase its agricultural exports without adversely affecting its progress in economic development.

As a country develops and its need for food aid declines, the country becomes able to buy agricultural commodities commercially. Japan and several industrial countries of Western Europe received large quantities of U.S. food aid during the post-war recovery. These countries are primarily responsible for increasing U.S. commercial exports from $1 billion in 1955 to 4.5 billion dollars a decade later.

ERS said rapidly developing countries now follow the same pattern. For example, Spain received large amounts of soybean aid under P. L. 480 up until 1960. Now it is the United States' largest cash customer for soybean aid shipments and 1963, foreign aid shipments to Spain dropped from 116 million dollars to 14 million dollars. ERS said that while food aid was declining, U.S. commercial agricultural exports to Spain rose from 10 million dollars in 1955 to 112 million dollars in 1963. Israel bought U.S. wheat with local currency to

Technical Assistance Is Term Used in Farmer Aid

The soil service field crew makes a study of the problem and then advises what could be done. It may suggest the installation of concrete ditch or a concrete pipeline, and attempts to point out the advantage of each.

It also sets specifications and will inspect the installation. The farmer may or may not have matching federal funds.

Then the construction stakes and engineering methods are established and the work is begun by the contractor. Finally the work is completed and the service moves on to the next job. Generally the farmer is left with a more efficient irrigation system.

The jobs are large and small, complex or simple, or a combination of things. Technical assistance can be an answer over the telephone or it can mean tying up an engineering crew for many weeks.

The result is improved farming facilities, either in structures, ditches or range management.

Credit Chief Eyes Expansion

WASHINGTON, March 19 (AP)—Although no one can predict with certainty the changing needs of farm credit during the next decade, it is not unreasonable to estimate that 10 years hence, farmers will be using twice the amount of credit they are using today.

In the last decade, farmers and their cooperatives have nearly tripled their borrowings from the farm credit administration cooperative system," stated R. B. Tootell, governor.

More than 635,000 farmers are members of production credit associations, and more than 360,000 are using loans from the federal land bank associations. Nearly 3,000 marketing, purchasing, and servicing cooperatives are banks for cooperatives' borrowers.

"The money loaned by the cooperative farm credit system comes largely from the sale of securities to investors—none from the federal treasury," Governor Tootell emphasized.

University Report Shows Chicks Can Change Feed Ration at Earlier Age

per cent production level within four days of the 50-day group. All groups in the study were temporarily retarded in rate of gain when they were changed from grower-mash, Petersen said. The setback was minor, but it emphasizes the importance of good housing and good management to reduce the exposure and other stresses.

UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO, March 19 — Idaho's commercial egg producers can profitably switch replacement chicks from starter to grower rations much earlier than they usually do, according to experiments conducted at the University of Idaho.

C. F. Petersen, poultry science department head, college of agriculture, said two-year tests indicate chicks can be fed the less expensive grower rations when three weeks of age. Most poultrymen feed starter mash until the 50-day group; 22.9 pounds are six to eight weeks old. Since a 20 per cent protein starter mash costs about $15 a ton more than the 15 per cent grower ration, the earlier change offers a small but significant saving, Petersen said.

Two commercial strains of white Leghorn chicks were used in the 1963 and 1964 tests at the university poultry farm. A total of 2,000 day-old chicks were purchased each year. One-fourth were fed starter ration until they were 40 days old—similar to the program that many commercial poultrymen follow. Three other groups were changed from starter to grower mash at 20 days, 30 days and 40 days.

By the time the chicks reached 24 weeks of age, average weight of the four groups was identical, Petersen reported. Total feed consumption had been almost the same: 22.8 pounds per bird for the 50-day group; 22.9 pounds for the 20-day chicks at nearly 2.5 pounds less of the more expensive starter ration.

There were other small but important benefits from the earlier change to grower mash, the poultry scientist said. "Maturity of the 20-day chicks was delayed slightly by the early change in feed," he explained. "The birds were a little better

Dallolio Has Top Holstein Herd in Area

RUPERT, March 19—Princess, a grade Holstein owned by Aldo Dallolio, Paul, was top individual producer in Dairy Herd Improvement association unit three, for February.

According to B. T. Crandall, milk supervisor, the cow produced a total of 1,976 pounds of milk with 95 pounds of butterfat and a test of 4.8.

A herd of 68 milking grade Holsteins, owned by John Thain, Rupert, had the high herd average for the month, with an average of 1,107 pounds of milk and 39 pounds of butterfat.

Fourteen herds, numbering 583 cows and 470 milking cows were tested in the association and produced a total of 512,178 pounds of milk with 19,935 pounds of butterfat. Average pounds of butterfat produced per cow (including dry cows) was 33. A total of 280 cows in the unit produced 40 pounds or more of butterfat.

Alma-Jorgas, a grade Holstein owned by Neil Armstrong and sons, produced 75 pounds of butterfat from 1,570 pounds of milk at a 4.8 test; and 181, a grade Holstein owned by John Thain, produced 74 pounds of butterfat from 2,035 pounds of milk at a 3.6 test.

A herd of nine registered Holsteins owned by Jack Hiltner, a grade Holstein owned by Aldo Dallolio, Paul, produced an average of 949 pounds of milk and 35 pounds of butterfat from an average of 28 registered and average of 909 pounds of milk.

Follow Trend

WASHINGTON, March 19 — As in the medical profession where the old-fashioned general practitioner is giving way to the specialist, so it is with the county agent.

In the past five years states have reduced county agent numbers by 316, but have added some 500 multi-county area agents, federal extension service reported recently.

The new pattern of area agent or specialist approach on farming problems is being experimented with by about half the state extension services, and is being currently evaluated by FES. Area agents are selected for their special training and experience, and provide more specialized, localized services.

Villanova, St. John's Breeze Into Finals of Invitational Tournament

NEW YORK, March 19 (AP)—Top-seeded Villanova, sparked by Bill Melchionni, coasted to a 91-69 basketball victory over New York university Thursday night, entering the finals of the national invitational tournament with St. John's which defeated Army 67-60 behind Ken McIntyre and Jerry Houston. The eighth-ranked Wildcats, 23-4, thus gained the final round for the first time in four attempts. They meet St. John's, 19-8, Saturday afternoon for the crown. Melchionni, a six-foot junior, dazzled NYU and 18,499 Madison Square garden fans with his flashy dribbling, passing and shooting. He poured in 16 points in the first half as Villanova soared to a 46-36 lead at the intermission. The backcourt stand-out added 12 more in the second half for a total of 28.

Richie Guerin Rehired as Hawks' Coach

ST. LOUIS, March 19 (AP)—The St. Louis Hawks rehired player-coach Richie Guerin Thursday to guide the national basketball club again next season. Guerin, 32, took over late last December when Harry Gallatin was fired by owner Ben Kerner. He led the Hawks to a second place finish in the NBA's Western division. The season ends this week-end. Guerin came to the Hawks from the New York Knickerbockers the first week of the 1963-64 season in a deal that reportedly involved a $50,000 cash outlay, plus St. Louis' second draft choice. He had a reputation as a shooter while with New York but he displayed talent as a playmaker his first year with the Hawks and led the team in assists. He averaged 13.1 points per game, third best on the squad, that season. In 24 games this season prior to sustaining a torn calf muscle he averaged 13.4.

Griffith Can't Keep Spar Mates

KIAMESHA LAKE, N.Y., March 19 (AP)—Emile Griffith, fighting for defense of his welterweight boxing crown against Joe Stabile at Madison Square garden March 30, is experiencing a shortage of sparring mates. Manager Gil Clancy said Thursday he had not been able to correct the situation, which has become acute with the departure of Felix Santiago, a middleweight. The Griffith-Stabile title fight will be one-half of the Garden's championship doubleheader. Willie Pastrano defends his light heavyweight title against Jose Torres in the other 14 rounds.

Dome Suggested At Philadelphia

PHILADELPHIA, March 19 (AP)—City council president Paul D'Orton said Thursday the city should consider installing a dome on the proposed new sports stadium in South Philadelphia. "The stadium should have reinforced foundations so that a dome could be erected if the public makes such a demand," said D'Orton. "A dome would add comfort for the fans and reduce weather damage to the interior, seats and the playing field." City voters had approved construction of a stadium to seat 60,000 to 75,000 fans in South Philadelphia.

Broglio to Test Operation on Arm

MESA, Ariz., March 19 (AP)—Pitcher Emile Broglio, who underwent major surgery on his right arm in November, will make his first 1965 baseball appearance for the Chicago Cubs Sunday. Head coach Bob Kennedy said Broglio, obtained from St. Louis in a trade for outfielder Lou Brock in 1964, would pitch two innings against the Cleveland Indians in Tucson. After a 4-7 record for the Cubs and a 12-over-11 last year, the 30-year-old right-hander had bone chips removed and a pinched nerve corrected in his right elbow.

Swede to Remain Tennis Amateur

STOCKHOLM, March 19 (AP)—Jan-Erik Lundqvist, Sweden's leading tennis player, has changed his mind about turning professional and will remain an amateur. The lanky blond-ster had announced earlier this week that he was seriously considering an offer of $70,000 to join the pro ranks. It was understood that one of the reasons for his change of mind was the stringent Swedish tax regulations. If he had received a lump sum of $70,000, about 70 per cent would have been taken by the treasury for taxes.

$10,000 Cactus Pete's Open Features Schedule for Idaho Golfing Season

A $10,000 golf tournament, believed to be the largest ever offered in Idaho, will be run off at the Twin Falls municipal golf course Sept. 29 and Oct. 1 through 3. Sponsored by Bud Gourley, the Cactus Pete's is expected to draw professionals from throughout the western states plus a few tournament pros. It will be the second annual Cactus Pete's affair, doubling the event the Nevada gambling club underwrote as part of the Idaho open last year. The tournament offered $5,000 added money in 1964, and that figure made the event the largest Idaho open in history. This year the tournament was awarded to Purple Sage course, Caldwell, while the Cactus Pete's Open was maintained as a separate entity. Cactus Pete's open will offer all $10,000 to the professionals with all amateur entry fees being repaid to winners in merchandise prizes. The tournament has $50 per day lap money and $500 for a hole-in-one. It will be a 72-hole, four-day affair. A schedule of sanctioned events, adopted by the Northern (former Idaho) chapter, Rocky Mountain section, PGA this week, included a "tournament of champions," which also is something new. The event, slated May 22 at Blue Lakes Country club, Twin Falls, will replace the former Blue-Lakes Invitational with a new format. Dave Killen, head professional at Blue Lakes, was elected president of the chapter and Vern Burks, Ontario, was named vice president, and Clyde Thomsen, Twin Falls municipal secretary. Trustees are Myron Tucker, Boise Plantation, and Arnold Haneke, Boise Hillcrest. The professionals also subscribed for 1,250 state handicap cards, which will be sold to Idaho amateurs in an effort to maintain uniform handicaps. Boise Plantation will host the first official meet of the season, the Pros slating a pro-amateur tournament there March 29. Blue Lakes Country club, which has been the traditional opener site for several years, will conduct its one-day pro-am April 12. Other dates for the year include: March 20—Pro-am at Plantation, Boise. April 12—Pro - am at Blue Lakes country club. April 24—Pro-am at Hillcrest Country club, Boise.

2-Month-Old Policy Paid On Accident

LOGAN, March 19 (AP)—A life insurance policy in force less than two months at the time of the death of Utah State university basketball star Wayne Estes has paid more than $30,000 to his parents. Estes was electrocuted Feb. 8 in a freak accident at the scene of a car wreck. The 6-foot-6-inch athlete was posthumously named All America by the Associated Press. He had made one $10.10 payment on the policy before his death. The $10,000 policy had a clause to pay triple in the base of accidental death and another to pay 10 per cent of the basic plan if he died within 20 years. Another clause provided three per cent, or $329, to be delivered to Utah State university. Beneficiaries of Estes' policy with the Fidelity Union Insurance company were his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Estes, Anaconda, Mont. L. J. Silvester, former USU athlete who competed in the discus throw in the 1964 Olympics, sold the policy to Estes Dec. 10.

Royals Outlast Baltimore Club

CINCINNATI, March 19 (AP)—A big lead Thursday night in the Cincinnati Royals built up their last home game this season and then just hung on to a 113-110 victory over Baltimore. The Royals, especially in the second half, provided plenty of thrills for the 4,050 fans present. The injury-plagued Royals, who played with only two substitutes, ran up a 43-26 lead early in the second period, but Walt Bellamy, Robert Ferry and Wayne Hightower led a rally that cut Cincinnati's lead 53-51 at halftime. Joe Lapchick, completing his 20th season with St. John's, retired after Saturday's championship game. Lapchick, who will be 85 next month, coached the Redmen to their titles in 1943, 1944 and 1959. Bradley is the only other team ever to have won three NIT titles. The Montreal Canadiens jumped past idle Chicago into second place in the National Hockey league with a 4-1 victory over the Toronto Maple Leafs Thursday night. The Canadiens, with 77 points, have one more than the Black Hawks and three less than first place Detroit which routed Boston 10-3 Thursday night. Goalies Charley Hodge of Montreal and Terry Sawchuk of Toronto dominated a scoreless, penalty-filled first period. Then Dick Duff, an ex-Maple Leaf, got the game's first goal at 45 seconds of the middle session. Defenseman Jacques Laperriere assisted on the goal, Duff's 11th of the year.

Soviets Display New Weight Man

MOSCOW, March 19 (AP)—Alexander Kidayayev, a newcomer to major weightlifting competition, outscored European champion Geza Toth, Hungary, Thursday and won the light heavyweight title in the Moscow trophy competition. Kidayayev, a 25-year-old Leningrad factory worker, lifted 1,025 pounds in three standard lifts. Toth's total was 964 1/2 pounds. Marcel Paterni, France, was third with 915 pounds.

Detroit Wallops Bruins by 10-3

DETROIT, March 19 (AP)—A five-goal first period triggered a Detroit scoring spree and carried the Red Wings to a 10-3 victory over the Boston Bruins Thursday night, increasing their National Hockey league lead to three points. It marked the first time since March of 1953 that the Red Wings, who have won 12 straight on-home ice, had scored that many goals. Ten different Red Wings notched the tallies. Norm Ullman sparked the Red Wings with a goal and four assists to move into second place in the NHL individual scoring race.

Bold Lad Is Running Well, Ready to Race

NEW YORK, March 19 (AP)—Bold Lad, champion two-year-old thoroughbred of last year, appears to be recovering satisfactorily from leg ailments and is expected to return to racing next month. The Wheatley stable star galloped about two miles at Aqueduct Thursday and trainer Bill Winfrey reported the horse "never had galloped better." Winfrey also was gratified by the colt's workout Wednesday, when he galloped 1 1/2 miles in 1:40.4. Winfrey plans to have Bold Lad go in the Botham here April 3. Bold Lad, who has not raced since last October, was rated a chief contender for the triple crown classics for three-year-olds earlier this year, before his leg injuries. The son of Bold Ruler suffered a popped splint in his left foreleg in Florida Feb. 1, then later had a similar—though less serious—injury to the right leg. A popped splint is a bony growth on the cannon bone. It recently was reported the horse might be sidelined for several more weeks, but Winfrey has said he plans to have him ready for the first of the triple crown races, the Kentucky derby on May 1.

Retherford Made Basketball Coach For Idaho State

BOISE, March 19 (AP)—A southern California junior college was announced Thursday night as new head basketball coach at Idaho State university. Claude Retherford, 39, coach at Fullerton junior college in Fullerton, a Los Angeles suburb, was chosen by the state board of education to succeed James Nau. A native of Indiana, Retherford has been a Fullerton coach since 1961. His 1964-65 team won 25 games and lost five, finishing second in California state junior college play.

Appointment Of Gonzales Is Lauded

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif., March 19 (AP)—Pancho Gonzales is a fierce competitor who would stir up a personal storm if he lost a game of tiddlywinks. "And he'll carry that same spirit into the Davis cup matches this year as the coach of the United States team," Alex Olmedo said Thursday. "The Davis cup committee did a wise thing when they got him again to coach the team."

Before going to Fullerton, Retherford coached high school basketball in Tulsa and Englewood, Calif.; Fairbury, Neb.; and at Rockford and English, Ind. In 13 years of coaching, his teams have won 221 games and lost 121. Retherford is a graduate of the University of Nebraska.

He was one of four candidates for the ISU position interviewed by the state board.

A vacancy in the coaching job resulted from the resignation of Nau, who left to coach at the University of Idaho.

The four applicants interviewed were Doran Connor, basketball and freshman basketball coach at ISU; Murray Satterfield, coach at Borah high school in Boise; Jim Rodgers, coach at Columbia Basin Junior college, Pasco, Wash.; and Retherford.

Elvon Hampton, Geneseo, chairman of the board, said the group talked also with two administrators, William Bartz, dean, and Dr. L. E. Cline, dean, both with athletic director John Vesser and assistant Milton Holt.

Nau resigned March 6 after his team had won over Idaho and Gonzaga in Big Sky conference games. For the season the Bengals won seven games and lost 19. His first year team won 11 and lost 13.

Old Injury Puts Cepeda on Bench

PHOENIX, March 19 (AP)—San Francisco's ailing Orlando Cepeda reinjured his right knee Thursday so he won't join the lineup this weekend for the exhibition baseball games as expected.

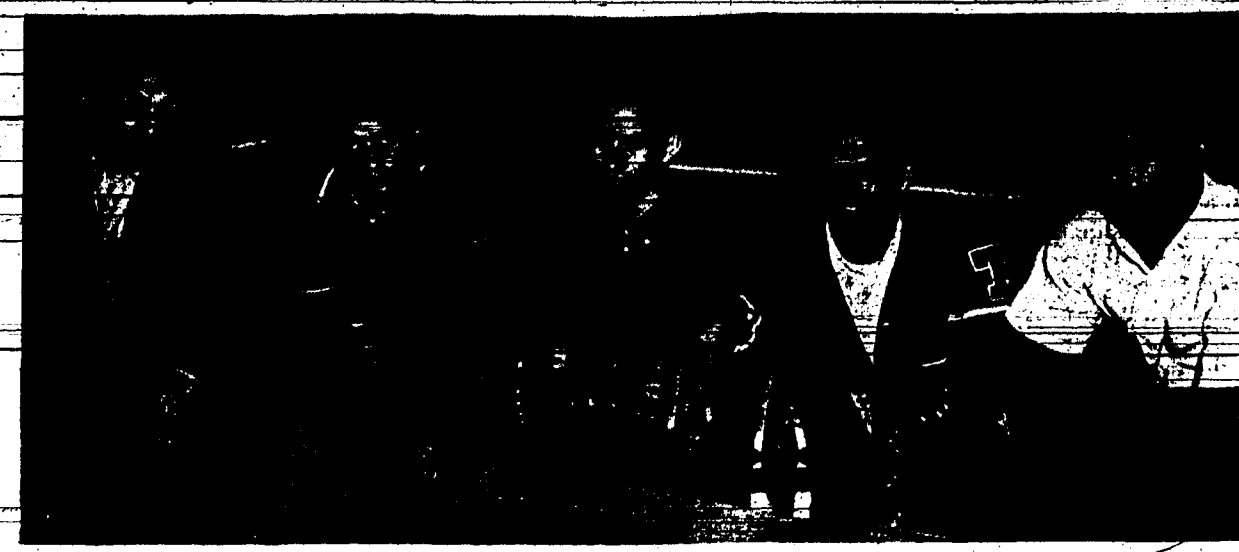

Cepeda, who underwent surgery for removal of damaged cartilage last winter, apparently worked out too enthusiastically and his healing knee began to swell. Trainer Frank Bonham reduced the swelling but said the problem has set Orlando's progress back at least a week.

Manager Herman Franks, who earlier had said Cepeda would be in the lineup by Saturday, set no new target date for the Puerto Rican first baseman.
