CAPE KENNEDY, Fla., March 23 (AP)—America's daring space twins, Virgil Grissom and John Young, flew the world's first maneuverable manned spaceship three times around the Earth today but mission control said they missed their main target by about 58 miles when the capsule parachuted into the Atlantic ocean. Aircraft sighted the capsule floating in the water. One of the planes dropped para-

Halfway Point In March Passed

TRICKEM, Ala., March 23 (AP)—Three hundred leg-weary marchers, dampened by rain, tramped past the half-way point of their 50-mile right-to-vote pilgrimage today after Dr. Martin Luther King, jr., left the march. King temporarily gave up command of the three-day-old highway march to catch a plane to Cleveland, O., to attend a program in his honor. He planned to return Wednesday or Thursday. By noon today, the marchers had traveled nearly 30 miles. That left about 20 miles more to Montgomery where thousands will join the final march to the state capitol Thursday.

Several hundred battle-ready national guardsmen, called up by presidential order, and army regulars patrolled the highway. The pace slowed today. The plan was to cover 11 miles, compared to the 17 miles traveled yesterday. A light rain fell as the marchers broke camp in a pasture at 8 a.m.

State troopers arrested the Rev. James Bevel, one of King's staff, on a speeding charge near Selma. Bevel signed his $100 bond. As the column wound from the pasture where tents were pitched last night, a Negro, Betty Jean Sullivan, 17, Marion, Ala., fainted. She was taken away in an ambulance.

The Rev. Andrew Young, an aide to King, told the marchers, "This is the time to drop out if you have blisters and feel you can't make it." In the column was a white woman, Nell Washburn, 65, Atlanta, Ga. She said she might march all the way. The marchers had camped for the night at the edge of the dense swamp.

TV Networks To Televis Lunar Photos

PASADENA, Calif., March 23 (AP)—Moonbound Ranger 9 is primed to return history's first live television closeups of the lunar surface just before it crashes Wednesday, scientists said today.

A surprise announcement said all television networks will carry the pictures—perhaps 100 in all—before impact at 9:08 a.m. EST. Scientists had seen direct television from previous Rangers, but this would be the first time such shots have been made available immediately to the public.

Ranger 7 returned about 4,000 pictures and Ranger 8 about 7,000 but films were not released until hours after impact. The pictures came in the form of electronic signals which had to be unscrambled, then developed and printed.

The new electronic system will enable television networks to rebroadcast the pictures at the same time they are being received here.

The innovation will not affect recording of pictures for analysis by a team of scientists seeking suitable landing sites for future astronauts, said a spokesman for Jet Propulsion laboratory, which is tracking the spacecraft.

The spacecraft's course was altered slightly this morning by a brief blast from a small rocket engine, to try to place it exactly on target in the crater Alphonsus.

T.F. Jaycees Name McCoy As President

Loren McCoy was elected president of the Twin Falls Junior Chamber of Commerce Monday night in the Rogerson hotel Roundup room. Named internal vice president is John White, with Ewen Porch as external vice president.

Other officers include Al Wonenberg, treasurer, and Dale Krumm, Darrell Wolfe, James Steele and Jack Gentry, directors. Spoke awards were presented to Wolfe, Krumm and James Givens.

Steele reported that the local teen-age road-show will be held May 1 in Twin Falls. Dale Patterson said the Junior Achievement program's initial meeting will be held at noon Friday with a no-host luncheon in the Rogerson hotel coffee shop. He urged all businessmen in Twin Falls to attend, as this is the first time the program has been offered in this area.

Jaycees are making final arrangements to attend the state convention in Boise, May 13-16.

Committees Mull Reapportionment

BOISE, March 23 (AP)—Idaho lawmakers studied in committee and caucus again today plans for reapportioning the legislature which they hope might bring U. S. supreme court approval. A variety of proposals were offered in both the house and senate. If substantial support can be obtained they will be introduced in bill form. They then would be put to a vote. If one obtained a majority it would be enacted. Otherwise, alternatives would have to be submitted or the reapportionment attempt abandoned. Generally it was believed the special session would last no longer than this week.

Fiddlers Fete Set Saturday At Gooding

GOODING, March 23 (AP)—Third annual Idaho State Oldtime Fiddlers' contest is scheduled for Saturday in Gooding, according to Charles E. Sams, general chairman.

The elimination contest will be held starting at 2 p.m. in the Junior high school gymnasium, and the final contest will begin at 8 p.m. also in the gymnasium. David Frisbee, Emmett, was last year's winner.

First place winner in the contest, sponsored by the Gooding Merchant's Bureau of the Chamber of Commerce, will receive $125 and a plaque. Second place wins $75 and a plaque; third place $50 and a plaque; and fourth place $25 and a plaque. The other six winners of the top 10 will each receive a certificate.

Tickets are now on sale at the Gooding Merc. Tingwall's Idaho Department store and the Gooding Toggery and tickets purchased are good for both the afternoon and evening performances.

Rooms for jam sessions will be provided at the Lincoln Inn and also at the Junior high school, according to Sams.

Election Date Scheduled on Water Bond

The tentative date for the water bond issue election was scheduled for May 18, at an informal meeting of the Twin Falls city commissioners Monday night at the city hall.

The bond will be based to the effect that the city water program will be paid off in increased water rates.

Various rates were considered at the meeting and it was expected that a rate will be proposed for the bond with the actual setting following if the bond passes.

Contributors from Morrison, Malerie and associates, Helena, and Borrows and Smith, Salt Lake City, presented figures and recommendations as to rates.

They also made suggestions as to how the commission should carry out the campaign to success.

Egon Kroll, chairman of the commission, said that a citizen's committee and speaker's bureau will be formed this week to promote the bond.

An ordinance setting the date for the election will be presented and voted upon at the next regular meeting of the commission, April 5.

Trustees for Twin Falls school district No. 411 gave tentative approval to the 1965-66 operating budget at a special meeting Monday night.

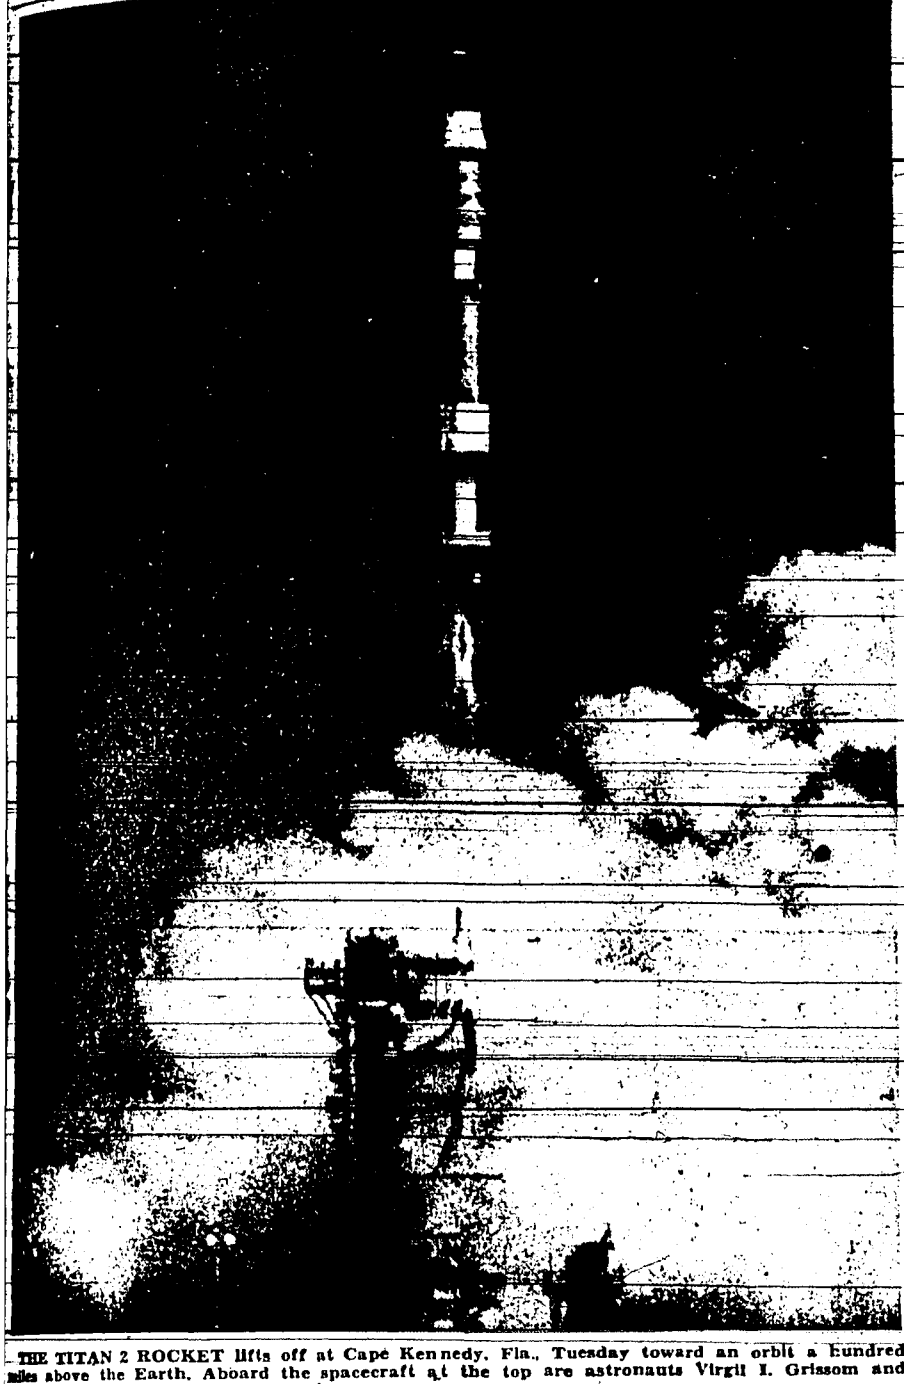

Supt. E. H. Ragland said consideration is being given to dropping of the one mill emergency levy which has been effective the past two years and dropping one-half mill off the levy for bonded interest.

This would drop the mill levy from 4 1/2 mills to 4 1/4 mills. General fund revenues are expected to increase from $1,858,141.26 of the 1964-65 school year to $1,974,850 for the 1965-66 school year. General fund expenditures are expected to rise from the $1,693,990 spent in 1964-65 to $1,874,850 for the 1965-66 school year. A carryover of $164,851.36 is anticipated from the 1964-65 year. Ragland said a public hearing for the budget has been called for 8 p.m. April 5, in the school administration building, 201 Main avenue west. He also said that copies of the budget should be available Friday morning.

Millions Cheered, Prayed for Success of 2-Man Space Flight

By United Press International
Millions of Americans clustered around television sets and radios today and cheered and prayed for the success of Astronauts Gus Grissom and John Young in America's first two-man space flight. As the countdown approached lift-off, a hush fell over thousands jammed beneath a huge television screen in New York's cavernous Grand Central station. In Washington, President Johnson tightly gripped the arm of his chair and peered intently at the television sets.

In Seabrook, Tenn., young Scott Grissom and Mark Grissom, sons of the astronaut, joined the television announcers in counting three, two, one, "Ignition" is their mother sat quietly on a bench with friends.

In a nearby home, Sandy and John Young, ages 6 and 8, sat on each arm of their mother's chair, peering another television set and looking for glimpses of their father.

When Molly Brown took off on her history-making flight, the nation everywhere was one of hush. A huge cheer rang from Grand Central. A woman leaped across President Johnson's face and the tension eased somewhat in the Grissom and Young households.

But an elderly woman in the crowd at Grand Central summed up the feelings of most. "I'll be right down at a time like this. I don't think you just feel it's something about this. It's God."

New York's afternoon newsman hit the streets shortly after the blast-off in Florida. And as they go, "headlines in World-Telegram" headlined "Up There," the Journal-American bannered.

From Maine to California, most citizens lauded the flight of Gus Grissom and John W. Young. "I don't believe we've been able to control space ships as we are doing," he said. "I believe the determination of astronauts Virgil Grissom and John W. Young will make NASA technical."

"A lot of people think we are losing money attempting these space shots, but we can't let those people (Russians) get ahead of us in that field. If they do, they would probably control us," Lancaster stated.

C. E. Leonard, operator of a Twin Falls service station, stated, "I believe the U.S. flight was much better organized than Russia's. And, if everything goes well, we should have more and better data to be used in future flights."

"Russia's spectacular space flight, I think, increased the determination of the United States," Leonard stated.

ROBERT L. JONES said he believed that Russia is somewhat ahead of the United States in money attempting these

Ski Races

SUN VALLEY, March 23 (AP)—Michel Arpin won the men's slalom but Austria's Karl Schranz took the combined title in the Harriman cup ski races today.

Schranz, the downhill event winner yesterday, finished second or third in unofficial results of the slalom. Either way it was good enough for the combined crown.

There was some question whether Schranz or Jean Claude Killy of France finished second. Killy had the better time but, judges said, he missed a gate on the first run.

The French coach filed a protest and the official standings must await a ruling.

Mr. Glavin served as a director for the Idaho power company from April, 1937, until his death. He also served in the state legislature and was speaker of the house in 1947. He married Lorene Nancolas May 7, 1925, in Twin Falls.

Other solicitations will be made Tuesday night by Job's Daughters, Bethel 19, Walther League, Immanuel Lutheran church, and the Luther League, Our Savior Lutheran church.

Mrs. Lennan said about 100 people will be involved in the parade to get funds for the local Easter Seal center.

The show will star two Sun Valley residents, Mrs. Pat Bartholomew, wife of Robert (Bart) Bartholomew, ski instructor, and Herman Marjick, director of the Sun Valley skating rink.

Fred Beck of the Janus Corporation, owners of Sun Valley, said today the NBC's cameras already have photographed both

Area School District Is Ruled Liable

BOISE, March 23 (AP)—School districts are liable for payment of unemployment payroll taxes on their employees other than faculty members, the supreme court ruled yesterday.

In an unanimous opinion written by Justice E. B. Smith, the court ruled specifically that joint class A district 151 in Cassia and Twin Falls counties is liable for such taxes for the period Jan. 1, 1962, until May 18, 1963.

Taxes for 1962 had been collected from the district by the employment security agency but the district refused in 1963 to pay additional taxes. The district also demanded a refund of taxes paid in 1962.

The district challenged the taxes on grounds the 1963 Legislature, in amending the law, tried to impose a retroactive date. It also argued that to divide employees into classes was an unconstitutional discrimination and that the tax was a license tax prohibited by the state constitution.

In affirming a decision of the industrial accident board, the court ruled that classification of school district personnel into faculty and non-faculty employees was not unconstitutional or discriminatory.

Tentative OK On School Budget Given

Trustees for Twin Falls school district No. 411 gave tentative approval to the 1965-66 operating budget at a special meeting Monday night.

Ragland said a public hearing for the budget has been called for 8 p.m. April 5, in the school administration building, 201 Main avenue west. He also said that copies of the budget should be available Friday morning.

Rees, president of the chamber, welcomed the captains, workers and new members at the coffee break meeting and said he was glad to see so many young people joining.

He thanked Earl Faulkner, drive chairman, for an outstanding job of leading the drive.

Faulkner reported that 168 Twin Falls people had joined the organization and that there are still a few cards to come in.

Ken Roundy's team solicited 58 of the new members, 34 of which he got himself. He was awarded the watch from Sterling Jewelry for being the outstanding team captain while Tom Murray received the portable television set from KMYT for being the worker with the greatest number of new members. He had 12 memberships to his credit.

Runners-up for the worker with the most memberships were Robert Brickett and Lee Fillmore. They flipped a coin for the pair of gold shoes donated by Hudson's Shoe Store. All of these men were members of Roundy's team. Chairman Faulkner thanked all the captains and workers for "a job well done."

Ray Johnson, secretary-manager of the chamber, spoke to the group, stressing that a chamber of commerce is not a one-man operation. He pointed out that a progressive city is one where citizens are willing to give freely of their time and money in this interest.

He said, "Our Chamber of Commerce enables us to do things collectively that cannot be done individually."

In closing he noted that "a community worth living in is one worth improving."

Cooking grease, left melting in a pan on a kitchen stove at 439 Van Buren street, was blamed for a $2,500 fire Monday night.

The Twin Falls fire department reported Tuesday morning that the building was owned and occupied by Albert Maslin and his family. He has five children.

The fire department was called at 11:10 p.m. Maslin stated he had a pan of grease on the stove when one of the children began crying, and in caring for the child he forgot about the grease. It apparently exploded and started the blaze.

The kitchen of the small frame house was destroyed and the room damaged. The fire department said there was extensive damage to the furnishings and considerable smoke damage.

A fire department official said they had the fire under control by 11:30 p.m., but did not return to the station until 12:30 a.m. Tuesday.

Firemen apparently had a rough time getting to the fire because of a new sewer line that is under construction which blocked part of the road. There was just enough room for the fire truck to pass.

Maslin reported he got the children out of the house without any trouble. The fire department said there was about $1,500 damage to the building and about $1,000 damage to the contents.

School Bill Cleared for Floor Action

WASHINGTON, March 22 (AP) — The House rules committee yesterday cleared President Johnson's $1.2 billion school aid bill for floor action this week.

The action put the high-priority measure over the hurdle that has caused school aid legislation the most grief in past years.

The rules committee has been working on a graveyard of education bills. But yesterday it passed a bill to send the bill to the floor.

House leaders already have announced plans to start on the bill probably Wednesday, and a final vote likely before the week-end.

The bill would provide $1.2 billion for the children of low-income families; 100 million to buy library and text books; 100 million to help "shared time" teaching centers for public, private and parochial school students; and about $100 million for just over 100 million dollars to improve educational research and strengthen state departments of education.

The last time a bill providing federal aid to elementary and secondary schools came before the rules committee, it foundered on the church-state issue. That was in 1961, when Catholic opposition to the late President John F. Kennedy's public-school-only measure broke up the eight-member pro-administration faction on the committee and sent the bill to a pigeon hole.

This time, with some assistance for non-public schools written into the measure and with support from all major church and education groups, the bill passed through the house education and labor committee on a 10-0 vote that included solid Democrat support and the votes of two liberal Republicans.

Yesterday's rules committee was reported to have included eight of the 10 committee Democrats for the measure; two Southern Democrats and five Republicans against.

Italians Receive Many Suggestions On Ways to Save Pisa's Leaning Tower

PISA, Italy, March 22 (NEA) — An American, alarmed by the news that the leaning tower of Pisa may collapse at any moment, wants to erect a bronze statue of Liberty alongside it. The tower, he suggests, could then lean on Miss Liberty's shoulder.

This is only one of 300 entries received so far in the international competition for the best scheme to save Pisa's wedding-cake tower. The contest seems to have aroused the screwballs of every nation.

A British engineer wants to lift the tower on hydraulic jacks while the foundation is strengthened. Such a project was under consideration to save Egypt's Abu Simbel temples from the floodwaters of the Aswan dam, he claims.

A Spaniard wants to slide a gyroscope underneath the tower of Pisa, hoping the structure would then automatically right itself. But an Italian contractor thinks that the tower should be dismantled, stone by stone, and reerected on a new foundation, still leaning, of course.

Not all suggestions which the competition has attracted are crackpot. American Russell A. British and Czech engineers have submitted serious proposals calling for the hardening of the soil around the tower, rather than touching the tower itself.

It is expected that a project of this kind will be ultimately adopted by the Italian government, which is sponsoring the competition.

The 179-foot tower has been leaning ever since it was built nearly 800 years ago because it was erected on soggy soil. It is now 14 feet out of plumb and the rate of inclination increases by more than one millimeter each year.

If the rate of inclination were constant, the tower might stand for another 100 years. But as the tower leans, its center of gravity moves toward the low side, and this causes the tilting to increase more and more rapidly.

According to a panel of geologists who recently inspected the tower's foundations, the tower is in danger of toppling over at any minute now. The slightest earth tremor, or even a moderate gale would be enough to send it crashing down, they claim.

Moreover, there will be no advance warning—no telltale cracks or fissures in its walls—when the many-tiered tower goes, the geologists say.

Faced with this emergency, the Italian government last May appointed a 17-man committee of experts to look into the problem of saving the tower.

The simplest way to bolster the tower would be to shore it up on the low side, or to anchor it firmly to the ground by means of steel cables fixed about two-thirds of the way up.

But this would destroy the tower's artistic merit, it is argued—and, incidentally, its tourist appeal, which is estimated to be worth 5.6 million dollars a year to the town of Pisa alone.

Bonanno Pisano, the Florentine architect who designed the tower in 1173, may have been a whiz at the drawing board, but he was no engineer.

In the first place, the soil on which the tower stands is a treacherous mixture of sand and wet clay. Secondly, he built on a foundation which was hardly bigger than the diameter of the tower, and which reached only a few feet below ground.

Most serious projects for saving the tower call for hardening the ground around the tower. Soil Solidifiers, Inc., of Minneapolis has submitted a plan along these lines, and its president, J. W. Alexander, visited Rome in mid-December to explain it.

Two Russian engineers have proposed a technique of soil hardening which consists of inserting pipes to a depth of 130 feet and passing an electric current through them.

A Czech engineer suggests freezing the soil at a temperature of 30 degrees centigrade. Very few of the contestants suggest straightening the tower

Knobhole's Baseball to Begin June 8

It was decided by the Knobhole league baseball rules committee Friday night that play will begin June 8, except for the Pre Week league which will start the following week.

Committee members, Howard Allen, Larry Howe, George Semba, Joe Clements, Leo Soran, Chad Browning and Larry Satterwhite met Friday night at the Twin Falls city hall. They decided that no organized practices will be held before May 15 and league play will end July 30.

The first week all games will be in the afternoon and the teams will play only one game during this week. The regular schedule will continue the following week.

Coaches of the knobhole teams will pick the team of their choice for the sportsmanship ribbon.

Teams that forfeit more than two games will be suspended from further play and a team that willingly forfeits a game in the knobhole league to play elsewhere will also be suspended from further play. All awards will be withheld and the team will be placed on probation for at least one year.

The annual knobhole baseball meeting for coaches and sponsors will be held at 7:30 p.m. April 13, at the city hall.

Death Takes Mrs. L. Ward

Mrs. Lemmie Ward, 76, route 1, Twin Falls, died at 4 p.m. Monday at her home.

She was born May 4, 1889, at Almo. She was married to George J. Ward on April 11, 1907, in the Salt Lake City LDS temple. They moved in 1913 to a farm south of Twin Falls. She was a member of the Twin Falls second ward LDS church and served as president of both the ward and stake Relief societies. She was also a member of the Twentieth Century club and the Twin Falls Ceramic club.

Surviving besides her husband are three sons, Ross Ward, Glenn Ward and Ralph Ward, all Twin Falls; four daughters, Mrs. Russell (Lemon) Dill, Mrs. A. F. L. Mrs. Ralph (Ruth) Dixon, Orem, Utah; Mrs. W. Grant (Mary)

Petition on Oswald's Estate Filed

DALLAS, March 23 (AP) — The widow of presidential assassin Lee Harvey Oswald has asked a court to name her administrator of her slain husband's estate; it was disclosed today.

Marina Oswald's petition to Dallas county Probate Judge J. W. Barber also disclosed the 24-year-old Russian-born widow plans to become an American citizen.

But, her petition may be met by at least token resistance from Oswald's mother, Mrs. Marguerite Oswald, who still is battling to prove her contention that her son was not the "lone assassin" of President Kennedy but was merely an agent of a conspiracy.

"I will have to investigate my rights in the matter," she said today, "but I have no money for a lawyer. I do feel that my son's brothers and I have some rights although I have been told that under law a man's widow has almost blanket legal rights."

Oswald's mother didn't exactly agree with some contentions that her son had no estate to administer, although she admitted he had very little money and no real estate when he was slain by Jack Ruby two days after the assassination. He was buried with the proceeds of an insurance policy held by his mother in Fort Worth.

"She has all of the letters and postcards I wrote Lee in Russia and these items might have some market value," the elder Mrs. Oswald said. "She also has other mementoes of my son's which have strong sentimental value to me—things I have not been able to get back."

The judge named three appraisers to determine the extent of Lee Oswald's estate. He left no will and any interest he had in community property with Marina passes to his children, June Lee, 3, and Marina Rachel, 1.

Marina's suit sought to make her a "community administrator" capable of settling estate affairs without further court proceedings.

Vietnamese Used Gas Only Twice

WASHINGTON, March 23 (AP)—Chemical agents popularly known as tear gas have been used only two times in South Viet Nam on only two occasions, as far as authorities are aware, it was learned last night.

These authorities said that the chemical agents temporarily disabling the enemy were used in late 1964 and on Jan. 28, 1965. The latter incident, in which the chemical agents were used in the central province of Phu Yen, was the last occasion so far as authorities know.

The chemical agents available to the South Viet Nam are of three types known in the U.S. army as CS, RM, and GS.

All are available commercially for use by civil law enforcement agencies and have been used on occasions for riot control.

The official army description of the chemical agents, which produce temporary irritating or disabling physiological effects:

—CS, chloroacetophenone, a white, crystalline solid which, when disseminated as an aerosol, causes violent sneezing, nausea and vomiting. It may be mixed with CN to get combined effects.

—CN, a quick acting irritant of the eyes, nose and throat, it may cause vomiting when used in high concentrations. CS and CN are used mainly for riot control and can be disseminated from burning munitions, bursting grenades and aerosol dispensers.

Earlier yesterday, the state department acknowledged that a "tear gas" is being used by communist guerrillas in Viet Nam.

A protocol was signed in Geneva in 1925 prohibiting the use of "poison, asphyxiating and other gases." The U.S. senate never ratified the protocol but the United States has abided by it as have other nations.

State department press officer Robert J. McCloskey said the United States "does not consider the use of noxious gases" a violation of protocol.

McCloskey told newsmen that the non-lethal nausea gas was employed as more humane than artillery fire in "tactical situations" where the Viet Cong mingled with innocent people.

It marked the first time since World War I that any government has admitted using a gas weapon in a warlike situation.

Anthropologist Tells of Bushmen's Life in Africa

LOBATSE, Bechuanaland, March 23 (AP)—They can hear a single-engine plane 70 miles away, pick out the moons of Jupiter with the naked eye on a clear night and run phenomenal distances through heavy sand at high speed. One was recorded as running 34 miles in blistering heat, in five hours.

But sometimes one can't even win a fight with his wife.

Their diet is mostly snakes, birds, rodents and wild plants. They don't live much beyond 45, and though they are black as ebony they get sunburned. Mostly they stand around five feet tall, though some get up to six feet.

Many of them have just voted in the first parliamentary elections in this huge, dusty, British African protectorate, three times the size of the United Kingdom.

Southern Africa's famous Kalahari desert bushmen, regarded by anthropologists as being among the most primitive people in the world, also have just had their most thorough-going survey to date.

Anthropologist and linguistic expert George Silberbauer, a Bechuanaland government officer, has published a 138-page report here on his six years of living among the bands of roaming, primitive bushmen. Included in the report are his government-requested recommendations for their future.

Silberbauer says bushmen women are expert cooks, who know how to make the most of very unexciting raw material. They marry between 7 and 9 years of age—but there are no children until after the girl's puberty—commonly, Silberbauer says the women can carry their own weight in food plants and firewood for over three miles in the burning desert sun.

Adultery is usually regarded as being a private matter between the persons concerned. The deceived husband is allowed to fight his wife's lover and, if he can, beat his wife. But bush-

We underestimated the power of Soft Whiskey.

That's putting it mildly. It seems like only yesterday we had all but given up hope of ever developing a Soft Whiskey either. It's 86-proof. And does anything any 86 proof does. It just does it softer.

Calvert Extra goes down easy. It sort of swallows softly but carries a big stick. While we're at it, one way we soften Soft Whiskey is by doing some distilling in small batches as opposed to large. The second and third way we'll leave unmentioned. The other distillers will have to find a Soft Whiskey without our help. If they find it, more power to them.

opening a Soft Whiskey. We scored zero in over 22,000 experiments. Granted, when we finally hit it we knew we had a good thing. (Distillers have dreamt of a Soft Whiskey for years.) But if anyone had told us 2 years ago that we'd be selling in such fantastic volume, we'd have laughed.

Who could have believed people would actually bring our ads into their liquor stores to make certain they got "this Soft Whiskey stuff". Don't you underestimate the power

Johnson to Abolish 51 Customs Jobs

JOHNSON CITY, Tex., March 23 (AP)—President Johnson announced today that he would abolish 51 customs bureau jobs that are considered among the ripest of federal political patronage plums. The jobs pay from $11,000 to $25,000 a year. He said this would be part of a major reorganization of the customs bureau which ultimately would save taxpayers at least nine million dollars a year. The plan would go into effect unless either house of congress votes it in 60 days.

The positions to be abolished include those of all 45 collectors of customs — political appointees who in some cases retain private jobs while on the federal payroll, and a general matter are not considered among the government's most overworked employees. White House officials emphasized that the action not only did not reflect adversely on civil service employees of the bureau but actually would place all operations under the merit system. The bureau employs 9,300 people. An anticipated nine million dollars a year saving would include one million dollars the White House says would be saved annually through abolition of the 51 jobs. Johnson's move would eliminate in addition to the 45 politically appointed customs collectors, six other patronage jobs listed as comptroller of customs, surveyor of customs and supervisor of merchandise. All are appointed by the president upon recommendation of senators or others in control of state patronage — subject to confirmation by the senate. The president's move thus was a new challenge to the political prerogatives of senators who, in more than a few instances, still are licensed by his earlier decisions to close 11 veterans' hospitals and old soldiers' homes, and to shut down some agricultural research stations. Johnson emphasized that the 51 jobholders in question "will be given considerable consideration for suitable employment in the customs bureau under the civil service laws in any position for which they may be qualified."

POCATELLO, March 23 (AP)—A Pocatello insurance agent has been fined $100 for printing a bogus $20 bill with a duplicating machine. Clifford W. Miller pleaded guilty in U. S. district court yesterday to a reduced charge of using a likeness of U. S. currency in an advertisement. He originally had been accused of counterfeiting. Miller said he gave the phony bill to his mother as a joke. He said he later put it in his wallet. Salt Lake City police found it when they arrested him on another matter.

BOISE, March 23 (AP)—Doyle W. Symms, Canyon county fruit grower, was chosen chairman of the Idaho highway board at the opening of its March meeting yesterday. He succeeds W. C. Burns, Idaho Falls, who resigned in January. C. Ed Plandro, Pocatello, Burns' successor, attended his first meeting since joining the board. Ernest Gaffney, Plummer, was renamed vice chairman. The board spent most of the day dealing with administrative matters and will confer with eight delegations today.

KEELOCK, March 23 (AP)—News of the discovery of a silver vein 40 feet wide at the Sunshine mine near here sparked trading of more than 43,700 Sunshine shares yesterday—worth 15 million. The Sunshine vein was the second potentially large discovery in the Coeur d'Alene mining district in the past two weeks. A vein 14 feet wide was discovered 10 days ago by the Bunker Hill company, which operates east of Sunshine. Sunshine is the nation's largest silver producer. Company officials said the find announced yesterday was at the 4,500-foot level and was believed to be an extension of a productive ore area now being mined at the 3,700-foot level. Ore from the find was assayed at 36 ounces of silver per ton, they said.

POCATELLO, March 23 (AP)—Arguments on a defense request to dismiss charges against a former Blackfoot policeman accused of beating three Indian prisoners were to be heard in U. S. district court today. Prosecution witnesses indicated that Merlin L. Johnson used a night stick against the prisoners when they refused to stop an "Indian war dance" in Blackfoot city jail's drunk tank. Johnson said he tapped one of the prisoner's feet with his night stick and struck another across the face with his hand, but only after they jumped him. "I did not strike any of the three with any force at all," Johnson said. "I don't feel I used sufficient force, because they didn't quiet down at all." The prisoners, all members of the Hamarok-Shoshone tribe, were LaMont and DeLeon Diggle and Llewellyn Pandoah. A policeman who witnessed the incident, John Koltzraon, said he saw Johnson raise the night stick and heard the noise of a blow from the direction of DeLeon Diggle's head. Johnson said the noise was his night stick hitting the wall.

Sen. Kennedy Starts Climb Of Mountain

WHITETOP, Feb. 23 (AP)—Robert F. Kennedy, the senator turned mountain climber, began his personal pilgrimage up 13,900-foot Mt. Kennedy today. It was an effort to be the first person to climb the Canadian peak named in honor of his brother, the late President John F. Kennedy.

Weather conditions were excellent when the senator's party reached the 8,500-foot base camp yesterday afternoon by RCAP helicopter at 4:15 p.m.

The temperature was 20 above at the base camp and about 10 above at the summit but the mild weather was blamed for two recent snowslides that swept down in the area.

Leading this Dr. Bradford Washburn, scientific leader of the expedition, said "conditions couldn't be better."

The eight-man party hopped to snowshoe to the high camp at 12,000 feet today and then made the final assault Wednesday. Kennedy was the middle man on a rope between James Whittaker and Barry Prather, both veterans of the 1963 American Mount Everest expedition.

Kennedy has never climbed a mountain but was anxious to get down in the area.

Schranz and Goitschel Favored to Top Harriman Cup Races at Sun Valley

SUN VALLEY, March 23—Karl Schranz, the daring Austrian who was thought to have reached a speed of 75 miles per hour when he won Monday's downhill, will be favored to win the men's slalom today and the Harriman cup. France's Mariello Goitschel, who won the women's downhill, is the most likely contestant to come out on top in the women's slalom, slated Wednesday. Only six of the United States skiers were in the first seedings, including former Harriman cup winner Jean Saubert of the University of Utah, but with their showings Monday it is unlikely that any will come out in the top five.

More Antics to Be Seen From Piersall

PALM SPRINGS, Calif., March 23 (AP)—Jimmy Piersall doesn't repeat his acts, so he won't be running the bases backwards or batting with a Beatle wig instead of a protective helmet this season. But you can bet there will be some new antics "because people like to watch the unexpected." And that, says Piersall, is the main reason for the stunts he has pulled, although he admits his own nature has contributed.

Auerbach Adds Role of Co-Owner To Coaching Job

BOSTON, March 23 (AP)—Red Auerbach—pro basketball's highest paid coach at an estimated $50,000—has brought a piece of successville otherwise known as the Boston Celtics. Lou Pini publicly welcomed Auerbach Monday as a fellow stockholder with himself and Mrs. Walter Brown, widow of the Celtics' late owner-president. Auerbach has spent 15 of his 19 coaching years in the National Basketball association building a Boston dynasty which now boasts nine consecutive Eastern division titles. The team is seeking its eighth league crown, seventh in row in the coming playoffs.

Utah Makes Official Bid For Olympics

SALT LAKE CITY, March 23 (AP)—Utah has made an official bid for the 1972 winter Olympics. It was disclosed Monday that Maxwell E. Rich, chairman of the Utah Olympics committee, made the bid in a letter to the U. S. Olympic Committee meeting in New York.

Rich outlined the ski facilities available in the Salt Lake City area and said that if Utah gets the bid an Olympic village would be built to required specifications. Also, he said the Salt Lake Civic center auditorium, to be completed before 1972, would contain facilities for hockey and ice skating.

"We believe sincerely that Utah can host the finest winter Olympic game in the history of the Olympic movement," Rich wrote.

Giants Lose Three Via Draft Rule

PHOENIX, Ariz., March 23 (AP)—Three promising San Francisco Giants pitchers and an infielder, have been lost to the club via the first year draft rule.

Right-handed pitcher Tom Jones and infielder Johnny Richards, each 18, were picked up for the $8,000 waiver price by Houston's Astros. Pittsburgh picked 6-foot, 6-inch right-handed hurler Quinton Willingham.

San Francisco had hoped other National league clubs would waive on the three players so they could be sent to Giants farm clubs.

Clubs may protest first-year players from the winter draft by keeping them on the major club roster. However, before they can be optioned to farm clubs, the other teams must first be given the opportunity of purchasing them for the $8,000 price.

San Francisco still has four first-year players on its roster: Japanese pitcher Masaroni Murauchi, infielders Bob Holbert and Bob Schroeder and outfielder Ken Henderson.

Jones, Phoenix, was signed after graduating from high school last summer. He compiled a 6-1 record with the Magic Valley Cowboys and had a 2.26 earned-run average. Schroeder and Henderson are also former Cowboys.

NAMES ADDED

Jones: Big Names Only For Masters

ATLANTA, March 23 (AP)—Bob Jones, the grand man of golf, said Monday that he doesn't see any one but one of the games big names winning this year's Masters tournament.

"I read all the time now where some golfer whose name I've never even heard has won a tournament," Jones said. "But I doubt seriously if any rank outsider could win the Masters."

The premium is too high there on experience and self-discipline," he said.

Jones said, however, that he was not in full agreement with Ken Venturi, the National open champion, who recently was quoted as saying the course at Augusta has been made so long that only five or six players have any chance of winning the Masters.

"I think that's cutting the list a bit thin," Jones said. "The course has been toughened some, but it isn't all that long. I'd say that more than five or six have a chance, but as I said, only those who have experience and discipline."

The 29th Masters will be held at Augusta April 8-11.

Cubs' Rookie Injures Ankle

MESA, Ariz., March 23 (AP)—The Chicago Cubs learned Monday that rookie outfielder Steve Fox suffered a fractured right ankle when he crashed into an outfield post in an exhibition game Sunday against the Los Angeles Angels in Palm Springs, Calif.

X-rays showed the fracture. Dr. George Truman said it would be a maximum of six weeks before the 19-year-old Fox could resume practice.

Fox, one of two first-year bonus players on the Cubs roster, was signed out of Covina, Calif. high school last June. The left-handed hitter batted 257 with the Treasure Valley team in the Rookie league last year.

Lizny came on and with three pitches was heading back to the bench. Camille Carreon knocked the first throw for a force-out at home plate. Then on Lizny's second pitch to him, Tony Martinez hit into a double play from third baseman Jim Hart to catcher Tom Haller and back to first.

Lizny faced nine batters in three innings and gave up only one hit, a leadoff single by Chuck Hinton in the tenth.

Minnesota Muscle Men Scare Opponents; Defense Is Weak

ORLANDO, Fla., March 23 (AP)—The Minnesota muscle men scare everybody in the American league, including their own pitching staff. Balls rocket into orbit off the bats of Harmon Killebrew, Tony Oliva, Jimmie Rollins and Bob Allison. But too many enemy ground balls and bloopers reach fair territory untouched by human hand. Manager Sam Mele sadly tells tales of unearned runs and shocking boots in the late innings that turned two-run leads into disasters.

"There has to be something wrong when we hit more homers and score more runs than anybody in the league and finish tied for sixth," said Mele. "When Camille Pascual and Jim Grant are pitching, the team seems to make more boots than any other time. Sure, pitching is very important, but defense makes good pitching."

"Still you have to be optimistic when you think of all those homers and also remember we finished second in 1962 with the same intent."

Mele has made one change that he believes will tighten the defense. He has moved Killebrew, a slow but willing outfielder, to first base and restored Allison to his old post in left field.

"Harm can play the infield all right," said Mele. "I am not worried about that. Last year they were going from first to third on short fly balls to left. They won't do that with Allison. Tony Oliva is becoming a good outfielder in right. He is the closest thing to Al Kaline you ever saw at this stage of his career. He runs better than Al and has as good an arm as Kaline and is stronger."

With Allison in left, Oliva, the batting champ, is right and Hall in center, the outfield should produce at least 90 homers. Killebrew could add another 50 at first and the others should hit enough to equal last year's total of 221.

The problem is stopping the other fellows. Richie Rollins at third and Zoilo Versalles, an erratic but sometimes brilliant shortstop, should do half the job. But second is a gaping hole because of Bernie Allen's slow recovery from knee surgery. Cesar Tovar, former Cincinnati farmhand, is getting every chance to win the job. Perhaps Mele will have to fall back on Jerry Kindall, despite his .183 average.

Earl Battey is the No. 1 catcher, with help from Jerry

Gun Bow Takes Top Weight Into Race

MIAMI, Fla., March 23 (AP)—Gedney Farm's Gun Bow, the nation's leading handicap horse, was assigned high weight of 130 pounds Monday for Saturday's $100,000-added Gulfstream park handicap. Rex Ellsworth's Candy Spots was next in the weight at 123 pounds for the 11 1/2 miles feature which is expected to attract a field of nine or ten of the best older horses in the east.

Viridon Plans To Retire at Season's End

PORT MYERS, Fla., March 23 (AP)—Bill Viridon, still one of the best defensive outfielders in the National league, plans to quit playing at the end of this season although he won't reach his 34th birthday until June.

The bespectacled center fielder of the Pittsburgh Pirates is looking ahead to a career in managing and hopes to begin in the minor leagues in 1966.

"I had a whopping year this season. It would change my thinking," he said. "But I know I can't last much longer as an everyday player. No sense kidding myself. I could feel myself slipping last season. I certainly would not like to go through another year like the last one."

It was Viridon's poorest season in the majors. He batted .243 and scored, he hit only three homers and drove in only 27 runs.

"I don't think it does a player any good to hang on," Viridon said. "This is my 18th year. Playing baseball has become mechanical for me. It is no longer a matter of thinking what you're going to do. It's just a case of doing it. It comes natural now. I feel like a robot. I do everything by instinct."

Wirephotos Tell Story of America's Two-Man Gemini Space Flight

TAKING IT EASY before their space ride, Astronauts Virgil I. Grissom, foreground, and his copilot John W. Young, background, recline in their contour couch seats in spacecraft as an unidentified technician works around them at Cape Kennedy, Fla., Tuesday. A few minutes later the capsule was sealed and at 9:24 a.m. EST the liftoff began. (AP wirephoto)

Astronauts' Families Watch Events on TV

SEABROOK, Fla., March 23 (AP) — Young Scott and Mark Grissom counted down together, "three, two, one . . . ignition," and then watched their dad soar into space atop the Titan rocket.

The families of astronauts Virgil (Gus) Grissom and John W. Young watched on television early for the big day. Betty Grissom, who has been through it before, and Barbara Young, kept their emotions to themselves. But the children were excited. They stayed home from school for the occasion.

Mrs. Grissom sat in a couch in the living room with Trudy Cooper, wife of astronaut Gordon Cooper, and a neighbor, Mrs. Jerry Hammock. She made no comment as the rocket blasted off in a cloud of reddish-brown smoke.

Said Mrs. Young: "I'm deliciously happy."

John Young, six years old and probably not too sure of everything that was occurring, joined in the count-down on television. His older sister, Sandy, blithely practiced lessons on the piano until shortly before blast-off time. But John, who is just getting over chicken pox, stuck pretty close to his mother. She was joined by the wives of two other astronauts.

Later the young children went out to a neighbor's home. John supported a Davy Crockett coonskin cap.

As a television commentator told of the 15,000-mile-per-hour speed, Scott Grissom, 14, said in wonder, "boy, that's really moving."

He and Mark, 11, counted down aloud with the announcer until the magic word, "ignition."

Mark came close to sleeping through the historic launch at Cape Kennedy. But he was awoken in time by his mother's brother who were up with dawn to catch the flight preparations.

The young children, Scott and John, were up bright early for the big day. They were four television sets in Young home.

The children sat on the floor of Mrs. Young's chair to watch "Is that daddy? Is that daddy?" little John asked.

Officials tried to set up a phone call from Mrs. Young to her husband in the capsule T-minus six minutes. It did not go through.

"Never mind," Mrs. Young said. "He needs all his time to concentrate on his work."

As usual the homes of the astronaut's wives were surrounded by news men anxious to hear their every words. Cameras set up and wires ran across the ground between the pine trees.

Mrs. Young said she would serve coffee and pastries in the carport to the newsmen, but said she would not give statements.

"I'm sorry, but my time is limited," she said. "I would feel entirely open about it if I gave an interview to someone and not to all so I'm not giving any."

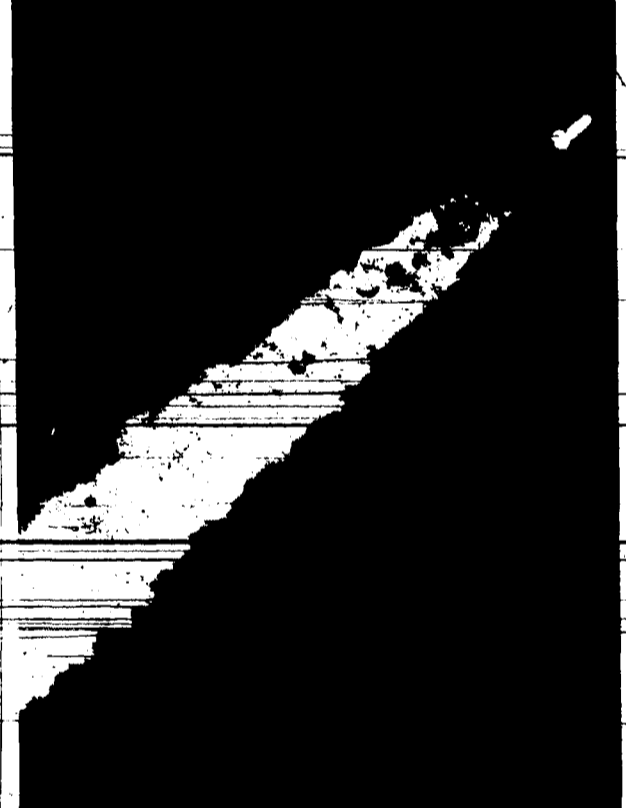

The same ground rules were in effect over at the Grissom household.

"I'm sorry, but I'm not giving personal interviews to anyone before the flight," Mrs. Grissom told one newsmen.

A space agency worker said Grissom "has had some pleasant contacts with newsmen in the past."

Thousands Gathered to View Launch

CAPE KENNEDY, March 23 (AP) — The Russian cosmonaut who danced the kazotki in outer space may have trampled a bit on the luster of today's two-man Gemini shot, but he hardly dented the enthusiasm of Florida's delirious and dedicated bird watchers.

Thousands of them, as always, jammed the roads, lined the rooftops, got their cars stuck in the sand and camped out all night on the chilly beaches to take part in America's fastest-growing audience participation sport: coaxing a manned missile into orbit with prayers and cheers and gasps and sighs.

Their ranks included most of the population of Cocoa Beach, part-time home of the astronauts, vacationers and conventioners from all the nearby resorts, college drop-outs from the beer can-stacking olympics at Fort Lauderdale and Daytona Beach, retired couples with nothing better to do and just about everyone else within a 100-mile radius not directly accredited to the American space effort.

The faithfulness of Florida's space fans transcends mere rooting for the home team and trying to overlook the Soviet Union's spectacular grandstand play of last week.

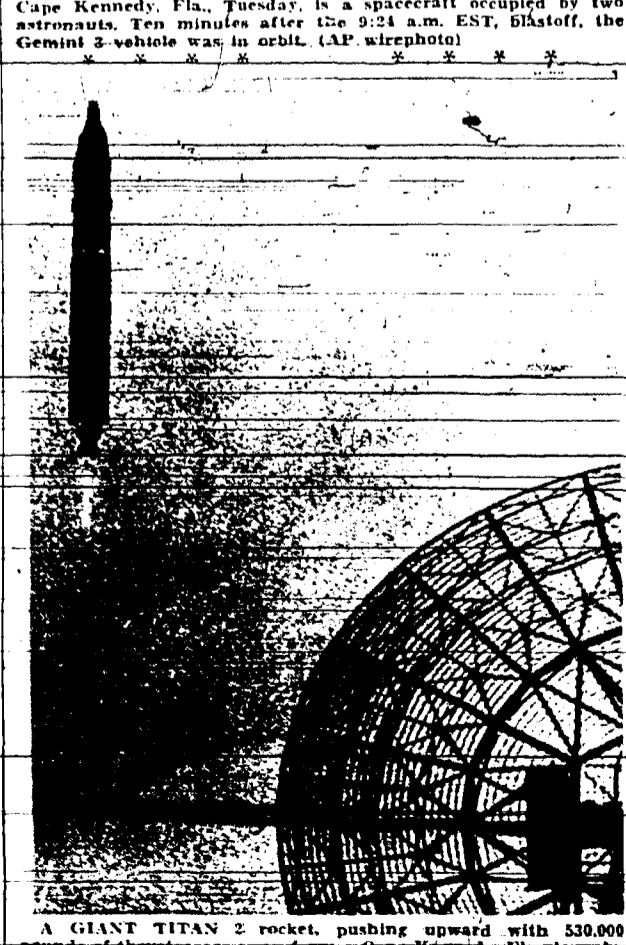

This time they really couldn't expect to see much, especially from the beach.
