WASHINGTON, March 23—Demands of that executive branch known as the U. S. House of Representatives are being met by the Supreme Court. The court has ruled that the executive branch's attempt to force the court to order the release of a prisoner is unconstitutional. The court's decision is a landmark one, and it is a clear victory for the executive branch. The court's decision is a landmark one, and it is a clear victory for the executive branch.

VENTING WEATH—As a piece of legislation, the action showed only one thing—that a majority of the house, composed largely of southern Democrats and Republicans, are mad at the court. Possibly this is a good thing; in a republican form of government the temper of congress is a vital signpost to the electorate. But the house chose to be vindictive in voting down the act. The court's decision is a landmark one, and it is a clear victory for the executive branch.

NOT UNDERPRIVILEGED—Only the court's feelings have been damaged, of course. Justices are paid $29,500 a year and the chief justice $40,000 compared to the $27,500 plus allowances paid congressmen and thus are hardly underprivileged. Justice get three months vacation in the summer and a month in the winter. They work hard, but so do a lot of faceless bureaucrats drawing half their salary.

DIG AT PRIVATE LIFE—Unfortunately, the discussion also descended to men's room humor when Mississippi's John Bell Williams referred to Justice William Douglas's three marriages and asked: "When Justice Douglas passes on, how many of his widows will we be asked to support?" Rep. Claude Pepper, D., Fla. who himself has had fits of irresponsibility, called the action by its right name when he referred to it as "a spitay pay cut." It is too bad the court's compensation must be based on the popularity of its decisions.

TAX CLIMATE BETTER
Perhaps Idaho still won't be the ideal place for industry to locate, but the tax climate has been improved greatly as a result of new laws passed during the 38th session of the state legislature. Two bills in particular have gone a long way toward elimination of some of the features to which businessmen have objected. One, naturally, is the sales tax with its resulting relief for income and property taxes. The other is the new law which eventually will equalize assessment of property for tax purposes.

MARQUIS CHILDS WRITES ON WASHINGTON

WASHINGTON, March 23—The small civil war going on inside the war on poverty has yet produced no actual results. But nothing could better illustrate the existence of the entrenched order in the South to any effort to bridge the color gap.

Like the United Nations charter, the act initiating the war on poverty contains a built-in veto. With minor exceptions Marquis Childs, the governor of New York, has his thumbs down on any poverty program in his state. The implicit threat is that he will use all that money rolling in from Washington to strengthen his own political fences.

The office of economic opportunity says this will not be allowed to happen. The showdown is in Alabama and how the OEO stands up to the test will say a lot about the future of the program. Alabama's first little governor, George C. Wallace, is determined to run the show in his own way.

Wallace is believed to have been the moving force behind the order removing E. F. Kirk's Smith, an attorney, as chairman of the Birmingham community action committee. The 20-member committee, formed under the terms of the poverty act, serves all elements with five groups, including a representative of the NAACP, Wallace men, and a leading industrialist. Each community forms its own committee to coordinate the poverty drive. Approval must come from Washington before the committee is granted money to organize and initiate projects.

Officials here have come to the belated realization that money spent by departments of the federal government in the South has had the effect of perpetuating segregation. Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman is studying evidence that agriculture subsidies payments in the South follow a narrowly segregationist pattern. He has indicated that he will devote full time in coming weeks to rooting this out.

Coming to Life

It may be no more than a straw in the wind, but it's encouraging to see local citizens showing some interest in governmental affairs. Until two weeks ago, it appeared only a handful of persons could be expected to show any interest in any of the government units affecting their daily lives. Then, unexpectedly, a county hearing for a proposed county zoning ordinance drew a standing-room-only crowd. A week later at a second hearing, the situation was repeated and a few observers who were stunned by the size of the first turnout expressed amazement that it could happen twice.

It's a healthy interest that should continue. Regardless of what's at issue, local citizens should start taking an active interest and a role in enacting the regulations that will affect everyone. Everyone can only hope that the turnout resulting from the proposed county zoning ordinance is the start of a general reawakening. It would be so encouraging to have a renewed interest in all governmental activity.

Every Monday night, there's a session of the city commission in the city hall. Although the city commission was elected to transact the city's business, scarcely anyone ever shows up to watch what the commission is doing. It might be hoping too much, but perhaps the interest shown in the county zoning ordinance will spread until a few citizens attend a city commission meeting. Or perhaps an occasional school patron might be interested in attending a school board meeting. It would be interesting to know how many years have passed since an ordinary citizen attended a session of the district highway board.

These governmental units are spending tax money. The commissioners or trustees are transacting public business. If the truth were known, they'd welcome the presence of voters and taxpayers at some of their sessions, just as an indication of public interest if nothing else.

That doesn't mean citizens should start buttonholing board members and applying pressure on everything and anything in the way of public business. But board members like to know what the public's thinking on many items that require some sort of action.

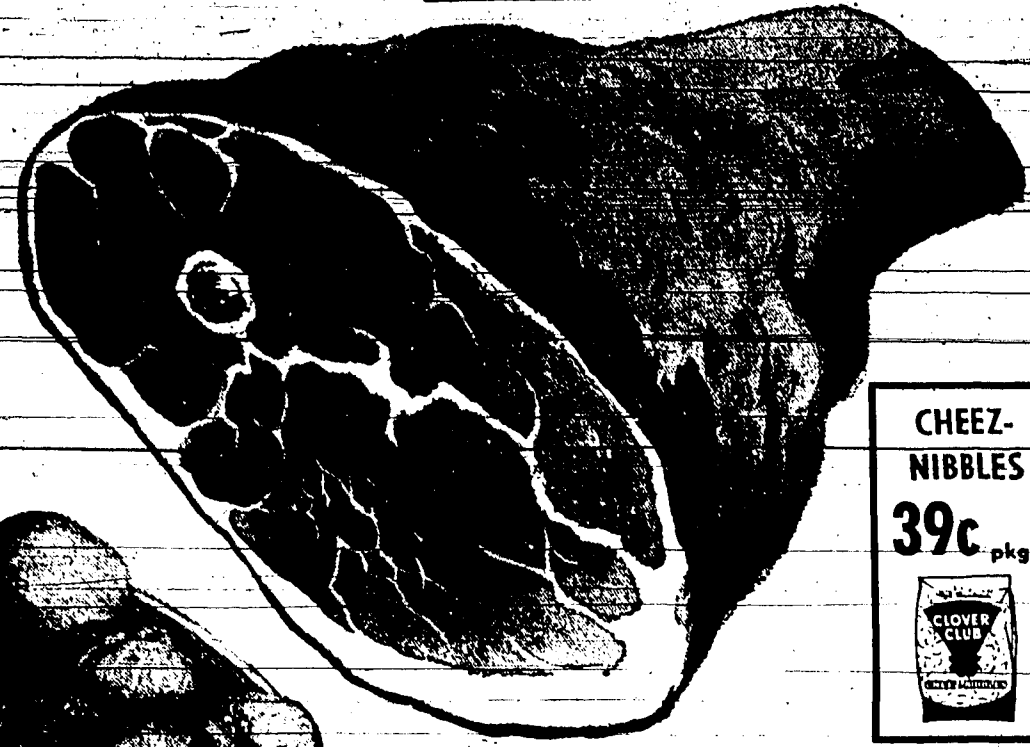

If and when the public reaches the point of continuing to show an interest in public affairs, then there will be nothing like the proposed county zoning ordinance that will turn out dozens of aroused citizens ready to fight, if need be. Anything that might arouse widespread opposition can be corrected before it reaches that stage.

Even with an extensive reappraisal program going on throughout the state there was no way to force uniformity among the various counties.

As an example of the importance of uniform assessment, Sen. Lloyd Barron of Camas county declares the new measure, "... is the greatest improvement in the property tax field in our history." Senator Barron has urged such legislation for several sessions and is commended for realizing its importance.

The real test, of course, will come when executives of some potential new industry start comparing Idaho's tax laws with the tax laws of other states offering potential sites for new plants. If the Idaho tax climate compares favorably with other states, Idaho will be getting some new industry. Idaho, always ranked high for livability, has been anything but attractive for industry because of the tax picture. Perhaps the new laws will make a big difference.

Utah Schools Hit by Flu, Red Measles

SALT LAKE CITY, March 25—The state health department confirmed today what many parents and teachers already knew: The state has been hit by an outbreak of red measles, influenza and strep throat.

The department said that for the year, up to a week ago, it received reports of 2,230 cases of red measles, compared with only 221 to the same date last year.

Influenza increased during the same period from 864 cases to 1,220. Streptococcus infections increased from 1,941 to 2,853 reported cases. There were 647 cases of German measles, compared with only 25 for the same period in 1964.

The health department noted that it is the responsibility of parents to guard their children against measles and other communicable "children's" diseases by obtaining medical care. It was noted that measles can be prevented through vaccination.

2 Air Force Jets Collide Near Manila

MANILA, March 25 (AP)—Two U. S. air force jets collided in flight today, killing the seven men aboard, Clark air base reported.

The collision took place near the U. S. base north of Manila. The twin-engine C47 and the T29, a passenger-cargo jet, crashed and burned in an uninhabited area about a mile east of the base runway.

There were no survivors among the five officers and two enlisted men aboard the two aircraft, an air force spokesman said.

The names of the victims were withheld until their families were notified.

The air force opened an investigation.

Food Stamp Plan to Start in Utah Area

SALT LAKE CITY, March 25—A federal food stamp program scheduled to start in Weber county May 1 has been postponed until June 1.

Welfare commission Chairman Ward Holbrook said the change was needed because the federal stamps will not be available on time and the Ogden distribution center will not be operating by May 1.

The county was selected as a pilot area for the project sponsored by the U. S. department of agriculture, but administered under the food stamp act of 1964.

Elminda Kirkham, welfare department account administrator, said Weber county is scheduled to receive more than $18,000 a month in federal funds replacing the surplus commodity program.

The county is one of a select group around the country. It was picked for its compact population and because the number of welfare recipients is within the margin required for the pilot program.

Weber has approximately 3,000 persons receiving assistance under the current surplus commodity program.

The stamp system aims to provide recipients better food to insure more nutritious diets, Kirkham said.

He noted many persons are not used to the kind of food distributed under the present method. He also said the community would receive additional food dollars through the stamps.

For a single person now receiving $82 a month from the welfare department the new program means an additional $6 a month for food. The person would be required to purchase $18 of food tickets and then get a bonus of $6 in free stamps.

The amount increases for a larger household.

The stamps will be handled by the Weber county department of public welfare office and honored at Ogden area food markets.

Federal laws stipulate the stamps cannot be used for the purchase of alcoholic beverages, tobacco or imported food products.

The stamps are a little smaller than a dollar bill and will be in denominations worth $2, $3 and $10. Users will be required to show identification cards and sign the stamps at the time of purchase.

Kirkham said he believed the program eventually would be extended to other areas in Utah since it was created by permanent legislation.

BOISE, March 25 (AP)—The federal housing administration reported today that 308 new homes were built in Boise during 1964. Of these, 75 were sold before construction began and 192 were sold after completion, leaving 41 unsold as of Jan. 1. Of the 308 homes, 100 were in the price range of $10,000 to $17,500 and 51 were in the range of $17,500 to $20,000. Twelve were priced at more than $20,000.

POCATELLO, March 25 (AP)—The chief Washington correspondent for the Baton newspaper said last night that Vietnam war veterans democracy, Tran Van Dinh told a lecture audience at Idaho State university that the people of Viet Nam must be won over on that basis, and "when we win the people, we won't even have to fight the war." Van Dinh, a former acting ambassador to this country, has been a member of the Vietnam mission to the United Nations. He said the war in Viet Nam will be won using psychological, social and political means rather than conventional military operations.

BOISE, March 25 (AP)—Gov. Robert E. Smylie said today he was assured no action will be taken before summer on West Coast Air lines request to discontinue scheduled service to Coeur d'Alene. Smylie conferred with civil aeronautics board authorities during a trip to Washington, D. C. West Coast has asked to halt service to Coeur d'Alene, but Smylie said he was told that hearings and investigations would not be concluded by midsummer. The governor had expressed concern service might be terminated before the Girl Scout roundup at Farragut, north of Coeur d'Alene, in July.

IDAHO FALLS, March 25 (AP)—An estimated 200 persons will attend the annual spring fever Quarter Horse association annual meeting Saturday night in Idaho Falls. Election of officers, a review of the 1964 program and awarding of trophies for 1964 will highlight the meeting, officers said. The association also intends to make plans for the annual Quarter Horse show slated for Pocatello June 11-12. The association covers from Pocatello to Ashton.

BOISE, March 25 (AP)—The Idaho highway board had under advisement today requests that it remove a raised median on U. S. highway 91 in Blackfoot and construct truck passing bays on U. S. highway 95 north of Moscow. The board, which concluded its March meeting yesterday, also approved plans for on-street parking along the proposed Boise interstate complex. The request for removal of the Blackfoot median was presented by Blackfoot Mayor Louis Haller, who said the median was not necessary for traffic control. Action on the request for construction of truck passing bays on U. S. 95 was delayed until after the board's north Idaho inspection trip scheduled for late in May.

BOISE, March 25 (AP)—Rep. Alvin Jostyn, D. Elmore, urged today that Idaho's state tax commission be revamped because of the passage by the regular session of the legislature of bills requiring uniform statewide assessment of property. "We need a new and aggressive state tax commission," Jostyn said on the house floor. He said that on the present commission are members who are 70, 83, 70 and 76 years of age. "I have a great deal of respect for age," Jostyn said, "but this is carrying it too far." He said that a strong and efficient tax authority.

LEWISTON, March 25 (AP)—Construction of navigation locks at the proposed Astlin dam in the Snake river would make available a two-billion-dollar bonanza in mineral wealth, Gov. Robert E. Smylie said today. Smylie presented a statement to an army corps of engineers hearing on the proposal that locks be provided when the dam is built a few miles upstream from Lewiston. Smylie said there are an estimated 600 tons of limestone in the area which would be blocked to water transportation if locks are not provided. "The absence of large local markets in Idaho," the governor said, "requires that we reach toward outside markets. Locks in the Astlin dam offer a natural gateway into the growing limestone markets of the Northwest."

POCATELLO, March 25 (AP)—A major portion of the $548,340 in added funds to be received by the Pocatello school district in each of the next two years will go for teacher salary increases. Superintendent Rulon Ellis said he hopes teachers will receive an increase of more than $500 in the next budget. He pointed out the district had a teacher turnover of 42 per cent in the last two years. Ellis said the fund increase made possible by the state's appropriation of $7.3 million dollars for the coming biennium still is not adequate to offset what he called a "quality program" in the Pocatello schools. State-aid will total $2,588,631 in the coming year here.

POCATELLO, March 25 (AP)—Belief that the United States has reached a "turning point in the struggle for civil rights" has been voiced by the top official of one of the United Presbyterian churches. Rev. Elder G. Hawkins, first Negro to head the church in its 178-year history, suggested in an address yesterday at Idaho State university that there may be a new civil rights mood in the nation. He credited President Johnson's stand on Negro voting rights with establishing that mood. The Rev. Mr. Hawkins said, however, that the Negro will not achieve full equality until communities that think they have no racial problems do something about "undramatic" discrimination. Said the Rev. Mr. Hawkins: "Until they do something about these undramatic things—securing open housing and equal employment opportunities—until they see the need for basic quality education for all groups, then we have not taken too seriously the demonstrations."

Training for Carpenters Established

A carpenter joint apprenticeship and training committee was organized for the Twin Falls area, according to Lloyd A. Williams, area representative for the bureau of apprenticeships and training, U. S. department of labor.

An initial meeting was held at the Clawson construction company offices Wednesday afternoon. Apprenticeship standards and selection procedures were adopted.

Attending the meeting were management committee members J. A. Clawson, elected chairman, and Ray Nelson, Neilson and Miller construction company.

Labor members attending were O. M. Van Houten, who was elected secretary and L. A. Bell. Lloyd Miller, executive secretary of the Rocky mountain district council of carpenters, and Williams also were present. Williams said Van Houten will accept applications from those interested in serving a four-year carpenter apprenticeship. Qualifications which must be met include high school education or equivalent, age 17 to 25 years, physically fit for the trade and mentally fit to pass all phases of a specific aptitude test.

Apprentices will be selected strictly on the basis of their qualifications.

Additional information may be obtained from Van Houten at the Labor temple or by contacting other members of the committee. The committee will administer standards of apprenticeship throughout the jurisdiction of Carpenters union local No. 1058, Williams said.

Mae Murray, Silent Film's Blonde, Dies

HOLLYWOOD, May 25 (AP)—Mae Murray, the silent screen's first bee-stung lips, who made three million dollars and spent every penny, is dead at 75.

Miss Murray, who married four times, was a symbol of roaring twenties who never ceased re-creating herself as a celebrity although her career did not extend into the era of talking pictures.

She died Tuesday at the 30-acre picture country home of a long illness that followed a stroke and a heart ailment.

"You don't have to keep making movies to remain a star," she said several years ago. "Once you become a star, you are always a star."

Her most famous film was "The Merry Widow," in which she starred with John Gilbert, with Erich von Stroheim as director.

At her peak, she earned $10,000 a week and was one of Hollywood's highest-paid stars. She maintained lavish homes and entertained extravagantly.

As her glittering era passed, the income declined. In 1926, she estimated her fortune at three million dollars.

Ten years later, she said, she was penniless for three days on a bench in New York's Central park.

In the mid '50's she wrote her memoirs, "The Self-Enchanted."

Born Marie Adrienne Koenig May 10, 1889, in Portsmouth, Va., she danced in New York shows as a teen-ager. Florenz Ziegfeld featured her in his follies of 1908, 1909 and 1915.

Her marriages were to William Schmeckler, Jr., a gateman; Jay O'Brien, a Pasadena broker; film director Robert Z. Leonard, and Frank David McDivani.

A son, Daniel M. McDivani, is her only living relative. He operates a shoe store in Troy, N.Y.

Funeral services will be conducted Thursday in a mortuary chapel.

Kennedy Reaches Summit Of Peak Named for Brother

WHITEHORSE, Yukon Territory, March 25 (AP)—A small flag fluttered from the summit of Mt. Kennedy today, planted there by Sen. Robert F. Kennedy as a memorial to his brother, the late President John F. Kennedy.

The New York Democratic senator, a novice climber, reached the top of the previously unclimbed 13,900-foot peak yesterday after a day and a half of climbing.

He is expected to be flown from a base camp to Whitehorse, a Royal Canadian air force plane from Ottawa, originally used to fly Canadian dignitaries, awaited Kennedy to take him to Seattle for a plane connection to New York.

Kennedy and seven members of a National Geographic society party, which he asked to accompany him, climbed from a camp at the 11,500-foot level yesterday.

As they toiled up the final few yards, using their ice axes for walking sticks on a slope of about 20 degrees, they waved to newsmen and expedition officials in planes overhead.

The flag Kennedy placed at the summit appeared of a dark hue, although its exact coloration was not known. He fixed it upright and stood back a few feet, his head slightly bowed, looking toward it.

The red and orange parkas of the climbers gleamed in the sun-

The accident happened five and one-half miles west of Shoshone on state highway 26.

The wrecked auto was noticed by a newspaper deliverer, who reported it at the Manhattan cafe and the sheriff and a local doctor were summoned.

Sheriff Thomas W. Conner, who investigated, said Albright was asleep or unconscious when they first arrived, still in the car. His car was demolished.

RUPERT, March 25—Nuptial vows were recited Feb. 27 in the St. Nicholas Catholic church by Penny Lee Stevens, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward L. Stevens, and Phillip Schell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Adam Schell, all Rupert.

The double ring wedding rites were solemnized by the Rev. Francis Schell. Bouquets and basket arrangements of white stocks and pink and red rosebuds formed the background setting for the morning ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor-length gown of white peau de sole fashioned with a basque bodice, long lily point sleeves, a sheath skirt and a long sweep train.

Her elbow-length veil of silk illusion was held by a queens crown of pearls. She wore a gold bracelet set with amethyst which belonged to her great-aunt.

She carried an array of pink and red rosebuds entwined with a long string of pearls on a white satin prayer book.

Mrs. Howard D. Schaefer, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. She was attired in a red floor-length gown fashioned with an empire waistline and elbow-length sleeves. She carried a single long-stemmed pink rose, tied with a white satin bow and streamers.

Bridesmaids were Martha Stevens, sister of the bride, and Marilyn Deveney. They wore pink floor-length gowns fashioned with empire waistlines and elbow-length sleeves. Each carried a single long-stemmed red rose adorned with white satin bows and streamers.

Laura Lee Schaefer, niece of the bride, was flower girl. She was attired in a pale pink dress and carried a pink and red nosegay.

Nick Schell, brother of the bridegroom, Las Vegas, Nev., was best man. Ushers were Donald Kilmer and Ron Nellander, both Ogden. Altar boys were Bernard Schell and Joseph Hennrich.

Traditional wedding music was played by Mrs. Betty Rausch, who also accompanied Mrs. Pauline Reynolds, soloist.

The bride's mother wore a cream-colored ensemble with rust-colored accessories. The bridegroom's mother was attired in a pale green dress. Each wore a corsage of red rosebuds.

Following the ceremony, the newlyweds greeted guests at a reception in the St. Nicholas hall. The bride's table was covered with white lace over red and centered with the wedding cake trimmed with red roses. The cake was topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom.

Guests were served at quartet tables covered with white net over pink and centered with candles surrounded by red and pink flowers.

Gifts were displayed by Clara Schell, Virgie Mason, Kathy Hennrich and Margaret Kraus. Gift-bearers were Michael Reynolds and Randy Reynolds.

Serving refreshments were Mrs. C. Schell, Mrs. Carl Reynolds, Mrs. Ted Howell, Mrs. Daniel Rodriguez and Mrs. Thomas Reynolds, assisted by Mrs. Norma Remson, Pat Remson, Sandy Reynolds and Paulette Reynolds.

Bomb Blasts Prevented By Defects

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., March 25 (AP)—Defective assembly of six dynamite bombs planted in Negro neighborhoods prevented them from exploding, Birmingham police say.

The bombs were intended to explode, Police Capt. Maurice House said yesterday.

House made the statement after tests were made on parts taken from three of the bombs. The other three were sent to FBI headquarters in Washington for analysis.

House, Capt. W. E. Berry of the Birmingham fire department, agents for the FBI and demolition experts from Ft. McClellan conducted the tests.

The officers agreed that except for a defect in the assembly of the bombs, explosions would have rocked the city and could have set off another racial crisis.

Search for Utah Plane Is Continuing

PRICE, Utah, March 25 (AP)—The hunt for a plane missing since Saturday continued today, but with some hope.

The Utah civil air patrol said it had two new clues to the whereabouts of the craft which carried two young Utah couples.

Two sightings reported today to the CAP indicated the plane flew southwesterly from Green River after refueling early Saturday afternoon. About the craft were Mr. and Mrs. Duane Chapman, Orem, and Mr. and Mrs. Gary Lloyd, Salt Lake City.

One of the sightings placed the craft over Crescent Junction east of Green river near the Colorado border at 2:30 p.m. Saturday. The other sighting was at 3 p.m. near the Henry mountains south of Hanksville, about 75 miles southwest of the first sighting.

CAP search commander Lieut. Col. Ott Webb, Salt Lake City, said the single engine red and silver craft could easily fly that far in that time.

About 15 planes searched yesterday in bad weather. Ground parties also were out, but turned back because of heavy snow.

Clear skies were predicted today, and the CAP issued a call for volunteers to fly over southeastern Utah's rugged and sparsely populated terrain.

Two sightings reported yesterday turned out to be valueless. A Price woman told CAP officials she saw the missing craft landing on a highway halfway between Green river and Hanksville. Shepherds in the Dirty

Devil region near Hanksville also spotted the craft. Colonel Webb said both sightings occurred before the plane landed at Green river to refuel about 1 p.m. The two couples aboard the plane were on a flight to photo-

U. S. Faces Dilemma in Silver Crisis

WASHINGTON, March 25 (AP)—The federal government faces a dilemma: Should it or shouldn't it take the silver out of its silver money?

The final decision will be up to congress, but the treasury department has to decide whether to ask the lawmakers for authorization to begin making coins out of other metals.

The problem will probably be the first big decision for the new treasury secretary, Henry H. Fowler, who is scheduled to take over next week from Douglas Dillon.

Behind the problem is a shortage of silver in the federal government's vaults at West Point, N. Y. Even if the administration decides to go on using silver for making coins, the percentage in each coin will be sharply cut below the present 90 per cent.

If the government makes up its mind to stop using silver, dimes, quarters and half dollars probably will be made of copper with a coating of shiny copper-nickel, the substance that is already used for nickels.

Whatever Fowler decides, he will be sure to check with the White House first. The decision is certain to cause a flurry among silver producers and silver users who can muster votes on capitol hill.

OKLAHOMA CITY, March 25 (UPI)—Oklahoma supreme court Justice N. B. Napoleon Bonaparte Johnson was impeached yesterday by the state house of representatives on two counts of selling favorable opinions, the third member of the state's highest court accused in a $150,000 payoff. Johnson, a Cherokee, was chosen the outstanding American Indian for 1954-55. "I'm innocent of any charge," he said. The two counts involved alleged payoffs of $7,500 and $2,500. The vote was 90-6 on the first, 88-8 on the second. He will be tried by the state senate in about 10 days. Two fellow justices, Earl Welch and N. S. Corn, were convicted last year of federal income tax evasion. Welch resigned Monday in a jump ahead of impeachment charges. He had been chief justice in 1958, on a rotation plan. Johnson's charges related to a 1958 tax case involving the since defunct Selected Investments corporation and a 1959 case. He was charged in both articles with "corruption in office" and offenses "involving moral turpitude."

Molly Brown's Flight Paves Way for More Gemini Shots

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla., March 25—With the flight of the Molly Brown, the United States gained a little ground on the Russians in the man-in-space race and opened the gates to a flood of astronaut launchings in the years ahead.

Astronauts Virgil I. Grissom and John W. Young took the Gemini spacecraft up for a trial run Tuesday. They flew it backward, forward and upside down and executed the first orbital changes ever made by a manned spacecraft.

There were a few minor difficulties. But project officials pronounced the two-seat craft ready to begin operational missions on the next flight. Nine more Gemini flights are scheduled in the next two years.

Grissom and Young were up for a three-orbit spin lasting less than five hours. The national aeronautics and space administration termed it a "fully historical" mission and said it demonstrated the readiness of the craft for future long-duration and rendezvous missions.

In June, astronauts James A. McDivitt and Edward H. White are to zoom into space for four days to further evaluate the capabilities and to gather medical and scientific data.

McDivitt is to become the first U. S. astronaut to go at least partially out of his orbiting ship. Plans call for him to open his hatch and poke his head into space. However, some thought is being given to having him leave the craft on the end of a tether just as cosmonaut Alexei Leonov did during a spectacular two-man Soviet shot last week.

Development of this extra-vehicular capability as well as an orbit-changing, steerable spacecraft are requirements before other Americans or Russians travel to the moon. The Russians pioneered the out-of-orbit operation last week, Tuesday. Grissom and Young put a trump on their ace by doing some steering.

U. S. officials have conceded that this nation trails the Soviet Union by about two years in the man-in-space sweepstakes. The major reason is that the Russians started earlier in the development of a big booster capable of hurling large payloads into orbit.

With the same basic rocket, the Russians launched the world's first spaceman, sent the first woman into orbit and fell sent three cosmonauts aloft in Voshkod 1. The launching last week was their second flight with more than one passenger.

But none of their flights has been able to change orbit and shift over the sky as the Molly Brown did.

Dr. Robert Seamans, associate administrator of the space agency, said the Grissom-Young flight narrowed the gap a bit.

"I'll accept the fact that we're behind the Russians," Seamans said. "They have a good program. They're doing some important things before us, and we're doing others before them. We've also got a good program."

After McDivitt and White take their four-day flight, astronauts L. Gordon Cooper, Jr. and Charles Conrad, Jr. are to make a seven-day flight which should provide valuable data on how man is affected by prolonged exposure to weightlessness.

After that will come the vital rendezvous shot in which a two-man team will attempt to catch up and join with another orbiting satellite. This space docking maneuver must be developed before man ventures to the moon and Mars.

Six Gemini rendezvous flights are planned.

Dr. George E. Mueller, NASA associate administrator for manned space flight, said Gemini flights will occur at two-to-three month intervals. He predicted a total of 25 manned space shots from Cape Kennedy in the next four to five years, including the first Apollo manned lunar landings.

He said that following the completion of Gemini, manned space flight emphasis will shift to lunar orbiting people.

Blackout of News Lifted In Indonesia

JAKARTA, March 25—The government yesterday lifted its blackout of news by American correspondents but at the same time tightened its grip on American-owned oil and rubber operations.

The refusal to transmit American correspondents' news stories and the moves against the American properties were new steps in a sustained communist-led drive to take the United States out of Indonesia.

The news blackout lasted 24 hours. Unconfirmed reports said cable service to the U.S. embassy here was cut off during the same period.

U. S. Ambassador Howard P. Jones met with President Sukarno Tuesday to lodge a protest against the new harassment of Americans here.

The report from Washington, meanwhile, said Indonesian Foreign Minister Subandrio has given Jones written assurance against further moves against Americans in Jakarta.

The news blackout started when communist-led post and telegraph workers refused to transmit cables or radio broadcasts for correspondents of United Press International, the Associated Press and the New York Times.

In moves against the American-owned oil and rubber properties, the government announced it took over "control" of a Good year Tire factory in suburban Bogor. The tire factory was seized by communist workers last Saturday.

At the same time Oil Minister Churil Saleh said Indonesian "control and supervisory teams" have been installed at the Shell, Tanvac and Caltex oil operations here.

Suppose a certain stock is trading at $50 a share and a $1 dividend is declared. If you rush in and buy 100 shares in order to get the dividend, you pay $5,000. (Actually, your total cost is $5,044, including commissions.)

Research: I have done in this area indicates that there is no restriction on the purchase of shares by women.

76ers Nip Royals In Overtime to Open Playoffs

CHICINNATI, March 25 (AP) — Wilt Chamberlain scored seven of Philadelphia's 11 overtime points Wednesday night as the 76ers came from behind to beat Cincinnati 119-117 in the first game of a best-of-five National Basketball association Eastern division playoff series. Regulation play ended with the score tied at 108-all and Chamberlain put the 76ers on top 113-110 with a three-point play. That gave Philadelphia a definite edge in the next few minutes even though the Royals tied the score again at 115-115.

Bay Shore Race Won by Flag Raiser

NEW YORK, March 25 (AP) — Flag Raiser, a 3-year-old, speedy Kentucky derby candidate, made a runaway of the $29,000 Bay Shore stakes at Aqueduct Wednesday as he easily whipped six other 3-year-olds.

Under the guidance of James Vanezuela, the son of Rough N Tumble-Larks War went to the front on the turn leading into the wire and he hit the wire first by a half-length in front of his stablemate, Patrice Jacobs' Turn to Reason. Both are trained by Patrice's father, Hirsch Jacobs.

Tom Rolfe, the favorite who carried the silks of Raymond Quest, made his usual strong stretch run to finish third after a slightly shaky start. He was four lengths behind Turn to Reason, while holding a two-length margin over Tim's Stringray, the only member of the field not eligible for the Kentucky Derby.

Flag Raiser ran the seven furlongs over a track far from fast in 1:23 3/5 to earn $18,015. The entry paid $7-40, $4-20 and $3-00 to show. Rolfe returned $2.60 to show.

Our Indian was the first out of the gate but quickly gave way to Golden Joey. Flag Raiser was never far off the early pace, and coming out of the backstretch moved in rapidly on the leaders. With three-eighths of a mile to go he had a three-length lead and never was threatened.

After showing his one burst of speed, Golden Joey dropped back to last. Beaujy was fifth and Our-Indian sixth.

52-Cent Bet Nets Fortune For Londoner

LONDON, March 25 (AP) — Geoffrey Liddiard, 31, who paints the dials on the thermometers his company manufactures, received a check Wednesday for $7,000 after a 52-cent bet on a soccer pool.

Liddiard, from Northwest London, won the money for correctly forecasting eight of last Saturday's nine top professional games on Littlewoods pools. His bet was three shillings, nine pence (about 52 cents).

Liddiard, whose wife, Sheila, is expecting a third child shortly, shared his winnings with two colleagues, George Larcher, 39, of Northol, and 21-year-old Brian Halford of Brentford. The win, however, was officially credited to him because the coupon was made out in his name.

Asked if he used "lucky numbers," as have other big winners, Liddiard said: "I fill my coupon in scientifically. I don't just put down crosses next to any team—I study form." He is an amateur soccer player himself.

Arizona Beats Utah Track Team

TUCSON, Ariz., March 25 (AP) — Arizona evened its dual meet track and field record for the season at 2-2 Wednesday by defeating Utah 84 1/2-80 1/2.

Only two dual records were lowered.

Arizona's Jim Green tossed the shot put 55 feet 6 inches, bettering the distance of 53-4 set by the Wildcats' Gary Ordway last season. Arizona's Dick Singleton lowered his own two-mile meet mark to 9:36.7.

Arizona's quarter-mile Jim Sullivan won his specialty easily in 49.2, one tenth over the dual record set by Arizona's Dave Murray last year.

French Girl Completes Sweep of Harriman Cup; Miss Saubert Is Second

SUN VALLEY, March 25 (AP) — Olympic ski champion Marielle Goitschel completed a sweep of the Harriman cup for women Wednesday by winning the slalom championship. The 19-year-old French girl, who won a gold and silver medal in the 1964 Olympics and who is aiming for more glory in 1968, beat American Olympian Jean Saubert for the cup which goes to the combined winner.

AMERICAN OLYMPIAN Jean Saubert, 22, McCall, took second place in the women's slalom Wednesday at Sun Valley and first in combined scoring at the conclusion of the Harriman cup races.

Miss Goitschel took the slalom with a total time of 85.92 seconds for two runs. She also won the downhill race Monday and had a perfect score of zero in the combined scoring.

Miss Saubert, who was third in both the slalom and giant slalom behind Marielle and her sister Christine in the 1964 Olympics, was second Wednesday in 89.95. That, plus her eighth place finish in the downhill, gave her a combined score of 180.

In the 1964 Olympics, Marielle and her sister Christine finished one-two in the giant slalom and then reversed that order in the slalom.

Miss Saubert, 22, McCall, is a student at the University of Utah. She does not plan to compete in the next Olympics.

Christine Goitschel, 20, was third in the slalom with a total time of 88.14 seconds. Edith Zimmermann of Austria was fourth in 88.85 and Switzerland's Theres Obrecht was fifth in 89.33.

In the combined slalom, Obrecht was third with 23.94 points, Miss Zimmermann fourth with 24.04 and Austria's Travid Hecher fifth with 27.78. Christine Goitschel was 10th with 37.44.

Linda Meyers, Western State college, was sixth in the slalom with a time of 89.90 and ninth in the combined with 56.00 points.

The men's cup was annexed by France's Karl Schranz, who won the downhill and combined. France's Michel Arpin took the slalom. The 1964 Harriman winner was the late Buddy Werner, Steamboat Springs, Colo., who was killed in an avalanche in Europe last year.

An American girl who was seeded 24th — Kathy Allen of Mammoth Mountain, Calif. — gave the most surprising and fastest performance of the race. She was clocked in 83.75 seconds and had the fastest time in her second run. But she missed the final two gates in her first run and that disqualified her.

Kathy was 22nd in the downhill. The slalom is her specialty. She will be one to watch as the Americans develop a team for the 1968 international championships in Chile and the 1968 Olympics.

Another American girl, 19-year-old Virginia Birnie, Mt. Shasta, Calif., took a bad spill at the end of her first run and was hospitalized with a cracked rib.

Eleven of the 27 entries were disqualified when they missed gates. Two-thirds of the 42 racers washed out in the men's slalom.

Wednesday's slalom for women wound up the 22nd running of the Harriman cup, which was an international meet this year with top skiers from the United States, Canada and Europe competing.

1. Marielle Goitschel, France, 44.56-41.36 — 85.92.
2. Jean Saubert, McCall, Idaho, 44.60-42.35 — 86.95.
3. Christine Goitschel, France, 44.68-42.98 — 87.66.
4. Edith Zimmermann, Austria, 46.52-42.33 — 88.85.
5. Theres Obrecht, Switzerland, 46.54-42.33 — 88.87.
6. Linda Meyers, Western State college, 46.57-42.23 — 88.80.
7. Christine Terrallion, France, 47.39-43.05 — 90.44.
8. Greta Digruber, Austria, 47.68-43.53 — 91.21.
9. Wendy Allen, Mammoth Mountain, Calif., 48.23-42.98 — 91.21 (tie).
10. Sandra Shellworth, Boise, 47.36-43.90 — 91.26.

However, there is more to Torres' antipathy toward Patterson than "Amato. Insiders say he resented all the attention and success that went to Patterson when they were stablemates. And then there is the tale of the vanishing $100,000.

Torres was promised a shot at Paul Pender's share of the middleweight title three years ago, for a $100,000 guarantee. One day the money was supposedly as good as on the line — the next day it wasn't. Torres claimed the money was to have been loaned by Patterson.

"I thought he was my friend, but no more," said Torres.

Despite an impressive seven years as a pro and a 34-1-1 record, Torres is getting his first chance at a title in the match with Pastrano at Madison Square garden.

Ironically, many in boxing think his progress was inhibited by D'Amato — because D'Amato was too cautious in picking opponents and because D'Amato's various feuds kept Torres out of certain arenas and away from certain potential rivals.

For example, Torres didn't fight in the garden until last year — acting on his own.

Torres figures he can add 10 pounds, putting him in the low 180s, giving him more power and without losing speed.

That would make him fairly light for a heavyweight — but perhaps he remembers Floyd Patterson isn't much bigger.

Canadian Open Purse Boosted

TORONTO, March 25 (AP) — Prize money for the Canadian Open golf tournament will be doubled this year to $100,000, the Royal Canadian Golf association announced Wednesday.

The winner's share will be $20,000 instead of $7,500, said RCGA president Bruce Forbes. The runner-up will receive $12,000 instead of $4,300.

The 1965 open is scheduled for July 14-17 at Toronto's Mississauga Golf and Country club. Defending champion is Australia's Kel Nagle, who edged Arnold Palmer last year by two strokes.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 25 (AP) — Ben Schwartzwalder of Syracuse was named today as head coach of the East team for the 41st Islam Temple Shrine East-West football game to be played in Kezar stadium on Dec. 31.

Schwartzwalder's associate coaches will be Jerry Burns from Iowa and Murray Warmath from Minnesota.

Other teams will be College of Idaho, Northwest Nazarene college and Boise junior college.

Coach Bus Connor has 15 IU lettersmen.

Returning lettermen infielders are Jen Dittmer, Bud Hare and Chuck Charlton. Outfielders are Larry Swallow, Steve Kuharski and Lee Hand.

NEW YORK, March 25 (AP) — The New York Jets of the American Football league signed Paul Perret, outstanding lineman of the unbeaten Wagner team, Wednesday. He had not been drafted.

Auerbach Is Voted Coach Of Year

NEW YORK, March 25 (AP) — Arnold (Red) Auerbach, a coach so successful they almost gave him the club, was named coach of the year in the National Basketball association Saturday.

Auerbach coached the Boston Celtics to their ninth straight Eastern division title in the NBA this season, and the club is bidding for its seventh straight league championship in the playoffs. Auerbach also serves as general manager and vice president of the Celtics and recently bought a back-of-the-club in the club on terms that principal owner Lou Pieri called "very favorable."

A panel of 27 basketball writers voted for the coach of the year. Auerbach drew 21 votes. Fred Schaub of Los Angeles four and Dave DeBusschere of Detroit two.

Auerbach joined the Celtics in 1950 after three seasons of coaching the Washington Caps and one with Tri-Cities. In 14 seasons the Celts won 884 games and lost 453 in regular season play. They established a league record of 82 won and 18 lost during the 1964-65 season. In playoffs, Auerbach had an 89-59 record up to this year.

Fight Scoring To Be Secret Until Finish

NEW YORK, March 25 (AP) — The New York State athletic commission ruled Wednesday the possibility of flashing judges' scoring to the spectators after each round of the twin-championship fights at Madison Square garden March 30.

Emile Griffith is scheduled to defend his world welterweight title against Jose Stable and Willie Pastrano will put his light heavyweight title on the line against Jose Torres.

The Garden and Theater Network Television, Inc., which is handling the closed circuit television, had proposed using an electric device which would record to the end of each round how each of the three officials had scored it. This would be shown both to the television audience and to the garden crowd.

The commission decided that "the best interests of professional boxing would be promoted by the continuation of the present scoring system, which provides for the announcement of the decision only at the conclusion of the contest."

The main reasons given were possibly unruly outbursts by fans after an announcement of scoring — that the round-by-round scoring might tend to encourage illegal gambling activity and that the announcements might affect the tempo of the fights.

Another, but rather remote reason, was a New York rule that permits an official on certain occasions to declare a boxer the winner even though he has won fewer rounds than his opponent. This has been used only four or five times.

Russell Wins Most Valuable Player Award

BOSTON, March 25 (AP) — Bill Russell, the bearded pillar around whom Boston has built seven championships, was named Wednesday the National Basketball association's most valuable player for the fourth time in five years.

The 6-foot, 8-inch Celtic center was honored by a committee of the U.S. Basketball Writers association. He was the first selection on all but one of 24 ballots.

Three men from each of the nine league cities were the selectors but three ballots had not been received by the deadline.

Each selector named eight players in one-two-three order.

On the basis of 12 points for a first, seven for second, six for third etc., Russell amassed 253 points to 136 for Los Angeles' Jerry West, only other player to pull down a first place vote.

West edged Cincinnati's Oscar Robertson by a single point while Sam Jones, first Celtics player ever to score 2,000 points in a season, finished fourth with 69 points. Will Chamberlain, whose selection a year ago broke a three-season Russell reign, finished fifth with 60 points.

Elgin Baylor, Los Angeles, followed with 56 points, then came Detroit player-coach Dave DeBusschere with 41. Retiring Bob Pettit, St. Louis, Cincinnati's Jerry Lucas and Walt Bellamy, Baltimore, rounded out the top 10.

Russell, taking over the full duties of captain he shared with Frank Ramsey last year, led Boston to its winningest season in league history — 67 victories — and its ninth straight Eastern division crown. The Celtics now seek their seventh consecutive NBA playoff championship and eighth in nine years. Their lone loss came in 1958 when Russell was sidelined by an injury.

This is the seventh writers' NBA-MVP award. Pettit won the first in 1959. Chamberlain followed in 1960, then came Russell's three in a row.

Others receiving votes, in order, were Bill Haley Howell, Gus Johnson, Hal Greer and Nate Thurmond, Willis Reed, Richie

Wilkins, Don Ohl and Guy Rodgers.

Previously the writers and sportscasters named Willis Reed of the New York Knicks as the NBA rookie of the year. He received 47 votes in 57 for Philadelphia's Lucious Jackson.

By RICHARD CHARNOCK
 BOISE, March 25 (UP)—When it comes to reapportionment there is no "inside" "outs" or "good" sources for newsmen to contact.

There are 70 of them in the Idaho house of representatives and 44 of them in the senate. Everybody, it seems, has his own plan, his own approach to the program put upon the legislators' shoulders by the federal court order.

At the beginning of the special session last Friday, many legislative leaders were predicting a quick and successful answer. Their colleagues were tired, they said, and wanted to solve the reapportionment hassle and go home.

Senators seemed quite certain of success and went home for the week-end to talk over plans with their constituents. House members met Saturday morning, came up with some tentative plans, and then they, too, went home until Monday.

But when Monday arrived so-lution seemed farther from the lawmakers' grasp than it had on Friday and Saturday. Newsmen no longer wrote and filed dispatches about proposed solutions than they learned they were wrong.

If a fellow tried, he could come up with a new story every five minutes. Each would be correct when written and wrong when filed. If you were confused by news reports of what was happening you should have been in the statehouse.

All a person had to do to attract a crowd was pull out a map and a grease pencil and start drawing lines. If he included an adding machine he had standing room only.

One house member, with just a trace of disgust in his voice, snatched a map, walked behind the curtains and observed: "I haven't had so much fun since I was in kindergarten, with my crayolas."

There are a number of apparent reasons for the confusion. For one thing, some legislators still are not convinced they really have to reapportion themselves—particularly those from counties that may lose a representative or a senator.

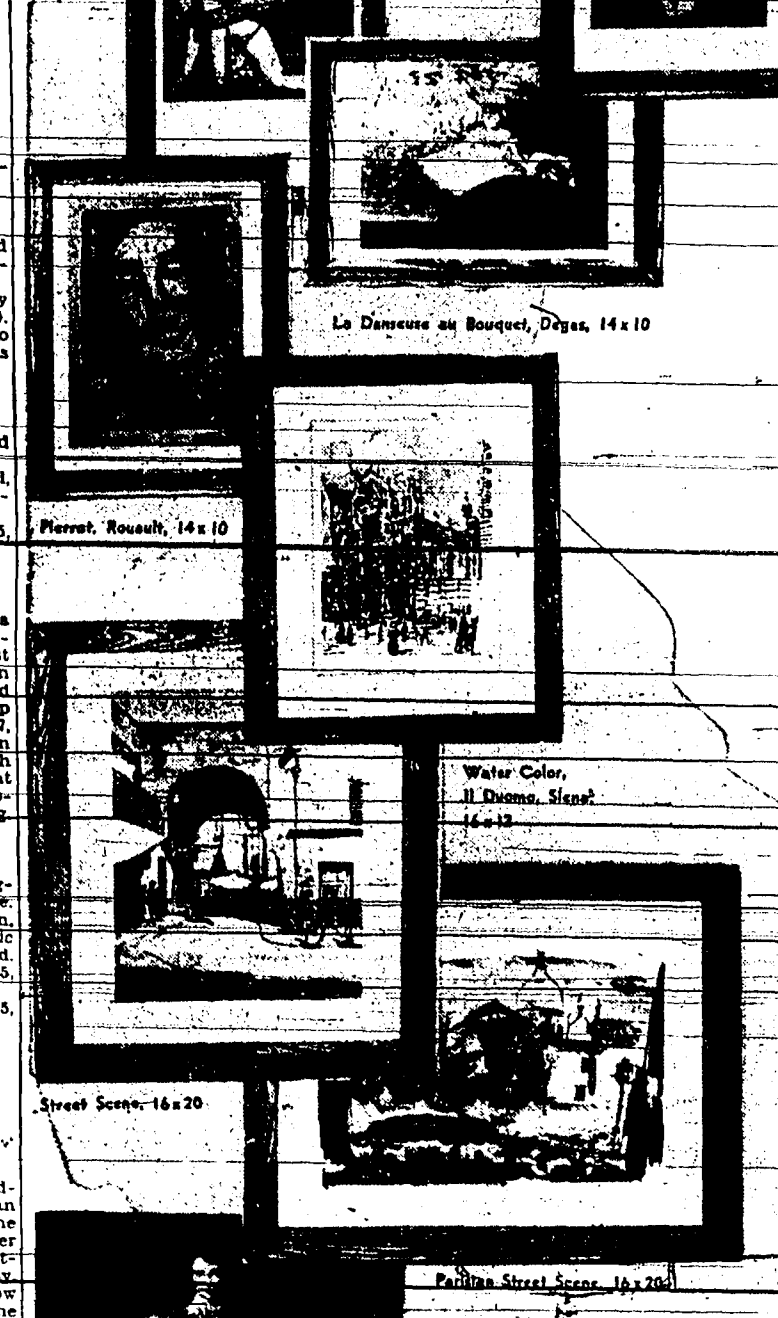

For another, the legislators are torn between a court order and their oath to uphold the Idaho Constitution. The order says "reapportion," but the constitution says there are ground rules that seem to make it impossible for all practical purposes.

In calling the extra session, Gov. Robert E. Felt, the state constitution does not specifically declare the provisions of the agreement invalid, he said, the ruling are void by implication, however, is the court's opinion. And it is not ed by all the legislators. A ber of legislative leaders agree with the chief executive.

LENTEN GUIDEPOSTS

I Watched Myself Die

By E. L. HUFFINE
Englewood, Calif.

The other day a lady stopped me as I moved through the crowded aisle of a passenger jet. "Oh my," she said, "I just want to know if you're going to be praying all the while we're in the air."

"Ma'am, I said, 'I'll be ahead of you. I start praying while we're still on the ground.'"

I wish there'd been time to tell her about the prayer I've used at every take-off for 26 years, since the time in 1938 when I didn't make it.

E. L. Huffine in Smith Center, Kans.

When the old plane I bought for $450 was delivered, a neighbor let me use his pasture to keep it in. After weeks of patching my plane and running the engine to keep my spirits up, I located a pilot who gave me three days of lessons.

The next few weeks my heaven seemed very near as I flew over town and fields, all the familiar landscapes.

At last I felt I could fly well enough to take my wife Roselyn up for her first flight. I helped her into her new helmet and goggles and assisted her into the rear seat of the pusher.

I swung the propeller and climbed proudly into the cockpit. A gusty wind was blowing and the temperature was in the high 90's. Better be careful, I thought, the field is short and Roselyn's weight will make a difference in the take-off distance.

I advanced the throttle full open. Almost immediately I knew that we were accelerating slower than usual.

Halfway down the field I was still undecided if we could get enough speed to clear the hedge-row at the end of the field. I knew it was too late to stop. I couldn't; there were no brakes. I decided to wait until the last

Officers Are Selected for Bickel PTA

Mr. and Mrs. George Holmes were elected to preside over the Bickel school PTA at the monthly meeting Monday night.

Other new officers include Mrs. Archie Turner, vice president; Mrs. Inogene Heath, secretary; and Mrs. Garth Galloway, treasurer. Serving on the scholarship committee will be Mrs. Tom Olmstead, Mrs. Harold Mulder and Mrs. Blanche Inama.

Attendance books were won by Mrs. Jack Watts, lower grades, and Mrs. Elaine Myers, upper grades.

Cub Scouts presented the colors and a scenic replica of the flag raising on Two Jims. The Mountain Blue Bird group, led by Mrs. Robert Davis and Mrs. Dean Vader, sang "There Was a Little Girl." The club, led by Mrs. George Holmes and Mrs. Bob Montgomery, gave the Blue Bird wish.

Wesley Steward's Camp Fire group sang two songs and was assisted by Mrs. William Freeman's group in a ceremonial. "The Texas Star," a square dance, was performed by Mrs. Cleo Mori's Camp Fire Girls.

Refreshments were served by second grade room mothers.

Rupert Sets Talent Show For Friday

RUPERT, March 25—Plans are complete for a talent show sponsored by the Washington Junior high school PTA at 8 p.m. Friday. The show, to include Washington school students and members of their families, will be held at the Minico high school auditorium.

C. Paul Moore, PTA president, will serve as master of ceremonies and members of the executive board will be in charge of arrangements.

The Rev. Mr. Moore explained that the event will differ from those presented previously, in that entire families are taking part.

A wide variety of talent is planned and admission will be by tickets, which may be purchased from any Washington school student or bought at the door.

A World Book dictionary and a party will be awarded the classroom selling the most tickets. The public is invited.

O'Leary to Give "Hillbilly" Play

"It's Cold in Them Thar Hills," by Roma DeRoca, a one-act comedy, will be presented Friday by O'Leary junior high school ninth graders for the entire school.

The "hillbilly" comedy depicts the backwoods family trying to marry off their oldest daughter to a young unwilling city "stickler."

Directors are Scott Oyler, Linda Watkins and Ronald Braun. The cast includes Eugene Green, Rita Jones, Kinda Scherupp, Vickie McMillan, Vickie Martin, Leslie Benoit, Dana Jacobson, Marge McParland, Crystal, George Marshall, Ruth DeBoney and Steve Butler.

Mrs. Robert Sicles is the speech instructor.

second before trying to pull the plane into the air. Instinctively I uttered a prayer: "Dear God, were in your hands!" I pulled the ship into the air about 10 feet from the hedge-row. The plane shakily rose a bare five feet. It plunged through the hedge, ripping off the wings, and flipped on its back. I was thrown from the cockpit; my head struck the ground.

Now comes the part of the experience which was so strange, and yet so beautiful.

With time slow on my head, I was suddenly observing the whole scene about 50 feet away from the plane. I saw Roselyn struggling to unfasten the safety-belt which still held her. Roselyn rolled free onto the ground.

There was another form on the ground, too. I knew it was mine, but it did not contain the consciousness with which I was observing all that was happening. Roselyn was dragging the body away from the smoking plane, but I watched with indifference.

It was such a profound revelation! I felt myself as clear as high. There was no sense of pain, only a feeling of completeness and well-being.

I saw cars pouring onto the field from the highway, people milling about, talking excitedly. I could hear distinctly every word that was said. My attention was particularly drawn to a man and woman far out at the edge of the crowd.

"Well, he must have been a wild one!" the woman was saying. "I'm no more than he deserved! Only birds are supposed to fly!"

"An old friend came running onto the field. He pushed through the crowd to Roselyn.

"Is he dead?"

"I don't know, Ed," she sobbed. Ed stooped down and felt my pulse. "Somebody hurry! Get an ambulance!" He straddled my body and started to apply artificial respiration. There was no response; the body remained inert. Suddenly, Ed grabbed my shoulders, shaking my body violently.

He began to shout over and over: "Roy! Roy! Can you hear me?"

At the sound of my name I felt as if a strong wire were tugging me back toward my body. I was reluctant to return and continued to look on, experiencing the most complete contentment. Ed kept calling my name. The pull became stronger each time he called me, and suddenly I was looking up into their faces.

"Oh my God, Roy, we thought you were gone!" Ed panted. Roselyn was holding my hand, tears streaming down her face.

Ed helped me as I staggered to my feet. I felt a curious drive to get over to the couple who had been talking about me.

"I heard what you said about me. I told the woman.

The woman looked startled; they were standing well out of earshot from where my body had lain. "I didn't say anything."

I repeated what I had heard. She turned ashen and fled to her car.

In my mind's eye, every detail of that experience remains, never dimming. Since then as an airline captain I have flown over six million miles, carrying hundreds of thousands of passengers. But as the throttles are thrust forward on my wing jet, I always repeat the prayer I said in my pusher so many years ago.

"Lord, we're in Your hands."

It is not a prayer for protection in the air more than any other place; flight today seems almost incredibly safe and dependable to those of us who flew the wooden bones of yesterday.

It is more a shout of praise, an affirmation of the truth I discovered one day in a Kansas cow pasture. We are truly in His hands today, and forever.

RUPERT, March 25—winners of the space derby held by Cub Scout pack 46 have been announced with Ronnie Jones named first place winner.

Second place winner was Jeff Woodman, and Douglas Jones won the trophy for the best design of his rocket. Other winners were Kelly Cook, second in den 4, Alan Goodman, second in den two; Thomas Jones, first in den four and Greg Cameron, second in den one.

John Cameron, chairman for the event, reports this is the first such event held in the area. Previously the Cub Scouts have held a Pinewood derby.

Assisting Cameron with the derby at the starting gate were George Burton, R. C. (Bob) Jones, Edwood Hedrick and William Goodman. Richard Cook and Robert Balch worked at the finish line, and Steve Antone and Don Rasmussen were judges.

The rockets are made by the boys and travel on an overhead wire 125 feet long. They are propelled by three rubber bands that operate the propeller.

Awards also were presented to Mike Reynolds, wolf badge; Kelly Cook, bear, and Ray Hammond, bobcat pin.
