Berlin Autobahn Closed to Traffic By East Germans

BERLIN, April 5 (AP)—East German communists, denying Western access rights to West Berlin, closed the Berlin autobahn for more than three and one-half hours today and MIG jet fighters flew across the air corridors leading to the divided city. The communists claimed their actions were necessary because of East German-Soviet military maneuvers. Westerners believed they were in retaliation for West Germany's plans to hold a session of parliament in West Berlin Wednesday to underline the West's contention that West Berlin is part of West Germany.

It was the first time in 16 years that the communists completely halted all automobile traffic moving to and from Berlin over the 110-mile highway through East Germany. Secondary roads were open, but some delays were reported. The steel barriers at Berlin and Helmstedt, on the West German frontier, went down at 9:30 a.m. Armed communist guards refused Germans, as well as Allied travelers, the right to cross East Germany. The barriers were lifted again at 1 p.m. in Berlin and at 2 p.m. at Helmstedt.

In the air, Allied radar screens picked up one MIG fighter over a U. S. air force Convair transport flying the air corridor to Berlin. Another MIG buzzed Tegel airport in the French sector of Berlin, coming down to 300 feet to flash over the runway of the airfield used by Western commercial planes.

The communists originally indicated that the closure of the autobahn would last until 4 p.m. The fact that the highway was reopened earlier took some Westerners by surprise. Shortly before, West Berlin had been hit by rumors that the U. S. army was preparing to challenge the right of the East Germans to close the border.

Ku Klux Klan Leader Raps President

MORGANTON, N.C., April 5 (AP)—Impertial Wizard Robert Shelton says President Johnson, "if he continues his yackings, may become one of the best organizers the Ku Klux Klan has ever had." Shelton also has accused the President of "using his office to establish himself as a megalo-maniac—many who consider himself above God and thinks only he is capable of being a judge, jury and prosecutor." Shelton, Tuscaloosa, Ala., is head of the United Klans of America, generally regarded as the largest Klan group in America. He aired his views in two Ku Klux Klan rallies, here yesterday and at Hemingway, S.C., Saturday night.

The rally at Morganton, a furniture and textile city of 10,000 in western North Carolina, was advertised for the "white public only" in a local newspaper. The highway patrol, which kept the rally under close surveillance, estimated the crowd at 1,000 and said troopers counted more than 400 cars. There were no incidents or heckling during the 90-minute rally.

Shelton said the Klan would neither accept nor heed the mandates of President Johnson who recently warned of a federal clampdown on Klan activities. The President urged Klansmen to leave "hooded bigotry" and return to decent society. "We are not going to accept the mandate, or heed it," by Lyndon Baines Johnson who says we must accept the inevitable," Shelton told the crowd that he had a "kind of a size of a crowd" and that he will continue his yacking. "I will be one of the greatest organizers the Klan ever had." The President of the United States has the audacity to go on national television when he wants to remove an obstacle by very easily creating a crisis."

Tear Gas, Smoke Bombs Used to Disperse Negroes

CAMDEN, Ala., April 5 (AP)—Police today fired tear gas and smoke bombs into the ranks of about 45 Negroes when they refused to disperse, after their march was halted. The mayor and four policemen fired smoke bombs first. "Ain't gonna let no smoke bombs turn me around," chanted the Negroes. Most of them stood their ground on a sidewalk near a Negro church after Albritton, a policeman, each threw a smoke bomb. The policemen tossed three tear gas bombs and most of the Negroes retreated. Three stood where they were, others merely backed away.

50 Arrested In Racket Ring

WASHINGTON, April 5 (AP)—Treasury agents today arrested 50 government employees alleged to be implicated in an organized numbers racket operating in the Pentagon and other military buildings in Washington. The defense department announced the arrests at the request of the treasury department. The announcement said treasury agents, in cooperation with the navy and the general services administration, acted "to break up a large-scale gambling ring." The ring was said to be operating in the Pentagon, the nearby Arlington, Va., navy annex housing marine corps headquarters and the navy bureau of personnel, and the so-called main navy building on Constitution avenue in Washington.

Earthquake Hits Greece, 20 Are Killed

ATHENS, Greece, April 5 (AP)—A violent earthquake struck the center of the Peloponnese peninsula today, killing at least 20 persons and injuring 200. Police said the final death toll might go as high as 30. The victims were in a score of villages in the Megalopolis area, 100 miles southwest of Athens. They were caught in the wreckage of collapsing houses as they slept.

Fifty of the injured were in serious condition. Thousands wandered dazed through the ruins. Five of the worst hit villages were 90 percent destroyed and uninhabitable.

The rolling quake hit at 5:13 a.m. It destroyed 2,000 homes and left many villages cut off from all communication. Megalopolis was hard hit and the population of 2,507 was in panic.

Premier George Papandreu held an emergency cabinet meeting and declared the area an emergency zone. Relief forces were rushed to the area with medical supplies, tents and blankets. Athens slept through the shock undisturbed. The capital had felt two lighter tremors last week.

FBI Arrests 2 for Selling U. S. Secrets

WASHINGTON, April 5 (AP)—FBI agents seized two men today — including a Pentagon courier who was missing for two months last fall — on charges of selling U. S. defense secrets to the Soviet Union. Agents arrested army Sgt. Robert Lee Johnson, 43, Alexandria, Va., at the Pentagon, and James Allen Mintkenbaugh, 46, San Martin, Calif. Mintkenbaugh was arrested in Castro Valley, Calif.

The two were arrested after the FBI filed a complaint in U. S. district court at Alexandria, Va., charging they conspired together and with a Russian, Vitaly Ourjoumov, and others, to obtain and deliver to Russia information on the national defense of the United States.

Ourjoumov is named as a co-conspirator in the complaint. He formerly was assigned to the Russian embassy in Paris and reportedly is now in Russia, the FBI said. Johnson, according to the complaint, was recruited to spy for the Soviets while stationed in Berlin in 1953. The FBI said he recruited Mintkenbaugh in 1953, when Mintkenbaugh also was in the army.

The FBI said they were particularly concerned with furnishing classified information relating to military installations, missile sites and intelligence activities of the U. S. government at both foreign and domestic locations.

The complaint said both men had received various sums of money from the Soviets. During a period between February, 1957, and April, 1958, the FBI said, Johnson accepted $300 a month from the Russians while he was assigned to an unidentified Nike missile site in California.

Earth Life but One Stage in Man's Journey, Mormons Told

SALT LAKE CITY, April 5 (UPI)—Mormons were told today that man's aggressive journey of the "period of Earth life is but one stage in the soul." The speaker was the president of the church, Headdress of the church.

Con Omn

WASHINGTON today sent out a message that would boost spending, John giving consumers prices while farmers a chance to food expenditure.

The proposed legislation shift some farm price costs for wheat and the treasury to the retailer. Officials estimate new programs could raise bread prices about one cent and retail rice prices perhaps four cents a pound.

It was expected that the cost increase to the consumer would amount to about 300 million dollars. The 100 million dollar difference between that and the anticipated government saving would represent an increase in farm income.

In addition to the wheat and rice programs, Johnson asked legislation covering feed grain, wool, cropland adjustment, and transfer of allotments. There is a request for cotton legislation principally because farm and congressional leaders still are sharply divided on this issue.

The domestic and export marketing certificates now used in the wheat program would be continued and also applied to rice. By setting the value of the two certificates, the government could advance the domestic price of wheat and rice, while keeping export prices competitive with world prices.

In the rice program, the number of certificates a farmer would get would depend on the amount of rice he decided to produce. A big producer would get less taxpayer help than a small producer. Agriculture officials said the proposed programs would maintain farm income, reduce surplus stocks, lower government costs, and keep food costs low.

U.S. Aircraft Hit Red Targets With No Interferences

SAIGON, April 5 (UPI)—The United States today challenged stiffened North Vietnamese air defenses and sent 76 air force and navy planes to pound military targets on communist territory. There were no reports of attempted interceptions by communist fighters during two separate strikes by the American raiders. Sixteen U. S. air force F105 jet fighter-bombers hammered communist rail and highway traffic 120 miles south of Hanoi. An armada of 60 U. S. navy bombers from the aircraft carrier Coral Sea struck radar installations just north of the 17th parallel border.

Auditorium Project Moving, Board Says

Dr. Harry F. Brumbach, jr., president, Civic Auditorium association board of directors, announced Monday that the association now has sufficient funds on hand that "we feel prepared to move forward as soon as the report from the consulting engineers becomes available to us." The association is conducting a campaign to build a civic auditorium for Twin Falls. Dr. Brumbach said that the cost of hiring the firm of Cornell, Howland, Hayes and Merrifield, was $39,600, so one might imagine the value of the firm's advice and planning. He pointed out that this is without cost to the Civic Auditorium association.

Fiery Cross Incidents Are Probed

DETROIT, April 5 (AP)—Police and laboratory experts today sought clues to five fiery cross incidents in the Detroit area during the week-end.

Four of the Ku Klux Klan-type crosses were found in Detroit and a fifth was found outside a home in the all-white suburb of Beverly Hills, northwest of Detroit. One of the crosses in Detroit was found in the front lawn of Anthony Liuzzo, husband of Mrs. Viola Liuzzo, the civil rights worker who was slain near Selma, Ala., last month.

Another was found at the city-county building in downtown Detroit and a third had been burned outside the new vacant former headquarters of the Detroit chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

The fourth was found burning in the front yard of Louis Washington, 38, a Negro factory worker who had moved into a previously all-white neighborhood on Detroit's northwest side about a year ago. Four other families had moved in since in a two-block area.

Movie Stars Prepare for Oscar Night

SANTA MONICA, Calif., April 5 (AP)—Will it be Julia Andrews or Sophia Loren tonight — Oscar night?

That seems to be the major item of suspense as Hollywood dresses up for its biggest show—the 37th annual Academy awards. When the nominations were announced six weeks ago, Miss Andrews looked like the odds-on favorite—almost a shoo-in.

But things have changed. Actors, who only nominate their fellow actors and actresses, made Miss Andrews one of the five top actress nominees and excluded Audrey Hepburn, who did the screen version of "My Fair Lady."

Julie, who created the Eliza Doolittle role on Broadway, was overlooked for the movie version. That may have triggered the actors' snub of Miss Hepburn. But for Oscar itself, all members of the academy vote. "My Fair Lady," in its screenings for the academy membership, drew the biggest crowds in Oscar history. One night 300 persons, including Greer Garson, were turned away. The academy had to run an extra screening.

Spacecraft Flown To Cape Kennedy

ST. LOUIS, April 5 (AP)—The next Gemini spacecraft scheduled to carry two American astronauts into space this summer was flown yesterday from McDonnell Aircraft corporation to Cape Kennedy, Fla.

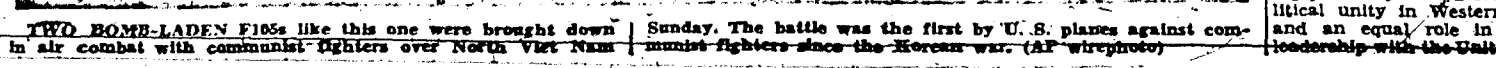

McDonnell was the prime contractor for building the craft, Gemini 4. Astronauts James A. McDivitt and Edward H. White II are scheduled to take the craft on a four-day flight.

United Air Lines To Buy 144 Jets

NEW YORK, April 5 (AP)—United Air Lines said today it would buy or lease 144 new jets at a cost of about 750 million dollars, mostly from the Boeing company.

W. A. Patterson, chairman of the board, said "this will be the largest order for commercial aircraft ever placed by an individual airline." Patterson told a news conference that United, the nation's largest airline, would be fully equipped with jet aircraft by early 1970. Most of the new jet equipment would be used in short range trips.

CONFERENCE ENDS COMO, Italy, April 5 (AP)—The 18-nation Bilderberg conference wound up its 14th annual meeting yesterday with a call for political unity in Western Europe and an equal role in Atlantic leadership with the United States.

Earth Life but One Stage in Man's Journey, Mormons Told

SALT LAKE CITY, April 5 (UPI)—Mormon faithful were told today that man's "part of Earth life is but one stage in the eternal progressive journey of the soul." The speaker was President Hugh B. Brown, first counselor in the first presidency. He addressed the third general session of the 135th annual general conference of the LDS church in the tabernacle. "Birth and death do not mark the beginning nor the end of individual existence," Brown told the congregation. "Earth life is for the development and training of the sons of men under the direction and supervision of the divine Father through His Son, Jesus the Christ." Brown said the purpose of the creation of the Earth was that men "might take upon themselves bodies and become candidates for immortality and eternal life." "Here we have an opportunity to meet opposition, to test our strength, to combat and overcome evil and thereby prepare for future development through the eternities," Brown said. "The LDS faithful in the tabernacle and countless others listening on radio and television, heard the church's number two man speak of freedom. He said man enjoys freedom of action and agency of choice, but while free to exercise this freedom, he must abide the consequences of his decision." "Through trial and error we, like the Master, learn obedience by the things which we suffer," Brown said. The church faithful yesterday heard messages from President David O. McKay and second counselor N. Eldon Tanner. McKay's keynote address was read to the congregation by his son, Robert R. McKay, who presided. See MORMONS, Page 2, Col. 5

Congress Receives Omnibus Farm Bill

WASHINGTON, April 5 (UPI)—President Johnson today sent congress an omnibus farm bill which would increase consumer costs of bread and rice slightly but would boost farm income and reduce government farm spending. Johnson said his proposals were aimed at giving consumers abundant food and fiber at reasonable prices while reducing government costs and giving farmers a chance to increase their income. Johnson said "take a smaller part of the family income than ever before" but said "the enormous advances in agricultural efficiency have left the farmer working harder and enjoying it less." The proposed legislation would shift some farm price support costs from the treasury to the retail food buyer. Officials estimated the new programs could raise retail bread prices about one cent a loaf and retail rice prices by perhaps four cents a pound. It was expected that the total cost increase to the consumer would amount to about 300 million dollars. The 100 million dollar difference between that cost and the anticipated government saving would represent an increase in farm income. The latest burning cross, found early yesterday morning, was planted in a ditch in front of the home of Paul Fitzgerald, white, a brick salesman for a building supply company, in Beverly Hills. Police said the cross was made of wood, about five feet tall and wrapped with rags soaked in flammable fluid, probably gasoline. Laboratory experts hoped to find some clues by examining the materials used to fashion the crosses, and analyzing the residue of flammable fluid used to ignite them.

New Pact for Glassworkers Averts Strike

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J., April 5 (AP) — Negotiators for 8,000 skilled workers in the glass container industry averted a strike last night by accepting a new three-year contract providing a 50-cent an hour package increase.

Acceptance of the new pact headed off a walkout that would have closed down plants throughout the nation, halting 95 per cent of the glass container production.

The Glass Bottle Blowers association had been extending the old contract on a day-to-day basis but its leaders threatened yesterday afternoon to call a strike at any moment.

The new contract covering the "hot end" workers in the industry is "the best contract ever negotiated in the glass container industry and second to none in any industry in recent years," said Lee W. Minton, president of the association.

The contract was worked out with the glass container manufacturers institute, representing 26 glass firms with 78 plants.

A short time after the agreement was reached here, the American Glass Container corporation announced in Philadelphia a similar agreement had been reached with the association in separate negotiations.

A spokesman for the firm said its three-year contract agreement covered 1,500 workers at plants in Cliffwood, N.J., Terre Haute, Ind., and Shakopee, Minn.

Increases in wages and fringe benefits were estimated at 32 1/2 cents an hour.

The pact provides a 10-cent-an-hour base increase the first year, but changes in machine-speed classifications will bring all operators and maintenance men extra increases from two and one-half to five cents and hour.

Policemen Require 3 Seasons To Become Handy With Gun

By MIKE McGREER

It takes about three shooting seasons to transform a rookie Twin Falls policeman into a top shooter but from then on he keeps improving.

At least that's how it seems since a shooting program was instituted for the men in 1942.

The problem of training the men in shooting and handling merchandise needed for the program was assigned to veteran shooter and gunsmith Cloyce Edwards, who has been on the force since 1960.

During his military years, Edwards spent three years in firearms maintenance, two years in machine gun and rifle instruction and worked for Steve Herrett's gun stock company in Twin Falls.

He was presented with a merit outstanding service award while serving as a machinegun sergeant. The award was presented personally by Lieut. Gen. W. P. Wyman, who then was commanding general of the sixth army. The award was presented at Ft. Lewis, Wash.

Edwards spent six months in a gun training school at Tacoma, Wash., and 18 months under the GI program at school with Herrett's.

He has received two of the three leg awards for a distinguished shooter's award. He plans to get the third.

Of the 25 shooters in the department 11 of them can be classed as top shooters.

The 11 top shooters include Edwards and Chief M. Frank Barnett, Francis Ashcraft, L. L. (Lee) Talkington, Garry Corder, Detective Lieut. Tim Qualls, Cliff Sharp, Ken Johnston, Fred Becker, Darryl Cameron and Harold Jensen.

A shooting committee consisting of Becker, Ashcraft, Victor Cummins and Johnston has been set up to select six department teams and set up the summer's shooting program.

Most of the men in the department carry 357 magnum pistols but use .38-caliber ammunition for practice purposes. They fire about 50,000 rounds of ammunition each year.

As the weather gets warmer the men in the police department start practicing at their ranges north of the city. This year they will use a new Perile target which has a smaller bulls eye, which will cut down on possible scores.

They usually shoot once a week during the warmer months. Three of the shots are for trophies and two are qualifying shoots for the department.

To qualify they must shoot 70 per cent, or with the new targets this means a score of 420 out of 600 with 60 rounds.

They shoot in different positions within range distance from 11 to 55 yards. Such positions as crouch, kneeling, prone, sitting and standing either with or without a support are used. Each shooter is timed at each position.

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

By ANDREW TULLY
WASHINGTON, April 5—Senior citizens should read the fine print in the administration's medicare bill before joining in the general rejoicing over its benevolence. Unfortunately, the bill is not that good; indeed, it has increased the cost of illness for persons over 65.

This legislation has been accomplished in the house ways and means committee, which expanded the legislation by the simple reactionary expedient of reducing its benefits. It will now cost the aged $3 a month, plus a deductible fee of $50, plus 20 per cent of the total bill for various health services connected with the normal hospital stay.

MANY ITEMS ELIMINATED—To be sure, the new $3-a-month optional plan also provides for physicians' care—80 per cent of the cost after an initial $50 payment. But after adding this sweeter, ways and means took a fat slice out of the social security plan.

Originally, the King-Anderson compulsory plan included coverage for radiology, X-rays, laboratory tests and anesthesia. But when the committee agreed to "broaden" the bill to include an optional medical insurance section at $3 a month, it eliminated these hospital-connected services from the compulsory plan. Thus it took away with one hand while giving with the other.

NO BONANZA—The aged should not let themselves be kidded on this end. Those hospital-connected services account for 22 per cent of more of the average hospital bill. Elderly citizens who subscribe to the optional plan will have to pay $50 plus 20 per cent of the remaining cost of those services. Those who don't buy the optional plan will have to pay the entire bill.

As it now stands, of course, the bill is a victory for the radiologists and pathologists, who have always wanted to be on equal footing with the doctors. They want to set their own fees and bill patients directly. So be it. But their victory has reduced the hospitalization program to a minimum. Moreover, health care costs undoubtedly will rise once the specialists set their own fees; professional men are not prone to discount the value of their services.

COSTS MAY BE HEAVY—Unfortunately, the administration is whetting up the bill for the last word in protecting the aged from tinkers. This will be boomerang the first time a senior citizen gets a bill for hospital-connected services he believed were covered under his social security contribution. If he is covered under the optional plan, he will not happily discover that he must get up $100 towards a bill for $300.

Thus the legislation hailed by President Johnson actually is a retreat from the administration's original proposal—a proposal Johnson had enough votes in congress to pass. Johnson, of course, is placating opponents of medicare against the day when he'll need their support again. But the bill for this compromise will be paid by the elderly.

SALES TAX WILL COME TO OREGON
The Idaho legislature has enacted a three per cent sales tax measure. The push that finally put it over came from Gov. Robert Smylie who at last said what many had finally come to recognize: If state government was to meet its responsibilities to the citizens of Idaho it had to have more revenue and the sales tax was the best way to develop that revenue.

TAYLOR'S VIEWS ON WORLD NEWS

BY HENRY J. TAYLOR
Retiring Treasury Secretary
Douglas Dillon asked congress for one million dollars a month to protect President Johnson.

Fellow peasants, it was a soggy scene before the house appropriations committee. And in closing his red-trick career with this final pitch for more money Mr. Dillon revealed again a governmental adroitness he has consistently typified:

Mr. Dillon stated, "President Johnson feels that this additional expenditure is so intimately connected with him that he should not personally pass upon it."

He failed to explain why if Mr. Johnson could pass on the 8.7 million intimately connected with him he couldn't pass on 12.6 million, but no one was expected to notice this. That's Washington, say philosophers. It's also the Pavlovian response of sympathy.

The secretary of the treasury is supposed to be the watchdog of our moneybags. Mr. Johnson has been asking Mr. Johnson about that extra 4 million, not to congress.

MR. DILLON RE-EMPHASIZED that during the month since the Dallas horror the FBI has referred about 3,500 names of potentially dangerous persons to the secret service. But his second neglect was his sphinx-like failure to explain that all the (taxpayers) money in the world cannot protect any President who does as he pleases in crowds wherever he is and at any time.

This was certainly Mr. Johnson's performance throughout the election campaign and remains largely his performance today.

The Dallas horror notwithstanding, I have a sneaking feeling that Mr. Dillon would as soon eat at the Washington Monument as bring up that point with the President.

Mr. Johnson paid, and am pays, scant heed to the famous anxieties about him expressed in the press; including needless exertions on his health. Voting more and more money to try to protect any President who refuses to take the responsibility for continued protection of himself is like trying to stop measles with a rubber eraser.

Mr. Johnson's turn, speaks of economy in government. Yet with LBJ snaps off the White House electric light with one hand his spending for the executive office of the president in the budget increases 3.5 million from the previous year to 2.7 million rise next year. He's even had to ask congress for a supplemental million to meet the current payroll.

Question Time

With Twin Falls residents scheduled to vote May 18 on a plan to improve the city's water supply and distribution system, now is the time for anyone to pose any question about the water setup. Interested citizens have formed a bureau to provide speakers on the subject and no one should have the slightest hesitation about questioning the speakers. Citizens are not only entitled to all information that's available, but they owe it to themselves to approach the issue openly and intelligently. When voters mark their ballots on May 18, no one should be bothered by as much as a shadow of a doubt.

Here is the purpose of the interested citizens who will be speaking at dozens of meetings between now and the election. They are concerned with providing definite facts and information about the water issue. There's no place here for rumor or guessing and the speakers aren't involved in some sort of civic brainwashing project. Their only aim is to provide enough information to permit voters to reach an intelligent decision.

There can be no substitute for full and factual information about any phase of public business. Frequently, the public shows no interest in these matters, but all data still should be available to each and every citizen. Sometimes, even with full information on a subject, some citizens still don't absorb enough to answer their own questions.

A good example is provided by the water issue now at hand. There are some residents who still think the entire amount of money to be raised as a result of the May 18 election will be devoted to obtaining a source of better water. Nothing could be farther from the truth. As has been pointed out repeatedly already, the water project involves a source of better water and correcting all the other problems in the water system. These problems include inadequate pressure, poor distribution and lack of storage.

Even those residents who may have missed these points should feel free to ask about them. There's never any substitute for asking questions, and that's particularly true now.

LONG OLD RACE

Idaho's 1966 gubernatorial campaign may go into the books as the longest political campaign in the state's history. It was assured when Sen. William J. Dee, Democrat from Idaho county, announced his candidacy right after the end of the special session on reapportionment and redistricting. Mr. Dee may find the campaign even longer than he imagined, what with more than a year to go until the parties hold their nominating conventions.

It was patently obvious why Mr. Dee jumped into the race for governor so early. There are something like two dozen potential candidates for governor on the Democratic side alone. Mr. Dee figured he would get the jump for the Democratic nomination by announcing early. Instead, he may have only made certain that he will not be one of the finalists. By announcing himself as a candidate so early, he'll find he'll wind up as a popular target for Democrats and Republicans alike.

Dee also may have picked the wrong horse to ride in the 1966 campaign. He has established himself firmly as an opponent of the sales tax, figuring like some others that the sales tax is going to be so unpopular that it will be killed in an initiative election. There's a good chance he's reading public opinion quite wrong. Anyway, even if public opinion is against the sales tax now, conditions can change markedly before November, 1966. By then, the sales tax will have been effective some 16 months and everyone will have a chance to see how it works and how much revenue it raises. Opinion could change.

By opposing the sales tax and calling for a cutback in state expenditures, Dee also automatically invokes the opposition of the potent public education lobby. It places him in the untenable position of beating the drums for lower pay for teachers at the same time most leaders in the state are assuring everyone teachers are still underpaid. If he doesn't advocate lower pay for teachers and less money for education, Dee's only source for additional funds would be a massive increase in income taxes and perhaps property taxes.

A year from now, Idahoans will be feeling some relief from income and property taxes resulting from the sales tax. They might be reaching the conclusion it's better to spend a few pennies at a time on a sales tax than to dig up quite a few dollars to pay the balance of what has been one of the highest state income taxes in the nation.

Under the circumstances, it's quite doubtful if the name of Idaho's next governor will be Dee.

Views of Others

DANGER OF PESTICIDES
Until the publication of "Silent Spring" by the late Rachel Carson, the public was only dimly aware of the toxicity of pesticides and the danger these poisons held for mankind. What has not been clarified is whether the hazard is sufficiently great to demand a cutback in the use of certain pesticides.

The U.S. public health service hopes to determine possible relationships between long-term health effects and the use of pesticides in a study that will be under way by the end of March. The five-year study of whether pesticides are making people sick or shortening their lives will center on areas of California, Colorado, Florida, Hawaii, Louisiana, Michigan, New Jersey, Texas and Washington state.

The case for stricter government controls over the production and use of pesticides was given dramatic emphasis a year ago when the U.S. public health service found that one powerful pesticide, endrin, had been responsible for the death of millions of fish in the lower Mississippi basin. No controls were placed on the use of endrin, however, because it could not be determined whether the fish-kill stemmed from pollution released by a pesticide plant or from runoff from crop fields treated with the substance.

Synthetic pesticide chemicals are almost like radioactivity in their resistance to decay and in their pervasiveness. Pesticide residue recently was found in penguins and crab-eater seals in Antarctica—thousands of miles from land areas where pesticides are used in quantity. Yet it is difficult to establish reasonable and intelligent controls until scientists can better determine pesticide levels in the environment, and associate these human health.—Editorial Research Reports.

Poor-Man's Plato

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK, April 5—Memory is a foe of boredom. That's why over a lifetime a man's memory is his best companion. It enables him to remember good times and bad times, but not dull times.

For some reason don't stick in the memory. We forget them. Your own life hasn't been so dull if, you can look back and remember when John Barrymore became perhaps the first matinee idol in history to own his own yacht.

As a kid you hated to get a haircut because the tonic the barber sloshed on you left you smelling like a lilac bush for three days.

Back in 1921 the state of Iowa made it legal for adults to buy cigarettes. Another historic decision that same year: Despite prohibition, the U.S. attorney general decided doctors still had the right to prescribe beer for medicinal use.

The Doctor Says

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
Nursery schools are gaining in numbers and popularity. It is your too early to look ahead if you child will be ready in the fall. A young mother may want to send her child to a nursery school because she is employed outside the home. She may want more free time for outside activities. Or it may be that there are no children her child's age in the immediate vicinity.

Regardless of her reasons she should ask herself: "Is my child ready to adjust to this new experience?"

"Does the nursery school give him the kind of experience he needs? Does the school meet certain minimum standards?"

Since nursery schools vary widely, visit the school before enrolling your child. Thus you can observe whether the children appear to be happy. It is very important that each child should have a chance to tell the teacher and others about his experiences. Easy communication is a well-developed better.

Teachers should be friendly and understanding. In matters of discipline they should be firm but gentle. They should welcome conferences with parents. There should be at least two teachers for each group of 15 to 20 children so that one can give a few minutes of individual attention to a child who needs it while the other one supervises the group. One or more of the teachers should have had training in first aid.

While you are at the school inquire about such safety measures as protection against accidents and fire. Look and see if the toilets are clean and take note of the play materials and equipment.

In any contact with a group your child will be exposed to some infectious diseases. When these are mild they help your child build up an immunity to many common infections. This is an advantage. It is a regular experience in the armed forces that the first few months of training recruits have many infections, mostly of the upper respiratory tract. Youths from rural areas who have had limited contacts with others are always harder hit than those who come from the cities.

If, however, while your child is attending nursery school he has a series of four or five colds one after another you should consider withdrawing him from the school for a few weeks.

JUMP OVERCALL HAS WEAKNESS
The weak jump overcall is designed to disrupt the opponents' normal communication and make it hard for them to reach the correct final contract. It has two main disadvantages. The first is that sometimes the opponents stop to double the overcall and when they do the declarer and his partner are left with a contract that the odds were overwhelmingly in favor of finding the queen of hearts in the East hand. Hence he cashed dummy's ace of hearts, led a second heart, and finished his jack. Then he picked up East's queen with the king and discarded two spades on dummy's long hearts.

If West had just kept still it is likely that East might have made the hand anyway. He could have taken the winning heart finesse or he might have played out the ace and king of hearts and then thrown East in with a third heart after the queen failed to drop. Then East would have had to give South a ruff and discard or led away from his king of spades.

Senator Urges Full Probe of Ku Klux Klan

WASHINGTON, April 5 (AP) — Sen. Hugh Scott, R., Pa., today urged a full-dress senate investigation of the Ku Klux Klan's violence, disorder, record of intimidation, conspiracy and murder.

Scott made the proposal in a letter to senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield. He called on Mansfield to introduce the necessary resolution in the senate.

"Until we have a clearer picture of the organizational structure, financial resources and tactics of these bands of robed bigots who terrorize the South, I do not see how we can formulate legislation, such as that recently suggested by the President, which will effectively bring the Klan under the control of the law," he said.

Scott did not refer to the investigation now in progress by the house committee on un-American activities. The chairman of that committee, Rep. Ed. in E. Willis, D., La., said yesterday he had received numerous letters from southerners to testify before his panel about Klan threats.

Willis told television interviewers that most of his mail has come from businessmen offering to "come out with their experiences regarding what could be roughly referred to as threats of intimidation." He did not elaborate.

Scott said he believed it urgent for a senate panel to investigate the Ku Klux Klan's record of violence, disorder, conspiracy and murder.

He said some observers think there are 30,000 to 35,000 klansmen with 18,000 to 20,000 sympathizers in Alabama, Georgia, North Carolina, South Carolina and northern Florida, many reportedly planning to go "underground."

"One authoritative source has reported that there are 42 gun clubs in Alabama alone operating as fronts for Klan activities," Scott said.

But Scott said in a joint radio-TV newscast with Clark for Pennsylvania stations: "I wouldn't want to move everything out of Alabama just because I regard the governor as horrible and because their voting laws are discriminatory beyond description."

He said the proposed boycott "could well hurt the people that it is intended to help."

Clark said, "I think I agree with Scott that an economic boycott is probably a mistake. It just seems to me that there are better ways of getting at the underlying problem. I am afraid that it will penalize the innocent as well as the guilty."

King, at a Baltimore news conference Friday, called for a three-stage economic boycott of Alabama. The Clark-Scott broadcast was recorded prior to the Baltimore news conference, but King already had announced his intention to call a boycott.

Clark and Scott were among the first members of the senate's pro-civil rights liberal bloc to publicly criticize the proposed boycott.

Stories About Dr. Seagrave Are Recalled

Stories about the surgeon are recounted by his devoted nurse colleagues who helped in the administration of his hospital, and by some of the patients who were saved from almost certain death by his medical skill.

Sterling Seagrave, his son, recalled one of his father's favorite stories—about how he performed a delicate cataract operation with a razor because no scalpels were available.

"He was so mad he stormed away from the lecture hall and would not return until he had apologized," she said.

"He was a thorough teacher and made sure that each nurse understood the lecture. He would speak in Burmese, Shan or Kachin so that each nationality would fully grasp what he was trying to get across."

Head matron "Granny" Nao Mi Khan, who trekked with him on the long retreat from Burma before the Japanese advance in World War II and on the triumphant journey back, remembered the early days of the hospital.

Seagrave tried to learn Burmese without the equivalent medical terms in Burmese. It made for some earthy language, she said.

"His American colleague, Dr. Joseph Newhall, said that Friday was 'argument day'—the whole staff had to turn out for baseball.

"We used to get into violent arguments because he had changed the game from American baseball to American football with his own set of rules."

Administrative assistant U Tun Gheln, who runs the hospital now, recalled the time a woman's club in Massachusetts donated a wheel chair for Seagrave. He was furious when he saw it.

"I'll never use that damn thing," he said. Yet he did use it in the last three months of his life.

Fanny Po remembered the time one of his nurses was dying and urgently needed a blood transfusion. No blood was available. Seagrave quickly took his own blood to save her life.

The Rev. Don Cridler, an American Baptist missionary from Pennsylvania who runs a mission nearby, recalled the time he arrived in 1963.

It was getting dark and Dr. Seagrave was in the midst of a major operation. There was no electricity and the whole theater was lit by candles.

Pansy Po summed up the feeling of the hospital in these words: "He was brassy and bossy. He was kind and tolerant of his ailments but cruel and demanding of his friends. Perhaps he expected too much from them. He was a great doctor and a good man. We all loved him very much." Seagrave died March 28.

New Version Of Jetliner In Production

LONG BEACH, Calif., April 5 (AP)—Douglas Aircraft company announced yesterday it has in production a new version of the DC8 which will be the world's largest commercial jetliner.

The new plane, called Model 61, has a length of 184 feet—more than 32 feet longer than the series 50 DC8 and DC8P.

Model 61 will accommodate 251 passengers in an all-coach configuration, 43 more than any previous DC8, the company said.

Baggage and cargo space are proportionately increased, Douglas reported, and this would "enable an airline operator to pay the entire direct operating cost of the aircraft from cargo capacity."

The first Model 61 DC8 will roll off the assembly line in January, 1966, and will have its first flight about two months later.

8 Americans Get Awards For Rescues

DA NANG, Viet Nam, April 5 (AP)—Eight crewmen who flew helicopters through anti-aircraft fire to rescue 170 U.S. navy pilots downed in communist North Viet Nam have been awarded America's third highest award for bravery.

The silver star medals were awarded by air force Maj. Gen. Moore in a tight-time ceremony at Da Nang airbase.

Newsmen invited to witness the ceremony by American air force officials were ordered off the base by Vietnamese deputy base commander Capt. Bao.

The ceremony was over by the time Bao discovered the reporters and the Vietnamese officer sharply rebuked the U.S. air force public information officer for bringing in the newsmen.

The second crew receiving silver stars were: First Lieut. Joseph P. Phelan, 27, Stamford, Conn.; Capt. Clyde W. Lemke, 30, Utica, Mich.; 8/Sgt. John T. Regan, jr., 30, Tampa, and 1/Lt. John H. Young, 24, Portland, Ore.

The citation accompanying their awards said the aviators "distinguished themselves with gallantry in combat against an opposing armed force on March 2, 1965," when they flew "rescue missions totaling two and one-half hours over unfriendly territory" in search of the two navy pilots.

This was the first time the United States has officially admitted that rescue helicopters flew into North Viet Nam to pick up downed pilots.

Digestion Begins In The Mouth

By Dr. Ernest D. Paul, D.C. It is important to chew your food well. By doing so food is broken up into small particles, making it easier for the digestive fluids to work on them.

The saliva in the mouth contains an enzyme that aids in the digestion of potatoes, macaroni, white bread, cereals and other starchy foods.

Because these foods are soft when eaten they are often swallowed without enough chewing. Changing your eating habits will eliminate many causes of faulty digestion but if nerve irritations are causing your indigestion, Chiropractic will help.

One of a series of articles published in the public interest to explain the practice of scientific Chiropractic written by Dr. Ernest D. Paul or Dr. Ethel O. Paul whose offices are located at 717 Main Ave. North. By appointment only. Tel. 732-6522.

Four Local Women Receive National Award

Four members of the Twin Falls Camp Fire Girls council were presented national awards in recognition for their service to the council. Mrs. Wallace Bond conducted the ceremony of presentation at the Methodist church.

The Ernest Thompson Seton award was given to Mrs. Orval (Ada) Johnson and Mrs. Paul (Eloise) Carlson and the Wakan Service award to Mrs. Archie (Sally) Turner and Mrs. Leland Davidson. To be eligible for either of these honors a candidate must have been a registered member for at least five years and have given service beyond the requirements of the position held. In a manner which benefits the council and Camp Fire Girls as an organization in some outstanding manner.

The Ernest Thompson Seton award, named for the famous naturalist who was one of the founders of the Camp Fire Girls movement, is given to an adult who has served on a council board, as chairman of a board committee for a three-year term, or as an officer. She must have made a distinct contribution to the development and/or maintenance of council operations, by directing its work toward increased and improved service in any of the areas of group organization, training, program, camping, public relations, finance or personnel.

Mrs. Johnson began Camp Fire service as a Blue Bird leader. The past three years she has been on the local board; the first year as public relations chairman, the latter two as first vice president, and also a chairman of the candy committee.

The council feels Mrs. Johnson's greatest contribution is in the field of public relations, not only in the usual sense, but in the example she sets in her attitudes. As candy chairman, she handles the business end of the project in a very responsible manner.

Mrs. Johnson and her family are always on hand to assist in other council affairs, such as helping on work parties at camp, assisting with United Fund collections, or being on various committees pertaining to the council events.

Mrs. Carlson has been a member for many years. Local council records show leadership of a Camp Fire group from 1958 to 1961 and since then she has been a member of the local board as program chairman. She was an efficient, well-liked guardian, but her greatest contribution to the council has been through her work as program chairman.

Mrs. Carlson has served as a school group organization chairman, has helped at camp on work parties and at day camp, has solicited for United Fund, helped at the fair booth and given her support in countless ways.

The Wakan Service award is given to group leaders who have given distinctive service and cooperation to council over and above the outstanding leadership and creative program guidance given her group.

Mrs. Turner began her Camp Fire Girls career as a sponsor of a Blue Bird group. When the leader could not continue, she reactivated the group, and this was the beginning of a long series of the same kind of dedicated service. In the years following, Mrs. Turner has not only continued her leadership of her own group, but has helped with many other things. Several years she was school organizer for Bickel school. She and her group (now registering as the O WaTaCin Horizon club sponsored by the Triple Link club) have given assistance to many groups.

In addition, Mrs. Turner works consistently in the Leader's association, in any office where she is needed, at this time acting as co-chairman. She has been chairman of many committees or has been a member, always serving faithfully.

Mrs. Davidson began her Camp Fire work in 1959, first acting as assistant guardian to Mrs. Carlson, and has been registered ever since. The last year as an assistant to Mrs. Arthur Duncan. Their group is the Can-tackinwl group, sponsored by the Morningside school. Some years she was a leader, others a sponsor or assistant, but always actively helping whatever group she was with.

During one of the years she was school organizer at the Morningside school, and when there was no leader for a large group of Blue Birds she took them over herself, although her own daughter was not yet old enough to join. These she saw through Fly-Up and into Camp Fire, and then assisted with the group for her daughter.

She has continuously extended her service beyond the scope of her own group by being chairman of the Leaders' association, chairman of at least one of the grand council fires, though helping with many, and being a member of the program committee on the board. She has many talents, such as in organizing, in writing, and in dramatics, and these she uses to the great advantage of the council.

She devised an efficient system of committees for council events which utilizes the abilities of many persons who otherwise would hardly have been known or found. Her poems and skills have added originality and personality to council fire programs.

Heinsohn Puts Torch to Sagging Boston Attack As Celtics Down 76ers

BOSTON, April 5 (AP) — Old pro Tom Heinsohn put the torch to a sagging Boston attack and the Celtics gave Philadelphia a lesson in defense for a 108-98 victory Sunday in the first game of their National Basketball Association playoff series. With John Havlicek picking up the tempo, the Celtics moved into a 1-0 lead in their quest for a ninth straight Eastern division playoff crown. Despite carrying an early burden of personal fouls, the Celtics demonstrated their defensive prowess on the big plays.

The 75ers' Bill Chamberlain scored 33 points but Boston's Bill Russell played him to a standstill off the boards and frustrated his scoring bids on numerous occasions. Russell got 32 rebounds to Chamberlain's 31. Unable to play up to form during the season because of a foot injury in December, Heinsohn fulfilled Coach Red Auerbach's prediction he would be ready for the series by scoring 23 points. Havlicek, showing no ill effects from his damaged left knee and swollen right hand, added 20 while Sam Jones tallied 18. Hal Greer tossed in 27 points for Philadelphia, but the 76ers did not have enough offensive help from the rest of the squad. Boston's smothering defense was a big reason. Boston opened with a full court press on the first Philadelphia play but the Celtics, idled for two weeks waiting to swing into action, were running cold. Heinsohn took over with his team trailing 6-7 and sent them ahead 18-9 in a first-quarter flurry in which he scored four field goals and fed Sam Jones for a fifth. Just before the first quarter ended, Philadelphia twice closed to within a single point but could not regain the lead. Havlicek with 10 points and Heinsohn with eight picked up the Celtics again for a 27-20 spurt in outscoring the 76ers in the second period. Havlicek with 10 more points in the third period, edged Boston further in front 77-63. Philadelphia was able to close to within 82-73 early in the finale on a three-pointer by Greer. Then Larry Siegfried and Sam Jones combined in a flurry which clinched the victory. Auerbach was able to dip into the bench more than he anticipated, getting clutch play from Willie Naulls and liberal use of Siegfried and rookie Mel Counts. At the start of the second half, Chamberlain got cut on his left cheek in a collision with K. C. Jones as they scrambled for a loose ball and Sam Jones fell heavily on his right wrist when he tripped. The teams move to Philadelphia for the second game in the best-of-7 series Tuesday night.

Local Man Is Featured in Hunt Article

Steven Herrett, Twin Falls stock manufacturer and hunter, is featured in a cougar hunting article in the May issue of Gun World magazine along with a Connecticut executive and two Twin Falls big game guides. Herrett was involved with Bob Matt, Connecticut, and Dee Mayer and Fred Preston in a hunt for mountain lion in the Sawtooth creek area of the Idaho primitive area. The article, written by Matt, is titled, "Cougar for a Tenderfoot." The article deals largely with Matt's problems in chasing dogs, which were chasing a cougar, over hill and dale while wearing cowboy boots, which were hardly adaptable to the rough mountain terrain encountered. However, all ended well with Herrett and the two local guides ultimately leading the tenderfoot into a canyon where the dogs had treed a large cougar and Matt was able to make a telling shot with a Colt .357 magnum handgun.

Keane Doesn't Like Word 'Worry', But He Is Concerned About Yankees

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla., April 5 (AP) — Worry is a word Johnny Keane doesn't like. He'll settle for concern. And he is concerned, no matter how much he attempts to conceal it. In one breath, Keane tells you the 1965 New York Yankees are the best team he has ever managed. Then he admits he is concerned about those games the Yankees have been losing this spring. "I'm told these fellows are more concerned about conditioning themselves than in winning during spring training," he said. "But losing concerns me. I don't like to lose any time." Keane tells you he is not concerned about Mickey Mantle who seems to be having more trouble with his legs than ever before in spring training. "Mickey's knees have bothered him for years but he's never let that keep him from playing," said Keane. "He's a competitor and his competitive spirit offsets his ailments." But Keane saw enough of Mantle's fielding to shift him from center to left field, where the manager hopes there will be less strain on his legs and less opportunity to throw. "I'm leaning more and more toward keeping Mantle in left field permanently," said Keane. Earlier, Mantle assigned himself a goal of playing in at least 150 games. It is a safe guess that he will settle for 125 right now. The truth is Mickey has trouble coming in for a fly ball. You can almost see the pained expression on his face when he tries to reach down on stiff legs for a sinking liner. And he has shown only flashes of his once powerful throwing arm. The Mick can still hit, though. This is what keeps him in the lineup. Practically all concern about Whitey Ford his disappeared. The southpaw's left arm, which underwent surgery during the winter, has held up exceptionally well. "Whitey has been a big plus for me," Keane said. "Frankly,

I secretly wondered whether he'd be available to us during the early part of the season. But his progress has been remarkable. He has convinced me he's the same old Ford. Keane is content with his front line pitching—Mel Stottlemyre, Jim Bouton, Al Downing and Ford. He would like one more starter. "Our second line pitching has shown improvement," he said, "but it has been my biggest disappointment." Keane hopes that either Roland Sheldon or Bill Stafford can show enough to earn the No. 4 starting job. Pedro Ramos, Steve Hamilton, Hal Reniff and Pete Mikkelsen will handle the relief. Keane feels his catching, mainly because of Elston Howard, and his infield, are the best in the American league. Despite Mantle, he is enthusiastic about his outfield, which will add rookies Arturo Lopez any day now, Arturo, no relation to Hector, is still listed on the Toledo roster. No other rookie will make the squad, other than the two first year players—(GI) Blanco and Bobby Murcer) who must be kept. Keane's most lavish praise, however, is reserved for Roger Maris, whom he regards as the best right fielder in the league.

"The world series book on Maris," Keane said, "was that he was an under-rated outfielder. Now that I've had the opportunity to observe him all spring, I heartily agree. Maris can do so many things. You hear so much about his hitting but he's also a fine outfielder. I had no idea he was that good. You just can't take any chances on his arm. He is a five-point player. That means he can hit, run, throw, field and hit with power. There aren't many of that kind around. You get a four-point player and you're lucky."

"Franklin, you ate the candy bar I was hiding from myself!"

"How would YOU like to have someone call you a chip off the old knot-head?"

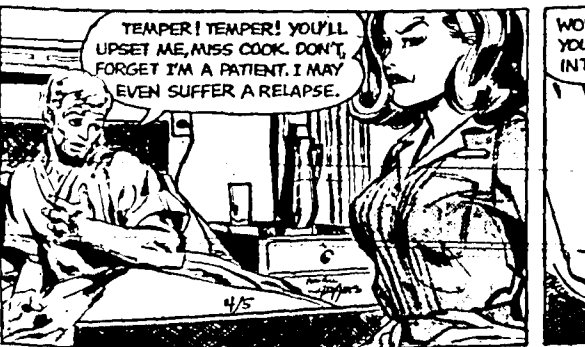

"He's not actually disobeying me! I told him to stay in his house till it stopped raining!"

"She's watching for a chance to look at those shoes I wore yesterday! Now to go into my act!"

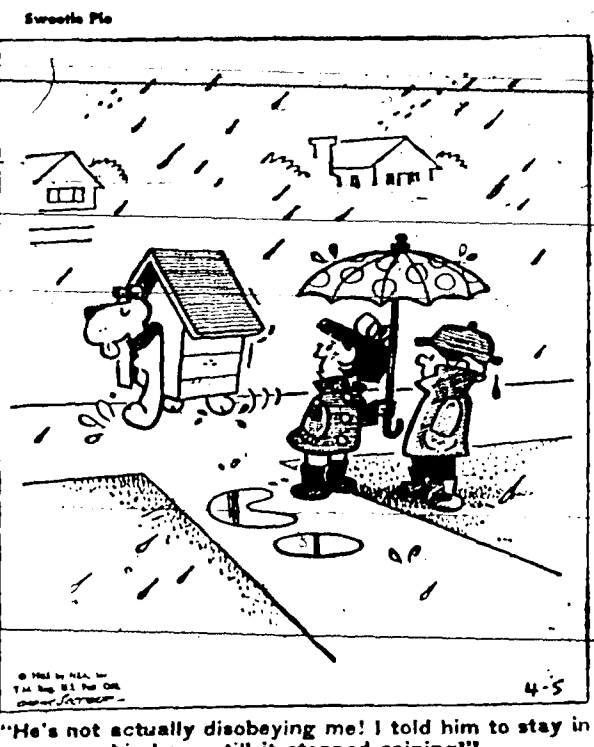

"What's he doin', tryin' to get a rabbit with a rock? Why, if one of us made half of that dust around his cook fire, he'd have a fit!"

"Temper! Temper! You'll upset me, Miss Cook. Don't forget I'm a patient. I may even suffer a relapse."

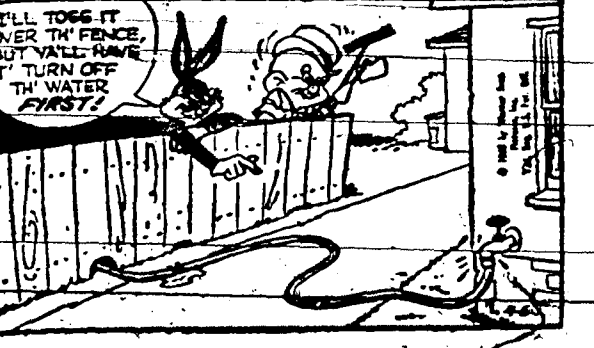

"The only way I can get back the tools you borrow is to come after them!"

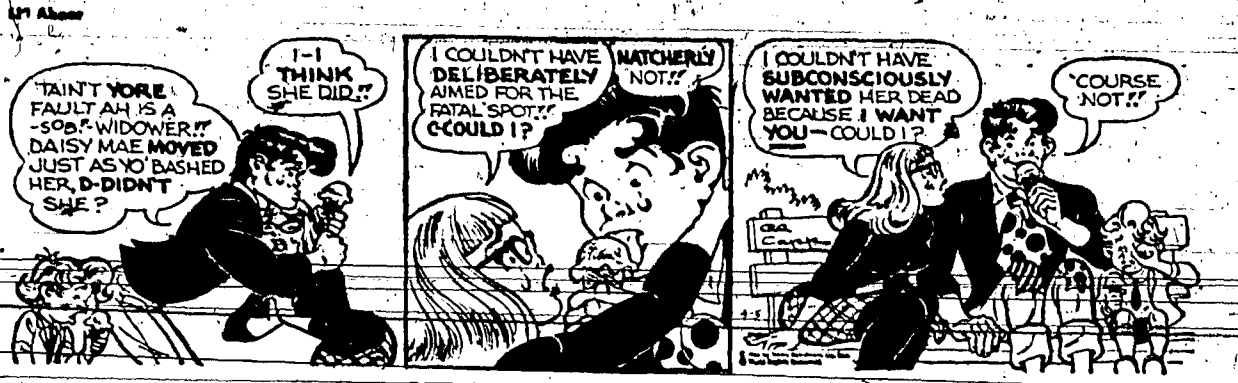

"Don't you dare patronize me, you..."

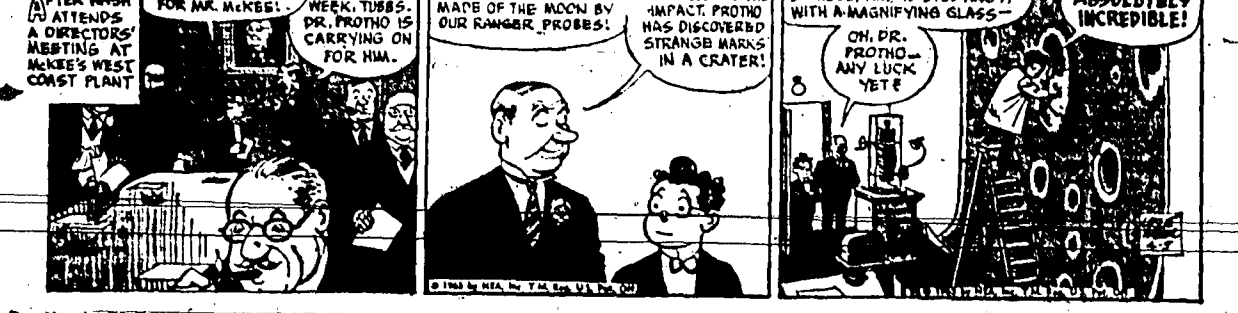

"I'll toss it over the fence, but you'll have to turn off the water first!"

"My hoe... my wake... and isn't that my spinkler?"

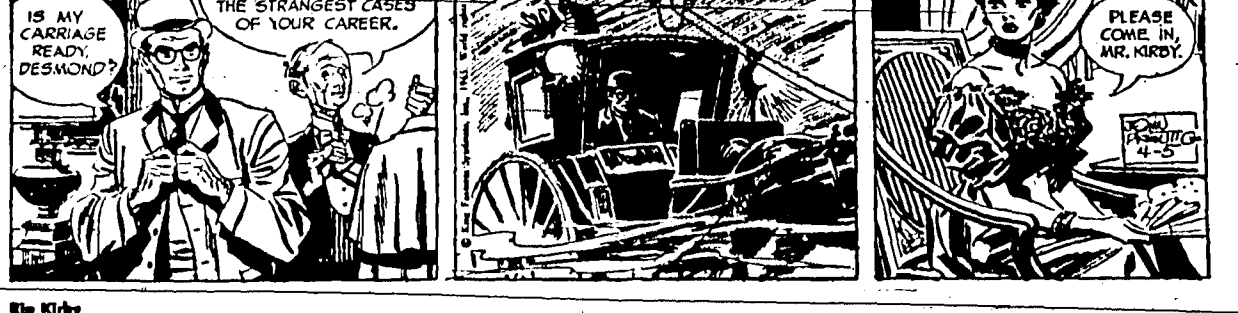

"I-I think she did!"

"I couldn't have deliberately aimed for the spot! Could I?"

"I couldn't have subconsciously wanted her dead because I want you—could I?"

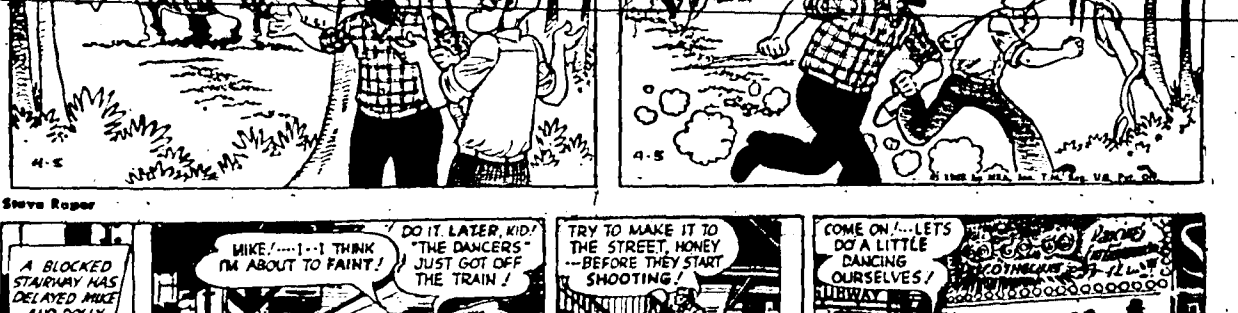

"Course not!"

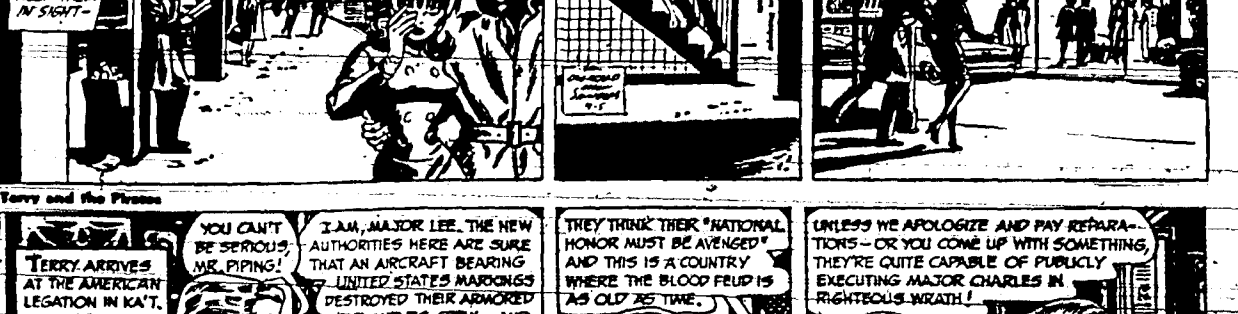

"After wash a directors meeting at Mike's west coast plant..."

"I know you Liz! What you told the police is a back of lies! Don't try to ruin my reputation!"

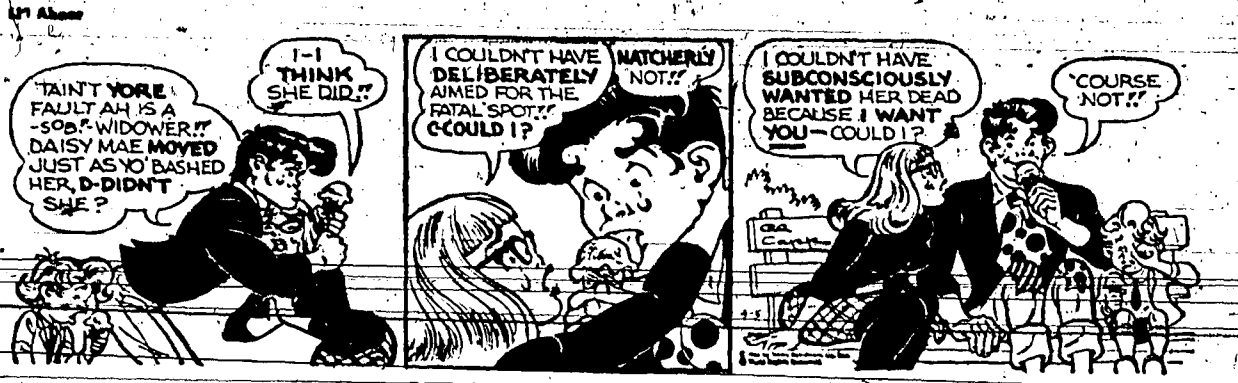

"What's wrong Liz? What did Roger want?"

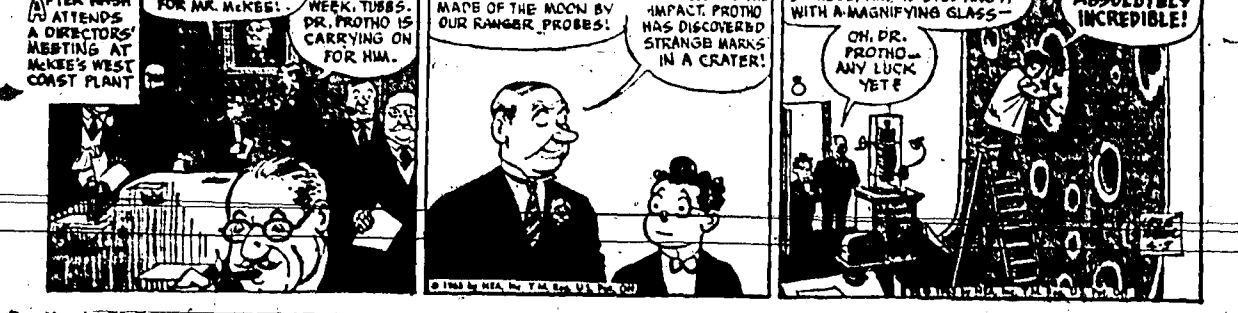

"He had that frame blown up high, and is studying it with a magnifying glass..."

"Incredible! Absolutely incredible!"
