U.S. Jets Bomb Military Road, Other Targets

SAIGON, April 7 (UPI)—Fifty U. S. navy planes today rained 20 tons of rockets and napalm fire bombs on military highway traffic in North Viet Nam. Other American planes attacked communist targets in South Viet Nam. The air war was intensified as U. S. military advisers counted 276 Viet Cong dead in a bitter battle 130 miles southwest of Saigon—the biggest victory of the year for government forces. Six Americans were killed in the three days of fighting. While the navy planes struck a 100-mile section of highway in the communist north, 20 U. S. air force Super Sabre jets pounded a suspected Viet Cong concentration just west of the American air base at Da Nang.

Flooding Forces Hundreds to Leave Homes in Midwest Area

By The Associated Press
Midwestern fields white with snow a month ago and dusty in one of the worst droughts in history six months ago are quagmires today. Deep snowpacks and April rain, necessary ingredients for successful growing seasons for farmers, melted in spring warmth and for the next few weeks will be an inconvenience and occasionally a tragedy.

Two persons drowned in Minnesota as springtime floods began. Murky waters slapped against the sides of homes in isolated sections of the country.

Flooding struck Cherokee in northwestern Iowa Tuesday as the Little Sioux river went about 10 feet over flood stage driving 350 persons from their homes. The river hit a crest of 27.1 feet, causing an estimated $500,000 damage.

The river hit a crest of 27.1 feet, causing an estimated $500,000 damage. It was the worst flood in the community of 8,500 in 74 years.

The Red Cross sheltered 650 persons from Cherokee, Waterloo and Marshalltown. The flooding affected eight counties.

The Zumbro river rose sharply in southeastern Minnesota. Flood stage is 18 feet, and the river hit 28 feet and was still rising.

Downriver at Theilman, flood stage was 38 feet and the river hit 47 feet.

Court Denies Petition of Prison Inmate From Burley

BOISE, April 7 (UPI)—U. S. district court Tuesday denied the handwritten petition for a writ of habeas corpus filed by an Idaho prison inmate from Burley serving two concurrent life sentences for murder.

Judge Ray McNichols ruled Earl David Boan, Burley, failed to present evidence his constitutional rights had been violated as claimed.

Boan, 39, alleged his rights were violated when he was not represented by counsel at a preliminary hearing into charges he murdered a fellow inmate at the prison in 1963.

Boan later pleaded guilty to a charge of knifing to death Ernest Blanco, 36.

In his petition, the convict claimed he was "pre-judged" at his trial in 1957 for the switchblade knife-slaying of a rooming house operator at Burley, Mrs. Pearl Arva Boan argued he was "pre-judged" in an account of the slaying that appeared in a detective magazine. The article was "switchblade for a Good Samaritan."

Boan also alleged his mental condition warranted his release from prison. He said he killed Blanco, "because I did not know right from wrong." Blanco was slain with a home-made knife.

Boan said his mental state was such he had tried to kill himself several times.

Meet Held Here on Sales Tax Repeal

Two Gooding county legislators who opposed the recently enacted sales tax during the past legislative session told a group of nearly 30 Magic Valley citizens Tuesday night that "in a democracy, the last word should be with the people. A referendum vote on the sales tax is a basic fundamental right of every citizen."

Sen. Don Fredericksen and Rep. Vernon Ravenscroft, both Democrats, spoke at a meeting in the Rogerston hotel Roundup room organized by Payette members of the Idaho anti-sales tax referendum committee.

Although a county petition chairman was not named at the meeting, a residential chairman, J. R. Douglass, and a business district chairman, Lynn Goodman, were chosen. The Payette men said they were gratified with the number of people who attended the meeting.

The meeting, during which no comment was voiced in opposition to the anti-sales tax referendum, was held to prompt area residents to organize and try to obtain the required number of signatures on petitions calling for a referendum.

R. H. Hanigan, Payette, a committeeman, said the goal is to get at least 10 per cent of all registered voters to sign the petitions.

In Twin Falls county, this would be a total of 1,900 voters. Hanigan said a total of 25,000 signatures would be needed from throughout Idaho to bring the issue to a referendum vote.

Senator Fredericksen led the gathering that 1,200 signatures had been secured in Gooding county during the last few days. See SALES TAX, Page 2, Col. 5

Ex-Resident Hurt Here in 3-Car Crash

Mrs. Leah Cochran, 39, a former Twin Falls resident, was reported in good condition Wednesday at Magic Valley Memorial hospital with injuries received in a three-car collision Tuesday on Blue Lakes boulevard north near Filer avenue.

She was driver of a 1967 Ford which struck the back of a 1963 Pontiac, driven by Darrell Ogden, 32, of Twin Falls. Impact of the collision apparently forced the Pontiac against the back of a 1965 Ford pickup truck driven by Christ Rest, 55, Jerome.

Mrs. Cochran reportedly was staying in Twin Falls while en route from Texas to Billings, Mont., where her husband has been transferred by his employers.

The accident occurred about 10 p.m. Tuesday. Citations are pending.

Soviet Jets

at 300 feet and lower—a move the Americans said was extremely dangerous because of their high speeds.

The bundestag convened on schedule at 3 p.m. (9 a.m. EST) in the American-built Congress hall to reaffirm Bonn's claim that West Berlin is part of West Germany. Soviet denials of this right sharply increased international tension.

But as speaker Eugene Gerstenmaier opened the session a four-flying-Mig bomber and a four-bomb passer at the hall, going as low as 300 feet. From then on the Russian jets had a field day.

They not only buzzed the Congress hall but ranged far and wide over the city. They skimmed so low that motorists ducked in their automobiles and pedestrians shielded in terror. At times the jets appeared to be heading for open windows.

At the Bornholmer strasse crossing point on the east-west border of the French sector, four Soviet jets roared into West Berlin and let go air volleys with blank shells. They pointed their cannon at West Berlin as they fired.

West Berlin police said the jets "fired bursts" but Western Allied officials said they were blanks.

Other jets were reported flying dangerously in the air corridors, imperiling Western planes.

The Soviet activities touched off a series of formal Western Allied protests.

The United States, Britain and France handed still letters to the Soviet government in Moscow demanding an "immediate end" to the harassment. They said they would hold the Russians responsible for the safety of air traffic to Berlin.

The Allies said the harassment was illegal and contrary to the four-power agreement on Berlin and they can only provoke tension in Europe. In Berlin the Allied commandants accused the Soviets of "reckless, undisciplined and irresponsible" flights that endanger Berlin air traffic. They warned that the low-flying jets could cause accidents.

But the Russians ignored the protest and continued today to buzz Allied aircraft and to clear the main highway. They also harassed traffic on the waterways in the tightest squeeze since the 1948-49 blockade that brought the world close to war.

Justice Court Moving to Courthouse

Twin Falls county justice court will be moved from the old hospital building, on Addison avenue west, to the third floor of the county courthouse, it was announced Wednesday by Justice of the Peace Al Robinson.

The new location will be in the "jury room" of the court house and District Judge Theron Ward has granted Judge Robinson permission to use his courtroom, also located on the third floor, for trials.

Most justice courts are located in county courthouses. "The move will save businessmen who have regular business in the courthouse, the time of driving to our present location to file small claims," Judge Robinson said.

The new location will also make it easier to consult with Judge Ward or other county officials if needed, Judge Robinson said.

Telephone numbers of justice court, 733-4784 and 733-4788, will remain the same, as will justice court hours.

The county commission has approved the move.

Sales Tax

Representative Ravenscroft said he felt Idaho's tax base "should be broadened, but that this can be achieved without the adverse effects a sales tax produces."

Frederickson, who is on the senate finance committee, said that "every budget was set so high that a sales tax was inevitable."

He said the new budget has a 36 per cent increase over the old. According to Frederickson, citizens who have been carrying the largest load will continue to do so, even with the sales tax.

Hanigan said that time is of the essence in getting petitions signed and notarized. All petitions should be mailed in by no later than May 10.

Jay Pritch, Payette, who is the organizing chairman for this year's election, said there is a job for everyone who is interested in seeing the sales tax referendum materialize.

BOISE, April 7—Hunters and fishermen are not the only people who get lost and need help, according to records over the past three years compiled by the Idaho fish and game department.

Hawley Hill, chief of the conservation enforcement division, says many search and rescue operations in which department personnel participate are to help persons who are lost in mountainous, wooded areas or sheep-hounds, injured miners or sheepherders, drowned water skiers or victims of back country automobile and aircraft accidents, mobile parties stranded in "impassable" river canyons, Boy Scouts or old timers who have lost their bearings, and Christmas tree cutters who have become stuck in snow drifts.

Incomplete records show that the department spent over $5,000 in three years on search and rescue efforts.

Participants in most search and rescue efforts include many county, state and federal agencies, as well as private individuals.

Senate Okays 15.3 Billion Defense Bill

WASHINGTON, April 7 (AP)—The Senate today unanimously approved a 15.3 billion dollar defense authorization bill yesterday, adding 8.2 million dollars to the pentagon's request to speed development of an advanced strategic bomber.

The 85-0 vote came after Sen. John C. Stennis, D-Miss., said he cured the Senate that the bill would give the United States an unprecedented military superiority.

But he said the estimate is based on whether "we are able to avoid a war—an extension of the war in Vietnam."

Senate approval sent the bill to the house, where it was approved by the house armed services committee.

In addition to a total of 121 million dollars for development of an advanced manned bomber in the year beginning July 1, the Senate added 133.6 million dollars to increase this year's quota of nuclear-powered "killer" submarines from four to six—the number originally planned by the pentagon.

The total of the bill was 13.4 billion dollars below the pentagon's requests, however.

The annual authorization bill authorizes purchase of planes, ships and missiles. Appropriations to finance the authorized programs must be voted later.

White Has Plan for U. S. Silver Supply

WASHINGTON, April 7 (AP)—A five-point program to halt dwindling of the U. S. treasury's silver supplies was submitted to Congress yesterday by Rep. Compton I. White, Jr., D-Ida.

"Unless adequate authority is given the treasury to control sales of its silver," White said on the house floor, "chaos will reign during the transition to a new coinage—whether the new coins be silver or not."

He said the control is needed to prevent melting, hoarding and exporting of the nation's coins.

He said the treasury should have power to limit silver sales to industrial needs, limit exporting, prohibit melting and hoarding, eliminate the silver futures market and license silver purchases.

Canada to Start Own Poverty Drive

OTTAWA, April 7 (AP)—Canada plans to match the United States anti-poverty drive with its own program "for the full utilization of our human resources" to ease hardship among the needy.

Gov. Gen. George Vanier outlined the plans of Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson's Liberal government in a 3,000-word speech yesterday opening the third session of the 26th Canadian parliament.

Three proposals dominated the policy statement:

- Calling of a federal-provincial conference as the first step toward a national medical care plan.
- Enactment of welfare and job-creating measures.
- Establishment of a company of young Canadians much like the late President Kennedy's U. S. peace corps.

Reactions to Farm Bill Listed

By United Press International

Reaction from officers of Washington farm groups to President Johnson's proposed new farm program varied from high praise to sharp criticism.

The sources of each were predictable—praise from the Grange, criticism from the Farm Bureau and a little of each from the Washington Association of Wheat Growers.

Oten Hofer, Wartburg, wheat growers president, said he generally agreed with provisions of the proposed new program but was disappointed that it was to be only for two years.

"Farming shouldn't be done on a short term basis," he said. Hofer also said that the program left a number of decisions to the secretary of agriculture which should be specified in the law.

Hofer indicated he was pleased with the provision that "profits from the market place instead of the taxpayer."

Grange officials indicated they were pleased with the entire program, particularly the so-called domestic parity or two-price system which the Grange has advocated for many years.

The Grange also had praise for the higher price for domestic certificates ($1.25 in the proposed plan against 75 cents this year) and the land diversion provision.

But Max Benitz, Prusser, president of the state Farm Bureau, predicted the bill would "kill Pacific Northwest wheat farmers."

He said a limit, as proposed, on payments to any one farm was designed "to reduce the size of farms and create inefficiency."

He also said it would be possible under the plan for the government to decide that wheat marketing certificates be distributed to states in proportion to the amount of wheat for export.

Benitz said the area should be cut off from the certificates which will form a major share of wheat farmers' income under the proposal.

Benitz said he was somewhat pleased with one aspect of the administration program—discontinuance of export wheat certificates. The Farm Bureau has backed a suit, now pending, to have the export certificates declared unconstitutional.

Bill to Outlaw Dyed Chicks and Bunnies Passed

SACRAMENTO, April 7 (AP)—The senate yesterday voted unanimously to outlaw the dyed chick and bunny business in California, starting this Easter if possible.

The bill, by assemblyman Philip Boto, D. La Puente, returned to the assembly for concurrence in senate amendments.

The main senate change added an urgency clause to make the bill take effect immediately when the governor signs it.

The bill prohibits dying or selling dyed live bunnies, chicks and other fowl. It also outlaws selling or giving away the baby creatures—even without dyes—by places where sale of chicks or rabbits is not normal business. Hatcheries, pet stores, and other legitimate animal outlets are exempt.

A similar bill was vetoed two years ago because of fears it would affect the poultry business.

U.S. and British Budget Plans Are Compared

WASHINGTON, April 7 (AP)—James Callaghan, Britain's chancellor of the Exchequer, yesterday unveiled the Labor government's budget for 1963-64. It showed that revenues would exceed spending by 1.1 billion dollars.

Two months ago President Johnson sent congress a budget with a 5.3 billion dollar deficit attached. Side by side the British and U. S. money programs look like this:

	British	U. S.
Revenues	24.4	94.4
Expenditures	23.7	99.7
Surplus	1.1
Deficit		5.3

The reason why London is in surplus while Washington is in deficit can be summed up in this way: Balance of payments deficit and unemployment. Both countries have the first. The United States alone has the second.

A major cause of the outflow of pounds sterling has been the fact that the British have been buying a good deal more overseas than they have been selling there. In 1962, their trade deficit was 1.5 billion dollars.

This is in marked contrast to the United States, whose exports exceeded imports last year by 6.6 billion dollars, although this plus was more than offset by the minus of U. S. investments abroad, foreign aid and tourist outlays.

At the same time, the British economy has been humming along at nearly full tilt. Consumers, businessmen and the government have all been buying goods as fast as British industry can turn them out.

The Labor government reasoned that if it could reduce the demand for goods at home, then the British industry could turn its eyes overseas and increase exports. Reducing consumer demand is what's behind the increased taxes on cigarettes, liquor, cars and other "non-essentials" announced by Callaghan yesterday.

And by canceling the TERS airplane project, the government is cutting its own claims on the British economy by an estimated 500 million dollars over the next five years.

The British government is able to clamp down on its spending and that of consumers only because the British economy is doing so well. Figured the U. S.

way, unemployment in Great Britain is now down to about three per cent. In the United States this would be hailed as "full employment."

The U. S. situation is quite different. While the U. S. government was faced with a three billion dollar balance of payments deficit at the end of 1962, Britain's was two billion dollars. It also had to think about a less rate of five per cent.

With nearly four million men out of work, it was unthinkable that the United States should run a budget surplus for 11 years—balance-of-payments or any other reason.

So while Callaghan is increasing taxes on many consumer items in order to take money out of the British spending stream, Johnson has asked congress to cut excise taxes by 1.7 billion dollars in order to pump money into the U. S. economy. Johnson hopes this will keep the current expansion going and maybe even cut a couple of joints off the unemployment te.

Instead of using deflation, the resident is attacking the balance-of-payments deficit by persuading bankers and businessmen to reduce their foreign loans and bring home some of the dollars they've been keeping overseas.

The British government is also trying to stem its capital outflow, but by doing away with some of the tax benefits of overseas investment.

BEING CHECKED by physicians is Sally Vanderwood, 18, Boise, as she reaches the base of a 10,900-foot mountain near Provo, Utah, Tuesday. She broke her leg and incurred heavy loss of blood in an airplane crash Sunday in the mountainous area. Three other passengers escaped serious injury and one, Richard Martin, 25, Boise, climbed down the mountain to seek aid. (AP wire-photo)

IRS Receives Tips From Informers

WASHINGTON, April 7 (AP) — Some 100,000 informers help the Internal Revenue Service each year by providing tips on people who haven't paid their taxes. The IRS says many do so from patriotic motivation or from duty. A few get paid for their duty.

The number of persons providing such tips has grown steadily.

An IRS spokesman said the service doesn't solicit income tax tips but merely evaluates those that come in and follows them up if an investigation seems warranted. He noted that the IRS and other law enforcement agencies use informers routinely.

Only one out of every 10 tips results in even a preliminary investigation.

In the fiscal year which ended June 30, the service collected $1 million dollars as a result of tips compared with 12.7 million dollars in the previous year.

The IRS paid $565,000 to 822 informers last year.

It has accepted tips for many years although the practice has been criticized by those who contend the informers are seeking revenge or perhaps are merely envious of a wealthy neighbor or employer.

A congress member who heard from some of his constituents on the subject asked the service for an explanation.

A recently prepared memorandum from the IRS said:

"It is important to note that the number of persons who volunteer information and make no claim for reward is 20 times as great as the number who do claim rewards. It is reasonable to assume, too, that many of those who do not claim a reward, are impelled to furnish information from patriotic motivation or civic duty."

"On the basis of these factors, it seems questionable that the elimination of rewards will eliminate informants."

The IRS figures indicated that over 45,000 persons offered tips in fiscal 1964.

One IRS practice may deter a few would-be tipsters: Whenever a tip is received, the IRS investigates the informer as well as the tip.

Site Inspected

CAREY, April 7 — Floyd Alman of Alman Construction company, Idaho Falls, Fred Fuchs, building superintendent of the company and Keith Sundberg, architect, of Sundberg associates, have inspected the grounds for the new school building here and staged it out for the cement footings and foundation and floors.

They report there is still a little frost left in the ground. They plan to order materials now and will start construction later.

Moscow Man Speaks at Legion Meet

SHOSHONE, April 7 — There are now 2,600,000 members of the American Legion, according to Mel Alsager, Moscow, state department for the American Legion, when he spoke Sunday to the district meeting held here.

He stated we need a strong, secure policy that a threat to freedom in any country is a threat in our country. "Communism must be confined," he stated and there can be no compromise in our defense of freedom.

"The American Legion is for law and order," he concluded at the banquet served to 80 members of the Legion and Legion auxiliary held at the Manhattan club Sunday night.

Lou Bobb, Boise, was master of ceremonies for the banquet and led a discussion earlier in the day, at the official meeting, on the proposed closure of 31 veteran administration facilities in the United States.

"Of these facilities, 11 are veterans hospitals," Bobb said. After a thorough discussion of the matter, the district members went on record in opposition to the closures and will write President Johnson to this effect.

Annual Boys' state will be June 6-13 at Boise. Boys' nation July 16-23 at Washington, D.C., and the state Legion convention in Shoshone, July 24-25.

This district was the first to attain its 1964-1965 membership quota and comes out with 102 per cent.

New officers elected for district four are Merle Owsley, Hagerman, commander; Charles Bate, Shoshone, and Joe Aquilre, Bliss, vice commanders; John Arden, Ketchum, chaplain.

Other officials present besides Alsager were Mel Chandler, Grand View, department vice chairman, and the Rev. Dwight Wilcher, Buhl, department chaplain.

Post activities for the year were given, showing considerable progress. There were 11 of the 12 posts in the district represented at the meeting.

Chet Floyd, Gooding, district commander, was in charge of the meeting, assisted by Grant Zollinger, Wendell, adjutant.

Local committee members in charge of arrangements were Charles Bate, Roger Kelley, Dennie Everett and Ray Martindale.

Mrs. Ringo Starr Is One of World's Least-Known Brides

LONDON, April 7 (AP) — The 18-year-old wife of Ringo Starr, one of the world's best-known bridegrooms — is one of the world's least-known brides.

Maureen Cox, or Mrs. Ringo, is a small, shy girl of few words. Since her Feb. 11 wedding to the Beatles' off-beat drummer, her public utterances have been about as rare as signatures of Button Gwinnett, one of the signers of the Declaration of Independence.

Maureen will not grant interviews. "She doesn't want to get mixed up with publicity," said a spokesman for the mop-headed musicians, "and Ringo doesn't want her to, either."

A search of the records indicates that Mrs. Ringo — real

Maureen looks a lot like Beatle herself.

She has as much hair as Ringo. Paul McCartney, George Harrison or John Lennon. Like the Beatles, Maureen likes bangs that flop downward in front of her eyes. She wears her ears exposed, as do the Beatles. Shapely in the right places, she's about two and a half inches shorter than Ringo and she stands about 5 feet 10 inches tall.

Her education is not extensive. She attended school at the age of 15. That's when she met Ringo.

Maureen says she doesn't remember where Ringo proposed but he said it was in London's Ad-Lib club, about 2 weeks before the chillsy January morning. Her education is not extensive. She attended school at the age of 15. That's when she met Ringo.

General Deer Seasons to Be Recommended for Five Units by Outdoor Group

A general deer season lasting two or three days will be recommended for the Three creek, Cassia and Albion management units, it was agreed at a meeting Monday of sportsmen and personnel of the state fish and game department. A five-day general hunt will be proposed for the Sublett and Black Pine units. Opening of the general deer season has been set already for Oct. 16 in all of southern Idaho, north of and including Bennett mountain and Lava units. Deer hunting is expected to be among the topics up for discussion Saturday when the Fourth District Sportsmen's association meets at Burley.

Meet, Banquet Slated for Outdoorsmen

BURLEY, April 7—The Idaho Fourth District Wildlife federation conference and banquet, hosted by the Cassia Rod and Gun club, will be held Saturday at the Burley Elks lodge with big game likely to be the main topic of discussion.

Sponsors of the event are the Fourth District Associated Sportsmen's clubs and the Idaho fish and game department. The meeting will open at 10 a.m. and end at 10 p.m. Introductions are on the agenda, followed by Idaho fish and game department reports on big game, upland birds, fish and conservation.

Following the committee meetings in the afternoon session, there will be open discussion and resolutions will be made for presentation before the state fish and game commission. The big game picture, particularly deer seasons, will most likely take up the majority of the two hours allotted on the agenda. At a meeting Monday of sportsmen and personnel of the fish and game department it was agreed that a general deer season of two or three days will be recommended for the Three creek, Cassia and Albion management units as well as a five-day general hunt for the Sublett and Black Pine areas.

Aaron Has Cast Taken Off Ankle

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla., April 7—Henry Aaron, veteran slugging star of the Milwaukee Braves, had the cast removed from his left ankle Tuesday and took a light workout before the night game with the Washington Senators.

Aaron walked with a limp, but said he hoped to be ready to return to his right field position in two weeks. He said he had been advised to take his time to make sure the ligaments heal properly.

Winter Over For Big Game Near Hailey

Winter should pose no more threat to big game in the Big Wood river area this season, reports Dale Tanner, Jerome, big game biologist for the state fish and game department.

Tanner reports a helicopter was used for the first time in that area for a trend count, which was delayed far later than usual. The count was made March 29 and 30, Tanner reported Tuesday. The crew tabulated 488 deer, 302 elk and four goats which were spotted in the trail creek area.

The count covered both sides of Big Wood river from Hailey on the west to Elk near sighted at elevations ranging up to 8,000 feet. Walter Huber piloted the Red-er Flying service helicopter. Department personnel taking part were Tanner, Dean Davis, Hester and Marshall Edson, Boise.

The last trend count of the season will be taken soon in the area from Bennett mountain to a point north of Gooding. Department personnel have proposed that deer numbers in the Cassia unit should be leveled off until range conditions show marked improvement and only then should any significant increase be considered in the herd.

Hank Peters Succeeds Friday As Athletics' General Manager

BRADENTON, Fla., April 7 (AP)—Forty-year-old Hank Peters, a career baseball man, succeeded Pat Friday as general manager of the Kansas City Athletics Tuesday. Peters has been farm director and assistant general manager of the A's. Friday will return to the insurance business he left in 1961 to become assistant general manager when Charles O. Finley became owner of the club. The announcement at a press conference said Friday will continue to work with the A's and Peters until June 1 when Peters formally takes over. Peters now is in charge of the Athletics' minor league camp in Daytona Beach, Fla.

Both Friday and Finley, the latter in Chicago, said the pressures of the insurance business dictated Friday's return to an executive position with the Charles O. Finley company, Chicago. They said the change had long been considered.

Explaining he went into baseball on a temporary basis and was leaving reluctantly, Friday said "the insurance company has been expanding, competition is increasing and my own personal interests need attention."

Peters' replacement will be named later, Friday said. While freely admitting the A's will have problems this season, Peters said he believes they are well on their way toward building a strong club.

Asked why the rebuilding was so slow, Peters commented: "When Arnold Johnson acquired the Athletics in 1955 he took over a defunct organization. I think the Philadelphia club had three scouts and about 50 players in the farm system. We tried to build things up, but we were handicapped because we had to operate on a very limited budget. In fact, our budget wasn't just limited, it was extremely strict.

"We did come up with a few players, but we weren't really competitive. When Mr. Finley bought the club, he was willing to spend more money. We have been especially active the last two years."

76ers Edge Celts 109-103 To Tie Series

PHILADELPHIA, April 7 (AP)—Wilt Chamberlain, scoring 30 points and grabbing 39 rebounds, completely overpowered Bill Russell Tuesday night as the Philadelphia 76ers defeated the Boston Celtics 109-103 to even the National Basketball Association's Eastern final playoff series at one game apiece.

The 7-foot, 1-inch Chamberlain also was credited with seven assists and eight blocked shots, while Russell wound up with 12 points, 16 rebounds and four blocked shots.

The 76ers, who lost the opening game of the seven-game series 109-98 at Boston Sunday, grabbed the lead early in the second quarter on a 14-4 spurt that gave them a 42-33 margin.

Although the Celtics, led by Sam Jones who scored the game high of points, cut the margin to 53-48 at halftime, they were never able to catch up.

The closest the defending NBA champions could rally was to within four points at 77-73 with 1:33 remaining in the third period. But Philadelphia scored seven straight points to lead 84-73 at the end of three quarters.

In the final quarter with the 76ers ahead 103-93, Sam-Jones hit two long one-handers, John Havlicek drove for a basket and Willie Naulls converted a free throw to make it 103-99 with 2:21 to go.

Here, Al Bianchi stabbed a long one-hander from the corner, followed by a pair of free throws by Chet Walker and a driving two-pointer by Hal Greer who scored 29 points for the 76ers.

LENTEN GUIDEPOSTS . . . Sit Next to Me, Please

By ROBERT H. ROCKWELL
Long Beach, Calif.

It was dark when I arrived at the home for boys one evening several years ago, but there was enough light to see the eager youngsters crowded on the porch and inside the doorway.

Parentless boys, or one-parent boys, they were. With avid interest they watched my approach. But the 40-mile drive had been a tiring one in heavy traffic after a strenuous work day. Frankly I wasn't too happy about the whole thing.

The trips were projects of our local Kiwanis club. The last time I had been asked to make this trip, I made an excuse, reasoning to myself, "I send them a check each month. It isn't necessary to put in an appearance at the banquets."

However, the time had come when excuses wouldn't do, and it was embarrassing to refuse. I was a board member, and board members were expected to attend.

"Going to join us tomorrow night?" came the inevitable inquiry from a friend.

"Why, yes, Bill. May I pick you up?"

"I did. And here we were at the home."

"This always is a big night for the boys," Bill whispered as we walked to the porch. "It's almost embarrassing the way they enjoy our coming."

Two youngsters, age 7 and 8, disengaged themselves from the other small fry and attached themselves to us.

"Will you be my company?" a solemn-eyed towhead pleaded uncertainly as he tugged at my coat.

"Sure thing, Pella!"

"My name's Jimmy, Jimmy Thompson. What's yours?"

I told him. Meanwhile the wide-eyed, evaluating gaze was unnerving. Emotions began to stir under the layers of fatigue.

"First time here, isn't it, Mister? Want me to show you around?"

"I'd like that."

He took me on a tour of inspection and importantly pointed out the gymnasium, the library, and his dorm, a narrow room lined with two rows of small iron beds.

"This is my very own wardrobe, see?" Pride was evident in the boys, but the boy seemed to be having some difficulty in breathing. Had we climbed that last flight of stairs too rapidly?

He opened the door of the not-very-wide metal cabinet and I was appalled at the insufficiency of his worldly goods. Guilty thoughts intruded as I mentally compared his inadequate possessions with the large, garment-filled closet and crammed toy chest of my own son.

"There's the dinner bell! We gotta hurry!" Jimmy exclaimed. "But let's not run, 'cause I've got asthma and I don't breath good when I hurry or get excited."

Then he stopped me for a moment. "Sit next to me at the table, willya, Mister? Please sit next to me!"

Of course I sat beside him. Bill was at the next table elbow-couching his small host. The guestless boys meanwhile turned their wistful glances continually to the tables boasting adult visitors.

By the time dinner was finished Jimmy and I were buddies. He had revealed that he was fatherless, that his mother worked in a supermarket and came each Sunday to take him home for the day, that he "wasn't much good" at athletics but that when he developed a "good breathing chest" he'd like to become a ball player. Once when he thought I wasn't looking a slender hand

Legion Units To Back New Scout Troops

The Snake river area council, Boy Scouts of America expects to increase the number of its units under American Legion sponsorship this year according to John Barker, Buhl, organization and extension chairman of the council.

Barker explained that the American Legion, now the largest sponsor of Scout units among veterans' organizations, as part of the Boy Scouts "Breakthrough for Youth" program has called a conference of its state Boy Scout chairmen at national headquarters at Indianapolis, Ind., in October. It will seek to get American Legion posts to back new Scout groups.

American Legion posts now provide leadership and facilities to more than 125,000 Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts and Explorers in 4,082 Scout units. Locally, there are seven units in the Snake river area council under American Legion sponsorship, with a total of 200 boys and adult leaders in Eden, Piler and Shoshone.

Barker said the national commander of the American Legion is an ardent booster of Scouting. He is Donald E. Johnson, West Branch, Ia., himself a life Scout who has five sons in Scouting and a sixth will become a Cub Scout in August.

Johnson feels the American Legion, if it is to fulfill its role of service to the youth of America as successfully in the future as it has in the past, must do better, saying, "The rising generation of young Americans must have access to the marvelous youth training program that is Scouting, and the American Legion must do its part to provide that opportunity."

During his administration, Johnson will visit the Philmont Scout ranch at Cimarron, N.M., and the national office in New Brunswick, N.J.

Policemen to Ride on All N.Y. Subways

NEW YORK, April 7 (AP)—An armed patrolman on every train during high-crime night hours is the new weapon in the city's drive to rid the subways of terror and attacks by muggers and hoodlums.

"The hoodlums and toughs who prey on innocent people are going to be taught a lesson—a lesson they need," Mayor Robert F. Wagner said last night in a televised speech announcing the emergency program.

The mayor ordered 1,200 men into the campaign. He said one or more policemen also would patrol each of the subway system's 480 stations between 8 p.m. and 4 a.m. He described these hours as the key "trouble period."

Speaker Set

CAREY, April 7—The Rev. Ronald Keeshan, assistant pastor of the First Presbyterian church, Twin Falls, will be the guest speaker at 8 p.m. Sunday, at the Community church here. Everyone is invited.

Robert Vernon, Idaho Power company employe at Twin Falls, was the guest speaker at the Community church Sunday night.

Indonesia Expels Peace Corps Worker

JAKARTA, April 7 (AP)—Government officials yesterday expelled a young woman peace corps worker because "Indonesia does not need the peace corps."

The official news agency Antara identified her as Judith J. Heining, 23, Springport, Mich. She had been working as an athletic coach at Tomohon in the northern Celebes since the first of the year.

Informed sources meanwhile said the Ford foundation, active in Indonesia for the past 10 years, will suspend its projects because of increased anti-American harassment.

The foundation has been aiding Indonesian schools and universities. The sources said foundation staff members will return to the United States.

Antara said the decision to expel Miss Heining was based on the "anti-American and anti-British spirit of the people of the Tomohon area." Anti-U.S. organizations had demanded that she be kicked out because "Indonesia does not need the peace corps," the agency said.

Escapes by Sea

TIBURON, Calif., April 7 (AP)—Called to Sam's Anchor cafe in this San Francisco bay community, officers surprised two burglars.

They nabbed one, but his partner ran out the back door, jumped into the bay and disappeared.

His method of escape—home-made water wings.

Cemetery Heads Elect Chairman

RICHFIELD, April 7—Richfield cemetery directors held their spring meeting to elect a new chairman and hear reports at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Donald (Cotton) Riley.

Scott Erwin was elected chairman following the resignation of Riley.

Mrs. Jack Hubsmith, clerk, and Guy Bottles, sexton, gave reports. Driveway markers will be installed as soon as weather permits, Bottles stated.

Hay Used to Stop Flow of Oil in River

BLANDINO, Utah, April 7 (AP)—Some 86 "bombs" of hay have been dropped on the San Juan river in southeastern Utah in an effort to save thousands of fish at Lake Powell.

The "bombs" were hay bales dropped yesterday from a C-119 troop carrier belonging to the 945th troop carrier group, U. S. air force reserves at Hill air force base.

The mission: To help stop some 5,000 barrels of crude oil floating down the river towards Lake Powell.

The oil gushed into the river early Saturday from a break in a pipeline near Aneth.

The rupture was repaired Sunday.

day, but the oil was already on its way to contaminate the lake.

Fish and game experts said the oil would kill several types of fish, especially trout and bass.

The bureau of land management and the Utah fish and wildlife department asked the air force reserve's help. They complied with a troop carrier carrying 8,000 pounds of hay.

The hay is expected to absorb the oil. A logjam has been set up at the mouth of the river to stop the hay from entering the lake.

Game Warden Rodney John said no effect on the fish had been noted by late yesterday. He said workers would sweep the hay aside as it arrived at the logjam. It would then be burned, he said.

Skin Diver Leads Four Out of Cave

MOUNTAIN VIEW, Ark., April 7 (AP)—The first sight of a skin diver bobbing to the surface did not surprise any of the spelunkers trapped in flooded Rowland cave, says Hugh Shell.

"But we hadn't anticipated the air escaping we put on some diving gear and go back with him under the water," said Shell in an interview Monday several hours after the aged-married rescue. "We thought he'd bring in supplies and we'd wait for the water to fall."

Skin divers led Shell, 40, Caveville, Ark., and three college students, one at a time, through the 200 feet of murky water to safety outside the cave. Shell and the other spelunkers Hogan Bledsoe, 20, Lake Village, Ark., and Steve Wilson, 20, Caveville, students at Arkansas Tech, and Mike Hill, 19, Caveville, a student at Arkansas College—came through their cave more than 36 hours in the cave being no ill effects.

One of the divers collapsed at the mouth of the cave and died after helping out the last of the spelunkers. He was chief damage controlman Lyle Thomas, 36, one of three Navy divers flown in from Washington to help the rescue effort. Dr. J. Burton, Stone county coroner, attributed Thomas' death to a heart attack.

The spelunkers entered the cave in this Ozark foothills early Saturday night.

"We were on our way out on Monday morning when we came on the water and we knew we were trapped," Shell said.

By none of us was ever worried. We had provisions for four days and we figured we could wait for the water to go down."

The spelunkers waited in a cavernous area known as the "bedroom"—the last room in the developed area of the cave, a scenic tourist attraction.

Then, Sunday afternoon a series of lights went on which depended from the mouth of the cave to the Cathedral room 900 feet inside.

Wrapping a pocketknife in plastic insulation, the spelunkers scraped a portion of electrical base and—shorting the circuit—started transmitting periodic S-O-S signals.

Monday—almost 24 hours after the first S-O-S—a skin diver struck the surface of the water.

Cross a Wildcat engine with a Buick Special, and what do you get?

A car with 9 lives and a very businesslike purr.

Why nine lives? You'll find that we build Buicks to last. That's one of the nice advantages Special has in store for you. As to that purr: you'll find it exciting to have a 210-hp. pet around the garage. Just say "scat," exert a slight pressure with the right foot, and it departs with stunning rapidity. If you're wondering how much one feeds a Special with a hood full of Wildcat V-8, remember that it won't cost you a cent more than last year. (Specials are friendly, as a rule, but they just don't seem to like gas pumps.) We won't tell you about the Special's lean good looks, its velvet ride, its docile handling, its pampering luxury. Take that up with your Buick dealer. (Also, ask him about an even wider species we've developed: the Special with a 250-hp. Wildcat engine. And a little more grin in its purr.)

YOUR BIRTHDAY and HOROSCOPE

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 7—Born today, you are extremely sensitive, particularly where your response to nature is concerned. Indeed, you respond so completely and favorably to the world of nature that out of this response you will no doubt be able to compound an entire philosophy of life. If you are fortunate enough also to have been gifted with the power of expression—and there is an excellent chance that you may be—you may well become one of the foremost literary exponents of the natural law.

Highly emotional, you are not one even to try to keep your reactions in check. So long as those things that bring joy and happiness, all is well; take care, however, that you do not allow yourself to indulge your emotions so completely that you forget how to control yourself should disappointment strike. Learn to temper feeling with thought.

It is quite possible that you will not marry until relatively late in life. This does not mean, however, that you are destined to lead a lonely existence until that time. You are certain to have many fine and true friends, as well as relatives, who will see to your needs. When you do marry, be sure it is to someone who feels as you do about the great outdoors.

To find what is in store for you tomorrow, select your birthday and read the corresponding paragraph. Let your birthday star be your daily guide.

LEO (July 24-Aug. 23) — Study up on those subjects which would give you the qualifications you need for the type of employment you want.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 - Sept. 23) — Avoid looking on others as inferiors. Seek the best in others and you will discover that they will do the same when it comes to you.

LIBRA (Sept. 24-Oct. 23) — Keep your hopes up insofar as the success of personal ambitions is concerned.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) — Take the practical approach toward all your activities today. It's a day of material advancement.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 22) — This may well be a period of depression for Sagittarius. Do not attempt to make important decisions at this time.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23-Jan. 20) — Avoid that self-consciousness that comes of being ill-prepared. When meeting with higher-ups, know what you're talking about!

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) — Take time out today to think over the family situation. You may be the cause for alarm in domestic circles.

By LEON DENNEN
Newspaper Enterprise Analyst
NEW YORK, April 7 (NEA)—Graft—the urge for a fast buck and la Dolce Vita are, also, as much a reality in the red world as they are in the "decadent" West.

Racketeers in New York, Chicago, London or Paris might well envy the ingenuity of their counterparts behind the iron curtain.

Red Poland, for instance, has been rocked in recent months by "economic crimes" in export, the railway system, the coal industry, the wholesale motorcycle sales organization and even in the herring-fishing industry. But these crimes according to Radio Free Europe are overshadowed by the meat scandal currently troubling Comrade Gomulka's Marxist-Leninist regime.

Top red officials—many of them devoted communist party members, of course—have conspired with Warsaw meat-handlers to increase artificially the weight of meat sold in government-owned stores.

By injecting water into the meat, and quick-freezing it, they were able to charge unhappy consumers high prices for a little meat and a lot of water. The extra meat made available by the fraud was easily sold at a profit of 100 per cent.

The profits, of course, went directly into the pockets of the socialist racketeers. Ironically enough, just as in the capitalist West, the top-schelon Reds and their accomplices used their ill-gained money to buy diamonds for their wives and girl friends, cars, villas and even dollars for a rainy day.

This was finally revealed at the trial of Stanislaw Wawrzeczek, a high-ranking Red and manager of Poland's meat trust, who was subsequently executed for his capitalist tastes.

But were the unlucky Wawrzeczek and his 10 accomplices who were sentenced to prison terms the only communist bureaucrats involved in the racket? Far from it. According to the prosecutor's statement at Wawrzeczek's trial it would have been easier to name the few officials in the meat trade who did not take bribes than those who took them.

However, Poland is not the only Red country plagued by graft and corruption. Radio Free Europe's analysts report similar crimes against the "socialist economy" in Bulgaria, Czechoslovakia, Romania and Hungary.

Even more exotic than the Polish scandal was the "Bolshe Vita" case in Red Hungary where Lajos Onody, director of the government's catering service, was recently sent to prison for "damaging socialist property."

Among the intriguing details revealed at his trial were accounts of wild drinking, parties at plush villas near Budapest, naked but chocolate-covered Hungarian hostesses were the grand prize for an evening of winning play at host Onody's roulette table.

His clients were not just vulgar capitalists. High-ranking communist officials, including the Hungarian minister of defense, frequently indulged both gambling fever and sweet tooth.

Hungarians are avid salami consumers so it is not wonder that one of Onody's co-defendants was known as the "Salami Queen" to her admirers. But salami and illegal meat were not the only items that figured at the trial. Honeycake Enterprises was also listed as one of the government-owned shops which contributed foodstuffs for Onody's parties.

It is unusual for the communist press to report such scandals in high places under the rug. After all, according to Marxist-Leninist theory, corruption is typical of capitalist society.

Yet the current rank of salami in Poland, Hungary elsewhere behind the iron curtain only proves the old proverb that the more they change the more they are the same.
