Midwest Youths Join Volunteers To Fight Floods

By The Associated Press
A small army of students and other volunteers rushed sandbagging operations today as unwelcome rains sent floodwaters pouring into more residential and business areas in the Midwest. Hundreds were homeless in Iowa and Minnesota, the hardest-hit areas, and damage was expected to soar into the millions of dollars. More than 5,000 flood fighters, half of them from high schools, filed sandbags against the swollen Mississippi river in the Waterloo, Ia., area where the swollen Cedar river aimed another flood punch.

The crest near its 1961 record of 21.86 feet at Waterloo level at stage is 15 feet. Another 200 college and high school students helped push sandbags in operations at Mankato, Minn., where Mayor Rex Hill declared a state of emergency. National guardsmen also were ordered into the flood battle. The Minnesota river bulged with new floodwaters in the Mankato area after an ice jam broke up in the tributary Blue earth river. The river reached a 10-foot level at Mankato, but the 10-foot dike protecting the city at been raised three to four feet by round-the-clock sandbagging operations that started Tuesday. Two persons were killed Wednesday in a southern Minnesota storm and two children were missing after the swollen river in Minnesota.

At present, Early Bird is circling the Earth every 11 hours and 10 minutes. At the highest point in its orbit, the so-called "switchboard in the sky" is 22,680 statute miles in space. At its perigee, or low point, it narrows its pass around the Earth to 900 miles.

But at 8:30 a.m. EST Friday scientists will move Early Bird into its permanent orbit — a "stationary" one over the equator off the coast of Brazil. Actually, the stationary part of the orbit is an illusion. The satellite will be synchronized with the speed of the Earth, appearing to hang in space.

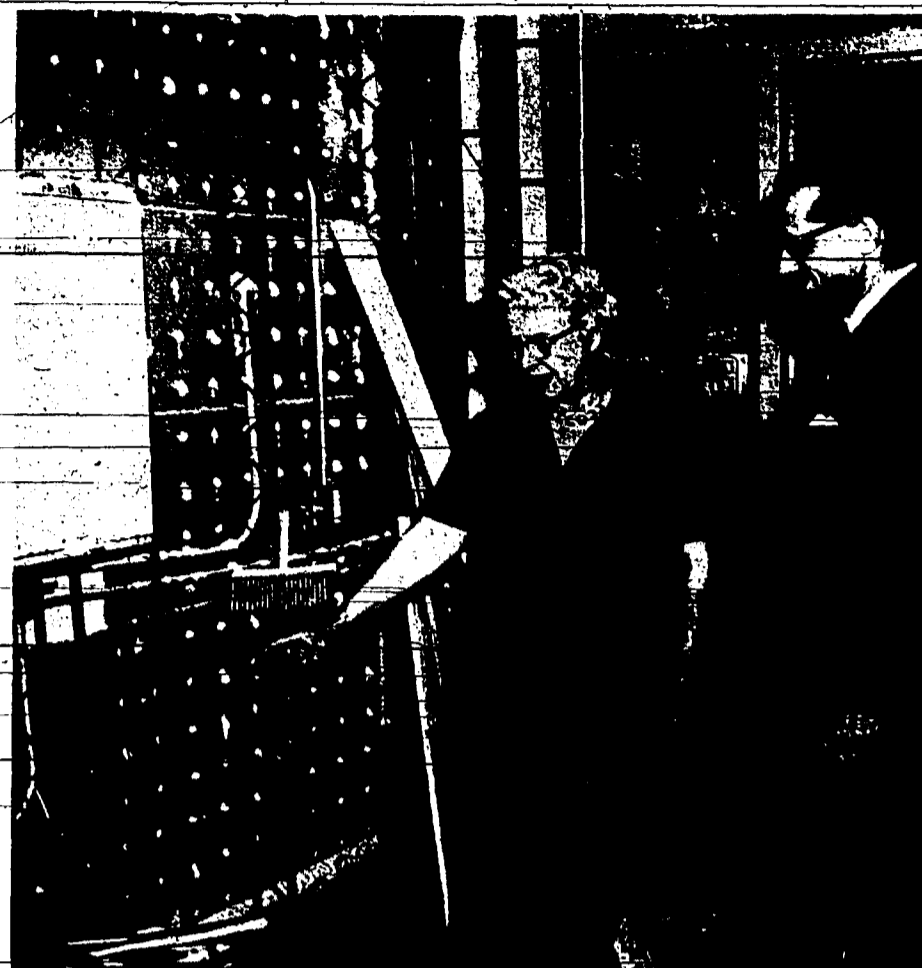

After the spogee motor moves it into the new orbit, other, minor corrections will be made by peroxide gas jets to put Early Bird "on station."

Once it is in its final position, Early Bird can begin work. However, Comsat is not expected to sell its services to the public until June 1.

Red Resigns Ministry Post In Viet Nam
SAIGON, April 8 (AP)—Diplomatic observers today saw great significance in a shakeup of communist North Viet Nam's foreign ministry.

The Hanoi regime announced last night that Foreign Minister Xuan Thuy was resigning because of health and that his job was being taken by Vice Premier Nguyen Duy Trinh.

It's 'Work as Usual' at Hospital Despite Major Remodeling Job

Operations are continuing in full swing at Magic Valley Memorial hospital as construction workers carry on a major remodeling project throughout the hospital. Walls have been removed and new ones constructed, ceilings have been removed to install new air conditioning units and new rooms have been constructed, but personnel at the hospital continue their work as though nothing is happening. In the radiology department where most of the construction work is now being done, workers and doctors face the biggest problems, because during film processing of X-rays, no doors may be opened and the doctors must work in a dark room.

This department now consists of two diagnostic rooms, a therapy room, a dark room, a radiologist's office, a reading and viewing room and waiting area in the corridor.

When remodeling is completed, it will consist of three diagnostic rooms, a therapy room, a dark room with automatic film processor, a make-up room, a viewing and reading room, two radiologists' offices and a reception room.

The proposed expansion in this area includes a new diagnostic machine and equipment for making studies of different parts of the body.

Mrs. Irene Oliver, administrator, said she, as well as others at the hospital, are thankful the patients are showing cooperation during the construction work. She also said hospital personnel see REMODELING, Pg. 8, Col. 3

Johnson Says U.S. Ready to Negotiate On Viet Nam Issue

WASHINGTON, April 8 (AP)—President Johnson, using the identical words he employed in a major foreign policy address to the nation, formally told 17 unaligned nations today the United States is ready for unconditional Viet Nam peace talks. Officially, the reply to an appeal from the 17 countries for quick and unconditional negotiations, aimed at settling the Vietnamese conflict, was a statement by the United States government, rather than Johnson. However, the key language was taken, intact, from the President's policy speech last night in Baltimore.

The American statement welcomed declaration of the 17 nations, delivered a week ago today, as "a constructive contribution to the effort for peace."

From the United Nations, meanwhile, came a message from Secretary-General U Thant welcoming the Johnson speech as constructive and statesmanlike. Thant said he believes the speech will prove helpful.

The President says the U. S. is ready without preconditions to sit down to Viet Nam peace talks with the communists. And even before any peace talks start, the President said last night in a major foreign policy address, the United States is prepared to initiate a massive cooperative economic development program for all of Southeast Asia, including communist North Viet Nam.

He proposed that U. N. Secretary-General U Thant launch the plan, invited all industrialized countries including the Soviet Union to join and said he is naming a special team of prominent Americans headed by Eugene Black, former president of the World Bank, to guide U. S. But while showing the communist world the carrot, the President did not forget the stick.

He said of U. S. involvement in the war at the side of South Viet Nam, "We will not withdraw See JOHNSON, Page 2, Column 4

Reaction of Congressmen Varies Widely
WASHINGTON, April 8 (AP)—Congressmen differed widely in their reaction to President Johnson's foreign policy speech last night. Democrats generally praised it as "moving and constructive" while Republicans generally accused Johnson of trying to buy peace in Southeast Asia.

Everett M. Dirksen sounded the keynote for the GOP side of the aisle and Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield did the same for his party.

"Do you buy freedom for a humble people with a billion dollar package?" Dirksen said in a statement. "I doubt it, and I doubt also that we can preserve face and prestige with such an approach."

What a tragedy it would be if our action now should be interpreted as meaning that the Viet Cong would humiliate us in making a billion dollar offer in order to cut it quits when freedom is on the altar," Dirksen said.

Bellevue Man Dies In Mining Accident

HAILEY, April 8—Simon Lete, 28, died of injuries sustained in an accident Wednesday afternoon at the Silver Star Queens mine, operated by the Federal Resources company near here.

According to Roy Dondoro, project manager, Mr. Lete, who resided at Bellevue, was working at the 450-foot level with two fellow workers, William Kohler and Patrick Ramsey, when a carload of ore overturned on him. He was pinned underneath the car and it was reported six men lifted the car from his body.

Dondoro said the accident occurred about 12:30 p.m. Wednesday. He was taken to Blaine County Memorial hospital, where he died about 2:15 p.m.

Simon Phillip Lete was born March 27, 1937, at Shoshone, later moving with his family to a ranch south of Bellevue. He attended schools at Shoshone and Bellevue, and Boise Junior college.

He was a member of St. Charles Catholic church, Hailey, and served four years with the air force in England. He was married July 23, 1960.

Survivors include his widow, the former Carol Johnson, Hailey; a son, Dan, 4, and daughter, Alicia, 8 months; a brother, Mitchell, Bellevue; parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Lete, Bellevue; three sisters, Mrs. Alicia Eden, Hailey; Mrs. Anita Young, Bellevue; and Judy Lete, student at Idaho State University, Pocatello, and maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Simon Bilbao, Shoshone.

Rosary will be recited at 8:30 p.m. Friday at St. Charles Catholic church. Requiem mass will be celebrated at 10:30 a.m. Saturday at the church with the Rev. Francis DeNardis as celebrant. Final rites will be held at the Bellevue cemetery. The family suggests memorial donations to the Blaine county hospital or St. Charles Catholic church.

U. S. Parachutist Dies of Injuries
WIESBADEN, Germany, April 8 (AP)—Maj. Gen. John K. Hester, commander of the U. S. 17th air force, died today of brain damage suffered in a parachute jump. Hester, 48, had been in a coma since the accident April 2.

Hester was injured when he landed with a partly inverted chute after jumping from an altitude of 1,250 feet.

Doctors performed emergency surgery to relieve pressure and remove a clot from the brain's surface, but Hester never regained consciousness.

Hearing Set
A public hearing on the proposed rules for federal retention or disposal of public lands is set for 9:30 a.m. Friday in the Twin Falls American Legion hall.

The proposed regulations would implement legislation passed by the 88th congress dealing with approximately 460 million acres administered by the bureau of land management.

Any interested person is invited to attend the meeting. Karl S. Landstrom, assistant to Stewart L. Twin Falls, secretary of the interior, will conduct the hearing.

Fairfield Misses Quota By 12 Pints
FAIRFIELD, April 8 — Fairfield's quota of 75 pints was missed by 12 pints at a blood drawing Wednesday in the high school gymnasium. Two of the 65 persons who turned out for the drawing were rejected.

Receiving one-gallon pins were Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Cook, George Gill, Mrs. Leslie Bartholomew, Mrs. Harold Lee, Mrs. Claude Ballard, William A. Simon and Chester E. Jones.

Those assisting with the drawing were Dr. Marion J. Kerns; Mrs. Glenn Miller and Mrs. John Gaenzle, typists; Mrs. Willard Wilson, who took temperatures; Mrs. Lloyd Barron and Mrs. Wesley Fields, registered nurses; Mrs. Rex McDonnald and Mrs. Earl Wilson, nurses aides; Mrs. Charles Scoggin and Mrs. Lee Daniel, in charge of numbering, and Mrs. Hubert Lewin and Mrs. Gerhard Schmidt, serving in the canteen.

Arrangements for the drawing were made by Mrs. Lloyd Barron, local Red Cross chairman.

Reds Continuing Berlin Harassment

BERLIN, April 8 (AP)—The communists closed the Berlin autobahn for a second time today after reopening it on the challenge of a U. S. army convoy. After the U. S. convoy sped the 110 miles eastward from West Germany to Berlin, the autobahn was shut down again. A Soviet officer said the road would be closed for five hours. The shutdown earlier in the day was for three hours. Shortly after the second shutdown, a joint U. S.-British convoy of three vehicles showed up at Helmstedt, the Soviet checkpoint at the western end of the autobahn, to test the order.

In the convoy were two British military cars and an American sedan. The five-hour shutdown announced by the Soviet officer was the longest yet in a week of com. See AUTOBAHN, Page 2, Col. 4

200 Reds Are Killed in Major Battle

SAIGON, South Viet Nam, April 8 (AP)—U. S. officials claimed today that up to 200 Viet Cong guerrillas were killed last night in a major battle with Vietnamese marines in Binh Dinh province, about 320 miles northeast of Saigon.

Five South Vietnamese were reported killed and 25 wounded. There were no American casualties, the Americans said. It was the second major success claimed this week in the ground war against the communists. U. S. officials reported yesterday that 276 Viet Cong were killed and 33 captured in a three-day battle in the Mekong river delta 130 miles southwest of Saigon. Six Americans and 16 South Vietnamese soldiers died in that battle.

Twenty junior naval officers quietly mutinied and ousted Adm. Chung Tan Cang, the Vietnamese naval commander, and his deputy, Cmdr. Lam Nguon Tang. Both disappeared and were believed to be in hiding. There was no shooting. Vietnamese air force Skyraiders circled over the city for a while.

Early Bird Passes First Space Test

WASHINGTON, April 8 (AP)—Early Bird, a commercial profit-making satellite, passed its first space test with an A-OK rating.

Officials at Communications Satellite Corporation (Comsat) headquarters said telemetry reports today showed that it was performing on a better-than-hoped-for scale.

One of its first tests was a sneak preview television test. Comsat officials said a test pattern was transmitted through the satellite, which is designed to carry trans-Atlantic shows plus telephone calls and traffic data. The test had not been scheduled until a later date, officials said.

But Early Bird still faces its toughest workout. The 85-pound moon will be "kicked" into a new orbit by a ground signal.

At present, Early Bird is circling the Earth every 11 hours and 10 minutes. At the highest point in its orbit, the so-called "switchboard in the sky" is 22,680 statute miles in space. At its perigee, or low point, it narrows its pass around the Earth to 900 miles.

State Horse Racing Group Slates Meet

BOISE, April 8 (AP)—Dates for Idaho's 1965 horse racing will be set at a meeting of the state horse racing committee in Burley Saturday.

The session will be held at the Windsor Inn beginning at 10 a.m. Oppenheimer said, and anyone interested is welcome to attend.

Groups planning to sponsor meetings this year will have representatives at the session, Oppenheimer said, and dates will be lined up to avoid any conflicts. He said rules for conducting racing meets will be reworked.

In addition to Oppenheimer, members of the racing committee are Clarence Matthews, Okla., vice president, and Leigh Olsen, Rigby, Kenneth Hammond, Boise, is secretary.

It will be the second season of horse racing with pari-mutuel betting. The betting was authorized by the 1963 legislature over the veto of Gov. Robert Smylie and the 1965 legislation would consider bills which would have repealed the act.

Idahoan Suggests Small Counties Precede Because of Reapportionment

BOISE, April 8 (AP)—Save your moderate money, boys, the state is rising again. Although hostilities between north and south ended approximately 100 years ago tomorrow, a new day of hostilities was born this day on the hills of southwestern Idaho.

It is the suggestion of Clark Hamilton, a merchant and erstwhile candidate for governor, it is to be a "consolidation of free territories of America—the United States is to be composed of small counties having been banished from the state of Idaho."

And it calls for outright "secession." A form of "abolition" is behind it all.

Hamilton, and a number of friends and acquaintances he says are with him in this move, contends the representation of small Idaho counties has been "abolished by reapportionment of the Idaho state senate."

"I don't believe it ever was the intention of our founding fathers to take away the legislative prerogatives of the state's small counties and give them to the cities," Hamilton said, in a telephone interview.

"Governmentally, it's wrong and it's diluting the respect of the people of Idaho for our form of government," he added. "Everybody's plum disgusted with this deal. Republicans and Democrats alike."

As the principal perpetrator of this deed, Hamilton sees his old political nemesis, Robert E. Smylie, rise to governor in the general election of 1964 was Hamilton's fall.

"It was a 'new day' steamroller," Hamilton said of the reapportionment plan adopted at a special legislative session last month. He referred to the "new day" program which Smylie addressed IDAHOAN, Page 2, Column 4

Three Indicted
BIRMINGHAM, Ala., April 8 (AP)—A federal grand jury disclosed yesterday it had indicted three Ku Klux Klansmen for violating the civil rights of the late Mrs. Viola Liuzzo, a charge punishable by 10 years in prison, a $5,000 fine, or both.

College Head Addresses PTSA Meet

It's my intention to have a very good school beginning Sept. 1," Dr. James Taylor, president of the Twin Falls junior college, declared Wednesday night at the Twin Falls high school PTSA final meeting of the year.

Commenting on the fact the junior college is no longer "prospered" but a fact, Dr. Taylor said the board is expecting about 250 students in the academic part of the college and perhaps 150 in the vocational-technical program this fall.

Curriculum at the junior college will satisfy freshmen year requirements at any college in the United States, the president declared. Standards are being set by the board and availability of teachers is being investigated. It is expected that teachers in the academic section will have master's degrees in the field in which they teach.

Soviet Union Has Shortage Of Teachers

MOSCOW, April 8 (UPI)—The communist party newspaper Pravda complained yesterday of a shortage of teachers in the Soviet Union which claims to have one of the best systems of secondary education.

Pravda said that a "deplorably low figure" of men want to make teaching their career.

The newspaper disclosed that the nation's teachers colleges turned out 130,000 men and women teachers last year but added "still a number of schools do not have enough teachers, especially in mathematics, physics, chemistry, and foreign languages."

"It is necessary to turn out in detail, how many and what sort of teachers are needed at least until 1975," Pravda said.

"Only then will it be possible to plan and organize the training of teachers."

Money for Bubble-Top Auto Okayed

WASHINGTON, April 8 (UPI)—The house has voted $325,000 to build an armored bubble-top limousine for use by President Johnson.

Johnson did not ask for the money. And the house, except for a few members, did not know it was appropriating the funds.

The sum, plus $197,000 to build a special follow-up car for use by the secret service, was included in a 6.6 billion dollar appropriation bill for the post-office and treasury departments which the house passed Monday and sent to the senate.

In a report to the house, the appropriations committee noted that it had written into the bill an extra $3,877,000 — over and above what the President's budget had called for — to beef up presidential protection.

The committee noted that this covered, among other things, the hiring of 250 additional agents plus a start toward automation of the secret service files. No mention was made of the plans to build a new bullet-proof limousine.

Rep. Tom Steed, D., Okla., chairman of a subcommittee that handled the bill, said yesterday the subcommittee had been advised of the plan by letter after its formal hearings. No mention of the limousine was made in the published transcript.

Twin Falls Water System Outdated, Also Worn Out

It was nearly 50 years ago when the city of Twin Falls began to recognize its water problems and took its first big step toward the betterment of the city water supply. Some of these facilities, when installed, were expected to last for 30 to 35 years, but are still in use today.

Beginning in 1905, Twin Falls, 5,000 residents were supplied with water by a private company, Twin Falls Water Works, which channeled water out of Rock creek.

It was in 1914 that F. C. Horn, consulting engineer, Boise, presented the city with his report on the water supply and pointed out that the water from the creek was impure and didn't provide an adequate supply.

Prior to the development, in 1918, when the city began using water from the Snake river, the Rock creek water was piped directly to town through a 16-inch fir wood pipe.

Numerous improvements were made in 1918 besides the construction of the filter plant. The pipe line was replaced with a 24-inch redwood pipeline to town, wood distribution pipes were replaced with cast iron ones, and 83 new fire hydrants were installed and 23 of the existing ones were removed.

Due to a lack of sufficient funds, new wire-wound, wood mains were extended to then outlying areas requiring domestic services and fire protection.

Later, before the streets were paved, these wooden mains were replaced by cast iron pipe. Storage was provided in an open earth reservoir.

In 1939, the open five-million-gallon concrete reservoir presently being used was constructed, about a quarter of a mile west of the filtration plant.

Four filter beds were added to the filter plant in 1940, but the coagulation basis was not expanded. At this time a 30-inch cast iron supply supplemented the wood line.

Paul Newton, city engineer, said the original plant of 1918 was a good one, but the old redwood pipe and the filter plant are not only outdated, they are "just plain worn out."

A water bond election to provide the city with a new water supply has been called for May

18. Total cost of the water bond issue has been figured at $2,500,000.

Of this amount, $1,200,000 will be devoted to obtaining a new source of water at Blue Lakes and pumping it out of the canyon; $440,000 for storage reservoirs and $780,000 to improve the distribution system.

First Area Youth Accepted For Job Corps Post Leaves

A well-mannered and well-dressed 16-year-old, red-haired youth boarded a westbound airplane Thursday morning as the first youth from Twin Falls county to be selected for the job corps training program.

Ronald L. Massie, son of Mr. and Mrs. Claude L. Massie, 335 Sixth avenue west, departed from the local municipal airport for the job corps center at Tongue Point, Ore., via West Coast and United airlines. The job corps training program was set up under the economic opportunity act of 1964.

Before leaving, young Massie had been given the corps oath by Frederic M. Sanger, local post master.

The center at Tongue Point is an urban facility where the youth will receive up to two years of specialized vocational training. The University of Oregon has contracted to operate this job corps center.

Young Massie recently was screened by the local office of the employment security agency, which is the screening agency for the job corps in Idaho.

He applied for the "corps" by sending an opportunity card to the corps center in Washington, D. C.

News Around Idaho

POCATELLO, April 5 (AP)—Blonde Marsha Harris, Marsh Valley high school senior from McCammon, last night won the Miss Pocatello contest from 11 other candidates in the beauty-talent pageant at Pocatello high school. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Harris, and stands five-foot, eight inches. She sang in the talent division. Her prizes included $125 in cash, items of apparel and a spot in the Miss Idaho contest.

BOISE, April 5 (AP)—Hardy L. Allen, the producer of the marble-like columns in the rotunda of the Idaho state capitol is dead at the age of 89. A native of Missouri, Allen came to Boise in 1907, working as a plasterer. He retired at the age of 80 and had made his home at Mountain Terrace, Wash., for the past several years.

BOISE, April 5 (AP)—The Idaho department of commerce and development is cooperating with movie producer Jim Bond in production of a film portraying Idaho's wildlife resources. Filming is expected to begin at this year's kumloops and kokapee festival at Sandpoint in May and be finished up in the fall. The film will be in full color and sound. Its tentative title is "The Idaho Wildlife Story."

BOISE, April 5 (AP)—Plans for occupational inventories in three southwestern Idaho communities were announced yesterday by the Idaho state department of employment. They will be conducted in Boise, Nampa and Caldwell and are sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce in each community. Similar inventories were made in the three communities in April, 1961. Questionnaires will go to about 2,700 firms in the Boise area and about 600 each in the Nampa and Caldwell areas.

BOISE, April 5 (AP)—Highway traffic counts during the first two months of the year indicate 1965 will be a good tourist year for Idaho. The department of commerce and development reported yesterday. The agency said highway travel in the two-month period was about 50 per cent ahead of that a year earlier. Gasoline sales showed a six per cent gain in the corresponding period, the department said.

McCALL, April 5 (AP)—Apparent engine trouble is blamed for the crash of a light plane near here yesterday in which two Valley county school superintendents received minor injuries. The pilot, John Bellis, McCall school superintendent and police commissioner, was hospitalized for treatment of face cuts. His passenger, Jerry Evans, superintendent of Cascade schools, was treated at the hospital and released. Officers said the two men had landed at New Meadows for gasoline and that the plane apparently hit a wire on takeoff. State Patrolman Jerry King said he was told the plane developed engine trouble.

HORSESHOE BEND, April 5 (AP)—Plans for expansion of the Hoff Forest Products company of Horseshoe Bend were announced yesterday by firm President Theodore Hoff, sr. Hoff said a new "cut-up plant that will employ 75 persons will be in operation by mid-May. The Hoff mill now employs 75 persons and logging operations account for employment of about 60 persons. Hoff said the new plant will manufacture mouldings, window frames and other small pine wood products.

BOISE, April 5 (AP)—Bills dealing with the length of the governor's term and creation of area vocational education schools will be among the 26 items to be considered by the YMCA Youth legislature scheduled to convene in Boise Friday. Some 254 youths representing 65 Idaho communities will participate in the annual event. Gov. Robert E. Smylie and Youth Governor John Fell of Genesee will address the young lawmakers at a joint session Friday morning. They will then be sworn in by Idaho supreme court Justice Henry F. McChesney. Other bills to be considered during the two-day session call for repeal of the inventory tax, abolition of the death penalty, and minimum yearly salaries for law enforcement officers.

EAGLE, April 5 (AP)—Barber William Murray was at work on a customer in his shop in this farming community a few miles west of Boise yesterday. Suddenly he heard a crash, then saw the wall of his shop begin to cave in. Murray and the customer both jumped out of the way, just in time to avoid a pickup truck which came through the wall, pushing the barber chair to the opposite side of the shop. Officers identified the driver of the truck as Mrs. Agnes M. Wyott, Eagle, who reported she lost control of her vehicle a half block from the barber shop and was unable to bring it to a halt. She climbed out of the cab, apparently with only minor injuries.

POCATELLO, April 5 (AP)—Property owners west of Pocatello don't want 1,200 acres zoned for heavy industry. They think that's too much. Bannock county commissioners have asked the county zoning board to reconsider the amount of land to be zoned for heavy industry under a proposed ordinance. Commission Chairman Lawrence P. Lystrup said the property owners wanted more land zoned for agriculture. A public hearing on the ordinance is scheduled for April 21. The proposal covers most of the land west of Rio Vista from highway 30 to the Fort Hall Indian reservation. In reply to the request, John Kobis, a member of the zoning board, said: "We are not zoning for today and we cannot draw back every time some one disagrees. But we will take another look at it."

BOISE, April 5 (AP)—Certificates as Idaho promoters have been presented to 30 fourth graders in Pocatello, Louis Shaddock, secretary of the department of commerce and development, reported yesterday. The youngsters are students at Greenacres school in Pocatello and their teacher is Miss Ina Wilson. They took part in the "Calling California" campaign, preparing scrapbooks on Idaho which were sent to fourth graders in the Beeps school in Fillmore, Calif. Miss Shaddock said the school principal, Glen R. Phillips, thanked the Idaho students, saying the scrapbooks "will receive extensive use."

BOISE, April 5 (AP)—The Idaho public utilities commission denied yesterday a rate increase request from the Boise Water corporation but authorized the firm to make a smaller boost in its charges. The firm had asked for an increase amounting to $243,368 per year. The commission called the amount "excessive and unreasonable." But it said the company, which provides a domestic water service to much of Boise, is entitled to additional revenue. It authorized the company to submit a new rate schedule which would bring in an additional $52,296 per year. Such a boost, the commission said, will give the company net earnings of 5.78 per cent on its investment of $3,894,000. The increased rates will be effective with meter readings made after May 1. The company also was authorized to begin bi-monthly, instead of monthly, billing, beginning after the 1965 lawn sprinkling season.

McCALL, April 5 (AP)—Directors of Idaho's community mental health centers have asked for creation of a state mental health advisory committee. The request was made at a legislative committee meeting in McCall where it was said that establishment of such a council had been recommended by the inter-agency mental health steering committee. The committee suggested that the council be appointed by the governor and that funds for its work be appropriated by the legislature. Another proposal, calling for establishment of juvenile treatment and detention facilities by local mental health centers, was voted by Bayard Galbraith, chief clinical social worker at Pocatello. Galbraith also recommended that local centers provide consultation services for schools, the department of public assistance, probate courts and local health departments.

Comic Opera Presentation Of Music Club Set Monday

"The Marriage of Figaro" will be presented Monday at 7:30 p.m. in the O'Leary junior high school auditorium, by the Twin Falls Music Club.

No admission charge will be made to the public, according to Mrs. Donald Youst, program chairman of the comic opera.

The production features many well known Magic Valley musicians, and displays their talents well throughout the course of the opera.

The characters in the farcical opera include Figaro, the "count's" love-struck valet, played by Charles Lassen, a Twin Falls high school junior, and the "count," played by Roger Vincent, Filer, who just completed the male lead in "South Pacific."

Ernest C. Baker Honored at Rites

BURLEY, April 5 (AP)—Funeral services for Ernest C. Baker were conducted Wednesday in the Joseph Farn Memorial chapel by the Rev. L. G. Bridgewater. Clifford L. Jackson, soloist, sang two selections accompanied by Mrs. Jeanne Bridgewater.

CABINETS HAD TO BE STORED on the patio at Magic Valley Memorial hospital during recent construction work. Personnel and patients at the hospital have cooperated during the construction work and hospital operations have not slowed. Some of these cabinets will be installed in the new laboratory room as soon as construction work ends there. (Times-News photo)

Remodeling Under Way At Hospital

(Continued From Page 1) have shown complete cooperation. Mrs. Oliver said that since the hospital opened on Sept. 10, 1951, there has been no major remodeling. When it first opened the hospital admitted 4,500 patients. During 1964, 5,700 patients were admitted to the hospital. As the science of radiology has grown and the extent of its application increased, new techniques and new equipment are required, Mrs. Oliver pointed out. In the X-ray department, diagnostic examinations and treatments have increased 73.9 per cent since the hospital opened. The waiting area, in the corridor of the radiology department, serves as a passageway to the operating room and also as a passageway to the main stairway leading to the floors above and below the department, causing disturbance to patients waiting for X-ray examinations. New waiting rooms for inpatients, as well as outpatients, will be installed in this department to eliminate most of the confusion. Expansion of the X-ray department will provide adequate diagnostic services, which are essential, and it will shorten patients' hospital stays, and widen the scope of therapeutic measures.

NEW AIR CONDITIONING units are being installed in the corridor at Magic Valley Memorial hospital leading to the X-ray department and diagnostic rooms. Mrs. Irene Oliver, administrator, said the X-ray rooms and diagnostic areas are sealed off during film developing and examinations and this causes a lot of heat. So, to give the radiologist and doctors using this department better ventilation, the hospital had to install an air conditioning unit. (Times-News photo)

Palm Blessing Set for Sunday

GLENN'S FERRY, April 5—The distribution of the blessed palms for Palm Sunday will take place at the 10 a.m. mass Sunday in Our Lady of Limerick church, it is announced by the Rev. George L. King. The congregation will join in the procession which precedes the mass. During the mass the passion of Christ from the gospel of St. Matthew will be read. The Rev. Father King said special books will be available so that the people can participate in all of the Holy week ceremonies.

Record Flows, Possible Floods Predicted by SCS

Thursday, April 8, 1965
Twin Falls Times-News 9

BOISE—April 8—Near record flows in most Idaho rivers and possible flooding conditions in several areas of the state during the spring are predicted by the U. S. soil conservation service.

The service reported yesterday that the Idaho water supply outlook is for above normal flows with strong possibilities of record high in such streams as the Big Lost and Little Wood rivers. The report said flow on the Big Wood River is expected to total 195 per cent of the 1948-62 average, and urged residents of the area to make definite plans for handling the high flows forecast.

A similar warning was issued to residents of the Little Wood river, where a flow equaling 212 per cent of normal is predicted.

The heaviest snow pack recorded since 1938 is reported in the Big Lost river drainage and an April through September stream flow topping 184 per cent of normal is predicted for the stream. Flow on the Clearwater river is expected to total 118 per cent of normal and the report said there is a strong possibility of flooding if snow melt is continuous and rapid.

Some flooding is also predicted on the Payette river where the flow is expected to top 131 per cent of normal. A peak flow of 167 per cent of the 12 year average is expected on the Salmon river. Flow on the Boise river is expected to exceed 141 per cent of the average but the report said reservoirs should be able to store the surplus water resulting from the record snow packs. Storage on the Snake, Henry's Fork and Teton rivers is also expected to be sufficient to prevent flooding of those streams. Flow on the Spokane river is expected to total 107 per cent of normal and the peak flow on the Bear river is expected to total 167 per cent of normal.

Jury Indicts Mrs. Shockey For Murder

SANTA ANA, Calif., April 8 (AP)—Diana Shockey, 30, last night was indicted by the Orange county grand jury on a charge of murder in the slaying of a young vocalist whose body was found in a desert grave. The indictment also charged her husband Robert, a former Twin Falls resident, as an accessory for allegedly helping her escape. The couple was arrested at Salt Lake City on March 25, with them was slain Joan McGee's 4-month-old baby. The Shockeys have been confined to San Bernardino county jail but were to be transferred to the Orange county jail. The two counties agreed on the transfer because the alleged crime occurred in Huntington Beach at Shockey's apartment. Specifically, the indictment charged Mrs. Shockey beat Miss McGee with a hammer and strangled her with an innertube last Jan. 17. The slaying apparently followed a dispute over the child, Nikki, who was being cared for by the Shockeys. The body of Miss McGee was found in a shallow grave near Yucca valley on March 13. Mrs. Shockey at the time of her arrest insisted she and her husband were innocent. However, a spokesman for the Orange county district attorney's office said Mrs. Shockey has submitted a statement admitting her part in the woman's death.

Rodeo Group Slates Meet At Gooding

District five Idaho High School Rodeo association members will meet Sunday at the high school in Gooding. Association spokesmen urge all new members and interested high school students to attend.

The group plans to have a pre-district practice rodeo at Frontier field, Twin Falls, within the next two months. No definite plans have been made for the event.

It has been announced the district rodeo will be held in June in Gooding.

The group has chosen officers and event directors for the coming season. President is Gene Wilkins, Billis, vice president, Kathy Harder, Twin Falls; secretary, Donna Harpt, Twin Falls; treasurer, Carolyn VanZante, Twin Falls, and reporters, Sue Funkhouser, Gooding, and Lyle Fuller, Twin Falls.

2 Indicted for Defrauding Texas Bank

EL PASO, Tex., April 8 (AP)—A federal grand jury yesterday indicted two California real estate promoters involved in a senate investigation into bank failures on charges of defrauding the now-defunct First National Bank of Marlin, Tex., of nearly $100,000.

Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach announced in Washington the two-count federal indictment which named Bernard S. Garrett, 42, Los Angeles and Joseph B. Morris, 48, Oakland. Both are Negroes.

The men were charged with defrauding the Marlin bank by misapplying funds belonging to the bank in violation of federal law. The second count charged them with conspiring to do so.

Both men testified last week before the senate investigation subcommittee, headed by Sen. John J. McClellan, D., Ark., in connection with the inquiry into bank failures and racketeer infiltration of banks.

The Marlin bank went bankrupt and has been closed. The indictment identified Garrett and Morris as having had controlling interest in the bank, owning 5,250 of the bank's 10,000 outstanding stock shares.

It was the first criminal action stemming from the senate inquiry. At one point last week, McClellan said testimony before his panel was "bulging with perjury" and that he would turn it over to the justice department for action.

The justice department said the jury named Matthew D. Steiner, 37, former board chairman of the bank who was last known to be tending bar in California, as a co-conspirator in the case, but not as a defendant.

The department said Garrett and Morris allegedly had the Marlin bank pay $970,000 for a package of real estate notes and mortgages in October of 1963.

The department said the bank was entitled to $223,636 because of a discount on the package by a seller. However, the complaint alleged, the two defendants "misapplied" $180,186 of this discount, causing the bank to lose that amount.

The charge carries a maximum penalty of $15,000 fine and ten years in prison, if they are convicted.

Student Nurses Form Group at Valley Hospital

Student practical nurses at Magic Valley Memorial hospital held an organizing meeting Wednesday at the hospital and elected officers.

Elected as president was Mrs. Edith Holbrook; vice president, Mrs. J. H. Steadman, and secretary-treasurer, Mrs. E. J. Sommer.

Mrs. George Blackburn gave a brief talk on procedures and committees needed for the club.

Discussion on a fund raising project for the club was held, and a "goodie box" was the suggestion most favored by the members. Mrs. John Teller suggested to the members that each make and wear an Easter bonnet on Good Friday.

The next meeting will be after class Tuesday at the hospital.

Toastmistress Contest Set Here

Representatives from four Toastmistress clubs from Twin Falls, Burley and Jerome will participate in a speech contest at 1:30 p. m. Saturday in the Rogerson hotel.

The contestants will compete in a five to seven minute speech prepared within 24 hours, according to Mrs. LeRoy Arrington, contest chairman. Winner of the contest will compete April 24, in Boise. The Boise winner will be eligible to compete at two higher levels in Oregon and Louisiana.

The public is invited to the contest, but the members request that reservations be made with Mrs. Dean Kendrick by calling 733-8591 or Mrs. Frank Nielson, 733-7156.

PIT BULLDOG which killed a 4-year-old Salt Lake county boy Wednesday is held at the end of a pole by a deputy sheriff. The dog broke its chain and chewed to death David Carl Hackwell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Hackwell. After being held 14 days for rabies tests the animal is to be destroyed, officials said. (AP wirephoto)

Pit Bulldog Kills Boy in Salt Lake City

SALT LAKE CITY, April 8 (AP)—A 4-year-old county boy was killed yesterday when his family's pit bulldog attacked him.

Officers said the dog broke his chain and attacked little David Carr Hackwell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Hackwell, tearing off his head and an arm.

The dog was friendly afterward and offered no resistance when deputies put him in a cage. The animal was held for the county health department.

Pit bulldogs are a type originally bred for fighting, with a huge head and powerful jaw, deep chest and small hindquarters.

Mrs. Hackwell discovered the mangled body of her son about 3 p.m. The boy had been left in the care of his sister, Barbara, 18. She said she let him out to play at 1:30 p.m.

Hackwell said he got the dog recently from his brother who had found it and was trying to "fix it up."

"When I first saw the dog, I felt sorry for it and took it home hoping to get it in good shape and give it to someone," Hackwell said.

Four Tracts of Land to Be Sold

BOISE, April 8 (AP)—The bureau of land management announced today it will offer four tracts of public land in Canyon county for sale at auction April 21.

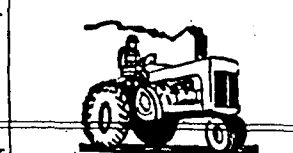

The sale will be at the federal building in Boise.

The four tracts total 480 acres and are located about 8 1/2 miles south and six miles west of Nampa, in the Dry Lake area. Two of the tracts each contain 80 acres and the two others each contain 160 acres.

The appraised prices are $8,960 for each 80-acre parcel and $14,720 for each 160-acre parcel. The BLM said the soil is deep and of high quality for irrigated farming but there are no water rights.

Nuclear Plant Satellite Has Some Trouble

LOS ANGELES, April 8 (AP)—The SNAP 10A satellite, which carries the first nuclear power plant operated in space, has run into mysterious trouble with another major experiment — its ion engine.

Air force scientists said yesterday that careful evaluation of radio data showed "an extremely high noise factor" when the ion engine is turned on, making it impossible to tell whether it is operating properly.

The engine was operated only once, for an hour, on Sunday. At the time it appeared to be functioning properly.

If there is serious trouble, the scientists said, it does not appear to have interfered with the major experiment aboard "Snap Shot," the operation of the space nuclear power system. Rather than risk major difficulty there will be no more testing of the ion propulsion system until further analysis.

Should the fault lie with the ion engine rather than a mechanical failure of the telemetry system or some other relatively minor problem, it would curtail the significance of the overall project.

The ion engine weighs only 2.2 pounds and has a thrust of two-thousandths of a pound. It is the prototype of an engine which—feeding on power from the nuclear plant—could send men in deep space to distant planets.

The SNAP 10A satellite was launched Saturday from Vandenberg air force base, and the nuclear power plant capable of supplying 500 watts of electrical energy was tested a short time later.

SNAP 10A is in an almost circular orbit of 715 miles at its most distant point, to 705 miles when closest to Earth.

Kimberly Girl, Tuttle Boy, Win Elks' Awards

BOISE, April 8—Helen Slaughter, Kimberly, and Allen Ravenscroft, Tuttle, placed third in the girls' and boys' divisions of the Elks National foundation's "Most Valuable Student" contest Wednesday.

A total of 28 entries were judged in the state contest, students who had placed first in competition conducted by local Elks lodges.

Entries were judged on the basis of scholarship, citizenship, personality, leadership, perseverance, resourcefulness, patriotism, general worthiness and financial need.

Karen Arndt, Sandpoint, and Ben Yamagata, Blackfoot, first place winners, will receive $175, and will be Idaho's official entries in national competition for college scholarships totaling $10,000.

Rupert Couple To Observe Anniversary

RUPERT, April 8—Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Olson, longtime Rupert residents, will observe their golden wedding anniversary with an open house from 2 to 5 p.m. Sunday at the home of their daughter, Mrs. Emery Carson.

The couple's children are hosting the open house and friends and relatives are invited to attend. The couple requests no gifts.

Mr. and Mrs. Olson were married April 14, 1915, and came to Rupert April 1, 1919. They were engaged in sheep raising and rearing and still raise sheep at the family ranch in the Hope well area. Mrs. Olson has been active in the LDS church and Relief society.

The couple has three daughters, Mrs. Emery Carson, Rupert, and Mrs. Glen Allen, Rupert; four sons, Juy Olson, San Jose, Calif.; Elvin Olson and Larry Olson, Rupert; and LaMar Olson, Heyburn. They have 11 grandchildren and six great-grandchildren.

Camp Fire Girls Councils Hold Area Workshop

BURLEY, April 8—Southern Idaho Camp Fire Girls Councils held a two-day workshop, under the direction of Nancy Davis, field adviser, region VI, at the Ponderosa Inn. Cassia council members were hostesses for the event.

Representatives attended from Minidoka, Pocatello, Twin Falls, Wood River and Cassia councils and Payette Camp Fire Girls association.

Registration was conducted by Mrs. Harold Blanger, Mrs. Gordon Edwards, Mrs. Donald Knopp and Mrs. Marion Ryan. The first session opened at 9:30 a.m. with Miss Davis speaking to the group on "The value and purpose of a leaders' association."

Program exchange ideas for Blue Bird and Camp Fire leaders was conducted by Mrs. Leona Rehn and Mrs. D. Whitehead, both leaders from the Cassia council.

Mrs. Dorothy Peavy, Twin Falls, conducted the singing. Following lunch in the Driftwood room, the group had a continuation of idea exchange.

Public relations tips for group displays, radio and television promotion were presented with public relations tips for the newspaper pointed out by Walter Schramm.

The Twin Falls and Pocatello councils presented their camping program, showing slides and movies of last year's camping season.

Registration for the second day was conducted by Mrs. Dean Smith and Mrs. Richard Crist. The first session was a discussion on recruitment and training of board and committee members. Other discussion topics were local work calendars, local job descriptions, local policies, committee work and council self-studies and affiliations.

Lunch was served in the Driftwood room, followed by a special session for group organization chairmen and committees, tips and ideas for junior-high guardians and Horizon club advisers.

Arrangements for the two-day event were made by Mrs. Lex Kunau and Mrs. John Pyne, Cassia Camp Fire Girls council members.

Breakfast Meet Held by Group

A come-as-you-are breakfast was held by Mrs. Dudley Rutherford at her home for members of the Idaho Food Service.

Mrs. Rutherford is kitchen manager at O'Leary Junior high school. Mrs. V. Carroll won the prize for most original outfit. She was awakened by the call to come to the breakfast. The head cooks from each Twin Falls school picked up the women working with them to bring them to the party, and each member had to come dressed just as she was.

Mrs. Virginia Morgan baked all the cinnamon rolls for the party. Mrs. Morgan is the baker at the O'Leary Junior high school.

Country Pals Report Parley

The Country Pals Home Demonstration club met at the home of Elsie Thomas, with Sharon Debbin as co-hostess.

Club members decided to take lessons on medical self-help, and attended the first class. Several meetings reported on a council meeting they attended at Jerome.

Elsie Thomas gave a lesson on personal development. Mrs. Clarence Sharral was a guest.

The next meeting is at 2 p.m. April 23 at the home of Lilly Mae Sharral.

HOT, BRIGHT FLAMES gush from a pit at the sanitation fill, south of Twin Falls, Wednesday as a liquid water repellent is burned. Some 150 gallons of X-33 water repellent designed by Wilmington Chemical corporation, Chicago, Ill., was confiscated by the food and drug administration and burned by the local fire department. (Times-News photo)

Unsafe Water Repellent Is Confiscated, Burned Here

The food and drug administration and the Twin Falls fire department Wednesday burned some 150 gallons of confiscated water repellent which was found to be about as volatile as gasoline.

The water repellent, called X-33, and put on the market by the Wilmington Chemical corporation, Chicago, Ill., was designed for use inside the home, but because of several serious incidents caused by the volatile solution the food and drug administration ordered it taken off the market.

Although no incidents involving the repellent had been reported in Magic Valley, it was noted the repellent had been known to blow up, causing serious damage and injury.

The Wilmington corporation, which now is out of business, could not afford to have the repellent taken off the market so the fire department warned that new products coming out on the market should be used properly or they can be dangerous.

the food and drug administration was put in charge of seeing that the item was destroyed.

The repellent, which was burned at the sanitation fill, south of the city, was valued at about $1,300.

The fire department warned that new products coming out on the market should be used properly or they can be dangerous.

Have you hardened yourself against Soft Whiskey without even tasting it?

There are two types of characters who are certain Soft Whiskey doesn't work. There's the guy who's sure it's nothing but a gimmick. (He hasn't it does what any 86 proof does. It just does it softer. Soft Whiskey goes down gently. It sort of swallows softly, but carries a big stick. (Incidentally, one way we tried it, but he's sure.) Then there's the guy who believes Soft Whiskey is soft (he hasn't tried it either), but thinks if it's soft, it's weak.

First of all, Soft Whiskey isn't just something we cooked up overnight. Distillers have tried to make a Soft Whiskey for years. Even we flopped in thousands of tries before we had it.

Secondly, Soft Whiskey is 86 proof sciten Calvert Extra is by distilling in small batches instead of giant ones.) — It's a lucky thing for us the skeptics are few and far between. (We've had phenomenal success.) Then why all this trouble to convert them?

Quite frankly, after all the work we've been through, we refuse to give up on anybody. We haven't hardened ourselves against them.

'64 Potato Crop Was Smallest in 7 Years

SAN FRANCISCO, April 8 (AP)—You with the potatoes and gravy appetite are paying more for your taste this year than Americans ever have.

It's because the nation's 1964 potato crop was the smallest in seven years—nearly 25 million 100-pound bags under the previous five-year average of 266 million bags.

All major producing areas but Maine were hit last year by bad weather and frosts.

The acreage finally harvested—1.3 million acres—was the smallest since 1887, reports the U.S. department of agriculture.

Supply and demand have boosted San Francisco retail prices to 79 cents for a five-pound sack of No. 1 Oregon Klagnaths, sized from six to 14 ounces.

In Idaho, land of the premium russet baking potato, 1964 production dropped to 363 million bags, a decrease of 14 million from 1963.

Idaho russet bakers cost 20 cents a pound.

Potato prices stabilized at high levels in October and now are peaking just before the new crop starts coming in.

"In 33 years in the potato business I've never seen anything like this," said George Burger, a San Francisco potato broker.

He brought in a variety of Canadian potatoes to keep his hotel and restaurant customers supplied with eight-to-10-ounce baking sizes.

"I tell you I never did that before. These Canadian potatoes cost me $9 a bag delivered here."

Potato chip prices have not gone up because chip makers were guaranteed their supplies at prices contracted with growers before they planted.

One market chain expects prices to start downward by mid-April. Burger said he doesn't expect a major break before mid-May.

In Maine's Aroostook county, where the Irish potato is king, things are looking up for the first time in 13 years.

The reasons: A larger than usual crop last fall, a poor year in competing potato-growing areas and a good market.

Last fall's crop totaled nearly 40 billion hundredweight, an increase of 2.2 million over 1963.

By WILLIAM A. DOYLE Q. I have invested in two mutual funds. One is what I suppose is a conventional type—on which I paid a commission of 8 1/2 per cent when I made my investment. The other is a "no-load fund," on which I paid no commission.

Both of these mutual funds show quite satisfactory results. My actual investment results are somewhat better with the no-load fund. I have no complaint with either fund.

However, the broker through whom I bought shares of the no-load fund keeps telling me how silly I am. His continuing propaganda is disturbing. Do you have any additional data to show that I am not completely out of my head?

A. You don't need any additional data. You already have all the data necessary to prove your point with mutual funds. It's results that count. And you know what the results have been, with your investments in each of those two mutual funds.

This column has always stressed that there is only one basic difference between mutual funds which charge a commission (a load) on the sale of their shares and no-load funds.

The load funds are sold by brokers, dealers and salesmen. So, a commission is charged. That's how the brokers, dealers and salesmen are paid. This column has also stressed that there's nothing wrong with that. The commission on the sale of fund shares is lower than the commission on most other things on the American economic scene.

Shares of no-load funds are sold directly to investors. No salesmen, no commission charges. It's that simple. Personally, I see no real reason for the feuding that goes on between people in the load and no-load segments of the mutual fund business. As you have learned, there are good funds in both segments. And there's enough business for both segments.

That broker's "continuing propaganda" indicates that he's unhappy because he didn't get any commission when you bought shares of the no-load fund. If he's that sensitive and hungry for a dollar, perhaps you had better think twice before doing any business with him again.

Q. We often read that stock prices dropped "because of heavy selling." If there is heavy selling, isn't there also heavy buying? A. You are no doubt, thinking of the truism that goes, "For every seller of 100 shares or multiples thereof there is a buyer." And that is very true. But please remember that the stock market is an auction market. It's the degree of selling or buying pressures that determines whether stock prices will go down or up.

Sure, if you want to sell 100, 1,000, 10,000 or any other number of shares of stock, you'll find a buyer—or buyers. But if you are not anxious to buy as you go to sell the price of the stock involved will drop.

When a person buys an annuity, through which he or she is supposed to receive a check each month from an insurance company or some other outfit, is the amount of the monthly check guaranteed by the federal government? Let's have no "ifs, ands or buts" in your answer.

A. Then, you get a no answer. The check (annuity payment) is pledged by the insurance company, or whatever other organization has written the annuity contract.

(Mr. Doyle will answer only representative letters of general interest in this column. He cannot answer phone queries.)

Howell Paces Baltimore Over Lakers 122-115 for First Playoff Victory

BALTIMORE, April 8 (AP)—Bailey Howell came off the injured list to score 29 points and led the Baltimore Bullets to a 122-115 victory over the Los Angeles Lakers Wednesday night in the Western division finals playoffs of the National Basketball Association. The come-from-behind triumph was Baltimore's first against two Los Angeles victories in the best-of-seven series. Howell, who missed the second game Monday because of a muscle spasm in his back, received diathermy treatments during the day before finally deciding he was fit to play.

A DETERMINED LOOKING Arnold Palmer braces after a putt during a practice round at the Augusta national golf course. Palmer, the defending champion, will attempt to do what no other golfer has ever done—repeat this year for a second straight Masters victory. Palmer has won the tournament four times. (AP wirephoto)

Two-Man Duel Expected With Nicklaus, Palmer

AUGUSTA, Ga., April 8 (AP)—The bull-like strength of Jack Nicklaus and the recovery powers of Arnold Palmer promise a two-man duel for Masters golf honors, starting today. Ninety-one of the world's best golfers will tee off over the Augusta national course for the four-day, 72-hole tournament, and the money of the gamblers and the eyes of the gallery will be on these two men who have dominated the game in the 1960s.

Archery Team Closes Gap In Loop Play

Thomas Archery scored a 4-0 victory over Hopkins Electric in Archery league action to move to within one game of first-place McManamans Western Auto. The Western Auto team dropped a 3-1 decision to third-place Idaho Springs in the four-team league. McManamans holds the lead with a 19-9 record. Thomas Archery is 18-10. Idaho Springs stands at 12-15 and Hopkins Electric brings up the rear at 7-21. Thomas Archery took the high series scratch and handicap honors at 952 and 1,273, respectively, and tied with Idaho Springs for the high handicap game of 436. Arlie Purkin had the high score for the men at 291 and a 217 gave Ruth Eismar the individual woman's high.

THE FOOT IS QUICKER than the glove, in this case, as Chicago Cubs outfielder Doug Clemens' foot tags the base before Cleveland Indian third baseman Max Alvis can make the tag. The action happened in the bottom of the eighth inning when Cubs' catcher Dick Bertell grounded out to Indians' first baseman Chuck Rintin. The Cubs won the first exhibition ball game in Mesa, Ariz., Wednesday 8-5. (AP wirephoto)

The veteran cornerman sank 10 of 20 field goal attempts and grabbed 17 rebounds before fouling out late in the game. The Lakers again were led by all-star Jerry West, who scored 44 points to increase his three-game total of 145. He sank 18 of 19 free throws, missing one with 5:39 remaining to break a consecutive streak of 31. Los Angeles jumped off to a 13-2 lead, but the Bullets rallied to go ahead 63-58 at half-time. An eight-point string by West, including three by West, put the Lakers back on top, 122-71 early in the third quarter. Baltimore broke open the tight contest midway through the final period by outscoring the Lakers 11-3. Leading 103-101, the Bullets scored on a foul shot by Howell and a field goal by Gus Johnson before West missed one of two free throws.

Spring Drills Move Into Final Stages

By The Associated Press Several major league teams began breaking camp Wednesday as baseball's spring training season moved into its final stages.

The Detroit Tigers closed their Florida exhibition schedule with a 9-4 victory over the New York Mets. Al Kaline's third homerun in five games sparked the Tigers. Washington stretched its winning streak to four games with a 5-2 decision over Baltimore. Don Blasingame and Ed Brinkman had three hits apiece as the Senators closed their Pompano Beach, Fla., exhibition schedule. Pete Rose and Tony Perez both tagged homeruns as Cincinnati finished its Florida training with a 5-3 victory over Minnesota. Tony Oliva homered for the Twins.

The New York Yankees closed out at Fort Lauderdale, Fla., by losing to Milwaukee 4-1. Felipe Alou and Mack Jones homered for the Braves. Gene Alley's three-run homer powered Pittsburgh to a 4-3 victory over Kansas City. Bill Bryan slugged a two-run pinch homer for the Athletics in the ninth. The Chicago Cubs whipped Cleveland 8-5 in their final game in Arizona, with Doug Clemens tagging three hits and Billy Williams homering. San Francisco lost 7-6 to its Tacoma farm club. St. Louis blanked Philadelphia 6-0 in a night game.

Local Archers Take Honors in Nampa Tourney

Ten members of the Twin Falls Ot-Yo-Kwa Bowmen won seven trophies in the first invitational tournament of the season at Nampa over the week-end. Doris Ingard won the overall women's title while David Gray won the club division and David Stranger was third for juniors. Frank Shehorn and Vern Stanger won second and third in the D division while Dewey Gay and Jim Gollindo were second and third in the C class. The next event on the Magic Valley archery schedule is the Buhl Invitational this Sunday at the Hagerman course.

ATTEMPTED PICKOFF of New York Mets' John Lewis failed in the eighth inning of Wednesday's exhibition game in Lakeland, Fla. Lewis is shown beating the throw from Detroit Tigers' pitcher Terry Fox to second baseman Jerry Lumpe while umpire Harry Wendelstedt looks on. The Tigers went on to win the game 9-4. (AP wirephoto)

Deer Harvest Is Better, but Elk Hunting Is Down From 1963

BOISE, April 8—Deer harvest was slightly better and the elk hunting somewhat poorer in 1964 compared to 1963, the Idaho fish and game department disclosed Thursday. Data from the post-season hunter questionnaires mailed to a five per cent sample of license buyers indicates a statewide harvest of approximately 67,000 deer and 13,800 elk. Levi Mohler chief of game management, said this is an increase of about six per cent in the deer harvest and a decrease of five per cent in the elk kill compared to last year. Compared to the average harvest of the past 10 years (1954-1963 seasons) the 1964 kill is about "par" for deer but off about seven per cent for elk. Ten year average figures are roughly 67,000 deer and 14,900 elk, according to Mohler. Hunting pressure figures, as indicated by deer and elk tag sales, show the number of deer hunters nearly identical with last year and a slight decrease in the number of elk hunters. Statewide hunter success for deer was 51 per cent in 1964 compared to 48 per cent in 1963. Elk hunters connected at the rate of 25 per cent in 1964 compared to 26 per cent in 1963. Mohler pointed out that statewide figures conceal a lot of local variation in individual units. Examples of this show up when the statewide kill indicated by the questionnaire is prorated among the individual units on the basis of more than 2,000 hunter reports turned in by successful big game hunters on the report card attached to their deer and elk tags. "Most elk units go along with the general decline indicated for the total statewide harvest, but there were at least a dozen units which each produced more elk in 1964 than in 1963. Most of these units were in central or northern areas. "In many of the important elk areas," Mohler continued, "unusual weather conditions during the late summer apparently affected the distribution of elk and even experienced hunters had a difficult time locating the animals when the hunting season opened, not finding them in their expected haunts." The top elk hunting area was again unit 10 (North Fork of the Clearwater) with approximately 1,600 animals harvested. All other units indicated a total kill of less than a thousand. These were led by the second place unit No. 17 (Lupper Selway) with approximately 800. Other units with a harvest over 500 elk were unit 6 (lower St. Joe), unit 8 (Palouse), unit 12 (Lochal), and unit 39 (Boise), the only southern Idaho unit to make the upper ranks. "Even though Idaho's total deer harvest was up from last year, this, too was variable when local units were considered," Mohler explained. "Some showed big increases. These were the Boise unit 39, Unit 37A (Patterson) on the Pahsimeroi, and units 64 (Hesse) and 66 (Skyline Ridge) in eastern Idaho. In these units, ideal hunting conditions, longer seasons and or an "extra deer" provision in the regulation stimulated hunting." Other important units were

Wooden Not Allowed to Coach Team

LOS ANGELES, April 8 (AP)—The UCLA athletic department Wednesday withdrew its okay to allow two-time NCAA champion Bruin Coach Johnny Wooden to guide the U. S. all-star basketball team against a Russian team here April 25.

Coach Team

UCLA is a member of the NCAA. The U. S. team has not been announced but could be affected by an NCAA ruling several years ago preventing students from missing more than two days a week from school. The games fall in the midst of an academic semester. Morgan said, however, Wooden's withdrawal will not affect the participation of UCLA's All-American Gail Goodrich in the one game here. Morgan termed "a fallacy" remarks attributed to Col. Don Hull, an executive director of the AAU, that the U. S. Basketball federation was pressuring colleges to stay out of the U. S. U. S. R. series.

PHILADELPHIA, April 7 (AP)—Walter Auerbach is a bush league actor. And that's all the 7-foot-1-inch ace of the Philadelphia 76ers would say about charges Auerbach that the referee helped Chamberlain cheat in the three-second in-the-air violation. Auerbach, the Philadelphia National Basketball Association Boston Celtics coach, said everything from the orange juice for his players, unruly spectators to the counting. "One two three" will. Chamberlain didn't say it. He said it somewhere between Overbrook high school and the University of Kansas. I learned to count to three first, he said. Surely that wouldn't comment on anything Auerbach had to say. The 76ers volunteered the usual operator. In case you're wondering this is all about: Auerbach (the loud when Chamberlain or the late, he claims that he lifts one leg out of the air and then steps in again. The Boston coach said Chamberlain got most of his 30 and 39 rebounds in the Tuesday night 109-103 victory over the Celtics by standing the lane. "Chamberlain didn't get 30 bounds in Boston. He got 30 Tuesday night because he was standing in the lane and guzzling them in." Nobody bothered to explain Auerbach that the three count goes off when the ball is in the air on a shot, and Chamberlain couldn't be called a violation while going up for a bound.

U.S. Runners Set Two World Marks In Germany Meet

BERLIN, April 8 (AP)—American runners bettered two world indoor records Wednesday night as the United States took a 77-58 lead over Germany on the first day of their two-day track and field meet. In a magnificent display of timing that brought the 3,500 spectators at Deutschland Halle out of their seats, Ted Nelson, Canoga Park, Calif., won the men's 800 meters in one minute, 47.4 seconds. Arnie Sowell of the United States held the previous indoor mark, 1:49.7.

Maris Freed of Assault Charges, Plans Damage Suit of $100,000

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla., April 8 (AP)—Baseball star Roger Maris was acquitted Wednesday of an assault charge growing out of a barroom argument and promptly announced he was going to sue his accuser for damages in excess of $100,000. The New York Yankee outfielder testified he became involved in the dispute a week ago only when he stepped between the plaintiff, Jerry Modzelewski, a

Confidence, Pride and Ability Should Spur Yanks to Pennant

NEW YORK, April 8—Confidence, pride, ability and the sight of a heretofore unreachable goal should spur the New York Yankees on to a sixth straight American league championship. Only one other club—the Yankees of 1954—had an opportunity to win six flags in a row. They didn't although they won 103 games, more than any of the five previous pennant winners. That was because Cleveland won a record 111 games.

Cards Shade Reds as NL Flag Favorites

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., April 8 (AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals will shade the Cincinnati Reds in the National league season with Philadelphia, San Francisco and Milwaukee snapping at their heels. If Sandy Koufax can work regularly, the Los Angeles Dodgers also will be up there. Only Houston and New York appear hopelessly out of it.

Nobody has repeated in the National league since Milwaukee in 1957-58 and only three teams have won successive pennants in the last 20 years. But that does not mean League President Warren Giles has passed a law against it. The Cards are a solid ball club at every position, a little thin in reserves and possibly in the bullpen. Like all the other teams, the Cards could be floored by an injury to a key regular.

The annual guessing contest is complicated this spring by the aches and pains of such stars as Orlando Cepeda, Roberto Clemente, Hank Aaron, Bill Mazeroski and Koufax. The healthiest team may get a jump in April and never be headed.

Here is your reporter's forecast for the standings on the evening of Sunday, Oct. 3:

1. St. Louis
2. Cincinnati
3. Philadelphia
4. San Francisco
5. Milwaukee
6. Los Angeles
7. Pittsburgh
8. Chicago
9. Houston
10. New York

The Cards have the same lineup that squeezed home first last October and then beat off the New York Yankees in a seven-game world series. They lost a manager when Johnny Keane moved over to the Yanks, but took on a favorite son, Red Schoendienst, as his successor.

A year ago the outfield was unsettled. Now the Cards have Lou Brock and Mike Shannon to go with Curt Flood. The infield is of all-star caliber. Tim Lincecum, still nursing a broken finger, is the only established catcher. The pitching has been helped by the addition of Bob Gibson.

The rapid rise of young pitchers Luis Tiant, Sonny Siebert and Sam McDowell, have greatly improved the Indians. In contrast, the Tigers have done little to improve their pitching and infield which ranked among the also-rans last year.

Dean Chance is the best pitcher in baseball. Fred Newman is another fine hurler. Jim Pregoski may be the best shortstop in the league. Bob Lea, the best relief pitcher, and Willie Smith was the rage last year when he switched from the mound to the outfield but the Angels finished fifth with the same cast. They've made no appreciable changes.

Minnesota's fearsome foursome of Harmon Killebrew, Bob Allison, Tony Oliva and Jimmie Hall figures to provide the Twins with plenty of runs. Unfortunately, the team's shoddy defense will give most of them a notch into eighth place while the Red Sox will miss Dick Stuart's big bat more than they will benefit from Dennis Bennett's left arm. As for Kansas City, the Athletics may be the worst team in the major leagues.

Washington could move up a notch into eighth place while the Red Sox will miss Dick Stuart's big bat more than they will benefit from Dennis Bennett's left arm. As for Kansas City, the Athletics may be the worst team in the major leagues.

Signs Cimoli

PALM SPRINGS, Calif., April 8 (AP)—The Los Angeles Angels reduced their squad to the 25-player limit Wednesday by cutting seven players and signing free-agent Gino Cimoli.

Cimoli, a veteran outfielder who had been released by both Kansas City and Baltimore last season when fighting knee trouble, hit .298 for the Angels during the exhibition season. He said his knee has been no problem.

Calm in Face of Panic

BY PAUL ENGLE
Sjams City, Ia.
The police roadblock stopped us on the narrow gravel road leading to our farm. Couple of men escaped from the prison. An officer said, "Seen anyone?"

"They've seen us," I told Munchie. "There's nothing to do but get in."
We went around the side of the old stone house and in the kitchen door. Across the room a tall, plump-faced young man had Sara by the arm. He turned just enough to let me see the knife he held at her back; the blade was twice the length of her small waist. Her mother stood in the corner.

Church Will Have Cantata Palm Sunday

U.S. Air War in Viet Nam Scores Some Big Successes

SAGON, South Viet Nam, April 8 (AP)—The U. S. air force thinks the two-month-old air war against the communists in North and South Viet Nam has scored some major military successes.
The blueprint for the future clearly calls for a gradual step-up of pressure on the north. Possibly the bomb sights will turn on Ho Chi Minh's laboriously built industries.

Property Taxes May Be Increased Again

BY RICHARD CHARNOCK
BOISE, April 8 (AP)—Don't be surprised if your property taxes are increased again.

Although the sales tax package enacted by the 38th Idaho legislature eliminated 2.5 mills worth of such levies, permissive legislation was approved for 22 mills worth of new property taxes.

Not all property owners in the state will or can be hit by the permissive increases since some are tailored for specific areas and purposes. Yet the net difference is 19.5 mills.

Put another way, that's $195 on each assessed valuation. If that doesn't sound like much money, remember that an average of 2.5 mills statewide in 1964 produced four million dollars.

Some taxpayers may find comfort in the knowledge that property tax assessments in their counties are low—that for tax purposes property is assessed at only a fraction of its cash value.

Those who do should keep in mind, however, that the legislature also passed a property tax bill. Directed at eventual uniform assessments, this measure repeals the unenforced law that required assessment of property for tax purposes at 100 per cent of cash value.

Under a four-year program, this act calls for assessment of utility operating property at 40 per cent and personal and real property at 20 per cent. The utility property has been assessed at 30 per cent while the statewide average of the other has been 15.0 per cent, ranging from a low of 12 per cent to a high of 30.

Because of varying classifications of property, some homeowners have had their property assessed at less than 10 per cent in the past. And while the act is written to temporarily "hold the line" on the number of tax dollars extracted from property owners whose assessment ratios are increased eventually they will feel the bite.

Just how dramatic that bite may be is uncertain as yet. During debate on the bill differing views were expressed on that point—some lawmakers predicting a tremendous impact, others seeing only a small one.

An attempt to set a lower assessment ratio for home owner property was defeated in the house. Some called this a great mistake. Others said three classifications were enough.

Regardless of who was correct, the measure generally has been viewed as one of the most important achievements of the 38th regular session of the legislature. For one thing, say its proponents, it will wipe out the wide and inequitable disparity in assessments from county to county. For another, it will remove that "red flag" of a possible 100 per cent assessment that has scared out some industrialists.

Despite this effort and the tax reform embodied in the sales tax package, a compilation of the associated Taxpayers of Idaho shows the legislature nonetheless voted for higher property taxes. Given "little mills bills" allowing county commissioners and others to raise property taxes upon approval and were signed into law by the governor.

These included a one-half mill cial assistance, and up to two mills county-wide for junior college tuition.

In the other direction, the legislature repealed so long as the sales tax is in effect—a state ad valorem; one mill teachers' retirement; and one mill teachers' social security.

YOUR BIRTHDAY and HOROSCOPE

THURSDAY, April 8 — Born today, you have a mind given over almost completely to matters scientific. You have a degree of adventurousness to your make-up, but even that is something you feel the need to regulate along strict lines of how things should be done. Not one to go off on a tangent in the midst of a project, you keep to a single enterprise until you succeed in it or until all possible avenues that might lead to success have been explored.

Not one to display your emotions even to those who know you well, you may be considered cold and calculating by some. Actually, you are warmhearted and understanding, but a sense of dedication to your work leaves you little time for indulging these qualities. Take care that you do not become involved in your own doings, however, that you forget to take notice of others at all; you could cause much unhappiness should this occur.

In choosing a mate, you will have to be especially careful to select someone who is self-sufficient. You could not live happily bound to the clinging-vine type, for you need to feel free to meet the demands of your career without worrying about whether or not your spouse is able to get along without you for a time.

To find what is in store for you tomorrow, sole of your birthday and read the letter of your birthday star by your daily guide, Friday, April 9

AIES (March 21-April 20)—Do your utmost to rise above present conditions that appear to be hampering your progress.

TAURUS (April 21-May 21)—A day for sticking to conventional methods of operation. The "turn" you goes in for the "way out" notion at this time may defeat his own purpose.

GEMINI (May 22-June 21)—Get your sights on a new spring goal. The time given to careful planning is the most worthwhile.

CANCER (June 22-July 23)—A keen intuition would appear to be enough to guide Cancer today. See that intuition files with conscience, however.

LEO (July 24-Aug. 23)—Don't set yourself apart from co-workers. A close relationship can result in much sought-after and needed information.

VIRGO (Aug. 24-Sept. 23)—A day for conservative judgments.

Rupert Elks Elect Aides

RUPERT, April 7—The Rupert Elks installed a new slate of officers for the coming year during ceremonies held at the Elks lodge.

They include John Cameron, exalted ruler; Alexander Masterson, esteemed leading knight; John McBride, esteemed loyal knight; William Stevenson, esteemed leading knight; Charles Parker, secretary; James Walston, treasurer, and Dr. Robert C. Phillips, chaplain.

Gary Anderson is esquire; Dr. Leland Stronks, inner guard; Richard Groesbeck, Tyler, and T. J. Lindh, trustee.

Grand Exalted-Ruler Robert Adams was in charge of the installation. Frank Urquien, who has served as exalted ruler for the past year, presented a plaque for Elk of the Year to George Wilding for outstanding service to the lodge during the past year.

The award marks the second year such an honor has been given by the lodge.

Britons Go on Buying Spree To Beat Taxes

LONDON, April 8 (AP)—Britons went on a spending spree Tuesday night to beat the new taxes on cigarettes and liquor. Bars, liquor stores and tobacconists reported: "It's just like Christmas."

It was the country's biggest beat-the-budget filing in 18 years. Customers lined up at cigarette stores, buying several cartons at a time. Starting yesterday, they cost 76 cents, seven cents a pack more.

Liquor stores reported a brisk demand for all varieties of spirits. A bottle of whisky, an extra 56 cents, eclipsing the recent price war cuts.

Beer in the pubs went up a penny. Road taxes on private cars increased $7 a year, to $49. Tax deductions for businessmen's cars were reduced by wiping out the initial allowance of 30 percent of the purchase price.

The expense account set was hit hard. Deductions for business entertainment was abolished except for "the reasonable entertainment of overseas buyers."

Chancellor of the Exchequer James Callaghan presented the Labor government's first budget yesterday. It increased taxation sharply to trim the public's spending, cut Britain's overseas investment, and introduced a massive tax reform, including a tough attack on capital gains.

The object: To restore confidence in the pound sterling, stem the drain on Britain's reserves, reverse the unfavorable balance of trade and help industry expand exports and sharpen its competitiveness.

Callaghan said the tax changes would raise an extra 607.6 million dollars a year.

A spokesman for the Institute of directors said: "At a time when Britain needed a highly skilled surgeon, Callaghan appears in the role of a horse doctor."

In addition to the new taxes, an income tax announced last fall also goes into effect this week.

DICK STIMPSON, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stimpson, Heyburn, will be honored at a farewell testimonial at 5 p.m. Sunday at the Heyburn LDS ward chapel. He will enter the Salt Lake LDS mission home Monday for a Cumorah mission with headquarters at Rochester, N. Y. He was graduated from Minico high school in 1964 and has been employed at Shelby's Foodliner, Burley.

Richfield Club Plans Burley Meet

RICHFIELD, April 8 — Plans for attendance at the state recognition day meeting April 24 at Burley were made by the Richfield Diet Does It club, a unit of TOPS. Two delegates will be sent by the club.

A grabbag for each weight loser to select a gift was planned for future meetings. Mrs. Jack Hubsmith was best loser of the week. No March weight losing prize was awarded because members in attendance maintained weight instead of losing the required pounds to win a monthly award. Meetings are held each Monday at the LDS welfare house.

Types of Dope Addicts, Effects Discussed

Americans are victims of the narcotic habit with resulting sad and sordid stories being reported in the following dispatch. First of the various types of addiction and what they mean to society and the individual.

BY LOUIS CASSELS
WASHINGTON, April 8 (AP)—

In a dingy room in Harlem, a gaunt-eyed man uses a match and a bottlecap to dissolve a few grains of white powder in water. He draws the solution into an eyedropper, fits the eyedropper to a dirty hypodermic needle, and injects it into his arm. The shot of heroin will keep him in a dreamlike trance for several hours.

At a roadside eatery in Ohio, a weary truck driver orders a cup of black coffee. With it, he takes two "pep pills" which he calls "bennies." They'll keep him awake for the long haul ahead. But they also may give him hallucinations.

On a moonlit beach in southern California, a group of boys and girls launch a blanket party by gulping "goof balls" — teenage slang for barbiturate capsules. Washed down with beer, they're a cheap and dangerous way to get drunk in a hurry.

These people are customers and victims — of illicit drug peddlers who do about one billion dollars worth of business in the United States annually.

For several years, public concern has been mounting about the drug traffic and the people whose lives are wrecked by it.

In 1962, President John F. Kennedy called a White House conference on drug abuse to consider new approaches to the problem. In 1963, he appointed a special presidential commission headed by Judge E. Barrett Prettyman to draft legislative recommendations. Last year, President Johnson forwarded the commission's report to congress. This year, the President gave new drug laws a prominent place in his legislative program.

Congress clearly shares the concern. One of the bills sought by President Johnson — imposing tight new federal controls over pep pills and goof balls — cleared the house March 10 by a unanimous vote, 402 to 0. Senate approval is expected soon. The administration also hopes for speedy bipartisan action on important amendments to the long-standing federal laws controlling narcotic drugs such as heroin. These amendments — strongly urged by the Prettyman commission — would make it possible to treat narcotics addicts as sick people to be rehabilitated rather than criminals to be imprisoned without parole.

Although narcotics, pep pills and goof balls all fall into the category of dangerous addictive drugs, narcotics have been under strict federal regulation for 50 years. Pep pills and goofballs are under no government control beyond the widely-ignored requirement that they be dispensed only by prescription.

The difference is reflected in addiction statistics. The U.S. bureau of narcotics estimates that one American out of every 4,000 is "hooked" on heroin, morphine or some other narcotic drug. But studies by the National Institute of Mental Health indicate that in some communities one out of every 100 persons is dependent on the relatively new stimulant and depressant drugs which would be brought under control by the pending legislation.

Like narcotics, which play an indispensable role in medicine as pain-killers, the new drugs have legitimate and important medical uses. Pep pills, properly known as amphetamines, have an effect on the body similar to that of adrenalin. They relieve fatigue, make a person feel alert and more capable of coping with his problems.

Physicians frequently prescribe them for patients suffering from mild states of depression. They also are used to inhibit appetite in supervised weight-reducing programs.

Amphetamines become dangerous when they are mis-used to drive the human body beyond normal limits of endurance. A truck driver on a long trip may keep himself awake for 72 hours or more by going on a "bennie" binge. But the body finally rebels. The result may be sudden collapse or hallucinations — either of which can lead to gory highway accidents.

Amphetamines also are abused by young people, who take them just for kicks. A person who is high on pep pills may commit brutal crimes for the sheer exhilaration of it. Not long ago, three "pepped-up" youngsters in Chicago murdered a grocery store owner. They pumped 11 bullets into his body, and were still standing there laughing wildly when the police arrived.

Barbiturates are depressant drugs which have an effect on the central nervous system similar to that of alcohol. They are prescribed medically to calm jittery nerves and to induce sleep. Taken in sufficient quantity by a person who does not intend to go to sleep, they produce a state of euphoric drowsiness, confuson and loss of judgment which is comparable to drunkenness. Both amphetamines and barbiturates are habit-forming. Barbiturates have additional dangers, because habitual users develop a tolerance and require increasing doses to get results. This frequently leads to fatal overdose.

Wood River Club Elects Officers

SHOSHONE, April 8 — Wood River Riding association met Monday night at the McFall hotel here to elect officers and set dates for their姜horees this season.

Marvin Cole, Shoshone, was elected president, with Sid Edwards, Jr., Richfield, secretary-treasurer.

Towns represented include Carey, Richfield, Shoshone, Halley, Twin Falls (two clubs—Twin Falls posse and Frontier Field), Jerome and Valley.

Startling Advice for Budding Composers: Use a Computer

URBANA, Ill., April 8 (AP)—A University of Illinois music professor has some startling advice for budding composers: Use a computer.

"Newsmen use telephones," Prof. Lajaren Hiller said in an interview this week, "so why should musicians play a 17th century violin?"

Hiller has composed a number of works for the computer, including the recently performed "Illiac Suite," named after the university's four million dollar computer, Illiac II.

A computer used to create music "is a musical instrument and also a basic laboratory tool," Hiller said.

"It's the artist's responsibility to deal with his own century and not in the past. After all, he is living in the century of science."

Another computer composer is Egh Lin, a Formosan who is a music graduate and a programmer in the digital computer laboratory.

"When the computer was first developed it was so large it took up a whole building," Lin said.

"Today it takes up only one room."

Eventually, he said, the computer will be the size of a transistor radio.

A composer then could simply feed his freshly written works into the machine and listen to an instant playback.

The music department recently sponsored a computer concert. More than 200 curious students attended.

Accompanied by a graduate school quartet, the computer played selections from Brahms, Bach and, of course, Hiller and Lin.

"It was really funny," said Madelon Magela, 18, a university freshman.

When the musicians were up there the applause was real loud. But when the computer completed a number by itself, the people clapped a little," she said, "but mostly they just sort of looked at each other."

"They didn't really know if that was the thing to do," Miss Magela said. "Applaud for a computer."
