Blaine Senator Is Appointed to GOP Party Post

WASHINGTON, April 21 (Special)—An Idaho state senator, Mrs. Mary Brooks, was announced Tuesday as the new assistant chairman of the Republican national committee by Chairman Ray C. Bliss. Mrs. Brooks, elected to the Idaho senate from Blaine county last year, said she thinks her new job "is going to be tremendously interesting" but added, "I regret exceedingly having to leave Idaho. But after I thought about it, it looked like it was something somebody had to do. My job in representing the people of Blaine county will come first and I'll be there if we have to come back and wrestle with reapportionment again."

"Goals" Are Discussed by Sen. Brooks

WASHINGTON, April 21 (AP)—The state Sen. Mary Brooks, who will become assistant chairman of the Republican national committee on May 15, says one of her goals is to get women working in grass roots politics. "There is no greater satisfaction for a woman who has raised a family than to get into politics," Mrs. Brooks said. "I think women should be political candidates as well as voters."

She predicted a Republican surge in the 1968 elections and said, "We need to get them organized and get them working for a two-party system." Mrs. Brooks, who was vice chairman of the national committee in 1960-63, was named assistant chairman to aid National Chairman Ray Bliss at a Tuesday conference.

She said the new position is "tremendously exciting" but will not overshadow her duties as state senator in Idaho. "My job in representing Blaine county comes first," she said, "but I'll be there if we have to come back and wrestle with reapportionment again."

There has been speculation the state reapportionment plan passed last month will not be able to get to the courts and a special legislative session on the subject would be necessary.

District GOP Chairman Auds Choice

The district Republican chairman George Bever, Twin Falls, declared Tuesday, "I am proud to add warmest congratulations to Mary Brooks for her appointment as assistant national chairman." Mrs. Brooks is a Blaine county resident and a member of the Magic Valley and Southern Idaho Republican clubs.

She was a bright spot for Republicans in last fall's elections," Bever pointed out. "It is a tremendous honor for our Magic Valley district to have Senator Brooks appointed to such an important job. She will do a magnificent job."

Since the state Republican executive committee will meet in Twin Falls on May 21, it is appropriate to invite her to speak here at that meeting and make it a launching date looking forward to sweeping Republican victories in 1968," Bever said.

Flood Threat Rises Along Mississippi

CROSSE, Wis., April 21 (AP)—A major Mississippi river flood threat embattled La Crosse today. Officials said that residents of flooded cities downstream to while there is still time. The swollen river, created at the highest point ever in this river city—late yesterday—the five miles of make-dikes thrown up around Crose appeared to be holding. But they will have to take at least two days before the water begins to fall.

The defense spokesman said the look in the area is "very bleak." Mayor and La Crosse's newly-elected Mayor O. L. Leister said the rest of the state is "in a state of panic." Crose is not down, La Crosse is "out."

The crisis at La Crosse recently over, worries centered at downstream cities as far as Du Chien, Wis., East Dubuque, Ill., and the Iowa cities of Clinton and Muscatine.

The Mississippi's devastating flood has driven many thousands from their homes in the upper Midwest, claimed $100 million in damage and is in the store.

Many valley residents would be staying in their homes if the full force of the flood had not been considered to be diverted from their homes if they were evacuated.

STATE SEN. MARY BROOKS, R. Blaine, shown here in the Idaho senate chambers during the past legislative session, was appointed Tuesday as assistant chairman of the Republican national committee effective May 15. She intends to retain her seat in the Idaho state senate through the balance of her present term, to which she was elected last year. Her appointment to the national committee post was announced by Ray C. Bliss, the party's new chairman. (Times-News photo)

Hearing Is Sought On Wild Rivers Act

The Idaho State Chamber of Commerce board members resolved to press for a hearing in Idaho on the proposed wild rivers legislation at their meeting Wednesday morning at the Twin Falls American Legion hall. They also agreed to submit a resolution urging the repeal of federal excise taxes. During the business meeting a letter from U. S. Sen. Len Jordan, R. Ida., was read, telling the directors that Idaho has enough land and resources to share with many persons if they are properly managed. Jordan urged members of the organization to take a lead in pointing this out to government agencies, persons who would enjoy sharing our scenic and recreation wonders, and those who would also prosper economically as Idaho prosper.

Wild Rivers Bill Might Be Amended

WASHINGTON, April 21 (AP)—The senate interior committee this week will consider amending the wild rivers bill to extend the Salmon from Riggins to its confluence with the Snake. Sen. Frank Church, D. Ida., said today.

The proposed legislation presently includes the main Salmon from the town of North Fork downstream to Riggins, and the entire middle fork. The committee, Church said, has scheduled hearings Thursday and Friday. He said the bill also would designate as wild rivers to be preserved in their free-flowing and natural state, segments of the Clearwater in Idaho, the Rogue in Oregon, the Rio Grande in New Mexico, the Green in Wyoming and the Suwannee in Georgia and Florida. Church said several Idaho witnesses are expected at the hearings to urge inclusion of the lower Salmon in the bill.

Burley Meet To Discuss Sunday Races

BOISE, April 21 (AP)—All counties in southern Idaho which have indicated an interest in horse racing have been invited to attend a meeting at the Postdessa Inn in Burley Friday to discuss Sunday racing. But Rulon Swensen, a member of the Ada county commission, which arranged the session, said there has been no indication how many will attend.

"We invited anyone interested and some have indicated they will be on hand," Swensen said. "We haven't heard from others."

Swensen said no formal program has been arranged and only informal discussions are anticipated. The question was raised in Blinnock county, where the county commission refused to authorize use of the county fairgrounds for Sunday racing. Racing sponsors later made arrangements for a track at the Pocatello municipal airport.

The state racing committee approved dates for Sunday racing in a number of communities at its meeting in Burley earlier this month. They include May 9 at Emmet, May 15 and 30 at June 8 at Boise, June 13, 20, 27, July 11, 18 and Aug. 1 at Pocatello; July 4 and Sept. 5 at Rupert.

Harassment

BERLIN, April 21 (AP)—The Russians have endangered Western Allied aircraft in the Berlin air lanes by dropping chaff designed to interfere with radar, a Western spokesman said today.

The new Soviet harassment of Berlin's vital air traffic took place Monday and the Western Allies protested it that night, a Western Allied spokesman said.

The verbal protest delivered at Berlin's four-power air safety center denounced that act as a potential hazard to Western Allied military and commercial flights.

The chaff-metal strips that "jam" radar—floated across the three 20-mile wide air corridors above East Germany that connect the isolated city with the West.

U. S. Accused Of Escalating Viet Nam War

TOKYO, April 21 (AP)—Communist China today accused the United States of escalating the war in Viet Nam. The Chinese described President Johnson as a "hangman."

The Peking charge followed a communist Chinese statement yesterday urging the Chinese people to begin "full preparations" to send volunteers to fight in Viet Nam.

Yesterday's statement said the volunteers would be sent only if the United States escalates the war and the Vietnamese need their help.

Today's follow-up comment said President Johnson was escalating the war while talking of peace. It was published as an editorial in the Peking Peoples Daily, China's official newspaper, and broadcast by the New China News Agency.

"We have pointed out long ago that every time the Johnson administration spreads the smoke-screen of seeking peace it goes a step further along the path of war escalation," the editorial said.

"People have seen clearly that since Johnson put forward his proposal for unconditional discussions... the United States has quickened the tempo of the escalation."

McNamara Tells of Viet Nam Situation, Military Aid Hike

WASHINGTON, April 21 (AP)—Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara announced today that military aid for South Viet Nam will be increased from 207 million dollars to 330 million dollars in the present fiscal year. He made the announcement as he left a White House meeting at which he reported to President Johnson on his trip to Honolulu and conferences there with top strategists on the Viet Nam situation. McNamara said that U. S. attacks on North Viet Nam have slowed but not stopped Viet Cong infiltration into South Viet Nam. He also said they have been damaging morale of the Viet Cong forces.

McNamara indicated that what he called the very substantial increase in military aid for South Viet Nam will go into such things as helicopters and firepower.

The primary purpose of the Honolulu meeting, he said, was to review the action that this country can take to support expansion in South Vietnamese military strength, by up to 100,000 troops.

The secretary said substantial evidence has been found of increased infiltration from the north in the last few months and this adds up to an unfavorable ratio of manpower.

This, he said, can be offset partly by added mobility, which helicopters would help provide, and through stronger firepower. So these will continue to be expanded, he said.

He said that contrary to some recent press reports almost all captured Viet Cong weapons are communist bloc origin—almost 100 per cent of the large items.

Asked whether there was any assessment from military consultants on what would happen if the Chinese communists come into the war, McNamara replied in the negative.

And he repeated that it must be assumed that surface-to-air missiles will be introduced among the North Vietnamese.

Planes Hit Red Trucks, Trains, Boats

SAIGON, South Viet Nam, April 21 (AP)—U.S. air force, navy and Vietnamese planes staged at least four raids over North Viet Nam today, smashing at trucks, trains, boats, barracks and roads.

All the attacks were relatively small, fast-moving jobs at communications lines. Spokesmen said all the planes returned safely. Light aircraft fire was encountered in a few places. No enemy planes were sighted.

The largest of the operations, directed against Routes 8 and 12, Route 8 runs by the coast at city of Vinh to the Laotian frontier. Route 12 runs from Vinh south toward the South Vietnamese border.

Briefing officers reported these details:—The air force F105 jets cut Route 8 at one point, destroyed two railroad boxcars and a barracks at Muija pass near Laos, and shot up other installations.

Four Vietnamese fighter-bombers, escorted by 10 U.S. air force planes, strafed and bombed along Route 1 up to 60 miles north of the 17th Parallel, destroying or damaging 10 buildings and four 75-foot-long boats.

LIEUT. GARY L. STEELE, son of Mr. and Mrs. Blaine Steele, Bliss, died Monday at a U. S. base hospital on Okinawa after being wounded that day in South Viet Nam. This picture was taken Feb. 25, 1962, at an army pistol range. He was co-pilot of a helicopter during a reconnaissance mission. He is the third man from Magic Valley to lose his life in Viet Nam.

Third Area Man Is Killed in Viet Nam

BLISS, April 21—Lieut. Gary L. Steele, 26, son of Mr. and Mrs. Blaine Steele, Bliss, who died Monday at a U. S. base marine hospital on Okinawa where he was evacuated after being wounded in action the same day, is the third Magic Valley man to lose his life in Viet Nam. Lieutenant Steele was the 10th American victim of communist groundfire Monday in South Viet Nam. He was co-pilot on a reconnaissance mission. Other area men losing their lives as the result of U. S. military activity in Viet Nam were Capt. Donald McGregor, Paul, son of Mrs. Mary McGregor, Burley, in August, 1963, and Capt. James H. Allred, Twin Falls, Dec. 14, 1963.

Lieutenant Steele was mortally wounded in the same province of Binh Dinh, but his mission was not part of the action in which nine other Americans were lost.

It was earlier believed that Lieutenant Steele might have been in one of three helicopters which were shot down by Viet Cong about 280 miles northeast of Saigon.

MaJ. Harlan M. Mayer, Twin Falls army reserve unit adviser and an army survivor assistance officer, notified the Steele family Tuesday of their son's death.

Lieutenant Steele was born Sept. 15, 1938, at Murray, Utah. He attended schools at Ely, Nev., and was graduated from White Pine high school, Ely.

He attended the University of Nevada for one year and the College of Southern Utah at Cedar City one year. He attended Utah State university one semester before entering the army in July, 1961.

He was named "outstanding trainee" of basic training while at Ft. Ord, Calif., and later went to officer training school at Ft. Benning, Ga. He took his flight training at Camp Walters, Tex. See CO-PILOT, Page 2, Col. 5

Rain, Warm Weather Cause Flooding of Carey Roads

CAREY, April 21 (AP)—Rain and warm weather the past few days have caused flooding of rural roads in the Carey area and officials voiced concern Wednesday whether the high line canal can hold any additional water.

Water from the Hot Springs ditch is flooding over about a quarter of a mile of rural road about six miles northeast of Carey. Some farmland also is under water and Frank Shaw reported 15 acres he intends to plant to grain is now under water from the Hot Springs ditch.

The Hot Springs reservoir, whose outflow is divided between the high line canal and Hot Springs ditch, has raised seven inches the past few days. Elwin Coates, president of the Carey Valley Reservoir company, reports the greatest concern is for the diversion below the reservoir.

It is feared that sending any more water down the high line canal will cause new breaks, Coates explained.

Water has been running over the spillway of Fish Creek reservoir since April 3. Little Wood reservoir has only 10,000 acre feet and its capacity is 30,000.

Water was necessary to tear out some of the headgates at the diversion Tuesday to allow more water to go down the Hot Springs

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

BY ANDREW TULLY
WASHINGTON, April 21—When my Russian pal, Nikita, came into the Press club bar he looked so forlorn I tried to cheer him up.
"Never mind, Nikita," I told him. "The whole polliburo will pass some kind of a civil rights law and then your country's racial troubles will be over."
Nikita choked over his house cafe. "What do you mean?" he asked. "What are you talking about?"
"Why Nikita," I replied, "you look so glum today I naturally assumed you were concerned about the plight of those Negro students from Kenya who had to leave your country because the Russians were always beating them up."
"Capitalist imperialistic lies," said Nikita. "I saw nothing about it in Pravda."
"Selma Papers, please copy." Naturally, Pravda doesn't have room for any news except about your great classless society. But the Kenyan government has announced that 29 students flew home from Baku while they were still whole. And then there was that Ghanaian student who was killed by one of your white supremacist-jokers last month.
"As usual, you are exaggerating," said Nikita. "There has, I admit, been some unpleasantness but only because the black foreign students are homesick."
"They act like they're homesick for law and order. Those students in Selma—I mean, Baku—have to travel in groups from dormitory to campus for mutual protection."
"An isolated instance. There have always been trouble-makers in Baku—foreign elements who have not been satisfactorily absorbed in the Soviet culture."
"BAH! PROPAGANDA!"—"Oh," I said. "I always thought Baku was a model community because it has so many different races living happily together. Besides, those isolated instances seem to be becoming general. There were those Kenyan students who went on a three-week strike in Leningrad, and the Africans who rioted in Kiev and in Minsk."
"Swivel!" said Nikita. "Anti-socialist propagandists, imperialist infiltrators. No one pays any attention to such criminals."
"No one but their governments. The Ugandan minister of education is visiting Russia—April 28 to look into complaints of Ugandan students in your paradise. And other African diplomats are demanding that the Kremlin do something to stop racial discrimination."
"SHOULD STAY IN THEIR PLACE!"—"How can they be so ungrateful! We are giving those African an education, training them so that they will be able to take well-paying jobs when they get home."
"That isn't what the students say, Nikita old boy. They claim the Russians make them take courses they don't want, like baby-sitting and spinning-wheel techniques."
"We try to give them the courses their intelligence is capable of grasping," said Nikita. "They are backward people who don't know when they are well off. They should stay in their place—where they belong—happier when someone is taking care of them."
"Ah there, Nikita—Just as I thought. You've got yourself a new writer—from Mississippi!"

Not Funny
The anonymous threat of a bomb isn't funny. No one can ever assume a phoned warning about a bomb in a public building is merely a prank. Each and every threat has to be treated as though a bomb does exist. Quite simply, it's impossible to take the chance. So when such a threat was received at Hillside junior high school in Boise one morning last week, the school was promptly evacuated while police searched for a bomb. None was found, which is normal in the case of phoned bomb threats.
But something new has been added to this particular brand of joke, if that word can be used. The last session of the Idaho legislature passed a new law that provides terms of up to five years in the state prison. Bomb threats in Idaho are regarded officially now as felonies and treated as such. It's a rather heavy penalty to face for the rather questionable fun of phoning a threat that results in evacuation of a public building, such as a school.
It would be far better, of course, if it were possible to segregate those persons with twisted minds or warped senses of humor who think it's funny to phone a bomb threat. They need treatment and should get competent attention to prevent possible change in their mental condition to a point where someone might be in actual real danger of physical injury or worse.
Perhaps anyone who ever even so much as thought about phoning a bomb threat or doing something similar as a prank, should take a closer look at himself. The obvious thing to do in event of such thoughts would be to consult a mental health clinic, if one were available.

GULLIBLE, LOADED
Humans are nearly always gullible and when they have cash in their pockets, it's an open invitation. In these days of general prosperity, it seems there are more stories of incidents in which people and their money are parted. As could be expected, the promise of quick profits or something for nothing is involved in many of the incidents.
A case in point is that of an Idaho man who was indicted on 10 counts of selling unregistered securities. He told prospective investors he had orders for more than two million tons of ore from holdings which the government described as "desolate and long abandoned." Apparently most of the investments were made by mail and the government said something like a quarter of a million dollars changed hands. The securities-peddler had little or no experience in mining and he had made no improvements on the mines that had been abandoned for a long time.
Curiously, none of the persons who invested their money appears to have investigated either the mines or the man to whom they gave money.
Such cases could serve as a warning to everyone. There's risk, although no particular danger, in investments handled by reputable, nationwide firms. Stock prices can go down as well as up. But when persons with money to invest start dealing with private individuals who paint glowing pictures of expected profits, that, in itself, should be enough of a warning to investigate thoroughly.
Certainly it's possible to get rich in a hurry through a shrewd investment or "getting in on the ground floor" of a business or a mine. But everyone should keep in mind that thousands lose all their money for every individual who gets rich in a hurry. If you're loaded with money, it's time to try to be a lot less gullible.

Views of Others
THE COUNCIL'S GOALS
In the final convulsions of the Idaho legislature, we missed the new commissioning of the state's legislative council.
Many Idahoans were most happy to see the legislature charge itself with examining several critical programs in the state. These include a study to streamline state government and make it more efficient, an examination of the lower court system and needed reform, a study on the advisability of adopting a uniform commercial code, one on reorganization of the state's municipal statutes, a study on joint rules of procedure of the legislature, a survey of the needs of exceptional and handicapped children, and a study of public school transportation efficiency.
This is an impressive mantle of responsibility for the council. And the legislature appropriated $132,000 to accomplish the task.
We hope, however, that the council's first biennium has served to prove the mission and merit of the council. . . to the council itself as well as legislators and the public. Sometimes during the past two years there was serious question whether the council members themselves had convinced themselves of the council's worth. Its performance during the first biennium was a spotty record. Much of this was due, admittedly, to a confusion on the part of the council on the extent of its responsibilities.
But there should be little doubt in the minds of the council members that it should study and recommend specific choices of action, and evaluate these choices. This is what the legislature needs. . . serious research and specific recommendations. It is up to the legislature to act upon them, but the council can provide immeasurable assistance with its interim research.
The council cannot merely deflect a brimming basket of recommendations, most of them made randomly to the council as it did in the appointment issue. Some 70 recommendations were hardly breathed upon by the council before they were re-routed to the legislature. The council will have to seeme and sift painstakingly. . . and then judge them. It has another important date with Idaho history to do so.—Idaho Falls Post-Register.

SHOCKING!
A New York advertisement offering World's fair jobs to "blue-eyed blondes" led to an uproar and the promise of an investigation by the state commission for human rights. It seems there's an indication the state's equal opportunity law has been violated. In fact, the commission chairman said he was "appalled and shocked" that such an ad would appear in any New York state newspaper.
Now, Mr. Chairman, why all the fuss? Surely you've heard that gentlemen prefer blondes and blondes have more fun, to quote a couple of popular sayings. Perhaps someone's civil rights have been violated, too.
Here's one big trouble with all the laws that attempt to guarantee equal rights to everyone, including job opportunities. If a cafe, for instance, decided it wanted all its waitresses to be blue-eyed blondes, it would be open to charges of unfair discrimination because obviously everyone wouldn't have an equal opportunity to land a waitress job.
It might be a shocking revelation to the general public, but that's the sort of ridiculous condition that's imposed by so-called "equal opportunity" laws. One of the safe ways around the law would be to hire waitresses and then require those who weren't blue-eyed blondes to wear blue contact lenses and wigs. Or would it be safe?

SLEEP-OUTS AT U.O.
The conduct code for students at the University of Oregon unquestionably less restrictive than were the rules and regulations in their parents' college years. It evidently is based on the theory that college-age students are mature enough to make their own decisions on how they shall conduct themselves with a minimum of supervision by university authorities.
Perhaps it is too lax. The questionnaire sent to parents of coeds, asking them to answer "yes" or "no" on whether their daughters could stay overnight in various places, including men's apartments in Eugene, judges that the university is not much concerned about behavior as long as the parents have no objection.
Maybe the questionnaire gives the wrong implication, as President Arthur S. Flemming and other university officials now feel it does. One doubts that University of Oregon students behave any worse or any better than young people of like age and backgrounds elsewhere, or that the administration is not at all concerned about where the girls spend their nights.
One source close to the university says it would be unfair to blame Dean of Women Golda Parker Wickham for the derogatory impression of the institution that the questionnaire may have given. She was seeking guidelines from the parents in administering the rather free-and-easy conduct code. Sororities, which generally have stricter self-imposed rules than those set for the university as a whole, have sent similar questionnaires to parents and the replies have been helpful.
The questionnaire was a shocker. The reaction of some members of the legislature undoubtedly reflects that of many parents. Good may come of it. It may cause the university to accept more responsibility for the welfare of its charges, some of whom in all likelihood are too young and inexperienced to act maturely in a new and exciting environment free of parental restrictions. There must be a happy medium between too much supervision and not enough. The problem is how to discover it.—The Oregonian.

ROBINS CHANT OF SPRING
Robins fill the red-laced sky . . .
Reds breasts dappled white,
Messengers of lyric spring,
And a true delight
As they chant of April rain
Filled with golden flashes,
Chant of earth's
resplendent gift,
Buttercups in splashes,
Such a flock of weather-vanes,
Robins caroling refrains.

COULD BE
Dear Gent:
I've heard several discussions about the relative dryness of Magic Valley when compared to the days around the turn of the century. I've heard some old-timers insist that Twin Falls, in its early days, was a desert and any type of moisture was rare. But on the other hand, I've also heard some of the old-timers tell about Main avenue when it was nothing but a sea of mud, so it would seem that rainfall wasn't exactly rare.
Where could a person find some authentic figures on precipitation in this area around 1900?

Religion in America

BY LOUIS GABSELS
United Press International
The recent civil rights demonstrations in Selma, Ala., gave birth to a riddle which is now being solved. It asks:
"Who patrols the southern streets in bands, carrying crosses and wearing hoods?"
The answer: Nuns.
The sisters who marched in Selma focused national attention on a trend that has been under way for several years. Nuns are emerging from their cloistered life to find new ways of serving Christ and ministering to human needs.
Their new involvement in everyday life is reflected in changing attire. With the active encouragement of the Vatican, several religious orders have abandoned the long black habits and white collars, which date back to the middle ages, in favor of a modest version of modern dress.
The vast majority of America's 175,000 nuns are still engaged in the traditional occupations of teaching and nursing. But more and more are taking up the challenge of Belgium's Cardinal Suenens, a top official of the Vatican council who urged nuns to think of the whole world as their convent.
At the headquarters of the job corps in Washington, D. C., visitors encounter a smiling woman who wears street-length dresses and softly-curled hair. She is Sister M. Francis Barberis, Ph.D., who resigned as president of Webster college, St. Louis, Mo., to become a government official in the war on poverty.
In Chicago, more than 600 sisters have formed a new "urban apostolate" to help the delinquent children and broken families who inhabit the asphalt jungles of the inner city.
In other areas, nuns are engaged in adult education, counseling college students, and making pastoral calls at the homes of Catholic families.
There are limits to what the "new nun" can do. The national aeronautics and space administration (NASA) recently received a letter from Sister Jean Edmund Callanan, who is working on her doctorate in science at Fordham university. She respectfully declined an invitation to apply for training as an astronaut.
"It would be nice to qualify," she wrote, "but I'm afraid that I am ineligible, since I do not have 20-20 vision."
Of all the new roles undertaken by sisters, none has stirred so much public controversy as

TAYLOR'S VIEWS ON WORLD NEWS

BY HENRY J. TAYLOR
While our stock market booms to new all-time highs, the egg has hit the fan in Japan. The way for the easy yen go-out-of-hand. Markets there, there and anywhere fly to the refrain of "Let's All Sing Like the Birds Sing." They move on two laws never repealed: Supply and demand and human nature.
The Tokyo Exchange tried to repeat these. Henry J. Taylor But we've found from time to time (and how!) that Wall Street isn't a one-way street. Alas, so have the Nipponese.
Investment giants like Mitsui and company, Japanese brokerage houses, banks and industrial concerns are so intermeshed that studying them is like taking apart a series of Chinese boxes, one inside the other. And they participate in a government-authorized price-defense agency, with the Bank of Japan and the ministry of finance standing behind them.
The Japanese have no more connection with Wall Street's Dow Jones and company than a Kabuki dancer has with a coal mine. In a neat little piece of highway robbery they just pirated the famous name of the Dow Jones averages for Japanese use and the fine old American firm has been unable to stop them.
The price agency has defended the Japanese Dow Jones stock averages at 1200 with hundreds of millions of dollars in outright purchases. Its managers were as unworried as kittens in cream for the postwar recovery has been even more dramatic than the West German miracle.
The roaring boom has been built on new tools, hard work, low costs, excellent adaptation to climate and fantastic amounts of raw materials. The Dow Jones averages are up 100 percent since the war. The Doctor Says
BY WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT
Many persons are found to have polyps in the rectum. These small tumors come in assorted sizes and they may have a broad base on the wall of the rectum or they may be attached to the wall by a short stalk. The chief reason for finding and removing these polyps is to determine whether or not they are malignant. Relief of symptoms is of secondary importance because most polyps produce no symptoms, especially in the early stages. Later they may become so large as to cause some obstruction of the bowel or they may bleed.
Since persons with polyps rarely complain about them and since they are not readily found on physical examination or by X-rays, the diagnosis is made by means of the proctoscope. Most rectal polyps, like nasal polyps, are benign but there are so many variations in size and contour varied and complex creatures who differ from other women only in having responded to a divine call to a life of self-denial as a means of finding fulfillment in Christ.

Religion in America
BY LOUIS GABSELS
United Press International
The recent civil rights demonstrations in Selma, Ala., gave birth to a riddle which is now being solved. It asks:
"Who patrols the southern streets in bands, carrying crosses and wearing hoods?"
The answer: Nuns.
The sisters who marched in Selma focused national attention on a trend that has been under way for several years. Nuns are emerging from their cloistered life to find new ways of serving Christ and ministering to human needs.
Their new involvement in everyday life is reflected in changing attire. With the active encouragement of the Vatican, several religious orders have abandoned the long black habits and white collars, which date back to the middle ages, in favor of a modest version of modern dress.
The vast majority of America's 175,000 nuns are still engaged in the traditional occupations of teaching and nursing. But more and more are taking up the challenge of Belgium's Cardinal Suenens, a top official of the Vatican council who urged nuns to think of the whole world as their convent.
At the headquarters of the job corps in Washington, D. C., visitors encounter a smiling woman who wears street-length dresses and softly-curled hair. She is Sister M. Francis Barberis, Ph.D., who resigned as president of Webster college, St. Louis, Mo., to become a government official in the war on poverty.
In Chicago, more than 600 sisters have formed a new "urban apostolate" to help the delinquent children and broken families who inhabit the asphalt jungles of the inner city.
In other areas, nuns are engaged in adult education, counseling college students, and making pastoral calls at the homes of Catholic families.
There are limits to what the "new nun" can do. The national aeronautics and space administration (NASA) recently received a letter from Sister Jean Edmund Callanan, who is working on her doctorate in science at Fordham university. She respectfully declined an invitation to apply for training as an astronaut.
"It would be nice to qualify," she wrote, "but I'm afraid that I am ineligible, since I do not have 20-20 vision."
Of all the new roles undertaken by sisters, none has stirred so much public controversy as

Bombs With Delayed Fuses Developed

SANDIA BASE, Albuquerque, N. M., April 21 (AP)—The United States has developed nuclear bombs which will, when dropped by low-flying planes, survive impact and explode by delayed fuse.

The time lapse allows the planes time to escape the blast area.

These so-called "lay-down" weapons, designed for hit-and-run attacks, are girded in armor thick enough to smash against rock or concrete without damaging the nuclear explosive.

Testing the hide of these new weapons is an assignment being carried out at heavily guarded laboratories and areas in the foothills of the rolling Sandia mesa.

The area is a key atomic support base of the atomic energy commission and is armed forces.

Technicians use every means to wreck, burn and freeze the nuclear hardware that goes into U. S. nuclear bombs, missiles, land mines, artillery shells and other arms.

Each component is designed to withstand temperatures from 90 degrees below zero to 5,400 degrees above, and possibly even heavy sprays of radiation.

Fact Sheets

"Water Bond Quick Facts," a fact sheet compiled by the TWIN committee to explain the water bond election, can be obtained in quantity from the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce office.

The fact sheet tells what is wrong with the present city water system; improvements that will be made as a result of a successful election; change in taste and smell of city water; cost of improvements; how the work will be financed; why it isn't feasible to drill more wells; what other water sources have been investigated; how the improvements would care for the future of the city; what will happen if the water bond election fails, and who can vote in the election.

Pickle Pin Business Is Picking Up

PITTSBURGH, Pa., April 21 (AP)—Pickle pins are going like hot cakes. They were introduced in 1893. The pickle packer giving them away has handed out 80 million. But the old pickle pin orders pale beside current demand according to H. J. Heinz company here. No one knows why. A couple of months ago, requests for thousands of pickle pins started pouring in. Now the company's pickering up the worrywart way, fearful that the year's supply of four million pins—enough for an ordinary year—will dry up. Writers of letters asking for the free pins stated that they wanted to get in on the fad. What fad? As far as anyone at Heinz can reconstruct the pickle rush, the first order came from Camden, N.J., taken over by youngsters there. The word got around. Orders are coming in from many states. The little pins, still size for illudians, are being worn by members of pickle pusher and pickle picker clubs. Schools want them for class projects. A home-maker wants them for cupcake decorations for a club meeting. A college boy ordered "about 28" because they're cheaper than, but just as effective as fraternity pins.

The pickle people here are perking up ideas to keep ahead of the fad. Some of the ideas: a line of gold-plated pickle pins for executives; granting status to pickle picker and pickle pusher clubs by presenting a pickle-of-the-year award for the most pertinent and promising pickle program or project.

Costs Noted For Mental Health Clinic

Costs for a local mental health program would be approximately 17 cents per taxpayer per year, the Twin Falls County Democratic Women were told Tuesday by Mrs. E. M. Wright, a member of the South Central Mental Health Council. The county sends an average of 35 people per year to State Hospital South, Blackfoot, costing the county more than $4,000, she said. Most of these same people could receive help locally at a fraction of the cost of transportation to Blackfoot. Mrs. R. L. Summerfield, president of the club, emphasized that "this is too important to the people of Twin Falls county to become a political issue, and everyone should be aware of the facts."

"An added advantage of a clinic would be that it would be completely locally controlled by the county commissioners and a local advisory board," Mrs. Wright said. The luncheon meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Ada W. Powell. During the business meeting plans were made for a rummage sale in May. Members were asked to get their recipes in for the cookbook. The May meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Jack Swisher and the topic will be "Urban Renewal."

BOISE, April 21 (AP)—Mrs. R. B. Kading said yesterday that if she believed her attempt to gain election as Young Republican national co-chairman was hurting her party in Idaho she would quit the race. But she told a news conference she does not believe that. She said resolutions criticizing her action are the result of "gross misunderstandings." The Boise woman said her candidacy has been endorsed by "a large majority" of the organized Young Republican clubs in Idaho. She said only four of the 34 clubs in the state have questioned her actions. Mrs. Kading is state chairman of Idaho Young Republicans. The resolutions adopted by clubs at Nampa, Idaho Falls, Mountain Home and in Shoshone county condemned her at the date for the state convention so that she could choose delegates to the national convention June 14-18.

EMMETT, April 21 (AP)—Women from Methodist churches in southern Idaho and eastern Oregon were registered today for the annual meeting of the Woman's Society of Christian Service. Guest speaker was Mrs. George Berry, Lafayette, Calif., the Western jurisdiction president of the society.

COEUR D'ALENE, April 21 (AP)—Residents of Coeur d'Alene were congratulated today on "making good strides toward improvements and growth." "It takes men and women of vision and industry," added Rep. Compton I. White, Jr., D., Ida., "to develop the potential of a community and I believe Coeur d'Alene is on the move." White spoke during dedication of the new postoffice. He presented to the postoffice an American flag which has flown above the national capitol in Washington. White took part Monday in similar ceremonies for a new postoffice in his home town of Clark Fork.

BOISE, April 21 (AP)—The public utilities commission said today it has revised an earlier order which would permit the Boise Water corporation to increase its rates, effective with meter readings May 1. The commission said it was informed the rate for meter readings begins April 26 and it said the higher rates may be effective at that time. The company provides domestic water service for much of the Boise area.

BOISE, April 21 (AP)—The Idaho legislature and Gov. Robert E. Smylie were commended yesterday for a "major breakthrough in forwarding the needs of higher education." The letter of commendation was received from the executive committee of the Western Interstate commission for higher education, headquartered in Boulder, Colo. The 1965 legislature, on Smylie's recommendation, created six districts in Idaho for establishing junior college districts and increased aid to education, including higher education. The legislature also authorized Boise Junior college to offer four-year programs.

IDAHO FALLS, April 21 (AP)—Eastern Idaho grassmen are scheduled to meet with the grassman-of-the-year committee of the Idaho State Chamber of Commerce in Idaho Falls Thursday evening. Hugh Wilson, Boise, chairman of the state grassman of the year program, will present the program. Members of the state committee are on a tour of southeastern Idaho to organize county work in the program.

BOISE, April 21 (AP)—Gov. Robert E. Smylie said yesterday the question on legislative reapportionment plans is whether they meet the constitutional test, not whether Rep. Norman J. McDevitt likes them. "I don't see much point in name calling," the governor told newsmen, "or in setting country people against city people." McDevitt, a Pocatello attorney, said in a brief filed with the U. S. supreme court this week that the Idaho legislature has been rurally dominated for more than 30 years. Discriminations against city dwellers. He said the senate reapportionment plan he adopted last month to "wait for time" in hopes a constitutional amendment would be adopted that would eliminate required reapportionment of the Idaho senate. The house reapportionment plan, he said, still does not provide equal representation and like the senate plan is "calculated" to continue existing "invidious discrimination." Said Smylie: "The question is not whether you like the plans but whether they meet the constitutional test. And that can be decided only by the courts, ultimately by the supreme court."

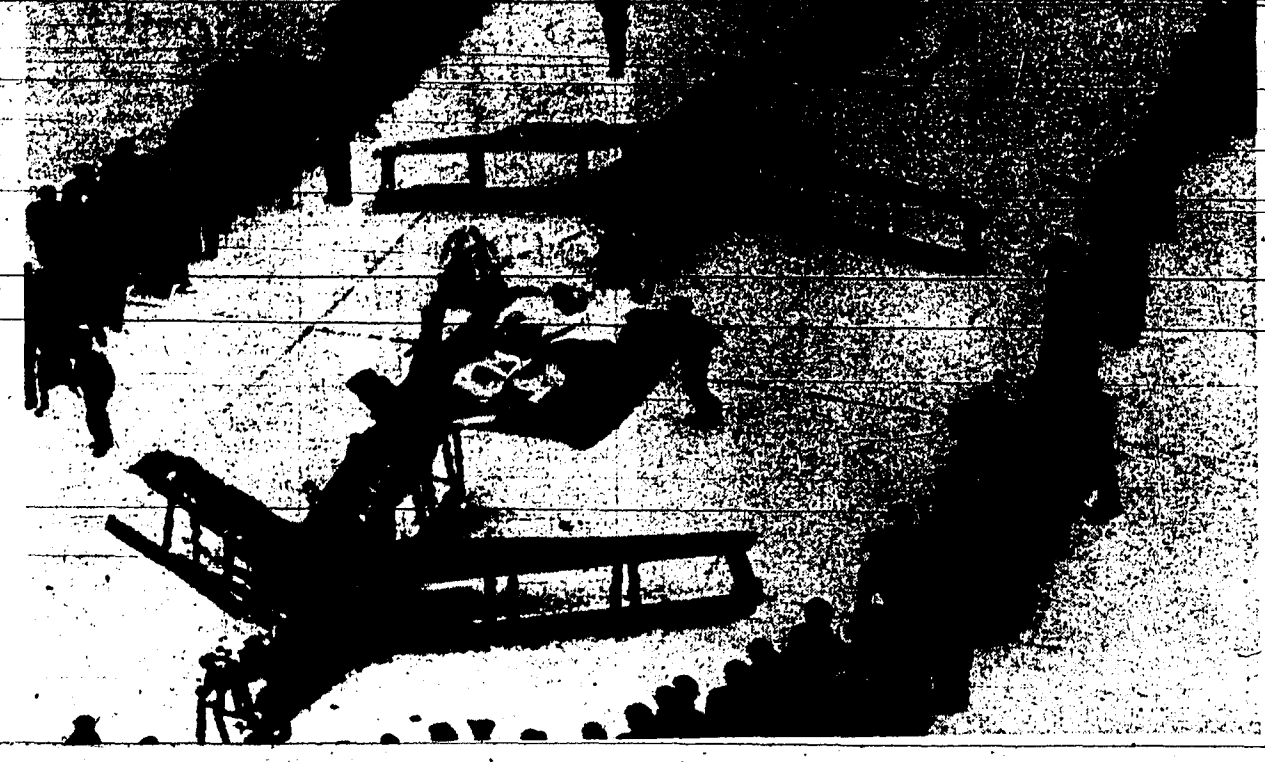

BOISE, April 21 (AP)—Funeral services will be held Thursday for James F. Hill, a Spanish-American war veteran who died Monday night at the age of 105. He had been a resident of Boise since 1953. A native of North Carolina, Hill enlisted in the Army in June, 1898. He remained in military service until 1902 and later worked in San Francisco as a policeman. He was sheriff of Modoc county in California for four terms and worked in shipyards in Portland during both world wars.

CALDWELL, April 21 (AP)—The Caldwell migrant ministry said today it is applying for an $18,460 grant under the anti-poverty program to finance a kindergarten and day care center for children of migrant workers. The center would be operated at the Caldwell labor camp, where a social service project has been under way, financed jointly by the Caldwell migrant ministry, the Southern Idaho Migrant ministry and the board of charities of the Menonite church. Plans call for operation of the kindergarten and day care center for two and one-half months, beginning June 1. More than 100 youngsters, the children of migrant workers, would be enrolled and a 16-person staff would be employed. "It is hoped that as a result of voluntary contributions we can return some of the funds," said the Rev. Robert A. Reed, pastor of the Boone Memorial Presbyterian church, who is chairman of the migrant ministry committee. "What we want to do is to get the most possible out of each dollar."

Youth Held For Trial in 3 Burglaries

An 18-year-old Kimberly youth waived preliminary hearing Wednesday and was bound over to eleventh district court by Twin Falls county Probate Judge Zoe Ann Shaub on three counts of first degree burglary.

Fred A. Allen, 18, was arraigned Tuesday in probate court for three burglaries of Person's IGA market, Kimberly, and then requested a preliminary hearing. He appeared again Wednesday and requested a preliminary hearing be waived.

Allen was arrested early Tuesday morning by Deputy Sheriff Paul Corder hiding in a restroom of the Kimberly market.

According to Sheriff James H. Benham, the owner of the market heard a noise and went outside his home, nearby, in time to see a youth throw a rock through the window of the store. The youth had sacked up several food items from the store. Sheriff Benham said. The store had been burglarized on Feb. 15 and March 15. Sheriff Benham added, noting that the youth admitted all three of the burglaries.

Allen failed to post $1,000 bond and was placed in county jail.

Circus

HOUSTON, Tex., April 21 (AP)—They're going to bring the circus to the biggest big top yet. Houston's new domed stadium.

To get here the Ringling Bros. and Barnum and Bailey Circus will make the longest detour in its 95-year history. Wolcott Fenner, vice president and director of promotions, said Tuesday the show will travel from Toronto to Houston and then double back to Chicago after six performances June 10-13.

He said the stadium's 50,000 seats for a circus crowd would compensate for the added mileage.

Feeling adventurous?
Buy a LeSabre with a Wildcat lurking under the hood.
(And a lot of action behind the wheel.)

This is the car for the dauntless adventurer in you. The you that wants to explore the world—without actually roughing it. To start (and what a start!), you'll have a 210-hp. Wildcat V-8. It speaks softly, but carries a big car with ease. Then, there are LeSabre's tooks. You'll want to take them around and introduce them to your friends. (Who could keep all that power cooped up in a garage, anyway?) If your friends happen to live several hundred miles away, so much the better. LeSabre's comfortable ride and easy handling make big distances seem like small change. Speaking of change, you may wish to keep your LeSabre's low price a secret between yourself and your Buick dealer. Go start plotting with him, soon. (You can also arrange to have a still more ferocious 250-hp. Wildcat. Only if you feel at home with the really big ones.)

Electrical Union Aides Have Quit

WASHINGTON, April 21 (AP)—Officials of the International Union of Electrical Workers (IUE) have resigned since transfer of power from James B. Carey to new President J. Jennings, it was learned today.

Jennings was installed in the union's top office after a government account showing that Carey had defeated Carey in last year's election despite a report by trustees that Carey had won a narrow victory.

The chairman of the trustees, J. Smith, has turned in his resignation and one other trustee reported to have quit his post.

Benjamin Segal, IUE general secretary, also bowed out of office and was replaced by Irving Richardson, who has been a spokesman for the Textile Workers Union of America (AFL-CIO).

John Fitzpatrick, staff director of the 255,000-member union, also has left the IUE.

Union sources said Abraham Lincoln was expected to direct an investigation into the phony tabulation of votes that led to Carey's departure.

George Meany, AFL-CIO president, has said the big labor federation may direct a clean-up operation of IUE officials responsible for the vote "scandal" if the union does not purge itself.

Meany said in leaving his $25,000-a-year post that he was completely unaware of any wrongdoing in connection with the counting of ballots in the mail referendum. He has been the IUE's president since it was created in 1950 to combat the Communist-infiltrated United Electrical Workers.

Revision of Maritime Subsidy Policy Is Eyed

WASHINGTON, April 21 (AP)—President Johnson's transportation advisers are considering a drastic revision of maritime subsidy policy, including ways to improve the nation's aging "tramp steamer" fleet.

The 112 vessels in the fleet are mostly of World War II vintage. But they are vital to the U.S. export-import trade. They carry bulk cargoes of raw materials for U.S. factories, American military equipment sent overseas and surplus grains and other foods going abroad under aid programs.

The tramps get an indirect subsidy through public law 480 which requires that at least 50 per cent of the foods be transported in American bottoms. But their business is speculative at best.

Johnson's advisers are weighing a plan under which tramp operators could, among other things, have their ships built in foreign yards yet still be eligible to carry government cargoes. The objective is to provide a more balanced merchant marine. The current costly subsidy programs have neglected the tramps and built up a fleet of modern cargo vessels which primarily carry manufactured goods.

They concede, however, that there could be strong opposition from some shipping circles. Some maritime administration officials also consider the construction subsidy a fitting target for economy. They say the United States already has a surplus shipyard capacity and if subsidized ship owners were allowed to build abroad, some of this capacity could be eliminated.

ARMY STAFF SGT. Donald Brady, Lancaster, Pa., a special forces medic, talks with a Montagnard mother during a visit to Long Chin in the Viet Nam highlands. Brady and 19 other specially assigned medics brave communist ambush to bring modern medicine and good will to the backwards tribal people of the area. (AP wirephoto)

Special Forces Medic Helps Montagnards Fight Diseases

LONG CHIN, South Viet Nam, April 21 (AP)—An American special forces medic is helping primitive Montagnard tribesmen in this highland village fight death and disease.

No matter what the future holds for war-torn Viet Nam, he believes the contribution he and other special forces medics are making will be something lasting.

S.Sgt. Donald Brady, Lancaster, Pa., operates with 19 other medics and five nurses in an effort to adapt modern medical techniques to the backward conditions of the highlanders. Despite the danger of ambush by the communist Viet Cong, they rove the Montagnard villages to comfort the dying and sick.

The Montagnards, who blame disease they do not understand on the spirits, do understand the death of war. Some villagers have lost lives or limbs in fighting that has held this country in terror for 20 years.

They have taken protection against shelling or bombing by building underground bunkers below their still-supported huts.

On a typical visit to Long Chin, Brady may treat a gunshot wound or cases of dysentery, skin ulcers and beri beri. The Montagnards submit passively to Brady's treatment.

As a precaution against ambush, Brady carries an automatic weapon on his calls. In addition, special patrols go with the medics.

Californian Gives up Alaska Hike

FAIRBANKS, Alaska, April 20 (AP)—Alaska's Nome to Fairbanks hiker has turned back to Nome after falling into an icy river and almost drowning.

"I did the best I could," said Jim Acheson, 25, former marine from Fairfield, Calif.

Acheson left Nome March 30 and had planned to walk to Fairbanks in three months time. Andrew Bang, a storekeeper in Unalakleet, said Acheson fell into two rivers Saturday after thawing ice cracked under his feet.

The first time he fell through the ice he kept going but at the second river he fell into icy water up to his neck and had to swim for his life.

In the struggle he lost his pack, snowshoes and food supply.

Bang said he believed Acheson was finally stopped by the Cherokeo river about 10 miles from Unalakleet. After becoming soaked, wet and with the temperature growing progressively colder, the hiker managed to reach a remote White Alice communications site. The men there returned him to Unalakleet.

Al Phelps, editor of the Nome Nugget, said he managed to interview Acheson briefly at the Nome airport Sunday after he flew in from Unalakleet on Alaska Airlines.

The Nome editor said Acheson was "humble but wasn't hanging his head."

Acheson walked about 265 miles in all.

Mother, 7 Children Die in Crash

NEWARK, N.J., April 21 (AP)—A 39-year-old woman and seven of her children died last night when a car in which they were passengers went out of control and collided head-on with a tractor-trailer.

Five other persons were injured in the accident on U.S. route 1 near the Newark airport.

The dead were identified as Mrs. Ann Dora Sherod and her children, Jessie Lee, 15, Anna Jean, 16, Joe Nathan, 8, Kathy, 3, Wanda, 4, Marina, 18, and James Arthur, 14.

James died in a hospital several hours after the accident. The others were dead at the scene or died shortly after reaching the hospital.

Police said the father of the children, Arthur Sherod, 37, Jersey City, was driving the car when it swerved from the far right lane, crossed three divider strips and smashed diagonally into the tractor-trailer which was moving in the opposite direction.

Sherod and two other children, Diane, 5, and Charles, 9, were taken to city hospital in serious condition.

Whimer, A. Martin, 32, Gastonia, N.C., driver of the tractor-trailer, and his assistant, James C. Turner, Jr., 35, Concord, N.C., were admitted to Beth Israel hospital.

Salmon Social Club Observes Anniversary

Members of the Salmon Social club observed the unit's 50th birthday anniversary with a dinner and program at the Depot Grill Caboose room.

The invocation was given by Mrs. Rose Maxum and the welcome was extended by Mrs. Nina Hardy. Mrs. Jessie Davis reviewed the history of the group, bringing back memories of 50 years ago. A memorial was presented by Mrs. Esther O'Dell.

Three charter members, Mrs. Davis, Mrs. Maxum and Ina Jordan, were in attendance. Mrs. Ethel Martell, Twin Falls, is this year's president.

The Salmon Social club was organized April 5, 1915. There were 16 members at the charter meeting at the home of Mrs. John Thietten Maxum. Of the original charter members, five are still living, but only two retain their membership. They are Mrs. Davis and Mrs. Robert Rayl. Mrs. Thietten was elected the first president. The club colors are yellow and black and the official flower is the rose.

The Salmon Social club was organized strictly as a social club, but much donation work was done for the good of the community. In the early years, money was donated for relief work and the members made quilts, did sewing at the hospital and rolled bandages.

This was a close knit organization of neighbors, helping each other when there was a need. Quilts, pianos and ice cream socials were held. Some of the early programs were talks by the home demonstration agents. They taught preparing foods in various ways, how to make over clothing, make dress forms, form fitting, canning and millinery.

The club joined the Idaho State Federation in 1919. During this year, the club donated to the University of Idaho for the benefit of crippled children, for the memorial fund of the Federation and the YMCA drive. In 1920, fruit and garments were prepared for the Twin Falls county fair.

Bad weather, illness, bad roads and poor means of travel caused many winter meetings to be canceled. Many quilts were pieced by these energetic members. The quilts were given to the Boise Children's home, the Salvation Army and to many needy families. A lady in Kimberly requested clothing when she had triplets. The club spent $2.75 for material and made six dresses, two shirts and bought six pair of hose. Many layettes were sewed for the Salvation Army and for others.

Many of the programs were of the informative type and included Mrs. Cora Stevens, county treasurer, talking on taxation and Mrs. C. E. Lind giving a talk on her world tour.

Donations have been made to many groups including McClusky Health camp, Buhl county homes, Red Cross, March of Dimes, Cancer society, sending packages overseas during World War II, and the hospital.

Bridal and baby showers are many in this group. Each daughter is given a shower at the time of her marriage and each son is presented a gift. A special remembrance was a wedding gift sent to Mrs. Thietten when she married Roy Maxum in Washington. Small gifts are given the school children at Christmas time and special gifts are presented to retiring officers each year.

May 8, 1931, members and friends met at the IOOF hall for their annual dinner. About 150 persons attended and the evening was spent dancing to the music of the T. Drown family. This was the first of many dances planned and held by the club. Each member was permitted to invite five guests and their partners. An invitation to this dance was much prized. Lunch was served during the intermission by the women. These dances were held for many years at the IOOF hall and the American Legion hall.

The group joined the Twin Falls county Historical society as a charter member in January, 1943.

In 1924, the Salmon Social club arranged to start hot lunches at the Allendale school, south of Twin Falls. Parents who had children in the school took turns cooking about two items and serving them to the children to supplement the sandwiches the children brought. Mrs. Isabel Mills was the school teacher at that time.

"To celebrate a 50th anniversary is quite an occasion," one member said, "and we will continue to do our best with our social outings and for community projects, for possibly another 50 years."

Guests attended the anniversary dinner from Bremerton, Wash.; Salem, Ore., and Cincinnati, O.; Richfield, Jerome, Wendell, Buhl, Twin Falls and Kimberly.

FALSE TEETH That Loosen Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Hold false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour, checks "plate odor breath." Get FASTEETH at drug counters everywhere.

Dinosaurs Are Making Comeback With New Fossil Quarry in Central Utah

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, April 21 (AP)—The dinosaur, that ugly and stupid and clumsy and terrifying — and fascinating — beast of so many yesterdays ago, is making a comeback.

The dinosaur, pretty well shunted aside as a study specimen in the early 1930's, refused to remain a scientific oddity. Paleontologists and geologists are back at work on the whys and wherefores of the great creatures.

The giant reptiles are getting renewed attention in museums, in a shale and limestone quarry in east central Utah.

The source for the new fossil remains is the Cleveland-Lloyd quarry. It is named for the nearby hamlet of Cleveland and for the late Malcolm Lloyd, Jr., Princeton alumnus and Philadelphia lawyer. Lloyd wondered why the Princeton museum of natural history contained no dinosaur skeleton. Then he financed the 1940-41 Princeton university expedition, which found the pit in the high desert country.

There are indications hundreds of dinosaurs died in or near Cleveland-Lloyd, over a span of 10 to 20 million years.

The region was once a swampy lake — flat and wet and oozy.

That was before the Rocky mountains rose from the plains. Cleveland-Lloyd came to scientific attention in 1927 when it was pointed out to Golden York, then curator of the University of Utah's museum of Earth sciences. The pit had been known for years to Cleveland area residents, among them a youngster named William L. Stokes.

Stokes grew up and while studying for his doctorate in geology at Princeton, stimulated interest in the quarry. The Princeton fossil hunt resulted. Except for occasional sorties to Cleveland, and despite Stokes' efforts to attract more scientists, the quarry drew little further attention until 1960.

That year, Stokes, chairman of the University of Utah's geological department, had his way, spearheading establishment of the "Cooperative Dinosaur Dig."

The project is just what the name specifies — museums and universities working together to restore dinosaur remains.

Stokes described the dig as an effort to "furnish specimens to institutions which cannot afford to get out and find their own. Participants make a financial contribution and that gives them a knocked-down dinosaur. The recipient is responsible for mounting the specimen."

The dig came up with its first fossils in 1960 when five museums and colleges banded with Utah. They were the Exhibit Museum, Ann Arbor, Mich.; Yale Peabody museum, New Haven, Conn.; Buffalo museum of science; California academy of science; San Francisco; and Brigham Young university, Provo.

Since then other schools and museums have joined the project. Twenty-five skeletons have been sent or are being readied for shipment to Tokyo, Los Angeles, Seattle, Fort Worth, Toronto, Ottawa, Glasgow and Modena and Milan, Italy.

The great dinosaurs have become a part of the life of James H. Madsen, Jr., a 32-year-old petroleum geologist who signed on as curator of the Utah museum while awaiting a permanent job in his field. He has been curator nearly six years and has all but forgotten his original specialty. Madsen now calls himself a bone mechanic.

The quarry so far has produced remains of more than 50 dinosaurs and there are indications of many more. "But really," Madsen said, "there is no end in sight."

Survivor of Viet Cong Ambush Tells How Reds Killed American Civilian

SAIGON, April 21 (AP)—Viet Cong guerrillas shot and killed an American civilian without a word yesterday when they discovered he was carrying a pistol, a wounded survivor of the communist ambush reported today.

Nguyen Kim Cuong, a 29-year-old engineer who narrowly escaped death at communist hands, said John B. Cone, Parkdale, Ark., was dragged from his car at a roadblock and shot to death.

From his bed in the Nguyen Van Hoc hospital in suburban Gia Dinh, Cuong told how he played dead after the communists had shot him three times.

Cone, 32, was driving with Cuong into Saigon from suburban Thu Duc, where Cone was assistant project engineer for the construction of a new water purification plant for the capital.

Cuong said they were slowed down by a file of other cars and trucks ahead which were all stopped with their lights turned off.

Mr. Cone was driving the car and he apparently thought, as I did myself, that there was an accident in front of us.

"We drove past the other cars and trucks, when suddenly we were stopped by at least thirty men armed and dressed the same as Vietnamese (government) soldiers.

"We were told to get out of the car and I did just that. But as Mr. Cone was rather reluctant to get out of the car, he was quickly overwhelmed by at least 10 men, and seconds later we were standing next to each other outside the car.

"The Viet Cong did not say much. And I do not remember what little they did say. But they started to search Mr. Cone and myself simultaneously, and I noticed that Mr. Cone was found with a pistol.

"The next thing I saw and heard was two shots being fired by the Viet Cong at Mr. Cone and he just fell flat on the road. I knew after Mr. Cone was shot that I did not have much of a chance myself, because I was traveling in the same car — and especially when Mr. Cone was carrying a pistol, which I was not aware of before the Viet Cong stopped us.

"There was no discussion between them after Mr. Cone was shot.

"The Viet Cong who was searching me at the time pulled out his pistol and fired three shots at me.

"I have been hit in the leg, in the shoulder, and in the chest. I was really hurt, and I fell on the road.

"I feigned as though I was dead, because I knew the Viet Cong would shoot me again. If they knew I was still alive.

"While lying on the road, I could slightly overhear the Viet Cong speaking among themselves or to the other drivers and occupants of the other vehicles about the political arm of the communist Viet Cong.

"Moments later the Viet Cong took off. All that I can remember was that I was helped into a car and found myself in a hospital.

"I can remember now that after the Viet Cong had taken off, I started to call Mr. Cone, but there was no reply and someone told me he was dead."

Fairfield Mill Employee Moves

FAIRFIELD, April 21—Harold Rue, who has been the lumber grader at the Wendell Mill and Lumber company for the past five years, has accepted employment with a lumber company in Boise. Mr. and Mrs. Rue are moving to Boise this week.

Workmen are starting to rebuild the planer which burned about a month ago but it is estimated that it will be at least two months before it is completed.

Heavy snow in the mountains will also prevent the early entry of logging crews to cut timber for the mill. At present they are using logs from a stockpile made last fall.

Kindergarten to Hold Parents Day

PILER, April 21—Parents day at the Piler kindergarten will be observed Thursday at the American Legion hall.

Parents of children attending the current sessions and children who will be eligible to attend next year, with their parents, are invited to attend morning or afternoon sessions that day.

Friday will be closing day of kindergarten. Mrs. Roger Wonenberg and Mrs. Jack Ramsey have been teachers and have been assisted by Mrs. Arthur Anderson and Mrs. Ronald Brady. Mrs. Richard Allen was in charge of refreshments. Some 50 children attended the sessions.

Housekeeping Unglamorous, But Important at Hospital

BY SAMUEL DAVIS
The housekeeping department at Magic Valley Memorial hospital is one of several important departments in the institution. James E. Rosenbaum, assistant administrator, has high praise for this department. He said it requires a "good number of people" to cover the large area. The housekeeper aides have between 90,000 and 94,000 square feet of floor space to cover at Magic Valley Memorial hospital, Rosenbaum pointed out. Mrs. Minnie McCullough, executive housekeeper at the hospital, said this department has 15 full-time employees and one extra employee to help during vacation periods. Mrs. McCullough has been at the hospital for 17 years and has been executive housekeeper for about 12 years. She started work at the hospital in the sewing department. Mrs. McCullough said her department does the general cleaning at the hospital, and also cleans the patients' rooms, halls and utilities daily. When a patient leaves the hospital the housekeeper aides give the room "a thorough cleaning." She explained that the draperies separating patients in a room are replaced, beds are cleaned and linen is replaced, the floor is mopped and utilities are cleaned. Mrs. McCullough reported that if the person was seriously ill with a disease an "ultraviolet" lamp is used for two hours to sterilize the room. The department has what is known as a "unit cleaner" whose job it is to change the bed covers and pillow covers. She also does other odd jobs in a room when a patient leaves. Mrs. McCullough said the bed and pillow are covered with plastic. Mrs. McCullough pointed out that mopping and waxing of hospital floors are the most time-consuming portions of the work. Waxing is a necessary job in the front lobby because of the constant traffic leaving and entering the hospital. Mrs. McCullough said the floor sometimes has to be "stripped" or the old wax removed before the new wax coat is applied. One of the most interesting and surprising jobs an aide does is the sewing. Mrs. McCullough said that all the linen that is not purchased is made by the housekeeper aides. Everything from bed items to surgical items are made in this department. She said they are constantly making linens for the surgical department. She said all the hospital linens are stamped with the name of the hospital, month and year in which they are put to use. She said this is done to keep a better record of linens. A record also is kept on the linens that are purchased and made and on the ones that are discarded. This is done so that the aides will know the number of items in the hospital. She said the Hospital Guild works with them on every fourth Tuesday in each month. They usually do mending and Mrs. McCullough is supervisor. The department has someone at the hospital seven days a week. The aides work from 7 a.m. until 3:30 p.m. and have a half-hour for lunch. They work 40 hours a week. Mrs. McCullough stated, "I am very proud of the women I have employed. It's a hard job and they do a great job." The aides wear blue uniforms, trimmed in white, and wear white shoes.

Airline Finds Way to Cut Through Fog

PORTLAND, Ore., April 21 (AP) — A commercial airline says there is a way to get through the winter fogs which tie up many airports.

For this you need a small plane with a hole in it and some ground-up dry ice.

When fog stops the airliners, up goes the small plane. Once over the airport, the pilot begins showing the dry-ice pellets through a hole in the side or bottom of the plane.

United Air Lines says that more than 80 per cent of the time a corridor opens in the fog, big enough to allow liners to land and take off. Sometimes the corridor lasts all day.

It took nearly 20 years to convince United Air Lines officials. Last winter United tried it 74 times at six airports and it worked 60 times. Some 5,500 passengers got through, including 2,000 on rival lines.

The procedure has been used at Medford, Ore., for 15 years.

United has used it successfully on a small scale for two winters. The airline thinks it should be extended to at least 12 other airports, including Washington, Detroit and Chicago.

It will not work every place. Los Angeles, for example, probably can expect no fog relief.

Northern airports will benefit because their fog occurs at colder temperatures.

What makes it work is the dry ice, which is frozen carbon dioxide. It is 110 degrees below zero Fahrenheit when solidified. United officials say it works best when the fog occurs at temperatures between 24 and 28 degrees. This is called super-cooled fog.

When dry ice pellets are released, they begin to turn to gas. This takes heat from the air. In this intense cooling, moisture begins to collect into ice particles and to descend. They pick up other particles and eventually turn into a light snow. No fog remains.

A General Electric scientist in Massachusetts discovered the effect in a glass chamber in 1948.

10 Nations Pledge Aid To India

WASHINGTON, April 21 (AP) — Ten nations including the United States today pledge one billion dollars to India's economic development, although U. S.-Indian relations have plummeted to sub-freezing levels.

Indian diplomatic sources said that Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri will be unable to come to the United States next fall and will defer the visit to Washington until it is convenient for him to do so.

This was the delayed reaction to President Johnson's sudden request last Thursday that Shastri and Pakistani President Mohammed Ayub Khan defer their visits to this country until next fall because Johnson was so occupied with congressional affairs and the problems of Viet Nam.

Indian officials have been highly critical of Johnson's Viet Nam policies.

"President Johnson apparently has had enough of foreigners telling him how to run the world," one diplomat remarked caustically. "The President, it seems, cannot tolerate foreign chiefs of state that he cannot handle like members of the senate and the house of representatives."

The Indian reaction was particularly irate because Indians felt that Johnson had asked Shastri not to come because he had been angered by actions of Ayub and felt he would have to treat the leaders of both rival nations equally.

Indian diplomatic sources here said the United States was the only country in the world that pursues a policy of doing to one country as you would do to the other.

An Indian source said the United States apparently thinks that if it gives one billion dollars in assistance, it is able to

Newsman Commended for Helping Wounded Soldiers

SAIGON, South Viet Nam, April 21 (AP) — A U.S. military spokesman publicly commended Associated Press newsman John Wheeler today for his action Sunday in helping wounded soldiers get out of heavy Viet Cong fire.

"Both Vietnamese and American authorities on the scene were grateful for Wheeler's help," the spokesman said.

Wheeler was with a large government unit in an operation near Thang Binh, 30 miles northeast of here when the Viet Cong mounted a powerful counterattack supported by artillery.

For the first time, the Viet Cong used a pair of heavy 4.2-inch mortars that captured from a government post last fall. Shells from these guns are as heavy and destructive as anything in use on the government side.

Under a withering barrage of shells and machinegun fire, the left flank of the Vietnamese marine unit Wheeler was with broke and the operation turned into a rout. Government forces were pushed steadily back out of the Viet Cong trenches they had first occupied and the Viet Cong guns caused many casualties.

Five American advisers were wounded.

Wheeler found one of the wounded Americans in a daze. Abandoning his field pack and camera so he could move through the tight trenches, Wheeler grabbed the wounded

Exchange Club Gives 2 Scholarships

Sandra Drake, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Drake, 260 Eighth avenue east, and Katherine Yurk, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arno Yurk, 1704 Harmon Park avenue, were selected Tuesday afternoon as recipients of two Twin Falls Exchange club scholarships, each totaling $350.

The two Twin Falls high school seniors were interviewed following the club's regular noon luncheon meeting in the Rogerston hotel. Desert room where Harry Clark, state probation and parole officer for this district, was guest speaker.

Clark gave a brief history of probation and parole and went on to discuss rehabilitation aspects. He noted the difference between the two terms is that parolees are men who have served some time in an institution and are serving the balance of time under supervision.

Those on probation have appeared in district court and serve time on probation rather than in jail.

Clark said it costs $3.83 a day to keep a man in the state penitentiary at Boise, where 648 were confined during the last biennium. However, a district probation-parole agent can supervise the same man for 38 cents a day on probation.

"Probation does pay," Clark said, pointing out that in the past 16 years he had seen men who "made good" on probation and went on to become successful business and civic leaders.

Lloyd LeClair, club president, reminded members of the Mountain States regional Exchange club conference to be held April 30-May 2 in Salt Lake City.

James May, program chairman, said the county commission is interested in obtaining opinions of clubs and organizations in the area regarding the proposed mental health clinic. Members decided to delay an opinion until further study can be made on the issue.

After the meeting, three members went to Twin Falls high school and interviewed applicants for the two $350 scholarships. Both of the girls selected plan to attend the University of Idaho, Moscow, where Miss Drake will study home economics and Miss Yurk plans to become a laboratory technician.

The First World War Changing Concepts of Warfare in 1915: 19

Written By PHILIP VAN DOREN STERN for Newspaper Enterprise Association Illustrated By John Lane

Nearly all the higher officers in command at the beginning of the First World War had been trained in a type of combat that was obsolete when the shooting started. In the spring of 1915, with only a few months of actual experience behind them, they still had much to learn.

And they were hampered not only by outmoded notions but by some kinds of equipment which had not changed since Napoleon's time. Cavalrymen rode horses into battle and many supply wagons were drawn by horses or mules, for the automobile was just coming into use.

New ideas for weapons, however, were being developed. Armored cars predated the fighting, and the British were thinking of putting them on caterpillar tracks so they could move over the rough terrain of the battlefield. Tanks were on the way, even though they were not to arrive on the scene until September 1916.

Winston Churchill was sponsoring them; he also wanted smoke screens to hide ship and troop movements. The Germans and the French were developing flame-throwers, although these were not to come into wide use until later. The Germans had already tried poison gas in Poland in January 1915 and again at Ypres in April.

At sea, submarines were their big hope, for their navy was bottled up by the British, and only an underwater vessel could slip past the tight blockade.

The most important mechanical advance in warfare in 1915 was the ever-growing use of airpower. German zeppelins had already bombarded London and Paris in what we would now think was a small way. But the big, gas-filled airships were slow, cumbersome, and highly vulnerable.

Airplanes, which at first had been employed mostly for observational purposes, were rapidly becoming specialized bombers and fighters. The French had been the first to invent a way of firing through the propeller when Roland Garros devised a protective steel collar to deflect some of the machine gun bullets away from the blades.

He and his machine were captured, and Dutch inventor Anthony Fokker was called in to examine and perhaps improve the rather crude device. He quickly came up with a far more effective interrupter gear that made it possible to shoot straight ahead through the whirling propeller blades while pursuing an enemy plane.

The airplane was so promising a weapon that production in Europe jumped from 1,500 in 1914 to 11,600 in 1915.

On the battlefield, mass slaughter was continuing without much tangible result. In the Champagne country, at Neuve-Chapelle, on the flat plain of the Woivre, at Ypres, Festubert, Souchez, Arras, and Loos, senseless infantry attacks went on. There were more than two million casualties in France that year, most of them Allied.

With the fighting stalemated on the Western Front and also getting nowhere in Russia, it is no wonder that men on both sides were trying to think of new ways to conduct the war.

In Germany and in England, the leaders' minds were turning toward the East. The Germans wanted to support their new allies, the Turks, by stirring up resistance in the Near East where they had long been financing a railroad to Baghdad. The British also were planning action in their case against Constantinople itself.

The narrow Dardanelles that led to the capital and heart of the still strong Turkish Empire was to be the next area of attack.

Canadiens Drop Chicago 2-0 for Two-Game Edge In Stanley Cup Finals

MONTREAL, April 21 (UPI)—The Montreal Canadiens combined an air-tight defense and power play goals by Jean Beliveau and Dick Duff to score a 2-0 victory over the Chicago Black Hawks. The victory gave the Canadiens a commanding two-game lead in their best-of-seven Stanley cup hockey finals. The Canadiens, playing behind a partisan Forum crowd of 14,438, used their power play weapon to get 10th goals against the Hawks. Beliveau got his fourth goal of the playoffs in the second period, backhanding a short rebound behind Glenn Hall, and Duff knocked in Beliveau's rebound in the ninth minute of the final period.

Spahn Beats L.A., Fans 2,500th Man

LOS ANGELES, April 21 (AP)—Veteran left hander Warren Spahn choked off a Los Angeles Dodgers rally in the ninth inning Tuesday night to hurl the New York Mets to a 3-2 victory in which he recorded his 2,500th strikeout.

For seven innings, Spahn, who will be 44 Friday, and southpaw Claude Osteen engaged in a scoreless pitching duel.

But in the eighth, the Mets pushed over a run. Catcher Chris Cannizzaro drew the first walk off Osteen. Spahn sacrificed him to second and Cleon Jones' infield single sent the catcher to third, where Johnny Lewis came in as a pinch runner.

Shortstop Roy McMillan then laid down a squeeze bunt that scored Lewis.

The Mets added two runs charged to reliever Bob Miller in the ninth. They loaded the bases on Ed Kranepool's single, an error and an intentional walk. Ron Perranoski replaced Miller and gave up a long single to Lewis to score the two runs.

Trailing 3-0, the Dodgers scored twice in the bottom of the ninth, but the useless Spahn struck out two men to retain the victory with two runners on the bases.

Mantilla-Led Red Sox Rip Senators 5-2

BOSTON, April 21 (AP)—Felix Mantilla hit the first grand slam homer in his career and drove in all the Boston runs Tuesday as the surprising Red Sox took undisputed possession of the American league lead with a 5-2 victory over Washington.

Dave Morehead, making his first start of the year, struck out 11 before he gave way to relief man Dick Radatz in the eighth inning. Morehead struck out the side in the third and seventh, although he yielded a homer to Bob Chance and a single by Don Lock in the seventh.

Mantilla's homer came on a 3-1 pitch by Washington starter Buster Narum in the first.

Mantilla also drove in a run in the third with a single off relief man Steve Riddick, scoring Carl Yastrzemski.

Aleindor Visits, But Doesn't Sign

WORCESTER, Mass., April 21 (AP)—High school basketball sensation Lew Aleindor visited Holy Cross college with his mother and father Tuesday but apparently did not file application for admission to the Jesuit school.

Reliable sources said the 7-foot, 1-inch New York City resident spent several hours touring the college's classrooms, gymnasium and dining hall, then flew back home.

Holy Cross officials have denied published reports that the lanky star from Power Memorial high school in New York applied for admission to the school last week.

Top Series

High school senior Tom Baird carved out a 685 series in a junior league bowling session Tuesday.

He had games of 238, 235 and 212, a 4-6 split in the eighth frame of the last game prevented the coveted 700 series. He had a string of seven strikes at one point.

But it won't go down as the best series of the league. Tuesday was "fun day."

Coach Claims His Life Was Threatened

COLUMBUS, Miss., April 21 (AP)—Tulane baseball coach Ben Abadie, shouting that his life had been threatened, Tuesday loaded his team on a bus for New Orleans and vowed never to return to Mississippi or Alabama.

Abadie and the team left hurriedly for New Orleans before he could be questioned about the threats.

Coach Claims His Life Was Threatened

Tulane's freshman baseball team has two Negroes in its ranks, but neither were in Columbus for the two-game varsity series with Mississippi State university.

The longtime Tulane coach had been evicted in the seventh inning of the game for screaming at umpires after a drive by Tulane third baseman Larry Schneider was ruled a foul.

After the game ended, a 1-0 decision for State, Abadie returned to the field and stood under the press box.

"Are there any reporters up there?" he shouted. Several newsmen stood up.

Abadie shouted, "I want to say this: I will never bring a team back into Alabama or Mississippi. Since I have been here my life has been threatened twice."

He then left the field and hurried his players onto a bus for home.

Virginia Tech Bows Out of South Loop

BLACKSBURG, Va., April 21 (AP)—Ambitious Virginia Tech has cut its Southern conference ties and set an athletic course it hopes will lead straight into the arms of the powerful Atlantic Coast conference.

After 44 years in the Southern, of which it was the last remaining charter member, Tech announced Monday night it was withdrawing June 1. It said bluntly that it had outgrown the league.

And although Tech President T. Marshall Hahn said the college had made no plans other than to operate independently, it was abundantly clear that Tech had ACC membership in mind.

Considerably less clear was whether the eight-member ACC would welcome the 6,500-student college with open arms. Six members must favor any addition to the conference, and not that many did in 1958 when Tech applied formally and didn't make the grade.

In any event, Tech Athletic Director Frank Moseley said he will attend the ACC spring meeting April 28 at Greensboro, N.C. He hinted, without saying outright, that any Tech bid for membership would await the winter meeting in December.

Tech's resignation as a Southern conference member will coincide with the admission of East Carolina as a member at the league's spring meeting May 7 at Natural Bridge, Va. Thus, the Southern will continue as a nine-member league.

Sun Devils Top College Poll

TUCSON, Ariz., April 21 (AP)—Baseball teams from Arizona and California hold the top four positions in this week's national college poll of the collegiate baseball newspaper printed here.

Still heading the list in the third poll of the season is Arizona State university. The Sun Devils lost only three of their first 33 games and displaced defending national champion Minnesota after the first week's rating.

In second place were the Trojans of Southern California with a 10-6 record. And cross town rival UCLA followed the Trojans in third place with 20-8-1 record.

Jumping from seventh to fourth on the strength of a 17-game winning streak was the University of Arizona with a 30-7 record.

Scott Claims Disputed Win Over Carter

LONDON, April 21 (AP)—Harry Scott, Britain, won a controversial decision over Eubank-Carter Paterson, N. J., the third-ranked challenger for the world middleweight crown, in a 10-round bout Tuesday night.

Scott got the nod from referee Bill Williams despite the fact that he took a count of five in the first round. Only the referee names the winner in British fights.

Scott weighed 162. Carter 158.

The Associated Press had Carter the winner. The AP gave Carter the first, fourth, seventh, eighth and ninth rounds, with the second, third and sixth won by Scott. The remainder were even.

Carter, who defeated Scott on a technical knockout in the ninth round of a scheduled 10-rounder March 9, dropped Scott for a count of five in the first round with a right to the chin. He had the Englishman looking very groggy.

Alaska Cage Job Goes to Idaho Coach

FAIRBANKS, Alaska, April 21 (AP)—Frederick James Crowell, freshman basketball coach at the University of Idaho, was named Tuesday as head coach of the University of Alaska basketball team.

Dr. William R. Wood, University of Alaska president, said Crowell would join the faculty here in August as instructor in physical education and head coach of the Nanooks.

The university said Crowell, freshman coach at Idaho since 1963, was chosen from among 23 applicants for the post vacated in mid-season by the resignation of Bill Ordway.

Crowell, who holds a bachelor's and a master's degree from Idaho, takes over a team that had a record of 8-19 during the last season, including five victories and 11 losses against collegiate competition. Nine of 11 lettermen are expected back this fall.

62 Men Turn Out for Idaho Football Drill

MOSCOW, April 21 (AP)—Candidates for the University of Idaho football team went through offensive and defensive maneuvers Tuesday, as new head coach Steve Musseau opened spring practice. As new head coach Steve Musseau opened spring practice, a total of 62 candidates showed up, and 11 lettermen have been excused to participate in spring sports. Even so, the line was made up entirely of veterans.

Missing from the workout was star fullback Ray McDonald, Joe McCollum and Joe Chapman. They are among those taking part in spring sports.

The backfield, at present, is loaded with rookies. Junior letterman Jerry Ahlin, Boise, who earned a letter as defensive halfback last season, worked at quarterback.

Freshman Mike Woolrich, Imperial Beach, Calif., was at fullback and the halfbacks were Jun Witt, Bonners Ferry and Byron Strickland, Portland.

Other contenders for the job of replacing graduated Mike Monahan at quarterback were John Fouria, Emmett; Joe Rodriguez, Compton, Calif.; Paul Gentle, Boise, and Mike Mitchell, Des Moines, Wash.

Fouria was the No. 2 quarterback last season and played defensive safety. Rodriguez was the third-unit signal caller. Mitchell and Gentle are sophomores.

Workouts are planned each Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, with intrasquad scrimmages on Saturday mornings. The final intrasquad scrimmage is scheduled May 22.

Subscribers Warned to Sign up Again

BOISE, April 21—Readers have on the free mailing list of the Idaho Wildlife Review—nearly 20,000 of them in all—must use the official post card in the May-June issue to record their names and present mailing addresses if they want to continue receiving the bi-monthly publication of the Idaho fish and game department.

The mailing is without cost to Idaho residents who request the magazine, but a charge of $1 to help cover expenses is required for nonresident subscribers.

Marshall Edson, editor of the Idaho Wildlife Review, explains the new policy as follows:

"Our subscription list contains many duplications, improper addresses and sometimes several copies going to the same family at one address. We also are planning to change our address system to utilize data processing equipment which will help us maintain better files. We also need to moderate our list with zip code numbers."

"I decided the only way to back in their good graces was to keep my mouth shut and meet the ball," he said.

And so Gentile, who has been able to match the 41-runners and 141 runs batted-in he reached at Baltimore, has earned his letterman status.

He wound up his shelling the Yankees 5-for-11 with three homers in the three-set by collecting a single in lowering home off White that hit 45 feet high or scoreboard, which is 42 from home plate.

Jerry West Is Lakers' Title Hope

BOSTON, April 21 (AP)—Jerry West is Los Angeles' glimmer of hope as the Lakers head for a possible last stand against the perennial National Basketball Association pennant winners—the Boston Celtics.

Bidding for a seventh consecutive playoff championship and eighth in nine years, Boston takes a commanding 2-0 bulge into the third game of the best-of-seven series at Los Angeles Wednesday night. The fourth contest is there Friday night.

During both Celtics' home victories, the Boston Garden crowds choraled loudly at announcements about fifth game tickets. They apparently are certain of a sweep.

"I'm concerned because these Lakers are tough, make no mistake," says Boston Coach Red Auerbach. "Now we're going to their court and that doesn't make it any easier."

Despite the 129-123 second game loss, Los Angeles sprouts got a lift by a 45 point scoring effort from West, who was held to 26 in the opener. West must shoulder a terrific load—as he did in the Western division series—with Elgin Baylor sidelined.

"If West gets around 45 in each of the games in Los Angeles we'll win both of them," said Lakers' Coach Fred Schaus.

"If he gets 35 in each game, we're still in good shape. We'll pick up at home. The difference can come from Dick Barnett and Rudy LaRusso.

"Let's face it, you're not going to stop West very often, just like you're not going to stop Oscar Robertson. When a guy like Jerry has a bad day like I think he had Sunday it's just as much his not hitting as the defense.

Pirates Spoil Giants' Home Opener 3-1

SAN FRANCISCO, April 21 (AP)—Roberto Clemente drove in two runs with a pair of singles Tuesday, spoiling the home opener of the San Francisco Giants and giving Pittsburgh a 3-1 victory.

The National League's 1964 batting champion, who suffered malaria during the winter and missed much of spring training, drove in his runs in the first and fifth innings. Those runs, plus Al McBean's relief pitching provided right-hander Bob Friend with his second victory of the year, both over the Giants.

A crowd of 37,784 saw Willie Mays record his third homer of the campaign, a 420-foot belt over the left-center field fence in the second inning.

Four double plays cut down other potential San Francisco scores. The third came in the seventh inning after Friend had scattered six hits in six innings.

Cater's Bat Is Booming For Chicago

BOSTON, April 21 (AP)—Ex-Phillie outfielder Danny Cater has burst on the Chicago baseball scene with electricity matching the White Sox monster scoreboard back home.

Cater, 25, with only 60 Phil games last season behind him as a major leaguer, carries a .643 batting average.

Cater has belted nine hits in 14 trips, including a three-run homer which ignited the White Sox scoreboard in Monday night's 7-2 win over Baltimore.

"I never saw that scoreboard go off before, except on TV and that wasn't in color," said Cater, who was joined by Ken Berry and Bill Skowron in the Sox home parade against the Orioles.

Manager Al Lopez said Cater, a right-handed swinger, would start against Boston whether the Red Sox opened with a right-handed or southpaw pitcher. Tommy McGraw, left-handed hitter, has been starting for the Sox in left field.

"Boston is a good park for right-handers to hit in," Lopez explained. "If Cater shows me he can hit right-handers, I'll use him every day."

Cater's homer Monday night came against left-hander Harve Hendrix and left Danny with six hits for 10 against lefties and three for four against right-handers.

Cater explained: "I look for the fast ball all the time. If I start to look for something else, they just throw the ball past me. I try not to catch it all."

Cater, who hit 298 in 152 at bats for the Phils last season, has no illusion about keeping up his torrid pace.

"There'd be only one way for me to be a 400 hitter," he quipped, "and that's if I quit the game right now."

Torres Is Pro Athlete of Month

NEW YORK, April 21 (AP)—Jose Torres, who won the light heavyweight title last month, Tuesday found himself in contention for the $10,000 diamond-studded belt awarded annually by Sports Illustrated to the "professional athlete of the year."

The Puerto Rican won the Hickock poll for March. There is a poll each month, with the eventual winner selected from that group. Bobby Hull of the Chicago Black Hawks was the winner in January and Floyd Patterson captured the honor in February.

Dutch Plans New System of Minesweeping

THE HAGUE, April 21 (AP)—The Royal Dutch navy plans to introduce a new system of minesweeping in the North sea—tracking down mines through sound waves.

Hundreds of thousands of mines from both wars have been swept by Dutch navy units from the bottom of the shallow North sea since 1945, but untold numbers more are still endangering shipping outside cleared shipping lanes.

The main lanes were cleared by 1954 and since that year the navy has been engaged in the dangerous and time-consuming task of clearing the whole sea-area by area. A total of 68 mine-sweepers is now in service with the navy but completion of the task still seems far off. It is to speed up the operation that the navy now intends to introduce a new type of ship called a "mine-hunter" which can carry out the mine detection job task with less danger than regular minesweepers.

Experts have worked out a system by which mines lying on a generally flat bottom can be localized by means of sound waves of sonar. Frogmen then follow up the detection by diving and defusing the mine under water or blowing them up with explosives.

Not all mines can be cleared by this method since those which have sunk too deep into the slimy bottom or which are embedded in heavily indented terrain would not always be picked up by sound waves.

By introducing the new type of ship, however, the Dutch navy hopes to reduce significantly the danger run by conventional minesweepers which steam over the mine-infested areas. There is always the risk of mines being too close to an explosion. The main danger of the old mines still known to be present outside the cleared shipping lanes is to ships that may stray on course in fog or storm. Another peril is that a mine may break loose and float into the traffic.

Planet Found to Have Day, Night Cycles

WASHINGTON, April 21 (AP)— Astronomers yesterday announced the discovery — sensed by scientists — that little Mercury does not present just a face to the sun. It has a day, night cycle like other planets in the solar system. The discovery was made recently by the world's largest and most powerful, radio telescope, the University of 1,000-foot dish in the Puerto Rican badlands near Arecibo. It destroyed a belief long held that Mercury, cleared up by astronomers, posed new questions about the sun's smallest planet. The discovery is being reported to Professor Thomas Gehrig, head of Cornell's astronomy department, that Mercury is a "hot planet" that Venus and Mars are moon of status no longer. Mercury's day is 88 days long, the same as its year. At a joint session of the American geophysical union and the U.S. national committee on the international scientific year, led by Dr. Gordon P. Taylor and Dr. Robert B. Dyce.

Hurt as Element Wall Collapses

TWIN FALLS, Idaho, April 21 (AP)— Junior high school students were injured Tuesday when a concrete retaining wall fell on them as they helped build a dike to hold back floodwaters from the city's baseball park. Floodwaters are expected to reach 6 or 7 feet deep when the dike reaches its crest here. Concrete wall collapsed, covering the students with mud and water. About 10 minutes before the students could be moved under the retaining wall, they were hospitalized with bruises and possible fractures. Barbara Hodges, 16, had possibly serious back injuries.

Students who ranged in age from 12 to 18, were among 100 pupils at Junior high school and Community college who escaped from classes to help hold out floodwaters. YOUR BIRTHDAY and HOROSCOPE

WEDNESDAY, April 21—Born today, you are a highly emotional person with a genuine gift for words. You are able to express feelings of every variety, some subtle that others can only sense. Such a gift could well be developed into a very real talent and you might become something to reckon with in the literary world as a result. On the other hand, such a gift, if you learned to control your own emotions while recognizing those of others, might lead you into psychology. You have a keen sense of humor, but one which you may have to take some pains to develop if it is ever to seem a basic part of your nature. You are somewhat inclined to look on the darker side of things, ignoring the humorous overtones in almost any situation. Once you do develop your sense of humor, however, you should win the appreciation of the many who love to laugh.

There is some question as to whether or not you will ever wed. It may be that you will be disinclined to give up half your independence in order to join forces with another. What you may realize, however, is how much marriage and domesticity would actually suit you in the long run — giving you a home base, a place for letting down your hair, letting off steam, etc. To find what is in store for you tomorrow, select your birthday and read the corresponding paragraph. Let your birthday star be your daily guide.

Thursday, April 22
TAURUS (April 21-May 21)—Make an effort to display a placid disposition in the midst of what may be confusing circumstances.

GEMINI (May 22-June 21)—Take a practical course of action today in all your dealings with others.

CANCER (June 22-July 23)—Avoid the anxiety that could result from an overly-demanding morning. Keep calm.

LEO (July 24-Aug. 23)—You cannot please everyone. Be guided by your own conscience and past experience.

VIRGO (Aug. 24-Sept. 23)—The best way to find your way out of the present dilemma is to seek the source of the difficulty. Look to recent decisions.

LIBRA (Sept. 24-Oct. 23)—Take care that you do not give people cause for resentment. To display your knowledge today could lead to strained relationships.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22)—Aid to another is ultimately aid to yourself. Bear this in mind, especially if approached by strangers.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 22)—Make sure you intersperse periods of relaxation throughout your working hours today.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23-Jan. 20)—Avoid being discouraged. Not all flowers bloom best in the sun!

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21-Feb. 19)—Draw upon your excellent memory and you will be able to take advantage of opportunities.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20)—Equal amounts of reason and intuition should help you solve the problems of the day.

ARIES (March 21-April 20)—Though this is a day for allowing your sympathies full rein, you must take care that you are not imposed upon.
