Quake Hits Pacific Northwest Region; Damage Is Heavy

SEATTLE, April 29 (AP)—A heavy earthquake struck the Pacific Northwest at 8:29 a.m. (PDT) today. Two men were killed in Seattle and scores of persons were injured here and elsewhere. Damage was widespread. Three women died of heart attacks during the quake—one here, one in Tacoma and one in Olympia. Debris from a building on South King street, in Seattle's Chinatown, crushed and killed

Adolphus Lewis, age undetermined. A collapsing wall at the Fisher flouring mill fatally injured a warehouseman, Ray Haughton. Three others in the mill, including a state grain inspector, were injured.

Mrs. James Johnson, 66, died of a heart attack here while talking on the telephone when the quake hit. In Tacoma, Mrs. Ethel Webb, 75, under treatment for a heart ailment, had a heart seizure and died. At

Tremors Felt

KELLOGG, April 29 (AP)—The severe earthquake which jarred the Seattle area today caused earth tremors as far east as Kellogg, some 375 miles from the coast.

The quake, rumbled after two distinct shocks. Mrs. Ed Schwartz, Kingston, seven miles west of Kellogg, said the lamp on her television set shook and rattled and her two Chihuahua dogs began barking. There was no apparent damage.

Tremors rattled teacups in Moscow, about 90 miles southeast of Spokane, where glasses shook and doors squeaked when the earthquake hit.

Olympia, the heart attack victim was Zenola Lorenz, a woman in her 60s who was found dead in her hotel room.

The quake, rated at an intensity of more than 7 on the Richter scale, was felt from Coos Bay, on the Oregon coast, to southern British Columbia and east as far as Idaho.

The earthquake belt was at least 600 miles long, from north to south, and 400 miles wide.

Alaska points reported it was not felt there.

The tremor did structural damage in half a dozen cities and knocked out some hydroelectric circuits at the giant Grand Coulee dam in northeast Washington.

Most damage appeared to be limited to cracked plaster, broken windows and dishes, and snapped wires.

The University of Washington seismologist said the quake was so strong it knocked the needle off the seismograph and he was unable to get a reading.

At Victoria, B. C., the Dominion Astrophysical Observatory said the same thing happened there.

At Olympia, the state capitol buildings shook for nearly a minute and state employees ran into the open.

The shock appeared to be worse than one which severely damaged the legislative buildings in 1949.

The tremor was felt from the coast to eastern Washington and from Oregon into British Columbia.

At Ellensburg, 100 miles east of Seattle, streets were jammed with people who fled from downtown buildings. Some windows were broken and walls cracked.

At Aberdeen, on the coast, the quake was described as a rolling series of three shocks that caused buildings to sway. Most were evacuated.

In Seattle, the two-story, concrete Seattle Times building jiggled like an electric vibrator. Plaster sifted down in the Associated Press rooms and teletype printers stopped briefly. Telephone service also was interrupted for a few moments.

Women prisoners in Seattle's city jail began screaming. "Let us out of here," as the building shook.

Rain, Hail Hit T.F.; Some Stores Flooded

Rain and hail drenched Twin Falls for about five minutes at noon Thursday, but the only damage seemed to be from water running into downtown business establishments. Businessmen at Shoshone street and Main avenue were brushing water out of their offices. The intersection was completely flooded by the downpour. Glen Jones, manager of Karl's shoe store, 105 Main avenue west, said about three inches of water covered the entire main floor of his store after the rain and that water was four inches deep or more in the basement.

"The water running down my basement stairs looked like Shoshone falls," Jones quipped.

Jones said sandbags in front of the front door of the store failed to keep the water out and that efforts on the part of himself and other employees were without avail.

He said he could not place an estimate on the damage, most of which resulted in the basement of the building. Jones said he had called both his insurance man and the Twin Falls fire department to help get the mess cleaned up.

Jones blamed the rush of water into his store on a faulty storm sewer.

The hail, which seemed to be confined to Twin Falls, apparently did no damage to crops in the area. The only crop that could be damaged would be spring wheat, according to the county agent's office.

Idaho Power company and Mountain States Telephone company both reported no damage. City police and the sheriff's office also reported not having any damage complaints.

Schools May Have to Pay Sales Tax

BOISE, April 29 (AP)—State tax collector Floyd West said yesterday school boards and municipalities may have to pay the new three per cent sales tax on purchases.

Purchases made by the state government will be specifically exempt from the tax, West said. He said Dean Phillip Peterson, head of University of Idaho's law department, is currently writing the new tax regulations.

Peterson, who drafted the tax law which the legislature passed, will meet with the house revenue and taxation committee here Friday to formalize the new regulations.

West said he expects to have the regulations ready for the retailers in about 10 days.

School lunches are exempt from the sales tax, West said. But he said he "expects" that school boards and municipalities will find themselves paying a sales tax on all goods covered by the new law.

Gov. Robert E. Smylie said he felt school boards should be exempt, as the state will be, from paying the sales tax.

"After all," Smylie said, "90 per cent of the reason for the sales tax is to help education, not to tax the tax that will help them."

He also said local governments should be exempt.

Legislative Council to Meet Friday

BOISE, April 29 (AP)—Idaho's legislative council holds its 1965 constitutional meeting Friday. The principal business a decision on how to undertake assignments of the legislature.

Sen. R. H. Young, R., Canyon, served as chairman in 1954 following Rep. Pete T. Cenarrusa, Blaine, who was chairman in the council's first year, 1963.

Whether the group decides to alternate chairmen is a decision it must make. The new creating the council specifies that the chairman shall be one branch of the legislature and the vice chairman from the other.

A bill revising membership of the council which would have most members elective by the legislature died in the 1965 session. Membership procedure is unchanged.

The presiding officers, majority and minority leaders in both house and senate, are members by virtue of their office. In addition two are chosen by appointment from each party in both the house and senate.

Myran Schlichte, council director, said it is possible the legislators may decide to contract with a private agency for study of two or three fields, undertaking other assignments through committees.

Most likely to be contacted, he said, is research into a uniform commercial code and in recodification of laws dealing with municipalities.

Air Force Major Talks on U.S. Heritage at Banquet

BURLEY, April 29 — "America's greatest strength does not lie in her military might, international capability or even the number of capsules in space, but in the faith and courage — the intangible spirit — of her citizens," Maj. John W. Keller, decorated at the Snake river area during the sixth annual Eagle Scout recognition banquet Wednesday night at the Ponderosa.

Speaking on the topic "Our American Heritage," Major Keller, information officer of the Air Force Academy, Colorado Springs, Colo., pointed out both

In Black

BOISE, April 29 (AP)—Idaho's general fund is in the black again for the first time in a month but Treasurer Marjorie Ruth Moon said today the condition is only temporary.

Miss Moon said the general fund went into the red by $6,702,202 March 31 and that by April 13 it was in the hole $7,005,447. Then, she said, it went into the black Monday by about $30,000.

"This means we won't have to issue any more tax anticipation notes," Miss Moon said, adding she would redeem $4,750,000 worth of outstanding tax notes tomorrow.

Redemption of the outstanding notes plus the state payroll, however, will throw the general fund back into the red again by about two million dollars, she said.

Guerrilla Is Killed Near U.S. Airbase

HOA PHUOC, South Vietnam, April 29 (AP)—A U. S. marine patrol killed a Viet Cong guerrilla outside the Da Nang air base today. A young American rifleman was hit in the thigh by a sniper bullet.

The patrol was carried out by Bravo company of the second battalion, third marine regiment, which received four wounded in a skirmish with guerrillas last Saturday.

The marine operation today, carried out along a river and through this and other villages usually occupied by the Viet Cong, made contact twice with the enemy.

The main purpose of the patrol was to reconnoiter terrain

Burley Group Eyes Area Airport Plan

BURLEY, April 29 — A proposal to establish a valleywide airport district in Magic Valley gained support of the Burley Chamber of Commerce board of directors during a meeting of the group Wednesday. The directors agreed to cooperate with a movement in Rupert to establish a valleywide airport and discussed a site near the Hansen bridge for an airport which could serve Mjnidoka, Jerome, Twin Falls and Cassia counties. It was reported a meeting will be arranged in the near future with representatives of the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce to discuss a possible site and other details. Burley recently was dropped as a West Coast site-line stop under the "use it or lose it" policy of the civil aeronautics board.

Ray Rostrom, Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce secretary-manager, declined comment on the matter Wednesday night, adding the local chamber would bring it up for discussion at a meeting Tuesday.

However, a committee has been appointed to study the valleywide airport proposal. Warren Barry, chairman of the committee, representing the airport commission; Robert Warberg, the city commission; and Willard Rees, the Chamber of Commerce, with Edwin Woods, airport manager, acting as secretary and adviser to the group, will meet Friday morning at Joslin field to discuss the proposal.

Barry said Wednesday night that he and his committee were serving as a factfinding and steering group. He said the group had reached no conclusions because there were too many facts which had not yet been weighed.

But added the valleywide airport "might have a lot of merit."

"The Burley chamber, after discussing the issue, voted to have its airport committee work on establishing an airport district for the valley."

Welding Shop At Declo Is Hit by Fire

DECLO, April 29 — A shop between the Jones-Leonard Richfield service station and a cafe here was extensively damaged Wednesday evening by a fire which broke out after sparks from a welding unit ignited a bucket of cleaning fluid.

Carl Schrenk reportedly was welding in the shop when the fluid was ignited. Another employee apparently grabbed the bucket and flames then spread through the building. The shop and all equipment were destroyed, but fire crews from Burley and Declo were able to keep it from spreading to the adjacent service station and cafe, which received only water damage.

It was reported some shop equipment had previously been moved to another service station, which was to be a new location for the shop, and was not damaged.

Rupert Boy, 5, Stuck In Cement Water Pipe

RUPERT, April 29—Five-year-old Ed Hoopes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bryan Hoopes, Wednesday evening found himself in a plight common to little boys.

He was afraid to come home because he'd gotten his clothes soaked playing in the water.

So, he started playing hide-and-go-seek with some other children on the lawn at the back of the Verry apartments where his family lives.

He hid so well in a vertical cement pipe used for irrigation purposes that when he started to leave he found he couldn't

The boy had squatted in one of the "stand pipes" used throughout Rupert for the low pressure irrigation water system. The pipes are from two to three feet tall and are used for underground water to run into before it overflows onto lawns.

The stand pipe had only a small amount of water in it, so the boy was in no danger of drowning.

Volunteer firemen were called and had to break the pipe to free little Ed so he could go home and explain why he was wet.

Valley School District to Get $34,000 Added Funds

EDEN-HAZELTON, April 29 — Valley school district No. 282 will receive an additional $34,000 in the general fund for 1965-66, Dr. Thomas Utterback, superintendent of Valley schools, said today.

This additional money will be from the sales tax appropriation approved by the last biennium. A portion of this additional money will be allocated to teaching salaries, pinning the Eden-Hazelton school district on a competitive level with other schools in district four, Dr. Utterback noted.

The rest of the money will be spent for library improvement, supplementary material for class rooms, the development of an approved intermediate science program based on individual and group exploration, additional science equipment for the high school and additional educational equipment for both the high school and grade schools.

The lunch room and the band room at Hazelton will be renovated inside and out and plans at present include complete exterior painting of the buildings.

The elementary and secondary act (HR 2362) recently passed by congress will be for assistance to the Eden-Hazelton district. The school has for some years participated in federal funds through the vocational agriculture and vocational home-making departments.

It also has and will continue to participate in title III which reimburses the district 50 per cent on purchase of approved items in science and mathematics, the superintendent said.

The new elementary and secondary act will permit the district to receive money for the educational assistance for children in families with annual incomes under $2,000 and children under aid to dependent children.

Federal money also will be available for library books and other instructional materials. Application will be made and utilized whenever the school district is qualified for federal aid, the official said.

The faculty is complete at this time with the exception of a girls' athletic instructor. It is anticipated that a full gymnasium program for girls will be developed, including horizontal bars, parallel bars and other similar equipment.

If this program is successful girls will be selected to participate in the AAU tryouts in Spokane each year.

2 Appointed To Potato, Onion Group

BOISE, April 29 (AP) — Appointment of two new members of the Idaho Potato and Onion commission, and reappointment of one present member, was announced today by Gov. Robert E. Smylie.

New members named were Albert Carlsen, Blackfoot, and Roland Jones, Rupert, both to three-year terms running until July 1, 1968.

Carlsen, a district 1 processor representative, replaces Roy F. Roberts, Blackfoot, and Jones, a district 2 shipper representative, replaces C. J. Marshall, Jerome.

Reappointed as district 1 grower representative was Darwin Young, Blackfoot. His term also is for three years, running until July 1, 1968.

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

WASHINGTON, April 29—That sweaty swindle known as the Kentucky derby will get scant attention from this improver of the breed Saturday, Oh, the TV set will be turned on and salsaparilla will be passed, but my glands will get no workout.
There are no personalities at Churchill Downs, only a passel of anonymous beasts of little interest to the boys at Charlie's Place or the dames under the hair dryers at Michel's. They are good horses—but they are not friends. They are the New York Yankees or U.S. Steel? Or like a Silky Sullivan or a Carry Back.

HORSES OF THE MASSES—Silky Sullivan and Carry Back were horse men of the so-called common man could cotton to. They were Main street's heroes, the darlings of the faceless super-market habitues sometimes patronizingly referred to by intellectual stuffed shirts as "little people." They were John Q. Public's horses because they were so much like John Q.
For Silky and Carry Back had no "breeding." To be sure, one of Silky's earliest ancestors was Fair Play, the father of Man o' War, but mostly his background and that of Carry Back was just folks. If their relatives had belonged to the human race they would have been plumbers and shoe clerks and bartenders—and newspapermen.
But like Al Smith, Silky and Carry Back had risen above their environment. They were the idols of the street corners, the champions of the neighborhood pool hall. Like so many offspring of plain citizens suddenly projected into the spotlight, they were inclined to exhibitionism. They dawdled behind the pack and then turned on the gas and ran over the opposition.

SILKY HAD AN AIR—Of the two, Silky Sullivan lives richer in memory, possibly because Carry Back won the derby and Silky finished in Harlan county. Silky's name conjured up not the fashionable, somewhat stuffy atmosphere of the rich man's breeding farm, but the lively stable off a city street where the boys shoot the breeze and a little crap. A man sipping a brew at Charlie's would have felt at home with Silky Sullivan and ordered him a schooner of the same. If horses smoked, Silky would have shown up at Churchill Downs with a cigarette stuck in the corner of his mouth, a derby perched at a rakish angle on his handsome, wisecrack head.
Equine-wise, Silky achieved the equivalent. He wore those loud red bandages on his legs—bright green on St. Patrick's day, of course—and he had the worldly air of the youth who knows the score about snow girls, the St. Louis Cardinals and Sonny Liston.

STYLE OF THEIR OWN—Silky Sullivan was one of the boys, and so was Carry Back. They were the Al Smiths of the horse world with that mixture of charm and grace and humor which is known as the common touch. Like Al Smith and Abe Lincoln, they came from nowhere—east side and low cabin candidates in the great American tradition.
It was a black day for the plain citizen when Silky finished far out of the money, a little like discovering that Mr. Lincoln was better known than his contemporaries as Avaricious Abe or that Harry Truman ran away from a fight. But he was a horse, not something conceived at International Business Machines. Those four-legged corporations running this year may be faster, but they lack something important called style.

Views of Others

SILTING IN WALLA WALLA AREA
The excess runoff in the Walla Walla river and tributaries during the winter has been estimated, by the U. S. Army corps of engineers, to have produced silting equivalent to a normal 25 years, in just one year.
At the rate silt is being deposited near the confluence of the Walla Walla river with the Columbia, the sheltered boat harbor just east of the Walla Walla will have to be abandoned by the yacht and boat clubs which set up business there when McNary dam created Lake Sacajawea.
Every drop of high water in the Touchet and Walla Walla rivers, Dry Creek, Mill Creek and other tributaries of the main river, has moved large quantities of soil downstream. Before slack water was provided by McNary dam, the speed with which the Columbia flowed seaward helped carry the dirt in suspension to points west. The pattern has changed in the past decade or so. When the swiftly moving Walla Walla meets the slack water in the estuary the silt in suspension is inclined to settle. The past few months, according to engineers' compilations, produced one of the most dramatic evidences of what can happen so long as cover is cut from the mountains in which our streams rise and intensive cultivation in our fields is not geared to a higher degree of soil conservation.
Perhaps the tendency of silt to settle in areas of slack water will eventually call for another phase of corps of engineers activity, dredging. A part of the river development program has been to make possible low cost movement of bulk commodities by water and channels have to be maintained for barges and tugs. The corps for many years was kept busy in the North Pacific district dredging channels to permit navigation by ocean-going vessels as far inland as the head of tidewater. Maintenance of adequate depth has been a continuing task. It is early to suggest that similar activity may be required in the upper river where dams have helped extend navigation. But we shall either check the loss of soil from the headwaters of feeder streams or find it necessary, some time in the future, to cut away accumulations that will surely develop. Studies as to why and where these deposits accumulate are even now being initiated.—Walla Walla Union-Bulletin.

EXPENSIVE PLANNING
The city of Idaho Falls has submitted an application to the federal government for a $95,000 grant to cover a study and plan for a comprehensive city planning blueprint.
It will cover every aspect of planning. The city likes to emphasize that it involves a plan only—not urban renewal as such. Officials also point out that local cost of the program is only $9,000 per year for two years.
"All true enough," the city decidedly needs a planning blueprint. It should have the highest priority.
But $95,000. That's quite a sum. And the cost of the federal-borne role in the planning has to be assumed by the many faceless other taxpayers over the land.
The contracts to the city's other professional planner, the S. R. DeBoer plan of the 1940's—is startling. The entire cost of the DeBoer plan was $8,000. It was comprehensive and it was far-sighted. It encompassed many of the highway plans now in existence, for example, even before the highway planners got to them. It envisioned a civic-convention center, which the city is still struggling to achieve. Yet very little of the plan was ever applied.
The cost of planning has risen dynamically, it seems. And we are left to wonder just what it would cost if the city just hired a professional planning firm without inviting Uncle Sam to handle the money across the table, and throw in some of Uncle Sam's. This, in our opinion, is what should have been done.
Regardless, when the plan comes, a companion piece should be a timetable of reasonable application. We can't afford to ignore $95,000, whether some guy in New Orleans or Boston pays most of the cost or not.—Idaho Falls Post-Register.

LIKES HATCHERIES
Dear Pot Shots:
"U.N. Perturbed" is quite sarcastic about hatchery fishing.
Just where do the old pros and experts catch trout, salmon or steelhead that are not hatched in state or federal hatcheries? Hundreds of old folks are darned glad to get to fish in Hagerman hatchery lakes. Most are not physically or financially able to take a plane to Canada or Alaska to fish.
Also, a big number of pros show up at Hagerman on opening day and I think accusing hatchery fishermen of shooting pheasants in barnyards shows a perturbed mind.
Idaho has a good fish and game commission and they are doing a splendid job.

Interpreting the News

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON, April 29 (AP)—President Johnson couldn't miss the lesson from the Truman administration's experience book of 15 years ago. Johnson was in the senate then and he lived through it.
This can explain why news stories, without revealing their sources, said the Johnson administration, although seeing no need for them now, has not ruled out using nuclear weapons in Viet Nam.
If this administration ever indicated it would never use such weapons, and then the Vietnamese war took a grim turn, his critics could say he had invited the communists to get tougher.
This was what happened to President Harry S. Truman, although in different fashion.
In the late 1940's the United States had a long and unhappy time of it with Chiang Kai-shek in his war against the Red Chinese. American aid and weapons were wasted.
The Reds drove Chiang off the China mainland in late 1949. He and the Nationalist troops he had fled fled to Formosa. Truman publicly washed his hands of the Nationalist leader in talking to newsmen on Jan. 5, 1950.
The president said this country would take no action to save Formosa from a red invasion. Secretary of State Dean Acheson backed him up, saying Chiang had enough money to buy all the arms he needed.
The two men made these statements after some Republicans—particularly former President Herbert Hoover and Sen. Robert A. Taft—had urged defense of Formosa by the U.S. navy.
Rep. Wm. W. Wherry's hands-off announcement there were more Republican protests. The Republican senate leader, Kenneth S. Wherry, said Truman's position was an invitation to the communists to take Formosa.
Truman later had to do an about-face and send the navy to protect Formosa—and it has been doing that ever since—but this was only after the start of the Korean war later that year. But this was only one of the statements which were later used against the Truman administration. On Jan. 12, 1950, seven days after Truman's hands-off talk, Acheson made a public talk he was never allowed to forget.

He said the American "defensive perimeter" in the Pacific ran from the Aleutian Islands to Japan and down through the Ryukyu Islands, south of Japan, to the Philippines. He didn't mention Formosa.
And he didn't put Korea within the defensive perimeter. But he added something which certainly could apply to Korea but which his critics later ignored or found it convenient to forget.
He said: No one could guarantee other Pacific areas from attack but if it came the people attacked would have to defend first on their own resistance and then upon the "civilized world" through the United Nations.

The Doctor Says

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
Lighting is beautiful at a distance. The trouble is, you can't always keep it far away.
So, if you are outdoors during a thunderstorm, seek shelter in a building. Avoid taking shelter under a beach umbrella or a lone tree, but if there is a grove of trees, take shelter under one of the shorter ones because lightning always strikes the highest point available.
If you are in an open country, the highest point may be you. Your best chance would be to lie flat, preferably in a ditch.
Shun wire fences. Such fences are especially dangerous if they touch a tall tree. If the tree is hit, the electricity may travel along the wire for a great distance.
A golfer's metal clubs are an added hazard and should be dropped and picked up after the storm. Fishing is hazardous because a pole and line, regardless of the material they are made of, conduct electricity.
If you are in a boat head for shore. If you are in rowboat, lie down on the bottom. If you own a motorboat or sailboat, be sure it is "grounded" by having a metal pathway leading from the tallest point to a point about 2 feet below the water line. You should get below deck.
It is not safe to swim during a storm because lightning striking the water will electrify a wide area and stun or electrocute fish or any other creatures in the vicinity.
Although trains and planes are struck, they are designed to eliminate hazards to passengers and crew. If you are driving a car you are safe unless the rainfall is so heavy that it limits visibility or a sudden flash blinds you.
If you pull off the road, don't park under a tree or telegraph pole. They might be struck by lightning and fall on your car. Don't park under power lines or in an area that may become flooded.
Indoors it is best not to handle any electrical appliances of metal faucets during a storm. This means you should make no phone calls until the storm is over. If you have an outside antenna for your TV, make sure it is grounded. Appliances should be avoided because the chimney is a favorite target and the soot is a good conductor.
Anything so beautiful as lightning is the chief means by which the nitrogen in the air is combined with oxygen. This nitric oxide is then washed into the soil to form nitrates which are necessary for the growth of crops.

MARQUIS CHILDS WRITES ON WASHINGTON

WASHINGTON, April 29—Marquis Childs, on his mission to Asia has a difficult task. It is to recruit help for America's war effort in South Viet Nam. In Australia and New Zealand, he will get encouragement and possibly something more concrete. But this seems likely to be the end of his success.
For the Marquis Childs grim fact is that, thanks to the coincidence of two circumstances, American friends and allies in Asia are hard to find.
Alongside these two major developments the dis-inviting of President Ayub Khan of Pakistan and Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri of India is a minor symptom. It is important, particularly with respect to Shastri, because it involves face prestige, at a time when the prime minister was establishing his own authority as the successor to Nehru. But with the extensive aid program financed in large part by Washington this hurt may be forgotten.
The long-term consequences of the same perimeter a few months later but Acheson's critics never seemed to remember that.
But after the North Korean communists attacked South Korea in June, 1950, Sens. Joseph McCarthy and Taft distorted Acheson's words by saying he had announced the United States would not defend Korea.
This distortion continued to be used against Acheson long afterwards. Actually, as soon as the Reds attacked on June 25, the United Nations called for a cease-fire. The Reds ignored this.
The next day, June 26, Truman ordered American forces to Korea and was immediately backed by the United Nations. This was when Truman also ordered Formosa defended.
Truman had several thoughts about using the A-bomb in Korea. On July 27, three months before Red China got into the war, he said he wasn't even considering it.
After China rushed in, Truman on Nov. 30 told newsmen the United States would use every weapon necessary but didn't want to see the A-bomb used.
Long after he left the White House, Truman wrote that MacArthur wanted to use the bomb when the Chinese came in. But, Truman said, that "might very well have brought on World War III."

misallocation and error of Viet Nam policy makers and their echoes—China is a threat, China will stand alone must be examined. That begins with the happy story of the use of America's share of the Boxer rebellion indemnity for the education of Chinese students in this country. But also full view of the missionaries and the sentimentalized China "The Good Earth."
In part it colored Frank Roosevelt's outlook and was what his stubborn conviction that the China of Chiang Kai-shek must be a great power. Some of the worst errors of postwar era grew out of the conviction as Chiang took and went down in a vulgar corruption.
The name the illusion of Mao Tse-tung and his dogmatic army on the long march were simply Agrarian reformers—a stoical band bent on carrying out necessary reforms that fitted neatly with the stationary view. It should be however, that this view is falsely imputed to some America's ablest foreign area officers who were trying to see the reality of an immense catastrophe. In still another carefully cultivated illusion, China lobbied played the blame "losing China" on the Americans.
The most conspicuous calculation came when Gen. Douglas MacArthur, a President Truman, on the basis of his own intelligence report that Chinese troops in the war would not enter the Korean peninsula. One of the worst debacles in America's military history resulted.
In the years that followed a professional China watcher Hong Kong repeatedly predicted that the communist regime would fall. They forecast line and revolution and the turn of Chiang Kai-shek and army from Formosa to be welcomed back to the mainland. Needless to say, this line of substantial help from Chiang of his true believers and propagandists in this country.
That is the dismal record. A record familiar to Asians and to Europeans and to Africa and to the United States has successfully blocked the admission of China to the United Nations and in other ways sought to isolate a nation of 700,000,000.
Asians in particular, as the look at this score, question assurances that came out of Washington today. Their governments, as in the instance of Japan and Thailand, have abundance of proper grounds for belief in America's grand aims and how they are to be achieved is quite another matter.

They're Fighting

Wendell and Bliss leaders, who have correctly analyzed the importance of proximity to an interstate highway, are fighting for their tourist business. On the other hand, some Jerome residents are plugging a highway route from Jerome to Bliss that would cross mostly desert and miss both Wendell and Bliss. In a session before the highway board of directors, men from Wendell and Bliss declared it was Jerome's intent to secure a highway routing that would touch only Jerome. Obviously, such a route would be an economic shot in the arm for Jerome.

As it stacks up now, there's a chance the interstate highway will touch on the edges of only two Magic Valley communities, Burley and Jerome. It's clear that through tourist traffic will go largely to those two communities. Twin Falls, which has built up a considerable business based on tourist trade, is bound to see a decrease in that business when the interstate highway becomes operational through Magic Valley. The only tourist trade remaining for Twin Falls will come from U. S. highway 93.

Unfortunately, when the interstate route was being determined through Magic Valley, local leaders went along with the bypass philosophy. So the interstate highway will come no closer to Twin Falls than its interchange with highway 93 about two miles north of the Perrine Memorial bridge. Residents can judge from their own experience just how much east-west traffic will detour from the interstate to Twin Falls. Travelers using an interstate highway don't like to leave the interstate for any reason.

Charles Miller, Wendell, told the highway board, "Our only chance of growth is in being visible from the freeway, and up north (on the desert route advocated by Jerome) you could not see Wendell at all." It will be recalled that Wendell residents went along with plans for relocation of highway 25 which passes adjacent to Wendell. But it's one thing to take a principal highway off a community's main street and quite another to route it out of sight of the community. Twin Falls is going to find out the difference.

Back in the days when the interstate route was being determined, Twin Falls should have been fighting to stay near the freeway, just as Wendell and Bliss are fighting today. No one should fight to retain through tourist travel down a community's main street, but everyone concerned should do everything possible to keep a principal highway near the edge or at least within easy view of the city. To settle for anything less is to lose tourist traffic and business.

TOO DANGEROUS

Police Chief Frank Barnett is commended for ordering an end to the use of skateboards on the Shoshone falls grade. Chief Barnett, in assigning a man to patrol the grade, pointed out several incidents have been reported in which drivers almost went over the edge of the grade when they swerved to miss youngsters on skateboards. Yet even without automobile traffic, use of skateboards on the steep grade should not be permitted. The roadway is too steep and there's too much chance of injury to skateboarders in case they should hit small rocks or holes.

Youngsters will not appreciate Chief Barnett's action in moving to stop skateboard use on the grade. Yet they should realize the police chief is acting to protect them. It's just one more case in which youngsters, intent on pursuit of personal enjoyment or perhaps thrills, are blinded to the danger involved. When these circumstances arise, then it's up to duly constituted authority to take whatever steps are necessary to protect the youngsters from themselves.

The amazing factor of skateboarding down the Shoshone falls grade is that many parents appeared to be totally unaware of the quickly-developing craze. Undoubtedly some parents knew their children were involved but either condoned the practice or were blithely unaware of the dangers. Perhaps most of the youngsters who scooted down the grade didn't bother to inform their parents.
No one should regard Chief Barnett as a killjoy. It's his duty to maintain law and order, which also includes protecting the public from any dangerous or potentially dangerous situation. Everyone should be grateful to the chief for acting before a tragedy happened among the carefree skateboarders. It's far better to take action before someone is seriously injured or killed than after such a tragedy. Young persons should remember there can be considerable danger in many of the pastimes and practices they regard only as fun.

spade tricks. South had to bid five discards from dummy and his choice of discards was not as good as his choice of discards. He shed four diamonds and lost eight of hearts while East only let the four and eight of hearts go.
Now West led the deuce of hearts and East let dummy king hold the trick.
At this point South had been himself into a corner where club lead appeared to be necessary. Actually, a hearts return would have saved one trick. South appeared to be embarking on a career of losing what he could.
He could have led a low club to queen. This put West in the king and West promptly cashed a second heart whereupon he cashed three heart tricks and the ace of diamonds. South had managed to hold his own and three tricks at his two diamond contract.

Computer Has Nabbed 86 Bookmakers

NEW YORK, April 29 (AP)—A computer which normally validated income tax returns has idled. So, federal law enforcement officials decided to feed it some gambling information from bettors, agents, police and other sources. No income tax information was used, the officials said. The computer evaluated such information as bookmakers' work sheets, the movements of bettors and bookmakers, geographical patterns of betting and the methods and amounts of payments. Finally, it pointed its electronic finger at 86 alleged bookmakers. What's more, federal authorities said, the computer revealed the size of their yearly turnover as between 300 million and 400 million dollars. The 86 were indicted on charges of violating federal laws requiring gamblers to register with the internal revenue service and purchase $50 wagering stamps. It was announced yesterday in Brooklyn by U.S. Atty. Joseph P. Hoey. Conviction carries a maximum penalty of a year in jail and a $10,000 fine. The computer—a Honeywell 60—with a batch of commentaries is back at its income tax job in the Philadelphia office of the internal revenue service. Hoey said that if the information on the computer handled had been processed by man alone, the three-year statute of limitations would have expired. Hoey traced the origin of the indictments to the arrests about 20 years ago of 11 persons on bookmaking charges. None of them were among those indicted yesterday. Information seized when they were arrested, including records from a telephone answering service, provided the groundwork for the current case. The computer clicked off the names of 14,000 bettors in the metropolitan area. Information was obtained from 8,000 of them. It was fed back into the computer, and led to the indictments.

Man Killed By Flying Stop Sign

LEVITTOWN, Pa., April 29 (AP)—A man preparing to burn trash in his yard was killed last night by a stop sign sent flying when it was struck by an auto. The victim, George Kurtz, 49, Bensalem, was struck above the left eye by the metal disc. He was pronounced dead at Lower Bucks County hospital, Bristol. Police said the auto went out of control while it was being operated by Nicholas Saranzak, 47, Corydon, and hit the pole supporting the sign. The disc was torn off and was caught on an ornament on the front fender of the car. As the vehicle continued its forward movement toward Kurtz' property, the disc spun loose and struck him.

Soviet Police

MOSCOW, April 29 (AP) — A British tourist in Russia has been picked up and detained by communist police, a British embassy spokesman said today.

The spokesman identified the tourist as Gerald Brooke, about 28 years old.

Brooke's wife, Barbara, informed the embassy on Monday that her husband had been detained while the couple was here on a 12-day tour together with a group of British language teachers.

The embassy said it had not been informed of the nature of the charges against Brooke.

In London, some British press reports speculated that Brooke had been picked up on espionage charges. A foreign office spokesman disclosed few details of the case, saying only that "a man named Brooke" had been arrested in Moscow.

Blaine, speaker of the house, said he chose Sens. Perry Swisher, R., Bannock, and Jack Wood, D., Bonneville, to serve with the group. His announcement was made public by the governor's office. The interim tax study committee will meet Friday, coincident with a meeting of the Idaho legislative council.

CRAIGMONT, April 29 (AP)—Lieut. Gov. William E. Drevlow said last night he would be "reluctant" to run again for reelection when his term expires at the end of next year. But the 75-year-old Democratic dean of Idaho elective officials said he was "not closing the door" on a bid for re-election. "I'm certainly not anxious to run again after 18 years in politics," said the Craigmont rancher, but added it's too early and would wait and see what develops.

HORSESHOE BEND, April 29 (AP)—An investigation was continuing today to determine if a three-year-old girl who died when the tail from her family's car was counted as a traffic fatality. The child, Kathy Stevenson, died yesterday in an Emmett hospital several hours after the mishap near her home. Officers said she was alone in the back seat of the car, driven by her mother, and apparently opened the door. They said she tumbled to the pavement and under one of the car's rear wheels.

BOISE, April 29 (AP)—A suit alleging misrepresentation in the sale of north Idaho ranch was filed today in U. S. district court. It asks damages totaling $215,750. Mr. and Mrs. Irving R. Groves, now living in Georgia, filed the action against James L. Brastrup, a Kootenai county resident; the Security Development corporation, the Security corporation, the Bank of Idaho, and Aaron Meyer, manager of the bank's Post Falls branch. The complaint alleged there was an "unlawful conspiracy" between Brastrup and Meyer which resulted in the Groves purchasing the Pineview ranch in Kootenai county and later selling it at a loss.

BOISE, April 29 (AP)—The state department of commerce and development reports Idaho's per capita personal income exceeded $2,000 in 1964 for the first time, and that further gains have been made in the first two months of 1965. Department Secretary Louise Shaddock said Idaho's average for 1964 has been listed at $2,012, compared with $1,988 for 1963 and $1,930 for 1962. She said the 1965 figure, provided by the magazine Business Week, showed Idaho personal income in the first two months of 1965 gained 11.2 per cent over the corresponding period a year earlier. The average for the nation was 7.8 per cent.

BOISE, April 29 (AP)—The executive secretary of the Idaho Education association said yesterday that increased appropriations for the public schools have resulted in the doubling of many school district library budgets for the 1965-66 school year. "Since many Idaho high schools were not fully accredited this year because of inadequate libraries... This increased expenditure is most welcome news," said Wayne York in a statement. "Now more schools can introduce pupils to the excitement of good books and can teach the skills of research and investigative study from improved libraries served by well-trained librarians."

BOISE, April 29 (AP)—The Idaho supreme court affirmed yesterday a district court decision granting a new trial in a civil damages case stemming from an industrial accident near Meridian. Raymond E. Warren, foreman of a crew employed by the Hood Construction company of Boise engaged in installing a gas line to a farm house, brought suit against Charles H. Eshelman and was awarded $10,000 damages by a jury. Warren said he was injured in a fall caused by his feet becoming entangled in a hose after Eshelman had driven over it. Warren appealed to the high court after the district court had granted a motion by Eshelman asking for a new trial.

BOISE, April 29 (AP)—Assertions by Gov. Robert E. Smylie that it would be "sheer nonsense" to say Idaho had an unpaid bill at the end of the 1961-63 biennium have been labeled "ridiculous" by State Auditor Joe E. Williams. "It is common knowledge," said Williams, Democrat, "that every department in the state was instructed through an executive order to pay nothing but salaries and wages after June 7, 1963. 'We all carried over bills that would normally have been paid in the last biennium to the present biennium.'" Williams estimated that the unpaid obligations totaled at least two million dollars.

BOISE, April 29 (AP)—State departments and agencies were told today there will be no holding back in their spending for the new fiscal period beginning July 1, but Gov. Robert E. Smylie asked them to be prudent. "I do ask," he said in a memorandum, signed by him and acting budget director, "that all responsible officers of the government hold expenditures well within appropriation limits for the first two quarters of the upcoming biennium. 'If this is done, we will know with predictable certainty what the biennium ending results will be.' For the biennium beginning July 1, 1965, state departments have been permitted to spend each six months only 25 per cent of their biennial appropriation, instead of the normal 25 per cent. That was because revenue from the state's existing tax structure failed to meet the estimates set by the 1963 legislature, which made general fund appropriations of 101.9 million dollars. Actual expenditures will run around 97 million dollars at the present rate."

Biggest

DETROIT, April 29 (AP) — General Motors reported yesterday the biggest first-quarter earnings ever made by an American corporation. Profits totaled 638 million dollars, far ahead of the old U.S. industry first-quarter high of 536 million dollars which GM set last year. It also marked a new high for any GM quarter, shattering the old mark of 602 million dollars set in the second quarter of 1964.

GM workers around the world earned more than they ever got before. Their numbers totaled 737,963 and they were paid 1.3 billion dollars in the opening quarter.

MAP SHOWS location of new Midpoint and Hunt substations and 230,000-volt transmission line Idaho Power company is building at a cost of four million dollars to increase Magic Valley's supply of electricity. New facilities will transfer power from existing 230,000-volt lines to 138,000-volt lines that are the backbone of the transmission system serving this area.

Construction of Idaho Power High-Voltage Line Advances

JEROME, April 29 — Idaho Power company reported Wednesday that construction of new high-voltage transmission facilities near here is advancing.

The new facilities will increase Magic Valley's supply of electricity and are expected to be completed by the peak of this year's pumping season.

E. E. Haroldsen, Twin Falls, southern division manager, said the utility's crews have started building a new 230,000-volt "tie line" 18 miles long to put the entire four million dollar array of transmission and substation facilities under construction.

The complex of facilities includes, in addition to the transmission line, the 230,000-volt Midpoint switching station nine miles northeast of Jerome and the 138,000-volt Hunt substation about two miles northwest of Eden.

Construction of Midpoint and Hunt has been in progress for several months.

Haroldsen said the facilities will enable Idaho Power to switch electricity from existing 230,000-volt transmission lines at the Midpoint station and transfer it over the new line to the Hunt substation.

At Hunt, the electricity will be fed into two existing 138,000-volt lines that are the "backbone" of the company's transmission system serving Magic Valley.

"This multimillion-dollar construction program is one of the most progressive steps taken by Idaho Power in recent years to assure ample and dependable supplies of energy for its customers in the highly electrified Magic Valley area," Haroldsen said.

He explained that the transfer of electricity will benefit Magic Valley in three ways—by increasing the flow of power over the existing 138,000-volt lines, by further stabilizing their voltage and by providing another source of power to supply the area's steadily mounting demands.

The Midpoint station is located on a 40-acre site near the crossing of the utility's two 230,000-volt transmission lines between Boise and American Falls.

Incorporating new design features developed by Idaho Power engineers, the station is equipped for switching electricity between the two existing lines as well as over the new tie line to Hunt.

Haroldsen said the equipment provides "greater flexibility" in switching and also makes it possible for the utility to take any switch out of use without interrupting service.

Declo 4-H Club Hears Report on Village Affairs

DECLO, April 29 — The Busy Beavers 4-H club met at the home of David Darrington, Monday evening for their installation service.

Christine Gillette, junior leader, conducted the meeting and installed the officers. Earl Darrington, a member of the village board, talked to the group on "Know Your Community."

He showed a map of the village and explained the management of affairs. He took members on a tour of the fire station, postoffice and the pump house, where he explained the new water system.

POPULATION INCREASES RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil, April 29 (AP)—Brazil will have 100 million people by 1970, predicted Prof. Arthur Neiva on his return from a New York conference where major concern was expressed that Latin-American food reserves would not expand in the same degree. An authoritative estimate in October, 1963 placed Brazil's population at 77.5 million.

Private Firms Are Stifling State Growth

RUPERT, April 29—The president of the Snake River Power association charges that Idaho's private utilities are stifling the state's economic growth.

John Brog applauded President Johnson's request for a one million dollar appropriation to finance planning for a Bonneville Power administration line into southern Idaho, saying it would give the state a "fair share opportunity to use her own water resources for industrial and economic development.

"The refusal by Idaho private utilities to distribute low-cost Columbia river power to Idaho industries and agriculture has stifled our state's opportunity for economic growth," Brog said, adding:

"The Bonneville line across southern Idaho is the only apparent way for the people to have their fair share of the hydro-electric power produced by Idaho water at the downstream Columbia dams."

Scout Troop To Compete in Skill-O-Rama

SHOSHONE, April 29 — Boy Scout troop 103, sponsored by Christ church, Shoshone, will take part in the Scouting skill-a-rama scheduled Saturday at the Lincoln county fairgrounds here.

Scout troops from Camas, Gooding, Blaine, Lincoln and Jerome counties will participate. The demonstration will be given from 2 until 7 p.m.

Scouts of troop 103 took a hike this week along the Snake river from the Clear lakes bridge to Banbury. After the hike, they spent the afternoon swimming at Silger's Thousand Springs pool. They were accompanied by Scoutmaster John Tulk and assistant Scoutmaster Dale Bennett.

Michael Saras, Hall Ross, Jr., Kevin Terry and Donald Bennett passed requirements for their swimming merit badge. Transportation was furnished by Mrs. William Mabbutt, Marvin Pearson and Elmer Terry.

Reactions of U.S. Marines In South Viet Nam Related

DA NANG, South Viet Nam, April 29 (AP) — How are U. S. marines reacting to South Viet Nam, the Viet Cong and the first ground combat with an enemy since the Korean war? "The reconnaissance company of the third marine regiment has been bearing the brunt of Viet Cong work deep into Viet Cong territory in the past week. Two men were killed and seven wounded in clashes with the enemy. "I've never sweated so much in my life. This is the hottest country in the world," said Sgt. H. W. Rogers, Allen Park, Mich., a World War II veteran. "Before we came here, I thought that enemy contacts would be few and far between. But now that we are in Viet Nam I find that we are clashing with them every day," said Lt. William Van Kat, a platoon leader from East Paterson, N. J. "About the Vietnamese people: 'The peasants out in the villages have amazing endurance. We saw a woman running through a village we were attacking with intensive ground fire the other day. We arrived inside and she hadn't even been hit, but man was she scared,' said Lieut. Carmine del Grossi, the Bronx, N. Y. "We can already tell when we reach the enemy territory. In their villages there are no men. The women and kids appear to hate us. You can feel it. But in the friendly territory people take our candy, salute, smile and wave," said Capt. Pat Collins, Grosse Ile, Mich., the company commander and a veteran of the Korean war. "About Vietnamese soldiers: 'Ones we are working with are green infantrymen and they appear hesitant,' said Capt. Collins. "They need better leadership and we can give it to them by working with them in four-man teams of two marines and two Vietnamese. We did this in Nationalist China and in Thailand. This way we can show by example." "They've got terrifying endurance and they are always smiling—well, they'll be good," said S/Gt. Albert Kihlstrom, Worcester, Mass. "I think they have been built up as supermen but they are just a bunch of badnuts," said Lieut. Carmine del Grossi. "The U. S. marines: "All their basic training is coming out now, their reaction is something to look at. Give them a signal and they will take off. There is no hesitancy at all on their part. The other day they charged into a machinegun nest. They don't need any coaxing," said Del Grossi. "Morale is starting to lift now that we are getting some combat, doing what we were trained to do. There are no disciplinary problems," said Collins.

Dapper Delegate Dropped From List; Derby Field Narrows to 10-12 Horses

LOUISVILLE, Ky., April 29 (AP)—Dapper Delegate, winner of the Louisiana derby, was withdrawn from the 91st Kentucky derby Wednesday leaving 10 definite starters and perhaps as many as 12 to battle over one and one-fourth miles at Churchill Downs Saturday. The son of Porterhouse, owned by Mrs. Joe W. Brown, came down with a head cold Tuesday and by Wednesday he had a mild throat infection with swollen glands. "Although it isn't too bad, it's still enough to keep him out of the big race," said an obviously sad trainer Alcee Richard after Dr. Alex Harthill had examined the colt early in the morning.

Nicklaus Rated at Short Odds to Win

LAS VEGAS, April 29 (UPI)—Big Jack Nicklaus was ranked as the shortest priced favorite in recent years Wednesday night to win his third Tournament of Champions golf title in a since his runaway victory ship, Nicklaus was posted at odds of 2-1 to defeat 25 other winners of Professional Golf association tournaments in the past year.

Slowdown of Salmon Run Causes Worry

PORTLAND, April 29 (AP)—Oregon and Washington fisheries authorities, concerned by a sudden drop in the Bonneville dam salmon count, will conduct an emergency hearing in Portland Friday.

Commercial fishing on the Columbia river began Tuesday. The agencies will consider whether to extend the first weekly closure, scheduled to run from 1 p.m. Saturday to 7 p.m. Sunday.

Herman P. Meerjurgan, Oregon-fish commission chairman, said every precaution must be taken to assure adequate up-river escapement.

The Bonneville salmon count reached a high of 4,000 on April 14, but with a rise in the river the count was only 87 on Monday.

The higher and murkier waters normally delay the salmon in the lower river. With the commercial season now on, fish biologists fear the catch will be heavy, and not enough fish will reach the spawning grounds.

Ralston Says Punishment Is too Strong

BAKERSFIELD, Calif., April 29 (AP)—"Maybe I shouldn't have considered myself first and maybe I shouldn't have done it at all, but I think the punishment is a little strong," says top U. S. amateur tennis player Dennis Ralston.

Ralston, 23, was temporarily suspended from the United States Davis cup team Tuesday—and ruled out of his hometown match here against Canada June 4-6.

Team captain George MacCall said the suspension was a result of Ralston's defaulting a doubles match last week in the River Oaks tournament in Houston, following a loss in the quarter-final singles to veteran Ham Richardson.

MacCall said the suspension was only for the Bakersfield match, after which Ralston would be reinstated.

"I wasn't mentally fit for a full effort in the Houston tournament," said Ralston in a telephone interview. "I know I lost to Ham Richardson, but that wasn't the reason I left."

"I needed a rest and my wife, Linda, was sick at the time. There wasn't any sign of a rest in the future, either, so I came home."

MacCall said he didn't call Ralston's ruling out of the Bakersfield competition a suspension.

"No, I'm not suspending Denny," said MacCall. "Denny's just not in my thinking at the present time."

"I realize the Canadian match was set for Bakersfield because Ralston lives there, but he's not in my plans right now."

"I talked to Denny Monday and he knows how I feel."

Earlier, Ralston quoted Mac-

Call as telling him, "I took the action because I don't have confidence in you. You might walk out on the Davis cup team."

Dapper Delegate disappointed Richard in both the Wood Memorial at Agueduct and last Saturday's Stepping Stone at Churchill Downs, but still was considered one of the top Derby hopefuls.

Meantime, trainers of the leading contenders predicted a swift run and hotly contested race when the starting gates open at 4:45 p.m. EST.

Nationwide television will be carried by CBS from 4 to 5 p.m. With 12 starters the derby will have a gross value of $156,000 with $13,500 going to the winner, $25,000 to the second place finisher, $12,500 to third and $5,000 to fourth.

The weather forecast is for fair and cool Saturday with not enough rain before then to encourage the mud runners. But should it come up, Janet Stokely's Apple Core and J. W. Mecom's Narushua likely will not start.

Bold Lad from Mrs. H. C. Philipps Wheatley stable was the No. 1 topic of conversation on the backstretch Wednesday morning as the trainers put the final touches on their finely-tuned charges.

The 1964 2-year-old champion is expected to go postward the favorite at 9-5 or even shorter after displaying his old time form with a four-length victory in the Derby trial Tuesday. He ripped off the one-mile in 1:35-1-5 under 122 pounds, four less than all starters will carry in the derby, after stepping the first six furlongs in 1:10.

"He came out of the race in fine shape—just the way he went into it," said trainer Bill Winfrey. "We'll now wait and see about the derby—at least I know, and feel, that he's in shape for a top race."

Winfrey, however, declined to predict how the race will be run other than to say he thought the time would be around 2:02. The record of two minutes flat was set by Northern Dancer last year.

Ray Metcalf, trainer of Maj. Albert Warner's Native Charger, winner of the Flamingo and Florida derby, forecast an even faster race with the time between 2:00 and 2:01.

Eddie Yowell, trainer of Mrs. Ben Cohen's Hall to All, and Frank Whiteley, Jr., trainer of Raymond's Guest's Tom Rolfe, also predicted a swiftly-run derby.

Confidence oozed at barn 19, where Earl Allen's Arkansas derby winner Swift Ruler is stable.

"We'll give them a run for the money," said Allen, vice president and treasurer of the Houston Astros of the National League. "We didn't come down here just to run. We came to win."

All through this there was quiet confidence at barn 24, where trainer Frank Catrone showed off Ada L. Rice's Lucky Debonair, the second choice, who'll be ridden by Willie Shoemaker.

To a man, the trainers expect Isidor Bieber's Flag Raiser to go out on top and set a burning pace. The problem will be to catch the speeding son of Rough 'n Tumble.

Gibson Holds Braves 5-0 For Cardinals

MILWAUKEE, April 29 (AP)—St. Louis fire-baller Bob Gibson posted his third victory and second shutout with a brilliant three-hitter in baffling Milwaukee Braves 5-0 Wednesday night before only 1,324 fans, the smallest crowd in Country stadium history.

Gibson, a 29-year-old right-hander who won 19 games last season and then added a pair of triumphs in the world series, was in complete command after surrendering singles to Ty Cline and Lee Maye at the start of the Milwaukee first.

Gibson worked his way out of the jam by retiring Hank Aaron on a fly to short right and then getting Eddie Mathews to ground into an "inning-ending" double play.

That was the Braves' last threat as Gibson, who hasn't lost a game, didn't allow another hit until Denis Menke beat out an infield hit with two out in the ninth.

St. Louis — 320 000 011—5 7 2 Milwaukee — 000 000 000—0 0 4 Gibson and McGarver; Blasingame, Carroll (2), Olinick (1), Niekro (8) and Oliver, W-Gibson (8-0), L-Blasingame (0-2).

Rosewall Says Laver Is Top Tennis Pro

NEW YORK, April 29 (AP)—Ken Rosewall has been king of the tennis pros for three years now, but he's beginning to look over his shoulder at a bandy-legged little left-hander and a blk, dark man with a murderous serve.

Which one does Rosewall fear most as a threat to his title—Rod Laver or Pancho Gonzales?

"Both are tough, but Laver is the one that keeps me awake at night staring at the ceiling, the frazzled-looking Australian nicknamed Muscles by his fellow pros," said Wednesday.

"Rod is young and eager. He is good and getting better. Gonzales is a great competitor, very determined to be the best again, and no one hits a harder serve. But Laver has the edge almost everywhere else."

Pancho is 37. Laver is a comparative baby of 23.

Ring Champ Suspended by Canada Unit

MONTREAL, April 29 (UP)—Canadian welterweight champion Joey Durelle Wednesday began an indefinite suspension imposed by the Montreal athletic commission for refusing to fulfill a contract to fight Armand Savoue, a man he has beaten twice in the past five months.

Durelle, from Trois Rivieres, Que., interrupted his training for the May 4 title bout last week to attend his father's funeral and later informed promoter Johnny Rougeau that he wasn't fit "mentally or physically" to defend his 147-pound crown.

"He was already in training and still had 13 days before the fight in which to get ready," charged Rougeau, who asked the Canadian Boxing Federation to declare the title vacant. "We feel that was long enough."

Peter Schmidt, Toronto, from whom Durelle won the crown last year, has been announced as a replacement for Durelle, and Rougeau has asked the Canadian federation to sanction the fight as a title match.

Buhl Sets Amateur Golf Meet

BUHL, April 29

13th annual Buhl amateur golf tournament will be conducted May 15 and 16 at the Clear Lakes course, marking the official opening of the Magic Valley championship season. The tournament will be based on holes in the championship club with all other flights playing on the local club.

A new champion will be crowned as Mike Sweet won last year in overtime. It is expected that the runner-up, Dr. Max Wilkinson, twin of a man killed in a traffic accident last year.

A tough man to watch will be Buhl's Ted Eastman, who won last year and has the "local knowledge" plus talent base his championship credentials on.

The tournament will pay top five places in five classes. The field will be flighted according to handicap and handicaps must be signed by the professional or tournament chairman of the golfer's local course.

Filer Youths Top Local Boxing Card

Rick Storrs, Filer, will go against Don Andrews, also Filer, in the 170-pound class Saturday when the members of the Magic Valley Boxing club take on boxers from Boise and Homedale, according to Bill Moran, head of the local club.

About 10 matches are scheduled to start at 8 p.m. at the Filer high school gymnasium. The boxers will range in weight from 40 to 170 pounds. The only other match that has been set is one between Earl Shiets, Filer, and McConnell, Boise, at 165 pounds. Each bout will go three rounds.

Moran promises a good card, with AAU rules prevailing. Some of the fighters from the valley will include Jack Garner, Burley, Tom Cox, Twin Falls, and Gordon Pedrow, Filer.

No lineups other than the two mentioned, have been set as there will be several last-minute changes, according to Moran. Often a boy matched doesn't show up for the meet and this necessitates switching fighters.

Princess Grace in U.S. For Wedding

NEW YORK, April 29 (UPI)—Princess Grace of Monaco and her eight-year-old daughter, Princess Caroline, will spend the next few days here visiting the theater and shopping.

Princess Grace, the former Grace Kelly of movie fame, arrived at Kennedy International airport yesterday from Paris to attend the wedding Saturday in Philadelphia of her niece, Meg Davis, Philadelphia, to Richard E. Roe, Sealiff, N.Y.

Princess Grace told reporters at the airport that her duties prevented her from ever making another film. Princess Caroline, concerned perhaps that her royal duties might preclude her future chance of ever making a film, blurted:

"Mommy, will you let me be an actress when grow up?"

"You are an actress already," her mother replied.

The little princess, though royalty by birth, said she looked forward most during her stay here to "a big hamburger with a pickle on it."

Princess Grace and Princess Caroline will spend two weeks in the United States. Prince Rainier, Princess Grace's husband, did not accompany them.

Blaze Guts 3-Story Hotel In Montana

HELENA, Mont., April 29 (UPI)—A treacherous fire that endangered the heart of Helena's downtown business district gutted a three-story hotel last night.

Firemen entered the ruins of the hotel early today to douse the blaze they had brought under control after it threatened for three hours to spread to adjoining buildings.

Specific cause of the fire which destroyed the Martha Hotel on the capital city's Last Chance Gulch had not been determined. Preliminary unofficial estimates placed the damage at over $200,000.

The blaze broke out shortly after 9 p.m. first billowing dense smoke over the downtown area and later shooting flames and spewing hot embers high atop the hotel.

All Helena fire trucks and an army national guard firefighting truck manned by guardsmen battled the blaze for more than three hours.

All 45 residents of the hotel fled the burning building without injury. Helena fireman Douglas Brown was hospitalized for smoke inhalation, but no other injuries were reported.

Firefighters had concentrated on the buildings surrounding the hotel, located in the same block that was destroyed by fire in 1928.

Thousands of spectators clogged Last Chance Gulch, Helena's main street, to watch the fire. They were pushed out of the area by police when it appeared the front of the structure might fall on the street.

Several business establishments along the main street moved goods into the street when the fire was threatening to spread.

Fire Chief Ed Morse said the blaze was first reported by a bartender, working in the tavern on the first floor of the hotel. It was believed to have started at the rear of the jewelry store, also located on the ground floor.

The fire burned out of control until nearly midnight.

The structure, owned by Mrs. Quincy Hale, LaCrosse, Wis., was valued at about $150,000.

She plans to enter the College of Idaho, Caldwell, this fall. She has received a $500 Honor Student scholarship from that college.

Miss Bright has a grade average of 3.88.

She is editor of the school year book, and secretary of the Pep club; has been a member of the Future Teachers association the first two years of high school. She was homecoming queen this year, and a member of the drill team two years, played girls basketball four years, junior varsity cheerleader and class representative her freshman year, chorus member three years, and in the all school play.

During her junior and senior years she was on the school twirlers team, and has been active in 4-H for six years. She plans to enroll in Eastern Oregon State, La Grande, Ore., this fall and major in physical education.

Second Stage Of Missile Hits Highway

WHITE SANDS, N.M., April 29 (UPI)—The second stage of a 25-foot long test missile went astray yesterday and smashed into U.S. 70 between Las Cruces and Alamogordo, N.M.

There were no injuries.

As a routine safety measure no traffic had been permitted on the highway during the firing.

Traffic was restored shortly after the incident when vehicles were being routed around the 15-inch hole left by the missile. Recovery crews were sent to the scene to remove the remains of the missile.

The rocket hit the highway about 12 miles east of the main entrance to White Sands headquarters.

A White Sands information officer said the entire missile was 25 feet long but he did not give the length of the second stage which hit the highway.

The missile that malfunctioned was being tested for possible later use as a target missile. The officer said the misfiring would not hurt the program to develop the target missile.

The incident was the latest in a continuing series of missile mishaps in New Mexico. The air force had problems firing Athena missiles from Green River, Utah, to White Sands last year and one of the Athenas rocketed off course and fell to earth near Durango, Colo.

State Court Upholds Rule On Adoption

BOISE, April 29—The Idaho supreme court has ruled that adoption of two Cassia county children by their father was properly set aside because their other had not been notified of adoption proceedings.

Jones Orval Leonard was awarded custody of the children after obtaining a divorce from Mrs. Doreen Leonard and petitioned for adoption of the youngsters when he remarried, the court said.

A district court in Cassia county set aside the adoption order on appeal because the natural mother's petition at the time she did not give consent had not been notified of the proceedings.

On appeal, the supreme court in a 4-2 vote upheld the district court decision.

Bad Conduct On Selma March Denied

WASHINGTON, April 28—A group of clergymen who took part in the Selma-Montgomery rights march denied today a lab a congressman's charge that it was marked by widespread immorality.

Rep. William L. Dickinson, R., made the charge in two speeches. He told the house yesterday he has 30 sworn statements as "proof" of sexual immorality on the march.

Dickinson was called "a little McCarthy" by one of the clergymen, the Rev. Dom Orsini, Pittsburgh Episcopal priest.

Orsini, who marched the same way, said Dickinson is reminiscent of the late Sen. Joseph McCarthy, R., Wis., who made widespread charges of communism in government, a decade ago.

Dickinson "forever cries 'I've proof,' but he had no proof," said Orsini. "Well, we've proof. We were there. We saw, we admired, we loved."

The group, which also included a nun and two theological students, held a news conference at the Capitol to denounce Dickinson's charges.

They said the marchers were disciplined, orderly and deeply devoted to the civil rights cause for which they were demonstrating.

Tight security measures were taken at each camp, men's and women's tents were separated and 40 men patrolled the camp at night, even entering the tents periodically to make sure everything was all right, they said.

*BIGGEST INTERMOUNTAIN BUYING POWER

Associated Food Stores today is the biggest grocery-product buying power in the Intermountain West. With her own fleet of trucks running between west coast distribution centers and her four division warehouses in Boise, Pocatello, Helena, and Salt Lake City, Associated has become the major factor in food distribution in Utah, Idaho, Western Montana, and parts of surrounding states. This large volume assures the lowest possible operating costs and enables a substantially lower gross margin. No store or group of stores buy groceries for less than members of Associated Food Stores.

25 YEARS OF SERVICE

Twenty-five years ago a small group of independent retailers met together. They were well aware that the corporate giants were gaining economies and efficiencies that they did not have. They joined hands and together as Associated Food Stores, Inc., they found their strength to be equal to any giant. When independent grocers join Associated Foods... they multiply their power without sacrificing their individuality. Immediately they have access to the tools of big business. Consider the assets and know that even the largest corporate giants have no more or better service at their fingertips.

WE SOLICIT YOUR BUSINESS

Swenson's Magic City Market is one of the oldest grocery stores in Twin Falls. It was established in 1933 by C. E. Davidson. He enjoyed a successful operation until 1953. At that time it was purchased by Sherman Swenson. A wide selection of high quality merchandise at consistent low prices coupled with courteous friendly service and a clean modern store have been contributing factors of a successful operation of Swenson's Magic City Market for these many years.
