

North Viet Nam's Military Depots Hit by Navy Jets

SAIGON, Viet Nam, April 30 (AP)—Carrier-based U. S. navy planes hammered two of North Viet Nam's military supply depots today and a spokesman said both were smashed. Rockets, 20mm cannon shells and 62 tons of bombs poured from 82 planes on the Thien Linh Dong army supply depot, 75 miles south of Hain, and the Phu Qui ammunition center, 45 miles farther south. The Phu Qui depot drew two attacks in succession from the carrier Hancock — the first by 26 planes and the second by 31. Secondary explosions were reported there, suggesting direct hits on munitions magazines. Pilots said they also blew up a petroleum tank four miles from Phu Qui with Zuni rockets. The carrier Midway launched 25 Skyraiders and Skyhawks against the Thien Linh Dong depot. They strafed and bombed the installations under light antiaircraft fire.

The spokesman said the attacks destroyed a total of 19 buildings, damaged 13 and knocked out four railroad box cars.

No enemy planes were sighted. Spokesmen said all U.S. planes returned safely.

The strikes against the two depots came after several days of relatively fruitless attacks on North Vietnamese highways and bridges.

A U.S. army helicopter gunner was wounded slightly during a combat assault 25 miles south of Saigon.

A U.S. military spokesman reported that the big infantry swept through the swamps of Kien Hoa Province, in the Mekong delta 60 miles southwest of Saigon, had turned up a large Viet Cong arms cache.

The Seventh division troops at last report had counted about 600 arms, including some American Springfield rifles and a ton of high explosive. Many of the arms were still coated with protective covering and were wrapped in heavy paper.

Shortly after the weapons were found, the Viet Cong launched a counterattack which apparently failed.

There were no casualty reports for the day's fighting.

Water Content, Snow Cover Above Normal in High Areas

Water content and snow cover in high areas are above normal, but the snow at the lower elevations is gone or in the process of running off, reports Glen Nelson, chairman, Twin Falls soil conservation district, after surveying snow measuring stations in the hills south of Twin Falls.

Nelson said the surveys found evidence that the soil is warming and the soil moisture in the mountains still is high. No measurements were taken at Shoshone basin because the snow is gone and the snow course is under water.

Magic mountain had 46 inches of snow, 21.5 inches of water content, compared to 14.4 inches of water for the 10-year average. Deadline ridge has 60.9 inches of snow, 26.1 inches of water, compared to the average of 18.6 inches of water.

Water Bond Issue Backed By Chamber

The water bond issue was unanimously endorsed during a general membership meeting of the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce Thursday night at the YW-YMCA building.

Ray Rostrom, secretary-manager of the chamber, said, "The Chamber of Commerce is interested in the progress and development of the community. Good water is one of the greatest assets a community can have."

During the business meeting new bylaws were adopted. They provide for the election of four directors every year for three-year terms.

In the past, six directors have been elected every year for two-year terms. It was felt that the experience of a longer term would benefit the chamber board.

BUHL, April 30 — Roy E. (Colonel) Hopkins, 70, well known auctioneer and real estate dealer, died Thursday afternoon at Hazel Del manor, Twin Falls, of an extended illness.

He was born May 26, 1894, at Craig, Mo., and came to Idaho in 1914. On Jan. 12, 1915, he married Merial Averill at Twin Falls. They celebrated their golden wedding anniversary on Jan. 12.

Mr. Hopkins served on the Buhl school board for 15 years, belonged to the Buhl First Christian church and a lay minister. He taught Sunday school for 35 years and was superintendent of the Sunday school and a deacon and elder of the church.

Damage High, Schools Closed By Pacific Northwest Quake

SEATTLE, Wash., April 30 (AP)—Washington state counted five dead today and damage in the millions of dollars in the wake of the Pacific Northwest's worst earthquake in more than a decade. In Seattle, the hardest hit area, Frank Brock, assistant superintendent of schools, said the loss to the system "should easily be in excess of one million dollars." Eight public schools were closed and two may not be back in operation for some time, he said.

McDonald Defeated In Bitter Election

PITTSBURGH, April 30 (AP)—I. W. Abel was declared the victor today in a bitter fight for president of the United Steelworkers union, and incumbent David J. McDonald said he will contest the result. "I am president of this union until the first of June," McDonald told a news conference. Asked if he would appeal to the labor department for an investigation aimed at a new election, McDonald said: "We'll cross that bridge when we come to it." He estimated it would take several weeks to exhaust union executive board appeal procedures.

Sales Tax

BOISE, April 30 (AP)—Secretary of State Arnold Williams said today he believed Idaho residents would vote down the sales tax. Williams said he had talked to many persons from throughout the state and concluded the trend is against the sales tax.

"I wouldn't be surprised but what they would repeal it," Williams said. "But I don't know where we are going to get the revenue if they do repeal it."

The tax issue won't come up for a vote until November, 1966. Sales tax opponents now are collecting petition signatures calling for a referendum on the tax.

Paratroopers Sent To Help Marines In Santo Domingo

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic, April 30 (UPI)—American paratroopers were airlifted into Santo Domingo today to join U. S. marines already there protecting the lives of 1,000 U. S. citizens. The paratroopers, 2,500 members of the U. S. army's crack 82nd airborne division, joined 1,700 fleet-based marines deployed around American positions in the city. The 4,200 Americans outnumbered remaining American nationals by about four-to-one. An estimated 1,500 Americans of the 2,300 originally estimated in the country have been evacuated.

Additional Troops On Alert If Needed

WASHINGTON, April 30 (UPI)—Additional U. S. troops were on alert today to move into the Dominican Republic if needed to reinforce the 4,200 marines and paratroopers already there to evacuate Americans and other foreign nationals. High Washington officials continued to insist that the mission was mainly to protect American lives in the rebellion-torn capital of Santo Domingo. But they obviously were concerned about the prospect of Castro-dominated communists taking over the rebel movement.

Officials said there was considerable communist participation in the revolt, but pointed out other factions were involved as well.

Three known communist organizations have been identified with the rebels—the Popular Socialist party, the Movimiento Popular Dominicano and the pro-Castro 14th of June party.

At the outset of the uprising, the rebellion contained a broad spectrum of political views. A large segment came from the political party of exiled former President Juan Bosch.

At the time of his 1963 ouster, Bosch was accused of being too tolerant of the communists but he has never been considered by Washington to be an outright communist.

Bosch's wife was in Washington today and planned to hold an afternoon news conference. She said her husband was in constant touch with his followers in the Dominican Republic.

However, U.S. officials believe that many of them took refuge in foreign embassies when the fighting intensified, thus giving the communists increased control of the rebellion.

In a senate speech last night, Sen. James O. Eastland, D., Miss., said that if Bosch is recognized as authority, it would be a major victory for the communists.

U.S. officials said the marines and paratroopers had taken no action to engage the rebel forces but were authorized to defend themselves if attacked by snipers. They also reported that at least 1,500 persons, mainly Americans, had been evacuated from the island.

Foamy Flood

SEATTLE, April 30 (AP)—The losses in yesterday's Pacific Northwest earthquake included 15,000 gallons of beer at the Rainier Brewery here.

The quake broke an outlet pipe, and engineer Jim Storvick soon found himself wading knee-deep in 15,000 gallons of beer and foam.

It was beer, beer everywhere and not a drop to drink.

Donald Taylor represented the real estate agents at the meeting.

Warm Springs Creek Rises At Ketchum

KETCHUM, April 30—A heavy rainstorm early Friday, following wind and rain Thursday night, has caused Big Wood river and Warm Springs creek to rise at least six inches, it was reported today.

At Sun Valley it was reported 34 of an inch of rain fell between 4 and 5:30 a. m. today. Jack Irwin, county assessor, who lives on Warm Springs creek, said the creek rose six inches during the storm.

The golf house at the Warm Springs Ranch Inn was surrounded by water and started to wash away, but owners anchored it. A bridge over the creek in the golf course has been washed down stream.

Water was reported to the edge of the home owned by Robert Reese, Twin Falls, after debris flooded the main creek and forced the water to back up into a slough. Owen Simpson cleared the debris out of the main creek.

Wells in the Ned Foster addition between Ketchum and Big Wood river were reported flooded by surface water.

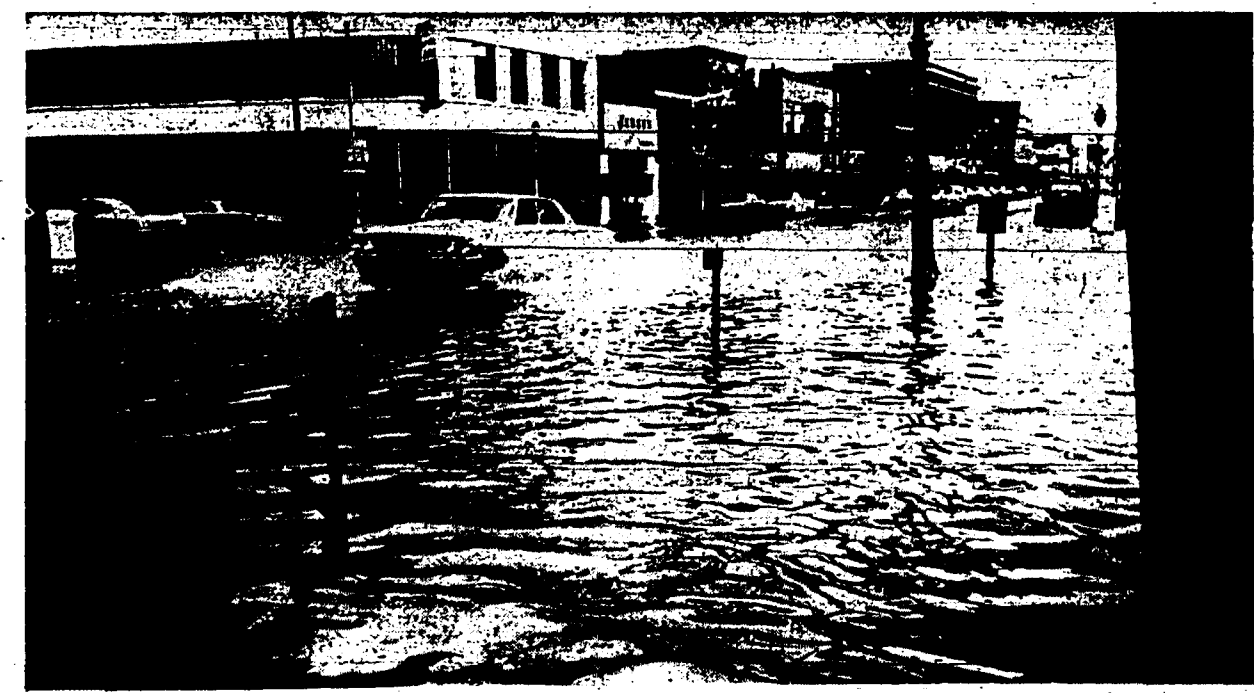

Parking on Blue Lakes North Ends

(See Picture on Page 5) The no parking ordinance on Blue Lakes boulevard north will become effective Saturday, but the law will not be strictly enforced until possibly Monday when signs have been placed along the city street.

Police Chief M. Frank Barnett said Friday that as soon as no parking signs are placed on the boulevard the department will start cracking down on violators.

The boulevard will be marked with four lanes from Five Points north to about one mile north of the city limits.

Residents along the street who have no place to park can obtain curb cutting permits, Barnett said.

ANOTHER FLOODED ILLINOIS VILLAGE? No, this is the appearance the heavy downpour of rain gave Twin Falls Thursday. The intersection of Main avenue and Shoshone street was flooded and water backed up into businesses located near the intersection. Several other intersections also were flooded in Twin Falls. It was reported lightning struck the chimney at the Wagen Wheel motel, 1402 Kimberly road, knocking off some bricks during the storm, which was accompanied by large hailstones. No major damage to crops was reported. (Times News photo)

FIVE-DAY FORECAST

The five-day forecast calls for a disturbance now approaching the northern Intermountain region to move through northern Idaho late today, tonight and Saturday. A second disturbance will move through the area about Tuesday and Wednesday. Between these two stormy periods Sunday and Monday should be fair and sunny.

Temperatures Saturday through Wednesday will average near normal with general cooling Saturday and again about Wednesday. Some daytime warming is likely by Monday. Coolest nighttime temperatures may be expected Saturday or Sunday night. Some normal maximum and minimum temperatures for this period are Gooding 67-73, Twin Falls 69-35, Burley 66-37.

Precipitation will average more than normal and will occur mostly as showers or thundershowers through Saturday and again about Tuesday and Wednesday. Rainfall during the period will range between .10 and .50 of an inch with considerable variation in amounts likely within the space of a few miles. Showers may be expected to cause temporary delays in outdoor activities but the added moisture should benefit crops and pastures in all areas except a few areas where the soil is still wet.

Soil temperatures at the 20-inch level should average near present levels in the low or middle 50s in valleys of southwestern Idaho and the upper 50s and low 60s in Magic Valley. Sunshine will average around 60 per cent of possible with an average of seven-tenths of the sky covered by clouds.

SYNOPSIS AND AGRICULTURAL SUMMARY

Rather moist and unstable air over this district will likely produce a good deal of cloudiness and a few showers or thundershowers again today with temperatures about the same as yesterday. More general showers and thundershowers are expected to move into southwestern Idaho and Magic Valley tonight and spread eastward throughout the district on Saturday as a disturbance now approaching the coast moves through the Intermountain region. Some locally heavy thundershowers accompanied by gusty winds may be expected tonight in western parts of the district and in central and eastern parts on Saturday.

Cooler air moving in with this disturbance will lower temperatures to the 60s and low 70s on Saturday. The outlook for Sunday is partly cloudy and a little cooler.

Yesterday was warm throughout southern Idaho with highs ranging from the low 70s in the upper Snake river plains and Camas prairie to the upper 70s in southwestern valleys and parts of Magic Valley.

Most reporting points had showers yesterday.

New Anti-Red Party Eyed

At Confab

CHICAGO, April 30 (AP) — A suggestion that "we need George Wallace in the White House" touched off applause yesterday at the congress of conservatives.

The name of the Alabama governor, a prime figure in the controversy over civil rights, popped up in the midst of a long speech by Lester Maddox, who lost his Atlanta restaurant after he refused to serve Negroes.

The program of the three-day conference calls for a statement of principles Saturday that may become the basis for a new anti-communist party.

The chairman of the congress, Kent Courtney, New Orleans, La., whose political action monthly, the Independent American, is sponsoring the gathering, termed any talk of candidate premature.

He said 40 persons had been invited to a closed caucus to begin discussions of the possibility of starting a new political unit.

Nothing will be disclosed about the discussions, he said, until the windup Saturday which has been designated "new party day."

He told of a new party, "If the groundswell is as big as we think it is, it will come about," he told a news conference.

Election on Sales Tax Law Likely

BOISE, April 30 (AP) — With more than 20,000 of the 25,545 signatures already on file, opponents of Idaho's controversial tax law seemed assured today of success in efforts to bring the levy to a vote in the 1968 election.

They have until May 18 to submit petitions containing an additional 5,478 signatures.

A group supporting the tax has not given up the fight, however, and has leveled charges that the chief opponent of the law, which becomes effective July 1, is Greater Idaho, Inc., a pro-gambling organization.

"The gambling issue," said R. E. Pasley, Caldwell, chairman of the Forward Idaho committee, "is again being used as a scare-all for every financial problem in Idaho. Although pro-gambling have been soundly trounced in the last two statewide elections, they keep pecking away on the same old tune."

They keep scratching around to find an excuse to spotlight their program and apparently they want to ride on the anti-sales tax petition bandwagon."

But despite the dispute, the tax collector office reports it is going ahead with drafting of regulations which will guide its employees in administering the tax.

Tax collector Floyd West said considerable research and study are going into the preparation of the rules which are based on the tax package enacted by the 1965 legislature. It includes the sales levy, reductions in income tax rates and elimination of all state taxes on property.

Earthquake

Raymond Haughton, 52, and Eugene Goulet, 40, were near a 14-story tower at the Fisher Flouring mills when a 50,000-gallon wooden water tank atop the structure exploded. Torrents of water and twisted timbers cascaded down upon them. Haughton died in the debris. Goulet was injured critically.

Adolphus Lewis, 60, was hurrying in the bright sun to his usual morning breakfast of mush and tea at a restaurant near his downtown rooming house. A concrete parapet struck him down. A pile of bricks quickly covered the dead man.

Mrs. James Johnson, 58, Seattle, died while talking on the telephone. Ethel Webb, 75, Tacoma, and Zenola Lorenz, Olympia, were found dead. All were victims of heart attacks.

The earthquake knocked the needles off the University of Washington seismograph, but seismologists elsewhere said it registered 6.5 to 7 on the Richter scale. The devastating Alaska earthquake of March 27, 1964, was rated at 8.3 on the Richter scale. That one killed 113.

Just 16 years ago this month the Pacific Northwest was jolted by an earthquake that registered 7 on the scale. The tremor on April 13, 1949, killed eight persons and did 25 million dollars in property damage.

Although Norman Rasmussen, university seismologist, was unable to get a Richter reading, he said he measured the quake on the Mercalli scale and that it showed yesterday's stronger than the one in 1949.

Rasmussen said death and destruction from this quake would be lighter, however, because the tremor started an estimated 30 miles below the surface of the ground.

Another local attorney, M.H.W. Pope, stated that President Johnson and Gov. Robert E. Smylie have issued proclamations requesting the observance of the day by appropriate ceremony and display of the American flag.

Indictments Challenged

By Attorney

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., April 30 (AP) — The attorney for three Ku Klux Klan members accused of killing a white civil rights worker yesterday challenged the constitutionality of their indictments because of the way President Johnson announced their arrests.

Matt H. Murphy, Jr., said the plea was filed in second judicial court at Haneysville with Judge T. Werth Thagard who is scheduled to hear the cases being scheduled Monday.

Murphy, who has said he wants President Johnson to testify, said Johnson has testified a subpoena in Washington.

Murphy said he had a receipt showing that the President was served but he declined to reveal who did the serving and there was no confirmation from Washington. Presidents of the United States are immune from subpoenas and it was seen as highly unlikely that Johnson would testify.

Murphy filed with Thagard a plea to dismiss the indictments on grounds they were unconstitutional because of Johnson's announcing on national television that four Klansmen were arrested by the FBI for the March 25 sniper slaying of Mrs. Viola Lutzko, a Detroit mother of five.

In his television announcement the morning after the killing, Johnson named as Klansmen Collic Leroy Wilkins, 42, William Eaton, 41, and Gary Thomas Rowe, Jr., 34, all of the Birmingham area.

U. S. military sources said there were also fresh reports of a Viet Cong buildup in the northwest of Da Nang, making it even more important that the 9,000 men of the ninth U. S. marine expeditionary brigade remain in their positions in case an attack was brewing.

Needlework Contest Rules Are Outlined

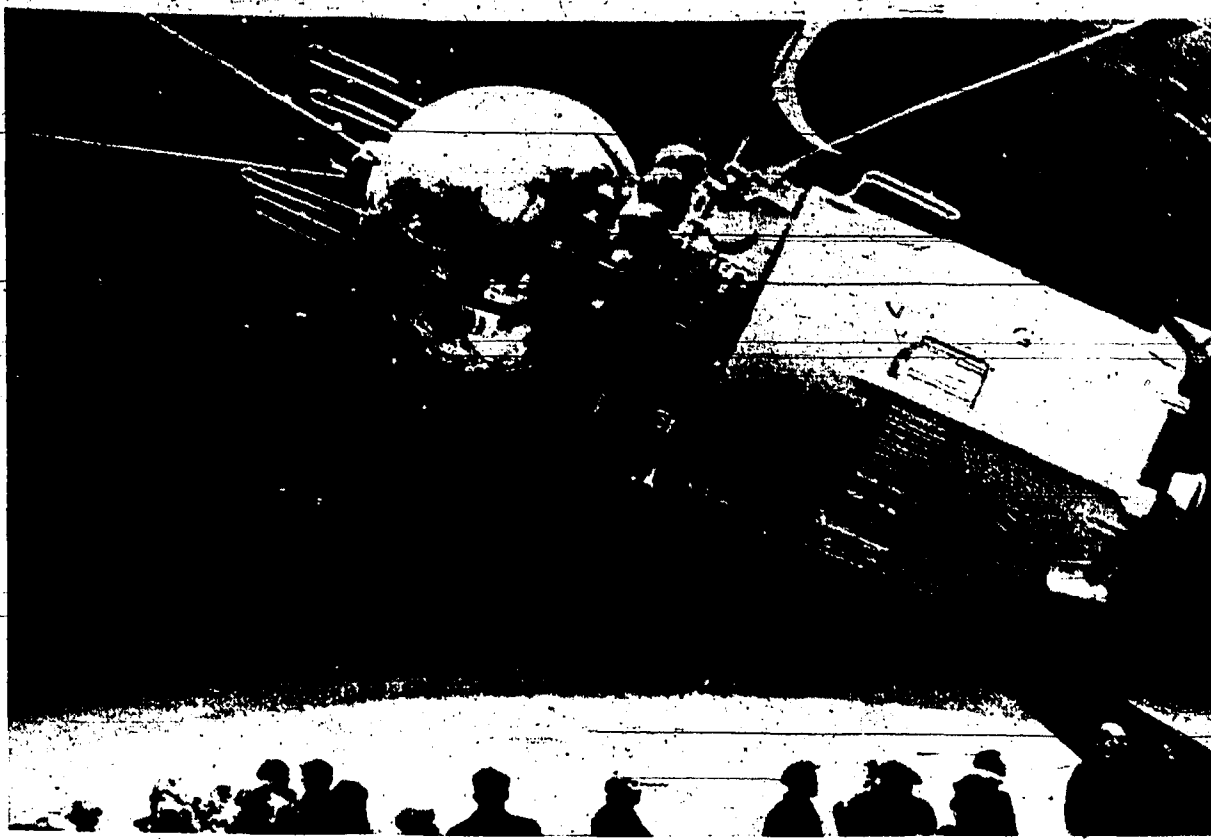

To allow local entrants to participate in the 1965 national wool needlework contest, entries will be submitted for the third consecutive year at the Twin Falls county fair, for local judging. Thomas Shouse, Murrough, fair manager, said Thursday.

Open to all non-professional needleworkers, the contest is again being conducted under the auspices of the National Hand Knitting Yarn association and the American Wool Council, as co-sponsors. The national grand champion will receive $1,000, a trip to New York City for two and an engraved trophy.

Local participants will be offered six categories, three for knitting and three for crocheting, with no limit on the number of categories they may enter. A first place blue ribbon on the local level makes the contestant eligible for the national judging in New York City. The names of the six first-place winners on the local level will be submitted by the fair to the National Hand Knitting association, which will in turn supply the blue ribbon winners with information needed to enter their designs in the national finals.

All articles submitted for judging in the 1965 contest must be knitted or crocheted of 100 percent wool or mohair yarn, purchased in the United States. Entries must have been completed since January 1, 1965 and must carry one label from the yarn used.

For further information contact Thomas Shouse, Twin Falls county fair manager, Mrs. Joseph Kucera, Buhl, or Mrs. W. W. Reed, Filer, superintendents of the women's department at the fair.

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

BY ANDREW TULLY
WASHINGTON, April 29—There has been some caterwauling among the forces of the dead right about a bill introduced by Sen. Warren Magnuson, D., Wash., aimed at increasing trade with the communist bloc. It is of a piece with the premise that if we don't do business with the reds, they'll go away.

Magnuson's bill, as a matter of fact, asks merely that the U.S. take a halting step toward expanded trade relations with communism. It would establish a presidential advisory council to look into the matter, which is a far cry from demanding that we sell the Kremlin a batch of nuclear bombs.

KNICKKNACKS ONLY—Opponents of this suggestion have polished off the old stereotypes to argue against it. For one, they note that the Soviet Union hasn't settled its war debts with us. But neither has France or England. They say the reds are evil, which is true, but then add that it would be wicked to sell them our goods, which is silly. They maintain that trade would help the reds without bringing any advantage.

Magnuson and others take a much more practical approach. They point out that no one is proposing that we sell the reds anything but what Churchill called "knickknacks"—non-strategic items. Such trade obviously could be carried on without putting the citizens of Reading, Pa., in peril of Soviet bombers, and it would improve our balance of payments problem.

U.S. LOSING PROFITS—The U.S. Chamber of Commerce, which is not quite as liberal as Barry Goldwater, is supporting Magnuson's bill for obvious reasons. Our present policy is costing American businessmen profits that are going to our allies. Free world exports to the communist bloc have jumped to nearly a billion dollars from $7 billion in 1959. Britain is shipping nearly 500 million worth of goods a year to red nations, compared to our 167 million. The communists have discovered that if they can't get it from us, they can get it from France, Italy, Canada and Japan.

But the U.S. is losing much more than money. It is losing the opportunity to get its message through to the Soviet Union and its satellites. President Johnson says that trade offers a bridge across the ideological gulf, but if American business is not permitted to sell its wares to the red devils, that bridge will never be built.

LITTLE FAITH—Our policy, like so many aimed at the communists, is based on the premise that the Americans are cashish dolts who would be tempted to run away from home and turn communist if exposed to a packet of communist needles. It is, of course, the other way around. In the past, communism masters have opposed trade relations with the west on the grounds such contacts would wear their captive constituents away from pure Marxist theory. When General Electric sells a light bulb to a Russian peasant, it is also selling him the idea that democracy can produce a better and cheaper light bulb than some commissar-ridden factory in Minsk.

So far, we have embraced the theory that trade with the communist bloc is desirable for both commercial and ideological reasons, but we have lacked the confidence to do more than make a few timid gestures in that direction. If such trade is proper, our salesmen should be knocking on every door behind the iron curtain.

HOPE WON'T HARVEST CROPS
Labor Secretary W. Willard Wirtz ended his California tour more convinced than ever that substantial importation of foreign labor is no longer needed to help harvest crops.

We hope he is right.
We hope that higher minimum wages will attract enough willing and able domestic workers to replace the 107,000 Mexican braceros who were so essential to California agriculture last year.

We share the labor secretary's disgust at the deplorable living conditions he found at some farm labor camps during his inspection trip last week. These hovels are shameful and they must be improved.

Nevertheless, there is still no assurance that either increased wages or improved housing conditions will lure unemployed Americans in sufficient numbers to the fields. Governor Brown and Albert Teters, head of the state department of employment, conceded this when they formally requested 8,000 Mexican workers for the April harvest.

With the expiration of the bracero program (public law 78) last Dec. 31, Brown called for a gradual five-year phase-out of the use of foreign workers. Wirtz, however, seems intent on making the transition period much shorter.

By keeping pressure on the growers who have previously used braceros, the labor secretary hopes to make them try harder to recruit domestic workers and to improve living conditions. He has already increased the minimum wage to $1.40 per hour for American labor on farms whose owners want to use braceros.

The governor Tuesday announced a four-part program to better farm housing in response to Wirtz criticism, but it seems unlikely that any major progress can be made during the critical 1963 harvest period. As Brown said "this year is going to be tough."

Just how tough a year will in part be up to the governor.

He has the support of virtually all Californians in seeking a reasonable and effective end to the importing of foreign labor. He must, however, make certain that the crops are picked and that California's biggest industry is not imperiled.

The jobs of tens of thousands of persons depend upon the proper solution of California's farm labor dilemma. And upon Governor Brown falls much of the responsibility for finding it.—Los Angeles Times.

BASELESS CHARGE
State Sen. Harold Collett, D., Elmore, overstated his case when he attacked Gov. Robert E. Smylie for vetoing a bill which would have given an Elmore county man $25,000. In fine partisan style, the senator accused Smylie of "callous indifference to human agony." The governor may be vulnerable to some charges (although in the past session of the legislature there were remarkably few), but it is doubtful he is open to that one.

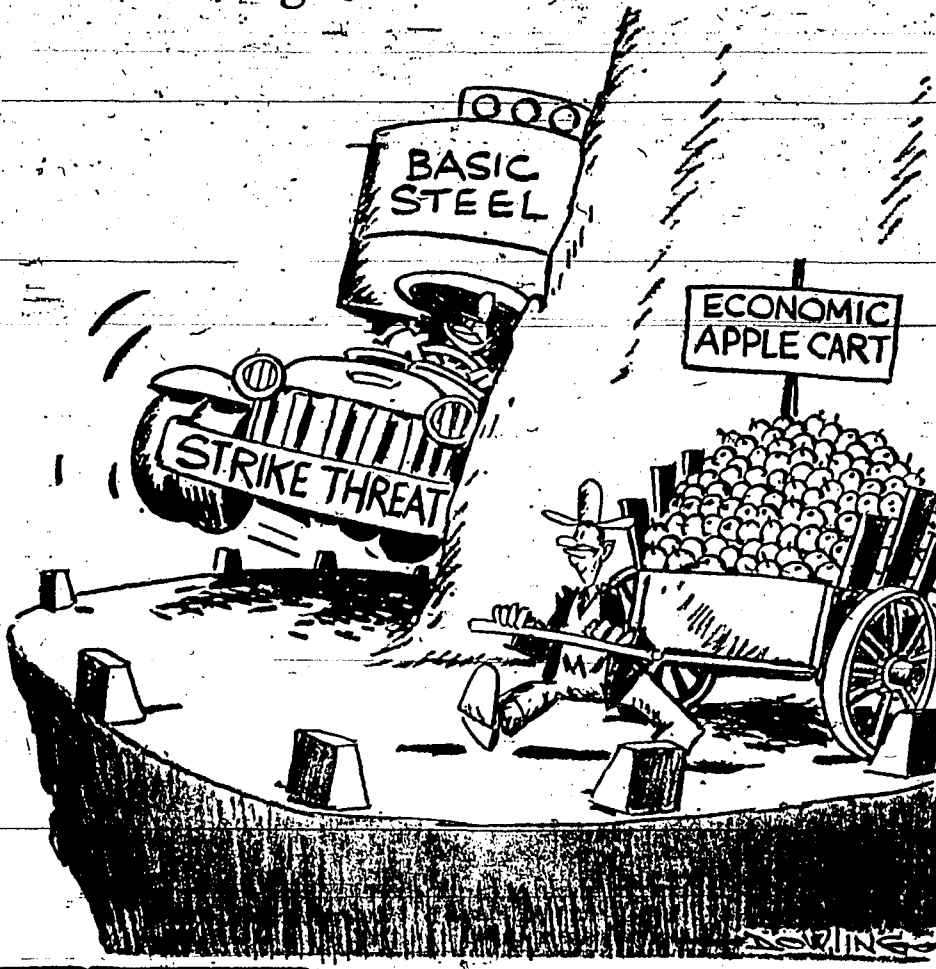

The bill in question would have granted the money to a man whose wife and son were killed in an accident involving a tractor. The accident occurred when a youth being taken to the state youth training center in St. Anthony suddenly grabbed the wheel of the car, swerving it into the path of the other auto.

Explaining his veto, the governor pointed out that the man's claim was an insured liability and that the matter had never been taken to court. He noted also that the statute of limitations "had not yet run to bar an action for the recovery of damages." In other words, there is still a remedy through the courts, and that remedy has not been tried.

It is granted that court action is slow and the plaintiff runs the risk of receiving nothing if he takes that route. Court action should be tried, however, before the legislature is asked to appropriate money for the relief of individuals. Precedent would be set for an unmanageable situation if court action is not resorted to first.

The accident was regrettable and it is unfortunate that the survivors cannot be speedily compensated. The governor, however, should not be charged with "callous indifference to human agony" simply because he sees another remedy.—Idaho State Journal.

Dear Sir:
I'm hanging on the horns of a dilemma and it's a rather uncomfortable position, mainly because this dilemma has sharp horns. I know when you meet a lady it's proper to acknowledge the introduction, but these women who want to shake hands with you like a man are the ones who throw me for a loss. Obviously, a hearty handshake—one of those old-fashioned knuckle-busters—is out of the question. And I also know that when a lady offers her hand upon an introduction, it's quite proper to accept the hand. But what then?

How long do you hold the offered hand? Or is it proper for the woman or the man to make the first effort to disengage? But the one that really throws me is the woman who offers her hand and then gives you a squeeze! What's a fellow supposed to do under those circumstances?

SLEDDING BUSY
Our phone is seldom busy but it's always very buzzy. Most every time I need it there are buzzers on the line. They buzz about most everything from doctor bills to wine. They buzz about their husbands and they buzz about their friends. They buzz about their neighbors and their many, many sins. You think they soon will stop, but their buzzing never ends.

So I get to buzzing too, but in a very different way. I buzz along at 60 miles per and I'm ready for the play. What I need to say, I get it said before the end of the day.

I beat all the other buzzers by far because they use their telephone and I use my faithful car. I will not mention their names here—I just don't want my face a scar. But if you wish to know just call and I can tell you who they are.

GENTLEMAN IN THE FOURTH ROW

World Corners

BY PHIL NEWSOM
(UPI Foreign News Analyst)

SAIGON, April 30 (UPI)—A splash of red spreads like a bleeding wound across a U.S. military map of South Viet Nam. It shows the areas under communist Viet Cong control. It is bigger this year than last, and bigger last year than the year before.

The U.S. and South Vietnamese air attacks which have been hitting North Viet Nam since last February show no signs of weakening or any determination of bringing him closer to the peace conference table.

And the deep U.S. involvement in South Viet Nam may become deeper still before the North Vietnamese reds are ready to talk.

Both the South Vietnamese and their American advisers believe communist forces are missing for major effort which could involve organized units backed by artillery.

They believe the most likely target to be the big American airbase at Da Nang and the 9,000 U.S. marines who guard it 385 miles northeast of Saigon.

It is from Da Nang's dusty runways that U.S. jet fighters and bombers scream off on their night and day missions against North Vietnamese supply and communication lines and in support of South Vietnamese ground forces.

The jets have been killing off communists at the rate of 1,000 a month since coming into action, and the communists have a two-fold reason for hitting the Da Nang base.

One is the destruction it is wreaking against the Viet Cong and against the North Vietnamese economy by destruction of its roads and bridges.

The second is the desire to humiliate the Americans against whom the North Vietnamese infiltrators are being told they are coming south to fight.

If the reds do hit it, then the war will have escalated another notch and U.S. ground forces will be involved, just as they already are in the air. The advisory role will recede further.

Another challenge will have been posed to Red China and the Soviet Union. The wound marked off in red on the military maps has been draining the life of South Viet Nam for 11 years.

The effort to close it is costing the United States two million dollars a day, a figure which shortly will be increased.

Quotes From The News

By United Press International
WASHINGTON — Atty. Gen. Nicholas DeB Katzenbach, predicting what will happen if he falls in test cases to show that poll taxes violate the voting rights guarantee of the 11th amendment.

"Then people are going to have to pay poll taxes to vote in the absence of a constitutional amendment."

SEATTLE, Wash.—A woman in the restaurant atop the 600-foot Seattle space needle describing the earthquake which struck here.

"There was such a sway that one moment, you could see houses on the hillsides and the next moment you could only see the sky."

TOKYO.—The reaction of communist China in its official newspaper to the landing of U.S. marines in the Dominican Republic.

"This is yet another undisciplined armed aggression committed by the Johnson administration in Latin American following its suppression of the Panamanian peoples patriotic struggle last year."

As the war has escalated, so has the cost in American lives. The number of American dead now stands at more than 350, double what it was a year ago.

The more than 32,000 American troops in South Viet Nam are twice their number of a year ago. More are reported on the way.

Up to now, despite the massive U.S. aid, the record is one of failure.

As the U.S. has increased its aid in the south, so the communists of the north have stepped up their own flow of infiltrators and supplies to the Viet Cong.

In the last five years the number of infiltrators is believed to total at least 34,000 and possibly another 10,000 beyond that.

U.S. air attacks may have slowed the flow, but it continues at a rate possibly as high as 1,500 a month.

This is a faceless war and a nasty one. Yet this is not the war of a year ago or even two months ago.

In the beginning, as defenses in neighboring Laos crumbled and the communists began turning their attention to South Viet Nam in earnest, the United States underestimated communist determination and it overestimated South Vietnamese capabilities.

U.S. military men began arriving with their families in what seemed almost a lark. They were to play a strictly advisory role. It didn't last long.

U.S. advisers in the field were being shot at and were being shot back. U.S. casualties began to mount.

Terrorist bombs threatened the American families and they were sent home, leaving their husbands behind.

Then came the Viet Cong attacks on American installations at Qui Nhon and Pleiku.

The climax came with the terrorist attack on the U.S. embassy in Saigon in which more than 20 were killed and nearly 200 injured.

Concrete street barriers and an ugly scaffolding along the embassy outer wall are today's memory of that attack.

For a year and a half South Vietnamese Buddhists and generals virtually forgot about the war while they scrambled for power and six governments fell.

The communist Viet Cong built up their forces and seemed about to win the war almost by default. Since February there has been a change and the development of a new, cautious optimism.

The arrival of the U.S. marines gave new confidence to the wavering South Vietnamese in the United States' own determination.

In Saigon, a new regime took over headed by Prime Minister Phan Huy Quat.

In Saigon and the ancient capital of Hue, Buddhist demonstrators quit the streets and both the Buddhists and the Catholics promised their cooperation.

Just as important was the fact that the Quat government received the support of the two South Vietnamese generals without whom no South Vietnamese coup could succeed.

They are all force commander Brig. Gen. Nguyen Gao Ky and Brig. Gen. Nguyen Chanh Thi, the tough commander of the first Corps area, which abuts North Viet Nam at the 17th parallel.

The Quat government is a quiet one but so far has worked effectively.

In an interview with this correspondent, Quat banned a neutralist settlement of the war, which he described as the final test between communism and the free world.

TAYLOR'S VIEWS ON WORLD NEWS

By HENRY J. TAYLOR
The Vega is cruising off Key West. Mission unknown.

Shielded by a heavily armed mother ship of the Baku class, the Vega is churning a slow, triangular course behind Castro's "Berlin wall" in the Caribbean. This is the red-infested death trap that fans out from Cuba's coastline to the edge of our nation.

Both Russian vessels are now based at Calbarien, the Henry J. Taylor Soviet submarine port 190 miles east of Havana.

This column recently described how communist cash to pay red agents squirms through the world like a slippery eel. Soviet ships also squirm through the oceans in a pattern of which our public has hardly the faintest notion.

The Vega is an electronics spy ship, a seagoing U-2. Anti-Castro Cuban underground heroes who have infiltrated his Victoria de Playa Giron naval school came aboard in a group being given some advanced electronics training.

Presented as a trawler, the Vega carries no fishing gear. Soviet Sevsk-type trawlers are 125 feet long and usually carry a crew of 14. The Vega has a crew of 80.

She's loaded with long-range transmitters, an immense long distance camera, the most advanced radar systems and an electronic telescope. She's also built to monitor robot jets. These pilotless reconnaissance-photograph planes are about 12 feet long and are fitted for parachute landings.

They are flown from the return to the Soviet air center at San Julian, 90 miles southeast of Havana, the island's largest air force base.

The Vega's Moscow communication, in turn, is established through the large Russian-built radio station on Cuba's Cape Breton peninsula. At the moment the Vega traffic is averaging four hours a night.

The Vega need, and has spies in the United States to tell her where to go. The proof? Again and again she shows up at some scene of action, or future action, in the world.

When our nuclear submarine George Washington shot the first Polaris missile this week—coverable dummy fired in the Atlantic—Well, the Vega—on the same spot. In fact, the missile surfaced the Vega when rammed a U.S. navy tug in a race to recover it.

In his London-published treatise "The World of Espionage" respected British expert Bernard Newman estimates there are at least 12 Vega's operating in the oceans. Other counterintelligence sources confirm this.

For example, our ballistic missile early warning system, the so-called BMEWS line, stretches from Alaska's Aleutian Islands across Canada and the Atlantic to Great Britain. Vega's are only in those waters, they are "sixth sense" and are waiting whenever we put on a drill.

Patience and long-range planning? The U.S. records likewise confirm Mr. Newman's reference to today's utilization of passports. The Russians seized during Spain's civil war, a full 30 years ago, which I can also substantiate by my own experience in Switzerland.

Agent passports seldom contain imaginary names. The Russians habitually appropriate the names and home countries of men and women who exist securely, have disappeared, or who they know are dead. They are utilized in new, false passports made at a workshop center in Kuching, outside Moscow, or in Prague.

Russian commissars demanded the passports of the British, American, French, Italian, etc. volunteers who enlisted against Franco. The Lincoln brigade made up of Americans, was an especially rich harvest.

The commissars told foreign fighters this was a security precaution in case they were captured. But none of these thousands ever got his passport back.

Their usurped goods, or sometimes even the seized passports, doctored and amended, show up in the hands of red agents to this very day. There's an epidemic of them right now in Africa and (France) mostly to the French fighters in South Viet Nam, Laos and Cambodia.

The fullest possible public knowledge of red methods behind the scenes is a safeguard. The more we know about each of them the better. Our ignorance about any of them makes all of them just that much more successful in disguising the evil we face.

The Doctor Says

BY WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

Q—Will chlorinated water in swimming pools be harmful to children, especially if they have a tendency to have earaches or sore throats?

A—In these hurried times there is no better way to preserve both your health and your sanity than to take a short nap for lunch. Too few persons are situated where it is convenient to do this, but even 10 or 15 minutes of complete relaxation in the middle of the day can give you renewed vigor for the afternoon's work.

Q—My mother, who is 82 and has osteomalacia, fell and broke her shoulder. Her doctor said he couldn't set the fracture because the bones are so soft. What would you advise?

A—Osteomalacia (softening of the bones) in adults, like rickets in children, is due to a deficiency of vitamin D. A failure of this vitamin to be absorbed into the blood. The disease is a common cause of fracture in elderly persons. Before a fracture can be treated, the osteomalacia must be controlled. This requires taking foods that are rich in calcium (milk and cheese), calcium salts and vitamin D.

Q—I have been told to put copper sulfate in my backyard swimming pool. What would this accomplish?

A—Copper sulfate is added to some pools to kill snails. This is especially important in areas where blood flukes are prevalent. For most backyard swimming pools the addition of alum to remove murkiness and chlorine or bromine to kill bacteria and viruses is recommended. There should also be a continuous or a weekly complete change of water.

Q—I have been lying down and taking a nap for about an hour after lunch for several years. Some of my friends say this is harmful. What do you think?

A—In these hurried times there is no better way to preserve both your health and your sanity than to take a short nap for lunch. Too few persons are situated where it is convenient to do this, but even 10 or 15 minutes of complete relaxation in the middle of the day can give you renewed vigor for the afternoon's work.

BID PULLED OUT OF FIRE

South was bridge authority who, in general, does not approve of opening four card majors but in rubber bridge an authority is apt to depart from his own writings and make a spur of the moment bid that seems indicated.

Of course, he had a good reason. North was a somewhat inferior dummy player and in case the hand were going to play in spades, South wanted to be the declarer.

It was a sound idea because ing the 10 of hearts. East's bid won the trick and East led a second club and South ruffed that ace and led the queen of hearts.

West won with the ace and played a trump but it was late. South won in his own hand and noted that East had shown out. This didn't worry South the slightest. He could see that the rest of the tricks were going to be his provided that West would hold at least one trump.

He won the trump in his hand and entered dummy with the ace of diamonds. Then he ruffed out dummy's last club with his own last trump and got back to hearts. The king, queen and jack of trumps were won in order to pull the rest of West's trumps and give South a chance to discard his three losing diamonds. He wound up by winning the last two tricks with his king of diamonds and jack of hearts.

Youths Get Service Station Tips From YES Instructors

By SAMUEL DAVIS

Youths in this area, from a wide age range, every year are taught the finer points of service station management and salesmanship through a branch of the Youth Employment service program.

Mack L. Dodson, a consignee of the Union Oil company, Twin Falls, and John McRill, who operates his own automobile business, are the instructors for the classes.

Dodson said Thursday they try to train the people who want to be service station attendants. He said they are trained over a period of 12 weeks, starting Feb. 1 and continuing until April 23.

The students are supplied by the local employment agency but, Dodson pointed out, the program is conducted under a division of the manpower development act, a federal training program.

Dodson said the overall training isn't just for service station attendants but covers a wide variety of jobs. The program trains students to fill job vacancies in "the immediate area."

The instructors are selected for their background and experience in service station work and along mechanical lines. McRill has spent a "lifetime" doing automobile repairing, according to Dodson. McRill also operates his own shop. Dodson has spent 15 years in operating service stations in and around the Twin Falls area. The classes are held in the Twin Falls Motor company building on Fourth avenue west. Dodson said he teaches the classes for half a day and McRill the other half. Dodson teaches the students business relations and salesmanship and McRill handles the mechanical side.

These programs are held to teach unemployed youths, as well as adults, the skills and techniques of a particular job.

RATHDRUM, April 30 (AP)—It was that old familiar feeling for Lakeland school district trustees yesterday, after voters rejected the 14th of 15 bonding proposals submitted since 1948. The district board had proposed a $150,000 bond issue to build four new classrooms, a multipurpose room and hot lunch facilities at the Rathdrum elementary school. The levy request was the first asked by the board since 1960, when the consolidated district finally passed a plan to build new elementary and high schools here and to improve schools at Athol and Spirit Lake. Captured Wednesday night were Joe Willie Johnson, 31, who was serving a life sentence for robbery and kidnaping, and Scott A. Perfect, 23, serving five years to life for burglary. The men escaped last Thursday from the California medical facility in Vacaville, Calif., near Sacramento. The capture came when an officer attempted to stop their car for making an illegal left turn. The pair fled, and two police officers and a sheriff's deputy chased them at speeds to 85 miles per hour. When the car was finally stopped, the pair fled on foot. Police nabbed Johnson immediately. Mr. and Mrs. Enoch Hansen heard the commotion and walked out on their porch. Hansen, 44, heard policemen tell someone to stop and then saw someone crouching behind a bush beside the porch. 100 Realtors Have Annual Meeting Here

More than 100 realtors from Twin Falls and surrounding areas met here Thursday for the annual educational clinic sponsored by the Idaho association of Realtors, according to R. G. Messersmith, president of the local board of realtors.

Realtors have responded with enthusiasm to this opportunity to brush up again on both fundamental real estate principles and new developments in the real estate business," Messersmith stated.

Donald M. Day, president of the Idaho association, presided over the meeting. Perry Nelson, Pocatello, past president of the state Chamber of Commerce, was featured speaker at the luncheon.

He pointed out that a client looks to the realtor not only as an expert in his field but as a public servant as well. He urged active participation in community affairs and civic organizations.

The financing and closing of real estate transactions were outlined by representatives of the federal housing administration, the veterans administration, and the farmers home administration. Legal aspects of consummating sales were discussed by James J. May, attorney in Twin Falls.

Art Letch, well-known San Diego realtor, emphasized that the realtor, in order to meet the ever-increasing demands made upon him, must constantly strive to achieve a deeper understanding of the principles of the industry.

New concepts in the administration of a real estate office, the employing and training of salesmen, and the habits and discipline prerequisite to success and professional status were stressed.

LDS Temple Wedding Rites Unite Couple

RICHFIELD, April 30—Linda Marie Patterson became the bride of Perry Howard Cunningham in a ceremony performed April 15 in the Salt Lake City LDS temple. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmo R. Patterson, Richfield, and the bridegroom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard L. Cunningham, Sacramento, Calif.

Brian L. Bunker, counselor to the president of the Salt Lake City LDS temple, officiated at the double ring morning ceremony. The wedding party included parents of the couple, Mrs. Hansenia Burr, Provo, Utah; Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Noffsinger, Salt Lake City; Mr. and Mrs. Arco Morgan and son, Springville, Utah; Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Burr, Ogden; Mr. and Mrs. Howard Campbell and Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Campbell, Salt Lake City; Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Wilcox, Provo, and Mrs. Johanna Braun, Konstanz, Germany.

The Campbells were hosts at a luncheon for the group immediately following the ceremony. The luncheon table, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Campbell, was covered with white lace and enhanced with a setting of pink and white wedding bells. The Campbells are former Richfield residents.

A reception for the newlyweds was held in the cultural hall of the Richfield LDS stakehouse. The bride greeted guests seated in her wedding dress of nylon organza over white taffeta. The fitted bodice was designed with scalloped neckline, featuring tiny tucks, seed pearls and rhinestones, with lace medallion embroidery on the shoulders and top of the long lily point sleeves. The lace embroidery and tucking were repeated in the front panel of the full hooped skirt.

Her bouffant fingertip veil of nylon illusion was held by a bandeau of white velvet leaves encrusted with seed pearls and rhinestones. She carried a bouquet of daisies and chrysanthemums entwined with pink and white satin ribbon.

Bonnie Patterson, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore an A-line styled dress of white lace over green tulle with a crescent bouquet of daisies tied with green satin streamers.

Marilyn Patterson, sister of the bride, and Cheryl Barker, Jerome, were bridesmaids. Their gowns were identical to that of the maid of honor and their arm bouquets were tied with yellow streamers.

Julie Patterson, sister of the bride, wore a white dotted nylon dress accented with a green sash. She carried a finger basket filled with flower petals while acting as gift bearer.

The bride's mother chose a gown of blue and green shaded floral nylon. Jewelry of pearl and crystal enhanced her ensemble and her corsage was white carnations tied with blue ribbon. The bridegroom's mother wore a pink linen and lace ensemble with pink accents. Her white carnation corsage was tied with gold-colored ribbon.

James Cunningham, brother of the bridegroom and student at Brigham Young university, was best man. Ushers were David Cunningham and Bruce Cunningham, brothers of the bridegroom, Sacramento, and Kenneth Patterson, brother of the bride.

Mrs. Reed Vesthal, Gooding, was in charge of the guest book.

A white arch entwined with huckleberry greenery and accented with large clusters of white wedding bells and yellow bows, formed the background setting for the bride's table. A large white basket of white gladioli and yellow and white chrysanthemums separated the receiving line from the table area for guests.

The table was covered with dotted white nylon over green linen. A wide band of green satin ribbon edged the ruffled skirt. A floral arrangement of daisies was displayed on the table centered with the four-tiered white wedding cake. The cake was centered on a silver base and surrounded with ivy and chrysanthemums.

MR. AND MRS. PERRY HOWARD CUNNINGHAM

Yellow rosebuds decorated each tier of the cake and a miniature bride and groom, in a setting of net and lilies of the valley, topped the cake. Mrs. Ronda Hunt, aunt of the bride, decorated the table. Mrs. Ben Gomm, Shoshone, was in charge of reception decorations.

The cake was served by Mrs. Rhea Allred, Gannett, aunt of the bride. Punch was poured by Mrs. Donald C. Arrington, Twin Falls, aunt of the bride.

Guests were served at quartet tables covered with white and centered with floating white chrysanthemums in crystal goblets. Serving girls were April Barfuss and LeDawn Barfuss, Meridian, and Barbara Baird, Carey, all cousins of the bride. Linda Riley, Linda Sanders, Eva King and Dorothy Deeds.

Phyllis Hunt, Ricks college, cousin of the bride, and Mrs. Charles Sowers, Wilder, were in charge of the gift tables. Gifts were carried by Peggy Hunt, Carey, Dree Barfuss, Meridian, and Donna Lou Arrington, Twin Falls.

Guests attended from Halley, Carey, Gannett, Twin Falls, Kimberly, Shoshone, Gooding, Richfield, Boise, Utah and California.

For traveling, the bride chose an off-white ensemble in A-line design enhanced with coat of daffodil-yellow and a green orchid corsage.

The couple resides at 400 North Eighth east, Provo. Both are students at Brigham Young university.

The bride was honored at a surprise pre-nuptial personal shower at BYU, with Mrs. Barker as hostess.

Veterans to Get Details On Insurance

More than four million veterans are scheduled to receive instruction pamphlets and application blanks for the new national service life insurance.

Lewyn E. Kopan, Boise, director of the veterans administration center, said the new insurance goes on sale Saturday and cannot be bought after May 2, 1966.

Mailings are being made to all veterans receiving service-connected compensation. Only a small percentage of those veterans who already have $10,000 GI insurance coverage are ineligible for the insurance.

Another mailing goes to veterans whose insurance has a face value of $9,000 or less. Any of these veterans who have a service-connected disability are eligible for the insurance in amounts to increase their coverage to $10,000.

A third mailing is being made to veterans who have asked for information since the law was passed last October.

Any veterans in the three groups who do not receive an application in the mail should write, telephone or visit the nearest VA office.

More than one and one-half million other veterans are eligible for the insurance. They are those who were found to have a slight service-connected disability and who do not receive compensation.

Also eligible are veterans having disabilities arising from service who have not yet applied to the VA for compensation.

Youth Employment Service Council Meeting Set Tuesday

A Youth Employment Service advisory council meeting will be held at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday at the department of employment, 404 Third street north.

Purpose of the meeting is to acquaint various Twin Falls area persons with the activities of the program and to coordinate activities for the development of it. R. S. Cutler, manager of the employment office in Twin Falls, said the Youth Employment Service (YES) answers a definite need for a coordinating organization between the students who are seeking work and the men and women who might have jobs they can perform.

"The purpose of the program," he stated, "is to bridge the gap between high school and college youths, ages 14 to 22, and employers, by providing special service during the summer months to help these young people find jobs and to help employers find workers."

"An additional goal," he pointed out, "is to develop good work habits, increase ability to work with others, teach a realistic value of money, and impress the youth with the dignity of work."

"The department of employment knows that the problems facing our youth are two-fold," Cutler said. He noted that the youths have difficulty in utilizing leisure time and in securing enough money to meet today's rising economic need.

"The YES program is being established to meet the needs of our youth. Proper development of the younger generation of today is simply buying insurance for a better tomorrow," Cutler declared.

"Remember youth's time will be utilized. Just how depends on the success of this program," he concluded.

Cutler listed a number of jobs which young people are qualified to fill. They include typing, shorthand, sales clerk, service station, display work, stock boys and girls, soda fountain, farm work, baby sitting, dish washing, housework, window washing, rubbish removal, shopping, messenger, gardening, yard work, car washing, cellar cleaning, waitressing, ushers.

Larry Mitchell, who coordinates the YES program for the department of employment, said

Water Going Over Magic Reservoir

SHOSHONE, April 30—About a foot of water is running over Magic reservoir with three out of five boards across the spillway, Leon Grieve, manager of the Big Wood Canal company, said Friday.

As of Wednesday morning the reservoir contained 187,000 acre feet of water. Capacity, with all five boards across the spillway, is 191,500 acre feet.

About 3,500 second feet of water is coming out of the reservoir at present, and the figure about equals the inflow from Big Wood river, Camas creek and other tributaries to the dam. The inflow has dropped a little the past few days, but rain in the Halley area Thursday will make a slight increase, Grieve said.

Some low land next to the Big Wood river is submerged, but total damage compared to other floods is negligible, the manager added.

Only 425 second feet has been flowing in the Milner-Gooding canal for some time. This will be increased immediately. An effort has been made to keep the Milner-Gooding canal as low as possible so no more water will be added to the already full Big and Little Wood rivers, officials state.

Bold Lad Is Established As 8-5 Favorite on Eve Qf 91st Kentucky Derby

LOUISVILLE, Ky., April 30 (AP)—Bold Lad, a strapping chestnut picture of health, speed, power and feared by all, stood out in bold relief Thursday as 11 sharply-trained 3-year-old colts were named for Saturday's 91st running of the $125,000-added Kentucky derby at Churchill Downs. The 1964 2-year-old champion from Mrs. H. C. Phipps' Wheatley stable, plagued by splint trouble early in the SPOKANE, April 30 (AP)—University of Idaho football player remained in critical condition in a hospital here Thursday night after surgery for what was described as a blood clot on the brain.

Michael Decker, a 22-year-old freshman from Grangeville, Idaho, collapsed on the playing field at Moscow Wednesday during a spring football practice.

Steve Musseau, Idaho football coach, said he understood surgery performed on Decker Wednesday night was intended to remove the clot.

Braves Belt Slumping Cards 4-1

MILWAUKEE, April 30 (AP)—A throwing error by Curt Flood and a wild pitch by Curt Simmons helped Milwaukee to two fifth inning runs Thursday night and a 4-1 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals.

The Cardinals, defending world champions, bogged down in the National League cellar with a 4-8 record, were held to four hits by Bob Sadowski and Billy O'Dell.

Sadowski allowed only two hits but had to leave after injuring his knee sliding into third base during the decisive fifth inning rally.

With the score tied 1-1 in the fifth, Sadowski got the Braves started with a single and slid into third on Felipe Alou's single. Flood's throw on Alou's hit bounced into the dugout, allowing Sadowski to limp home.

Alou, who took third on the error, scored when Simmons uncorked a wild pitch.

Hank Aaron hit his first homer of the season in the eighth inning to complete the Milwaukee scoring.

Hartack Says Mount Must Prove Self

LOUISVILLE, Ky., April 30 (AP)—Jockey Bill Hartack is impressed with Kentucky derby favorite Bold Lad, but not enough to predict that the powerful colt will win Saturday's classic.

"I know he's a good horse and I couldn't help but be impressed by him," Hartack said, "but he'll have to prove himself Saturday."

The combination of Bold Lad and Hartack, who has won this famous race four times in six tries, is expected to go postward as the 9-5 favorite Saturday.

Hartack said he wasn't a bit nervous about sitting on the favorite in the Derby, explaining that "it's just another race. One race means just as much to me as another."

He won on Venetian Way in 1960. Decidedly in 1962 and Northern Dancer in 1964. He had no mounts in 1961 and 1963.

Hartack also won the derby in 1957 with Iron Liege. He finished second on Fabius in 1956 and was 13th on Easy Spirit in 1959. Hartack was to have ridden Tim Tam, who won the derby in 1958, but the jockey broke his leg and lost the mount.

Hawks Edge Montreal, Tie Playoffs 3-3

CHICAGO, April 30 (AP)—Elmer Vasko and Doug Mohns scored in a 2:09 span of the last period Thursday night to lift the Chicago Black Hawks to a 2-1 victory over the Montreal Canadiens and even their Stanley cup title series at three wins each.

The Chicago victory meant the seventh and deciding game of the best of seven set will be played at Montreal Saturday.

Two free swinging fights delayed the play in the first period, and each team drew seven penalties and 28 minutes in time to a total of 56 minutes, only four minutes short of the playoff record of 60 minutes set by Boston and Montreal in 1954.

Stan Mikita, Chicago, and Terry Harper, Montreal, each pulled a minor, a major for fighting, and a misconduct.

Vasko, who scored only one goal during the 70-game National Hockey league season, set up his own score to deadlock Thursday night's game.

He took a pass from Matt Ravlich at his own blue line, stick handled close enough to the Canadiens' cage to shoot. After goalie Charley Hodge had stopped Mohns try with the rebound, Vasko got another chance and put the puck into the net.

The game-winner by Mohns came on one of the few successful power plays by Chicago in the series and only seconds after Harper was penalized for holding Bobby Hull.

Pierre Plante started the play at the point, passing to Mikita in the corner, who passed to Mohns for an easy score.

Ralph Backstrom got the Montreal tally with barely three minutes left in the second period, hitting on a 25-foot drive from dead-center which caught goalie Glenn Hall in the corner.

Guernsey Hopeful Of Winning 500

PHOENIX, Ariz., April 30 (AP)—America's top international race driver, Dan Guernsey, was full of optimism today as he prepared to put his flashy, new Lotus 38 through practice laps for this year's Indianapolis 500.

"I feel I've got the best chance I could have at Indianapolis with this car," Guernsey said. "We should get up to 200 miles per hour on the straightaway."

Guernsey, who has competed in three previous 500s, finishing seventh in 1963, will be driving a rear-engined, Ford-powered vehicle at Indianapolis that was built in England by Colin Chapman.

Kelso Said Healthy, Set On Comeback

NEW YORK, April 30 (AP)—Kelso, the leading moneymaker in the world with earnings of $1,893,362, arrived at Belmont park Thursday hale and hearty and ready for a comeback.

Trainer Carl Hanford, on hand to greet the five-time horse of the year, observed Kelso following the horse's personal appearance at Churchill Downs in Kentucky and said:

"We'll be working him regularly from now on. He's been galloping right along this spring and has a good bottom. We've already breezed him three times and we expect to have him ready for Saratoga."

The $50,000 added Whitney on Aug. 7 will be Kelso's first major stake assignment. But there is a possibility that Kelso will run before Saratoga, Hanford said. "In any case, when he gets ready, we'll go with him."

The Whitney is a mile-and-a-half-furlong condition race in which Kelso might get in with 127 pounds. He won this race twice in 1961 and 1963.

In six years of campaigning, Kelso has raced 55 times, won 36, was second 12 times and never third. Twenty of his victories were in stake races.

Ashe Might Make Davis Cup Team

NEW YORK, April 30 (AP)—Arthur Ashe is the best bet to play the No. 2 American singles spot behind Dennis Ralston in this year's Davis cup tennis campaign, Pancho Gonzales said Thursday.

If so, Ashe may become the first Negro to compete in a Davis cup challenge round—granting the United States can get that far.

"I've been working out with some of the boys for the last couple of months, and Ashe impresses me most of all," added the former king of the pros, who is serving as U. S. Davis cup coach.

Ashe is a splendidly 21-year-old native Virginian who now attends UCLA. He is ranked No. 3 nationally behind Ralston, No. 1, and former Wimbledon winner Chuck McKinley, No. 2.

Palmer Fires 66 To Grab Lead of Las Vegas Meet

LAS VEGAS, Nev., April 30 (UPI)—Arnold Palmer, vying for his first title in a year, fired a six-under-par 66 Thursday to seize the lead in the Tournament of Champions golf classic as defending champion Jack Nicklaus soared to a 74. "Arnie's army" had every chance to cheer as the 35-year-old tiger from Latrobe, Pa., fired seven birdies and went over par only once.

Dodgers Edge Giants, Take League Lead

LOS ANGELES, April 30 (UPI)—Don Drysdale pitched the Dodgers back into first place Thursday night with a hard-fought 1-0 victory over the San Francisco Giants, in which Tommy Davis drove in both Los Angeles runs with a triple and single.

Hurling a four-hitter, Drysdale snapped the three-game winning streak of Giant pitcher Juan Marichal.

The Dodgers scored the tie-breaking run in the sixth. Murray Wilkerson led off with a single, was sacrificed to second and stole third before Tommy Davis collected his second hit, a single.

The Giants broke the scoring tie in the second inning. Willie McCovey walked and went to third on Jim Harte's single. He scored on Jose Pagan's single off third baseman Dick Tracewski's glove.

But the Dodgers tied the score in the fourth. Wes Parker singled for his second straight hit and came home on Tommy Davis' triple into the right field corner, the ball bounding away from Jesus Alou. But with one out and Davis on third, Marichal struck the next two batters.

Marichal's streak of nine complete games, dating back to last season, was snapped when the Giants, trailing 2-1, lifted him for a pinch-hitter in the seventh. In his six innings, Marichal gave up five hits and struck out four men.

Football Loop Hopes to Nab TV Contract

NEWARK, N. J., April 30 (UPI)—A. B. (Happy) Chandler, commissioner of the new Continental football league, said Wednesday negotiations are underway for nationwide television coverage of league games.

"We're talking with the networks and with sponsors now," Chandler disclosed on a brief stop here during a whirlwind tour of the league's 10 cities. An agreement might be reached in time for some of this season's games.

Chandler said that television would be a big factor in determining the ultimate success of the new league, adding, "People want to see football on television any football."

Chandler, former U. S. senator, governor of Kentucky and commissioner of baseball, talked enthusiastically about the third addition to the lineup of professional football loops when he wasn't talking about baseball.

He said he felt sure the Continental league would receive the support of football fans because of the high caliber of players and coaches and because of the increasing popularity of the sport in America.

Venturi May Compete in Golf Classic

NEW YORK, April 30 (UPI)—Depending on U. S. open champion Ken Venturi, sidelined recently with a circulatory ailment, nevertheless is expected to join six other former open titlists in the field of the 1965 golf classic before press close next Wednesday.

The U. S. Golf association disclosed Tuesday that Venturi is one of among the 1,000 entrants to play for the 65th Open, to be held June 17-20 at the Belvedere Country club in St. Louis.

However, Joe Dey, executive director of the USGA, said he expects the Californian, whose 64 open victory earned him comeback-of-the-year honors, to enter the tourney.

"Even if he's not in perfect shape, I'm sure he'll defend," Dey said. "That's his nature."

A circulatory condition that stuns his hands numb in cold weather forced Venturi out of tournament competition shortly after the Masters.

Jack Nicklaus, who rolled to an easy victory in the Masters, adds the cast of former open champions and is among 16 golfers entered who are exempt from both local and regional qualifying rounds for this year's event.

Entries also have been received from former winners Arnold Palmer, Gene Littler, Billy Casper, Tommy Bolt and Tony Manero.

Big Bats Are Responsible for Howard's Percentage, Distance

NEW YORK, April 30 (UPI)—Elston Howard of the New York Yankees likes to walk softly and carry a big stick. In fact, he swings one of the heaviest batting sticks in the major leagues—36 ounces in the spring, 38 ounces from June 1 to the finish. "The old-timers had the right idea," says the veteran catcher, who batted .313 last season. "Gimme a bat with some solid wood on it and let the others swing those tooth-picks." Like pro golfers, ball players are fussy about their clubs and the trend for 20 years—as the homerun hitters drove the Cadillac—was to thinner, lighter, whiplike bats ranging from 30 to 35 ounces.

"As far as I know, a 38-ounce is the biggest in the majors," says Howard. "Orlando Cepeda, San Francisco, uses a 36-ounce bat but I don't know that he goes to 38."

Howard tore several ligaments in his right arm during an exhibition game at Puerto Rico this spring, tore 'em again in the opener against the Yankees.

Twins. After a brief rest, he was switched to first base where his ailing arm wouldn't have much of a workout.

"I need his big bat," Keane explained.

But catching is Howard's trade and he's one of the best around. He won the American league's most valuable player award in 1963 and over a 10-year stretch owns a .289 lifetime batting average.

"Switching to heavier bats has helped my average," says the 6 foot, 2 inch, 200-pounder. "Big bats slow me down, give better contact and most distance with less swing. And I can hit to right field easier, too."

Oddy, Howard swines to the heavier bat as the season progresses. You'd think he'd drop down as he grew more tired.

"It doesn't work that way," he says. "Once last year I caught two two-night doubleheaders and a single game at New York for nine games in five days. I was hitting better in the last game than in the first."

Howard, now 35, caught 150 games last year. He won't have that many this season because of his arm injury though he expects to be back in harness behind the plate this week-end.

"Another 300 year is my goal and, of course, that sixth pennant for the ball club," he says. Pretty soon, now he'll be putting in his order for the 38-ounce bat he'll start using June 1.

"I'll order an extra one," he said with a wink. "Sometimes Bobby Richardson grabs one of my big ones for a few days."

Richardson is 5 feet, 9 inches and weighs 170. He also likes the big lumber but only for a few days.

The Nankai Hawks of Japan had contended the hard-throwing Murakami was committed to return to that team in 1966, and wanted a written guarantee from the Giants that he could do so. The Giants denied this, claiming only the pitcher had agreed to sign for $10,000. The final decision on staying with the Giants or returning must rest with him, the San Francisco brass said.

Peeney said he did not know when the lefty would join the Giants but that he "expected it would be sometime this week-end. There's nothing definite."

The Giants have had only one active lefty pitcher.

Manager Change, Remodeling Due at Bowladrome This Spring

A change of management and a remodeling project that could run from minor to completely new lanes is in store for the 30-lane Bowladrome this spring and early summer. O. J. Hazen, Salt Lake City, president of the Motor-Vu Corp., which owns the physical facilities, said Thursday night in a telephone conversation the Bowladrome "would remain a 30-lane house."

He added the corporation will assume management of the house on May 14 when Tucker Morashita, who has managed the place during the winter months, will return to Idaho Falls.

Hazen said "we [the corporation] are going to have to let this thing just unfold before we know for sure what will happen. We have found the operation of a bowling establishment works well with the management of theaters and we have thought about going into the management of the sport for some time. But we don't rule out the possibility of leasing."

For the present time Motor-Vu will take over the reins of management until fall at least. During this time the remodeling will be done.

"I assume everyone knows that Brunswick repossessed some of the lanes when the old Bowladrome, Inc., went bankrupt," Hazen said. "These will have to be replaced. We also are dealing with AMF (American Machine and Foundry) about the conversion of the entire plant. If those negotiations go through then Brunswick will have to come and get all of its equipment and we will install the new AMF. That would call for a long closing period for remodeling. But I can assure you the Bowladrome will be reopened at least by this fall in any case and it will remain a 30-lane house."

"We have some other things planned but I don't know whether they will work out. At one time we thought about installing some pool tables but then we'd be stepping on the toes of the guys downtown who make their living at that. So there are a lot of things that could be done but we're just kind of waiting to see which will be the best course for us," he added.

"We feel bowling still has a good future and that it currently is as low as it is going to get. We look for an upswing before long," he concluded.

Roges Marsh, local representative of the corporation, reiterated most of Hazen's remarks. "In talking to representatives of both Brunswick and AMF, I have been informed they believe the interest in bowling is again on the upswing," Marsh said. "Both the equipment companies and the proprietors learned a lot about over-building on the crest of that last bowling boom. I think now we can expect the future of bowling to level out without sharp fluctuations we've witnessed in the past."

Roberts must have gotten his hands on some of that Satchel Paige snake oil.

The Baltimore Oriole's 38-year-old righthander was talking about it recently.

"I hear Paige has found some snake oil," Roberts observed. "They say he rubs it on his arm to keep it young. If I can find some, I might be able to pitch as long as he has."

Roberts' performance so far this season indicates he has no intention of making this year his 18th in the majors, his last one.

The handsome veteran turned in his second straight complete game and boosted his record to 2-0 Wednesday when he pitched the Orioles to a 6-3 victory over the Washington Senators.

He allowed only five hits, struck out six and walked two as he registered his 273rd career triumph. He is now tied with Red Ruffing for 16th place among the all-time winners.

Just 14 men in major league baseball have reached the 300-victory plateau and only one, Warren Spahn, still is active. Roberts' goal is to join that elite group.

"Of course, it would be great if I can get up there," he said. "But I haven't given it too much thought. At least, not yet. It's always been so far away."

Roberts needs 27 more victories to reach the magic number. In three seasons with the Orioles, who signed him as a free agent after the New York Yankees had handed him his unconditional release, Roberts has won 10, 14 and 13. At this rate he would be within a whispering distance of the 300 victories by the end of next season.

PICKS DELEGATES
NEW YORK, April 30 (UPI)—Olympians Bob Schul, Ralph Boston, John Thomas and pole vaulter Mel Hein, Jr., will represent the United States in international track meets in Spain next month.

Without waiting to get past the 28-year-old Torres, Carter has signed for a May 20 bout in New York against former champion Dick Tiger.

A hometown decision is guaranteed, since both fighters hail from Paterson.

Carter, 27, is the world's third-ranked middleweight and will be trying to maintain his spot among the division's elite. A loss to the relatively unknown Torres could be fatal to his chances of getting another shot at champion Joe Giardello.

4-Run Rally Carries Cubs Past Reds 6-3

CINCINNATI, April 30 (UPI)—Glenn Beckert's two-run single capped a four-run sixth inning that helped the Chicago Cubs to a 6-3 victory over the Cincinnati Reds Thursday night.

The defeat snapped a three-game winning streak for the Reds.

Billy Williams' double opened the sixth and after Ron Santo singled, Pete Rose dropped a throw at second base allowing Williams to score. A walk loaded the bases and then pitcher Cal Koonce singled one run home and Beckert delivered two more with his hit.

Koonce was working on a five-hit shutout until the eighth when Rose and Tommy Harper singled and then rode home on Frank Robinson's fourth homer of the season.

Doubles by Roberto Pena in the eighth and Dick Bertell in the ninth produced the last two Chicago runs.

Chicago 000 004 011 4 13 0
Cincinnati 000 000 010 3 4 1
Koonce and Bertell 6 1/3 7 1 0

Murakami to Leave Japan, Join Giants

LOS ANGELES, April 30 (UPI)—The San Francisco Giants, hard pressed for left handed pitching, received word Thursday that Japanese star Masanori Murakami had been cleared to join the team "as soon as possible"—perhaps this week-end.

Charles (Chub) Peeney, vice president and general manager, said he received a telegram from the Japanese baseball commissioner agreeing to terms of a Giant proposal by which Murakami could make up his mind at the end of the season on his future plans.

The Nankai Hawks of Japan had contended the hard-throwing Murakami was committed to return to that team in 1966, and wanted a written guarantee from the Giants that he could do so. The Giants denied this, claiming only the pitcher had agreed to sign for $10,000. The final decision on staying with the Giants or returning must rest with him, the San Francisco brass said.

Peeney said he did not know when the lefty would join the Giants but that he "expected it would be sometime this week-end. There's nothing definite."

The Giants have had only one active lefty pitcher.

Stocks

NEW YORK, April 30 (AP) — Scattered strength in blue chips enabled an irregular market to close higher today. Trading was most actively in the steel industry.

Investment buying boosted Sears, Roebuck, Reynolds Tobacco, Union Carbide and others to gain of well over a point. Eastman Kodak was up about two.

Pan American Sulphur continued to bear the brunt of selling and fell about a point after a half.

IBM gained four and DuPont was about unchanged. Boeing was off about a point. Fractional losses were taken by American Telephone, U. S. Steel, Ford, Polaroid and Control Data.

Volume for the day was estimated at 5.4 million shares compared with 5.58 million Thursday.

Here was the picture toward the close: Gains of fractions to a point or so outnumbered losers but not by much.

A wide assortment of selected issues made gains of a point or better.

Pan American Sulphur remained under selling pressure and was down more than two to a new low as it bid for the position of the most active stock for the first of the straight session.

Western Union was strong, up more than a point. Similar gains were made by Union Carbide, Procter and Gamble, Texas Gulf Sulphur, Textron, Chicago and North Western, Comsat, Pre-processor and Jewel Tea.

Business Mirror

BY RUSSELL LANE CHICAGO, April 30 (AP) — Many U.S. railroad passenger coaches, diners and chair cars have rolled to Canada.

There they are clicking off the miles and—something they apparently couldn't do at home—pulling in more revenue.

So says Garth C. Campbell who heads Canadian National railroads' passenger service development effort. CNR sells romance of the rails and the good life, with hostesses and extras in comfort and service.

Some carriers are blessed with scenic routes or handy overnight distances between major cities. They do lively promotion jobs and admit that their passenger departments have merit in their overall operations.

None will say that passenger business is profitable in terms of the interstate commerce commission yardstick. That measure imposes upon passenger operating costs shares of over-all expenses which are necessary to keep trains running, regardless of whether they carry freight or passengers.

Some carriers say, however, that they suffer no out-of-pocket loss from passenger trains — this after considerable pruning off deficit runs. Others want to halt passenger operations.

Jervis Langdon, Jr., chairman of the Rock Island lines, told the road's stockholders in March that the airlines have won over the traveler. "If it becomes necessary to drop passenger service from the longer runs, we shall do so reluctantly," he said.

The Burlington, which estimates it has shunted 15,000 skid rails between Chicago and Colorado this past season, is happy with its Zephyr streamliners. Passenger revenue was nearly 21 million dollars in 1964, and with mail revenues — or head-end, haulage receipts — passenger trains turned in 38 million dollars. This included commuters in the Chicago vicinity.

Santa Fe's Chicago-West Coast passenger business was up 23 per cent and a comfortable item in revenues, although officials gave no figures.

The New York Central said its passenger revenue, excluding commuters, dropped from $9,527,433 in 1963 to $9,024,106 last year.

Like Canadian National, some of the better dollar-catchers in the U.S. rail passenger business think the secret is selling, especially vacation or holiday packages.

Wilson May Take Over Steel Plants LONDON, April 30 (AP) — Prime Minister Harold Wilson made public today a controversial government plan to take over the nation's steel industry. The move could bring down his Labor government after little more than six months in office.

Wilson presented parliament with a white paper setting forth the Labor government's intention of nationalizing 14 giant steel corporations which control 90 per cent of Britain's production of iron and steel and employ 70 per cent of the industry's manpower.

The white paper, which is not the actual nationalizing legislation but a statement of intent, will be debated in the house of commons next Thursday. The government at present has an overall majority of four votes in Commons.

But two of Wilson's own Laborites, Woodrow Wyatt and Desmond Donnelly, oppose the wholesale nationalization of steel. If they abstain in the voting, the government's majority is reduced to two; if they vote against, it is a dead heat with the nonparty speaker of commons casting the deciding vote.

Just one Laborite abstained when next Friday's vote is taken in Commons, the government could be defeated on an issue it regards as basic in its Socialist legislative program.

PLANS TO CONTINUE SAN DIEGO, Calif., April 30 (AP) — Ryan Aeronautical company yesterday announced it plans to continue development of its XV-5 vertical takeoff and landing airplane despite a fatal crash.

Wall Street Chatter

NEW YORK, April 30 (AP) — Kenneth B. Smilen and Kenneth Safian of Purcell, Graham and company say it seems wise to continue to scrutinize factors which may appear to be bearish as a matter of policy, particularly in view of the long rise in the market has had.

Analysts say the alternative is complacency, which can prove to be deadly in the stock market. They add that only a normal degree of prudence is needed at this time.

Goodbody and company says that investors should not count on the broad upward momentum that characterized the over-all market in 1963 and 1964.

Thomas and McKinnon notes that investment in the program made in the steel labor talks, first quarter earnings and annual meeting forecasts and says it would continue to pursue a selective aggressive investment policy.

Analyst Elliot Janeway says that without minimizing either the Viet Nam situation nor fears of a monetary depression or reactivity recession, he does not regard them as threats to either the stock market or the economy.

Along Fences and Canals

An Appaloosa mare belonging to George Hellyer of the Circle "H" ranch, Oshkott, dropped an exceptionally highly-colored colt this week. Dandy's High Time was sired by a registered Appaloosa stud belonging to Andrew Kendall.

An addition of 400 colonies of bees will be made this year by Patterson's Apiary, Richfield. Elmo Patterson, his son, Kenneth, and Rueben Bradshaw, Hailey, made a trip to Yuma City, Calif., last week-end to bring back the bees. Patterson had dealt with a man there more than 20 years, but this was his first trip to the California site.

Cattle were branded for Mrs. Greta Graves, Tuttle, last Saturday. Those doing the work were Loren Graves, Boyd Graves and Forest Miller, all Tuttle.

Most Camas-prairie farmers are repairing and overhauling machinery and fixing their fences as the valley is too wet yet to do any farming. Creeks are running bank full but there is very little flooding except in the lowlands along the river that are always covered with water during the spring run-off. A few road culverts were washed out during the first of the runoff, but have been repaired.

Ray Thompson has finished planting several acres of corn at his ranch south of King Hill. The corn will be used for feeding his cattle this fall.

Ranchers in the Almo area have been branding, tagging and vaccinating their range cattle. Some cattle will be turned out to summer range the first of May and the rest will be turned out soon.

Jay Black has employed Loren Rasmussen, Burley, to work on the Lowe ranch. Mr. and Mrs. Rasmussen have moved to Almo and are living in a teacher house on the ranch.

Sheep owned by Robert Ward, Almo, were sheared last week and he is now engaged in lambing operations at Kane Springs.

Bureau of land management crews have been painting branding range cattle on ranches in the Almo area in preparation for turning them out on government-owned lands soon.

Fields in the Springdale community near Burley are beginning to show signs of green with newly planted grain coming up. Several farmers report their beets are coming up. The recent rains have provided excellent growing conditions.

A small break in the King Hill irrigation canal last week north of town washed down on the yard of Ted Lisle's home in King Hill. Some weeds had become lodged in the ditch causing the water to overflow but no damage was done. The irrigation district crew repaired the break.

Lester Hall, employe of the King Hill Irrigation district, has been pulling some tree stumps with heavy equipment at the Arthur Greer ranch south of King Hill. Greer will plant pasture grass in the new clearing as soon as the land has been plowed. Hall also has been doing some work at the Wesley Fink ranch south of King Hill, enlarging a drain water sump.

Donald Chandler, Elba rancher, has cut the sagebrush on some 50 acres of land on his ranch at Connor and planted about 20 acres to pasture grass this spring. He plans on cutting some sage on his canyon ranch this spring as soon as the road west of Elba has been made passable. The high water and floods during December did a lot of damage to the canyon road and washed out a bridge which has not yet been repaired.

The Lloyd company of Elba purchased 21 head of cattle from Ted Ward, Malta, last week. The cattle were driven to the forest corral in Elba the end of the week where they were branded and marked before they were taken to the Lloyd ranch in the southern part of the valley. Driving the cattle from Malta were John Darrington and Thomas Lloyd.

The Hereford range herd of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Smith, Bridge, was driven from Bridge to the Smith ranch at Connor in the eastern end of the Elba valley this week. Mrs. Smith and daughter, Julie, drove the trucks. Albert Smith, his son, LeRoy, and daughter, Sandra Jo, and Hugh Galisher drove the cattle. The cattle were branded, marked and vaccinated at the home ranch in Bridge a few days before the drive. The drive is a 20-mile drive and a full day's job. The horses were trucked back to Bridge after the drive.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Felley, Richfield, were helped in taking their Angus and Hereford range cattle to Dietrich Butte summer pasture by Mr. and Mrs. Rupert Golocoecha and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hoodenpyle. The group, on horseback, left one horse and trailer at Lone Rock bridge because of deep mud. Heavy rains delayed the Felleys going back after the horse, which they had planned to do the same day.

Keep America Green Event Celebrates Anniversary

WASHINGTON, April 30 (UP)—The forest fire prevention campaign known as "Keep America Green" has just observed its 25th anniversary. Industries representing forest products say the program still is going strong. The fire prevention campaign got under way in Washington, a big timber state, a quarter century ago. Now 38 states have "keep green" programs. The American Forest Products Industries, Inc., said that during the first 20 years of the keep green program, the number of forest fires was slashed in half from 200,000 annually in 1940 to just under 100,000 per year by 1960. In 1941, forest fires wasted about 26 million acres. By 1960, losses were down to 4.5 million acres. In 1963, the latest year for which complete figures are available, forest fire losses rose to seven million acres. This was a bad fire season because of extremely dry weather. James C. McClellan, chief forester of the Keep America Green program, said nine out of every 10 forest fires still are man-caused.

PULLMAN, Wash., April 30 (UP)—Animal researchers at Washington State university have begun experiments on two Hereford calves, one albino and the other normal. Dr. George Padgett, veterinary pathologist, said the same combination of normal—albino twins might not occur again in 800 years.

Contract Let to Build New Canal on Roseworth Tract; Construction Slated

BY G. H. CHAMBERS
Crews from the Ben F. Walton Construction company, Twin Falls, will begin phase 2-A early next week on the reconstruction of the Cedar Mesa Reservoir and Canal company irrigation distribution system, announces W. E. Arness, company contracting officer.

Phase 2-A includes construction of an earth filled dam and 18,800 lineal feet of main canal plus 19,000 lineal feet of laterals and ditches. The project will also include necessary structures.

Walton, one of six bidders, successfully bid $79,819.20. According to Phil Whiting, project engineer, soil conservation service, a portion of the main canal was reconstructed last year. This spring the Walton Construction company will pick up where construction ended last fall and they will build the main canal almost to the Roseworth tract. The main canal will dump into a small regulating reservoir near the south end of the tract.

The Roseworth tract encompasses some 5,000 acres of land and utilizes irrigation water from Roseworth dam on Cedar creek. The tract and its source of water are separated by a considerable distance of open rangeland. For many years the tract was serviced by a wooden Lennon type open flume which was constructed on a wood trestle. The trestle worked its way up the rim of Cedar creek canyon and emptied the water into the old canal. This flume has since been replaced by a 54-inch concrete pipeline, some 8,400 feet in length.

One of the problems faced by Roseworth tract farmers is that in order to supply water for livestock a demand was created on the reservoir. This entailed opening the gates at Roseworth dam and letting some water trickle down the system. The construction of a small regulating reservoir at the immediate end of the Roseworth tract will eliminate the demand trickle. Some 125 acre feet of water can be stored in the small reservoir. This immediate supply would be available and would eliminate the long wait for water from Roseworth reservoir. The small regulating reservoir insures better control of the water, ends the long wait, eliminates considerable waste through long delivery, and serves as a supply source should there be a breakdown somewhere along the delivery system.

It isn't mentioned in any of the official brochures, but the reservoir has some recreational benefits. There will be a swimming hole for youngsters on the dry barren Roseworth tract in addition to attracting ducks along the flyway.

The reservoir will provide some flexibility in the delivery system.

The reconstruction of the delivery system is authorized under public law 568 in cooperation with several governmental agencies. The Cedar Mesa Reservoir and Canal company, the Twin Falls soil conservation district, the soil conservation service and the farmers home administration are all participating in the project which is commonly called the small watershed program.

Whiting said it is hoped that phase 2-B can be started sometime this summer. Phase 2-B is benefit from the reconstructed system. All this, to a great extent, depends on the individual farmer. The rebuilding of the delivery system will not create any new water. It creates better efficiency. In some cases returns of 20 to 35 per cent can be expected. A 25 per cent increase in the water saved is almost like finding a new source of water.

In the past Arness has pointed out that the soil on the Roseworth tract is high quality and only the lack of sufficient water makes the land somewhat marginal. Increased efficiency could remove the marginal quality simply because the tract farmers decided to improve their water delivery system.

It is hoped by many on the Roseworth tract that the construction of a new irrigation delivery system will be more efficient if the farmer makes changes to get maximum benefit from the reconstructed system.

Whiting said it is possible that the contract for phase 2-B can be let within the next 30 to 60 days. Whiting and unit conservator Clarence Hedrick pointed out that the improved system is coupled with the improvements the individual farmer makes upon the land. The system will be more efficient if the farmer makes changes to get maximum benefit from the reconstructed system.

Veal Ration Discussion Set for Dairy Field Day

CALDWELL, April 30 — Veal calves do well on rations containing animal fats and ground corn. David Thacker, dairy scientist at the University of Idaho's branch agricultural research station here, will tell why and how at a dairy field day, May 7. The program is the second of two public events at the station this spring. The first is beef day, May 1.

Thacker said the report will include a comparison of traditional practices with new feeding methods from the standpoint of gain in weight and financial profit.

George Cleveland, extension dairyman, will talk about trends in housing dairy cattle. He will point out that the past winter has been hard on dairy cows without shelter. Wind and rain reduced production. Wet conditions invite mastitis, an udder disease against which an educational campaign has been under way for many years.

Advantages of drying hay mechanically will be explained by D. W. Works, agricultural engineer. He will tell the results of tests showing that the quality of hay can be increased when the crop is dried with fans.

Dr. Floyd Frank, station veterinarian, is scheduled to discuss calf scours with particular reference to use of antibiotics. Work with an enzyme to determine pesticide residues on forage will be described by John Montoure of the dairy science department in Moscow. Thacker will report a three-year study on the feeding of large amounts of grain to dairy cows.

J. J. Dahmen, station superintendent, will be chairman of the morning program that will begin at 9:45 a.m. with a talk by R. D. Ensign, associate director, Moscow. R. H. Ross, head of the dairy science department, Mos-

'65 Net Farm Income to Hold Steady

WASHINGTON, April 30 (UPI)—The agriculture department estimated net farm income in 1965 will hold around 12.6 billion dollars, unchanged from last year and close to the level that has prevailed since 1961.

In a review of the farm income situation, the department said the prediction for 1965 assumes average weather during the growing season and a continued strong domestic and foreign demand for farm products.

Farmers' gross income in 1965 may exceed the record 42 billion dollars reached in 1964, the department said.

Carey Valley Horse Show Set June 19

CAREY, April 30 — Paintings representative of the breed will be presented to grand champion stallions in quarter horse, Appaloosa, and Arabian classes during the annual Carey Valley horse show to be held June 19.

The event will be Mrs. Gordon Eozles, Pocatello, who is Ardis of Sun Valley.

Grand champion trophies will be presented to mares and geldings of Arabian quarter horse, and Appaloosa breeding. Trophies will be presented to all first place winners. High point trophy will again be presented by Olson's, Twin Falls.

Eight performance classes will be held. An added feature this year will be a halter class for American saddle bred horses. There will also be a halter class for half-Arabians.

The horse show committee reports that entry blanks are now being mailed and anyone wanting an entry blank should contact Lynn Stewart or Mrs. Jay Strode, Carey.

Contract Let To Rebuild Area Canal

livery system will stimulate activity to improve other features which are badly needed on the tract such as improved roads, utility service and communications.

At the present time the main access road into the tract is down and across Salmon Falls creek canyon at a point called "Lilly grade." The road is a narrow, one-lane gravel affair which clings to the side of one canyon wall and climbs out the side of the opposite canyon wall.

This is the road the Roseworth tract farmers use to haul their crops to market, send their children to school and use to get to and from town. The improved water delivery system will aid the farmers on the tract. The completion date for the end of the project is still many months away, but already the area rebuilt is adding benefits.

It is no longer necessary to patrol the old flume watching for leaks and hoping the system won't tumble down. The water now flows through a pipeline and it is almost worry free.

The activity which will start in a few days will signal that the reconstruction is on the downhill run and full benefits are now foreseeable.

U.S. Exporters of Poultry Might Be Pressed to Sell in Western Europe

WASHINGTON, April 30 (UPI)—An agriculture department analysis of world poultry trade indicates that U. S. shippers may be hard pressed to sell as much poultry abroad in 1965 as they did in 1964.

The stumbling block to U. S. sales overseas appears to be rising production in the European economic community, usually known as the common market.

In 1964 the United States maintained its position as the world's leading exporter of poultry meat with the Netherlands second and Denmark third. U. S. exports last year totaled 231.2 million pounds, valued at 61.3 million dollars. The volume was 11 per cent more than in 1963, but only 96 per cent of the record 277 million pounds exported in 1962.

U. S. poultry shipments in 1964 went to about 80 countries and independent territories. Trade with West Germany, a common market country, totaled 99.3 million pounds. U. S. shipments to the Netherlands, another common market member, totaled more than 16 million pounds. Hong Kong was a good market, so were Canada, Japan, Switzerland, Austria, and the United Kingdom.

Other factors influencing the boom in Europe include the poor returns on eggs, and the fact that high prices for red meat have made broilers more competitive.

The department is not enthusiastic over U. S. export prospects for 1965. The agency noted that poultry production in the EEC appears to have gained momentum and probably will increase faster than consumption in 1965.

This pickup in output is reflected in, and further encouraged by, the EEC's recent hike in levies on whole chickens.

Leafhopper Data Secured By Pest Unit

Data has been secured by plant pest control division personnel in their surveys for overwintered beet leafhoppers in southern Idaho made during March and April.

In the Glenns Ferry area beet leafhoppers average 20 per 100 square feet compared to eight in 1964, 24 in 1963, 41 in 1962, 91 in 1961 and 5 in 1960.

In the Jerome area they average six per 100 square feet compared to six in 1964, 20 in 1963, 24 in 1962, 26 in 1961 and five in 1960.

In the Saylor creek area they average 30 per 100 square feet compared to 37 in 1964, 25 in 1963, 113 in 1962, 60 in 1961 and 1960.

In the Bruneau-Murphy area they averaged 100 per 100 square feet compared to 37 in 1964, 25 in 1963 and 13 in 1962.

In the Twin Falls area they averaged nine per 100 square feet compared to two in 1964, four in 1963, 14 in 1962, 29 in 1961 and 34 in 1960.

The average beet leafhopper populations in the combined range breeding areas is 18 per 100 square feet, compared to 22 in 1964, 16 in 1963, 72 in 1962, 44 in 1961, 19 in 1960, 17 in 1959, 16 in 1958 and 65 in 1957.

The host plants adjacent to cultivated crops in the Glenns Ferry, Gooding, Jerome and Twin Falls areas and in the Saylor creek range areas are much below the average of the last few years. In the Mountain Home area they are about average.

An area comprising approximately 7,000 acres in the Rattlesnake gulch area near Mountain Home has an average population of 17 per 100 square feet and may require control.

A 5,000 acre area north and west of Orchard carries populations averaging 17 per 100 square feet, and may require control; 1,600 acres southeast of Bruneau composed of spotted roadside areas has populations averaging 100 per 100 square feet which may require chemical control.

Nymphal surveys will be conducted during May to determine whether or not chemical control will be advisable.

Awards Given FFA Students By Amalgamated Sugar

The Amalgamated Sugar company has, since 1952, honored FFA students with outstanding projects in growing sugar beets.

Development Is Traced to Farm

WASHINGTON, April 30 (UPI)—U. S. agriculture is making a formidable record in development of foreign markets, according to Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman.

Freeman detailed agricultural trade advances in foreign countries during an awards ceremony for employees of the foreign agricultural service.

He noted that while the cumulative increase in dollar exports for all goods and commodities had totaled 7.3 billion dollars, agriculture had contributed 2.7 billion dollars and industry 4.6 billion dollars.

"Thus agriculture, while it accounts for only one-fifth of foreign trade volume, has accounted for two-fifths of the dollar increase in export earnings in recent years," Freeman said.

Robert Day, manager, Twin Falls factory, pointed out that the program has grown continually over the past 13 years. The contest is now split into two districts—the Twin Falls area and the Northside area.

Banquet

The annual Twin Falls Future Farmers of America chapter will hold its annual Parent-Son banquet Saturday evening at the high school cafeteria, announces John Lawrence, chapter adviser.

The banquet is an annual affair where students are honored for outstanding work in FFA events.

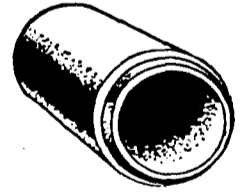

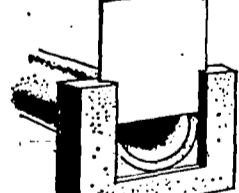

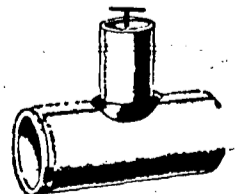

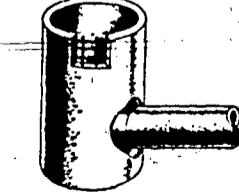

In addition to the district winners, awards were also given to chapter winners. Main speaker for the banquet was O. A. (Gus) Kelker, Times-News Farm-Feature editor who talked and showed slides on Silver City.

Attending the banquet which was held at the Rogerson Hotel and sponsored by the sugar company were parents and teachers of the participating students.

WINNERS in the South Magic Valley district Future Farmers of America farm mechanics contest are, from left, R. Ethridge, Kimberly high school, and Carl Nutsch, Jerome, tied for high.

Jerome Team Wins Final District FFA Contest

A three man team from Jerome high school won the final West Magic Valley district Future Farmer's of America contest—the farm mechanics contest. The event was held at Twin Falls high school and the host school took second place honors. Jerome scored 468 points with Carl Nutsch tying for first place individual honors with 177 points. The other high individual scorer was B. Ethridge, Kimberly, with 177 points. Jerome edged Twin Falls by less than three points. Twin Falls scored 465.5 points and had to hurry to stay ahead of Kimberly who finished third with 461.5 points. The closeness of the contest indicated that each school was up for the contest. Gooding high school finished fourth only 24 points behind the leader. Trophies for the individual winners were presented by Leon Wolke, representing Norco Welding company. Because of the tie for first place individual another trophy was ordered. The farm mechanics contest wraps up the season for district FFA events and most of the instructors believed that the quality of work performed in this year's farm mechanics contest was superior to that of a year ago. In farm mechanics, the students are required to cut rafters, identify tools and do other tasks such as sharpening tools and soldering wires.

Supply of Grain Hits 7 Year Low

WASHINGTON, April 30 (UP)—The foreign agricultural service estimates the total grain supply in the four principal exporting countries on Jan. 1 was the lowest in the past seven years. Stocks of wheat, rye, barley, oats and corn in the four principal countries were estimated at about 242 million short tons. This is 17 million tons below the aggregate supply a year earlier and 36 million tons below the record amount set in 1961. All grains except rye showed declines. Lower corn stocks were the predominant factor in the reduced supply level. FAS said that compared with January, 1964, supplies, total grain holdings were down six per cent.

The United States showed the biggest change, a decline of 19 million tons, 13 million of which were in corn holdings. Canada's stocks were down moderately. Stocks in Argentina, and Australia were up about two million tons each.

In addition to the five grains figured on a world basis, the United States had grain sorghum stocks of 27 million tons.

Agriculture Economists Predict Cash Receipts Will Average Near '64 Level

WASHINGTON, April 30 (AP)—Agriculture department economists estimate cash receipts from farm marketings in 1965 probably will be about the same as the $6.7 billion dollars of 1964, with the government payments exceeding the $2 billion dollars of last year.

Wheat Quota Proclaimed As Required

The national wheat marketing quota and acreage allotment proclaimed for the 1965 wheat crop by the department of agriculture on April 14 had to be issued by April 15 under provisions of wheat legislation now in effect, according to Carl Boyd, chairman, Twin Falls county agricultural stabilization and conservation committee.

Current law requires a marketing quota proclamation whenever wheat supplies are likely to be excessive without a quota. In the absence of new legislation for the 1965 wheat crop, a referendum would be held by law not later than Aug. 1, 1965, to determine whether or not wheat farmers favor or oppose marketing quotas for 1965.

of predictions, all of which will have an end effect on net farm income. They include: Marketings of livestock and livestock products may be set up strictly from the 1964 record high. Prices for meat animals are expected to average above those of last year.

The volume of crop marketings in 1965 is expected to show a small decrease. Crop prices likely will average lower reflecting lower price support loan rates this year for feed crops, wheat, cotton and rice. But receipts from crops will be augmented by increased payments to farmers for participation in the 1965 feed grain, wheat and cotton programs.

ERS said income from marketings of meat animals this year is expected to be higher in total than in 1964. Cattle prices at the farm are expected to strengthen, and cash receipts will be larger than in 1964. Hog prices probably will be noticeably higher this year than in 1964 because slaughter will be substantially lower. The 1964 fall pig crop was down eight per cent and the spring crop this year also is off eight per cent. Sheep and lamb prices likely will go up in 1965 because marketings likely will be below those of last year.

ERS said receipts from dairy products likely will go above the five billion dollars of 1964 because of a larger volume of milk sold to plants and dealers. Average milk prices are expected to be about the same as in 1964.

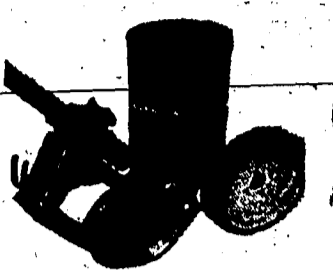

Cash income from poultry and eggs may be little changed from 1964, the department said. Broiler receipts may be up a little because of an increase in volume. Egg receipts may be down some slightly because of lower prices.

ERS said cash receipts from farm marketings of wheat will be down this year as average prices reflect the slightly lower loan rate for the 1965 crop than for the 1964 crop. Part of the reduction in receipts will be made up by increased payments under the 1965 wheat program. Corn marketings this year are expected to be about the same as last year. The average price for corn sold in calendar 1965 may be about the same as in 1964, ERS said.

vest of soybeans is indicated for 1965, and receipts from the so-called miracle crop are likely to be higher than in 1964. ERS said potato prices this year may not be as high as the unusually high prices of last year, but the average is not expected to drop sharply. Citrus prices are down because the Florida crop shows a substantial production increase over last year.

Production of Chickens Drops

BOISE, April 30 (AP)—Production of chickens and commercial broilers on Idaho farms in 1964 totaled 22.2 million pounds live-weight, the U.S. department of agriculture reports. This was a decline of five per cent from 1963 production.

American Farmer Has Big Stake in Export Markets

WASHINGTON, April 30 (AP)—The American farmer has a big stake in export markets, especially those of less-developed countries, according to a long range report by the agriculture department.

Local Herds Included at Rupert Sale

RUPERT, April 30 — Magic Valley breeders of registered Holstein-Friesian dairy cattle have consigned female animals to the annual Idaho State Invitational registered sale to be held here Saturday at the Valley Livestock Commission company. Selection committee composed of representatives of the Idaho State Holstein association, Van Youngquist, national field representative, Holstein-Friesian association, Brattleboro, Vt., and sale manager, Henry Drury, Preston, have chosen 64 of what they consider the top of the dairy herds in Idaho, Washington, Montana and Idaho. The committee has personally gone into these herds to pick out the animals that will be sold and no animal is consigned by the breeder that has not been chosen by the committee. Of the 64 consignments, there will be 16 cows with records up to 900 pounds of butterfat; 30 close springer heifers with dams over 800 pounds, and eight open heifers. Local breeder consignors are Frank W. Houston, Jerome, Claude Bernard and sons, Hazelton, and Gordon Martin, Jerome. Dr. F. J. Supple, Jerome, has consigned an open heifer.

ERS holds that foreign countries cannot buy much from the United States unless they have good incomes. In order to have good incomes, they must be prosperous. ERS said that as income per person rises, consumers in less-developed countries spend a large proportion of their additional income for food. World markets for American farm products are becoming increasingly more important. The amount of money they bring in is larger and larger. The value of U. S. farm exports amounted to about $1 billion dollars in fiscal 1963-64, compared with about three billion dollars 10 years ago and less than one billion dollars during the 1930's. ERS said that if past trends continue, U. S. farm exports may increase to about 9.8 billion dollars by 1980. The export market now takes the produce of about one in every four U. S. acres. ERS said that although developed countries now are the best commercial markets, they are not as good prospects for increasing farm exports.

Field Day Set June 4 Near Salmon

SALMON, April 30 — The Idaho Junior Hereford association will conduct a field day June 4 at the Pine Creek Hereford ranch near Salmon.

Linda Shaw, Route 2, Caldwell, association president, is making arrangements. Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Reese, ranch owners, will host the group of more than 100 young Hereford raisers.

Russell Hillman, Lemhi county agent, assisting in arrangements, said the all-day program will include an exhibition of the principals of judging Herefords; a Hereford judging contest in six classes, and, after lunch, at which the Reese's will be hosts, a talk on Herefords will be given.

Demonstrations on selecting show prospects, mixing feed and grooming and showing Herefords will be part of the program. Awards will be presented for winners of the morning judging contest.

IRRIGATION WATER spills at Magic dam. Melting snow north of Snake river has forced many streams to fill to capacity and in almost every case all reservoirs are spilling water because the bulk of the runoff is yet to come and storage facilities are already full. The snowpack still is heavy on the headwaters of the Big Wood river. (Times-News photo)

Totals for Soybeans Are Corrected

WASHINGTON, April 30 (AP)—The agriculture department reports that stocks of soybeans stored on April 1 should have been 346,882,000 instead of the 337,487,444 bushels reported previously.

The department announced this change in the supply figure of this very sensitive farm commodity.

Soybeans have been the most active of the farm commodities traded in the future commodities markets.

This activity has reflected the fact that supply and demand have been in close balance for a number of years—a situation in contrast with other grains and cotton which have been available in surplus supplies.

Valley Dairy Group Is Organized

Alvin Smutny was elected president of the newly formed Magic Valley Dairy Improvement association at a special meeting held this week at the Rogerson hotel.

A Magic Valley association has been discussed for several years and has been a topic of conversation at other dairy group meetings.

The creation of a local group this week, similar to an existing area dairy association at Boise, opens the door for a stronger dairy organization which could have a greater influence on pesticide matters, mastitis control and other improvements.

On hand at the organizational meeting was Dr. George Cleveland, extension dairyman, who pointed out some of the successes of the Boise group.

Mel Dalos was elected vice president of the local association and Donald Youis was elected secretary.

Joe Hall, Idaho Dairymen's association manager, presented a program to the group concerning the use of the dairymen's investment in the Idaho Dairymen's association.

The Magic Valley Dairy Improvement association will meet regularly every other month.

GRAIN IS GOOD

BOISE, April 30 (AP)—Emerging spring grains are in good condition in heavy all areas of Idaho and winter grains and forage are making rapid growth, the U.S. agricultural department said. Most fruit crops by the end of last week were in full bloom in southwestern Idaho. Sugar beet planting neared completion in some southwestern and south-central sections but was just underway in many eastern areas. Potato planting neared the halfway mark in the southwestern portion and was progressing eastward.
