Rebel Troops Hit U.S. Posts With Mortar, Rifle Fire

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic, May 10 (UPI)—Rebel troops shelled U.S. positions with mortar and rifle fire last night, it was disclosed today. No casualties were reported. A U.S. military spokesman also reported a brief clash between the rival Dominican military bands outside the U.S. security zone but without hearing distance of the American-held Embajador hotel. Three new airborne casualties were reported during the night but there were no details on how they were wounded. Three non-battle casualties were reported, including one marine killed when his fellow-sentry's rifle discharged accidentally. The man whose rifle went off had a nervous breakdown and had to be evacuated.

Ests Made for Plotting Korean Coup

Treasury Aid Reports Gold Holdings Loss

WASHINGTON, May 10 (AP)—Secretary of the Treasury Henry H. Fowler said today the government lost about 975 million dollars from its gold holdings in the first four months of the year—far more than the 125 million dollars for last year.

Furthermore, while Fowler and other government economic experts joined President Johnson in appraising the general economic outlook as favorable, Fowler said: "I think we can expect some additional loss of gold."

Four Killed in Indian Rioting

NEW DELHI, May 10 (AP)—Four persons were killed and a number arrested during a week-end of rioting in Kashmir over India's sending Sheik Mohammed Abdullah into exile.

Special Meet Asked On Office Space Row

BOISE, May 10 (AP)—Gov. Robert E. Smylie called today for a special meeting of the state land board to discuss allocation of state office space but two Democratic members said they would boycott the session.

Secretary of State Arnold Williams and State Auditor Joe Williams asked that the meeting be postponed until the third Democratic member, State Superintendent of Public Instruction D. F. Engelking, returned to his office.

The secretary of state said Engelking left town on personal business and would not return until late afternoon or Tuesday morning.

In a letter to the governor asking the postponement, Secretary of State Williams said he thought it would be "only fair" because he and I are both vitally interested in additional office space."

Three members are required before the land board can conduct official business and if the Democrats boycott it only two Republican members, Smylie and Atty. Gen. Allan G. Shepard, would be present.

Smylie was sharply critical of the Democrats' position, saying he thought it "would be in the public interest for them to attend."

Smylie also re-stated earlier assertions that the Democratic members of the board were to blame for failing to utilize vacant office space in the Bank of Idaho building on which the state is paying rent.

Cleanup in Tornado-Hit Area Starts

PRIMROSE, Neb., May 10 (AP)—Spurred by Gov. Frank Morrison's promise of all possible aid, national guardsmen, volunteers and residents of this Nebraska community dug in today to clear the debris left by a tornado that ripped a 300-yard path along Main street.

Buildings, dump trucks, front-end loaders and chain saws operated by guardsmen ordered in by the governor have started the cleanup work.

A group of plumbers came in from Norfolk, Neb., to help restore water service and forest service officials were to look over trees to see which could be saved.

The governor visited the community yesterday during an air tour of the tornado-stricken area. He called the storm one of the worst in the history of the state.

The twister, one of at least 20 reported within a 100-mile radius of Norfolk in northeastern Nebraska, left four dead and nine injured in Primrose alone. No other deaths were recorded but as reports filtered in from more than a score of other communities, it appeared the injured list would be at least 25.

In this village of 129 persons 100 miles west of Omaha only five of 14 business buildings on Main street were left standing. About 20 dwellings were demolished and 18 to 20 more were badly damaged, they appeared beyond repair.

397 Signatures Filed by Tax Foes

BOISE, May 10 (AP)—Sales tax foes filed another 397 voter signatures with the secretary of state today, bringing to 22,795 the number on file.

In order to get a repeal referendum before the voters at the next general election, enemies of the controversial new tax must file a total of 25,545 by May 18.

Pilot Killed During N.M. Air Search

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M., May 10 (AP)—A familiar figure in missing plane searches, civil air patrol Maj. M. L. Perry, 37, was killed in the crash of his single-engine plane while flying low over the Rio Grande searching for a missing boy.

Perry, 37, had been flying up and down the river and was making one more sweep last evening before quitting for the night.

His T34 trainer was approaching a bridge in South Albuquerque when it struck and cut two power lines, sending the aircraft on its back into the river.

Perry's body was recovered from the cockpit, submerged in about two feet of mud and water.

The aircraft had cut a 44,000-volt line and a 115,000-volt line, causing a power failure in parts of Albuquerque.

The search for the boy was suspended during the night.

The youngster, 7-year-old Stafford Olsen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lee R. Olsen, had slipped into a flume leading to the river from a three-foot water pipe used as a foot bridge.

WASHINGTON, May 10 (AP)—Allocation of $31,500 in federal funds to three Idaho colleges and universities to finance expansion of facilities for scientific studies was announced today by the National Science foundation.

Sen. Frank Church, D., Ida., said the funds will go to the College of Idaho, Idaho State university, and Northwest Nazarene college. In addition, he said, action is pending on a request submitted by the University of Idaho.

Largest share of the approved allocation, Church said, will go to ISU, which will receive $22,200. The College of Idaho will receive $6,100 and NNC will get $1,700.

The young attorney said he would accept the appointment on "one condition," that politics should not enter into the agency's administration. Stone replied:

"Young man, that is the only condition under which you can have the job."

Russia Celebrates V-E Day With New Moon Shot, Display

MOSCOW, May 10 (AP)—The Soviet Union celebrated the 20th anniversary of V-E day yesterday with a new moon shot, a military display, an appeal for renunciation of nuclear weapons and a new attack on U.S. policy. The moon shot, Lunik 5, was a 3,254-pound electronic-instrument package to gather and send back scientific information. The Soviet news agency Tass said it was launched from an artificial earth satellite put into orbit earlier in the day by a multistage rocket. The exact time or place of the launching was not announced, but it presumably took place about the hour the Kremlin gave its first public display of the kind of rockets that have carried its manned space ships into orbit.

Planes Hit Targets In North Viet Nam

SAIGON, Viet Nam, May 10 (AP)—American and Vietnamese warplanes began pounding military targets in North Viet Nam at midnight and continued the aerial hammering through the day. Returning pilots reported destruction of bridges, highway and railroad vehicles, military emplacements and one large junk. A U.S. spokesman said the planes encountered light to moderate groundfire but that all planes returned safely without sighting enemy aircraft. One navy jet pilot was killed yesterday when his plane failed to pull out of a strafing dive on a truck during raids on North Viet Nam.

Two American soldiers were killed and eight wounded in a six-hour battle with the Viet Cong 30 miles west of Saigon. It was one of several attacks during the week-end in the Mekong river delta.

Board Rule Pending on Road Routing

BOISE, May 10 (AP)—Routing of Interstate 80-between Bliss and Jerome in southeastern Idaho awaits the decision of the state highway board today as it resumed a meeting recessed in April.

The meeting was recessed because of the absence of two of the three members after public hearings were conducted on the I-80 route and other matters. Contingents from Wendell and Bliss lined up against one from Jerome and urged the board to route the interstate along existing state-highway-25 as tentatively planned.

Jerome delegates favored a "short route" north of state 25 which the Wendell and Bliss spokesmen said would bypass their communities.

3 Captured Seabees Have Been Freed

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic, May 10 (AP)—Three American Seabees captured Friday by rebel forces were returned to American authorities yesterday.

The men were identified as Mike D. Monk, 29, Vandemere, N. C.; Ellard C. Dana, 40, Virginia Beach, Va., and Donald E. Martin, 27, Wichita, Kans.

Dana, speaking for the Seabees, said they wandered into rebel territory on the northern side of the east-west supply corridor while tracking a lost Jeep. They were turned over to U.S. authorities at a checkpoint on the south side of the corridor.

This raised the question as to how the rebels crossed the heavily guarded corridor with three U.S. prisoners.

Dana declined to reveal how this was done. One unverified version said the insurgents used the Ozama river in a boat to get around the corridor.

Dana said that only after several hours of captivity did the rebels take their sidearms. He said they were well-fed, guarded and given the time by a teenage girl with a machinegun and "invited to a big fiesta that will last for 30 days once this war is over."

Their release was negotiated by Robert Sattin, head of the U.S. peace corps in the Dominican Republic.

Indonesia Police Chief Dismissed

JAKARTA, Indonesia, May 10 (AP)—Indonesian President Sukarno dismissed his police chief Sutjipto Danukusumo, yesterday in an apparent move to eliminate reported dissatisfaction in police ranks.

Sukarno named Sutjipto Judo-dihardjo to replace Danukusumo.

The chief of police has the rank of minister.

Sukarno did not say why he made the change in the police leadership. But informed sources said there had been dissatisfaction among police officers stemming from the way Danukusumo set up "his own clique."

ESCAPE TESTS PLANNED WASHINGTON, May 10 (AP)—The national aeronautics and space administration (NASA) plans to conduct a maximum altitude test May 19 of the escape system designed to safeguard Apollo lunar astronauts before and shortly after launch. The test will be held at the White Sands, N. M., missile range.

Bulletin

BOISE, May 10 (AP)—The anti-sales tax committee reported today it has filed enough signatures with the secretary of state to bring the levy to a vote in the November, 1966, general election.

Tobe Maslingill, chairman, said petitions carrying the signatures of 6,996 qualified voters were filed in the secretary of state's office shortly after noon.

That would bring to approximately 30,000 the number of signatures now on file. That total is well above the 25,545 required to force a referendum on the issue.

Sam Borzymowski, 18, an office worker from Baltimore, said the plane was "flying sort of low." He and some friends were among thousands sunning themselves on the beach at the time.

Good Faith?

Last year, congress denied funds to build a high-voltage transmission line to connect southern Idaho with the rest of the Bonneville power administration grid. Congress told BPA to negotiate "in good faith" with the Idaho Power company for the latter to wheel BPA power into southern Idaho. There followed a spate of BPA publicity stories to the general effect that Idaho Power would not talk and so on. Now President Johnson has asked congress to appropriate one million dollars as a start on the federal transmission line.

Taxpayers should ask if BPA ever negotiated "in good faith." There's reason to believe the federal power agency never negotiated at all, let alone in good faith. From news stories, it would appear that BPA told Idaho Power what it wanted and that was the extent of the "negotiations." Idaho Power can be forgiven for not knuckling under because BPA wanted—and still wants—Idaho Power to wheel federal power into southern Idaho in unlimited volume.

The Idaho Power company has had a contract all along to wheel Bonneville electricity to Idaho customers, such customers as REA's and cities. And apparently Idaho Power is willing to extend that contract to wheel BPA power to existing customers of BPA. But Bonneville wants the unlimited contract. In effect, it would force Idaho Power to transmit BPA electricity and permit BPA to woo away big users of electricity who are present customers of the Idaho Power company.

If anyone engaged in private enterprise were to attempt such a deal, the offended party would have recourse to the courts. But the courts don't protect private citizens or firms from bureaucratic encroachment. Even while trying to get Idaho Power to help cut its own throat, the Bonneville power administration goes blithely on its way using its own particular and peculiar brand of bookkeeping and accounting to disclose only what it wants to disclose. Recently, both the general accounting office and the comptroller general of the federal government have criticized BPA accounting methods. When the bureaucrats start criticizing other bureaucrats, it must be pretty raw. The Idaho Power company, a stockholder-owned enterprise, can't resort to such tactics of phony bookkeeping. Neither can it make use of the tax-free status enjoyed by the Bonneville power administration. So Idaho Power has a distinct disadvantage if it's to be pushed into the position of competing with a tax-free agency of the federal government that doesn't even have to use normal means of accounting.

The tax-free agency of the federal government doesn't even have to follow the edict of the legislative branch to negotiate with Idaho Power "in good faith." Instead, when it doesn't get what it demands, BPA tries to accuse Idaho Power of not being guided by the congress proposal of negotiations in good faith.

If Idaho Power followed the same business practices as BPA, Idaho Power would have gone broke years ago.

HUMAN CAUSE

Bureaucrats and do-gooders who would limit ownership of firearms always use the argument that ready availability of guns in this country is responsible for much crime and practically all the murders. They should stop looking at the totals and start analyzing the breakdown of crimes of violence. They also should realize that a firearm never committed a crime of any sort; it's always a human being who commits the crime.

In the first place, the do-gooders always start out by reporting the murder rate is going up. FBI figures show the murder rate has dropped by 40 per cent since the 1930's! It's the serious assault rate that has gone up.

Another cold statistic that might be of interest is the fact that nearly a third of all willful homicides occur within a family unit. Only 12 per cent of all murders are felony murders, that is, those by robbers, sex offenders and others of that criminal ilk.

It's rather startling to realize that the vast majority of all killings result from personal animosity between persons who are related or acquainted. Perhaps firearms are used in a number of these murders, but one wonders if the murders wouldn't happen anyway, even if the murderer had to use a knife, club, hammer or axe.

It's quite interesting to note that FBI statistics show firearms are used in 56 per cent of willful killings. Anyone can figure out for himself the importance of guns in murders when it's known that the U. S. had 8,504 willful killings in 1963. Only 4,762 involved guns. By comparison, upwards of 48,000 persons were killed last year in automobile accidents.

It would seem that Sen. Thomas J. Dodd and others who are so interested in firearms controls would be doing a great service to the entire nation if they were to take a little of their zeal into an effort to reduce traffic accidents.

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

By ANDREW TULLY

WASHINGTON, May 10 — There is considerable comfort for the feeble taxpayer in the action of the senate foreign relations committee emphasizing broad public dissatisfaction with Uncle Sam's foreign aid program.

The committee not only singled out Indonesia and the United Arab Republic as countries from which further aid should be cut off, but demanded a complete overhaul of the program under which the U.S. has doled out more than 100 billion dollars since World War II. Capitol Hill, apparently has heard from Main street, which is not enthralled with do-goodism for its own sake.

Reform will take time, because Washington is like that. The committee has asked President Johnson to submit a wholly new approach to the program by July 1, 1966, and has proposed establishment of a foreign aid planning committee, with two-thirds of its members coming from congress, to set new guidelines for hand-outs. It is progress of a sort.

SUKARNO'S AND NASSER'S FEELINGS — What the senate committee has done is to say out loud that American foreign aid was not intended solely to provide needy nations with a rich Santa Claus. As a part of our international policy, its chief function is, or should be, to gain desired political ends. Foreign aid is politics on the international level, but in the past its effectiveness has been blunted by the Nice Nellies among our diplomats who have worried more about hurting a foreign country's feelings than about spending the taxpayer's money wisely.

This, of course, is utter nonsense. As Egypt's Nasser has shown by his whimpering pleas for food aid, a foreign nation has to be mortally offended to turn down a multimillion-dollar gift from Uncle Sam. Indonesia's Sukarno has managed to be so offended, but he can be dismissed as a peculiar neurotic.

Ironically, the foreign aid program in recent years has been its worst enemy. Although impartial public opinion polls showed that Americans supported the principle, wasteful and wishful-thinking administration has threatened a collapse of both public and congressional support. The program's popularity was not enhanced only a few weeks ago when Johnson's special ambassador, Ellsworth Bunker, practically pleaded with Sukarno to let a peace corps unit remain in that country. Happily, Sukarno refused.

CUTBACK SPENDING — During this period, AID has survived largely because of critics on Capitol Hill like Louisiana's Rep. Otto Passman. As Passman, not a foreign aid crusader, noted many times, his house appropriations subcommittee has acted as a brake on spending and thereby has saved the program from falling of its own weight. By cutting off some of the fat, Passman and others have made the AID program more palatable to Capitol Hill.

This is the reason the senate foreign relations committee apparently has digested. In dealing with its enemies on the hill, AID often comes out the stronger because its requests have been reduced to sensible proportions. But its real danger lies in the glandular thinking of its extravagant friends, who believe because it is good it has no need to be businesslike. Americans who like things to be tidy, hopefully have swallowed that frivolously altruistic lie for the last time.

Views of Others

WRECKAGE OF THE GOP — The Republican party wreckage inherited by Ray C. Bliss of Ohio seems even more complete than in the dismal days immediately following the defeat of Senator Goldwater and his right-wing followers. Mr. Bliss assumed the party chairmanship on Thursday. He is a notable organizer, but the task he faces is staggering.

First of all, he has no money. Such funds as the committee thought it had now appear to be under the control of the Goldwater people, who are not about to help finance a liberal or moderate Republican resurgence. In a time of competition for party dollars, there does not seem much that Mr. Bliss can do to raise money. So a hand-to-mouth existence appears in prospect for the near future.

There is no national leader. Senator Goldwater has virtually dropped from sight. Former President Eisenhower no longer is taken seriously. There are splinter followings behind Governors Rockefeller, Romney and Scranton. Former Vice President Nixon bobs up from time to time, but is considered politically dead.

New analyses show that the Republicans have been losing support for the last 25 years. In 1940 some 38 per cent of the voting population identified itself as Republican; the figure now is 25 per cent. In the same period those who call themselves Democrats increased from 42 to 52 per cent of the electorate.

The split between the ultra-conservative and the moderate-liberal wings is as sharp as ever. The far right still talks of a third party. The moderates cannot disown the conservatives because they account for 3,000,000 votes (some say as many as 6,000,000). Lay Norwest, and with Republican votes so scarce every one may be needed. The GOP percentage of the Negro vote dropped from 32 in 1940 to 4 per cent in 1964. Republican leadership in the house is floundering; in the senate, under Dirksen, it is maintaining an even keel. The new Republican coordinating committee has not yet proved its effectiveness. It is a good thing that Mr. Bliss is not expected to work miracles, and does not expect to. Perhaps the best the party can hope for in 1966 is to hold the line. The best hope for the future is the emergence of vigorous, new moderate leadership, and that is what Mr. Bliss should encourage. —St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

CHOPPING AT CONSERVATION

One of the federal government's most useful and respected farm programs is the target of an administration economy proposal.

The soil conservation service (SCS) does out no cash subsidies; it offers the farmer technical assistance to help preserve rural America's soil and water resources as a national asset.

The administration is proposing to lop off 20 million dollars a year from the SCS program. To make up the loss, farmers and landowners would be charged a fee for this technical assistance. The danger is that farmers unable to pay will neglect good soil conservation and set back an essential program.

The SCS has a long standing reputation for competence. Its soil surveys are proving of real value in urban as well as rural planning. The southeastern Wisconsin regional planning commission presently is using SCS specialists in a major area soil survey designed to tell planners which soils are suitable for urban development and which are not.

If the program is cut back, the yearly loss in assistance to Wisconsin farmers will be more than $300,000. The potential loss of soil, woodland and water resources could be far more costly. Good conservation benefits the public as well as the farmer. Budget cuts here would save dollars but threaten resources. —Milwaukee Journal.

LAWS DO NOT ALWAYS HELP

There ought to be a law "is a threeword expression. On those occasions when we are too lazy, or too indifferent, or simply lack the backbone to get out and do what ought to be done, we demand a law instead. This creates the comfortable illusion of progress, while accomplishing nothing. —North Kingston (R. I.) Standard.

New Balance of Power

POT SHOTS

NO DULL MOMENTS — The casual observer must wonder if there's ever a dull moment in the life of one O. (for Orville) A. (for Augustus) Kelker.

There's a good example almost every day. Take Thursday when the Kiwanis club met. Gus was presenting the program, his pictures of a trip to Hawaii. He drove his small foreign car (as the wire services say) down the sidewalk and over in front of the steps leading into the Legion hall. From this vantage point, he unloaded all his equipment and carried it into the hall.

Gus had barely started his show when there was a commotion toward the back of the hall. Those near the door started laughing and Gus looked up to see a flock of hefty Kiwanis members carrying his small foreign car (as the wire services report) into the Legion hall!

And he'd locked the car door just so no one would have a chance to fool around IN the car!

Then on Friday, Gus was scheduled to participate in the program for a meeting of a woman's club. The presiding officer introduced him, then allowed as how she understood Gus collected keys. She handed him the key to a garage—a garage she used years ago while living in Minneapolis!

That makes about 2,001 keys handed to Gus in the past year or so and the old keys are still coming in.

TAKE A QUICK LOOK!

Here I stand in my neighbor's yard, Lookin' at the junk someone should discard. There's a pile of paper and a pile of scraps, To find your way, you'd need some maps. There's a handle-less broom and a broken table, The yard looks like the floor of a stable. The flowers are dead and the weeds are master. The fence will be hid if the grass grows faster. This untidy mess, I've seen before. Because I'm the slob who lives next door!

I'm red-faced as I stare at the piles immense, For I'm looking at my yard over their fence!

HARDER TO FIND

Pot Shots: When I went to school, we had a rather ancient dictionary, but it was much easier to use than some of the later editions I've encountered since then. I don't mean to imply that I was a much better speller when I was a student.

But our school dictionary had just oodles of pictures and if you wanted to spell octopus (or is it octopus or octopus?) you just opened the dictionary to about the right place and started looking for a picture of the critter. The dictionary was loaded with all sorts of pictures like that and it sure helped to find a word in a hurry!

Of course, if you have no inkling of where to look, it's much more difficult. For instance, you can look a long time for awcutopus or auctopus if you don't know how to spell octopus (or is it octopus or perhaps octopus?)

GENTLEMAN IN THE FOURTH ROW

Poor Man's Plato

By HAL BOYLE
DA NANG, South Viet Nam, May 10 (AP)—In a strange way one of the strangest places out this way is the wild and woolly press center. It is something like a 1925 auto court, the Long Branch saloon in Dodge City, Kans., and a Mexican gambling den.

Officially it is named the Da Nang press center. But it is also known as Riviera on the Da Nang, the flea-bag and best paradise. It consists of a series of yellow-painted tin roof rooms bordering a dusty court in the center of which stands a water tower.

The entrance is through a big iron gate. At the other end is a comfortable bamboo-topped patio which stretches to a barbed wire-protected ledge overlooking the Da Nang river. From here the weary gentlemen of the press can sally forth, yawning before dawn, to cover a morning patrol in the hills with the U.S. marines, or fly a helicopter mission.

At evening, dusty, bone-weary and perhaps shaken by their experiences, they return to shower and write their dispatches.

The French owner of the motel, a former marine engineer who left ship here around 1949 for reasons of his own, has six slot machines and an antiquated pinball machine.

The slot machines are fixed to yield the house a profit percentage that would shame a Chicago gangster.

The bar has five hostesses of the same vintage as the pinball machine. They are called Marie, Lou Tacky, High Tacky, Whacky and Old Faithful.

The press center is presided over by Lieut. Col. W. C. Mohr of Santa Ana, Calif., a pipe-smoking former company commander in the Korean campaign.

But the real major domo is S/Sgt. Harold F. Colby, 30, Easthampton, Mass., a man with a wife and a child. He and his wife hope to run a hotel of their own some day when he retires.

Colby plans to get his experience now by converting the press inn here into a kind of horizontal Miami Beach resort hotel. He wants to get rid of the faded barbelles and to ban the four cats, two many old dogs, and grave hoplods that play games in the courtyard.

He has installed a badminton court and acquired a motorboat for river cruising and water skiing. He also is having snappy new uniforms sewn for the waitresses so that Colby's Rita will have an air of spit and polish.

The correspondents are fond of the hard-working sergeant, but they point out one grave defect in the press center here. It is perhaps the only one in the world that doesn't have a telephone and a newsman without a telephone is like a plumber without a wrench.

TAYLOR'S VIEWS ON WORLD NEWS

By HENRY J. TAYLOR
Dr. Martin Luther King has rounded off again as a surrender salesman, urging President Johnson to scuttle our commitment in South Viet Nam. Is this really Dr. King's field?
Dr. King has long worried this writer. I see him as a promising man who broke the promise. That's always a sorrowful sight. Riding the ballista of the Nobel peace prize, he makes pronouncement after pronouncement that can only bring joy to Moscow, Peking, and Hanoi. Surely that's not his purpose, but it's the undeniable result.

On his home front he preaches each person's personal approval of laws. This isn't preaching peace in our democracy; it's preaching chaos. And if Dr. King is bright enough to get the Nobel prize he should be bright enough to know it.

He proclaims his civil understanding and sometimes demonstrates it, yet again and again he plunges along the line of least resistance. A case history will have to be written soon on what's happened to Dr. King.

Every American could be proud that another American won the Oslo accolade, and especially an American Negro. Moreover, such academic embellishments as Dr. King's honorary degree from Yale university are heartwarming, impressive and convincing. Dr. Ralph Bunche continues to give credit to similar great distinctions. But it seems to me unmistakable that Dr. King has been reading his fan mail.

Personal publicity is a heady wind and he has drifted far, far away from any intellectual anchorage or, in fact, any racial statesmanship ever claimed for him.

The Oslo action made Dr. King a world figure. Thus he's listened to throughout much of the world. This, of itself, imposes a special responsibility on Dr. King as a man and as an American.

Hamlet marked a time when "Hell itself breathes out contagion to this world." Dr. King knows full well that we are in such a time-at home and abroad. He isn't free to perform like a sanctimonious Adam Clayton Powell or a watered-down version of Malcolm X, as he did recently in Boston. Whoever has the ears of the ignorant man has the mind. Dr. King has descended—and now systematically descends—into making that pitch. It is very sad.

In addition, his relations are close with the delegates from emerging nations that largely dominate the United Nations. Many in this Afro-Asian bloc lambast our "indifference" to our racial problem while they themselves practice violent, relentless racism at home as a way of life. Dr. King's duty is to soften this hypocritical criticism, not harden it.

President Johnson, pressed by Vice President Ford, Castro, de Gaulle and others, knows what he is. He is nevertheless driving as fast as he can up the complex, tragic hill of civil rights problems. "Too slow," says Dr. King, with slight regard for the intentions and results of the President and our country.

This is both unjust and untrue. More is expected of Dr. King, and if too much is expected it's largely due to his own pretensions.

Stripped of verbiage, Dr. King's doctrine now claims that a person or group that disapproves of a law has a moral right to violate it. His duty, instead, is to inspire respect for the sanctity of law, without which democracy is impossible.

He is honor-bound to lead the defense of a fundamental: that while a law—federal, state or local—remains the law and conforms to the federal and state constitutions, it must be respected and obeyed, even by those who oppose it.

Laws can be changed, but nobody gives Dr. King or anyone else the right to flaunt them. Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes said that "a good catchword can defy analysis for 50 years." Well, such catchwords as civil rights, one man, one vote, desegregation need repudiation by Martin Luther King.

A don't-criticize-Dr. King club is dangerous nonsense. It's unworthy of intellectuals, the pulp and the press. Sacrosanct? Dr. King is an orator and an organizer. Since when is anybody off-base who honestly and fairly respects the package?

Religion in America

BY LOUIS CASSELLS
(United Press International)
A red-hot rumor is spreading through church circles that President Johnson is about to appoint a U. S. ambassador to the Vatican.

High administration officials say there is absolutely nothing to it.

Protestant church women visited the slums of 1,500 American cities last week to take a close-up look at poverty.

The visits were made by local groups from coast to coast at the instigation of United Church Women, an interdenominational body with 10 million members.

United Church Women has asked all of its local affiliates to join the war on poverty. The first step is get acquainted with the problem as a hometown rather than a national phenomenon.

Catholics who are dissatisfied with parochial schools are an articulate group, but apparently not a very large one.

That conclusion emerges from a nationwide survey conducted by the University of Chicago Opinion Research Center. It indicated that only about 10 per cent of the U. S. Catholic population is sharply critical of Catholic schools. The remaining 90 per cent may wish some improvements—for example, in crowding of classrooms, in broader curriculums—but the whole they are "very satisfied."

The Methodist church, which has 10,304,000 members, last year took in 177,901 new members from outside its own fold.

That figures out to one convert for every 88 Methodists—a very impressive record for a denomination that has always prided itself on its evangelistic zeal.

"It is obvious that something is radically wrong," says the Rev. Dr. Kermit Long, general secretary of the Methodist board of evangelism.

Dr. Long doesn't think Methodism can improve its record with "some new administrative gimmick." The convert figure will go up only when each Methodist layman recognizes that he is called to be a Christian missionary to the people around him.

Bridge by Jacoby

VANDERBILT PLAY IS REVIEWED
The oldest and most coveted national bridge trophy is the Vanderbilt cup which was put into play in 1929. This year it was won by Oswald and Jim Jacoby playing with Albert Weiss of Chicago, Philip Feldesman of New York, Ira Rubin of Fairlawn, N. J., and Dr. John Fisher

The South hand is a good example.
Jim: "He went down one at two spades, didn't he?"
Oswald: "Yes. West opened the ace of hearts and continued the suit and Ira would up losing two trumps, a heart, a diamond and two clubs. The score at our table was 50 points for our opponents."
Jim: "At the other table Phil Feldesman played the hand at two hearts after South failed to make a second bid. Phil won the game by opening and playing ace and another heart. He would lose two hearts and one trick in each other suit to give our team a score of 110 points at his table."
Oswald: "The net of 60 points was worth two international match points to us. If East doubled we would have broken even on the hand since 100 points net is not counted in this game. Had East gone to three hearts his partner might conceivably have made it but on any fairly normal play it would have gone down one and we would have been plus at both tables."

Instead of bidding four hearts, your partner bids four spades. What do you do?

The Doctor Says

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
What would it be like never to cry and never to feel pain? Not as much fun as you might suppose.

Some children are born with a disease known as familial dysautonomia which means a hereditary disturbance of the nervous system involving certain functions.

The victims do cry, but they shed no tears. They have normal intelligence but poor muscular control. They gag easily and have frequent spells of vomiting. They also perspire profusely and have bouts of fever as high as 110 degrees. Another name for this recently discovered abnormality is Riley-Day disease.

Pain normally is a warning sign and since the children with this disease do not feel pain they may suffer burns, fractures and cuts without knowing it. The only advantage is that if they have to have stitches taken they don't need an anesthetic.

It is rare for a doctor to diagnose this disease in a child under one. Since some victims die of complications in their first year, their death is usually blamed on some other cause.

Once the diagnosis is made, measures aimed at preventing complications are applied because no drugs have been found helpful. The child must be taught not to take hot food or drink. His friends must be taught not to engage him in rough games. When he has had a fall he must tell his mother so that she can look for an injury. One young victim was heard to say, "I'll bet I'm the most X-rayed kid in town."

Any parent who must carry the worry of trying to raise a child with this disease may get in touch with the Dysautonomia Association, Inc. (56 Fifth Avenue, New York, N. Y. 10036) for further information. In union there is strength.

Q—About three months ago my daughter, 8, had a kidney infection. The doctor cleared it up but suggested that we have her kidneys X-rayed. Would it be possible for her to have had kidneys and still look healthy?

A—Because kidney infections often recur, a check of your daughter's urine should be done three or four times a year for several years. If there is any evidence of a recurrence a thorough examination of the kidneys, including X-rays, should be made. The object is to treat the recurrence before she no longer appears to be healthy.

U.S. Scientist In Antarctic Said Missing

WASHINGTON, May 10 (AP)—A young U.S. scientist doing research in the Antarctic apparently lost his way in a blizzard and wandered to his death, the National Science Foundation reported yesterday.

The missing man is Carl Robert Ditch, 26, Monroe, Wis. A science foundation spokesman said Ditch was missing from a station in the Antarctic and "presumed lost."

The temperature at the time of his disappearance was 45 degrees below zero, with blowing snow gusting by 35-mile-per-hour winds.

Ditch was operating a small radio-noise station slightly more than one mile from the main station Saturday and he was returning to the main station. A hand-line connects the two installations so that scientists making the short trip do not lose their way.

The spokesman said Ditch had made the trip at least 25 times in the past but apparently dropped the handline and lost his way in the snow and Antarctic twilight.

Search parties were sent out and followed his tracks for four miles before the snow obliterated them.

The spokesman said floodlights had been rigged up and search parties were sent out early Saturday to aid in the search and the hope that Ditch might be found if he survived the night.

Fairly Good Fruit Crop Still Remains

HAGERMAN, May 10—Two Hagerman orchardists, Juan Moore and Everend (Bud) Jensen, say they still have a fairly good fruit crop and barring further frost damage should have a fair crop.

Jensen smudged two nights and saved most of his peaches. Damage in cherries and peaches was more severe, but he doesn't think he lost more than one-third of these two fruits.

Moore's main crop is apples, and although frost nipped them, even with smudging, he thinks he will still have a good crop.

Individual residents report cherry and peach loss and some apricots were frozen out.

Soft Landing Attempt on Moon Is Next

CAPE KENNEDY, May 10 (AP)—America's next moon shot will be an attempt to soft land a Project Surveyor spacecraft on the lunar surface this fall.

Russia's new Luna-five moon probe "follows" by seven weeks the close of the U. S. ranger series that produced 17,259 color pictures of the lunar landscape with three successful television craft.

The detailed pictures taken by Rangers 7, 8 and 9 showed that the moon's surface is smooth enough for Apollo manned landings, but it is up to surveyor probes to land gently on the lunar surface to see if it is hard enough.

The first of the spidery 2,250-pound Surveyors is tentatively scheduled for launch in late September by an Atlas-Centaur rocket. The shot, however hinges on the successful test flight in July of an Atlas-Centaur booster.

The first of the Surveyors will be an engineering test model and will carry only two television cameras—one to photograph the moon before landing and the other to scan the lunar surface after landing.

Later Surveyors will carry another camera and will also be equipped with instruments to drill and sample the moon's crust, feel moonquakes, measure micro-meteorites and study the strength of the lunar surface.

BOISE, May 10 (AP)—Idaho's flying "Music Man" is in New York this week to collect his award from the National Brand Names foundation as "Retailer of the Year" in the music division. He is William Dunkley, like the music man in the Broadway musical and film, he sells his musical instruments town by town. Dunkley once sold his wares from the back of a truck. Now he flies from village to village in Paris, Idaho, Oregon and Nevada to survey music interest—then sends in the trucks. "It is most gratifying to see the interest that could be aroused in giving the children—and adults too—an opportunity to develop their musical talents," says Dunkley. He began his musical career riding a bicycle over country roads to take cornet lessons. Now he owns a music firm in Boise that staffs 10 people.

BOISE, May 10 (AP)—Safe-crackers who escaped after being surprised at their work in a downtown department store yesterday remained in hiding early today. Charles McCreath, head of the household goods department, said one of the burglars struck and bound him when he walked in on them with his wife and daughter. McCreath said he heard the safe-crackers on the second floor when he walked in to do some week-end work—and they apparently heard him. The one who tied him up was wearing a hood made of a hard material, McCreath said. The department head's wife and daughter, both named Shirley, were with him but hid behind a counter and the burglar did not find them.

LEWISTON, May 10 (AP)—Creation of a new wilderness area in Washington and preservation of three additional rivers in their wild states has been advocated by the Pacific Northwest Conservation council. The council urged the wilderness area in the upper Tucannon drainage of southeastern Washington before ending three days of meetings over the week-end. Also proposed by the four-state organization of outdoors groups was additions to the wild rivers bill, on which senate hearings will be held May 18 in Boise. Proposed additions are the Salmon from Higgins to its mouth, the north, middle and south forks of the Flathead in Montana, and the Missouri from the Fort Peck reservoir upstream to Fort Benton, Mont. The council re-elected Bill Duff of Coeur d'Alene as its president. New officers include Vice Presidents Donald Aldrich of Missoula, Mont., Harold C. Breese of Portland and Robert Pettie of Alderwood Manor, Wash., and Secretary-Treasurer Floyd Whitmore, Seattle.

Science Now Confirms Eyes as Windows of Soul

WASHINGTON, May 10 (AP)—Science has rediscovered and nailed down what the folk have always known, namely that the eyes are, indeed, the "windows of the soul."

It may now be stated that the adoration, "Drink to me only with thine eyes," makes scientific as well as sentimental sense. The eyes, or the pupils thereof, are a truer and more genuine gauge of what a person really thinks or feels than whatever he may say, however "allegorically."

The fact that there is a definite relationship between a person's emotional state and the dilation or constriction (widening or narrowing) of his pupils has been established by recent scientific experiments conducted by Eckhard H. Hess, professor of psychology at the University of Chicago.

In a report published by Scientific American, Hess said that pupil behavior promises to be a sensitive and precise "new tool with which to probe the mind."

Advertisers, politicians, propagandists and would-be opinion molders generally may find the pupil test a useful gauge of their effectiveness.

Do you like non-objective art? You may truly believe you do and answer "yes." But your pupils, reflecting attitudes of which you are not consciously aware, may say "no."

Science has long known, of course, that the size of the pupil reflects changes in light intensity. A cat's eyes, for example, are wider by night than by day. The Hess experiments show that pupil size also measures "interest, emotion, thought processes, and attitudes."

This is, come to think of it, hardly surprising. The eye, Hess said, "is an extension of the brain. It is almost as though a portion of the brain were in plain sight for the psychologist to peer at." So "pupil response should make it possible to observe ongoing mental behavior directly."

As Hess concedes, folklore has long had an intuitive understanding of this. Hence such expressions as "eyes like saucers," "beady-eyed," "hard-eyed," eyes that were "pinpoints of hate" and "sheep's eyes, not to mention 'bedroom eyes.'"

"Some people to whom it is important to know what someone else is thinking appear to have been aware for some time of the relationship between pupil size and the emotions," Hess said.

For example, magicians doing card tricks are said to be able to identify the card a person is thinking about by watching his pupils enlarge when the card is turned up. Chinese jade dealers study a buyer's pupils

Wood River Jaycees Plan Future Events

HAYLEY, May 10—Wood River Jaycees are making plans for several projects: On May 23 and May 30 volunteers will have their blood typed. John A. Davies, chairman of the Walking Blood bank, says anyone having a Red Cross blood donor card may register by presenting the card. Members will construct a new case to hold Wood River high school sportsmanship trophies. The case will fit in with the decor of the new building, said Henry W. Winter, president of the club. Ivan Swanner, teen room-so chairman, has named Wallace DeBoard as Halley-Ketchum chairman and Kenneth Worthington chairman for the Picnic-Carey. Teen-agers taking drivers training classes will compete for honors in driving cars MAY 22.

Barbara Schwartz, Ketchum, has been chosen as the club's queen contestant for "Days of the Old West" celebration. DeBoard, who won first place in the District SPOKE contest, will be sent to Boise to compete for state honors. Ben Goldberg and company, Ketchum, has donated trophies for winners in the five and 10 minute prepared speech competition to be held later this month. A bid to hold the Idaho Jaycees state mid-year convention in Sun Valley will be made at the state convention May 13-15 in Boise. Ed John, district president from Burley, told members the convention will probably be held in October, and will attract 500 to 600 members. The group has gone on record as opposed to passage of the anti-firearms bill before the legislature. The May 17 meeting will be held at the Star cafe.

Panic Caused By Elephant In Lodge

KAMPALA, Uganda, May 10 (UPI)—The "elephant who came to dinner" caused a panic in the Murchison Falls Park lodge, but a doughty waiter saved the day, it was reported today. Diners in the lodge saw the elephant peering at them through a window. Then it smashed three windows with its tusks, put its trunk through and started snatching food from the tables. A waiter drove it away by whacking its trunk with a broom handle. Next evening, the same elephant charged park warden Roger Wheeler as he sat on the lodge's veranda. As it tried to climb the low wall surrounding the veranda, Wheeler beat it over the head with a stick. It ran away and has not been back.

Bottle Found 10 Years After Drop

ST. LOUIS, Mo., May 10 (UPI)—Kathryn Schmitt, 12, and Fay Dougherty, 11, were on an excursion boat that June 10, 1955, when they dropped their bottle into the Mississippi river. In the bottle was a note which read: "Whoever finds this note, please write telling us who you are and when and where you found it." The note also listed the addresses of Kathryn and Fay's parents. Today Kathryn, now Mrs. James Hutcherson, and Fay, now Mrs. Thomas J. Haas, got a letter from Warden Ross W. Randolph of the Illinois state penitentiary, Menard. About that bottle, the warden said, "Ladies, for your information, one of our inmates found this (bottle) on the farm here." The bottle had traveled only 80 miles in the 10 years. Mrs. Hutcherson and Mrs. Haas said they dropped the bottle into the river "just for fun" and "we forgot about the bottle a long time ago."

The Martin youth had only minor bruises and abrasions and was not hospitalized.

Big Four Foreign Ministers To Meet in Vienna May 15

VIENNA, May 10 (UPI)—The "big four" foreign ministers will meet here Saturday with no apparent desire to exchange more than the usual protocol courtesies. The foreign minister of Britain, the United States, Russia and France have accepted invitations to attend the May 15 festivities marking the signing of the Austrian state treaty 10 years ago. It will be the first such get-together since 1950 but none of the four powers has yet shown any interest to go beyond a strictly informal conversation. "The door for a formal four-power meeting is still open," an Austrian government spokesman said. "We could arrange it at the last minute and there is ample time in the program. However, the desire for such a meeting will have to come from our guests. So far, we have received no such request." Political observers here considered it highly unlikely that the foreign ministers would agree to a full scale meeting during their stay in Vienna. They said none of the four powers appeared very anxious to talk about the current world problems at the present stage. The Austrian government spokesman did not rule out the possibility of an informal meet-

They are Everett, Charles and Keith Taraba, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Taraba. The father is an inspector for Trans-World Airlines. In a note of congratulations, Joseph A. Brunton, Jr., chief Scout executive, said: "Occasionally we have had twins and a brother, or three brothers, become eagles together, but for triplets to receive their eagles at the same time is very unusual."

Wife of World Champion Cowboy Lives Lonely Life

BOISE, May 10 (UPI)—While Dean Oliver has become the winningest cowboy in the world through a rugged life of wrestling young steers, his wife is one of the loneliest women in the world, and a mite of a worrier. Martha Oliver, 35, is delighted her husband is tops at what came natural to him when he was a young man. She is also glad her husband has earned close to a million dollars roping and bulldozing in rodeos, and she's mighty happy he hasn't been injured. Quietly appraising her home while the master is away earning titles for some seven months a year, Mrs. Oliver said she never worries so long as her husband is in the rodeo ring, or on any horse or even on the horns of an angry young steer. "I begin worrying when he gets on the highways," Mrs. Oliver said. "The highways are more dangerous than anything he can do in the arena." Her husband had dogged his way to the top of the Rodeo Cowboy's association since he quit farming to become a professional rodeo cowboy about 12 years ago. He won the top honor of the association — the all-around cowboy — in 1963 and 1964. His current earnings, upon which the titles are based, indicate he might be the champion again in 1965. Oliver has won $10,000 this year in his specialty of calf roping. With this and what he has earned in bulldozing, he leads the all-around cowboy honors with $14,250. He is followed in all-around standings by Ken Stanton, Welser, who has $12,250. Mrs. Oliver, who finds herself the manager of the family's 75-acre ranch west of Boise, said her husband has won close to "half a million dollars" in rodeoing years. However, about half his winnings are gobbled up by his enormous travel expenses, rodeo entry fees, and for the care and purchase of his four trained rodeo ponies. "Still, it's better than working for wages," Mrs. Oliver said. "Dean loves what he is doing, and he's so dedicated to what he's doing that I can forgive him for being away so much." To Mrs. Oliver, her husband is a world champion because of his dedication to his career. When he is home, Mrs. Oliver says he spends his time in the field training himself and keeping in shape the two horses at home, should they be needed in an emergency. "I will be glad when he returns," she admits. "This has all been a wonderful experience, something you think you won't ever experience, but find out that you can." "Dean considers it all life. He is a champion because he takes this more deeply than he thinks. He takes it to heart, and he practices more than any of the other cowboys do." "There's no young cowboy at home to follow in the old man's boots, only Mrs. Oliver, Sheryl, 12; De Ann, 9, and Nikki, a year.

Expert Scolds First Lady About Weeds

A garden expert took Mrs. Lydon B. Johnson to task today for not getting the weeds cleared out of the presidential guest mansion Blair house just across the street from the White House. Despite the First Lady's beautification program, said Tom Stevenson, Washington Post garden counselor, Blair House "probably has more different kinds of weeds on its front lawn than any other turf area of similar size in Washington." Admitting the lawn isn't exactly unattractive, since its grass and weeds together are neatly clipped, Stevenson said: "It could be the green lawn of a genteel and impoverished family." Stevenson said Mary F. Wilroy, who manages Blair house, says she's aware of the weed problem and has asked for help from the national park service, which has been busily aiding Mrs. Johnson's beautifully-the-capitol project. They promised to send a park service team around. In case you might want to know the name of the Blair House weeds, Stevenson listed: Pennywort, chickweed, cinquefoil, dandelion, plantain, speedwell, ground ivy, yarrow, creeping Charlie, spotted spurge, creeping bargeweed and yellow clover.

Aggie Strongman Plans Rest After Competing In Two Final Meets

COLLEGE STATION, Tex., May 10 (AP)—Randy Matson, the big, silent strong man of the Texas Aggies, cracked the 70-foot barrier in the shot put Saturday despite an injured knee and said he would take a rest after competing in two more meets. It's been a long haul for the 20-year-old star, who started throwing the shot virtually the year around two years ago and hasn't let up since. He was second in the Olympic games, then cracked records right and left as he returned home to try to get in some studying at Texas A and M where he is a sophomore.

Matson competes in the Coliseum relays next week, then in the NCAA at Berkeley, Calif., June 17-18 and call it a season," said the handsome, black-haired 250-pound giant, while the crowd at the Southwest conference meet marvelled at his prowess with the 16-pound ball and the discus.

He hurled the shot 70 feet, 7 inches for a world's record and threw the discus 190 feet, 7 inches for a collegiate mark. Matson has a pulled ligament in his left knee. While throwing the shot Saturday it caused him more pain than he had ever experienced before. This helped him to decide he needed a rest to correct the ailment.

Someone mentioned the fact that he wanted to weigh 300 pounds. "I'd like to eventually get up to 270," he said, "but 300, never!"

Matson said he hadn't expected to hit 70 feet Saturday. He said that 68 would have pleased him, "but I felt so good in the warmup I just decided to aim at that 70."

Kranepool Paces Mets Over Braves

NEW YORK, May 10 (AP)—Ed Kranepool, whose bases loaded walk tied the game in the seventh inning, singled home the winning run with the bases loaded in the ninth, giving the New York Mets a 5-4 victory over Milwaukee in the second game of a doubleheader.

The Braves won the opener 8-2 behind the six-hit pitching of Tony Cloninger.

Milwaukee's Joe Torre smashed one homer in the first game and two in the second, winding up with six hits for the doubleheader. Mack Jones hit one in each game for the Braves.

Torre lofted a two-run homer over the fence in the fifth and connected again with no one aboard in the seventh.

Torre connected in the first inning of the opener after Hank Aaron beat out a two-out infield single.

Robinson Misses First Start Since Fall of 1963
BALTIMORE, May 10 (AP)—A fractured thumb forced Baltimore third baseman Brooks Robinson out of the Orioles starting lineup for the first time since Sept. 2, 1963, in the second game of Sunday's doubleheader against the Detroit Tigers.

However, Robinson, the American league's most valuable player last year, kept his string of 209 consecutive games alive when he pinch hit and scored the winning run in the nightcap.

Robinson will be out of the starting lineup for an estimated three to 10 days, but he'll be able to pinch-hit during this period.

Newman and Angels Beat Athletics 5-3

LOS ANGELES, May 10 (AP)—Rookie Jose Cardenal slammed a homer and single and stole home, helping Fred Newman notch his fourth straight victory Sunday as the Los Angeles Angels beat Kansas City 5-3.

The victory was the Angels' seventh in their last eight games and 12th in the last 14.

Newman held the O's to five hits but needed eighth-inning relief help from Bob Lee, who made his 12th appearance in 24 games and recorded his seventh save.

Joe Adcock and Lou Clinton each hit a single and double, and Jim Piersall collected a single and triple as the Angels pounded loser John O'Donoghue and three successors.

SEATTLE, May 10 (AP)—Behind the strong pitching of Tom Burgmeier and Jim McGlothlin, Seattle swept a doubleheader from Hawaii Sunday to win a Pacific Coast league baseball series 4-3. The scores were 5-1 in the opener and 5-0 in the seven-inning nightcap.

Robinson will be out of the starting lineup for an estimated three to 10 days, but he'll be able to pinch-hit during this period.

Pittsburgh starter Joe Gibbon had a one-hit shutout until the seventh inning when Johnny Sneed singled and came home on Dick Pavletich's two-out homer.

Callison and Stuart Lead Phils' Win

PHILADELPHIA, May 10 (AP)—Homeruns by Dick Stuart and Johnny Callison powered the Philadelphia Phillies to a 4-2 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals Sunday.

Both homers came off winless Ray Sadecki, a 20-game winner for the world champion Cardinals last year. It was Sadecki's fourth loss.

The Phillies scored two runs off Sadecki in the first inning on Richie Allen's triple and Stuart's third homerun, a blast on a change up pitch into the left field seats.

Callison's fifth homerun made it 3-1 in the third, singles by Alex Johnson, Gus Triandos and Ruben Amaro accounted for a fourth inning run.

Racer Loses Wheel, Driver Is Unhurt

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., May 10 (AP)—A rear-engine Lotus-Ford driven by 1963 "500" champion Parnelli Jones, lost a rear wheel during a speedway practice run Sunday.

Neither Jones nor the car was hurt.

Track observers said Jones apparently knew something was amiss before the rear right wheel rolled off the axle. They said the veteran driver slowed down suddenly just before the mishap.

Jones' car is similar to the one in which defending speedway champion A. J. Foyt crashed into a wall after losing a left rear wheel last week. Foyt's Lotus-Ford skidded more than 900 feet, and smacked into a wall.

Jones' car was one of several rear-engine vehicles which were temporarily barred from the track after Foyt's accident. The cause of the wheel-loss was traced to a new lightweight hub carrier on the cars this season.

The cars were permitted to engage in limited runs pending complete tests of the hub carriers.

S. A. Silberman, technical director for the United States Auto club, said after the mishap that the wheel came off because the hub broke. He said the exact cause of the hub break was undetermined.

The mishap followed a day in which 18 drivers took to the 2 1/2-mile oval to prepare for the first day of qualifications next Saturday.

Baseball Talks About Further Expansion, but Needs Players

NEW YORK, May 10 (UPI)—Baseball keeps talking further expansion but where are the players coming from? It makes you wonder when the New York Yankees put a "help wanted" ad in the paper extolling to the youth of America the virtues of playing baseball in Yankee pinstripes. There was method, of course, behind the apparent Yankee madness. They're looking for sleepers in the new free-agents draft program that goes into effect this spring, putting all unsigned prospects into a pool and then by cutting down the bonus bidding.

But there's no doubt good young players are hard to find and harder to develop. Consider this:

In 1940, a total of 44 minor leagues played through an entire season.

In 1965, the probable starters were reduced to 17 with three of those in Mexico.

Baseball depends upon the minors for talent as boxing once learned on the small clubs, as pro football depends upon the colleges and the colleges on the high schools.

Branch Rickey, who started chain store baseball with the old St. Louis Cardinals, has insisted everything is relative—if all major league teams have players of more or less equal skill no one will know the difference.

Then there's an observation from Gabby Hartnett of the Kansas City Athletics, who is back in baseball after a 19 year absence:

"In the old days, there were more good players on each club and they weren't quite so young." Baseball has to hope Rickey is right if further expansion is to be made.

Whitworth Tops PGA Golf Meet

SHREVEPORT, La., May 10 (AP)—Kathy Whitworth, San Antonio, Tex., captured top prize Monday in the Kiwanis 58,500 Ladies' PGA golf tournament Saturday with a final round 70.

Miss Whitworth totaled 210 for the 54-holes to finish five strokes ahead of veteran Patty Berg, Minneapolis, who shot a 73 for a 215 total. The leaders collected $1,275 and $1,035 for their efforts.

One stroke behind Miss Berg was Ruth Jessen, Bonsall, Calif., with 216. Perennial top money winner on the ladies' tour in past years, Mickey Wright, Dallas, shot a 72 final round for a 217 total.

Redlegs Edge Pirates 5-3 In Ninth

PITTSBURGH, May 10 (AP)—Frank Robinson's pinch hit, a bases-loaded single, drove in two runs in the ninth inning and gave the Cincinnati Reds a 5-3 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Robinson's hit came off Don Beale, who had just relieved Al McBean, and climaxed the Red's three-run ruff.

Pittsburgh starter Joe Gibbon had a one-hit shutout until the seventh inning when Johnny Sneed singled and came home on Dick Pavletich's two-out homer.

The Pirates built a 3-0 lead with two in the third inning on successive doubles by Dick Schofield and Bill Vardon.

Roberto Clemente's single plus Freese's double, a hit batsman and a single by Gene Alley.

Poles Cancel Games Slated By All-Stars

WASHINGTON, May 10 (AP)—Polish authorities, giving no official comment, have canceled games scheduled by an American all-star basketball team in five Polish cities.

The team revised its tour plan and will make Rome the first stop on its European trip.

The eight National Basketball Association stars, accompanied by Philadelphia Coach Dick Patullo, Schayes and NBA President Walter Kennedy, had been scheduled to arrive in Warsaw this weekend for games in Warsaw, Lodz, Poznan, Wroclaw and Krakow.

But the Poles notified the U.S. Embassy the visit was being canceled for lack of hotel space and a sudden unavailability of arenas.

Official Polish disfavor with U.S. policy in Viet Nam, however, was viewed as the reason for the cancellation.

The basketball tour was scheduled under state department sponsorship.

TACOMA, May 10 (AP)—A grand slam homer by second string catcher Jack Hernandez in the fourth inning of a nightcap enabled the Portland Beavers to come from behind for a 7-3 victory and an even break with the Tacoma Giants in the Pacific Coast league baseball double-header Sunday. Tacoma took the opener 4-1.

ISU Grid Greats Return to Play Oldtimers Game

POCATELLO, May 10 (AP)—Many of Idaho State university's all-time great football players will return to the campus Saturday to join the alumni squad which meets Coach Babe Caccia's varsity at 3:30 p.m. in the ISU stadium. The traditional "oldtimers" game, which concludes spring grid practice, is being sponsored this year by Bengal lettermen in the I club.

Miss Richey Takes Win in Tennis Meet

POCATELLO, May 10 (AP)—Nancy Richey, Dallas, swept into the women's tennis championships Sunday but her young brother, Cliff, was upset in men's competition.

Miss Richey, 22-year-old brunette who ranks as the top U. S. woman player, easily defeated Van Zyl, a 19-year-old blonde, in the first set. She will play for the title Tuesday against two-time winner Maria Eugenio, Brazil, who defeated Maria Annette Van Zyl, 6-4, 6-0 in the South Africa.

Miss Richey took only 65 minutes to beat the 19-year-old Miss Eugenio, a Stanford coed who has been studying in France.

And the top-seeded Miss Eugenio after shorter work of Miss Van Zyl, who was bothered by a blister on her left foot, made no effort at all in the last set. The Brazilian star won in just 50 minutes.

Raul Gilbert, Spain, stunned Richey in the 18th game of the first set when he broke the American's service in a love game, and the teen-aged Texan never recovered.

"I lost, that's all I have to say," Richey commented sourly in his way to the dressing room, refusing to talk to newsmen.

Banks Slams Two, Cubs Split Pair

CHICAGO, May 10 (AP)—Hot-hitting Ernie Banks slammed two homers and Glenn Beckert hit his first major league homer in leading the Chicago Cubs to a 7-1 victory Sunday.

Ernie Banks had taken the first game of the doubleheader 11-5. Beckert slugged his homer in the third while Banks slammed a home run in the fourth and sixth.

Banks also drove in a run in the first game and now has bled in at least one run in the last eight games, raising his major league leading RBI total to 31.

Dick Ellsworth had the Astros blanked through seven innings but weakened in the eighth when Rusty Staub singled, and Ron Brand tripled him home with one out.

Staub led Houston's 18-hit attack in the first game with a three-run homer and a two-run double. Staub's homer, his fourth in five games, came with two on in the sixth inning and put Houston ahead to stay.

Orioles Take Twin Wins From Tigers

BALTIMORE, May 10 (AP)—Brooks Robinson, batting with a fractured right thumb, slugged a pinch-hit single in the 12th inning and scored the winning run as the Baltimore Orioles completed a doubleheader sweep by edging Detroit 5-4 in the second game Sunday.

The Orioles won the opener 7-1 behind Milt Pappas' six-hit pitching.

Robinson, who will be lost for three to 10 days but can pinch hit despite the fracture, singled with one out in the 12th, moved up when Fred Gladding hit Paul Blair with a pitch and scored on Norm Siebern's single to left.

The Tigers had taken a 4-2 lead on two-run homers by Al Kaline and Willie Horton off Jim Palmer, a first-year bonus rookie making his first major league start.

Rookie Curt Blefary drove in the first two Oriole runs with a bases-loaded walk in the first inning and a solo homer, his seventh.

In the opener, Pappas pitched a six-hitter as he started his first game in 15 days and only the second since suffering a knee injury on April 19. It was the 90th lifetime victory for Pappas.

Boog Powell knocked in three runs in the first game with a solo homer and two sacrifice flies. Catcher Charlie Lau, starting his first game of the year, had three hits and drove in two runs.

Much Complaining Expected by Pro Golfers About U.S. Open

NEW YORK, May 10 (UPI)—Pro golfers are overly pampered crybabies sometimes and if you think not, wait until you hear them holler how tough the rough is at the U. S. open five weeks from now. They'll complain about the rough at the open because it has become a sort of ritual with them. They always do, even though they're fully aware the U. S. Golf association would not permit the championship to be held on any course it considered unfit or unfair. This year's open will be played at the Bolle Country club in St. Louis, June 17-20, and although officials there have been working two years just to get the course in perfect shape for those four days, you can expect the usual beefs from the pros.

Before they start hollering, however, the golfers should consider a few of these facts:

—A total of 30,000 man-hours of labor, more than it took to land our troops in Viet Nam, will go into staging the open and this labor is chiefly on a voluntary basis.

If all this work had to be paid for, the cost would exceed a million dollars.

And the total prize money now is $125,000 whereas Horace Rawlins received only $150 for winning the first U.S. open at Newport, R.I., in 1895.

Everything that possibly can be done to help the competitors is being done by Bellevue's 400 members, all of whom are pitching in one way or another with out pay.

Louis W. Menk, the general chairman of the U.S. open committee, offers a perfect example. He's president of the St. Louis San Francisco railway so he now has two big jobs on his hands, one of which nets him zero.

In case defending champion Ken Venturi has trouble getting a room in St. Louis, Menk has offered him the use of his private railroad car for the open.

The USGA, which is the governing body of golf, works day and night preparing for the open also.

Frank Hannigan, the USGA's competent tournament manager, leaves for St. Louis Sunday and will be at the course "for the duration" to act as overseer and help local officials in any way he can.

"This year's course will be the longest one in the history of the Open. It's 7,191 yards and par is 70. The rough will be standard, two inches high right off the fairway and four inches high beyond that."

Solons Outdo Yankees for Third Time

WASHINGTON, May 10 (AP)—The Washington Senators beat Whitey Ford for only the second time in five years as they defeated New York 5-4 Sunday and took the series three games to one.

It was the first time since August, 1960, that the Senators won a four-game series from the Yankees.

Don Zimmer snapped a 2-2 tie with a sacrifice fly to right with the bases loaded in the seventh inning. Ken McMullen drove in another run with his third hit, a single to center.

Frank Howard's bases-loaded single in the third gave the Senators a two-run lead. The Yankees tied it off Phil Ortega on homers by Phil Linz, his first, and Hector Lopez.

Giants Rally in 8th To Tip Dodgers 6-3

SAN FRANCISCO, May 10 (AP)—Ed Bailey's sacrifice fly drove in the tie-breaking run in a four-run eighth-inning uprising that carried the San Francisco Giants to a 6-3 victory over the Los Angeles Dodgers and Sandy Koufax Sunday. The loss cut off the Dodgers' winning streak at five games. The teams were tied 2-2 after seven innings.

The Dodgers pulled out front in their half of the eighth on singles by Wes Parker, Ron Fairly and pinch hitter Wally Moon, but the Giants came back to put it out of reach in their half.

Willy Mays got the Giants started with a walk, and Jim Hart singled for his third hit and only the Giants' fifth off Koufax. Alou then singled across a run, Jim Davenport beat out a bunt and Bailey followed with the decisive sacrifice fly.

Marchal, who did not start because of a groin injury, came on to end the Dodgers rally in the eighth after Japanese pitcher Masanori Murakami had made his first appearance for the Giants after being added to the roster earlier in the day.

Murakami, relieving Perry, hit one batter and struck out one before Marchal took over.

The victory brought Marchal's record to 5-2. Koufax is 3-2.

MISSING THE BALL but Houston Astros rightfielder Rusty Staub grabs the vines Sunday as he crashes into the wall at Wrigley field in Chicago. Staub made a futile attempt to get the ball that bounced off the wall giving Chicago Cubs centerfielder, Don Landrum a fifth-inning triple in the first game of a doubleheader, which the Astros won 11-5. The Cubs came back to win the second game 7-1. (AP wirephoto)
