Auditors Eye Clarifying of Voting Rules

MOSCOW, Idaho (AP)—The Idaho Association of County Auditors is expected to adopt today a resolution asking the legislature to clarify voting rules which they believe permit an unregistered resident to vote.

The state's voting laws came under discussion during opening sessions of the association's annual convention at Moscow Thursday. The three-day meeting will conclude Saturday.

Latah County Auditor M. K. Cline, president, told the some 50 delegates Thursday that he had received a number of inquiries from offices throughout the state after the voting question was raised during the last general election.

The section of state law under question provides that a person who is challenged by voting judges cannot be deprived of his vote if he signs an oath affirming that he is a citizen of the United States, 21 years of age, and that he has been a resident of the state for six months and of the county for 30 days.

Senator Raps Bill to Curb Gun Traffic

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Gordon Allott attacked today the administration-backed bill to curb gun traffic. He said Lee Harvey Oswald could just as easily have purchased his rifle from a sporting-goods store as from a mail-order house.

Two days ago, Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach, testifying in favor of the bill, told the subcommittee: "As long as I live, I can never forget that it was a mail-order rifle sent to a post-office box, that had been rented under an assumed name, by a man with an established record of defection and mental instability—that killed President Kennedy."

Allott and another Republican senator from the West—Arizona's Paul Fannin—argued that the administration bill would penalize ordinary, law-abiding citizens without correcting abuses in the use of firearms.

Allott said he objects to the notion that the word "guns" is a four-letter, Anglo-Saxon word with dirty connotations. He said, "Perhaps we of the West are more familiar with firearms and therefore fear them less, recognizing it is the abuse of the weapon that is the real problem. There are legitimate uses and legitimate users and I strongly feel we must not unduly hinder these legitimate uses in attempting to curb the abuses."

Defeated Union Leader Weeps

WASHINGTON (AP)—"Say a prayer for me," said a weeping David J. McDonald, defeated president of the United Steelworkers Union.

McDonald, for 12 years one of the nation's top labor leaders as chief of the million-member steelworkers, wept before hundreds of union delegates at an AFL-CIO banquet Thursday night.

High School Students Guard Building Against Vandalism

An effort on the part of the Twin Falls High School graduating class to curtail defacing of the high school building and stadium began three nights ago. The students take turns watching the building at night, and some of the boys have even stayed overnight in sleeping bags. Other students keep them well supplied with hamburgers and soft drinks.

One boy keeps his guitar on hand to make the long hours from sundown until dawn go faster. According to George Stauda, high school principal, the seniors decided among themselves to organize the night watches. He said they are showing pride in "helping the school and themselves."

T.F. College Names Vocational Director

Dr. James L. Taylor, College of Southern Idaho president, Thursday evening announced the selection of a director for the technical training program planned in conjunction with the junior college when classes begin here this September. He is Wayne Rodgers, who is currently director of trade and industrial education at Columbia Basin Junior College, Pasco, Wash. The appointment was confirmed in a telephone conversation between Dr. Taylor and Rodgers.

Date Listed For Four-Day Space Flight

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP)—The National Aeronautics and Space Administration announced today that Thursday, June 3, is the target date for the four-day space flight of Gemini astronauts James A. McDivitt and Edward H. White II.

Officials had said previously that the flight was scheduled "in the third quarter of 1965," which begins July 1. However, news services have listed the June 3 date for several weeks, based on unofficial sources.

The agency had listed the latter period to provide time for preparation and to avoid criticism if the target day were missed.

Investigators Probe Charred Airliner Wreck

CAIRO (AP)—Investigators probed the charred wreckage of a Pakistan jet airliner today looking for a cause of the accident that killed 121 persons, including four Americans.

Six persons—all Pakistanis—survived. The four-engine Boeing 720B was on an inaugural flight from Karachi to London, via Cairo, when it crashed Tuesday into the sands in a desolate area outside Cairo.

The address was given by Bishop Foote, Mrs. John Hayes, nominating chairman, gave a brief report.

Chairman for the coming term will be Bert Larsen, Christian education; Rev. Robert McNeil, social education and action; Lawrence Harvey, youth work, and Deaconess Winona Campbell, migrant work.

Rev. Earl Riddle has been serving as temporary chairman of the group and Rev. Mr. Harvey has been acting as temporary secretary. Others of the executive committee have been Ihler, C. B. Thomas, Jerome Methodist Church, and Jack Threlkeld, Episcopal Church of the Ascension.

Judge John L. Niblack's order Thursday permits Glenn O. Black, 63, Indianapolis, to visit his 3-year-old Toy Manchester named Pretty from 2 p.m. to 4 p.m. on Sundays.

Plot to Topple Viet Nam Regime Crushed by Raids

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP)—A government spokesman said today assassination of key Vietnamese civilian and military leaders was one aim of a plot crushed by a lightning series of raids Thursday night. He reported the zero hour had been set for 11 p.m. Thursday. Word of the coup attempt, intended to topple both premier Phan Huy Quat's regime and the South Vietnamese military high command, leaked out late Thursday afternoon, the spokesman said. Counter action was launched at once.

The leaders were described as dissident military officers and civilians who had promoted two abortive uprisings in the last eight months—Sept. 13 and Feb. 19.

One officer identified as Capt. Huynh Tan Hung, was killed in the roundup. The spokesman said he was shot trying to escape.

At least 33 others were arrested. These included Lt. Col. Le Hoanh Thao, former commander of the 46th Infantry Regiment, which joined the coup makers Feb. 19.

However, the key leader, Col. Pham Ngoc Thao got away, the spokesman said. Another still sought is Brig. Gen. Lam Van Phat. Both have been sentenced to death in absentia for their previous anti-government efforts. They are believed hiding in the Saigon area.

Thao's brother, Pham Ngoc Thuan, was among those arrested last night. "This is a Vietnamese affair," said a U.S. spokesman, adding that the embassy was aware that several plots against the government and the military command were boiling up.

The spokesman said Ambassador Maxwell D. Taylor had been "fully informed" of developments. He went ahead with a planned inspection trip to the northern part of the country.

Ambassador's Plane Hit By Bullet

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP)—A bullet fired from the ground hit a jet transport bearing Ambassador Maxwell D. Taylor from Saigon to Da Nang today, but nobody aboard was hurt, a U.S. military spokesman said.

Taylor flew to the Da Nang air base, 380 miles northeast of Saigon, to visit U. S. Marine Corps units there.

The bullet hole was discovered in the nose section when the T39 twin-jet Sabre liner landed after making a low-level flight over the Chu Lai area, 53 miles south of Da Nang. One source said the plane apparently was hit over that area.

The spokesman said no repairs were necessary and the plane returned the ambassador uneventfully to Saigon.

Ore-Ida Acquisition By Heinz Is Pending

ONTARIO, Ore (AP)—The sale of Ore-Ida Foods, Inc., a frozen food processing firm with plants at Ontario, Ore., and Burley, Idaho, to the H. J. Heinz Co. was announced Thursday, subject to approval by stockholders of both firms. The price was $29.7 million, said Dale McLane, public relations representative of Ore-Ida. In addition to the two plants now in operation another is under construction in Wisconsin. It was announced Thursday afternoon in Pittsburgh, Pa., that negotiations for the acquisition of Ore-Ida by the Heinz Co. had been authorized. The sale was reported later by McLane in Ontario.

Trustee Vote At Richfield Slated June 1

RICHFIELD—Richfield School District trustee election has been set for June 1, instead of June 9 as previously announced, it was reported Thursday night.

Deadline for filing petitions for the election, which was scheduled after discrepancies occurred in balloting here Monday, is Saturday night.

Three petitions had been filed by Thursday evening, by Burt Akins, zone No. 1; Clifford Connor, incumbent in zone No. 2, and Grant Flavel, incumbent in zone No. 3.

In Monday's voting an error was discovered in the number of votes cast. Connor received 14 votes and Bishop Jay Ward of the Richfield LDS Church received 15 written votes for a total of 29 votes, although 30 affidavits had been signed in zone No. 2.

Zoning Group Aide Explains Questionnaire

Nolan Victor, Twin Falls, chairman of the Citizens' Committee on Zoning, said Thursday that a questionnaire which the committee is sending out "can in no way be called misleading unless certain restrictions in the original ordinance are no longer being considered."

He noted that the questionnaire is "based on facts taken, undistorted, from the original 84-page ordinance."

He referred to a statement by Morris Carlson, chairman of the Twin Falls County Commission, in which the questionnaire pamphlet was referred to as "misinformation" being circulated by "various devious means by a self-appointed few individuals who will conform to nothing."

Victor said his committee was formed after "citizens of the county found it virtually impossible to express any opposition to the proposed ordinance at the public hearings held by the commissioners."

He said, "a meeting, open to the public, was held by concerned citizens. At this meeting a committee was chosen, the functions of which are to inform the public as to the scope and extent of the proposed zoning, and to obtain the thinking of the Twin Falls County residents."

The committee chairman said the group will have its third public meeting next week and urged interested citizens to attend.

Water Released At Little Wood River Reservoir

CAREY—Gates at Little Wood River Reservoir were opened Thursday to let out 1,170 second feet of water due to the increased inflow during the past four days, reported Lowell Mechem, watermaster for the Little Wood River Irrigation District.

BLAINE COUNTY CREWS are hauling mine dump from the Silver Star Queens Mine to the banks of the Big Wood River, just below the Bellevue-Broadford bridge to keep the water from flooding ranches west of the river. Ralph Griffin and Walter Kohler have been working on the project after the river began eating through gravel below the bridge. Several hundred tons of mine dump were hauled about two weeks ago to keep the water from flooding the ranches. About seven stock ranches would be affected if the river should spill over its banks. Good Chance Of Sales Tax Ouster Seen

BOISE (AP)—A final tabulation showed 61,787 registered voters signed the anti-sales tax referendum petitions and Secretary of State Arnold Williams said he thinks supporters of the levy will have a fight on their hands to keep it.

The referendum will come in November, 1966, about a year and a half after collection of the 3 per cent sales tax begins July 1.

The 61,787 total far exceeded the required 25,545, one-tenth the number who voted for governor in the last election.

Williams said the number of signatures indicates "there certainly was a lot of interest" in the referendum.

"If it is an indication of the enthusiasm of the anti-sales tax forces," Williams said "it means they have a good chance to repeal the levy in 1968."

"The sales tax people really have got a selling job to do. Unless they can go out and sell the people on the benefits of the sales tax and what it will do for Idaho's economy, I think the law will be repealed."

Williams said he believes one factor that will be difficult to overcome is that the total tax load as a result of sales tax passage will be greater, on a percentage basis, for the family with low income.

The secretary of state said he has not made a complete check but believes that all 44 of Idaho's counties are represented by the referendum petitions.

Judge Shaub Speaks for Bliss Event

BLISS — Probate Judge Zoe Ann Shaub, Twin Falls, was speaker at Bliss Commencement exercises Wednesday night at the high school gymnasium. The judge used "Whose Mrs. of the Big Bad Wolf?" as her theme, stating that during high school days students are protected and sheltered, but as they graduate they are considered adults and have to work for all things, and the realization comes that it is not a make-believe world, but one of stark reality.

Professional music was played by Linda Stroud on the piano. The junior class led the graduating eighth grade and senior classes into the auditorium in a candlelight ceremony. James Calkins gave the invocation. Wanda Lloyd sang, accompanied by Deloris Robinson, both Gooding.

Sue Bright gave the salutatory address and Gretchen Belsher the valedictory speech. A girls sextet composed of Gretchen Belsher, Sue Bright, Marjorie Pearson, Doris Graves, Peggy Miller and Barbara Pearson, sang.

Milk Supply Dried up in Dairy Strike

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Sale of powdered milk and canned evaporated milk took a sharp upturn today as this city's 350,000 residents headed into a weekend in which fresh milk won't be delivered to their doorsteps or be available at neighborhood stores.

The milk supply was just about dried up by a strike early Wednesday of Teamsters Local 361 against the six major Toledo dairies. The union is deadlocked with the companies in negotiations on a new contract for about 500 drivers and plant workers employed by the dairies.

Thursday a few stores still had milk for sale — in most cases because they held it back from Wednesday's rush of customers. But by noon the stocks of all the supermarkets and larger stores were gone. Generally, sales were limited to one gallon per customer.

Some fresh milk still is available from a small dairy, Sterling, which has no Teamsters Union contract and serves about a dozen stores. And residents in northern Lucas County need drive only a short distance across the state line to Michigan to pick up a few gallons.

DEAD WORK

MANILA (UPI) — Employees of a Manila funeral home went on strike Thursday because "working conditions" inside were not fit for the living.

The group is commemorating the 100th anniversary of the Civil War. They left Twin Falls early Friday morning, with stops planned in Burley and Rupert. (Times-News photo)

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

By ANDREW TULLY
WASHINGTON — Man and boy, I have tripped on some rare hooch in a lifetime of dropping in on urban centers like Izmir, Turkey, but I confess to some apprehension over a new fad lately affected in Washington saloons.

This is a fancy for something called mead, which the British have foisted on us colonialists as a means of snagging an occasional extra dollar. Johnny Bull is sending us this mead, not to polish furniture with, but to drink, and the bucolic calm of our watering places is thereby threatened.

Mead is a kind of wine made out of honey and water and fermented with yeast. Until shortly after World War II, little of it had been produced since the 17th Century. But now a bunch of British booze outfits are offering it to the world—meaning, mostly, us innocent Americans. Several thirst-quenching emporiums are featuring the stuff in newspaper advertisements, and you can pick up a jug in most liquor stores.

"LIQUID MUSCLES"—Mead doesn't taste like honey, but like wine, only much stronger in a sinister kind of way. Sipping the stuff, the law-abiding citizen who has spent a lifetime knuckling under to insurance salesmen suddenly becomes a lion ready to spring at the heavyweight champion of the block—or even at his wife. A friendly native I once encountered in Coventry, England, described it happily as "liquid muscles."

Although mead has been out of fashion for three centuries, it's one of the oldest varieties of popskull in history. In ancient times, no Greek or Roman was without a beaker of the stuff, and it was mead the Greeks were referring to when they sang the praises of nectar. With a skinkful of nectar, the Greek slave started thinking about running for dictator.

SIX VARIETIES—In England, the drink was popularized by the Druids, those old political machine bosses and medicine men who went around selling mistletoe and burning people alive in wicker cages. The Druids, according to the historians, found mead very relaxing after a hard day over a hot cage, just as the Roman emperors discovered it added to the pleasure of watching a lion devour a few Christians.

Our British cousins are sending over six varieties of mead. There is the common, or garden, variety which tastes like Hock or Moselle. Sack mead is a desert type, reminiscent of tokay. Sack Methelgin is the vermouth of mead; it's flavored with herbs. Then there is cyser, a mead made with apple juice instead of water which tastes a little like sherry. Pymment is a light red wine made from grape juice and honey.

All-purpose mead is called melomel, and is not bad when mixed with gin, provided everything in the room is too heavy for throwing purposes.

1965 DRUIDS RESENTFUL—The British think it is romantic that the art of mead-making should have been revived, but they affect a wistfulness about the fact that most of the stuff will be shipped to the U.S.A. Limey pal expressed the fear the other night that Americans will become better connoisseurs of mead than the folks who produce it.

"You rich Americans," he complained. "You can afford to appreciate our good scotch, while we have to make do with beer. Now you're going to buy up all our mead."

Hopefully, he is wrong. For reasons of domestic tranquility, Americans would do well to stick to their own bourbon. I do not wish every saloon in town to be declared a disaster area.

TIME TO SEE AMERICA FIRST
House Ways and Means Committee approval of a sharp cut in duty-free limits on goods American tourists can bring home is another move in President Johnson's campaign to ease the U. S. balance of payments deficit.

But it's a very small step, and even its sponsors admit that its principal effect will be psychological. By reminding tourists not to splurge abroad, it may also induce them to "See America First."

Perhaps it was not entirely coincidental that the First Lady embarked on a tour of historical spots in Virginia at the same time the committee had the measure under consideration.

Without regard to the effect the bill may have on the "tourist gap," a good case can be made for traveling at home this year. Obviously the costs are less, and certainly there are few, if any, Americans who can claim they have exhausted all the recreational and cultural features of the 50 states.

It is even safe to say that there are many Californians who have not even scratched the surface of their own state.

Washington, D. C., stacks up well against other great capitals of the world. A first visit to New York, Chicago or Philadelphia can be vastly stimulating. Those interested in cuisine can find variety across this nation equal to the best foods offered on a European tour.

IN PRAISE OF MILKMAN
A milkman in Rochester, N. Y., has recently completed 92 years on his round. He has just turned 92. He gives credit for this happy state of affairs to his habit of drinking two quarts of his wares every day—a reason more colorful, no doubt, than it would be if given by a distiller.—London Times.

POT SHOTS

IT HAPPENED!
Pot Shots:
It wasn't a laughing matter, but when I read that story about the Heyburn child handing his mother a live grenade with the pin pulled out, I couldn't help laughing.

You see, in my own younger days during the worst of World War II, I often had thoughts of walking up to my teacher, pulling the pin out of a grenade and handing the grenade to her as I walked out of the room. I'd forgotten all about that childish attitude until reading the story the other night and then it all came back with a rush.

I wonder just how many children entertain such dire thoughts at one time or another! Certainly I never dreamed it would ever happen, but inasmuch as it did, I'm grateful the grenade was so rusty it couldn't explode.

NOTES TO YOURSELF
Dear Pot Shots:
Every so often, I'll stick a hand into a pocket and discover a little note. Anyway, I think they must be notes although they might qualify as hrologlyphics or even Sanskrit.

Eventually, I will recognize the characters as some of my own inimitable handwriting. And once in a while I can even make out a word here and there. Once I managed to decipher the whole thing and it was a lucky thing for me. Seems I wrote myself a note about the wife's birthday and what I wanted to get for the anniversary.

That's what comes from getting old. I can't remember anything anymore so I write myself notes. But I have a way of putting the notes in my pocket and forgetting all about them. By the time I find them, I can't read them!

GENTLEMAN IN THE FOURTH ROW

Religion In America

By LOUIS CASSELS

United Press International
Six years ago, the United Presbyterian Church asked a group of scholars to draw up a brief contemporary statement of faith that would make basic Christian beliefs intelligible to space-age men and women.

After much consultation and rewriting, the Presbyterian theologians have produced a document which will be presented to the denomination's general assembly during its current (May 20-26) session at Columbus, Ohio.

It seems likely to provoke brisk debate, since it says some things about the Bible which will not go down easily with conservative Presbyterians who believe that the words of the scripture are the words of God, and therefore totally without error.

The proposed new confession of faith affirms that "God's word is spoken to His church today where the scriptures are faithfully preached and attentively read in dependence on the guidance of the holy spirit."

But it goes on to say that: "The words of the scriptures are the words of men, conditioned by the language, thought-forms and literary fashions of the places and times at which they were written. They reflect views of life, history and the cosmos which were then current, and the understanding of them requires literary and historical scholarship."

It acknowledges that the Bible contains a "variety" of views on many different subjects, from the origin of the universe to the propriety of eating certain foods. This does not indicate that the Bible is an unreliable or self-contradictory book. It simply "shows that God fore-communicated with men in diverse cultural situations."

For Christians, there is a simple yardstick for resolving any conflict between biblical texts. The Bible is always to be interpreted in the light of the teachings of Jesus Christ, "the word of God incarnate—the one sufficient revelation of God."

If the Old Testament prescribes "an eye for an eye," but Jesus commands, "Love your enemies," it is to the latter that Christians look for guidance.

The most eloquent passages of the proposed new confession are those which attempt to tell who Jesus was and what He accomplished for mankind.

"In Jesus of Nazareth true humanity was realized once for all," it says. "Jesus, a Palestinian Jew, lived among his own people and shared their needs, temptations, joys and sorrow. He expressed the love of God in word and deed and became a brother to all kinds of sinful men. But His complete obedience led Him into conflict with His people. His life and teaching judged their goodness, religious aspirations and national hopes. Many rejected Him and demanded His death."

"In giving himself freely for them He took upon himself the judgment under which all men stand convicted. God raised Him from the dead, vindicating Him as Messiah and Lord. The victim of sin became victor, and in Him man is victorious over sin and death . . . the risen Christ is the savior of all men. Those joined to Him by faith are set right with God and commissioned to serve as His reconciling community."

Unmentioned in the new confession is the old-time Presbyterian doctrine of "predestination," which held that God foredominantly young adults, fluid may collect in a joint, usually on one side only, every seven to 11 days. The cause is not known, but in some victims it appears to be a food allergy because, when the offending food is eliminated from the diet, the condition clears up. Unlike other forms of allergy, however, antihistamines are of no value. In other victims this collection of fluid is a part of their arthritis.

Your doctor is right not to want to perform an operation that would leave you with a stiff knee. Injections of hydrocortisone into the joint have helped many victims.

Q—What causes blood clots and why do they kill some persons while others recover?
A—When the lining of a blood vessel is injured a complicated chemical reaction that leads to clotting occurs. When you cut your finger this protective mechanism prevents your bleeding to death. If, on the other hand, the clotting occurs because of a severe arterial disease rather than a cut, the blood supply to the part supplied by the diseased artery is cut off.

How serious this is depends on the size of the artery occluded, whether the artery is supplying a vital organ, whether other arteries in the region can supply the affected part and the general condition of the victim. Sometimes other arteries establish a collateral circulation almost at once and sometimes it requires weeks or months.

If a large clot occurs in the brain (stroke) it may cause death or it may cause paralysis from which the victim may eventually recover.

TAYLOR'S VIEWS ON WORLD NEWS

By HENRY J. TAYLOR
President Johnson's push-and-pull technique in the Viet Nam bombings, is coupled with important straws in the wind.

While the B-52s explosion and other bad news takes the headlines our field commanders find better military news developing behind the scenes.

On one hand, our ground forces' basic strategy is to avoid a trap by regular army of about 225,000 organized troops that he has not yet committed to fighting.

On the other hand, our air strikes seem to be building ingredients for more success than we had a right to expect. In fact, there was even a veiled admission of this development in an East Berlin speech by Deputy Premier Lo Jui-ching, Red China's chief of the army general staff.

A troop defector is a Viet Cong who seeks us out and voluntarily surrenders, with his ordains some men to salvation and others to eternal damnation. The only comment in the new document about final judgment is this:

"To receive life from the risen Lord is to have life eternal; to refuse life from Him is to be separated from God in death. All who put their trust in Christ face divine judgment without fear, for the judge is their redeemer."

Approval by two successive general assemblies and ratification by two-thirds of the local presbyteries in the country will be necessary to give official status to the proposed confession of faith. The process will take at least until 1967. If it is ultimately adopted, it will stand alongside, rather than replace the Westminster Confession of Faith which has been for 320 years the standard of Presbyterian orthodoxy.

Here are some more excerpts from the new document, which has been tentatively entitled "The Confession of 1967":

On original sin—"All human virtue, when seen in the light of God's love in Jesus Christ, is found to be infected by self-interest and hostility. All men, good and bad alike, are in the wrong before God and helpless without His forgiveness."

On one is more subject to God's judgment than the man who assumes that he is guiltless or morally superior to others."

On other religions—"The Christian finds many parallels between other religions and his own and must approach all religions with openness and respect . . . but the gift of God in Christ is for all men. The church, therefore, is commissioned to carry the gospel to all men whatever their religion may be or even if they profess none."

On race—"God's reconciliation of the human race creates one universal family and breaks down every form of discrimination based on alleged racial or ethnic difference . . . congregations, individuals or groups of Christians who exclude, dominate or patronize their fellow men, however subtly, resist the spirit of God and repudiate the faith which they profess."

On poverty—"Enslaving poverty in a world of abundance is an intolerable violation of God's good creation. Because Jesus identified himself with the needy and exploited, the cause of the world's poor is the cause of his disciples."

continues clubs South ruffs the second club in dummy, draws trumps as best he can and loses another club and a diamond to make his contract on the nose.

If West shifts to a trump it trick two South can't afford to draw trumps immediately. Instead he leads a low diamond from dummy at trick three. Later he will draw trumps, finesse against West's King of diamonds and make an over-trick.

This hand illustrates the one part of Edgar Kaplan's in "Modern Competitive Bidding in Modern Bridge" that we and practically all other experts disagree with him about. For years he has held a theory that the new partnership response to an overall should be a forcing bid.

He is almost alone in this respect and this hand illustrates the great weakness of this idea. He would not be able to bid two hearts with the South hand and would have to let his partner struggle with one spade.

CARD SENSE
Q—The bidding has been:
South West North East
1♣ Pass 1♦ Pass
1♠ Pass 2♥ Pass

Q—You South hold:
♠KQJ2 ♠104 ♦32 ♣A10
What do you do?
A—Bid two no-trumps. Your partner has given a forcing bid and your hand is a few hand for a minimum no-trump bid.

TODAY'S QUESTION
You bid two no-trump and partner jumps to four spades. What do you do now?

Another Minority

Residents of Marsing had some personal experience the other day with Idaho's unrealistic law that requires a two-thirds majority for a variety of elections involving bonds and special levies. Qualified voters in the Marsing School District voted 111 to 57 in favor of a special one-mill levy to meet additional expenses of maintenance. Still the levy was disapproved.

Offhand, anyone would regard a majority of 111 to 57 as fairly significant. Any politician who lost an election by that sort of margin would be willing to concede he had been properly shellacked. But in Marsing, Idaho law permits 57 voters to impose their will on the 111 voters and the rest of the community. There could be no clearer illustration of minority control. The Marsing election failed by a single vote.

Gov. Robert E. Smylie has asked each recent session of Idaho's legislature to do something about this unrealistic, obsolete law, but the lawmakers have failed to act.

Majority opinion is the very key to government in this nation, yet Idaho still sticks to a law that not only permits, but actually encourages, a minority to control the purse strings in many municipal and school district elections. How much longer will the farce continue? It's one of the things Idahoans should keep in mind when they vote for members of the state legislature.

PUBLICITY HOUNDS

Newsman are quite familiar with the type of exhibitionist they have dubbed publicity hounds. However, they don't understand any better than anyone else the forces that lead these individuals to seek public attention. It's quite normal for one or two to take the spotlight at any public meeting attended by a good crowd. The larger the gathering, the more certain is the appearance of one or more of these exhibitionists.

For many years, the annual stockholder meetings of large corporations have been plagued by exhibitionists, or publicity hounds. This year, the president of one large corporation endured a couple of hours of heckling before pleading with the meeting, "Does anyone have any idea about how to handle this?" Well, officers of the Communications Satellite Corporation came up with an answer the other day. When one of the familiar exhibitionists at corporation meetings started her show, she was asked to leave. When she demurred, guards picked her up bodily and carried her from the hall. A man was escorted out by guards.

Both got some of the public attention for which they apparently yearn. Yet ejecting exhibitionists from a meeting is not the answer to this special problem. For the most part, this particular brand of publicity hound hides behind an essential right, the right of freedom of speech. No one can deny everyone has the right to speak, yet the exhibitionists at any public gathering must be made to conform to the rules and procedures of meetings.

Perhaps there is no hard and fast answer to the corporation president's plea of, "Does anyone have any idea about how to handle this?" Certainly officials are well within their own rights to eject those who refuse to conform to rules and procedures, but beyond that procedure, it appears normal persons will just have to go on enduring the exhibitionists.

DEADLY POISON

The problem of drunken drivers is bad enough, but now the Federal Aviation Agency outlines another phase of the same problem—drunken flying. To the layman, it must seem almost incredible that a private pilot would even consider flying his plane while under the influence of alcohol. Those who fly have insisted for years that flying doesn't involve as many hazards as driving a car. It could be another case of familiarity breeding contempt.

The FAA says there have been about 500 fatal crashes each year for the past several years, killing 900 to 950 persons annually. As an indication of the extent of the drunken flying problem, one-third of autopsies revealed pilots killed in 1963 were under the influence of alcohol. It should be clearly understood these are private pilots, not airline fliers. Those who pilot airline planes just don't drink on the job.

Undoubtedly the FAA will spend more time studying the problem of drunken flying, but the mere disclosure that there is a problem and that it has figured in so many crashes should serve as a warning to those private pilots inclined to fly high (pun intended). Pilots should consider alcohol a deadly poison where flying is concerned because, to quote a time-honored pun about the poisonous aspects of flying, one drop can kill. Aviation has gained too much safety and respect to revert to those early days.

DUDS AND DUBES

In Texas there is a kind of labor shortage. The state employment office is having trouble finding enough seamstresses to sew Western clothes. A century-old saddle manufacturer is not retiring its old employees because it cannot find people who know how to make saddles.

Texas is experiencing a boom. It comes from a big, new national demand for Western dress, apparently because of the LBJ influence. Dudes everywhere are buying these duds: Western boots, jeans, hats and so on. Fort Worth reports its industries sold $15 million worth of the stuff last year, and the demand is still strong.

It used to be that the country was moving toward tapered suits and little cigars like those Mr. Kennedy smoked. Now everybody wants to look Western (except LBJ, who wants to look like a consensus).

Whoever is in the White House sets the style.—Atlanta Journal.

IN PRAISE OF MILKMAN
A milkman in Rochester, N. Y., has recently completed 90 years on his round. He has just turned 92. He gives credit for this happy state of affairs to his habit of drinking two quarts of his wares every day—a reason more colorful, no doubt, than it would be if given by a distiller.—London Times.

19 Firms Are Briefed on Contracts

IDAHO FALLS (AP) — Representatives of 19 firms began briefings Thursday leading to bids on contracts totaling $26 million at eastern Idaho's National Reactor Testing Station. The Atomic Energy Commission is dividing the largest contract at the site as part of a policy spreading a company's research to a large segment of private industry. Phillips Petroleum Co. held it in the past and will retain only that portion of the contract embracing nuclear safety research. AEC officials and Phillips Petroleum presented a series of reports to the 65 representatives of the 19 firms Thursday. A tour of the site is planned Friday. Bids on the new contract are due by July 23 with a new contractor to be selected in October or November. The AEC said the new contractor will be expected to assume some responsibility in December. Phillips' contract expires next February.

Salvation Army Sets up Salvage Box

A new box for Salvation Army donation collections was installed Friday afternoon at the Lynwood Shopping Center as a special event for National Salvation Army Week. Twin Falls County Probate Judge Zoe Ann Shaub, advisory board chairman for the local Salvation Army, said "This salvage box will make it easier for citizens of Magic Valley to make donations of clothing, shoes or small housewares to the Salvation Army."

She placed a parcel in the box and reminded residents that all such donations are tax deductible. Also present for the installation were Capt. George Driver, corps commanding officer, and John Bishop, secretary of the Lynwood Development Co. Capt. Driver invited all interested persons to visit the Salvation Army Thrift Store, 283 Main Ave. E. and the corps office, chapel and transient shelter at 801 Second Ave. N. to meet the officers and workers and learn more about the Army's facilities for community service.

He said, "All Twin Falls residents who take time out during National Salvation Army Week to observe our corps at work, or join us in our Centennial service at 7 p.m. Sunday at the corps chapel, will gain new insight into the great variety of services offered by the Army." "We are anxious, too," he said, "that our fellow citizens learn how flexible our diverse programs continue to operate so that help may be offered when, where and how it is immediately and most urgently needed." Capt. Driver said, "This year, as the Salvation Army celebrates its 100th birthday, the current observance of National Salvation Army Week becomes a very special one, both in the United States and abroad, where the Army maintains centers in 71 countries."

Officers from the Salvation Army Corps at Pocatello are expected to attend the services Sunday night, he reported.

Along Fences and Canals

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Knight have moved from Ogden to their home in Almo where they will work on their ranch this summer.

Arley Cahoon, Almo rancher, has moved his cattle to summer range in the Junction area.

Joe Durfee, Almo, trucked cattle to Strevell where he has pasture facilities for them.

Branding operations were under way at the former H. E. King ranch at Almo, recently purchased by John Hedge, Pocatello. David Boden, foreman, was in charge. Hedge, a novice at the business, and his sons observed the operations and lent a hand where possible.

Mr. and Mrs. George Hendry have installed a race horse starting gate at their ranch west of King Hill, which will be used for training horses at the Hendry Training Stables. The starting gate was designed and built by Albert Elchholz, Glenns Ferry. Hendry says the gate is the best designed and safest he had ever seen, because there are no sharp corners or projections where a horse or rider can be injured. Norman Sellman, Glenns Ferry, also will use the race track and starting gate.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Wilkerson and family, Malta, have moved to the Robert Graham ranch south of King Hill, where Wilkerson is employed for the summer. Mrs. Graham reports they have planted about 10 acres of melons and cantaloupes.

A. J. Bennett, Carey, with the help of Lee Cook and Allen Orchard, used a weed burner behind a tractor to burn out ditches that carry water from Little River to his ranch two miles east of Carey.

A. G. Blswell, Buhl, and John McGhee, dehorned, branded and vaccinated their white face cattle on the Blswell ranch south-east of Shoshone on Sunday. Blswell also has his bean ground watered and as soon as the ground is ready will begin planting his bean crop on the ranch here in Buhl located in the Clover area.

F. V. Morrison, Murtaugh stockman, reported sales last week of three yearling Scotch Shorthorn heifers to Harvey Tracy, Vina, Calif., a yearling Shorthorn bull to Walter Ritter, Rupert, and a registered Percheron stallion to Verland Stowell, Roland, Nev.

Three horses, "Tiger's Music" and "Wagon's Pet," 3-year-olds, and "Bala Bandino," a 4-year-old, raised and owned by Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Robinson and Mr. and Mrs. Bob Robinson, all of Tuttle, have been run in races at Boise the last two weeks.

Some fields of corn at Tuttle are up and some of the corn has not been planted. Bean ground is being watered now and some fields are being worked for planting next week.

Mark Scholer, 7-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Burke Scholer, is helping his father do chores on crutches after breaking a bone in his ankle last week on their farm.

Secretary Freeman Likes Soviet Union as Customer

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Agriculture Secretary Orville L. Freeman said in testimony made public that he favors selling Soviet bloc nations "anything they eat, smoke or drink."

At the same time he lined himself up with farm interests both inside and outside the government that are pressing for a change in federal shipping policies which would facilitate new exports of U. S. wheat to the Soviet bloc.

Freeman, in testimony before a House appropriations subcommittee, said there would be little progress in expanding such trade with Russia and Eastern European nations under current shipping restrictions.

Under current federal regulations, export licenses for commercial sales of wheat to the Price Supports Coming Down

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The government's investment in price-supported commodities as of March 31 totaled $7,190,856,542.

This was $664 million less than a year ago and $226.5 less than a month ago.

The investment includes $4,172,766,251 in commodities owned outright by the government and $3,018,090,291 in outstanding loans on commodities still held by producers.

Cassia Herd Production Record Given

Production records include all cows on test, even though part are dry cows.

Bryce Allred, testing supervisor, reports 1,063 cows on test with 948 in production and 115 dry cows.

In herds with over 20 cows, Jack Gocknour, Burley, had the high production average of 49.5 pounds of butterfat and 1,423 pounds of milk, with 49 cows milking out of a total of 51.

Clarence Phillips, Declo, had a recorded average of 45.1 pounds of butterfat and 1,297 pounds of milk, with 27 of his 28 cows milking.

In the herd with under 20 cows, Reid Angus topped the list with a butterfat average of 46.3 and 1,218 pounds of milk from 18 of his 19 cows milking.

Arvil Voyce had the next high average with 43.5 pounds of butterfat and 1,107 pounds of milk with all 10 cows milking.

High Holstein for the month was No. 72 owned by Jack Gocknour. No. 101 owned by Stocker's was high Jersey and Cliff Sutton's Betty was the high Guernsey.

Now Is Best Time to Spray to Remove Sagebrush From Rangeland Pastures

Now is the time for farmers and ranchers of privately owned range land to spray to kill sagebrush.

Twin Falls Soil Conservation District unit conservationist Clarence Hedrick pointed out that sagebrush is easier to kill when it begins to start spring growth. The time for spraying depends largely upon the elevation of the brush.

Sagebrush at the higher elevations hasn't started to grow and it would be better to wait. However, sagebrush on the lower elevations now is ready for spraying.

Aerial spraying is one of the better methods of clearing sagebrush, especially if there is a sufficient stand of native grass.

Sagebrush often outcompetes the native grass for moisture and plant nutrition. Once the native grass is established it can eventually outcompete the sagebrush for moisture and plant nutrients.

Hedrick noted this is one of the reasons why sagebrush is so prevalent on many Western ranges. The sagebrush usually gets the jump on the grass and hogs all the available nutrition.

There are other methods of removing sagebrush from the range areas, such as plowing and burning. Generally this is recommended if the landowner wishes to seed in a special grass, or if the native grass is too depleted.

Aerial spraying generally is a once-over project. The sagebrush simply dries up and in time tumbles. Cattle, feeding in the area, usually knock down the brush with little or no effort.

The main reason for spraying to remove sagebrush is to create more pasture for livestock.

In some sagebrush pastures the grazing ratio is one animal for three acres of range.

After sagebrush is removed and the grass is allowed to grow, the range can support up to two animals per acre, but one per acre usually is preferred.

In other words, the range can be converted into a unit which will increase production 200 per cent.

Hedrick said there are several good aerial applicators in the area. Generally there are matching ACP funds if the landowner signs up for the program. Technical assistance for district cooperators is available through the district office.

Consumption Of Red Meat To Decrease

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Agriculture Department calculated per person consumption of red meat in 1965 will be down three to four per cent from the 1964 record of 174.6 pounds.

The department said beef and veal consumption likely will amount to 105.3 pounds in 1965, the same as in 1964; pork consumption would be down from 48.5 pounds in 1964 to 47.5 pounds; and lamb and mutton consumption probably would be off a half pound from the 1964 record of 20.8 pounds.

Weather Aids Plant Growth

BOISE (AP)—Favorable weather aided plant growth and permitted an increase in farm activities in Idaho during the past week, the U.S. Department of Agriculture's weekly summary said today.

"Seeding of spring grains was complete except at higher elevations and emerged stands appear to be good in most areas," the report said.

"Potato planting was virtually complete in the southwestern part of the state and was well advanced in the earlier localities of Southcentral and Eastern Idaho. Bloeking and thinning of sugar beets was nearly half finished in the southwest while thinning was getting under way in other areas of the state."

World Losing Capacity to Feed Self

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Agriculture Department said today that the underdeveloped world is clearly losing the capacity to feed itself.

A report issued by the department's Economic Research Service said that many of the less-developed, less-populated, and less-landed countries have nearly exhausted the supply of new land that can readily be brought under cultivation.

It said these countries must produce higher yields per acre to increase their food supply. It noted that all of the increase in food output in both the Americas and Western Europe over the past 25 years came from raising the yield per acre.

In releasing the report, Agriculture Secretary Orville L. Freeman said:

Problems of staggering proportions face the densely populated underdeveloped countries of the world in their effort to keep food production in pace with population growth.

Production Down On Chickens

Commercial hatcheries in Idaho produced an estimated 418,000 chicks during the month of April 1965—reduced from 447,000 in the same period last year, according to the USDA Crop Reporting Service for Idaho. This is 17 percent less than for the same month a year earlier, and 22 percent less than the 1959-63 average April output.

The accumulated hatch during the first four months of the year compared with 2,477,000 during the same period last year.

An estimated 418,000 chicks were produced this April for production—19 percent less than was produced in April, January-April accumulated production of broiler-type chicks totaled 1,441,000 for 1965, 10 percent less than during the same period of 1964.

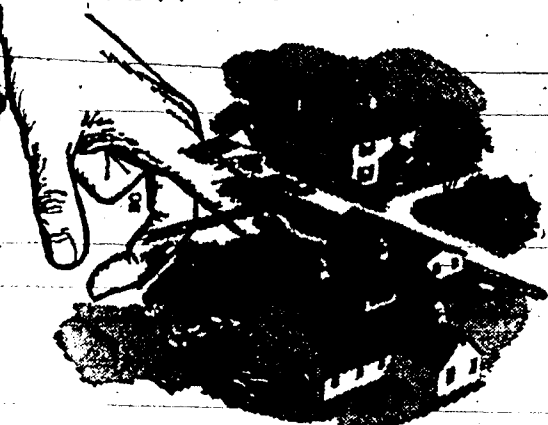

A total of 214,000 egg-type chicks were hatched during April 1965 compared to 245,000 during the same month last year. The accumulated hatch of egg-type chicks for January-April this year was 566,000, five percent less than during the same period of 1964.

Side Suggests Stump Method

MOSCOW—The problem of stumps comes up again in many ways with the spring clean-up season. Perhaps the easiest method, suggests Vernon Burdick, forester of the University of Idaho extension service, is to cut the stump off flush with the ground, then build a pen and it deep enough to hold about eight inches of soil. Planters on the stump and for it until the wood decays and can take it out easily.

Many substances are on the market for decay of stumps. Sometimes they are helpful, but often they are not entirely satisfactory. Research frequently gives negative results. Decay can be hastened to some extent, the forester said, if stumps are cut low and kept covered with compost-leaves or other organic material that holds moisture without entirely rotting out air.

Agriculture Department Announces Reduced Rate on Older Grain Stocks

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Agriculture Department has announced a storage rate reduction on older stocks of government-owned grain which it estimates will save taxpayers about $15 million a year.

The department also announced lower storage payments on old cotton stocks which will reduce costs about $1.3 million a year.

The announcement of the grain storage rate reduction means the department has abandoned for the time being a plan for the grain industry to bid for the business of storing government-owned grain.

Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman suggested to the grain trade in mid-April that warehousemen bid for the business instead of the government setting a price it would pay.

The bill for storage of surplus stocks taken over under the price support program runs into several hundred million dollars annually.

Beginning July 1, the reduced rates will apply to commercially stored grains that have been in warehouses earlier than Jan. 1, 1964. The reduced rates will be 12.045 cents per bushel for

Farm Receipts Show 38 Cents

WASHINGTON—Agriculture Department reports show that farmers received an average of 38 cents of each dollar that consumers spent for farm foods in retail stores during January, February and March. This compared with 37 cents in the preceding quarter.

Farm Debt Record High, But Farmers Good Risk

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Farmers' debt is at a record high, but farmers are a good credit risk, in the opinion of a national credit official.

Glenn G. Browne, deputy governor and director of Land Bank Service for the Farm Credit Administration, said that despite a record total farm debt of more than $35 billion, the assets of agriculture are substantial. They amount to more than $216 billion, or about $25,000 for each farm worker.

Browne said agriculture's assets "are equal to one-half of the market value of all corporation stocks on the New York Stock Exchange."

Browne said there is every chance that the farm debt will go higher. He said "Farms are becoming fewer, but larger and more specialized. Farm mechanization is moving along rapidly, while farms are being combined spell more long-term capital spending for farmers."

Browne heads that part of the Farm Credit Administration that supervises 12 Federal Land Banks nationally. He said that last year farmers borrowed $938 million from the 12 Land Banks and had $3.7 billion in loans outstanding at the end of 1964—all record figures.

"I am convinced that although individual loans are larger than in the past," Brown said, "they are also better loans on better farms."

May 21-22, 1965

Twin Falls Times-News

The FCA official said that farmers during 1964 paid $310 million on their Land Bank loans, compared with $277 million in 1964, including $120 million of loans paid in full before maturity.

Range Weed Contract Is Announced

UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO, Moscow—The University of Idaho Agricultural Experiment Station has been awarded a three-year contract for research on insects which attack range weeds in Idaho, Dean J. E. Kraus reported today.

The contract, awarded by the U. S. Department of Agriculture, provides $24,815 to study the occurrence, ecology and biology of insects feeding on range weeds of foreign origin now found in the state, Dean Kraus said.

The research will be conducted by the Department of Entomology under the supervision of Dr. W. F. Barr. It will involve a comprehensive study of distribution and feeding habits of insects feeding on rangeland weeds, collection and identification of species, and the biology and ecology of those species found to be of major importance in helping to control the weeds. All range areas in Idaho will be included.

Principal objective of the study is to determine the possibility of controlling range weeds by biological methods—by insects which feed only on them—rather than by chemical methods.

One biological control program is already highly successful in Idaho, Dean Kraus noted. Goatweed has been brought under control in northern Idaho by the goatweed beetle.

grains except oats which will be 8.760 cents per bushel. This compares with current rates of 13.140 cents per bushel for grains other than oats and 9.855 cents per bushel for oats. The current rates will continue in effect for short term storage.

The department said warehouses which have been handling government-owned grain for long periods have been able to amortize their costs, thereby permitting some reductions in the rates to be paid them because of their longer-term earnings.

The storage rates for older cotton stocks will be reduced, beginning Aug. 1, from the present 38 cents per bale per month to 35 cents per bale per month.

The department also announced that farmers will be able to extend their farm-stored 1961-crop corn now under price support loan for another year under resale.

The agency said this action was taken after a reappraisal of the corn supply situation. This indicates that government stocks of corn should be adequate to meet expected disposition needs without obtaining the 1961-crop corn.

However, 1961-crop corn loans may be called during the coming resale year if needed for program purposes.

Stop alfalfa weevil and residue problems, too!

NOW... NO WAITING PERIOD

New registration allows application of malathion on day of harvest or grazing.

Malathion provides the most effective control of WEEVIL... also kills APHIDS and other forage pests.

The preferred practice for weevil control now recommended by authorities is to treat the larvae with malathion. By waiting until the majority of the larvae have hatched, good control can be obtained with a single treatment.

University tests have shown that malathion applied when larval counts are high provides by far the most effective control.

Eliminates hazards

When you use malathion for alfalfa weevil larvae you enjoy exceptional freedom from insecticide hazards on the malathion-treated crop or adjacent crops subject to drift exposure and from residues in meat and milk, when used as directed.

Plan your program around malathion—the insecticide that kills both weevils and aphids as well as lygus, grasshoppers, leafhoppers and armyworms. The insecticide that offers maximum freedom from hazards to workers and crops—is low in cost and requires no waiting period.

Consult local agricultural authorities for information on timing of application.

Be sure to ask for SUR-TEN, the superior wetting agent to be added to agricultural sprays.

Osmer Ward Honored for Long Service

Osmer Ward, office manager, Twin Falls Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service county office, was awarded a pin for 29 years of service during a district meeting of ASCS officials held this week at the Idaho Power Co. auditorium.

Lewis Hargis, representing the ASCS state office, made the presentation, saying, "It is always a pleasure to honor employees for past service."

The award interrupted the regular program of business and caught the honoree and members of the Twin Falls county committee unawares. After the presentation, Ward was applauded by fellow employees and by members of the Twin Falls committee.

The meeting which brought representatives of eight Magic Valley county committees to Twin Falls was to familiarize employees with proposals affecting farmers now pending in Congress.

Food Produced by American Farmers Becomes Large Item in U.S. Exports

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The American farmer is playing an important part in U. S. foreign aid programs, according to the Foreign Agricultural Service (FAS).

He is producing the food that makes up a sizeable segment of foreign aid.

FAS said that between fiscal years 1953 and 1961, food shipments represented 24 cents of each foreign aid dollar. This was $6.7 billion out of the $28 billion expenditure for the period. Since 1961, FAS said, the food proportion has risen to 34 cents of the aid dollar — to $5.1 billion out of $14.8 billion expended.

The percentage of food in foreign aid varies according to country, FAS said. For example, Hong Kong in 1962-64 got all its U. S. aid in the form of food. For Algeria, food represented 98 per cent of total as-stance. Food provided 83 per cent of the assistance to the United Arab Republic, and 75 per cent of the aid to Taiwan.

FAS said India, which now is receiving more U. S. economic aid than any other single country, got 39 per cent of its material help in the form of food.

FAS said that of all the major areas receiving U. S. economic aid since 1946, Europe got the largest share — $30.1 billion. Other areas benefited as follows: Near East and South Asia, $15.8 billion; Far East, $15.5 billion; Latin America, $8.4 billion; Africa, $2.7 billion.

FAS said the foreign aid to Europe, of which $13 billion represented Marshall Plan expenditures, has turned out to be an excellent investment for the United States in terms of trade. The agency said the economic growth engendered by this aid now is supporting a vast European market for U. S. goods of all kinds.

Farm exports to Europe in fiscal 1964 alone had a value of $2.6 billion out of a world agricultural export total of $6.1 billion.

FAS said the $2.8 billion of economic aid to Japan also has benefited U. S. trade. In 1964, the United States sold Japan $1.8 billion worth of goods, of which $742 million was agricultural. The payment was in dollars.

HOLSTEIN PARLEY SET BRATTLEBORO, Vt.—A realistic approach to the economics of dairy cattle merchandising will be a program highlight of the 80th annual Holstein convention at Seattle, June 3. Four experienced marketing men will make panel presentations.

West Europe Wheat Crop To Increase

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Department of Agriculture said prospects are favorable for the production of a large 1965 wheat crop in Western Europe.

The agency said acreage is up in several major producing countries. Largest increases are in major winter wheat producing countries of France, Spain, the Netherlands and the United Kingdom.

The department said crop conditions in western Europe are generally satisfactory.

Reports indicate France expects to harvest an unusually large crop, probably more than the record 509 million bushels in 1962.

France is the largest wheat producer in the area.

Famous Steer Has Departed

PULLMAN, Wash. (UPI) — Rudy, the fistulated steer, is dead.

He lived to the ripe old age of 16 at Washington State University, where for 15 years the window in his stomach gave veterinary medicine students a close-up look at physiology.

Dr. Paul Klavens, chairman of the Department of Veterinary Physiology and Pharmacology, said the 1,900-pound Guernsey was probably the oldest and largest animal in the nation with a picture window.

Besides taking an active part in teaching, Rudy was used in research and was the major attraction in tours of the college of Veterinary Medicine. Klavens said Rudy will continue to serve the college even after his death last weekend.

Said the professor: "He left us a fine set of stomach ulcers to study."

MR. AND MRS. REX JONES (Leyson photo)

Judy Kay Hall, Jones Exchange Nuptial Vows

JEROME—The Jerome First Baptist Church was the scene for the March 20 wedding ceremony uniting in marriage Judy Kay Hall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Delbert W. Hall, and Rex Jones, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elbert O. Jones, all Jerome.

Rev. Robert C. Cooper solemnized the double ring nuptials before a background setting of beauty baskets of pink and white gladioli and candelabra accented with smilax. An arrangement of pink and white gladioli flanked by white tapers decorated the altar.

Linda Wilson, Twin Falls, was soloist. Mrs. Walter Bentzinger was organist and played the traditional wedding music.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attired in a gown of white silk organza over taffeta and Chantilly lace. The fitted bodice featured a scalloped neckline and lily point sleeves.

A taffeta bow accented the waistline at the front. An overskirt, outlined with scalloped lace, in a bustle effect, fell into a brush train at the back.

Her bouffant veil of French illusion was held by a tulle rose accented with seed pearls.

She carried a crescent bouquet of white feathered orchids centered with pink eucalyptus, accented with white French tulle and white satin streamers.

The bride carried a white lace handkerchief, belonging to her great-grandmother.

Jane Hall, Newport, Ore., sister of the bride, served as maid of honor.

Bridesmaids were Linda Silbaugh and Trudy Gibson.

Mark Barnes and Katherine Hall, nephew and niece of the bride, were candlelighters. Marla Hall, niece of the bride, was flower girl.

Ricky Critser, nephew of the bridegroom, carried the rings on a white satin heart-shaped pillow.

William Jones, Othello, Wash., brother of the bridegroom, was best man.

Ushers were Terry Hall, brother of the bride, and Gary Jenkins.

Sherry Jones, sister of the bridegroom, registered guests at the reception that followed.

Mrs. Clare Fife, sister of the bridegroom, Mrs. Vernon Hall, aunt of the bride, and Mrs. Richard Critser were in charge of the gift table.

The bride's table, covered with a beige lace cloth over green, was centered with a four-tiered wedding cake featuring a stairway to the top, layer where a miniature bride and bridegroom, maid of honor, best man and minister were placed beneath an archway of lilies of the valley. Smilax and peonies encircled the base of the cake. Lighted white tapers in crystal candelabra flanked the arrangement.

Mrs. William Barnes presided at the coffee service and Mrs. John Aitken served punch. Both are aunts of the bride.

Mrs. Harold Hall and Mrs. Harold Barnes, Glens Ferry, aunts of the bride, cut and served the cake.

Valarie Barnes and Roseann Hall, nees of the bride, carried the gifts.

The couple will reside at Hazelton where Jones is engaged in farming.

Agent Urges Control of Codling Moth

Codling moths were found in Twin Falls Thursday, according to information received by Donald Youtz, Twin Falls County agent. He said the report came from Dale Taute, inspector for the Idaho and U. S. departments of agriculture.

Youtz said apple growers should apply the first cover spray to prevent wormy fruit. Spraying should be done immediately, he stated.

He suggested that a number of insecticides can be used and that information may be obtained from chemical dealers, commercial sprayers of the county agents' office.

For background tress, he suggests four teaspoons of 50 per cent DDT wettable powder per gallon of water.

A repeat cover spray in 21 days will be necessary, he noted. He urged growers to follow label instructions on insecticides.

BPA Wants Idaho Power Help on Job

BOISE (AP) — The Bonneville Power Administration wants the Idaho Power Co. to join with it in construction of a transmission line from Anaconda, Mont., into southern Idaho.

The proposal was outlined Thursday night by Ferris Gilkey, Idaho manager for the federal agency, at a meeting in Boise sponsored by the Citizens for BPA in southern Idaho committee.

Gilkey said the 500,000-volt line would extend from the Dworshak Dam on the Clearwater River in north Idaho to Anaconda and then to American Falls.

He said the line would have double the capacity of a similar line being planned by Idaho Power and the Utah Power and Light Co. and make unnecessary a proposed Washington - Idaho hookup.

Gilkey said the proposal was put to Idaho Power before BPA renewed its request for a $1 million appropriation for planning of the Washington-Idaho line which would extend from McNary Dam to Soda Springs.

India Team Saluted for Climb of Peak

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — Victory-hungry India put aside its worries today to salute 19 new heroes — the members of the first Indian team to climb Mt. Everest.

Army Capt. A. S. Cheema and Nawang Gombu, a Sherpa, reached the 29,028-foot peak of the world's highest mountain at 9:30 a.m. Thursday and tied the Indian and Nepalese flags to the pole left there two years ago by an American expedition, the government announced.

Five more Sherpas, including Nawang's brother Anu Kami, joined them on the top of the world. It was the largest group that ever has been on Everest's summit at one time.

Nawang and Anu are nephews of Tenzing Norgay, one of the first two men to reach the top of Everest, in 1953. It was Nawang's second trip to the top, making him the first climber to achieve that distinction. His first time up was with the Americans in 1963.

Indian newspapers and officials pushed aside their nation's food shortages, its near war with Pakistan, its internal political stresses and the threat of Red China to hail the climbers.

President Sarvepalli Radhakrishnan messaged "our heroes" of his delight because "this new conquest is entirely an Indian effort and is therefore all the more thrilling."

Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri said the climbers "have brought glory to India and I am so proud of them."

Idaho Power Ships Biggest Transformer

BOISE — The largest transformer of its type was shipped by Union Pacific Railroad through Magic Valley Thursday night en route to La Grande, Ore., to be installed next week, it was announced by the Idaho Power Co.

The purpose is to improve the operation of the utility's high voltage transmission interconnection with other members of the Northwest Power Pool.

J. F. Emery, Idaho Power vice president and general manager, stated it will be installed at Idaho Power's Ladd Substation, where the company operates one of seven interconnections with other pool members for the exchange of power.

Emery said the transformer, built at a cost of more than $800,000, will be used to help control the flow of power in Idaho Power's three interconnections with utilities in the western area of the pool.

Emery said that even when the transformer was stripped of accessories for shipment from the Westinghouse plant at Muncie, Ind., it was one of the heaviest loads ever moved by the Union Pacific.

The Daily Investor

By WILLIAM A. DOYLE

A company in which I own stock had started out extensive claims on some very valuable mineral lands. Then the company turned around and leased out the mining rights on that property to another company.

The answer would have to be that the company in which you own stock was not required (by its charter) to get stockholder approval for that deal.

Right now, neither you nor anyone else can say if your company got the best possible terms from the other company. Only time will tell.

Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — Increased military spending may take up some of the slack that is predicted if the buying of steel and autos for civilian use dips from fever pitch.

Orders for military hardware are cited as a chief reason that new factory orders for durable goods rose 2 per cent last month to set another record high.

Transportation equipment makers were a chief beneficiary. Civilian car buying is still at a high level, if off a bit from the peak. But the industry makes other goods, too.

Just how much civilian ordering of hard goods may dip from the unusually high rate set in the first months of the year is yet to be seen. One uncertainty at the moment is what Congress will finally do about excise taxes on autos and appliances, and whether the public will take a wait and see attitude about buying until the tax cuts are in effect.

McCallister and Rudolph Share Lead at Memphis

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—Mason Rudolph and Bob McCallister shot five-under-par 65s Thursday and shared the first-round lead in the $60,000 Memphis Open Golf Tournament. Rudolph started slowly but birdied three of the last four holes to turn in his 65. McCallister, who shot a three-under-par 31 on the front side, birdied Nos. 16, 17 and 18. Julius Boros, Ho m a r o Blancas and George Archer were tied for second with 66s.

Jack Nicklaus, still finding the tight par-70 Colonial Country Club course a hard one to play, three-putted the 18th hole and finished with a 67. Australian Kel Nagle, Dave Murr and Jack McGowan also came in with 67s.

Former U.S. Open champion Gene Littler headed up a long list of players who came in with 68s, including Tommy Aaron, Billy Maxwell and Jay Hebert. McCallister, a 31-year-old veteran from Corona, Calif., had seven birdies and two bogies during his round.

2-Run Homer Lets Detroit Nip Solons

DETROIT (AP) — Dick McAuliffe's two-run homer in the 10th inning gave Detroit a 9-8 victory over the Washington Senators Thursday in a wild free-swinging game.

Don Lock's pinch homer, Washington's fifth of the game, had put the Senators out front in the top of the 10th.

Marshall Bridges had walked Jim Northrup but George Thomas had forced Northrup at second on an attempted sacrifice before McAuliffe broke up the game with his fifth home run.

Woody Held, Ed Brinkman, Don Zimmer, Frank Howard and Lock homered for the Senators in the 13-hit attack that finally hung a defeat on Bridges, just brought up from the Hawaii farm club.

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Unbeaten Bob Gibson won his eighth game, checking Philadelphia on six hits while the St. Louis Cardinals pounded five Phillie pitchers for a 12-2 victory Thursday night.

It was the seventh victory in the last eight games for the defending world champions, who put the game out of reach in the first two innings as Curt Flood drove in four of seven St. Louis runs with a homer and double.

The Cardinals made short work of Chris Short, routing the Philadelphia starter in a five-run first inning that included two homers and two doubles.

Julian Javier opened with a double and scored on Lou Brock's double. Flood then followed with his sixth homer. Two outs later, Bill White singled and Phil Gagliano socked an inside-the-park home run.

Coleman Ups Average, Reds Drop Pirates

CINCINNATI (AP) — Gordy Coleman cracked four singles and streaked into the National League batting lead as the Cincinnati Reds crushed Pittsburgh, 11-3 Thursday night.

Coleman's four hits in five trips hiked his batting average to .416, giving the Reds' first baseman the lead over Willie Mays of the San Francisco Giants.

The Reds ripped into Pittsburgh for seven runs on five hits in the first inning, and chased Pirates' starter Bob Friend, who failed to retire a man. Two runs scored on Frank Robinson's double. An error by first baseman Donn Clendenon permitted two more runners to score.

Vada Pinson slugged a homer and two singles, drove in three runs, scored three and stole a base for the Reds. Robinson also got two singles in addition to his double.

Stottlemyre Hurls Yanks Past Boston

NEW YORK (AP) — Mel Stottlemyre celebrated the birth of his second son Thursday by pitching the New York Yankees to a 6-3 victory over the Boston Red Sox with the help of two-run homers by Joe Pepitone and Tom Tresh.

Pepitone's homer off loser Bill Monbouquette was the big blow of a four-run third inning attack that included a double by Mickey Mantle and a single by Phil Linz. Tresh hit his fourth of the year off relief man Bob Heffner in the fifth after Lenny Green dropped Linz's fly for an error.

Boston roughed up Stottlemyre for eight hits in the first four innings but the sinker ball artist settled down until the ninth when he was relieved by Pete Ramos with two on and one out. A double play squelched the rally.

Mays ended a scoreless tie in the seventh inning when he led off with his homer. Matty Alou singled in the game's other run in the eighth after a single by Hal Lanier and a sacrifice.

Shaw, making his second start after a string of nine relief appearances, blanked the Cubs through seven innings on five hits but was replaced by Murakami after Glenn Beckert's lead-off single in the eighth. Big Game Season Dates Finalized by Commission

BOISE (AP)—The Idaho Fish and Game Commission completed work Thursday on drafting regulations and setting closing dates for the 1965 big game hunting seasons.

Closing dates were announced earlier in the year but the commission delayed setting closing dates until information on game populations and range-conditions was available.

Opening date for deer and elk hunting in 10 units located in the primitive area will be Sept. 18. All of the units with the exception of nine, 27 and 34 will close Dec. 5.

Closing date for Unit Nine is Nov. 28; Unit 27, Dec. 12 and Unit 34, Nov. 21.

The second big bloc of units for elk and deer hunting will open Oct. 2. The 35 units are located in intermediate or fringe areas surrounding the primitive country. Most of the units will close Nov. 28 but in many the final date will vary depending on local conditions.

General highhorn sheep hunting will run from Sept. 4 to Sept. 17.

The earliest archery deer season will open Sept. 4 and end Dec. 26. Some archery elk seasons will open Sept. 4.

The North Idaho black bear season opens Sept. 4 and ends Nov. 28.

The commission said 550 permits will be issued for controlled deer hunts, 3,070 for controlled elk hunts; 86 for moose hunts, 1,365 for antelope hunts; 199 for highhorn sheep hunts and 156 for mountain goat hunts.

Applications for these hunts must be received or postmarked not later than midnight July 14. The commission said printed regulation details will be available for license vendors in July.

ISU Ends Weber's Pennant Chances

POCATELLO (AP) — Idaho State University handed Weber State College two defeats in a Big Sky Conference baseball double header Thursday, killing Wildcat championship hopes.

The Bengals won the first game 6-2 and the second 1-0.

The second contest was a pitcher's battle between ISU's Gerald Kimura and the Wildcats' Dennis Anderson.

The two losses spoiled Weber State's chances of winning the conference title. The Wildcats finished with a 8-4 conference record, letting Gonzaga University win the title with a 9-3 mark.

Braves Batter Mets, Spahn For 7-1 Win

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Milwaukee's Wade Blasingame pitched a one-hitter, allowing only a two-out single by Ron Swoboda in the seventh inning, while the Braves pounded former teammate Warren Spahn for seven runs in the fifth en route to a 7-1 victory over the New York Mets Thursday night.

Blasingame, a 21-year-old left-hander tutored by Spahn last season, hurled hitless ball until Swoboda grounded a single through the middle. That scored Billy Cowan, who had walked and moved to second on a wild pitch.

The Mets had managed to get only one runner aboard until seventh, Roy McMillan reached first on third baseman Ed Mathews' error with one out the fourth.

Mathews atoned for the error with a grand slam homer, seventh of his career, in the fifth inning explosion against Spahn, who was sold to the Mets last fall after 20 years with the Braves.

Tiger Flattens Carter Three Times, Collects Easy Decision

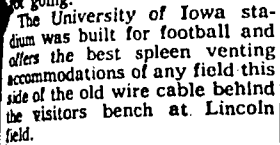

NEW YORK (AP) — Nigeria's Dick Tiger made another strong bid for a middleweight title shot by dropping Rubin Carter three times in winning a top-sided 10-round decision at Madison Square Garden Thursday night. The 35-year-old former middleweight champion, a 12-5 favorite, felled his 28-year-old opponent from Paterson, N.J., twice in the second round and once in the fourth, and had him in trouble in most of the other rounds. The officials voted for Tiger by the following round scores: judge Jimmy Riccio 9-1, judge Johnny Dran 8-1 and referee Zach Clayton, 6-2-2.

Hayes-Evashevski Blowup Spices Meet

IOWA CITY, Iowa (AP) — Football coach Woody Hayes of Ohio State and Athletic Director Forest Evashevski of Iowa nearly came to blows in the Big Ten's spring business meeting. The incident, in which the stocky Hayes whipped off his coat, knocked over his chair and headed for Evashevski around a conference table, developed during a discussion on football sideline administration Wednesday.

Sports FROM ALL ANGLES

By LARRY HOVEY
Reports on the flare of tempers between Woody Hayes, Ohio State football coach, and Forest Evashevski, University of Iowa athletic director, at a Big Ten meeting.

The University of Iowa stadium was built for football and offers the best spicing venting accommodations of any field this side of the old wire cable behind the visitors bench at Lincoln field.

There's perhaps seven or eight yards from the sideline to the first row of bleachers and the bench somewhere within that narrow confine. The rabid fans are within an arm's length away, and the accuracy of the poorest throwing arms. In fact the stadium is called the "Apple Orchard" in commemoration of the Iowa fans' habit of eating apples during the game and using the opposition's reserves as targets when they toss away the cores.

When Idaho traveled to Iowa City for the game last fall coach Les Andros had his team prepared.

"If we're winning late in the game, be sure to keep your pinks on," Andros cautioned. "Or you might get an apple core, or sharpened popsicle stick or anything else bounced off you."

The Vandals lost after leading through three quarters, which led Andros to add later "I thought we might give them (the fans) something to riot about until they hit on that last long pass."

Ray J. Holmes, Twin Falls, has been the Fourth District representative on the Idaho Fish and Game Commission for over 12 years. During that time he's seen a lot of improvements made but he reached a new highlight a couple of weeks ago when he saw his first wild turkey in Idaho.

"That was really a thrill," Holmes recalled. "They called this big tom out of a thicket about 200 feet away and I don't know when I've ever felt better than just seeing that bird."

The turkeys are the latest addition to Idaho's game list and there will be a season before long.

"We estimate we have between 500 and 1000 turkeys up there this spring," Holmes said. "We can't take many but we have to do something to keep them wild. The farmers and ranchers up in that area are giving the birds personal protection and they're getting so proached him.

Red Mackey of Purdue, chairman of the athletic directors meeting with the coaches, hustled from the head of the table and restrained the two angry men as Hayes stood menacingly over Evashevski.

Immediately after the session on general football problems, Hayes left Iowa City.

Evashevski declined comment except to say "we had a difference of opinion." Big Ten Commissioner Bill Reed, who also attended the meeting, said the matter was "a closed incident, something that could have developed in any heated discussion."

The fuss flared shortly after Hayes started a discourse on the need for keeping sidelines cleared and isolating the football bench from the stands.

Evashevski reportedly countered by saying Hayes' own bench conduct was deplorable and agitating.

The exchange became more heated when Hayes told Evashevski, former Iowa head coach, that his recruiting practices were something less than admirable.

Evashevski said that Hayes' bench conduct was a disgrace to his fellow coaches.

Jones Okay, but Wreck Totals Car

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Parrell Jones, 1963 winner of the rich Indianapolis 500-mile auto race, apparently escaped serious injury in a test run crash at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway Thursday, but his Hurst Lotus-Ford probably cannot be repaired.

"It looks like the car is washed out," said chief observer Walt Myers.

Track hospital physicians said Jones only was shaken up.

He was breaking in a new V-8 Ford racing engine and had been running around 149 miles per hour.

The car was qualified by Jones last weekend at 153.625 m.p.h. and would have started in the middle of the second three-car row. If the car is out, he still can qualify another this week-end.

"So we believe it is better to maybe kill a few now and get the others wary than have a big massacre of practically tame birds when the numbers are up," he added.

The success of the transplanting in Northern Idaho has set the commission to seeking other places in the state. It is doubtful, however, that any will become part of the Magic Valley scene.

"Some seem to think the area up in the Salmon region could support turkeys and that is being studied," Holmes said. "But it appears that might be as close to Magic Valley as we can get them."

Clay Rates Louis First, But Asks Time

CHICOPEE, Mass. (AP) — "You're the greatest, Joe Louis. The greatest of them all," said heavyweight champion Cassius Clay in rhythm to his rope skipping.

"But give me five years, Joe, and I'll top your record," added the Lip, busy keeping his vocal chords as well as his muscles toned for the title rematch against Sonny Liston in Lewiston, Maine, Tuesday night.

Louis smiled patiently. He made no effort at a reply.

Louis, Jersey Joe Walcott and James Braddock formed a delegation of three former champions, who already have looked in on Liston's camp at Poland Springs, Maine, on hand to watch Clay at his headquarters Thursday.

Walcott and Braddock both are rumored as possibilities for the job of nonvoting referee for the fight. Maine rules call for three judges instead of the usual two. None would offer a prediction of the fight's outcome.

The trio, however, appeared impressed with Clay's workout, especially his two sharp sparring rounds against James Ellis. In the final round Clay, according to local observers, threw more punches than in any sparring test to date and shook Ellis with a right hand to the head.

Clay received a package from his rival, a bottle of Poland Spring mineral water addressed simply: "to mouth almighty from Sonny Liston."

In anticipation of his Sunday move from here to Lewiston, Clay is having his now storied bus freshly painted with red and white metallic paint. Clay modestly said he did not want to make the journey entirely unnoticed.

Radatz Frets Over Poor Early Show

NEW YORK (AP) — Billy Herman is concerned about Dick Radatz, the big man of the Boston Red Sox bullpen. So is Dick Radatz.

The 6-foot-5, 235-pounder, who has become reconciled to being known as The Monster, has been having a rough spring. However, he thinks he is snapping out of it.

Going into Thursday's game at Yankee Stadium, Radatz had a 7.18 earned run average as compared to 2.29 last year and 1.93 in 1963. In his first 12 appearances he gave up 28 hits and 22 runs in 26 innings. There is one item on the bright side — 21 strikeouts.

"I think I've got my rhythm back," said Radatz. "Now that I am getting my share of strikeouts I know I have good stuff. Earlier in the year I was fooling around with a sinker and got off the beam."

"The other night when I struck out six Yankees in a row, even though we did lose the game in the 12th my confidence picked up. Before long I hope you'll see me back the same as ever."

Herman said Radatz had looked better against the Yanks Tuesday night than he had all year.

There are those who think Radatz's 207 appearances in three years, including 79 last season, may have taken something out of that right arm. Radatz insists the heavy work schedule has nothing to do with his ineffectiveness so far.

Chualo Seeks Shot at Crown

PORTLAND, Maine (AP) — George Chualo, Canadian heavyweight boxing champion, arrived here Wednesday night to let "both Cassius Clay and Sonny Liston know I'm in the market for a shot at the winner of their title bout."

Chualo, 27, who was beaten two months ago by ex-champ Floyd Patterson, said he would visit the training camps of Clay and Liston before the fight next Tuesday in Lewiston.

Silver Creek Meeting Set

PICABO — Fishermen and landholders will meet at 8 p.m. Saturday at the Silver Creek Supply Co. here to discuss the deteriorating relations between the two factions.

The meeting was set up last week when a sportsman-backed log float navigability test was called off. The public is invited.

Gooding Slates Trapshooting

GOODING — The Gooding Trap Club will begin shooting at 2 p.m. Sunday at the club house east of the city. Shooters from the area are invited to come out and practice for the state shoot to be held in Boise the last of May.

Results of the last trap shoot were for the 16 yard singles, Parsons, Pocatello, first, and Eugene Kelly, second. In the handicap Parsons was first and Mac Petchick, Shoshone, second. In the doubles, Petchick was first and Don Edinborough, second.

SIDELINED

CINCINNATI (AP) — Umpire Tom Gorman will remain sidelined for at least one week because of an ulcer condition, Nation League President Warren C. Giles said Thursday. The 49-year-old umpire was hospitalized Wednesday.

Scholarships Announced at Hansen Commencement Rite

HANSEN—Samuel Kevan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Kevan, was given a $1,200 scholarship to Phillips University, Enid, Okla. It was announced at commencement exercises held Tuesday night at the school auditorium.

Kevan, who is the valedictorian, received a 4.0 average for his school records. He plans to become a medical missionary.

Terry Hollifield received a Sears, Roebuck $300 scholarship award. Gordon Hill and Marilyn Haynes, each received $250 scholarships from the Kimberly-Hansen Murtaugh Educational Trust, Inc.; George Hill received the $50 PTA scholarship award; Ruth Ann Sanders received a full tuition scholarship to the Beauty Arts Academy, Twin Falls, and David Crockett received the Elks Youth Leadership Award of $25.

George Hill gave the invocation. David Crockett, salutatorian, welcomed the guests and expressed thanks to faculty and parents for making the last 12 years of education possible.

Crockett, taking his cue from the class motto, "Knowledge Is Power," expressed the thought that many advances have come about over the past years. He discussed the rapidly changing employment needs and the necessity for education to meet these new standards.

Kevan, in his valedictorian address stated, "we must fulfill our responsibility to faith in God. Good citizens have a responsibility to both God and man, regardless of race or creed. True Christianity will minimize the fear of Communism."

The senior girls' sextet, Barbara Long, Linda Stanger, Donna Froehlich, Marilyn Ball, Karla Bacon and Sylvia Freestone, accompanied by Sam Kevan, sang.

Awards and letters were presented by Supt. William Barnard. Letters for sports went to Sam Kevan, Gordon Hill, Larry Shepherd, Jerry Johnson, Terry Hollifield, Larry Anderson, David Crockett, Neil Larsen and George Hill. Hill will participate in the state track meet at Boise Saturday.

Gordon Hill was presented with a pin as president of the student body. The pin is a gift from Bernard Hopwood, former superintendent.

Four-year honor students were Sam Kevan, David Crockett, George Hill and Gordon Hill, Neil Larsen, Terry Hollifield and Donna Froehlich. Sam Kevan, as valedictorian, and David Crockett, as salutatorian, were each presented with a trophy. Kevan also received a Reader's Digest subscription.

Neil Larsen, senior class president, presented a gift to the school, a partial payment on a stand for the popcorn machine and no-concessions.

Marvin Rose, eighth grade teacher and grade school principal, presented the eighth grade class to Lester Naylor, chairman of the board of trustees, who presented the group with certificates.

The band, under the direction of Ronald Koford, played. Jerry Johnson gave the benediction. Class officers are Neil Larsen, president; Marilyn Kaye Haynes, vice president, and Donna Lee Froehlich, secretary treasurer.

House Okays Private Land For Forest

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Compton I. White Jr., D-Idaho, reported today approval by unanimous consent of the House of Representatives of a bill authorizing the government to acquire privately owned land along the shore of Upper Priest Lake in northern Idaho.

The area will be added to the Kaniku National Forest. The House-approved measure now goes to the Senate.

White asked the House to act on the bill without its being first cleared by the Rules Committee. He said prompt action is necessary because an agreement with the owners of the land, which prevents private development of the tract, expires the end of May.

The Upper Priest Lake area, White told the House, is "a scenic gem in an unspoiled forest setting that can be reached only by boat. It is in the public interest that the lake be preserved in its natural state."

White also announced he will make public Saturday a letter he has written President Johnson, urging that silver be retained in subsidiary coins. "Within a short time," the Idaho Democrat said, "the Treasury Department will recommend coinage changes to the President and in the letter I pointed out the need to maintain coins of intrinsic value by the continued use of silver in minting."

YOUR BIRTHDAY and HOROSCOPE

FRIDAY, MAY 21 — Born today, you take your responsibilities very seriously — perhaps too much so upon occasion, for you sometimes are so duty-bound in your activities that you forget that "all work and no play makes Jack a dull boy." You must make an effort to inject a certain amount of relaxing leisure time into your daily life.

Extremely sensitive both as regards your own feelings and the feelings of others, you are the type that forgives even before you are wounded — and should you ever wound, you seek forgiveness almost before the deed is done. Never one to hold a grudge, you try always to see the best in people. At the same time, however, you expect that others will see only the best in you, and it is because of this that you may be hurt more than is necessary.

Although you are perfectly capable of independent thought and action, you need someone to lean on emotionally, someone to encourage you, to act as your mentor, and to give you moral support in whatever you undertake. Do not make the mistake, however, of choosing a domineering mate. There is a difference between being encouraged and being bossed!

To find what is in store for you tomorrow, select your birthday and read the corresponding paragraph. Let your birthday star be your daily guide.

Saturday, May 22

GEMINI (May 22-June 21) — Avoid responding to circumstances in any way that could be interpreted as anger.

CANCER (June 22-July 23) — The hypercritical Cancer may find himself the object of other people's derision today. Try to take things philosophically.

LEO (July 24-Aug. 23) — Avoid giving your opinion in matters of dispute on the employment scene unless absolutely necessary.

VIRGO (Aug. 24-Sept. 23) — This can be a very creative day for the Virgo who uses his gifts wisely.

LIBRA (Sept. 24-Oct. 23) — Avoid giving in to those who would make this day of wearing some chores for you.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) — Join others in fun. If asked, do not hesitate to do your part for the community.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 22) — Enter into the affairs of others at your own risk. You are not likely to receive thanks today for aid given.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23-Jan. 20) — Seek your pleasure away from the home — but take the family with you.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21-Feb. 19) — You can dominate the home situation by an exercise of will. The Aquarius who knuckles under may regret it.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) — Your high expectations for this day should be fulfilled. Apply yourself to the business of having fun.

ARIES (March 21-April 20) — Avoid leaving your family to fend for itself. See that family members are included in whatever initiations you accept.

TAURUS (April 21-May 21) — Don't allow yourself to be incited to anger. This is a Saturday that can be memorable for its joyful moments if you remain in control.

SATURDAY, May 22 — Born today, you are not one to become upset over trifles. You are, however, one who becomes very much upset over what you consider major disappointments — so much so that you may even incapacitate yourself for work or delay recovery for weeks on end. This could be extremely detrimental both to your professional career and your private life, and you must try therefore to fight against such a reaction.

It is not easy to pick up the pieces after a major setback. It is, however, necessary to anyone who would reach the top. Develop the habit of looking ahead rather than back, of doing something about preventing future errors rather than wishing you had done something to prevent past ones. You have a great deal of talent, especially creative talent, but it could all be washed down the drain by your own tears of regret if you are not careful!

In choosing a mate, remember that the clinging vine type is not for you. You need someone with backbone and courage, someone who will fight for you and teach you to fight for yourself. At the same time, however, you need someone who is sensitive to your feelings — one who will push you without ever letting you know how responsible he or she may feel for your success.

To find what is in store for you tomorrow, select your birthday and read the corresponding paragraph. Let your birthday star be your daily guide.

Sunday, May 23

GEMINI (May 22-June 21) — Set to work at whatever you do best. This is not the day for accepting impossible challenges.

CANCER (June 22-July 23) — The Cancer who attunes his spirit to the overtones of morning worship may attain a new measure of personality growth.

LEO (July 24-Aug. 23) — Demonstrate some curiosity toward your neighbors, especially if they are new in the community.

VIRGO (Aug. 24-Sept. 23) — A day which can be extremely high in spiritual achievement for the Virgo who allows himself freedom of response.

LIBRA (Sept. 24-Oct. 23) — Now is the time to take spiritual inventory. Find ways in which you can improve yourself and your relations with others.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) — The most popular people are not necessarily the most convincing. Seek to persuade rather than to go along with the crowd.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 22) — Those in difficulties may think you unsympathetic, but you would be wise to tend to your own knitting today!

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23-Jan. 20) — Don't allow your own self-esteem to keep you from taking notice of another's true worth.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21-Feb. 19) — You can best help yourself by helping another today.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) — Don't be thrown off course by the unfavorable comments of others. If you think you're right, stick to your guns.

Explorer Scout Post Program Set

Explorer Scout Post No. 302, Snake River Area Council, sponsored by the Sawtooth National Forest, announced its calendar of events for the summer, beginning with a session at 7 p.m. Monday in the forest supervisor's office.

Classes will be offered in organization and management of the forest and multiple use management of national forest resources.

A field trip illustrating timber management, fire control and forest engineering will be scheduled in June. Another field trip showing forest recreation and watershed management is planned for July.

In August there will be a trip concerning range and wildlife management. Seven monthly meetings are set from September through March, the fourth Monday of each month, in the forest supervisor's office. Three programs will be presented each month.

These scouts will attend programs on a rotating schedule, covering all the seasons in a seven-month period. Subjects to be covered include forest engineering, recreation, range and wildlife management, watershed management, business management, timber management and fire control.

Explorer Scouting is open to all boys 14 years of age and older who are in high school.

Ned D. Millard, post adviser, said, "Young men are reminded that exploring is not just another club that meets once or twice a month. Exploring is getting out and doing things. Finding out for ourselves the whys and hows. If you are man enough to keep up with Post No. 302, you are invited to Monday's meeting."

Buhl C. of C. Stresses Need For Bridge

The need for a new bridge crossing Snake River north of Buhl in the Clear Lake area was stressed during the Chamber of Commerce meeting Monday. Curtis, highway commissioner, stated that the Snake River crossing the Twin Falls County Commissioners relative to submitting a plan for the construction of a new bridge over the Snake River at Clear Lake. The commissioners have stated there is a definite need for the construction of this bridge, he asserted.

Curtis noted that the commissioners, through their attorney, have been informed that it is unlawful in any way to set a countywide levy for the bridge's construction. This is the local highway district's problem and it is very unlikely because of the cost that the local highway district could construct the bridge, he said.

Curtis pointed out this portion of the Buhl-Wendell road has not been designated as a state highway so therefore no help could be obtained from this source. It would take approximately $170,000 for the construction of the bridge, half of which would be matched by federal funds.

Richfield Youth Cited in Crash

RICHFIELD — Pat Ward, 17, was cited Wednesday for failure to yield right of way after an accident last Saturday morning one mile north of Richfield.

Deputy Sheriff Martin Whitesell, Richfield, said Ward's Jeep collided with a sedan driven by Dorothy Deeds, 16, at the intersection. Miss Deeds lost control of her car, which narrowly missed running down her uncle, Albert Pelley, who was riding horseback on a country road a short distance from where the accident occurred.

Two other horseback riders were with Pelley and one of the horses, which was hard to manage, drew the attention of the drivers of the two cars. The horseback riders were on a side road, however, and not involved in the collision.

Area Grange Memorial Service Held

WENDELL — Mrs. Fenton Hays, lecturer of Wendell Grange, assisted by Mrs. Kirk Hays, Mrs. J. J. Stickle, Mrs. John Perry and Mrs. Henry Schmidt, took part in a candle lighting ceremony for the memorial service at the Tuesday evening meeting.

Mrs. C. T. Crow accompanied the group singing for the musical part of the program.

The lecturer read an article entitled, "How to make the most of your Grange."

Grange Master Ray Ruby presided for the regular meeting. Mrs. Schmidt was a program officer.

Lloyd Andersen, agricultural chairman, read a forecast on the dairy industry for 1975. Ruby reported on sweet corn growing. The report of Gooding County Pomona Grange style show was given by Mrs. Ruby.

Pomona Grange will meet Monday at Orchard Valley with state officers present. The meeting will be conducted in the fourth degree so that all Grangers may attend. Plans will be discussed for the State Grange meeting to be held in Gooding in October.

Mr. and Mrs. Ruby and Mrs. Stickle reported on the planning meeting that they attended in Gooding recently.

It was reported that Mrs. Oral Bradley is ill and a patient at the Mercy Hospital, Nampa.

Saunders to Direct Lions At Hazelton

HAZELTON—Lester Saunders was named president in elections held Tuesday evening by the Hazelton Lions Club.

Joseph Pharris was elected vice president. John Ramey, secretary-treasurer, and Ronald Jarvis, lion tamer.

J. R. Seeley and E. C. Montgomery were elected directors for two-year terms and H. E. Gundelfinger and Gerald K. Baker for one-year terms.

Preliminary plans for the July 3 celebration were discussed with Grant Turner appointed to purchase the fireworks display. The celebration is an annual event sponsored jointly by the Lions Club and the Hazelton Merchants.

A report on the medical questionnaires which were mailed to residents of Eden and Hazelton in reference to securing a doctor for the two communities show a favorable return from approximately one-third of the 750 which were mailed.

William Brown Jr. was a guest at the meeting. Members were appointed in pairs to cover the town of Hazelton in a door-to-door sale of the products purchased from Live, Inc., a company made up of handicapped persons. These household items are sold each year by the club.

Next meeting will be held June 1 for installation of officers. Wives of members will be guests.

Preceding the meeting dinner was served by the United Presbyterian Women's Association.

Richfield Stolen Auto Recovered In Idaho Falls

RICHFIELD — A car stolen at Richfield about 5 a.m. Tuesday was recovered near Idaho Falls later in the day where it had been abandoned after running out of gas.

The car, owned by Dale Sluder, Richfield, was a red, 1964 Comet sedan. It was taken from in front of the town home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sluder.

Mrs. Sluder reported to Sheriff Thomas Conner that she had heard a car door slam about 5 a.m. and assumed neighbors were leaving for ranch work. The car was not discovered until about 6:45 a.m. when the Sluders noticed a stationwagon parked off the road across the street from their home.

The stationwagon was also stolen and presumably had been left by the auto thief. Recovery of the Sluder car revealed considerable damage to the transmission, tires, and paint.

A gentle Alaskan Husky dog was found near the abandoned stationwagon and is being cared for in Richfield for the present. The dog was not licensed but wore a collar.

EDITOR'S NOTE—The monsoons are beginning again in Viet Nam and the war there will be getting uglier. Walter M. W. Brown, the Pulitzer Prize-winning Associated Press writer, wrote the following report on the situation while on a brief visit to New York.

By MALCOLM W. BROWN
NEW YORK (AP) — Somewhere in South Viet Nam at this moment a big Caribou transport plane loaded with ammunition and food is trying to poke through a low cloud cover to land on a muddy strip a few hundred feet long on the side of a mountain.

Perhaps the big plane will make it. Perhaps it will give up and try again in a few hours. It will keep trying until the Americans and Vietnamese in the desolate outpost below get the things they will have to have to fight off the Viet Cong for another few days.

The monsoons are beginning in South Viet Nam for another season, and the war will be uglier than ever for all concerned.

There are some officials who feel that some time between now and October the Viet Cong will try the big push — to smash through the narrow neck of central Viet Nam from Laos to the South China Sea, cutting the little republic in half.

Others think the war will go into a lull, with both sides bogged down in neck-deep mud. Still others note that in the past years, the war has neither slowed down nor speeded up perceptibly during the monsoon season.

The weather will be kinder to American and South Vietnamese planes over North Viet Nam in the coming months. Because of cyclic weather patterns over the Indochina peninsula, the monsoon seasons in North and South Viet Nam are reversed. And fighter pilots can expect increasingly good weather north of the 17th Parallel.

But in the South, the monsoons are on the side of the enemy, and newly arrived American combat troops can expect to get their baptism of fire soon.

South Viet Nam has few roads, and even fewer open to government supply convoys. Most American and Vietnamese posts depend on planes and helicopters, not only for supplies and reinforcements, but for close-in strikes on attacking Viet Cong.

When these posts are socked in by bad weather, their vulnerability to Viet Cong attacks increases many fold. The Viet Cong, of course, know this, and are likely to try to make the most of it.

While helicopters generally can fight their way through rain squalls, their rotor blades are subject to rapid erosion by rain drops. This means more maintenance time and less combat availability.

Flooded rice fields give guerrilla units a place to hide, even out in the open. A Viet Cong subject to rapid erosion by rain drops, hidden under water for hours, evading the sharpest-eyed patrol pilot.

Flooded paddies also force ground units to use the roads more than usual, and roads are easy to mine and ambush.

Most of all, foul weather impedes air strikes. Dive bombers must start their attack runs from several thousand feet. The cloud cover often is only a few hundred feet high, making such runs impossible. Frequent heavy ground fog makes things even worse.

The Viet Cong on the ground is slow down too, of course. But the element of surprise usually is on his side. This means that with careful planning, he is likely to have more troops than the government at the actual point and time of battle.

Report Given At Blaine 4-H Meeting

CAREY—Mrs. Walna Byington reported on Achievement Day at Bellevue when the Blaine County 4-H Council met Tuesday night at the home of Mrs. Willis Castle, Gannett.
